MEN WHO ARE AFTER THE JOB.

Chances for the Vacant Collectorship.

Town Gossip About the Claimants—Dr. Matthew Should Have It, But Lacks the Pull.

There are two topics of conversation on Prince William street today, the appointment of a successor to the late collector of customs and the military dinner at the Union Club.

Regarding the former, out of the four or five who are spoken of as applicants, two are considered to have good chances, but there is a feeling that even those who think they know it all may be fooled, and that the position may be given to one who is at present a dark horse. The two most prominently spoken of are Hon. A. T. Dunn and George Robertson, M. P. P. Of these Mr. Dunn has a record for good service rendered in his party and being a member of the government is considered to have lots of pull. His support is believed to be strong, and it is considered that he has about as good chance as any one.

Mr. Robertson cannot lay claim to such a lengthy service in the liberal party, but there are many who, in view of the fact that the appointment is practically certain to be a political one, would like to see him given the collectorship as some reward for what he has done for the city.

Of the other accredited applicants, Arthur W. Adams is said to have the support of the local war office, and while it is not generally known what this support is worth, it is thought not to be equal to the political pull held by the other two.

W. E. Vroom is spoken of as a good man, an honorable man, and a friend of his party, but one who has never done any active work and who would, perhaps, have influence through social and business relations rather than through party politics. While his chances are not considered good, there is an impression that but little surprise would be caused if he were given the appointment.

But while two of the above five are popularly believed to have strong chances, and while most of the Prince William street gossips are firmly convinced that some one of them will be chosen, there is at the same time, a deep feeling that none of those mentioned have in any way the right to the position such as has Dr. G. F. Matthews. The latter is one of the oldest and most competent officials in Canada. He has served in the customs for many years and is respected in other provinces as well as New Brunswick, not only for his ability and faithfulness in the service, but equally so for his scientific attainments and for what, as a geologist, he has done to advance science. There are few who would not like to see Dr. Matthews appointed to the vacant position, but there are equally few who feel that merit will be recognized.

The other subject of conversation, the military and naval dinner at the Union Club, is looked upon as a joke and is always referred to laughingly. Neither side appears to have many ardent supporters, for few of the gang care enough about it, and even among military men and civic officials there is any attempt at seriousness. It is argued by some that if the dinner was given as a formal reception to the officers of the militia, at least some representatives of the government should have been invited. But if the function were only a private affair by the D. O. C., he, of course, had a perfect right to invite whom he pleased. Perhaps some of the officials feel sore, and perhaps they do not. At any rate, they decline to talk much on the subject, and when a city official does this it is usually a sign that something is wrong.

WITH FISTS AND FEET.

William Dickson Given 2 Months For Brutally Beating His Wife on Pitt Street.

This happened in police court. William Dickson was given in charge by his wife, Emma Dickson, for assaulting her on Pitt street, and for tearing her clothes in the yard of their house off Duke street.

Emma was sworn. She said: "It was last night. Billy said he was going to look for a job, but he came back drunk. He was on the corner fooling with that Kennedy girl, and I spoke to him. Then he hit on me and he hit me and beat me and knocked me down and kicked me and dragged me by the hair of the head over to our yard and he kicked me and beat me again. Then I went for a policeman and gave him in charge."

William had no questions to ask. George Hopson was sworn.

"I don't know nothing about it. I saw Dickson kick at her, but don't know whether he hit her. Saw him take hold of her, but don't know whether it was by the hair. Dickson was fooling with some girls."

Charles Morrison saw a little more. "Dickson was hugging the girl at the corner. Then a big rock came and hit the post. He dodged and grabbed his gun. He shot at her three or four times, then kicked her. Dragged her by the hair—don't know whether it came out to their yard and I heard her screaming."

The magistrate regretted that he was unable to give Dickson two years, but sent him in for two months.

Thomas Cronin, arrested for being drunk and breaking a pane of glass in George Hope's "barbour shop" was remanded. Two drunks were fined four dollars each.

Two young boys, named Nixon and Haley, were reported for driving furiously on Sydney and Waterloo streets. They said the horse got beyond control, and were excused.

Israel Jacobson explained that the scrap metal which was lying on Pond street did not belong to him, but to Henry Baig, who is out of town at present. Jacobson promised to move the stuff to a safer place.

HOT FIGHTING AT SAN DOMINGO.

