TWENTIETH YEAR

THE HOUSE

It Was All Furnished for Him at the Capital by His Friends.

THANKS DUE TO TAYLOR, Who Brought the Matter Before the Attention of the House in Face of Rumors.

PREMIER BOUGHT IN WIFE'S NAME Because, Being Poor, He Wanted to Leave Her a Home—An Incident in the House.

Ottawa, July 11.—(Special.)—The session of the House, which opened at 2 o'clock yesterday (Monday) afternoon, is still being pleasantly along to-night and gives promise of continuing for some time yet.

When the Opposition objected, and the struggle began, continued all night and is still going on. So far four items have been passed, after very full discussion, and as the Government is said to be agreed that all the militia items must be agreed to before the committee rises, it may be very late to-night before an adjournment is reached.

The Night Session. The night session was not marked by many special features, but was, for the most part, a dogged, determined fight on the part of the Opposition to show that by the abandoning of the tender system, the present Government was paying extravagant rates to favorites.

After quoting from a report of the official Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: "Now, I may say once that I do not feel called upon to contradict anything that is said by the hon. gentleman, but, in order to do justice to the hon. gentleman on the other side of the House, I desire to state that the hon. gentleman's statement is absolutely unfounded and untrue."

Arrests Being Made Wholesale and Many Summonses Being Issued in the City.

NO FURTHER DISORDER REPORTED.

Business Must Pay a License—A List of Grievances Sent to the Council Committee.

Mr. Taylor Accepts It. The hon. gentleman's acceptance of the hon. gentleman's statement, which has not lived in Ottawa without having been heard, as I had heard it from the hon. gentleman sitting on that side of the House, whose words for some time past have been as good as law to many of the friends of the hon. gentleman, is a matter of course.

Mr. Taylor's Hon. gentleman may laugh, but you cannot go down street and ask any merchant in town without hearing him make the same statement that I made here last night.

THE BIG LIVER PARIS

Again the Leviathan is Afloat and There Are Hopes That She Will be Saved After All.

Nearly a Thousand Tons of Granite Was Loaded on Her Stern, and Thus the Bow Was Elevated So That She Could be Moved.

London, July 11.—The German salvagers have moved the American liner Paris stern for a distance of 150 yards and have shifted the vessel's position slightly to the eastward. They hope to be able to get the after stakehold fires alight. The Paris is smooth, but a heavy fog prevails to-night.

The Salvagers Elated. London, July 11.—The German salvagers are elated at the unexpected success in floating the Paris. She had been weighed with nearly 1000 tons of granite at the stern, with a view of hoisting her bows free from the rocks. The divers had difficulty in getting at the rock, and this was the reason for the tentative effort to move the Paris to the scene, but the Germans were not averse to their assistance, offering the largest tug only $3 for towage, an offer which was promptly refused. It was then decided that the vessel being in a position of comparative safety should remain where she was for the night, and that the divers should continue their work of patching the hull so as to minimize the risk of towing. Unless something unforeseen occurs the Paris will be towed to Falmouth to-morrow, and if on inspection her condition warrants it, she will be taken to Southampton or to some other dock for repairs.

Wrecked May 21. The Paris left Southampton May 20 for New York with a full cargo and a large passenger list. The next morning at 1.15 she went on the rock, where she has remained, in spite of repeated efforts to pull her off. Captain Watkins, her commander, her officer, Captain Deane, in his report, she stunnily declares that he mistook the time when the Paris passed the Casquet light on the French coast for the time when she passed Cape La Hague, which is on the same coast, but is eighteen miles, as the captain declares, to the eastward of Casquet light. The result was to land the Paris on Lowland Point.

CARIBOO YIELD IS $810,000

June Clean-Up Beat All Records, and the Mine Has Now Paid $348,000 in Dividends.

BIG NEW COMPRESSOR AT WORK

Ore From East Algonia-Kootenay Producers-Smelter for Kaslo -Mining Stocks.

