Disorders of the Liver and Stomach. Disorders of the Liver and Stomach.

Most persons will, at some period of their lives, suffer from indigestion. derangement of the liver, stomach or bowels, which if not quickly removed, frequenty settle into a dangerous illness. It is well known in India, and other trojecal climates, that Holloway's Pills are the only remedy that can be relied ou in such cases. Almost every soldier abroad carries a box of them in h's knapack. In England most persons know that these Pills will cure them whenever the liver, stomach or bowels are out of order, and that they need no physician.

Weakness and Debility. Weakness and Debility.

Such as suffer from weakness, or debility, and those who eel want of en.rgy, should at once have recourse to those Fills, as they immediately purify the blood, and acting upon the main-spring of life, give strength and vigor to the system Te, young persons entering into womanhood, with a derange ment of the functions, and to mothers at the turn of life these rills will be most efficacious in correcting the tide of life that may be on the turn. Young and elderly men suffer in a similar manner at the same periods, when there is always danger; they should therefore undergo a course of his purifying medicine, which insures lasting health.

THE FALSE LADY ISABEL.

I was a poor governess; a dependant in a noble house. I had many times seen the father of my two little darlings; I knew that he was handsome, though I seldom raised my eyes to his; I thought him unwontedly gracious, but that was all. They told me I was beautiful. Even the stately old housekeeper, stately to all but me, used to part my long hair with her slender fingers, and once she said, in a dreamy sort of a way, 'it's very fine and glossy, child, it's very soft and silky. In all the wide world, child, there is nothing like a beautiful face—and the Lord made man in his image—oh! be thankful, child, that you are lovely.

PRINTER'S PUZZIE.—As nobody can understand spoke in her cold way, the baronet came in, saying, 'don't frighten her, good Mrs. Hunt.' Even then, I did not think upon his kind glances and tender interest, as some girls would have thought.

The children, fair-haired darlings, how they loved all the children is the children of the control of the control of the children of the control of the children of the control of the control of the children of the control of the co me! They were both beautiful; Grace was a fairy, sparkling-eyed child; Gertrude had deep, dark, shining eyes. They were well named. Gertrude was calm and reflective, given to strange sayings, and dreamy, mysterious thoughts; Grace was only happy when both dimpled hands were heaped with roses, and klases were showered on her round cheeks; she lived in an atmosphere of love.

I was only a governess, and I took no airs upon myself. I was very humble-minded, for I had seen much of trouble and poverty; very grateful, for my situation was a delightful one, and every-the my situation was a delightful one, and every-the my situation was a friend of the situation was a situation for my situation was a dengritui one, and every-body was kind to me. There was a friend of the family who always affected me strangely. She was proud, handsome, rich and titled. She pre-tended to be my friend, but her cold suspicious glances, confused me and made me unhappy.

hor well at evening; I was aroused at midnight by the baronet himself; he was at my bedside. A deadly chill crept over me, and I cried out, Leave me, sir, at once! How dare you—

He did not hear me, I humbly hope, for his words dispelled my terror. 'My little Gertrude is dying, and calls for you.'

I shall never forget that night. The hills were white with moonlight, and I wanted to pluck one violet to take with me. In that quiet hour, I knelt sob-bing over the little mound. 'Yes, oh! yes,' I murmured; 'you have been only too kind.'

'And my poor, motherless child! Would you leave her, Lillian?'

At that I lost all self-control.

he asked in stern tones.

'Lady Isabel!' I gasped, as I grew calm; and as far as my delicacy would let me, I gave her cruel language, word for word.'

'It is false!' he cried, taking my hand. 'So far from boasting that I knew you loved me, Lillian, I did not dare to believe that one so young, so beautiful, so good, and so gentle, might feel other than sentiments of friendship, for a man so much older and graver than herself.'

His voice had grown soft and musical. I was astonished—overwhelmed; my confidence deserted me.

trude? Lillian, tell me—can you love me well enough to marry me?'