Insurgents Shelling the City—American Minister Nearly Killed. Germany Lands Troops.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—San Domingo cablegrams dated Nov. 9, in the Sun, give some details of the fighting about the city. The insurgents are continuing the attack, the despatches were said, and the fighting was heavy. The attack began Friday. The despatch continues:

"During all of Saturday night, the insurgents attacked the city. They used arms and also delivered heavy shell fire. The government, however, succeeded in repelling the rebels, though with considerable loss. The losses of the revolutionists were slight. Some forty or fifty combatants were killed."

"During an attack on Sunday afternoon, an insurgent shell passed within three feet of Mr. Powell, the American minister at the legation. A sortie was made by 140 government troops, but they were ambushed and compelled to retire within the walls, leaving their dead and wounded on the field."

"Early on Sunday night there was another heavy attack, but the rebels were again repulsed. The losses are unknown. Several shells exploded in the city Monday."

"The German cruiser Gasselle arrived today and is landing marines. The German cruiser Panther arrived here Sunday. No other foreign warships are here."

"The Dominican cruiser Presidente has arrived here, leaving the so-called blockaded ports open to navigation."

DEATH WOUNDS IN LOCKED ROOM DUEL.

Rival Sultans Battle Fiercely Until One Sinks to the Floor Dying.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Looked in the dining room of their boarding house, in Perth Amboy, yesterday, Stephen Gondes and Peter Shylak fought a duel that ended only when Gondes fell to the floor dying.

The men had been on unfriendly terms for some time. It is said by friends that they were in love with the same woman.

Shylak entered the dining room at noon and met his rival. Looking the door, he yelled to Gondes "I'm going to kill you or you must kill me!" Then, seizing a carving knife, he rushed at Gondes.

Gondes was unarmed, and before he could defend himself Shylak had cut him twice. Seeing that he had no alternatives but to fight for his life he seized a fork and met the charge of his infuriated fellow boarder.

The men fought around the room like maniacs, overturning tables and chairs. Soon the knife proved too much for the fork, and Gondes sank to the floor, stabbed in the stomach and chest.

Stepping over him Shylak opened the door and sought to escape. On the narrow stairway he met Policeman Mashron, who after a fierce fight subdued the man and took him to police headquarters.

Several physicians were called, but said they could do nothing for Gondes.

862 KILLED IN ACTION.

Losses of American Army During the Last Year.

U. S. Adjutant General Has Very Poor Opinion of American Militia's Fighting Ability.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The annual report of acting Adjutant-General, U. S. Army, was made public today. It deals with every phase of the military establishment. The actual strength of the army on October 15, 1903, was 3,811 officers and 55,500 enlisted men. There were lost to the army during the year, ending June 30, 1903, 29,270 men, as follows: 135 officers, of whom 25 were killed in action and died of wounds or disease; 28,141 enlisted men, of whom 837 were killed in action, or died of wounds or disease, the remainder representing men discharged for expiration of term of service, for disability, by sentence of court martial, desertions and retirements.

Regarding the dependable strength of the militia in time of national peril, the adjutant-general states that "although the obligation of officers and men of the militia to respond promptly to a sudden call of the president has been on the statute books more than a hundred years and for the organized militia, or national guard, for nearly forty years, and the neglect to so respond is punishable by such penalties as a court-martial may direct, experience has shown that his obligation is a thing rather than a fact. Without going farther back than the late war with Spain the proportion of membership of militia organizations who have actually responded to such calls of the president bore very small proportion to those actually borne on the company rolls."

Eliminating the men unfit for military service, and those unable to go to the front for logical reasons, the report says that only about thirty of the original company is a fair estimate of the number of men in each company that were finally received into the service of the United States.

BIRMINGHAM BACKS "JOE."

Riot Fared Tonight at Meeting Where His Policy Will Be Opposed.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Nov. 11.—Political feeling is running so high here over the meeting tonight at which Lord Hugh Cecil and Winston Churchill will oppose Joseph Chamberlain's fiscal proposals that extraordinary police precautions have been taken since the meeting. Strong barricades are being erected around the town hall, there is anticipated an outbreak may occur, similar to the riotous proceedings which marked the pro-Boer meeting at which David Lloyd-George, M. P., denounced Mr. Chamberlain and the South African war. Sandwich men are parading the streets with placards reading:

"Shall the radicals be allowed to oppose our Joe?"

