German Sub. Bombs Port on English East Coast—Germans Make Some Slight Gains on British Front in Costly Counter Attacks—French Recapture Some Part of Lost Ground at Verdun—Capture of Pinsk by Russians Likely Soon to be Accomplished—Great Dissatisfaction in Hungary Over Course of War.

NORTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND SHELLED BY SUB

LONDON, July 12.—An official announcement says the port of Seaham Harbor, six miles southeast of Sunderland was attacked last night by a German submarine which fired about thirty rounds of shrapnel, killing a woman. One house was struck by a shell.

GERMANS GAIN GROUND IN MAMETZ AND TRONES WOOD.

LONDON, July 12.—British headquarters reports that the Germans, heavily reinforced, delivered strong attacks against the British lines on the Somme last night gaining ground in both Mametz and Trones Wood.

FRENCH RETAKE PART OF LOST POSITION

PARIS, July 12.—The War Office announces that east of the Meuse the French last night retook part of the ground won yesterday by the Germans.

AUSTRIANS EVACUATE TOLMINO

PARIS, July 12.—Reports from the Italian front indicate that the Austrians have evacuated Tolmino on the Isonzo.

TWO GERMAN ASSAULTS ON VERDUN FAIL

PARIS, July 12.—The Germans, the War Office announces, delivered two attacks last night on a French position in the neighborhood of Verdun. Both of the assaults failed, breaking down from the French fire.

RUSSIANS WILL SOON CAPTURE PINSK.

LONDON, July 12.—The Russians according to a special from Petrograd, are likely now to capture the city of Pinsk. Meantime they are engaged in heavy battles in the extreme north-western corner of Bukovina where they are inflicting further defeats on the army of General Pfanger and also along the Stokhod River, where the Austrians and Germans are putting up formidable resistance.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN LOSSES CAUSE GREAT BITTERNESS AGAINST LEADERS

LONDON, July 12.—Morning Post advices from Budapest say the losses of the Austro-Hungarian army during the last six weeks have caused great bitterness against the leaders and that at the next sitting of the Hungarian parliament the independent party will again demand that these be brought to account.

BRITISH CONQUER WHOLE FIRST LINE.

LONDON, July 12.—The British, by the recapture within the last eighteen hours of Contalmaison and the powerfully fortified Trones Wood, have completely conquered the entire German first system of defences on a front of eight miles north of the Somme. They have pushed forward for a distance averaging a mile and a half. At some points their advance has been fully two miles and a half.

The British front last night was less than nine miles from Bapaume, and with the French army to the south looking down on Peronne from the high plateau on the south bank of the Somme, both these important strategic points are gravely menaced.

The day in Picardy was completely calm. It was marked principally by heavy fighting in the Trones Wood, as a result of which the Germans were driven from all but the northern fringe and by furious Teuton counter-attacks against Contalmaison, which was carried by the British during the night.

The French troops of Gen. Foch spent the day in consolidating their gains and in bringing up the heavy guns by which they propose to batter their way into Peronne.

This ruined town already is ringed by fire. The French batteries, directed by swarms of aeroplanes, which have practically driven the Germans from the air, are bathing the shattered city with steel, and pounding the German defence into dust.

The Germans are counter-attacking furiously at many points on this front, as well as against the lines held by the British. They are trying desperately to retain their hold on the Mametz Wood, the larger part of which was wrested from them by the troops of General Haig, and are striking desperately at the British along the Bapaume-Peronne highroad.

RUSSIANS SMASHING THEIR WAY THROUGH

LONDON, July 12.—The approximate total of prisoners taken by the Russians during General Brusiloff's operations up to July 10 amounts to 5,620 officers and 266,000 men, the War Office announced today. Guns to the number of 312 and 386 machine guns have been captured.

The Russian armies are rapidly advancing on the German stronghold at Kovel, it was announced today in Petrograd.

Fierce fighting continues on the west side of the Stokhod River, on both sides of the Rovno-Kovel railroad and the Czars troops are pressing the Teutons back towards Vladimir-Volynski, west of Lutsk.

According to Russian reports, the retreating Germans are setting the forests afire to cover their retreat. The most serious of these screens of flame and smoke are raging between the Stry and Coryn Rivers, and south of the Sarny-Kovel Railroad.

Svidniki and Mosor, where a fierce battle is in progress, as mentioned in the official communication, are on the west bank of the Stokhod, on either side of the Rovno-Kovel Railway. Farther to the left of this widening circle of the battle line beyond Lutsk, the Russians are launching sledge-hammer blows in the vicinity of Kiselein and Zubifno, before Vladimir-Volynski.

The unexpected Russian advance north of the Kovel-Sarny railway carried the Russian line to the Stokhod river, which has been crossed at several points in spite of the best defence the Germans were able to offer.

At the present writing, according to the military critics, there now remain no more natural barriers between the Russian lines and Kovel in the shape of rivers and swamps. It is predicted that early news may be expected of assaults upon the recently constructed German fortifications before Kovel.

ENEMY ADVANCES NEARER VERDUN.

LONDON, July 12.—A day of furious fighting has brought the Germans closer to Verdun. On a front of three miles northeast of the fortress, extending from Fleury past Damloup, the Crown Prince, after a four-days' bombardment, this afternoon threw forward his infantry. Under a fire which cost them serious losses, the Germans broke through the French lines, gaining a foothold in the Damloup position and in the Fumin Wood, where their wedge makes its closest approach to the Verdun citadel.

The Crown Prince then renewed with increased violence his bombardment of this region the climax coming this afternoon. The new attack was launched with stronger forces.

The Germans now have under fire the French second lines on the whole front of attack, apparently in preparation for another attack.

FOE REINFORCES ITALIAN FRONT.

LONDON, July 12.—The pressure exerted by the Italian forces in the Trentino has resulted in the recall of several divisions of Austrian troops which were about to be sent to the eastern front, according to the official statement issued in Rome today. The Italian offensive continues. The statement follows:

"In order to withstand the pressure we continue to exercise in the Trentino, and our counter-offensive activity in the Boite and But Valley and on the Lower Isonzo, the enemy has been obliged to recall to this front troops withdrawn towards the eastern front. This is ascertained in the case of the Third Corps, and the Sixth, Twenty-second and Twenty-eighth Divisions, which were on the point of departure, and the Ninth Divisions, and the One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Landsturm Brigade, which were already on the way.

"Yesterday there was an intense artillery duel in the Adige Valley."

'PROTESTANT BOYS' AT TRENTON

Local Societies Paraded Early This Morning With Pipe Band.

Bellefonte Orangemen, True Blues, and 'Protestant Boys' showed their colors today. In goodly numbers the brethren of the local societies congregated at their lodge rooms on Front street this morning. At nine o'clock the procession was formed. Pipe Major Albert Johnstone's pipe band leading, and playing familiar airs. The 'Protestant Boys' marched with a color guard, all in uniform. Joining in the sweltering twilight of July sun. They took the C.N.O.R. special for Trenton for the big demonstration there.

MACHINE GUN SCHOOL

Lieut. McGie, 155th Battalion, in Charge Raising the Standard of Efficiency of the Operators

The examinations for the officers attending the Kingsdon School of Machine Gunnery will be conducted on Friday and Saturday of this week by Lieut. McGie. There are about twenty taking this course from which successful candidates may secure a certificate of qualification in machine gun work. All officers commanding machine gun sections of battalions must take the course, and there is also a number of other officers in the rank who have attended, and now thoroughly understand this wonderful instrument of destruction.

A reorganization of the machine gun equipment for battalions is now being worked out. Previously, each battalion was issued with four Colt guns, but now eight Lewis guns are being given to each. These require more operators, and the school is therefore more necessary than ever.

