THIRD ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WEIROWNERS AND WEIRFISHERMENS UNION

Election of Officers and Other Important Business Transacted

The Weirowners and Weirfishermen met in Court's Hall on Friday afternoon of last week. President J. A. Belyon called the meeting to order at 1.30 P. M. A large number of representatives from every section of the county were present, and a spirit of hopefulness animated all. The President's opening address dealt with matters concerning the Union, of work accomplished and prospects for the coming season. Mr. Belyon was convincing and enthusiastic in his talk. He said that concerted action by the members of the Union had accomplished much in the past, and would do more in the future. One question along which they had obtained from the Government, had revolutionized the industry in the County. The fishermen should never cease to thank those who had aided them in obtaining the right to keep the fish in their weirs over Sunday. It was worth thousands of dollars to them, no man could estimate how much. He exhorted those present to stand together, they had the fish and every effort should be made by them to induce the government to aid the industry, which he thought was entitled to as much encouragement as any other industry in the Dominion.

The report of the executive committee was then read by the Sec. George B. Frauley. It is as follows: To the Weir Owners' and Weir Fishermen's Union.

Third Annual Report of the Executive Committee.

Your Committee regret that they are unable to congratulate the members of the Union upon having had a successful season during 1909.

Although the fish struck in early in some localities, and some few weirs made reasonable catches, they did not run in our waters, except in very small numbers, after the middle of July.

The now almost annual visit of the squid and silver hake, proved as usual most disastrous to the fishing, driving them completely from our shores, and instead of the Fall fishing, which in former years has proved to be the most successful of the season, the last three years has proved a total failure. This is most disheartening to the fishermen, whose weirs have hitherto taken large fish, and many feel that if this state of things is to continue, the building of weirs for Fall fishing is a very doubtful investment.

The price as arranged last season proved only of benefit to the very early fishing weirs, and your committee, after a great deal of consideration and consultation, have decided to fix the price for the coming season at $6.00 for the whole season, with no preference at the weirs to either American or Canadian packers, the first boat at the weir to take the fish. Your Committee hope that this arrangement will prove satisfactory to both the fishers and the packers, and they sincerely hope that each and every member of this Union will recognize the fact that your Committee have done their best for all concerned, and while they have had to sacrifice the interests of the early fishing weirs to some extent, they think that if the fish remain in the fall, the larger price for the fall fishing will make up to them what they must necessarily lose in the early part of the season, by obtaining a larger price for the Fall fishing.

And they sincerely hope that our friends, the packers, will also feel that your Committee have a difficult matter to deal with on account of the varied interests they have to consider, and that they will feel that your Committee have done their best to meet their wishes as to a reasonable price, and they hope that they will consider that your Committee have, in fixing this price, for the coming season, done their best for all concerned.

And they hope that the friendly relations which now exist between this Union and our friends at Eastport and Labrec, and in Canada, will continue, and that they as well as the members of this Union will have a successful season in 1910.

Your Committee beg to report, that they have had every sympathy and support from Mr. W. F. Todd, M. P. for this County. He has not only assisted them on all occasions when asked so to do, with the Department of Marine and Fisheries, but has attended the meetings of the Committee when it was possible for him, and consulted with them as to the best way, if any can be devised, to preserve our fisheries and if possible devise some means of fighting the squid and silver hake, the arch-enemies of our fishermen.

Mr. Todd has informed your Committee that he has given much consideration to the matter of obtaining a fertilizer plant for our vicinity, and has great hopes of accomplishing it in the near future. If that were done, there would be every inducement to our fishermen, to not only continually seine their weirs and keep them clear of these pests, but they would pursue them where they seemed most numerous, and we think a great deal could be done to break them up and thus allow the herring to escape from them.

Your Committee have also urged upon Mr. Todd's attention the great necessity there exists, of our Government to appoint at an early date, a small commission composed, not of professional experts, but practical experts, from among the fishermen themselves, to report upon the possibilities of canning our own raw material in Canada under Government inspection and entering the markets of the world, with our own products and claiming for ourselves as Canadian's share at least, with the Norwegians, the Dutch and Japanese, of our own markets and the markets of our neighbors over the border, and your committee think that we should no longer delay in the earnest consideration of this matter. And Mr. Todd has assured your Committee, that he will give the matter his earnest consideration.

