SIGNS OF SPRING

SPRING is Nature's painting time. She tints the trees with soft green leaves. She colors the fields with glowing flowers. And sets us the example of brightness and cheerfulness which we should follow in putting our homes in keeping with Nature's glorious outdoors.

Spring time is painting time — and good

They Were Pals.

They had always been 'just pals'— friends from school days, when Jimmy had invariably let Caroline carry home her own books. In fact, many times Caroline had carried Jimmy's that he might skip off untrammelled to a game of ball.

Naturally enough as they grew up together each relied upon the other as an ever-ready comrade. They had attended all the youthful dances together simply because Caroline's parents would not permit her to go with a stranger, and Jimmy had been quite about.

'I don't have to tell you every time we dance together, that you are the best of the lot,' he often remarked with frank admiration. 'I hope the fellow you hook up with will appreciate you.'

'We will have to try and fall in love at the same time, Jimmie,' laughed Caroline, 'otherwise we will miss each other fearfully.'

Later, when Jimmy had been accepted in a large firm of interior decorators it was to Caroline he invariably turned with his newest designs and ideas.

'How is that?' he would exclaim with eager longing for praise.

'If I marry a man wealthy enough to permit it I will give you the contract for my house, Jim,' she told him after having admired a particularly wonderful scheme of coloring for a breakfast room.

'And the man, Caroline—it may bring me fame and fortune.'

'Perhaps he is waiting out west for me,' laughed Caroline. 'If he should be I will shorten my visit and return here to give you the contract.'

'You might telegraph it,' laughed Jimmy and drew a sigh. 'By jove it will be lonesome this summer.'

'Perhaps loneliness for you may drag me back, too,' Caroline told him, and looked at her big handsome comrade with lighter loving eyes. 'You are a treat to the vision,' she added, maybe you will let me kiss you goodbye this time when I go.'

'Just try me,' laughed Jimmy.
It had been no idle threat with Caroline for when she left for the west she stood on tiptoes and kissed Jimmy good-bye.

'Maybe you'll find that wealthy husband!' he called out as she waved her hand.

'I will turn into a searchlight,' she called back.

Jimmy turned back into the New York that was so undeniably lonesome without Caroline. There were few girls he cared for since she had filed all feminine interest for him.

He plunged into work, and days slipped into weeks and weeks into two months.

It was then that Caroline's letter came in which she wrote of the thing they had joked about as having come true. Jimmy scanned the pages a second time.

'Jimmy, want you to select a pretty six room apartment. It must overlook something green, either the river or some of the parks. Do decorate it throughout in your own taste, but I make every room lovely. I am very much in love, Jimmy boy, and you must do your best. Could you possibly have it done in five weeks?'
It had hardly wait to see you—there is so much to talk about. Always yours, Caroline.

A frown gathered and remained between Jimmy's fine eyes. It was hard to realize that a third person had come into the friendship of years.
Who was he and what would he be like—this man to whom Caroline had given her heart? Jimmy knew that it was going to be difficult to look with any kind of favor on the man who undoubtedly was taking away his comrade from him. The beauty of unshared intimacy was no longer possible. Jimmy's frown grew to a scowl.

A week later he wrote a letter telling her that he had taken an apartment overlooking Morningside Park, and was busy doing all that she had asked. Jimmy entirely forgot to congratulate Caroline, and the girl smile ed rather wistfully when she realized the omission.

'I wish you might love as deeply as I do,' she wrote back; 'the world grows so wonderfully big and bright —then.'

Jimmy kept that letter. It was the first time he had ever kept a letter of Caroline's. Perhaps he had never before noticed that her letters exhaled a soft fragrance.

That day Jimmy made some splendid designs and rejected that the work on Caroline's apartment was nearing completion. He had found it more difficult than he had supposed it would be to decorate a home for Caroline and another man.

A few days later when he had met her at the station Jimmy looked smilingly into her eyes when she put slim fingers that trembled into his.

'Does love do all these to you?' he asked with a laugh that was not the Jimmy laugh. 'Who is the man?' he said with an attempt at mockery. 'I would like to condole with him.'

'You are not so cheerful yourself, Jimmy,' she returned, and essayed a Caroline smile.

'I am not supposed to be in love,' he told her quickly. 'The world has not grown wonderfully big and bright —to me.'

Caroline glanced wistfully into Jimmy's eyes, but remained silent and she and Jimmy stood together within the dimly furnished apartment that was his masterpiece.

'Perhaps you have never questioned yourself about being in love, Jimmy,' Caroline said, and her voice was deep and true. 'I did not know that I was until I questioned myself and—'

Her fingers had turned about his arm; Jimmy turned rather white.

