CHARGES LONDON YOUTH WITH FORGERY

CANADIAN CORPS WON GLORY BY SMASHING HINDENBERG LINE AT ARRAS FOUR YEARS AGO TODAY

Second and Third Divisions, Followed by First and Fourth, by Gallant Work Open Way to Victory and Capture of Drocourt-Queant Switch in Retreat of Huns to Canal du Nord.

On Aug. 8, 1918, the Canadian corps, fighting alongside the Australians in front of Amiens, struck the first blow in the final offensive of the war. Initial success was due largely to the surprise nature of the attack, but as the corps fought its way eastwards the enemy defense stiffened and the battleground over the old trenches of the Somme became more and more difficult. The attack perceptibly slowed up.

Rather than see the bright weapon of the Canadian corps dulled and blunted in that morass of old wire entanglement, swamp and tumbled-in trench system, the Canadian corps commander, Sir Arthur Currie, proposed the corps should be taken out of the line and thrown in elsewhere while still powerful in the offensive. To this the allied command agreed, and it was decided that the corps should attack again on its old fighting ground in front of Arras, on the line which the 2nd Canadian Division had held the previous spring and early summer. On Aug. 19-21 the transfer of the 2nd, 3rd and 1st Canadian Divisions north to first army area was begun, the 4th Canadian Division being left in the Amiens sector, rejoining the corps only after the battle of Aug. 26 had opened.

Known as Arras.

The battle that resulted is known officially as the battle of Arras, but to the Canadian soldier as the Drocourt-Queant show. Before final victory was achieved the battle covered a full week from Aug. 26 to Sept. 2, with swaying fortunes and as intensive fighting as any the Canadian corps had met. The Drocourt-Queant trench system formed an integral part of the famous Hindenburg line and offered the most formidable resistance to be found on the west front. The enemy regarded it as impregnable. When the initial attack of Aug. 26 showed that the Canadian corps meant business, he threw in all his available reserve to preserve this pivot line. The breakthrough on Sept. 2 turned his defense both north and south, and brought him face to face with a situation of real peril. It is the glory of the Canadian corps that practically unaided it made this first breach of the Hindenburg line.

It was peculiarly a Canadian corps show. This was not appreciated at the time, nor in official narrations since, where credit is given first army, of which indeed, for the purpose of this operation, the Canadian corps formed the right wing. New volumes of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, recently published, however, establish the truth of this contention. In the description of the battle of Cambrai-St. Quentin, of which this was the opening phase, it says as follows:

On Right Wing.

"The forces at the disposal of Gen. Horne's first army for these operations consisted of the 1st and 8th corps, to which the Canadian corps was now added. This last-named formation began to arrive in the army area on Aug. 22, and was put into line on the right or southern wing of the army. Thus the front on Aug. 25, the eve of the offensive, was held as follows, from right to left: Canadian corps (Currie) 2nd Canadian, 3rd Canadian and 51st division in line, 1st Canadian division in reserve); 8th corps (Hunter-Weston), 8th and 20th division in line, 24th division in reserve; and 1st corps (Holland), 55th and 16th division in line, 15th division in reserve. Of these forces, however, only those astride the Scarpe, i. e., the Canadian corps, were to be engaged, the main axis of the attack being the line of the Arras-Cambrai road; the two remaining corps were to stand fast, while making all endeavors to deceive the enemy and prevent him dispatching rein-

DISCOVER SEAM OF ANTHRACITE

Toronto Geologist and Party Unearth Coal Near Sudbury.

Claim Product Is Present in Commercial Quantities Worth Mining.

Sudbury, Ont., Aug. 26.—A seam of pure anthracite coal with slate above and below was reached 20 inches below the surface in the Larchwood area, about 22 miles from Sudbury, by A. F. A. Coyne, the Toronto geologist, and his gang of experts and miners yesterday afternoon. Samples of the coal were brought to this town by Coyne and are on display. It is claimed that the quality is identically the same as is found near the surface in the Pennsylvania fields.

Mr. Coyne is full of optimism and claims he will be able to supply coal for the people of Sudbury within the next two weeks. Enthusiasm in the district has reached a high pitch. The geologist left here last night with several bags of the new-found coal, samples of which will be sent to the leading universities of the continent for analysis. Work will be continued in the coal area on Monday.

A definite challenge to the government in respect to the development of the coal fields in the district was issued by Mr. Coyne to prove his claim that anthracite coal exists in commercial quantities. The terms of the challenge are as follows: "That if the provincial government will sign up that they will pay to me the sum of $1,000,000 on the condition that I produce on the surface ten thousand tons of coal from the Chelmsford and Larchwood districts, or that area comprising and known as the Sudbury anthracite prospect, within less than 12 months from the date that your government accepts this challenge, I am sure that practical coal men will upon this security after an examination of the field with me, advance me the required $350,000, which would be required to mine, clean, and ship the anthracite. You will, therefore see that I am quite prepared to back up my geology by producing the goods, and as ten thousand tons has to be produced before I get the million dollars, I will have produced for the province and for Canada $100,000 worth of coal at ten dollars per ton. This coal, of course, will be held to be the property of my financers."

SOVIETS OF RUSSIA TO EXILE 1,500 INTELLECTUALS

Replies of Lawyers and Professors to Questions of Authorities Regarded as Unsatisfactory.

Moscow, Aug. 26.—Approximately 1,500 intellectuals, charged with secret counter-revolutionary activities, or who after five years' opportunity have been unable to reconcile themselves to the Soviet regime, have been ordered exiled.

The exiles include the Russian lawyers who withdrew from the defense during the recent trial of the 34 Social Revolutionists charged with treason. There are also a number of professors from the universities of Moscow and Petrograd, as well as some persons who held technical posts with the government. All were taken before the political police in Moscow and Petrograd last week and questioned as to their attitude toward the proletarian regime. Their replies were unsatisfactory to the Communist leaders.

S. A. SYLVESTER IS KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Toronto, Aug. 26.—Word was received here this morning of the death in a motor accident near Orillia yesterday of S. A. Sylvester, a prominent insurance man of this city, and A. F. McBean of Moosejaw, Sask. Messrs McBean and Sylvester, with three others, were motoring from Toronto to Dorset, Muskoka. It is understood that the car ran into a culvert and overturned into a ditch.

Lightning Kills Burbridge Farmer in Doorway of Own House.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Joseph Archambault, 50, a farmer of Burbridge, Que., was struck by a bolt of lightning while standing in the doorway of his farmhouse and instantly killed during a torrential storm here last night.

Five hundred telephones were rendered temporarily out of commission in this district.

COCKSHUTT OPENS CANADA EXHIBITION

"Warriors' Day" Gets Off to Good Start at Big Toronto Event.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—Lieutenant-Governor Henry Cockshutt today pressed the button that set in motion every department of the big Canadian National Exhibition. His honor made a speech, in which he paid tribute to the promoters of the exhibition and to the men who have since carried it on from one degree of success to another, beginning with the old provincial fair that was merged in the Canadian National Exhibition now generally regarded as the greatest annual fair on the North American continent, and expressing confidence that under its present management it would continue to extend in influence and popularity.

Every department of the exhibition was open today. The finishing touches were completed last night, so that when the big gates were unlocked this morning the big fair was entirely ready. Among the many special attractions at the exhibition this year is the spectacle, the Indian Durbar, which will be put on at nights in front of the grandstand.

This was "Warriors' Day at the exhibition, in commemoration of the second blow which the Canadian Corps struck at Arras, as the preliminary to smashing the Hindenburg line, Aug. 26, 1918. The local veterans turned out in thousands, and marched to the exhibition grounds.

RESCUE WORLD'S FLIGHT AIRMEN IN WEAK STATE

Captains MacMillan and Maillens Reach Safety After Being Afloat for Three Days.

Chittagong, British India, Aug. 26.—Captain Norman MacMillan and Captain Maillins, who recently continued the attempt to fly around the world which was begun by Major W. T. Blake, and who were brought here after having been afloat three days and two nights, are still in a weakened state, the effect of their long exposure.

The aviators were forced to alight after a twenty-minute flight form Lukhidia Char, which they left on August 22. They attempted to taxi to Chittagohig, but their petrol supply gave out. The machine turned over, but the men kept afloat until rescued.

There is little hope that the machine can be repaired, and the flight may be abandoned.

DREADNOUGHT CAPSIZES IN FRENCH SEAS

"France" Sinks in 10 Fathoms Water After Striking Rock.

CARRIES 1,108 MEN

Brest, France, Aug. 26.—The French dreadnought France has capsized, and is sinking in ten fathoms of water in Quiberon Bay, after striking a rock. The number of casualties is unknown.

The French dreadnought France was completed in November, 1912, and has a normal displacement of 23,120 tons. She is 544 feet in length, with a beam of 88 1-2 feet, and carries a crew of 1,108 men.

Quiberon Bay, which is sheltered from the sea by the curving peninsula on which the town of Quiberon is situated, is 40 miles northeast of St. Nazaire.

The bay is noted as being the site of the defeat in 1759 of the French fleet by Admiral Hawke.

REMARKS DRINKS WERE BIG ONES

Magistrate Fines Michael Tagney for Having Alcohol in Possession.

Every time Michael Tagney comes to town he gets drunk, Acting Chief of Police Thomas Lucas declared in police court this morning. Tagney lived up to his reputation Thursday, and even went one better, carrying a quantity of alcohol with him. He was fined $200 and costs, with the option of three months in jail for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling.

Tagney claimed the alcohol was for rubbing his arms. However, two bottles were produced, one having a paper cork in it. Tagney explained that he had purchased the large bottle at a drug store, and had gone for an auto ride. He was driven over so many bumps that the cork came out of the bottle, and he had to replace it with a paper one. The other bottle, he said, contained hair tonic. However, police testified it contained diluted alcohol.

The prisoner admitted he had been drinking, but said he only had three or four drinks, and so could not be drunk.

"They must have been big drinks," remarked the court.

CALAIS DOCK FIRE PERILS BRITISH ARMY RUM STOCK

Calais, Aug. 26.—Fire which broke out among the dock sheds on the water front here last night for a time threatened to do serious damage. The flames were brought under control, however, before they reached 10,000 gallons of rum belonging to the British army, ignition of which, it was feared, would cause a catastrophe.

Veterans of District Units Recall Arras Fight

SEVERAL WON HONORS.

MANY returned soldiers of London and district in recalling that Saturday is the fourth anniversary of the Battle of Arras, do not hesitate to say that Western Ontario men played a significant part in this "big show," as members of the 18th and other Canadian infantry battalions.

Lieut.-Col. C. M. R. Graham, D.S.O., who left London in command of the 142nd Battalion, and later reverted to the rank of major when "London's Own" was split into drafts, had quite forgotten that Saturday was the anniversary of the famous battle, when called on by The Advertiser Saturday morning.

"By golly, so it is," he agreed, when the reporter remnided him that August 26, 1918, was a big day in the war's history.

"It was four years ago this morning," he commented. "At 3:15 a.m we jumped off in the rain. I got hit two days later in the same fight-that he won the Distinughed si ing." Colonel Graham admitted that he won the Distinguished Service Order for his part in the battle of that day.

"We jumped off at Tilloy Wood, working up the Cambrai Road," continued the colonel, referring to the 18th Battalion, composed mostly of Western Ontario young men. "The Third Division was taking Monchy. We made our objective by 11 a.m., and were then ordred to take Guemappe. History says the 11th Battalion took it, but it was 'D' Company of the 18th, supported by 'C' Company.

"I was in command and Lieut. Gan Brackin of Chatham, brother of W. L. Brackin, M. L. A. for West Kent, was second in command. We led the attack, and Gan was killed leading the left flank just as we got through the village of Guemappe.

"Lieut. Lawrence, now a sergeant of the Royal Canadian Regiment, which was stationed here until last week, was also in my company, and was wounded four years ago today. ergt.-Major Handyside of Chatham was also hit, and won the Military Medal that day. He was company sergeant-major.

"You know," continued Colonel Graham in reminiscent mood, "Lieut.-Col. Clarke Wallace of Montreal, who was with the 24th Battalion, won the Victoria Cross that day. There were lots of London men in the third division taking part in the Battle of Arras, but there was no distinct London or Western Ontario Battalion on the job. We fought for three days, until the first and fourth divisions came up.

"Major F. St. C. Fisher fought with the rank of lieutenant in the 10th Battalion that day. He is a London boy, and is now bursar of the Ontario Hospital at Hamilton."

Although scores of Western Ontario soldiers distinguished themselves in the Arras "show" four years ago, their names have not all been recorded, or their deeds inscribed in history. Lieut. Russell Beattie, now a London hardware merchant, won the military cross four years ago Saturday for distinguishd conduct at Arras. He was serving with the 20th Canadian Battalion, as was also Lieut. Clyde McL. Kennedy, now a member of The Advertiser editorial staff, who was seriously wounded, and later decorated for his good work in the field.

MINERS TO VOTE ON WAGE PACT IN NOVA SCOTIA

Officials Set August 31 as Date for Referendum of 12,000 Strikers.

BULLETIN.

Washington, Aug. 26.—It was announced by officials of the federal fuel distribution organization that heavy allocations of bituminous coal have been made for Canada. This coal is to be shipped from Pennsylvania. No details as to the amount which is to be sent to the Dominion were available.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 26.—Thursday, Aug. 31, is the date set for a referendum of the 12,000 strikers of Nova Scotia on the acceptance or rejection of the new wage agreement negotiated by United Mine Workers' executive and officials in the British Empire Steel Corporation. Announcement to this effect was made at United Mine Workers' headquarters, Glace Bay, at noon today. Owing to the short time which will elapse before the voting, United Mine Workers' officers will not attempt to tour the locals in support of the agreement.

For the same reason the striking miners are not being asked to resume work pending the outcome of the voting. Nor will withdrawal of troops already in the strike area take place pending the referendum.

Strong hopes are entertained here that the new scale will be indorsed by a large majority of the miners of the province, although there are said to be one or two large sections that are likely to call for the full demands of the 1921 rates. The main advantages of the agreement from the miners' standpoint are: "The unusual length of the contracts; the wiping out of the Sydney mines differential; the inclusion in the union of the shot firers; restoration of the Montreal agreement working conditions, making effective time and a half and Sunday rates; all of which have been vigorously argued by the United Mine Workers for months past."

AGREE TO END STRIKE.

SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 26.—After a conference lasting until early this morning, the representatives of the British Empire Steel Corporation and the United Mine Workers of District 26 arrived at an agreement for the settlement of the Nova Scotia coal strike.

The contract, if finally ratified, will last for sixteen months, or until Jan. 15, 1924.

Acceptance or rejection of the proposed scale rests with the 12,000 striking miners of the province, who will be asked to vote upon it in a referendum, the date of which has not yet been fixed, but which will probably be Wednesday, Aug. 30. At 1 o'clock this morning (Saturday) Col. Gordon Harrington, representing the miners, F. W. Gray for the British Empire Steel Corporation, and Dr. Clarence McKinnon, principal of Pine Hill Presbyterian College, Halifax, who had been called in as an extra mediator, emerged from the conference room and announced that a basis of settlement had been reached.

The rates and conditions as mediated are:

(a)—Minimum datal rates to be increased to $3.20 per diem with a minimum increase of 40 cents a day and adjustments of the higher rates as per attached schedule.

(b)—Datal minimum rate at Sydney mines to be brought up to the Dominion Coal Company minimum rate, namely $3.20, with increases in the other datal rates corresponding to the increases given in the Dominion Coal Company mines plus 12 cents per diem.

(c)—Contract rates to be increased 12½ per cent. One-half per cent to be added for machine cutting, .75 per cent to be added at Sydney mines.

(d)—Contract to cover all classes of men included in the Montreal agreement in 1921.

(e)—Contract to extend to January 15, 1924, and shall not terminate on the date unless 40 days' notice previous to the 15th of January, 1924, be given by either party to the contract. Failing such notice the contract shall automatically continue, but may be terminated at any time after the 15th January, 1924, on 40 days' notice.

(f)—Contact to be made retroactive to 15th July, 1922.

(g)—Provisions for overtime and night work at Glace Bay machine shop to be re-established.

The outstanding feature of the settlement is the long term contract, something for which the miners have long been contending. Substantial wage increases are also involved.

So far as could be learned the troops will not be withdrawn nor will the miners go back to work pending the referendum.

The minimum datal rate in 1921 was $3.80. This was cut to $2.44 at the beginning of the year under the general 33⅓ per cent wage cut put in force, but was adjusted to $2.80. The company offered to increase this to $3, and on August 13 to $3.25. Contract rates since the beginning of the year have been fifty-nine cents per ton against eighty-three cents in 1921.

Baffin Land Expedition Is "On Way Home."

FREEPORT, Me., Aug. 26.—The Baffin Land expedition in command of Donald B. MacMillan, which left Boston a year ago, on the schooner Bowdoin, is on its way home, according to a radio message from the explorer received here today by his sister, Miss Letitia Fogg.

The message, sent by way of Fogo Island, near the northeastern end of Newfoundland, said: "On our way home. Fine trip. All well."

$20,000 REDUCTION ON CITY HOUSES

Court of Revision Lowers Assessment on Pine Lawn Buildings.

Reductions in assessment on dwellings erected by the London Housing Commission on Pine Lawn survey were announced by the court of revision Saturday morning, and these reductions reach a total of approximately $20,000. The decisions given out Saturday were made after hearing appeals against increased assessment by the owners of these homes.

This means that the city will be deprived of a revenue in taxes from an assessment of about $20,000. The largest reduction in assessment made on any one house was $650, while the lowest was $50. Some reduction was made on every dwelling municipally erected on the survey, so that a total of 42 decreases in assessment resulted from the court's decisions.

Land and buildings on Pine Lawn assessed for $2,500 by the city were reduced to a value of $1,850 by the court, while those premises valued at $2,200 have been lowered to $2,150. The court took the stand that the assessment of each property should be 75 per cent of its value, and it was on this basis that decisions were rendered.

The new assessments as set by the court of revision are for taxes to be paid in the city in, 1923.

RESUME WORK ON CITY PAVEMENTS

Heavy Rains of Thursday and Friday Caused Stoppage.

Resumption of work by twenty city employees on the Dundas street east pavement was ordered Saturday morning, after a lay-off of 24 hours because of heavy rains. The London Street Railway Company gang will work Saturday afternoon and night, while city employees are picnicking at Springbank in an effort to keep ahead of them in laying new rails in the pavement. This gang may also work Sunday.

Grading on the Hamilton road between Egerton and St. Julien streets, which is being paved, is well under way. City Engineer Brazier reports that although paved streets are the best assets of any city, little asphalt has been laid in London this summer compared to previous years.

This is due to a policy of retrenchment on the part of the city council to cut down municipal expenditures. Up until Aug. 18, 1921, a total of 63,000 square yards of pavement had been completed that season, while this year in a similar period, but 16,000 square yards were laid.

"While we have only done 16,000 square yards of pavement this year, we have completed 16,000 square yards of grading in the last two weeks," said the city engineer, "and that is going some."

DISTRESS INCREASES AS MARK CONTINUES TO FALL

Berlin Invites Premiers and Ministers of German States to Discuss Serious Situation.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The economic distress prevailing in many sections of Germany threatens to become more acute in consequence of the enormous fall in the value of the mark, and the situation is causing the government serious concern. A number of relief measures were considered by the officials yesterday, and instructions were given that these be ready for presentation today to a council of ministers, over which President Ebert will preside. The premiers and ministers of the various German states have been invited to Berlin to discuss the situation with the government on Monday.

BAN RUM AND ABSINTHE.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 26.—Attorney-General Manson ruled yesterday that neither overproof rum nor absinthe will be on sale at the government stores hereafter. This is a step toward real moderation, he said.

ALLEGED TO HAVE TAKEN $2,000 TO PAY SHORTAGE IN ACCOUNTS AS AGENT OF HAMILTON FIRM

Miscreant Believed to Have Lost Money by Betting on Horse Racing and Riotous Living—Police Make Widespread Search for Missing Culprit.

Police of London and Western Ontario are searching for a well-known young man of this city, who is wanted on a charge of having forged a check for $2,000, which, he is alleged to have forwarded to a packing firm in Hamilton, of which he was the agent, in order to cover a deficiency in accounts.

While his early arrest is expected, the whereabouts of the youth is at present unknown. According to reliable information, the young man has been expending considerable money in race track betting and riotous living, with subsequent losses during the past few weeks, with the result that he converted funds paid him as agent for the Hamilton firm to his own use.

Check Was Accepted.

Fearing discovery, the youth in question is alleged to have presented a check, drawn on the People's Loan and Savings Company, to the East London branch of a city bank. This check was accepted and in its stead the culprit received a marked check, which he forwarded to his employers in Hamilton to cover discrepancies in his account.

When his employers turned the worthless check into their bankers, the crime was discovered, but in the meantime the guilty party had departed from London. The name of the accused youth is being withheld at present by request of the authorities, but those familiar with the case are surprised that a man, accepted as a straightforward business agent in London, should attempt such a crime.

He served overseas with credit during the war, and on his return from overseas was for some time on the staff of the district paymaster at military headquarters, Wolseley Barracks. He is 24 years old, and was a member of the local staff of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and an oil salesman for some time.

Must Withstand Loss.

Details of his method employed in obtaining the marked check for the worthless piece of paper presented at the East London bank are not available, but it is stated that this bank must withstand the $2,000 loss unless the guilty party is apprehended and makes restitution.

His young wife, whose first inkling of the trouble in her home here came when authorities investigated the alleged forgery, is heartbroken, and is disposing of her household effects, anxious to leave London, where a cloud has been cast over the name of herself and husband.

The latter's downfall has been attributed to "playing the ponies" by those familiar with the case. It is thought that he has departed for the United States, but police officials are confident that his arrest is but a matter of a few hours.

URGE HEARING FOR GERMANY

British Reparations Officials Would Have Case Presented Again.

Hope to Bridge Over Situation Until Conference Takes Place.

Paris, Aug. 26.—British reparations officials will urge that Germany be given another hearing by the full membership of the reparations commission before final determination of the reparations question is made, if was learned in an authoritative quarter here today.

Sir John Bradbury and Eugene Mauclere, British and French members of the reparations commission, arrived here from Berlin at noon today.

Although they were unable to effect any definite agreement in their negotiations with the German government officials on which to base recommendations for a moratorium on German reparations payments, they said they were still hopeful that some compromise might be arranged to bridge over the situation until the projected allied conference on the general debt question could be held this autumn.

The reparations commission was scheduled to meet later today to hear the official report of its Berlin mission.

DOMINION LABOR ENDS CONGRESS

Delegates Indulge in Spirited Debate on Free Trade.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress closed its 38th annual convention here shortly before noon today with a spirited debate on a resolution which threatened to commit the congress to support a hazy principle of free trade.

The resolution asked that union printed supplies be admitted free to Canada on the same basis as Bibles, religious tracts and technical books now enter. Gus Francq, Montreal, and J. A. P. Haydon, Ottawa, fought the move vigorously, the former on the grounds that it involved a commitment of congress to the principle of free trade, and Haydon on the grounds that protection was the essential policy of congress towards the workingmen.

CLAIMS PROSPECTS GOOD FOR BIG WESTERN HARVEST

W. B. Lanigan, Freight Manager C. P. R., Declares Crop Will Be "Debt-Paying" One.

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—The west is going to harvest a "debt-paying crop" that will alleviate and stabilize," declared W. B. Lanigan, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway here last night, on his arrival from the west, when speaking of crop conditions. On every side he had heard reports of good crops; few districts are without a fair crop.

"I don't say it is going to bring about anything in the way of a boom, for the greatest enemy the country has could hardly be so diabolical as to wish a boom upon it," he added. "But it is a revival. It is going to alleviate industrial conditions in the east and trading in the west. That will make for a general revival in the commercial state of Canada."

SEEK BEATIFICATION OF JESUITS.

Quebec, Aug. 26.—The Canadian members of the Society of Jesus are petitioning Pope Pius to hasten the trial for the beatification of the Canadian martyrs of the Jesuit Order who were massacred in the early days of the colony.

BRITAIN BEATS U. S. IN BUYING CANADIAN GOODS

Exports to United Kingdom for Past Twelve Months Total $307,000,000.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—By the Canadian Press.—The United Kingdom was a better customer of Canada than the United States for the twelve months ending with July. The total exports of Canadian produce to the United States for that period were $304,000,000, and to Great Britain and Ireland were nearly $307,000,000. These figures are from the monthly summary of trade issued by the Dominion Brueau of Statistics.

There were 10 per cent more creamery and 20 per cent less dairy butte in storage in Canada at the first this month than at the correspond date last year, according to a re on cold storage holdings by t Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

PLAN INCORPORATION OF HORTICULTURAL COUNCIL

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—The incorporation of the Canadian Horticultural Council is announced in the Canada Gazette. The purpose of the corporation, which has no share capital, is stated to be "to advance all matters tending toward the improvement of the horticultural and allied industries in Canada."

The Gazette this week contains notice of the incorporation of the Balba Company of Canada, Limited, Leamington, Ont., with a capitalization of $500,000.

R. B. ANGUS IMPROVES.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—The condition of R. B. Angus, the widely-known Canadian financier, who is ill at his home at Senneville, is slightly improved today. He rested quite well during the night.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS.

BLOCK U. S. COAL MEASURE

Washington, Aug. 26.—Action on the administration bill, designed to prevent profiteering in coal through extension of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, and creation of a federal distribution agency, was blocked today in the senate interstate commerce committee, and the whole subject went over to Monday.

REJECTS MOTION FOR $15,000,000 LOAN TO RUSSIA

Delegates To Labor Congress Defeat Recommendation by 147 to 56 Votes.

MOORE SWAYS AUDIENCE

Quells Radical Enthusiasm Aroused by Ardent Speech of James Simpson.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress today refused to back an appeal to the Dominion government to make a loan "of a paltry $15,000,000" to the Soviet government of Russia.

President Tom Moore, in his fight against the loan to Russia, argued that when unemployment and destitution had been relieved in Canada, when the Russian government took its soldiers away from the workers' throats, then the Canadian government might consider making a loan.

Mr. Moore earlier in the day received his fifth acclamation to the presidency of the congress, carrying with him P. M. Draper, as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Draper's new term begins his 23rd year in office. Congress pledged its aid to the United States railway shopmen now on strike, and recommended to the delegates to send financial aid to the strikers to help them continue their fight against the railways.

Soviet Motion Fails.

The famous resolution which suggested that congress prevail upon both the federal and provincial governments to relinquish office, change the present constitutional system of parliamentary representation and copy the soviet plan met with a brief fate. A unanimous non-concurrence vote was registered, the sponsors of the resolution being without representation on the floor.

Tomorrow congress will present its formal request for amendments to the industrial disputes act and this, with a few minor amendments on the agenda, will bring the congress to a close.

On an appeal by G. W. Powesland, one of the executives of the Canadian Railway Shopmen's Union, delegates were asked to pledge financial support from their organizations to the striking rail shopmen in the United States. J. A. McClelland of Montreal declared the American strike to be one of the finest in the history of the organized movement. They had been out for some two months, 400,000 of them, and were being fought by the railways who had engaged hundreds of thousands of men to fight the unions by intimidating them. The strikers, however, were as firm as on the day of the walkout, and would continue to resist wage reductions.

Principle Merits Aid.