And inviting the work people to attend the meeting. Thousands of people have gathered outside the town hall.

NEW BASEBALL RULES.

League Magnates Discussing Abolition of Foul Strike Rule—May Return to Old Rules.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Bann Johnson, president of the American Baseball League, was here last night to discuss the proposed new rules. The league owners are to meet at a meeting of the American league in Chicago next month a committee will be appointed to confer with a National League committee with a view to its ratification from next year's games. Johnson said that he had the assurance of National league magnates that if the rule was found objectionable to the American league teams the National League would agree to a return to the conditions of previous years.

KILLED CHILD TO SAVE IT FROM STARVATION.

Young Mother in Potstom Admitted Strangling Her Infant, Saying She Had Warning in a Dream.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 10.—Mrs. Mary Riehl, a young white married woman, of McAdoo, Schuylkill Co., is accused of killing her infant to keep it from starvation. The body of the child was discovered under peculiar circumstances. Dr. A. L. Gillars, of this place, corner, held an inquest.

Mrs. Riehl admitted that she had strangled the child when presented with the evidence that the coroner had found the imprint of nails on the infant's throat. The mother told the coroner that she had killed her babe to keep it from starving to death. She said that she had received the admonition in a dream that it was better to do away with the life of the infant, and acted upon it. Mrs. Riehl will be placed on trial in the criminal court, which opens here tomorrow.

IT WAS A PUT UP JOB.

Prominent Colombian Says Americans in Panama Were to Blame for the Revolution.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Carlos Calderon writes a long letter to the Paris edition of the New York Herald, defending the conduct of the Colombian government, which he denies was opposed to the construction of the Panama canal. He says, however, that the desire of Colombia was to see the canal built by the French company. He declares that the Hay-Herran treaty was prejudicial to Colombia's fiscal interests and a wound to the national dignity. Senor Calderon expresses surprise at the favorable attitude of the French press. He says further that not one person of distinction took part in the revolution of the Isthmus of Panama, which he charges was due chiefly to the intervention of the cosmopolitan element, composed principally of Americans inhabiting the cities of Colon and Panama. Senor Calderon declares finally that recent events on the isthmus mean the total suppression of French influence.

LET STUDENTS SELL THEIR BRAINS.

President Eliot, of Harvard, Disapproves of College Men Earning Money by Playing Baseball.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 10.—"Let the student sell his brains while at college and he will not sell his muscle when he leaves," said President Eliot, of Harvard, in an interview in which he disapproves of students playing baseball on summer hotel nines in order to earn money to get through college.

"The university attitude," Dr. Eliot continued, "is that sports are to be regarded as play, nothing more, and that our training for life should make a man ambitious to excel mentally, not physically. He can always find other employment than that of marketing his muscle. He sells his brains all his life, if you put it that way, but his sports should be merely play. If not, they become difficult—a bore to the man, like shovelling coal. I think they are becoming so here."

After suggesting tutoring as a means for students to earn money, President Eliot said:

"There are plenty of other ways to earn it. We don't want a man who plays ball at Harvard to make ball playing his profession after he leaves—not if he can earn $10,000 a year for doing so. I should advise something else. Our idea is that sports should be indulged only because they help to strengthen the body, that in turn may support the brain."

"Then you do not admit that there is any discrimination, however unintentional it may be, between rich and poor in college sports?" Dr. Eliot was asked.

"No," was his reply.

W. A. LOCKHART'S FUNERAL.

As a last tribute to one who through long residence here had become widely known and respected, very many citizens today attended the funeral of the late William A. Lockhart. The body had been taken to Centenary church and there the services were held today at three o'clock. Rev. G. M. Campbell officiated and delivered a short address, paying a high tribute to the worth of Mr. Lockhart, reviewing in brief his career, and voicing the loss felt by the citizens at large in his death. The choir of the church assisted in the service, which was most impressive throughout.

After the service the body was taken to Fernhill, the mourners including the majority of St. John's leading citizens, among them being many of Mr. Lockhart's associates in the customs department.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 11, 1908.

THE CLERGY AND THE LAURIER GOVERNMENT.

The Fredericton Herald, a few days ago, made the confident statement that Canadian clergymen were largely supporters of the Laurier administration because it provided clean and honest government.

