MINISTER IN HIGH PLACE DISMISSED

Grave Charges Made Against Rev. F. H. Farrar SAID TO BE MISSING

King's Chaplain Was Married Only Recently to Sister of Richard Harding Davis — The Bishop of Norwich Has the Matter Under Investigation

(Canadian Press) London, Nov. 23.—The first scandal in King George's reign exploded with violence yesterday, when the Gazette announced officially the dismissal of the Rev. Frederick Farrar, the king's domestic chaplain, and also honorary chaplain to Queen Alexandra.

Changes of drunkenness and immorality have been made against the deposed king's chaplain, and they are now being investigated by the Bishop of Norwich, Anglican clergyman, who has been resident of Sandringham, where the favorite residence of the late King Edward and of Queen Alexandra was situated.

It is understood that he has resigned his chaplaincy in consequence of the charges against him, and a startling report is abroad that the Rev. Mr. Farrar is missing and that search is being made for him.

He is a son of the late Dean Farrar and only last July he married Miss Nora Davis, a sister of Richard Harding Davis, author, and a daughter of the late Clark Davis of Philadelphia. The wedding was attended by many prominent society people of London. Members of the royal family sent wedding gifts, those being King George, Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra being especially handsome. The ceremony was held in the presence of the clergyman is heightened by his long continuance as a recipient of royal favor. It was confidentially believed that he would soon be made a bishop.

ST. STEPHEN FIRE LOSS $50,000

About Half is Covered by Insurance—Six Horses Burned, To Death in Conflagration

(Special to Times) St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 23.—Loss of upwards of $50,000, with about half covered by insurance, was caused by fire which broke out about a quarter to one o'clock this morning in Archie Johnston's stable in King street. Several buildings were burned and six horses died in the flames.

When the fire was first seen it had made great headway in the inflammable material in the stable. The fire had a ugly look and the Galia firm turned out at the first alarm. It was fortunate that they lent their assistance an early in the fight as at times the St. Croix soap factory, one of the principal industries of the town was threatened.

From the stable, the fire spread to John Mannel's blacksmith shop and this was totally destroyed. The next to go was F. E. Rose's grocery store, which was well stocked. From the store the flames leaped to James McGraw's two story dwelling house which was burned.

Howard Murchie's building, used by the owner as a wrapper factory upstairs and for storage purposes by F. E. Rose, was on the ground floor, also became a prey to the flames. F. M. Murchie's two-story building was burned to the ground. The lower floor was used by Frank Carter as a meat and grocery store and Mr. Logan and family occupy the second floor. F. M. McKenna's block was attacked and large loss caused. The intense heat cracked windows of shops and houses and looters from this source are George Irving, George Butts and J. R. Polley.

A statement of the loss of the insurance prepared this morning, is as follows:— F. E. Rose's general and grocery store, totally destroyed, loss $25,000, insured for $10,000. James McGraw's dwelling and stable, two horses burned, loss $6,000, insurance $3,000. John Mannel's blacksmith shop, loss $1,500, no insurance.

F. M. Murchie's two story building, loss $1,500, insurance $1,000. Lower story occupied by Frank Carter, grocery and meat, loss $1,000, insured by Logan's dwelling, no insurance.

Howard Murchie & Co's wrapper factory, loss $2,500, insured $2,000. Archie Johnston's stable with four horses, loss $1,500, no insurance.

P. E. McKenna's store, which had a large amount of flour and other general merchandise, loss $1,000. McKenna's store and contents, also badly damaged by water, loss $3,000. Mr. McKenna was fully insured.

Senator Ross Regrets That Presbyterian Church Has No Representative—No Senate Portfolio

(Canadian Press) Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 23.—The senate closed the debate yesterday afternoon. Senator William Ross of Halifax regretted that there was neither Presbyterian nor Scotchman in the present government.

Senator Pointe declared the Nationalists had won their Quebec seats on the anti-natal and the Ontario result was due to speeches by Col. Sam Hughes and Dr. Sproule on the Eucharistic Congress and the Ne Temere decree.

The absence of a portfolio holding minister from the senate was regretted by Senator Choquette, who thought there should be two portfolios in the senate, one held by an Englishman and the other by a Frenchman.

BERESFORD ON WAR SCARE

Declares That England Was Not Prepared, But Hon. Reginald McKenna Denies This—Earl Grey's Statement in House Awaited With Keen Interest

(Canadian Press) London, Nov. 23.—The Daily Express understands that Lord Lansdowne is likely to retire from the Unionist leadership in the House of Lords in the next future.

The War Scare. Lord Charles Beresford, speaking at Southampton last night with reference to the Moroccan situation on which Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, will make a statement to the House of Commons on November 27, said that he had avoided mentioning the naval crisis recently because, under the conditions that then prevailed, all should forget party and support the government. He felt that so strongly that he had refrained from publishing his book setting forth the real state of affairs.

New the crisis was past but it had been a blessing in disguise, because it would result in placing the service on a right footing. At the time of the crisis, continued, Lord Charles, the British fleet was divided. It had no reserve of coal, or oil or dockyards or on those parts of the railway which might have been destroyed in a few minutes, and in many other ways the navy lacked efficiency.

All might be remedied," continued Lord Charles, "by having a war staff at the admiralty. Every other nation has one, and they must all be amazed that we, who owe our national existence to the sea, have none."

The German foreign minister's revolutions have caused a great sensation in London, as showing how Europe was on the brink of war over Morocco, and Sir Edward Grey's version of the transactions on next Monday in the House of Commons, is awaited with intense interest.

