MEIGHEN IS FAVORITE WITH MEMBERS, BUT SIR ROBERT'S CHOICE TO BE KNOWN SOON

Premier Will Announce Name of His Successor in Few Days —Intentions of Hon. N. W. Rowell Are Not Known— F. B. McCurdy May Get Place in New Cabinet — An Election To Be Averted If At All Possible.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, July 5.—Sir Robert Borden will give his verdict on the new leadership this week. The premier is not given to rapid decisions, but appreciates the fact that delay in the present situation will only complicate matters and increase his difficulties. This will be the last responsibility of Sir Robert who, having recommended his successor to His Excellency the Governor-General, will himself resign and will leave Ottawa for a few days' vacation. Upon the shoulders of his successor will then devolve the difficult task of reorganization. If the premier is guided wholly by the written advice and choice of his members, Hon. Arthur Meighen will be the new leader, for it is safe to say that the great majority have designated him as their first choice. While desiring the position, Mr. Meighen, however, has brought no pressure to bear upon Sir Robert to become prime minister. He has remained Absolutely from him, and, in fact, has attended council but little since the "convention" commenced. It is conceivable that Sir Robert will take advice outside of that given by the members. On the other hand, if the new leader is to have a united following it is necessary that the consensus of opinion of the members must be taken into consideration in the matter of his choice. Whatever pressure there may be from the outside, Sir Robert cannot permit it to altogether outweigh the wishes of the members.

Mr. Rowell's intentions are not known. It has been rumored that he will go to Washington. But the guess is not a good one from what can be learned. If Mr. Rowell retired from the Government, it is believed that he will go back to his practice and private life.

McCurdy Mentioned.

Mr. Rowell has not yet returned to Ottawa.

Reconstruction of the cabinet is not expected at first to be very extensive. A new name for cabinet honors being mentioned today, namely that of F. B. McCurdy of Colchester, is admitted even by Opposition members from the maritime provinces as a fairly safe Government seat. Mr. McCurdy has had cabinet experience of a sort in his capacity as undersecretary of militia, and later of civil re-establishment. He resigned in protest against the policy of drift. Now that, that policy has been ostensibly abandoned, he may come back as a minister. The maritime provinces since Messrs. Carvell and MacLean retired and now that the premier is out, have no cabinet representation at all. If possible the new Government will avert a general election. Members claim that it is entitled to an opportunity for complete reconstruction, that tariff revision has been promised, following an investigation, and that there should be a census and redistribution before an appeal to the people.

Apart from these reasons, they realize fully the danger of a general election even to the newly-constituted National Liberal and Conservative party with the "carry all" name.

BORDEN'S POSITION OUTLINED IN AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Ottawa, July 5.—(By Canadian Press). Letters and telegrams continue to pour into the office of the prime minister. Today more communications were received from the parliamentary supporters of the Government suggesting a successor to Sir Robert Borden. There is still gossip of the possibility of an outsider being called in, although it is unquestioned that Hon. Arthur Meighen has the majority support of members of the new party in both houses of Parliament. In some quarters his following among Government supporters in Parliament is placed as high as 90 per cent. Today there is a recurrence of the suggestion that Sir George Foster may be called in to ofrm a temporary Government.

The constitutional position of a retiring prime minister is set forth in an official statement issued today. "Much confusion and misunderstanding," says the statement, "seem to prevail in the press regarding the power and responsibility of a retiring prime minister in respect to the selection of his successor.

"The selection of a new prime minister is one of the few personal acts which, under the British constitution, a sovereign (in Canada the representative of the sovereign) is required to perform. A retiring prime minister has no right whatever to name his successor, nor has he any responsibility with respect to the selection of his successor, except as follows:

"The sovereign or his representative may not see fit to ask the view of the retiring prime minister with respect to the selection of his successor. For example, the queen, on the final retirement of Mr. Gladstone, did not ask his advice or his views on that question. In such a case, the retiring prime minister has no right, whatever, to express his views or to tender any advice on the subject. If, however, the sovereign or his representative asks the views of the retiring prime minister he has a right to express them, but they need not necessarily be followed. In expressing such views he does not tender advice as a prime minister, because he has already retired from office. His advice is to be regarded simply as that of a person holding the position of privy council, who has acquired a wide experience in public affairs, which would give a certain value to his opinion on the subject."

LAMBETH CONFERENCE OF ANGLICAN CHURCH DISCUSSES LEAGUE

Important Subjects Are Slated For Argument At Sessions.

London, July 5.—The sixth Lambeth conference of the Anglican Church opened here today with 270 bishops and archbishops from all parts of the world in attendance.

Seventy resolutions have been prepared for discussion during the sessions of the conference, which are expected to last more than a month.

The conference today discussed Christianity and international relations especially the league of nations. Among the invited speakers was the Right Rev. Chauncey M. Brewster, bishop of Connecticut.

The proceedings of all sessions of the conference are private.

GROCERS PROTESTING AGAINST ORDER OF BOARD OF COMMERCE

Object To Filling In Report Forms Showing Cost.

London retail grocers held a meeting today at noon and decided to make a strong and concerted protest in common with the retail grocers of other parts of Ontario against the action of the board of commerce in demanding that they fill in detailed report forms showing the cost of all their merchandise, whom they bought it from, what they sold it for, and showing profits, losses and taxes, with full particulars.

The grocers claim that it would mean the employment of an accountant expressly for the work by each retailer. Members of Parliament are being approached in the matter and communications are being sent to and received from other local retail associations. The board of commerce, the local grocers claim, has made an impossible demand in asking that such voluminous reports be turned in.

FIFTEEN FAMILIES ARE UNDER CANVAS AT THE LAKESIDE

First Party of Campers Under Soldiers' Aid Commission.

Fifteen families, comprising 47 people in all, got under canvas at Port Stanley this afternoon. They are the advance guard of four camping parties arranged for under the auspices of the soldiers' aid commission.

The camp is located on George M. Reid's property, about five minutes' walk from the L. and P. S. station at the beach. The towering clay cliff is on one side and the lake is not more than 30 feet from the dining tent.

There is a private road leading directly to the camp, which includes a hospital tent in charge of Miss D. Thompson. The hospital tent is fully equipped with first-aid outfits and three beds.

The camp kitchen, a wooden building, was a busy place when the first guests arrived at 11 o'clock today, and commenced making preparations for dinner.

The dining tent is a large affair and has two rows of tables all set for the next meal and beautifully decorated with flowers. At the end of the tent looking towards the lake are the children's tables with low chairs.

In the private tents are two to four beds, depending upon the size of the family. The tents are lighted with French candles. The recreation, kitchen and hospital tents are lighted with hydro.

Miss M. Hamilton is the matron; Mrs. Hutchison, a school teacher, has taken the work of recreation supervisor, and Miss Ruth Allison is in charge of the children. Everything is to be run on schedule time. The following is the schedule which has been arranged:

Rising hour, 7:30; children's breakfast, 8; adults' breakfast, 8:30; recreation and devotional exercise, 9; children to be cleaned up, 11:30; children's dinner, 12; adults' dinner, 12:30; rest hour, 1:30 to 2:30; bathing, 3 to 4; amusement and games, 4 to 5; children's supper, 5:30; adults' supper, 6; story hour for children, 6:30 to 7:30, conducted by Miss Hutchison; bedtime, 8 o'clock.

RANEY TO ORDER PROSECUTION OF TRACK OWNERS

Windsor Race Meeting Directors To Be Subjected To Inquiry.

QUESTION OF CHARTER

Claim Advanced That Legal Rights Have Been Exceeded.

Toronto, July 5.—Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general of Ontario, has announced that he will order the prosecution of the directors of the Devonshire race meeting, now in progress at Windsor, on the ground that they hold a charter only as an agricultural society, and not as a regularly recognized racing association. The prosecution will not deal with the merits of the racing laws, but with the alleged exceeding by the Devonshire people of their legal rights under the charter.

Sparrow Repaid Hospitality By Gift of An Egg

Assistant Secretary of Chamber of Commerce Gets a Pleasant Surprise.

During the heavy storm on Friday evening, a little sparrow took refuge in the offices of the London Chamber of Commerce, and afterwards was too frightened and exhausted to venture forth again. All efforts to induce the little guest to leave the office when it was time to lock up were futile, and Assistant Secretary E. J. Penny suggested that it be not harried any more, but be allowed to remain overnight. Next morning when he came down to work, Mr. Penny was surprised to find that the little sparrow had gratefully laid a tiny egg on his desk, and had departed as soon as the windows were opened. Next winter, when eggs will probably again be sold by the pound, Mr. Penny is hoping that an auk or an ostrich will take shelter in the chamber of commerce rooms, and follow the example of the sparrow in paying for her lodging overnight.

STRIKERS ADMIT PLACING OF BOMB

Information Gained by Police May Get Gang of Dynamiters.

Waterbury, Conn., July 5.—Bernard Favalo, 24, and Mike Kalochuk, 32, both said to be strikers, who are under arrest here, are said by the police to have admitted they concealed the bomb found in a clump of bushes near the homes of many prominent men, including Superintendent of Police George H. Beach and Judge Larkin of the district court. Favalo, it is said, is one of the men arrested in connection with the riot, in which one striker was killed and several injured, and three police officers taken to the hospital.

The police say they have found sufficient information to clean up an entire camp of dynamiters within a short time. Capt. Pessoti, head of the Italian squad, of the New York detective bureau, after viewing the bomb today, stated that it was sufficient to blow a city block to pieces. It weighs about six pounds and has an eleven-foot fuse attached.

POLICE SAY ROSHORE ADMITS MURDER OF WEALTHY SPANIARD

Revenge and Robbery Were Motives of Crime.

New York, July 5.—Charles W. Roshore, who was arrested near Des Moines, Iowa, and brought here yesterday charged with the murder of Manuel Gabin, Spaniard and wealthy New York restauranteur, on June 21, has confessed, according to the police, that he killed Gabin for the twofold motive of revenge and robbery.

Roshore admitted, the police say, that he had gone to Gabin's apartment as the latter's guest, and that after his host had fallen asleep he had taken a revolver from under his pillow and fired, his victim dying almost instantly. Roshore said, according to the police, that the shooting was the result of a quarrel started in 1917, when he and Gabin were partners in business.

Following the murder, Roshore dressed leisurely, the police say he told them, bought new clothes, and then went to a Broadway dancing academy, where he danced with a girl from Minneapolis. He and the girl then left for Atlantic City, whence they went later to Philadelphia, Chicago and finally to Minneapolis, where the girl left him.

Jewels valued at $10,000 and $1,140 in cash were taken from Gabin's clothing by his slayer, according to the authorities. Gabin was known here as "King of the Spaniards."

CORONER DECIDES AGAINST INQUEST

Brantford Official Says Verdicts Are Generally Disregarded.

Brantford, July 5.—No inquest will be held into the deaths by drowning in the Grand River on Saturday afternoon of Miss Jessie McFee of Hamilton, and Miss Christie McIntyre of Brantford. Coroner Dr. Fissette, who made the decision, declared that it would be useless to hold an inquest "as no attention was paid to the verdicts of coroners' juries."

WOMAN VISITOR TO 'FRISCO CONVENTION ROBBED OF JEWELS

Mrs. C. E. Moeller Is Found Bound and Gagged in Hotel Room.

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—Mrs. C. E. Moeller, friend and traveling companion of Mrs. John F. Hylan, wife of the mayor of New York, was found bound and gagged in her room at a prominent hotel early last night. The room had been looted by burglars. Mrs. Hylan was not in the apartment at the time. Mrs. Moeller and Mrs. Hylan arrived here a week ago to attend the Democratic national convention.

The robber secured six diamond rings valued at $1,000 each, a jeweled wristwatch valued at $600, a beaded purse containing $70 in bills and numerous trinkets of lesser value.

According to the statement made by Mrs. Moeller to the police, the robber forced his way into her apartment and levelling a revolver at her head, ordered her to throw up her hands. The bandit backed her into a bathroom, and with a threat told her to keep quiet. He then proceeded to ransack the room.

While he was searching the apartment Mrs. Moeller peeped out, she said, and was noticed by the robber, who seized her, stuffed a towel into her mouth, and bound her arms and legs with towels. As he left the apartment he jerked the telephone from the wall.

Mrs. Moeller is the widow of a wealthy sugar merchant of New York.

THREE ARE INJURED WHEN PLANE FALLS

$12,000 Seaplane Is Wrecked Near Montreal.

Montreal, July 5.—Three men had a narrow escape from death, but suffered only slight cuts and bruises, when a Curtiss "Sea Gull" seaplane, valued at $12,000, side-slipped from a height of 75 feet into shallow water during the regatta of the Grand Trunk Boating Club, near Verdun, on Saturday afternoon. The men are F. G. Adamson, pilot of the machine; A. Flavelle, owner, and H. Laing, of this city, a passenger. The machine was practically wrecked, only the engine being of any further use. It had been built in the United States, and its owner and pilot arrived here Friday night after making a flight from Atlantic City. They were to have flown on to Cleveland from here yesterday.

RAILWAYS RUSHING COAL SHIPMENTS

More Than 500 Cars Came Across the Border Yesterday.

Strenuous efforts are being made by the railways to relieve the great coal shortage prevailing throughout Western Ontario as the result of labor troubles earlier in the season. According to Superintendent C. Forrester of the local division of the G. T. R., more cars crossed the border at Fort Erie on Sunday than on any one day for many months. A total of 735 cars, three-quarters of which were coal, crossed the river on that day. In normal times 400 cars is considered a big day's business.

Sunday was a big day at Sarnia, according to Mr. Forrester, as over 1,000 cars passed through the tunnel. Detroit is still tied up to some extent.

THOUSANDS ARE DISCHARGED.

Osaka, Japan, July 5.—Twenty thousand working people were discharged here in June because of the economic depressions. They included 6,500 women. Many small factories have been closed in other cities.

MORE CO-OPERATION IS NEEDED BETWEEN BRITAIN AND U. S.

Sir George E. Foster Speaks Before Combined Conferences.

Ottawa, July 5.—That a greater degree of understanding and a larger measure of co-operation were essential between the two great English-speaking nations of the world in order that the wounds of war might be speedily healed was particularly emphasized by Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, in a powerful and comprehensive address before the joint congregations of Knox Presbyterian and Dominion Methodist churches in Knox Church last night.

Sir George, after indicating the strength of the ties of race, language and ideals, expressed his hope that the United States would play her allotted part in the community of nations and lamented that the republic to the south had not entered the covenant of the League of Nations. Resorting to imagery, he pictured the world as a sick man and declared that it was his opinion that the period of convalescence had not yet commenced. The period of healing, he believed, would be accomplished faster and with more surety if the United States, now a world power, joined with the British Empire in the work.

ORANGEMEN LIKELY TO GO TO PORT HURON

Local Lodges Plan Big Celebration For Next Monday.

London Orangemen have not yet definitely decided just where they will walk on the glorious Twelfth. It is most likely they will go to Port Huron to celebrate the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, but this will not be absolutely certain until after a meeting of the representatives of all the local lodges in the Orange Hall on Saturday night. The fact that the Twelfth comes on Monday, and that it would scarcely be feasible to arrange a picnic at Springbank or Port Stanley between Saturday night and Monday morning, makes almost certain the probability that Port Huron will be the place of celebration. The majority of the local lodges appear to favor a trip to the American border town next Monday, a large number of Lambton County lodges having already decided to celebrate there, and there will be a large gathering of Michigan Orangemen.

A picnic at Springbank was proposed, but failed to meet with the support of the majority of local Orangemen.

TEMPORARY HELP OF CITY ASSESSOR IS BEING RELEASED

Regular Staff Will Complete Remainder of the Work.

Six temporary assistants in the city assessment department have been released and four more will leave the city's service at the end of this month. The outside work in connection with the assessment, in which the majority of these men were engaged, has been completed. The remainder of the assessment for 1921 will be completed by the regular office staff.

Reports have been made already on Ward 4 and Ward 3 assessment. The two remaining wards will likely be completed by the end of August.

Re-organization of the department and efforts to equalize assessment throughout the city will be well under way by that date. J. G. Richter, who was appointed by the council to co-operate with Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant in the re-organization will begin his duties some time in August.

Present indications are that the assessment for 1921 will show an increase of about six million dollars over that for this year. Ward 4 has been increased $1,607,579, and Ward 3 has been increased $1,281,333. This indicates a general increase on all properties and is not being accomplished without protest from the citizen affected.

Many Ward 4 ratpayers protested their assessment, but in every case the court of revision upheld the assessors.

BOY LOSES FINGERS.

South Norwalk, Conn., July 5.—William Hawley, aged 10, of New Canaan, blew three fingers off his left hand while playing with a revolver at his home yesterday afternoon. He is the first victim of the Fourth.

DEMOCRATS ARE TRYING HARD TO BREAK DEADLOCK

Cox and McAdoo Supporters Are Highly Confident of Success.

MANY "DARK" HORSES

President Wilson Receives But Two Votes On Last Ballot.

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—The Democratic national convention went into its ninth session and its twenty-third ballot today for a presidential nominee. There was nothing to indicate that any marked change was in prospect from the last roll call of Saturday night.

The twenty-second ballot had left the four leaders: Cox, 430; McAdoo, 372½; Palmer, 166; Davis, 52. A remaining 70 votes were scattered among the favorite son contenders, Owen, Glass, Cummings, with two recorded for President Wilson and a couple for Champ Clark.

Both McAdoo and Cox supporters were emphatic in claims for victory today, but they had no definite basis for their confidence to make public.

It has been a rule of Democratic conventions under the two-thirds nomination rule, that the first man to secure a majority, which would be 548 votes on the full roll of this convention, got the nomination. President Wilson's first nomination at Baltimore in 1912 was an exception into which unusual circumstances entered.

Dark horse speculation still was running riot today. Almost every living Democrat who ever got headline prominence in a newspaper, was trotted out at one time or another.

DEMOCRATS LOOK FOR "DARK HORSE" TO BREAK DEADLOCK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The day of rest brought to the Democratic national convention no release from its 22-ballot deadlock and no promise of relief tomorrow.

Fruitless search for a dark horse who could win left the tired, muddled and even exasperated forces with nothing more tangible than likelihood of a straight-out fight between Cox and McAdoo and growing hopes that a Moses would spring up from somewhere to lead them out of the wilderness.

There was spirited guessing at what

Berlin, July 5.—Lord Abernon, the newly-appointed British ambassador to Germany, presented his credentials to President Ebert yesterday. He declared that "the world crisis will be overcome only by general collaboration of which the basis is maintained of firm, friendly alliances and strict execution of the peace treaty."

He asserted that in accepting the task of restoring relations between the two great nations he counted on the goodwill and collaboration of the German Government.

President Ebert replied that the German people shared the firm resolution of their government to face their obligations to the limit.

22 PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM INDIANA JAIL

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—Twenty-two prisoners, including two "lifers," escaped from the Marion County jail early this morning, after having knocked the night jailer unconscious, and taking his keys as he was making the rounds.

The first the police knew of the delivery was when a patrolman on an outlying beat reported he had arrested three suspicious-looking characters in the railroad yards and found they were inmates supposed to be confined at the jail. On investigation, the night jailer was found lying unconscious in the corridor. One of the prisoners sewed a bar loose from the window, struck him over the head with it as he was making the rounds, took his keys, released the others and the whole of them walked out of the building without being noticed. It was several hours later that the escape was discovered.

Special details of police were called out and were scouring the country and searching all outgoing trains, but at an early hour none of the others had been apprehended.

LIQUOR-MAKING EQUIPMENT IS FOUND BURIED UNDER KITCHEN

Raid Made by Police At Home of John Wannamaker Results in Interesting Discovery—Man Previously Convicted and Again Wanted Cannot Be Found.

As a result of a visit to the Wannamaker home on East street Saturday evening by Inspector Birrell and Sergt. Lucas, with Constables Middaugh and Tomlin, of the local police force, Nellie Wannamaker appeared in police court today charged with being in unlawful possession of apparatus for the purpose of manufacturing spirits contrary to the inland revenue act. She pleaded not guilty to the charge.

"Your husband is also charged," stated Magistrate Graydon, "Where is he?"

"I have not seen him since three weeks ago Saturday," she declared. "I am living at 757 Hill street."

She stated that following a quarrel she separated from John Wannamaker, her husband, and admitted that he had served a three months' term in the county jail here as a result of being convicted on a similar charge some time ago.

Mrs. Wannamaker then gave her own bail of $100 to appear for trial when called upon to do so. She will be ordered to appear when her husband is apprehended by the police, and promised not to leave the city in the meantime.

The police visit to the Wannamaker house netted paraphernalia for the manufacture of liquor, in addition to twelve bottles of what the police have designated "hard tack," and three barrels of a mysterious looking but pleasant smelling fluid, with a fourth barrel containing molasses. The police state that the fluid, which will be analyzed, could be detected by its odor before the house was entered. The apparatus captured was buried in the kitchen about nine inches deep, and was unearthed by the raiding squad.

Until Wannamaker is located by the police the case will stand, and the booty will repose at Carling street police headquarters under the watchful eye of Acting Chief of Police Robert Birrell. When asked what led up to the raid he stated, "We had suspicions for some time."

Mellor, who is with her, declared that he will marry her as soon as possible, and go again to Canada.

FAVORS BORDEN AS FIRST AMBASSADOR

New York Newspaper Regards Premier As an Ideal Diplomat.

New York, July 5.—(By Canadian Press).—Commenting on the retirement of Sir Robert Borden, the Sunday Evening Telegram, in an editorial says:

"The Borden Government will probably be the best remembered because of the greatest innovation of all, through which Canada will be represented directly at Washington and matters concerning the two friendly neighbors will be settled without the intervention of the British ambassador.

"If Sir Robert were to become the first minister to Washington it would give the office distinction from the beginning. He has every equipment for the place, including the essential one of sympathy with Americans and American institutions."

BORDEN'S FUTURE WORK.

London, July 5.—By Canadian Press.—The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial, foresees important effects of Sir Robert Borden's retirement upon Canadian international and internal politics, including the dissolution of the Unionist combination and the creation of a new party, but it also suggests that now an even wider sphere of usefulness may lie open to him in bearing the leading part in framing a new scheme of Empire government, the temporary and elastic form of which owed so much to his inception and influence.

DELEGATES TO SPA CONFERENCE HAVE PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN

First Session Lasted Only Twenty Minutes.

Spa, Belgium, July 5.—Allied and German delegates to the conference to be held here this week met this morning for their first session, which lasted only twenty minutes. Adjournment was then taken until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Konstantin Fehrenbach, German chancellor and head of that country's delegation, kept the Allied premiers waiting for ten minutes, being late in reaching Villa Fraineuse, where the conference is being held. Premier Millerand of France was prompt as usual, being the first to arrive. Count Sforza, Italian foreign minister, was next to arrive, being followed by Viscount Chinda, Japanese ambassador to Great Britain. Premier Lloyd George was the last of the allied representatives to reach the villa.

When Herr Fehrenbach's car rode up the winding hill road to the beautiful Louis XVI. villa the Allied delegates were all assembled—three from each delegation—and an army of photographers awaited. When the German chancellor alighted from the car, he smilingly consented to be photographed, and then entered the villa with alert step. He was followed by two of his colleagues, after which the session was declared opened.

