Difference of Opinion Between French and British Cabinets Over Reparations—Fire on Passenger Ship Results in Three Deaths.

ANOTHER BONE OF CONTENTION.

PARIS, July 5. The "moral pact of continuous collaboration" which Premier Herriot announced he had brought back from his checkers Court Conference with the British Prime Minister, seems to be already in a bad way. The most serious point of difference between British and French viewpoints concerns the identity of the body which is to decide when C-rmanny shall have defaulted in her engagements. The French newspapers refuse to admit the proposals of the Dawes plan are outside the Versailles Treaty, and declare the Reparations Commission by another body is unjustified. The French cling to the Reparations Commission because they control it. Some opposition papers question the possibility of holding a proposed Inter-Allied Conference on July 15th. They argue if the French and British cabinets cannot adjust their views before that date, they would be unable to do so during the conference and France would run the risk of being exposed to collective pressure and placed in a position of isolation to which the present situation is preferable.

SMITH INCREASES VOTE.

MADISON SQUARE GARDENS, N. Y., July 5.—Governor Smith reached a new high water mark in the balloting for the Presidential nominee in the Democratic Convention to-day, when Ohio, breaking up her block of votes, that had been going to favorite sons, gave Smith 20 1-2 and McAdoo none. Another handful of votes was taken from McAdoo in Michigan and given to Smith. The standing of leading candidates on the seventy-fourth ballot was as follows: McAdoo 310 Smith 344. This was a loss of 18 for McAdoo and a gain of 29 for Smith. Davis received 78 1-2, and a gain of 12 1-2.

Is Your Dog Brainy?

TRUE STORIES OF CLEVER CANINES.

In a cafe in London a few weeks ago a man rose from a table and left a pair of gloves on a chair near by. A dog which attended him followed his master to the cashier's desk; then, seeming to realize some fact, darted back to the chair, picked up the gloves in his mouth and carried them to their owner.

The intelligence of the dog appears to be unlimited. His eagerness for work is so great that nothing but chains or iron bars will keep him from doing what he has been taught to regard as his own particular duty.

In a mining village in the North of England a powerful retriever became popular because of his victories in battle and his ability to human beings.

True to His Trust. He was very friendly with a certain workman, who would sometimes boast that the dog would do more for himself than for his master. One day such a remark was made in the presence of the owner of the dog, who replied: "I will place a hand-basket in the middle of the field over the way and ask 'Bob' to mind it until I come for it. If you can pick up that basket I will give you five pounds."

The challenge was accepted. As the boastful one approached, Bob wagged his tail in friendly greeting, but growled ominously when an attempt was made to touch the basket. At the second attempt the dog threw friendship to the winds and fell upon his old friend, standing guard over him with bared teeth until called off by his master.

Dog as Doorkeeper. A Glasgow citizen owned a Newfoundland dog which appointed itself to a job. Its habit was to spend its days in front of an office. On the approach of a client it ran to the door, pulled the bell, and returned to its position to watch for the arrival of other clients.

It is an open question whether dogs possess reasoning powers, but some of them have a wonderful way of "putting two and two together." A fox-terrier had a horror of firearms and would bolt at the sight of a gun. An investigation into the circumstances of the animal's early life resulted in the explanation.

The terrier was being trained for sport as a youngster, but declined to come to heel when ordered. The keeper decided on cruel discipline. Charging his sporting gun with fine shot, he allowed the dog to run to a safe distance and then ordered it to heel.

Bought Its Own Bread. It failed to obey, whereupon he aimed and pulled the trigger. The terrier, although unhurt, was badly stung. It rushed home and never again would it knowingly remain in the presence of a gun.

A more palatable story comes from Edinburgh, where a crossbred Newfoundland discovered the value of a penny. He was often presented with coins, which he carried to a neighboring baker, receiving in return a roll of bread.

Once his master, having seen the dog eating rolls several times during the day, kept watch on his movements. Then he discovered that the dog had found a box full of coppers in an upper room of the house. As appetite came upon him he helped himself to a copper and spent it with the baker.

MINARD'S LINIMENT, THE ATHLETIC'S REMEDY.

Armistice

Is Armistice a trilling truce between the acts of world-wide war? And must the butchery of strife make void the higher law? Has Armageddon been, for naught, and has the world's great artery bled.

And have the fields of many lands been sown with nobler dead? Is Armistice a trilling truce above the patriot's narrow bed.

And has the hope of lasting peace blown forth with wings outspread? We sound the call the cause is right, and only right shall right the wrong.

The burden of the weak must be the portion of the strong. The vulture, War, still hovers near; he, scolding carnage, will not fly; perchance, if other victims fall, Old time himself may die.

The price of Peace is amply paid, the wage of War is foully won; Come, armies of the unafraid, your strike has scarce begun.

By war, we do not vanquish war; by strife, we are not freed from strife. Death is not swallowed up of death, but life by higher life.

The Royal Prince of Peace alone can give us power to right the wrong; The burden of the weak must be the portion of the strong.

(Miss) S. J. PERCIVAL.

Peculiar Facts and Figures.

Dining cars on electric trams have been introduced in Germany. As early as 1188 a building on the site of the Old Bailey, London, was used as a jail. In 1750 a bad epidemic of jail fever resulted in the death of the Lord Mayor and some of the sheriffs, and from that time it became the custom to present a nosegay to each of the judges and sheriffs as they came into court. The floor was also strewn with rosemary, lavender, thyme, mint, and so on. This custom still holds good to-day.

Two Arab brothers, Cosmos and Damien, are the patron saints of pharmacy. They practised healing gratuitously at Egaa, in Cilicia, during the fourth century. Angels are reputed to have rescued them from three attempts to kill them.

A Long, Long Road

A Bill will shortly be presented to Parliament for the making of a motor road between London and Manchester, which may possibly set a pattern to the world.

The new road, however, will not be the first motor road, or by any means the longest. At the corner of West Forty-second Street and Fifth Avenue, New York City, there is a sign which might be passed by unnoticed, yet which is surely one of the most remarkable in the world: "Lincoln Highway: To San Francisco 3,384 miles."

This great motor road, connecting New York with San Francisco, was designed as a memorial to the martyred President Lincoln. It has an average width of sixty feet, passes in a direct line through twelve States, and is fourteen miles longer than the trans-continental telegraph route.

Feuds in the Animal World

WHY SOME CREATURES REFUSE TO FIGHT.

That animals carry on feuds with other animals is a fact known to natural history authorities; but most animals are prone to avoid hostilities that will lead to nothing but wounds. Most creatures fully comprehend their own powers and those of others capable of inflicting injury, and they are unwilling to risk possible hurt or even engage in violent effort to little purpose. That declares a writer in "The Scientific American" the puma and the bears, though undoubtedly possessing a hatred for each other due to their seeking similar game, hold a truce rarely if ever broken.

The Cleverness of Snakes.

Feuds between different species, one or both of which threaten the safety of the other's young, are not uncommon, and this is the chief cause of such hatreds as exist between the wild-cat and the wolf, the mink and the fox, the racoon and the weasels. The enmity that the crow displays towards the hawk is an example, and it is shown also by the suspicion with which all herbivora regard members of the larger felinae and canines. Among the reptiles certain feuds exist that are more difficult to explain; such is the kind snake's desire to destroy all poisonous and some non-poisonous species larger and seemingly more powerful than itself. Nor is it understood why the rattlesnake shows a readiness to inflict its horribly aggressive defence upon dogs, cats, larger birds, and humans, and regards with indifference the nearness of horses and cattle, unless trodden upon. Its enmity for the hog is natural enough.

Stiff Joints

Linger up with Minard's Liniment. Leading athletes use it.

