ENEMY IS RESTLESS Allied Machine Gun Fire Breaks Up German Onslaughts Near Verdun.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
Paris, Dec. 29.—German restlessness, broken by attacks and attempted attacks on the left bank of the Meuse, region of Verdun, is interpreted as owing to nervousness over the prospects of a pending offensive in great force by the French.

After the failure of the German attack last night between Hill 304 and Le Mort Homme the Germans today violently bombarded the French positions between the Meuse and Avoncourt. They attempted several attacks with hand grenades at various points of the front, and these were all repulsed by the French.

The attack of the enemy last night was launched on a three-kilometre, or nearly two-mile front, between Le Mort Homme and Hill 304. It was broken by fire of French infantry and machine guns, and the Germans only succeeded in throwing a few men into a trench south of Le Mort Homme. The Germans also attempted a strong reconnaissance on the right bank of the Meuse.

Liberal Leader Hopes for Overwhelming Majority New Year's Day.

"I shall certainly vote in favor of the hydro bylaw next Monday," said N. W. Rowell, K.C., to a reporter for The World last night. "I hope it will be carried by an overwhelming majority. The issue is a simple one. The legislation last session authorized a new power development at Niagara. The question is: Shall the new development be made by the provincial hydro-electric commission for the benefit of the municipalities using power, or shall the government make development on its own account independent of the commission and the commission and the municipalities?"

Even the end of the war, says Herr von Batocki, would only bring a slight change in the situation at first, because the scarcity of food is world-wide.

ALLIES GAIN GREAT TRIUMPH OVER GERMANY UPON SOMME

Summary of Gen. Haig's Report

The following are the chief points made by Sir Douglas Haig in his despatch:

1. German western armies were only saved from complete collapse and decisive defeat by the protracted period of unfavorable weather of October and November. This prevented the allies from taking full advantage of a successful advance.
2. The battle of the Somme was a triumph, which proved beyond a doubt the ability of the allies to overthrow Germany when the time comes.
3. The allies will win the war on the western front.
4. The power of the enemy has not yet been broken, so it is not possible to form an estimate of the time the war may last before the attaining of their objects by the allies.
5. Fully half of the German army, the mainstay of the central powers, despite all its advantages of the defensive supported by the strongest fortifications, suffered defeat on the Somme this year.
6. "Our new armies entered the battle with determination to win, and confidence in their power to do so. They have proved to themselves, to the enemy and to the world that this confidence is justified."
7. Battle of Somme was begun to relieve Verdun, to prevent the sending of German troops from France, and to wear down the strength of Germany. It has succeeded in all three of these objects.
8. Evidence has been obtained placing beyond doubt the fact that the losses of the enemy were heavier than the losses of the allies, in men, material and morale.

GENERAL HAIG PRAISES CANADIANS ON SOMME

British Commander-in-Chief Tells of Brilliant Actions, Scoring Heavily Over Foe.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
London, Dec. 29.—In a despatch covering British operations since May, published tonight, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, referring to the operations of September resulting in the capture by the Canadians of Martinpuich and Courcellette, says:

"The result of the fighting on Sept. 15 and the following days was a gain more considerable than any which had attended our arms in the course of a single operation since the commencement of the offensive. In the course of one day's fighting we had broken thru two of the enemy's main defensive systems, and had advanced on a front of more than six miles to an average depth of a mile. In the course of this advance we had taken three large villages, each powerfully organized for prolonged resistance. Two of these villages had been carried by assault, with a short preparation in the course of a few hours' fighting. All this was accomplished with a small number of casualties in comparison with the troops employed, and in spite of the fact that, as was afterwards discovered, the attack did not come as a complete surprise to the enemy."

Battle Places Beyond Doubt Ability of Allies to Gain Objects for Fighting—Teuton Armies Are Only Saved From Complete Collapse and Decisive Defeat by Prolonged Period of Unfavorable Weather.