JAPANESE PREMIER UPHOLDS ACTION OF HIS GOVERNMENT

Tokio, July 5.—Action by the government in dissolving the last house of representatives was attacked in the Diet Saturday by M. Nakashoji, former minister of agriculture, and M. Shimoda, who contended the government should respect the decision of the diet to grant universal suffrage without referring the question to the nation. They based their argument on the claim that the Diet represented the nation.

Premier Hara replied it was improper to adopt universal suffrage without giving a trial to the amended election law, which extends the right of voting. He declared, therefore, the government was justified in appealing to the people.

DUBLIN WORKERS DEMAND RELEASE OF JAS. LARKIN

Resolution For His Liberation Passed At Big Gathering.

SEND NOTE TO U. S.

American Government Will Be Asked To Return Labor Leader.

Dublin, July 5.—At a public meeting held yesterday resolutions were passed demanding the release of James Larkin, head of the Transport Workers' Union, who is serving a sentence in New York having been found guilty of criminal anarchy.

The resolution requested facilities for the return of Larkin to Ireland, and called upon the Dublin workers to cease their labors for two hours Monday for the purpose of signing a memorial to the United States Government for the release of Larkin.

PREMIER NORRIS IS EXPECTED TO HAVE WORKING MAJORITY

Union of the Opposing Parties Could Overthrow Administration.

Winnipeg, July 5.—There does not promise to be any open development in the Manitoba political situation in the immediate future. The situation is that Premier Norris will command the largest single group in the new legislature, but that he cannot carry on the government without support from some members who were elected on independent or other party lines. No other single group is in a position to replace the Norris Government, but a union of opposing groups would suffice to overturn the administration, of course. In the near future there will take place two deferred elections in The Pas and Rupert's Land, in both of which it is now stated the government will have opposition, either from Labor or Conservative candidates or both.

The Manitoba Free Press quotes "a semi-official course" as authority to the statement that Premier Norris "would have about thirty members behind him at the coming session," of whom 21 are to be straight government supporters, and nine or ten who would give him a general support on vital matters. This would constitute a working majority in a house of 55, it is said.

The Manitoba Legislature does not meet until early in the year, so there is plenty of time for negotiations should no extraordinary event occur to change the situation.

HOUSING COMMISSION IS PLANNING SPECIAL OPENING CEREMONIES

Public Will Be Invited To Inspect Model Dwelling.

CENTURY MARK PASSED

More Than One Hundred Homes Now in Process of Construction.

With more than 100 houses under construction, the housing commission is planning a special ceremony this month to mark the completion of a number of the residences. Pine Lawn, on the Hamilton road, where 42 houses are being built, or Garfield avenue, where fifteen dwellings are being erected, will likely be chosen as the site for the event.

Arrangements will be made with a local furnishing store to equip one of the new houses from cellar to garret ready for occupation. The most interesting feature of the program will be the unlocking of the house doors for the first time. This will throw the house open to public inspection and citizens will have an opportunity to learn from observation just what the housing commission has been doing since its inception. A few houses were completed last year, but the greater number were started this year. The hundredth building permit was taken out last week. Since that time several more dwellings have been commenced.

The summer season is offering a short respite to the commissioners. Summer resorts are relieving the city of much of its surplus population and the demand for houses has decreased somewhat. E. R. Dennis, chairman of the commission, predicts that the house shortage will be just as acute this autumn, however, as it has been during the past two years, and that every house which the commission can complete will be needed.

The chief efforts are being centred on Pine Lawn and Garfield avenue, but many single houses are being built for applicants in all parts of the city. None of the group houses will be sold until they are completed.

FREE TRANSPORTATION TO PORT STANLEY FOR ATHLETIC TEAMS

Commissioners Hope To Boost Amateur Sport At the Lakeside.

Revival of the former keen interest in amateur sport in London may result from the decision of the London and Port Stanley Railway commission today to furnish free transportation to athletic teams of any kind wishing to make use of the Port Stanley grounds for team games.

The plan was suggested by Commissioner R. W. Shaw and the other commissioners were heartily in favor of it. Efforts will be made to stage a first-class amateur ball game at the picnic grounds every Saturday afternoon. Commissioner Shaw said that many local manufacturers' teams had an enthusiastic following, but that they were handicapped by the lack of suitable ball grounds.

At present picnic parties engaging bands to play at Port Stanley are allowed free transportation for the bandsmen, and by extending this privilege, athletic teams will also benefit by it.

Nothing was done in regard to the rental of concessions on the board walk owned by the railway commission, although it was reported that owners of private concessions were renting them for $10 a foot. Manager Richards was planning to have the city concessions rented, but his illness prevented the completion of the plans. It is likely that they will be rented next year, as it is estimated that they will bring a rental of $5,000 to the city.

Following the transaction of other minor business, the commission adjourned for the summer.

FINED FOR CARRYING DANGEROUS WEAPON

Stanley Addley Threw Away Long Knife When Police Approached.

Stanley Addley, a local youth, pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon, and was assessed $10 and costs, by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, for the privilege. Addley, according to the evidence, engaged in an altercation with another youth, during which a long knife was drawn. When Constable A. Barryman put in an appearance the prisoner fled, throwing away the knife which is about ten inches in length. He may accept the alternative of ten days in jail, the indemnity in cash being conspicuous by its absence at noon today.

LONDON PRESBYTERY TO PICNIC AT PORT

The London Presbytery will picnic at Port Stanley on Tuesday, instead of holding its regular monthly meeting in this city. A short business session will be held prior to the picnic in the Port Stanley Presbyterian Church. A special effort is being made by the picnic committee to induce all the ministers in the surrounding district to attend the outing. An excellent program has been prepared, and in some of the races to be held the clerics will perhaps be caught off their usual dignity.

HEEL FLY CAUSES HEAVY LOSS TO FARMER

Wingham, July 5.—Tupper Scott, a farmer living on con. 2 of Morris Township, lost two valuable young cattle by the heel-fly. The fly caused the animals to run through the fields in the extreme heat. One dropped dead from exhaustion, and the other fell and broke a leg and had to be destroyed. The animals were valued at $100 each.

LABOR PARTY CANDIDATES.

New Glasgow, N. S., July 5.—The Labor party of Pictou County, met in convention at Stellarton on Saturday, at which representatives of the farmers were present. Henry D. Fraser of Trenton was nominated to represent labor in the provincial elections, and Mrs. J. M. Donaldson of New Glasgow was nominated as the second candidate.

EARLY EYE-OPENER PROVED EXPENSIVE

Cleveland Man Fined $200 For Breaking Liquor Law.

Eugene R. Johnston of Cleveland contributed $200 and costs in police court today for having liquor unlawfully in his possession. He was arrested in the Clyde Hotel this morning with Edward Conway and Albert Hinkley, also of Cleveland. Johnston informed the court that they were all drinking the fiery fluid from a glass and bottle when arrested. He stated that he purchased the whiskey from a man whom he met by appointment, the bootlegger coming to London from Port Stanley.

Because he pleaded guilty to the charge, his two companions were discharged. Sergt. Thomas Noonan, with Constables Gow and Frayne, hearing the three disturbers in the hotel this morning about 4 o'clock, broke in on the party with the above disastrous results for Johnston. Four drunks were invited by Magistrate Graydon to sojourn at Castle Carter for ten days in lieu of the $10 registration fee at police court.

AUTO THIEVES TAKE LONDON MAN'S SEDAN BY INGENIOUS PLAN

Stripped It Of Everything Movable and Left It in Street.

Orrin S. Holmes, insurance broker, residing at 435 Piccadilly street, had an unpleasant experience when he motored to Detroit for Dominion Day and fell a victim to clever auto thieves in that city. Holmes visited a friend who owned a private garage, but as this building was occupied by the friend's car, the Londoner parked his new sedan in the yard beside the garage, taking the precaution of locking it.

Next morning his car was missing, and upon instituting a search, the machine was located on a street seven blocks away. It was jacked up, with tires and rims removed. In addition everything which could be removed was taken including a set of tools, and expensive fishing poles and equipment.

The removal of the auto from the Detroit yard was accomplished by a very ingenious method. The thieves ripped off the instrument board, and made a connection between the starter and the batteries with wires, and the car proceeded seven blocks on its own power. That the auto was taken from the yard and connections made so boldly is regarded by the Detroit police, who are working on the case as one of the most audacious of auto thefts committed in that city. The occupants of the house nearby heard no noise made by the miscreants at their work.

Holmes lost his tires and equipment, but is the gainer of two jacks, three being found under the car, although there was only one left by the owner on retiring. The booty removed is valued at about $200, which was covered by theft insurance.

C. P. R. KEEPS WORD AND RETURNS JOBS TO WAR VETERANS

Company Finds Places For Many Other Returned Soldiers.

Toronto, July 5.—Every C. P. R. employee enlisting for war service was told that "his job would be waiting for him when he came back." Up to June authenticated statistics show that 11,018 C. P. R. men joined the forces. Of these 1,096 were killed in action or died of wounds, etc., while with the colors; 2,084 were incapacitated by wounds, leaving 7,838 presumably available for re-engagement in the company's services. Some of these, however, re-enlisted in the permanent forces, while others chose to remain in England or formed other business connections. The remaining 6,914 are all again working for the company. In addition to thus reabsorbing its own man-power contribution to the war requirements, the company since the armistice was signed has found employment for 10,726 other returned soldiers not previously on its pay roll and now musters 17,640 war veterans—enough to form a complete army division of four brigades. All lines of the Canadian national railways system gave up 5,000 odd employees for war service, of whom 50 per cent approximately have been re-established.

STRANGE SICKNESS IS PREVALENT AT WINGHAM

Theory That It Was Caused by Milk Is Disproved.

WINGHAM, July 3.—A sickness which has not as yet been definitely diagnosed has been troubling quite a number of both adults and children in town during the past week or two. The outstanding symptoms of the complaint have been sickness of the stomach and diarrhoea.

It was at first thought that the trouble was caused by milk from cows which had eaten some noxious weed while pasturing, but a test of the milk failed to show any reason for the sickness, and as some of the patients were found to be non-milk users this theory had to be abandoned.

The local doctors are of the opinion that the sickness is a form of influenza which has attacked the stomach. Another feature of the disease has been an excessive running from the eyes and nose, and in some cases it is said even to affect the ears.

The sickness is said to develop very quickly generally, beginning with chills. No deaths have been reported, and those patients first attacked are reported well on the road to recovery.

J. B. HAY PICNIC ONE OF BEST OF SEASON

All Employees Enjoy Real Day's Outing At Grand Bend.

One of the most enjoyable outings of the season was that of the J. B. Hay Company at Grand Bend on Saturday. It was not only a half-day affair, for the factory and the store were closed during the whole day. Packed into six motor cars the happy party, which numbered 52, set out for the Bend.

Most exciting of the features of the day was a baseball game between the factory and the store, in which the latter aggregation was victorious, but only by a single run, the score being 7 to 6.

The program of sports was one that held much interest, both for spectators and contestants. The results follow:

Boys' race, 100 yards—Willie Finlayson.

Ladies' race, 50 yards—Miss McIntosh, Miss A. Dicks.

Men's race, 100 yards—Ronnie Hart, Ben Blackwell.

Wheelbarrow race (mixed)—Miss L. Bowles and Jan Versta.

In a tug-of-war, in which both sexes took a hand, the factory proved a little stronger than the store.

The relay race for five-man teams was won by the store.

Following the races everybody went for a cooling dip in Lake Huron.

To find the Mystery Man was one of the tasks of the day. Miss Durham proved to have the best detective ability of the party, for she found him in A. J. Warrick.

Two things, that in the opinion of all of the merrymakers were not the least of the items on the day's program, were the meals served by the girls, who showed that they could provide "eats" in a manner that would satisfy the appetite of the most scrupulous man on earth.

After giving three cheers and a tiger (they could have been heard on the shores of Michigan), for President J. B. Hay, the party started on the home stretch.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

SUNDAY CONCERTS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

During the past week we have been treated to a form of mild amusement by the storm in a teacup raised by the Lord's Day Alliance against Sunday band concerts.

Now that the storm has temporarily subsided we fail to see where the L. D. A. has convinced the general public that the Lord's Day act was framed to prohibit anyone from taking up a collection on Sunday unless he be a member of the Lord's Day Alliance.

If any evidence was necessary to prove that the ministers were not sincere in their claim that the Sabbath must be kept sacred for the worship of God, it is found in announcements in the local papers informing the public that the regular worship of God had been cancelled for Sunday evening in the First Methodist Church in order to give way for a "mass meeting" to be held, to which the public were invited to listen to a lecture on the temperance question.

Now we are not opposed to a sane temperance movement. We have advocated it through the columns of The Advertiser for years past, but it cannot be denied that the temperance question is a vital political question, and when we read that the worshipping of God had to be cancelled in order that paid lecturers, who are prominent in Canadian politics, might propagate their politics from the pulpit, our soul rebels at such a procedure, and we feel that the Lord's Day Alliance is straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel when they frown on Sunday band concerts but allow their Sunday evening pulpits to be given over to politicians.

If the pulpits are to be given over to politics, we would respectfully ask the Lord's Day Alliance to furnish the veterans with a vacant pulpit and a "mass meeting" next Sunday in order that they may discuss the political system that allows members of Parliament to increase their own salaries but refuses any further increase to the gratuities of war-scarred veterans.

Respectfully yours,
FRED YOUNG.

WASTEFUL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Regarding the statement made in a recent newspaper article that the imperial munitions board contemplates the destruction of 20,000 tons of cordite, which it is claimed is of no use commercially, and for which there is no sale, it is absurd to think that this supply of explosive could not be utilized for any other purpose than the useless generation of a few billion calories of heat.

Why could not this supply of cordite be taken over by the department of agriculture and be used experimentally in the demolition of stumps, digging of ditches, etc., or be issued to settlers of wooded districts for the purpose of clearing their farms in place of the laborious method of burning and digging out the stumps? It might also be used for the purpose of breaking up ice-jams in the spring, to prevent the destruction of property, if such things ever occurred.

It is true that when cordite is ignited by means of fuses, it has no blasting effect, but when handled properly and exploded by means of detonators and primers of dry gun-cotton, even though the rate of communication of detonation in it is low as compared with that of gun-cotton, it has practically the same blasting force as that of gun-cotton itself.

As to the unsaleability of cordite as pointed out in the statement referred to, it is difficult to conceive of such being the state of affairs. It is presumed that at least a large portion of the cordite is in the form of small sticks as used in the manufacture of service ammunition. Would not the Dominion Cartridge Company take over a portion of this supply and utilize it in the manufacture of .303 service and revolver ammunition? Again, this cordite would be ideal for use in the manufacture of high power sporting ammunition which at present costs from 7c to 9c per shot. No doubt numerous companies manufacturing such ammunition would be only too glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining cheap supplies of explosive of this nature.

Assuming that the cordite is not all in the form of fine stocks, why could not this supply of cordite be preserved after the manner adopted by the French Government? The local papers recently stated that the French Government had placed its surplus of explosives manufactured for war purposes at the bottom of a lake, where it can be preserved for years, and where it is available in case of emergency. Would it cost any more to have this supply placed in some nearby lake than to hire a staff and rent a large farm for the purpose of destroying it?

Cordite is an explosive, waterproof compound made by dissolving in acetone gun-cotton (nitro-cellulose) 65 per cent, nitro glycerine 30 per cent, and petroleum jelly 5 per cent. Cordite could be left for years in water without being affected to any appreciable extent by the action of the water; even if such were the case, the gun-cotton which forms about 65 per cent of the compound, would not deteriorate in the slightest degree. It is a well-known fact that the supplies of gun-cotton used by the allies during the war for demolition purposes, were kept moist to render it safe in handling, which did not lessen its blasting force when detonated.

Perhaps in the course of 20 years' time Great Britain might have urgent need for 20,000 tons of high explosives, which would take a considerable time to manufacture, and which might then cost $10,000,000 to produce.

PLACING THE GUNS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Will you kindly allow me a little space in your valuable paper, so as to write about the placing of the German guns recently received in our city?

The question is, where are they to be placed? I, as a reader of your paper, understand that our mayor is in charge of the placing of the guns.

But may I suggest a few places as to where they ought to be placed?

One should be placed at the corner of Egerton and Dundas streets, in front of the fair grounds subway. In this part of the city many soldiers enlisted for King and country, and I think that they would like to have one placed there.

Another place for a gun would be at the corner of Egerton street and the Hamilton road. It should be placed facing east right in the centre of the green grass there, as many of our soldiers fought and sacrificed their lives in that district for freedom's cause.

The proposed Federal Square—when we get it—should have at least two guns.

Victoria Park and other parks the rest of the guns. I am sure that East London deserves something for what they have done for us in the recent war. This is just a suggestion of what I think East London should have. I remain,

SUCCESSFUL CELEBRATION

Four Thousand People Witness Sports, Etc., at Merlin.

Merlin, July 3.—Four thousand people attended the most successful Dominion Day celebration held here in several years. The day's program opened with a callithumpian and decorated float parade. The winners of the prizes offered for the best decorated floats were won by John Strout, a ferris wheel float, and Mrs. S. Walter, with a car representing Young Canada, in the order named.

There was a good entry for the athletic events, and a number of exciting contests were witnessed. Two exhibition flights by an aviator from Wallaceburg and passenger flights provided many thrills for the spectators.

The open-air concert provided by London talent was greatly enjoyed.

Three exhibition, seven-inning games were played by the leaders of the Kent and Essex leagues. The first game between Blenheim and Merlin resulted in a win for Merlin by a score of 10 to 0; the second between Tilbury and Windsor was won by the Tilbury nine, 12 to 6; in the third game, Tilbury, leaders in the Kent baseball league, and Merlin, leaders of the Essex League, were matched, and the game, which was closely watched, resulted after a close fight in a win for the Essex leaders by 7 to 6.

GAS CO. REPORT TO BE CONSIDERED BY COMMITTEE TODAY

Auditors Decide That Increase of $120,000 Per Year Is Required.

WHOLE REPORT PUBLIC

The City Officials Recommend That Advance Be Effective Only Six Months.

The special gas committee of the city council will meet today to consider the report of the city auditors, Dale and Screaton, on the City Gas Company which was completed last week. Although under procedure rules of the council reports of this nature are not usually made public until presented to the committee this one was given out in detail. According to the auditors a total of $120,000 in the yearly revenue of the gas company is required which could be furnished by a 40-cent increase in the price of gas placing it at $1.30 per 1,000 cubic feet. The auditors recommend that such an increase should be only of six months' duration at the most owing to the condition of the oil and coal markets, which are on a state of fluctuation.

No provision is made for interest on capital invested or depreciation charges.

While the report will be of general interest it remains to be seen what benefit the citizens will derive from it through the actions of the special committee. So far the council has accepted the ruling of the city solicitor that only the Legislature can grant an increase in the price of gas. If this is upheld the committee will be unable to do anything, even if it admits that the company needs the increase.

The service charge of 85 cents per month per customer becomes effective this month. The special committee asked the city auditors to examine the gas company's books in order to have a basis for discussing the matter with the company to see if a more equitable arrangement could be made.

Auditors' Report.

The report presented by the auditors was as follows:

July 2, 1920.

To the Chairman and Members of the Special Gas Committee.

Gentlemen: Following your instruction "to report on the financial standing of the City Gas Company to determine the amount necessary to keep the company in operation, under present conditions," we beg to report as follows:

We have examined the books, statements and accounts of the company from the year 1914 to the present time, every facility being afforded us in our investigation.

The principal reasons for asking for an advance at this time are the conditions of the coal and oil markets.

The state of the coal market, owing to the strikes of last fall and this spring, the shortage in transportation, and the foreign demand, renders it very difficult to determine a settled price. One half of the quantity used has been contracted for, the balance must be secured in the open market.

The advance in price on the amount contracted for is $1.29 per ton, on that to be purchased at the market price, $7.93 per ton. These prices are as furnished by the company and as verified by their books and correspondence. eW have made outside confidential inquiries from independent sources and find the situation warrants this increase, and even an advance in the quantity not contracted for.

The same conditions prevail in the oil market, the supply not keeping pace with the demand. The advance, estimated by the company at eight cents per gallon, we find, after the same investigation from reliable, independent sources, to be more than this amount at the present time, with prospects of a further increase.

WAGES ACCOUNT.

The amount paid for wages during the year 1920 will be $15,000 more than in 1919. Taxes paid in 1920 are $3,066 more than in 1919. There has been a loss in operation for the months of March, April, May and June, of $5,738.00. These are provided for in our estimate. There is an estimated increase in the price of necessary repairs to keep the plant in operation of $7,000. The renewal of "Benches" operating a number of retorts has been delayed on account of shortage of funds. The costs of renewal of the seven benches in operation is $21,000. Three of these must be renewed this year at a cost of $9,000, but we think the cost should be spread over the life of a bench—four years—and have allowed $5,250 for this purpose.

A summary of the increase required to keep the company in operation shows from the foregoing advances, to be as follows:

Increase in cost of coal	$69,160 00
Increase in cost of oil	48,240 00
Increase in wages	15,000 00
Increase in cost of upkeep	7,000 00
Increase in taxes	3,066 00
Increase in Workmen's Compensation Board	631 00
Renewal of benches	5,250 00
Sundry increases in interest, etc	754 00
Losses for the months of March, April, May and June	5,738 00
Allowance for unseen expenditures, increases and loss of consumers	7,671 00
	$162,500 00

Per contra—We estimate an increase in the sale of coke, tar, etc., from the advanced prices of these products of	$14,904 00
We also eliminate a net surplus (expended in construction) from the operation of the year 1919	27,596 00
		$ 42,500 00
Leaving the total advance to be provided for		$120,000 00

On the basis of production for 1919 (which is an average) of 300,000,000 feet, an advance of 40 cents per 1,000 feet is required to meet this increase, making the cost $1.30 per 1,000 feet.

In the year 1917 a dividend of less than three per cent was paid. In the years 1918 and 1919 no dividend was paid.

It is to be understood that in the foregoing estimate no provision has been made for interest on capital invested, dividend, or depreciation of any kind.

On account of the abnormal state of the coal and oil markets, the fluctuations in the rate of exchange, we would suggeste that the advance proposed be limited to six or nine months, when a further examination might be made.

We are, yours very truly,

ANDREW DALE,
A. SCREATON,
City Auditors.

BOTH SIDES ARE STANDING FIRM IN HODCARRIERS' STRIKE

Some of the Men Have Gone To Windsor and Hamilton.

SEVENTY CENTS AN HOUR

Several Contractors Have Come To an Arrangement With Men.

Contrary to anticipations, no steps towards a settlement of the hodcarriers' walkout materialized today, and the strike is still in full force. Both sides claim to be getting along quite satisfactorily and there is no indication of any inclination of either to weaken.