The London newspapers are reserving comment until they have heard the British side. The Telegraph, in an editorial, remarks that Europe looked into the abyss and recoiled with horror. The paper adds that that was so narrowly averted gives a fresh impetus to every movement directed to the attainment of a permanent peace between Great Britain and Germany.

Lord Charles Beresford's speech is regarded in some quarters as an attempt to justify the recent removal of Reginald McKenna from the admiralty. Mr. McKenna, however, asserts that there is no foundation for the allegations respecting the unpreparedness of the navy.

The chancellor of the exchequer, David Lloyd George, has addressed a message to the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies, in which he says, "The premier's pronouncement on the attitude which the government is adopting towards the question seems to me to make the carrying of a woman's suffrage amendment, on broad democratic lines, to next year's franchise bill a certainty. I am willing to do all in my power to help those laboring to reach a successful issue in the coming session next year, which provides a superior opportunity and nothing but unwise handling of that chance can compass failure."

Takes New Grip on Situation in China and Will Run Things as He Thinks Best

(Canadian Press) Peking, Nov. 23.—Yuan Shi Kai is now practically dictator. The indications are that he has decided to embark on a vigorous campaign against the rebels in Peking and Tien Tsin, renewing the censorship and ferreting out the agitators. It is evident that he is acting without regard to the national assembly. The session of the assembly hereafter will probably be few.

The monarchial members met privately yesterday. They numbered forty-one. The republican members feel that they can accomplish little. The feking imperialists are determined and hopefulness are peculiarly persistent. Officials admit that Hun Yuen Fu, in the belief that the capture of a single province would lead to the voluntary return of the government. There is also talk of the imperialists that they can be captured since the gunboats deserted, and the imperial troops are now being turned upon Tai Yuan Fu, in the belief that the capture of a single province would lead to the voluntary return of the government.

TRAIN GOES DOWN WITH BRIDGE; MANY DROWNED

Fifty or Sixty Lives Lost in French Railroad Horror

Weakened By Floods, Bridge Over River Thouet Collapses Under Weight of Train and Hundred People are Plunged Into Water—Some Cling in Vain to Tree Tops

(Canadian Press) Samur, France, Nov. 23.—Sixty passengers, it is estimated, lost their lives through the plunging of a train into the river Thouet this morning, owing to the break-down of a railroad bridge on the state railway, at Montreuil-Bellay in the department of the Maine-Loire.

The train, which had started from Angers, was travelling to Poitiers. It contained about 100 passengers. While it was crossing the bridge over the Thouet, which had been greatly weakened by recent floods, broke down, crashing with the whole of the cars into the swollen stream.

Many of the passengers who succeeded in getting out of the cars through the windows, tried to save themselves by clinging desperately to the tops of trees, which showed above the surface of the water. In most cases, however, they were quickly washed away by the rushing current.

All the boats in the locality had been carried off by the inundations, so that it was impossible for the people of the neighborhood to assist much in the work of rescue. No exact information is yet available as to the number of victims, or as to those rescued, but it is believed that between fifty and sixty have been drowned.

Daniel Thompson of Montreal Lacrosse Team Under Arrest

Montreal, Nov. 23.—Daniel Thompson, an ex-member of the city fire brigade, well known as a player on the Montreal lacrosse team, was arrested last night in Point St. Charles on a charge of tampering with a fire alarm box. He was trying to open the door of the box, with a piece of wire.

He admitted that he had rung some false alarms last week, but that he did not send in any last night.

R. B. Humphrey Brings Word of Maine and New Brunswick Prices

Robt. B. Humphrey returned on the C. P. express last evening after a trip to St. Leonard's, Edmundston, in New Brunswick and Van Buren, Carleton Place, and other points in northern Maine, in the interest of the International Railway.

Mr. Humphrey says he noted, with great surprise, the mild autumn conditions which prevail here at St. John in such marked contrast to the stern winter weather in northern New Brunswick and throughout Aroostook country. In fact, has been hung up at Grand Falls since last spring, but this hope is not at all likely to be realized, and the great gorge will, in all probability, remain choked with the mass of logs comprising some millions of feet until the freshest next spring. During the last summer several attempts to release the log jam at Grand Falls, with the aid of dynamite were made but without success.

It will be of considerable interest to many readers to learn, for a positive fact, regarding potatoes that most important crop of Aroostook, Maine, and of almost equal relative importance in Carleton county, N. B., that on Tuesday last the selling or market price of "Green Mountain" tubers in Presque Isle and at other truck points was $2.42 a barrel, on Wednesday to be exact about as low as price, the market price of the same year's franchise bill a certainty. I am willing to do all in my power to help those laboring to reach a successful issue in the coming session next year, which provides a superior opportunity and nothing but unwise handling of that chance can compass failure."

The new international highway bridge, a splendid steel structure, between St. Leonard's and Van Buren, is now in regular use and operation.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Sir Charles Ross a Visitor in the States—Project to Remove Remains of Methodist Pioneer to England

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company)

Sir Charles Ross, who has arrived in the United States from Europe with his Kentucky wife, has large interests both in the United States and also in Canada.

In addition to this he is, next to the Duke of Sutherland, the largest landowner in Scotland or even in the United Kingdom.

His principal county seat in Scotland is Balmowan Castle in the county bearing his name, a grand old place rising among woods close to the Croyatie Firth.

Sir Charles served with distinction in South Africa where he fitted out at his own expense, an entire battery for use during the Boer war.

