"August Flower"

The Hon. J. W. Fennimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my own use, and found it does me more good than any other remedy.
"I have been troubled with what I call Sick Headache. A pain comes "in the back part of my head first, and then soon a general headache "until I become sick and vomit.
"At times, too, I have a fullness after eating, a pressure after eating at the pit of the stomach, and "sourness, when food seemed to rise "up in my throat and mouth. When "I feel this coming on if I take a "little August Flower it relieves "me, and is the best remedy I have "for this. For this reason, I recom"mend it to others as a great remedy for Dys"pepsia, &c."

Mrs. Youngman-And so my baby got baby was the best objectionable of the lot.

Mrs. Gushy-My dear me, the new minister is such an interesting young man.
Mrs. Winks-What did he talk about when he called?
Mrs. Gushy-I told him all about the baby's new tooth.
There is no better, safer or more pleasant remedy than this August Flower for all ailments. It cures hoarseness, sore throat, colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

Mr. GEORGE DE MAURIER's novel, "The Tulip," which will begin in the January number of the "Pictorial," is a story of interest. It is a story of a young man who goes to Paris, and the setting in the Latin Quarter of the "Fifties." The heroine is a model of mingled Irish and Scottish extraction, whose name gives the title to the story.

THE JOURNAL HABER'S MAGAZINE will contain an important illustrated article on recent discoveries in Egypt and Chaldea, which go far towards settling the origin of civilization. The author is Mr. W. S. Chad. Professor, lecturer on antiquities in University College, Oxford.

HABER'S BAZAR for December 2d will devote a large share of its articles to Christmas presents. There will be for invalids. A feature will be a piece of pictures of needle-work done by members of the Young Women's Christian Association of New York.

GENERAL NEWS.

That is Fishing.
A girl beside the water side,
The noonday sun is warmly beaming.
Her nose and neck are turkey red, Her eyes with radiant hope are gleaming.
She watches close the hobbling cork Advanced upon the tiny billows; A jerk, a snub, and high above She lands a sucker in the willows.
That's fishing.

A fair maid trips the tennis court, A dozen eyes admire her going;
Her black and yellow blazer burns A hole right through the sunset's glowing.
She drives the ball across the net,
And into hearts consumed with wishing.
She drives a dart from cupid's bow; She'll land a sucker, too. She's fishing.

That's fishing.
The politician on his rounds, Tackles both workingman and stranger.
He tries to make them think that he Alone can save the land from danger.
He chuckles the baby on the chin, He says your wife looks really yout-ful.
And though you know you're fifty-five,
You look just twenty-if he's truthful.

That's fishing.
My little wife beside me stands And steals a dimpled arm around me; A kiss upon my lips-that's bait-Some information to astound me.
Her bonnet is quite out of style, Her summer wraps quite past the using;
That lovely one-so cheap-at Brown's;
Is just the one she would be choosing.

That's fishing.
So whether the game be fish or man,
The bait be kisses, worms or blunders-Or tennis racket at evening's hour-'Tis the old game the serpent played With Mother Eve in Eden's bower.
And Adam's sons and daughters all Will love the sport till time's last hours.
That's fishing.

A Texas Sheriff's Nerve.
A tall, wiry man, with a trailing moustache, good-humored eyes and a pleasantly modulated voice, sat in the gallery of the Binkley House at Sherman.
He is the sheriff of Grayson County, Lee McAfee, who has just made himself famous by standing out successfully against a mob. Lee McAfee faced a thousand angry Texans and sawed a negro from summary vengeance.
If ever a wretch deserved quick death this one did. He had assaulted the woman, and in carrying out his purpose had knocked the husband senseless and had beaten the children nearly to death.
The brute was caught with his bloody clothes upon him.

