The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

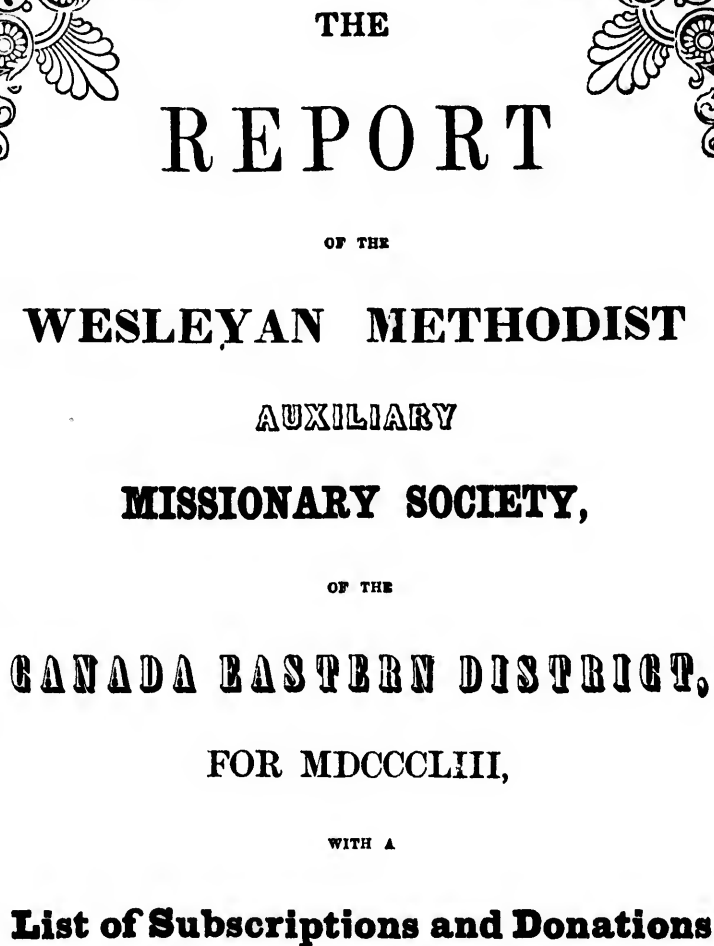

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

REPORT.

THE past year has been one of great events in the World, and in the Church of Christ, nor has it been in the history of our Missions without some peculiar circumstances, calculated on their review to excite our gratitude to the Author of all Good, and to strengthen us in the belief, that God is with us still, sanctioning our efforts with His blessing. The recent separation of the French work from the control of the Committee, and the Formation of an Independent French Conference will, it is hoped, tend to give the Gospel as preached by the Methodists, a more unimpeded progress in that part of Europe, and similar arrangements in the Australian department, are likely to be followed by the most gratifying results. Our friends will also hail the commencement of a Mission in China with pleasing emotions, and recognise the hand of Providence, in the manner in which it originated. The Income of the Parent Society has been, in its ordinary and regular items, better than that of the past year. We proceed to present some extracts from the last Report of the Parent Society.

At the Annual Meeting held in May of the present year, the Financial and Statistical Report of the Committee was, in substance, as follows :—

The Receipts of the Wesleyan Missionary Society for the year ending December 31, 1852, were £105,381 19s. 6d., being an increase of £2,650 19s. 9d. over those of the preceding year. There is a decrease in the large Donations received at the Mission House amounting to £2,441 10s. 11d. : but an increase on the Receipts of the Home Districts of £1,854 9s. 6d. ; the additional increase is found in the Miscellaneous Receipts; the Christmas Offerings showing an advance of nearly £400; and the Contributions for China being nearly £1,000 in advance.

The total Ordinary Receipts at the Mission House, and from the Home Districts have been.....	£66,076	8 5
The Hibernian Missionary Society.....	3,949	13 3
The Juvenile Christmas Offerings.....	5,528	5 3
Contributions for the Chinese Mission.....	1,225	1 10
<hr/>
Total Ordinary Home Income.....	£76,779	8 9
Contributions of Foreign Auxiliaries.....	14,320	11 11
Colonial Grants.....	3,490	3 10
Legacies.....	2,899	0 7
Donations on Annuity.....	5,297	11 5
Dividends, Interest, &c.....	2,595	3 0

The Expenditure of the year has been £110,337 Os. 11d., being £4,955 1s. 5d. more than the Income. This excess added to the previous deficiency, leaves a balance of £24,691 9s. 2d. to be provided for.

A review of the Financial proceedings of the Society during the year, affords the Committee an encouraging hope for the future. They have seen the necessity of restricting the Expenditure on all the Missions of the Society, and in this painful operation they have had the valuable aid of the Missionaries themselves, who acknowledge universally the necessity of expending no more than the friends of Missions contribute. On the Colonial Missions the Missionaries have begun to depend for their support on the congregations to which they minister; a measure which the relation between the Missionaries and their congregations fully justifies, and which the prosperous state of some of the Colonies has at once rendered perfectly successful. By this arrangement, the Funds of the Society will be more exclusively expended in Missions to the heathen and other unenlightened portions of the human race.