He has patented a number of very useful inventions, including military rifle which has been adopted by the Canadian government for its military forces and has displayed an amount of common sense and of intelligent enterprise which certainly do not come to him by inheritance.

His father, grandfather, and great-grandfather was so passionately fond of poultry that he insisted on having all the rooms in Balmowan Castle littered with straw, so that he might enjoy the pleasure of watching the chickens scratch and creep among them.

In his days there was not a room in the huge castle in which one was not apt to tread upon a setting hen or a new laid egg and one of the first things that his subaltern was obliged to do on ascending to the property, was to floor and wainscot afresh every room in the castle.

One of Sir Charles' father it is told that one winter he became greatly irritated over the fact that he could find nothing for his army of workmen on one of his Scotch estates to do, owing to the frost and snow.

So at last he hit upon a plan. He gave out that he had lost a expensive snow where in the snow-covered grounds and set the men to find it. They searched and searched among the snow without success.

In the end, one of them, anxious to relieve himself and his fellow employees of so ridiculous a task even at the sacrifice of a piece of money, handed his master a sixpence and informed him that he had found the snow. The late Sir Charles instantly dismissed him for lying, explaining that he really had not lost any money at all.

With regard to the present baronet's education, it may be said that in all the history of Eton, extending over six centuries, there has never been a pupil there who enjoyed such a command of money and of luxury as Sir Charles.

He was educated at Eton, and while at school, by his father, he was ready in those days he had a magnificent open-jug steam yacht, a large sailing yacht, the most superbly appointed and biggest steam launch for river use on the Thames, a coach and four, and much else besides.

In fact, there was nothing that he could think of which was not immediately supplied to him by his doing money.

On leaving Eton he went to Cambridge and while there married, in defiance of the protests of his mother, Miss Winifred Berens, sister of Olive, Countess Carnarvon. A year later, before graduating, he received for Cambridge in the annual Oxford and Cambridge boat race, being the first married man on record to take part in that historic contest.

The marriage was not a fortunate one and culminated in a sensational divorce suit, in which Max de Balthus, brother of Sir Hugo de Balthus, (the husband of the ex-Mrs. Langtry), was cited by Sir Charles as a witness, while Lady Ross brought counter charges.

Several years after the dissolution of this marriage Sir Charles married again. His wife, Patricia, familiarly known as "Patty," is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kellen, of Louisville, Ky., and a granddaughter of General Charles Scott, third governor of Kentucky, and a member of George Washington's staff.

Widely Land Owner Sir Charles, besides owning half a million of acres in Scotland, has interests in the copper mines of British Columbia, where he is also president of a water-power electric plant at West Kootenay, which is virtually his creation.

His holdings in the Canada include a large area in the western part of the dominion, which is now known as Roseland, while in China he has mining rights which extend over 17,000 square miles. He has no children by his present marriage and, his boy by his first union having succeeded in infancy, he baronetcy, along with his entailed estates, will go at his death to his very remote cousin, Col. Alexander Farquharson, of Inverdale, married to Miss Zoe Macgraves, a family related to the Macgraves.

HENDERSON & HUNT 17-19 Charlotte St.

was refused on the same grounds which will doubtless be put forward as an insuperable objection to the request of Mr. Home, namely that Whitefield was buried in the Old South Church in Newburyport, by his own special wish. Noted Cornish Family Col. William E. Bolittle, whose death has just taken place, belonged to the great Cornish dynasty of Bolittle, which has played so important a role in the history of the Prince of Wales' own particular Duchy during the last few hundred years. Throughout that time they have figured not only as the largest land-owners, but also as the most important money owners, ship owners, in engineers, bankers and all round philanthropists of Cornwall. If one wants a name to compare with in that westernmost county of England, it is that of Bolittle. The finest country seats that catch the eye, belong to one or another of the Bolittes and each village library, each new church, and even every Wesleyan chapel in the duchy seems to have been given or endowed by the Bolittes. The old banking house of Bolittle, Williams & Co. is now amalgamated with the great London banking concern of Barclay & Co. which was for generations its representative in the metropolis. Thomas Bedford Bolittle represents the St. Ives division of the Duchy of Cornwall as a Liberal Unionist in the House of Commons, and makes his principal home at Greenway, his country seat on the Dart, where Sir Walter Raleigh is on record as having enjoyed one of his many "first pipes," and was in more senses than one "put out" by a bucket of water, with which an overzealous servant drenched him, under the impression that he was on the Greenway. He likewise the birthplace of Sir Walter Raleigh's half-brother, Sir Humphrey Gilbert, who discovered and took possession of England's oldest colony, Newfoundland, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

BEGGED NOT TO SEND BABY TO THE DEEP Montreal, Nov. 23—Mrs. J. Tadena, a steamer passenger on board the S. S. Montrose, of the C. P. R. gave birth to a son when the Montrose was six days out from London. The child, however, lived only five days and died as the ship was nearing Anticosti. "It was an impressive and sad scene," said an officer of the Montrose, "when we buried the little fellow. The mother seemed to have gone mad with grief and wanted to come out on deck when she heard that we were about to give the little corpse a seaman's burial. She shrieked and cried alternately imploring us not to throw her baby into the sea."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"WELL, I'd just like to know what Evelyn Berkeley has to be so stuck-up and exclusive about?" "Is she stuck-up?" "Well, I should say so. The other day she sat down beside me in the train by mistake, and when she looked up, saw me, and had to speak, she looked as grim as an oyster. And she hardly said a word all the way. She just makes me sick! What if her grandfather did write a few books! That's no reason for her to set herself up above everybody. And besides we all know how her mother was. I think that ought to humble her a little."