Altogether the strikers' committee claims to have secured the signatures of six or seven contractors accepting the demand for a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour. Among these contractors are Richard Hill, A. Steele, A. Johnston, Scott Murray and T. O Martin. These contractors have taken their pick of the union strikers and the men have returned to work. A few of the strikers have also left London, going to Detroit, Windsor, Hamilton and Cleveland, where wages of 70 cents or more are being offered in their line. A few also have secured other lines of work at wages preferable to what they received before the strike. The majority, however, are still reporting at strike headquarters.

Builders Opposed.

At the meeting of the Builders' Exchange held Saturday evening, the majority of the members were opposed to offering any further concessions to the strikers. The larger contractors claimed to be only very slightly inconvenienced or affected by the strike. Some of the smaller contractors admitted they were handicapped to a considerable extent, but the big contractors swayed the meeting, and there appears little, if any possibility, of the builders and contractors as a body through the exchange accepting the men's demands. The probability is that more contractors will meet the wage demands of the workers individually, one firm at a time, until the strike gradually ends by the strikers either securing other employment or gradually returning to work as the smaller firms meet their demands. In the long run, the strikers believe that the big contractors now working with non-union men, will have to pay increased wages, and a fair average increase will be gained for both union and non-union men.

Likely to Continue.

It is quite possible that the strike will continue until the end of the week. That will mean two weeks' holidays in all for some of the men, and it is thought practically all will have returned to work at the wages asked, or changed their occupation by the end of the week. Rather than return to work at the old scale of wages, the men are practically unanimous in saying they will turn to other lines of work. Although work is not overly plentiful just now, a hundred or so men can be assimilated easily enough, and the probability is that there will be few hodcarriers who will need to return at the old wages. The strike headquarters is now maintained at the Labor Temple, immediately east of the city hall.

Some criticism has been raised of the action of the plasterers' laborers going on strike along with the bricklayers' assistants. The strikers claim that a man is just as much a hodcarrier if he carries plaster up a ladder or stairway as if he carried brick or mortar.

RED CROSS BUILDING TO BE USED AS SCHOOL

Structure Is Now Being Transferred From Carling Heights.

Transfer of a former Red Cross recreation building was commenced today from Carling Heights to a site on Quebec street between Piccadilly and Oxford streets, where it will be used as the nucleus of a four-roomed school for the northeastern section of the city. This is the first part of the extensive school building program to be started.

Repairs and additions at Ealing will be commenced immediately and tenders on additions to Victoria and Wortley road schools have been called for.

The regular meeting of the board will be held Tuesday afternoon. Most of the important business has been disposed of at special meetings during the past month, but there will be quite a number of officials' reports to deal with in connection with the closing of the schools for the summer.

LOCAL NEWS

PICNIC WEDNESDAY.—The annual picnic of the members of Knox Church, South London, will be held at Springbank on Wednesday.

PERMITS LIGHT.—Building has not shown any great activity so far this month. Only five permits have been taken out for a total of $7,055. In July, last year, there was a total of $171,200.

BROUGHDALE SCHOOL.—Excavation has commenced for the new $15,000 school to be erected at Broughdale this summer. The plans were prepared by Architect W. G. Murray, and J. H. Moran has the contract.

IS IN GUELPH.—R. A. Finn, Ontario agricultural representative for London and district is in Guelph today attending the annual conference of agricultural representatives being held in the Ontario Agricultural College. The conference will be in session all week.

ELECT OFFICERS.—At the regular meeting of the boys' work board of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon at Springbank, Rev. C. W. Foreman was elected president, and G. T. E. Martin first vice-president. The remaining officers have not yet been named. The fall program will be announced shortly.

STORAGE BUILDING.—Another addition to hydro-electric equipment in London will be commenced immediately. A building permit was taken out today for a one-story, metal-covered, electrical storage building, to cost $6,000. The work will be done by the commission.

WILL RESUME.—Adjutant J. Wright, who for the past three months has been working in connection with the jubilee self-denial campaign of the Salvation Army, will shortly resume his duties as commander of the London No. 1 Corps of the Salvation Army. Adjutant Wright had command of the north district of the London division in the campaign.

MAY BE RESUMED.—Concrete work in connection with the addition to the Springbank reservoir may be commenced this week. Nearly all the eecavation necessary has been completed, and preparations are being made for the next stage of the work. Good supplies of material are on hand, and it is expected that there will be no delay once operations are started.

MAKE IT COUNT.—"Try to plan things so as to make your vacation count," said Rev. T. A. Symington, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, South London, in the course of his sermon last evening. "So many people waste their holiday completely and come home far more tired out in every way than when they went away." The pastor based his sermon on the journey of the Ethiopian to Jerusalem and his meeting while on his return from his holiday trip with Philip, who made clear to him the message of the gospel.

CHIEF'S RESIGNATION IS NOT YET RECEIVED

Much Speculation At Police Headquarters As To When It Will Come.

Strict silence regarding the intentions of Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams is being observed by officials at police headquarters, who although the chief's leave of absence expired July 1, profess ignorance of same. So far as is known locally, the chief is still in Portland, Oregon, where he spent his two months' vacation. On being quizzed today, the police officials stated that no one around headquarters had received any information whatever from the chief, whose correspondence list is said to be very limited as far as his colleagues are concerned.

Although it is generally believed throughout the city that the chief will not resume his duties, but will retire on resignation, the said resignation is not forthcoming, or some official on the department is not following the precedent set by George Washington in the cherry tree classic. Chief Williams has now overstayed his leave five days, and when this period increases to 21 days he may be considered a deserter by returned soldier members of the force, although it is not likely that an escort will be sent to the Pacific coast to bring him back.

When the much-mooted resignation does arrive, the police commission will meet to consider it, and the fact that there is no meeting scheduled at present, according to members of the commission, indicates that Chief Williams has not resigned. Meanwhile his duties are being performed by Inspector Robert Birrell who is one of the candidates for the office, with Sergeant of Detectives Thomas Nickle on the horizon of public opinion as his greatest competitor.

EXPECTS DRIVE WILL NET $2,000

Tag Day Netted $600 For the Army and Navy Fund.

Rev. F. R. Hirst, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans' campaign for funds for a soldiers' home in the Niagara district, expects to receive from London about $2,000. Mr. Hirst said this would include private subscriptions, donations from the I. O. D. E. of this city, and contributions from the various churches. The total amount collected on Saturday by selling tags was $600.

"The scheme to build this home for veterans is generally approved, and I have not the slightest doubt," said Mr. Hirst, "that Ontario will measure up in giving liberally to this cause. In England a similar home to that which the veterans intend to purchase has been bought in England, for which the Red Cross alone contributed $75,000."

Rev. Mr. Hirst said: "A small committee of the Chamber of Commerce turned us down, but I am sure if the entire membership of the Chamber of Commerce had been consulted this would not have happened."

Mr. Hirst said the Chamber of Commerce was of the opinion that the scheme for building the home should be under Government control, but this is not wished by the Army and Navy Veterans.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS ARE HAVING FINE OUTING

All is in readiness for the summer camp of the "Y" boys of Western Ontario at Fisher's Glen. On Wednesday, Capt. W. Pierce and four boys from Woodstock, several from Galt, St. Thomas, Hamilton and London, arrived. The tents had not arrived, so they went to cottages, where they remained until Saturday afternoon. On Friday morning, F. G. Poole of the local "Y" arrived, and with the aid of the camp owners succeeded in making a dam for the water supply for the campers. The tents did not arrive till Saturday afternoon. They came to Simcoe in the morning and arrived in Vittoria, the nearest station to the camp, and the work of setting them up was completed today.

On Saturday afternoon the directors went to Port Dover and rented the City of Dover boat for a trip next Wednesday, when they will go to Long Point, a distance of 40 miles.

Twenty-five girls of the Y. W. C. A. camp, which is just four miles from the "Y" camp, will be guests. Next week the boys will take a trip to the "bass grounds of Ontario." The trip will be made by boat.

SAYS REPORT SHOULD DEAL WITH EARNINGS

"The work of schoolboys," was the way in which ex-Ald. H. B. Ashplant today characterized the report of City Auditors Dale and Screaton on the City Gas Company. "They were asked to present a report on the company's financial standing, and they have merely made a report on possible increases in cost to which the company may be subject with in the near future. To be of any real value, the report should show the amount originally invested in the company, and how and what earnings have been made on it since it was invested.

"Their report, however, shows that the compan yhad a net surplus of $27,596 in 1919, which was reinvested in construction. Their losses for the months of March, April, May and June are shown as only $5,738, so they still are ahead considerably. Nothing is said about January and February, so it may be presumed that they had no loss in those months—perhaps a profit."

HUSBAND ORDERED TO PAY $6 A WEEK FOR WIFE'S SUPPORT

Woman Tells Court Pathetic Story About Being Short of Food.

FOUR KIDDIES TO KEEP

John Werner Wanted To Contribute Only $3, But Magistrate Balked.

Charged with non-support by his wife, John J. Werner, of 33 Blackfriars Place, appeared before Magistrate Graydon in police court today, and was ordered to pay her $6 weekly. The case was heard in camera, and the complainant testified that she left her husband a week ago because he ordered her to do so. Continuing, she stated that she married Werner 23 years ago, and that there were eight children, four under age, the youngest being about two years old. She alleged that Werner had not given her a cent for two years, had refused her fuel, and that she worked to clothe herself.

Mrs. Werner further claimed that accused would not allow her to have her bedroom door open in winter to get warm, and that she had to steal gas for cooking purposes during his absence from the house. He broke an agreement regarding supplying the family with food made in police court two years ago, she alleged.

Had Little to Eat.

"I lived on half nothing," she told the court, in tears, "and sent out to the neighbors often for a bite to eat."

Werner, in his defence, denied his wife's allegations. "I have always supported the children, and am willing to support them now," he claimed.

"If you can't get on together, it is much better to separate," said the court, remarking that Mrs. Werner should have custody of the children, unless proven unfit for the task by a higher court.

"Let me see the children," pleaded the defendant, "give me something to live for, and I will sacrifice everything." When asked if she would live with her spouse again, Mrs. Werner replied in the negative. He stated that he earned $20.10 weekly, and was paying for a home. When asked if he could give his wife $7 weekly, Werner stated that it was impossible.

A Mere Pittance.

"I couldn't give her any more than $3 a week," he declared.

"How could she keep herself and four children on that?" asked the magistrate.

Prisoner claimed that she could not, but that he would keep her if she would live with him. He claimed that the other children could contribute to her support.

"You cannot shift your responsibility as a husband onto your children," said the court. "This woman has been working and slaving for these children, and you have utterly failed to fulfill your duties as a father. You must pay her $6 weekly. I think that is an extremely small order to make, and it must be paid to police court clerk starting next Saturday."

Hundreds of Youngsters Enjoyed the Best Kind of a Time.

London's thee playgrounds wee officially thrown open to the childen of the city at 2:15 today. Races, ball games and sports of all kinds ae at full swing in Queen's, Thames and Burkett's Parks, whee the playgrounds are located.

Everything arranged is of an informal character. Baseball teams will be chosen from among the children present, and efforts will be made to have every youngster participate in some of the sports, instead of being merely an onlooker.

ATTENDANCE AT SUMMER SCHOOL IS MUCH LARGER

Seventy-Five Per Cent More Students at Western University.

The third annual session of the Western University Summer School opened today and continues for six weeks. Today being registration day, it is impossible to give the number of students registered, but Dr. K. P. R. Neville, director and chairman of the summer school committee, reports an increase over last year of 75 per cent.

The summer school at Western University is organized especially in the interest of teachers who wish to improve their scholarship and extramural students who find it difficult to give up a whole year at any one time to satisfy the residence requirement for a degree.

Series of Lectures.

A series of general lectures free of charge for summer school students will be provided by members of the faculties of the university and distinguished men from outside the city. Recreation of various kinds will be available for the summer students on the university campus and at different centres in the city. Tennis, bowling, golf and lawn hockey are open to those students interested.

The Western University bulletin, which has been boosting the summer school in the last few issues, publishes the following poem for summer students:

To the teachers of these districts
Round about our country town,
Western Summerites send a greeting
By June's fragrance blown around,
Your school year is almost finished,
And you're tired—so are we;
Gut a welcome waits us ever
In at Western—come and see
How pleasant 'tis to wander
By the banks of winding Thames;
There to seek new fields of knowledge,
And to carry off rare gems
Of thought and inspiration
That we glean when minds we bend
To the pleasant tasks assigned us;
And withal a fitting end
To a year of anxious teaching,
That has had its solace, too.
For 'tis not always marking papers,
And a-wondering who'll get through
Those awful examinations
That confront us year by year.
There's the pleasure in our duty,
Sometimes mingled with a fear
That our work might be accomplished
Somewhat better, for we know
That teachers must be students
Always. So, why not go
To Western with your comrade,
And join the ranks of those
Who are loud in singing praises
Of the summer school repose
That mingles with the labor
Which high study must entail?
Come! Make your plans this moment,
For Western cannot fail
To give you what you're seeking,
And know not where to find.
The summerites want to meet you
In the 1920 squadron line.

CAR TURNS TURTLE, SLIGHTLY INJURING TWO

Alexander Menziers, 109 Duchess avenue, and Pte. A. Dollson, of the A. S. C., here, had a narrow escape from serious injury Saturday night on the Wharncliffe road, south of Brick street, when a light touring car, in which they were riding turned turtle, pinning the two youths beneath the front seat. Excepting for a few bruises, Dollson was not injured, but Menziers was removed from beneath the car in an unconscious condition by a passing Michigan tourist.

His condition today was reported by the hospital to be much better than was feared Saturday night, the accident victim being allowed to walk around the ward, and he will leave for his home in a few days. Dollson is a member of the Army Service Corps stationed here, and is a nephew of the injured man, whom he was taking out for a ride, while testing the car, which was owned by a non-commissioned officer of Wolseley Barracks.

WORK MAY START ON WESTERN UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS THIS YEAR

Likely That Ground Will Be Broken Before Snow Flies.

PLAN TO SPEND MILLION

New Medical School Will Be Opened in September.

The Western University appears to be on the eve of big developments, and plans are under way for the erection of two large buildings to cost approximately one million dollars on the new university site, the Kingsmill farm, in London Township, in 1921. Some ground will probably be broken before the end of the year, and steps will probably be taken to bridge the Thames to give access to the grounds from an extension of Huron street. However, the work of completing the new medical school, and fully equipping it, is a big task that the university board of governors has still on its hands, and it is not deemed advisable to undertake too much new work until the present work is completed.

Tentative Plans.

A tentative building plan for every building that is eventually to be placed on the university campus, has been prepared by the architects, and tentatively approved by the board. The two buildings to be erected next years will be equipped to handle both the arts and science classes for some years and additional buildings will be added gradually. It is not yet decided whether the Middlesex Memorial Hall will be a separate, detached building or a memorial section of either the arts or science buildings.

Probably the arts building will include a general assembly hall, students' clubrooms, university offices and libraries, as well as arts lecture rooms. The science building will be equipped with laboratories for all science subjects likely to be taught in the university for some years, and as special branches are developed as in engineering or other lines, the equipment will be removed to new buildings.

In Charge of Campaign.

Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, who has been appointed executive secretary of the board of governors, will have charge of a campaign throughout the thirteen counties of Western Ontario recognized as the territory of the Western University. Middlesex County has already voted $100,000 to the university, and other counties will be asked to give proportional contributions. A number of donations towards a million-dollar building fund have already been received, one for $25,000 being received only a few days ago from a Londoner, whose name has not yet been made public. The Medical School when equipped and opened in September will have cost in excess of $400,000, and the two other buildings planned will be built on an equally substantial plan.

HATS ARE HATS AT THE PRESENT PRICES

License Inspector Keeps a Close Guard On His Lid.

An amusing incident occurred in police court today in which E. W. Scatcherd, local barrister, and License Inspector J. W. Keenleyside were the principals. The former was prosecuting a case and at the conclusion picked up a straw hat from the lawyer's table and proceeded to leave the courtroom. He had not proceeded many feet, however, when Inspector Kenlyside halted him, and seizing the hat instituted an examination of it which caused the reporters present to observe carefully in order to ascertain if the inspector suspected a hidden bottle of "hooch" in the headgear.

However, the inspector retained the bonnet and after a whispered consultation with him, Mr. Scatcherd returned to the table, and retrieved a similar hat, which he tried on, and left the court smiling sweetly at the licence inspector, who firmly guarded his property.

STONE AGE RELICS FOUND NEAR LONDON

Druid Altar Is Uncovered in Windsor Park by Archaeologist.

London, July 4.—Relics of the stone age and other early periods have recently been discovered in Windsor Great Park. Of great historical variety and interest, these remains date from the Pagan, Roman and Renaissance eras.

A supposed palace of Edward the Confessor was discovered some six months ago by Capt. Vaughan Williams, a British archaeologist, and as a result of his further excavation it is now possible to repeople this particular strip of great forest, as it was for four centuries of its earlier existence.

The ruins of a pagan altar stand in one glade, some 200 yards from the palace. Human bones, reminiscent of Druidical religious sacrifices, strew the ground around it. Within a stone's throw, strangely enough, has been discovered another, a Christian altar. The site is claimed to be that of the temple of King Redwald, of the East Saxons, who is known to have erected two altars side by side—one pagan and the Christian.

Almost under shadow of the crumbling walls of the palace lie the ruins of a kitchen and a ninety-foot banqueting hall of the Roman period, and hard by baths and the floor of the portico of a royal apartment.

CLASH BETWEEN GREEK TROOPS AND ITALIANS

Firing in Smyrna Results in Several Casualties On Both Sides.

LONDON, July 4.—Fighting between Italian and Greek troops near Ajasoluk, on the Aidin railroad southeast of Smyrna, Saturday, is reported in a dispatch to the London Times from Smyrna. The dispatch says the Turk nationalists having penetrated the Italian lines, burned a railroad station without Italian intervention. The Greek commander sent a force to occupy a position within the Italian lines. The Italians ordered the Greeks to withdraw, and they refused. Thereupon the Italians fired, and the Greeks replied. There were several casualties on both sides.

The dispatch says the Greeks retain the position, but that the incident is worrying the Greek authorities, who maintain that it is imperative to safeguard the Aidin railroad. They fear that if the friction continues the Turks will be confirmed in their belief that the Italians sympathize with them.

DEMOCRATS ARE

President Wilson might wish, hope or acquiesce in, but Senator Glass confirmed reports that President Wilson was not taking any hand in the situation.

Expect To Win.

The Cox people outwardly expect to win tomorrow. The McAdoo people, having checked their downward slide, girded up for a new drive to break the Cox column. The Palmer people declaring that neither Cox nor McAdoo can have their votes, expressed hope for themselves, but only indifferently. Each of the three appears to have a straight hold on the other two.

Scattered seventeen ways from three leaders to Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson tnere was no doubt whatever that the votes of the convention were ready for any lucky man who could turn one of these lucky tricks of convention legerdemain, which pull a presidential nomination out of a hat.

The list of dark horses for whom movements seem, to be on foot still included John W. Davis, West Virginia; Senator Glass, Virginia; Senator Owen, Oklahoma; Homer S. Cummings, Connecticut and Bainbridge Colby. Champ Clark was talked of by some and so was Vice-President Marshall.

Resembles Baltimore.

The situation in the Democratic convention with respect to the balloting is much the same as it was at Baltimore eight years ago.

In that convention the deadlock caused the convention to adjourn over Sunday.

The votes of the three leaders in the 22 ballots was as follows:

Ballot.	Cox.	McAdoo.	Palmer.

QUIT AT MIDNIGHT.

AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 4.—After 22 fruitless ballots the Democratic national convention just before midnight gave up hopes of selecting a presidential nominee within the first week of its session, and adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Repeated attempts to adjourn were defeated throughout the early part of the night, but as midnight approached and it was about to become Sunday, the tradition that a Democratic national convention never works on a Sunday, coupled with the fact that the convention was tired, worn and frazzled, had its effect, and the final motion to adjourn was unopposed.

When the convention stopped, Cox was leading with four hundred and thirty. McAdoo came next, with three hundred and seventy-two and a half. Palmer was down to a hundred and sixty-six and a half.

The final ballots of the night were full of McAdoo movement, but it failed to make much headway.

Georgia, his home state, pledged to Palmer, swung over with her twenty-eight votes in a block for one ballot to see if it would start her natives on toward victory, but it failed to do so, and she swung back to the attorney-general.

No dark horse appeared during the night's balloting to carry off the honors, and the convention adjourned just as much in need of somebody to rally about as it was when it began the balloting

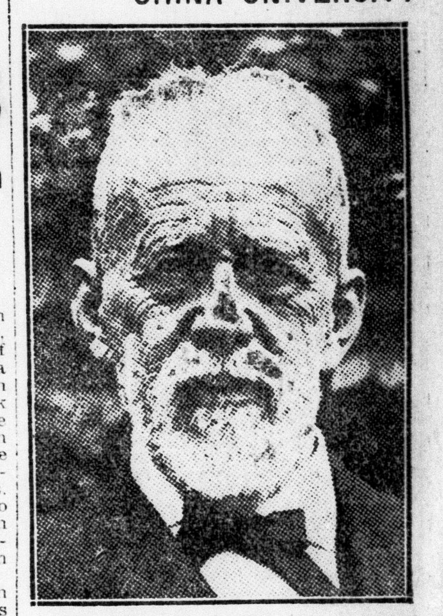

It was in a deadlock with nobody in sight to break it. Today was devoted to efforts of finding somebody to whom the convention can swing.

PORT LAMBTON

PORT LAMBTON, July 3.—The rains have greatly benefited the raspberry crop in this vicinity, and the local growers are looking for a good output if present conditions prevail until the time of picking arrives. It is expected that prices will be moderate, owing to the high cost of sugar, and the hesitancy of the local housewives to put down much of the fruit. The principal buyers here will be the summer resorters from across the border who are able to buy their sugar much cheaper here than they can at home.

IRISH SOLDIERS IN INDIA DECIDE TO QUIT SERVICE

Mutiny Follows Arrival of Letters Regarding Home Events.

RESPECT FOR OFFICERS

Regret That Under Present Conditions Unable To Serve.

LONDON, July 4.—Three-fourths of a battalion of Irish Connaught Rangers stationed at Jullunder, in the Punjab, India, mutinied, following the arrival of news of recent events in Ireland, according to a dispatch from Simla, under date of July 2, to Reuters, Limited.

Upon receipt of the same news at Solan, in the Sinda hills, another detachment is reported to have attempted to seize arms and ammunition, the dispatch says, adding that guards killed two of the men and wounded one.

The dispatch says that when the last mail reached the troops they became greatly excited, and the decision to lay down their arms soon was reached, one-fourth of the men remaining loyal to the colonel.

The troops expressed regret that they were unable to serve any longer, and gave up their arms and ammunition. Although remaining entirely respectful to their officers, the men explained their sympathies with their friends in Ireland. The troops are now separated in camp under the strict guard of a British regiment.

Following the drastic action of the guards at Solan, the dispatch continues, all is quiet there, and reports from Jutogh, six miles from Simla, say that the attachment there remained tranquil.

According to the dispatch, the officers regard the whole affair as a development of Sinn Fein agitation, and believe the prompt measures taken to restore order will soon cause the men to settle down.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 4.—In a collision between three cars on the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valley Railway, near South Pittston station at 7:30 o'clock last night, 19 people were killed, and 35 seriously injured.