There have been no breaks during the past year in the ranks of the members, as far as your Committee are aware, nor is there any dissatisfaction among the members, that cannot at all times be removed by friendly discussion.

They have found in the three years that have just passed since the formation of this Union, that being united as we are in a bond of common interest is the only way, and the best way, to forward our individual interests. Our friends, the packers, we think, now feel that it is much easier to deal with the Union, such as ours, than with individuals, and they express themselves individually in hearty accord with our Union.

Your Committee would beg in conclusion, to exhort all the members of the Union to stand fast and steadily by its rules and conditions, and by their individual efforts and hearty support, strengthen the hands and give encouragement to the President and officers of the Union, in their efforts, to better our conditions and assist us all to better and more certain results from our labors than we formerly have been able to obtain, and now they wish you all a Happy and Prosperous year in 1910.

The report was adopted as read and the Committee received the thanks of the meeting for their labors during the past year. The election of officers resulted as follows:

James A. Belyon, President, Capt. P. Cameron, Vice President, George E. Frauley, Sec. Treas. The Executive Committee is the same as last year, with the exception of John Catharine who takes the place of Mr. Cameron. The other members are: A. B. O'Neill, Ira McConnell, Bismark Dick, W. A. Holl, Hugh McGregor, G. W. McKay, Boos Justason, G. H. Ellis and G. E. Frauley. The meeting being then opened for miscellaneous business, Mr. George M. Byron introduced the following resolution which was adopted and passed:

"Whereas in the opinion of this Union the only way at the present time it can be seen that the squid, Silver Hake, Dogfish and other enemies of the sardine fishery in other waters can be attacked, is by devising some means to induce the Fishermen to catch them for the purpose of converting them with fertilizer.

In order to obtain this object it will be necessary to have a large plant established in the vicinity.

Therefore, Resolved that this Union memorialize the Dominion Government to establish a plant at Charlotte, Co., and to bar to the plant established by them, in Nova Scotia for the suppression of the dogfish."

A general discussion followed concerning the building and racking of weirs and much valuable information was given by Messrs. Mitchell, Holt, McGregor and Byron. General regret was expressed by the members of the Union because of Mr. Todd M. P. for the County, who was unable to get from his home St. Stephen owing to the lateness of the train. A resolution was passed thanking Mr. Todd warmly for the interest he had shown in the welfare of the fishing industry of the county. The meeting adjourned after cheering President Belyon, Sec. Frauley the executive committee and the King.

Mill on Cost of Strike

Quincy, Jan. 4.—James Duncan, first vice-president of the American Federation of Labor and secretary-treasurer of the Granite Cutters' International Association of America, stated to-day that the present labor controversy between his organization and the Barre Granite Manufacturers' Association of Barre, Vt., had cost the Granite Cutters' Association $1,000,000 in wages lost to the men and money paid out of the association treasury for the support of their impoverished members.

The loss to the manufacturers cannot be exactly estimated, as it is believed to have very nearly reached a like sum.

6000 OUT OF WORK

The dispute had resulted in the lock-out of all granite cutters employed within the entire Washington county. Vt., about 3000 in number, and the consequent idleness of unattached quarrymen, lumpers, boxers, teamsters, derrickmen and apprentices, numbering in all fully 6000 more men. The granite industry in Washington county is at a complete standstill and not a stroke of work has been done in the many quarries since early in November last.

During the entire period of the struggle the locked out granite cutters have been supported on the defence fund of the mother organization, Mr. Duncan stating that 20,000 had been paid out of the treasury each week from the start of the lockout up to to-day.

The 300 men whose employment depends solely upon the actual activity of the granite cutters are practically all unattached and their conditions are indeed pitiful.

Create Heavy Dust

In explaining the situation to the Post Mr. Duncan said:

"Hitherto the men of facing and polishing were employed upon the new machine at two years ago. In 1908, but its operation in the dust and noise of the machine men were entered into between us and the Barre Granite Manufacturers' Association on March 1, 1908, and which were to continue in force until March 1, 1911, it was expressly stated and agreed that this machine was not to be used except when provided with suction fans, or other appliances for partly removing the danger from the dust.

