PARLIAMENT OPENED

BY KING EDWARD.

Brilliant Royal Procession From Buckingham Palace---The Populace Cheered All Along The Route.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The sixth session of the first parliament of his reign was opened this afternoon by King Edward with all the historic pageantry which has marked the ceremony since his accession. The sovereign himself read the speech from the throne to the assembled lords and commons in the upper chamber. The document was commonplace. The only reference to the war which His Majesty said "unhappily continues," was to announce that "my government has been careful to observe in the strictest manner the obligations incumbent upon a neutral power."

LONDON, Feb. 14.—More than usual interest attaches to today's opening of parliament as the belief is practically universal that it will be the last session of the present parliament.

Even should the government escape defeat it is thought that Premier Balfour will voluntarily dissolve parliament in the autumn and take the option of the country on the fiscal and other questions now agitating the electorate.

Good weather favored today's session of parliament. Large crowds were about from an early hour watching the assembling of the troops, which lined the brief route from Buckingham Palace to the House of Lords.

LOUBET TO RESIGN

Before Expiration of His Seven Year Term, Twelve Months Hence.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A Paris despatch to the Herald says: President Loubet will resign office before the expiration of his seven year term, which ends on Feb. 15, 1906.

His reason for this step is that the triennial renewal of the senate and the general election for members of the chamber of deputies will take place next year, and parliament will not meet until the close of 1905.

A Tale of a Porker, a Pig-sticker and a Small Boy. He was properly on the hog—he was very young, so perhaps the fastidious can forgive him and hope that when he reaches man's estate he will shine among his fellow men and never be called a hog or to be in that condition best described by that noxious slang expression "on the hog."

He leaves one son, John, and one daughter, Mrs. Hodge, residing in Ontario. The funeral took place at Bass River, Rev. Mr. Townsend (Presbyterian) conducting the services at the house and grave. The country is completely piled up with snow. The storms of last week were heavy.

WHITE'S DISMISSAL

The Fredericton Station Agent Was Inefficient.

Minister Was Therefore Constrained to Cut Off His Head---Gave His Staff a Free Hand.

(Special to the Star.) OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—The return moved for by Mr. Crockett setting forth the cause for the dismissal of O. White, station agent at Fredericton, has been brought down.

Mr. Emmerson in his letter to Mr. White says: "On the report of the officials of the road as to your inefficiency and the necessity of having a better qualified man at Fredericton, I was constrained to give orders to your being set aside. I have reprimanded the officials for the manner in which the affairs of the I. C. R. at Fredericton were being conducted, and their answer was that they could not be held accountable in view of the want of qualification on the part of some of the officials. I hold them responsible for results and must give them a free hand in the choice of officers to do their work."

ADMIRALTY COURT.

Cumberland Coal and Railway Co. vs. St. John Pilotage Commission.

The trial of the case of the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company, of Parrsboro, N. S., against the St. John Pilotage Commission, was resumed this morning before Judge McLeod in the admiralty court after an adjournment of some weeks.

This is an action for the refunding of pilotage fees amounting to $15,850.03 paid to the pilotage commission by the plaintiff company on the barges arriving and departing from this port since 1883. The ground is taken that the barges are not sailing vessels and consequently should be exempt from pilotage fees. The defence is endeavoring to prove that the barges come within the statutory description of sailing vessels.

A TIE UP

Of Russia's Vast Iron Industry is Threatened.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—The accumulation of wheat and other freights in South Eastern Russia owing to the inability of shippers to procure cars, which have been requisitioned for the transportation of troops and munitions, is now further complicated by lack of coal for manufacturing purposes, threatening a tie-up of the iron industry.

IMPORTANT CASE.

Heard By Mr. Justice Barker in Chambers. The case of Gault Brothers, Ltd., of Montreal vs. Morrell & Sutherland, dry goodsmen, of this city, was heard by Judge Barker in chambers this morning. The main question involved was the dissolving of an injunction obtained recently against Morrell & Sutherland, restraining them from assigning for the benefit of their creditors generally.