The machine gun in war time has taken a new phase since this great war broke out. The Germans were better equipped in this way than were the Allied armies, and the victories that have been theirs, the machine gun was probably one of their advantages. However, the Canadian army is now well supplied, and the qualifications of the operators are getting higher steadily as "experience teaches."

HARD TO LOSE

Four Good Officers of Each Battalion By Order

The elimination of four officers from the strength of each battalion has brought up a hard problem for some of the officers commanding, to solve. There are four men in a great many cases are four of the best officers on the strength. They have thoroughly learned their duties, and have the progress of the battalion as a unit always in mind. It will be hard to arrange for the transfer of some, but of course the order will be carried out. The officers may be absorbed into the establishment, but in some cases transfers to other units will be necessary, as the establishment of many is now complete, with every position well filled.

It is published for the information of all concerned, that the following have been decided by Military headquarters:

To adopt the establishment of an infantry battalion, as laid down in war establishments, part VII, 1915, paragraphs 20 to 24, as amended by army orders dated the 1st October and 1st November, 1915, by a paymaster and pay clerk are to be added to the headquarters, under attached, and each of the four companies will be commanded by a major with a captain second in command.

The instructions governing the organization and administration C.E.F. have therefore, nothing whatever to do with the establishment of an Infantry battalion, and no assistant adjutant or Major, 3rd in command is any longer authorized.

Majors, third in command, assistant adjutants, Transport Officers and Signalling Officers, who have already been appointed, must be transferred or absorbed into other units, with as little delay as possible. Those belonging to units already warned for overseas service, will be allowed to embark, but in future, only the authorized establishment should be sent overseas.

Adding a paymaster under headquarters attached, the total number of officers in 31, and if a chaplain is added there will be 32. These are all that are now authorized for overseas service.

YOUNG TRIO GIVEN TERMS

One of Vagrants Has Six Previous Convictions for Theft.

A trio of young men who were arrested about a week ago for vagrancy and pleaded guilty were this morning up before Magistrate Masson for sentence.

Fred Thomas, who was arrested at the G.T.R. by Constable Truatsch was given four months in the Ontario Reformatory. His record was clear as far as previous convictions were concerned. The Magistrate told him that there was no excuse for able-bodied young men being out of work. At the Central the prisoner would learn how to work.

Jack Foster or Rex Kline Foster, also received four months in the "O.R."

Wm. Smith, whose right name is Fred Wilderson, he said, has a very bad record, six convictions for theft, two of them associated with breaking and entering. For these he had been given two suspended sentences, two terms of six months and two of ninety days. To-day for vagrancy he was given 6 months and such further term; not to exceed in all two years less one day.

The youths were those who ate a hearty meal at a Chinese restaurant at the Chinaman's expense, having no money to pay for it.

FARM FURLOUGH

A number of farmers from points east visited Barrieffield camp Monday in search of men to help gather in the hay harvest. Some were willing to take any kind of help they could get, but most of them wanted to do a lot of picking and choosing. Some wanted men to work for $18 a month, but nearly all of the farmers looking for help were willing to pay something better in order to secure men. Many of the farmers came in automobiles, and were prepared to take the men away with them at once, and some did, but others were not quite so successful. The greatest number of farmers were from points east and north of Brockville, and many came from Hastings and Prince Edward county. Lt.-Col. Bedell of the 155th battalion seemed to be a special favorite with the farmers for they all found their way into the lines of the 155th, and impounded the commanding officer for farm help. Lt.-Col. Adams of the 155th got his share of applications too, and the 154th were not exempt. The 93rd and 109th were hardly bothered, as it would be of little use to ask these battalions to furnish farm help at this particular time.

COLLAPSED DURING OPERATION

Sudden Death of Miss K. Lally at Hotel Dieu Last Night.

The news of the sudden death last night at Kingston of Miss Kate Lally, one of the most popular of Belleville's young ladies, was received here with deepest sense of regret. Miss Lally had gone to Kingston to have an operation performed for the removal of tonsils. Dr. O'Connor was the surgeon and he began to operate at Hotel Dieu about eight o'clock. Before the operation was completed, it was noticed that the patient's hear was giving out. The operation was not finished and Miss Lally passed away before midnight. She had some years ago suffered slightly from heart weakness. Collapse was the cause of death, for the operation is considered to be one of minor importance.

The late Miss Lally was the only daughter of the late Michael Lally and resided at 15 Queen street with her brother, Mr. John E. Lally, of the Inland Revenue Department. She leaves two other brothers, Rev. Thos. Lally of the Jesuit Order, Montreal, and Mr. Joseph Lally of Minneapolis. She was a devout member of St. Michael's church.

Miss Lally was very well known, and was extremely popular by reason of her affable manner. The remains will be brought to Belleville this afternoon by the G.T.R. International Express.

Chief Newton was elected to the executive.

Chief Newton was nominated for the vice-presidency of the association but declined in favor of Chief Ridd.

LIEUT. MACFARLANE REPORTED WOUNDED

The following report which appears in today's Toronto papers would indicate that the earlier reports of the death of Lieut. Bruce MacFarlane was an error.

Lieut. Bruce MacFarlane of Melrose, Ont., whose name appeared in a recent casualty list among the killed, but who was later reported only wounded. Lieut. MacFarlane was a captain in the Grenadier Guards before he went overseas, but he took out a Lieutenancy at Montreal in the 60th Battery. He was musketry instructor at Bramshott before leaving for the front. He is twenty-six years of age, and prior to the war was a partner in a Montreal firm of chartered accountants.

SOLDIERS HOOTED SIR SAM.

Shout That They Will Not Stay in Camp Borden But General Says That They Will.

Camp Borden, July 11.—When Sir Sam's special backed into the station platform preparatory to leaving at three this afternoon, a crowd of privates surrounded the general as he stepped off his train. Sir Sam was good humored about the jostling and carefully looked his men over.

"What regiment are you from?" he asked a man. The private did not answer, and the crowd stood "watchfully waiting." The general spoke quietly for a few minutes and then got on the back of his car.

"Are we going to stay in Camp Borden?" shouted a private.

"No," yelled the crowd.

"To— with Camp Borden," yelled others. "I'm splitting dust now."

The general maintained a steady face. Again the question was yelled at him, "Are we going to stay at Camp Borden?"

"Yes, you will stay here, all right. You will be here when I come back to see you," said Gen. Hughes.

"Cries of 'We will not,' and 'Why don't you stay?' greeted the general's comment. The crowd hooted as the train pulled out.

ORANGEMEN AT CHRIST CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Blagrave Addressed Protestant Societies on Sunday Morning.

ENGLAND AMONG NATIONS

Designed to be Protector of Liberty Throughout the World.

There was a large turnout of Orangemen, True Blues, Prentice Boys and Sons of England at the annual Twelfth of July church parade in the city yesterday.

The church was crowded with the brethren and friends of the orders. The service consisted of morning prayer with appropriate hymns.

After a few words of welcome to the visiting societies the rector said that for two centuries people have been trying to appreciate the latter half of the seventeenth century but in the year 1816 we find this more different than ever before.

England was designed to be the pioneer among the democracies of the world. Again Britain is called to be a leader among the nations.

The rector paid a glowing tribute to the loyalty of the Dominions. "We have entered with our Mother England and know something of the sacrifice and glory."

Unless all ethical principles are as true, there is bound to come back to England some return to every sacrifice mother and wife and hero and just in proportion as the resolve is made just so strongly will liberty be established, so truly will barriers be broken down.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSSES.