London, Dec. 29.—The battle of the Somme is pictured as a sweeping triumph for allied arms in a detailed report by Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, which was issued tonight, and which covers operations from July 1 to Nov. 18. Gen. Haig terms the battle a triumph in which the German western armies were only saved from complete collapse and a decisive defeat by a protracted period of unfavorable weather, which prevented the Anglo-French forces from taking full advantage of their successful advance. He declares that nevertheless it was a triumph which proved beyond doubt the ability of the allies to overthrow Germany "when the times comes." The British commander shows himself a firm believer in the doctrine that the allies can win the war on the western front.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

IN the expert appraisal of Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, as given in his despatch, issued last night, the battle of the Somme was a sweeping victory for the allies. The German armies in the west were only saved from complete collapse and decisive defeat by the coming of a long period of unfavorable weather in October and November last. This rainy season produced a low visibility and impassable roads, and under these adverse conditions it was impossible for the British and the French to take the full advantage from their successful advance. Nevertheless the battle of the Somme was a triumph which proved beyond doubt that the allies are able to overthrow Germany when the time comes. Gen. Haig steadfastly believes, as a result of his experience, that the allies will win the war on the western front.

Sir Douglas Haig says also that the power of the enemy has not yet been broken, and that it is not possible to form an estimate of the time that the war may last before the attaining of their objects by the allies, but he asserts that the battle of the Somme has placed beyond doubt the ability of the allies to win complete victory. This engagement has brought about the defeat of fully half the German army, despite all its advantages of standing on the defensive and of being supported by the strongest of fortifications. Altho the bad weather has given the enemy a respite, there are undoubtedly many thousands in the German ranks who will begin the new campaign with little confidence in their ability to resist the allied assaults, or to overcome the allied defence. The battle of the Somme was begun with three objects in view, namely: First, the relief of the pressure on Verdun; second, the preventing of the removal of German troops

"The Mixed Division,"

By R. W. Campbell

WHEN it is said that this book, "The Mixed Division," is by the author of "Private Spud Tamson," its character will be exactly understood by the initiated. It is a blend of Highland and Lowland, a tribute from the Highlander to the Lowlander. Mr. R. W. Campbell belonged to the Regular Army before the war, and in this book he praises the Territorials, although he never lets us think for a moment that he does not love the Regulars best. "The Mixed Division" is an exposition of Scottish character, of fighting, love-making, arguing, humor, faith and works. It is full of accurate information about the share of men in the war, fearlessly told. Such a book could not have been written before the war. Written to-day, "The Mixed Division" is an honest, striking, forceful book, showing great knowledge of character, and convincing the reader that this is how Jock, Sandy and Bob, average men and heroes, feel and think. (Price, $1.25.)

Walls That Need Papering and Woodwork Painting

May be Decorated Now at Exceptional Moderation of Cost, and With Many New Papers to Choose From.

COMPARATIVELY SPEAKING, January and February are quiet months on the calendar of the decorator. And to counteract the tendency, to keep the huge staff of painters and paper-hangers busy during the midseason, the Wall Paper Department is offering many special price inducements at the present time.

In the decorating itself the charges for all phases of work have been placed at an exceptionally low figure. Moreover, price-reductions and special values will prevail in all manner of wall papers, thus affording a golden opportunity for having your walls papered and woodwork painted at a considerable saving in expenditure.

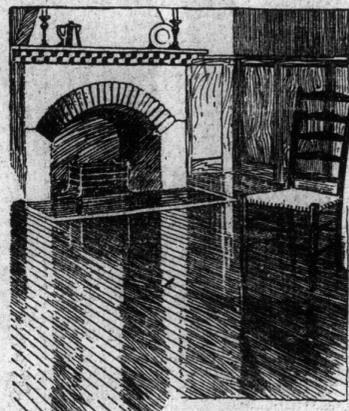

Display screens throughout the department have been specially arranged with papers suitable for the various rooms of the house, each with border and banding in harmonizing tones and design.

At your request a man will be sent to your house to obtain the dimensions of your rooms and supply you with an estimate of cost on whatever style of decoration you wish.

Improving Your House With Hardwood Floors

It Can Be Easily Achieved, Whether the Place Be Old or New, This Laying of Oak Flooring Being One of the Features of the Rug Department

THE FIRST PRINCIPLES of the modern art of furnishing a house demand the hardwood floor. Its cleanliness contributes to household health. Its long service makes for real economy. Its rich grain and fine polish are indispensable to the best effect of Oriental or other rug.