The General Report of the Society's operations exhibits the present state and prospects of the various fields of enterprise. We subjoin an abbreviated statement. The Geographical arrangement of the Parent Committee will be followed.

EUROPE.

IRELAND.—In Ireland, the various Missions had been successfully prosecuted, and there were hopeful indications for the future. The Schools had yielded a larger result of spiritual good than in any preceding year. At the Annual Meeting, the Rev. Gibson McMillen, from Ireland, was one of the speakers. He referred with pleasure to the success of other Missionary Societies, and then said: "But, as I stand upon our Wesleyan platform on this occasion, and address this large meeting on a Wesleyan Missionary Anniversary, you will of course expect me chiefly to confine myself in the observations I make, to the operations of the Wesleyan Missionary Society in Ireland. And, whilst I do this, you must permit me to make one or two preliminary remarks, although I am determined not to occupy the time of the meeting very long. A question which has often been put to the Irish Missionary when he has visited this country, is this—"Why is it that you Wesleyans are so Missionary; why have you so much success in foreign lands; and why do you not make a larger figure in England by reports of your successes in Ireland?" I wish to give a full and clear answer to that question now. In the first place, I would observe, that Missionary success with Wesleyans in Ireland is no novelty. We had been preaching the Gospel as Missionaries throughout the length and breadth of the land, for many, many years before there were any Irish Church Missions, and before any other evangelical denomination had any Missionaries there—consequently, if we had all along success, and if this success has from time to time been published to the world, it will not be so astounding a novelty, particularly when others have entered and occupied the field as well as ourselves.—The success of others is novel, because the Societies themselves are new,—but whether upon the Circuits in Ireland, or upon our Mission Stations, we have always been Missionary. Permit me here to relate a fact which is of immense importance in the consideration of this subject. We are so widely diffused—the efforts of our ministry are so widely extended, that I suppose not more than one-half of the members of the Wesleyan Society can be reached by the Sunday labors of our Ministers. They have to depend upon the ministry of other denominations upon the Lord's Day. And I put this question to you :—If they are dependent upon the labors of other Ministers on the Lord's Day, what must be the strength of their attachment to that cause with which they are connected, when nothing will seduce them away from our institutions, which God has owned and blessed in the conversion of their souls to the faith of Christ? For there is one thing we have ever kept before us. We have never made it our object to collect nominal converts to Christianity. We must tell you that our great object has ever been to lay the foundation of all holiness and moral purity, and the foundation of all that can be designated religion, in preaching the simple Gospel of Jesus Christ, and seeking, by the Holy Spirit of God blessing that Gospel, the awakening of sinners, and their conversion to God, through simple faith alone in Christ Jesus. We find, wherever we have spiritual children, that, through this instrumentality, they become attached to us; and I assert, without fear of contradiction, that for many, many years before we had these modern Missionaries in Ireland, for whom I desire to bless God, Wesleyan Methodist agency was the instrument under God Almighty of preserving, in many Popish districts of that land, the very name and existence of Protestantism. A venerable servant of God,—one of our Irish brethren,—who traveled for upwards of fifty years, but is now laid aside from the regular work, frequently made an assertion which I may perhaps be permitted to reiterate—that it will never be known, until the day of eternity, whether the indirect results of Wesleyan Methodism upon the other churches of Ireland, in promoting a revival among them, and giving to them some of their best Ministers, and some of their best members,—or its direct results, in the preservation of a separate people called Wesleyan Methodists,—be the most extensive. Yes, Sir, and although we do not begrudge them, we sometimes feel jealous when we are not, as we ought to be, recognised by them, and when all will not give us, as we hold out to them, the right hand of fellowship. But one thing I hope we shall ever bear in mind, that we must never be provoked to anything but love. And let bigotry rear its head, and become ever so monstrous in our country, as opposed to genuine Christianity, I hope no provocation will drive us away from the line of genuine charity, but we shall rather melt down all asperities by heaping on the heads of all who would oppose us the live coals of a burning charity.”

The CONTINENT OF EUROPE is now a most important and extensive field of Missionary toil. At Winnenden, there was an increased number of members, and some additional preaching places had been opened. France having been placed in a new ecclesiastical position by the Conference, could no longer be regarded as a field of Missionary labors of the Society; the prospects, however, were bright, and steps had been taken by the French brethren to commence a Mission in Italy. In Spain, the English and Spanish Departments at Gibraltar had been consolidated, with a view to economise the funds. The Schools contained 250 children, of whom 224 were Spanish.

ASIA AND CONTINENTAL INDIA.