A Week of Joyous Fellowship. Difficult to Realize the Amount of Work Done, Officers Elected. Next Year's School Likely to Meet at Albert College

This year's school is over. It has exceeded expectations. Every teacher and speaker on the program took the work assigned. The number attending was larger than last year. It is anticipated that next year's school will be still better. The school is not a convention—it is a school. Bible study is central. A vision of real Bible study has been given many. The Word of God has been revealed as a treasure, rich to those who dig the depths. The Mission Study Classes have been telescopes—revealing the mission world as a great field of operations in the fight for the Kingdom. Teacher training classes have fitted leaders for service in Sunday School. Mass meetings have been inspirational. The recreational life has ministered to the spiritual as well as to the physical life. The fellowships of the week will be lasting. The results will be permanent.

The Rev. Frank H. Langford, B.A., is the right man in a good place. He has a warm spot in the hearts of delegates. Dealing with the time devoted to worship in the session of the Sunday School, he asked that it be not called preliminary exercises. It is a vital part of the S. S. The devotional service should develop the life—it is not simply preliminary exercises. Members should realize the dignity and reverence in worshipping God. The hymns suited to the secondary division—those from 13 to 20 years of age—should be hymns of action, expressing the aspirations of the young people. "Jesus loves me this I know" will be sung heartily by children and the aged, who revert to childhood. Bit a study of the faces of young men and women asked to sing that hymn is a revelation. It isn't suited for them. But they will wholeheartedly sing "Onward Christian Soldiers." The school should have its departments, and each department should have a devotional service suited to its needs. We must work until those from 4 to 8 years of age be by themselves from the opening until closing of the school. Three departments of the school now have special literature. Today we have the tragedy in many schools, of teaching beginners what young men from 17 to 20 years need to know. The uniform lessons, being chosen for the whole school, are not even the best for adults, for the soul of Hebrew history, the prophets' messages, are used less than the Books of Chronicles and Kings. Children need stories about Bible children. They wouldn't understand the story of the whole life. Begin the use of graded lessons gradually. Use them for primary and Junior first.

The Sunday schools must not exist for themselves, they must express themselves in life. If we miss the opportunity of early years we cripple ourselves for life. This is a practical age and we need worship, instruction and expression more than our forefathers: "We must express practically by co-operation with the home. In the Kingdom of God we must try to keep children sweet and pure. The branch that beareth not fruit He casteth away." We give the children lessons, but we need to give them something to do. Unless we use our religion we will lose it. It is dangerous to get filled with a desire to serve unless we translate desire into actual service. If we don't give them work to do, the devil will. Teach them to pray and to pray publicly; to read the Scripture publicly; to give a short talk; to be like Jesus. The call is coming to each of us to do some particular thing. Answer each call as it comes. We are expecting results in S. S. work, but are we preparing for results. The one great outstanding need in our work at this hour, is emphasis on boys' work. The great majority in khaki are between 18 and 30 years of age. A great national campaign will be launched in October through Boys' Conferences.

We have no statistics for Methodist church such as the survey of Presbyterian church gave that church, where only one out of three boys between 17 and 20 years of age are actually in attendance at S. S.

So far as can be ascertained 15 per cent of decisions for Christ are made before the age of 12; fifteen per cent after 20; and 70 per cent, between 13 and 20 years of age. At the same period only 70 per cent of these are enrolled in S. S. and only 45 per cent are in attendance. This is startling and should arouse us to action.

The building in which the S. S. meets is important. Best results cannot be secured unless attention is given to this. Many a church, built like a barn, could have S. S. rooms added. Folding doors and curtains can be utilized. What an impetus to the S. S. work, what an inspiration to the workers if every school had rooms adequate to its need. We must agitate and educate until this need is supplied. Plans for S. S. rooms and buildings will be supplied by Rev. S. T. Bartlett, Toronto, on request.

9 MONTHS CLINK FOR A DESERTER.

Mohawk Private of 155th Terrorized Peaceful Town of Deseronto and Was Arrested.

A wild rampage, which included the mauling of the chief of police of Deseronto and the terrorizing of the gent who polish the mahogany in the numerous gin shops of that quiet town, terminated Monday morning when Col. Hunter sentenced Private G. A. Brant of the 155th Battalion to nine months in central prison, for deserting his battalion. The deserter is an Indian, being a descendant of the Mohawk tribe.

Pte. Brant after being sentenced made the charge that he had been forced to join the army. He told Col. Hunter that he was arrested at Deseronto for being drunk and the following day a recruiting officer told him that he would either have to join the army, or go to jail for six months. He joined the army.

"That's got nothing to do with your actions after joining," said the Colonel, as he scribbled his sentence on the official stationery.

Major Allen of the 155th testified that Brant had enlisted on January 4, 1916, and on May 8 was given one month's furlough to do ploughing. He left the farm and also failed to report back for duty.

Asked if he had ever been punished for misconduct the prisoner said he had done drill for falling to sleep in church.

"A nice quiet place to sleep," commented Major Allen.

While it was not brought out in evidence it was learned that for the past few weeks, Brant and his pals had been raising a great row in Deseronto. They took possession of a bar and chased a bartender out. The chief of police arrived and endeavored to make an arrest and they pounced on him, stripped him of all his outer garments and chased him to the street. Brant was recognized by Lt. Wilson who was home on leave and was placed under arrest last Thursday.

In passing sentence Col. Hunter told Brant that he had feasted on "victuals fit for a wedding" while in the army and that his officers "who were good Christian men," had shown him every consideration. He had failed to display any sense of appreciation and would have to serve nine months in Central Prison.

THE PIRATES OF FINANCE UNMASKED TONIGHT

"The Pirates of Finance," constituting the 16th episode of the serial series, Graft, is announced for exhibition at the Palace Theater tonight, and Thursday matinee and night. The greatest battle of all is at hand, Stanford Stone, the head of the graft trust and head of the mighty money trust, is preparing to create a panic in the money market to discredit the activities of Harding in his fight against organized big interests, and at the same time to crush Harding and anyone who may be in sympathy with him. Harding also is gathering his forces for a last great effort. Since coming to New York he has established a residence that he may practice his profession. Being a resident and a voter, he is entitled to hold office. They induce Harding to accept the nomination of their party for Mayor of New York. Stone and the big bankers dominating the clearing house committee, which in turn exercises arbitrary power over the finances of the country, start a panic and destroy a number of solvent banks. He also bitterly opposes the election of Harding, even to the extent of having him fired upon while making a speech in the open. In spite of all Harding is carried into office on a landslide of reform. Stone's power is broken and he prepares to flee. Besides the above offering, "His Brother's Pal," a 2 part dramatic classic, and From Beanery to Millions a highly amusing two part L. K. gloom killer, featuring funny Alice Howell will also be exhibited.

LAI'D TO REST

The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie Russell took place this morning at St. Michael's church. Mass was said at the church and at the grave by the Rev. Father Higgins. The bearers were Ald. St. Charles, Wm. Lynch, Fred Meagher, James Dougherty, J. Murphy and Jas. Scott. The mass cards and funeral offerings were many, which testified to the esteem in which the late Mrs. Russell was held.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Mrs. Margaret Murray was arrested last night on a charge of assaulting her daughter Myrtle, causing actual bodily harm. This morning as the crown was not ready she was remanded until tomorrow.

THE BIG CIRCUS WED., JULY 19.

It is asserted that Coop and Lent possess some of the very best clowns in the circus field. There is a laugh a second tucked away between exploits of daring and feats of skill. Thrills and laughter chase each other around the great canvas each vying for supremacy. Sometimes the thrills are on top, then merriment gets the strange hold on sensationalism.

The slap-stick methods of the unfunny clowns of yesterday are tabooed. There are madcaps, wits and cutups, "jesters," fools and buffoons. Sunny Jims and Happy Jacks from every part of the compass. Much fun is also introduced into the program by clever burlesque aerial bar, high wire artists and innumerable comedy animal acts.

Coop and Lent will exhibit in Belleville on Wednesday, July 19th.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY MADE! CURES CATARRH PERMANENTLY.