If your rooms do not boast this foundation, you are reminded that hardwood flooring can be installed, whether your house is old or new. Our Rug Department is equipped with every facility for the purpose. Only experienced workmen are employed, and the quarter-cut white oak which is used has been carefully selected, piece by piece, to insure exact uniformity of grain and color. When the floor is laid it is waxed according to a special process, which makes it possible to restore in a very easy manner such portions of the room as receive most steady wear.

The veneering of stairs with quarter-cut oak is another phase of the same work.

If you are thinking of thus improving your rooms by the laying of hardwood flooring, notify the department by mail or telephone and a man will be sent to your house (located anywhere within city limits) to take measurements and submit an estimate of cost.

Then Here Are Chintzes, Tapestries and Artistic Fabrics Galore, With Skilled Upholsterers to Apply Them to Your Furniture

Shabby furniture, for instance, January is one of the most popular months in the year for the re-covering of sofas and chairs. Are yours in need of such refurbishing?

The Drapery Department achieves a notable success in re-upholstering. And not only are new filling and new covers provided, but, if desired, wood that is scratched and stained will be restored to its original beauty and polish.

In the making, too, of the fashionable chintz slip covers, splendid results prevail, a special group of experienced workers devoting their entire time to the making of this type of furniture cover.

Furthermore, the department affords at the present moment a capital choice in tapestries, velours, repps, chintzes, shadow cloths and other fabrics.

If your furniture requires re-covering, let the department know, by telephone, postcard or personal call, and a man will go up to your house to measure the chairs, sofas, or whatever the pieces may be. He will then be able to give you an estimate of cost.

Glorious Soldier of Marne and Yser Worthily Rewarded.

Paris, Dec. 29.—Gen. Lyautoy, minister of war, delivered his maiden speech in the chamber of deputies today when the subject of the nomination of General Joffre as marshal of France came up.

"I regard it as a high honor," said Gen. Lyautoy, "to have been called upon to raise to supreme distinction the man who has saved this country."

Gen. Lyautoy said that the decree making General Joffre a marshal because it was their duty to recognize the glorious soldier who had saved the country and the government in so doing was in accord with the opinion of the country and the army.

The debate was brought about by an interpellation by M. Accambray as to whether the question if General Joffre had been legally elevated to the rank of marshal should be discussed.

PROCEED WITH WORK ON LANSDOWNE CAR LINE

Former Order Rescinded by Council—Acting City Clerk is Returning Officer.

It took the city council very few minutes to dispose of the business on hand at yesterday's special sitting. In addition to appointing Acting City Clerk Sanderson as returning officer for the elections in the absence of City Clerk Littlejohn, council rescinded its former order to defer work on the Lansdowne avenue car line. Mr. Littlejohn is incapacitated as a result of his accident in Ottawa last week. It will be the first year in sixteen when he has not acted as returning officer for Toronto.

Ald. MacGregor, who was responsible for stopping work on the Lansdowne car line, moved to have his original motion rescinded, as it had served its purpose inasmuch as the aldermen had seen the line for themselves.

Ald. Gibbons maintained there was nothing to rescind about council's former action. The motion then carried and had no effect until the members had an opportunity to see the line. They had had the opportunity, which nullified the motion.

Ald. Ball moved to have the work completed, as it can only be done in need of transportation. The vote to proceed with the work was as follows:

The vote to go on with the work was as follows: Yeas—Mayor Church, Controllers O'Neill and Cameron, Aldermen Risk, Ball, Graham, MacGregor, MacGregor, Whetter and Robbins, Naylor, Al'eman, McBride, Ba'rdon, Hiltz, McBrien and Cowan.

SAYS CIRCULARS SERIES OF MISREPRESENTATIONS

Dr. Hastings Expresses Himself Regarding Fight Against School Inspection Transfer.

Dr. Hastings yesterday actively entered the campaign to have the school health inspection transferred from the board of education to the local health department. In a statement issued he claims the circulars issued by the school trustees to be a series of misrepresentations.

"It is inconceivable," he says, "that any self-respecting person or persons could so far forget their obligation to themselves or to the citizens as to have issued to the electorate of Toronto a circular that I can only describe as a series of misrepresentations of fact from beginning to end. The most pathetic feature of it, to my mind, is that these misleading handbills have been placed in the hands of the children of our public schools."

