PRINCE NAPOLEON.
THE TROUBLE IN THE WAY OF MARRYING HIM OFF.
The idea of the marriage of the Princess Thyra of Denmark, to the young Napoleon, was first broached at Windsor, where it found a warm advocate in the Princess of Wales, who was charmed at the prospect of the future companionship of her charming sister. Albert Edward, too, was in favor, and the united influence of the royal pair overcame any opposition ever existing at the Russian court where the Bonapartes have always found sympathizers. All, then, that seemed wanting was the agreement of the Spanish king and of the lady.
The personal appearance of the suitor settled the latter question at the first interview. It is true that he is two years her junior, but what are two years in the balance against first love and a possible throne some time hence? As to the papa, he too, gave in to political considerations, and was all ready to make another marriage investment—a kind of speculation into which he has gone deeply and been uncommonly successful, when we reflect that out of his six children one will reign over his faithful Danes, George has been more or less permanently settled among the Hellenes, the Princess Dagmar will be empress of all the Russias, and the Princess Alexandra queen of England. The connection, for the heir of the Bonapartes, was, then, the most desirable, and the eventuality of his return to France did not seem an immense risk, so that an invitation was extended to the young gentleman, who was on his way to visit some of his Swedish relatives. He came quite naturally, for Copenhagen is on the direct line to Stockholm, was most cordially received by the population as well as by the court, pleased fair Thyra, and after a short stay went north, promising to stop on his return, when the whole party would go to England, continue the acquaintance and sign the marriage contract. So far everything had gone on merrily, but suddenly there was a hitch in the proceedings.
The prince did not renew his visit, and although the family, according to agreement, crossed the channel, he still remains at Arenburg, all of which is asserted to be the work of M. Rouher, the great medicine man of the Bonapartist party, who, like Victor Hugo among the radicals, will not tolerate any interference with his factions of spiritual director of French imperialism. The empress and Fleury knew that he would give them trouble, and he would play the part of a wicked enchanter who had been omitted from the list of guests at the Christening; but they hoped to keep their project secret until it was too late to do mischief. Alas! they forgot that newspaper reporters are indiscreet.
Rouher found out all about it, said never a word for weeks, and then came down upon the contracting parties with the simple phrase:
"How is the young couple to live?"
They must keep up an establishment in harmony with their position. Six horses at least are necessary in the stables. The prince must have an equerry, a secretary and a valet de chambre, the princess a lady of honor. There must be a town house and a villa.
Civilized man cannot do without a cook, and his imperial highness cannot black his own boots any more than milady can lace her own stays.
The following shocking story comes from Weldon, N. C.:—
"A few days ago an Italian, calling himself Felix Bernichi, came to this town with a big black bear, which he exhibited on the streets. The animal was trained, and afforded entertainment for men and boys. It danced, turned summersaults, stood on its head, and performed all the usual tricks.
As it was inclined to be ferocious at times, its master kept a heavy muzzle on it as a safeguard, and never upon any occasion took it off, for it was made large, and in such a way as to afford ample provisions for the animal to partake of its food with it. To-day Bernichi's receipts were greater than usual, and on the strength of this fact he betook himself to a sample room near by, where he got gloriously drunk. He then came forth again with Bruin and told the crowd of bystanders that he would show them something they had never seen before. He unfastened the muzzle and took it off. No sooner had this been done than the pet pounced on him and commenced to "chaw" on his throat. The crowd thought this was only some part of the show, and looked on with increased interest. The poor man yelled, but as he was in the habit of yelling and making a great noise when he was exhibiting the bear, no attention was paid to that. Presently the blood rushed out, and Bernichi fell. Some one then rushed to his assistance, and found that he was dead. The bear had taken a large piece of flesh out of his neck and devoured it. It then flashed across the minds of the lookers-on what had happened. The struggles of the man with the bloody monster were terrible. The bear was shot, and Bernichi was buried in the town cemetery.

The unfortunate showman had, once or twice, been in Fredericton.

Jos. E. COLLINS, EDITOR.
FREDERICTON, NOV. 12, 1878.

Nomination, and what it revealed.