Armed with shotguns and Winchester rifles, the people marched to the jail and demanded the prisoner. McAfee looked into the desperate faces and shook his head. He did not doubt that the negro deserved death, but it was his duty to hold the negro for the court, and he would try to do it, even if he died in the attempt. The mob looked down before as the exhibition of courage as the State of Texas ever saw. And that is why the sheriff of Grayson County has a reputation for being a man of nerve. He is a man of the court-room and from the court-room with a picked band of deputies. The mob waiting, rope in hand; but the sheriff, who was a match for the dangerous sheriff, was not there. When the examination had brought out the whole story, the mob at once moved to the jail and demanded the prisoner.
McAfee made the crowd a little talk.

"I see before me," he said, men who voted for me with the understanding I was to perform all of the duties of sheriff of Grayson County. I took the oath to perform those duties and I gave bond to do it. I conceive it to be my duty to protect this prisoner, and I going to do it, though it cost me my life and the life of every deputy I have.
I desire to see that this prisoner shall get a legal trial before twelve citizens.
I propose to do that he gets it. Then if you say hang him, I'll hang him. I am willing he should be hanged, but he must be hanged legally."

The banking house of Glenbicki, in Warsaw, Russia, has failed with liabilities of 600,000 roubles. The chief members of the firm has absconded to America.

Having disposed of the silver, the next thing the United States will have to do will be to liquidate its debt for silver. The outstanding notes issued in account of silver purchases are now $183,219,000. Besides this there is likely to be a deficiency of from fifty to a hundred million dollars on the ordinary transactions this year. "The Mail."

Among the K. K. K. the price of a wife varies from $10 to $300. The Damas are more moderate, and one wife is considered a fair equivalent while a goat will purchase a wife among some tribes. But the cheapest market appears to be Uganda, where a father offered to bestow the hand of his daughter upon a traveller for a pair of boots.

A band of boy burglars have been discovered in the tower of Putnam, Connecticut. The oldest, the captain, is 14; the youngest, 11 years old. They pillaged shops and hid their booty in the attic and in the woods. In their hiding place there was found 150 copies of yellow covered dime novels. They admitted that it was these stories of heroes and robbers that led them to become burglars.

Several noblemen in England are in the habit of giving special orders to make in Virginia for their supply of smoking tobacco. There is no doubt that they mean they get the very best tobacco to be had, but it costs them about $3 a pound.
The workmen of Canada are smoking the very same quality of tobacco at 5 cents a pound, and it is known to them by the name of "Myrtle Navy."

Hats in The House of Commons.
This first thing that strikes the visitor to the House of Commons is that here also it is exceptional among the legislatures of the world-the House of Commons permits its members to retain their hats during the sitting. Indeed, it is the rule to wear and the exception not to wear the hat. Mr. Gladstone never wears his hat-there have been exceptions, to one of which I will allude presently; nor did Mr. Smith, the late respected leader in the House of Commons on the Conservative side; nor did Duncan Ross, Mr. Balfour, nor Sir Charles Russell. A member, however, can keep his hat on only when he is in his seat. If he rises to speak, he must take off his hat; if he rises to leave his seat and go out of the House, he has to take off his hat; so long as he remains standing in any part of the House he has to keep off his hat. There are some of the older members who, even when they lean over their seats to converse with a member on the bench in front of them, take off their hats.
And it is usual, too, when a member interjects an observation across the floor to take it off. It was also the invariable custom when a member was referred to that he should raise his hat, but this rule is falling into desuetude. From "The House of Commons," by Thomas Power O'Connor, in Harper's Magazine for December.

She Wanted to Meet the Girl Who Broke Him In.

What wonder that Harold Hustleton was a proud and happy man! Had he not won the heart and hand of the fairest and loveliest girl in the hotel-the much sought after belle, whose bewildering beauty had captivated the hearts of all the other men from the gray-haired old grandfather to the younger but more knowing college sophomore?

And she had promised to be his-to marry him before the snow flew, and to match her bridal blushes against the splendor of the frost tinted leaves in the coming autumn.