It may seem strange, also, considering the small intelligence with which we credit reptiles in general, that the skunk and some reptiles readily distinguish herbivorous from carnivorous animals, fleeing from the latter and approaching deer and cattle to feed upon the flies that they attract.

Better Roads

A most useful and interesting book entitled "The Newfoundland Road Booster and Tourist Trade Advocate," which has been compiled by Mr. R. Hibbs, M.H.A., has just been issued. The author has succeeded in obtaining from, where we know not, a great amount of information on road building from earliest times in Nfld., and his research has resulted in throwing considerable light on what was previously an unknown chapter of history.

As the name of the book implies, its purpose is to bring us to a proper sense of the utterly inadequate provision made for road building, and the crying need there is not so much for better roads, as for real roads instead of country lanes, which are all that we can boast of at present. Mr. Hibbs gives to the reader the secret of our backwardness in this respect in the opening pages of his book, and the illustration does not require any further explanation. Here it is:

Amounts Voted Annually for Road Construction and Maintenance:		In Canada and Newfoundland:
Province	Annual	Population	Per head
B.C.	$4,238,876.14	524,582	$8.08
Alb.	1,451,873.25	588,454	2.46
Sask.	2,964,355.70	757,271	3.91
Man.	2,389,315.16	612,877	3.73
Ont.	15,713,424.91	2,935,153	5.35
Que.	10,779,470.30	2,359,795	4.56
N.B.	2,117,323.14	337,376	6.45
N.S.	3,426,625.94	523,837	6.56
P.E.I.	423,695.02	88,615	4.80
Nfld.	188,908.00	263,093	.71

The author has not been content to let the matter rest with criticism of our shortcomings, but suggests many excellent plans whereby they could be overcome and our highways made equal to those in other countries. He also makes a practical suggestion for raising the money which would be required for the work. Valuable information is also furnished for the guidance of those who are engaged in construction work. The improvements already effected, particularly in the matter of bridge construction, are graphically illustrated by means of pictures taken before and after the work was done.

A considerable portion of the book deals with the question of tourist traffic which is everywhere recognized as depending upon up-to-date means of road transportation. The natural attractions we possess in full measure, and the wealth to be derived from them will flow in our direction just as soon as we ourselves supply the deficiencies in the form of roads and suitable hotel accommodation. "The Newfoundland Road Booster" is deserving of study by all who desire to see Newfoundland actively competing with the neighbouring provinces for the tourist, and those who wish to obtain information as to what has been done, what remains to be done, and how it can be accomplished, will find it a useful compendium. In addition to the wealth of information assembled by the author himself are some splendid articles dealing with the road problems by many of our most prominent advocates of the movement, and by authorities in Canada and elsewhere.

It is always said that the lack of means is the stumbling block to achievement in any undertaking suggested to improve the city, or to provide up-to-date facilities of one kind or another in the country; but it is not rather due to lack of confidence in the result, or lack of that vision and optimism without which no difficulty has ever yet been overcome, no project carried to a successful conclusion? We congratulate Mr. Hibbs upon his work and also upon the effect which "The Road Booster" will doubtless have in awakening the public to the value of a sound and practical road policy.

Our Guests Depart

The visit of Field Marshal Earl Haig and Lady Haig with the arrival of the Caronia this evening will have come to a conclusion, but the wish expressed on all sides is that it may not be long before they return to our shores.

It has been an honour and a pleasure to have had the distinguished soldier and his lady amongst us, nor do we forget that the main purpose of the visit was to pay tribute to the memory of our gallant sailors and soldiers who laid down their lives at the call of Duty. For this we are grateful.

In departing from our shores, the Field Marshal and Lady Haig take with them the very best wishes of the whole community for a safe return to their home, and the esteem and regard which they have won on all sides by the kindness and sincerity of their manner and by the deep interest which they have evinced in our affairs.

Departure of Earl and Lady Haig

Newfoundland's distinguished visitors, Field Marshal Earl and Countess Haig and party will depart from our shores after what we hope has been a very happy though far too brief visit amongst us. On departing they take with them the best wishes of all Newfoundlanders. They have, by their kindness and courtesy, endeared themselves to all citizens. A very happy feature of their visit has been their willingness to receive all classes, regardless of position. Owing to the lateness and indefiniteness of our guests' departure, the G.W.V.A. Committee find it impossible to arrange an organized farewell. They therefore suggest a spontaneous demonstration on the part of the citizens of St. John's. To achieve this, the following suggestions are offered to all citizens:

- (1) Motor boats decorated with lanterns, preferably Chinese lanterns, strung from fore to aft, to accompany the tender to the Caronia outside the narrows.
 - (2) Steamships and tugs in port to sound blasts from their whistles.
 - (3) Fireworks display and bonfires from suitable places to be arranged by individual citizens.
 - (4) Citizens to line the wharves.
 - (5) Ships in port with searchlights to train same on point of disembarkation, namely the King's Wharf.
- All Newfoundlanders will re-echo the fervent wish that the Field Marshal and his good lady will, at a not too far distant date, revisit our shores to enjoy the scenic and fishing attractions of our country.

Caronia Due at 6 p.m.

The S. S. Caronia is due to arrive on port at 6 p.m., according to latest information received by the ship's agents, Messrs. Furness Withy Co. The ship will lay to outside the heads whilst passengers are being transferred. Those embarking will do so from the Furness pier, in the tug Moulton, leaving shortly after 5 o'clock. Earl Haig and party will board from the King's Wharf. The Caronia has on board six passengers from Quebec for this port.

Temporary Repairs to Clara Camus

This morning a gang of about 20 men under the supervision of Mr. Chas. Henderson began the work of temporary repairs to the S. S. Clara Camus, damaged in collision a short time ago with the Metagama. Concrete is being used to fill up the holes in the ships bows, and about 150 barrels of cement will be used on this job.

WINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES RHEUMATISM.

Canada Liner "Caronia" which calls at St. John's this evening to embark Newfoundland's distinguished visitors, Field-Marshal and Lady Haig, and Party. We wish them au revoir and bon voyage.

To the Field Marshal's Consort

This land of ours has smiled its sweetest smile.
 Our days are cloudless and our nights are fair,
 Since our glad waters bore thee to the shore,
 And withesome breezes whispered "She is here!"
 Since then thou'st made thy gracious presence dear
 To all, by kind and courtly acts, that we Shall with thy name dearly and endearingly cherish.
 In love th' chances of our memory

The courts of Kings and many a pageant fair
 Where men of State and Knightly warriors strove,
 Were brightened by thy social charms,
 And he
 Who conquered armies conquered was by love.

So here, where rugged hearts and hands in strength
 Do battle with the powers of the deep;
 Where of the storm, with raging fury, leaves
 Our homes bereft, where wives and mothers weep;
 That subtle charm of thine prevails once more,
 Our hearts are thine, and in their deep;
 As ardent wavelets of the flood-tide reach
 With rippling joy to kiss some rose-lipped shell.

Long years of e'er increasing joy he thine,
 May many a triumph still await thy name,
 And may thy son to fullest manhood grown
 Add many a well won glory to its fame,
 And when at last life's roseate eve shall come,
 May peace, God's perfect peace, smile on thy home!

Park Improvements

A new iron railing, now in course of erection on the Circular Road front of Bannerman Park, will be a great improvement to the place. It would add much to the appearance of the grass plots in the lower section of the park if a re-arrangement of the walks were made so that they will lead directly to the gates. Under the direction of Mr. Hookey, the flower bed section is being well looked after. Although the dry spell of weather has been somewhat severe on the annuals he, fortunately, this year has been very successful with his seed beds, and when the flowering season arrives no doubt he will have a good showing. There is need, however, of a more adequate supply of water for sprinkling the beds.

Obituary.