The SOUTH CEYLON Mission has presented a degree of prosperity. There was an increase of 78 members, with 40 on trial; the total number in the District was 1,416 with 41 on trial, in all 1,847:—183 Europeans and 1,664 Singha- lese. Four new chapels have been erected. The Committee, with deep and solemn regret, noticed the recent death of Mr. Clough.

IN NORTH CEYLON, it had been a year of many afflictions to the Missionaries: two of them had had to return home, and the labors of those who remained had been pursued amidst many interruptions. One of the brethren, the Rev. E. J. Robinson, returned from North Ceylon, attended the Missionary meeting in Exeter Hall. From his address, we take the following:—"The people in North Ceylon at first entertained the wildest notions as to our design and intentions in requesting that their children might be given up to our direction. Some imagined that they were to be reared as slaves, others thought we intended to make them soldiers, others again fancied that our object was to send them from their homes to the interior of the island, and many concluded that they were to be transported to some foreign country. It appeared incredible to them, that men of another nation had traveled thousands of miles to receive, support, and educate the children of persons whom they had never seen, and this from motives of pure benevolence. At last, however, six little boys were entrusted by their parents to our Missionaries. Some time elapsed before other parents could be thus induced. Great difficulties had to be overcome. And even when the people found that their children were not to be reduced to slavery, not to be trained as men of war, not to be transported to a foreign land, still many difficulties presented themselves, and it was deemed expedient for a season to yield a little to their prejudices. When the Batticaloa school was established, the parents would not allow their children to take their food on the Missionary premises, and accommodation for that purpose was provided for them on a piece of land belonging to the heathen. More than a year passed away before the Missionaries ventured to take this establishment within their own enclosure, and then several of the students rolled up their mats, took their books, and hastily departed; in fact, I may say, they "took up their beds and walked." Most of them, however, after their friends had had time for consideration, very thankfully returned. Other difficulties had to be surmounted. There were several excellent wells, and an ample supply of water for the whole district. But the children seemed to suffer from a species of hydrophobia. They whispered that, as these wells had been used by persons connected with the Mission-school, the water they contained could not be pure enough for Tamuls of good caste. They were seen, with uplifted eyebrows and long faces, grouped together in council. At length one of them, somewhat brighter than the rest, hit on a plan of which they all approved. It was decided, that they should draw every drop of water from the wells, and give them a thorough cleansing. The buckets went up and down in rapid succession, but, after they had exerted themselves all day, the wells were nearly as full as ever. It being then the rainy season, the wells were not to be exhausted in a hurry. They then reconsidered the matter, and at last came to the conclusion that, as much water having been drawn from the wells as they contained at the commencement of their labors, there could be no doubt that the spring now issued purely. Their faith removed the mountain, and that establishment is now one of the most efficient educational establishments in India."

Of School statistics, Mr. Robinson gave the following information:—"We have 24 day schools for boys, containing upwards of 1,000 scholars, and an institution with twenty-two boarders. What are we doing with respect to female education? We have six day schools, containing nearly 300 girls, and a boarding school with 14 pupils. Of these 30 schools, five are purely English, and a few are mixed. The large central school at Colombo, containing upwards of 100 pupils, has been a most effective institution. Children have been sent to it from Batticaloa, Trincomalee, Kandy, Colombo, and Negapatam. You may ask of what race are the children in our schools? In one year, (1851,) out of 1,425 children, 4 were children of English parents, 104 Portuguese and Dutch descendants, 23 Malays, 37 children of Moormen, 3 Singhalese, and 1,254 Tamul children. What, professedly, is their religion? 192 of them were Protestants, 90 Roman Catholics, 60 Mohammedans, 1 a Buddhist, and 1,082 worshippers of Siva and the kindred deities. An education like that given to the children must awaken and stir the hearts of the adults. Even the secular education which we impart is directly destructive of heathenism. We cannot teach geography, astronomy, and physics, without subduing the prejudices of the Hindoo, and exposing the fundamental absurdities of his religion. I have not time to bring to your notice even one of those instances, to show,—what you all acknowledge, and all are ready to enforce,—the importance of even secular education. But let it not be supposed for a moment that our Missionaries are satisfied with imparting a merely secular education. The education we impart is an essentially Christian education. In dependence on God's grace, we endeavor to produce on the minds of the youth committed to our care an influence like that exerted by the Christian parent on her children. We never open the school without singing God's praises, reading his holy word, and imploring his immediate blessing. We are aiming continually at the exhibition, at the exposition of religious truth. We have Watson's Conversations to demonstrate the divine claims of Christianity, and our incomparable Second Catechism to exhibit its doctrines and precepts. Our boarding schools are nurseries for our churches. There are rules established for the spiritual direction of their inmates. They are not only protected from the deteriorating influence of Hindoo society, but, housed in a Christian institution, they are trained in the ways of Christianity and subjected to Christian influence. We prohibit all attendance at heathen temples. We see that every child takes his place regularly in our Sunday schools. We require them to be present at the public services of the sanctuary. Not merely in opening the school do we sing, and read, and pray, but we gather the children, morning and evening, around the family altar. Not merely in school hours do we cause them to read from the book you read, but we strive to make them search the Scripture in the retirement of their closets. We are not content to regard them simply as members of the Mission family, but we pray that they may become members of the family of God. Is our preaching in vain? The children are sometimes found holding voluntary meetings for prayer and for reading the Scriptures. Religious revivals have occurred in some of our Mission Circuits. The American Missions have found it necessary to build a row of twelve small rooms, in order that the girls may exercise their devotion and worship God in private.— We have known young persons rejoice, when suffering from bodily affliction, in the exercise of the religious knowledge which they have received in the Wesleyan institution. Hundreds, when the Bible is read and expounded, and the Gospel unfolded, seemingly trust in Jesus. Their eyes are open to behold the glory of Christianity, and they become steadily attached to our soul-saving religion. You must have schools in India, or you have no need of Missions there.”