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well-Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

'FRUIT-A-TIVES'—The Wonderful Fruit Medicine—Will Protect You.

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the kidneys and skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes indigestion, loss of appetite and disturbed stomach. It may produce headaches and sleeplessness. It may irritate the kidneys and bring on pain in the back, rheumatism, gout, and rheumatic pains. It is the chief cause of eczema—and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

'Fruit-a-tives' will always cure auto-intoxication or self-poisoning—as 'Fruit-a-tives' acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system.

FIRE MARSHAL HEATON TO INVESTIGATE FIRE

General Manager Fleming Believes Blaze Started in One of Cars.

It is the intention of Fire Marshal Heaton to make a preliminary enquiry into the King street car barn fire on Tuesday next, to see if it is necessary to institute a fire investigation.

Forty-eight insurance companies are interested in the matter. The total insurance on the whole system is approximately $5,885,000, of which $3,000,000 is on rolling stock.

The companies carrying insurance of $250,000 are: British-American, London and Lancashire, National of Hartford, Northern, Royal Exchange, Scottish Union and National and Western.

Companies carrying the rest of the insurance are: Aetna, Continental, Fidelity, Phoenix, Hartford, Home, Liverpool, London and Globe, New York, Underwriters, Norwich Union, Royal and Springfield and Union.

No light has yet been thrown on the origin of the fire. General Manager Fleming, however, is of the opinion that the fire did not originate in the repair shop, as stated, but at the south-west corner of the building. He also stated that little paint and oils were stored at King street barns, the bus having been transferred to East Main street.

Men Under Suspicion Issued Certificates—The Sub-Committee's Ruling.

The O.H.A. sub-committee at a meeting at the Telegram office yesterday, with the acting president, sheriff J. F. Paxton, in the chair, reported to the committee to consider the case of the 70th Battery to play in Toronto with the St. Patrick's team. ### RICH OFFER FOR WELCH AND KILBANE

New York, Dec. 28.—Matt Hinkel, Cleveland's boxing promoter, announced he had made a bid offer of $25,000 for the bout between Lightweight Champion Freddie Welsh and Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane, to take place May 30 at Cedar Point, Ohio, where the Kilbane-Chaney fight was held.

Hinkel came to New York desirous of learning Pollok's terms, but said it would be impossible for him to stage the bout before Memorial Day. Pollok is reluctant to hold off for so long, and in the meantime is considering an offer of $12,500 for Welsh and Ed. McDaniel of Toledo.

Pollok has begun to talk in approachable figures regarding the contest. He has been holding out for impossibilities, but Welsh's earnings have not been overly heavy of late, and Pollok wants action for the champion.

AX TO FALL AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Certain veteran athletes whose names decorate the roster of the White Sox are slated for the ax just as soon as Manager Rowland can line-up clubs willing to trade for them. Rowland said he yesterday added that the men of whom he proposes to dispose are not has-beens in baseball either, but they do not fit into the machine which Rowland is trying to build. He said that Eddie Collins, Joe Jackson, Ray Schalk, "Ho" Pritchard and George Weaver are not in the list. Fritz Maisel of the Yankees is the man Rowland is most anxious to get, and Capt. Huston has expressed a willingness to trade him in return for a second sacker of ability. Rowland is willing to give either Jack Fournier or McMillin in return for a shortstop of ability.

THE PACIFIC OCEAN BASEBALL LEAGUE

To Include Australia, Japan and Hawaii is suggested.

San Francisco, Dec. 29.—The All-American ballplayers, headed by Charlie Swain, are back in San Francisco after their successful barnstorming trip to Honolulu, and the first result of their return is a story of another baseball league to take in Hawaii, Australia and Japan. Ken Berry, owner of the San Francisco Coast League Club, started it. He suggested that the circuit be called the Pacific Ocean League. This is the way the beautiful project was outlined by him: "If Honolulu hosts of such great baseball fans who are willing to attend the games, and we hear of our n-c-o-n-t-i-n-u-t-i-n-g making great strides in popularity in Australia and Japan, why not organize a Pacific Ocean circuit? It is an idea, I believe, worthy of consideration. "Of course, right at the start you will ask: 'What are you going to do?' Play one game and then wait a couple of months while you travel to play the second?" "Admit the point is well taken, but

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:
As a retired business man of this ward, I am not soliciting your support for self-aggrandizement or personal gain. I have the time at my disposal to devote to your interest and the city at large. Having been a resident of this ward for the past 20 years I am in the position to know your wants and requirements. I may say I am a very large taxpayer into the city treasury, and naturally your interests are in common with my own.