'Don't!' she said, it is too late for me to question myself—I love you
Caroline.'

'I knew it!' she cried joyfully.
'You might have known there would never be any man but you in my life.'

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

Cakes, hot biscuit, hot breads, and other pastry, are daily necessities in the American family. Royal Baking Powder will make them more digestible, wholesome, appetizing.

No Alum—No Lime Phosphates

Spring Seeding.

There is old saying which has been accepted as a half truth, to the effect that a 'late Easter brings a late spring.' Little faith is to be put in weather predictions, especially of such a general character as this. Even with all our scientific knowledge and appliance it is only possible to see a day or two ahead. There are, no doubt, changes taking place in the climate of the country, but these are so slow as to be scarcely discernible in a life time. Our springs and summers seem to be cooler and our autums and winters warmer.

Replenish Your Blood in Spring.

Just now you are feeling 'out of sorts'—not your usual self. Quite exhausted at times and cannot devote real energy to your work. Sleep does not rest you and you wake up feeling 'all tired out.' Perhaps rheumatism is flying through your muscles and joints, or maybe your skin is disfigured by rashes, boils or pimples. Headaches, twinges of neuralgia, fits of nervousness, irritability of temper and a disordered stomach often increase your discomfort in the spring.

The cause—winter has left its mark on you. These troubles are signs that your blood is poor and watery, that your nerves are exhausted. You must renew and enrich your blood at once and restore tone to your tired nerves, or there may be a complete breakdown. The most powerful remedy for these spring ailments in men, women and children is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, because these Pills cleanse bad blood and strengthen weak nerves.

New, rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring—is plentifully created by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and with this new, pure blood in your veins you quickly regain health and strength. Then your skin becomes clear and eyes bright, your nerves strong, and you feel better, eat better, sleep better, and are able to do your work.

Begin your spring tonic treatment to-day for the blood and nerves with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—the Pills that strengthen.

These Pills are sold by most dealers, but do not be persuaded to take 'something just the same.' If you can't get the genuine Pills from your dealer they will be sent you by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr.
Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It was Smith's first Sunday as usher in church, and he was a bit flustered. Turning to a lady who entered he said, 'this way, madam, and I'll sew you into a sheet.'

Putting Off.

'What made you stop right in the middle of your sentence, and then start talking about something entirely different?' The questioner laughed and his friend joined in as she replied to the puzzled query.

'If I think in time, I make it a rule never to say to day the mean thing that can be put off until to-morrow,' she explained. 'By to-morrow it is out of date, and does not get said at all.'

Which goes to prove that putting off—of a certain sort—is not always the bad habit we have been used to believe it. How about the falsehood that tempts? Put off until a quiet moment, it is easily banished forever. and one can be honestly glad that he did not do it now. What of the doubtful amusement? Put aside until one has time to investigate or think it over, it loses its lure.
Whoever repeated of the dishonest deed put until later reflection or greater courage came to conquer it?

Oh, yes, putting off—of a certain sort—is a pretty good thing there are
that must be settled on the spot.
Others there are which can be most easily put off—and killed later on,
with mustered strength and courage, which perhaps were lacking at the earlier moment.

Oh, yes, putting off—of a certain
sort—is a pretty good thing there are
that must be settled on the spot.
Others there are which can be most easily

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., APR. 3, 1914.

Editorial Notes.

The voters at the Kingsfield, Me., town meeting did not think that they could afford enough money to put all the roads in good condition. Accordingly every voter agreed to contribute one day's labor, and enough money was appropriated to pay the other expenses. By a second agreement, each voter will give another day later if it is necessary.

The citizens of Kentville are moving in the matter of providing concrete sidewalks for their town. An example has been set by the Royal bank which has laid down excellent sidewalks on Webster and Aberdeen streets fronting their new building. At a meeting on Thursday evening of last week the sum of $4,000 was voted for the purpose. Wolfville has set the pace for the valley in the matter of good streets and should not be behind in providing up-to-date sidewalks.

Board of Trade Notes.

At the regular meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade held on Monday evening last the following committees were appointed with power to add to their numbers as the member ship of the Board increases:

Trade and Commerce—Mayor J. D. Chambers, W. C. B. Harris, T. L. Harvey.

Press and Tourist—J. F. Herbin, C. M. Gormley, Rev. G. Bryant.

Civic Improvement—J. E. Hales, Dr. G. E. DeWitt, A. M. Wheaton, J. F. Herbin, Rev. G. T. Bryant.

Athletics and Playgrounds—J. W. Williams, Dr. G. B. Cutten, Dr. J. T. Roach.