In 1898 the plaintiffs and defendants entered into an agreement by which the plaintiffs agreed to supply the defendants with dry goods. Subsequently the defendants purchased stock from other concerns with, as they claim, the consent and approval of the plaintiffs. A short time ago a representative of Gault Brothers came to the city and demanded possession of the stock and book debts of the defendants, claiming them on the strength of the agreement. The defendants declined to give over possession on the ground that to do so would be dealing unfairly with the other creditors, from whom they had made purchases with the consent and approval of the plaintiffs, but at the same time the defendants offered to make an assignment for the benefit of all their creditors, or to give possession of their stock to Gault Brothers, obtained a few days ago an injunction restraining the defendants from assigning for the benefit of all creditors.

CIVIC REFORM.

Little progress was made at yesterday's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, for the promotion of civic reform and better municipal government.

This movement and other patriotic efforts to give the city a stronger government will have the best wishes of all good citizens.

A PLAIN-SPEAKING PRELATE.

The Halifax Recorder has been advocating the establishment of a provincial reformatory for the imprisonment and training of youthful offenders.

"By all means have a 'children's court,' and a 'children's code,' but for party's sake speak not of a government reformatory, not, at least, until the methods, by which governments themselves attain power, have been reformed."

The state of the wood market in Liverpool makes it desirable that shipments from New Brunswick should be very small during the next six months.

Alderman Hamm is reported to have declared at a meeting of the board of works, yesterday afternoon, that to clear the whole city of snow would cost half a million dollars.

According to a London cable the birth rate for England and Wales in 1904 was 27.3 per thousand, the lowest on record.

RIVAL TO HELEN KELLER.

A Young Girl Who is Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.-In the institution for the instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, at One Hundred and Sixty-third street and Broadway, there is a girl, not quite 17, of whom Principal Enoch H. Carrier says: "With her mentality, and allowing that she will continue to improve as she has done in the past, there is no reason to doubt that in time she will arrive at as high a state of development as Helen Keller."

In writing of this remarkable girl it is difficult to keep within bounds that will not offend the delicate and instructors of the institution. Sensational articles on the accomplishments of Helen Keller and other celebrated persons who are lacking in some of the senses have made them hesitate about telling the things that daily come under their observation.

Their summary of Ella Hopkins is that she has reached as high a state of development as any one afflicted as she is has ever reached at her age. About eight years ago the girl contracted scarlet fever, and when she recovered from the fever she could neither see, speak nor hear.

It has been discovered that upon occasions when, having no previous knowledge of the fact, she has been sitting in a room where two persons were engaged in conversation she has later been able to write the subjects presented. When Mr. Carrier was asked if this was so he replied:

"To that I would like to answer 'Yes' and 'No.' That is, she can do it at times, and she has a substitute, but it is very difficult to describe this faculty so that people will understand it, intelligently, I hesitate to use it, and I wish to have a substitute, but I wish to have another word for hypnotism, because it is so much misunderstood, but nothing else will explain so well what I mean.

"This gift of hers seems remarkable, but I should like to know of it in a sense, she has simply developed to an abnormal degree some other sense. Take ourselves, for instance, who are possessed of our faculties. How often do we realize another presence without ever seeing or hearing the other person. We simply feel intuitively the presence of another person, and a sensitive developed to a marked degree."

She has thoroughly mastered the English language, and has a considerable amount of the news of the day, which she discusses with her teacher. New words are being constantly added to her vocabulary, her teacher telling her and recognizing them by the touch of the hand. She takes quite naturally to sewing, selects her own materials and directs the modes in which they shall be cut and made.

TRIED TO KIL HIS BRIDE.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 13.-On Jan. 14th Anthony Sacoob, eighty years old, chief of the Millicote tribe living at St. Mary's reserve, was married to a young squaw named Mary Paul, who weighed something over two hundred pounds and whose home was in Sheet Harbor, Halifax, N. S. Last night about eight o'clock the bride was visiting at Joe Paul's home, when the old chief appeared armed with a butcher's knife. He rushed at his young wife, and had it not been for the efforts of Mrs. Joe Paul would have succeeded in slaying her. Anthony wanted to kill two young braves, but could not find them.