The accident occurred near South Pittston, when lightning struck a telegraph pole along the line of the track, and the pole fell over on the tracks in front of a car bound for Scranton. A moment later a limited car crashed into the rear of the car that struck the pole, and a third car telescoped the second. All three cars were piled in a heap.

LIBERALS ASK CURRY TO QUIT TORONTO SEAT

Gathering of Constituents Oppose Criticism of Dewart.

"I WON'T," SAYS CURRY

May Appeal To Speaker of Legislature To Unseat Insurgent Member.

TORONTO, July 4.—J. A. Curry, Liberal member of the Legislature for "seat B" in Southeast Toronto, was asked by a gathering of his constituents on Saturday night to resign his seat. "I won't resign," was Mr. Curry's reply to the request.

The meeting, which was closed to the press, had been called in order to give Mr. Curry an opportunity of explaining why he had declared that he would no longer be a follower of the Liberal leader in Ontario, H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., M. P. P.

Not Satisfactory.

Mr. Curry's explanation was not regarded as satisfactory, and a resolution prepared by the executive, was carried, asking him to drop out. It is said the meeting was attended by not more than sixty-five or seventy men, and that the majority in favor of the resolution was small. The resolution referred to Mr. Curry's published declaration that he would no longer follow the Liberal leader, Mr. Dewart, and as Mr. Curry had not given satisfactory reasons for his position, the executive believed that his attitude would tend to disrupt and disorganize the Liberal party in Ontario and therefore asked him to resign his seat for Southeast Toronto.

Replied in Negative.

Mr. Curry was pointedly asked if he had been offered any position by the U. F. O. and replied in the negative. This was previous to the passing of the resolution.

"I didn't want the nomination for Southeast Toronto," said Mr. Curry, while addressing the meeting, "and I didn't expect to be elected. I went in to help John O'Neill.

It was stated after the meeting that the Liberals of Southeast Toronto who are in favor of ousting Mr. Curry may appeal to the Speaker of the Legislature, Hon. Nelson Parliament, himself a Liberal, to unseat Mr. Curry.

Pays No Attention.

Mr. Curry tonight declared that he did not intend to pay any attention to the action taken at the Saturday meeting, as it represented only a small percentage of voters in the riding who had put him into the Legislature.

The Mail and Empire sent out questionnaries to Liberal M.P.P.'s as to their attitude toward the 'bolters" from the Dewart leadership. One of the replies which the Mail and Empire will publish tomorrow morning is from R. Reece Hall, M. P. P. for Parry Sound. Mr. Hall emphatically states that he is loyal to Mr. Dewart as leader.

"This whole matter,' Mr. Hall says, "originiated in the minds of two men. They were selected as Liberals and I believe they were Liberal until they became convinced that active Liberalism at this time interfered with their personal preferment for which they are both very anxious.

Two Approached Him.

Mr. Hall charges that these two approached him with a view to getting him to "flop," and one of the two was suggested as a successor to Mr. Dewart as Liberal leader. "I blankly refused to be either a catspaw for these adventurers," Mr. Hall says, "or a stepping stone to places of emolument for them."

D. Racine, M.P.P., (Russell), replied to the Mail and Empire's question by stating that he is loyal to Mr. Dewart.

R. L. Brackin, M.P.P., (West Kent), declined to state his position in the matter.

OUTSIDE INTERESTS INTERFERING WITH MUNICIPAL RIGHTS

Declares J. W. Lyon of Guelph in Reference To Radial Situation.

GUELPH, July 4.—J. W. Lyon of this city, president of the Hydro-Electric Radial Association, has called a meeting for Thursday next in Toronto of all the municipalities interested in the proposed purchase of the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway; Toronto and Eastern Railway; Toronto Suburban Railway, and the Guelph Radial Railway.

"This is the parting of the ways," says President Lyon's letter calling the meeting, "as opposition has developed from outside interests that is a direct interference with municipal rights, and we must act now or never."

President Lyon has sent a telegram to Premier Drury, asking that if the Government is unfavorable to issuing the necessary order-in-council with reference to the transfer of the Guelph Radial Railway to the hydro commission, or approving of the purchase of electric railways by the municipalities from the Dominion Government, that no action be taken and no royal commission be appointed by the Government in connection with these matters until the interested municipalities have had an opportunity to present their views to the Government.

I am recommending your medicine to all women ailing as I was, for I think it will carry them safely through the Change of Life, and relieve the ailments that come at that period."—Mrs. ALEXIE C. WATCH YOUR GUMS—BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

JEWELRY THIEF WAS CAUGHT ALMOST IN THE ACT AT GUELPH

Smashed Window of Store With Stone and Stole 19 Rings.

CHASE WAS BRIEF

Man Surrendered When He Was Cornered in Blind Alley by Police.

GUELPH, July 3.—Raymond Moss, who gave Buffalo as his home and his age as 20 years, was caught almost red-handed at an early hour Saturday morning by the police just after he had thrown a huge stone through the plate glass window of Savage & Company's jewelry store on Wyndham street. Constables Livingstone and McCaulley heard the crash of the glass and immediately gave chase and cornered their man, who ran into a blind alley, when he submitted quietly to arrest.

When searched he had on his person nineteen rings valued at from $35 to $150 each and a gold watch valued at $50. He was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Watt in police court and committed for trial.

It is thought he is a member of a gang of international thieves who are operating in Western Ontario.

BORDEN IS EXPECTED TO MAKE SELECTION OF SUCCESSOR SOON

Meighen and White Are Regarded As Favorites.

OTTAWA, July 4.—(By the Canadian Press).—The flood of letters and telegrams announcing the feeling of members and senators as to who should be chosen to succeed Sir Robert Borden as prime minister and leader of the new National Liberal and Conservative party has almost ended. It was expected that Saturday night would see almost the last of these in the hands of the prime minister, after which it will probably be a matter of a day or two until he has gone over the situation and decided who is to inherit the mantle.

No information was available over the week-end as to whom the choice would fall upon. A few members of Parliament still waited in the city, some of them wishing to hear definitely as to the leadership before returning to their homes.

Among these there was no certainty as to who was likely to be the successor. The choice, according to some of the members, seems to be almost narrowed down to two—Hon. Arthur Meighen and Sir Thomas White, and there is still a question whether or not the latter would accept, in view of the fact that he stated some time ago that he was not a candidate for the honor.

Most of the ministers were also out of the city over the week-end, so there has been little but gossip from the political mill since the premier's statement of Thursday night.

TRADE UNIONISTS OF IRELAND DECIDE TO FORM FEDERATION

Chairman of Conference Scores Work of Army of Occupation.

DUBLIN, July 4.—Delegates representing 26,000 trade unionists in conference here today resolved to form a federation of Irish trades unions on a national basis.

John Mooney, chairman of the conference, charged that an army of occupation was trying to break down their lines, and that on their flank the British trades unionists, under the guise of friendship, were helping to feed the furances of their destruction.

BIG RECEPTION FOR SAMUEL AT JOFFA

JAFFA, July 4.—(Jewish Telegraph Agency.)—Sir Herbert Samuel, the first British high commissioner for Palestine, arrived here Thursday and was given a rousing reception. He was welcomed by the mayor and the heads of the various communities, who presented Sir Herbert with addresses of welcome. The salute of 31 guns was fired.

After the official reception Sir Herbert proceeded by special train to Jerusalem, where he was received at headquarters by General Bols, who for some time past has been British administrator in Palestine.

THORNDALE

THORNDALE, July 3.—The annual garden party of Thorndale Methodist Church was held on Thursday evening, July 1, on the parsonage grounds. The proceeds amounted to over $200.

The Excelsior Bible Class of Thorndale Methodist Sunday School will hold an ice cream social on Friday evening, July 9, on the lawn of James Wheaton, concession 2, West Nissouri.

The Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, July 8, at the home of Mrs. K. Ramsay. A topic on "Longfellow" will be given by Miss V. M. Sinker. The readings and musical selections will also be from Longfellow's works.

Wyton Sunday School held its annual picnic on Friday afternoon at the residence of E. Parker. During the severe electrical storm the house was struck by lightning, but with the assistance of the men assembled at the picnic, Mr. Parker was enabled to extinguish the fire before any serious damage was done. Several trees were also struck by lightning and a number of local telephone lines were put out of order.

Miss G. Duffin has been engaged as principal of Thedford public school at a salary of $1,000. Miss Duffin was formerly a teacher of Thorndale junior room and the ratepayers and trustee board regret the departure of so capable a teacher from the district.

Albert Martyn of concession 1, West Nissouri, who received a severe cut in the thigh last Saturday afternoon while cutting wood with a buzz saw, is improving.

Mrs. (Dr.) Armstrong and Miss Mary Armstrong left this week for New York, where Dr. Armstrong is attending Manhattan College. Prior to their departure Mrs. Armstrong was presented with a beautiful pearl sunburst by the members of the Women's Institute, and Miss Mary was presented with a silver mesh bag by the members of the Mission Band.

ELECTRICAL STORM.

PARIS, July 3.—Not for years has this section experienced such a terrific electrical storm as that which struck the town yesterday and lasted for a couple of hours. The storm played havoc with the electric light, and telephone service and a number of trees were demolished. The house of John Scott, Brantford Township, was struck, and considerable damage done to the interior.

FIRE THREATENS ST. JOHNS CITY

Destruction Is Averted Only by Hard Work.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., July 4.—The destruction of St. Johns City by forest fires was barely averted yesterday by energetic action on the part of the authorities, supplemented by a heavy downpour of rain. Burning in the hot, dry weather of the last week, forest fires have been reported from many sections of the country, and have done much damage in the district of Ferryland. A westerly gale drove the flames out on the settlement to Tors Cove so suddenly that an aged woman was burned to death before she could be removed from her house.

At Lamanche several houses were destroyed, as well as a big fox farm operated by the Reids. Twenty-five valuable animals were barely rescued from a fiery fate.

Fishing Town Burned.

Newchells, a fishing town in Trinity district, was practically wiped out in another big forest fire, and scores of residents were rendered homeless when dense volumes of smoke were seen rolling over the hills from the Black Marsh road.

In the vicinity of the Jensen camps for the treatment of tuberculosis patients, where another fire had started, as well as around Big Northern Pond and Virginia, there was intense apprehension.

Had the Jensen camp caught fire nothing could have saved the many bungalows and other residences which had been built in the neighborhood. The fire which threatened the Jensen camps started near Gauls shortly after 10 o'clock.

Suspect Incendiaries.

At noon the fire was within half a mile of the Jensen camps, which were dangerously threatened. Cabs and ambulances were placed at the disposal of the patients, and they were removed to the King George Institute. The bed patients were removed in the ambulances through the efforts of the police and men under Inspector-General Hutchings, who cut fire tracks and used a good supply of water, supplied by the aid of motor cars. It is suspected that these fires were incendiary.

Dr. Campbell, minister of agriculture and mines, was present, and hired all available men to help check the fires. The fire at Virginia is also believed to have been started with malicious intent.

The fire at Great Northern Pond has been burning since Tuesday, and police and civilians have been at work there continuously.

Much valuable standing timber has been destroyed.

GIRLS GET BEYOND DEPTH; BOTH DROWN

Double Fatality Occurs At Brantford.

BRANTFORD, July 3.—The Grand River claimed two more victims yesterday afternoon, when Miss Jessie McPhie, Hamilton, and Miss Cristina McIntyre, 97 Aberdeen avenue, this city, got beyond their depth while bathing, and being unable to swim sank to watery graves.

The double fatality occurred opposite the residence of C. H. Waterous and was witnessed by a young man who was just preparing for an afternoon's fishing. According to his story, shortly after the young ladies, who were about 18 years of age, entered the water, the current apparently began to carry Miss McPhie, who was slight of build, down the river and she suddenly disappeared from view.

Caught In Air Hole.

When she did not reappear her companion, Miss McIntyre, started in the direction where Miss McPhie was last seen, but she, too, disappeared from sight very suddenly, neither again coming to the surface. An alarm was immediately turned in and the life-saving crew of the fire department hurried to the scene. After dragging for a short time they recovered both bodies in about ten feet of water.

The unfortunate young ladies apparently walked into an air hole. Miss McPhie had been visiting with Miss McIntyre for a few days and her mother was to have come up from London last night to spend the week-end with the girls, but instead her daughter's body was taken to Hamilton for interment. Miss McIntyre's remains were removed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, Aberdeen avenue.

A coincidence in connection with the drowning is the fact that about 35 years ago two girls, one from Hamilton and the other from Brantford, were drowned in almost the same spot.

BED BLOWN TO PIECES LIGHTNING'S STRANGE FREAK

People In Blenheim House Escape Injury, But Are Shocked.

BLENHEIM, July 3.—During a heavy rainstorm which passed over town last evening the lightning entered the residence of Dobby Robinson on Talbot street west and did considerable damage. Mr. Robinson and his mother were in the house at the time, but escaped with the exception that Mr. Robinson received a severe shock. Mr. Robinson's bed upstairs was blown to pieces as if an explosion had taken place in it, and the windows of the room were badly broken. The lightning passed along the eaves of the house and down a metal trough to a rain barrel full of water beneath. This section of the town is quite high, and lightning has been known to hit on several occasions in this vicinity.

Blenheim Boy Scouts baseball team journeyed to Ridgetown yesterday afternoon and had a lively game with the Boy Scouts team of that town and returned victors by a score of 6 to 4. A return match is being arranged for Wednesday to be played just before the league game here.

Some farmers are complaining that they are being held up by the Belgians who block beets as to the price per acre. They claim they are being asked $25 an acre. This is looked upon as too high a price, as some men can block nearly an acre per day.

ALBERTA PERCHERONS WIN AT ROYAL SHOW

CALGARI, July 4.—That Alberta-bred Percherons won first, second and third prizes at the greatest livestock exhibition in the world, the Royal Show in London, England, was the information received by George Lane, owner of the famous Bar-U Ranch, Saturday morning, in a cablegram from W. L. Carlisle, manager of the Prince of Wales' Alberta ranch properties.

The cablegram reads: "Perfection, first; Paragon, second; Nettie, third, at Royal Show."

These are the first Canadian Percherons to win at the Royal Show, and the satisfactory feature is that both Paragon and Perfection are Alberta-bred stallions, and their dams were Alberta-bred.

LAKE RESTOCKED WITH FISH.

WOODSTOCK, July 3.—The parks commission have been successful in having the Ontario Government stock the lake at Southside Park with bass. On Saturday a representative of the Government arrived with 25,000 black bass. The fish are from two to three inches in length, and the commission has decided that fishing in the lake and adjacent creeks will be prohibited for a period of at least two years. When it is expected the followers of Izaak Walton in this district will have plenty of fishing right at home.

EIGHT PEOPLE HURT IN CRASH ON D. U. R. TWO CARS BURNED

Toronto Man and Hamilton Woman Among Passengers Injured.

ORDERS DISOBEYED

Passenger and Freight Car Collide At Dangerous Curve.

SARNIA, July 4.—As the result of a crash on the D. U. R. radial line between a local car and a freight car near Port Huron, as it was speeding to that city with a capacity crowd for the Fourth of July celebration, eight persons were injured, including residents of Western Ontario who were coming to this side of the St. Clair River for the week-end.

Eight People Injured.

Those who were injured were: Louis Butter, New York City; Herbert Whidden, Mount Clemens; Sidney Smith, Toronto; Mrs. Charles Flanders, New Baltimore; Dr. Earns, Mount Clemens; Joseph Kalafer, New Baltimore; Philip Kawa, Detroit; Miss Springer, Hamilton.

Both Cars Burned.

Both the passenger car and the freight car, becoming ignited from a shipment of matches in the freight car, were totally burned. All persons injured were passengers, members of both crews escaping injuries by jumping at the time of the crash.

At a Bad Curve.

The smash-up took place on a bad curve of the electric railway tracks, and is reported to have been the result of the passenger car overrunning orders to stop at Salem. Motorman Leo Putnam of Marine City, and Conductor George Harland of Port Huron, were in charge of the passenger car, while the freight car was handled by Motorman Mike Schulwitz and Conductor H. Wolston, both of Detroit. A number of Sarnia people were in the car, but all escaped injury.

COMMERCE BD. AGAIN HAS FULL ESTABLISHMENT

Union Government Makes Temporary Three Appointments.

OTTAWA, July 3.—(By Canadian Press.) — An order-in-council was passed on the day after prorogation with respect to the Board of Commerce. In view of the appeal now pending before the judicial committee of the privy council as to the validity of the act under which the board was established, the appointments which have been made are to be regarded as temporary.

Capt. William White, K.C., former secretary of the board, has been appointed chairman and the other two vacancies will be filled by the appointment of Mr. F. A. Acland, deputy minister of labor, and Mrs. G. A. Dillon, purchasing agent of the department of justice.

These two gentlemen have been given leave of absence from their present duties in order that they may discharge effectively the responsibilities placed upon them as members of the board.

CROWDED OUT OF CAFETERIA SIR ADAM ENTERTAINS HIS FRIENDS IN THE KITCHEN

Assisted by Hon. Mr. Biggs, He Washes Dishes and Serves Meal.

ST. THOMAS, July 4.—An amusing, and, it is declared, perfectly true story is being told here about Sir Adam Beck and Hon. Mr. Biggs, provincial minister of public works and highways, who, with their wives, were at Port Stanley on Dominion Day.

Sir Adam had been acting host to the minister of public works, and when the hour for refreshment arrived, found the Cafeteria so packed that it was impossible to find a place to entertain his guests. Nothing daunted, he proceeded to the kitchen, and conscripting the aid of Hon. Mr. Biggs, set about preparing a meal for himself and guests.

Stripping off his coat, Sir Adam set about clearing a space at one of the tables, then he turned to, ably seconded by Mr. Biggs, and washed sufficient dishes for his party, after which the cooking and serving of the meal followed. The party thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

According to the employees of the Cafeteria, it is nothing unusual if Sir Adam is down at port on a very busy day for him to take off his coat and turn to and help wherever extra assistance is needed.

ROWELL SAYS VISIT WITHOUT SIGNIFICANCE

TORONTO, July 3.—Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, president of the privy council, when seen here this morning, denied that his visit had any political significance. At present, he said, he would make no statement as to his intentions in regard to his resignation from the cabinet, which he submitted the other day and temporarily withdrew at the request of the national party caucus. He said he expected there would be four groups in the House from now on—Unionist, Liberal, Labor and Farmer.

Respecting the Alberta liquor import question, Mr. Rowell said that this inter-provincial trade in liquor was a temporary thing, and the referendum to be held ere long would settle the issue.

HAIL STORM CAUSES DAMAGE TO FRUIT

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 4.—A terrific thunder and hailstorm yesterday afternoon is said to have caused the loss of fully two-thirds of the local fruit crop. Seven inches of rain fell inside of an hour, and hailstones as large as walnuts broke windows and even made holes in wooden roofs.

Stamford Township was the storm centre and received the greatest damage. Fifty per cent of the grape crop is reported destroyed, and two-thirds of the plum, cherry and apple yield gone. Peaches were scattered from the trees, and these left look as if they had been hit by a stick with a nail in it.

Losses In Thousands.

Reports which are being received here about the hail storm on Saturday indicate that fruit and vegetable growers will lose many thousands of dollars by reason of fruit and vegetables having been badly damaged. Ripe cherries were pounded off the tries. Early peaches were damaged, but late peaches were too small to receive much injury. Tomato plants, potatoes, corn, strawberries, raspberries and currants were damaged, and in some wheat fields the grain was pounded down to the ground.

LORD DOWNHAM DIES.

LONDON, June 3.—(By Canadian Associated Press).—Lord Downham, formerly Right Honorable Hayes Fisher, an ex-minister and long one of the Unionist leaders and member of Parliament, is dead.

WILL NOT BUILD NEW COLLEGIATE AT PRESENT

High Cost of Material Decides Sarnia Board of Education.

SARNIA, July 4.—Owing to the increased cost of building material the Sarnia Board of Education has decided for the time being to shelve the building of a new collegiate.

As no messages had been received from the authorities of the various cities communicated with the police and immigration department turned the mysterious man, F. H. Anderson, loose late Saturday afternoon, following his week's sojourn in the county jail.

It was announced tonight that was veterans who enlisted in the Imperial City will shortly receive their civic gratuity of $1,000 per man following the sale of $70,000 debentures.

Captain and Mrs. Ashby, local Salvation Army workers, leave this city next week to take up duties in the Forest City.

YOUNG BAPTISTS GO ON RECORD AGAINST GRANTING DIVORCES

TORONTO, July 4.—Officers of the Baptist Young People's Union of America were elected on Saturday as follows, a Canadian being the new president:

President, Fred Reynolds, Brockville, Ont.; vice-president, Rev. W. R. Parsons, New Brunswick; P. J. Bodger, Oklahoma; Miss Vera Rice, Minnesota; recording secretary, J. C. Dance, Tennessee; treasurer, O. O. Montague, Illinois; executive committee, Wilber L. Clapp, Iowa; R. D. Lickleider, Indiana; Orlo O. Montague, Illinois; C. B. Althoff, Illinois; F. C. Stifler, C. T. Holman, Edwin Phelps, C. D. Case, Benjamin Otto, all Illinois.

A resolution was passed placing the Baptist Young Peoples' Union of America on record as standing against divorce, and pledging the members to use their influence to uphold and perpetuate the sacredness and obligation of the marriage vow.

A resolution was passed, indorsing the attitude of the Dominion of Canada towards the League of Nations and urging the Baptist Young People of the United States to use their influence to bring about a similar attitude on the part of the United States.

THEATRE BLOWN UP.

BERLIN, July 4.—The newspapers today published a dispatch from Sofia saying that the Odeon Theatre at Philippopolis, Bulgaria, was blown up by a bomb, and that about 150 bodies were buried under the debris.

PROPORTIONAL PLAN OF REPRESENTATION SUCCESS IN WINNIPEG

Secretary Hooper Analyzes Result of Voting Under the New System.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—Ronald Hooper of Ottawa, honorary secretary of the proportional representation society of Canada, in a statement on the working of the new system, said:

"The Winnipeg proportional representation election just concluded, in which 41 candidates contended for ten seats, has clearly shown that a ten-member constituency may be just as practicable as a smaller one, provided that the staff engaged to sort the ballots is competent and well trained.

"The personnel of the Winnipeg counting staff was all that could be desired in these respects and it was this that made possible the announcement in less than four days, of the results obtained from sorting and resorting nearly 48,000 ballots.

Few Ballots Rejected.

"Seventy-five per cent of the electorate cast their votes, and the percentage of rejected ballots amounted to only 1.72. This was very low for so cosmopolitan a city.

"The Labor party (which included the Socialist group), polled 42.5 per cent of the first choice votes and elected four members; the Liberal party polled 30.4 per cent and elected 4 members; the Conservative party polled 13.7 per cent and elected two members. The eleven Independent candidates together polled 13.4 per cent, but these candidates were each independent of the other, and therefore none succeeded in securing the quota of votes necessary for election.

All Received Share.

"A further analysis of the result shows that all parties received their fair share of representation.