Frank McKenna, another Canadian executive of the shopmen, declared that the principle at stake merited Canadian labor's support. In Canada a board of conciliation was already framing a decision, and if the decision was not satisfactory to the workers the latter might soon be in the same position as their brothers in the United States.

Today for the first time since the opening of the convention the more radical of the delegates appeared to have their innings. First they succeeded in overthrowing a recommendation of the resolutions committee which asked that a resolution to permit labor free access to the books, records and accounts of their employers by their employees when questions of pay reduction arose, be thrown out.

Just as the delegates were about to vote concurrence with the rejection recommendation of the committee, James Simpson of Toronto jumped into the debate and succeeded in swinging the tide of sentiment. This was the first setback for the committee, and appeared to flush supporters of the Russian loan resolutions with hopes of a fresh victory.

Urges Loan to Russia.

John MacDonald of Toronto this time led the fight for the loan to Russia. He charged that the committee had been influenced in reaching its decision by the reports of yellow journals on Russian conditions. The Russian government has been the target of an incessant persecutive campaign by the capitalists of the world since its inception because these hostile forces saw the menace of the workers taking over the control of government.

Canadian firms were now on the verge of bankruptcy and would be eager to trade with Russia if only the Canadian government would guarantee payment of the accounts. The present loan, "a paltry $15,000,000," would be spent entirely in this country in purchasing grain and seed for the Russian destitute.

Joseph Schubert of Montreal, pleaded for support of the resolution on humanitarian grounds.

Joseph Gibbons, Toronto, who gave the committee's reasons for asking the rejection of the proposal, declared that Canada was about to raise a loan of $300,000,000 to carry on the government of the country. Unemployment was rife throughout the Dominion, and apparently some of the delegates were more concerned about Russians than they were of the people of their own country. If Russia were willing to put up security for the $15,000,000 it could raise the loan much easier than Canada could find $300,000,000. Canada's experiences in loaning money to Rumania, Belgium and Greece had not been happy ones. These countries had not even paid interest charges on the loans since.

Quells Enthusiasm.

Tom Moore then took the floor. Within a few minutes enthusiasm had chilled to zero and soon the same delegates were cheering Moore's attack against Russia and supporters of the loan.

"The $15,000,000 is only to be spent for grain and seed, as I see it," he declared. "I cannot see how that will start the wheels of industry turning and help relieve unemployment. Does Delegate Watson, who represents the miners here, think that housing conditions are satisfactory for the Nova Scotia miners? Yet we have been asking for $40,000,000 to improve housing conditions and cannot get it. If $15,000,000 will help the people of Russia, so will $40,000,000 help us here at home.

"It is easy to work up sentiment," Moore continued, "on a resolution, when that sentiment does not cost you anything. But let me tell you that the trades congress appealed for contributions to the Russian relief fund through the congress journal for months, and at the end of it all we received was four contributions which amounted to about $160. Now this resolution would ask everybody to make up a $15,000,000 loan. If you believe in handing money to Russia send it to our office in Ottawa, and it will be forwarded.

"Do you think you could hold this congress in Russia? Do you think you could have free speech there? If you tried it you would be stood up against a wall in front of some of the red guard and shot down.

"When Russia establishes a government that is representative; when it grants the liberty it preaches about to the Russian people; when it removes its soldiers from the throats of the workers, then we will come to the aid of the people in Russia.

Urges Needs At Home.

"If Canada has any money to loan, let it be to relieve housing and destitution. Don't think because they have overthrown czarism in Russia they have overthrown autocracy. Instead, they have set up the worst kind of an autocracy, a military dictatorship."

The tide of opinion completely changed, and on a standing vote the loan proposal was voted down by 147 to 56.

At the request of Mr. Moore, the congress passed a resolution opposing wage reductions by the British Empire Steel Corporation which would not provide the miners with an income sufficient to maintain a decent standard of living.

A sheaf of resolutions was then passed. Concurrence was given the recommendation that union dues and assessments be deducted from incomes in computing income tax returns; co-operative societies were indorsed, together with a request to the federal government that special legislation be enacted to facilitate the incorporation of co-operative societies; the government was asked to prohibit the opening of the new coal mines until market demands justified such opening; a somewhat contradictory resolution was also concurred in asking the federal government to open up and operate new mines to provide employment and relieve coal shortages; the "Hanna order" prohibiting employees of the Canadian National Railways from entering political life while in the employ of the road; non-concurrence to a resolution suggesting a Soviet basis of government for Canada; the prosecution of firms or persons using the union label without authority; opposition to the repeal of the Ontario adolescent school attendance act; amendments to the naturalization act; approval of a campaign to organize federal government employees; the payment of civil servants on a scale to organize 8,kc on a scale equal to that paid in private industry; and a demand for legislation prohibiting the giving of bonuses or premiums to employees by employers.

NEWS BRIEFS

CHATHAM — Barney Ballard, of the Empire Hotel, Tilbury, was fined $300 and costs for a breach of the O. T. A. by Magistrate Calwood.

BRANTFORD—The local chamber of commerce is continuing its efforts to have the Brantford-Hamilton highway section of the provincial highway completed as quickly as is consistent with good construction.

MILDMAY—Sister M. Selina, superior of the Notre Dame Convent, Mildmay, celebrated her silver jubilee here on Wednesday. There was a solemn high mass, and many sisters from other places were present.

CARGILL—A big celebration is to be held at Underwood on Labor Day. There will be a full program of sports. Paisley and Allenford will play a baseball match, and probably another game staged between Underwood and Port Elgin.

KITCHENER—One case of infantile paralysis is now reported in the town of Waterloo. The house in which the case was discovered has been placed under quarantine, and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease in the town.

GALT—For driving a truck while under the influence of liquor, Gustav Strohm, of Guelph, was sentenced at Hespeler by Magistrate J. A. Weir to serve one month in jail. Before Strohm was arrested by Chief Wilson, of Hespeler, he had run into two other cars.

ST. THOMAS—Legislation which will compel farmers to take precautions against the corn borer is being seriously considered by the Ontario Legislature, according to President J. B. Reynolds, of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, who is visiting in this city.

MISSIONARY WORK amongst the Indians of Argentine and Bolivia, South America, is to be the subject of an address by Fred W. E. Storey at the Sunday evening services in Empress Avenue Methodist Church. Mr. Storey has been engaged in missionary work for some time, and members look forward to his address with much interest.

NEWBURY SUNDAY SCHOOLS PICNIC

NEWBURY, Aug. 25.—The Anglican and Presbyterian churches of Newbury held a union Sunday school picnic at Port Glasgow on Wednesday afternoon. The members of the congregations furnished cars, and a truck also was hired. The roads were splendid, and the children enjoyed a merry 20-mile ride to the lake.

The water was rather cold, but not cold enough to chill the kiddies' enthusiasm for bathing and paddling, and a happy hour was spent in the water. After the swimming, games were conducted for the children, and at 5:30 they were called to supper. There was a bounteous supply of sandwiches, pies and cakes, and the hearty appetities of the children did them full justice.

PEASANTS FEAR GERMANS MAY SEEK REVENGE

French Veterans Feel That Former Enemy May Again Attack.

WANT HUNS TO PAY

Do Not Wish War But Believe in Being Prepared.

Written Specially for The London Advertiser by Milton Bronner.

AMBOISE, France, Aug. 25.—Ernest Tessier is only a piece of a man, but he taught me the fear that lurks in the hearts of many Frenchmen who favor a big army and high taxes, not because they love militarism, but because they still fear that Germany has not been cured of her ambitions to crush France.

In my wanderings around Touraine and elsewhere, I gathered that there are many Tessiers in France. If the junkers and monarchists and militarists in Germany were finally and forever stripped of all chance of mischief, if France felt herself secure from harm, the army of France would just naturally melt away. The plain folks would decree it.

Poce is a little village some miles away from the town of Amboise. It's the usual Touraine village—stone cottages of the peasant farmers, a little church and public school on the village green. And not far away the "debit," where they get their wine, and the bakery, where, in the afternoons, they get the long, fragrant loaves of freshly baked white bread. In a poor little shop, scantily stocked with cigarettes and smoking tobacco, sits Monsieur Tessier. He doesn't go about much now and he has plenty of time to think about things. He's 41. He was a farm laborer all his life.

War Smashed Hopes.

Just before the outbreak of the war he was planning to take the savings of a lifetime and start on his own as a market gardener near Tours. That dream is all over now. The war came and he marched away, leaving behind him a wife and four children. A baby was born a fortnight later.

Tessier was wounded on the Aisne. Cured of his hurts, he returned to active duty, and in the words of the engraved army citation he showed me, he established a machine gun barrage under heavy fire and was gravely wounded. The surgeons had to saw off his right leg up to the thigh. He went to a training establishment at Courbat. To eke out his pension, the government gave him a free tobacco license and his income from all sources probably now totals $280. "Not much, but we manage."

I told him many people were puzzled that France should maintain an army estimated at 800,000 men.

"Maybe," said he, "France has that many in her armies, but I refuse to believe that force is meant for war. It isn't an army in the new, modern sense, because it has no great reserves to draw on. You see, so many of our men were killed or maimed during the last war. In spite of disarmament, Germany can still muster millions of men. The new conscription classes in France will yield smaller numbers of men when you consider our ever-decreasing birthrate. In Germany the same classes will yield big numbers of men."

Germany Has Men.

"But," said I, "Germany has no guns, no airplanes, no military equipment, has she?"

"She has the men and the officers. The last war showed how quickly the peaceful factories of today can be turned into the war factories of tomorrow."

"But," I objected, to sound him, "Germany has no ships. Why should France seek to maintain a big fleet and many submarines? Against whom are they directed?"

"My paper tells me the Germans are turning out large numbers of merchant ships in no time. The same yards can also turn out war vessels."

So I said to him: "You fear Germany, then? You don't believe the Germans of the republic really want peace?"

"Well," said he, with a fine judicial air, "they have been through it like us, and I don't think many of them would like to go through it again. But their republic is wobbling. The others may come back into power and they may seek revenge. In 1914 we peasants didn't want war, but we had it just the same and had to go to the front. We want it still less now, but the Germans may force it on us again. They wanted part of France then. What can we do if they start war? Let our arms hang down idly and tell them to help themselves to whatever they want?"

Have Paid Nothing.

I suggested a big army must cost France a terrifically large sum in addition to the other crushing financial burdens the country bore.

"Yes," the Germans haven't paid one sou toward repairing the damage they did. France herself has spent eighty billions of francs on that work. We peasants don't want to crush Germany. We know well the Germans can't do the impossible, but we have an old saying—qui casse les carreaux, les paie—he who breaks windows must pay for them. We know the Germans can't replace all the window panes they have broken, but we at least want them to replace some of them. We want them to do their best. And this they haven't done.

"And this isn't militarism, isn't love of glory, isn't desire to boss Europe the way Germany tried to do. That talk makes me angry. People who honestly believe it, simply don't know us. I can take you to three or four fellows like myself, disabled as I am. They live near at hand, and will tell you what I have told you. And you might ask our women who had to work like horses while their hearts were heavy at the thought of us in the stink of the trenches or in the dangers of battle. See what the war has done for me. I am only part of a man now, while but for the kaiser I would have had the ambition of my life—to be my own master on my own patch of French soil."

KITCHENER DELEGATION INSPECTS SEWAGE PLANT

Members Favorably impressed With System Employed at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 25.—A delegation representing the city council and board of health of the city of Kitchener, including Mayor Greb, the city engineer, the chairman of the board of works, and the chairman of the board of health, visited the city today to inspect the local sewage disposal plant, which is considered to be one of the most efficient in the province.

Part of the city of Kitchener is not provided with disposal facilities, and the authorities are considering the installation of a plant similar to the one here. The delegation was taken care of by City Engineer Uie, and the various members expressed themselves as being favorably impressed with the local plant.

ALL IRELAND TO MOURN COLLINS

Will Observe Monday in Free State As Day of Sorrow.

Thousands File Past Bier of the Late Commander-in-Chief.

DUBLIN, Aug. 25.—Scenes of great sorrow were witnessed today in the city hall as long lines of people passed the bier of Michael Collins, the Free State commander-in-chief, who was killed from ambush by rebel forces last Tuesday night.

A pathetic scene took place at midday when the city hall was closed for a time to the public, and relatives and close friends of the dead general were admitted to pay their respects.

Sean Collins, a brother, broke down completely and threw himself across the body. The silence inside the mortuary chapel was broken only by the sobs of the mourners and the low voice of the priest intoning words of consolation.

Many thousands of persons viewed the face of Collins during the day, the lid of the coffin having been removed early this morning in order that the populace might see for the last time the features of the man who had fought so bravely for the provisional government.

The Free State government has declared Monday, the day on which General Collins will be buried, a day of general mourning. All industry, except the essential services, will cease. Throughout the twenty-six counties there will be a general stoppage of activities between eleven and twelve noon, except for the celebration of masses and formation of processions.

KITCHENER—The unfortunate poisoning of Valentine Berley by poison ivy here has given impetus to a campaign on the part of the civic authorities to have all the vacant lots cleared of noxious weeds.

LAUDS RARITY OF JUVENILE CRIME

Judge Hardy Points to Preventive Methods Used in Brantford.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 25. — Judge Hardy gave out the pleasing information that compared with other cities of Brantford's size that there was very little juvenile crime to be found here.

"We try to prevent," he said, "It is the better way. We take the utmost care of the beginner, and we find this almost invariably has large preventive influence. Then, again, every playground, swimming pool, every counter-attraction helps the young people. Keep them busy healthily. A healthy boy largely induces a healthy mind and better morality."

A party of Michigan tourists, coming from Hamilton to Brantford, paid the penalty of speeding yesterday, when in the vicinity of Mount Hope Cemetery the car jumped the road and landed on its side, smashing in the top and doing other damage, but fortunately without injury to the occupants. About 5 p.m. repairs were effected and the party traveled on.

Because of an urgent call from western farmers, arrangements have been made by which the harvesters' excursions will be continued for one more week. Men desiring to take advantage of the usual excursion rates which will prevail are asked to call on Mr. Thompson of the labor bureau, by whose order transportation alone can be secured at the harvesters' rate.

County High Constable Fred Kerr reports that there was very little to complain about with the way large crowds at the U. F. O. picnic conducted themselves. He received only one complaint, and that was to the effect that an Indian youth, about 16 years of age, was found picking a man's pocket. The Indian was told to get off the picnic grounds and to stay off. He has not been seen in that vicinity since.

HAVE YOU HAY FEVER?

WELL, supposing you could get a medicine, tried and proven for years, to bring you prompt and complete relief, would you go to your druggist and pay a dollar for a box with the understanding that, if it didn't do the work for you, he would refund you your dollar?

And, if this medicine was guaranteed to be nothing more than a skilful compounding of rare though harmless ingredients, formulated by a well-known Canadian chemist after years of experiment; guaranteed to contain no noxious, habit-forming drug; guaranteed to be harmless to the heart, liver and other organs, would it not further strengthen your resolve to give it a trial?

RAZ-MAH is a medicine for the relief of those distressing conditions arising from Hay Fever and Summer Asthma. It is a powder, comes in small capsules, readily swallowed, has no harmful after-effects.

To Holders of Five Year 5½ per cent Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued in 1917 and Maturing 1st December, 1922.

CONVERSION PROPOSALS

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers to holders of these bonds who desire to continue their investment in Dominion of Canada securities the privilege of exchanging the maturing bonds for new bonds bearing 5½ per cent interest, payable half yearly, of either of the following classes:—

(a) Five year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1927.

(b) Ten year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1932.

While the maturing bonds will carry interest to 1st December, 1922, the new bonds will commence to earn interest from 1st November, 1922, GIVING A BONUS OF A FULL MONTH'S INTEREST TO THOSE AVAILING THEMSELVES OF THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.

This offer is made to holders of the maturing bonds and is not open to other investors. The bonds to be issued under this proposal will be substantially of the same character as those which are maturing, except that the exemption from taxation does not apply to the new issue.

Holders of the maturing bonds who wish to avail themselves of this conversion privilege should take their bonds AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE, BUT NOT LATER THAN SEPTEMBER 30th, to a Branch of any Chartered Bank in Canada and receive in exchange an official receipt for the bonds surrendered, containing an undertaking to deliver the corresponding bonds of the new issue.

Holders of maturing fully registered bonds, interest payable by cheque from Ottawa, will receive their December 1 interest cheque as usual. Holders of coupon bonds will detach and retain the last unmatured coupon before surrendering the bond itself for conversion purposes.

The surrendered bonds will be forwarded by banks to the Minister of Finance at Ottawa, where they will be exchanged for bonds of the new issue, in fully registered, or coupon registered or coupon bearer form carrying interest payable 1st May and 1st November of each year of the duration of the loan, the first interest payment accruing and payable 1st May, 1923. Bonds of the new issue will be sent to the banks for delivery immediately after the receipt of the surrendered bonds.

The bonds of the maturing issue which are not converted under this proposal will be paid off in cash on the 1st December, 1922.

W. S. FIELDING,
Minister of Finance.

Dated at Ottawa, 8th August, 1922.

ASSESSMENT ON BUILDING IS CUT

S. Frank Glass Insists That Figures Be Reduced To $1,000.

Claims Old Brush Factory Only Worth Its Wrecking Value.

Confronted with the problem of owning a building which has been condemned by Building Inspector A. M. Piper, yet which he cannot dismantle for fear of endangering adjoining structures, S. Frank Glass appealed to the court of revision in session Friday night, to have the assessment of the old Bryan brush factory on Dundas street reduced from $3,500 to its wrecking value, which he contended is $1,000.

The court agreed to reduce the valuation of the building to $1,500, but Mr. Glass declared that he would appeal this decision to the county judge. He explained that he purchased the building, which is part of Robinson Hall Chambers, three years ago, with a view to remodeling it as a revenue producer.

"I then found out that the foundations were no good," said Mr. Glass, "and my builders and the city inspector are agreed that the old factory cannot be remodeled. I have received no revenue since making the purchase. I am not a squealer, as I pay $1,700 a year in taxes, but am between the devil and the deep sea. I cannot wreck the building for fear of endangering adjoining property.

"I do not object to the land assessment," continued the appellant, "but $1,000 is the best wrecking tender I can get for the building."

Will Enter Appeal.

When P. B. Fetterly, chairman of the court, suggested that the assessment be reduced to $1,500, Mr. Glass volunteered the information that he would accept $1,000 for it "right this minute."

"That is better than $3,500," he commented, as he left the court, "but I will take it to the county judge."

The court heard about ninety appeals against income, business and and and business assessment in ward one, Friday night, and it was a late hour ere the final decisions were rendered. Many cases were laid over for consideration.

Rev. Jabez Edwards, who informed the court that he had purchased property on Wortley road to spend "the rest of my days," appealed against the assesment on it, declaring that had he known his taxes would be so high, he would not have made his home in London.

When the court reduced his assessment by $200 he thanked the members saying, "It is very kind of you, gentlemen. I hope you will stick to that."

M. E. Cambridge appealed against income tax paid for 1922 on the ground that he has married and therefore should be accorded a rebate for six months of the year. T. W. Scandrett, a member of the court, declared that the appellant should have entered his name on the roll as a married man

"I couldn't do that when I wasn't married," explained Cambridge.

Confirms Assessment.

"You didn't get married in time," consoled Chairman Fetterly.

No rebate of 1922 taxes will be allowed the appellant, but he will escape 1923 income tax, as the court ordered him entered as a benedict.

Appealing for herself and brother, Daisy Thomson protested that property on Emery street valued at $900, has been assessed at $450.

"The land is under water," she explained, in depreciating its value. The court refused to agree with her and the assessment was confirmed.

MONDAY'S DOINGS.

MONDAY—Rotary Club meets at Springbank, 12 o'clock.
Housing commission meets at city hall, 8 o'clock.

CHIEF JUSTICE R. M. Meredith presided at the weekly sessions of the supreme court at the court house. He heard two applications for naturalization, presented by J. P. Moore.

THIEVES BROKE into a refreshment booth just over Dundas street bridge, and owned by J. Fink, during the night, and took a quantity of cigarettes, police report.

A FORD COUPE with license number 71-1921, is reported missing from a private garage at 701 Adelaide street. The owner, Mr. Agnew, stated that the car must have been taken some time during Friday night.

ON A CHARGE of fraud, laid by St. Thomas police, George Downs, of Byron avenue, was arrested at his home last night by Detective Harry Down. He was turned over to Sergt. Ketchabow, of the St. Thomas force, who took him away on the 10:20 o'clock L. and P. S. R. train this morning.

RACHEL BEATTIE of London, has issued a supreme court writ against her husband, Thomas Beattie of London Township, for alimony, and interim alimony of $12 per week. She has stipulated that the interim alimony be paid on the first day of each month at the office of her counsel, J. W. G. Winnett.

A TOTAL OF 91 permits for building have been issued at the city hall this month, and the estimated cost of the work involved is $134,395. Among the permits issued Friday are included the following: H. Oke, for a one-story stucco dwelling on Walnut street, to cost $2,000; H. Peaker, for a one-story frame house on Giles street, to cost $1,100, and A. J. Kelly, for a similar residence on Elgin street, costing $2,000.

MOTORISTS are warned by County Engineer Charles Talbot to drive carefully when passing the site of Queen's Own Hotel on the Sarnia road, between the second and third concessions of London Township, as a culvert is being constructed at that point. The road will be closed there for two weeks, but motorists will be able to get through. However, the county engineer advises that autoists detour by way of the fifth concession.

TWO BICYCLES were stolen from the vicinity of Clarence and Dundas streets last night, according to reports made to the police. Both were owned by messengers. A bicycle, number 104807, owned by William Stockley, 654 St. James street, was stolen while it was parked on the street, and one, bearing number 90934, owned by Alfred Crocker, 28 Beatrice street, was taken from a lane on Clarence street.

SUPERIOR OF CONVENT CELEBRATES JUBILEE

Special to London Advertiser.

MILDMAY, Aug. 25.—Sister M. Seliana, superior of the Notre Dame Convent, Mildmay, celebrated her silver jubilee here on Wednesday. There was a solemn high mass, and many sisters from other places were present.

Sister Seliana is an excellent teacher, and is greatly beloved by her pupils.

ARRANGES PROGRAM FOR UNDERWOOD CELEBRATION

CARGILL, Aug. 25.—A big celebration is being held at Underwood on Labor Day. There will be a full program of sports. Paisley and Allenford will play a baseball match, and another game will be staged probably between Underwood and Port Elgin.

The committee in charge of the celebration is expecting a big crowd at the annual event this year.

INTERESTING GLIMPSES of the work carried on by the Jerry McAuley Mission in New York City will be given in the Sunday evening service at Ridout Street Methodist Church by Rev. J. A. Agnew. While spending his vacation in New York, Mr. Agnew attended the mission, and is able to tell much of the character of the service and the amount of work accomplished at the mission. The Sunset Quartet are to be in attendance at the evening service.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR BIG PICNIC

Public Works Department Employees Ready For Springbank Outing.

At a meeting of special committees held in the city hall Friday night, final plans were completed for the sixth annual picnic of the public works department to be staged at Springbank Saturday afternoon. Provided that the weatherman does his part, more than 1,000 city employees, wives and families, are expected to take part in the big outing.

The sports program has been subjected to final draft, and there are 45 events listed. These range from children's races to a baby show for all classes and ages of infants. There will be a pavement sweepers' race, foremen's race, married ladies' race, wrestling on horseback, guests' race, returned soldiers' race, and a boat race.

Prizes will also be awarded in feature contests, such as the mystery event, pie-eating competition, tug-of-war for married and single ladies, wheelbarrow race, largest family on grounds, youngest mother with baby, boat race, chicken race, and nail driving for ladies.

The events are scheduled to commence at 2 p.m. sharp and will be in charge of City Engineer H. A. Brazier who is chairman of the sports committee. Refreshments will be served on the grounds by a committee directed by Walter Dodd, chairman of this committee. H. McNabb is chairman of the general committee and upon him will rest the responsibility of marshalling the merry-makers at Springbank for the fun.

REGIMENT BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT AT PORT STANLEY

Conductor Albert W. Slatter To Be in Charge of Sunday Program.

By kind permission of Lieut.-Col. Eric Reid and the officers, the band of the 1st W. O. R. will play the following program at Port Stanley on Sunday next, August 27, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.:

"O Canada"; "The Maple Leaf"; march, "A Bunch of Roses," R. Chapi; overture, "Mirella," Gounod; "Chant Sans Paroles," "Chanson Triste, Op. 40," "Chanson Humoreske," Tschaikowsky; selection, "Iolanthe," Sullivan; hymn, "Old Hundreth," (the people singing the first two verses); serenade, "An Evening In Toledo," Martin Schmeling; valse, "Sunset on the St. Lawrence," M. Heller; selection, "The Bing Boys on Broadway." Nat. D. Ayer; morceau, "The Bells of St. Martin," Louis La Rondelle.

The band will be under the leadership of Lieut. Albert W. Slatter.

FALLS FROM BUMPER UNDER WHEELS OF CAR

Russell Hambly, 14 Weston street, suffered internal injuries when he fell off a bumper of a car, and the wheels of the machine passed over him on Horton street Friday afternoon. He was taken to Victoria Hospital in the police ambulance, and is reported to be in a critical condition.

According to the police, Hambly had been riding on the bumper of the car, cranking the auto at intervals, as it was not in good running order.

GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY TEXTS WILL BE SCARCE

Publishers Claim Books Will Not Be Off Press Before School Opens.

Outside of the public school geography and the high school Canadian and English histories there will be text books aplenty for the school children of the city when they return to their classes, Sept. 5.

It is highly probable that no public school geographies will be available before Oct. 1. It is a new textbook and the publishers claim that it will not be off the press until that time.

The high school histories are in the same predicament, although a supply of the new textbooks are expected within the next few weeks.

The board of education has already secured practically all necessary supplies for the schools this year.

JAILS TRUCKMAN FOR INTOXICATION

GALT, Aug. 25.—For driving a truck while under the influence of liquor, Gustav Strohm of Guelph was sentenced at Hespeler by Magistrate J. A. Weir to serve one month in jail. Before Strohm was arrested by Chief Wilson of Hespeler he had run into two other cars.

Two companions of the truck driver, David May and Ross Hamilton, also appeared. The former was found guilty of being drunk, and was fined $20 and costs, which he paid, while the charge against Hamilton was withdrawn. Both Strohm and May claimed the only thing they had to drink before leaving Guelph last Sunday evening was some chokecherry wine.

The greatest building activity in Galt this year is found in ward 5, the southwestern section of the city, chiefly populated by workingmen. Despite the fact that a number of new houses have been erected this year, there is still a scarcity of houses to rent, and it is estimated Galt could easily utilize 200 more dwellings.

Many Persist in Forgetting That Three Cents Carries Rural Mail

"Some of the prominent businessmen in the city still persist in placing a two-cent stamp on letters for the eight rural routes going out of London despite repeated warnings that all letters being sent outside the city must have a three-cent stamp," declared T. C. Duncan, postmaster, while discussing the latest problem of the local postoffice.

Some months ago the mistake was almost a habit among the citizens of London, but after a few warnings the practice ceased almost entirely. During the past week or two, however, the trouble has broken out anew, and, according to the local postoffice officials, businessmen are the worst offenders.