Membership.—Two teams were organized, captained by A. M. Young and H. Stairs, respectively, to carry on a vigorous new membership campaign.

This is an effort to get 'new blood' into the Board, and also to stimulate all the 'old bloods.' Every citizen of both sexes will be invited to identify himself or herself with the town's Board of Trade, the scope of whose activities embrace the moral, mental, social, industrial, and physical well-being of the community.

The Trade and Commerce and the Civic Improvement Committees will meet this week at the call of their respective conveners to consider several important matters to be reported up on at the next meeting of the Council of the Board on Monday evening, April 6th, at 7:30.

Will the members who have not at ready paid their dues kindly do so at an early date as funds are urgently needed to carry on the work of the Board. G. T. BRYANT, Sec'y.

Less Dyspepsia Now—Here's the Reason.

The fact that there is less dyspepsia and indigestion in this community than there used to be is largely, we believe, due to the extensive use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, hundreds of packages of which we have sold. No wonder we have faith in them. No wonder we are willing to offer them to you for trial entirely at our risk.

Among other things, they contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe the inflamed stomach, ally pain, check heartburn and distress, help to digest the food, and tend to quickly restore the stomach to its natural, comfortable, healthy state.

Incorporated towns do not hesitate to issue bonds for public improvements including permanent roads, all of which require maintenance and many of which require frequent renewals to maintain their efficiency. If any of the townships of this county attempted to build a system of permanent roads by issuing bonds, spreading the work over fifteen years, building one-fifth each year, paying one-half of the cost of this by direct taxation and using fifteen year bonds for the remainder, the cost would be distributed over 30 years. A section of road in the township would be comparatively light and by a proper organization of the work by the municipality haphazard work would be eliminated and the people would receive value for the money expended.

A remark made at the convention by a prominent citizen of this county, was to the effect that should we build permanent roads we would be compelled to mortgage our farms. The remark was made without thought or reason. The town of Wolfville is raising $40,000 bonds for permanent roads has not even property holders to mortgage their properties. On the contrary, the value of property has increased while each taxpayer has had to pay only a few cents more per hundred dollars than when he labored in the mud. It is not unreasonable to say that the rich sections of this county, where traffic is greatest, can do likewise.

Training School for Nurses

Opportunity is open to a limited number of properly qualified young women who desire to train for nurses in one of the best equipped hospitals located in the suburbs of Boston. The hospital has in connection with it a new and thoroughly equipped Nurses' Home, which houses every comfort and convenience. Only those who have either a college or high school education, and who are between the ages of nineteen and thirty years, and who can present satisfactory evidence of good health and character need apply.

For further information, address Superintendent of Training School for Nurses, CHARLES ORRANTE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL, Woburn, Mass., U.S.A.

Good Roads.

Mr. Editor:—The Good Roads Convention held at Kentville on the 28th ult. seemed to favor the continued use of the 'split log drag.' My comment upon the proceedings of the meeting may cause some to exclaim, 'What does he, a doctor of medicine, know of the construction and maintenance of good roads? Let him confine himself to his profession and talk about that if he chooses and leave the other subject to the farmer, merchant, lumberman, fisherman and men of any other occupation or to those who have heretofore constructed and maintained roads in this county.' May I modestly suggest by doing so we will remain in the 'slough of despond' where such deplorable and inefficient management has brought us at the present day. May I also humbly suggest that the doctor who for the past 45 years has travelled the roads of this county day and night, through sunshine and storm, the highways, by roads and roads through forest and swamp; through snow and mud, and who all this time has witnessed the incompetent road building the lack of care in the upkeep of the roads, the profligate waste of time, material and money, ought to know and have something to say about it, I, nor anyone who knows the utility of the split log drag, will condemn its use after a road has been properly constructed and the material and other conditions of the road favorable to its use, but the split log drag will not keep us out of the mud. The aim of the Good Roads Association should be to look further ahead than the split log drag. On roads where traffic is heavy in the season, where rains are frequent, or the frost coming out of the ground in the spring, the drag will do little in lessening the draft of heavy loads. While it may be expedient to use the instrument in maintaining the roads of the country for a time, I think it should be the aim of the association to seriously consider the building of surfaced roads in this county. Why do I say this? Because we have had some experience in permanent road building in the town of Wolfville. The road is built of bituminous macadam, from 15 to 30 feet in width, costing about 10,000 dollars per mile, and there is not a taxpayer who would go back to the old mud road for ten times the cost it has called for. A country road need not be 30 or even 15 feet in width. Taking an example of permanent road building in Ontario we find that 9 feet in width in country roads in localities where stone can be obtained from one to three miles distant a permanent water-boned macadam road can be constructed for less than 3000 dollars per mile. But, says the taxpayer, we cannot afford to pay two or three thousand dollars per mile for a permanent road. Oh! No. We would better go on using the material in the road-bed and gutters, and the split log drag, subjecting man, beast and vehicle to an expenditure of four times the labor, time and money. No matter if the product of our farms is increasing year by year, increasing the haulage and wearing out the energy of man and beast. We will just plod along as our progenitors have been doing for the past two or three hundred years waiting for the government. Some people are forever waiting for the government to come to their aid in building and maintaining roads. Why should such prosperous townships as Horton, Carwallis and Aylesford wait and long for government aid to construct roads over which is the greatest traffic of farm products.