This morning Indian Commissioner Farrell had the young woman come to this city and tell her story to the police magistrate. After a short conversation it was decided that the pair must be separated. A policeman accompanied Mary to the reserve and she came back this afternoon with her clothes. She will leave this evening for Springfield, N. S.

Dr. G. U. Hay will give two elementary lectures on the native trees of New Brunswick in the Natural History rooms this evening, Feb. 14th and 21st. All interested are invited to attend.

Mr. Callander reached St. John yesterday morning.

LOYAL TO EARLY SWEETHEART.

Admirer of Woman Dies and Leaves Her a Fortune.

WHITE HALL, Ill., Feb. 11. - A courtship that began in St. Louis twenty years ago has ended in a romantic manner. Miss Sarah McClennan, sixteen years old, was a domestic in the family of a commission merchant in St. Louis. A son of a wealthy man here, who had married her. Her parents objected because of the difference in the social position of the two and the young people separated. Later he secured at her home in Leach Wood, a farmer of the vicinity, where he married. The husband has just died. Mrs. Wood's admirer remained single and twelve years ago died in a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich. Rumors that he had remembered her in his will reached Mrs. Wood, and she finally learned that he had left with an aunt $25,000 in trust to be paid to Mrs. Wood on the death of Mrs. Wood's husband. The aunt is wealthy and preferred to pay over the money now. Arrangements were soon made and last week Mrs. Wood was paid the $25,000.

LOST SWEET TOOTH BY TREACHEROUS BUN. Solicitor Sued Confectioner for Negligence, but Only Got Small Damages.

LONDON, Feb. 11.-"When is a Bath bun not a bun?" That was one of the questions debated seriously two days this week in the King's Bench Division. It was an action which George Chapman, a solicitor, brought against a restaurateur in the Haymarket for personal injuries caused by a Bath bun supplied at luncheon. M. Chapman's case was that while eating a bun his tooth struck a stone, snapping the tooth off and causing a succession of abscesses in the jaw. At first he would have been inclined to accept an apology and a Christmas pudding as a solatium for damage and the pain suffered, but neither of these being forthcoming he brought an action for £50 ($250) damages. The jury, however, found that the Bath bun, even with the offending stone in it, was reasonably fit to be eaten, and freed the restaurateur from all charges of negligence, but allowed the solicitor £5 damages. In Waterloo street F. B. church last evening views of the Holy Land were given and enjoyed very much.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—During the last week there has been issued the prospectus of a gigantic new hotel in London, to be erected in Piccadilly, on a site not far removed from that of the one time famous Albemarle, which is now closed, its last lessee having gone into bankruptcy.

Hard times and excessive competition in the matter of hotels were the reasons alleged for the assignment, and for some time past voices of sad prophets predicting a general hotel-keeping crash have been raised in the land.

ST. JOHN STAR, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1905.

An Evening With Dr. Parkin.
During Which He Spoke of Many Interesting Matters in Connection With His Work.

Dr. George R. Parkin, who returned from Moncton yesterday afternoon, is the guest of W. S. Fisher, Orange street. There a number of his St. John friends met him last evening. After some general conversation it was found that Dr. Parkin would not be able to stay much to the guests separately and at the request of Dr. Alward he consented to address the company collectively on Rhodes scholarship matters and other subjects.

Mr. Rhodes was not only a great nation builder, but he had made his associates share his dreams. Mr. Bell said that he and the others did not go to Africa for an imperial purpose. They went there to make money. But Rhodes made them public men in spite of themselves. He forced imperial provisions into all their contracts and all their corporations. And now that he is dead, and they are carrying out some of his plans, they cannot escape from his influence. For instance it was felt that Oxford still wanted more money for some work of her own. A member of the London Times staff was impressed with the idea that there should be a professor of colonial history. He was invited to meet Mr. Bell at dinner and obtained a seat at the table next him. Before the meal was over Mr. Bell had arranged for an endowment sufficient to pay the salary of such a professor and also two instructors, and to provide a large annual allowance to procure colonial books and publications for the Bodleian library.