The Star yesterday published and commented upon a manifesto issued by Dr. Chown and Dr. Carmichael, the two most eminent Methodist clergymen in Canada, in which the fearful condition of political corruption in this country was pointed out. It might have been claimed that this declaration reflected more strongly upon the liberal government than upon the conservative opposition, but Dr. Chown in a sermon in Toronto on Sunday last pointed more definitely the finger of his accusation.

In the course of a scathing denunciation of the prevalent political rotteness, he quoted many instances of bribery which had come under his notice. He told of one constituency alone where in a recent election $50,000 had been distributed illegally and of another, only a few miles away, where the campaign bribery expenditure was $45,000. This money, he said, was contributed in large amounts by wealthy corporations "in order to secure the powers and privileges they desired."

Now, corporations, wealthy or otherwise, do not pay money to a party in opposition "in order to secure powers and privileges." Did the opposition wish to corrupt the electorate they have not the power to accumulate the necessary funds. Rev. Dr. Chown's scorn is directed at the present government, which at the last general election and in recent bye-elections have done more to corrupt the Canadian electorate than since confederation. His strong appeal for the purity of the ballot was a direct plea for the overthrow of the Laurier administration.

ABOUT APPOINTMENTS.

Before all that was mortal of the late collector of customs had lost the warmth of life, his friends were treated to the spectacle of a gang of hungry office seekers clamoring for his job. And of all the applicants not one has any special qualification for the position other than party service. For the proper fulfillment of the duty devolving upon the man who takes command of the complicated machinery of the custom house at a port like St. John, there is needed experience in work of that kind, executive ability, and a large knowledge of Canadian affairs. How much consideration will be given to the possession of such qualities by those who will select the man to fill the position?

There are men now in the custom house who, by long and faithful and efficient service in one official capacity and another have eminently fitted themselves for the collectorship. It is outside of right of succession. If an outsider is appointed, it is they who must bear the burden of the work while he takes the credit and draws the pay. By all that is fair they should be allowed a chance for the only well paid position in the customs department of this port.

The civil service department of Canada is the property of the people and exists for their good. It is the people's right that the service should be made and kept efficient. That can only be done by the appointing of good men. It cannot be expected that the element of party favor can ever be eliminated, but it is a crying injustice to those whose life is spent in the service, to have the high positions to which they have a right to aspire, held open for the benefit of men who have failed at everything else and whose only claim is a record of service, more or less honest for the party machine. It is also unfair to the people who have a right to get the best possible return for the salary they pay.

BRITAIN'S TRADE.

Prof. Riley's lecture last night was on the whole a strong argument in favor of Chamberlain's preferential tariff scheme as well as a lucid exposition of the various points of the policy. In the discussion which followed, the prevailing imperialistic sentiment in this city was well illustrated by the almost unanimous approval given to every feature of the scheme. Practically the only opposition came from George Robertson, M. P. F., whose argument was that Britain is in a healthy, flourishing condition under present tariff arrangements, which therefore it would be folly to tamper with. "Let well enough alone," he said.

But conditions are not well enough. Under the present policy Britain has lost and is losing ground rapidly in the commercial race. Statistical returns show that in 1902 the total British exports were 283 million pounds, as against 291 million pounds in 1901, 283 in 1900 and 257 in 1872. In thirty years there is a total increase of 28 million pounds. But in 1872 the exports to British possessions were only 21 million pounds, and in 1902 they were 208 million pounds, whereas in 1872 the exports to foreign countries were 126 million pounds and in 1902 only 174 million pounds. Converting the English pound into Canadian money, there was a loss from 1872 to 1902 in goods sold abroad, outside of British possessions, of about $116,000,000.

As against the British record look at the gains of other countries. German exports have increased from 116 million pounds in 1872 to 241 million pounds in 1902—a gain of more than $200,000,000 a year; French exports from 150 million pounds to 170; Belgian from 43 to 74; Austrian from 37 to 81; Italian from 48 to 80, and the United States exports from 89 to 252—a gain of nearly a billion dollars a year.

These figures tell of conditions that must be remedied if Britain is to retain her position in the front of the commercial world. Mr. Chamberlain's remedy is the only one presented that appeals to the reasonable mind as offering a practicable solution.

ENGLAND, 1802.

Milton! thou shouldst be living at this hour!

England hath need of thee; she is a fen

Of stagnant waters; altar, sword and pen,

Fire-side, the heroic wealth of hall and bower,

Have forfeited their ancient English dower

Of inward happiness. We are selfish men;

O! raise up, return to us again!