The recipients of these underpaid letters have to pay an extra two cents before the mail is delivered, and although no complaints have been sent directly to the postoffice officials, it is a known fact that the feeling of some people over the matter is not very good, although all the blame cannot be laid justly on the postal officials.

"We have warned the public time and time again through the newspapers and other means within our power that only letters addressed in the city can be delivered with a two cent stamp," said Mr. Duncan, "and failure to comply with the postoffice regulations in this manner is causing the rural postmen a good deal of trouble, to say nothing of the ill-feeling that is bound to result.

4,000 CHILDREN AT PLAY PARKS' MEET

March From Federal Square to Thames Park Headed by Band.

Four thousand children are making merry at Thames Park this afternoon in celebration of the combined field day for the eight playgrounds of the city.

According to schedule, crowds of kiddies, gay with clan colors of the various grounds, began assembling at the federal square ready to march to the park at 1:30 o'clock. To show the public of London that the event was no small affair the children were headed by a brass band, which is also scheduled to provide a band concert during the meet.

It is expected that as the result of the general invitation issued by the public utilities that hundreds of parents and others will gather to watch the young athletes at play.

The long program of sports will not end until near six o'clock.

WON GLORY FOUR YEARS AGO TODAY

forcements to other threatened points. The 8th and 1st corps, therefore, will not come again into this narrative.

This is but a bare act of justice to the Canadian corps. The Canadian corps attacked south of the Scarpe, east of Arras. On their left, north of the Scarpe, was the 8th British corps. During the week's fighting that followed, and indeed up until October, when the Canadian corps captured Cambrai, the 8th corps was unable to make appreciable progress and therefore, as our penetration developed, an exposed flank was formed south of the Scarpe 20 miles deep, with the enemy in possession of the high ground to the north, including Oppy, Gavrelle and Greenland Hill, from which, during the next six weeks they poured a galling flank fire on our troops, battery positions and supply trains and lorries working along the Arras-Cambrai road.

Visit Cathedral.

On Aug. 22, two Canadian officers, moving north from Amiens, paid a last visit to the cathedral. Here they were joined by two Australian officers, and together they admired that great Gothic temple. "So the Canadian corps is going out to rest," one of the latter remarked. "It is always your luck. You go into a show for ten days or so, and then are pulled out for a rest, while we unfortunates from down under stay on fighting hard in the front line month in and month out." News of the offensive that broke on Aug. 26 must have come rather as a surprise to these Australian friends.

The battle of Arras was Foch's third blow in August, 1918. First was at Amiens by the British 4th army. On Aug. 21 the British 3rd army attacked north of the Somme between Amiens and Albert in the direction of Bapaume. Thereafter the fighting gradually extended north of the Somme, between Amiens and Albert, in the direction of Bapaume. Thereafter the fighting gradually extended north and south until the enemy was dazed by hammer blows that fell from the skies.

The Canadian corps was again moved secretly and by night. The enemy, fully occupied by the 3rd army and by the French in front of Roye, expected nothing less than an attack on the grand scale on their strongest sector. The attack was made at 3 o'clock in the morning, advantage being taken of moonlight to effect a surprise attack, with the 2nd Canadian division, Major-Gen. Sir Henry E. Burstall, on the right, and the 3rd Canadian division, Major-Gen. L. J. Lipsett on the left, with a total frontage of 6,000 yards. The infantry were supported by a magnificent barrage provided by seventeen brigades of field and nine brigades of heavy artillery, with the 5th squadron Royal Air Force and the 3rd brigade, tank corps, including about 45 tanks of the heavy Mark V type.

Attack Is Success.

The attack developed successfully, but the enemy's defense was very different from that encountered in the run-away Amiens show. As the day wore on and the effect of the initial surprise was lost, the enemy contested every foot of ground, and inflicted heavy losses through his system of concrete machine gun posts and masses of wire. Nevertheless, objectives were captured, including the fortified villages of Wancourt and Guemappe, though it was not until evening that our 3rd division established itself on Heninel Ridge. On our left, by a very brilliant operation, our 2nd division captured the village of Monchy-le-Preux, which crowns a hill commanding the surrounding country. This hill had been carried by the gallant Newfoundland regiment shortly after the Canadians stormed Vimy Ridge in April, 1917, but had been lost again in the enemy offensive of March, 1918.

The attack was renewed the following morning by the same two divisions, an advance of 4,000 yards being made along the Cambrai road, and the Sensee being crossed at Cherissy. This brought our men to the foot of the formidable Drocourt-Queant Switch. Renewed again the following day by the same divisions, now depleted in numbers and very tired, the attack made little progress, the men fighting desperately for every foot of ground. During the night of Aug. 28-29 the Third Canadian Division was relieved by the Fourth British Division, temporarily under the Canadian corps commander, while on our right the Fourth Canadian Division, now arrived from the Somme, relieved our Second Division.

The next four days were devoted to improving our line so as to afford suitable jumping-off ground for the great attack on the Drocourt-Queant Switch, successfully carried out on Sept. 2. During all this period our divisions, including those temporarily relieved, were under constant fire. Great demands were being made on allied resources along the entire front, and for the first time our infantry fought with a lack of adequate artillery support. Most of the tanks had been put out of action, and the battle resolved itself into a ding-dong affair of attack and counter-attack, in which the enemy, with a greater concentration of divisions, had all the advantage of his prepared positions. Our losses were heavy, the position seemed impregnable, but the corps did not lose heart. The prize was great and on the eighth day of the battle it was definitely won, the enemy falling back suddenly to east of the Canal du Nord.

"SOMETIMES DEAD MEN TELL TALES"

—the grim old warrior had won millions in those harsh battles of early days when he warred for the timber and copper lands of northern Michigan.

—children and grandchildren lived in luxury in Chicago on the millions he had gained by fighting under the motto: "Dead men tell no tales."

—then there came to Resurrection Rock, that scene of a great wrong done in early days, a lieutenant from the American army.

Strange messages from the dead, from comrades fallen in France, from the father of Ethel Carew, made him suspect.

He didn't know all, but the old man feared him.

There, on Lake Huron, Lucas Cullen watched for him, rifle in hand, while Resurrection Rock showed grimly in the moonlight.

Don't miss the first installment of this tense and gripping story.

WILL ADD SECOND BRITISH TEACHER TO SCHOOLS STAFF

Board of Education Receives Word That Miss Margaret Clark, Scotland, Will Arrive Soon.

Two British school teachers will be in charge of classes in this city at the opening of school Tuesday next.

Word was received today that, in addition to Miss Gulton of Beckenham, England, who is expected in the city within a few days, Miss Grace Margaret Clark of Galashiels, near Edinburgh, Scotland, would arrive in the city before the opening day.

Miss Clark will be placed in charge of a junior grade in Chesley Avenue School.

She was born in America at Danbury, Conn., but she was educated and received her teachers' training in Scotland. Miss Clark holds a full teacher's certificate and is a specialist in cardboard modeling.

MAY FORCE WAR ON CORN BORER

J. B. Reynolds States Legislature May Compel Farmers To Take Action.

Great Deal of Trouble Said To Be Due To Carelessness.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 25.—Legislation which will compel farmers to take precautions against the corn borer is being seriously considered by the Ontario Legislature, according to President J. B. Reynolds of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, who is in the city.

That the corn growing of the province is seriously imperiled, Professor Reynolds says, and he declares that much of the trouble arises from carelessness on the part of certain farmers. Just what steps are to be taken by the government is not known, but it is likely that they will be very drastic.

It is probable that recommendations to this effect will be made to the department of agriculture by the entomologists located in this district, at the end of the present season. The fact that the quarantine area is being extended and in some districts doubled is evidence that the borer is spreading and is quite as serious as ever, Professor Reynolds states. Fears are entertained by the experts that the dreaded pest may attack other grains with as destructive effects as it has on the corn. In fact, Mr. Spencer, the provincial entomologist in charge of the experimental station at Union, is reported to have discovered the borer working in a field of oats this year. Just how much damage resulted has not been learned, as J. G. Spencer has not made his full report to the department, but the discovery is regarded as an indication of what may develop if the pest is not quickly checked and eventually wiped out.

Discussing the report from European countries where the borer is said to have originated that parasites have appeared that destroy the borers and thus protect the corn crops, Professor Reynolds stated that he had heard of no such parasites in Ontario. It was probable, he stated, that such a development had occurred in Europe, otherwise the corn growing industry would have been destroyed there long ago. He did not think that the Ontario farmers, however, should build up hopes on such parasites appearing here and immunizing the effects of the borers. The farmers should get together and fight the pest as the most dangerous enemy of agriculture that has ever appeared in Ontario and not wait for parasites or anything else.

Professor Reynolds visited the Dominion entomologists at Port Stanley, and Mr. Spencer at Union, Friday, and conferred with them in reference to their scouting and other observation work this year.

ASK PROTECTION AT 6 CROSSINGS

Proposal of Brantford Chamber of Commerce Meets Approval of Biggs.

Hopes Highway To Hamilton Will Be Completed by Fall.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 25.—The local chamber of commerce, which is continuing its efforts to have the Brantford-Hamilton section of the provincial highway completed as quickly as is consistent with good construction, and also to make for greater safety in traveling on this road, has received another letter from the Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works and highways of the province, in which he states he is heartily in sympathy with the proposal of the Brantford Chamber of Commerce regarding protection at the six railway crossings on the road between the Telephone City and the Ambitious City.

Trees, shrubs, also buildings, if necessary, to avoid obstruction of the view at the railway approaches to the provincial road, will be removed.

Mr. Biggs intimated that negotiations are now under way for a hearing before the Dominion Railway Board in regard to the railway crossing immediately west of Cainsville, and that these matters will be worked out as speedily as possible, but the machinery in connection with the same is very cumbersome and takes considerable time.

The chamber of commerce suggested to the minister that flagmen should be placed at the crossings since the motor traffic is of such an immense volume on the highway. In closing, Mr. Biggs states: "The work on the Brantford-Hamilton road is progressing most favorably. The contractors are making splendid time, and we hope by fall to complete the highway in its entirety between the cities of Brantford and Hamilton, thus completing one of the most important connecting links of the provincial highway in the Province of Ontario."

Mayor Parker has received definite word of acceptance of the order for 5,000 tons of coal from the Welsh dealers. The order having been accepted, the shipment of the coal to this city is assured. The dealers stated in their communication to the mayor that shipment would be made in the very near future.

HOLD TOURNEY AT WROXETER

Special to London Advertiser.

WROXETER, Aug. 25.—While the attendance was not large owing to the busy season and several other attractions nearby, the baseball tournament held here Wednesday afternoon was much enjoyed by those present, the games being keenly contested. In the first game Wroxeter defeated Gorrie. In the second game Fordwich defeated a team from Blyth, and in the final game were successful in defeating the Wroxeter team.

The Wroxeter Orchestra was on the grounds, and also supplied music at a dance held in the town hall in the evening.

The household effects of the late John Hamilton were recently disposed of by auction sale. The residence has been purchased by Contractor Gordon Gibson. Mrs. Hamilton and two daughters leave this week for Detroit, where they will reside.

REALIGN FORCES TO WIN STRIKE

Railway Executives and Strikers Both Predict Early Victory.

Men Declare They Have Sufficient Funds to Hold Out.

New York, Aug. 26.—With the peace effort launched by the big five brotherhoods definitely abandoned, rail executives and shopcrafts leaders today realigned their forces for a finish fight, in which both sides predicted an early victory.

"We are going home to start the real fight, whether it lasts for three weeks or three months," declared W. F. Ryan, president of the Carmen's National Brotherhood.

"Our organizations have plenty of funds to conduct a long fight, and our men are willing to make the sacrifices needed for a decisive victory."

B. M. Jewell, head of the strike organization of crafts, was equally positive of the outcome of the battle, which, he asserted, the railroads left as the only course for the unions to pursue.

Big five leaders expressed great disappointment over their failure to end hostilities, but renewed assurances that the running trades would refrain from any sympathetic strike, illegal walkout or conspiracy "as long as the rights of the brotherhoods are not threatened."

Should such a situation arise, they declared, they would "use every legal means in their power to preserve the seniority and other rights."

In rail employees' circles, news of the disruption of peace parleys was given a varied reception. Officials of roads which were not party to the negotiations having joined the majority which declined to resume discussions with the brotherhoods after last Wednesday's meeting of the Associaiton of Railway Executives, today were frankly told "I told you so."

"We'll break the strike within a week," was their general prediction. Now that the uncertainty of the situation has been cleared away, and the strikers left without hope of a victory through negotiations, they will flock back to their old jobs, it was predicted.

The metropolitan strike committee prepared to send organizers and speakers into every shop district in the east. The railroads' employment agencies got ready to enlist more men, while company guards, who had relaxed their vigilance during the days of conference, returned to rigid patrol duty.

ARVA

ARVA, Aug. 25.—The residents on the provincial highway from London north, including the village of St. Johns, have been notified to wire their buildings for hydro, which will be supplied very soon.

Keep Up a Good Record.

DR. W. S. DOWNHAM, medical officer of health for London, reports that communicable diseases, such as diphtheria, scarlet and typhoid fever, have given the city a wide berth this summer, and the number of cases reported, is the lowest in years.

He attributes this splendid health record to the attitude of the public, and teachings of the board of health, which are bearing fruit in the weekly returns of communicable diseases for London. A few years ago, it was the sole object of many citizens when a communicable disease broke out in their household, to conceal the fact from the authorities, and this negligence was responsible for much of the contagion about the city.

Now, however, the majority of the public has been convinced that an immediate report to the board of health, which provides expert advice to cope with the situation, is the best course, and as a result communicable disease in London has been reduced to a minimum. It is not the aim of the health officer to placard a house in which a contagious disease exists, thereby notifying the community of the fact, but many citizens feel that this statement is untrue.

Only last week, a medical student, walking down a city street, heard a baby in a paroxysm of coughing, and without seeing the child, diagnosed the case as one of whooping cough. He informed DR. DOWNHAM, who investigated, and discovered that this case had not been reported. The attending physician had left London on holidays shortly after being called to treat this child, and had neglected to report the case.

Both the doctor and family concerned in this case of neglect risked a severe penalty by not reporting the outbreak of whooping cough in the home. They also provided a means for the outbreak of an epidemic in the neighborhood.

The mother in this case expressed regret for her failure to report the case, and at present is following the precautionary measures outlined by the board of health.

At a picnic given to city children at Port Stanley, Tuesday, a woman was discovered with a child suffering with whooping cough, yet allowed to mingle with fifteen hundred other youngsters, an ideal medium for spreading the disease! It may be ignorance of regulations, that lies at the bottom of such indiscretions, but ignorance is a poor excuse.

DR. DOWNHAM has expressed the hope that London's summer career of good health will continue indefinitely. It is the duty of every citizen, to exercise proper care in dealing with communicable diseases, and by such co-operation help the board of health in maintaining a record season in London.

Conquering Worry.

WHAT worries you most in life? Generally we buck up and face our big problems squarely. Our attitude is, "I'll do the best I can. It won't do any good to worry about it." Then we turn around and worry about a trifling incident or situation.

DR. DONALD GREGG, able physician in Wellesley, Mass., writes: "Henry may wake up after sleeping on his arm and be a bit amused to find his hand numb. William, whose father has just had a shock involving his left side, may be quite upset when he finds his arm numb from the same cause that failed to distress Henry."

Worry is a psychopathic condition—an emotional disease. Sometimes it is caused by unconscious vanity—an exaggerated conception of the importance of ourselves and our surroundings.

Most worries are imaginary. Doctors lately notice an exceptionally large number of patients with nothing really wrong with them, and yet they are "terribly worried." All they need is the physician's reassurance that the best thing is to forget it.

Now that the medical profession is beginning to understand the endocrine glands of the body a peculiar cause of worry is discovered. This type of worry sometimes takes the form of a constant apprehension of impending disaster, a fear of nothing in particular, caused by over-secretion of certain chemicals by the thyroid and adrenal glands.

Usually, though, worry is a mental disorder—a sort of escape of steam or leak from the disordered nervous system.

People who worry chronically would trade a few years of life to be able to shake off apprehension and brooding anxiety.

First of all, according to Dr. Gregg, the victim must learn to control himself. That is, bring the will power into play, resolve to accept and meet the problems of life sensibly and calmly.

The best medicine is work and a hobby interesting enough to take the patient's mind off his worry and make him forget it. The worry may come back as soon as the work and play are halted. But generally the brain can be trained to forget, just the same as it can be trained to remember.

The moment you find yourself worrying, strive to dismiss the subject from your mind. Wipe it away, like chalk writing from a blackboard, and concentrate the mind on something else.

Above all, remember that worry is nine-tenths in the imagination.

-A SLIVER IN HIS FOOT-

Fathers and Sons.

A PHOTOGRAPH appeared in some of the daily papers a few days ago of PERCY A. ROCKEFELLER, "nephew of JOHN D., who is said to have the best business head of any of the younger generations of the family."

This reference to the best business head in a family of the second generation opens up the question if it follows that the sons of big and successful men have within them the ability that made for success in their fathers.

The world will probably afford many examples both ways. There are the families where the father has made a big success, and where he has used the success to go ahead and entertain and spoil his sons. There may be something quite natural and pardonable in the idea that the father does not want the son to go through the same drudgery that he went through. He knows that hard work, small wages, long hours, and all such things were mixed in his early life, and he has gone on past these things and tasted of the fruits of victory. His son is brought up to live on the same plane as the father, and he therefore knows nothing of the very things that made the father the man that he is today. In other words, the parent is feeding cream to his son, whereas the father himself at the same age had to get along on the skimmed milk for quite a few years. The illustration may be a bit homely, but it will come pretty close to walking on all fours in many a case.

We can think of one case that serves to illustrate another point. A merchant who built up a large trade was burned out. The day the firemen had the flames under control he was sitting in the office of a local architect, discussing plans for the new building, and as soon as the ashes were cold, work was started. There was no let up until the new place was up and a greater stock than ever on the shelves of the new store. The merchant had gone heavily into debt for the new premises, but he knew the possibilities of the district and city he was in, and year after year he came nearer the place he wanted to reach, and finally had the thing cleared, and was prepared to go ahead and put more money into extensions for a furniture floor. He had three sons, all of them in the business. Sickness overtook the head of the firm, and after a short illness he passed away, a success in the merchandising world. His success was due to a knowledge of values, to a schooling in hard work and careful management. On his death the business went to the sons. They called off the work of extension that had been planned. Inside of a year they found that there was not enough business there for the three of them, so one of the sons went on the road as a traveler. The other two stayed with the business, and today, although the city has grown well, that particular store is a very ordinary affair, and not in the same class with the establishment the father had run. What was the trouble? Hard to say. The boys had all gone off to school, and had come into the business after it had been made a success by the father's hard work. Not one of them received the hard training the father had, and as a result they took too many things for granted.

Of course, you will say, it is possible to show cases where the sons have come into the business and success started from their entry, with new ideas and new enthusiasm. We are not arguing that this has not been done in many instances, but the weight of evidence goes to show that ability, perseverance and commercial courage do not as a general thing pass from father to son. The proof of this is in the fact that we see all around us men coming up in the business and commercial world who have had their start on little better than a shoestring.

A Fine Mess.

ONE of those peculiar cases that tend to make marriage a joke is found in the case of the FONTAINE girl, who sues young WHITNEY, a millionaire, for $1,000,000 breach of promise, and so forth.

On behalf of the defendant it is claimed that at the time the girl had her hooks on WHITNEY she was the wife of a soldier and therefore could not have married the young millionaire. But now the attorneys for the young woman announce that it turns out that the soldier had a wife living at the time he married Miss FONTAINE and therefore her union to him was illegal. She might really have wedded WHITNEY, although she thought she couldn't.

Now she alleges a breach of promise because she could lawfully have married her lover, although she did not realize the fact.

Here is a fine legal entanglement, even if it did not constitute a matrimonial one.

Here is a sweet young girl with existing and prospective husbands and yet no legal wife. On the other hand, if a fellow makes love to a married woman, can she sue him for breach of promise if it turns out that her husband has another wife?

A burnt child should keep off the dry grass.

Another Raid.

IF ALL of us could sit down and vote our own salaries we would also be extremely happy for some time, observes the Calgary-Albertan in commenting upon the merriment among the Alberta members when they voted themselves an extra indemnity. And most of us will agree with the Albertan. The Legislature was actually in session about 25 hours. For this service the legislators voted themselves $250, or a wage of $10 an hour.

Apparently one province thinks it can do what another one can in regard to raiding the public treasury for the sake of paying salaries to which the members imagine they are entitled.

There is something radically wrong with the whole system of regulating the pay that members of parliament and of the various legislatures shall receive. It is entirely too lax, and leaves the gate open for raiders to ride through whenever there is enough agitation carried on for such a move to be made.

Why should not the salaries of representatives in parliament or legislatures be fixed by some more scientific method than making the amount conform to what the members think they should have? In the last analysis it is the money of the people they are taking for their own use, and there should be some machinery to provide a greater check than we have at the present moment.

It is certainly not calculated to increase the respect of the community for the dignity or serious concern and effort of the house when every now and then some legislature breaks through and conducts a night raid on the treasury for the benefit of the members. Meantime the ratepayers stand helplessly at one side.

LITTLE 'TISERS

One of the worst features about holidays is quitting them.

Our idea of an optimist is the chap who is putting in a large stock of ash sifters for this winter.

Some men get greatly attached to their homes, but unfortunately the bailiff goes and does the same thing at times.

The airplane taxi is being used now, and no doubt they've got a sign on not to get out of the rig while it's in motion.

GEORGE HAM of the C. P. R. owns up that he is 75 years old. And he's one of the youngest and best assets that road has.

Our idea of the smart man is he who can live inside his income and still give the impression that he has quite a lot in reserve.

The coal strike has been settled until March 31, 1923. That means that the next strike starts on the first day of April, 1923.

When folks speak of a bumper crop they mean the bump that comes to the farmer who expected 50 bushels to the acre and gets only 35.

The asylums are fairly well filled, but there are still a few chaps outside who persist in pulling out the chair just as a person is going to sit down.

All power to the man who makes two blades of grass grow where there was only one lone beggar before—likewise to him who leaves only one fly where two were crawling.

Perhaps it's a good thing the nations of Europe all have a good-sized debt fastened around the waist line. If they all had plenty of money, the chances are that we'd have another war by the end of the week.

A Newark man has had the fourteenth child in his family in sixteen years, and has run out of names. Why not go down to the station and watch the trains go through? The Pullman Company operate some 6,000 sleepers, all named.

HON. MACKENZIE KING made the statement that third party movements only appeared in times of Conservative rule. The Winnipeg Free Press puts the query of how he is going to account for the third party movement in Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba?

Learn a word a day. Today's word is bluff, b-l-u-f-f. It means just what it says. Examples—the young man who earns $15 a week and stays at a $30-a-week summer hotel is putting up an awful bluff. Or another—"The attempt on the part of little ARTHUR MEIGHEN to make it appear there is still life in the Conservative party he represents is the season's highest bluff."

The amount of money collected in fees for the privilege of writing middle and upper school examinations, as well as entrance, amounted this year to about $40,000, and the greater part of this is handed over to those who preside at examinations and read the papers. From all over the province remarks of disapproval are heard, mainly because many of those receiving extra fees are at the same time drawing their regular salary from a school board. The answer is that the regulations permit this to be done, to which it can be added that if this is so it is high time to change the regulations.

Some of the Detroit papers are getting worked up into quite a temper because there are rumors that Washington, in the distribution of coal, refuses to regard the automobile industry as essential. There can be no doubt about the trucking part of it being essential in the period of uncertain transportation that United States has been facing, and the recent street car strikes in Chicago and Buffalo have demonstrated that the passenger car can save the day. But this distinction of being essential raises many a fine point, and calls to mind that during the war many fine industries were told to stand to one side, while the man who was around collecting scrap metal in a cart was classed as doing a highly essential work.

SETTLING THE DIFFICULTY.

The curator of a public museum was classifying some Egyptian curios. Noticing that his assistant looked puzzled over something, he asked what the trouble was. "I was wondering how we should classify this, sir," said the other, and he held up a papyrus on which the characters were so badly traced that they were undecipherable. "Let me see," said the curator, examining the papyrus; then, as he scratched his head, "Oh, we will call it a doctor's prescription in the time of Pharaoh."

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 306—CURLY HAIR AND HASTY WRITING.

Would you say that curly hair and hasty writing indicated the same sort of character?

To a large extent they do.

Curly hair, you may remember from a previous article, denotes in a minor way, a temperament that is quick and vivacious. And the indication of hasty writing, which is that kind of writing in which the writer forms well only the two or three letters of a word and then lets the rest of them trail off immediately, indicates among other things the same characteristics.

So, if you happen to know that your hasty writer also has curly hair, you have a very good reason in reading his character to put a little more emphasis on the hasty writing in so far as it shows quickness, vivacity and animation; but not necessarily in its indication of originality, finesse and dissimulation. And this is particularly true if the writing happens to be of that hasty sort in which the letters do not trail off at the end of the word, but in which all of the letters in a word are rather poorly formed, consisting more of up and down strokes without much attempt to make one letter look different from another.

But though curly hair and hasty writing indicate pretty much the same thing, with certain limitations, it does not follow that straight hair and carefully formed letters delineate the same types of mind. It is quite possible, of course, that the straight hair and the carefully formed letters may be characteristic of the same person, but these are not characteristics which run parallel.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is—APHORISM.

It's pronounced — af-o-riz'm.

It means—a concise definition or statement of a principle; a pithy sentence stating a general doctrine or truth.

It comes from—a Greek word meaning "to mark off by boundaries," "to define."

It's used like this—"That Labor and Capital can work most effectively as partners is an aphorism which it pays both sides to every strike to bear in mind."

COST OF MONTREAL HARBOR.

Q.—What has the deep water harbor of Montreal cost?

A.—The harbor of Montreal has cost $31,000,000, providing 100 steamer berths from 350 to 750 feet in length, and with a depth of water from 25 to 35 feet. $5,000,000 more will be spent on new terminal facilities, 1922-23.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILWAY.

Q.—What was the "Underground Railway" between the United States and Canada?

A.—The Underground Railway was the name given to the mysterious organization that helped negro slaves to escape from slavery in the Southern States into Canada during the Civil War. Thousands thus reached what was to them a true land of freedom.

"IN FLANDERS FIELDS."

Q.—Who wrote the poem "In Flanders Fields"?

A.—Lieut.-Col. John Macrae of Guelph wrote "In Flanders Fields." He died on service in the late war.

JEST

Professor X has a bright boy who one day at the age of four appeared in his father's study clasping in his hands a forlorn-looking little chicken which had strayed from a neighboring incubator.

"Willie," said his father, "take that chicken back to his mother."

"Ain't dot any mudder," answered the child.

"Well, then, take it back to its father," said the professor, determined to maintain parental authority.

"Ain't dot any fadder," was the reply. "Ain't dot anything but an old lamp."

A farmer was boasting in a village store: "I once put up a scarecrow," he said, "that frightened the crows so much that not one entered that field for over a year." "That's nothing," said another farmer. "I once put a scarecrow into a potato field and it terrified the birds so much that one rascal of a crow, who had stolen some potatoes, came next day and put them back."

A POTENTIAL LAWBREAKER.

(From the Boston Transcript.)

"Oh, but, judge," protested the motorist when the rural magistrate had imposed a ten dollar fine for speeding, "just look at your roads! No car could have gone over eight miles an hour through that mud."