BOARD OF WORKS
Had a Lively Discussion
Yesterday

A special meeting of the board of public works was held yesterday afternoon to discuss the Newmarket street bridge breakdown. Incidentally the matter of the snow on the streets and the liability property owners to a fine for not clearing their premises, came up, and proved a breezy subject of discussion for a few minutes. It was finally decided to leave the bridge in the hands of the engineer and director, who will decide as to the best method of repair.

ST. VALENTINE'S.
How Custom of Celebrating
Feb. 14 Originated.

For some time past the shop windows have been decorated with the little missives of affection called valentines and the school children have been saving up their spare pennies to purchase some little tokens for their particular chums just as their parents and grandparents did in pursuance of the good old custom of observing Saint Valentine's day, which will fall on Tuesday, Feb. 14. The custom is time-worn, but it has gained such a place of prominence that giving valentines on Saint Valentine's day would as soon be forgotten almost as the giving of gifts at Christmas.

MANY TIED UP.
Provincial Railroads Are Almost Out of Business,
And Even the Two Main Lines Find
Difficulty in Moving Their Trains.

In these days it does not take much to block the railways in this province and yesterday there was practically nothing doing on any but the main lines. Even on the main I. C. R. and C. P. there was trouble enough, and most of the trains were late. The sidings on the I. C. R. are merely snow banks into which freight cars are stuck solidly. These are being gradually shoveled out, but it is slow work, as the snow drifts up against them almost as quickly as it is removed. At every minute of the day the officials are called up to answer questions regarding delayed freight, but they can only reply that there is no use in attending to the road, for there the trains have simply been covered and traffic is next to impossible.

A THOUSAND DEER

Shot Illicitly Were Shipped to United States Last Autumn.
Fred L. Jones, inspector of customs, in charge of preventive service, and his assistant, D. J. O'Grady, have compiled some statistics which will give officers of the fish and game protective societies something to think of. From the records of express companies, and the United States customs record, they have discovered that over one railway alone at least a thousand deer, shot illicitly, have been shipped to the United States last autumn.

GOVERNMENT MEETING

To Have Been Held at Chatham Did Not Materialize.
CHATHAM, Feb. 13.—The government meeting did not materialize today. It was held at the Chatham Hotel, but was postponed until the 22nd instant, and many things may happen in the interval of time. Thos. W. Flett, who has been named as the probable opposition candidate, was in town today and has been receiving much sympathy on account of the destruction of his mill by fire on Friday of last week. Mr. Flett is uncertain as to whether he will rebuild or not, but if his decision is not to erect a new mill just now it will leave him free to campaign actively in the campaign. If Mr. Flett decides to come out he will give the government a good chance of winning the seat.

THE NEW CAPITAL

Not Likely to be Settled by Dominion—Deserted His Wife.
OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—C. W. Cross of Edmonton has received to make arrangements with the government for receiving a delegation to ask that Edmonton be made the capital of the western province where the provincial autonomy is granted to the territories. It is not likely that the dominion will settle the question of the capitals of either of the provinces, but temporary places will be named and the legislature will afterwards fix the capitals.

Mr. Gouin will be called upon to form a government. Mr. Parent, according to this agreement, will be appointed to the transcantional railway commission in place of Hon. Mrs. Robert Matthew is Ninety-Nine Years of Age, And is Now Enjoying the Best of Health—She Celebrated Her Birthday Yesterday.