LEVI W. SIMMONDS.
 There passed peacefully away on Friday evening at his home, 273 Hamilton Avenue, after a long illness, Levi W. Simmonds, aged 61 years. The deceased was a blacksmith by trade and worked in the blacksmith shop at the dock premises for the past 24 years. About three years ago he met with an accident there which, after much suffering, resulted in his death. Left to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father, are a wife, and nine children: Garfield and Mrs. T. Lidstone, Hamilton, Ontario; Kenneth and Florence, New York; Mrs. J. LeDrew, this city; Edith, Blanches, William and Heber at home. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. A Guard of Honor was present from Lodge Dudley, S.O.E.B.S., of which the deceased was a member of long standing. Interment took place in the General Protestant Cemetery, Rev. J. C. Joyce, Pastor of Wesley Methodist Church conducted a brief service at the house and grave side. The S.O.E.B.S. burial service was read at the grave and was very impressive. To the bereaved, the writer extends heartfelt sympathy. May they find consolation in the thought that death is not the end but the beginning of the life that is to come.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL.

REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL. A revolution broke out in the Sao Paulo Brazil Friday and the revolutionists took possession of the city.

MacLAREN IN JAPAN.

KASHIMOTO JAPAN, July 7. A Stuart MacLaren the British aviator on a world flight arrived here at 5:05 o'clock this p.m. He had received a supply of gasoline from a Japanese naval airplane which went to land at Suzumi 35 miles from here because his fuel supply was exhausted.

HERRIOT DEFENDS HIS ATTITUDE.

TROYES FRANCE July 7. Premier Herriot to-day defended his policy of frankness and good will in dealing with the British Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at Chateaux Court and questioned the wisdom of those among the French who thought that the British Premier had taken advantage of the French Premier's inexperience. He reassured the country as to the Government's programme declaring that his socialist ideals must necessarily be erected on the solid foundation of a balanced budget. "We Republicans," he added, "need no lesson in Patriotism. The Government's platform continued the Premier will be based on the rehabilitation of French credit and efforts for European Peace." M. Herriot spoke before the Radical Socialist Organizations in Troyes where he had his early education. He recalled memories of his father and mother who had died humbly after lives of hard work. He justified his new methods as entitled to a trial. The Government should not be expected to discover in a few weeks after so many difficulties the miraculous solutions that so far no one else has found.

CONVENTION WOUND UP.

CLEVELAND OHIO, July 7. The Progressives after endorsing Robert M. LaFollette as a Presidential candidate and providing for the organization of a new Political Party next January, the conference for Progressive political action wound up its convention early last night.

McADOO ACCEPTS PROPOSALS.

NEW YORK, July 7. Sunday night William G. McAdoo to-night accepted the proposals of the fifteen other Presidential candidates that all release their delegates to the Democratic National Convention, but with the proviso that the unit rule and the two thirds rule both be abrogated. Mr. McAdoo further stipulated that with the resignation of voters the low man be dropped on each succeeding ballot until a nomination is made. He further stipulated that each of the delegates present from each state shall be entitled to cast his Pro Rata vote of the delegates from that state as are absent from the convention.—Monday morning. The McAdoo counter proposal for breaking the deadlock in the Democratic National Convention was turned down early this morning by the representatives of the other fifteen candidates. In a conference of candidates of managers only, the McAdoo men supported the plan which would have abrogated the unit and two thirds rules at the same time that the delegates would be released from all obligation to further support a particular candidate.

FREIGHT RATE AGREEMENT COMES INTO EFFECT.

OTTAWA, July 7.—(Can. Press)—The crews next pass agreement comes into effect at night Sunday. No action having been taken by the Dominion Govt. during the week end, the suspension of this basis of railway freight rates is not renewed. During the war years the agreement under which a revision was made of freight rates east and west bound was suspended and from time to time this suspension was renewed. The last renewal expired to-day. During the past few weeks arguments for and against the continued suspension of the agreement have been presented in the cabinet sitting as the privy council of Canada, the only court of appeal against a decision of the board of Railway Commissioners of Canada.

AN ILL OMEN.

PETERBORO Ont., July 7. Two moons appearing in the sky in one month is an augury of ill according to a despatch from Omeise, and July is the month. Records show that for since 1814 have two new moons appeared in one month and during the summer snow fell in July. In that year crops grew rapidly but none of the grain matured.

NEW YORK, July 7. Richard Marsh, Civil Engineer and explorer arrived Sunday on the liner Calamoras with three "White Indians" whom he discovered in the San Blas wilderness of Panama. His charges together with five copper hued members of the San Blas tribe of Indians were detained aboard the ship by the immigration authorities pending the filing of a $500 bond for each. The "White Indians" are also sixteen years old, Champ ten and Marguerite fourteen. They have white skin burned pink by tropical sun, pale blue eyes, golden hair, white eye lashes, and brows.

VIEWS ENCHANGED.

PARIS, July 7. Paris and London Governments are working assiduously to build a united front before the convening of inter-allied conference in the middle of this month. The French Ambassador to Great Britain has arrived from London to enlighten Premier Herriot as to the latest British view of the situation, and to-morrow the French diplomatic representatives will receive a memorandum in which the Premier will define clearly the views of his Government for communication to the Powers which are to attend London Conference official circles maintain optimism, confident that divergencies between the French and British views can be overcome. The opposition press however continues its trenchant attacks upon M. Herriot, "extremist" notably declaring the Premier is a toy in the hands of his redoubtable colleague "Premier MacDonald of Great Britain."

KELLY-SPRINGFIELD.

NEW YORK.—Passing of the 60% preferred dividend of Kelly-Springfield Tire Co. has fostered a new crop of rumors concerning financial condition of the company, all of which are groundless when investigated, and seem to arise from misunderstanding of reasons which caused directors to take this step. The directors' meeting was held shortly before the recent price-cutting in the tire industry began, but at time of the meeting directors knew such a move in the industry was imminent. With this knowledge they considered it conservative policy to maintain every possible resource to meet the threatened competition. Strictly speaking, therefore, the company was not immediately pressed for cash necessary to pay the dividend. Officials say the company is amply financed and has no obligations that cannot be met. Cash position is considered excellent. It has no large inventory of either finished goods or raw products and no commitments on the latter beyond present immediate needs.

Both Cumberland and Akron plants are in operation. The former, producing economically and satisfactorily. It was expected the latter would be closed by this time, but it is still running, the volume of orders making this necessary. The company entered the original equipment business this year, and it is stated emphatically that this business was not taken at a loss, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. There have been no embarrassing cancellations of such contracts.

The volume of business is greater this year than any previous year but because of keen competition and price-cutting not to mention changes in types, profits have not been satisfactory. This, however, is a situation which it is expected will right itself shortly.

Changes in Railway Time Table

We are informed by the management of the railway that a new Time Table will take effect on Sunday, July 13th, at 12:01 a.m. making important changes in the operation of the Carbonear, Bay de Verde, Heart's Content and Placentia Branch trains. The changes will mean the retaining of two first class locomotives, six passenger coaches and an entire train crew, and a considerable saving in operation. For a number of years a first class locomotive and three coaches with a permanent train crew were assigned to Placentia Branch to do one hundred miles per day and a similar assignment for the Heart's Content Branch and the Bay de Verde Branches, averaging one hundred miles per day. A few slight changes to the Time Table gives the public a much better train service and many more connections at various points, making better use of rolling stock, which was for sixteen out of every twenty-four hours tied up under the old time table, and the work done by five trains will now be carried out by three trains and four crews, and the longest run will exceed one hundred and seventy five miles per day. The morning train from St. John's will run through to Argentia and arrive back in this city at 9:15 p.m. Passengers for Carbonear will go by the Argentia train and transfer at Brigus Junction. In order to accommodate passengers arriving at Brigus Junction from points west on Monday's, Tuesday's and Thursday's this train will leave Carbonear at 11:50 a.m., and arrive in St. John's at 4:25 p.m. On Wednesday's, Friday's and Saturday's the train will leave Carbonear at 7:50 a.m. as heretofore and arrive in St. John's at 12:25 p.m.