And give us manners, virtue, freedom, power,

Thy soul was like a star, and dwelt apart;

Pure as the naked heavens, majestic, free:

So didst thou travel on life's common way

In cheerful godliness; and yet thy heart

The lowliest duties on herself did lay.

SMALLPOX IN THE WOODS.

Maine Board of Health Takes Strong Measures — Lumbermen Must Be Vaccinated

(Bangor Commercial.)

Dr. A. G. Young, of Augusta, secretary of the state board of health, was in Bangor Thursday night, leaving here on the morning of the 10th inst. for Greenville where he will make a trip into the West Branch country to investigate several reported cases of smallpox in the lumbering camps in the vicinity. While here Dr. Young held a conference with the local board of health. He said that the smallpox here is being rapidly stamped out and he compliments the local authorities on their management of the situation.

One of the cases which Dr. Young will investigate is that of a woodman employed by an operator in the West Branch region. It was discovered by a New York physician who is on a hunting trip in that vicinity. The doctor came to the lumbering camp and as soon as he saw the afflicted woodman he diagnosed his illness as smallpox.

He informed the boss and the woodman was immediately put under quarantine. The physician then communicated with Dr. Young and was commended for his vigilance. The patient is now in charge of an immune nurse. Dr. Young is devoting much of his time just now in an effort to prevent an epidemic of smallpox in the lumber camps. At many operations the conditions are highly favorable for the propagation of the disease, and Dr. Young says that every precaution must be taken. In accordance with his advice many of the principal operators are having their woodmen vaccinated and have issued orders that any man who refuses to be inoculated with the virus will be discharged. They realize that this precaution is the surest means of preventing a general outbreak which would probably result in a panic and the financial ruin of the industry, at least, of many of the lumbermen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S POLICY.

Able Lecture by Professor Riley of U. N. B.

Prof. Riley, of the U. N. B., lectured in St. John's Stone church schoolroom last evening on The Chamberlain Policy, speaking in favor of the proposed preferential tariff. He said that England, being a free trade country in a protection world, offers herself as a dumping ground for her bountied rivals. Chamberlain's idea is to have the colonies discriminate against those countries which discriminate against England, thus meeting foreign rivalry by the combined action of the units forming the empire. Prof. Riley believes that under a preferential tariff the cost of living might be met by revenue from taxes on non-British production.

Some discussion followed the lecture. George Robertson thought that as England is a free trade country, there is no need of adopting a different policy. Wheat is now going into England from all countries without a cent of tariff, but if the Chamberlain idea were adopted, the wheat would depend upon Canada and the export wheat grown in this country is only a fraction of what is required for the home market. Dr. Alward reviewed the policy of England in the past and showed how revenue was made under free trade while there was little competition, but that this progress was abated when other countries acquired skill in manufacturing and developed their products, landing all their surplus in England free. It is unfair that England should be a free market for other countries, and for her own products be opposed by a high tariff. Chamberlain's policy will stimulate British industry.

S. D. Scott pointed out that Chamberlain did not have in view the coercion of the United States into reciprocity with Canada, but was seeking a closer imperial union sustained by commercial and industrial interests as well as by patriotic and military influence. So far as grain is concerned, the surplus from Manitoba alone has increased from five or ten to almost forty millions of bushels in a few years, and as yet but a comparatively small portion of land has been taken up. One province alone thus spurs one-fifth of the British Empire.

A. W. Macrae, W. H. Trueman, F. A. Dykeman, Rev. John de Soysres and R. B. Emerson also took part in the discussion.

IOWA TWINS ARE 92 YEARS OLD.

Mrs. Eveline Tilton and Miss Emeline Perrin Are Probably Oldest Pair in Country.

ELDORA, Iowa, Nov. 10.—Undoubtedly the oldest twins in the United States, if not in the world, are Mrs. Eveline Tilton and Miss Emeline Perrin, of New Hampton, who have just celebrated their ninety-second birthday.

