Don't Stay late to-Night,

The hearth of home is beaming With rays of rosy light; And lovely eyes are gleaning, And while thy steps are leaving The circles pure and bright, tender voice half grieving. Says, "Don't stay late to-night."

Is busy, brave, and wide; The world of her thou lovest Is at the ingle side; Thy smile is her delight; Her gentle voice entreating. Says, "Don't stay late to-night."

The world, cold and inhuman, Will spurn thee if thou fall ; The love of one poor woman Thy children cling around thee, Let fate be dark or bright; At home no shaft will wound thee ; Then "Don't stay late to-night."

SPEAK NOT IN HASTE. Time to me has taught-

Tis a truth that's worth revealing-More offend from want of thought Than from any want of feeling. If advice we would convey,

There's a time we should convey it; If we've but a word to say, There's a tone in which to say it.

Many a beauteous flower decays, Something secret on it preys Which no human aid can touch. in many a lovely breast Lies some canker grief concealed,

That, if touched, is more oppressed-Left unto itself, is healed. Oft, unknowingly, the tengue Touches on a cord so achieg, That a word or accent wrong Pains the heart almost to breaking. F Many a tear of wounded pride.

By a quiet voice of kindness,! Time to me this fruth has taught-

Many a tault of human blindness,

Than from any want of feeling.