Incorporated towns do not hesitate to issue bonds for public improvements including permanent roads, all of which require maintenance and many of which require frequent renewals to maintain their efficiency. If any of the townships of this county attempted to build a system of permanent roads by issuing bonds, spreading the work over fifteen years, building one-fifth each year, paying one-half of the cost of this by direct taxation and using fifteen year bonds for the remainder, the cost would be distributed over 30 years. A section of road in the township would be comparatively light and by a proper organization of the work by the municipality haphazard work would be eliminated and the people would receive value for the money expended.

A remark made at the convention by a prominent citizen of this county, was to the effect that should we build permanent roads we would be compelled to mortgage our farms. The remark was made without thought or reason. The town of Wolfville is raising $40,000 bonds for permanent roads has not even property holders to mortgage their properties. On the contrary, the value of property has increased while each taxpayer has had to pay only a few cents more per hundred dollars than when he labored in the mud. It is not unreasonable to say that the rich sections of this county, where traffic is greatest, can do likewise.

Forty men or more have been appointed a committee to guide the good roads movement in this county. What are they going to do about it? Do they intend to confine their attention to the use of the split log drag as some advocated at the convention and continue to wade in the mud, or do they intend to educate the people by giving them a piece of surfaced and gravel road?

The people of this county know what bad roads are. One mile of good roads will secure more converts to the cause of improved roads than will 10

Death's Harvest.

Citizens were shocked and grieved to learn on Sunday last of the death of Mr. Andrew Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed residents of the town. Only a few days the news of his passing away came with a shock to the community of which he had so long been a resident and where so many regarded him as a friend.

Mr. Johnson was a son of the late William Johnson and was born in Wolfville July 25th, 1836. He was the last surviving member of a family which has filled a very important place in this community. With the exception of a few years spent in Falmouth he has resided all his long life time in Wolfville. He was an enthusiastic orchardist, a consistent member of the Baptist church, an ardent Conservative. A charter member of Wolfville Division, B. of T., he maintained his membership until the end of the sixtieth anniversary of the society in December he was present and took part in the proceedings.

The deceased is survived by his wife, who, previous to her marriage, was Miss Olivia Church, daughter of the late Biletha Church, of Falmouth, and one daughter, Mrs. Pelton, who resides in the United States.

The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was well attended. The floral offerings were pretty and the emblem of the Sons of Temperance was placed on the casket. Rev. Dr. Gates conducted the service, being assisted by Rev. W. H. Rackham. The interment was in Willow Bank Cemetery.

The sudden death of Mrs. S. Percy Benjamin, which took place at her home on Wednesday morning, has cast a gloom of sadness over the town. The deceased was supposed to be well on the road to recovery and was progressing so favorably that Mr. Benjamin went to Halifax on Monday afternoon on business and was absent when the end came. Mrs. Benjamin was, before her marriage, Miss Waterbury, daughter of Mr. G. H. Waterbury, of St. John. During the years that she has resided in Wolfville she has made many friends to whom her early and untimely decease is a severe blow. She leaves two little daughters, one an infant, and with the sorrowing husband have the profound sympathy of many friends.

Inter-collegiate Debate.

The debate between St. Francis Xavier and Acadia, in College Hall, on Thursday evening of last week, resulted in a victory for the former college. This is the second time in the ten years of the debating series that Acadia has met defeat. The subject this year was: Resolved, that for the cities of Canada, private ownership and operation of lighting and transportation system is preferable to municipal ownership and operation of these systems. St. F. X. upheld the affirmative and Acadia the negative. The teams were: St. F. X., C. L. McDonald (leader), C. S. Henderson and W. H. Chisholm; Acadia, A. A. Hovey (leader), M. B. McKay and W. S. Ryder. All the speeches showed careful preparation and were ably delivered. The judges, Professors McNeil and Moore, of Dalhousie, and Dr. Palmer, principal of Mount Allison Academy, awarded the debate to St. F. X. in both arguments and presentations. The other judge gave Acadia the presentation. After the debate the St. F. X. team were entertained by the Acadia team at the Royal Hotel.