At the first general meeting of the shareholders of the Cariboo Consolidated Gold Mining Company of Camp McKlenny, B.C., held yesterday afternoon at the Toronto office in the Board of Trade building, Toronto, it was decided that the annual meeting of that corporation should take place on the first Tuesday in February, 1900, in the absence of President Holbert Jaffray and Vice-President H. M. Pellatt, Second Vice-President G. B. Smith occupied the chair. A number of the shareholders were present, and apparently everyone went away very pleased with the outcome, as gathered from the official statements submitted. These statements all coming out in reply to questions put by the acquiring shareholders.

At the first place, it was shown that the mill run for June resulted in a clean-up of 1001 ounces of bullion, exclusive of concentrates. This result is the highest ever obtained in one month in the history of the company, the largest previously having been 970.

The total output of the Cariboo up to May 31 was, according to the treasurer's statement, $880,280.10, and since that date the output has been $200,000 in round figures, the result of the clean-up for June. These figures show that the mine has yielded up to date between $610,000 and $610,000. Up to May 31 the Cariboo had paid 20 dividends, totalling $2,000,000. Since that date a dividend of $12,250 was paid for the month of June, and today a similar dividend for July will be declared. This will bring the total sum paid in dividends from the Cariboo mine up to $2,000,000 in round figures, and it will be seen that, as the Cariboo produces about $200,000 per month, and pays about $12,250 in dividends, it must be laying by the tidy sum of $80,000 a month for any rainy day that should come round.

As to the mine itself, the main shaft is now down to the 300-foot level, where the body is looking first-class. In fact, taking all things into consideration, the company feel that their mine was never in better history looking as well as it does to-day. As to equipment, the new-drill air compressor has just been installed at the plant and is now in operation. As up to the end of June only three drills were working, it will be seen that the capacity of the plant has now been more than tripled. When the question was asked as to how the number of stamps would be increased to cope with the increased supply of ore, the reply was made that that was a matter which the directors would consider.

By the way, Mr. B. M. McKay, managing director of the Cariboo Consolidated, called last Saturday from Scotland for this month. President Jaffray and Vice-President Pellatt have gone out to Camp McKlenny, B.C., to see the mine.

Ore From Bruce Mines.

Mr. H. A. Luman of Port Lock, East Algonia, called at the Toronto office yesterday with an armful of rock, consisting of specimens of copper, gold and iron ore from the vicinity of Bruce Mines. The character of the quartz carrying the copper values is very fine, and some of the specimens are yellow, grey and peacock-colored. Some of the copper samples are from the Bruce Mines, in which Lord Douglas of Hovick is interested, and some from deposits near Port Lock. There is also some grey copper ore from Garden River. The iron specimens are from the property of Andrew White in the town of Bruce Mines.

Kootenay Dividends. According to the report of the Engineering and Mining Journal, the late mine of British Columbia have paid dividends to date to the extent of $2,128,400. This does not represent the actual amount of dividends, but is all the returns they have received. The form of the dividends is as follows: For eight or ten years the owners would get out in winter and reduce it in summer. Each year they would make a profit of about $20,000. The form is not on the Engineering and Mining Journal's list.

Smelter for Kaslo, B. C. It is quite possible that Kaslo will have a smelter in the near future, as a company known as the Smelting Corporation, Limited, has been organized and incorporated in England, and is authorized to do business in the province of British Columbia. The company in the province is to be at 11 and 12 Clements-lane, London, England. The capital of the company is $500,000, divided into 40,000 shares of $12.50 each. Arthur McClellan of Kaslo is named as the attorney for the company in British Columbia. A Good Combination. Messrs. J. M. Eckert and F. A. Rowlett have recently established a mining engineering and brokerage business in this city. The former is a British civil and mining engineer and has had 20 years' experience in various parts of the world. The latter is a well-known and successful mining engineer and famous Krollitz mine of Greenland, were under his charge for five years.

years. He came to Canada about seven years ago and has spent all that time among Canadian mines, having opened up a great many new, profitable mines and exported on many more. Mr. Rowlett is well known among Toronto commercial men as a shrewd and energetic young man, and has held responsible positions with various large firms in Birmingham, England, as well as in this city.