Oh! heaven knows that I had long, long loved him, not daring to whisper it to myself in the darkest night; and over Gertrude's grave I answered yes.

Poor Lady Isabe!! She had trusted to her beauty, her gold, her power, and they had failed ther. When she first saw me with my noble husband, she grew white with anger, disappointment and terror that her duplicity had been discovered. She is unmarried to this day; and she loved the baronet herself.

Upon which the Pall Mall Gazette remarks:

"Country magistrates have such very odd notions, both of law and justice, that people are ready to believe almost any absurdity that is imputed to them. It turns out, however, that the Leominster bench has not been guilty of the folly of enforcing an obsolete provision of the criminal code against Sunday cricketers. Several boys, it is true, were lately fined 1s. each and costs for playing at cricket on Sunday, but the offence consisted, not on Sunday being the day on which the game was played, but in the wickets being set up in a field of mowing grass, where the lads were, in fact, trespassers. They would, as Mr. Hardy explained in the House of Commons, have been punished just the same field on any week day."

Nova Scotia.—On Friday last, the Attorney General of Nova Scotia tabled a lot of resolutions in the House of Assembly—to the effect that in proceeding with the business of the country, the Legislature did so under constraint from the Imperial Government. Under such circumstances, no action of the Legislature was to be taken as an acquiescence in Confederation, to which the Government and people are opposed. No compromise will be accepted, as repeal alone will satisfy them. This is something like a resolution compared with the milk and water affair of the Local Convention some days ago, and indicates that Nova Scotia is not going to tamely submit to tyranny and wrong.

A SEA SERPENT AT THE EAST POINT .- A COTTESPONDent at Souris writes :-- "Quite a sensation was caused last week amongst the boats of Chepstow by the appearance of a monster sea serpent. It appeared to be, as near as the fishermen could judge, 100 feet long. It made no attempt to molest the boats, but gave the men that eaw it a great scare. It glided along quite leisurely, showing its head, which was a tremendous size.—There have not been any catches of mackerel made on the South

Folicemen are being assassinated daily in New York. The Sun advocates a reform by changing the mode of selecting the judicial officers who are playing into the hands of the lawless—reasoning thus:

The fall of Humaita is considered a mere question of time, and the deserters state that Lopez has ordered its evacuation, and was preparing to dispute the passage of the River Teblquary. The expeditionary force sent to pierce the enemy's country and reconnoirre the fluence which ruffians exercise in political affairs. This the position of Lopez, had returned without achieving its object. A strong feeling prevails here amongst popular favor. It is fully appreciated. Holloway's Pills.—Weary of Life.—Derangement of the liver is one of the most efficient causes of dangerous diseases and the most prolific of these melancholy forebodings which are worse than death itself. A few doses of these noted Pills act magically in dispelling low spirits and repelling the covert attacks made on the nerves by excessive heat, impure atmospheres, over indulgence, or exhausting excitement. The most shittered constitution may derive benefit from Holloway's Pills which will regulate disordered action, brace the nerves, increase the energy of the intellectual faculties and revive the failing memory. By attentively studying the instructions for taking these Pills, and obediently utting them in practice, the most despondent will soon feel confident of a perfect recovery.

THE delegates to the Portland commercial convention having arrived home on Saturday last, a meeting of the Charlottetown Board of Trade was called in the City Hali Chariottetown Board of Frace was canced in the city Hall on Monday night, for the purpose of receiving their re-port. The meeting was so small that it was adjourned until Thursday evening next. From conversation with the delegates, we learn that the Convention was largely attended by representatives from the principal cities of the United States, and of the Dominion of Canada. Railway extension in various directions, to connect with the great Pacific line, was the principal object which the Americans had in view in calling the Convention; but they were also alive to the importance of Free Trade with the Provinces. That feeling of retaliation which prevaded the the old Treaty, has died out, and given place to a desire for the restoration of the former commercial relations between both sections.