I am a strong supporter of municipal ownership for all public utilities, especially the present and proposed Hydro-Electric policy as advocated by Sir Adam Beck.

Ladies and gentlemen, I come before you as an independent man. I am not connected in any way with corporations or combines. I have no axe to grind, nor am I the tool of any political party. I am strongly convinced that municipal government should not in any way be mixed up with politics of any kind.

On account of his eight years' experience, and his record of devotion to duty, he is a man whom the electors cannot afford to overlook for the 1917 Board of Control.

Controller John O'Neill is a consistent advocate of legitimate economy in the interest of the larger needs of the city. He has an eye to the future, and is urging the people to prepare for taking over the big transportation facilities in Toronto. He is largely responsible for the Industrial Farms, Playgrounds and Municipal Abattoir. He is an enthusiastic supporter of the Hydro. Elect him to the 1917 Board of Control.

As a representative for the city's business ward for upwards of seven years; as a chairman of important committees in which he handled some of the city's most important business transactions; as an ardent and enthusiastic supporter of the Hydro and a plan of progressive public ownership,

If elected he will work diligently for the welfare of the citizens, using for them his experience, knowledge and energy, with no obligation to any class or clique or private interest. ### CITY HALL NOTES

Mayor Church last evening issued an appeal to munition manufacturers to give their employees working New Year's Day time to go and register their votes. There will be 9,000 voters, he estimated, engaged in the various factories, all of them workingmen vitally interested in the success of the hydro.

At yesterday's special meeting of the city council Mayor Church denied the statements in some papers that the water pressure was poor at the east barns fire Thursday night. The pressure, he said, was 85 pounds whereas the average thru Ontario was only 50 pounds.

The city architect has granted a permit to T. W. Robinson, 11 Evelyn avenue, to erect two brick two-story detached dwellings at 26 and 28 Glendonwyne avenue at a cost of $8,000.

TURN OUT AND VOTE "YES"

A VOTE "YES" FOR HYDRO IS A VOTE FOR A GREATER AND MORE PROSPEROUS TORONTO

is the origin and meaning of the question which will be submitted to the ratepayers of Toronto on New Year's Day.

In 1916 a bill was introduced in the Ontario Legislature by the Attorney-General to provide for the development of the unallotted water at Niagara Falls, or what is known as the Chippewa-Queenston Development, and as new agreements between the municipalities and the Commission would be required before the municipalities could assume the liability for the cost of the development, the Ontario Government in the meantime undertook the development of this power through the Commission.

On the introduction of the bill in the Legislature, the Prime Minister made a statement that, should the municipalities desire to undertake the responsibility for the ownership of the development and assume liability for the payment of the debentures issued to pay the cost of same, as they have already done in the case of the transmission lines and transformer stations, the Government would consider making the necessary arrangements to vest the ownership of the power development in the municipalities being supplied, as has already been done in the case of the transmission lines.

The question now is, how is the power required to be supplied to the municipalities? Whether the development shall be held in trust by the Commission for the municipalities, or whether it shall be held in trust by the Commission for the Province.

This By-law provides that the municipalities shall buy power from themselves and sell it to themselves, whereas the Bill provides that the municipalities shall buy power from the Government and sell it to themselves.

If the By-law carries, the municipalities are justified in asking the Provincial Government to vest in them the ownership of the power development, as has already been done in the case of Eugenia, Wasdell's and Muskoka Developments.

The question is, that the power development, which will be completely paid for by the municipalities in thirty or forty years, become the property of the Province at large, or shall it become the property of the municipalities, who, in their power bills, will make the debenture payments on the cost of the development?

The Chippewa Development Scheme will cost about nine millions, and it will be built by the Hydro Commission.