In CONTINENTAL INDIA one of the most faithful Missionaries, Mr. Cryer, had been removed by death. Among the English society in Madras, the work had not declined.— The native church at Royapettah had received 34 in church-fellowship, with 4 on trial; and at Negapatam there had been several converts, one of whom had begun to preach. At Bangalore, the Educational Establishment contained 300 boys,—an increase of 130. Major-Gen. Cubbon, Commissioner of the Rajah of Mysore, had testified his approval by a monthly gift of 300 rupees. The printing establishment was very efficient. Mysore had been deprived of most of its Missionary labor, but the effects of former exertions were very manifest. The Committee urged the appalling fact, that in these territories there was only one Missionary to every million of the population.

The name of Dr. Duff stands connected so very closely with the work of God in India, that we have great pleasure in publishing a letter addressed by him to one of our own venerable ministers:—

CHAMPION-HILL, CAMBERWELL,

Monday morning, 2nd May, 1853.

MY DEAR DR. BUNTING,—It was my earnest wish to have been with you to-day, however shortly; but I now regret to find that the pressure of other unavoidable engagements will prevent me. Allow me, however, to avail myself of this opportunity for congratulating you, with my whole heart, on the continued prosperity of your Society. That, amid the turmoils and agitations of late years, its resources should not have been materially affected, is surely a proof of the marvellous vitality of Old Methodism, and the marvellous liberality of its steadfast adherents. That the Lord may graciously bless your Society to the conversion of myriads of souls through the wide-spread realms of heathendom, is the earnest prayer of

Yours, very truly,

ALEXANDER DUFF.

POLYNESIA.

The Missions in AUSTRALIA and POLYNESIA next came under review. The state of the work in New South Wales afforded ground of mingled encouragement and regret. The removals to the gold mines had operated detrimentally to religion. In some Circuits there had been an extension of the work. At the Turon gold mines, open-air services had been productive of good. The Bathurst Circuit had paid its own expenses, and contributed £200 to the Society. In Melbourne, the congregations had increased, and all the Chapel Debts had been paid off. A large Building had been erected and opened for the reception of Wesleyan emigrants and their families.

The Gold Fields in the Province of Victoria had received a measure of attention, and occupy a place in the District Schedules:—

Two Missionaries are employed, who alternately supply the Forest Creek and Bendigo Diggings every Sabbath, and with the assistance of some faithful and zealous Local Preachers conduct a large number of religious services weekly. A rough slab Chapel was opened at Forest Creek in July, when two large and attentive congregations assembled morning and evening, and a very interesting Love-feast and Sacramental Service was held in the afternoon. About seventy members were present, and all felt it good to be there. The collections amounted to £17, which, with the previous subscriptions fully met the cost of the humble erection. The organization of Societies among so migratory a people has been found to be a work of great difficulty. But it has been attempted, and a total of 150 members, with five on trial, is reported, together with one Sabbath school, containing sixty-five children. The expense of this Mission has necessarily been heavy, but nearly the whole has been defrayed from local resources.

From Melbourne, the latest intelligence was highly gratifying. After much anxious thought and consultation with friends, it has been determined to provide additional Chapel accommodation for about 5,000 persons, and as there was no possibility of erecting stone or brick buildings, it had been resolved to order from this country several Iron Chapels of different dimensions. Upwards of £4,000 had been subscribed to meet the emergency. It was also in contemplation to employ an additional Missionary at the Ballarat Diggings without bringing any charge upon the Funds of the Society.

The State of South Australia during the early part of the last year was highly critical:—

The departure of the population to the adjoining Province of Victoria, and the consequent depreciation of all kinds of property, threatened all the interests of the Society with immediate destruction. But a kind Providence averted the evil where it appeared most imminent; and there is every reason to expect that the Province will in future be more prosperous than before. It is matter of great thankfulness that, during the season of trial, the Societies were not wholly broken up, and that indications of good are now found in connection with almost every Station.