Formerly doctors prescribed stomach treatment for Catarrh and Bronchitis. They seldom cured and Catarrh has become a national disease. Today the advanced physician fights Catarrh by medicated air. He fills the lungs nose and throat with the antiseptic vapor of Catarrhose. Cure then is certain. It is easy for Catarrhose to cure. It contains the essence of pure pine balsams, reaches all the germs and destroys the disease. Every case of Catarrh, Bronchitis and Sore Throat can be cured by Catarrhose. The dollar outfit lasts two months and is guaranteed to cure; smaller sizes 25c and 50c, sold everywhere.

Sandy Grant M.P.P., for East Hastings, S. B. Rollins, reeve of Tweed, and Messrs. Wm. Garrett and Timothy Sullivan also of Tweed were in the city yesterday attending the funeral of the late Dr. J. F. Mather.

Night after night the attacks return and even when brief respite is given the mind is still in torment from continual anticipation. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy changes all this. Relief comes, and at once, while future attacks are ward off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere. Apple Snowballs. Boil two cupsful of rice in milk until nearly done, then strain it, pare and core as many apples as there are portions to be served, put a small quantity of sugar and a clove in each apple, lay on a small floured cloth, covering each with rice, tie each ball separately and then boil until the apples are tender. Half an hour will usually be enough. Serve with a good Rocky mountain sauce. Scarcity of Bottles. Empty bottles are being collected and sold by Boy Scouts in Belfast. The scarcity of bottles at present makes this a very remunerative occupation. The movement originated with the Boy Scouts' Association, of which the Lord Mayor is president, the idea being to raise funds to provide a recreation hut at the front. Escaloped Cabbage. Cook cabbage in boiling salted water until tender, drain and chop if desired, put in a buttered baking dish, pour over a white sauce, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.

FRENCH CAPTURE HILL They Hold Strong Position Dominating the Somme. Capture of Blanche Brings the French Troops Up to the Doors of Peronne and Forces German Artillery From Left Bank of Somme—British Troops Have Also Made Great Gains in Their Advance. PARIS, July 11.—Sunday's capture of Hardecourt and Hill 139 was immediately followed on Monday by the French advance of the night wing, taking Blanche. This movement is very important from a strategic point of view. It not only brings the French up to the doors of Peronne, but it clears all German heavy ordnance from the left bank of the Somme. The French offensive now extends, and thus, of course, greatly menaces manoeuvres of the last German defense of Peronne on the west. Selecting it puts the British in a position to attack the German line at Hardecourt and Hill 139, which is the last strong position that the Germans hold between the French and the river along the front of the offensive. British and French forces co-operated in a vigorous stroke Saturday against the German lines just where the banks of the Aisles meet, near the village of Hardecourt, a little southeast of Montauban. Such was the vigor and strength of the assault that in 35 minutes after the battle began Gen. Foch's men had driven the Germans out of Hardecourt and had taken the nearby village of Mamelon. The British troops also made great gains. Following a fierce bombardment, the infantry stormed a line of trenches, capturing the Bois de Trones, which lies to the east of Montauban. According to an unofficial report, the advance here amounted to fully half a mile on a considerable front. The British troops have made progress at Contalmaison and are extending their hold on Ovillers. Again Sunday the British made progress in the neighborhood of Ovillers and gained ground in Hardecourt village, the capture of which is admitted in Sunday's official statement from Berlin. At other points they delivered fierce attacks, which broke down before heavy fire from the enemy's guns. The British captured the village of Hardecourt and Hill 139, and by the envelopment Sunday of Blanche and the sector immediately south-west of Peronne, the French now hold the German line along the whole front in the Somme offensive. The possession of Hill 139 brings the troops of Gen. Foch to within three kilometres (two miles) of Comblès, and at Blanche they are less than two kilometres from Peronne on the south, Comblès in the centre, and Bapaume in the north are the three main German supporting positions in the sector under attack and all have been turned in the last twenty months into veritable fortresses. With Peronne now under their guns, however, the French have only to take Mont St. Quentin, the city's only remaining defensive position of strength to sweep the entire sector behind their lines. "Germany Admits Position Critical." LONDON, July 11.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, in an editorial review of the situation, according to an Amsterdam despatch, says: "The British offensive on the Somme is critical, and we depend more than ever on the superiority of our leadership. What is important now is the proper utilization of our forces which calls for weighty considerations. 'The immense responsibility devolving upon our staff in the west is terrible, but our fortress is firm.'" Russian Hospital Ship Sunk. PETROGRAD, July 11.—The following summary on war was issued by the Russian Ministry of War: "An enemy submarine without warning sank the hospital ship Yperode, which carried all the distinguished signs. Seven men lost their lives; the others were saved." The hospital ship Yperode was the successor to the hospital ship Portugal, also sent to the bottom by a submarine, according to the semi-official news agency. The Portugal was sunk on March 30 while she was transporting a large number of wounded. One hundred and fifteen lives were lost, and the Russian Government sent a note of protest to all neutral Governments. Aeroplanes Rare on British Coast. LONDON, July 11.—Hostile aeroplanes have dropped bombs on the English coast, but so far as is known did no damage. An official statement issued by the War Office says: "Shortly before midnight Sunday enemy aeroplanes visited the south-east coast of England. From the information available, about five bombs were dropped. No damage is reported so far. Anti-aircraft guns engaged the raiding machines. No further details have been received." Canadian Casualties. OTTAWA, July 11.—Seven Canadians were killed and 42 wounded at the front Saturday, according to cables received at the Militia Department. This is not a very heavy list when considered in connection with the news that the Germans have been heavily bombarding the Canadian lines. The name of but one officer appears in the list.

16,000 PRISONERS TAKEN. Week of Allied Offensive Has Shown Splendid Results. PARIS, July 11.—The French official report says: "The operations on the Somme front from July 1 to 7 resulted in the capture by us of more than 9,500 prisoners. Among the important war materials that we took we counted up Sunday 75 cannon and several hundred machine guns. The Rear correspondent sends this despatch, dated Saturday, at the press camp of the British army: "It being a week ago to-day since the British offensive developed, the occasion is opportune to review the progress made. We have pushed in the German salient between Albert and the Somme to an extreme depth at the point of our greatest advance of about three miles. We hold the villages of Hardecourt, Peronne, and Mametz, and are well across the fringe of Contalmaison. At various interesting points of tactical importance our line is firmly established. "We have taken upward of 6,000 prisoners, 51 machine guns, a large number of automatic rifles, trench mortars, mine-throwers, search lights, and other military booty. "The enemy is known to have suffered terrible losses. For example, the third division of the Prussian Guard, brought up as reinforcements, has been so depleted that the remnants of the corps have been withdrawn as no longer war-worthy for the present. The morale of the German troops is badly shaken, this applying equally to the officers. "The heavy rains of the last two days have much impeded the operations. Nevertheless, our troops have been fighting incessantly, and in many spots have made substantial gains. The spirit of the men is wonderful. They fully realize they are now playing the part of the top dog. "As a result of their dash it may be mentioned that in their advances there are practically no stragglers, so eager are all to get to their goal. This, under the heavy conditions of the front, is a very rare thing. "The British troops have been often like a quarry, in the sense that there is every reason to be satisfied alike with the progress and prospects. "THE WAR IS FINISHED." So Say German Soldiers When Captured by French. PARIS, July 11.—The new French front before Peronne appears to have been fortified so far as to facilitate flanking movements southward and a widening of the position already conquered. French infantry inaugurated this operation Saturday night by successful attacks in the region of Bellefleur, where 850 Germans were made prisoners, and east of Estrees, where fifty men were left in French hands after an assault on a communicating trench. "The French had yesterday reached the first line of their adversaries when the Germans were seen cowering out of their trenches in clusters with their hands up and marching in double-quick time toward the French trenches. "The war is finished. The war is finished," cried many of them with their faces expanding into smiles as they leaped into the French communicating trenches and fled back to the rear between lines of more French troops, waiting for the word to take their turn in the assault. The prisoners then cried for water and bread. MERELY A PRESSURE. Franco-British Effort Is Not Intended to Pierce German Front. PARIS, July 11.—The Paris military critics contrast the Franco-British offensive on the Somme with the Russian offensive, and find a similarity between the former and the German effort against Verdun, where each big operation has been followed by some days of trench to trench actions. The Franco-British effort, the critics say, is not to pierce the front, but to keep up a steady pressure. The military critic of Le Journal calls it an adaptation to field warfare of the lessons learned in the siege warfare at Verdun. Gen. Mallette writes: "It is not yet a general offensive preparatory to a general assault, it is a combined offensive pressure preventing the enemy from shifting his forces among the various fronts and thus depriving the enemy of the benefit of his central situation." The Mallette says that the cannons captured by the French and British in the last few days include French guns from Maubeuge and Russian guns captured on the eastern front in 1915. THREE COMMANDERS TAKEN. Russians Capture Line of Fortified Positions Near Erzerum. LONDON, July 11.—The official statement issued by the Russian War Office regarding the operations on the Caucasus front reports continued success. In the region south of the town of Platana the Turks made violent attacks on the night of July 6-7, but were repulsed by Russian fire. West of the Erzerum line an entire line of fortified positions were captured by the Russian troops, and 81 officers and 193 men were made prisoners. Of the officers two were regimental commanders and one a battery commander. Seven machine guns and one cannon were also taken. Sunday's Petrograd War Office report says: "On Saturday in combats west of the Erzerum line one of our columns made the same mistake. It was not long before the 'box of matches' fell to a penny, and finally was given away to the purchaser of tobacco."