A twelve-mile canal will be constructed from the Chippewa River to Queenston, where the power works and plant will be erected. The electrical equipment to do the work will cost from $100,000 to $200,000, but the entire cost of the equipment and construction will be saved to the people because of the Commission undertaking to do the work itself.

WHY--

will the Hydro measure contribute towards the making of a greater Toronto?

BECAUSE Toronto will be owning, operating and controlling its own generating station through the Hydro Electric Power Commission.

BECAUSE Toronto will reap the benefit of the cheapest power possible from Niagara Falls.

BECAUSE electrical energy is a most vital factor in the development of Toronto and every other city and town in this Province, and each in the present scheme will be co-operating with the other for the common weal.

BECAUSE the load on the Hydro Niagara System in 1915 was 110,654 horse power; in 1916, over 150,000 horse power; the estimated load for 1917 is 200,000 horse power, and for 1918, 250,000 horse power, figuring only on natural growth of the system, and the total present power arranged for is only 150,000 horse power.

BECAUSE it means that the municipalities, including Toronto, wish to own and control the additional power development on the Niagara River, in a manner similar to their ownership of transmission lines.

BECAUSE the passing of the by-law does not commit Toronto nor any other municipality to any financial outlay.

WHERE--

is the guarantee that the scheme is not illusory? Is the Hydro in a position, in other words, to deliver the goods?

The Hydro is now delivering 200,000 h.p., and if all that is wanted could be obtained the commission would be delivering a quarter of a million horse-power.

The accumulated surplus on the Hydro is $2,647,070, utilized for the extension of plant, on which the municipalities pay interest or sinking fund charges.

The saving to consumers because of the Hydro in 1915 was $2,731,000; this year it will be well over $3,000,000.

The Hydro, after paying all cost of operation, interest and sinking fund charges, will this year have a surplus of $50,000.

Two hundred thousand horse-power at a cost to the consumer of between four and five millions, would cost in coal $40,000,000.

As long as there is a treaty there can be no international complications over the Hydro. Only power not available for use to the people of Canada can be exported, and hence the perpetuity of the Hydro's existence is assured from this standpoint and the capital invested in the enterprise safeguarded.

STATE MAY BUY OUT BRITISH DRINK TRADE

Matter Being Closely Considered by the Liquor Control Board.

LLOYD GEORGE FAVORS

It is Believed Bill Would Pass Thru Commons Easily.

London, Dec. 29.—The purchase of the drink trade in Great Britain by the state is believed to be imminent, says The Daily Express today.

"The matter has been closely considered by the liquor control board during the past fortnight," continues the newspaper. "Several members of the board have long advocated the purchase, and the change in the government has brought a renewal of their argument."

The Express quotes Sir Thomas Whitaker, member of parliament, as saying that David Lloyd George, the prime minister, is known to favor the step, while several of the Unionist ministers are understood to agree with him. Sir Thomas says he believes a bill calling for the purchase would pass the house of commons without difficulty.

Further Restrictions. The Daily Express asserts that further great restrictions in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic are certain in the immediate future, whether or not the purchase plan is put into effect.

It is known from other sources that the liquor question has lately become an urgent one for the government in consequence of renewed complaints of the hindrance of munition work and other industries due to excessive drinking. Also due to the fact that much freightage and vast quantities of food material are absorbed in the liquor industry. Memorials from such centres as Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester and Glasgow have reached the government warning of delays in munition, shipbuilding and similar industries and urging total prohibition. It may be recalled that the privatization of the drink trade in the spring of 1915, but failed to achieve the success of the scheme. At that time the plan was regarded as impracticable, but since then it has been strongly advocated, and the demand is being continued by a section of the press.

REPLY TO GERMANY IS LONG DOCUMENT

It Will Probably Be Delivered Thru American Channels Today.

London, Dec. 29.—The allies' reply to Germany, which will probably be delivered thru American channels tomorrow, is a very long document, much more lengthy than the German note. This point has been one of the matters of discussion during the conferences, the objection having been raised that it is too long, and should be short and sharp. But there were so many points for elucidation, and such a complete difference of conception of the objects and purposes for which the two sides went to war, that it was found desirable to extend the note to considerable length. The presence here of Alexandre Ribot, the French finance minister, permitted the French ministry to be represented during the conference. Unusual optimism is shown here, as a result of the final form which the reply has taken, which is believed to be such that it will meet with satisfaction at Washington. The reply to the American note will follow within a few days after the delivery of the reply to Germany.