"The single transferable vote system of election does more than merely secure the representation of parties in proportion to their numerical strength. It might be described as a barometer which registers as no other system can possibly do, the temperamental changes in the political thought of the country; and a study of the detailed result sheet of the Winnipeg election would well repay a Legislature striving to bring together the conflicting elements within the city."

TO INVESTIGATE THE HYDRO RADIALS.

There can be no question but that Premier Drury is acting with wisdom in appointing a royal commission to investigate the hydro radial situation. It is the province in the final analysis, not the individual municipalities involved, that must be held responsible for whatever obligations are assumed. Also at the present moment the transportaton problem of the entire country has reached a critical point in a stupendous experiment that calls for the greatest caution in the launching of new railway schemes.

Furthermore, the public much too long has been kept in ignorance of the inner workings of hydro-electric undertakings. There has been too much taken for granted. Under the Hearst administration it was impossible at times to get a clear, open statement of hydro finances, to which the public is at all times entitled. Evidently Mr. Drury proposes to end this unsatisfactory condition and will begin by probing the radial scheme.

As the premier points out, the transfer of the Guelph radial lines from the Dominion Government to the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission is only a part of a single vast scheme, and therefore comes under the direct jurisdiction of the Government. Mr. Drury would be neglecting his duty to the people of Ontario if he did not make certain that the radial project was sound financially before permitting it to be carried out.

THE TIMBER SCANDALS.

Addressing a Strathroy audience Premier Drury arraigned the late Ontario Government for the scandalous plundering of the timber and mining wealth which had been permitted to go on. Speaking of the timber steals especially, he declared that the exposures would prove shocking. Sixty per cent of the returns were false and in many cases were forgeries, it had been discovered. These are tremendous accusations that, of course, the premier would not have made unless he knew them to be facts. He has promised that the public shall get back vast sums that for years have been stolen from the treasury, but the investigation should be carried to the point where the responsibility for this gross stealing can be placed on definite persons and these should be punished; no matter what their standing or what their party affiliations may be.

THE COAL SITUATION.

None too soon has the Government taken measures to supply Central and Eastern Canada with an adequate supply of fuel. For many weeks the heads of Canadian industries have been aware that the country faced a serious fuel famine. It is strange that the administration at Ottawa should not have known of this. A lamentable lack of foresight or a criminal inactivity is indicated. It has been common news that the shipments from across the border have been greatly reduced because of the outlaw strike on railways and in some of the mines and the lack of transportation equipment. It has become such a grave matter in the United States that the Washington administration has put an embargo on exports to Europe and permits exports to Canada only on consideration of the immediate return of cars. If this province is to be supplied with a proper amount of fuel, the Dominion Railway Board, which has been delegated the task, will have to adopt some such measures as the Interstate Commerce Commission has put into force. It will be necessary to stop the coal exports from the maritime ports to old world points, and put into force some system that will furnish speedy transportation to Ontario and Quebec and distribution that will meet the wants of the greatest number.

THE LEAGUE IS FUNCTIONING.

Every little while the Detroit Free Press, which is an organ of the treaty wrecking crew of the American Senate, chortles with glee over how very "dead" is the League of Nations. In fact so often does it talk about it there is a strong suspicion that the Detroit journal does not believe its own assertions. The truth is that the League is very much alive and functioning regularly and to good effect. It is actively engaged protecting the minority people of Poland, controlling the Saar Valley and Danzig, organizing an international court of justice, and acting in an advisory capacity to the International Labor Office. The finances of the league are sound and satisfactory in every way, as the head of that department, Sir Herbert Ames, has just told us, and most important of all, it has started to save the old world from starvation and disease. The following taken from the Atlantic Monthly gives an excellent picture of the many humanitarian activities that the League has underway at headquarters in London:

A visitor at the league's headquarters in London is struck, not only by the variety of work that is being undertaken, but by its practical applicability to matters of vital concern. In one department, treaties and agreements are being registered and publishd, marking the end of the evil days of hidden diplomacy. In another section, studies are being made of the movement of raw materials and coal, and plans are being formulated for more equitable distribution. Still another section is at work on problems and conventions relating to international communications, such as wireless and cable dispatches. Here is a group preparing the terms under which colonies will be given by mandate, and the the provisions by which trade and commerce will be secured to other members of the league besides the mandatory power. Here is a group working on plans for international co-operation in the elimination of the opium traffic. Here is another section that is in touch with the political events of the world, so that a tribal movement in Beluchistan, a strike in Rumania, or an election in Japan or South Africa is immediately registered with the secretariat. Henceforth the world can be wise before the event rather than after it, and a cloud on the horizon no bigger than a man's hand can be given a true interpretation.

These are real services that affect the entire human family, services that in every way tend towards stabilization and widespread peace. To assert that the League is dead while it is functioning as above is to talk nonsense.

FAREWELL BOOTY.

Our Ottawa legislators have taken their passes home with $1.500 each added to the session's pay. A good French member announces his intention of giving away his share of the loot, particularly providing "two masses for the sins of this parliament." But the gang appreciates free passes more than free masses. They are, many of them, not directly interested in "the glory of God."

In olden times guests departing were loaded with "hospitable presents." Homer tells of Ulysses leaving a place whose king presented him with a whole wagon-load of gifts, "having made a collection among the people." Many of our parliament-members must have felt, with a general election closely impending, that they were leaving the grand, new, costly halls with a final farewell, and not waiting for presents to be proffered, they simply helped themselves. It was something like the guests who carry off "souvenirs" of spoons and knives and what-not. And the getaway was perfect. They know well what is coming. The general election will be a general deluge for the old hacks, as the Ontario and Manitoba voting shows.

After all, what's a little $1,500 compared to the hauls of profiteering dealers and speculators whom the Government members have been faithfully serving? It's a funny thing if the agent shouldn't have a share even so modest of the grand larceny. Let Mr. Murdock and others of that "suspicious" ilk go hang. The laborer is worthy of his hire. The loyal Unionist member who has worked day by day, night in and night out, for his big profiteering employer, shall have his little stick of candy out of it, so he shall, and his fat king gives it to him, "having made a collection among the people."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Greece is a little late in getting into the war, but she is doing her "bit" effectively.

A noted Irish poet says that he will "smash the British Empire." Poets are such dreamers.

A lot of people will believe that the piratical profiteers have made the Commerce Board walk the plank.

Philip Snowden says Russia has nothing that is of any value to Great Britain. However, lots of Britishers will see in Russia a picture of what would become of England if Philip Snowden and his kind got control.

FISHERS OF MEN.

[Boston Globe.]

In angling for public opinion there are two kinds of bait. One is logic, the art of reasoning from the facts; the other is persuasion, the art of winning people, while they are unconscious of what you are doing. The latter is the more subtle method, and may altogether ignore facts.

THE NECESSITY OF THE LEAGUE.

[Saskatoon Phoenix.]

When Mr. McMaster in the discussion on the militia estimates expressed the opinion that in the training of youth the military idea should be eliminated, it is safe to say that he was expressing the opinion of nine-tenths of the people of this country, and, in fact, pretty nearly that of every other country that actively participated in the war. Sir Sam Hughes, however, said that it reminded him of "the sloppy stuff served up" previous to the war, although Sir Sam, if he possesses any power of observation at all, must know that the vast majority of Canadian soldiers were in the best sense of the word pacifists, and their experiences have only served to strengthen their conviction that war is of all forms of human strife the least reasonable, and they are almost to a man in favor of international organization to prevent or reduce the possibility of war.

AN ANCIENT SPORT.

[Hartford Courant.]

Policemen who have observed young men upon the streets late at night are reported to have remarked, "Them guys has lost more than sleep." So, and occasionally in other ways, do representatives of the law give color to the oft-repeated assertion that gambling has never been more prevalent than at the present time. "Everybody is playing cards for money nowaday," said a shocked woman. "My husband doesn't," remarked one proud young woman, and then added, "but the men he plays with do." Into the police court are brought experts and their opposites in the shooting of dice. Games of poker are either more frequent or more frequently interrupted by the police than formerly, judging from the accounts in the press. Statistics on the question are hard to obtain, and are, aside from the painful publicity given to the gentlemen who are fined, mostly of the hearsay variety. It is said by the encyclopedist that gambling with dice was done in times antecedent to those of which we possess any written record. Playing cards are thought to have been invented by the Chinese during the glorious reign of Seun-ho, about 1120, although other nations have claimed the honor. And we are pessimistic enough to fear that long after the pyramids have crumbled, somewhere there will be heard in the land such uncouth but expressive phrases as "I'll play these," "Little Joe roll right back to papa," or "Up jumps seven."

ONE REASON WHY IRELAND IS NOT SELF-GOVERNING.

[New York World.]

One reason why Ireland is not self-governing is furnished by the Londonderry riots. In this ancient town, which cherishes above most other things the prejudices of a past that ought to be forgoten, the two political and religious factions are strong enough to engage in a pitched battle, the military forces of the British Empire being powerless to restrain their sanguinary impulses.

It is these blood feuds that account in no small degree for the misgovernment of the island. Tyranny can ask no more inviting field than a nation racked by intolerance and sure to resort in a crisis to domestic violence or treachery. What the British have done to Ireland is a tragic record of oppression. What the Irish themselves have done to Ireland, a consideration too often lost sight of, would make a list of wrongs quite as formidable, with only folly and bigotry for excuse.

The crux of the Irish question is the Irish. They have an alien government because they will not unite to govern in their own right. Separation from Great Britain is a delusion, of course, but home rule in adequate form obviously waits upon nothing but a demonstration of the people to adjust their differences in good faith and to give the Empire some assurance that self-government will not immediately degenerate into just such rapacity as we now witness in Londonderry.

Ireland is dragooned because it dragoons, and it dragoons not for unity and freedom, but for hatred, revenge and tyranny. A century and more ago Henry Grattan told his countrymen that if they could not tolerate each other they would be forced to tolerate the British. That is a lesson that never has been learned.

From Here and There

THE LOOK OF A GENTLEMAN.

[Hazlitt.]

What it is that constitutes the look of a gentleman is more easily felt than described; we all know it when we see it, but do not know how to account for it, or to explain in what it consists. Ease, grace, dignity have been given as the exponent and expressive symbols of its look, but I would rather say that an habitual self-possession determines the appearance of a gentleman.

TOO MUCH LEGISLATURE.

[Montreal Gazette.]

Mr. Charles E. Hughes, who ranks high among the jurists and public men of the United States, speaking before the Harvard Law School at Cambridge the other day, told his hearers that a passion for legislation is not a sign of democratic progress. He added that in the mass of measures introduced in the legislatures there is "too little evidence of perspective and an abundance of elaborate and dreary futilities." The tendency to enact uncertain laws also seems to be increasing, without the people seeming to care. Perhaps the latter fact is due to the fact that so many of the laws passed drop at once into happy desuetude and bother nobody.

THE PRAIRIE CROP.

[Selected.]

Latest crop reports from the prairies carry no less optimism than has featured them throughout the spring. And it is on these late reports that the country may to some extent foretell the harvest.

Canada has learned to discount first crop reports from the Middle West. More than once has a golden harvest been snatched away after it has been assured by early conditions. Rain in June is the keynote to a good crop. With other things equal, the country has reasonable ground for basing its calculations on what happens during the first summer month.

And this year the month of June has brought rain and sunshine, and the crop has literally jumped from the ground.

Perhaps none are more pleased than the farmers themselves, for they have been deprived of bountiful yields during the last two or three and in some cases four years; but the rest of the Dominion, and especially British Columbia, will join in receiving the glad tidings, for while we, in this province, sometimes are engrossed in mining and lumbering and shipping and other industries, we still remember that grain-growing ranks high and the country's prosperity depends upon it.

REAL EARLY BIRDS.

[New York Evening Post.]

There seems to be a keen competition for the worm which is said to be the prize to the early bird. The quail begins to make himself heard about 3 o'clock, and by 4 the blackbird is giving a concert, while the thrush is audible half an hour later. The green finch is the real early bird, and frequently sings as early as 1:30 in midsummer. The house sparrow and tomtit are the sleepy heads of the feathered world, and do not make their appearance until all others are astir.

WHEN SCHOOL'S OUT.

[Haverhill Gazette.]

All indications pointing to the near future strongly hint of much livelier and happier times in the great American homes wherein little children reside.

The answer is vacation time!

For, lo, these many days mother has been rustling and hustling about in the early morning, getting sonny and daughter off to school. And all through the morning and the afternoon there has been a lack of youthful cheerfulness.

Now there will be the merry laugh and the smiling faces of "our little kiddies" to keep the cheerful spirit uppermost around the household.

The real love that goes out to the little ones, and the pleasure in having them around, is stronger than the bit of bother they bring through littering up the house and constantly shouting "Can I have a piece of bread and jelly?"

Somehow the world has just got to envy the mother and dad who have tiny tots, and feel sort of sorry for the folk who keep only a pet poodle.

Incidentally the Ohio State Medical Association blames the so-called "Society Bug" for the low birth rate.

THE BIGGER HORSE.

[Montreal Star.]

Profiteering is the front-page feature of the cost of living situation; just as striking is the front-page feature of the industrial situation. More notice is taken of one profiteer than of a thousand honest dealers, and watching a small minority on strike diverts atttention from the huge majority at work.

Were honest and industrious habits as articulate as dishonest and quarrelsome practices, the mighty hum of organized living would drown out the noise made by profiteering or by striking. It would restore the public's confidence in the good-will of the vast majority of business and labor men.

WHAT IS PUBLIC OPINION?

[London Spectator.]

When we say that Public Opinion "will not stand" something we usually mean that that something is wrong. "If only the facts were known," we say with regard to some injustice or cruelty or mischievous folly, "Public Opinion would soon put it right." We Englishmen have immense faith in our public opinion. We go on believing in it more or less implicitly, though we continually see instances in which it has been mistaken in its verdict, has indeed reversed its verdict without the excuse of new facts upon which to form a new judgment. It is as foolish to call English public opinion hypocritical as it is to call it morally infallible. It is simply the opinion of the average Englishman cleansed of his individual self-interest. Consequently he is, therefore, apt to confuse it with his conscience, which naturally is always ahead.

THE CHILD REFUGEES.

[London Daily Express.]

England has a long and proud record as a haven of refuge, but never did a more pathetic crowd seek her shelter than the hundreds of Austrian children who arrived yesterday. They are heirs, equally with the children of this country, of the better world that, with all our faults and differences of opinion, we are trying to build up on the ruins of the old. Even those who condemn bitterly any suspicion of kindness to a beaten enemy must be touched at the spectacle of these little ones, weakened by a lifetime of semi-starvation, coming in their helplessness to be fed and cared for in this country. Regarding it without sentiment, as an assurance for the future, it is difficult to believe that children thus succored will ever be found with the war party if we are ever threatened with a campaign of revenge in the years to come.

CANADA KEEPS HER HEAD.

[Montreal Star.]

The absence of the hysterical note in Canadian affairs is commented upon by Sir Robert Kindersley, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, who has just returned from a visit to the West. Sir Robert declares that the country's prosperity today is founded upon a sound basis, and he notes a distinct improvement over the era of real estate booms.

It is important to have this opinion on Canada from an outside observer with a fresh viewpoint upon domestic conditions. The summing up of the situation by this overseas visitor invites confidence in Canada's ability to ride safely through whatever troubles the future may hold in store. The world is filled with uncertainties and pessimists abound, yet here is further evidence that Canada is keeping her head industrially as well as politically.

TO SALVE THE LUSITANIA.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

That the famous Cunard liner Lusitania, whose torpedo-pierced hull now is reposing on the Atlantic Ocean bed seven miles off the coast of Ireland, can be refloated and repaired without undue difficulty, is the opinion of Emile Bertin, member of the French Academy of Science, and an expert in salvaging sunken vessels.

"A monster float made of steel and able to support a weight of 30,000 tons could be constructed," he writes. "This float could be attached to the sunken hull by steel ropes hooked into the vessel's portholes. When the tide goes down the ropes could be drawn taut and secured. The rising tide then would lift the float and with it the sunken hull from the ocean bed. Then the float, with its load, could be towed shoreward to a shallower point where, as the hull rests on the bottom, the operations of tightening the cables at low tide could be repeated and the vessel raised again. In this way the hull could be lifted about four metres each time and eventually brought to the surface."

The operation, he admits, would be long, delicate and costly, but there is no doubt about its practicability, M. Bertin says. Perhaps.

Poetry and Jest

IN PORTO BELLO BAY.

[Glenn Ward Dresbach, in New York Times.]

The Ghost-Ships waken with the Moon
In Porto Bello Bay,
And many an olden pirate-tune,
Still drunken with remembered June,
Trails through the mists away.
The sails are spread, the faint lights gleam,
The ships glide to the seas,
As if they seek their ports of Dream
Beyond the Caribbees.

The Moon has spilled upon the Bay
Her cup of silver wine.
The galleons turn against the tide
Their shadow-prows; their ancient pride
Shows in each shadow line.
The glamor of their time returns,
Purged of their sins they seem—
Each sails toward that far port it yearns,
Borne on the winds of Dream.

And in the hold of each is gold,
And down in every one
Are gems that came from jungles deep
Where flowers flame and ages keep
The rituals of the Sun.
And every sailor-shape that stirs
Looks, yearning, out to sea
Beyond the mists, and no mist blurs
His eyes of memory.

One sees a running girl come down
A street where flowers grow;
One sees a little laughing lad,
In colors of the rainbow clad,
Wave welcome, all aglow.
All see the gladness they had seen
Before there came a day
When anchors held from what had been—
In Porto Bello Bay.

Before the Moon creeps down to sleep
She call the Ghost-Ships home
To narbors deep the years have made
Of purple silence and of jade
And flecks of silver foam,
And with their memories they ride
The daylight hours away,
In Porto Bello Bay.

THE DIFFERENCE.

What is the difference between a hair dresser and a sculptor?

The hair dresser "curls up" and "dyes," and the sculptor makes "faces" and "busts."

ARMS AND THE BOY.

[Wilfred Owen, M.C.]

Let the boy try along the bayonet blade
How cold steel is, and keen with hunger of blood;
Blue, with all malice, like a madman's flash;
And thinly drawn with famishing for flesh.

Lend him to stroke these blind, blunt bullet-heads
Which long to muzzle in the hearts of lads.
Or give him cartridges of fine zinc teeth,
Sharp with the sharpness of grief and death.

For his teeth seem for laughing round an apple,
There lurk no claws behind his fingers supple;
And God will grow no talons at his heels,
Nor antlers through the thickness of his curls.

LONG-DISTANCE CALL.

Mr. Tarzan Jones was sitting down to breakfast one morning when he was astounded to see in the paper announcement of his own death.

He rang up friend Howard Smith at once. "Halloa, Smith!" he said. "Have you seen the announcement of my death in the paper?"

"Yes," replied Smith. "Where are you speaking from?"

A SUMMER SANCTUARY.

[John Hall Ingham.]

I found a yellow flower in the grass,
A tiny flower with petals like a bell,
And yet, methought, more than a flower it was—
More like a miracle.

Above the sky was clear, save where at times
Soft-tinted fleeces drifted dreamily,
Bearing a benison of sunny climes
From altars of the sea.

In vestments green the pines about me gleamed
Like priests that tend the sacrificial fire,
And the faint-lowing cattle almost seemed
Some far intoning choir.

It was a place and an occasion meet
For some high, solemn wonder to befall;
And, when I saw the flower at my feet,
I understood it all.

WITHOUT ASSISTANCE.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

A skunk happened to wander by the tent of a party of city hunters one night.

One of the Nimrods raised himself up on an elbow, glanced about at his companions, and then groaned miserably:

"O Lord! Every other man sound asleep, so that I have to smell it all alone!"

AWAY OUT IN THE COUNTRY.

[Selected.]

Away out in the country, where there is no ceaseless roar,
Where it's eight miles to the railroad and three miles to the store,
There is hope and there is pleasure, and perhaps some maiden there
Has contrived to make somebody think her fairest of the fair.

Away out in the country, where the fragrant lilacs blow,
There are people who have never seen a moving picture show;
But they may not need your pity, though the thrills they have are few;
They may go to bed untroubled by such cares as come to you.

Away out in the country, where the woods are full of song,
And the hens are cackling loudly and few men are going wrong,
There are people who are never filled with fear or discontent,
When the grocer wants his money or it's time to pay the rent.

Away out in the country, where no mobs disturb the peace,
There are people who are happy though their neighbors' gains increase;
There are men and there are women who believe that life is sweet,
Though they aren't busy spending all on what they wear and eat.

BOTH IN THE SAME BOAT.

Beggar—Mister, I'm in trouble, and—
Pedestrian—Don't bother me. I've got a second-hand automobile, too.—Judge.

THEY SOFTLY WALK.

[Hugh Robert Orr, in British Weekly.]

They are not gone who pass
Beyond the clasp of hand,
Out from the strong embrace;
They are but come so close
We need not grope with hands
Nor look to see, nor try
To catch the sound of feet,
They have put off their shoes
To softly walk by day
Within our thought, to tread
At night our dream-led paths
Of sleep.

They are not lost who find
The sunset gate, the goal
Of all the weary years.
Not lost are they who reach
The summit of their climb,
The peak above the clouds
And storms. They are not lost
Who find the light of sun
And the stars and God.

They are not dead who live
In hearts they leave behind.
In those whom they have blessed
They live a life again,
And shall live through the years
Eternal life, and grow
Each day more beautiful,
As time declares their good,
Forgets the rest, and proves
Their immortality.

CANNING YOUNG VEGETABLES.

Vegetables canned when they are young and very fresh are incomparably sweeter and better than those stored for winter use at the end of the season. Therefore, many housewives can the young vegetables as they come along, beets, carrots, corn and others. The method in common use is known as the Cold Pack, and the vegetables are canned in glass jars.

Prepare the canning utensils in a boiler or other large vessel with a wire or wooden rack fitted inside it on which to rest the jar during sterilization, you will also need a large square of cheesecloth in which to hold the vegetables when dipping and blanching; jars with tops that fit accurately and do not leak; can rubbers of good quality; paring knives and bowls are needed. A good plan is to spread newspapers on the table and drain-board; it makes cleaning up much easier. Wash the vegetables thoroughly in clean cold water, and prepare them as if to be cooked for immediate use.

Blanching means putting vegetables into a cheesecloth bag or wire basket and letting them stand in boiling water from one to twenty minutes, according to the vegetable used.

Cold dipping means plunging the vegetables from the boiling water into clean cold water, and keeping it there until it is cold to the touch.

Sterilizing means boiling the jars of vegetables in a large vessel with a false bottom long enough to kill the germs and spores which cause decay. As soon as the sterilizing of vegetables is complete they are sealed, tested for leaking and put away in a cool, dark place.

Canning young beets.—Wash them well, stem to prevent loss of color. Blanch twenty minutes in boiling water or steam. Cold dip, and remove skins, roots, and stems. They should slip off easily. Pack in jars as closely as possible. Add a teaspoon of salt to each quart jar. Fill the jar to overflowing with boiled water. Put on rubbers and tops, but do not seal tight, and sterilize for an hour and a half. Remove from boiling water, seal jars absolutely, and set away.