The firm have secured nice offices at a Court-street, directly opposite the Police Court, and will conduct a practical mining engineering business, in addition to acting as brokers. Their office is in connection with the Great Laboratory for assaying purposes.

New Industry for Rat Portage.

According to The Rat Portage Miner, the manufacturers of the new explosive known as fumeless have decided to erect a factory at Rat Portage to turn out 10 tons of that material a week. It is said that the explosive has been tested in the deepest mines in England and has been found superior to nitro-glycerine, which is now in use. It will displace a tremendous amount of rock and leaves no fumes, so that miners are interested in the manufacture of this explosive. It is claimed by the manufacturers that such an accident as recently occurred in the War Eagle will be impossible with fumeless.

Golden Star

We think the mine is all right. It lies in a fertile field, of massive structure, and therefore, always the matrix of a well-defined fissure vein, and the volume of ore, we are led to believe, is increasing with depth. Parties who have better opportunities of knowing than we are buying the stock, after spending quite a bit of money in forcing down the price; 40 cents means a 15 per cent. dividend. Buy now. Public holding aloof, market therefore weak, and favorable to buyer—after report it will not be.

GOLD HILLS

We think this will in the end show a larger percentage of advance than anything on the list, and there are other stocks of them, but we have a supreme interest in conducting our business so as to merit the confidence of the public. Orders for the purchase or sale of any of the standard stocks will be promptly and carefully executed.

Who is financially interested in the stocks he is selling can scarcely be considered a safe guide in investing. He may be perfectly honest, but he is apt to be too sanguine. We buy and sell for clients only. We are not interested in any mining company, and we have no stocks of our own to unload. We recommend Alice A., Deer Trail No. 2, Van Anda, Fairview Corporation and Hammond Reef, because we believe they will prove big money makers. ### DETAILS OF PORTIA WRECK

An Assyrian Boy Was Drowned, But That Was the Only Life Lost So Far as Known.

THE OFFICERS BEHAVED COOLLY.

Lifeboat Service Was Prompt and Efficient—The Captain Was a Fine Officer.

Halifax, N.S., July 11.—The loss of the Red Cross Line passenger steamer Portia on Big Fish Shoal, to the westward of the entrance to Halifax harbor, at 7 o'clock last night, was attended by the drowning of one person, an Assyrian boy known only by the name of Basha, who was traveling second-class from New York to St. John's, Nfld., where his mother lives.

The escape of all the others on board the steamer, numbering 70 passengers and a crew of 24 officers and men, is accounted extraordinary. The stories from the wreck show that the escape from death was not accomplished so easily as previously reported. The launching of the lifeboats was effected as quickly as possible after the Portia struck on Big Fish shoal.

The steamer had mounted the rocks with a terrible crash. The half-speed at which she was steaming carried her partly over the shoal, and the strong southwest swell forced her gradually forward and threatened to plunge her into deep water beyond.

No perceptible excitement manifested itself among the passengers. The women were as cool as the men, and they went about the work of saving themselves without the slightest evidence that they realized the awful danger in which they were placed. It was a marvellous exhibition of self-possession almost inconceivable under the terrifying circumstances.

The Officers Were Good.

Captain Farrell and his officers proved themselves equal to the occasion, and their well-directed efforts, coupled with the calmness of the passengers, proved the salvation of the ship's entire company. An effort was made to back off by reversing the engines, but Captain Farrell discovered that the sea was rushing into the hold in appalling quantities, and lost no time in adopting measures to provide for the safety of the passengers.

"Man the Lifeboat."

There were four large lifeboats on the Portia. These were at once swung out on the davits, the women and children were placed in them first, then the male passengers were given places, and finally the crew climbed into them when they could fit. There was not more than 15 minutes after the Portia first felt the rocks against her bow that everybody on board had descended; and, with the exception of the Assyrian boy, was known to be not far to the eastward. The boy Basha was missed before the boats were lowered, and he was searched for all over the ship, but could not be found.

Not a Thought of Disaster.