Towards the payment of debts upon the Chapels in South Australia £1,000 had been contributed, including £100 from the Victoria Diggings.

In Western Australia a marked improvement in the state of the Mission has taken place since the last Report:—

It was then stated as a subject of just regret, that the powerful appeals of the Missionary for an additional laborer could not be responded to. But the liberal offer of the Colonial Government, to provide the stipend of a second Missionary, having now removed the only obstacle to his appointment, Mr. Lowe has proceeded to the help of Mr. Smithies, and the statistics of the station already exhibit a gratifying result. The native Institution has been removed to a more healthy site, and one better adapted for the agricultural operations which constitute so important an auxiliary in the work of reclaiming that degraded race.

The General Returns from the Van Diemen's Land District show that the evil influence of the discovery of gold in Australia has been felt very extensively:—

The extensive emigration to which it has given rise, has affected every Circuit more or less. Congregations have been reduced, progress has been arrested, and in a few places service has been discontinued. The efficiency of the Sabbath-schools has also been impaired in most places. Yet, under all these disadvantages, the District has sustained itself by the help of its own Contingent Fund; the Missionaries in general, report very favorably of the spiritual state of the members who have remained at home, and encourage themselves with the hope of future improvement.

As to NEW ZEALAND, from the northern section no reports had arrived, and from the southern the tenor of the accounts was various. The work among the natives was impeded by a growing spirit of worldliness, fostered by their intercourse with Europeans, the increase in the value of land, and the marketable facilities for their produce. In the larger settlements there was more encouragement. At Canterbury, a site for a Chapel and Minister's house had been secured and an additional Minister was wanted. The Chatham Islanders, who had been baptized by Wesleyans, were urgent for a Missionary, and had been for years.

The Mission to the Friendly Isles never presented circumstances of greater interest than it has done during the last year:—

The war which has occasioned so much, and so just uneasiness, has been brought to a happy termination; and the King by his forbearance and generosity in the hour of triumph, and by the practical wisdom of other parts of his conduct, has eminently adorned his Christian profession. The chiefs of the fort, called Houma, having first notified their intention to submit, a day was appointed to receive their submission; and as the custom of the nation is to destroy the vanquished, the Missionaries thought it right to be present at the ceremony, that they might intercede for the captives if needful. But their good offices were not required, for the King caused it to be proclaimed, that he did not intend to take from these chiefs either their lives, their dignity, or their lands, but that he freely forgave them for the sake of lotu alone. The pardoned chiefs returned from the assembly to the King's house, and that same night they renounced heathenism, and at the family prayer of King George, for the first time in their lives, they bowed the knee to the Lord Jesus. More than a hundred persons followed their example, when Mr. West visited the fort a few days afterwards. Five weeks afterwards, on the 16th of August, the remaining fortress was surrendered, and mercy triumphed once more in saving the lives of the vanquished. This fortress, however, was at once destroyed, and the chiefs degraded from their rank, apparently as a punishment for their greater obstinacy. The Romish priests who had persisted in remaining in it to the last, notwithstanding the remonstrances addressed to them both by the King and Sir Everard Home, escaped without injury, and their property was preserved from destruction by the personal exertions of the King and the baronet, who went through the midst of burning houses and falling trees to help them to secure their goods. Since the visit of Sir E. Home in H.M.S. Calliope, the islands have been visited by a French ship-of-war La Moselle, Captain Belland, commissioned by the Governor of Tahiti, to enquire into certain complaints lodged against King George by the Captain of a French whaler (the Gustave of Havre-de-Grace) and by the Romish priests residing in Tonga. On the 16th of November, the King went on board La Moselle, and entered into conference with Captain Belland on the alleged grievances. He took with him copies of all his letters to the priests, and other documents carefully prepared, and at the close of the conference, which lasted five hours, the Captain said, "Tell the King I have seen and conversed with many chiefs in the South Sea Islands, but I never knew one so wise as he. The French have acknowledged his authority by directing me to him as Supreme Chief of Tonga, and he must employ his authority in protecting all foreigners from insult, and must allow his subjects to choose what religion they please, but all must submit to the law of the land."

The war thus brought to a close has exerted an unfavorable influence on some parts of the work, but much is hoped for, from the moral influence of the events which have been connected with its termination. In the month of October, a great council was held, at which all the ruling Chiefs were present, and many very important regulations were enacted. The following extracts will speak for themselves:—"The system of tabu is abolished. All slaves are hereby set at liberty, and no man is to keep a slave or other person in bondage. All persons are to dress modestly and becomingly. All crime will be punished, and the laws already printed are to be enforced throughout the land. All Chiefs and notables are to be respected. All children are to be sent to school,—for on this depends the future welfare of our nation."