"During the summer just passed, the firm of Cross Brothers, granite manufacturers of Northfield, Vt., installed one or two of these machines, without providing suction fans, or other appliances with the requisite suction fans. Our men strongly protested, but they were not heeded by the firm, and rather than cause serious difficulties to arise, submitted to being employed on these machines, as throughout the summer the work was carried on in a closed shed. The Cross Bros. continued installing more and more of these machines throughout the summer and by the beginning of November was using 10 such machines, none of them being equipped with the suction fans, in direct violation of the standing agreement. The cold weather necessitated the shutting in of the sheds and conditions quickly became unbearable.

"But in cold weather, and the temperature is often as low as 40 degrees below zero in those localities, the work must be carried on in a closed shed. The Cross Bros. continued installing more and more of these machines throughout the summer and by the beginning of November was using 10 such machines, none of them being equipped with the suction fans, in direct violation of the standing agreement. The cold weather necessitated the shutting in of the sheds and conditions quickly became unbearable.

Refused to Work Machine

"On Monday, Nov. 15, one of the firm of Cross Bros. ordered a workman to operate a machine. He refused to endanger his life by working an entire day on the incomplete machine within closed doors. He was sent home. In like manner three other employees were ordered to work on the death-dealing machine, refused, and were sent home.

"The adjustment committee of the Northfield branch then called on the firm and asked to have the four discharged men taken back. The firm refused to do so, and the 40 men employed by that concern, and constituting the Northfield branch, decided to strike, and left off work.

"The following day, Tuesday, the Barre Granite Manufacturers' Association held their regular meeting. This association was composed of the manufacturers in the towns of Barre (three branches), East Barre, Montpelier, Williamstown, Waterbury and Northfield all in Washington county. Each of these towns had its own organization of granite cutters branches of the parental association, and each of these branches were working under separate and distinct agreements with the manufacturers in their respective towns.

"The firm of Cross Bros., in Northfield were members of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' Association, which controlled the granite industry in Washington county, and that association had already ordered a lockout of all men employed with the Granite Cutters' Association. Thus 3000 granite cutters, members of seven different branches and by many different firms, in different towns, were thrown out of employment on account of the dispute between the one firm of the Cross Bros., in Northfield, and many men did not even know of it there.

How to Keep Fruits Vegetables and Meats

How to keep fresh vegetables and fruits and meat from mould and decay during the Winter forms one of the great problems of housekeeping.

The United States Government has been carrying on a series of tests at its experimental stations to determine the simplest and best methods of doing this.
It has finally, out of dozens of plans, reduced a set of rules which the experts consider nearly perfect, and by which, for instance, one may buy fresh tomatoes cheaply in August, store them away, and bring them out in January just as fresh as when bought, instead of paying the enormous prices the vegetable commands at that time.

These rules have been made the subject of a special bulletin by the Agricultural Department, and are as follows:

Potatoes are kept without difficulty in a cool, dry and dark place. Sprouts should not be allowed to grow in the Spring.

Such roots as carrots, parsnips and turnips remain plump and fresh if placed in earth or sand filled boxes on the cellar floor.

Sweet potatoes may be kept until January if cleaned, dried and packed in chaff so that they will not touch each other.

Pumpkins and squash must be thoroughly ripe and mature to keep well. They should be dried from time to time with a cloth kept, not on the cellar floor, but on a shelf, and well separated from each other. Cabbages are to be placed in barrels, with the roots uppermost.

Celery should be neither trimmed nor washed, but packed, heads up, in long, deep boxes, which should then be filled with dry earth.

Tomatoes may be kept until January, if gathered just before frost, wiped dry, and placed on straw covered racks into the cellar. They should be firm and full-grown specimens, not yet beginning to turn. As they ripen they may be taken out for table use, as any soft or decaying ones must be removed.

Apples, if for use during the Autumn, may be stored in barrels without further precaution than to look them over now and then to remove decaying ones; but if they are to be kept till late Winter or Spring they must be of a variety known to keep well and they must be hand-picked and without blemish or bruise. They should be wiped dry and placed with little crowding on shelves in the cellar.
As a further precaution, they may be wrapped separately in soft paper.

Oranges and lemons are kept in the same way. Wrapping in soft paper is here essential, as the uncovered skins if bruised offer good feeding ground for mould. Oranges may be kept for a long time in good condition if stored where it is very cold but where freezing is not possible. Lemons and limes are often kept in brine, an old-fashioned household method.