Probably the oldest woman in St. John is Mrs. Robert Matthew, who yesterday received the hearty congratulations of her friends upon her birthday. Mrs. Matthew was born near Hampton on February 15th, 1806, and yesterday completed ninety-nine years. She lived for the greater part of her life near her birthplace, but being alone, she came to this city upwards of four years ago and went to reside in the Home for Old Ladies on Broad street. Mrs. Matthew has had few relatives, in fact the only one in St. John is Dr. George F. Matthew, who was distantly connected with Mrs. Matthew's husband. She entered the home in November of 1900, being then almost ninety-five years old, and has since been one of the most cheerful of the inmates. In spite of her great age she is quite able to look after herself and needs but little care from the matron of the home. Mrs. Matthew has only twice missed coming down to breakfast at the regular hour, and on those occasions it was due to the fact that the matron insisted upon her remaining in bed, because on the previous evenings there had been entertainments in the home and Mrs. Matthew had been up later than usual. On these occasions she strongly objected to remaining in bed longer than at ordinary times. Yesterday being her birthday, a number of friends were arranging to go down to the home and give a birthday party, but on account of the death of Miss DeaBrisay, which occurred on Sunday, this affair had to be postponed, and Mrs. Matthew celebrated her birthday with all her friends. In the evening music was enjoyed. Mrs. Matthew is in perfect health, she enjoys full possession of every faculty, and is a constant reader. For some time she has been unable to do any fancy work, but she occasionally busies herself with knitting, although she willingly gives up everything for a quiet hour with a book. She is most cheerful in manner, though of a quiet and retiring disposition, and in conversation is very entertaining. Mrs. Matthew was never the possessor of a very good memory, and cannot recall any events of minor importance connected with her early life. In fact, she now soon forgets incidents of her everyday life. Mrs. Matthew is the oldest lady who has ever been in the home. There was once an inmate who was ninety-six years of age, and there have been a few who have reached the age of ninety-two and ninety-four, but Mrs. Matthew has beaten them all, and from her appearance and manner has every chance of living for some years longer.

Ex-Captain Philip Hamm Remembered by No. 2 Salvage Corps.

At the regular monthly social of No. 2 salvage corps, held last evening in No. 5 fire station, a farewell send-off was given ex-Captain Philip Hamm, who is to leave the city in a few days for Moncton, where he will engage in business. Nearly all the members of the corps were present besides several friends. An excellent programme was carried out and refreshments in plenty were furnished. Capt. White presided and gave a short address at the opening. The following was the programme: Piano solo, Prof. Fox; vocal solo, Mr. Lewis; piccolo solo, Mr. Ross; violin duet, Messrs. Coates and Holder; selection by band quartette; solo, Prof. Fox; banjo solo, Cecil Holder; violin solo, Mr. Coates; solo, Richard Bradley; instrumental duet, Messrs. Middleton and Jones. After an intermission for refreshments Alderman McGoldrick was called on and made a short address, after which Capt. White on behalf of the salvage corps presented Mr. Hamm with a beautiful gold-headed cane. In making the presentation Capt. White referred to Mr. Hamm's long connection with the corps, during which he had labored faithfully in its interest and helped very materially to bring the corps to its present state of efficiency. He had been captain of the corps for seven years and had always been one of its most esteemed members. It was with the deepest regret that they would say farewell to him and they wished him every success in his new business. Mr. Hamm responded very feelingly. He referred to the pleasant relations that had always existed between himself and the other members of the corps, and expressed his appreciation of the kindly way in which they had remembered him on this occasion. Mr. Hamm and family will leave for Moncton early in March.

WILL PROBABLY HANG.

Little Chance of Mrs. Kate Edwards and Her Accomplice Escaping Gallows.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—Unless the board of pardons, which meets in Harrisburg on Wednesday, recommends the commutation of the death sentence of Mrs. Kate Edwards and Samuel Gresson, colored, of Berks county, the woman and her accomplice will be hanged on Thursday of this week in the leading jail for the murder of John Edwards, her husband. The case came before the supreme court finally today on two petitions, one by the woman, in which she held Gresson blameless for the murder of her husband and prayed that he be given a new trial, and another by Gresson, in which he asked for a reopening of his case on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Both petitions were refused, only three of the seven members of the court voting in favor of the petitions. There was no opinion filed, this papers simply being endorsed "refused." The newly discovered evidence referred to in the Gresson petition was the confession of Mrs. Edwards, in which she stated that Gresson had no connection with the crime; that she killed her husband and that her daughter Mary assisted her in throwing her husband's body into a gister. Counsel for Gresson confidently expected that the supreme court would re-open the case, and Mrs. Edwards' counsel was relying upon such a contingency to save his client's life. Had the case been re-opened the woman would have been reprieved in order to testify in favor of the colored man, but as the matter now stands, only the board of pardons can save Mrs. Edwards from the scaffold. Governor Pennypacker has refused to intervene unless he receives a recommendation from the board of pardon, and this body does not meet until 24 hours previous to the time set for the execution. The case has been before the board several times and each time a pardon was refused.