In the Tonga Circuit a considerable increase of members has taken place; in the other Circuits it is not so:—

At the Normal Training Institution, nineteen persons have completed their course of study, and been appointed to take charge of Schools in various parts of the group, with the exception of one, who has been recommended for the work of the ministry. A new supply of Students has been obtained, and the Institution is in full operation : a course of Theology compiled from Dr. Hannah's Lectures and Watson's Institutes has been added to the other courses of Lectures. The Press has been continuously employed ; and not only upon School Lessons, Catechism, Hymn-books, but also with Almanacks, Geographies, and a Code of Laws for the Islands, and Regulations for the ports. The translation of the Scriptures, of the Old Testament, continues to engage attention, and two thousand copies of the portion from Job to Solomon's Song, inclusive, have lately been printed.

The Feejee Islands present a small increase in the number of members, and a large increase in the number of scholars :—

During the last year, Mr. Polglase arrived from England in the John Wesley with two trained Teachers, from the Glasgow Normal Seminary. These have been stationed at Lakemba, and Ovalau respectively. Mr. Hazlewood has returned from New South Wales in improved health, and greatly delighted and encouraged by the progress of the work in that Colony since he left it in 1844. His interval of absence from his station has been filled up with important literary avocations. A Feejeean and English Dictionary has been completed and published, and an English and Feejeean Dictionary is near completion. The press continues in activity ; it is proposed to print three thousand copies of the New Testament, and as many extra copies of certain books in a separate form. Education proceeds, and its beneficial results are apparent. Mr. Watsford has eighty-four children in an Infant School at Vewa who have attracted the attention of the neighboring Chief of Bua, the metropolis of Feejee. He has been to visit the School, expressed much pleasure at the sight, and said that Mr. Watsford might go and teach the children at Bua. In Mr. Binner's School, at Livuka, there are about ninety children who are able to pronounce the English language with ease and correctness. At Lakemba, most of the girls, and a few of the boys, in the School, are members of Society. Five girls, who have been preserved in youth from the vices of their heathen state, have been married to Christian men, and promise to become pious and useful women.

The Lakemba Circuit prospers under the assiduous care of Mr. Lyth, whose special attention is directed to increase the efficiency of his native assistants. Popery is almost extinct, and the few respectable Feejeans who gave it countenance in Lakemba have withdrawn themselves, and come over to the Missionaries. In Yandrana, many have been savingly converted to God.

Some matters, not merely of local and Methodistical, but in some sense also of national interest, have transpired during the year, in connexion with the Feejee Mission. The first is the sailing of an expedition, commissioned for the nautical survey of that group of Islands, which will greatly facilitate future intercourse with them on the part of Europeans, and tend to the preservation of Missionary property and life. The next is the very important service which has been rendered to the Mission in those seas, by the opportune visits of H. M. S. Calliope, under the command of Sir James Everard Home, Bart., who has in various ways supported and co-operated with the Society's agents both in the Friendly and Feejee Islands. The Committee cannot but rejoice, that in the providence of God it has been so ordered that the Crown of Great Britain should have been so worthily represented in these far-off isles of the sea. Tho Missionaries have been greatly and most justly encouraged by the advice and commendation of the gallant officer. Another subject for general congratulation is the success which has attended the endeavors of Mr. Calvert to discountenance the practice of slave-holding by British subjects in these Islands. Three years ago he took steps to bring this painful subject under the notice of the authorities, and his exertions have been rewarded by the issue of a Proclamation by His Excellency Sir Charles Fitzroy, the Governor General of Her Majesty's Australasian possessions, declaring the purchasing and holding of slaves by British subjects to be illegal and scandalous, and warning these offenders against their country's law, if they persist it will be at their peril.

AFRICA.

The stations in SOUTHERN AFRICA then occupied attention. At Cape Town the gold excitement and the disturbed state of the colony had exercised an adverse influence, yet encouragement was not wholly wanting. The settlements generally had been harassed, and the people scattered, but there were pleasing features in the returns.....Of British Kaffraria it was said, that by the goodness of God—

The station at Mount Coke has been preserved in safety through the year. More than once has it been attacked by rebel Hottentots and Kaffirs, and eleven Natives and one European have fallen victims to the violence of these misguided men; many have been wounded, and exposure and want have affected the health of many more; so that the year has been one of great sorrow and perplexity; yet the usual services have been continued with increasingly large and attentive congregations, and the Sabbath-school has been well attended. The Watson Institution, now revived, and placed under the care of Mr. Impey, contains eight youths, and as the printing-press is about to be removed from King William's Town to this place, some new buildings which will be required for carrying out this arrangement will be erected without expense to the Society. On the whole, the brethren indulge the hope that this place, having weathered the storm which has wrecked so many kindred Institutions, will again be eminently prosperous, and prove a blessing to the tribes around. Colonel Maclean, Chief Commissioner of British Kaffraria, has again laid the Society under deep obligations by his unswerving attention to its interests at a most critical period. It is highly interesting to find in the Circuit Report an honorable mention of the aid and protection afforded on various occasions by the Chiefs Sewani and Umkye.