Police Raid Suspected Houses

Between the late hours of Saturday night and the early hours of Sunday Head Constable Byrnes with a number of the detective force, raided a well known place at Broad Cove where it was reported that an establishment similar to that raided on the South Side a short while ago, was being conducted. A number of people from the city suspected of being frequenters were "not at home," when the raid took place. The work of the police, however, was successful and several people will be called upon during the week to make explanations. The matter will probably not come before the Magistrate before Thursday.

Steel Shaft Clubs Banned By British Golf Authorities.

London, June 7. (A.P.)—The acceptance of the use of steel-shafted golf clubs by the governing body of the game in America meets with no approval in Great Britain. For this there are many explanations. In the first place, there is the inherent British disinclination to accept anything new, but beyond this reason for repelling novelties that seek to cross the Atlantic, there is, in this case, a general feeling that the Americans are always trying to make the game of golf easier and more mechanical. Consequently the British feel that it is up to them, who nurtured the game in its infancy, to see that it keeps the character of its youth.

FRIENDLY FOOTBALL

On Saturday night last, at St. George's Field, a friendly game of football was played between the B.I.S. and H.M.S. Constance. The game was witnessed by a large number of interested spectators who saw the Irishmen go down to defeat by 3 goals to 1. In the first half the Constance found the net twice to their opponents' all. In the second half a pretty exhibition of football was witnessed, both teams having found the net once. The Constance, minus several of their regular players, presented a strong line-up, their substitutes having turned in a fine game.

TO-NIGHT'S FOOTBALL

The participating teams in tonight's game will be the Star and B.I.S. The line-ups will be as follows:—

B. I. S.—Goal, J. Phelan; backs, Dr. Fox, Dr. Power; halves, H. Phelan, S. Constantine, T. Ryan; forwards, E. O'Toole, N. Brown, E. Phelan, R. Nolan, W. Skinner.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES TRAIN DAILY ON LINER "AMERICA"

Simply because the American athletes, going over to the Olympic games are on shipboard, is no indication that they will slacken up one little bit in their training or be stale when they get on that strange French country where Paris is located. Track and field men, boxers, swimmers, wrestlers, fencers, gymnasts, and a complete staff of American coaches composed the unit on the America, the ship that is carrying them across. In charge of these huskies and flashers are Col. Robert M. Thompson, president; Frederick W. Rubien, secretary, and John T. McGovern, counselor of the American Olympic committee.

In order to make the athletes feel at home on the ship instead of feeling like strangers in a strange land, the large ship has been changed all about. On the top deck a boxing ring and a mat have been installed for training the boxers and wrestlers. A cork tholeum track has been stretched from stem to stern on the starboard side of the promenade deck for the track performers. For the swimmers several large canvas tanks have been arranged on the top deck so that the human fish can do their daily work without hindrance, while for the weight men a heavy mat has been placed on the bow of the ship.

BENNY LEONARD LOSES BELT, BUT NOT IN FIGHT

NEW YORK, June 18.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, has lost his diamond-studded belt, a gift from Tex Rickard. But it was not lost in a fair fight. Benny loaned the belt several days ago to his sister who placed it in the window of her store to attract customers. The lure proved too strong, somebody threw a brick through the window and made off with the prize, valued at $3,000.

WILLIE HOPPE SAYS HE WILL RETIRE END YEAR

NEW YORK, June 18.—Willie Hoppe, billiard champion of the world, plans to retire from all competition, effective at the end of this year. Hoppe intends to devote all his time to business in New York. Followers of the spherical virtues, however, do not take Hoppe's avowed intention so very seriously. The craven-hearted cue-pusher has threatened to quit billiards about as often as Flo Ziegfeld has threatened to do away with his show in which the American girl has a chance to be glorified.

FRENCH BREAK TWO MARKS IN TRYOUTS

Bontemps Takes Steeplechase Event in 9 min. 44 sec.

PARIS, June 21.—(A.P.)—Two French records were broken and another was equalled in today's events of the French Olympic tryouts. No new talent was revealed, however. Bontemps gave the finest performance of the day, winning the 2,000 metres steeplechase in 9 minutes, 44 seconds, beating his own French record by 4 3/5 sec. He drew away from the pack at the very start and led at the tape by 50 metres. Gulle-mot started in this race, but found the pace too hot and dropped out.

The other new record was in the running broad jump, won by Louis Whitehead, with 7 metres, 19 1/2 centimetres. He beat his own national mark by 4 1/2 centimetres.

Both the Mourlon brothers, Andre and Rene, equalled the 100-meter dash record of 10 4/5 seconds, but Andre, who is the French champion, won the final.

Whitish won the 800 meter run, in 1m. 53 4/5. The Olympic record for this event is 1m. 51 9/10.

Taga Guzman, Moroccan athlete, won the javelin with 50 metres, 89 centimetres. Paoletti, the French weight throwing champion, won the shot put, with 13 metres, 40 centimetres. Dolguis won the 5,000 metres, his time being 15 min. 24 sec.

The marathon and other finals will be run to-morrow.

ONE MARK CLIPPED IN FRENCH SWIMMING

Slow times were recorded in the French Olympic swimming tryouts today. The only new mark was set by Mile. Stoffel, of Colmar, the national champion, who did the 200 meter breast stroke in 3 minutes, 40 seconds, clipping 4 1/2 seconds from the record.

BELYEA IS OUT

LONDON, July 1.—Hilton Belyea, of St. John, N.B., has been scratched from the Diamond Skulls contest, at Henley, owing to an attack of neuritis.

INTERESTING BOXING BOUTS PROMISED FOR THURSDAY NIGHT

Boxing fans and the public in general, will have the pleasure of witnessing some more pugilistic encounters in the Prince's Rink on Thursday night next, and judging by the programme of events about to be carded, a good night's fun will be in store for all fans. A.B. Davis, of H.M.S. Constance, who outpointed Goodyear in the heavyweight class, has accepted Mr. E. Butler's challenge to a six-round bout. Both heavies are well engaged at their respective training quarters, getting primed up, ready for action. Butler is expected to outweight his opponent by about 15 lbs. Another interesting bout will be the pitting together of Mr. Fred Marshall, against Seaman Vandersteen, H.M.S. Constance, in the lightweight class. Vandersteen caused a great impression amongst the fans in his bout against J. Phelan in the recent tournament. Marshall, though not having much time left at his disposal for training, is expected to make a good showing. Arrangements are also being made for another bout between H. Diamond, of this city, against his worthy opponent, A.B. Dabbs. While Stamp, the local welterweight holder, will be matched against one of the ship's most promising boxers. A meeting of the G.W.V.A. Boxing Committee will be held this afternoon, when all arrangements will be finalized. The full programme will be announced to-morrow.

Resources Awaiting Means of Development

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Mr. Editor,—Having read Advance's Article in your issue of June 25th which mentioned a few of the great resources and possibilities of this District only requiring a small financial assistance from the Government to make them hum and boom. I am tempted through the medium of your esteemed Journal to mention briefly a few more of the great industrial possibilities we have.

Let me speak of the great possibilities of our fisheries. We have quite near our shores the greatest Cod fishing grounds and banks to be found in Newfoundland, and yet very few of our people go Codfishing. Our spring herring fisheries are the greatest in the country capable of giving Employment to thousands, but yet it is sadly neglected lacking encouragement and the necessary assistance. Could you believe Mr. Editor, with such vast wealth within our grasp, there is not a single vessel to be found prosecuting the fisheries within this Bay?