"That's jest it," said his honor severely. "'Twarn't nothin' but that thar mud of ourn as held ye back."

Black—"Why are you looking so worried?"

Jack—"I just lost $6,000 in a crap game."

Black—"Good heavens!"

Jack—"Yes, and the hang of it is, $25 was cash."

DIDN'T LIKE WIFE'S BARBERING.

"Who was it who was sorely afflicted?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

"Samson," replied the boy promptly.

"Why, no; it was Job."

"Well, I know Job was, but so was Samson."

"Why, how was Samson afflicted, Tommie?"

"His wife cut his hair."

SUFFICIENT EXCUSE.

Jack and Mary had just been to the grown-ups' church for the first time. A day or two afterward they were found in the nursery whispering audibly to each other.

"What are you children doing?" their nurse asked.

"We're playing church," replied Jack. "But you shouldn't whisper in church," admonished nurse.

"Oh, we're the choir," said Mary.

MISUNDERSTOOD.

It was past eleven. The old man entered the parlor, and, approaching his daughter's admirer, said: "Young man, do you know what time it is?"

The timid youth leaped to his feet, and, stammering "Y-y-yes," hurried into the hall and then out into the night.

The old man stood bewildered.

"That's a queer fellow to have calling on you, Mabel," he remarked. "Why did he rush off in that fashion? My watch had stopped, and I merely wanted to get the time from him to start it going again."

HIS GROWING INDIFFERENCE.

Mr. Justwed—What are you blaming me for? You promised to meet me at the Red Gate Inn at 1 o'clock, and I waited for you there more than two hours.

His Wife—That's just it. If you loved me you wouldn't have waited You'd have hunted for me till you found me.

NOT LOCAL COLORS.

The Old One—Yes, this is a sunset painted by my daughter. She studied abroad several years.

The Young One—Ah, yes! I understand now—I can't remember having seen a sunset like that in our country.

EITHER THAT OR KICK.

Estelle, why did you bite your sister?

I couldn't help it, auntie; she was holding both my arms.

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

ANGUST 26, 1897.

The sisters in charge of Mount Hope Orphanage return their sincere thanks to Mr. Carr, manager, and to the members of the company, who so kindly contributed to the orphans' pleasure by allowing them the free use of the street cars on Tuesday.

The promenade concert given by the Seventh Band last night in Princess Rink drew a large audience.

Messrs. Welland, J. Drew, A. Williamson and R. Sharp have been appointed by the congregation of the Maitland Street Baptist Church to wait upon Rev. T. W. Charlesworth, their pastor, and endeavor to induce him to reconsider his resignation, which the congregation is very loath to accept. The committee was asked to report on Friday night.

Ald. Gerry, Archdeacon Davis and Mr. T. G. Davey are attending the opening ceremonies of the I. O. F. Building at Toronto. Subsequently they will take a trip through the Thousand Islands.

The Trades and Labor Council has decided to celebrate Labor Day this year at Port Stanley.

No. 2 committee of the school board will meet tonight to consider the purchase of the lot at the corner of Waterloo and Grey streets, on which it is desired to erect a school. The board will give only $1,000, and Mr. Benness, the owner, wants $1,200.

The St. Thomas Sons of Scotland are holding their initial picnic at Port Stanley today.

Ridgetown's bakers have been selling bread at 4 cents per loaf for the past year. Now they have raised the price to 6 cents.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

CHEWING YOUR FOOD

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

SOME years ago a great deal of public interest was awakened by a plan of eating food slowly, put forth by Horace Fletcher. It consisted merely in counting a certain number while chewing your food. This process was called Fletcherizing. Long before this, however, Mr. Gladstone, realizing that his own habit of bolting meals was rapidly endangering his digestive processes, and hence his mental powers, adopted a plan whereby he allowed himself a certain period for meals, nor would he leave the table until the expiration of that time. Thus he gradually slowed up and took the full allotted time for his food.

It would be well for all of us if we would adopt a similar plan and stick to it. We eat too fast. We let our teeth off with too little work and give our stomachs too much.

The trouble with "Fletcherizing" food, however, is that it's tiresome. It's about as pleasant as calisthenics—swinging your arms so and so for a certain number of counts.

Thorough mastication means masticating up to the point of involuntary swallowing. It doesn't mean forcibly holding the food in the mouth, counting the chews, or otherwise making a bore of eating.

The evils of insufficient mastication may be enumerated as follows:

Insufficient use of the teeth and jaws (hence dental decay as well as other and worse dental evils); insufficient saliva mixed with the food (hence imperfect digestion of the starchy substances); insufficient subdivision of food by mastication (hence slow digestion); the failure of the taste nerves to telegraph ahead, as it were, to the stomach and other digestive organs an intimation of the kind and amount of digestive juices required (hence indigestion); the overseasoning of food to make it "tasty" even when bolted (hence overeating and irritation of the mucous lining); the excessive use of meat and eggs and like foods, which can be eaten rapidly with relative impunity, and the corresponding neglect of other foods which require more mastication, like bread, grains, vegetables, and salads (hence intestinal poisoning).

A Business Talk to Young Business Women

YOU will generally find that well-informed stenographers, teachers, secretaries and other salaried women employees hold one or more life insurance policies, including probably an endowment. This policy has many attractive features.

An endowment policy makes provision for her own future.

An endowment policy is a particularly good one for the woman who desires to make a sound and profitable investment of her savings.

If she should die before her endowment policy is paid up, the full amount of the policy will be paid to her mother or any other person she may name.

Her policy after the first three years always has a cash surrender value. And she can readily secure a loan from the Company upon the security of her policy.

A profit-participating policy is the cheapest in the end, because the profits reduce the cost. These are the points business women are discussing at the Business Clubs and elsewhere.

One Canadian Company, and only one, shares its entire profits with its policyholders. Let us send you our booklet—"Life Assurance for Canadian Women"

BONNIE SCOTCH DANCER HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Miss Margaret MacIver Wins Twenty-Eight Medals; Also Competes for St. Andrew's Medal.

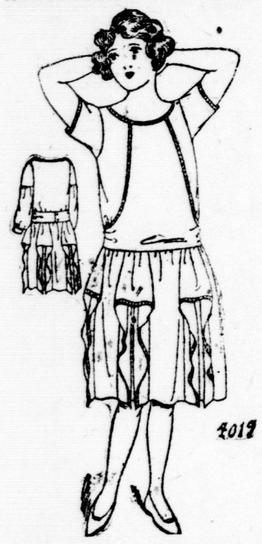
Mrs. Alexander MacIver and daughter Margaret of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been visiting Mrs. Malcolm MacIver of Port Stanley since the Scotch picnic on Wednesday last, are returning home today on the steamer Colonial.

Miss Margaret, who is a remarkably clever Scotch dancer, as well as an artist with the pipes, has had an exceedingly successful season, having won 28 medals, 19 of which were firsts.

She is now the happy possessor of 85 medals as the result of three years' competing, and has an enviable continental reputation for her clever work.

She has twice competed successfully for the beautiful silver trophy donated by the London St. Andrews Society and has only to win it once again for it to become her property.

ADVERTISER PATTERNS



A Stylish Frock for the Growing Girl.

4019—The graceful fullness of the drapery and the tie-on effect are popular features of this model. It is nice for crepe and also for voile. Ribbon, hemstitching or a picot edge would serve well for decoration.

The pattern is cut in four sizes, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. A 10-year size requires 5¼ yards of 40-inch material if made with long sleeves. With the sleeves short, one-half yard less is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps. Address all pattern orders to Pattern Department.

3. Inclose stamped envelope when asking for patterns, recitations, etc.

SHAMROCK GIVES US TIP.

Dear Miss Grey and Fellow-Boxites,—Here I am making a nuisance of myself again. We are having it pretty warm just now. You city folk may say what you please about the coolness and shadiness of the country, but we right here within three miles of the lake too, are not fortunate enough to be blessed with it, although I'll admit we are not as nearly "done to a turn" as you in the city. Car riding is pleasant, but the heat is worse when one returns. I do feel sorry for you, dear, in your hot coop, and wish I could box up and mail to you one of our few and far between breezes. This hot weather is surely tough on the horses, too. Glad I am a plain and simple human after all.

Miss Grey, could you print rules for the game of Crokinole, please? I am the baby of a family of six, my oldest brother being over 30, and mamma and daddy got our board years before I happened, and our paper of rules is no more, and we aren't sure of them, and I want to know. Mamma suggested the Mail-Box as a possible solution.

Here is an inexpensive brassiere. Take a good quality factory cotton (we use unbleached for every-day and bleached for good), and tear off a strip the length required to go around the bust snugly, and about 13 or 14 inches wide. Face the two ends and sew on hooks and eyes. Make darts in around the lower hem so that it fits. It is best to hollow the top out under the arms and face all way around top with a bias piece. Attach white tape for shoulder straps. I wear "homemade" all the time.

Good on somebody for thinking of the recipe book. Would it not be a good idea to have a few empty pages in the back, so that if a new recipe came out that wasn't in the book one could copy it? You may count on us for one when they are finished.

Please criticize my writing. Here's wishing you could get a peek at our dahlias—dark red, pink and white—and of our gladioli, red, scarlet, pink and goldy, and a magnificent royal purple shading a mauve. We are very proud of them. Guess I had better close, as my letter is most dreadfully long. Love and best wishes to all, from one of your kids, IRISH SHAMROCK.

It was very hot the day you wrote your letter, Irish Shamrock, but I am thankful to say, it is cooler in London again. Yes, you must admit, that we are "done to a turn" in the city. I am sorry, but I cannot give you the rules of crokinole, but if you had asked me at one time I could have recited them backwards, but it is so long since I played that I have forgotten. I know that some of the readers will remember them and will be good enough to send them in for you. Thanks for giving us the tip for making a brassiere. Every one is full of suggestions for the recipe book, but apparently no one has the courage to start it. I am sure your garden must be lovely. I have seen some wonderful dahlias this summer. Such gorgeous shades in some of them. You write a very good hand, Shamrock, and you still are "only one of the kids." Thank you for the little mite done up in the colored paper. It caught my eye immediately.

WILL WRITE TO HAPPY.

Dear Miss Grey and Boxites,—Here I am again after that terrible storm. I say, three cheers for Miss Grey for keeping the Mail-Box and Boxites in order through the hot summer months. What do you say, Boxites? I have a few good recitations which I would exchange with anyone who wished to. I am looking everyday in the paper to see if my answer to Happy-go-Lucky's riddle was right. Where are you, Happy? I would like to correspond with you if you will write first. I have found the crowd such a happy one that I had to come again. Am sending my wee mite.

SWEET BRIAR.

You must have had a storm in your district that passed us by, as we haven't had a bad storm recently. The demand for recitations has started again, Sweet Briar, so you keep yours handy, as there will be an emergency call for them very soon. Happy said her riddles had been answered correctly. I guess you overlooked her letter. Thanks for the wee mite so carefully done up in the cardboard. You were going to be sure it reached its destination, weren't you? Thanks, too, for the cheers, but I don't think I deserve any.

HER FIRST APPEARANCE.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to the Mail-Box, but I enjoy reading your interesting letters. Will you please send me Sweet Briar's address, as I would like to write to her. Am sending a wee mite for S. C. H. May I come again?

AN INTERESTED READER.

Sweet Briar's address is on the way to you, Interested Reader, so by now I guess you are writing to her. Certainly you may come again. It was good of you to bring us a little donation on your first visit. We will be looking for a longer letter from you next time.

WANTS TO HELP.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have just finished reading Little Mother of Four's letter I thought I would write and ask for her address. I have no children of my own, but if I could write and get some idea of the size of clothes she needs for her wee ones no doubt I could help her. I have often read the letters from your Boxites, but do not know rules of your letter writing club, so am inclosing stamped envelope, hoping to hear from you. NINO.

It is good of you to help Mother of Four by sending some little clothes for her children. I will send you her address, so you can write to her direct for the ages of her little ones. The rules of our Mail-Box are not very complicated, and you have not broken any of them. Lately they have been appearing at the head of the Mail-Box.

DEAR OLD 'TISER.

Dear Miss Grey and Boxites,—I haven't written the Mail-Box for some time, so just couldn't stand it any longer after reading Calamity Ann's letter. She sure has been silent for some time. Our old boxites seem to have forgotten that our dear old 'Tiser still exists, and they need the letters to help fill in our page. I quite agree with C. A.'s idea in regards to the book of recipes, so all get together once more tested recipes it along. Send in your tested recipes, also household hints, each written separately on a slip of paper with your penname, and extra mite for printing. Please send me Weeping Willow's address. Find inclosed mite for S. C. H.

Trusting C. A.'s suggestion meets with all the Mail-Box friends' approval. I remain, as before, MEG.

Good old Calamity Ann, see what you have done, you have persuaded, Meg, to come back to us again. Will you be responsible for the Mail-Box recipe book, Meg? I don't want the recipes coming in until I know who is to take care of them, as I haven't the time to look after the book, but will do all I can to assist. So if you wish to carry out this scheme, boxites, you will have to do the work yourselves. Am mailing you Weeping Willow's address, as requested, and we will be looking for a letter from you soon again, Meg.

WELCOME NEWS FOR RACHEL.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have read with interest the inclosed letter from Rachel. I am a Christian woman, have a Christian home, live half a mile from school, go to church regularly, and I would love to give the 12-year-old laddie a home and all home privileges. Rachel can bring her boy, come and see me, and talk with me, before deciding, or I will meet her anywhere that is convenient for her. I hope Rachel will think this over and give me a trial. I have no children of my own, but have successfully mothered a few. I will leave my address with Cynthia Grey and Rachel can communicate with her, and in so doing can rest assured a good, kind home awaits her boy. Will sign myself, MOTHER-HEART.

This will be most welcome news for Rachel, I am sure, Mother-heart. Although it will be hard for her to part with her boy, it will be such a comfort to know that he is going to a good home with a kind, motherly soul to take care of him. You must be a good woman to offer to do this for a little stranger. I know Rachel will be wanting your address just as soon as she sees this letter.

PEONY SENDS MITE.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have written to your Mail-Box before and think it is a very interesting and helpful one.

How are you standing this hot weather? I have just come home from Port Stanley. I would like to correspond with someone if they would write first. I am 13 years old and passed my lower school exams. this year. What do you think of my writing? Inclosed find mite for S. C. H.

PEONY.

I guess you have broken the record among our younger ones at school. You have done very well to have passed your lower school exams. at the age of 13. Those are the exams. you try in your second year at high school, are they not? But, Peony, you did not give your name and address, so how can you expect me to find correspondents. Send it in your next letter, won't you? Many thanks for the hospital mite, they seem to be coming in quite steadily now. You write a good, legible hand.

OUR CYNTHIA GREY COT.

My Dear Miss Grey,—I see in the Mail-Box column that Tetten is offering sheet music. I would like two copies if there are any left, for which I inclose a shinplaster, as I am quite sure two copies are worth that, and when we think that it is helping towards our objective I feel we should all keep "adoing" now we are so near. I can see the new children's hospital from my veranda, so you can guess my thoughts are often with the Boxites who I know are doing their best towards our Cynthia Grey Cot. Best wishes to one and all, Yours sincerely, ESME.

How interesting it must have been to watch our hospital grow into being. It has developed into a building, of which London has every reason to be proud, hasn't it? I can hardly wait until the day we will be able to claim one of those little cots with a plate above bearing the name of Cynthia Grey. I have given your name of Tetten, and you will receive the songs within a few days. Her plan is bringing in quite a nice little sum for our fund. It was clever and thoughtful of Tetten to devise this scheme of raising money.

DAY NURSERY KIDDIES ENJOY MOTOR DRIVE

Mrs. C. H. Howden Takes Twenty Children on Motor Drive Through Country.

The hearts of 20 little ones were made happy last week when Mrs. C. H. Howden took the day nursery children for a delightful motor ride. Since the hot weather first set in a motor ride has been the children's dream, and a more excited lot of little ones could not have been found when the matron announced that their dream at last was to be realized. During the drive, Springbank Park was visited, and when the cars stopped at the zoo shrieks of delight came from the tiny ones as they saw the strange animals for perhaps the first time in their young lives.

From Springbank they went on to Delaware, and upon arriving home another treat was still in store, as ice cream had also been provided by the fairy godmother.

The following have also donated gifts recently: A Friend, two quarts of ice cream; Mrs. Shyne, Grove road, vegetables; Mrs. Woonton, Maitland street, fruit and flowers; Mrs. Marsh, Britannia street, apples and beef soup bones.

The day nursery board would be more than grateful if another motor drive could be arranged in the near future for the little ones.

Antony gave Bill a smile and was silent for a little, thinking.

"Is there another inn at Stanton—fairly close to the station?"

"The 'Plough and Horses'—just at the corner where the road goes up to the station—is that the one you mean?"

"That would be the one. I suppose you could do with a drink, couldn't you?"

"Rather!" said Bill, with a grin.

"Good. Then have one at the 'Plough and Horses.' Have two, if you like, and talk to the landlord, or landlady, or whatever serves you. I want to find out if anybody stayed there on Monday night."

"Robert?" said Bill eagerly.

"I didn't say Robert," said Antony, smiling. "I just want you to find out if they had a visitor who slept there on Monday night. A stranger. If so, then any particulars you can get of him, without letting the landlord know that you are interested—"

"Leave it to me," broke in Bill. "I know just what you want."

"Don't assume that it was Robert—or anybody else. Let them describe the man to you. Don't influence them unconsciously by suggesting that he was short or tall, or anything of that sort. Just get them talking. If it's the landlord, you'd better stand him a drink or two."

"Right you are," said Bill confidently. "Where do I meet you again?"

"Probably at the 'George.' If you get there before me, you can order dinner for 8 o'clock. Anyhow, we'll meet at 8, if not before."

"Good." He nodded to Antony and rode off back to Stanton again.

Antony stood watching him with a little smile at his enthusiasm. Then he looked around slowly, as if in search of something. Suddenly he saw what he wanted. Twenty yards farther on a lane wandered off to the left, and there was a gate a little way up on the right-hand side of it. Antony walked to the gate, filling his pipe as he went. Then he lit his pipe, sat on the gate, and took his head in his hands.

"Now then," he said to himself, "let's begin at the beginning."

* * *

It was nearly 8 o'clock when William Beverley, the famous sleuth-hound, arrived, tired and dusty, at the "George," to find Antony, cool and clean, standing bare-headed at the door, waiting for him.

"Is dinner ready?" were Bill's first words.

"Yes."

"Then I'll just have a wash. Lord, I'm tired."

"I never ought to have asked you," said Antony penitently.

"That's all right. I shan't be a moment." Half way up the stairs he turned round and asked, "Am I in your room?"

"Yes. Do you know the way?"

"Yes. Start carving, will you? And order lots of beer." He disappeared round the top of the staircase. Antony went slowly in.

IN THE MORNING THERE WAS A LETTER FOR HIM.

When the first edge of his appetite had worn off, and he was able to spare a little time between the mouthfuls, Bill gave an account of his adventures. The landlord of the "Plough and Horses" had been sticky, decidedly sticky—Bill had been unable at first to get anything out of him. But Bill had been tactful; lorblessyou, how tactful he had been.

"He kept on about the inquest, and what a queer affair it had been, and so on. Then I said carelessly that it must be very hard to remember anybody whom you had just seen once, so as to identify him afterward, and he agreed that it would be 'middlin' hard,' and then—"

"Give me three guesses," interrupted Antony. "You asked him if he remembered everybody who came to his inn?"

"That's it. Bright, wasn't it?"

"Brilliant. And what was the result?"

"The result was a woman."

"A woman?" said Antony eagerly.

"A woman," said Bill impressively. "Of course, I thought it was going to be Robert—so did you, didn't you?—but it wasn't. It was a woman. Came quite late on Monday night in a car—driving herself—went off early next morning."

"Did he describe her?"

"Yes. She was middlin'. Middlin' tall, middlin' age, middlin' color, and so on. Doesn't help much, does it?

But still—a woman. Does that upset your theory?"

Antony shook his head.

"No, Bill, not at all," he said.

"You knew all the time? At least, you guessed."

"Wait till tomorrow. I'll tell you everything tomorrow."

"Tomorrow!" said Bill in great disappointment.

"Well, I'll tell you one thing tonight, if you'll promise not to ask any more questions. But you probably know it already."

"What is it?"

"Only that Mark Ablett did not kill his brother."

"And Cayley did?"

"That's another question, Bill. However, the answer is that Cayley didn't, either."

"Then who on earth—"

"Have some more beer," said Antony with a smile. And Bill had to be content with that.

They were early to bed that evening, for both of them were tired. Bill slept loudly and defiantly, but Antony lay awake, wondering. What was happening at the Red House now? Perhaps he would hear in the morning. He went over the whole story again from the beginning—was there any possibility of a mistake? What would the police do? Would they ever find out? Ought he to have told them? Well, let them find out; it was their job. Surely he couldn't have made a mistake this time. No good wondering now; he would know definitely in the morning.

In the morning there was a letter for him.

CHAPTER XX

"MY Dear Mr. Gillingham,

"I gather from your letter that you have made certain discoveries which you may feel it your duty to communicate to the police, and that in this case my arrest on a charge of murder would inevitably follow. Why, in these circumstances, you should give me such ample warning of your intentions I do not understand, unless it is that you are not wholly out of sympathy with me.

"But whether or not you sympathize, at any rate you will want to know—and I want you to know—the exact manner in which Ablett met his death and the reasons which made that death necessary. If the police have to be told everything, I would rather that they too knew the whole story. They, and even you, may call it murder, but by that time I shall be out of the way. Let them call it what they like.

"I must begin by taking you back to a summer day fifteen years ago, when I was a boy of 13 and Mark a young man of 25. His whole life was make-believe, and just now he was pretending to be a philanthropist.

"He sat in our little drawing-room, flicking his gloves against the back of his left hand, and my mother, good soul, thought what a noble young gentleman he was, and Philip and I, hastily washed and crammed into collars, stood in front of him, nudging each other and kicking the backs of our heels and cursing him in our hearts for having interrupted our game.

"He had decided to adopt one of us, kind Cousin Mark. Heaven knows why he chose me. Philip was eleven; two years longer to wait. Perhaps that was why.

"Well, Mark educated me. I went to a public school and to Cambridge, and I became his secretary. Well, much more than his secretary as your friend Beverley perhaps has told you. Mark could never live alone. There must always be somebody to listen to him. I think in his heart he hoped I should be his Boswell. He told me one day that he had made me his literary executor—poor devil. And he used to write me the absurdest long letters when I was away from him, letters which I read once and then tore up. The futility of the man!

"It was three years ago that Philip got into trouble. He had been hurried through a cheap grammar school and into a London office, and discovered there that there was not much fun to be got in this world on two pounds a week. I had a frantic letter from him one day, saying that he must have a hundred at once, or he would be ruined, and I went to Mark for the money.

"Only to borrow it, you understand; he gave me a good salary and I could have paid it back in three months. But no. He saw nothing for himself in it, I suppose; no applause, no admiration. Philip's gratitude would be to me, not to him.

"I begged, I threatened, we argued; and while we were arguing, Philip was arrested. It killed my mother—he was always her favorite—but Mark, as usual, got his satisfaction out of it. He preened himself on his judgment of character in having chosen me and not Philip twelve years before!

"Later on I apologized to Mark for the reckless things I had said to him, and he played the part of a magnanimous gentleman with his accustomed skill, but, though outwardly we were as before to each other, from that day forward, though his vanity would never let him see it, I was his bitterest enemy.

"If that had been all, I wonder if I should have killed him? To live on terms of intimate friendship with a man whom you hate is dangerous work for your friend. Because of his belief in me as his admiring and grateful protege and his belief in himself as my benefactor, he was now utterly in my power. I could take my time and choose my opportunity. Perhaps I should not have killed him, but I had sworn to have my revenge—and there he was, poor vain fool, at my mercy. I was in no hurry.

"Two years later I had to reconsider my position, for my revenge was being taken out of my hands. Mark began to drink. Could I have stopped him? I don't think so, but to my immense surprise I found myself trying to. Instinct, perhaps, getting the better of reason; or did I reason it out and tell myself that, if he drank himself to death, I should lose my revenge? Upon my word, I cannot tell you; but, for whatever motive, I did genuinely want to stop it. Drinking is such a beastly thing, anyhow.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

BY ELTON

SHORTLY AFTER ONE OF THE HORSEMAN APPROACHED JACK AND QUESTIONED HIM ABOUT FLIP. JACK TRIED TO EXPLAIN THAT WHERE HE WENT FLIP ALWAYS TRAILED ALONG. HE WAS JACK BEST FRIEND.

THEN THE MAN LEFT AND SHORTLY RETURNED WITH MORE OF THE HORSEMEN. THEY ALL HELD A DISCUSSION OVER THE DOG. WHAT SHOULD THEY DO WITH HIM? "BETTER TAKE HIM TO THE CHIEF," SAID ONE.

WHEN THE REST ALL AGREED THAT THIS WAS A GOOD IDEA. JACK AND FLIP WERE MARCHED DOWN THE HILLSIDE. ONE OF THE HORSEMEN STAYED BEHIND TO KEEP WATCH IN JACK'S PLACE.

WHEN FLIP SAW THE CHIEF HE REMEMBERED HIM AND RAN UP AND LICKED HIS HAND. THIS PLEASED THE CHIEF, AND THEREFOR FLIP WAS ALLOWED TO STAY IN CAMP. JACK WENT BACK TO HIS POST. CONTINUED IN NEXT CHAPTER.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS

THIS is the season for blueberries, and while they last one wants to use them almost every day.

One of the ways is to put them into muffins. These are good for breakfast, and equally good, cold, for luncheon. The recipe which follows makes 8 large muffins, or 12 small or thinner ones:

¼ cup butter	¾ cup milk
1 cup blueberries	3 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup sugar	2 eggs
2 cups flour	¼ teaspoon salt

Work together the butter and sugar until creamy, add the eggs well beaten. Sift baking powder, flour and salt. Add to egg and butter mixture alternately with the milk.

When thoroughly mixed, add blueberries and put into well-buttered muffin tins. Bake 25 minutes in an oven hot enough for small cakes.

These little muffins may be served hot with a liquid sauce for dessert. The mixture may be baked in one pan, and cut into squares when served.

High Collars On Fall Coats

COPYRIGHT BY McCALL'S

IT seems quite a matter of agreement between designers that the coat you buy for fall may be either a rough-and-ready steamer rug affair in large plaid or a suavely beautiful thing of velvet trimmed in expensive furs—but that if it has a high collar it will be indisputably of the higher circles of fashion.

Among the sleeves used are many with slide shoulders and dropped armholes. Straight lines are favored and the materials most shown are velvet, Kasha, silk and cashmere duvetyn.

Linings continue to be gorgeous affairs; always colorful and often, on the more elaborate models, of heavy brocaded and metal-embroidered satins.

Radio Radiations

IT has been known for many years that it is much easier to receive radio signals coming from the north and south than those from the east and west. No great difficulty was therefore expected in connecting New York and London with Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Ayres.

But radio's ever-present enemy—static—broke in and necessitated a change in the original plans.

Engineers interested in establishing a South American radio service began making some preliminary surveys in 1916 and 1917. They found that signals were unreadable during the greater part of the 24 hours on account of static.