We are ashamed, to-day, the first time in some years, to raise our pen and write—for we have to give a sketch of our County representatives. We did not go very near the Court House, Saturday last—it stank of political corruption. Dr. Dow was trotted out like a buff don to be jeered and sneered at. Indeed, he seemed to take the position himself with alacrity. Inveective and abuse were both poured on, the points and the jokes were tried against him, and the finger pointed at him. He stood up to explain, and every time he opened his mouth, he "put his foot in it." Facts and figures were against him; he owned up and tried to defend his position. He corroborated all the Star had said in that "libellous article" against him.

The Doctor admitted having received money. A wrong, a sin crying in the face of honor; a blot upon him socially and politically, so long as his heart beats! But did the wrong end here? Is Dr. Dow the only sinner in the whole squad? We answer no! and care not whom we "huff." Dow says he got $550 from Colter. Did he take it by violence? No! Colter gave it to him, or Colter's friends did. A blot be it on Colter, that nought but political sack-cloth and ashes shall ever make full satisfaction for. We have been mistaken in Mr. Colter, grievously disappointed in him, Pity, pity!—It only goes to show that the saints are in heaven, that on earth they may become demons,—that political honesty is as rare a thing as political ability. We have an excuse to offer for Mr. Colter—he is opposition, but what of that. He shirked investigation. He must have been afraid of the light. Then comes Mr. Frazer, the leader of the government. The impression is, Dow has handled some of his money, too. "Horrible, horrible, most horrible!" And he the leader of the government! The man who should be an example to all others; the man who should see that the law be carried into effect. Think of it! A man makes a law, and the people believe he breaks that law: what faith can be in him!

But look where we will we see instances of the same thing—"Bribery and corruption"—is the cry all around. Sad is the state of morality, sad the state of the laws—legislation is only a farce, laws are made only to be broken. From both sides come the vandals. The opposition gives them. They are all infected in the wool. Shame! Blair and Thompson manfully have taken the field. Success to the honorable, be they government or opposition.

Local Politics.

Our local politics just now seem to be in a bad mess. They are in Chaos. But even as form grew out of the void and confusion in the beginning, so do we expect to see something develop itself. Bengough has a process of development which brings forth an alligator—our politicians may bring forth lame ducks.

As parties now stand we profess little allegiance to one side or the other. On both sides are some able men, on both sides are some complete asses, "unfinished things." "One knows not what to call."

The Government as it now stands go in for purifying, probing, investigating, and the rest. This they bound themselves to do; this certain members offered as a justification for joining the side on which swam the fishes and were baked the loaves. These men were like the minister and the sister of charity, who would live in the blackest slum for the sake of eradicating vice and purifying morals. We hope they may carry out their promises. If not let them make up their accounts by time. We hold a Damoclesian sword over their head.

And then for the opposition. This august body just now has neither head nor tail—body nor soul. All these may exist in disjointed parts and only require putting together to make a fine piece of machinery. Among the opposition are some able heads in whom the best interests of the country would be safe. Blair is a provincial Beaconfield, and a whole team in himself. And there is our little St. John oracle, Mr. Willis, who has just as good an opinion of himself as any man needs to have, nor can we say he has those feelings without some reason.

Then in the Government there is some very able dealers. Of course it will be contended that Mr. Fraser has brains, or he would not be the leader of H. M. Government, we know Mr. Adams is a clever and brilliant young lawyer, that Mr. Landry is acute and sound, that Mr. Wedderburn is, the little Polish excepted, a passable specimen of the kind of Governments Nem Brunswick is blessed with of late. Then there are those men, some of whom are in the ditch, and others of which are on the fence.

Mr. Elder is the notable. He is now on the uppermost round of the fence—ready to flop any way the political wind blows strongest. We justify Mr. Elder in his undignified perch. The Government have blundered in ignoring Mr. Elder's ability. Since a departmental office could not be given him he should have had the speakership. Mr. Elder as we have already said deserves this both for his ability and good service.

We have little interest in either party, but both seem to be undefined and in a muddle. The "want of confidence vote" will develop much.

Dr. Rand's Carelessness.