Unbidden Guests.

Isn't it strange how company always comes when you have a period planned for yourself? Take Cimex lectularius, for instance. Just when you have found the quaintest little summer resort and a boarding house with the most cheerful country folks and surprisingly reasonable rates and a bed that fairly reaches out and invites you to rest your hot, weary flesh to the soft music of the rustic night, just as you are dozing off in a state of perfect bliss, the Cimex lectulariuses drop in and proceed to make themselves at home on your poor carcass. First you dreamily wonder if there are mosquitoes about the place; then as you search uncertainly for the spot you suspect the ham you ate is giving you the hives. This goes on for quite a spell befpre you finally come to and light the lamp and launch upon an orgy of bloodshed.

There is nothing you can do for company like that except to pack up and leave. It is up to the householder to deal with the company. She may solve the problem most effectively by calling in a trained fumigator and having the room or rooms thoroughly fumigated with hydrocyanic gas or with sulphur. If that is beyond her reach, then she must get a squirt gun and load it with kerosene and squirt every little nook and crevice full; or a solution of corrosive sublimate may be used. Onatural enemies of the bedbug may be kept around the house, especially centipedes and the common little red house ant, if these guests are not obnoxious to taste.

To allay the irritation set up by bedbug bites apply peroxide of hydrogen. Tincture of iodine touched once only upon the bites gives some relief.

If cooties come to spend a holiday with you, remember that they live in clothing and one of the best ways to destroy them in clothing is by immersion of the clothing in gasoline for half an hour.

Head lice deposit their eggs on the shaft of the hair close to the skin, and the eggs or nits are difficult to remove. Saturate the hair for two hours with a mixture of equal parts of kerosene and vinegar, avoiding fire while the hair is wet. Then shampoo. Repeat this daily as long as any lice or nits remain. To remove nits, draw strands of hair through a soft cloth wet each time with hot vinegar.

SCHOOL MONUMENT IS UNVEILED WITH FITTING CEREMONY

Lorne Avenue M. C. Makes Presentation To Board of Education.

Once more the tragic beauty of war sacrifice was brought back to a large audience in London, when the Rev. G. Q. Warner removed the concealing flag from a magnificent rough stone monument in the Lorne avenue school grounds yesterday afternoon and revealed the names of Lorne avenue boys who had paid the supreme sacrifice, inscribed upon a tablet of bronze. When the service began at 4:15 the school grounds surrounding the little oasis of green on which the monument stands, was filled with men, women and children, gathered there in memory of the boys who had once attended the school, and it spread out even farther into the street and upon the verandas of neighboring houses. It was an impressive moment when this throng began to sing the beautiful old hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past," sustained by the Great War Veterans' Band.

The Names.

The monument is simply a huge rough boulder, in which is set a bronze tablet bearing the word "He lives in fame, who died in virtue's cause." The names appearing there are Howard Avey, James Anderson, Earl Bayley, Russel Belcher, Wm. Dean, Charles Eggett, Frank Elliott, Chester Fitzgerald, Wm. Growshaw, Stanley Branton, Russell Jepson, Edmond Moorehead, Wesley Newell, Frank Nickle, Roy Reed, Frank Reid, Wm. Spence, Ira Sumner, Victor Vinen, Ralph Weekes, Eric Wyckoff, Harold Isaac and Heber Lewis.

The monument is the gift of the Lorne Avenue Mothers' Club to the London Board of Education, the presentation being made by Mrs. Clift, president of the club, immediately following the unveiling. Mr. Coleridge, representing the board, received the gift.

The unveiling cermony was itself most impressive, the Rev. G. Q. Warner, removing the flag, assisted by little Misses Margaret Halliday and Margaret Lewis.

Rev. Warner.

"I think that the men who did not come back, by their sacrifice overseas, meant to teach us that loyalty meant not just loyalty to a country, but loyalty to the very spirit of loyalty itself," declared Mr. Warner, "and secondly, that love of country is not merely approval of country, but a desire to make it something better than it is."

Col. Reason, who was also one of the speakers of the afternoon, stated that the victories won on the battlefields of Europe were really won by work done in just such schools as Lorne avenue school. W. J. Snelgrove, principal of the school, acted as chairman. The pupils of the school, assembled in a body directly in front of the monument, also contributed to the program by singing together "O Canada," while beyond on a raised platform were the school trustees and some of the relatives of the boys who were being honored.

The memorial committee from the Mothers' Club, through whose strenuous efforts the money was raised which made the monument possible, includes Mrs. Sturmman, convener; Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Clift, Mrs. Burch, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Snelgrove.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Just health is a lot to be thankful for, plain everyday health; with everything working together so well you don't ever think about your system at all.—Kate Westlake Yeigh.

New Canadian Novel.

Dear Miss Grey.—You took so kindly to my suggestion of quoting from books that I am taking the liberty of writing about a historical romance which I have just finished. "The Forging of the Pikes," by Anison North, which I can recommend to all the bookworms of the Mail-Box. The historical part centres about the rebellion of 1837, so it is particularly interesting to Canadians, and then, the love story is beautiful, and the descriptions of nature. I am quoting one of the latter, hoping I am not taking too much space:

"At this time the whole woods is carpeted with flowers, brought on apace by the warmth of the last few weeks. Everywhere one looks beneath the trees is white with wake-robins—the white wood-lily, which my mother thinks is the finest flower to be found in this new land, even finer than the cowslips and daffodils of Britain. Beside a stump covered with moss of a very bright emerald I found a clump of three of these lilies, each with a green band down the centre of its three sides—very rare in these woods, or anywhere, so far as I know. There was also near it a great mass of Solomon's Seal, with the greenish bells forming beneath the stem and promising so much gracefulness of beauty that I must return to see it within a short time; . . . the little white mitreworth, with its flowers scattered like tiny snowflakes up the stalk; its cousin the foam-flower, very lovable; the white star-flower, nestling on a mossy bed, with gold thread; . . . the bunch-berry, promising a wealth of red fruit for jam-pots later in the season; white snake-root; blue cohosh, which some call 'pappoose root'; jack-in-the-pulpit, which should be named more appropriately monk-in-a-cowl, shining flossy green and red brown in a forest of sturdy leaves; wind-flower and red columbines in the open spaces, and white, yellow and blue violets everywhere."

DRYAD.

Ans.—This is indeed a lovely description, Dryad. I, too, have read the above book, and found it most fascinating. It is from the pen of "Junia," of the Farmer's Advocate, and ran as a serial through that magazine. "Junia" is Miss May Wilson, president of the London Women's Press Club. Her other novel, "Carmichael," which appeared some time ago, is very interesting as well. Am glad you have brought these books to the notice of the Boxites.

Sally Assists.

I'm sending lace pattern for Crystopas, also recitations for her. She said she would erchange some and I'd be pleased to have some in return. I'm sending a stamped, addressed envelope and drop cookie recipe for A. B. C.

Date Cookies—One-pound dates, ¼-lb. almond nuts chopped fine, 1½ cups brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, a little mace, ¾ cup butter, 1 small teaspoon soda dissolved in 1 tablespoon of hot water, 3 eggs, about 2½ cups flour. Drop in teaspoonfuls and bake about 10 minutes in moderate oven. My little sisters are sending a parcel for Humbug. They think it awful for the little girl having to stay in bed for six months.

I also wish to tell the Boxites that pure kettle-rendered lard is good for burns or scalds. Be sure it is free from salt. Will close before I use all the space the Mail-Box has in the paper. As before, SALLY.

Ans.—Have forwarded your parcels to Crystopas and Humbug. In sending any other matter to Humbug, kindly write the Mail-Box for her address and send it to her direct. Your parcel was addressed "The London Advertiser Company" and might not have reached this department at all.

REQUESTS.

I am going to enter your Cosy Corner for once. Could you or any of your readers supply me with the words of the old song, "Jime Blake, Your Wife Is Dying," and please tell me the day that June 28, 1907, fell on. I will sign myself TONY.

Ans.—On Friday.

I am very much interested in your page—there are so many helpful letters. I noticed in Tuesday's paper (June 29) where Little Me would like to crochet lace for someone. Will you please send her address to me? Please find inclosed stamped envelope.

AUNT.

Ans.—Address mailed to you.

In looking over my recipes I came across the inclosed. Unfortunately the name of the writer was cut off. The article does not say whether the water which was put in the bottle with the peaches was cold or boiling. I wonder if there would be any way of finding out, and also whether the writer tried other fruits and found them satisfactory?? Here is the recipe:

"I see in this morning's paper where Tina is asking about putting fruit down without sugar. I tried two quarts of peaches last year and they were just like fresh. I poured boiling water over them, that was to peel them, and after sterilizing the bottles I filled them to the neck with the fruit, and then filled them to overflowing with water, and sealed them, and when I used them this spring I drained the water into a granite kettle and put just enough white sugar to sweeten it, and boiled it up once, then poured that syrup over the fruit. I intend to do the biggest part of my fruit down this way this year.

JUDY McGEE.

VERANDA CHATS.

You will please pardon my being so negligent in returning poems to the Mail-Box, but have been busy, and do not think I'm not thankful for them. I was very glad, indeed, I have been wanting them so long. I, too, am a lover of books. My work is very apt to be neglected if I have a new book. My mother is a cripple from rheumatism. If any of the Boxites know of a cure please send it to me, and I will return favor in any way possible. Thanking you many times for kindness shown to a stranger, and wishing you every success. Will sign myself as before.

JUNE ROSES.

P.S.—Would you care for a bunch of roses, Miss Grey?

Ans.—Would I? I'd love a bunch of roses, June Roses, and one of the printers who saw this letter says he wants a share of them when they arrive. Write us a letter about your roses, won't you? Glad the poems were what you wanted, and am so sorry about your invalid mother's suffering. Perhaps someone can suggest a help, at least.

I have come to your Mail-Box for help. Could you kindly give me the address of the London Children's Home. Or could you kindly let me know where I could get a little girl, fair complexion, and good-looking, and able to talk well? I would like one that would be able to sing and play the piano after she got old enough, age 5, 6 or 7. I want one for company, and would give her a good education and good clothes, and take her into the house as my own. I like to see them sing in the choir at Sunday school and church and sing at Christmas entertainments. Will look for Children's Home address in your Mail-Box news.

LOVER OF CHILDREN.

Ans.—The Protestant Orphans' Home should be addressed Richmond street north, London, Ont., and you might also write to Mr. W. E. Kelly, the Children's Aid Society, London, Ont. I sincerely hope you find the little girl you want, as I am sure there are so many in need of good homes. No "tip" is necessary. Will be only too glad to know that you have been successful.

Friend and Helper of All! I am writing to you for a little information, which you may be able to give. While working in the garden I came across two old coins and would like to know if they are of any value. On one is printed the words "Ships Colonies Commerce," and on the other side of it is a barque with sails. The other coin is dated 1852; around the edge, on one side, is written "Bank of Upper Canada," and man on horse killing a dragon. On the other side is written the words, "Bank Token" in the centre, with an anchor and sword crossed, surmounted with a crown and vessels each side holding fruit, and underneath are the words "One Half-Penny." They are in good condition. Could you tell me what a six-leaved clover means? Have lots of four-leaved ones.

A SURLY DOG.

Ans.—Both coins are quite common, I am told, and are of no special value. Sorry I do not know the significance of six-leaved clovers. Hope the one you inclosed will bring us good luck.

Here I come again, but I saw where I could be of a little help possibly. Am sanding words of song for Sage. Hope it is the one she wanted. Now for a cabbage hine. To keep worms off the cabbage take three parts of lime (slaked), and one part salt, and sprinkle on. If it was a crochet edging pattern that Crystopas wanted I might be able to send her one, as I have several. Also have some nice knitted doilie patpatterns if anyone would like them. Would like a correspondent about my own age, 22.

LILLIAN.

As I saw my last letter in print, I took courage to write again. Could anyone tell me how to take raw potato stains out of pillow-cases? My brothers had sore eyes and scraped raw potatoes and put on them at night. It cured their eyes, but left bad stains on the pillow-cases. I will crochet woolen tams, edges on handkerchiefs or medallions, or corners for dresser and commode scarfs for anyone at a reasonable price, if they wish it. They can send a letter to you, and then I will send my address, and will send them prices and amount of crochet cotton needed.

CARNATION.

SUMMER-SWEET.

(Katharine Tynan Hinkson.)

Honey-sweet, sweet as honey smell the lilies,
Little lilies of the gold in a ring;
Little censers of pale gold are the lilies.
That the wind, sweet and sunny, sets a-swing.

Smell the rose sweet of sweets, all a-blowing,
Hear the cuckoo call in dreams, low and sweet,
Like a very John-a-dreams coming, going,
There's honey in the grass at our feet.

There's honey in the leaf and the blossom,
And honey in the night and the day,
And honey-sweet the heart in Love's bosom,
And honey-sweet the words Love will say.

THE THREE TRAMPS.

Part Eight.

We will go back in our story and find out just what happened to Herbie the hound. You will remember he started off gally in search of another chicken feast. The night before he had had no trouble in catching the plump fowl, for he had crept right up to the henyard without a sound, crawled into the roosting house, and then in one jump had fastened his teeth in Mr. Rooster and hauled him off to be devoured. Perhaps it was that Herbie had stolen so many chickens in his day he did not worry about the loud roar the other hens made, or perhaps it was in his excitement to get away, and his joy at the prize he had taken he did not notice the outcry at all. At any rate, no sooner was Herbie out of the roosting house than the farmer spied his shadow stealing across the henyard and knew exactly what had happened.

He was a wise farmer, and also a thrifty one. He liked good dogs, but he knew that bad dogs were no use to anyone, so he planned to catch the thief if he returned. So before it became dark the next night he locked the chickens in another roosting house and set a steel trap in the one that Herbie had visited the night before.

Herbie, when he came to the henyard, thought everything was very still, and there was not a stir in the roosting house. Somehow Freddie's and Sammy's warning had made him feel a trifle nervous, but he was not going to let that feeling cheat him of a good feast, he told himself. Across the henyard he crept just like he had the night before. He could not see so well, it seemed, but it looked as if the roosting house was filled with chickens as before. He did not wait to crawl in, but sprang in; there was a sharp click and then what a pain in Herbie's front paws. The cruel teeth of the steel trap had closed over on them, and he was a prisoner, too, for the teeth had got right through his flesh. Then Herbie started to howl and howl—the very howls that Freddie and Sammy had heard.

But someone else had heard them, too. The farmer came out with a shotgun, and would have shot Herbie right then, but he did not wish to awaken his family with the report of his gun. "It will do in the morning," he said, and leaving Herbie in his pain, locked the door of the roosting house to make sure that he would be there in the morning.

AD THOMAS JUMPS BACK INTO GAME AND BEATS ACES

Tribe Takes Whole Series With Champs, Lost 5--1.

MANY ACES MAROONED

Londoners Connect Safely 9 Times Off Shriver For 11 Base Total.

London won its ninth straight victory and cleaned the series with Saginaw by taking Saturday's game 5 to 1. Thomas, who made his first appearance in a game since his release from hospital, let the Aces down with one run and four hits, one of which was of the cootie variety, while Shriver, the invaders' star starboard hurler, was knicked for a total of nine hits for eleven bases.

One of the weird features of the game was the stranding of Pike and Fisse on bases. Pike was left there four times and Fisse three, for a total of seven of the nine Yanks left marooned.

Saginaw went hitless and scoreless until the fourth, while London juggled across two runs and made four bingles in the same space of time.

Shay Starts Works.

Shay started the amusement with one out by a clean bingle to centre. Having acquired second on a pass ball he romped home on Calbert's liner to left. Kuhn drove in Calbert with the winning run of the game when he doubled to right field.

The Aces' only tally came in the fourth on singles by Lipps and Fisse, Pittenger's error and McDaniels' infield out, which scored Lipps, while "Doc" Shay was busy converting it into a double play.

The tribe poked across a couple more in the fifth. Shay again opened with a single, Calbert drew a life and Kuhn placed them in scoring positions with a sacrifice. Witry was walked, filling the bases. Crichlow fulfilled the imploration of the crowd by jabbing one on the end of the nose for two stations, scoring Shay and Calbert. Witry was thrown out at home and Crichlow was caught trying to steal across the platter after reaching third, retiring the side.

The Tecs added another for good measure in the seventh. Calbert drew another pass from Shriver, taking second on Kuhn's infield out and scoring on Witry's single to centre.

SAGINAW, July 4.—Saginaw celebrated the Fourth and its return home from Canada by beating Kitchener 4 to 3, breaking its losing streak of seven straight. A bobble gave one run and Weinburg's double scored Pike who had beat out a bunt. The score:

GRIER OF MONTREAL WINS AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Champion Made a Record of Eight Up on Eighteenth Hole in the Morning Session.

BEACONSFIELD, Que., July 4.—(By the Canadian Press.)—C. B. Grier of the Royal Montreal Club, on Saturday afternoon won the amateur golf championship of Canada by defeating T. Gillespie of Calgary, by five up and four in the finals of the series, which was played in the links here during the last week. Mr. Grier established a record of eight up in the eighteen holes played in the morning. Mr. Gillespie was completely off his form and did practically everything that a good golfer should not do. He found bunkers with the grossest of regularity, drove into the rough and frequently over-ran the holes in his green play.

Mr. Grier, on the other hand, appeared perfectly at his ease and made the round in 76 to his opponent's 85.

In the afternoon game Mr. Gillespie was himself again. He played much better than Mr. Grier, even making allowance for the fact that the Montrealer was not extending himself. The Calgarian won the first, second, fourth, seventh, eighth and eleventh holes by par play. His opponent took three holes, the remainder of the fourteen holes played being halved.

During the afternoon the most sensational play of the series occurred. At the tenth, both drove off the fairway, Mr. Grier into the great crowd lining the course, the balling bouncing into the rough behind a hedge. Mr. Gillespie also pulled his drive, the ball finally resting among stones in the hedge. Mr. Gillespie made a fine recovery and missed a long putt by an inch. Mr. Grier drove through the hedge safely and then holed out a 30-foot putt.

Princess Pats and Utilities played a scoreless tie at the Heights Saturday afternoon. The Pats' eleven played their last scheduled league game, while Public Utilities took the field with their usual formidable eleven, with the exception of their custodian, Sidebottom substituting for Whitworth. Pats won the toss, and on the kick-on in the first period Utilities pressed and got a free kick within the Pats penalty area, Whitworth taking the kick and sending the sphere out of play. Pats, showing a good piece of combination play, carried the ball to the other end of the field, Sheedy centring magnificently, but nothing materializing. The Pats, who were playing an aggressive game, continued to press and forced a corner, but nothing resulted. Utilities ultimately got the sphere down into their opponents' territory, but the Pats' defence trio, Robertson, Edgdar and "Shiner" Wright, who were playing in great form, cleared in grand style. Utilities carried the ball to the Pats' end, Leigh getting the ball ready for a shot, but he was rule doffside. Midfield play ensued and ultimately Utilities bombarded the Pats' goal, but Edgar, in conjunction with Pats' left back, cleared well. Barrett, Utilities, after a nice piece of play on his forwards' part, sent in a humdinger of a shot, but Robertson, Pats' goalie, who was giving a grand exhibition of goal-tending, saved well. Pats sent the sphere down the field and forced a corner, Madden, centring the ball to perfection, but Utilities' backs, who were right on the job, cleared in grand style. Utilities pressed their opponents' defence once more, with Robertson saving shot after shot sent in to him. Pats retaliated by taking a nice run down the field, and Madden took a great shot for goal, but Sidebottom saved miraculously. Utilities kept bombarding Pats goal, but "Shiner" Wright, who was at his best, cleared times without number. Billy Whitworth put in a well-directed shot, but Robertson tipped the ball, which went over the cross bar. Utilities forced two corners in succession, but nothing resulted. Utilities continued to press, Robertson saving magnificently.

On the kickoff in the second period Utilities pressed Jimmy Smith, their centre half, playing an exceedingly clever game, feeding his forwards to a nicety. Leigh, their outside left, was unable to get away being so closely watched by the opposing right back. Pats got the ball down into the Utilities territory, Woodward passing the ball to James, who took a side shot, only missing the goal by inches. Pats continued to press, but Utilities defence were invincible. Sidebottom, Hunt and Dennis playing a great game. Utilities had a run down and forced a corner, Barrett putting in a nice centre, but nothing resulted. Pats, who were playing a much better game than was shown against the "Emma Gees," forced the play into their opponents' territory, Hamber, who was in great form, and Sheedy trying hard to locate the net. Utilities' backs having their work cut out to stave off the attack.

Utilities forwards at this moment showed a good piece of combination, and carried the ball right into the Pats' goal area, but Edgar cleared. Shortly before the finish of the game Turner, of the Utilities, sent in a well-directed shot to Robertson, which they claimed beat the Pats' goalie, the referee consulting the two linemen, and ultimately giving a throw-up. Nothing ensued and the Pats pressed and forced three corners in succession immediately before the whistle blew.

The lineup:

Public Utilities—Goal, Sidebottom; R. B., Hunt; L. B., Dennis; R. H., Whitworth; centre half, Smith (Capt.); L. H., Hodkinson; O. R., Turner; I. R., Barrett; C. F., Dickson; I. L., Iceman; O. L., Leigh.

Princess Pats—Goal, Robertson; R. B., Edgar (Capt.); L. B., "Shiner" Wright; R. H., Black; C. H., Spiers; L. H., Mitchell; O. R., Woodward; I. R., Hamber; C. F., James; I. L., Sheedy; O. L., Madden.

Tuesday, July 6, on Carling Heights, kickoff 6:30 p.m.; referee, Sergt. McCready; Great War Vets. vs. Public Utilities.

Pats finished the last of their scheduled league games Saturday with Public Utilities, when the game resulted in a scoreless tie.

The Pats have played fourteen actual league games, won seven, lost three and drawn four, scoring eighteen goals and having thirteen goals scored against them.

Thursday, July 8, on Carling Heights, kickoff, 6:30 p.m., Army and Navy Vets vs. Grand Army Vets. Referee, Jimmy McGuire.

Friday, July 9, Public Utilities vs. 2nd Machine Gun, kickoff 6:30 p.m.; referee, S. Hocking; Public Utilities vs. 2nd Machine Gun.

All the Saturday soccer games are off to allow the Manufacturers' amateur athletic meet to have a clear field for the day, the soccerites all over the Dominion believing co-operation to be one of the very best esentials in fostering this great British game of soccer, which is worthy of greater support from sporting Canadians who believe in British pastimes and British fair play.

They were, of course, awarded four points, owing to McClarys' withdrawal from the league.

This is a very cerditable showing indeed, seeing the many obstacles the Pats had to overcome, and we must give them credit for being stickers from the word go.

Hamber, the Pats newly-acquired inside right, is a great acquisition to the soldiers' aggregation. He played a nifty game on Saturday.

He is the Pats all-round sportsman, being a splendid cricketer, etc.

Grand Trunk swamped Richards-Wilcox Saturday at Springbank Park by 4—0.

Midds, Richards-Wilcox goalie, who has recently been sick and who was chosen to play against Toronto Scottish, appeared between the sticks for his club Saturday, but he could not stand up against the trip-hammer shots that the Wasps rained in on him.