STRONG MAN IN CRISIS NEWEST BRITISH PEER. Henry Chaplin Has Been a Minister in England's Cabinet. The Rt. Hon. Henry Chaplin, who has just been created a peer, has discharged the duties of leader of the nominal Opposition, in virtue of his seniority among ex-Cabinet Ministers, since the formation of the coalition Government. It is said that Mr. Chaplin's failing health necessitates his retirement from the strenuous life of the Lower Chamber, of which, by the way, he has been a member almost continuously for nearly fifty years. The son of a parson—that kind of parson who was both country gentleman and clergyman, and was termed a "squire"—and educated at Harrow and Christ Church, Oxford. The new peer is 75 years old. While quite a young man he came into splendid inheritance in the shape of the Blankney Estate in Lincolnshire—to this day he is termed the Squire of Blankney in the House of Commons. The estate consisted of many thousands of acres of valuable land and a splendid mansion, and the rent roll was pretty nearly a quarter of a million dollars a year. Harry Chaplin—he is one of those who are called "Harry" all their lives—got through the lot in pretty short order. For truth to tell, this now veteran statesman and newly-made peer was not a little of a roystering fellow in his hot youth. Hunting shooting, deer stalking, racing, card playing, dining, winning, and the rest of it—he was the equal of the best in any or all of these. When King Edward was acting the part of a young Prince Hal, Harry Chaplin was one of his nearest and dearest intimates. He is said to have won as much as $500,000 on a single race, and doubtless has before now many times lost pretty handsomely. In his old age he was glad to accept a pension such as an ex-Cabinet Minister of impoverished means is entitled to, of about $6,000 a year, and to live at Stafford House as practically a pensioner on the bounty of the Duke of Sutherland, his kinsman by marriage. Yet, with all his faults and foibles—and they are neither few nor small—Mr. Chaplin has always been a great favorite in the House of Commons. Squire, sportsman, and something of a scholar—in the sense that he has cultivated a taste for literature such as is not often possessed by the average country gentleman—he is very far from being a fool in public matters, whatever he may have proved himself to be in the management of his own affairs. In fact, an astute judge as Disraeli welcomed him as a recruit of promise when he was first returned to Parliament to swell the ranks of the Conservative minority in the year 1888. His admiration for Disraeli has affected his political views almost beyond belief. When a young and impressionable member he was accustomed to note that great man's air of Olympian reflection, and his assumed grandiloquence of manner, and he came to the conclusion that if these were essential to Parliamentary success he would succeed in Parliament. However, Disraeli possessed a good deal that Harry Chaplin could not match. And though the latter has been a Cabinet Minister, he has never reached a higher position than that of a second-rate man. Insect Trainers. Ship-cargoes are often responsible for the introduction of quite new species of insects in different lands. Banana bunches often hide poisonous reptiles and insects which travel long distances, only to bite or sting the hand of some receiver of fruit. Often they escape alive and breed their kind. Many venomous snakes have thus been introduced into lands where none existed before. Strange creatures have been imported on the blooms of orchids, and West Indian insects have traveled in Easter-lily blossoms. Destructive moths migrate in fruit ships. Flying insects often follow ships. One curious case was that of a vessel from the tropics followed by a swarm of butterflies, called the "butterfly ship." They hid in the cabins and holds, emerging forty days later when the ship reached England. Thus originated quite a new species of butterfly in the British Isles. Blunt. Jones' opinion of himself as a golfer was very much greater than his skill warranted. Recently he was invited to play on a certain famous Scottish ground, as a visitor. Armed to the teeth with clubs of all sorts and sizes, he set off, and, followed by a caddy, proceeded to play. He buried his ball in every bunker, gully, and bit of rough ground on the course. I have never played on a golf course so badly. "How did you ken?" replied the lad in quiet scorn. "Ye hevens played on it yet!" King George's Letter. His Majesty the King wrote a letter to Windsor Castle when he was six years old, and it realized $5 at a Red Cross auction sale at Slough recently. It was penned in long, clear, upright characters, and read as follows: "I am writing with your lovely ink, and thank you so much for bringing it down last night; it was so very kind. We went yesterday to see grand-mama's awards, picture, the bullet, in a locker that killed Nelson, the sword full of arrows, Tigers, peacocks, and stars. We will write with this ink to mama to-morrow. We were photographed yesterday and the day before. The man took a long time—something on the aut"

FIELD SPORTS AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Delegates Spend Afternoon in Sports - Feel Need of Recreation - Classes Grow in Interest.

Yesterday afternoon the delegates to Summer School held their annual Field Day on the Campus of Old Albert. The committee of management was composed by Rev. W. P. Rogers, B.A., a former athlete of Old Albert, Miss Hawkins and Miss Cox. The races and games created much amusement. The prizes were awarded according to the Y.M.C.A. Canadian Standard Efficiency Test. Miss L. Holden and Miss Burckell won the championship prize for ladies, and Revs. W. W. Jones and W. P. Rogers for men. Many other prizes were awarded.

Promptly at 9 o'clock in the morning, delegates and some visitors met in the chapel for the Bible Study under the leadership of Dr. McLaughlin. A most helpful feature of these studies is the talks to the students on personal experiences. Prof. McLaughlin brings home the truths to the conscience of the individual. The school is designed to train leaders but those leaders need to be pure of heart if they are to have the vision. In opening, the doctor emphasized the strength that comes from taking heed to our ways according to the Word of God. "Thy word shall I lay up in my heart that I shall not sin against Thee." Lay up some word daily in the heart as a treasure. "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my way."

I Thessalonians is among the first of Paul's letters to the churches; II Thess. among the last. One can see the warm friendship between the aged Paul and his spiritual child Timothy—a touching reminder of the rich spiritual fellowship. In II Thess. Paul gives counsel to people disturbed in their minds about the coming of our Lord. Some had given up their work, expecting Him. What's the use of working if Christ is coming? they thought. And they were disturbing and unsettling others. It was true then as now that idlers are busy-bodies. Paul counsels, he says, be purposeful; then when the Lord comes you will be ready. Paul gives similar counsel: do your work every day, do your duty; then you will be sure of "Well done, good and faithful servant."