These twins were born in Vernon, Conn., May 25, 1811, and were of a family of five children. Mrs. Perrin was married to Valentine Tilton, May 27, 1837, at Angelica, N. Y. A short time later they moved to Tiskilwa, Ill., and from that place to Jacksonville, Iowa, in 1857. Mr. Tilton died in 1861, and Mrs. Tilton, his widow, went to New Hampton in 1883. Emeline Perrin remained with her mother, Hanna Wright Perrin, until the latter's death in 1884, at the age of seventy-seven. In 1878 she moved to Wauconda, Ill., where she resided until 1883. Then she came to live with her sister, Miss Perrin has been blind eight years, and is a devoted Methodist. Mrs. Tilton has been blind a year and is a Presbyterian.

BRUISING THE SERPENT.

(New York Press.)

When Francis Murphy, the temperance advocate, was in New York recently, he told this story on himself:

"Some time after I had got fairly started in my work, I found myself, at the request of its pastor, delivering a lecture against the evils of intemperance in a village of western New York. A platform had been erected in a camp meeting grove, and from it I spoke.

"The audience was large and friendly, and I got considerable wrought up. At last I started in on my peroration, 'Behold, I said, 'the serpent of drink,' and I pointed up at the boughs of a tree overhanging the platform. 'See his bloodshot eyes. He is preparing to spring down upon a victim. Now he has dropped to the platform. He tries to strike, but I will prevent him. I will crush him at one blow!' And with that I raised my foot, let it drop with all my force, and the next instant I had fallen through a large hole in the platform, and only my head and shoulders were visible to the astounded congregation.

"But the 'most unkindest cut of all' came when I had regained my feet. 'Say, mister,' piped up a small boy in the rear, 'did ye kill him?'

"And the people who had kindly refrained from merriment when I plunged downward, laughed so long and heartily that I was unable to continue my address for fully five minutes."

10,000 WOMEN WENT WILD

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The marriage of Miss May Goelet, only daughter of Mrs. Ogden Goelet and one of the richest of American heiresses, to Henry John Innes-Ker, eighth Duke of Roxburghe, was solemnized today at St. Thomas' Church in this city. Bishop William Crowell Doane of Albany, assisted by Rev. Ernest M. Stires of St. Thomas' Church, performing the ceremony. Afterward the duke and duchess went to the home of Mrs. Ogden Goelet on Fifth avenue, where an informal reception, to which only a part of the wedding guests were bidden, was held.

Fifth avenue in the vicinity of the church was the scene before and during the ceremony of excitement and disorder unparalleled at any of the previous great weddings in New York. From the church to the Goelet residence, a distance of five blocks, the avenue was a surging mob of fully 10,000 persons, mostly women, whom a force of 200 policemen was powerless to hold in check.

When the carriage containing the bride and her brother, Robert Goelet, neared the church, it was surrounded by women, who stopped the horses and in their efforts to see the bride, clung to the carriage, some of them getting on the steps and thrusting their heads into the open windows. Mr. Goelet called to the police, but it was some minutes before the half dozen policemen who rushed to the rescue were able to drive the crowd of women back and enable the carriage to proceed.

When the carriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, which was just ahead of the bride, reached the church, the crowd of women banked up 25 feet deep on either side, rushed frantically forward carrying the solid lines of policemen with them and a moment later the entrance to the church was choked back only to again rush forward when the bride's carriage drew up. By this time policemen from other points had been collected there, but in spite of them a group of half a dozen women stooped down and lifted the canopy of the canopy and crawled part way under. They clung to their positions in spite of the efforts of the police to pull them away and several of them managed to keep their heads under the canopy until the bride had passed.

A patrolman caught one very well dressed woman by one of her ankles and dragged her along the walk, she still clinging to the canopy, until she was forced to loose her hold. She was lifted up smiling and satisfied. She had seen the bride.

On the 53rd street side of the church fifteen well dressed women crawled down into a coal hole leading underneath the chancel. They could not see anything, but they could hear what was going on above. The police had to get in and drive them out.

NO WHISKERS THERE.

A little girl had been looking at some pictures of angels, and she turned to her mother and asked: "Mamma, why are there no men in heaven?" "But there are men in heaven," replied the mother. "Then why is it," asked the child, "that we never see any pictures of angels with whiskers or mustaches?" "True, but there are men in heaven," was the reply "only they got in by a close shave."

ANOTHER DIVE RAIDED.

Police Break up House of Immoral
Resort on Brunswick Street.

The purity movement continues. Between three and four o'clock this morning, the police raided another bawdy house. This time it was on Brunswick street, just below the Exmouth street church.