Student teachers have been before a kind of mongrel or mock court for some weeks past in the Education office on the charge of having fraudulently changed and extracted certain examination papers. No locks were broken or bolts drawn in getting the papers. Why did Dr. Rand leave the papers where they could be tampered with? Why did he not put them under lock and key? The Dr. should come in for a little share of the punishment with the students.

A PRESIDENT'S MUSCLE.

LINCOLN'S GIANT STRENGTH—HE OUTLIFTS SOME POWERFUL SAILORS.

General Viele in Scribner.

Few were aware of the physical strength possessed by Mr. Lincoln. In muscular power he was one in a thousand. One morning while we were sitting on deck, he saw an axe in a socket on the bulwarks, and, taking it up, held it at arm's length at the extremity of the helve between his thumb and forefinger, continuing to hold it there a number of minutes. The most powerful sailors on board tried in vain to imitate him. Mr. Lincoln said he could do this when he was eighteen years of age, and had never seen a day since when he could not. It occurred to me when reading the details of the plot which terminated in the death of the president, that his abduction, which was at one time proposed by the conspirators, would have resulted very disastrously to those who should have the temerity to undertake it. The plan proposed was to waylay the president at night during one of his frequent visits to the war department, where he was in the habit of going to read the telegraphic dispatches during the time of important military movements, and where he would often remain until a very late hour, returning alone through the grounds of the White house. A half dozen men were to seize and carry him off; but had they attempted it, they would probably have found that they had met their match, for he had the strength of a giant. Judge Sweet, of Chicago, who was an intimate friend of his, says that he has seen him dash into a crowd where two powerful men were fighting, and taking each by the collar, hold them out at arms' length in the most helpless and ridiculous position.

It may be gratifying to Mr. Anglin to know that the STAR'S charges against Mr. Dow were not "lightly made." The Dr. has owned up. Calamity birds, especially the doleful birds of darkness—like to sympathize with each other. Mr. Anglin had a kindly feeling for Dr. Dow. Doleful pair!

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

DON'T VOTE FOR DR. DOW.

Vote for Blair and Thompson on Thursday.

Dr. Dow is "on the stump." He will soon be in the swamp.

Social at the Temperance Hall to-night.

LORD DUFFERIN has got a rousing reception in Dublin.

SUPERINTENDENT MUNSEE, of D. T. Company, is at the Queen.

PROF. ALLISON is lecturing on temperance through Nova Scotia.

DOG OWNERS in St. John went up like men and paid their dues.

DR. TUPPER has purchased Mr. McKenzie's house in Orléans for $16,000.

DR. JACK was out driving yesterday, the first time since the accident.

PETITIONS have been filed against Sir A. J. Smith and Mr. Rogers.

A PETITION has been filed against G. King of Queen's.

OSBORNE TRIAL.—The Osborne trial recommences to-day before Judge Duff.

CARLETON is going to try the Permissive Bill.

EARL OF DUNRAVEN is moose hunting in Nova Scotia.

THURSDAY, 21st inst., is appointed by proclamation a public thanksgiving and holiday.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTIONS are over, sustaining the old Whiteaway-Shea government.

The Paris exhibition closed Sunday afternoon. Receipts nearly thirteen million francs.

Don't forget to visit Dr. Stopford before he leaves the city. Read his handbills.—Zins.

POLICE COURT.—W. Robert Aitken will be brought up to-day for offences against the license law.

THE DOWD murder trial commences in St. Andrews to-day. Attorney-General Fraser goes there for the crown.

PLUCKED.—Thirteen applicants for admission to Normal School were plucked. They have gone home.

GIBSON, yesterday, was a live of work. Schooners and wood-boats loading, and steamers discharging kept everything on the rush.

The stone cutters on Mr. Sharkey's building do night work. Through the long dark hours the clink of chisel and hammer is heard. This is enterprise and what we want, just.

GREAT men rise from small beginnings. Alex. McKenzie, ex-Premier of the Dominion, was a stone mason. Sir John A. McDonald, the present Premier, is just now a Cabinet maker.

CANVASSING.—Messrs. Blair and Thompson went to North Lake last evening. They address audiences through different parts of the county between now and Thursday.