No wonder Harold could scarcely believe in his good luck. And as he sat by her side and watched the evening star glimmering above the orange flush which marked where the sun had sunk behind the hills, he felt moved to ask her the fourteenth question in the lover's catechism, i. e., "How it happened that she had chosen him out of all the men in her wide circle of acquaintance to be responsible for her future happiness?"

"Surely she must have known better fellows than he was," he urged. "Richer, handsomer, more athletic. Why had she chosen him?"

"Oh, Harold, you mustn't be too modest," replied Ada, as she gently pushed back the hair from his forehead.
You have a great many traits which none of my other friends possess. You are so thoughtful of my welfare, so tender and considerate, so obedient to my slightest wish. I think it was those things which first won me to you, and I have never regretted it, for, Harold you are simply an ideal lover."

"Oh, my darling! You don't know how glad I am to hear you say so!" he exclaimed as he drew her to him and kissed her tenderly.

"Yes, dear, and some day you must let me meet her and thank her for making you what you are," continued Ada.
"Meet whom? My mother?" asked Harold.

"No, Harold, not your mother," she said sweetly. "I want to meet the girl who broke you in!"-Brooklyn Life.

The Proposal of 1500 A. D.
"Adorable Miss Dorothy-A Thy languishing love addresses himself to thee with fear and trembling. Beauteous maid, wilt thou be mine? I tell me, I pray thee, elude me not. I may arise to pinnacles of happiness or go forth to seek shadows of pain in death. Thy heart sick lover."

THE PROPOSAL OF 1803.
"Dear Dorothy-I'm not going to hide it any longer. I'm in love with you and I've got enough money to live on. Will you marry me? Lovingly, HAROLD."

THE PROPOSAL OF 2010.
"Miss Dorothy Daydown, City-Yours received. After consulting with my attorney, we have decided that a matrimonial alliance between you and myself would be an investment of mutual advantage. Please let me know your opinion by return mail, as in case of your refusal I may decide to look elsewhere. Truly yours, [Dictated], HAROLD HUMPHREY, per M." sore spots hard to heal, acts quickly and Frederickton Horses.

Frederickton has a thriving (art association, composed of the leading men of the town, and their recent fall meeting was a decided success. Good pursues were hung up, large fields of horses contested, two of which entered the list, and it was a satisfactory result that the club's come out with a balance on the right side of the ledger.
The track is one of the best and fastest half-mile rings in the province and is very prettily located a few acres back from the bank of the river, at the upper end of the town. I find that there are several of the get of Harry Wilkes owned here, and for the most part they are very good fellows and some of them very promising. Hataasa Wilkes, a two year old filly by him, is stopping fast, and has made a reputation this season of even more than provincial note.
Lena B., a four year old filly in Trainer Stockford's string, has shown her ability to enter the list at any time she is asked to do so, Harry Wilkes was brought to the province in 1880 and the oldest of his get is therefore but five years, but he promises to prove a valuable sire, at three of his foals entered the list this season, among the number the fine four year old Katrina, owned at St. John N.
B. One thing I think will strike a western horseman travelling through the East, and that is the higher finish which distinguishes the Maritime horses, generally speaking, as compared with our Ontario and Quebec horses, a fact which is probably largely due to the influence of the Black Hawke blood, a strain which is remarkable for style and beauty and which figures conspicuously in the pedigree of the light harness horse of New Brunswick at least. It was not my privilege to see all the horses in this attractive town but of those I did the following notes have been recorded.

A Great Stock Farm.

It is not generally known, but right here St. Stephen is located the finest stock farm to be found in this fair Dominion of ours, judged by the quality of the stock that is upon it.
This is the St. Croix Farm, of which Mr. W. F. Todd is proprietor. Six years ago Mr. Todd started into breeding and he made his start on the right lines. At that time Elinore, by Henry B. Patchen 163, was the most celebrated brood mare, and she still ranks among the greatest. Eight of her daughters were then living and seven of them had entered the list. Mr. Todd was determined to have those mares. It was an expensive undertaking, but he set out to have the best or nothing and he secured them for a total of about $45,000. These mares were Kate Taylor, 2:33, by Aberdeen; Ray Gould, 2:33, by Jay Gould; Adeline Gould, 2:19, by Jay Gould; Augusta Schuyler, 2:16, (dam of Edith R.
2:27) by Aberdeen; Daisy Harshorn 2:24, by Aberdeen; Alice Blackwood 2:24, dam of Alice Black, 2:29, by Blackwood; Carrie K. 2:28, (dam of Jordan Wilkes 2:01), by Jay Gould; and Rachel C. also by Jay Gould.