Cranberries, after careful looking over to remove soft ones, are placed in a crock or firkin and covered with water. A plate or round board placed on top and weighted serves to keep the berries under water. The water should be changed once a month.

In Winter large pieces of fresh meat may be purchased and hung in the cellar.
Thin pieces, as mutton chops, are sometimes dipped in. Fish are best put in linen bags and hung in the cellar.

Salt pork and corned beef should be kept in brine in suitable jars, kegs or casks, and should be weighed so as to remain well covered. A plate or board weighed with a clean stone is an old-fashioned and satisfactory device.

Eggs may be packed for Winter use in lime water, or in water glass solution.
Many housekeepers have good success in packing them in bran, in oats or in dry salt, but, according to experiments, the preference is given to the ten per cent solution of water glass. Exclusion of the air with its accompanying microorganisms and the prevention of drying out are what is sought in all cases. Packed eggs are not equal to fresh eggs in flavor, but when they are well packed are of fairly good quality and perfectly wholesome.

Rice, tapioca, macaroni and similar dry materials may be kept without any trouble in covered cans or small crocks in a dry, clean place. The same method is advisable for raisins, Zante currants, evaporated and dried fruits and similar supplies.

Sugar and salt are best kept, the former in tin, the latter in wooden or crockery receptacles.

Glass preserve jars are perhaps the best and most convenient of all containers for small quantities of almost any food material.

Commercial canned goods may be advantageously bought by the dozen in the Autumn, and they do not seem to suffer from even a poor storage place, provided it is not so damp that the cans rust through, if dirty or dusty the cans should always be carefully wiped before they are opened to prevent actual soiling of the contents.

Vegetables and fruits canned at home and home-made jellies, jams and similar foods should be kept in dry, airy storage places, out of direct light. The cans and jars should be of good quality and all the usual precautions of good rubber rings (if they are used) and so on should be taken.

Canning may be made use of daily for temporary preservation of the food.
When making soup stock a large quantity is as easily made as a small. The surplus may be poured white hot, into fruit jars and sealed. Boiled milk, cooked vegetables and mince meat can all be treated the same way. Such canning especially of soup stock or milk, is only recommended for a few days' keeping and every precaution should be taken that is familiar in the ordinary canning of fruit or vegetables.

The Lowest Human Beings on Earth

The War Office of Great Britain has received reports from the military patrol in the remote parts of the Nigerian province of Nuri, on the upper Benue—a tributary of the River Niger—which indicate the discovery of the lower type of human beings that ever existed.

The operations of the patrol are undertaken for the purpose of establishing effective administration over a territory so little known that in many cases the villages visited had never before been seen by a white man. The relations between the Government and the Wurum people—the tribe chiefly concerned—had never been friendly, and the three expeditions previously sent against them having had no satisfactory result, a fresh force was sent into the country in consequence of attacks upon traders and also for the purpose of finally bringing the Wurum under control.

The people are described as being of the lowest type, every village being capitally. Worship consists of the worship of fetich. In most cases the entire population is naked. The religious beliefs of these pagans are interesting.
They believe in the transmigration of souls, a man being in their review and reborn by the same mother after death.
An evil man's soul becomes a witch, whose fate is death by burning. In some cases the people worship a deity, at their religious celebrations is represented as armed with a long horn, which he blows at intervals.

Sometimes this deity is fully clothed, on other occasions he is naked. One of the pagan deities kills all women who see him.

At a place called Bashima was seen an iron spear placed in the ground at a spot held in great reverence and worshipped by the people at night. In many of the houses were found wooden idols, which are not objects of worship in themselves, but are, as a rule images of departed pagans.

The force started from Gateri, on the borders of the Bauschi and Muri provinces, some thirty miles north of the Benue, and marched in a southeast direction over entirely new country of which nothing was known except the extremely bad character of the people. The first places visited are described as "shocking," the inhabitants being among the lowest.

Their persons were so filthy that even the native soldiers remain among them

YOUR OWN COUNTRY

(From Sir Wilfrid Laurier's address at the Ontario National Club) If there is one fault which I might urge against the Americans it would be, perhaps, that in the appreciation of their country they are very apt to exaggerate.
If I have one fault to find against my own fellow-citizens it is that they do not sufficiently appreciate their own country.
The Canadian winter is the glory of Canada.