I heard that conversation about a week ago. Yesterday, strangely enough, I heard another conversation between the much censured Evelyn and a girl friend. Said the girl friend, "Evelyn Berkeley, why didn't you talk more at the reception the other night? I watched you and you hardly said a word the whole evening. Do you think that's a nice way to act when you promised me you'd try to talk more?"

Said Evelyn, "Oh, dear, I knew you would be disgusted with me, Annie, and I did try, but you don't know how difficult it is for me to make small talk with people. I don't know very well. I'm always meeting people that I know slightly on the train going back and forth to work, and I feel I ought to talk to them, yet I can't think of a thing to say. And I just sit there stiff and stupid and hate myself. You have a natural social gift, Annie, and you don't know how hard it is to be born shy and self-conscious."

I wonder what the parties of the first conversation would have said if they could have heard the second. I have quoted the two at such length, because it seems to me that they expose with singular clearness one of the most common of all the misjudgments of our fellow creatures of which we are guilty—namely, the misinterpretation of diffidence and shyness as pride and exclusiveness. Many a girl—and a man too, for that matter—who suffers torture in her efforts to overcome her inborn diffidence, is further punished for her misfortune by dislike and avoidance on the part of those who misinterpret her shyness and self-consciousness as snobbishness and disagreeable pride.

Now, I think almost everyone has different moods—moods when he suddenly finds himself out of tune with the universe, and unable to enter into natural converse with those he ordinarily treasures and enjoys. Surely you have had this experience. You knew people were thinking you different and disagreeable. You wanted to get back to your natural self and yet you were helpless. There you were marooned on a cold little island of self, ignoring how you came there, totally incapable of getting off or even of signaling your unhappy state to the mainland.

By and by the over-tired condition, the pre-occupation or the anxiety that cast you on that island, was relieved, and you found yourself once more on the pleasant mainland of happy, human intercourse. Surely, then, you paused and thought a moment of the unfortunate people with whom the condition of shyness, diffidence and lack of harmony with the universe was the rule, and anything else the exception. If you didn't you will next time, won't you?

And thus turn your painful experience to good, by letting it teach you not to misinterpret shyness and diffidence as arrogance or unamiability.

Daily Hints For the Cook

CREAM PUFFS Put four level tablespoons butter into one-half cup boiling water in a saucepan. Take one and a half level tablespoons cornstarch and add enough flour to make one cup. When well mixed turn into the boiling water and stir until mixture leaves sides of saucepan. Remove from fire and cool by beating. Stir in, one at a time, two unbeaten eggs, beating the mixture thoroughly. Drop spoonfuls of the batter in baking pan and bake in a hot oven for thirty minutes. When entirely cold, split and fill.

INDIAN PUDDING One cup sugar, one cup Indian meal, and a little salt, mixed well. Soak with one quart milk in buttered dish, add half cup molasses, one egg well beaten, and stir well. Then add one cup cold milk, and do not stir. Bake in slow oven about three hours and add a cup of cold milk twice while baking. Pour it all over the top, and do not stir. This makes the bottom of the pudding like whey. Cover while baking.

DELMONICO STEAK Nicely trim and lightly flatten with a cleaver two tender sirloin steaks of one and a quarter pounds each. Mix on a plate one teaspoon salt, half teaspoon white pepper with a tablespoon oil and gently roll the steaks in the seasoning; arrange on the broiler and broil on a brisk fire for eight minutes on each side. Remove and dress on a hot dish.

Take First and Seconds in New York Horse Show Competitions

New York, Nov. 23—Two more international military competitions drew enormous throngs of spectators to the horse show last night, the largest crowds it was said, ever seen about the tankard. The Dutch army team handily won the event for the America cup, defeating the picked military mounts and officers of Great Britain, Canada, and the United States. Canada won second place and the United States third. The winning horse was Black Paddy, owned and ridden by Baron H. F. Van Voorst of the Royal Dutch Hussars. Drednought, owned and ridden by Major C. E. Van Stratten, sire of the Royal Canadian Dragoons was second.

The international jumping competition of the night session, in which sixty-eight officers and their horses competed for the Canadian challenge cup, offered by Hon. Adam Beck, was won by the Canadian horse Ironsides, ridden by Lieut. W. F. Sifton. The Dutch entry was second in the Belgian third, with the United States fourth. Ironsides was one of the few horses to make a clean score in the general competition and the only one to show superior form in the final.

St. Allan Case of Toronto, riding May Fair, was thrown at the first fence but was unhurt. He remounted and took the last fence from a start of only thirty feet.

SIXTY YEARS AFTER

Back in the bright days of childhood A stranger to trouble and care, Roving the deep tangled wildwood, Breathing the sweet scented air.

Light hearted from morn until even, As day after day passed along; Watching the hithering waving, In time with the mocking-bird's song.

When at midnight the cool summer shower Would sound on the old attic roof, Refreshing the crops and the flowers, Dropped on their stalks by the drouth.

All come to me now as a vision, As I sit in my mansion tonight, And bless the surrounding elysium That others would view with delight, Pleasure.

True, I've a loftier mansion, A home that can rank with the best, A circle greater expansion, But a heart that is robbed of its rest.

The debts that are daily accruing, Are steps toward to absolute ruin; Ere another twelve months have begun, Oh! take those proud halls with their pleasure.

With joy overbalanced by pain, And give me once more what I treasure, The web-covered rafters again.