In addition to these he bought other mares, one of which, Allie, by Lexington has since become a producer, being the dam of Mary Mac, 2:17. These Elinore mares, which were the property of purchase to some of the best stallions in America, and some of their produce have since been sold, but some still remain on the place. With such a rare collection of brood mares we should expect to find a corresponding quality of stallions.
It is sufficient to say that Mr. Todd bought that great little stallion Lumps 3922, record 2:21, the only son of George Wilkes owned in this country, and one of the most noted campaigners of that wonderfully prepotent sire of race horses. Lumps, as every one knows, is out of Mother Lumps, also dam of Besteron, by Pearl, and his second dam is Lady Irwin, by Hambletonian 10, etc. Lumps is a small horse, standing 14.2, but he is every inch a splendid specimen of a race horse.

Mr. Todd also purchased Elation, son of Electioneer, out of Sally Gal-lan, by Volunteer 55, 2nd dam Gal-lan by Webster's Fiddler, thoroughbred, 3rd dam by Monmouth. Elation is a fine, large bay horse, standing 16 hands high, and has not been trained for speed, but has been kept constantly in the stud, and after having been campaigning until he was nine years old, through all seasons and over all kinds of tracks, his limbs are free from even a wisp of wind.

During the few years he has been in the stud 17 of his produce have entered the 2:30 list, among them being Amos Dickinson 2:19, Mary Mac 2:17, Elko 2:17, Bumps 2:19, Bamboo 2:20, Col. Tom 2:22, etc.
The last of his produce to be owned in this section of the country is by him.

DEATH OF GOVERNOR BOYD.

The Community was shocked on Monday morning on receiving the news that the Hon. Governor Boyd had died suddenly at his residence, St. John the Evangelist, on Sunday morning last, and that he had died at 5 o'clock, with what was considered by his physician, Dr. Bayard, a bilious attack, he was easier during the evening and pleasant and chatty as usual, so that no fatal results were anticipated. Apparently without warning, at midnight, he died in a faint at his residence. This was the first of our foremost citizen, while he was apparently just entering a new career of honor and usefulness. Boyd is remembered as a man of great energy and ability, who had lived long enough to enjoy the new dignities bestowed upon him. It must be recognized that it is given to but few men to possess such a long and well rounded life as he had, enjoying the respect and admiration of his fellow citizens, and as a citizen he was public spirited and progressive, his genial address, his generous instincts and the sturdiness of his character gave him an honored position and influence with his party; as a man he was simple in his tastes, kindly hearted and faithful to his friends. Honor to his memory. Respectfully in Pace.

THE PICTOU SPEECHES.

The Right Honorable Sir John Thompson and Sir H. H. Tupper delivered addresses to their political friends at Pictou on Thursday last. We print to-day a supplement containing their speeches.

Sir John Thompson's is important as showing how the government proposes to deal with the tariff, which will be imposed on articles not produced or manufactured in Canada and sufficient for revenue purposes, thereby protecting home labor and markets, and retaining a large free list of raw products, etc. He discussed the opposition proposed to put a dead level tariff placing our home industries on the same footing as Foreign Manufacturers.

Sir H. H. Tupper's speech is one of those forceful and aggressive tones, carrying the war into the enemy's country, in a style reminding one of the vigor of his worthy sire. In view of Sir John Thompson's alleged prospective election to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, Sir H. H. Tupper's name is becoming mentioned as the prospective leader of the Conservative party and future Premier. It is pointed out that he has youth, training, denoting power, and the quality of leadership. In him, undoubtedly exist possibilities of a useful and brilliant future.