Is it any wonder that when this country is known to be what it is, it shall be the country of the twentieth century?
One does not require to be a prophet to know, and to affirm in advance, that for one hundred years Canada will be the magnet of the civilized world.

EXPECTS SHORT SESSION OF PARLIAMENT

W. F. Todd, M. P. for Charlotte county accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived in the city from St. Stephen, yesterday, and registered at the Royal.
Mr. Todd is on his way back to Ott. wa to be in attendance at the opening of parliament on Thursday next. Speaking to a Telegraph reporter he said that he expected this session of parliament to be an unusual short one. Of course, said Mr. Todd, it all depends whether the discussion over the mail question will lengthy or not. Personally he did not think it would for there is at present more unanimity of feeling over the government's policy than there was at the time of adjournment.

When parliament resumes on Thursday said Mr. Todd, the debate on the budget which was laid over will be concluded.
With one exception there was not likely to be made any changes in the tariff this year. This exception, he said, was in relation to the duty on agricultural implements being brought into the west. The government had received a resolution from the west asking for a reduction in duty on these and it was very likely that it would be given favorable consideration.
Speaking of conditions in his own county Mr. Todd said that the lumbermen there expected to have a banner season. Mr. Todd left for Montreal last evening by the Quebec express.

What has become of all these scare-head stories of Doc. Cook and Til-linchast's airship? Must be all snowed under. It might be a good plan to hunt around in your back yard and see if you can locate Dr. Cook's igloo. If you see a sun drop trail any where don't overlook it. It might lead to something.

There are two reasons why some people do not mind their own business. One is that they haven't any mind, and the other is that they haven't any business.
Don't grumble if your paper is not always up to the high standard of your ideal. Charitably remember that no editor is capable of getting up quite as good a paper as you could yourself.

A well in the lower section of the town would be a nice thing to have these days. Aldermen opposed to this improvement would experience a change of heart after one trip, with a pail or two, up Portage hill northwest wind blowing and a pumping session at the town pump with the thermometer hovering round the zero mark.

A travelling man who stutters spent all afternoon in trying to sell a grossly business man a bill of goods, and was not very successful.
As the salesman was locking up his grip, the grouch was impolite enough to observe in the presence of his clerks:
"You must find that impediment in your speech very inconvenient at times."
"Oh-h, no," replied the salesman, "Every one has his peculiarity: S-stammering is mine. What's y-your's?"
"I'm not aware that I have any," replied the merchant.
"Do you stir your coffee with your right hand?" asked the salesman.
"Why, yes, of course," replied the merchant, a bit puzzled.

"W-well," went on the salesman, "that's your p-peculiarly. Most people use a t-teaspoon."
(By George MacDonald)

Where did you come from, baby dear?
"Out of the every where into the here." Where did you get your eyes so blue?
"Out of the sky as I came through."
What makes the light in them sparkle and spin?
"Some of the star-ry spikes left in."
Where did you get that little tear?
"I found it waiting when I got here." What makes your forehead so smooth and high?
"A soft hand stroked it as I went by."
What makes your cheek like a warm white rose?
"Something better than anyone knows." Whence that three-cornered smile of bliss?
"Three angels gave me a once a kiss." Where did you get that peevy ear?
"God spoke, and it came out to hear." Where did you get those arms and hands?
"Love made itself into hooks and bands."
Feet, whence did you come on darling things?
"From the same box as s."

The home of Charles L. Merrithew, Centreville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Dec. 18th, when his youngest daughter, Otta Mae was united in marriage to Lewis H. Baldwin of St. George, N. B. The parlors and dining room were tastefully decorated in green and white.
The ceremony was performed at high noon by the Rev. R. W. Furgerson.
The bride who wore her travelling dress of garnet chiffon broadcloth and carried a bouquet of white carnations entered the room on the arm of her father as the wedding march was being rendered by Miss Myrna A. Sloat. After the ceremony and congratulations a bountiful repast was served in the dining room.
Owing to the illness of the bride's mother only the immediate friends of the family were present. The guests from out of town were the brides sisters, Mrs. Lester Packard of Skowhegan and Mrs. Charles Cross of Norridgewock, Me. Among the presents which the bride received was a beautiful set of sable furs from the groom.
Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin left on the four o'clock train for St. John and will spend a few weeks at St. George when they intend going to Saskatoon, Sask., where they will make their future home.
Mr. Baldwin will be greatly missed in Centreville, where he has held the position of Superior teacher in the schools for the past three years in a most satisfactory manner. Mrs. Baldwin who is a graduate of the P. N. S. will also be missed both in her home and among her many friends who all join in wishing the young couple a long and prosperous life in their new home.—Carleton Sentinel.