THE RINK Committee are receiving much encouragement from everybody but the rink agent and a few others who are liberal only when something comes into their own pockets.

ST. DUNSTON'S BAZAAR.—At a meeting held last evening in St. Dunstan's Hall it was decided to hold the Bazaar in February next. Committees have been appointed to carry out the arrangements.

SIDEWALKS.—Could not the contractors keep the sidewalk clear near Mr. Sharkey's new building. Suppose somebody broke a neck who would repair the loss? Yes! Dr. Dow might—'tis election times.

STOFFORD'S remedy never fails to cure Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever. Geo. H. Davis, agent for Sunbury and York.—Zins.

PUT BACK.—The thief who stole the jewellery case from the lady across the river finding Sergt. Woodward uncomfortable near his heels, put back the booty. The lady again has possession.

DEAD IN THE BUSHES.—A man named McLean, of Nova Scotia, Wednesday morning last left his home, near Fraser Mountain, to hunt cattle. Not returning at the appointed time search was made. He was found dead in a clump of bushes near by the road.

SERMON.—Rev. Mr. Brewer's sermon "to young men," in the Methodist Chapel, Sunday evening, was a masterpiece of oratory and chaste language. The Rev. gentleman has a fertile mind, and he draws illustrations and appropriate figures from a deep and prolific vein.

THE suit against a Fredericton druggist for selling brandy, which we noticed yesterday as being before the Police Court of that city, went up in court upon examination before the magistrate.—Times.

The Times is in error, unless it calls $30 smoke.

A GOOD CHANCE.—Anyone wanting $20 has a chance of earning it now by pointing out the person or persons who violated our magnificent parliament building. It will no longer be the snug and warm retreat that it has been by night for cats and dogs. Let the glass be put in by all means. These animals must be sheltered.

THE TENACITY OF HABIT.—"Habit" is hard to overcome. If you take off the first letter it does not change "a bit." If you take off another you still have a "bit" left. If you take off still another, the whole of "it" remains. If you take off another, it is not "it" totally used up. All of which goes to show that if you wish to be rid of a "habit" you must throw it off altogether.

MANUFACTURE OF HAMES.—The WEEKLY STAR, Fredericton, gives a description of an extensive Hames Factory, at St. Mary's, opposite that city, carried on by Messrs. McFarlane Jones. The wood work is of second growth ash, which is steamed, placed in moulds, where it remains three days, then turned out with the bend perfectly fixed. The iron work is also done on the premises. At the time of the reporter's visit, a case of hames was being packed for Messrs. Dunlap Bros, of this place, who deal very largely in these goods.—Amherst Gazette.

Up Town Sketches.

DIPLOMACY.—Chief Sackem "Gabe" is evidently well versed in the financial situation of the times. Last evening as a long whiskered man and he were about striking a bargain the Red Man's shrewdness in this particular developed itself. When the tall pale-faced passed the chief his change, the latter edged slowly toward the light to see if he could discover any symptoms of a "gun game" on the part of his companion, and behold the Millicite fished out one of the notes and waved it in the air triumphantly. What's the matter? asked the "long whiskered." Union Bank, exclaimed "Gabe" laconically, "Merchants' Bank gone up; this one shaky, may be go soon too." Any explanation was useless, and she acute Sackem persisted in his opinion in spite of all arguments to the contrary. We think that "Gabe" could fill the chair of Finance Minister with credit to himself and to the placid St. Mary's, from which he hails.

OSTRUCIOUS.—The ice on the edge of the river, at the ferry landing this morning, was sufficient to retard the landing of that vessel till nearly 8 o'clock.

DEPARTURE.—Mr. Jos. P. Sherwood left town this morning for St. John, where the steamer "Florenceville," to which he has been appointed, is now lying awaiting her engines and boiler, the former of which, we understand, was made in Boston.

PROVISIONS.—Chicken of emaciated appearance selling at 35 cts. per pair; pork selling at from 5 to 6 cts. per lb. (Hoops for HEADCHEESE gratis); beef, probably on account of impending hostilities in Afghanistan, has risen from 4 to 5 cts. per lb.