VATICAN MAKES DENIAL

Rome, Dec. 29.—The Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican, prints today an official denial of reports published abroad to the effect that the Papeal Nuncio at Vienna in former the Vienna press that the Austrian emperor had requested him to ask Pope Benedict's intervention for peace, and that the Pope had given a favorable reply.

LETTERS TELL OF BRAVE MAN'S END

Officer-Comrades of Late Major Alex. Miln Write of Death in Action.

FELL LEADING MEN

"Dig for Your Lives, Men, I Am Done," Were His Last Words.

A number of letters have just reached Toronto telling of the brave manner in which Major Alex. Miln of this city met his death while in command of a company of the 5th Battalion during the successful attack on "Devil's Trench." The letters are all addressed to Miss Isabelle Miln, his sister, and sent by officer-comrades of the late major.

The message from Forbes Keith states that: "Alex's company and C Company were attacking side by side, followed by A Company and D Company. The enemy's trench was about a third of a mile away and the attack was to start at an hour when dawn had just advanced far enough to see fairly well. It was snowing heavily. At the exact second, hundreds of guns opened battle with a terrific roar, the shells bursting with great red flashes thru the falling snow.

"At the same time our men left their trenches in waves and reached the enemy's trench with very small losses. The Germans surrendered by the dozens. The next thing was to dig a new trench. Alex laid this out. All this time they were under heavy machine gun fire. Alex was constantly up and down the line until he was hit. One of the men who was close to him at the time, says that he suddenly called out: 'Dig for your lives men, I am done,' and was dead almost immediately. It was a splendid soldier's death and an example to us all of devotion to duty and self-sacrifice.

Lies Behind Trench. "Largely owing to the splendid work he did before he was hit, our men held the position and consolidated it and it is now part of the British front line trench on the Somme. His body is buried just behind the trench, close to where he fell and is marked by a rough cross, which we are replacing by a more permanent one."

Jeffrey Bull writes: "No officer was more fearless and none more popular among his men than Major Alex. Miln. To the former he was the inimitable Alex, and to the men, "The Little Major."

A. B. Lindsay says: "As you know I have been with Alex since the regiment was formed, and I always trusted to his good judgment to pull us thru, whether in service at home, or out here."

"Even tho he has paid the supreme sacrifice, we all knew that it was his desire, that if he had to die as a soldier, he wished it to be as it was—leading his men in a victorious charge."

ALLIES GAIN GREAT TRIUMPH

(Continued from Page 1). Unless timely action was taken. Accordingly I agreed that the attack should be launched whenever the general situation required it with as great a force as might then be available.

By the end of May the pressure on the Italian front has assumed such serious proportions that the Russian campaign was opened early in June, and the successes gained against the Austrians at once caused a movement of German troops from the western to the eastern front. This, however, did not lessen the pressure on Verdun, and, therefore, it was agreed that the combined French and British offensive would not be postponed beyond the end of June.

Threefold Object. The object of that offensive was threefold: To relieve pressure on Verdun, to assist our allies in the other theatres of war, by stopping any further transfer of German troops from the western front, to wear down the strength of the forces opposed to us.

After dealing at length with the various stages of the operations, Gen. Haig sums up the result as follows: "The three main objects which we commenced the offensive in July had already been achieved, in spite of the fact that heavy autumn rains prevented full advantage being taken of the favorable situation created by our advance at a time when we had good ground for hoping to achieve yet more important successes. Verdun had been relieved, the main German forces had been held on the western front and the enemy's strength had been considerably worn down. Any one of these three results is in itself sufficient to justify the Somme battle. The attainment of all three affords ample compensation for the splendid efforts of the troops and for the sacrifices made. They have brought us a long step forward toward the final victory of the allied cause.