COURT LOG CABIN DINNER.

Court Log Cabin, No. 1761, celebrated its tenth anniversary by a dinner last night at White's. There were about thirty members present. J. V. Russell was the toastmaster. After the excellent dinner a number of toasts were honored. The King was drunk with honors. A. M. Belding responded to the toast of the "Supreme Court." "The High Court" was responded to by D. G. Lingley. "Navy" was spoken to by Captain Pratt of the Curlew. The captain was in an extremely humorous mood and made a very bright speech, causing much amusement. "Court Log Cabin" was coupled with the name of Aid. Maxwell, E. W. Paul and Deputy Chief Jenkins. The speeches were interspersed with gramophone selections. Harry Cochran sang a song about a St. John boarding house. L. E. Thorne took a couple of flashlight group photographs of the members at dinner. The gramophone, which contributed so much to the pleasure of the members, was owned and operated by Mr. Weatherhead. "Officers of Court Log Cabin" proposed by Aid. Maxwell, was responded to by Chief Ranger James E. Arthur, Treasurer J. V. Russell, ex-Alderman Sexton, Vice Chief Ranger. The toast of "The Ladies" was proposed by Chairman Russell, J. C. Henderson and W. J. McEachern responded. The chairman then proposed the toast of the "Press," and it was responded to by A. M. Belding and a member of the Sun staff. The committee in charge of the arrangements for last evening's celebration was as follows: J. V. Russell, W. D. Essington, James E. Arthur, F. H. White and E. W. Paul. In olden times, before the days of the Help Wanted ads, a sage wrote: "God sends us meat, but the devil sends us cooks." But the wise sads have conspired his Satanic majesty to abandon the employment agency end of his business, both in the matter of cooks and in that of "finding work for idle hands to do."

OTTAWA LETTER. NORTH SEA ENQUIRY. Criticism of Estimates is Conclusions of British and Hard Work. Russian Agents Heard. But the Opposition is Faithfully Performing Its Duty—How One Firm Was Paid. Reached.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Parliament spent nearly two million dollars yesterday, but it took six hours of hard work to do it for the opposition, while not resisting any legislative expenditure demanded and forced the government to give explanation of every penny of it. The explanation in many instances was far from satisfactory. For instance, in connection with a proposed expenditure at Fort William, the opposition pointed out from the auditor general's report that last year one dredging firm—one of whose alleged members is also a member of the house on the liberal side, Jimmie Conmee of the somewhat noted committee of Conmee and Bowman—had been paid at the rate of $10 an hour for 12 hours' work a day through the summer and up to the middle of December. Could the minister explain how a dredge could work 12 hours a day in December when there were only about eight hours of daylight? queried a truth-seeking opposition member. Now that is one of the things very difficult to explain off-hand, and the minister made a poor fist of it. There were many other instances similar to this and the way the opposition pounced upon them and filled page after page of Hansard with condemnation of the system which permitted them should cause the government to consider a while before they permit similar graft this year. It is hard work—monotonous, dreary work, this criticism of the estimates, but it is one of the chief duties of an opposition which considers itself the guardian of the people's interests and that the present opposition has no intention of shirking any of its duties, has been abundantly shown this session.