For quite a long time complaints have been made about the place kept by Mrs. Mary E. Tait. This woman has been running a beer shop, paying one dollar per year for the privilege, and has often been said to use this beer shop as a blind to other and immoral practices.

In consequence of the reports received, Sergeant Campbell and Officers Thorne and William Sullivan went down between three and four o'clock this morning. Upon entering the house they arrested Mrs. Tait on the charge of keeping a bawdy house, and Laura Ward, aged 30; Lizzie Davis, 25; Thos. W. Paul, 31; and W. H. Beal, 18, as inmates. Of the four latter, the women are disreputable characters, the Ward woman having previously served for similar offence. The men are sailors from H. M. S. Pallua.

In the police court today, the whole five pleaded guilty and were remanded for sentence. A number of bottles of gin were found in the house and Mrs. Tait was also charged with keeping liquor for sale. On this charge she was fined fifty dollars.

The examinations will take up today and tomorrow. Today's examination includes the subjects of penmanship, composition, arithmetic and geography. Tomorrow, history, grammar, orthography and transcription will be the subjects.

There are three optional subjects, viz., typewriting, bookkeeping and shorthand. Only one candidate is qualifying in these.

PROVINCIAL WEDDINGS.

Saturday afternoon at St. John's chapel, Chamcook, Rev. R. J. Langford, rector of All Saints, St. Andrews, united in matrimony H. Owen Rigby and Miss Mary Clarke, both of St. Andrews. The bride was given away by Thomas R. Wren. Mrs. Rigby is a daughter of the late Obediah Clarke, who was a much esteemed St. Andrews pilot, and a sister of Mrs. Jane Withers, of St. John.

An interesting event took place in the Reformed Episcopal church, Moncton, last evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Marguerite Williams, daughter of Thomas Williams, treasurer of the I. C. R., was married to Herbert Deschamps Burns, accountant in the Bank of Nova Scotia at Moncton, and son of Chas. P. Burns, I. C. R. travelling auditor. Rev. J. Eastburn Brown, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

PAY FOR FIREMEN.

Chamberlain Randall was almost persuaded to go out to the City hall corner and pull in a fire alarm this morning. He wanted the call men to drop in and sign the annual pay roll, but they were very slow about coming. Gradually, however, the names are being put down so the alarm may not be necessary.

There are one hundred and five men and the total pay, according to the sheet, is $7,712.6. The city stops for the men for taxes the sum of $1,839.95, leaving a total cash expenditure of $9,552.55, or almost sixty dollars per man.

WINTER PORT FREIGHT.

The first winter port freight for St. John was received yesterday at Maritime. Forty-five carloads arrived at that point, and this morning forty-five more carloads were reported. Some of these consists of grain, of which two hundred carloads were ordered from Fort William a week ago.

ST. JOHN MAN IN
PHILIPPINES.Frank C. Williams Praises U.
S. Work There.Another Rebellion Impossible—
The "Water Cure," Cruelty is Only a Joke He Says.

Frank C. Williams, of the United States transport service between San Francisco and Manila, Philippine Islands, is home on a visit to his parents who reside on Orange street. Mr. Williams arrived in the city last Saturday "Kilpatrick," of which he is chief engineer, is undergoing a general overhauling preparatory to her sailing again in a few days for the far east. As Mr. Williams has to report for duty some time next week, his stay in the place of his schoolboy days will be necessarily brief. He, however, is spending his time to good advantage in looking up old chums and laughing over pranks of by-gone days. Mr. Williams leaves on Saturday for New York.

Mr. Williams has made several trips to the Philippine Islands and can speak authoritatively of the conditions as they exist in Uncle Sam's new possession. He says that many reports in the newspapers, purporting to treat of the Philippine situation, are so contrary to the facts that little or no reliance can be placed in them.

"The United States has gained a valuable possession in the Philippine Islands," said Mr. Williams, "and will ultimately have cause to rejoice in the last half she has apparently so burdensomely carrying. The Philippine Islands are rich in undeveloped resources, though unfortunately inhabited by a people who have little capacity to appreciate them. American push and enterprise are fast supplying the needed means to develop the almost unbounded possibilities of the country."

"The Philippines," Mr. Williams says, "are woefully unfit for self-government. As a race, they are ignorant and sluggish, though among them there occasionally come up men of some administrative ability. Primarily they are too factional, and the United States has a task on its hands in disposing the discordant elements into something like a unity."