After the war a second group of engineers went down and continued the experiments. Their findings confirmed those of the first expedition.

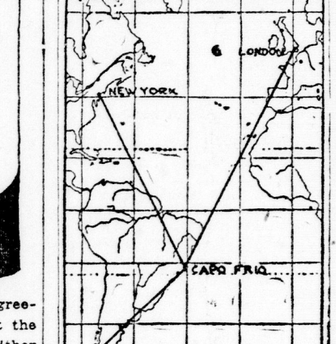
But the demands for a radio communication service to South America had to be met. So the American, British, French and German radio interests pooled their efforts during the past year and selected an engineer to make final determinations concerning the practicability of such a service.

Impracticable.

He has just returned to report that direct communication between Rio de Janeiro and London or New York is still impracticable. Nevertheless direct communication is to be had if Beverage's scheme of operation is put into effect.

Establishing an experimental station on Cape Frio, 75 miles east of Rio de Janeiro, he found conditions exceptionally favorable. Using the most modern directive receivers he found it possible to record reliable signals from both America and Europe during the greater part of the day and night.

To get direct communication with the great cities in the southern part of the continent, Beverage proposes the establishment of two groups of stations on Capo Frio. One group will be the high-power combination for communication with Europe and America, operating on wave lengths of the order of 15,000 meters. The second group of comparatively low power will operate on wave lengths of 5,000 meters, giving connection with cities to the south.



REACHING SOUTH AMERICAN POINTS FROM LONDON OR NEW YORK BY WAY OF CAPO FRIO.

Automatic Relay.

The plan now is to have this relay an automatic one. The signal coming into Capo Frio from London or New York will operate a relay which in turn will effect the re-transmission of the signal to Rio or Buenos Ayres. A northbound signal will operate in the reverse manner.

This is the first comprehensive attempt to utilize automatic relays in commercial radio work. If successful it may mean that radio connections are to be "plugged through" in the same way that land line telephone connections are now handled.

Baby's Great Danger During Hot Weather

More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the house where there are young children. An occasional dose of the tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.—Advt.

"MARION" ORCHID.

"Marion" orchid is the name of a new color that will be launched this fall. The name is a compliment to Mrs. Harding, Marion, O., being her home town.

NEW COLORS PREDICTED.

Green is becoming a popular color in millinery. It is particularly liked in the soft shades of moss or almond green. Rust shades are also popular, working into flame color. "Marron Glace" is the name of a new tint between the two.

Overworked Nerves

The Most Successful Treatment is Through the Blood.

The early stages of nervous debility are noted by restlessness and irritability in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. As the trouble advances, common symptoms are a tired feeling; weakness in the knees and ankles; headaches, backaches and sleeplessness. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown.

The nervous system governs the whole body, controlling heart, lungs, digestion and brain, so that it is not surprising that nervous disturbances cause acute distress. For troubles of this kind Dr. Williams' Pink Pills succeed when other treatment fails, for these pills make new blood, enriched with the elements on which the nerves thrive, and in this way reach the root of the trouble. In proof of this is the statement of Mrs. Dockerill, Stratford, Ont., who says: "My daughter Matilda was suffering from nervous debility, and the usual remedies did not seem to help her, I was advised by a friend to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and soon we found they were doing her a great deal of good. She complained of pains in the stomach, and a severe fluttering of the heart, with a general weakness. Under the use of these pills she continued to gain, and I believe they have saved her from going into a decline."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.—Advt.

"And We Were Amazed at the Difference"

"WE inspected all kinds of electric ranges and saw them demonstrated—and we were amazed to find how different the WESTINGHOUSE RANGE is."

Just think what it means to be able to change the fuses yourself; to be able to lift out any of the heating units without getting an electrician to disconnect them; to be able to take out every one of the oven parts for cleaning. The oven lining is porcelain enamel, and the lower half can be used either for broiling or as a warming closet.

The WESTINGHOUSE RANGE has so many exclusive features, you'll want to see it demonstrated before you buy. Ask the dealer to tell you about it or write us for booklet.

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Choking and Gasping for Breath Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MRS. PENNINGTON.

New Rockland, P. Q.

"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath and could not speak. I would have one of these bad spells in the evening, one during the night, and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

"In the spring of 1920, I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' and in a few days, the choking spells stopped, and I have had none since May 7, 1920. I have so wanted to tell other sufferers who have the same trouble about 'Fruit-a-tives,' for I know how they must suffer.

"Some thought the Asthma would come back on me as winter came on, but it has not, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives.'

"MRS. J. M. PENNINGTON."

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis court or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a water trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or inconvenience. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.—Advt.

POPULAR LONDON GIRL RECEIVES GOLD WATCH

McClary's Manufacturing Company Holds Farewell Dinner for Editor of "Wireless."

In honor of Miss Margaret Wade, who has been the capable editor for several years of McClary's "Wireless," a charming dinner party was given Friday evening by the office staff.

The guests motored to the Bungalow Tea House, Springbank, where dinner was served, the tables being decked with gladioli, and covers were laid for 40. An excellent program of music was supplied by an orchestra, and a sing-song was also enjoyed. The presentation of a gold wrist watch and a dictionary was made by Mr. J. K. H. Pope, secretary of the company, on behalf of the office staff, the salesmen, factory managers, and branch managers, from St. Johns to Vancouver. Col. Gartshore proposed a toast to the guest of honor, which was gracefully responded to by Miss Wade.

Later on the party motored back to the city and were guests of Col. Gartshore at a theatre party.

Miss Wade is leaving London shortly, and will assume a responsible position with a loan and bond firm in Windsor.

FREES TROTTER IN DIVORCE SUIT

Grand Rapids Judge Clears Evangelist of Wife's Sensational Charges.

Grants Severance of Marriage Bonds On Extreme Cruelty Grounds.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 25.—"Mel" Trotter, evangelist, has been exonerated of the sensational charges of infidelity hurled against him by his wife, Lottie M., in her spectacular separate maintenance suit.

Judge Major L. Dunham, who presided over the contested suit, which held nation-wide attention from June to Aug. 3, awarded Trotter an absolute divorce today on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

The evangelist was completely exonerated of parental responsibility for the "mission love baby" born to Miss Florence Moody, his erstwhile private secretary, in July of 1917.

Judge Dunham in his decision stated he was satisfied Mrs. Trotter learned of her husband's alleged intimacy with Miss Moody in a "vision from headquarters or an angel of the Lord."

John N. Trompen, E. R. Thompson and George E. Walker, "The Three Musketeers," were censured by the court for inducing and encouraging Mrs. Trotter to file her suit against the evangelist.

"There is much in this record that shows these three men had a great influence over plaintiff," the decision reads.

Mrs. Trotter was awarded two of the three homes owned jointly by her and Trotter on Lafayette avenue, one of the most exclusive streets of the city. The plaintiff was also awarded $5,000 in cash as alimony; $200 as additional expenses for the prosecution of the suit, and $1,400 as attorney fees. The two homes are valued at approximately $25,000.

Virtually all the allegations contained in Mrs. Trotter's bill of complaint were declared unjustified by the court.

GUELPH GIRL WINS U. S. FELLOWSHIP

Miss Catherine Graham To Investigate Value of Sulphur in Horticulture.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Word has been received by Prof. J. H. Faull of the department of botany, University of Toronto, that Miss Catherine Graham, B.S.A., of Guelph, Ontario, has been awarded a sulphur research fellowship by the National Research Council, Washington, D. C.

The fellowship carries with it the sum of $1,000 for eleven months' service, with an additional $200 for traveling expenses, and is the only one of its kind allotted by the research council to Canada. The fellowship requires that work should be carried out in investigating the value of sulphur in the control of potato scab, nematodes, soil insects and sweet potato disease; also the value of sulphur as a fertilizer for alfalfa and other legumes, and the effect of sulphur on alkali soils.

Miss Graham was graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College this spring at the head of her class.

Arrangements have already been made with Dominion experimental station for experimental plots at Ottawa and in the Maritime Provinces, and Prof. Faull anticipates no difficulty in making similar arrangements at the Royal Agricultural College.

Miss Graham, who will work under Prof. Faull's direction, will devote herself mainly to fundamental studies on sulphur in relation to potato scab and soil organisms.

WINDSOR BOY KILLED BY AUTO

WINDSOR, Aug. 25.—Rolling a hoop directly in the path of an automobile driven by Edward Tellier, aged 41, of St. Joachim, reeve of Rochester Township, the life of 8-year-old James Thornton, 19 Curry avenue, was crushed out on Sandwich street near Curry avenue at 10:30 this morning. The automobile, after striking the hoop, ran completely over the boy's body. Reeve Tellier rushed the lad to Grace Hospital in his car, and on arriving there Dr. James pronounced life extinct.

Immediately following the accident Tellier was detained at Windsor police headquarters on the formal charge of manslaughter.

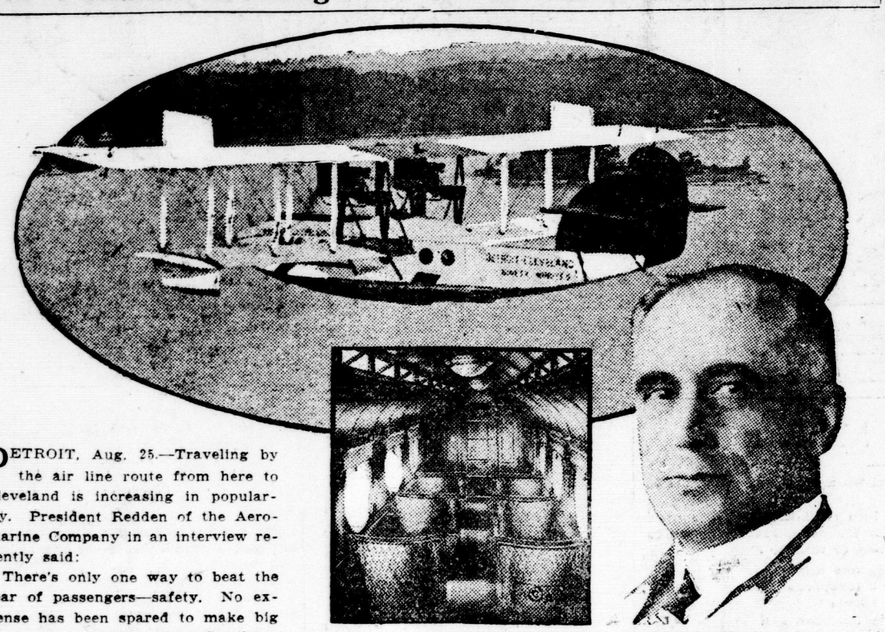
CLAIMS NEW METHOD OF MAKING GAS TOO COSTLY

HAMILTON, Aug. 25.—That the manufacturers of gas by fusing disintegrated water with crude oil was feasible, in fact, had been done in several places, but not practicable, was the statement of J. H. Humphreys, technical adviser of the American Gas Association, who is here attending the Canadian Gas Convention.

Mr. Humphreys was directed to a New York dispatch that stated that gas had been made in this way there, and it was hinted that it might prove a solution of the fuel shortage.

Mr. Humphreys says this was a very costly process and that mains at least 20 per cent larger would be required to carry the same number of heat units as were in the gas now in use. Another objection to this kind of gas was that the cost of oil had greatly increased because of the coal shortage.

Air 'Pullman' Crossing Lake Erie On Detroit-Cleveland Trip



THE "WOLVERINE," ONE OF THE SHIPS OF THE D. and C. LINES, ON HER RUN FROM CLEVELAND TO DETROIT (ABOVE). BELOW, THE INTERIOR OF THE CABIN OF THE "WOLVERINE," AND C. F. REDDEN, PRESIDENT OF THE AEROMARINE AIRWAYS, INC.

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—Traveling by the air line route from here to Cleveland is increasing in popularity. President Redden of the Aeromarine Company in an interview recently said:

There's only one way to beat the fear of passengers—safety. No expense has been spared to make big fliers safe. In three years they have carried thousands of passengers hundreds of thousands of miles without one single injury to a passenger.

What's it like to fly? Well, you're scared when you enter the commodious "limousine" cabin and seat yourself in one of the roomy upholstered chairs for the first time.

But the fear vanishes a minute after the plane takes off. After that there's no more "sensation" than riding in a pullman. Not as much, for there are no jolts, no dust, no sense of speed. Mostly the planes keep between 25 and 200 feet above the water, but at a thousand-foot elevation nobody suffers from height dizziness.

When I returned from my first flight I boasted about it, as if I'd done something big. All first trippers, they tell me, are like that.

The only drawback is the roar of the motors, for the passengers always prefer to keep the windows open except during rainstorms. Cotton in the ears is the only special equipment needed. Straw hats don't blow off, nor do the passenger's clothes require the application of a porter's brush at the end of the journey. You're not strapped in, wrapped up, or even required to stay in your chair if you first get the "conductor's" permission to change your seat or get a glass of water. Hand baggage is carried free.

The crew consists of a pilot and two mechanics. The ship is driven by two 400-horsepower Liberty motors. After every 100 hours' work they are overhauled, and they're practically junked after five or six overhauls.

LIGHTNING KILLS MAN AT RONDEAU

Daniel Watterworth of Glencoe Is Struck During Heavy Electrical Storm.

RONDEAU PARK, Aug. 25.—Daniel Watterworth, aged 25, of Glencoe, was instantly killed by lightning here during a storm which passed over this section of the country this morning. Mr. Watterworth, who was engaged with his brother in building operations at the park, was eating breakfast with the rest of the occupants at about 8 o'clock. Near the table at which he was seated was an open window above which ran a steel overhead wire to an adjoining barn. This wire acted as a conductor and carried the electricity into the home. Mr. Watterworth was instantly killed and the other persons seated at the table received severe shocks. They will all recover, however.

EDWARD W. DARBY DIES.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—Edward W. Darby, a resident of Winnipeg since 1887, and well known as a taxidermist and fur man, died here today, aged 50. He was born in St. Thomas, Ontario.

MRS. WILLIAM THATCHER, HARWICH RESIDENT, DIES

Well-Known Citizen, 65 Years Old, Passes at Home in Kent County.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 25.—Mrs. William Thatcher, a well-known resident of Harwich township, passed away this morning at five o'clock. The deceased was in her 65th year and was the wife of William Thatcher, a farmer who resides in the sixth concession, Harwich township.

She was born at Morpeth and has lived in Kent county all her life. Death resulted from a complication of diseases.

She is survived by her husband and three sons, Walter of Walkerville and Fred and Harold at home. The funeral will be held from her late residence on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The Reverend Mr. Robb will officiate at the ceremonies at the house and interment will take place in Morpeth Cemetery.

EX-KAISER MAY MARRY AGAIN

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Former Emperor William is betrothed to the widow of a German aristocrat, according to a report received by the Times. The woman is said to be almost of royal rank, and the mother of three children. She and the children recently visited the former emperor at Doorn, Holland. It is said the marriage will take place during the coming winter. The report adds that this is not the woman to whom the one-time emperor was reported some time ago to be betrothed.

Husband and Wife Nearly Dead With CHOLERA

The chief symptoms of cholera are vomiting, and purgings occur either simultaneously or alternately, and are usually sudden and very violent, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance and a nasty bitter taste.

On the first symptoms appearing, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be taken, and the trouble checked before it becomes serious.

Mrs. Isaac Smith, Campbellton, N. B., writes: "We have been using Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for cholera. My husband and I were pretty nearly dead with it until we started to use your medicine, and thanks to it, we have found great relief, and are recommending it to all our friends."

77 years reputation stands behind "Dr. Fowler's," therefore you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy when you get it.

CHILD HURT WHEN BUGGY OVERTURNS

Billy Kenny of Wallaceburg Trampled On by Frightened Horse.

Special to London Advertiser.

WALLACEBURG, Aug. 25.—Little Billy Kenny, the only son of Tom Kenny, was nearly killed this morning. He was seated in his father's buggy outside the Zavtiz Hardware, when a wagon driven by some boys came along. The wheels of the wagon and the standing buggy interlocked and overturned the buggy, throwing the little lad under the horse's feet. The horse became frightened and the child was badly trampled on, causing severe injuries to his abdomen, shoulders and chest, and inflicting a wound on the forehead.

Mark Ford, passing at the time, at a great risk to himself, removed the lad from his perilous position, and in doing so was himself struck by the buggy wheel.

The child was removed to Dr. Richardson's office for examination and treatment, where it was found that he had two broken ribs and was badly bruised all over.

Dr. Linklater has severed his partnership with Dr. S. A. Richardson, and has gone to St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto.

Mr. Churchill of the Bank of Commerce has been transferred to Walkerville, and his place has been taken by Mr. Oliver of Walkerville.

TELL MOTORISTS OF NEW DETOUR

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 25.—Tourists and other motorists using the road between Woodstock and Brantford should note the following sent out by the Brant County Motor League: "The road west of Brantford is closed for three miles owing to the construction of a bridge between Cathcart and Brantford. A detour of two miles is necessary. Turn north off the Middleton line to Burford for one mile and then south at the east end of the easterly quarter townline for one mile. This road is to be closed for one month. The detour road is fairly good."

AUTOMOBILE POLO IS LATEST GAME

Army Men of Honolulu Prepare To Put On Match.

Yosemite National Park, Aug. 25.—The fame of Yosemite's automobile polo game, one of the thrilling events of the annual field days, has spread beyond the seas, and army men in Honolulu want to put on a match.

Auto polo is played in stripped "flivvers," which can be manipulated in short compass. Automobile tires are laid in rows along the field with sufficient distance between each for a small car to turn if handled with dexterity. In the center of each tire is a stick, on which rests an inverted tin can, and the object of the game is for the mallet man of each automobile to knock off all the cans in the row of tires through which his partner wheels the car. The winning car is the one which finishes first.

WIRE HOLDS SCREWS.

A piece of soft wire will be of considerable help in replacing screws and other small parts where the fingers cannot reach. In case of a screw, for instance, wind the wire about the shank, place into position, screw in and when the work is started the wire can be pulled off with ease.

Couple Takes Home On 3-Year Auto Tour

FOR the next three years Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kette will be visiting, snail-like, every part of the continent.

Snail-like, not in speed, but in the fact that their home will be moving with them.

The Kettes have built a comfortable bungalow on a small one-ton truck chassis and are already on the road. The traveling home provides all conveniences a young married couple would want.

The body, of wood with a sheet iron covering, has front and rear entrances. Windows on each side, with homey curtains, provide light. A tank under the rear carries 25 gallons of water. Lockers on each side carry food. An icebox, in front, can be opened by the driver without stopping the car.

Five minutes' work converts the big compartment into a dining-room, kitchen, bedroom or living-room.

Sliding back a cover makes an oil stove ready for cooking and swings out two cabinets containing silverware, utensils and dishes. The meal prepared, a table for four people lifts up from the wall on the other side. To the rear, an inviting couch in daytime is made into a full-sized bed at night by releasing its spring holders.

A sewing machine can be swung out under the work-table when needed. A full-length mirror and drawers, combined with an ingenious clothes closet provide wardrobe facilities. A medicine chest on the wall can be converted into a writing desk by turning it around.

Carpet covers the floor, electricity lights the interior, and a canary is the final home-like touch.

The Kettes have already covered distance enough to tell the value of their modern ark.

DECLARE ODD TIRES NOT BECOMING TO MOTOR CARS

Motorists Believe Dress Regulations Should Apply to Autos As Well As Clothes.

There is correct dress of the motor car as well as for the person.

Full dress and tennis shoes! Imagine a man dressing with fastidious care, grooming himself carefully for an affair of public interest, and then appearing with his feet shod in canvas. An incongruous situation you will say, but its exact counterpart is often seen on the streets when a beautiful car, resplendent in its polish of body and shine of metal, rolls along with nondescript, unmatched tires, variegated in shades as the hues in Joseph's coat. One front tire has a streamline tread, the other is not its twin. In the rear, a colored band encircles the side wall of one hieroglyphic tread, with its mate wearing a faded girdle contrasting sharply with its darker surface.

The careful motorist does realize the importance of combining harmony with utility in the tires he buys. His car and its tires form a perfect symphony, a blending of the entire scheme of dress which raises its value in the owner's eye, and in the appraisal of the bystander, not to say winning the covetous admiration of other motorists.

Water, oil, grease and light are the tire's worst enemies.

INFLUENCE OF WOMEN IS FACTOR IN MOTOR TRADE

Canadian Wives Seek Refinement in Automotive Vehicles Often Overlooked by Husbands.

No more important factor in the construction of motor cars in recent years has been brought so sharply before the manufacturers than the influence of women in the motor trade. The Canadian woman buys the automobiles for her husband today, just as she does other commodities. She has been educated up to the point of refinement in automotive vehicles, and surely the car that can be easily operated by a woman is only more easily handled by the man. True, mechanical features enter largely into the sale of any vehicle, but a woman who does not know the reputation of a car for standing punishment over a period of years of service cannot be produced.

The greatest example of this fact, of course, is the development of the inclosed type of automobile with the luxurious interior sturdily mounted in a body on a serviceable chassis. But even in the open cars are noticeable fine points of design and construction that even more simplify the operation of cars.

World's oil resources are estimated by geological survey as 63,000,000,000 barrels.

Prices f. o. b. Oshawa. Government tax extra.

The 1923 McLaughlin-Buick "45" Special has taken the country by storm. Always a favorite, this model reaches the highest pinnacle of value ever attained.

It is a beautiful car—it is luxurious—it is a mechanical masterpiece. Stand off and note the snappy lines, the higher hood, the new bumper, the full crown fenders, sturdy artillery wheels, drum type head and cowl lamps, the low top made of English burbank. Then sit in the car. Here is comfort equalled only in the costliest automobiles.

Look about you—the upholstery and trimming are of the finest quality, the instrument board is equipped with richly finished instruments, the control lever is at finger's end, the cowl ventilator control and windshield wiper are within easy reach.

And the chassis shows far-reaching improvements. Test the new rear cantilever springs—you will be amazed at the difference in riding comfort. Lock the handy transmission control and know that this feature, with others, gives McLaughlin-Buick a low rating by insurance underwriters. Even the famous McLaughlin-Buick Valve-in-Head motor shows important changes—higher cylinder block, larger connecting rods and pistons, larger crankshaft, with pressure feed to main bearings.

These are just a few of the sweeping improvements in the new McLaughlin-Buick "45" Special. From the newly designed radiator to the combination tail and stop lamp, the McLaughlin-Buick "45" Special is a new and finer car—more than ever the standard of comparison.

The Fastest Selling Complete Car

The Chevrolet is the most satisfactory low priced, fully equipped, most economically operated automobile in the world today.

This year's motor car buyers have recognized this fact to such an extent that 1922 has seen Chevrolet become the largest producer of high-grade automobiles in the world.

The Chevrolet has many improved features. It has a new front axle assembly, a new rear axle assembly including spiral ring and pinion gears.

The clutch has been improved. In addition to its service brake, a hand-lever emergency brake has been provided. The front and rear springs have been re-designed to give easier riding.

With such improvements the Chevrolet is indeed superior—superior in first price because no car of similiar equipment and quality can be bought for less—superior in maintenance cost because it has the lowest cost of operation of any car built.

The PLAYHOUSE and the MOVIE THEATRE

Grand Will Reopen Labor Day With Alice Lake in Feature Film

Famous Dumbells Company To Inaugurate Fall Dramatic Season With Full Fair Week Engagement.

With the brightest of prospects for a banner season, London's popular playhouse, The Grand Opera House, will open its doors for the season of 1922-23 on the afternoon of Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 4. The policy of the theatre this season will be to play all the roadshows available, provided they come to the Grand's standard of quality, and fill in the intervening time with first-run feature pictures and five acts of big-time vaudeville, offering a complete change of bill every Monday and Thursday.

Manager Minhinnick has been particularly successful in his bookings for the coming season, and announces that not only will London get a greater number of high-class roadshows than last season, but that bigger companies are taking the road, and the season will witness some of the greatest dramatic and musical treats ever offered. Mr. Minhinnick has also established a stronger vaudeville connection than before, and is thus able to present programs the superior of which have not been seen here. Each vaudeville program will contain five acts of superior quality, many of them booking direct to London, even before Toronto gets them.

Offer Chaplin Comedy.

For the first week, as a picture, the Grand offers the greatest of all Chaplin comedies, "Shoulder Arms." Thousands of picture fans have seen this when it was first shown here, but there are thousands more who were then overseas and thus robbed of the privilege of seeing the finest screen comedian in what is unquestionably the greatest example of his inimitable art. They will want to see him this time. "Shoulder Arms" will be held at the Grand for the entire week commencing with the matinee on Labor Day.

The dramatic feature for the first half of the week presents dainty Alice Lake in that gripping story "The Hole in the Wall." This picture deals, to some extent, with psychic phenomena, and is one of the greatest in which the delightful little star has appeared. "The Hole in the Wall" will be presented matinee and evening on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Accompanying this picture will be the five vaudeville acts, including The Aerial Silverettes in a European novelty, Billy Beals, musical comedian; Dixon and O'Brien, black face comedians; The Three O'Connor Sisters, queens of song and dance, and Fox's Canine Wonders, one of the finest dog acts on the road.

Present Fine Vaudeville.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in addition to the Chaplin comedy, Elaine Hammerstein will be seen in "Why Announce Your Marriage," a picture which has been splendidly received wherever shown. The vaudeville bill will include The Great Arden, equilibrist; Middleton's Mannikins, the Lennon Sisters, in songs and dances; Wenn and Clark, nut comedians, and the Les Valdron Trio, comedy, slack and tight wire walkers. There will, of course, be the usual news and topic reels with special music at all performances.

The Grand's policy this season in pictures and vaudeville will be to give but one show each evening, starting at 7 o'clock, and presenting three and one-half hours of high-class entertainment. Matinees daily at 2:15.

The first of the road attractions will be at the Grand for the full week of Sept. 11, Fair Week, when the world-famous Dumbells will return in a brand new show. This will be the Dumbells' last appearance in London before leaving to fill a long engagement in old London and other large cities in Great Britain and Ireland, a trip which is expected to occupy a year or more.

STRATFORD DEALERS REPORT COAL SHORTAGE

Mayor Gregory and Ald. C. R. Myers Find Good Quality Lacking.

Special to London Advertiser.

STRATFORD, Aug. 25.—Mayor Gregory, who with Ald. C. R. Myers, chairman of the finance committee of the city council, were appointed to keep in touch with the coal dealers regarding the local situation, stated today that the dealers are having difficulty in securing a supply of soft coal. It now looks as if Stratford householders who have not their winter's supply of coal in, will have to depend upon the poorer grades of bituminous coal. Pocihontas coal will be available only for civic purposes, it is stated.

Mrs. Annie Haddock died this afternoon at the General Hospital, aged 80 years. She had resided here many years.

Bert R. Cook, who was killed in the auto accident on the Mitchell highway Sunday, was buried here today.

A deputation of Kitchener City Council was here today inspecting the local city hall.

A HARDENED VICTIM.

After stopping several times, the branch line train had slowed down again and one passenger's patience became exhausted.

He took his watch out and, turning to a fellow-passenger, said: "How much is this train overdue?"

"Well, sir," came the reply, "a watch ain't no good; you want a calendar."

DECIDES TO REFER CASE TO RANEY

Sudbury Magistrate Will Not Take Responsibility For Dropping Action.