Though sixty long years have passed over The scene is as plain to my sight, And the perfume of wild-rose and clove Disperses the dark gloom of delight.

PENNY BANKS FOR SCHOOLS IN ST. JOHN

The meeting of the provincial government which was commenced yesterday afternoon was continued this morning. Owing to the pressure of business and the large number of delegations to be heard, the sessions will continue this afternoon and probably this evening.

This morning a delegation was heard asking permission to inaugurate the system of penny savings banks in the local schools. They wished to try it in some of the schools as an experiment. It would be confined to the intermediate grades. An answer in a few days was promised.

Another delegation consisting of Dr. A. F. McAvoy, Dr. David Townsend and F. Neil Roddie for the Jordan sanitarium appeared and laid before the government the plans for the remodeling and the building operations which are necessary at River Glade. The money has already been provided and the plans were merely submitted for approval.

AUSTRALIA'S EXAMPLE

Australia is beginning negotiations for reciprocity with the United States. Undisturbed by the flag-drapers of Canada, and the Unionist party in England, the people of the Commonwealth are proceeding in a business-like way to benefit their own country, realizing that in so doing they cannot fail to benefit the Empire.

The announcement of Australia's action in this matter will be a sad blow to the hopes of Mr. Borden and the high imperialists in Ottawa and London. In the face of all their shouting, and their wild appeals to the people to save the Empire, the Australians can see no danger in a profitable trade agreement, nor do they fear what Mr. Borden has described as an interlocking of their fiscal system with that of the United States.

No doubt there is also another thought than that of trade in the minds of the Australian people. We all remember the fervent welcome they extended to the visiting American fleet of warships. They recognize that the United States is one of the great powers on the Pacific, and they desire the most friendly relations with a nation speaking their own language and sharing the same traditions.

WEST INDIA TRADE

The Halifax Echo suggests that in order to carry out its declared policy of increasing inter-imperial trade, the Borden government should operate a line of fast steamships in connection with the Intercolonial Railway. The Echo contends that the situation in the West Indies, because of the United States tariff on the one hand, and on the other the lack of easy communication with Canada, is one that calls for a prompt and effective remedy, which would be supplied by a fast steamship service between the islands and Canada.

BUMPING THE MIDDLEMAN

Long life to Mayor Shank of Indianapolis. He has put the middleman to rout. He has brought the producer and the consumer together, to the great joy of the latter. The consumer had been paying the middleman $1.00 per bushel for potatoes. Mayor Shank showed how to get them for 75 cents per bushel, and delivered the goods. States of Mayor Shank should be erected in public places. No man dare say that this benefactor of the race is "small potatoes."

a bushel in this city. Dealers immediately lowered their price to 81, but raised it again as soon as the mayor's supply was exhausted. The first supply was exhausted in three hours, and orders were taken in advance for two more car-loads. There are about 600 bushels in a car.

We are told that since the above was written Mayor Shank has been selling peaches, and proposes to go on with other fruits, and meats. The Rural New Yorker asserts that one car load of potatoes run over a monopoly is worth a train-load of political theory.

Of course this plan implies that the purchaser must go to the market and get his goods. If he prefers to order by telephone he must still patronize the middleman. The merit of the Shank scheme is that it may be used at any time to prevent the middleman from charging too high prices. A radical development of the scheme would be the establishment of municipal markets controlled by the city.

Sir Andrew Fraser was greatly impressed with the opportunities for development at Courtenay Bay. All visitors are of like mind.

The iron and steel men, the advance guard of the army of high protection, are knocking at the doors of the Borden government. They want their profits increased.

The winter port season is open and there is need of the very best harbor ferry service the department can give. Fortunately there are two good boats available for this winter.

"I would rather be right than be premier," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night at the banquet in his honor. He has been both, and if his health is preserved he will be both once more.

Having voted in favor of a bridge across the harbor the citizens will approve of Mr. Scully's move to discover how the matter stands at the present time, and the attitude of the provincial and federal governments toward the scheme.

The war into which Italy rushed with such light-hearted cheerfulness is not marked by great battles, but it is costing the country enormous sums, and is not likely to end soon. The Turk is at a disadvantage, but he is tenacious and utterly without fear.

The question of a navy is not new to Canada. The gentlemen who make up the present government have already had two distinct policies, and now they are groping about for a third. As responsible and intelligent statesmen they present a diverting spectacle.

The Liberal tribune to Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa last evening was not the expression of a beaten and despairing party, but of one assured of the righteousness of its cause and the early triumph of its principles.

If enough immigrants can be settled in New Brunswick next year to offset in number the year's loss by migration to the west, we shall have accomplished something; but that which is most needed is something to check the westward migration and keep our own people at home.

To get down to cases. Will the Laymen's Conference unite the best elements in St. John next spring to elect a commission that will give the city good government? Also, will it lead to the rigid enforcement of laws that are now, on the testimony of the police magistrate, too often violated? China will always be a long way off.

More than half the people of the world live in India and China. The task of the missionaries is colossal. Price Collier says: "The conversion of the thousand million brown and yellow men of Asia by the five hundred million Christians is so far away in the distance that no eye, even that of imagination, can see so far down the aisles of time."

The Times was censured by its opponents in the federal election campaign for declaring that a vote for Borden was a vote for Bourassa. Yesterday at Ottawa Mr. Monk was chosen to lead the house while Mr. Borden was closeted with Mr. Bourassa. The people of Canada are gradually learning what the victory of the unholy alliance really means.