After visiting Ephesus, a commercial center closely related to Corinth, both being seaports, Paul returns to Antioch, at which place he receives a disturbing message about the churches of Galatia. Some Jewish Christians were preaching there a false Gospel. They were sincere, but it is not enough to be sincere. Humility, modesty, a willingness to learn should go with sincerity, else harm may be done. These Jewish Christians, instead of doing missionary work in other places, were following in Paul's tracks. In Galatia were many Guitill converts, who knew little of the Mosaic law and Jewish customs. They had faith in Christ though Jews and Gentiles were living together in Galatia. These Jewish Christians were now teaching that every Christian should be or become a Jew, must conform to the law, keep the feasts, bear the marks of a Jew. It was a crisis. They were putting these things in place of faith in Christ. If those who believed in Christ were not saved without conforming to Jewish customs then Christ was not all-sufficient. How intolerable this theory would have been to the Greeks, Franks, British, Chinese, Americans! But in Christian history the same wrong idea has crept in time and again. You must dress in a certain way to be a Christian. You must pray through a certain form. You must receive the sacraments from men ordained in a certain way, and among Methodists, some have believed you must be converted in a certain way or by a certain method. These Jewish Christians taught that Paul was not really an Apostle. In II Cor. chapters 10, 11 and 12 Paul handles his enemies without gloves. He was going back to Galatia, but in the meantime sends a letter. He goes back to his own conversion when he defends his apostleship. In Galatians 2: 11; 15ff he says we are not justified by the works of the law but by faith in Christ. Did Christ therefore (speaking of Jews) make us sinners? God forbid. We found salvation in Christ and preached salvation to Gentiles—now if having believed in Christ, we say we must do this or that we are slighting the work of Christ; and it is no longer I that live, but Christ liveth in me. The Doctor had heard Father Bernard Vaughan preach on "The Reasonableness of Faith." Fr. Vaughan said that faith was "believing something on good authority." But we believe not simply something about Jesus, but we believe in Jesus as our personal Lord and Saviour. That is vastly more and better than believing something on the authority of others.

Of course we believe what the apostles tell us about Him; but we also believe Him. "Christ liveth in me"; a present personal friend. Keep on trusting Him, even when depressed or self-condemned. With trust comes obedience. Faith becomes the fulfillment of the law. We are then under the law of Christ.

Prof. G. F. Stewart's talk on "Tongues in trees, seasons in stones, books in running brooks and good in everything" which he translated as "God in Everything" was in the opinion of some competent to judge, one of the best they had ever heard. The first book ever written was the Book of Nature, and it is the greatest except one. It has much to do with literature. We cannot appreciate the best literature unless we understand and appreciate nature. The wonders of nature are described in Job and the Psalms. Christ used natural phenomena to illustrate His truths. God is regnant in all His world. No one is so reverent and adoring as the Christian who is conversant with nature. Every star is an embodied thought of God. Some go through life with closed eyes. "A primrose is to the river brim, a yellow primrose is to him and nothing more." Tennyson however said of the flower "If I could know you, root and all, and all in all, I would know what God and man is."

Truly "Earth's crammed with Heaven, and every common bush affame with God." The speaker mentioned some of the wonders of nature and some wonders of the infinitely small, and maintained it requires a greater degree of faith to believe the truths of science than religious truths, e.g., the strength of gravity required to hold the earth in its orbit is equal to that of a solid column of steel one mile square from the earth to the sun. Science resolves all, matted into atoms and molecules and affirms that these are composed of electrons which is an electron? It is not a material thing but a mere center of force; so in the universe there is nothing but force and energy. The speaker expressed the opinion that all forces and energy are manifestations of the will of God. God created all things, from Himself. The mind of man measures stellar distances, weighs the sun and tells what stars are made of. But greater than the mind of man are spiritual forces. "Man was made but a little lower than God." All spiritual forces of the universe are at our disposal if we will but utilize them. Prayer is the tapping of the resources of God.

Prof. G. F. Stewart gave another talk in the afternoon on "Great Characters in Fiction." He is showing us, as few are able to do, the value of the best in literature. Among the characters briefly sketched were Tito, the beautiful boy who gradually deteriorated under the subtle influence of selfishness, Macbeth, Jean Valjean, which he described as the greatest character taken from the greatest novel of all time, and Dickens' Little Nell. He closed by reading selections from Whitier's "Red River Voyage" and "Eternal Goodness" and by quoting Tennyson's "Crossing of the Bar." The readings and quotations illustrating the poet's ideas as to the river and the sea as symbols of Life and Death.

In the evening Rev. R. T. Richards, B.A., gave a thoughtful and practically helpful paper on methods and aims of the Literary and Social Department. The E. L. is many-sided. An important factor is the social and literary work. The League ministers to "body, soul and spirit."

"Tis the mind that makes the body rich." A League should have a small, well selected library, or where there is a public library, arrangements might be made to furnish individual members, through this department with books. Books interpret life. We can have the wisdom of past ages and thus make progress by using and developing the knowledge of the past. The Bible is a great field for literary work. There we have Psalms—songs of praise and penitence—Drama and essay, simple letters of friendship. Biography is a rich field. Joshua's military career would compare favorably with that of some modern leaders. Then Luther, Knox, Wesley could furnish helpful studies. Poetry enriches the mind and stirs the emotions. Wordworth describes and interprets nature. Tennyson brings us into contact with human life. The E. L. is not a social club, but should raise the tone of social life. Prayer meetings and class-meetings are good, but do not, of themselves supply the stimulating social atmosphere. Socials should not be primarily for raising money—a good wholesome social does not, necessarily mean refreshments, although the Anglo-Saxon never refuses to eat. Friendly visits of neighboring leagues are helpful. The social and literary department has a great responsibility and a great opportunity.

Rev. M. E. Sorenth, B.A., LL.B., President of the Conference, assured the school of the prayers and best wishes of the Conference. He spoke briefly and forcibly on "Our Task." We are living in the greatest year of all history. Wonderful things are happening that in other years would be counted marvellous, as for instance—Prohibition, aeroplanes, chemical inventions, etc., of this year will mean much in time of peace. Everything is being changed. No more will Germany be the center of culture, of manufacture or of music. This time of transition is the Gethsemane and the Calvary through which the Kingdom of God will be ushered in. What is our task? What are we doing? Are we living each day in high and holy principles. We must keep Canada right for the boys when they come home. We haven't time to spend in frivolity nor money for cigarettes. Are we preparing to take the place of leaders; to step into the breach? We need to train others to take the place left vacant by our noble dead. The great sweep of temperance gives us a great opportunity not only to keep prohibition, but also to save those cursed by strong drink. There are ours to bring them into the fold of Christ. We must be up and doing. What we are learning at the school should be translated into action. We must take Canada for Christ.

Rev. F. H. Langford, B.A., also gave a stirring address, a report of which will appear later.

Notes: A photo of the school was taken the other evening. The majority of the delegates are young women, but these were flanked by the young men and ministers present. As the delegates are an active bunch, the photographer kindly intimated we must "keep quiet." Many public school teachers are in attendance. The "Small Talks" are given each evening at 7 o'clock under the blue sky. They are most helpful. During the afternoon short rambles are often taken by groups. Fellowship and friendship are golden links among those who are so closely associated for the week. If all St. S. Superintendents could hear Rev. Langford's address, a revolution would be wrought in Sunday School methods and results. Rev. Stanley Annis, M.A., B.D., under appointment to West China, is representing the Mission Board.