SUDBURY, Aug. 25.—Declaring that although Herman and Asa Baker of the French River Lumber Company, Bigwood, might be willing to drop further proceedings against Harvey Kruspe, former bookkeeper of the company, and Milton R. Kaufman, Kitchener manufacturer, who are charged with conspiracy to defraud the company of a sum named in the neighborhood of $38,000, he would not care to take responsibility of dismissing the case, Magistrate Brodie in police court this morning decided to submit the facts of the case to the attorney-general's department.

The preliminary hearing was resumed today on adjournment from July 16.

G. E. Buchanan, K.C., counsel for Kruspe and Kaufman, stated at the reopening of the hearing that the books of the lumber company had been audited by the firm of Clarkson, Gordon & Dillworth, since the first hearing, and that an interim report had been made which was discussed at a meeting of the parties concerned at Toronto last week.

At this meeting the Bakers and Kaufman settled their civil claims, the report having cleared up a number of matters. He declared that the report was of such a nature that had it been made to the Bakers some time ago there would have been no criminal proceedings. The Bakers, he said, had signified their disinclination to proceed with the prosecution.

How a Comparison Will Convince You

Have your dealer show you a Ruddy Luxury Bed Spring and any other spring he may have in stock.

You will note the standard size Luxury Spring has 108 springs—eight more than an ordinary spring of the same size.

Next, count the spirals in the springs themselves. The Luxury has thirteen—six more than are used ordinarily.

Jump on a Luxury Spring or pull the springs—they go right back into shape. Examine the sturdy frame with its heavy enamel finish. The shortened end springs prevent swaying and sagging. LuxurySprings are noiseless, too.

Now you will understand why the Ruddy Luxury Bed Spring is guaranteed to give you ten thousand nights of restful slumber.

HOLD 2 AT AMHERSTBURG AS SUSPECTED BURGLARS

Special to London Advertiser.

WINDSOR, Aug. 25.—With the arrest today of two men at Amherstburg provincial police assert that two robberies there might have been solved.

Amherstburg officers were baffled by the two daring burglaries, and asked assistance from the provincial officers.

The names of the two suspected men were withheld pending further arrests, but the police are firm in the belief that they have the right men.

The crimes for which the men were wanted were the burglaries of stores owned by I. S. Prown & Co., and Norman J. Pouget, confectioner. Merchandise worth $1,000 was taken from the Prown store.

W. ZORRA WOMAN PASSES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 25.—One of West Zorra's most highly-esteemed residents, Mary Adeline Hummason, died yesterday following a week's illness following an attack of influenza some time ago. Miss Hummason was the second daughter of the late Ira and Mrs. Hummason, and was a native of West Zorra. For a time she lived in Toronto, but had been living at home for some time past. She is survived by her mother, four sisters and two brothers.

"EVERYTHING IN PRINTING" IS SLOGAN OF CITY FIRM

Hollins Printing House Seeks Larger Quarters Owing to Extensive Growth of Business.

"It will become absolutely necessary to move into larger quarters in the near future, owing to recent additions to our staff," said Charles Hollins, proprietor of the Hollins Printing House, in discussing conditions in the printing business. "As it is now we have hardly room to move around."

Six and a half years ago the firm started under the name of Hollins & Porter in their present quarters, 148 King street. About eight months ago Mr. Porter severed his connection with the firm, and Mr. Hollins became the sole owner.

After Mr. Hollins took hold of the business he increased the staff of printers, nine men now being employed.

"We receive many orders from outside the city, but as we are fixed at the present time we find it hard to handle the city trade, and until I find a larger building suitable to our business, it will be impossible to fill orders coming in from other points in Western Ontario," declared Mr. Hollins.

"Business was exceptionally good last year, in spite of the many obstacles that we had to overcome, and this year yet is increasing steadily. Orders are coming in so fast that we are forced to work nights to fill them on schedule time."

"Everything in Printing" is the slogan of Hollins Printing House, and as up-to-date machinery and the latest methods of typesetting are used, Mr. Hollins is confident that he always can substantiate his slogan.

BELIEVES SPECIALIZATION MAKES FOR EFFICIENCY

G. M. Murray of Automobile Radiator Service Station Employs Specialists Only.

"In the short period of four years our business has grown to such an extent that we are finding it difficult to keep up with a large percentage of the work that comes in from Western Ontario," declared G. M. Murray, of the Automobile Radiator Service Station, when queried as to how the radiator repairing business was progressing.

For four years Mr. Murray was connected with the Ford Motor Company in London, Toronto and other Canadian cities as a radiator specialist. At the end of that time he decided to branch out for himself, and opened a shop at 591 Richmond street. That was in the fall of 1917, and at that time he was in business for himself. His small repair shop became so popular that he deemed it advisable to seek larger quarters, and moved to 65 King street.

At the present time a staff of nine men is kept busy from 8 in the morning till 6 at night.

"Every automobile owner should be educated to the importance of the radiator in the proper functioning of the car," said Mr. Murray.

"When the radiator and the body in general are in bad condition the value of the car depreciates about 50 per cent. When the radiator begins to leak the motorist is 'flirting with fate' if he does not attend to it immediately. He is taking a chance of the motor becoming too hot, the cylinders becoming scorched, poor compression, and numerous other troubles. The old adage, 'a stitch in time saves nine,' holds good in the automobile industry as well as in any other.

"By specializing in radiator work alone I have built up such a reputation in Western Ontario that a large part of the work I do comes in from various points outside the city. Those who formerly went to Toronto to have their work done now send their repairs to me.

"It is far better to specialize in one kind of work and to give your whole attention to that work, than to "fiddle around" with half a dozen different jobs and perhaps not do any of them properly.

"Every mechanic I employ in my shop is 100 per cent efficient. I believe in co-operation between the employer and the employee. When I hire a man I don't want him to work 'for' me. I want him to work 'with' me.

"Our prices are the lowest on the American continent. I say this without hesitation, because I have traveled extensively in both the United States and Canada. Our machinery is thoroughly up-to-date. We are one of the best, if not the best, known radiator firm in this part of the country, and moreover, all our work is guaranteed. Try us once, and you will become a regular customer."

"LONDON LOOKS BRIGHTER" SAYS WINDOW CLEANER

London Window Cleaning Company Makes Contracts With City's Up-to-Date Merchants.

"London looks brighter since we have been here," is the way F. Harvey, manager of the London Window Cleaning Company, has of expressing the work of his firm, which has conducted business in the citiy for the past ten years.

"We inaugurated the contract system of window-cleaning in London," he said, "and at the present time have 186 contracts with London merchants to clean their windows weekly, semi-weekly or monthly, just as they desire.

"There is no need of them to call us up. We visit on a schedule. This system lifts all worry from the merchant, and it is not necessary for him to wait for some days when he wishes the windows of his shop cleaned."

The London Window Cleaning Company operates from the fair grounds in East London to Lambeth, where a regular schedule is maintained during the summer months. The firm is located at 107 Emery street.

Succeed In London

BEFORE a community can succeed, it is most essential that the factories, stores, warehouses and other business establishments which form an integral part of community life, be placed on a substantial footing. It is only by maintaining standards of efficiency and service that these assets to any municipality can forge ahead in the business world.

London is succeeding. Such a statement cannot be challenged, and it necessarily follows that London's success is, in a measure, due to the integrity and faith of those citizens who, investing their time and money in business enterprises have striven unceasingly to satisfy their patrons.

Co-operation is one of the secrets to success, and the merchants and other businessmen of London have co-operated with the Forest City in forging ahead. Unscrupulous persons have, it is true, attempted to defraud the public in London just as in other centers of the Dominion, but their schemes have been short lived, and they have accepted a well-deserved failure as their reward for dishonesty.

But those establishments of London which have stood the test of time, with success crowning their efforts, have only done so by providing one hundred per cent service to the public, upon whom they depend for support.

London values these citizens and will stand by them, knowing full well that upon their success depends the prosperity of the community.

CLAIMS BEST PAINTS ARE CHEAPEST IN LONG RUN

J. A. Page, Hardware Merchant and Paint Dealer, Has Figures to Prove Contention.

"People do not realize the economy of painting, or at least the saving involved by the use of the best paint securable," declared J. A. Page, 807 Dundas street, who specializes in Martin-Senour paints.

"Just to show the difference in paints," continued Mr. Page. "A man had a house to paint, and he figured out that he had 2,700 square feet of surface to cover. One firm was selling a supposedly good paint at $4.35 a gallon, which was only guaranteed to cover 300 square feet per gallon, using two coats. This man purchased what he thought to be the cheaper paint.

"Now, if he had thought of quality before price, he would have been much better satisfied. And in the long run, the use of the dearer paint would have been cheaper by far.

"Had he talked this matter over with me, I could have sold him paint at $5 a gallon which is guaranteed to cover 450 square feet per gallon, using two coats. In that way a saving of more than $9 would have been made, and better results obtained.

"A citizen told me a few days ago that he had decorated his entire home while out of work, and was surprised how little it cost hhim, and what an improvement it made.

"He used New Tone Flat Art paint for the upstairs. It makes a wonderful finish for bedrooms, the color is so soft and restful, and it can be washed off so easily.

"So when thinking of paint, think of Page."

Mr. Page built his store at 807 Dundas street thirteen years ago, and since that time has found it necessary to build two additions. Besides Martin-Senour paint, Mr. Page handles McClary's and Banner furnaces, general hardware and garden tools. He does all sorts of sheet metal work, such as eavestroughing and tinsmithing.

"Our store is at your service all the time," said Mr. Page. "We can advise you what grade of paint to use for the inside and outside work, and can show you the proper way to apply it.

"We guarantee satisfaction. We have the goods on hand to make satisfied customers. Prices are low now, so give us a ring and we will give you a fair estimate on your work."

ADVISES LONDONERS TO BE CAREFUL OF HOUSE ROOFS

Arthur Mould, Roofing Expert, Points Out Necessity of Attention to Coverings.

"Many a $10,000 investment is protected by one or two hundred dollars," declared Arthur Mould, a well-known roofing expert of this city.

Mr. Mould has been in the roofing business in Ontario for more than 14 years, nine of which have been spent in London. For a number of years he was connected with one of the largest roofing companies in the country, and after learning every phase of the trade, started in business for himself.

Mr. Mould executes all kinds of roofing repairs, waterproofing and insulation work. He is also the official agent for the Philip Carey Company's product, one of the best-known manufacturers of roofing supplies on the continent.

"Everyone must be familiar with the slogan of service used by our many different clubs," said Mr. Mould. "One cannot help but notice the service stations for automobiles, tires, gasoline, accessories and things of that nature. Business houses are adopting more and more the attitude that 'He sells most who serves best.' Gradually, even if unconsciously, the attitude of 'Good Service' is being forced into business as being a sound economic principle.

"In few lines of business is the motto, "Good Service" overlooked by the average person as much as in the roofing game.

"You note the beauty of a building or its utility, its cost or the wealth of merchandise it contains, and yet it is often imperilled by insufficient protection from the elements.

"In the matter of service given to the public by the different concerns in the city of London there is none that will render more efficient service towards the protection of health, comfort and conservation of property than that furnished by a roofing expert.

"I have been in the roofing business in Ontario for fourteen years, with nine of these in London. Since going into business, I specialize in the best service in accord with the requirements of my customers."

Mr. Mould's theory is that the owners of property would save a lot of worry and loss if periodically they would have an expert examine their roofs before they get into a condition beyond repair.

"Your physician advises examination before you are sick. Why not the roofs of your homes and business places? There are many such roofs that can be cured. Why let them get sick? But if they are sick, why leave them until they are past cure?

"I diagnose roof sickness without charge. I take a chance on serving you and charge only when cured. There are acres of roofs in this district that have been fixed by me. Let me cure yours. I advise this number to be kept on your phone—like the fire call—7891W.

BASEBALL and LATE SPORTING NEWS

ORIENT-ST. THOMAS CLASH TODAY RECALLS OLD DAYS

Marks Return of Amateur Ball To Status It Once Had in City—Down and Billings To Oppose.

NOT SINCE the days of the old London City League, many products of which later made good in professional ranks and the circuit in which George Gibson got his training, has amateur baseball attracted the interest that the Orient-St. Thomas semi-final O. B. A. play-off will this afternoon at Queen's Park.

In those days the amateurs reigned supreme, and played ball the equal of many minor leagues, and there is every indication that under O. B. A. organization the standard of amateur ball will be raised each year.

If London gets through the St. Thomas series the next opponents will be either Galt Terriers or Guelph Maple Leafs, both acknowledged to be among the top-notch amateur teams of the whole province, many of which harbor players who could strengthen professional teams. Thus, in one year in organized ranks, amateur fans of London will be seeing the best ball furnished in Ontario.

Not Disposed of Yet.

However, St. Thomas isn't disposed of yet, so what the future holds will have to remain in abeyance until the Orients get their afternoon's work done.

The Orients are making every arrangement that will insure the large crowd good accommodation, though somewhat hampered, owing to the fact that Queen's is a civic park. If they continue the journey through the semi-finals it will probably be found necessary to find inclosed grounds for the next series. Meantime, they are relying on the fans' appreciation of the difficulties they are up against for the clash today. St. Thomas will, as anticipated, use Billings in today's game, and the Orient will rely on Down.

OTTAWA RESULTS.

WASHINGTON PRINTERS WIN.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—Washington today won the championship of the Union Printers' International Baseball League, defeating St. Paul 16 to 5.

RICHARDSON'S BAT HELPS TEC WIN

Triples in Seventh and Scored and Singled in Eleventh Wins.

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 25.—London kept up her consistent winning by beating Flint 5 to 4 over eleven innings here Friday, and is still very much in the running for the Mint League leadership.

The game looked like a no-run, no-hit contest for Lefty Carmen for the first five frames, for the Mite set down the Vehics in order over that period. Then Monty's double and a single got a run.

Homers over the left wall by Young and Monty in the eighth, both on first pitches, enabled the Powell outfit to creep up, while Luce knotted the count in the ninth on his double, a single by Brown and Carnegie's sacrifice fly. Then Carmen resumed his fine pitching, and just six batters faced him over the tenth and eleventh. Errors by Stricker and Young, both of whom pegged badly to first, coupled with two singles and a sacrifice, netted the Cockneys a brace of markers in the third. Mackey tallied in the third on his hit, Gadsby's choice, which was played late, Boyle's sacrifice and Richardson's single, a high bounder over the box.

Richardson tripled in the seventh and scored on Stimpson's long fly to Brown, while the winning run was put over by the same batter. He drove a sharp single to right field in the eleventh to score Gadsby, who had bounced a hit off Morehart's glove and stolen second.

SCOTT M'HALE WIN 7 TO 6

Both Hurlers Allow Six Bingles, But Fourth Inning Rally Clinches Game.

Scott-McHale defeated the Civil Service nine in a closely-contested Manufacturers' League game at Queen's Park last night by the score of 7 to 6. Balkwell and Russell were on fairly even terms, six hits being collected off each hurler. The McHale nine, however, made a fourth-inning rally, and, by netting six runs, won the fray.

A two-base hits was contributed each by Down, Balkwell, Burgess and Logan, which, with a few stolen bases, enlivened the contest.

Dunn of Orioles Finds It's Possible To Create a Team That's Far Too Good

THREE, maybe five, of those famous Baltimore Orioles are going up this fall. No wonder they smile.

Jack Dunn, Baltimore owner and manager, has done something that only one man before him ever did—he's developed a team that's too strong for the company it's in.

The Orioles must be scrapped, but the scrapping will bring Dunn a handsome profit.

Many years ago Connie Mack built a baseball machine that was too good for the big leagues. Then he tore it down—from choice, not because of any ultimatum.

Dunn Must Sell.

Now Jack Dunn has been told by other club owners in the International League that he must sell at least three of his stars this fall. They threatened to put the draft back on the league if he refused. He submitted.

For two years nearly every big league club has bidden for the star Oriole players and Dunn laughed.

The Cincinnati Reds offered $60,000 for Jack Bentley. Dunn laughed.

The Giants offered $150,000 for three players—Bentley, Joe Boley and Jack Ogden. Dunn laughed some more.

But now they're for sale.

Bentley and Boley—$100,000 each.

Max Bishop—$75,000.

Jack Ogden and Merwin Jacobson—$50,000 each.

Tommy Thomas—$25,000.

Harry Frank—$25,000.

Dunn will sell three of the lot. These are about the prices he expects.

YANKS AND BROWNS SPLIT FIRST DAY

Shocker Beats Hugmen in First Set-To.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—New York and St. Louis divided an exciting double-header here today, the Browns winning the first game 3 to 1 and the Yankees taking the second 6 to 5. Shocker pitched brilliantly in the opener and held New York to seven hits. New York evened the day by winning behind Bush and Jones in the second game. The scores:

Phillies and Cubs Score 49 Runs Total For New Major Record.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—A modern major league scoring record for both leagues was established here today when the Philadelphia Nationals and the Chicago Cubs scored a total of 49 runs in a nine-inning game, Chicago winning 26 to 23. The former record was made by Chicago and Louisville, June 29, 1897, when both clubs scored 43 runs, Chicago making 36.

The record for the most hits of both teams since 1900 in one game was also shattered, a total of 51 hits being scored. New York and Cincinnati in the National League scored 49 during a contest June 9, 1901. St. Louis and Cleveland, while in the American Association, made 53 hits on April 30, 1887. Bases on balls at that time, however, were figured as hits.

Philadelphia out-hit Chicago 26 to 25 today. It took three hours and one minute to play the game.

TORONTO BOWLERS FINISH UP D. B. A.

St. Matthews Wins Toronto Cup and Open Doubles.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—The 30th annual Dominion lawn bowling tournament, the most successful since its inception, was concluded this evening, when H. G. Salisbury and W. Bewley scored the second St. Matthews victory of the day in final games, defeating Green and Linton of Kingston in the open doubles by 19 to 16. Earlier in the afternoon Salisbury's rink won the Toronto Cup final from the Thistles skipped by W. L. Shannon. In the singles the Kew Beach club, through J. T. Simpson, won the final game from R. L. Kerr of Queen City. There were three rink competitions, two doubles and a single, run off in four days and a half, and as the entry of these competitions established a record the completion of the tournament in such quick time speaks well for those in charge. The finl for the Toronto Cup was productive of bowling worthy of a finl, both rinks being prominent in this regard.

AUSSIES REACH DOUBLES FINALS

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—The Australian tennis team that came to this country to capture the Davis Cup, significant of international team supremacy, today stood as challenger also for the United States national double honors. In the semi-final round matches today of the national tennis doubles championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club, the Australians, Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood advanced to the final round by defeating N. W. Niles of Boston and Jean Borotra of France, 6—1, 7—5, 6—0. W. T. Tilden II. and Vincent Richards, playing through champions, moved up to meet them, turning back the combination of William M. Johnston and Wallace F. Johnson, also in straight sets, but always after deuce, 8—6, 10—8, 7—5.

The match in which they meet tomorrow will have double interest. It will carry with it not only the United States national doubles title but also an indication of the way the doubles match in the forthcoming Davis Cup meeting between Australia and the United States will go. The Australian pair will almost certainly represent their country in that event. Tilden and Richards have been regarded as the probable United States oubles combination.

TWO-BAGGER WINS FOR LEAFS IN 11TH

Had Tied Score in Ninth With Four Runs.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Anderson's two-bagger broke up today's game between Toronto and Jersey City in the eleventh inning, the Leafs winning 10 to 9. It was a struggle all the way, the locals scoring four runs in the ninth to tie the score.

The score:	R.	H.	E.
Jersey City .... 000 401 012 01—	9	16	1

WATFORD TO HOLD BALL TOURNAMENT ON 30TH

WATFORD, Aug. 25.—On Wednesday, Aug. 30, Watford will be the rendezvous for baseball fans from two counties when a tournament for the Lambton and Middlesex clubs will be held.

The feature of the day will be ball games in the afternoon for which prizes aggregating more than $150 are being offered.

A community street dance will be held in the evening on the Main street pavement. Music will be furnished by the Strathroy band.

This will be the biggest celebration Watford has seen in some years, and thousands are expected to attend. An invitation has been extended to the Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of highways, to officially open the new pavement.

This is the Pipe of Peace

"An Old Friend from the Start"

Why? Because it gives you a cooler, sweeter, more thoroughly enjoyable smoke than any other pipe under the sun. Note the crusted bowl—made from the finest quality Corsican Briar, treated under the famous Kola Process. In making this crusted bowl, a lot of the superfluous briar is cut away. This decreases its weight and greatly increases the air-cooled surface. You certainly will enjoy smoking a Kola Krust.

MIKE BRADY WINS PRO GOLF HONORS

"Chick" Evans Leads in Amateur Ranks With Score of 314.

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Aug. 25.—Mike Brady, local professional, today won the United States open golf tournament over the Oakland Hills golf course. Brady's score for the 72 holes was 291. Laurie Ayton of Chicago and Jock Hutchison of Chicago finished in a tie for second place with 301. Jock Hutchison collapsed on his afternoon round after having an excellent chance to beat Brady.

At the 303-mark, fourth place, was George Sargent of Columbus, while next came Emmett French of Youngstown with 304 and the youthful Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, N. Y., who finished with 307.

Among the amateurs, "Chick" Evans of Chicago easily was the leader with 314. "Chick" would have been an easy second or third place man had he not lost control of every club in his bag this afternoon, totaling 87 for the final 18 holes.

ROUND THE KITTY

The London Rowing Club will hold their final Scotch doubles tournament on the afternoon of Wednesday, Aug. 30. Bowling will commence at 2:15, and refreshments will be served on the grounds after the second game. Three fifteen-end games will be played.

All teams wishing to enter are asked to phone Secretary Farrow, 5136J, or the club house, 276.

* * *

More than 20 entries have already been received for the big Labor Day tournament that will be held Monday, Sept. 4, on the L. R. C. greens. Among the new teams entered this year is the quartet of the London Life Insurance Company.

The new London Life Trophy, together with the rest of the prizes, will be on display in the window of Ashplant's shoe store next week.

St. Matthews.

A special afternoon tournament is being held by the St. Matthews Club Saturday afternoon. The games will begin at 2:30, and rinks wishing to enter are asked to phone 7481 or 3598W. The Thursday night tourney was won by J. McLeod's rink.

St. Martins	5	3	.625
Marconis	6	5	.545
St. Marys	5	5	.500
St. Peters	2	8	.200

Blanking St. Peters nine in a league game at Sunshine Park Friday night, the St. Mike crew outsted St. Martins from the top of the ladder and took a fairly firm hold on the initial rung themselves.

Playing errorless ball, the northenders collected their six runs all in the third frame, and were helped in winning by three errors of St. Pete's ball tossers.

The losers' hurler, Brennan, was touched up for three hits, while Moylan only allowed two safeties. Brennan pitched a fairly good game, however, and struck otu six.

PT. LAMBTON WILL PLAY SARNIA'S NINE TODAY

PORT LAMBTON, Aug. 25.—A game of baseball was played here between Sombra and Port Lambton Thursday evening, resulting in a victory for Sombra by a 6 to 5 score.

An exciting and fast game is expected to be played on the Port Lambton diamond on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock between the home team and Sarnia. Bradley, Henry and Dalgetty will be the battery for Port Lambton. This will be Sarnia's first appearance here, and should draw a good attendance.

Just Between Us

By C. S. G.

The spectacle of 3,000 children marching this afternoon to the Thames Park playgrounds, where the big athletic meet of the season is being held as a climax to the second year of playgrounds work on a big scale, is probably the best means that could be devised of impressing upon the citizens what the playgrounds are doing. The parents of the children, of course, know what is being accomplished, but hundreds of citizens do not realize the magnitude of the task. All season the youngsters have been competing amongst their own particular playground associates, but today sees not only the young athletes put to the test, but the playground against playground spirit, which is the key to the whole structure and motive power to the work.

Chief Supervisor Mel Brock and his associates have worked hard during the two months of school vacation, and if the highly-satisfactory and rather amazing report of the summer's work were not sufficient to impress upon the ratepayers the value of the work, today's meet will be bound to cinch the argument.

It is doubtful if any more than an up-to-date curling rink will replace the old Jubilee structure razed to the ground on Thursday night. It has been found through experience impossible to combine curling and hockey, and as the curlers have stated so often in past seasons when accommodating the hockey teams with ice, they are first, last and always out to develop curling.

In any case, with the same ice surface being used, it's been proven that neither the curlers nor the hockeyists got a fair deal. What London wants—and will likely get some time—is a whopping big arena that will look after curling any time during the day and provide skating when there isn't hockey.

* * * *

The London curlers had planned glass-inclosed spaces for the spectators so the latter could sit in their glass houses and see the stones being thrown.

Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight champ, and "Fighting Atom" has been offered large inducements by Tex Rickard to fight Johnny Buff in New York this fall. White-Leonard, Kilbane-Lynch and Criqui-Kilbane are a few of the bouts Tex has mapped out on a program, which he claims will comprise more championship affairs than any similar program of any year in fistic history.

As an evidence of good faith Jess Willard might be asked to show his recharged wares against Bill Brennan or some other likely trial horse.

As Jack Dempsey would likely say: "It's a tough world when a guy isn't allowed to earn an honest $50,000 or so." Dempsey may only have a hazy idea of the trend of conversation between the governors of the two Carolinas, but he knows what the governor of Indiana said by heart.

BABY GAR REPEATS WITH WIN ON HAMILTON BAY

Protest Laid Against Her, Engine Alleged To Be Airplane.

HAMILTON, Aug. 25.—Baby Gar III., owned and driven by Gar Wood of Detroit, which won the first 50-mile lap of the $5,000 Fisher trophy for displacement boats yesterday, was a winner today in the second lap, and had such a lead that she can hardly lose the race, which will be completed tomorrow afternoon. Rainbow II., owned by H. B. Greening, Hamilton, had to drop out of the contest this afternoon when she tore out a shaft. Owing to the choppy state of the water, the time today was much slower than yesterday, when Baby Gar III. made a new record for the event. Today her average was 38.5 miles.

The protest used by Dr. Stevens of Thousand Islands, owner of Miss St. Lawrence, that an airplane engine is being used in Baby Gar III. will be settled tomorrow night.

1. Baby Gar III., Detroit, 1:18:57.
2. Miss St. Lawrence, Thousand Islands, 1:19:06.
3. Nicknack, Buffalo, 1:27:32.
4. Ionic III., Toronto, 1:28:06.
5. Packard Baby Gar, Detroit, 1:29:58.

Rainbow II. was forced to withdraw during the first mile. Miss Peerless, which finished sixth on Thursday did not start.

Standing of boats:

	First race.	Second race.	Total.
Baby Gar III.	7	7	14
Miss St. Lawrence	4	6	10
Packard Baby Gar	6	3	9
Nicknack	3	5	8
Rainbow II.	5	0	5
Ionic III.	1	4	5

MRS. BICKLE WINS THREE MATCHES AT NIAGARA

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Aug. 25.—Rain interfered with the morning games in the tennis championships being held here, but several important matches were played in the afternoon. Mrs. H. Bickle, the Canadian and United States clay court champion, won her matches from Miss P. Grierson, Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. Webb, showing magnificent form. The semi-final between Miss E. McDonald and Miss M. Brock was the best match of the day, the former winning 6—2, 4—6, 6—4.

Col. Foulkes of Kingston won the All-Canadian final from E. A. Purkiss of Toronto in staright sets.