The operations of the press at King William's Town have been much interfered with by the war, and the publication of the English and Kaffir periodicals has consequently been suspended; but the Scriptures, Hymn Books, and Sunday services have been steadily proceeded with, and an edition of two thousand copies of the Kaffir New Testament is to be commenced immediately.

The accounts from Kaffraria Proper showed that the Missionary, formerly at Butterworth, (now destroyed,) had divided his labors between the natives and the English in King William's Town.

A painful letter from Mr. Giddy, in the Bechuana Country showed the necessity for prayer and effort on behalf of the Missionaries and their flocks. It appeared, however, that, in the Port Natal and Amazulu District,—

The work of God in the D'Urban Circuit is, upon the whole, gratifying, though the rate of progress is not so much as the Missionary could desire. A depressed state of trade and other unfavorable circumstances have severely tried many friends among the Europeans, and led to the removal of many of the natives. But the congregations are generally good, and there is a spirit of hearing among the people, while some few are inquiring what they must do to be saved. The Sabbath-school at D'Urban is in a healthy condition, and contains about eighty scholars. A Day-school is urgently needed; and a "teacher trained in our Normal Institution would be of incalculable benefit." At Pieter-Maritz-Berg, the English congregation is larger than it has ever been, and devout attention is paid to the Word preached. The chapel has undergone considerable alterations, including the erection of a gallery, the cost of which will be provided for. The Sunday-school has advanced in number and efficiency, and an Infant-school has been commenced, towards which the Local Government contributes fifty pounds per annum. The colored congregation has improved, and the piety of the members assumes a more healthy tone. The native work greatly needs additional help both in the Society and School department.

The following notices occur in relation to the WEST AFRICAN Missions:—

The interesting colony of Sierra Leone continues to advance. Not only are its material interests in a state of progressive improvement, but the work of God also. In every Circuit there has been an increase of members; and the Wesleyan Methodists now constitute the largest of the religious denominations which find a place in the annual return of the population. It has been very properly determined by the late District Meeting to divide the Freetown Circuit, and fix the residence of a Minister at Wilberforce, which with Aberdeen and the other places allotted will form a Circuit with nearly eight hundred members in Society, five Day-schools, and as many Sunday schools,—a sufficient charge for any ordinary pastor, even in a healthy and favorable climate. Concerning the spiritual state of the Freetown Circuit, the Superintendent reports favorably, with the exception of one or two places; and could Buxton Chapel be completed and finished, and one or two other places put into good repair, he would (it seems) have little left to desire. Since the rebuilding of the Chapel at Murray Town, the Spirit of the Lord has been poured out, many backsliders have been reclaimed, and thirty-seven idolators have voluntarily given up their idols and idol worship, and commenced meeting in Class, twenty-eight of these have found peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. The Native Institution at King Torri's Point contains at present nine Students, who are all of the first year, but their progress so far has been satisfactory. The Sunday Schools present a cheering Report, there being an increase of one hundred and fifty-seven Scholars, many of whom are adults. Four Catechumen Classes have also been formed, which contain one hundred and twenty Pupils. The Day Schools have encountered some difficulties during the year, but, on the whole, are doing well, and show an increase of upwards of eighty Scholars.

From Cape Coast, the Reports speak of the continued prosperity of the work in highly gratifying terms. A recent letter states "Never has the work of God in this District been known to assume so cheering an aspect. The influence of Christianity is rapidly extending itself into the interior. All the out Stations, except, perhaps, Kumasi, are in a healthy, vigorous, and flourishing condition. Our pastoral visits to the Stations in the interior delight us much; they are seasons of special grace to ourselves."

AMERICA.

The Reports from the West Indian Missions are somewhat more favorable than those of last year, and the signs of improvement were continued up to the time of our last advices.

MISSIONS IN UPPER CANADA.—Possibly no one year could present more encouragement in the issue of those means which have been employed for the maintenance and enlargement of the work of God amongst our Indian brethren than the one which has just expired. On some of the Stations an unusually regular attendance has been given by the people to public worship, and to the social means of grace; Divine influences have attended their gathering together; the voice of praise and thanksgiving has been heard in the house of prayer; and the Missionaries have been gladdened by penitent and inquiring seekers for salvation. In one instance, the Gospel displayed its transforming and renewing energy in the conversion of a Pagan "medicine man," who, after years of darkness and delusion, was brought into the light of truth, and gave the strongest evidence of his change that he could offer, by voluntarily placing at the disposal of the Missionary the whole of the singular professional robes and de-

Amongst the persons reported to have been united to the Church during the year are found a number from the Pagan ranks, and many from nominal Christians. A hopeful spirit of inquiry has been awakened amongst a number of Pagans to the West, who, having visited our Mission Stations, and some of them our Industrial School at Mount Elgin, are very desirous to have their children educated, and have expressed a wish for Missionaries.