How to Secure Best Results from Fertilizers

Basic Slag, in itself is not a complete fertilizer, as it only supplies Phosphoric Acid and Lime. In order to derive the full benefit from the Slag, Potash (and in some cases Nitrogen) must be used with it, since the same underlying principle demands for plants as well as for animals a "balanced ration."

In Great Britain the beneficial effects from a combination of Basic Slag and Potash are so well known that the term "Slag and Potash" is one with which every farmer is familiar.

Old Country experience with these materials has been amply confirmed by numerous experiments conducted in the Maritime Provinces.

We can supply you with all high grade fertilizer materials, Potash, Nitrate of Soda, Acid Phosphate, Basic Slag, etc., at lowest prices. You can mix these yourself at home and save 25 to 40 per cent. in fertilizer cost. Call and see us.

The greatest bank is the Bank of England, London.

The oldest college is University College, Oxford. It was established in the year 1050.

The largest college is in Cairo, Egypt. It has on its register each year over 10,000 students and 310 teachers.

The largest bronze statue is that of Peter the Great, in St. Petersburg, Russia. It weighs some 1,100 tons.

Daucaucus is claimed to be the oldest city in the world.

The most costly book is a Hebrew Bible, which is owned by the German government, and which the Pope offered $125,000 for, but which the government of Germany would not give up.

Until recently the most costly medicine has far outstripped it in price bringing about $200,000 an ounce.

How about that dog tax? Dogs around town have multiplied since the year 1912, for, according to the taxes paid there were only about fifteen owned by citizens.

A young man who had just been engaged as commercial traveller by a Montreal firm was warned that the great fault of his predecessor had been want of tact. The young man started out and to the surprise of his employers orders began to come in at a quite unprecedented rate.

The climax came when a big order was sent in from a firm with whom the wholesale house had had a bitter quarrel, ending in a total stoppage of business.

The traveller's employers sent for him on his return and asked him how he had managed that particular miracle.

"I said tact, sir," was the reply, "as you wanted me. When I got to Mr. B.'s shop he came up to me and asked me what firm I represented. Remembering the circumstances, I handed him my card and said, 'Why, this blundering idiot!'"

Tact is a very useful commodity, obtained "without money and without price."

"Given a good highway, the farmer sets to work to rebuild tumble-down fences, to clean out ditches, to get a new coat and hat, to shave a little stiffer, to carry himself straighter, and to take more pride in his house and wife and horse. Presently he is worrying about the appearance of his farm. For the first time he notices that the old home looks run down and painfully like a shack. Nothing will suit him but a change to better quarters before the year is out. Meantime a grand new coat of paint won't be amiss, for he is now somewhat ashamed of the home which he had built with his own hands. Everybody in the neighborhood catches the improvement fever. Neighbors set to work making their collective surroundings better. The schoolhouse is the first thing that comes in for general attention. The church no longer looks so aloof in its spotlessness. In a short, the good road has reformed the man, reformed the housewife, transformed the children. It has made the better husbands and wives and citizens; it has cleaned out the stables and the ballot, and changed ed the ways of living and dealing; it has put more money into the farmer's pocket and more pride of the genuine sort into his heart. It has been a preacher and a lecturer. It has fitted the neighborhood for citizenship, and paved the way for the world to follow. In a word, it has regenerated the community."—Thomas W. Wilby, in 'A Motor Tour Through Canada.'

RAILROAD MAN HAD TO LAY OFF

Until He Took GIN PILLS

Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have been a Pullman conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central for the last three years.

About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pain in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate.

I treated with my family physician for two months for Gravel in the Bladder but did not receive any benefit.

About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected, and who had been cured by GIN PILLS, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try GIN PILLS which I did—with the result that the pains left me entirely."

Good Fruit.

The most successful fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley have for years followed the practice of applying Murrite of Potash mixed with Basic Slag and Bone Meal, or other Phosphatic fertilizer, to their orchards, depending on a crop of clover to supply the necessary Nitrogen and Humus.

There is no doubt that the adoption of this ideal system is directly responsible to the remarkable color and quality of Nova Scotia apples, which features have gained for them so many awards and established their enviable reputation in the markets of Britain.

We can supply you with all high grade fertilizer materials, Potash, Nitrate of Soda, Acid Phosphate, Basic Slag, etc., at lowest prices. You can mix these yourself at home and save 25 to 40 per cent. in fertilizer cost.