E. V. Rechnitzer of London won the junior event, defeating C. W. Leslie of Montreal in the final 7—5, 6—0. The first set in this match was very close, going to five all before Rechnitzer broke through. In the second set Rechnitzer played good tennis and won easily.

The semi-final in the men's doubles was won by L. Keith and J. Virden of Cleveland, who beat D. R. McKenzie and L. A. Bruneau. They play Foulkes and Taylor in the final tomorrow.

L. A. Bruneau and L. Keith, Cleveland, started their singles match and were seven all when rain stopped it. This will be finished in the morning.

Linley Murray, Niagara Falls, will play J. Virden of Cleveland tomorrow morning, and the finals between the winners of these two matches will be played in the afternoon as well as the finals of the mixed doubles and all-Canadian doubles.

UMPIRE RELEASED.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 25.—John Conway Toole, president of the International League, today announced the release of Umpire William McGowan, effective Sept. 1. McGowan has been under suspension since last Monday. He was involved in a fist fight with two Syracuse players at Baltimore on Aug. 20.

OXFORD REGISTRAR IS POPULAR CHOICE

Appointment of Wallace MacWhinnie, Former Deputy, Meets With Approval.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 25.—The elevation of Wallace MacWhinnie from deputy to registrar of Oxford County is a most popular appointment. For twelve years the new registrar has been deputy registrar.

The appointment follows a considerable period of uncertainty, both for the new official and the general public. The U. F. O. of both North and South Oxford were determined that the position should be filled by one of their number rather than by way of promotion to a man who has been connected with the duties of the office.

Registrar MacWhinnie is a native of this city, and received his education in the local public and high schools. His father was a newspaperman, one of the first owners of the Woodstock Sentinel.

The new registrar is also a prominent lodge man. He is a Scottish Rite Mason and a member of King Solomon's Lodge, A., F. and A. M., also a member of Mocha Temple, London, and a past grand supt. of Wilson District. He is also prominent in Oddfellows circles, and has taken an active interest in amateur sports for years.

BOY BURNED WHEN HE STEPS IN HOT ASHES

WALLACEBURG, Aug. 25.—Jerry Comer, the 8-year-old son of J. L. Comer, met with a painful accident on Thursday evening. The little lad was walking past the Brass Company's works, barefooted, when he walked through some ashes which he presumed to be cold. These, however, were still burning, and the result was that he was very badly burned on both feet up to his ankles, and will be unable to walk for some little time.

Joker—Yessir, I've carried that joke all the way from my home town, forty miles from here.

Editor—Well, all that I can say is that you carried the joke too far.

City Playgrounds

By virtue of their victory over the Riverview senior girls' team, Bottrills' playgrounds team last night won the championship of the Girls' Playgrounds Baseball League. The game last night comprised only one inning, it being the fifth and the completion of the contest staged Thursday night which resulted in the score of 14 to 11, and was called owing to darkness. Neither team scored in the inning last evening, therefore Bottrills claim the honors.

In the afternoon Birkett junior boys earned for themselves the right to play-off this afternoon with the Thames Park juniors for the championship of the Midget League. The Chesley Green aggregation defeated Simcoe boys by the score of 7 to 5.

The last of the senior boys' games were played last night with the following results:

MARR OF WOODSTOCK WINS INGERSOLL SHOOT

INGERSOLL, Aug. 25.—Gordon Marr of Woodstock was high gun in a series of four shoots conducted by the local gun club for a leather gun-case. Local members, however, made a good show and the shoots have done much to stimulate interest in trap shooting. Following were the scores in the 100 bird race: Gordon Marr 95, F. W. Staples 90, D. Ramsey 90, D. Avery 88, L. Eckhardt 86, C. Booth 84, J. Pearsall 83.

MAKES 3-HOUR FLIGHT IN MOTORLESS AIRPLANE

GERSFELD, Germany, Aug. 25.—A remarkable motorless airplane flight, lasting for three hours and ten minutes marked the close yesterday of the formal program of the annual motorless flying competitions.

Herr Ventzen, student flier of the Hanover Technical School, made the flight, thereby beating, by an hour, the record established Saturday when he remained in the air for two hours and ten seconds.

Hentzen's latest accomplishment was made in the same machine with which he astonished the world on Saturday. He flew in a westerly wind of ten to twelve meters per second, accompanied at times by gusts as strong as sixteen meters.

Herr Hackmedt of Darmstadt remained in the air for 90 minutes in yesterday's competition. For their feats of Friday and Saturday Herr Hentzen and Johann Maertens, who flew for 66 minutes, have been awarded 70,000 and 50,000 marks, respectively.

Turn need into demand

HUNGER seeks food; thirst calls for drinks; fatigue requires a place to rest; labor must be eased by recreation. Human nature and human wants create demand. If you can do your share in filling it, tell people so. Turn universal need into demand for your particular product.

Through the Daily Newspapers give the people the news about your goods. Make it part of the daily life of Canada.

"Newspaper advertising," says Ames Holden McCready Co., Ltd., "is as necessary to the successful distribution of a trade-marked piece of merchandise as food, raiment and shelter are to the well-being of the individual.

"Newspaper advertising nourishes the product; it clothes it with reputation, integrity and respectability; and it protects it from the storms of competition and the inroads of goods of questionable parentage."

The human demand for news has created a unit of daily newspaper circulation for every family in Canada and has left a million besides to provide for casual readers. If you need every unit today, it is yours; if only twenty thousand, the rest can stand aside without adding one useless dollar to your cost of distribution.

ACES BEAT BRANTS.

SAGINAW, Aug. 25. — Saginaw bunched hits off Bennett and beat Brantford 5 to 1, sweeping the two-game series. Saginaw earned all its runs, while Brantford's lone marker was due to an error. Wayneberg pitched magnificent ball, fanning eight men. He has gone the last sixteen innings without allowing an earned runs.

IN MEMORIAM.

McKITTERICK—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Annie McKitterick, who passed away one year ago, Aug. 26, 1921.

We often sit and think of her,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
More and more each day we miss her,
Friends may think the wound has healed,
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
We loved her, yes we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And gently called her to him
To the happy golden shore.
We miss her, yes we miss her,
But Jesus helps us bear
The sorrow of our lonely hearts,
For we will meet her there.
—Loving Husband and Family.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. W. Clemance and family wish to acknowledge with thanks the great kindness shown them by their friends and acquaintances during their recent sad bereavement. Also for the beautiful floral tributes.

REAL ESTATE REAL ESTATE

The Family's Best Protection,

The owned home is a family's best protection and support.

The very first thing every man should do, and by far the most important thing he CAN do for his family, is to provide it with a home of its own.

Getting a living is at all times a serious problem. It becomes an even more serious problem for the survivers in a family after the provider's death.

It is far the best single provision that can be made for the comfort, protection and support of the family in the provider's absence, or in the event of his death, disability, or deceased earning powet.

It assures the family a safe shelter if the provider dies.

It maintains for the family its accustomed conditions and helpful associations.

The smaller living expense makes the bread winning an easier problem for the survivors.

It makes possible a "Back Yard Income," and many other family enterprises.

It makes the family's support easier as one's earning power declines.

It relieves the absent provider from worry.

SAYS JITNEY DRIVERS FLAUNTING INJUNCTIONS

BUFFALO, Aug. 25.—That jitney drivers ply their trade in all sections of the city, openly flaunting the court injunction against them, was the charge made today by President H. G. Tulley of the International Railway against which a strike has been in progress for 65 days.

"I firmly believe that much of the jitney traffic could be stopped if Mayor Schwab would take a firm hand in the matter," he said. "Even the police and firemen are riding in the jitneys."

PREMIER DRURY EXPLAINS PLAN OF 'BROADENING'

Tells How J. J. Morrison Wanted All Parties Represented in Cabinet.

SPEAKS AT ST. MARYS

Declares Government Will Not Permit Tampering With Temperance Act.

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

ST. MARYS, Aug. 25.—Emphasizing once again the need of broadening out the Progressive party in Ontario, Premier E. C. Drury addressed an assembly of about 3,000 people at a South Perth U. F. O. meeting in the Athletic Park at St. Marys Friday night.

Although definite and full of meat Mr. Drury's remarks concerning his plan for widening the scope and interests of the party and concerning his controversy with J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O. movement, were quite brief, occupying but a few minutes at the end of a long speech in which he answered certain newspaper charges that his government had no policy by outlining fully the stand of the Progressives on every important provincial subject of the day.

Although the night was quite chilly his reference to broadening the party stirred up so much enthusiasm among his auditors that it augured well for the success of his campaign in South Perth at least.

He referred to the plan in the first place as a "little controversy which seemed to be raging between myself and my friend, J. J. Morrison."

Purely Misapprehension.

"Mr. Morrison," he continued, "seems to think that I am trying to do something terrible. He evidently believes that I intend to dilute or destroy the farmers' movement. I do not. His belief is purely a misapprehension.

"But since taking charge of the government I find that I must legislate for all. No cause or class should stand, I maintain, unless it can go before the people as a whole and stand on its merits.

"I do not wish to dilute the farmers' organization. Manintain it, strengthen it, built it even greater—but in doing it remember my position. Since taking the position of the leader of a government I must seek to legislate for all. It is not right that a government should rule unless it has the support of all classes.

"It has been said the interests of the rural districts and the urban centers are far apart—that oil and water will not mix. I say each of you need the other. What is good for one should be good for the other. A thing that is good for one and bad for another should not be tolerated. See how the boards of trade in the various centers are broadening out to include the farming community. They realize that the interest of the city and the countryside is bound up closely together."

Raps Morrison's Idea.

Mr. Drury said that he did not agree with some of Mr. Morrison's ideas concerning government.

Mr. Morrison, he said, thought that the form of the present house was all wrong. He did not believe in two-party government.

"It was his idea that I should have taken into my cabinet two Liberals, two Conservatives, one Labor and the rest Farmers. Think of me trying to govern with a group like that!

"I would have felt bound to take Hartley Dewart into the cabinet and he of course would out of necessity have been made attorney-general. Can you imagine what would happen to the O. T. A. in his hands? And I would have had to make Howard Ferguson minister of mines and forests. No, I believe that the present form of government is the right one."

Referring to the policies of this government, Mr. Drury said that he wished to answer rather unfair charges which had been made in a paper that very day that the Progressive party had no policy.

The present government, he said, was more or less of an accident, as it had not been planned. It originated in the farmers' movement, but as a group it had no policy or leader. It found itself elected with a majority in the House and in order that a government could be carried on it was forced to select a leader and to form a policy afterwards.

"When we assumed office we found many problems confronting us and out of these policies we have built our policies.

Face Many Problems.

"One of the greatest problems that ever faced us was the O. T. A. As a war measure the act did good service and in 1919 the people of the province voted in its favor by a majority of two to one. It has the greatest authority of any act upon the statute books today. Yet it is a very difficult one to administer.

"We were forced to devise a policy and that policy is, the act must be left alone and where the people placed it. There must be no tampering. It must be administered fairly.

"There are many pressures brought to bear upon us. The temperance groups want to have it made more stringent. Others wish it made looser. There is only one attitude which we can take, and that is to leave it alone and to see that it is not altered in any essential way."

The opposition in the house had not announced a policy in regard to the act, he said, although there had been considerable talk from Hon. Mr. Ferguson. He accused Mr. Ferguson of trying to win temperance votes by not announcing any proposed changes in the act, and to hold other votes by hinting at possible changes.

Discusses Radials.

Hydro radial was the next question upon which he announced his policy. He outlined in full the history of the movement under the last government, to which it had been proposed that the province go bond for any group of municipalities wishing to build radials. He told of the commission which he instituted to investigate the whole problem. The policy of his government was that any municipality wishing to contruct a radial could do so. But the municipality must bear the full cost of construction and operation without involving the province in any way.

The road problem was a mountain in the way of the new government, and one on which a definite problem had to be formed.

The coming of the auto, he claimed, had changed the whole aspect of the road problem. No longer was it merely a local problem. When the horse had ruled the road the range of travel was 10 or 12 miles. Now one out of every 12 persons in Ontario owned a car, giving unlimited scope to road traveling.

Traffic had become so heavy municipalities, no longer could bear the burden of road maintenance. The government was forced to devise a scheme of bearing part of the load.

Under the plan the government sought to care for all through traffic while the municipalities looked after the local problems. Out of this plan 1,800 miles of provincial roads, arteries for through traffic were born. It was estimated that 80 per cent of the traffic was through, so the province had agreed to bear 80 per cent of the cost, while the municipalities paid 20. On county provincial roads the ratio was placed at 60 for provincial and 40 for county. On county roads the proportion was 40 for provincial and 60 for county. On township roads the ratio was 20 to 80.

Financed by Licenses.

The provincial road system was financed purely through auto licenses. Last year $3,750,000 was collected. Next year the total would reach four million. Out of this amount two million would be set aside each year for 20 years for construction work on the provincial system, while the remainder would be used for maintenance.

He touched on the timber policy of the government, which was nothing more than that the people of Ontario would be given all the benefits accruing out of the natural resources of the province, and to devise a way to protect the forests against fires. He told fully of shortcomings of the timber administration under Howard Ferguson.

The policy on education was explained but briefly, as it had been touched upon more fully by Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, who spoke previously to the premier. The governmentfi Mr. Drury said, had been criticized for the huge amount it spent on education. But, he claimed, the total had been made up of money which municipalities previously had been forced to bear.

Mr. Drury was emphatic in his denial that the provincial government had become a partner with gamblers in its policy of collecting a tax on race track betting. Tracks, he said, operated under the criminal code of the Dominion government. The province had no control over them, nor had it the power to tax them out of business. The five per cent tax had made conditions less favorable to gambling.

Gives Doherty Credit.

In referring to the agricultural policy of the government, he gave the full credit for the proposed lifting of the British embargo on Canadian cattle to Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture. The action of the British House of Commons, he said, was due entirely to the propaganda of the minister while in England, where he had gone, despite much criticism from some quarters, with the full consent of Mr. Drury.

Mr. Doherty, he said, did not attempt to interfere with the policies of the British government, but had merely proven that Canadian cattle were not diseased, a belief which had existed in England for 25 years.

Mr. Drury won much applause when in a passing reference he stated that the Senate in the federal house should be reformed, if it had the power which it apparently had to thwart the will of the legislators elected by the people.

Hon. Peter Smith gave a complete account of his stewardship. The outstanding statement in his speech was a prediction that within two years rates would be in favor of Canadian money in American markets.

Sees Plain Sailing.

Although the province was facing a black future when the present government had taken office, he claimed that it was over the top at the present time, and while all difficulties had not been solved, he saw plain sailing ahead.

He stated that he had been the first in Ontario to sell a loan at 5 per cent. While at the present time the federal government was renewing bonds bearing 5½ per cent with a month's interest for a bonus. He explained fully the system of financing which had been adopted by the province, when high rates had prevailed. He told also of the huge expenditures which the government was forced to meet through no sins of its own, which opposition members forgot to mention when they criticized the government for its total expenditures.

Mr. Smith referred to the local road problems of St. Marys and of South Perth, for which he is member. He promised that some way would be devised in which the town would be assisted in bearing the burden of the upkeep of more than three miles which ran within the town limits.

The assistance received in the Township of Blanshard on its various roads would amount to $12 in taxes on every 100 acres of land.

R. Frame, an active worker in the South Perth U. F. O., acted as chairman of the meeting, while W. Bolton made a short speech welcoming the guests of honor. Two little misses, Jean McIntosh and Margaret Evans, presented Mrs. Drury and Mrs. Smith with beautiful bouquets on behalf of the U. F. W. O.

Patrolman Who Finds and Restores $2,100 Roll Gets From Man a Kiss

PITTSBURG, Aug. 25.—Patrolman Dennis Mangan, reporting at the Southside station, restored to the owner $2,100 which had been lost, and received for his reward—a kiss on the hand, and from a man at that.

The tale related by Police Commissioner Robert McIntosh was as follows:

Peter Radzowsky of Canonsburg came to Pittsburg. In his vest pocket he carried $2,100. He engaged a room in a hotel at 539 Carson street, and spent the night there. When he awakened the vest containing the money was missing. Radzowsky informed Commissioner McIntosh. Patrolman Mangan, who was detailed to make an investigation, after being informed by Radzowsky that he had heard no sound of prowlers in the room where he was sleeping, decided to look around a bit, and in a house in the rear of the hotel he found the vest with the money intact, where Radzowsky had left it the night before.

PICNIC AT CAYUGA.

CAYUGA, Aug. 25.—Owing to the inclement weather the U. F. O. picnic here today was very poorly attended, only about 400 being present to hear addresses by Miss Agnes MacPhail and Prof. J. B. Reynolds of the Ontario Agricultural College. J. J. Morrison, although not advertised to speak, spoke for a few minutes, and argued that the controversy was not between him and Mr. Drury, but between the U. F. O. and Mr. Drury. However, he told the Haldimand U. F. O. that they must stay in politics as a party, so that they could get away from all political domination.

Miss MacPhail made a vigorous attack upon party politics. She pointed out that every man elected desired to serve the interests of his constituents, but owing to the fact that in the past he had always been chosen by headquarters and forced upon the people, and was elected by funds subscribed by the interests, he could not do so. She said that they always had class legislation, because all governments had been controlled by the interests.

The U. F. O. was not out to take anything from either party, but to protect the rights of the people. She said that members of the U. F. O. must have the spirit of service.

Prof. Reynolds pointed out that the chief aim of the U. F. O. was economy, and that the association should bend all energies to that end. Warren Stringer, M.L.A., was chairman, and said that although it was impossible to become an experienced legislator in three years he was learning, and that each of the members at Toronto tried to do what he thought was in the interest of his constituents.

Report German Plot To Assassinate Premier of France.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—The government secret service, it was learned today, has been informed that a member of the notorious German organization "consul" has arrived in Paris to kill Premier Poincare.

The premier is now guarded more strictly than ever to prevent possible assassination.

TORONTO "EX" TO OPEN TODAY

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—The Canadian National Exhibition enters upon its 44th anniversary tomorrow morning with every promise of surpassing in interest and attendance any previous year.

More than ever in the past the exhibition which opens tomorrow will be a Canadian one. With the prospect of an abundant harvest and revived industry from coast to coast the management looks for a new attendance record.

Come · To · Church · Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact the average man does not thus worship."

Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss.

"You will take part in singing some good hymns.

"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance.

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."

Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

The Unity of the Spirit

BY LYMAN ABBOTT.

NO one can doubt the evils of sectarianism. They are abundant and only too evident. Half a dozen churches in a village do feebly a common work which, if they were working together, they might do with strength.

Money is spent almost uselessly in maintaining separate church organizations at home which is sorely needed in doing the too often neglected work of the church abroad.

Each church is tempted to put its emphasis on its own pet doctrine or symbol, to the neglect of truths and duties the importance of which all recognize in theory rather than in practice. Hostility between the churches is mostly a thing of the past, but the emulation between the churches is not always an emulation in works of charity and mercy.

And the great world without, which admires strength, looks with indifference and sometimes with contempt on churches whose feebleness seems to non-churchmen to be due wholly to immaterial differences.

But those in the church who are attempting to cure these evils by making out of these fragments a united church, with one theological creed, one form of worship, and one ecclesiastical order, appear to me to have short memories. They forget the greater evils which have always resulted when churchmen have endeavored to secure unity of the spirit by uniformity in doctrine and worship.

The Roman Catholic Church in the middle ages insisted on one creed, one ritual and one authority. The Greek Church pursued the same course, though less successfully, and the religion of Greece and Russia is the result—life sacrificed to form. The Anglican Church repeated the attempt; the despotism of Laud rivaled that of Strafford, and the persecution of the Scotch Covenanters was scarcely less atrocious than the persecution of the Albigenses.

The Puritans got a brief period of control; the worship with a prayer-book, made compulsory under Charles I, became a crime under Cromwell. The Pilgrims and the Friends advocated real religious liberty, but whether they would have continued to advocate it if they had possessed the power of the Roman, the Greek, the Anglican or the Puritan may be questioned.

From the days of Caiaphas to the present day ecclesiastical power has stimulated ecclesiastical ambition. The problem of the church is not merely how to bring about union. The evils of disunion are feebleness: the problem of the churches is how to achieve a union which will bring power without sacrificing liberty.

The advocates of church unity might well learn a lesson from the political history of the world. Unity of spirit and division of authority has, I think, without exception been a condition of political freedom.

England is a union of what were once independent kingdoms, but county government has survived the union and im- that they are not defined by a written constitution. The British Empire affords a striking illustration of power combined with liberty.

The established church in England is Episcopal; in Scotland the established church is Presbyterian; and in Ireland, Canada and Australia there is no established church.

The union of the free states in a free republic is not less strikingly illustrated by the United States. It is a spiritual unity—that is, a unity of free men in a free nation. "It was a true instinct which led the framers of the constitution to begin with the statement: 'We the people of the United States.' It was the individual citizens who could unite, and not the 'states.' The same is true of the churches. The various churches cannot unite, though they may co-operate and associate themselves for more effective work."

In these words Dr. Leighton Parks admirably states in his recent volume, "The Crisis of the Churches," the problem of church unity.

In a single sentence in another part of the volume he states it with equal clearness and great brevity: "The only possible way in which religious men can be held together is by substituting loyalty to Christ for theological agreement."

This book appears to have been written especially for the clergy or the lay churchmen of his own communion. Its size will probably limit its circulation to that constituency. I wish that he could be induced to make out of it a volume about the size of Dr. Fosdick's "Meaning of Prayer," addressed to the laymen of all communions. The movement for church unity must first be won among the laity.

The fact that the rector of St. Bartholomew's Church, one of the most influential and active of the Protestant churches in New York City, has devoted a volume to the elucidation of this truth, is one of the hopeful signs of the times; in my thinking, far more hopeful than the hitherto vain endeavor to find some common ecclesiastical ground on which all Christians can unite in a common organization. The Roman Catholic will not accept Episcopal orders, Episcopalians will not renounce them; the Friends will not accept the Episcopal sacraments, nor the Episcopalians receive into their communion those who do not; the Baptists will not accept infant baptism, nor will the non-Baptists repudiate it. The Nicene Creed is doubted by some excellent Christians, and to many its phrases are meaningless; probably a large majority of the clergy of Protestant churches disbelieve in the doctrine of the Apostolic Succession, which all Catholics —whether Greek, Roman or Anglican—regard as vital to organic unity. Union based on creed, ritual or orders is quite impossible of accomplishment, even if it were desirable.

But there is nothing to prevent the churches anywhere at any time, in any place, from uniting in a common work, bound together in a spiritual fellowship by a common purpose.

OVER 5,000 ATTEND BRANT U. F. O. PICNIC

Miss Agnes MacPhail and Hon. H. C. Nixon Deliver Addresses.

Special to London Advertiser.

PARIS, Aug. 25. — The fifth annual picnic of the Brant County U. F. O. was held Thursday on the farm of Fred Luck, despite threatening rains.

This year the women were in charge, and very ably planned an excellent program. Sports were plentiful, baseball, softball and all the popular games being provided. The first game of baseball was between Cathcart and Alfred Junction. The latter won out by a score of 13 to 7.

Well over 5,000 people had assembled to hear the addresses of Miss Agnes McPhail, M. P. and Hon. H. C. Nixon. Both speakers expounded the policy of the farmer government. "Neither the bringing in of the sheepskin-coated immigrant, rural mails nor motor cars would solve the problem of making the youth stay on the farm," said Miss McPhail. "The country should appreciate fully the worth of agriculture, and the industry should be treated as the greatest in the land."

President Peter Porter of the Brant U. F. O. directed the sport events. He rode a white horse from one section of the flats to another, supervising the various events.

WILSON CONTENDS COX KILLED SELF

Former Londoner Builds Defense On Theory of Pal's Suicide.

Special to London Advertiser.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—The protracted cross-examination of Robert Cronin, jailer of the county jail, and one of the star witnesses in the defense of Herbert Wilson, ex-minister, and alleged master bandit and murderer, today was resumed when the trial of Wilson on the charge of murder was continued before Judge John Perry Wood.

Cronin, already subjected to a severe cross-questioning by Deputy District Attorney W. J. Clark and Buron R. Fitts, was expected to occupy the stand almost the entire day. According to present projected plans, he was to be followed by Wilson himself.

Wilson Will Testify.

Wilson's testimony, it is conceded, will be the climax of the bitterly-contested trial. He is declared to have been the leader of a desperate gang of mail bandits, who are asserted by the federal authorities to have consummated the $1,500,000 Alameda street robbery.

He it was, the authorities claim, who led Herbert Cox and Eddie O'Brien, two alleged members of his gang, upon the bridge of sighs in an attempt to escape on April 9 last, and he it was, also says the state, who killed Cox when the attempt collapsed.

Offers Suicide Theory.

But for three days Wilson steadily has been building up, by the testimony of prisoners in the jail and of the jailers guarding them, a fabric of suicide. His defense is that he could not have killed Cox, because Cox killed himself. Every inch of the way through the trial, now more than a week old, has been bitterly contested by both sides. Jailer has been answered with jailer, deputy sheriff with deputy sheriff, and prisoner with prisoner.

The testimony, with the exception of possible rebuttal, is to be completed early on Monday. Then final arguments to the jury will begin.

OUT OUR WAY BY WILLIAMS

Mildmay Youth Seriously Injured Removing Stumps With Dynamite

MILDMAY, Aug. 25.—Otto Lantz, a Mildmay young man, met with a serious accident Wednesday afternoon while blasting stumps in the Kopass swamp on the provincial highway.

Three charges of dynamite had been placed under a double stump, and two had exploded. Lantz, thinking the three had been discharged, walked toward the stump, but only got within 75 yards of it when the third stick of dynamite went off. He turned and ran, but was struck and knocked down by a flying piece of wood weighing 50 pounds.

He had to be carried off the field, and upon examination by a doctor it was found that his shoulder had been fractured in four places, and he also sustained injuries to his head. The injured man was later removed to the hospital.

CHEESE COMPANIES CLASH AT TORONTO

Hon. Manning Doherty Declines To Interfere in Controversy.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Although the $1,000,000 company known as the Ontario Co-operative Dairy Products, Limited, was brought into existence by the Drury government with a view to improving the dairy industry of the province by inducing the producers to market their product co-operatively, all is not harmony within the ranks of Ontario cheese producers. The recently formed company has so far failed in its attempt to buy out the United Dairymen's Co-operative, preparatory to launching its general co-operative scheme for the whole province. United is a semi-private sales agency which last year handled the product of about one hundred eastern Ontario cheese factories.

This afternoon the differences between the two companies were brought to a head when at a meeting of the provisional board of directors of the Ontario Co-operative Dairy Products, Limited, at the Parliament Buildings, a resolution was unanimously adopted declaring that the United would be ignored in the pending organization of the cheese men of the province if no agreement were reached before Sept. 4. The directors decided to take immediate steps to organize in all Ontario's cheese districts and discussed ways and means of putting this decision into effect.

Hon. Manning Doherty, who sponsored the big co-operative plan at the recent session of the Legislature was present, but declined to interfere in the controversy. The minister promised, however, that the concern would receive every support from the department of agriculture in case it were decided to proceed with organization.

The resolution said the directors of the Ontario Co-operative Dairy Products, Limited, exhausted every reasonable possibility of reconciling the differences between their company and the United Dairymen's Co-operative with regard to the purchase of the goodwill and assets of the latter organization.