Charlie Green is progressing favorably under the circumstances, and he wishes to thank all those who are interesting themselves on his behalf.

The league is now getting near the finish, the Great War Vets. having four more games to play, the Wasps six, Richards-Wilcox two, Army and Navy Vets. five, the Emma Gees" seven, the Public Utilities five and the Grand Army Vets. eight.

Herring, Grand Army Vets, excelled himself in the London-Scottish game. He worked hard, and was here, there and all over.

A meeting of the league's executive will be held tonight at 8 p.m., Hotel Richmond. Business important.

The grievance committee are also asked to attend the meeting.

The league's energetic financial secretary-treasurer, Capt. William Bowie, leaves for St. John, N. B., shortly. The league will certainly lose a good sportsman in Mr. Bowie.

Considering that Jimmy Green, Askew and Lownie of the Wasps played at St. Thomas on the evening prior to their Thursday game, they certainly did remarkably well.

Sidebottom, between the sticks for Public Utilities Saturday, along with Robertson, Pats goalie, gave a remarkable exhibition of goal-tending.

The young Whitworth brothers played a great game for London City Thursday last, Whitworth in goal being as good as they make 'em in that position.

It is said that Yorky Richardson, Army and Navy Vets, is to transfer his services shortly to Great War Vets.

And that Bell, Army and Navy Vets., will be seen shortly in the ranks of the Wasps.

Askew, Wasps, has left London on a visit to "little" New York, New York state, U. S. A.

Garrow, Wasps clever goalie, got hurt once more in his team's game against Woolworth Rovers at St. Thomas Wednesday. "Geordie" gets lots of hard knocks at times.

A real wasp's colors are black and gold. The Grand Trunks colors are black and gold, and as the Grand Trunk Wasps have got a sting to their play, it is therefore very appropriate that they should be called the Wasps.

In Wednesday's game with Woolworth Rovers at St. Thomas the home team was leading by two goals ten minutes before time was up.

The Wasps pulled themselves together and evened up the score in that short period, and were on the verge of scoring another when the referee blew his whistle for time up.

Good old Wasps.

Noble, Great War Vets., forceful and energetic player, who hurt his knee twice recently, is progressing favorably.

Marshall, Great War Vets., has recently been appointed captain of their soccer team. "Marsh" is a good player and a thorough sport.

A special report of the G. W. V. A. vs. Public Utilities game, to be played Tuesday evening, will be given in Thursday Advertiser.

The City Soccer League wishes to thank the following local gentlemen for financial assistance rendered the league: Hon. C. S. Hyman, C. R. Somerville, W. R. Yendall, Dr. Cameron Wilson, Jas. Gray, H. A. Stevenson, M.P.P., Bishop of Huron, Col. Hobbs, Major Hume Cronyn, Sir Adam Beck and Mr. C. Hollins.

ORIENTS WIN ONLY INTER-CLUB GAME SATURDAY

Army and Navy Vets Fail To Put In Appearance—Game Given To Alerts.

In the only Inter-Club League fixture Saturday afternoon the Orients defeated the Manhattans by the score of 7 to 0. Down, who did the hurling for the orange and black, had the opposing batsmen entirely at his mercy, striking out nine of them.

Jackson, who started for the Manhattans, had to be relieved owing to his wildness. Southcott, who took up the hurling duties, pitched a steady game until the sixth, when four runs were nicked from his delivery.

The Army and Navy Vets team failed to make its appearance for the second set-to with the Alerts, who were given the game by default.

BY ERNEST J. LANIGAN.

Many a time, when the Indians have been playing at the Fenway in Boston, Hub scribes have remarked, when Tristram E. Speaker failed to come through with a hit and left runners waiting to score, that that was Speke's great specialty. "He's a .300 hitter, but he doesn't drive in the runs," has been the verdict of the inhabitants of the Boston press coop on the Texan since he went westward and put Cleveland back solidly on the baseball map.

In previous seasons this remark might have been true as regards the world's greatest outfielder, but this year it is wide of the truth, for Speke, in the first two months of the campaign, batted in 41 runs, and when he supplied the third out left 27 men on the bases. Figuring batting averages under a new way (and, according to some intelligent athletes, a sane way), Tris, with runs in sight, is a .603 walloper.

One of the St. Louis (formerly St. Looey) Cardinals told the writer that as long as the major leagues now were keeping track of the runs batted in, they might as well keep track of the number of men each player left on the bases when he supplied the third out, and that these two totals would give a better line on the value of a player at the plate than any other kind of calculations.

Really .603 Hitter.

Doing this in Speaker's case shows that, as told, he is a .603 hitter. Speke, when all the returns up to June 12 were in, had not batted in more tallies for Cleveland than any other man on the payroll of James Christopher Dunn, formerly in the coal business in Marshalltown, Iowa, but his hitting with runs in sight had been the most effective.

W. Lawrence Gardner, to June 11, inclusive, had knocked in one more counter for Cleveland than Speaker, but he had left 47 men on the bases to Speke's 27, and his average was 131 points less, being .472.

The one Indian with a better average than Speaker in hitting in runs was Leslie Nunamaker, who had batted in nine and left two men marooned—an average of .818. Charlie Jamieson's percentage was .562, Elmer John Smith's .519, and Dick Niehaus' .500. No others were at (or above) the half-way mark. Records of the Indians in batting in runs and leaving men on the bases this season:

Players.	R. B. I.	L. O. B.	P.C.
Nunamaker	9	2	.818
Speaker	41	27	.603
Jamieson	9	7	.562
Smith	28	26	.519
Niehaus	1	1	.500
Johnston	26	28	.481
Gardner	42	47	.472
Wood	10	14	.417
Myers	3	5	.375
Bagby	4	7	.364
Coveleskie	2	4	.333
Chapman	19	41	.317
Wambsganss	19	42	.311
O'Neill	13	30	.302
Graney	8	30	.211
Caldwell	3	13	.187
Evans	2	11	.154

The Indians who didn't bat in any runs in the first two months of the season, and who left men on the bases were Chet Thomas, George Uhle, Joe Boehling, George Burns and Guy Morton. Thomas, Uhle and Boehling each left one man stranded; Burns left two, and Morton left three.

This new way of calculating batting averages is not likely to become popular with the scribes, but several intelligent athletes aver it is the correct way to get a true line on the ability of a man.

There are some players who can hit with the sacks vacant and can't hit when there are men on.

Tris Speaker is not one of those this season.

In the final for the Wyford cup the Thames Rowing Club beat the Vesta crew.

Christ College beat Merton College in the final for the ladies' plate.

GALT BEATS SLINGSBY'S

GALT, July 2.—In a one-sided exhibition of baseball Saturday afternoon at Dickson Park the Galt Inter-County team defeated Slingsbys of the Brantford City League to the tune of 15 to 4. It was too much one-sided to be interesting, the locals proving superiors of the visitors in all departments of the game. Wilson, who started on the mound for Brantford, yielded 10 runs in two innings, and O'Heron, who succeeded him and who proved to be the only good ball player on the team, received such poor support that he could accomplish little, his teammates having 11 errors. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Slingsbys		4	9	11
Galt		15	13	5

Wilson, O'Heron and Butler; Johnson and Dolson.

Umpire—F. A. Hardman, Galt.

The game was postponed along with a number of other contests from Friday's tournament on account of rain. The members of the trophy winners were: G. F. Mahon, skip, and W. J. Salter, F. Lawr and J. Hodgins.

The semi-finals in the consolation were also played. The Hendershot four defeated the Illingworth quartet and will contest in the finals. The semi-finals in the association and finals in the consolation will be played on Wednesday, July 14.

The tournament was the most successful ever held by the local club.

O'ROURKE HAS ANOTHER HARD-HITTING STREAK

TORONTO, July 4.—Frank O'Rourke, shortstop of the Toronto Club, probably created a new baseball record on Saturday in the game between the Toronto Club and Rochester of the International League, when, for the second time this season he hit safely six times in six trips to the plate. In Saturday's game he had two home runs, a double and three singles, or six hits for a total of 13 bases. His previous performance of this kind was on April 22 of this year in the opening game at Reading, Pa., between Reading and Toronto. In that game he had three doubles and three singles in six times at bat, or a total of nine bases on the six opportunities.

BRANTFORD BASEBALL

BRANTFORD, July 4.—Percy Beckett, whose umpiring has been one of the features of the junior leagues here, tried senior company on Saturday in the Veritys-Cordage match and had a hard row to hoe, the Cordage riding him hard. He came through, however. The Cordage lost to the Veritys, 7—1, two errors and three walks sending in five of the seven runs for the plowmakers. The score:

MATHEWSON QUITS

NEW YORK, July 4.—Christy Mathewson, famous New York National pitcher for fifteen years, has decided to give up his position as coach to the team and quit baseball. Mathewon has been suffering for a fortnight with bronchitis, and plans to go to Lake Placid in the Adirondacks, for a vacation. He retired from active baseball in 1916.

VERNOT LOWERS RECORD.

MONTREAL, July 4.—George Vernot of Montreal swam a 220-yard event in 2:39 at the Olympic swimming trials here Saturday afternoon, lowering the previous record of 3:04 1-5, established by R. N. Ritter of New York. Vernot earned the right to represent Canada at the Olympic games, taking with him the title of Canadian champion.

TORONTO BUYS HURLER.

TORONTO, July 4.—The Toronto Baseball Club has purchased Pitcher "Bunny" Hearne from the Boston Nationals.

WHITE HAS TO K. O. LEONARD BEFORE HE CAN BE NEW CHAMP.

Bout Will Draw the Biggest Crowd in Lightweight History.

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 4.—Benny Leonard, New York, lightweight champion, will defend his title for the first time in six months, here tomorrow, when he faces Charlie White, Chicago, considered one of the most dangerous hitters in the lightweight ranks, in a ten-round championship contest.

The lightweight rivals will battle in a huge newly-constructed arena before an expected capacity attendance of 18,000 persons. The gate receipts, if the arena is filled to capacity, will total between $50,000 and $60,000, one of the biggest in the lightweight history. Leonard has been guaranteed $15,000, with the privilege of a percentage. White accepted a straight percentage. Ed. W. Smith, Chicago, will be the third man in the ring.

Although Leonard is an overwhelming favorite in the betting, White has hundreds of admirers, who because of his hitting ability, believe that he has an excellent chance of winning. They point to the fact that White has never been knocked out; that he has won five of his last six contests with knockouts, and that he never was in such perfect condition.

White expects to go into the ring weighing about 135 or 136 pounds, while the champion expects to scale between 137 and 138 pounds.

There will be no decision rendered tomorrow. White, to win the title must score a knockout.

CLEVELAND REGAINS THE LEADERSHIP OF AMERICAN LEAGUE

Star Pitchers Have Been Used in Every Game Recently.

New York, July 5.—Cleveland regained the American League leadership from New York yesterday by administering Detroit's seventh straight defeat, while the Yankees dropped their first game in ten to Washington. The heavy slugging of the two leaders is carrying them along at a fast pace, but the Indian club lacks the smooth pitching that the Yankees possess. Either Coveleski or Bagby, the Cleveland star twirlers, have been called upon in every contest for a week.

The Cincinnati world's champions made a slight gain over Brooklyn for the National League leadership. Although the Reds are betting lightly, their pitchers held their opponents to an average of about 2½ runs a game last week. Brooklyn and Chicago both are enjoying good pitching again. The Superbas have been batting lightly, but yesterday pounded out 31 hits for 18 runs in a double-header with Philadelphia. The Cubs, however, lost a battle for third place yesterday to St. Louis, when four pitchers were unable to check the Cardinals. Philadelphia lacks scoring power. The Pittsburg twirlers are handicapped by light hitting. New York's slugging was offset by unsteady pitching.

In the American League, Chicago out-batted the league leaders last week, but was unable to attain the same winning pace. Close scores marked the Boston and Washington contests. Johnson of the Senators, is in especially good form, pitching a three hit and a no-hit game last week. St. Louis is displaying see-saw form.

Detroit and Philadelphia are falling in the rut. To advance one position the Tigers require a gain that would nearly equal an advance from last to first place in the National League. The Athletics ended their losing streak at eighteen games, and then began another stretch of defeats.

GOOD WEATHER ON TAP FOR THE 32ND ANNUAL OF O. B. A.

E. Weld of London Drawn Against Smart of Toronto in First Draw.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, July 5.—Auspicious weather conditions prevailed for the commencement of the thirty-second annual tournament of the Ontario Bowling Association here today. The copious rains of the last few days, followed by yesterday's warm winds, helped considerably in conditioning the bowling greens for playing of a championship calibre.

Today's preliminary draw brought together several well-known kitty artists, including R. B. Bice of the Toronto Queen City's, and G. H. Muntz of the Toronto Victorias; R. W. Morgan, Niagara, and R. W. Paton, Canadas.

W. A. Melkie, St. Catharines, is pitted against Dr. Crawford of Hamilton Fernleighs, while E. Weld, London, is scheduled to meet A. Smart of Toronto.

The preliminary and first round draw brings together several Western Ontario bowlers of repute. They are: R. J. Goudy (Parkdale) vs. W. S. McDonald (Tillsonburg); H. W. Hodgins (St. Catharines) vs. R. M. Cassels (Hamilton Thistles).

W. Spencer and Arthur McNamara nosed out a victory over Alex McBeath and Lloyd Thomas in a two-mile tandem event.

Hay was the feature of the local market this morning. Prices jumped from $32 and $35 a ton to $33 and $36 a ton. Hay now is higher than at any time this year. Very few loads were offered last week, and the market officials claim that not as many will be offered this week.

Strawberries were unsettled. Wholesale prices ranged from 17c and 21c, but the general quotation was from 18c to 20c a box. The retail price is from 20c to 22c a box. The season so far has been far above other years.

The maximum price of eggs, wholesale, took a jump of one cent a dozen. They now sell from 50c to 51c a dozen. Butter remains firm.

Vegetables did not change in price on Saturday. The demand for new vegetables is very active. Old potatoes by the bushel took a drop of 25c. This is due to new potatoes coming in.

Hogs remain unchanged and the demand for them is active.

No changes in the prices of hides were recorded.

WARDSVILLE

WARDSVILLE, July 3.—A uique picnic was held yesterday, July 1, at the Government Park, Rondeau, consisting of the family and relatives of William Taylor of Harwich township, in commemoration of his 83rd birthday. There were about 75 people present, among them being Dougal McCoig and family of Windsor, Mrs. John Taylor and son, Plymouth, Mich.; Robert Taylor and wife of Chatham; Miss Barbara Taylor, Perth; Mrs. McCulley, Hallsdale, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Johnston of Ridgetown and Mrs. Euphemia Mulligan and daughter, Muriel, Wardsville. Out of a family of ten daughters and four sons five daughters and one son were present. Mr. Taylor, though 83 years of age, is quite hale and hearty and by all appearances has many years of life before him yet. The ladies served a very enjoyable dinner and tea.

The funeral services of Miss Dykes, who died on Tuesday afternoon after an illness extending over about 18 months, were conducted yesterday afternoon at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Farquarson of the Presbyterian Church and were private. Interment was made in the Wardsville Cemetery. The late Miss Dykes made her home with her brother William, who survives her.

The congregation of the Anglican Church held their annual garden party last night on the rectory grounds and there was a large attendance. The program was furnished by a group of entertainers from London. The grounds were illuminated by electricity, which added materially to the pleasure of the occasion. The proceeds amounted to $488.

Eighteen pupils from this village and surrounding district wrote on the entrance examination held in the high school this week. Miss Ferrington, the principal, presided.

ELEVEN ODDFELLOWS ARE PRESENTED WITH JEWELS

Interesting Event at Western Star Lodge, I.O.O.F., Brussels.

BRUSSELS, July 3.—An interesting event took place in Western Star Lodge, I. O. O. F., Brussels, when veteran jewels were awarded to eleven brethren who had been members for the past 25 years. A musical program preceded the reading of an appropriate address by Postmaster F. S. Scott, one of the oldest members, to the eight brethren present, viz: A. McGuire, W. C. Smith, S. Wilton, R. S. Wilson (London), D. C. Ross, R. Johnston (Toronto), W. H. Kerr and W. A. Grewar. The jewels were pinned on respectively by Misses N. Ament, L. Leatherdale, K. and A. Wilton, L. Ross, N. Fox, E. McCracken and Archie Grewar, son of the recipient. A suitable reply was made by W. H. Kerr.

A fine address followed by Dr. Coupland, St. Marys, past grand master of Ontario, now grand treasurer. A tasty lunch was served at the close. The jewels were sent to the three absent brothers, A. Koenig, Paris; S. H. Jackson, Moose Jaw, and Gordon Mooney, Deloraine, Man., to be presented by the lodges where they are resident.

Mrs. John Dougherty, one of the pioneer residents of Grey Township, passed away in her 85th year, and later Mrs. George Clark went to her rest, aged 79 years. Both outlived their husbands and leave adult families.

The death of Mrs Ben Dark of Galt took place in the hospital after a long and severe illness. She was formerly of this locality, her maiden name being Elizabeth Hollinger. Her funeral took place to Brussels Cemetery from the home of her father, John Hollinger. Mrs. Dark was in her 40th year.

A community picnic is being arranged by Walton Farmers' Club in the McCulla grove for Friday afternoon. Among speakers expected are Hon. Peter Smith, Stratford; J. W. King, U. F. O. candidate for the Commons, Bluevale; Rev. Mr. Amos, Palmerston. Games and sports, dancing, lunch, etc., are also on the afternoon's program.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

With sugar over 20 cents a pound, and the outlook of a possibly higher price and uncertainty of supply, beekeepers will find it advisable to pay more attention than usual to the saving of wholesale honey for wintering the bees safely.

Each colony should have not less than 40 pounds of stores for winter. The honey gathered in June and July from alsike and white clover is perfectly wholesome and makes the finest winter stores. Most of the honeys gathered from other abundant sources in June and July are also wholesome, but honey gathered from mixed sources in August and September is, as a rule, less so, and is, therefore, liable to cause dysentery, which will weaken or kill the colony before spring. Some kinds of fall honey are very injurious. However, buckwheat honey and the honey from certain species of goldenrod and aster that grow abundantly in dry situations, if it ripens before cold weather, are wholesome.

It would, therefore, be wise to save combs of clover honey in order that several of them may be placed in the hive about the centre. These combs should be given early enough in the fall, that is to say, about the middle of September, to allow the bees time to empty a few cells to make a place for the winter cluster to occupy. Care should be taken that these combs of honey are taken from colonies that are entirely free from American foul-brood. It will be advisable also to save extra combs of honey sufficient to give each colony one more comb in spring, but the honey given in spring need not be of the best quality.

A strong colony of Italian bees, containing a prolific young queen, often has very little honey in the brood chamber when the supers are removed in the fall. A simple way to supply such a colony with suitable stores for the winter is to give or leave it a super full of clover honey.

HOTEL MAN PUTS TANLAC TO TEST

Says He Wants His Friends to Know the Results of His Experiments.

"Tanlac has done me so much good that I want to let my many friends at Black Lake and here in Quebec know about it," said Edouard Lecours, recently to a Tanlac representative. Mr. Lecours is well known to the traveling public, as he is the popular clerk at the St. Ursule Hotel in Quebec, and was formerly proprietor of the Hotel at Black Lake.

"For six or seven years now I have suffered from indigestion, he continued. "The gas would form on my stomach, and cause me great distress. I used to dread going to the dining table, because I knew only too well what I would have to go through afterwards, even although I was very careful what I ate. As the result of my indigestion, my nerves got very bad and I used to have terrible dizzy spells while at my work. Any little excitement or exertion would make me break out in a bath of perspiration. My sleep at night was very disturbed, and I would get up in the mornings feeling more tired than when I went to bed the night before. I lost energy and ambition in life. I was getting gradually weaker every day, and at last my condition became alarming.

"When I read of the wonderful benefits people were receiving from Tanlac I decided to try it, and put it to test. I have only taken three bottles, but already the change in me is simply extraordinary. I never would have thought it possible that any medicine could do one so much good. It gave me a tremendous appetite. I'm always ready when the dinner bell sounds and I can eat anything I want without being troubled in the least afterwards. The gas no longer bothers me, and I do not have those dizzy spells any more. I sleep soundly every night, and in the morning I feel full of life and vigor. I have every confidence in recommending Tanlac to my fellow citizens."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

RUPTURE KILLS 7,000 ANNUALLY

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 413, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

Courses in Education and Science To Be Established.

Paris, July 4.—Parliament voted nearly two years ago a law for the establishment in France of an extensive system of agricultural schools and domestic science courses for future farmwives. M. Querille, under secretary of state for agriculture, is just completing the details of a scheme which will be put into effect as soon as the financing is arranged, and will be ready to train French farmers in modern methods before winter.

The French scheme will not differ greatly from the American plan adopted in Middle Western and Eastern States, where the crops have shown wonderful increases as the result of extension courses. The greatest difficulty is finding efficient teachers, the war having thinned the ranks of French educators, but M. Querille intends to offer better pay to technical instructors.

"We are already assured that several departments will take care of expenses, and first will inaugurate several small farm schools and dairy courses," says M. Querille. "These will be maintained throughout the winter, and spring will give the peasant the opportunity to put his new found education into practical use. I am certain this will offset the growing tendency of French peasants to emigrate. This tendency is especially noticeable in the mountain districts and here again we will make an effort to study the individual needs of the district, giving pupils training in horticulture and forestry which will have a lasting effect upon French prosperity.

"As for the domestic science schools, the reputation of the French for thriftiness is well known, but we will supplement this instinct with professional knowledge of sewing, home making and decoration and child rearing."

In short, M. Querille intends to make French education practical and not picturesque, and is seeking the co-operation of banks, trades unions and the government in granting ample funds. While the budget allowance is not decided, the law already provides that a certain percentage of all pari-mutuel wagers must be devoted to agricultural institutions, and from this alone the income for the present year is estimated at several million francs.

THROWN FROM MOWER

Kippen Man Has Several Ribs Broken as Result of Runaway.

KIPPEN, July 3.—Mr. Purdy, who is working for William Alexander, met with a painful accident Friday while driving the mower. One of the lines got under the tail of a colt and caused it to bolt. Mr. Purdy was thrown off the machine and several of his ribs broken, besides many serious bruises. The mower was badly smashed, but the horses escaped injury.

CXVIII.—TONY'S STORY.

Jim and I were utterly taken aback. Tony Lascelles—the son of Travis Lloyd! How could it be?

"It seems," said Mr. Lloyd, still with that little quaver in his tones, "it seems that Tony has been following up some clues. Proofs of identity were in my safe—some photographs—some papers. On two occasions Tony opened the safe, anxious to secure those proofs. We suspected his motives wrongly. I am sorry—"

He turned to Tony. That youth had the grace to look profoundly uncomfortable.

"I—I ought to have come straight and told you, sir," he muttered, "but I wanted the proofs first."

Travis Lloyd gave a pathetic sort of smile. This finding of his long lost child—it carried with it considerable disillusionment. Was he trying now to make the very best of an unhappy situation?