It is a well known fact that from five to eight miles from St. George's Harbour large deposits of iron ore, rich in vanadium exists. These deposits contain millions and millions of tons, only needing capital and encouragement for development. The gypsum deposits near at hand, according to reports made by Geo. C. Evans & Co. of New York, cover many miles and contain several hundred million tons of the best gypsum in the world. Evans & Company's reports are backed up by engineers from Boston. Within a few miles of St. George's vicinity the Government collect yearly over $200,000 for mineral taxes yet all our minerals are lying idle for the want of suitable Harbour to ship from. The taxes we pay yearly on timber lands also run into thousands of dollars but this great industry is also greatly retarded for want of a shipping port.

It is estimated our gypsum deposits will employ 450 men, and with the development of iron ore and St. George's coal fields at least 2,000 additional men would find constant employment. It is said the gypsum project would use 200,000 tons coal yearly in its manufacturing works which would be a nice help to our coal company. It is to be hoped our New Government, with the assistance of our popular young representative Mr. Power, will lose no time in having the harbour St. George's dredged and made available for shipping. If so I can assure your readers St. George's will move quickly to the front to make capital flow in and its resources boom.

GIVE US A CHANCE. St. George's July 4 1914.

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

July 5th.—This morning, I fell singing in my bath, but my wife banging on the bathroom door cries at me that I am keeping her awake, and would have me hold my tongue, which I was loath to do were it not better that I held my own tongue lest my wife should put hers to overmuch use. But Lord, things are come to a pretty pass when a man may not sing in his own home, but must bow to the will of a nagging woman, and me thinks that the Mahometans are wise in the treatment of their wives, forbidding them to eat at their tables. To Water Street, and meeting with Mr. Lake, that is member for Burin, he tells me he is come for the opening of the House which will be next Wednesday. He says also that the shanty fishery in his district is poor and the banquers doing little on the caplin baiting. Comes from Mr. P. C. Mars a copy of his book, "The Call of Terra Nova," which he did lately cause to be published, and is indeed a mighty handsome pamphlet, containing divers poems of the virile type that are so far above the sordid sentimental ditties that were made so much of in the time of the great Samuel, my ancestor. The illustrations good, and an interesting preface by the Governor, so the book gives me the greatest pleasure in the reading of it. News this day of my lord Haig, he catching 5 salmon yesterday eve, and one of them the biggest taken for the season, which is a thing that should vastly please him. This night to Top-sail in my motor coach, the road good but dusty, almost to the point of choking me. Meeting there Mr. McLeod, he tells me a new tale of a Scotsman that did apply for admittance to heaven, but St. Peter learning his nationality, did answer him that he could not have porridge made for one. This I did take to mean that there were no Scots in Heaven, which is a strange thing, seeing how they do distil the most heavenly whiskey. To bathe awhile in the sea, being the earliest time of my ever doing such a thing, and took great pleasure of it, albeit the water freezing cold.

July 6th.—(Lord's Day).—This, beyond a doubt, the hottest day of the year, and I to wear my white flannel trousers, for their coolness. To Top-sail for a bathe, where a great crowd of holiday makers and the water filled with bathers. Going home, my motor coach breaks down on me, and needs must I leave it, Mr. Carter kindly taking me to town in his coach, to my great content, albeit mighty out of temper that I must pay a great amount to have mine own coach repaired. At night to read awhile in a book of essays by W. Hazlitt, mighty interesting. So to bed.

TRAIN NOTES.—Yesterday's west bound train left Badger Brook 6.30 a.m. The incoming express left Terra Nova 8.13 a.m., and is not expected to arrive before 5 p.m.

Free, Frank and Fearless

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—We have in St. John's some of the finest buildings in North America, buildings that would do credit to a much greater City than ours, and a city built on as fine a natural site for beauty and cleanliness as it is possible to have. We have a population taxed directly and indirectly as no other people on this earth, and we also have by no means the cleanest city on this side of the Atlantic, bar none per capita, a city without one good piece of modern road or pavement and no street lighting as modern lighting goes. Why this? The Council claim that they should receive as their share of money for improvements to the city between $70,000 and $80,000 per annum from the Government, whereas they actually receive between $2,000 and $3,000 or some $70,000 less than they are entitled to. Well, why does not the Free, Frank and Fearless man who gets the City's due in this respect? In order to keep a city clean and wholesome, there has to be a system, and a system that is carried out as well. The Council apparently have none or if they have it is sleepy. Take the garbage collector, he is forced to use an open box cart and collect his load at all times of the day, with the result that his faithful servant of the Council becomes a public nuisance, and as most of our days are windy, the garbage cart smother one and smother with dirt and dust and fills the city with filth on its journey to the dump. This accounts for a lot of our dirt and dust. From time to time the dirt and mud from the street is swept up and piled near the curbs for collection, but what happens? Invariably, at all times of the day, with the high wind redistributes the accumulation to our streets once more, and that accounts for some more dirt and dust. The concrete slab gutter is an excellent idea for durability and cleanliness and it made properly and out of guaranteed cement and other ingredients will last for many years. The concrete gutters which are at present being used and which are made here are not standing up and doing their duty. The reason is obvious.

It is commonly reported that a lot of our city tax payers are in arrears and that some never pay. If this is the case, why not publish the list so that the delinquents may feel the heat of publicity. Some time ago the Council are said to have put the names of all the Bad Paps in a bag and draw out by lottery a certain number, which were to have been published on the matter. Why not collect a Tax from the out of town milkman (who, by the way, is not yet lowered the price of milk), the butcher and vendor of every description who comes here regularly and unavoidably perhaps, deposits enough dirt in our city on Saturday to keep the Council all day Monday cleaning up? Why should not the out of town vendor pay a license for the use of the city's patronage and convenience?

Free, Frank and Fearless seems to convey to the writer that all taxes should be collected regardless of politics, creed or friends, and that rates would be levied where reasonable and just or visa versa. If money keeps the Council from making improvements, it seems that quite a large sum can be collected through streets, Vendors, Licenses, Monies by the Government, and all without being unreasonable or unjust to anyone. Mr. Mayor and councillors get busy and do your duty. Have all the Taxes collected, making no delay with those that are slow to pay and don't, and if necessary, forget the parties who you know from poverty cannot pay, but see that they pay on time in future. Get busy and make St. John's clean and decent. Free, Frank and Fearless should counter a lot.

Yours truly,
TAXES PAID IN FULL.

Three Fires Yesterday

Shortly before two o'clock yesterday morning, the firemen were called to Carter's Hill to quench a blaze which threatened to destroy an unoccupied stable at the rear of the premises, formerly owned by the Red Taxi Co. The building was somewhat damaged. How the blaze originated is unknown.

At 3:45 a.m. the Central Fire Company was called to the residence of Mr. O'Brien, Bond Street, where it was discovered that one of the occupants had set fire to a mattress whilst smoking his pipe. He had his hands somewhat scorched trying to quench the blaze; no damage was done to the premises.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the Central Firemen with the pump, responded to a telephone call from Oxen Pond Road where the house of Mr. Maurice Brown was in a blaze. When the firemen arrived the roof of the dwelling was on fire in several places and residents were spraying water in buckets. As there was not enough of water nearer than 2,000 feet, the chemical was used and the blaze subdued before much damage was done.