Journalist Says Canadians are Not Such Sportsmen as English—Canny Scot is Everywhere—Sabbath Too Rigidly Kept—Practical Railway System—Why Drug Stores Flourish.

Mr. Hamilton Fyfe, a well known English Journalist, recently toured Canada, and he has just concluded a series of articles in The London Daily Mail on "The Land of the Future."

Some of his impressions are not favorable, and a number of them are given herewith, because it always does Canadians good to read what visitors from overseas think of us, whether their criticisms are well founded or not.

Mr. Fyfe thinks that neither the Canadian boy or man is a good sportsman as the English. He says: "Canada as a whole has not yet come to a full understanding of the value of 'sporting.' It is only the few who can see any use in imparting to the young knowledge which will not be of direct service to them in making a fortune. The same material spirit is far too prevalent among the young themselves. The Canadian boy is not as good a sportsman as the English. He plays games to win rather than for the sake of the game. There is a reason for this in the weakness of the country. Life is a serious business in a land which has to be won from wild nature. There is real live-or-die fighting to be done every day. No room for dilettantism. The keynote of character built upon such foundations is deadly earnestness. No doubt the Englishman would be a vastly better man if he had the Canadian's determination and grit. Yet it seems a pity all the same that Canada should not have produced a more sportsmanlike spirit."

Mr. Fyfe cites, as an example of our lack of "sportsmanlike" qualities the fact that many Canadians thought it rather odd that Gen. Botha should have been lionized to such an extent in London, at the time of the Colonial Conference. The tenor of his remarks runs thus: "Why should an enemy be honored? They asked, and referred bitterly to the number of Canadians killed and maimed in the war. It was impossible to make them understand the Englishman's respect for an enemy who has put up a good fight against him. That was too detached an attitude of mind for them."

SAW HIS OPPORTUNITY.

The Reporter Seized It and Got His Real Start in Life. All the city traveling public lives a strap hanger because it has a fellow feeling for him. This is why the story of how Frank Vanderlip, the banker, got his start has an almost universal appeal. It happened when Vanderlip was a reporter on a Chicago newspaper and writing financial news. The traction situation then, as now, was almost impossible. Charles T. Yerkes came along. At all the meetings Mr. Yerkes had rattled off the reports in the usual undecipherable corporation jargon, and no one knew what was doing. So Vanderlip planned a coup. He bought a share of stock, which admitted him to the meeting. He had a stenographer before him to take down everything he said. Mr. Yerkes used one striking phrase, and it was this: "The investors who have sent you the operating expenses, but the strap hangers pay your dividends."

L'ETETE
MRS. ARTHUR MATTHEWS
The death of Mrs. Arthur Matthews took place at her home on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock after battling in a very courageous way with the white plague for over a year. Her death is mourned by a husband and six little children, also by a father and two brothers, one of whom was at the funeral. Her death is a blow to all in the community, as she was much liked and respected by all. She was born at Lubec, Me., and had been married twelve years, during which time she had resided with her husband in Letete. The funeral took place on Monday Jan. 3rd. The service was held in the Christian church and conducted by F. H. Mason pastor of the same. After voicing the sympathy of the Letete people paying the deserved tribute of honor to her undying name, and making the remarks necessary for consoling the mourners, the procession moved to the Mascarene cemetery, where the body was silently and reverently interred. A large gathering attended the funeral, coming from far and near, expressive of the good will and respect of the community, for the bereaved.
As every one who lives noblest, purest and best is a benefactor to human kind, so was she, and our memory of her cannot perish. All who have sustained the greatest loss, throughout her departure have the sincerest sympathy of all in this community.