The sums voted yesterday were a million and a quarter for the new Victoria harbor, $250,000 for the extension to the western block of the parliamentary buildings, $24,000 for harbor improvements, as follows: Quebec, $17,000; Arthur, $10,000; Fort William, $135,000; Montreal, $90,000; and Port Colborne, $150,000. All these came under the public works estimates and being minister Hyman had a trying day standing up to a cross-fire of censure, criticism and question from shortly after three in the afternoon till nearly midnight. The largest part of the time was devoted to the details of the harbor estimates and to a vain attempt to get the government to enunciate some definite general policy. Arthur, in this discussion Dr. Stockton spoke strongly of the government's neglect of the port of St. John while spending the largest part of the money in the city of not nearly such national importance. He contended for the establishment of a national port policy including the harbor of St. John, Quebec, St. John and Halifax, and all others requiring aid from the government.

There is considerable interest in the city and around the house in the suggestion that the Dominion government should consider the question of making Ottawa a federal district under the control of a commission, on a system similar to that prevailing in Washington. The government of recent years has spent large sums of money in beautifying Ottawa's buildings, driveways, parks, etc., and the idea is that, with the city placed directly under government control, much more money would be spent and the city made the most attractive in Canada at no cost to the citizens, as it is expected that taxes would be considerably reduced by the change. On the other hand, the placing of the city under the direction of a government commission would mean the disfranchisement of the people of Ottawa, who, as they would have no aldermen and no representatives in the house, would necessarily lose the right of voting in Dominion and municipal and probably in provincial elections. As important manufacturing and business interests are centered in the city, this would meet with strong resistance from the capital involved, which would lose a large part of its influence on legislation by this move. Also the idea of being deprived of all voice in the country's affairs is repugnant to the majority of men, and if the matter is to be decided by popular vote it is improbable that any such surrender will be endorsed. The suggestion, which emanates from Alderman Grant, is that the district to be formed should be about ten miles square, taking in Hull, the whole to be called the District of Ottawa. But the one topic which puts all others in the shade, the topic which is discussed at all hours in every corridor and room of the house, is the mix-up in Quebec. Unless it is patched up speedily it is generally conceded that it will greatly weaken Laurier's prestige, especially after the Ontario election, as it is generally known that he has been interesting personally some members, in the hope of conciliating the combatants. Liberals who are inclined to optimism look for a temporary cessation of hostilities, as a result of Laurier's mediation, with Parent ostensibly on top, but with a secret understanding that he shall speedily retire to accept another fat job somewhere, probably on the G. T. P. construction commission, leaving the path clear for Hon. Mr. Gouin. But if the squary ways fall—and those who necessarily claim that the scrap has gone too far for any conciliation—it probably means another general election, the certain defeat of the Parent clique, and the election if not of a majority of conservatives, at least of enough to hold the balance of power between the two great factions and to force the formation of a coalition government. Another inevitable result will be the great weakening of Laurier's influence and the engendering of a lot of ill feeling against him on the part of the anti-Parent party. Altogether, recent events are regarded as a splendid justification of Mr. Ryan's action in refusing to contest the late election and as a judgment upon Premier Parent's trickery, with Laurier's complicity, in springing the elections on the province without notice and within a few days of the general election. SEAMEN'S MISSION

Made Great Progress During the Past Twelve Months.

The annual meeting of the Seamen's Institute will be held at the mission, near the new public library.

The president's address and reports from the various departments will be received. Great progress has been made during the past year, especially since S. L. Gosselin was appointed manager and relieved of the duties of the president's office.

Few people have any adequate idea of the enormous amount of work being done by the institute. The following is a summary of the work for the past year:

On the inside are the officers of the society and the ladies' auxiliary. On opening the folder the programme of the business meeting will be seen, and the objects of the institute appear on the left, while the programme of the concert and the work of the past year are on the right.

The programme for the concert is as follows: Reading, A. W. Baird; vocal solo, Miss Margaret Lindsay; piano solo, Miss McGaffigan; reading, A. W. Baird; violin solo, Miss Constance Sturdee; National Anthem.

WEDDED AT CEDAR RAPIDS.

The Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette of the 1st inst. prints the following account of the marriage of a City Road, St. John, dry goods merchant and the daughter of a former resident of Hampton, Kings Co.:

Relatives and a few intimate friends were the only guests today at a wedding celebrated at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. Whelpley, 833 Fourth avenue. The marriage of Dr. Whelpley's niece, Miss Besse Mildred Whelpley, and Ernest Wilford Patterson took place at noon in the ceremony was performed under a canopy of white lace curtains trimmed with garlands of smilax and completed with masses of white flowers. The pretty bride wore a becoming gown of white silk and chiffon, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Dr. E. J. Lockwood, pastor of St. John's E. church, said the marriage service, and the Lohengrin march was played by Miss Birdie Curtis.

At one o'clock all were seated at one table in the dining room for a wedding dinner of six courses. Covers were laid for fourteen. Broad white ribbons, trimmed with smilax, fell from the chandelier to the corners of the table, and red carnations were the flowers used for centerpieces and for favors. A number of handsome presents were received by the bride, among which was a beautiful pearl pin from the groom, and many more were waiting her return to her home, St. John, N. B. Miss Whelpley has been a member of her uncle's family for a year past and has won a large circle of friends in that short period. Mr. Patterson is an old Cedar Rapids, a prosperous merchant of St. John.

The bride and groom left on the afternoon train for Chicago. A tall, thin man in a dark suit and a white hat was the bride's going-away costume. After visits in Chicago, Toronto and Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will go to St. John, and on the evening of the day of their arrival a wedding reception will be given.

At home Tuesdays after February the twenty-first, 208 Newmarket street, St. John, N. B.

The bride's uncle, C. B. Whelpley, now a prosperous dental surgeon at Cedar Rapids, was formerly a school teacher at Hampton and held a captain's commission in the 8th Princess Louise Hussars. Captain Hanford Whelpley, the bride's father, is one of St. John's most successful coasting captains.

PROMPT ACTION PREVENTED A FIRE.

Frank Finley, who conducts a grocery and fruit store at the corner of Elliott row and Pitt street, by prompt action, between six and seven o'clock last evening, prevented what might have been a serious fire. Mr. Finley's store is lighted by oil lamps, of which several are suspended in the windows. The chain supporting one of these lamps broke last evening and the lamp fell. Mr. Finley was standing near by and instantly picked up the lamp and threw it into a snow bank before any harm was done.

THAT BROKEN BRIDGE.

A number of men were set to work yesterday morning shovelling the snow from the Newmarket Bridge. The bridge was covered with about seven inches of snow, which was cleared away so that the repair crew could go to work immediately. A crew went to work this morning under James Macaulay. They are straightening the bridge with jack-screws. William Levesley has charge of the iron work in connection with the repairing. Those in a position to know, say that the bridge will be ready for traffic again in a few days.

MAY BE SENT TO THE REFORMATORY.

The case against the two boys, Strayhorn and Watson, arrested on suspicion of stealing a horse and sleigh belonging to a man named McNamee from Market street, was continued in the police court yesterday afternoon. Strayhorn was allowed to go and Watson remanded. It is expected that Watson will be sent to the Industrial School.

WAS QUITE A SALVAGE.

Komlensky and Cowen settle their differences for Less Than Twenty Dollars.

Great is arbitration. It is better than fighting and even leaves the police court in the shade. Some days ago at a hearing before Judge Sidney Cowen, by name, was arrested for creating a disturbance in Isaac Komlensky's boarding house on Mill street. It came out in the hearing before His Honor Police Magistrate Ritchie, that another Hebrew named Morgan had called Cowen a liar, etc., and in the mix-up that followed some furniture, etc., had been damaged. For this Komlensky wanted $50. Cowen agreed to pay for any actual damage done, but considered the amount asked excessive. His sharply cross-examined Komlensky as to the value of the property injured and taking that gentleman's figures for a total loss the amount was only about thirty dollars. His honor advised them to settle the case and yesterday they agreed on two arbitrators, both of the same tribe as Komlensky, who agreed on $19.50 as the actual damage done and on this basis the settlement was made.