Band Concerts

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I understand the Mount Cashel Band begins their regular weekly Concerts in the Parks on tomorrow Tuesday night at Bannerman Park, and it is to be hoped that the thousands who usually attend these Concerts will make it a point to contribute something no matter how small, as every 5c. piece counts. It is surprising the large number of people who pass through the gates without giving anything. The Bands do not expect it from those who cannot afford it, but surely there are many people who can and could at least give 5c. or 10c. Of course, it is understood that the Parks are Public property, and it is not compulsory to contribute, but at the same time the cost and upkeep of a Band is by no means small, and further, if these Concerts were abandoned by all the Bands (and we understand some of the Bands have under them) it would mean a lot of enjoyment would be lost to the poorer class who cannot afford to go to other amusements. The Mount Cashel Band during the week have suffered damage to both their big motor trucks for conveying the boys to and from the Institution, and also a number of their Band Instruments in the smash up July 1st, and it now up to the Public to show their appreciation by contributing to help to pay for the damage, and also for their work during Heat Week. They attended nine or ten functions, and some of them at a very short notice. Therefore, don't forget when you are passing through to-morrow, Tuesday night at Bannerman Park to put something in the box for this splendid boy's band.

Yours truly,
ADMIRER.

What Makes Men Fall In Love?

Dorothy Dix on Womanly Virtues That Win Husbands.

What are the qualities that men admire most in women? That, of course, is a matter of individual taste. There is no set of standardized virtues.

Many a man has fallen in love with a woman for just the way her hair grows on the back of her neck. Many a man marries a woman because of the little swag in her walk.

Cupid writes no text-books on the Art of Pleasing a Man, and so every woman who wishes to fascinate a man has a little to guide her as did Mother Eve when she first cast her eye upon Adam and decided that she was going to have him for her own.

No one can specify the individual attraction that any woman would have for any man, but there are certain general qualities that men admire in women.

Naturally, the first of these is good looks. Not necessarily actual beauty, but the sort of good looks that is made up of cleanliness, tidiness, and neat and suitable clothes.

Next in the list of the qualities that men admire in women I should put sincerity and simplicity. Men hate the female liar and cheat even more than they do the male one. They are afraid of her, and do not know how to deal with her, so they avoid her. They hate a girl who pretends to be what she is not.

No working girl can make a greater mistake than to put on airs and pretend that she is pouncing a type-writer or standing behind a counter just because she is bored with society and wanted something interesting to do. When she tells a man this fairy tale and about how angry her family are with her for doing such a thing, she doesn't fool him. She fills him with disgust, but he would be tremendously attracted towards her if she was proud of being a worker and interested in her business, and glad that she had the sense and ability to help her family with her earnings.

Next among the qualities that men admire in women are gentleness and tenderness. Men may laugh at the woman who lets her heart run away with her head, but they love her for it. No man wants for a wife a cold, hard, just woman who will expect him always to live up to his best. He wants a woman who will be gentle with his faults, and love him in spite of them.

Men like the sort of woman who can weep over the sorrows of others; who can cry over a book or play; whose arms form themselves into an instinctive cradle for every helpless

Families That Are Faked

WINNING A FORTUNE BY BROWING BABIES.

The proposed alterations to the laws relating to adoption remind one that, nowadays, more children are being adopted than ever before.

Some couples seem to have a mania for adding other people's children to their own family. An engine driver and his wife have adopted no fewer than twenty-three orphans. The children's ages range from fifteen months to fifteen years. It is said that they sit down at table in batches and take it in turns to go to bed.

Although they have only the husband's wages on which to live, the couple have never failed to feed their charges. Success has always arrived in the nick of time. So great is the couple's confidence that their house is known as "Faith Home."

Several amazing cases have come to light recently in which a wife has adopted children and passed them off to her husband as his own.

Confessed To Her WIFE.

A woman, aged fifty-two, caused a sensation in medical circles by claiming to be the mother of triplets. The inquiry which followed revealed an amazing masquerade. Every one of the woman's eleven supposed children had been adopted from foundling institutions without the husband having suspected the truth.

When he learned the truth, he wished to send all the children away, but a compromise was effected, and only the triplets were returned to the institution. The woman had carried out the deception solely through her great love of children.

In another dramatic case the motive was purely financial. It was revealed in the will of a millionaire's widow. She repudiated her five reputed children and cut them off with one pound apiece.

When she was married, it was explained in the document, her millionaire husband offered her ten thousand pounds for every time the family was increased by one. The thrifty woman had borrowed it in turn, believing that its presence would make the judge more generous.

Children placed out with strangers often believe their adopted relatives to be their true parents. A struggling business man called home suddenly to the dying woman whom he had always believed to be his mother was astounded at her confession that he was not her son at all. She died without revealing his mother's identity.

With only a few slender clues, the man carried out an intriguing search. Finally he discovered that his mother was a wealthy woman living at a seaside resort. He made himself known to her, and she received him with open arms.

What Do You Think of a Fluid

That will draw roaches and ants out of every hole, crack, or crevice before they are killing them and not poison food?

That will kill bugs instantly and not leave an unpleasant odor?

That will knock flies off the wall and not harm paint or paper?

That will keep the bedroom, kitchen, or verandah clear of flies, mosquitoes, etc., for several hours after a few sprays?

That will take fleas off a dog and not harm the dog?

That will destroy chicken lice without any injury to your stock?

That applied in small quantities to the exposed parts of the body will insure you from Mosquito bites?

That as a general disinfectant is stronger than the ordinary carbolic solution.

THAT FLUID IS SAN-O-SPRAY.

No insect can live where San-O-Spray is used. Yet San-O-Spray is non-poisonous to human beings and can be used with perfect safety in pantry, kitchen, dining room, and cellars, moreover San-O-Spray has an agreeable and delightful odor, removing all fetid or unpleasant odors. In addition San-O-Spray is a disinfectant and germicide. Keeps the home sanitary and free from infectious diseases.

An electrically operated automatic passenger is now in use at several of the London Underground Railway stations.

When the passenger has inserted the proper number of coins, the device issues a dated ticket, releases the turnstile, registers the passenger on a recorder, and locks the turnstile after he has passed through.

It is stated that the number of tickets sold by the automatic machines at the London Underground Railway stations averages a quarter of a million a day.

Household Notes.

Be sure that you toast cheese sandwiches very slowly and thoroughly melt the cheese.

Season lamb croquettes with finely chopped lemon and parsley, and serve with tomato sauce.

White shoes will be delightfully white if a drop of bluing is added to the cleaning powder.

Raisins are nice in nut bread. Spread buttered slices of the bread with sugar and cinnamon.

Chop dates and English walnuts, mix with a little orange juice and use as a sandwich filling.

Potato balls are particularly attractive when a little chopped parsley is added to the melted butter.

Glass bowls can be purchased for very little and used to cover food when putting it in the refrigerator.

Keep on hand a small piece of carpet to put in front of the refrigerator when the looman comes.

It is generally necessary to add peppin to strawberries to make them jelly. Flavor with a little lemon juice.

Chilled cubes of cantaloupe are nice mixed with shredded pineapple and a little lemon juice and served as a fruit can.

Ottawa Planning
New Bond Issue of 300,000,000

TORONTO FINANCIAL CIRCLES
AMAZED AT AMOUNT GOV.
ERNMENT SEEKS.

Bond Dealers Assert Action Would Involve King Cabinet's Fall.

OTTAWA Ont., June 18.—(Canadian Press.)—The Dominion Government intends to float a loan of $300,000,000. Hon. James Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, will shortly bring down legislation to give the necessary authority.

Proceeds of the loan will be devoted entirely to refunding. A five year Victory loan for $17,955,000, issued in 1919, falls due on Nov. 1, and the proceeds of the new loan will take care of this and other maturing obligations.

TORONTO AMAZED.

TORONTO, June 18.—(Star Special.)—The Ottawa report that the Government contemplates the issue of $300,000,000 bonds for refunding purposes and that Hon. James Robb will bring down enabling legislation very shortly is received with utter incredulity in bond circles here which have always been in close touch with Government financing and were instrumental in the flotation of last year's loan.