At 6:45 p.m. the Portia, with her happy, contented company, mainly tourists on pleasure bent, were sailing slowly and peacefully towards Halifax harbor, without a thought of disaster in store. At 8 p.m. the ship was a totally hapless wreck, lying in deep water alongside Big Fish Shoal, and her crew were scrambling ashore at Inver Sable Island, a mile from the scene of the mis### fortune, and which had been reached after an hour's rowing.

Passengers Lost Everything. They were hospitably received at the two small dwellings which house the entire population of Inver Sable, but which proved quite sufficient for the temporary shelter the hapless ocean travelers until the steamers should arrive from Halifax to carry them to the city. The steamers A. C. Whitney and L. Boyer, which left Halifax at 11:30 p.m., returned to the city at 4 o'clock this morning with the whole party. They were a sorry-looking crowd of pleasure-seekers, as they stepped ashore at the Red Cross Line wharf.

They Will Probably Come.

The Portia slid off the rock that she crashed upon, and was drifted by the current for three-quarters of a mile, when she sank in eight fathoms of water. This was about 45 minutes after the ship grounded. Captain Farrell was seven miles inside his course. He attributes his deflection from his course to strong currents.

NOTES FROM KINGSTON.

William McDonald, Who Said He Was From Toronto, Prompted to Live a Better Life.

Kingston, Ont., July 11.—At the Police Court this morning William McDonald, aged about 45, was sent to the Kingston Penitentiary for two years on each of the three charges of theft, sentenced to run the gauntlet. He thanked the Magistrate and said he would try to live a better life when he gets his liberty. McDonald gave Toronto as his home, and claimed to have at one time owned property there, but lost it all through drink. His wife and two sons reside near Lindsay; one daughter, aged 18, resides at Toronto. Father Fleming of Dedham, Mass., is a Good Swimmer, and That Saved His Life.

Quebec, July 11.—The Rev. Abbes J. H. Fleming, cure of Dedham, Mass., and C. L. Parent of the Chocomauni Seminary, were fishing on Lake Kinogami on Saturday, when the frail craft in which they were seated was by a sudden movement capsized. Fortunately Abbe Parent succeeded in seizing the canoe and held on until assistance could be sent to him. As for Father Fleming, who was an excellent swimmer, he struck out for the shore, owing to the great distance, he would not have been successful in reaching it had it not been for the gradual incline of the shore, which enabled him to walk in, as he was fatigued, owing to the heavy clothing which he wore at the time of the accident. From the window of the Chateau Saguenay, and assistance was at once sent to Abbe Parent.

That Printing Contract.

Prints eligible to contract for the Ontario Government printing, saying that in no case is the amount to be given. The Government has stated that the amount of work during the last four years will be furnished, but as yet these figures have not been supplied. The Government now proposes to make the term for the new contract three years, by a simple vote of the Legislature. This is done in view of the fact that the short term practically put the contract beyond the power of any but the present contractor. Any other office would have to make considerable additions to their plant before undertaking the work, and a three-year term would not permit of that.

Mr. F. X. Mercier Scores Another Success in Paris, at the Opera Comique.

The friends of Mr. Mercier and all the Torontonians will learn with pleasure that he has scored a great success at the Opera Comique in Paris, June 16, as Judas, in the comic opera "Joseph."

Mr. Lacroix, a Parisian who was a guest of Mr. Mercier's last evening, says that all the critics of the gay capital speak very highly of him. Some of them said that before long his reputation, as a tenor, will be universal.

Mr. Jacques Bouly, the celebrated professor, told Mr. Lacroix that Mr. Mercier had wonderful talents, extreme vocal purity and clear diction. He also declared that Mr. Mercier was bound to become the great tenor of the day.

A Magic Pill—Dyspepsia is a foe with which men are constantly grappling, but cannot exterminate. Suffering and ill appearances vanquished in one, it may appear in another direction. In many the digestive apparatus is as delicate as the mechanism of a watch or scientific instrument, in which even a breath of air will make a variation. With such cases the short term practically put the contract beyond the power of any but the present contractor. Any other office would have to make considerable additions to their plant before undertaking the work, and a three-year term would not permit of that.