FLEET OF VESSELS VICTIMS OF MINES. Germany's Method of Undersea Warfare will be Exemplified at the Exhibition. The ever present perils which must be faced and circumvented by the British Navy when scouring the broad bosom of the sea for a glimpse of the Hun vessel sneaking furtively about, hiding itself under water or sowing treacherous death dealing mines broadcast, will be vividly pictured at the Canadian National Exhibition. Hidden mines, torpedo attacks and desperate onslaughts by the aerial corps will each afternoon threaten a sturdy ship of war, which will eventually succumb to the murderous action of an undersea mine, the magazine exploding with a deafening crash, throwing tons of water and wreckage high in the air. Surrounding mines will explode at intervals while the land batteries and anti-aircraft guns devote their energies to the invading airmen, who are hovering about endeavoring to drop their explosive cargoes on a vital spot. It will be a picture of war never excelled at the Canadian National.

CANAL OPEN SOON TO PETERBORO

Ponderous Lock Gates Now Being Put in Position.

For the past week contractors on the Trent Canal have been at work preparing to place the lock gates on the various locks from Frankford to Campbellford and on Dominion Day they brought the big derrick required to hang gates, up as far as Bradley Bay. The gates of the lock at Bradley Bay were hung on Tuesday and it is expected that the gates on the locks near the paper mill will be in place at the end of this or the beginning of next week.

Arrangements are being made with the Grand Trunk Railway and it is quite probable that in the course of another few weeks one of the spans of the railway bridge at Campbellford will be lifted out of place and the gates and derrick required to finish the work will be brought through the bridge and up to Healey Falls, hanging the gates on the town locks as they go up. When the gates at Healey Falls are hung navigation will be open from Lake Ontario to the canal, through Peterborough, and as far as Orillia on Lake Couchiching. A few more months will be required to clean up a few odd jobs and get everything into working shape.

The locks on the Trent Canal are 175 feet long, 33 feet wide and 3 feet deep, and they are capable of passing up very fair sized boats, boats capable of carrying as large a cargo as a double-header on the Grand Trunk line through Campbellford can draw.

Some of the scenery along the canal is very beautiful and the Department of Railways and Canals is expecting that the canal will handle a very large amount of the American tourist traffic from the Thousand Islands on the St. Lawrence to the 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay. In the summer of 1917 Campbellford should see a good many pleasure craft on the way up the river, for runners of an ever-increasing tourist trade we hope.

As some of the citizens of Campbellford will be interested in the hanging of the gates in town, it is of interest to note some of the larger gates weigh 50 tons apiece. They are made of sticks of Douglas Fir, three feet square, bound together with iron plates and bolts and shod with brass castings.

The derrick required to lift these large gates is a steel pontoon and weighs over 300 tons. It draws seven miles of water—light and handles a fifty-ton gate very easily. It was built during its trial turned upside down in the Welland Canal, owing to the chains on the test load breaking away. It was quite a difficult job to resurrect the derrick from its bed in the bottom of the canal—Campbellford News.

SHELLS FOR MUNDS MADE AT THE EXHIBITION.

Deliveries to Germans Through the Gun Muzzles of the Allies. Though munitions of war are being turned out in hundreds of Canadian factories few but the men actually engaged in the work know anything of the system employed, the process being one of the most closely guarded of war secrets. The veil will be lifted when the Canadian National Exhibition opens on Aug. 26. Permission has been obtained from the War Office, through the Canadian Government, to show the processes of manufacture and several machines, operated by skilled workmen, will be engaged for the two weeks turning out shells and projectiles for delivery to the Haas through the gun muzzles of the Allies.

39th SOLDIER KILLED. Lance Corporal Michael Maddigan Makes Supreme Sacrifice for King and Country. Another young man has made the supreme sacrifice for King and country in the person of Lance Corporal Michael Maddigan who formerly resided on Bagot Street, Kingston. His mother Mrs. Annie Maddigan, 41 Lower Bagot Street, received a telegram from Ottawa stating that her son had been killed in action on June 18th or 19th.

The young man as well known in that city. He was born there twenty-five years ago and has lived here all his life. He enlisted in January, 1915 in the 39th battalion of Belleville, and went overseas in June 1915. In England he was transferred to the 26th battalion and has been at the front since October, 1915. His wife and two small boys are in England having gone over last summer. His mother, sisters and brothers reside at 41 Bagot Street. The deceased young soldier was a member of St. Mary's Cathedral.

WON SILVER CUP

Valuable Prize Comes to Local Insurance Man.

The Ontario desires to compliment and congratulate Mr. Geo. W. Anderson, the local representative of The Sun Life Assurance Company of Montreal for a further notable success he has won in the field of insurance salesmanship. Mr Anderson has been awarded the silver cup by his company for having placed the highest percentage of life-insurance in the division of Eastern Ontario for the month of June. This division includes all Ontario east of York County.

When it is considered that he was in direct competition with the veterans in such centers as Peterborough, Kingston and Ottawa the importance of his achievement will be better understood. Mr. Anderson is a comparative late comer into the game having been devoting only a portion of his time to life-insurance solicitation the past year.

It will be recalled that he won a similar honor in the month of January, the present year.

The cup is beautifully mounted on an ebony base and may be seen on exhibition in the window of the Angus McFee Jewelry store.

Celebrated Elephant Pals, Coming

Two, at least, of the great herd of Elephants with the big Coop and Lent United Circus which are billed for their pioneer appearance in Belleville, on Wednesday, July 19th, are ranked among the most valuable and famous pachyderm performers ever known to the circus public. These animals are introduced in special exhibitions—apart from the others of their kind—by their original and only educator, Mr. Art Eldredge, who enjoys anyable international distinction as a subjugator of these huge beasts, and particularly for the remarkable nature of the education he seems to have been able to endow the subjects of this article with.

The very antithesis in size—one (Tim), a pygmy, the other (Samson) a giant—with distinct dispositions from early environment and of different breeds, one an African jungle captive, the other born in the Coop and Lent menagerie; during their last European tour of the Asiatic spectacle, yet, through constant inseparable association, a bond so strong of friendship now exists between this unique pair, it is said, the emotions or temperament—no whatever these things are called in elephants—of either being disturbed, is immediately affected by the other.

Tim and Samson will be recognized in the free street parade, marching side by side at the head of the herd. At times, if the march is a long one, Samson loops his trunk around his tiny pal and furnishes transportation for both.

ADMITS SELLING BEER TO INDIANS.

Deseronto Proprietor's Plea is That Things Are Going to the Wall. W. N. Myles, Deseronto House, Deseronto, accused of selling to Indians, and also to men who were intoxicated, has had his license suspended by the Ontario License Board from July 8 to 24. Myles admitted having sold only beer to Indians, but denied having sold to intoxicated men. Chairman Flavelle stated that the information was that a scuffle took place in the bar on June 17 between two men, and one was so badly injured that he had to be sent to Kingston. From subsequent evidence it appeared the latter man had a leg broken. Myles declared the two men were not intoxicated.

QUINTE SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSÉS

Rev. Stanley E. Annis, B.D.

Mr. Annis has spent the week among the delegates, and through personal contact as well as by public addresses has done much to give us a clearer vision. He spent the past year at "The Kennedy School of Missions" Hartford, Conn., and is now under appointment for West China. He had in early years come under the influence of a former pupil of Albert College. Speaking on the Missionary Challenge he said that after Carey had his vision of the need, the East India Company would be costly, extravagant and imprudent; that the scheme was pernicious, dangerous and fantastic. It would bring peace and safety into peril. That was only 100 years ago. Even a great Church Assembly had declared it was absurd and improper while one unsaved was unreached at home. But Christ's message was that his religion was for the whole world, carrying with a world obligation for service. Christ's command was to preach the gospel, to instruct in its meaning so men can intelligently follow, and to organize them so as to help them live the life of service.