"Not long ago," said Mr. Williams, "I saw in the newspapers that there were prospects of another Philippine insurrection. Such a thing is just as distant as it is an insurrection in this country. It is true that United States troops still remain in the country in large numbers, but these are kept there principally as a police precaution. With the exception of Mindanao, the islands are peaceful, and there the opposition to American government is only kept alive by a few turbulent spirits."

"The Philippines hailed the coming of the Americans and have not lived to regret it. At the different military posts, the American soldiers and the natives intermingle with neighborly intimacy. The natives are not slow to imitate American habits and in many places are fast picking up the English language."

"Much has been said in the papers about the cruelty of the American soldiers in the Philippines. It cannot be denied that there has been some cruelty, but it has been grossly exaggerated. The only cruelty, if it can be called so, was the 'water cure,' which was used by the Americans to break down the refractory Philippine, they would have had it as a joke in their funny column. It was only resorted to by the American soldiers as a method of drawing from the refractory natives information about the country. Not one native died as a result of being subjected to the 'cure.'"

"The Philippines are inherently lazy, and if the country is to be developed at all, some reliable labor will have to be brought in. The bulk of the bringing in the Chinese, who are the most industrious people in the far east, and of employing them in the development of the country. England has done this in her oriental possessions with evident success."

"The dominant religion in the country is the Roman Catholic. The native 'padres' are beloved and are a softening influence among the people. Protestantism, in my opinion, has made very little advance in the Philippines. Roman Catholicism and Mohammedanism is too deeply rooted to be displaced."

Mr. Williams says that the United States government is gradually withdrawing its soldiers from the Philippines. The soldiers there now is employed in garrison and police duty. The government has ten transports in service plying between San Francisco, Manila, Seattle and New York. Mr. Williams says that often on a return voyage the dead bodies of soldiers are brought home in dozens for burial.

It is 15 years or more since Mr. Williams first went to the United States. He has not been in New York long when he took out newspaper papers in order to qualify for the United States Merchant Marine. He has been in the transport service for about five years.

REPAIRING IMMIGRATION SHED.

At last the immigration repairs are being made to the immigration building and if the work is rushed the place will be in readiness for the first passenger boat on Nov. 21st. A telegram received from the department of public works gave authority to the officials here for the repairs and carpenters are now engaged. The burned corner of the building is being renewed, the broken window replaced, and an outside stairway built for Mrs. Reed, the janitress, who lives upstairs. In the interior of the building the baggage room is being enlarged by moving the partition and taking in some of the main hall.

AN ABLE CLERGYMAN.

After twenty-eight years of active work at Holy Trinity church, the Venerable Archdeacon Fortin, D. D., is still active and vigorous and keeps the various organizations of a large parish in a high state of efficiency. He is ably assisted in the work of the church by the Rev. G. W. McKim. Tomorrow the archdeacon will preach in the morning a special anniversary sermon. In the afternoon he will also preach to the Sunday school at 3 o'clock. The reverend gentleman has always taken special interest in the children of the flock, and he has succeeded in an eminent degree in winning their affection. On Monday evening there will be an anniversary social to which all the members of the congregation, old and new are cordially invited. After music and two brief addresses, the evening will be spent in social intercourse.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Archdeacon Fortin, who is Canon Richardson's father-in-law, is well known here. He paid a long visit to this city last summer.

JUDGMENT LONG DELAYED.

Years ago, what was known as the "Snowball case" was tried in Halifax. A number of citizens snowballed officials belonging to the Halifax Street Railway Company. The matter was taken to court and after a long judgment was entered against David Edwards. The latter acquired a property at the corner of Albermarle and Blower street recently, and fled the deed in his own name, forgetting about the judgment. Those holding the judgment attached the property a few days ago and it was sold by the order of the court. Ald. Adams, who purchased the property, was one of the parties who was snowballed at the time. Mr. Edwards is now "out" $425 as the result of the affair. He was acquitted at the time and brought action against the prosecution and was mulcted in costs, for which the judgment was entered.—Halifax Chronicle.

BOARD OF TRADE.

At this evening's public meeting under the auspices of the St. John Board of Trade, there will be a strong resolution introduced urging upon the Dominion government the necessity for immediate action in providing the port of St. John with better harbor facilities.

All citizens interested in the development and welfare of the city should be at this meeting.