P. E. ISLAND ELECTION.

On Wednesday next the provincial election in P. E. Island takes place. The avowed policy of the liberals is to "uphold good Government" and "keep down the Tories." The Conservatives propose to put an end to "political corruption," repeal the pennyman; restore the franchise; punish those who enacted the mortgage vote; and cast out the land office workers. Nearly every seat is contested and both sides entertain hopes of success. With this election the House of Assembly will be the sole legislative body but it will be composed of two sets of members, the assemblymen who are elected by those having manhood suffrage and common property qualification to the value of $25. A straight vote for or against prohibition will also be taken on a separate ballot. Mr. Peters the present liberal premier acceded to power in the spring of 1891.

His football career has apparently had its day. Public opinion is strong in favor of a sport which in Great Britain alone has caused twenty deaths in one season and champion Cortesi points out that prize fighting universally condemned should be such a game to a game to be entirely suppressed especially in colleges. It is probable that some changes in the rules will make the game less rough and dangerous for next season's play.

ONE WEEK ago the POST indignantly stated that Connolly and McGrovey were behind the bars and suggested that the liberal conservative party had shown a commendable desire to purge itself of corruption and attain political purity. The Transcript has, consequently, presented the item in the hope that the POST at some undefined period in the future may regret having published such item when presumably the Transcript will step in and enjoy a triumph. It is not necessary to suppose that the POST is in peril though the Transcript is doubtless capable of taking advantage of any occasion and of waiting patiently for any length of time. The Transcript has been patient, waiting and diligently searching for the past six months in order to find an analogy for the Stevens case so far as we know without the least encouragement. May like success attend its fabled designs on the POST.

Personal and Political.

—Sir John Allen continues to improve.

—Prof. Tyndal the great scientist died at his home in Halesworth county Surrey Eng. last Monday night at the age of 73.

The Shaford Case.

Proceedings in the divorce case opened at St. John Monday before Mr. Justice Tuck, Mr. L. A. Curry appearing for Mrs. Shaford and Messrs J. D. Hazen and George W. Allen for Mr. Shaford. Mrs. Shaford appeared calm, comfortable and self-possessed. Shaford looked gloomy and dejected. Evidence brought forward by Mrs. Shaford went to show that her husband beat and abused her, refused her pin in money, scoffed at the Bible, and would not let his children go to Sunday School. The case under discussion was which should have possession of the children as Shaford states that he is perfectly ready for a divorce. Messrs Allen and Hazen got an adjournment for one week in order to answer this evidence.

The circumstances in connection with this case are of some interest. Mr. Shaford originally came from Halifax and when he went to St. John it was with such recommendations of honor and usefulness. Boyd is remembered as a man of great energy and ability, who had lived long enough to enjoy the new dignities bestowed upon him. It must be recognized that it is given to but few men to possess such a long and well rounded life as he had, enjoying the respect and admiration of his fellow citizens, and as a citizen he was public spirited and progressive, his genial address, his generous instincts and the sturdiness of his character gave him an honored position and influence with his party; as a man he was simple in his tastes, kindly hearted and faithful to his friends. Honor to his memory. Respectfully in Pace.

The Athletic Concert.

The Athletic Concert last Friday evening was a splendid success from a literary and musical standpoint but the weather could not have been more agreeable. The roads were in such a state as to render driving almost impossible and the crowd which two thirds filled Music Hall is no just measure of the number which would have attended had the weather been fine. In other words the committee could not have asked for greater success. The audience was good humored and at times enthusiastic. The college boys indeed occasionally forgot themselves and made more noise than was conducive to the comfort of the rest of the audience. It was however not only a college concert but a football concert as well and at times their juvenile spirit could not be suppressed.