But—as he talked—I could see a gleam that might be paternal, in his eye. Evidently the shock of his newly-established fatherhood had swept away something of his justly condemnatory attitude toward Tony.

As for me, I felt so bewildered that I didn't rightly take in half of the explanations.

But this I gathered: The visit to town and to Tony had been followed by a prolonged interview with Jim's father, the man who had brought up Tony as his son. Tony had been present at the interview—with proofs.

Mr. St. Aubyns and his wife had described how, twenty-five years ago, they'd found the abandoned baby lying sleeping on their doorstep, in a New York suburb. The baby's clothes were initialed with the letters T. L.

"We could find nobody to claim him, and my wife loved him immediately," Jim's father had declared. "We had no child of our own at that time, and we adopted him. Yes, of course we tried to find the parents. But with small success. Advertising at that period wasn't so cleverly done as it is today—and no one answered our newspaper advertisements.

"We were going off to Italy within the week, and we took the baby with us. From the initials, T. L., on his clothes we called him Tony Lascelles. Eighteen months later my own son was born. And the children grew up together."

Until the age of eighteen, When his reckless tendencies were getting him into endless scrapes in college, Tony was not told of the mystery surrounding his birth. Mr. and Mrs. St. Aubyns, in fact, were quite convinced he was the child of some unfortunate girl, who had abandoned him where she hoped he would find a home.

Up till the age of eighteen, Tony had considered himself a son of some distant relative of the St. Aubyns family.

CXIX—HOW IT HAPPENED.

No doubt the revelation of his adoption was something in the nature of a blow to Tony. It had the effect of quietening him down for a period. But, at the age of twenty-one, the boy was expelled from college, and was deep in debt, difficulties and intrigues.

Mr. St. Aubyns, in despair, washed his hands of Tony. He first paid his debts, placated the college authorities, then shipped the erring youth off abroad, with a considerable sum of money in his pocket, some valuable introductions, and the promise of a yearly income so long as he stayed abroad.

But Tony didn't stay for long. Life was too hard away from home.

Tony returned home within a couple of years, and began living on his wits. Young, handsome and attractive, with a fair education and sharp judgment, he really made a precarious though quite comfortable livelihood. Alice and her type were always good to him. They always will be, so long as there are foolish women in the world.

And Tony, as a kind of hobby, began to investigate the circumstances of his birth and parentage.

He had many friends among the crooks of various countries. That helped him. And one night—in a rather shady New York restaurant, where crooks of different continents foregathered — he found a middle-aged woman who actually proved to be the nurse who had abandoned him!

Having no knowledge of the grown-up Tony's identity, she confessed how, twenty-five years ago, she had laid her charge on the doorstep of a "swell-looking house," and, hiding, had watched the owners find the baby. Her idea was to give the baby's parents a trumped-up tale of how the child was stolen from her, and then, within a day or two, return to the "swell-looking house," claim the child, return it to its parents, and be substantially rewarded for her cleverness.

This plan miscarried. For, five days later, the new owners of the baby went to Italy, taking the child with them, the town house was closed, and the nurse was too terrified to confess what she had done.

Tony had accompanied the woman home, when the tale was told, and she had shown him a picture of the young parents and the child, taken twenty-five years previously. At his special request, she let him keep the picture.

"Lloyd was their name," the woman said. "The baby was named after his father, but I can't remember what the first name was."

Through Alice, then, Tony had met Mr. Travis Lloyd, and—having glimpsed the workings of his safe—he decided to search it for old documents and photographs. He it was who was responsible for the first attempted robbery.

The second time he'd been more successful. He'd actually discovered in the safe a picture similar to the one the nurse had given him, and over whose loss Mr. Travis Lloyd had been so worried.

On the back of picture number one the nurse had—years ago—scribbled the address at which she'd left her little charge. After the St. Aubyns family had come back from Italy, they had sold their house and moved to another neighborhood. The woman had inquired as to their whereabouts, but had failed to find them.

Then—afraid of what she'd done—she gave up the quest. And the baby whose initials—T. L.—stood for Travis Lloyd, junior, had become Tony Lascelles, the adopted child of the St. Aubyns family.

CXX.—REMORSE.

Tony's identity as the son of the rich and well-born Mr. Travis Lloyd was now definitely established.

I could see by the cynical look on Jim's face that he—at any rate—did not consider Mr. Lloyd had gained a prize.

But then years of past association with Tony must have carried their disillusionment.

As for Travis Lloyd, he seemed almightily upset. The forgery that his newly-found son had perpetrated was not in itself a recommendation.

Tony, no doubht, had told his "father" a plausible tale.

But Mr. Lloyd was shrewd. He wouldn't easily be hoodwinked.

Yet he seemed to take a pathetic pleasure in Tony's company, now. Unconsciously, he kept making excuses for him. I believe in his heart of hearts he was convinced that the St. Aubyns family had been harsh to the young scapegoat. Knowing Tony, I should say that young man would do his best to foster the impression.

Just before lunch was announced, Jim and Mr. Lloyd went out to the hall to look at something or other, and I was left alone with Tony. (Jim was under the impression that I was by his side. But curiosity urged me to have a word with Tony.)

"Well, Helene," he remarked, the instant we were tete-a-tete, "quite a dramatic situation, isn't it?"

He spoke lightly. But I could see he was excited. Of course, not every day do penniless rogues become the heir to such a place as Thorny Grange, and the income that it carries.

I faced the speaker.

"Fate is always far too kind to you." I emphasized the words. My face wore a severe frown. "You've fallen on your feet again, Tony—and you don't deserve it."

Suddenly, to my amazement, real tears sprang to Tony's eyes. His features worked grotesquely, as though he were trying to suppress deep-seated emotion.

And then he cleared his throat, and said:

"You're right, Helene. And I'm a dog. I—I deserve prison—everything. Oh, I've been a rotter! To you, to everyone. If it weren't for my—my father"—he hesitated for a moment on the word—"if it weren't for him, I'd be in jail tonight." He put his two hands up to his face with a quick, nervous movement.

I moved a little nearer to him, and in a lowered tone put an important question.

"Was it truly and really you, Tony, who forged that check? You know my Jim was blamed for it."

"I know," came the answer, "and —yes—there's no good beating about the bush—I did forge the wretched thing, Helene. I was awfully short of money at the time. Absolutely cornered. It would have been in prison for me if I hadn't raised that money that day."

My eyes were glued to Tony's face.

"Why did you use the name of St. Aubyns?" I queried remorselessly, "tell me why."

"Because," said Tony, biting his lip in humiliation, "I'd copied Jim's handwriting, and his father's, too—in the old days—until no one could have told the difference. Besides, I had a kind of grudge against the family. Ungrateful dog I was! But I swear I didn't mean to get Jim into trouble."

His last words made me harden towards him—unjustly, perhaps, for I think he spoke the truth. But oh! the misery his action had brought to Jim and me!

CXXI.—AN AWKWARD GATHERING

"So Mr. Travis Lloyd is welcoming the prodigal home, is he?" As I said these words I know I gave a crooked little smile that held little love for Tony in it. "Well, there are few men who would follow the biblical example under similar circumstances—"

"Helene, please don't!" Tony laid an imploring hand on my arm. His lips were quivering. "Of course, you think I'm a scoundrel. But I'm going to reform. You'll see. My father's generosity—why, it cuts me to the heart. He's paying the money that I owe. He's freeing me. He's giving me a new start. And—and he says he'll stand by me."

I couldn't keep from saying:

"He wasn't particularly attached to you the day he threw you out of my apartment."

Tony reddened to the roots of his hair. That shot had told.

"I deserved that, Helene. And I want to apologize for that—that unwarrantable intrusion. I was a perfect cad."

I relented just a trifle. His embarrassment was so genuine. Perhaps indeed he did intend to turn over a new leaf. And who was I, to keep him back?"

"We'll say no more about it," I managed to blurt out. Then curiosity once more gripped me.

"How long have you suspected that Mr. Travis Lloyd was your long-lost father?"

"For quite a time," said Tony quickly. Then he smiled.

"When he first started to pay you attention, Helene, I was furious," he added, naively, "for it did seem absurd that father and son should be courting the same elusive damsel Yes, for a time I was actually jealous of my own father!"

Lunch was a somewhat constrained meal.

I was thankful that I had not been placed next Tony. I had had my brief chat with him already. Once was enough.

Jim was tactfulness personified. He avoided all subjects that might carry unpleasant remembrances in their train. He endeavored to chat with Tony easily and naturally, and as though nothing had happened to put the latter outside the pale of respectability.

Of course, Jim did not know of Tony's ardent courtship of myself. The episode in the apartment, for instance. . . . why, if he knew, he'd have murdered Tony!

I was thankful that I hadn't told.

Not that I wanted to shield Tony from my husband's righteous wrath. But I did have some pity for poor Mr. Travis Lloyd. I felt sure, from the looks the latter directed towards my husband, he was wishing that Jim and not the worthless Tony had been the new-found son and heir.

Jim was a son that any father might well be proud of. He had the clean-cut look, the direct gaze, the open countenance of the man whose conscience is clear, and whose soul is at peace with all the world.

To tell the whole of Tony's misdeeds to my husband would worry the latter dreadfully, and rake up old scores that had best be forgotten.

Not that Jim and I would ever have any friendship to spare for Tony. We couldn't possibly pretend to anything of the sort. We both had every reason to distrust the man. And—where his type is concerned—reformations do not take place overnight.

"How is poor Alice Anstruther?" he was asking now, in a non-committal tone of voice. "It's terribly sad about her husband. He was a splendid chap —a white man—"

He broke off suddenly, catching my eye. For well did we both know the deceased's dislike of Tony!

"Mrs. Anstruther is facing her troubles," said my husband, covering up the awkward pause. "Helene is a staunch friend. She does her best to cheer her up." Jim smiled fondly at me, and I felt a foolish flush of pride come surging to my cheeks. I shall never get over the school-girlish trick of blushing, when Jim compliments me.

At The Theaters

"THE CONFESSION" AT THE GRAND ALL THIS WEEK.

"The Confession" will have its first London showing at the Grand today and will continue as the attraction for the remainder of the week, being presented three times each day, matinees at 2:15 and evenings at 7 and 9 o'clock. Henry B. Walthall, the little colonel of "The Birth of a Nation" is the star and is surrounded by a brilliant cast of players. "The Confession" is a picturization of Hal Reid's stage play "To Serve the Cross." The screen version is a vigorous story of absorbing power in eight soul-stirring reels that will delight everyone, irrespective of age, creed, sex or race. It is a picture that will unfailingly reach everyone's heart—not an ordinary photoplay. "The Confession" is the only photodrama ever indorsed by the Catholic National Board of Censors. It has been recommended to the world by Cardinals Mercier, Gibbons and O'Connell, and to Canada especially by Father O'Rourke of the archbishop's palace, the Knights of Columbus and the majority of the priesthood. Added features on the program include a Snub Pollard comedy, the Pathe News and Review and Topics of the Day. Slightly increased prices will prevail during the engagement. Seats for evening performance reserved.

GLORIA SWANSON, LEW CODY, ELLIOTT DEXTER AND THEODORE ROBERS AT ALLEN TODAY; WILL ROGERS' FEATURE ALSO ON DOUBLE PROGRAM.

What could be more enjoyable these hot summer days than sitting restfully in those comfortable Allen seats fanned by ice cooled breezes, swayed by the music of a great orchestra and thrilled by the flashing scenes of romance adventure comedy and drama as they pass on the screen before you?

The most entertaining program which the Allen has yet shown this summer is the excellent double feature bill shown today, tomorrow and Wednesday. Gloria Swanson, exotic, beautiful and star supreme, with Lew Cody, Elliott Dexter and Theodore Roberts are presented in Cecil B. De Mille's brilliant and lavish film spectacle, "Don's Change Your Husband." Noted for his exceptionally beautiful and artistic productions, for the strength of his stories, and for the selection of his casts, Cecil B. De Mille has placed himself in the foremost ranks of producers, and established his position by this most successful of all his productions, which is a romance of wealthy domestic circles. The gowns alone in the picture are well worth seeing.

Presented on the same double program will be Will Rogers' new comedy drama, "Jes Call Me Jim," in which he is supported again by that beautiful lady of the screen, Irene Rich. Will Rogers, the one comedian whose humor is entirely different from all others, whose pictures can be relied upon to provide new thrills and new situations, new laughs, a new heart interest, Rogers has reached the pinacle of his success in "Jes Call Me Jim," a tale of the lumber camps.

A special musical score is being prepared for these two big features, and an overture, comedies, Allen news and scenics will complete the offering.

AT LOEW'S.

Augustus Thomas' famous stage play, "In Mizzoura," has been adapted to the screen with the great Robert Warwick as star and will be the screen feature at Loew's Theatre for the first part of this week, commencing with matinee today. Eileen Percy and a noted cast support the soldier-star. "In Mizzoura" is a thrilling drama, chuck full of life and heart interest. A picture you'll enjoy to the last reel.

An extraordinary bill of vaudeville will greet first of the week patrons, each and every act a headliner. Funny comedy features, the always-looked-for Loew screen Pictorial will be the added attractions.

PICTURE.

An intense conflict between law and a gang or rustlers—a conflict that persists for two generations—is said to be the main strand of the story in "Desert Love," featuring the intrepid Tom Mix. The picture is a Fox production and will be shown at the Patricia Theatre, beginning today, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Tom Mix stands at the head of the screen's thrillers. In a series of pictures of which "Desert Love" is the latest, he has demonstrated to motion picture fans and lovers of red-blooded adventure a dauntlessness that has made his name synonymous with "dare-devil." Stunts are his daily portion and he accepts them with a relish that is genuine.

In the cast of "Desert Love" are such splendid players as Francelia Billington, Eva Novak, Lester Cuneo, Charles K. French and Jack Curtis. The direction is by Jacques Jaccard.

SPAN WIRE BREAKS, CAUSING TIE-UP ON L. AND P. S. RAILWAY

Service Ceases Temporarily During Latter Part of Sunday Evening.

Breaking of a span wire on the London and Port Stanley Railway at 9 o'clock on Sunday night caused a three-hour tie-up on the line.

The first real trouble occurred when a northbound train, crowded with passengers, struck the hanging wire near Phillip street. As a result of the collision, the glass in the front of the first coach was smashed. A short circuit followed, which was the cause of fire breaking out on the roofs of the second and third coaches. The damage done to these cars was not serious, however.

The result of the train coming into contact with the wire was to put the lights out on various sections of the line, and to cause a number of cars to cease operation temporarily. Three trains, which should have arrived a few hours earlier, came into London together at 11:30 o'clock. A train, which should have felt the city at 9:20 o'clock, did not leave until 12 o'clock.

Many Londoners did not arrive from Port Stanley until the early hours of the morning.

At 11:30 o'clock all damage had been repaired, and although a bit irregular service was resumed.

PRESBYTERIAN CHOIR PICNICS AT PORT

Members of Chelsea Green Church Get Presents For Services Performed.

The members of the Chelsea Green Presbyterian Church choir held their annual picnic at Port Stanley on Saturday. Many sport events were staged, and after the luncheon, presentations were made to six members of the choir. F. T. Aldridge officiated at the races and also made the presentations on behalf of the other members.

Miss E. Maitland was presented with a small medical outfit. She is entering Victoria Hospital as a nurse.

"THE CONFESSION" HAS APPROVAL OF PRIESTS

Film Showing at Grand This Week Presented Specially on Saturday.

A special presentation of "The Confession," the big feature photoplay shown at the Grand all this week, was given Saturday morning before the Roman Catholic clergy of the city, press representatives and others. While the picture is not a sectarian or propaganda film, it is unique in that it is the first photoplay ever indorsed by the Catholic Board of Censorship, and the local priests who witnessed the production Saturday morning expressed very high approval of it. The story is one of international interest, the scene being laid partly in the state of Montana and partly in the province of Alberta. The graphic realism of the picture and the intensity of its thrills at times tax almost unbearably the nerves of the spectator who lets himself forget for a moment that it is only a picture after all. The leading part is taken by Henry B. Walthall, who was the little colonel in "The Birth of a Nation" and the supporting cast is comprised of all-star players.

The plot has to do with the severe testing of a Roman Catholic priest, who confesses the perpetrator of a murder for which the priest's brother is wrongfully accused and appears certain to be hanged. Because of his priestly vows never to reveal the secrets told him at the confessional he refuses to give evidence which would clear his own brother from the scaffold. It is said that when the picture was first produced the innocent man was hanged in the play, but that ending was too highly dramatic, and as presented now the murderer confesses his guilt to the officials of earthly justice in the end and escapes the scaffold himself by dying.

Among the priests who saw the advance showing of the film were Rev. Fathers Foley, Forristal, Dignan, Foster, Costello and Brennan.

DECISION FOR MOORE GIVEN IN SHEEP CASE

Regarding the charges laid against Garfoyle Clipperton of Nissouri Township by James Moore of North Dorchester that he kept a vicious dog which worried complainant's sheep, and which case was heard in the county court here one week ago, Squire W. H. Chittick, who presided, announced a decision against the defendant Saturday afternoon, whereby Clipperton must pay $60 and costs to the plaintiff for damages.

Clipperton's collie dog, which was ordered destroyed by the court on Saturday, killed two of Moore's sheep and worried three others. When the case was heard a week ago a host of witnesses was present, and at that time Squire Chittick reserved the above decision for one week.

Interview With Dr. Cossley Batt of the London "Times"

[By Katherine Hale, in Woman's Century.]

She swung along the street with the easy muscular vigor of a young trooper. She was khaki clad with a dispatch case flung across her shoulder, and there was the ribbon of a decoration pinned on her breast. As she gave me a quick, rather masculine hand grasp in farewell, I thought: "There goes a symbol of the concentrated war work of the last five years."

Later, in thinking over the remarkable interview I had just had with her, I was inclined to qualify that statement and rather say: "Here comes the future woman."

Dr. Cossly Batt is an analyst of note, a doctor of science, a special correspondent to the London Times, and during the war was a poison gas expert. She is young, strong and possesses a wealth of experience; experience which has come from much travel and observation, assisted by the only education that means anything—that which is cosmopolitan. She speaks many languages fluently, and her knowledge of countries and peoples, as well as her scientific knowledge, has come first hand.

Not Through Schools.

"I have not learned anything I know through schools," she says. "I only made use of a class room long enough to earn a university degree. I was educated as a child by my father, who was a remarkable man, intensely interested in research along many lines. He accustomed me to think for myself and that is the only way that one ever arrives at education. This thing of learning parrot-wise by books—"

An airy wave of the hand consigned that usual method to oblivion.

I think that Dr. Batt finds Canada, and especially Canadian women, in a rather slumberous state in regard to what she considers are subjects of vital importance, although she is far too polite to say so. Journeying across the continent from Vancouver and stopping at many places, big and little, to study affairs and people carefully—for her mission is to write to the Times regarding opportunities for further trade relations—she has observed very closely the significant signs of our progress and also of our backslidings. To her mind there are four subjects of paramount interest to the nation, all of which come largely through the hands of women: they have to do first with children; second with education; third with production, and fourth with economy.

Childless Families.

The childless families and the very small families of Canadians is to Dr. Batt a grave problem. To this situation I should personally ascribe much blame to the cruel lack of domestic help. Where there are children Dr. Batt thinks much of their education, whether in the first early years their bodies are being systematically trained and hardened by active outdoor life to be vigorous and strong and ready for the great game of life, and whether their minds are made receptive to claims other than mere personal claims.

"It is unfortunate," says this young English woman, "to think that children are brought up to speak no language but their own, here in this country where what you call 'foreigners' are pouring in every day. No wonder you cannot control this element when neither you yourself or your sons and daughters can speak in their own tongue, to the French and Germans, the Italians, the Swedes and others who are doing business with you day by day. The power of language is one of the greatest powers. No one is really educated who cannot speak generally to his fellow beings. And there is such important work to be done among these people—especially among the women who have no such concept as the Canadian and American women have about small families."

Education and Production.

Education and production really overlap in Dr. Batt's scheme of things, and to produce to anything like the extent of the ability of this great country "youth must know" in the fullest sense of the word.

"What does the average youth, or even grown-up for that matter, know about these basic materials of life which we are touching, using, living on every day of our lives? They are as alien to us as though they had no part in the sum and substance of our existence. Young Canada needs knowledge of practical science—and I don't mean these university courses either," she added.

"How did you yourself work?" came the inevitable question.

"I began by observation and much questioning, and then by correspondence with the splendid 'Bureaus of Science and Industry' that are situated in most of the great capitals of the world. There is one at Melbourne, another at Vienna, Washington, London, and so on. So far as I can learn there is as yet nothing of the kind in Canada. In fact, the United States has lured so many of Canada's brilliant chemists that to find out what I want to know about this country I have in many cases to go to Washington."

"Yes," she said, in conclusion, "creative science, purposeful invention, these are the gods of the coming age, and they lead out into skilled labor and economy. Women, even now, can bring down the high prices, it is all in their hands. They must decide to ask for certain articles at certain prices, and not buy until their demands are met. Canada should not import but manufacture. By realizing your own resources you will lower the cost of production."

McKAY REUNION

Big Gathering of the Clan Was Held on Dominion Day.

RICHWOOD, July 4.—The annual reunion of the McKay clan was held on July 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McDonald, on the 11th concession of East Nissouri, near Kintore. The weather was ideal, and there were upwards of 200 present. The location of the house proved an ideal place. The grounds had been decorated with flags and near the entrance was strung across the driveway a banner bearing the words "Welcome to the McKay Clan."

The members of the clan were present from Round Lake Mission, Saskatchewan, Kingussie, Scotland; Montreal, Detroit, Weston, Alvinston, London, Dorchester, Drumbo, Embro, Ingersoll, Woodstock and other points.

Dinner was served in picnic style. An interesting program was carried out under the direction of Rev. William McKay of Weston. There were contests for everyone, from the small tot of three years up to the man of 80 years. A contest which produced a good deal of mirth was the catching of a rooster, donated by the host, Mr. (Dr.) McDonald of Kintore was the fortunate winner.

Another feature was the ministers' race, the contestants being the following gentlemen: Dr. Hugh McKay, D. McDonald, Donald McKay, William McKay, R. G. McKay and J. D. Wilson. William McKay winning first place.

Rev. William McKay acted as chairman for the second part of the program, which opened with singing the clan hymn, "Oh, God of Bethel," and was followed by interesting addresses by D. H. McKay, a retired missionary to the West, who left this district 50 years ago; Rev. Dr. McDonald of Kintore; Rev. Angus McKay, and ex-moderator of the general assembly of the Free Church of Scotland, and John G. McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin McKay of the half concession of East Nissouri, invited the clan to meet at their home next year.

The chairman then announced the winners of the contests and distributed the prizes. The silver cup donated by the chairman was won by Frank McCorquodale, which if he holds for three successive years belongs to him. Splendid music was provided throughout the day by Pipers Major Johnston of Ingersoll and William Ross of Lakeside. Mr. Ross also contributed several selections on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Ross of London.

A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered the host and hostess, also his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Kintore, who assisted their son and his wife in the entertaining. R. A. McDonald replied briefly.