Verdun Grossly Exaggerated. The desperate struggle for the possession of Verdun had invested that place with a moral and political importance out of all proportion to its military value. Its fall would undoubtedly have been proclaimed a victory for our enemies and would have shaken the faith of many in our ultimate success. The failure of the attempt to capture it, despite great efforts and heavy losses, was a severe blow to his prestige. Information obtained both during the progress of the Somme battle and since the suspension of active operations, has fully established the effect of our offensive in keeping the enemy's main forces tied to the western front. In November the strength of the enemy in the western theatre was greater than in July, notwithstanding the abandonment of the offensive at Verdun. It is therefore justifiable to conclude that the Somme offensive not only relieved Verdun but held large forces which would otherwise have been employed against our allies in the east.

Third Object Attained. The third great object of the allied operations on the Somme was the wearing-down of the enemy's powers of resistance. Any statement as to the extent to which this has been attained must depend in some degree on estimates. There is nevertheless sufficient evidence to place beyond doubt that the enemy's losses in men and material were very considerably higher than those of the allies, while morally the balance of advantage on our side is still greater. During the period under review a steady deterioration took place in the morale of large numbers of the enemy's troops. Many of them, it is true, fought with the greatest determination even in the latest encounters, but the resistance of even larger numbers became steadily and decidedly more feeble than in the early stages of the battle. Aided by the great depth of his defenses and by frequent reliefs, which his resources of men enabled him to effect, discipline and training held the machine together sufficiently to enable the enemy to rally and reorganize his forces after each fresh defeat, but toward the end of the operations, when the weather unfortunately broke, there is no doubt that his power of resistance very seriously diminished.

Weather Big Handicap. In the course of his detailed study of the operations, Gen. Haig frequently touches on the handicap of the weather. In mid-October came the allies' great chance, really to break thru the German lines. "We had at last," writes Gen. Haig,

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat, Which Clogs Kidney, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, also we have backaches and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act free. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; has a sum up the result as follows: "The three main objects which we commenced the offensive in July had already been achieved, in spite of the fact that heavy autumn rains prevented full advantage being taken of the favorable situation created by our advance at a time when we had good ground for hoping to achieve yet more important successes. Verdun had been relieved, the main German forces had been held on the western front and the enemy's strength had been considerably worn down. Any one of these three results is in itself sufficient to justify the Somme battle. The attainment of all three affords ample compensation for the splendid efforts of the troops and for the sacrifices made. They have brought us a long step forward toward the final victory of the allied cause.

reached the stage at which a successful attack might reasonably be expected to yield much greater results than anything we had as yet attained. The resistance of the troops opposed to us had seriously weakened in the course of recent operations, and there is no reason to suppose that the effort required was not within our powers. Unfortunately at this juncture, unfavorable weather set in and continued with scarcely a break during the remainder of October, and the early part of November. For visibility seriously interfered with the work of the artillery, and constant rain turned the mass of hastily dug trenches into channels of deep mud. The country roads, broken by countless shell craters, rapidly became impassable, making the supply of food stores and ammunition a serious problem. These conditions multiplied the difficulties of attack to such an extent that it was impossible to exploit the situation with the rapidity necessary to enable us to reap the full advantage we had gained."

Good Work of Tanks. Gen. Haig's report contains frequent mention of the work of the tanks. One example follows: "On the morning of the 27th, after protecting trenches to the west had been captured, in an interesting fashion. In the early morning a tank entered a portion of a trench held by the enemy from the north-west, firing its machine guns and followed by bombers. The enemy could not escape as we held the trench at the southern end. At the same time an airplane flew down the length of the trench, also firing its machine gun at the enemy. The enemy finally waved white handkerchiefs in token of surrender, and when this was reported by the airplane, the infantry accepted the surrender of the garrison. A great number of the enemy were killed and eight officers and 382 men were captured. Our total casualties were five."

Praises Aircraft. Gen. Haig pays a tribute to the work of the various departments of the service during the battle. He declares that the aircraft consistently maintained the supremacy of the air throughout the entire period, while the tunnel companies equally maintained their superiority over the enemy underground. Discussing the use of gas and liquid fire, he says: "The employment by the enemy of gas and liquid flames compelled us not only to discover ways to protect our troops, but also to devise means of using the same instruments. Great credit is due to the special personnel employed for the rapid success with which these new arms have been developed and perfected, and the devotion to duty displayed in difficult and dangerous service. The army owes thanks to the chemists, physiologists and physicists of the highest rank who devoted their energies to enabling us to surpass the enemy in the use