The figure is regarded as an outrageous one. It is admitted that $107,955,000 falls due next November apart from that there is nothing substantial. Some $48,000,000 mature in 1925 on one loan and some odd amounts of bonds sold in England mature this year and next, but nothing approaching the total suggested. There appears to be no appreciable amount of railroad account issues maturing either.

One well known local bondman expressed the opinion that if the King Government attempted to bring down any such legislation they would simply be committing suicide. He intimated that the public was evidently out for the same economy in Government as in business life and would not stand for any unnecessary flotation.

Another was of the opinion that $300,000,000 for refunding was absolutely ridiculous and inexcusable. He thought however that the Government might ask authority for say $200,000,000 spread over the next two or three years, and if conditions were good in the fall, might make a limited offering in the domestic market with good chance of success. His opinion was that $100,000,000 would be a reasonable maximum to ask.

HAVE ENOUGH NOW.

In his opinion of bondmen the fact appears to be that the Government can, by introducing economies all along the line, get along without any issue at all this year, if it sets its mind to it. The Federal Government, for example, has a sinking fund of slightly over $24,000,000 at the present time and in addition has a credit somewhat in excess of $55,000,000 arising from various past settlements, which could likewise be applied to redemption of maturing bonds if desired.

This gives a total of $88,000,000 or within eight million of the entire amount of the five year issue of 1919 which matures on November 1. By cutting its coat according to its cloth, one bondman said, Ottawa can reduce the Dominion's funded debt this fall, by the entire amount of the maturing loan, without much difficulty. It was true, he said, that such a step might leave the Government a trifle short for the time being, but with reasonable economy it could be done, and the funded debt reduced in a manner which would do much to improve Canada's position in the eyes of the outside world.

Tricks of the Tides

QUEER FEARS OF FATHER NEPTUNE.

As most people know, the tides are produced by two pairs of waves which travel round the earth daily, the greater pair produced by the pull of the moon, the smaller by the attraction of the sun.

So far, simple enough, and if the earth's surface was all water the tides would be perfectly regular. But no tidal wave can travel very far before it bumps against land, and the results are exceedingly complicated.

For instance, there is a strip of our own southern coast which has double tides. These occur from Southampton to a little beyond Poole, and it is to this phenomenon that Southampton owes its position as one of our greatest seaports, for at nearly all times there is water to allow of the biggest ships coming in.

The Severn Bore.

At Colombo, in Ceylon, the same thing may be seen—four tides daily instead of two; but the oddest freak of all is at Papeete, one of the Society Islands in the South Pacific, where high tide occurs always between twelve midday and two o'clock.

On our own coasts the biggest tides are in the Bristol Channel, where, at the mouth of the Avon, the difference between ordinary high and low tide is 40ft. At Chepstow, a little further up the Severn, it is 52ft! This huge tide pouring up an ever-narrowing funnel causes the roaring wave called the Severn Bore.

The biggest tide in the world is in the Bay of Fundy, Canada, where the extreme rise and fall differs by 70ft. Up Stony Creek, at the head of the bay, the tidal wave rushes at 9.61 miles an hour.

The smallest tide so far observed is in Lake Superior. It does not rise more than 1½ in.

Wealth From Whales

Ambergris, derived from the intestines of the whale, is found in lumps up to 300lb. in weight, either floating in the Tropic seas or cast up on the shores of Madagascar, China, and Japan.

The whole of the constituents of ambergris, being of a highly complicated character, have not yet been identified and isolated.

Ambergris was known in very early times, and was reputed to possess highly curative properties for certain diseases.

Its present high cost—ninety-three shillings an ounce—is due entirely to the uncertainty of the supplies, to its use in perfumery as a fixative, and to its highly pleasant and delicate musk-like odour.

Terrors of Siberian Prisons

ESCAPED CONVICTS WHO LIVED LIKE WILD BEASTS.

The perils and sufferings undergone in Siberian prisons have long proved a popular subject for imaginative writers; now we have the true narrative of a famous scientist, Professor Ossendowski, who has spent ten years in Siberia making investigations into the miseries of the country, and whose disclosures concerning the terrible things he has seen are stranger by far than fiction.

On one of his expeditions the Professor fell in with two convicts, whom he befriended and made his servants. These men were named Hak and Sienko, and they were experienced criminals who, after the tortures and persecutions undergone in prison, were sworn enemies of society. They had already escaped from jail several times, and they and their kind were forced to seek refuge in the forests, living like wild beasts. Every soldier was authorized to kill escaped convicts, and received a money reward for each one taken or slain.

Branded or Life.

"A returned prisoner was marked for all time," Professor Ossendowski declares in "Man and Mystery in Asia" (Arnold). "Hak showed us these stigmas. They consisted of circles and triangles burnt with hot irons on his breast and shoulders, and some were so deeply burned that one could see the barely covered ribs. Sienko had other marks; his nostrils were slit and his ear was notched. Every Russian citizen meeting him with such marks had the right to kill them."

On one occasion when the Professor was out shooting he remarked to Hak that he wished he had brought a knife, whereupon the escaped convict declared: "A knife? I can give that to you." "Saying this," the author declares, "he put his hand to his naked hip, and right at the place where the abdomen joins the hip, he laid back a fold of the skin."

"I saw a little aperture in which Hak put two fingers, taking from it a long, thin knife. This habitual criminal had a pocket made in his skin. 'We old convicts always undergo this operation,' declared Hak with a significant smile. 'We have to have weapons in our fights with the jailers or soldiers pursuing us.'"

Hak had escaped from the terrible island prison of Sakhalin, where the worst cases were sent and from which few ever returned. The prisoners, both men and women, were sent to the island by sea, being chained, kept in iron cages, and guarded by the most brutal soldiers. The journey recalled the most terrible scenes of Dante's "Inferno." Hundreds died or were allowed to drown.

On the island, men guilty of strikes or rebellion, and recaptured convicts, were punished by an increase of work and a more severe prison regime, but before all this they were whipped. Often this punishment was the last in the life of the prisoner, and after it a new grave was dug in the cemetery.

The condemned were turned over to the chaffier-executioner. These Sakhalin executioners formed a special caste, hated by everybody. They were chosen by the administration from among the most debased of the prisoners, and were placed in separate quarters, as in the common one they would have been instantly killed by the convicts.

The prisoners under this reign of terror soon became like beasts; their principal weapons being axes, which they wielded with great dexterity, and which were ever ready to crush the skull of any pursuer.

When the Bolshevik revolution occurred most of these convicts were called upon by the Bolsheviks, according to the author, and placed at the head of the revolutionary tribunals. Half-beasts as they were, they carried out the sentences on society with the same brutality that had been shown to them by the representatives of the Czar.

"The Fall in Productivity Per Man"

The plight of the British engineering industry was discussed last week in a heart-to-heart talk between the leading employers and trade unionists concerned with the industry. The meeting was private, but a report of it has since been circulated," says the Daily Chronicle.

"Sir Allan Smith, for the Employers' Federation, supplied most valuable figures obtained by an inquiry among its members. The summary for last year was: Home orders, 106 millions; export, 44 millions; net surplus over costs, 2.75 per cent. For this year (to April 1) the similar figures were 50 millions, 16 millions, and 3 per cent. Out of these very small percentages would have to come the cost of an wage increase, of all capital charges, and of any profits and income tax. This at a time when the worker's wages in the industry, as shown by Mr. Brownlie, had fallen in real value by 15.4 per cent. since 1914.

"Every feature of bad trade is here shown—capital under-rewarded, labour underpaid, much unemployment and short time. It was complained that the younger generation were not getting enough work to make first-rate tradesmen, while the best of their elders were being increasingly attracted overseas."