LIGHTNING BOLT DESTROYS BARN

Peter Anderson, Farmer, Near Sarnia, Loses Crop and Implements.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Aug. 25.—A violent thunderstorm broke over the district at 6 a.m. today, lasting for an hour. While rain fell heavily, it was of insufficient duration to bring all the moisture to the ground that is needed by badly-burning crops, and a rapidly-clearing sky dispelled the farmers' hopes of relief.

The large barn of Peter Anderson, at the corner of the London road to Forest, Plympton and Warwick townlines, was struck by lightning at 7 o'clock, and burned to the ground. Mr. Anderson lost his entire season's crop, as well as farm implements. Voluntary assistance was inadequate to subdue the fire, which spread rapidly. The livestock was out of the barn at the time.

CHOP HOLE IN FLOOR TO SECURE CHOICE LIQUORS

Thieves Rob Toronto Man of Stock Valued at $3,750.

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Daring thieves smashed their way into the home of Louis Geldber, 133 Lowther avenue, some time during Wednesday night, chopped a large hole through the floor of the drawing-room, and stole 20 cases of liquor, valued at $1,500.

Six weeks ago the same house was entered by thieves, and 26 cases of high-class whiskey and liquors were stolen, valued at $2,250, making Mr. Geldber's total loss 46 cases of liquor valued at $3,750.

Mr. Geldber is away in England on a buying trip, and members of his family are at their summer home.

After the robbery six weeks ago, Mr. Geldber ordered heavy steel bars for his cellar windows, and several had been put on, and across one window there are double bars. The rest of the iron bar sets are in the yard ready to be put on.

LADIES' AID HOLDS AUGUST MEETING

SPARTA, Aug. 25.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held its August meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Russel.

Thirty-four members were present. Mrs. Joe Turrill, the president, was in charge. The chief item of business was to arrange for a tea meeting to be held October 2 in connection with the church anniversary. Mrs. (Dr.) Elliott, Mrs. (Dr) Kilgour, Mrs. T. Minnis, Mrs. T. H. Marshall, and Mrs. Husser were appointed a committee.

Mrs. (Dr.) Husser gave an interesting Bible reading, for which she received many appreciative comments. At the close a dainty lunch was served.

GIVES INTOXICATED AUTOIST JAIL TERM

Chatham Resident Receiving Sentence Enters Appeal and Is Released On Bail.

CHATHAM, Aug. 25.—Any future convictions of automobile owners driving their cars under the influence of liquor will result in jail sentences, was a remark made not long ago by Police Magistrate Arnold in the city police court. He lived up to his promise this morning, when a prominent businessman received a sentence of seven days in the county jail for driving his car when drunk.

Evidence submitted by Constable Pearson of the G. T. R. was to the effect that the defendant had tried to drive his car on the G. T. R. right-of-way. One of the car wheels had caught on a dwarf switch. He stated that the defendant had offered a bribe which the witness refused to accept.

The defendant, through his counsel, appealed the sentence, and was subsequently released on a bail of $3,000 to appear before Judge Stanworth.

LEAVES $7,000 TO WINDSOR NEPHEW

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Evan Joseph Cannell, who died in Toronto July 12, leaving an estate of about $60,000, left $10,000 to his nephew, Dugald McGregor, Wallacetown, and $7,000 to his nephew, Stewart McGregor, Windsor.

OFFICIALS PROMOTED.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—Official announcement was made at the Canadian Pacific Railway head offices today of the promotion of C. E. E. Usher to be general passenger traffic manager and C. B. Foster to be passenger traffic manager, rail lines.

Mr. Usher is a native of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Mr. Foster was born at Kingston, N.B.

Chatham African Golfers Contribute To Coffers.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 25.—"Come on chile, ah needs you." "Yap, yap lucky seben, ah lubs you." These and other cries drew the attention of a patrolman in the east end of the city last evening, with the result that four dusky sons of Africa faced charges of "Rolling the Bones," in the city police court this morning.

"It was just a nice, quiet lill game," pleaded one of them. "I heard them half a block away," said the patrolman in giving evidence. "One dollar and costs," chanted Magistrate Arnold. They paid.

REPORT CANADIAN TRADE SHOWS STEADY ADVANCE

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—Information from the various trade centers of Canada seems to indicate more merchandise is moving now than for some time past, according to the weekly trade report issued by the Canadian Creditmen's Trust Association, Limited.

Reports from the East would indicate a steady advance in business in both wholesale and retail trade.

Western wholesalers are busier now than for some time past, and there is a little more moving in the retail, but extreme caution is apparent, awaiting crop results.

Collections, though still slow, seem to be somewhat better than anticipated. Crop conditions are being watched very carefully more especially as a great many points have lately had a good deal of rain, which has delayed harvesting.

With fair weather from this on, an average crop seems assured.

THE SUMMER ENDING.

Ted—What's become of that little peach you were engaged to earlier in the season?

Ned—That peach is canned.

WILL CO-OPERATE WITH LOCAL TRADE

St. Thomas Mayor Authorized To Negotiate With Coal Dealers of City.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 25.—Authorization was given Mayor Raven to co-operate with the local coal dealers in obtaining soft coal by the city council at a special meeting Friday afternoon.

While it is reported that the citizens of the city are fairly well supplied with fuel, particularly on account of buying large quantities of coke, yet it was felt that the time was ripe for the municipality to take an active part in guaranteeing sufficiency.

Following the advice of Fuel Controller J. A. Ellis, the city will co-operate with coal dealers in bringing to the city soft coal and wood, which, it is reported, are available in quantity.

Discussing the recent meeting with the fuel controller in Toronto, Ald. W. McIntyre stated that Mr. Ellis was of the opinion that the dealers would not take advantage of the public in any crisis which might occur, but if prices were improperly marked up he would act to reduce them.

Mayor Raven and Ald. McIntyre were appointed a committee to view the local coal situation with regard to ascertaining the amount which will be necessary to obtain.

OPEN TILLSONBURG GLADIOLUS SHOW

Large Crowds View Brilliant Display of Flowers in Council Chambers.

Special to London Advertiser.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 25.—The annual flower show of the local Horticultural Society opened for a two-day exhibition in the council chambers with a very large attendance.

Many new and exquisite varieties of gladiolus are on exhibition, and the Campbell Bros. of Simcoe have a magnificent display of 500 blooms which is causing much favorable comment from the visitors. Rev. T. B. Howard, president of the society, has been an untiring worker in the town for several years past, and a great deal of credit for its success is due to his untiring endeavors.

Although the old home week does not officially open until Monday the influx of former citizens has been very heavy the past two days, and every available home in town will be required.

Large gangs of men are putting the finishing touches on the new bleachers and dance hall, and many concessions have been built on the midway. A new steel flagpole was finished on the city hall today.

Broadway is blossoming out in the display of several brilliant colors, while the windows of 40 merchants hold the wedding presents for the happy couple to be married on the stage before the grandstand on Thursday afternoon.

Several American horses arrived for the races today, and the committee has found it necessary to change the 2:18 class to 2:17, and the 2:12 to 2:13, all the purses being for $400.

Music will be furnished by the Guelph Jazz Band, Great Empire Band, Galt Kilties and the Citizens' Band.

Fully 15,000 visitors are expected for the jubilee, and it is likely Mayor Rennie will declare half holidays on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, as most of the local factories are closing.

St. Thomas Topics

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 25.—Construction work on railroads running through the city has led to such a demand for men that the employment situation is well taken care of, according to W. Peacock, local representative of the labor bureau. All who are willing to work have found jobs, he reports. Notice has been received from the provincial department that 2,000 additional laborers are wanted for the harvest in the West, and it is thought that several will go from here. Fove weeks' work is guaranteed at $4 per day and board.

ON ACCOUNT OF having wandered around campers' tents near Port Stanley and creating a nuisance, a negro appeared before County Magistrate Hunt Friday afternoon. Several complaints of this nature have been reported, and it is claimed that this man is responsible. The case was enlarged until Wednesday.

A HEAVY LOSS resulted from a fire early Friday morning in the garage of Albert Berry, 2 Oliver street. The department responded to a call about 1:30 in the morning, and although a quick run was made the building was burned to the ground when they reached it. A Chevrolet car in the garage was completely destroyed.

MRS. HYSLOP of Hagersville met with a very painful accident this week, when she fell on the sidewalk on the north side of Lynhurst Hill, breaking her right leg below the knee. Mrs. Hyslop is staying with Mrs. O. Johnston, Lynhurst. The city is being asked to pay damages.

WORD HAS BEEN received at the local Canadian Pacific office that the Dominion government desires an accurate account of grain in storage or in trains at midnight on August 30 on the company's lines. The necessary information must be in the hands of the government officials by Thursday, August 31. The report must include the amount of wheat, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, wheat-flour, oatmeal, barley meal and linseed meal in transit or standing on the sidings.

Weds Comedian

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Al Jolson, stage comedian, recently confirmed the report that he had married Miss Alma Osborne, known on the stage as Ethel Delmar, a noted beauty.

FINES HOTELMAN FOR SELLING BEER

Chatham Magistrate Finds Tilbury Proprietor Guilty of O. T. A. Breach.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 25.—For selling strong beer over the bar of the Empire Hotel, Tilbury, Barney Ballard, proprietor, was fined $300 and costs for a breach of the O. T. A. before Magistrate Calwood today.

Conclusive evidence was adduced to show that the defendant had been dispensing 9 per cent beer to his customers over the bar. The charge was laid by Inspector M. Hide. Crown Attorney Col. H. D. Smith of this city prosecuted.

Commandant and Mrs. Watson of Halifax arrived in the city last evening and took charge of the Salvation Army hostel. Capt. and Mrs. Squarebriggs left this morning for Sault Ste. Marie.

William Shriner and C. L. Fiske, claiming the United States as their native country, were arrested by a county police detail near Thamesville yesterday on a charge of peddling without a license.

A large handbag, which they took turns in carrying, contained razors, honing stones, lather brushes, pencils, sharpeners and other useful articles, which the police allege were smuggled from the United States. They will be given a hearing in the county police court at an early date.

T. Labombarde, 137 Forest street, North Chatham, has reported to the city police the theft of his car, a Gray-Dort. The car bears license number 133-044, and the engine serial number is 4449. The machine is equipped with two new diamond tread tires. The car was stolen from in front of his residence early last evening.

KINGSVILLE

KINGSVILLE, Aug. 25.—The long dry spell has ripened the leaves on the trees, and they are falling off at a rapid rate.

P. Wigle, Leonard Wigle and Segar Augustine left here yesterday for the Northwest, where they went with the harvesters' excursion. They will be gone for two months.

Dr. Lee's new brick bungalow on Division street is fast nearing completion, and is one of the finest in town.

William Rumble left here on Friday for Winnipeg, where he has secured a position as foreman for a road-making firm.

Edward Bruch has purchased a butcher business at Walkerville, and will take possession soon. He will move to that town.

Magistrate Puzzled by Sweet Clover Status Under Weed Law.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, Aug. 25.—The unfortunate poisoning of Valentine Berlet by coming in contact with poison ivy here has given impetus to a campaign on the part of the civic authorities to have all local lots cleared of noxious weeds.

As a result of this campaign four citizens paid fines in police court this morning for not cutting their weeds when notified to do so. One case was adjourned to allow the magistrate to determine the status of sweet clover. Mr. Berlet is still in a critical condition.

REPORTS CASE OF DREADED DISEASE

Child At Waterloo, in Quarantine, Stricken With Infantile Paralysis.

KITCHENER, Aug. 25.—One case of infantile paralysis is now reported in the town of Waterloo. The house in which the case was discovered has been placed under quarantine and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease in the town.

Health Inspector Flynn stated today that the patient has been completely isolated, and he is certain it would be impossible for any further cases to result from the one now under quarantine.

He declared the citizens of Waterloo need have no occasion for alarm as the precautions being taken by the board of health are sufficient to prevent a spread of the disease.

The pupils of the Suddaby School, which was torn down at the close of the term in June, and which will not be reconstructed in time for the reopening of the school term, will be accommodated at Victoria School as a result of the adoption by the school board of the recommendation of Principal Carmichael, in whose hands the problems of accommodating the pupils has been left.

It is also announced that Dr. Hagey will be given charge of the dental work in all of the public schools of the city.

AILSA CRAIG

Special to London Advertiser.

CLANDEBOYE, Aug. 25.—The oat threshing done so far shows a good yield in this vicinity.

Many people are complaining that both plums and apples are spoiling on the trees. Grapes are still a promising crop, though some mildew shows on a few vines.

Word has been received from Edmonton that Joseph Tone has been killed there by a vicious bull. Mr. Tone was born in Biddulph and sold his farm there to start farming and cattle-raising in the West some years ago.

The grass has been more free of foamlike patches this year than for some time, and the dreaded heelefly has not been so troublesome in this vicinity as usual.

Malcolm McNaughton of Mooreville, boy scout and a member of the Exeter troop, the Owls, has returned from the troop's holiday at Bayfield camp very enthusiastic over the outing and scout discipline. The other boy scouts camping with the Owls were the Foxes and the Eagles.

Mrs. Nelson of Mooresville, graduate nurse, has returned home from several weeks' nursing in Exeter.

Mrs. H. Jell of Hamilton and Miss Ryder of London are visiting Mrs. J. McNaughton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Millson of Lambeth visited friends in Clandeboye on August 23.

The St. Pauls Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of the secretary, Mrs. George Wood. There was a good attendance of members and a splendid meeting was held. The business was the arranging of dinner and lunches for the school fair to be held on Sept. 15. An invitation was extended to all members to attend a demonstration to be given at the Toronto Exhibition by Helen Campbell, demonstrator and lecturer for the department of agriculture, Ottawa. The demonstrator will explain the value of milk and different ways of using it, and this should prove of value to all members.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—No business was reported in the spot raw sugar market early today, and prices remained on the basis of 4.80c for Cubas delivered.

Raw sugar futures had an irregular opening, but there was enough new buying in the market to give it a firmer tone after the start. At one time the near positions sold one to four points net higher but realizing produced later reactions, and at mid-day the market was about 3 points higher to 2 lower.

Refined sugar was quiet and easy. Two refiners are now listing at $6.50 for fine granulated, and as others are quietly meeting this price the market may be fairly quoted at that level, with demand very light.

Refined sugar futures nominal.

PRICES REACT ON NEW YORK MART

Heavy Selling Following Announcement of Break Up In Rail Conference.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. — The stock market, after an early display of strength turned decidedly heavy in the final hour today in response to extensive selling pressure exerted upon the announcement that the strike conference between certain railroad executives and brotherhood chiefs acting as mediators had been definitely broken off.

Most of the day's gains were cancelled, and many stocks were depressed one to two points below yesterday's closing quotations.

Liquidation was directed principally against railroad shares, steels and equipments, on the theory that these industries would suffer most by the prolonged labor trouble. However, rails offered stubborn resistance in the face of an announcement by B. M. Jewell, shop crafts leader, that it would be "a fight to a finish."

Stocks like Northern Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern, and Atchison, which had advanced materially in the last few days, sold off more than a point, while shares like Union Pacific, Southern Pacific Reading and Erie, which were in a better technical position, yielded only fractionally.

United States Steel was pushed up to 105⅛, the highest price in two years, but sold off half a point at the close. Crucible and Vanadium also established peak prices and managed to hold part of their gains.

Public utilities, especially Gas shares were in active demand. New high records for 1922 were made by Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, North American Company and Laclede Gas.

Leathers were also strong, peak prices being reached by Central Leather common and preferred and American Hide and Leather preferred.

Speculative attention was confined largely to special stocks. Lima Locomotive was pushed up to a new high on the announcement that it had received an order for 45 locomotives from the "Katy" System, and American Telephone recovered most of its recent loss when further study of the proposed $115,000,000 new stock issue revealed that the proceeds would be used largely for business expansion, which, in turn, would undoubtedly mean increased earnings.

Call money again opened at 3¾ per cent, but hardened to 4 per cent at the close. Time money was quiet with funds available for 60 to 90 days at 4 to 4¼ per cent.

Failure of the reparations commission to reach an agreement with the German government caused a violent decline in continental exchange rates. German marks fell to the extreme low rate of 5 cents a hundred and French francs to 5.28 points, a new low record for the year with slightly smaller declines in the Belgian and Italian rates. Swedish kroner touched par for the first time in three years, but reacted later. Czecho-Slovakian crowns rose ten points to another new high level.

Total sales for the day were 900,000 shares.

BONDS.

Pronounced weakness of French government and municipal issues was the outstanding development in the more restricted dealings in bonds in today's market. Declines of 1 to 1½ points were registered by French 7½'s and 8's, Bordeaux 6's and Marseilles 6's, with substantial fractional declines in other French issues reflecting the decided slump in French exchange.

Japanese and Mexican government 4's also dropped a point or more, but Cuba 5's of 1904 were relatively strong. Liberty issues yielded slightly, Rails were in much less demand, and mixed changes prevailed. Total sales, par value, aggregated $12,103,000.

PLUMS PLENTIFUL ON CITY MARKET

Tomatoes Lead Vegetables at 20 to 25 Cents Per 15-Pound Basket.

Plums were far more plentiful than any other fruit on the market Saturday morning, the red and blue variety predominating. Notwithstanding the fact that the demand was only fair, the price for the 11-quart basket jumped to 50 and 60 cents, while the 6-quart size was selling at 40 cents.

A few greengages were seen, but were also slow at 60 cents for the large basket.

One load of cantaloupes were brought to the city, and sold quickly at 10 to 25 cents each, according to the size.

Watermelons were a little more plentiful Saturday, and found a good market at 25 to 40 cents a piece.

The price of peaches still remained high, and the demand at $1 to $1.15 for the large basket was not very great.

A few boxes of thimbleberries were offered for sale. The price was 20 cents a box.

Pears were rather scarce and found a poor market at 45 cents for the small basket.

Tomatoes were the vegetable feature Saturday, and were in good demand. The price for the 15-pound basket dropped to 20 and 25 cents. The warm sun for the past week has ripened the tomatoes fast, and the quality brought to the city Saturday was good.

Pickling cucumbers were much in evidence, and sold well at 35 cents a hundred.

Onions were a little more plentiful, but were slow at 50 cents a peck.

Quotations on spring chickens dropped a little, and went at 65 cents to $1. The quantity offered, however, was not very large.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Aug. 16—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Opening prices on the New York Stock Exchange today were irregular, most changes in standard shares being of a fractional nature. The rail list continued under the depressing influence of unfavorable news developments, St. Paul common and preferred and Chicago and Northwestern yielding substantial fractions. Chicago and Alton preferred, which was under heavy selling pressure yesterday, recovered a part of its loss. Special stocks, which were in good demand yesterday, continued strong in the early dealings. Lima Locomotive, Continental Can and North American each breaking through to new high prices for the year. Trading was rather restricted. Individual strong spots were American Telephone and Eastman Kodak, which advanced ¾ to 1½ points.

ATTEND BURIAL OF FR. CLOHECY

Throngs Pack Proton Church To Hear Impressive Funeral Service.

Slain Pastor of St. Patrick's Parish Interred At Hamilton.

Special to London Advertiser.

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 25. — The remains of Rev. Father Clohecy, said to have been shot down in St. Patrick's Church, Proton, by John Cosgrave, were taken to Hamilton today for burial after a largely attended service at St. Patrick's Church, the scene of the crime, this morning. The whole countryside turned out to do honor to the late priest, and when the service in the church commenced the building was packed to the doors.

Fully a thousand people from all over the district, besides relatives from Hamilton and friends from many parts of the province, joined in this last tribute to the much-loved priest. There were twelve priests from the district and other parts of Ontario.

Requiem Mass Sung.

Requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father McGoey of Markdale and Rev. Father Halm of Ayton preached an eloquent sermon. The service lasted about one hour and was very impressive.

The remains were conveyed by motor hearse to Hamilton and were accompanied by eight or ten motor cars filled with sorrowing friends.

The latest particulars of the shooting reveals the fact that Father Clohecy was shot inside the church. He was in the church and started out into the vestibule when he met his assailant. The latter pointed something at the priest which the latter first supposed to be a stick.

Father Clohecy retreated into the church and slammed the doors. He waited inside for a considerable time and again essayed to come out. He had the door open only about six inches when the assailant thrust the muzzle of the rifle and pulled the trigger, the bullet going through the priest's left lung.

Assailant Escaped.

It is reported that the deaf mute had repeatedly threatened the life of Father Clohecy and the latter became alarmed for his safety. He wrote to John Cosgrove's father asking the latter to take steps to protect him from his son. The letter, it is claimed, came to the knowledge of the deaf mute and seemed to serve to enrage him the more against the priest.

Several months ago Cosgrove attacked Father Clohecy in Connelly's house and since then he has made threats, it is alleged.

STREET CAR JUMPS TRACKS, 22 HURT

SYRACUSE, Aug. 25.—A crowded trolley car ran wild down Walnut avenue hill during a terrific rain and electrical storm here tonight, jumped the tracks, after speeding three city blocks, and was wrecked against concrete and metal lighting poles on a corner. Twenty-two of the passengers were removed to hospitals.

Eleven passengers were found to be seriously injured.

The car left the rails as it struck a curve, and piling up with terrific speed against the poles, was bent in the shape of a letter "V" by the force of the impact. The middle doors of the car were jammed against the pole, and could not be used. The front door was opened and the injured, bleeding and with their clothing torn, were making their way out of the debris when the rescuers came from every direction. Rear windows were smashed, and injured were helped out. Two women were unconscious, a dozen others were dazed and some hysterical.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL FUEL

HARTFORD, Aug. 25.—Thomas W. Russell, fuel administrator for Connecticut, last night sent a telegram to the members of the Senate and House of Representatives from this state, declaring the situation in Connecticut seems to indicate the necessity for utmost promptness in the passing of legislation affecting government control of coal distribution.

Premier King Will Visit His Native City Sept. 13-14.

KITCHENER, Aug. 25.—Word was received in this city today from the secretary of Premier King that the prime minister has definitely decided upon Sept. 13 and 14 as the dates of his visit to his native city and county. A joint meeting of the board of trade and the city council is being arranged to complete preparations for the reception of Kitchener's distinguished son.

CHATHAM WOMAN TAKES OWN LIFE

Body of Mrs. Zephyr Cheff Discovered in Attic by Husband.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 25.—With a cord tided to a bed-post, and which she had evidently wrapped around her neck, the lifeless body of Mrs. Zephyr Cheff was discovered in the attic of her home at noon today by her husband. The gruesome discovery is reported to have been made shortly after the noon hour.

The matter was reported to Coroner McRitchie, who immediately left for the scene of the alleged suicide to conduct an investigation.

Details of the affair are somewhat lacking, but it is believed that Mrs. Cheff took her own life in a fit of despondency. She is stated to have been in indifferent health for some time, and at times had brain trouble.

The deceased woman was 50 years of age, and is survived by her husband, a daughter, at home, and a son who is stated to be practicing medicine at Ottawa.

LENINE PLANNED TO OUST GOMPERS

Report Seized At Bridgman Is Said To Outline Plans For American Soviet.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 25.—Overthrow of Eugene V. Debs and Samuel Gompers as leaders of American labor was urged by Nikolai Lenine and the Third Internationale of Russia, according to a report seized by Federal agents in the Bridgman raid.

The report was made by one of the Russian delegates to the Communist convention, which broke up when federal agents arrested 17 delegates.

Allen Meyers, special agent in charge of the investigation, declared that the report outlined the plans of the Russian Reds to establish a Soviet in this country.

Agents were working to determine whether the report was brought to this country by Arnold Losowsky or Maurice Reinstein, who are known to have been delegates from Russia. Both men escaped shortly before the raid.

"The report reveals that the Trades Union Educational League, headed by William Z. Foster, is an offshoot of the Third Internationale," Meyers stated.

"This report revealed a clear-cut revolutionary program calling on the Communists to overthrow the 'old machine' of Gompers and accept the dictatorship of the proletariat.

"The manuscript stated that the collapse of the Socialist Party in this country was due to the fact that they did not 'organize the masses.'

"'Debs was a man who never really grasped the significance of the organization of man,' the report said.

"This message from Lenine stated that organization of the masses in a revolution program to overthrow conservative leaders, such as Gompers, was the only plan."

Meyers also declared that delegates at the convention had branded rail union leaders as "cowards" who "did not dare to tell their men that this brotherhood was at work."

Warrants for the arrest of 40 additional radicals have been issued by Berrien County authorities following the examination of documents seized in the raid.

As in the case of the seventeen radicals arrested by the raiders, the warrants contain two counts—violation of the Michigan anti-syndicalism law and conspiracy against the government. Federal agents said that arrests would probably be made today in several cities; more than a dozen of them in New York.

A deputy sheriff has gone to Lansing to secure extradition papers for William T. Foster of Chicago, president of the Trades Union Education League, arrested there on information furnished by federal operatives working at Bridgman. The deputy will later go to Springfield, Ill., to submit the papers to Governor Small.

DRIVES BURGLAR FROM HIS HOME WITH SHOTGUN

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 25.—Startled by the sounds of a burglar in his home early Friday morning, Earl Ford, 142 Center street, got out of bed and with a shotgun ordered the intruder to stop. The roar of a passing train assisted in the man's escape, however, and he has not as yet been captured.

In her excitement Mrs. Ford screamed, and attracted the attention of the firemen in the fire hall nearby, who helped in the search. The police reached the scene in record time. The man was seen running down an alley, but was lost in the darkness.

He is thought to be a tramp off some Michigan Central train.

A GROWING CUSTOM

The use of our funeral home with its homelike surroundings and every convenience is becoming more and more favored.

The size of many houses and the inconvenience of holding a service from the average flat or apartment house is partly responsible for this.

But the real reason is found in the satisfaction of such a service, free from the annoyances of reversing every custom and arrangement of the home.

The use of our home is free.

Germans Seized With Panic As Mark Slowly Continues To Decline in Value

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—"Panic" is the only word which properly describes the effect of the fall of the mark from 1,432 to 1,950 to the dollar inside of 24 hours. The government is dazed, the people are stricken numb, and the shops are closing up or being overrun by wild-eyed men and women trying to convert their pieces of paper into something tangible.

The government appears to be helpless, with the reparations commission remaining in Berlin until this evening and the principal questions still unsolved. Members of the Wirth cabinet are wavering between making far-reaching concessions toward metting Premier Poincare's demands in order to stabilize the mark, or breaking off the negotiations and begging the reparations commission for mercy for Germany.

The situation is far gloomier than anything predicted by Chancellor Wirth when he met the foreign correspondents less than a week ago. There seems to be no way of stopping Germany's headlong dash toward the same precipice at the bottom of which the bones of the former great powers, Russia and Austria, are bleaching now. By a strange coincidence the Austrian prime minister, Dr. Siepel, came to Berlin in quest of financial and economic support on the day the mark hit its lowest level.

BESSEMER ROAD ISSUES ULTIMATUM TO WORKERS

GREENVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Striking employees of the Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad today were notified that they will forfeit their jobs and all privileges unless they return to work before 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Some of the 1,200 shop workers here went out August 12. The road is an underlying company of the United States Steel Corporation.

Mines along the Bessemer and Lake Erie are producing about 200 cars of coal daily, loading reports of the road show. When the strike of miners started production fell to 20 cars a day. The big Ford colliery mines in the Freeport region have been reopened.