The other talent would doubtless have drawn a crowd, but nevertheless people went to hear Fraulein Lachs, Mt. Allison's new singer. The Fraulein was enthusiastically received on her first appearance and repeatedly cheered after she had sung. The tones of her voice show great richness and roundness and the low notes are especially fine. Her voice is very powerful impressing one with a sense of withered energy and reserved force. As a singer she pleases the cultivated rather than the popular ear. She did not sing in English to the regret of many present.

Miss Landers never appeared to better advantage than on that evening. During her first reading, a pathetic narrative, the audience listened breathless and a pin might have been heard to fall at any time. Encore she sang with a well rendered dialect piece. Miss Ayer also excelled herself. She played with remarkable finish and tone and especially won the audience by the distinctness of her rendition of Scherzo's David in response to a prolonged encore. The other violinists Messrs. Archibald, Burchell, Beckwith and T. D. Archibald showed much natural talent and did credit to the careful training of Miss Ayer.

recited Samuel Lover's "Low Backed Car," in a pleasing manner and in response to an encore gave a highly amusing and well rendered "Highly Priced Car." Miss Webb's piano solo was much enjoyed and repeatedly encored. One of the most pleasing features of the evening's programme was the part devoted to college songs and a larger number of these would have been appreciated. The last chorus, a melody college song arranged by Mr. T. A. Potts, was much enjoyed. The concert closed with "God Save the Queen" sung with loyal heartiness.

LOCAL.

WORKMAN INJURED. James Farrell of Parrtown, an employee in the wood working factory of Rhodes, Gurny & Co. was this morning severely injured about the head and body through being struck and crushed by a large log. He received a wound on the head, one over the eye and had three ribs injured.

RUPTURE OF THE HEART.—Last evening about 6 o'clock a boatman at Wood Point belonging to the N. Y. Freestone Quarrying Co.'s property was burned to death by a fire which broke out in the mill. The fire broke out in the mill and was extinguished by the fire department. The fire broke out in the mill and was extinguished by the fire department.

A SUCCESSFUL HUNTER.—George son of Capt. Milner of Westcock shot a fine fat deer last Saturday in the neighborhood of Bulmer's pond. It weighed about 85 pounds and was very beautiful. A large number of people gathered to see the animal and it was killed by the fire department.

THOSE FIRE-BUGS AGAIN.—Last Saturday evening about 6 o'clock a boatman at Wood Point belonging to the N. Y. Freestone Quarrying Co.'s property was burned to death by a fire which broke out in the mill. The fire broke out in the mill and was extinguished by the fire department.

It is REMOVED.—Rumor has it that a Moncton lady, wife of a prominent I. O. R. official, has left her home and become a resident of Chicago, and that, too, without the sanction of her husband. He, it appears has not been as faithful a husband as an honorable woman could wish, and when his better half discovered positive proof of his infidelity, she expressed her displeasure by "abandoning" her home for his society. The affair is much talked of in the rail road center.—Telegraph.

DID NOT PAY.—Some months ago Customs officer Boyce seized the Norwegian barque "Marie" at Cape Tormentine, and released her only on the payment of $400. Mr. Wood M. P. promptly reported the fact to Hon. Charles Wallace, the Controller of Customs, who deeming the charges frivolous ordered the fine to be reduced to $25. The $375 was paid to the master of the "Marie" at Shediac on his return trip. The $25 will allow her owner to pay the balance of her expenses. The action of the Department in accepting Mr. Wood's representations is highly commended by the business men knowing the circumstances.

POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY

Edited by William F. Youmans. The Popular Science monthly is without a competitor. It is not a technical magazine. It deals alone as an educator, and is the best periodical for people who think. All its articles are by writers of long practical acquaintance with their subjects, and are written in such a manner as to be readily understood.

It deals particularly with those general and practical subjects which are of the greatest interest and importance to the people at large. Besides this it keeps its readers fully informed of all that is being done in the broad field of science.

A reference to the contents of any of the last numbers will show to you on form the foregoing statement $5.00 per Annum, Specimen copy, 25 cents. D. APPLETON & Co., Publishers, 1, 3 & 5, Bond Street, New York