The report of the committee which has been investigating the civic board of works must not be suppressed. The citizens have a right to know what conclusions the committee arrived at after hearing the evidence. Nothing that may be said or insinuated concerning any member of that committee, can affect the evidence which it heard in its enquiry into the affairs of the board of works.

A Japanese tea garden sits acres in extent is being moved on automobile trucks from Pasadena to Oak Knoll, Cal., where the owner of the garden has purchased a new estate. The moving of the garden has now been in progress for more than a month and it is estimated that it will be finished more before the work is completed. There are more than $100,000 worth of rare trees, shrubs, and ornaments in the garden.

THE SANGS O' SCOTLAN'

By A. G. Riddoch, Denver, Colo. Come, lay yer soor, lang faces by, There's naughtin sweeter tae the eigh, An' think avhile o' Scotlan's name, An' sing the sweet auld sangs o' hame; There's naughtin sweeter tae the eigh, An' naughtin sweeter tae the eigh, The sangs the gude auld Scotch folk sang, Till ilka post-smoked rafter rang.

Forget awhile the woes o' life, Be silly bickerings an' strife, About the silver an' the gold, Whilk some day soon will gang tae mold; The sangs weel kent in moor an' glen, Have just their course o' life begun; So let us sing them loud and clear, An' we'll forget that life is drear.

Upon the banks o' Afton's stream We'll dance an' sing as in a dream, An' neath the birks o' bonnie Doon We'll joyfulness o' hearts weel croon; An' gin some o' us across the sea, We'll shout the strains o' "Scots wha hae An' wi' John Anderson my Jo' Arm linked in arm we'll blythly go.

The sangs o' Scotlan', aye an' aye, Are pure an' gentle as the mae, If he but sing, care soon gangs by; See let us lay our cares aside, An' sen' the sweet strains far an' wide; For when we're singin' sangs o' hame, We're honorin' auld Scotlan's name.

Doctor Tells Cause and Cure of Wrinkles. (From Springfield Republican.) "Stop to consider what produces wrinkles and sagging of skin," said Dr. Elizabeth Blinn at the Woman's Club last evening. "Premature aging, mal-nutrition, etc., cause the flesh to shrink, lose its youthful plumpness and firmness. The skin then wrinkles and sags. It is not tight, but it is not loose, it is just sagging."

JUMBO'S CONSORT DAD Carrie, Aged 150, and Weighing Six Tons, Succumbs to Pneumonia in New York

Carrie, the largest elephant in captivity is dead. Besides being noted as being taller than the late lamented Jumbo, Carrie, the oldest actress in the world, died last Wednesday morning in her quarters at the New York Hippodrome. She was more than 150 years old. She was Jumbo's consort when the pair travelled with Barnum's circus. The keepers reported to Dr. Martin J. Potter, the Hippodrome veterinarian, that Carrie was suffering from pneumonia and she was at once put under treatment. She failed to respond, and though she continued to take an interest in life and wanted to start off with her companions when the call to the stage came, she grew worse, and at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning she lay down and died. The trio of elephants felt that something had happened and their trumpeting awoke the other animals. All through the night their trumpeting continued. Jennie, who was near the carcass, would put out her trunk as though groping for the other. Then she would throw her trunk in the air and voice her sorrow. Lena and Roxie would follow suit and they were joined by the braying of the burros across the aisle. Beyond them came the howling of the dogs. When Lena, who was Carrie's understudy, led the procession across the stage in the dark scene at the matinee Tuesday afternoon, she half turned in making her entry, but at the touch from her master started forward to the sound of the music. The hundred of children who were in the house saw nothing strange in the action of the animal, but the men who have to do with the big animal, knew she was not "following her lines." She was wailing for Carrie. In the language of the stage manager, Carrie was a "good showman." She had been in the show business even before the days of the Black Crook—and that's a long time ago. She is said to have been the first elephant ever brought to this country. Her first public appearance so far as is known, was with the old John Robinson circus, half a century ago. The herd to which she belonged is owned by W. W. Powers, the animal trainer. Capt. Tal Dodge, of Block Island, R. I., who for forty-four years has been a pilot in that vicinity, is the third generation of his family who has followed the same calling. Capt. Joshua Dodge, his father, was a pilot in the waters about Block Island for fifty years, and Capt. Joshua's father was also a pilot there for many years.

MORNING LOCALS

The Public Utilities Commission met here yesterday afternoon and transacted routine business. St. John's building operations for ten months was $234,300 according to the current number of the Financial Post. It is against $446,725 for the corresponding period in 1910, an increase of 19.6 per cent. Deputy Sheriff McQuarrie of St. George, arrived in the city last night on his way to Dorchester with Chipman Cheney and George Brown, both charged with breaking and entering. Each will serve two years. Captain G. Knox of Shanghai, the hero of the incident made famous by Kipling's "The Three Sealers," is at the Royal. He was formerly of Halifax but has been away for about twenty-five years.

HER TALENT. Neither wise nor yet discerning. All her little store of learning Consisted of such trifles as she had learnt by chance. In her talk she was not witty. And you couldn't call her pretty. Yet she never lacked admirers for a partners at a dance. In face and form t is a fairy. Was—well, very ordinary. Her clothes were inexpensive—the wom called them loud. But at every ball and party Her reception was most hearty. From the men, who all would gather about her in a crowd. She was tiny and so prettish, And just a bit coquetish, But her fortune was most meagre, Yet all t's men seemed eager. On the slightest provocation at her lit feet to fall. Her cooking was atrocious— It would make a man ferocious; But by men this girl was voted a m engaging elf. Yes, every man who knew her, Persistently would woo her. Everything is in readiness for the men to return to work at the mines of the A. N. and I. Railway Company here, and also at the Chinook collieries.