"There are many reasons for this depression; but the most fundamental, and also the most removable, is the fall in productivity per man. According to Sir Allan Smith, it ranges from 6 per cent. to 12½ per cent., and that in spite of the fact that in times like the present it is the most efficient work-people who are longest retained in employment." It is true that this fall has followed—or accompanied—a reduction in hours, but there are reasons for thinking that it need not have.

"The fact is that the industry is eaten out with the false doctrine that the less a workman does the more there will be for his mates to do. It is so, not because the workmen in it suffer from any special dose of original sin, but simply because, like building trade (where the same doctrine holds much the same mischievous sway), it is an industry of 'discontinuous employment,' i.e. men are employed for the job, when there is a job, and between jobs the employer is not responsible for them. Hence the irresistible motive to spin jobs out.

"Make earnings in the trade as near as possible continuous, by a proper system of insurance, and you will enable every worker to do his utmost without fear that by so doing he will come sooner to suffer from being unemployed. Mr. Brownlie appears to see the possibilities. He suggested "forming a wages equalisation fund on lines corresponding to reserve funds for equalising dividends," so that a firm "could in periods of depression employ its workmen short time, but continue to pay full wages." That is the basic idea; though the industry rather than the individual firm should be the unit for realising it.

"With the worker thus secured we believe that his productivity would rise fast, and many rules and customs which have been designed to limit it could be superseded, with higher productivity prices: would fall; with lower prices orders would multiply; and at the same time the trade could afford better wages, and there need be no gloomy hints about going back on the 47-hour week."

"course of this investigation may do something to create a better public opinion and a higher public spirit, to the lasting advantage of this richly endowed land and her brave and hardy people." The result of the election suggests that the Commissioner's hope was justified, and it will be for Mr. Monroe, who comes to his office as a new broom, to sweep the dark places clean. In a manifesto which he issued before the election, he said: "The public enquiry, which has been so well begun, shall be promptly and vigorously continued to the end," and this promise he repeated at a public meeting held in celebration of his victory. The people of this country will join with the people of Newfoundland in wishing him well in a task which, however disagreeable, is clearly his first duty.

SELFISHNESS.
I saw my neighbors all intent on a fish scheme and plans to gather in a net without counting any all were kopeck fans. They had no time for anything but adding to their rolls; they had no time to dance and sing or educate their souls. And so I kept myself aloof from neighbors such as these, until, while working on my roof, I fell and broke my knees. It soon was bruited through the town that I was sick and sore, and White and Grey and Green and Brown came prancing to my door. "Just keep your mind serene," they said, "keep an unfurrowed brow; for we will weed your onion bed, and milk your bob-tailed cow. And we will guard your sacred hens, so they don't lay astray, and feed the piglets in their pens, and give the mules their hay. So let no vain forebodings freeze the current of your soul; but porous plasters on your knees, and eat a buttered roll. We've brought some dainties to your coop," the spokesman gently croons, "and here are bowls of chicken soup, and here are potted prunes." Again I see my neighbors chase before my garden gate; all keen of eye and drawn of face they hunt the piece of eight. But, now I know they'll quit that game to help, with kindly smiles, the groaning wretch whose legs are lame from falling half a mile.

SPEAKING OF CANDLES.

What will they find to do to them next?

Them stands for candles, candles which were once white and soft and useful, rather than deliberately ornamental.

Just as once on a time, shoes were black and heavy and useful rather than ornamental.

The things they (meaning the manufacturers and the style creators) have done to shoes are plenty, but I don't really think they are quite equal to the things done to candles.

First They Used Up The Rainbow.

Once upon a time, as I said before, candles were practically always white. The first step away from this was the appearance of a few colored candles for use in candle sticks. At first these were just the simple colors, blue, red, pink and yellow. Then we began to have more varied shades such as orange and lavender and the off shades of blue—whatever one could ask for to fit in with the color scheme of a room.

Black candles also came into vogue—how our grandmothers would have stared at them and wondered what anyone could want a black candle for?

But this was only the first step. Having made candles of many different colors and established that value, the candle creators had to think up something new, and it presently occurred to them that they could make a single candle of several different colors, which they proceeded to do. Candles were lit by merely tilting in some one shade, they were mottled and distempered in two or three or half a dozen shades at once.

But you can only sell even a mantel-colored candle for a certain price and the next step was to make them appear more costly with a touch of silver and gold here and there.

Then They Reshaped Them.

One might think the last step had been reached when all the colors of the rainbow and a good many the rainbow never heard of had been thus pressed to service. But one would be wrong. Having exhausted the variations on the theme of color, the manufacturers turned to the matter of lines.

When is a candle not a candle? When it's a piece of birch tree, or an Easter egg, or a bunny sitting up on his haunches, or a little red riding hood. Of course it still poses as a candle, but if the function of a candle, as we once thought, is to burn, surely these are not candles any longer for who could have the heart to set a match to an Easter bunny and see him writhe in his own flames? Or if one had the heart how could he have the extravagance? For, needless to say, the change in price has kept pace with the other changes in candles.

Twenty-five Dollars For A Candle.

You once bought candles two for five cents. To-day you may buy two for $50 if you wish. No, I don't mean the candle and holder. I mean just the candle itself. This particular pair are made of extraordinarily fine paraffine which is scented and very costly and decorated by hand with very costly colors. It seems incredible but it is true to believe the clerk who says she sold them, it's true.

Yes, they were not merely "for sale," they were sold. And yet they talk about hard times.

They have scented them, they have colored them, they have carved them, what will they find to do to candles next?

If you have any suggestions take them to the candle manufacturers, they will doubtless be glad to have them.

Giants Who Found Fame

TALL TALKS TOLD ABOUT TALL MEN.

It is long since the coming of a giant to this country created such a stir as the advent of "Lofty," the Dutchman who stands nine feet four inches. He has been photographed standing with the Prime Minister at the door of 10, Downing Street, a unique distinction for any giant.

There is no doubt that Goliath of Gath is the best known giant outside the region of myth, yet he fell short of the stature of the Dutchman by nearly a foot, for the Biblical measurement is given as "six cubits and a span," which in modern feet and inches is "eight-foot-six" but the Philistines whom David killed with a slung stone seems to have been, unlike many giants, well proportioned and "a mighty man of valor" despite his beastliness.

The famous Russian giant, Loushkin, who served the Czar as drummer of the Imperial Guards, is stated to have stood eight feet five inches. Frederick the Great's Scottish giant was not quite eight feet three inches.

The King's Porter.

The famous porter of Charles the First who is said to be responsible for a mark high up on the walls of Windsor Castle, a man named William Evans, who died in 1632, is said to have been exactly eight feet high, and Louis, the French giant, whose left hand is preserved in the Royal College of Surgeons' museum, was only seven feet four inches in height.

The Irish giant, O'Brien, whose skeleton is preserved at Dublin, was of great height, but Flim, the Roman philosopher gives to one Gabbaras, an Arabian, nine feet five and a half inches, capping this with the mention of Postle and Secundilla, who were

Toadstools and Mushrooms

Ignorance of the difference between toadstools and mushrooms has led to many deaths by poisoning.

If you are not sure which is a mushroom and which a toadstool, it is wiser, therefore, to leave them alone rather than run the risk of making a fatal mistake.

The toadstool is common in woods, looks harmless, and has a pleasant taste.

The edible mushroom never grows in woods, but only in open pastures where the soil is rich and neither too wet nor—for any long period—too dry; never in wet or boggy places.

The flesh of the true mushroom does not change colour; the cap has a frill, the gills are free from the stem, and are either white or pink in colour when young, darkening to brownish black later on.

A good test is the ease with which the outer skin may be peeled off leaving a pure white surface exposed; toadstools do not peel.