In LOWER CANADA the Church of Rome has long exercised great influence, and is strengthening her position, and extending her operations continually. Jesuit Colleges, and Seminaries of large dimensions and resources, are multiplied; and even the remote eastern townships are receiving the surplus Roman Catholic population of the valley of the St. Lawrence, who are always either accompanied, or speedily followed, by their priests. Under these circumstances our Missions are invested with much importance, not only as providing religious instruction for a large portion of our fellow-subjects, but as maintaining a testimony against the Great Apostacy in one of its strongholds. Such a testimony is much needed, and should be strengthened by every available means.

In Nova Scotia and New Brunswick very gracious revivals of religion have been vouchsafed the last winter, and the work seems in those Districts to be rapidly extending. The late in-gathering on the Fredericton Circuit was one of signal interest, and has added more than 200 members to the Church in that City.

From the conclusion of the Society's last Report we make the subjoined extracts:—

Deep, solemn, heartfelt as is their joy, such likewise are their solitudes and regrets. The grounds of their rejoicing have been stated, and the occasion of their grief must not be passed over. In addition to the anxieties which the working of a large, complicated, and costly machinery like that of this Society must always involve, they have subjects of solicitude arising out of present circumstances. The scale upon which their operations are at present conducted is much—very much too small. More Schoolmasters, more Catechists, more Missionaries should be forthwith employed.—Many are required to supply vacancies; to give a full complement of laborers to existing stations, or to afford a temporary relief to brethren sinking under the weight of labor. Many are asked for—either to strengthen the hands of solitary Missionaries, or to occupy new and inviting fields of labor. Invitations, such as at an earlier period of this work would have been held to indicate a providential call to a place, and would have been at once acceded to, are now urged from year to year in vain. And let it never be forgotten, that those who ask for nothing, want everything—that the contented ignorance, the unconscious, nay, the self-satisfied and complacent destitution of millions, marks them out as even more needy and more wretched than their fellows who have, at least, “grace to desire grace,” and who are feeling “after God, if haply they may find him.” What is called in the technical language of religious Societies, “an opening” among a people, does not create the duty of carrying the Gospel to them, though it may assist in determining when we should attempt to discharge it. Christ’s immutable commandment, “Make disciples of all nations—preach the Gospel to every creature,” makes no allowance for willingness on the part of nations or individuals; whether men will hear, or whether they will forbear, they must still be told of Him who gave himself a ransom for all to be testified in due time: who, because He will have all men to be saved, will have them to come to the knowledge of the truth.

To remove the existing debt—to bring up the annual income, at least to the point of the expenditure, and then so far beyond it as may warrant new undertakings and efforts—these are the objects of the Committee’s immediate and most urgent desire. And why should they not all be realised. Are the friends of the Society grown weary in well-doing? Are the resources of Christian liberality exhausted? or the motives powerless, or its successes obsolete? Far, very far otherwise. There are still wealth and ingenuity, and frugality and diligence, in the Church of Christ, which will be cheerfully applied to the purposes of this Society. Perplexed the Committee may be, and often are—but not in despair, for they appeal to those who, often as they have been tried, were never found wanting. They venture thus once to ask for a more frequent participation in the fervent, solemn, believing prayers of their Christian friends, in the social and family circle, and in the great congregation, as well as in their private devotions. They ask for larger, more systematic, and better proportioned liberality; for offerings such as those which superstition has often placed at the disposal of Romish priests, or consecrated to the honour of abominable idols. They ask that mothers would exercise their sacred and inalienable prerogative, and as they teach their infants to pray for the coming of God's kingdom, and the doing of his will, would train them to regard this as the paramount object of Christian ambition and effort. They appeal to the teachers of our youth in all grades to enlist the sympathies of their charge on behalf of an unconverted world; and to our students and literary men to make themselves familiar with the diversified aspects of the Missionary question ethical, philological, geographical, historical, ethnological. Of the various collectors and other officers of the Auxiliary and Branch Societies, the committee earnestly beg that they would apply themselves afresh to their respective duties, and particularly that they would spare no pains in circulating intelligence, and making all the subscribers, as far as possible, cognizant of the case of the Society, and of its varied and extending operations. They entreat the Ministers of the Connexion to continue, and wherever practicable to augment, those valuable services in the way of advocacy and oversight which, from the very formation of the Society, they have so kindly rendered. And along with all, and above all, they will not cease to implore Him whom they recognize as the Great Author and Patron of Christian Missions: "Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it."