THE WORD "SAUCE"

What are the first essentials of a Sauce? Many professors of cookery and confectioners have, from time to time, set forth their views on this subject. Many solid varieties of food, soluble only by digestion, are not rarely dry in substance, but are somewhat unattractive and insufficiently flavored. A sauce is intended, amongst other things, to lubricate dry food, and thus increase its palatability, by the addition of flavors of the production of contrast. A sauce is intended to stimulate the organs of taste, and to promote the salivary secretion. Thus, by enhancing the appetite and augmenting the power of digestion, it increases the pleasure of eating, meanwhile assisting the mechanism of nutrition. The preparation of a sauce suited to one special dish is, in general, a simple affair, but the making of bottled sauce, capable of fulfilling the demands, and supply allaying them with hundreds of other matters, is a skillful great experience. The matter of eating, which is the matter of eating, is imported from England, where it is produced in the largest Malting factory in the world and is known as "H. P. Sauce," and takes its title from the initials of the "House of Parliament," where it is used on the dining tables, both in the home country and in Canada. The makers tell us that its delicious flavor is obtained by blending together the choicest oriental fruits and spices with pure Malting, by a secret process, and we are sure our readers will find that a personal trial will confirm all the good things that are said of H. P. Grocers over here are already selling it freely.

HAD VERY BAD COUGH.

Tickling Sensation In Throat. Could Not Sleep At Night.

A bad cough, with that distressing, tickling sensation in the throat, is one of the most aggravating coughs a person can possibly have.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will quickly stop that tickling in the throat which causes the dry cough that keeps you awake at night. The simple reason that it is so effective in halting coughs of the Norway pine tree, cannot help but do otherwise.

Miss C. Danielson, Bowman River, Minn., writes—"Last fall I had a very bad cough and a tickling sensation in my throat. It was so bad I could not sleep at night, so I went to a druggist and told him I needed something for my cold and he advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which I did, and after taking one bottle I was completely cured. Let me recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to any one who suffers from a cough or throat irritation."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MAKING A CITY BEAUTIFUL

This is a new fountain at the south end of the Mall in Cleveland, showing treatment of gardens, terraces, and trees. The fountain and overhanging arch are beautifully reflected in the water. Cleveland, more than perhaps any other city on the continent, has gone in for beautifying her public thoroughfares by systematizing and carefully planning the erection of her civic buildings. The present layout of the city is due to the reports of a board of supervision for public buildings and grounds, appointed in 1903.

HAS A TRAGIC LIFE STORY TO TELL TO COURT

Mrs. Patterson on Trial For The Murder of Her Husband

MILLIONAIRE IN CASE

Denver, Col., Nov. 23.—Cardinal elements of human nature, love and hate, lust and greed, each playing its part in a tragedy that has brought a young and beautiful woman of more than usual refinement and attraction before a jury to fight for her life, mark with interest the trial of Gertrude Gibson Patterson, accused of the murder of her husband, begun here before Judge Allen in the district court.

In the course of the trial, attorneys for the defense say there will be unfurled the story of a sixteen-year-old girl whose beauty attracted the attention of a Chicago millionaire, who, declaring his intention to wed her, sent her to Paris to be educated and five months later brought her back to Chicago, where under renewed promises of marriage he established relations which continued for five years, during which time they were thought by the family and friends of both to be man and wife. How the millionaire, finally tired of the girl, arranged with Charles A. Patterson, a young Chicago broker that she should become Patterson's wife, for which Mrs. Patterson declares, she afterwards learned that her husband had received $1,000, will be told the jury by the defendant's attorneys.

The unhappiness of her married life, tainted at the outset by this discovery, and marked from the very beginning she says, with repeated attempts to force her husband to return to her former admirer, will be related. She will tell, it is declared, how after returning from abroad with her wealthy admirer, a trip, she says, made at her husband's urgent demand some time after her marriage to Patterson, she accompanied Patterson to Colorado where he had been in search of health, having contracted tuberculosis. Here in Denver she filed suit for divorce.

In the meantime, Patterson had announced his intention of bringing suit in Chicago against her former admirer for alienation of her affections.

On September 23 last, Mrs. Patterson, who had been living in town went to a sanitarium in the suburbs at which her husband was a patient to talk matters over with him. The two strolled down to the street together. A quarrel arose in which Mrs. Patterson says, she attempted to shoot herself. Mrs. Patterson ran into the house in front of which the shooting had occurred. Later she admitted having fired the shots alleging self defense.

Against this the state expects to show by an eye witness to the shooting, that Mrs. Patterson fired the second shot as Patterson lay on the ground begging for mercy and that after the shooting she placed the revolver under his body. By letters written by Patterson to his brother in Chicago, it will seek to show that Mrs. Patterson had threatened him with death if he did not drop his alienation suit and will contend that the shooting resulted from his final refusal to do so.

AN AUTUMN QUERY. What makes the college youth give up the cigarette, the flowing cap? What makes him early seek the cot That really knows him not? Why does he train his hair to grow Till ringlets on his shoulders flow? What makes him don the padded clothes And shout strange numbers through his nose?