Behind the command was the training course of years with the Master Teacher. Today we have vision as in those early days. We have come to the open Bible and to the truth of the Bible. Freely we have received access to the world is easier now. Shall we freely give? Daily cablegrams are posted in West China regarding the war. The result of the last Presidential election in the U. S. was cabled from San Francisco and was known in West China before the majority of the Americans themselves knew it. The situation in non-Christian nations is better known today. They are wide open to Christianity, but there is a spirit of independence and patriotism, and China and Japan do not propose to suffer from aggressions of Western nations.

Also there is a spirit of racial consciousness. "We belong to the East, you to the West. We have our ideals, they are just as good as yours," they say. There are complex and intricate questions which require Christian Statesmanship.

But there is another feature. Today these nations are ripe to accept the message of the living Christ. Since the war began there has been a great rush to the Christian schools than before. There is wholesale turning to Christianity that is staggering. There is great evangelistic campaign in Japan. "Hallelujah Kim" is the Billy Sunday of Japan. There were 1,300 conversions in Japan in two weeks. Protestant missionaries are asking for 474 new missionaries to help care for the converts. Seven thousand are enrolled in study classes. The evangelical churches in Mexico, the land of strife, are packed to the doors. In India, schools are full and there are not enough churches to hold the people who want to come.

In Europe, there is a great demand for New Testaments in the trenches, so special evangelistic work is being done in France and Bulgaria. The Liquor Traffic is being driven out at home and abroad. The leaving influence of Christianity is being felt in non-Christian religions.

But there are vast unoccupied fields, and some not yet even planned for. There are 100,000,000 in India alone for whom there is no missionary. The magnitude of the task is a challenge. Nothing can save the world but the divine resources. They are placed above disposal if we are willing to use them. Shall we do our bit? The workers' training school of the Chentu District held its annual session at Jenchow last October, in many respects similar to the present school at Albert College. Eighty-five Chinese men were present out of one hundred and four delegates. It lasted one week, closing on Sunday.

It was preceded by a three-day prayer-meeting Sunrise prayer-meetings were held. It developed into a great spiritual upheaval. On the last day the spirit of God swept the company and all over the church, men fell upon their faces confessing their sins and craving pardon. It was a repetition of Pentecost. The evangelists, teachers' wives and Bible women unanimously agreed:—To tithe their income; to establish as a standard of church membership that no person was to be received and baptized until he or she had led another to Jesus Christ; to begin immediately a concerted evangelistic campaign.

Mrs. W. P. Rogers. Spoke on "Aims and Methods in the Junior League Work." A friend of Tennyson's once said to him, "My dearest object in life, when at its best, is to leave the world, by however little, better than I found it. What is yours?"

Tennyson replied: "My dearest wish in life is to have a clearer vision of God." In the combined objective of those two friends we have the crystallization of the E. L. motto "Look up! Lift up!" If Tennyson's motto be the actuating power in our lives, nowhere do we need to guard the motive more jealously than in contact with children.

There is no work in the church which needs a broader vision, a clearer insight a deeper devotion than the work of the Supt. of Jr. League. The solemnity and importance of Christ's last commission "Go and preach the Gospel" has been recognized from Paul's time down to our own. But no less solemn and no less important was the Master's repeated injunction to Peter: "Feed My Lambs; feed My lambs." Can we realize as did the Master that life is to be redeemed in its fountain and at its source; that the child is but the potency and promise of the man, and that the po-shouldn't you be good?" Do not make this mistake in your estimation of womanhood and their quality of goodness. If a girl is good, true and wholesome she has had to pay the price for the virtue, for the average girls meet and struggle with as many, if different temptations as the average man, and at the time of decision of right or wrong, quite as critical.

The downfall of one now and again is attended by much bitter criticism and comment, but a similar downfall from grace of a man is comparatively unnoticed.

The great influence of womanhood on the character of home and country should call us to give consideration to the training of girls of our home. The women of the world decide eternal destinies. A God-fearing, God-loving womanhood makes a God-fearing, God-loving nation.

The young women of Canada have a two-fold responsibility. We should fit the young women of Canada for the discharge of their duty to God and our fellow-citizens and must also send the gospel to women of other lands, which will make them ready to do their work of redemption. The call comes first through the home. These are days of restlessness and aspiration beyond the bounds of the home. They are invited to step into a sphere that seems wider than the somewhat limited circle of the home. A girl conscious of her own ability and with ambition to make good will ask herself if she has the right to give up her life and ambition, and perhaps regrets the fact that she is restricted from living her own life by the sense of duty to those at home. There are cases where a girl can best help her friends by going out into the world, but if the home needs her, she can do better than by making the most of the daily round, the trivial task, she will not find time hanging heavily on her hands. Nowhere can she find so many occasions for lending a hand which lightens the pack and so bravely helps the fellow pilgrim along his way. We take comfort in the thought that we are serving where God has placed us. Even if far from home, we are still responsible for our duty to the home folk, and should so live such lives as will bring no discredit to the home. Then the call comes to us through the church and community. Young women must arouse themselves to meet the need. Boys will invariably respond to the teaching of a consecrated young woman, who wears well and tries to live right, when they will not respond to teaching of a man who is not wholly consecrated.

We must broaden our sympathy in order to discharge our duty. There must be complete consecration, high ideals and development of head and heart. The doors of knowledge are open even for those who cannot attend college. Then some must fit in the smaller corners of life, and do the work others do not care to do. At a tea-meeting there are always those willing to do the showy work, but there is also the quiet dark corner for washing the dishes. It is a girl's privilege and duty to demand of her friends the same purity of speech and conduct they demand of her. We should refuse to walk, drive or associate with men who have lost self-respect. Women of the higher type should not associate with men of the lower type. The speaker said as she thought of the Summer Schools of previous years and of the wonderful results she felt it was worth while. We cannot spend a week together in this way without glorious results.

each morning in the rooms of the delegates, conducted by themselves. The group photo of the school is exceptionally fine. A cut of it will appear in Youth and Service, the only distinctly Young People's paper in Canada.

A Boys' Conference will be held next winter. A booklet containing a historical sketch of the Quinte Summer School will be issued in a year or two. It has been held first at 12 O'clock Point, then Bobcaygeon, Chemong Park, Wellington and Albert College. All former students or delegates are requested to send items about any feature of these former schools, or any photos, etc., that might have value in the preparation and gathering of material to Rev. S. F. Dixon, Stirling, who has been appointed Historian.

Rev. Mr. Annis gave a searching talk Sunday afternoon. Prof. McLaughlin's sermon on Sunday night was a continuation of and a summing up of the week's Bible study, with a powerful plea for a virtuous life. This was followed by a veneration and consecration service with a definite objective. Rev. S. C. Moore, B.A., B.D., chairman of the Belleville District warmly commended the work of the school. Six students wrote on the Teacher Training Course and more will do so later as the result of the classes. The teachers ably led the respective classes, both in teacher training and in mission study.

Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., leader of the Social Service Group at the school preached in the Tabernacle on Sunday evening. The officers for the ensuing year are: Honorary Presidents, Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A., D.D., Albert College and Rev. R. A. Whattam, Peterboro; President, Rev. Wm. Higgs, Millbrook Ont.; 1st Vice Pres., (Christian Endeavor), Rev. W. H. ANY WOMAN'S STRUGGLE FOR GOOD HEALTH QUICKLY REWARDED

A Simple Home Treatment Now Advocated that Gives Fine Results.

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong.

Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment.

At the close of every meal, with a sip or two of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine.

Ferrozone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination.

By perfecting assimilation, Ferrozone supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability.

Elimination is assured because Ferrozone sickens the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health. Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself—sold everywhere in 50 cent boxes, 6 boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Carthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.