What makes him laugh at legs a-twist, At a girl's apron and broder waist? What makes him weep when led away To think his useless for the fray? What makes that staid old spectator yell And carry on like a mad dog? What wipes out his late and voices, too, And leaves in an ecstatic stew? What makes the girl who would not go Across the street to talk withally, Sit chilled outdoors with tense delight And wave a flag with all her might? Pray let us end this long suspense, You suffering none to be untrue, This mania that rhymes with Fall Is known to science as Football. —New York American.

THE GERMAN ELECTIONS IN JANUARY

Empire's Foreign Policy Likely To Play Big Part In Them

LETTER FROM BERLIN

(Times' Special Correspondence) Berlin, Nov. 18.—The general elections for the new Reichstag will take place on January 12. This announcement, which has been anticipated with such eagerness, is now made by the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, so that the minds of those politicians who were apprehensive that the government would spring an early date upon them will be set at rest. The parties are all preparing to commence the electoral campaign and efforts will be made to conclude the business of the present session as soon as possible.

The government is already in a precarious position, and does not attract loyal support. Already rumors are afloat that Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, if not the chancellor himself, has lost the confidence of the Kaiser, and cannot look forward to a long tenure of office. With election time approaching a large number of voters will be more inclined to consult the desires of the public, which is unmistakably demanding an explanation of the empire's foreign policy.

The Berlin public has shown extraordinary interest in the international motor car exhibition and the huge hall where it is held has been packed. On some days it has been necessary to shut up certain sections to prevent dangerous overcrowding. According to German car experts, the display has a special interest in that it discloses the automobile in a new, possibly, final stage of its evolution.

In its earlier history the motor car, so far as outward appearances go, lacked a distinctive character of its own. An attempt to wed the new-fangled motor with the old-fashioned carriage, it looked the hybrid thing that it was. Gradually it has been developing an artistic type and individuality of its own, and this, the experts declare, has now been achieved. However that may be, the new car has as much of its own style and as much an entity of its own as a yacht, and, like a yacht, it is a thing of graceful, living lines from prow to stern. "The soul of the automobile," writes one enthusiast, "has at last been discovered."

A New Play. The foundation of the theatrical season, thus far, is Arthur Schnitzler's new five-act drama, "Das Weite Land." How strong a hold the Viennese author has upon the German public may be inferred from the fact that the new play received simultaneous "first productions" not only in Berlin and Vienna, but in Munich, Leipzig, Hamburg, Hanover and several other cities. The critics have evidently found it a hard nut to crack, however, and whether it will add to Herr Schnitzler's reputation seems more than doubtful. Like most of his other plays of course, it is an essay in psychology of irregular love relations.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her. Middle Station, N. B. One can hardly believe it as it is not natural, but it is my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had tried different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for it. I received your reply and I have cured myself. I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—MRS. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Middle Station, N. B.

Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women who suffer from female ills. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for the good you've done and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—MRS. FRANK COOPER, Box 48, Indian Head, Saskatchewan. The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eat More Bread

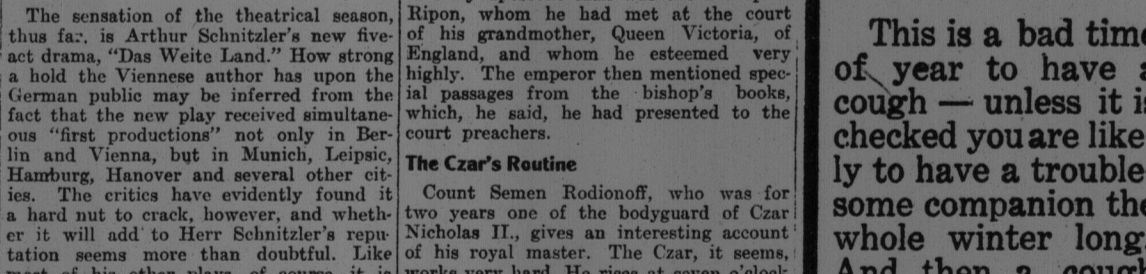

Few people eat enough of what is rightly called "the staff of life"

FOOD authorities declare that wheat is the KING of all foods. It is the best food for growing children, the best for old age, the best for every age of life. It is best chiefly because it contains most of the life-building nitrogen combined with the proper degree of starch. Of all the forms in which wheat may be eaten, bread stands at the top. There is no food yet created that can take the place of good bread—the staff of life. The better the flour you use, the better more wholesome, bread you'll make. And better bread means the use of PURITY FLOUR. The bread will be better, higher-class, because PURITY FLOUR consists exclusively of the high-grade portions of the best Western hard wheat. There are no low-grade portions of the hard wheat berries, nor no soft wheat flour, in it. It is all high-grade—a strong, vigorous flour. The leaves will be more nutritious, because they contain the high-quality nitrogen, gluten, starch and phosphates—the blood-enriching, body-building and life-sustaining elements of the world's strongest wheat. Think of the added enjoyment of eating bread you know is so chock-full of wholesomeness. Think of the good it will do your children, your husband and yourself. Think of the wisdom of eating less and lots of it, for it is a fact known to the medical profession, that few people eat enough of "the staff of life." Of course PURITY FLOUR will cost you slightly more than ordinary flour. It's worth the difference. And it will make "more bread and better bread" for you than you can obtain from the same weight of ordinary flour. And the pastry PURITY FLOUR makes! It's more delicious too, if you take the precaution to add more shortening than is required with ordinary flour. The extra strength of PURITY FLOUR requires the addition of more shortening for best pastry-results. Think of the PURITY trade-mark when you buy flour. Add PURITY FLOUR to your grocery list right now.

PURITY FLOUR

"More bread and better bread"