WHITHER!—Four rafts of deal have weathered Milpoko point since morning. A good deal of this kind of lumber has been on the run during the last fortnight.

Nov. 8, 1878.

Miss Armour's Book.

A copy of Miss R. Armour's new book "Lady Rosamond's Secret" has been received. It is a domestic romance and opens about the year 1824, in Fredericton. It is under the rule of Sir Howard Douglas the scenes transpire.

The typographical appearance of the book is fair. It contains 146 pages of reading matter, and the paper is good. Here is a passage descriptive of Fredericton scenery from the opening page:—

"The Western horizon, a mass of living gold, flitting in incessant array and mingling with the different layers of purple, violet, pink, crimson, and tempting hues of indescribable beauty; at intervals forming regular and successful strata of deep blue and red, deepening into bright red. Suddenly as with magic wand a golden cloud shoots through and transforms the whole with dazzling splendor."

This is vivid painting, and is no doubt well colored. It struck us as a fine poetical passage but looking at it closely we can't say so much for the sense. In the first sentence there is no predicate without which a sentence cannot be. Then it is difficult to conceive of the "horizon" flitting, and mingling with layers of purple, violet, pink (could we suppose is meant).

And how anything can flit in incessant array without the kind of the array being mentioned, is a sore puzzle to our thick head. And stranger still, to us, is the expression "incessant array." It is a conundrum.

We next turn to page 8, and we are told of the "youthful Lieutenant with a boyish flush of youth upon his brow." The distinction which the author tries to draw here is evidently that a girlish flush differs from a boyish flush, else that the condition boyish and youthful are two different ones. We read on till we come to page 10, when we are relieved by discovering a new verb, a creation of the skillful authoress. She says, "They hung together and I hated me in good round English" with little regard to Johnson, &c. The author had less regard for the old lexicographer than the character with murdered English in his mouth. Miss Armour's talent is on the inventive side.

Pressed for time we skipped some till our eye rested on page 29 where we read that "The purity of the soft snow flakes falling in myriads, are invested, &c. We thought that Miss Armour just then forgot the second rule of syntax.

And then on the left page Miss Armour shows all the words in which she can express the same thing. "Young gentlemen roared in undisguised and unexpressed fits of laughter." Besides the two synonyms here we do not know how Miss Armour can show any laug to be "disguised." Laughter is something whose very nature is in its external manifestation. There is no such thing as "disguised laughter." Hence undisguised laughter is a nonsensical expression.

With the authors permission we then turn to page 70, where we learn of an establishment in "which was constantly pouring an unlimited source of supplies." If the source once happened to get into that store, we pity all the supplies that were to come after.

We look further down the same page and lo! we learn that in Hooper's Hotel the St. George's Society "annually celebrated their anniversary," i. e. they celebrated every year their yearly festival. Well that was, surely, pleasant for them and amusing to us to know.

Miss Armour's fancy is rich but her composition is very defective. The plot is well conceived, the details nicely brought in, but the literary features are very bad.

But what have we been saying? Mr. Elder has read and revised it, and its perfection in covers. We recant, and ask pardon. Miss Armour's book deserves patronage, and we recommend all to go to McLaughlin's and buy a copy.

NOMINATION DAY.

Bribery and Corruption.

Blair and Colter charge Dow with "Dishonor" and "Disgrace!"

DOW THROWS UP THE SPONGE.

Saturday last was nomination day. Those who thought there was to be no fuss were grossly mistaken. Dr. Dow, who was proven to be the soul of honor had to "vindicate" himself, and Messrs. Blair and Colter had to jam several things down his throat. The crowd, too, had first to "gaze on the Doctor" and see how he would bear himself.

At 11 o'clock the nomination opened and Mr. Blair with a bland smile came forward. He looked well and his face was dimpled all over with pleasant, even as is the mill pond by the action of the frog. In the latter capacity the Doctor acted on the lawyer.

Mr. Blair then explained his position with relation to the patchwork government. He had ever opposed it tooth and nail, had opposed it when only the frog-ends were put forward before the country, had opposed and cried it down even as the country had by its united voice. No one outside the government ring approved of their rash formation; they were in wretched minority. To maintain themselves in power they had seduced members of the opposition from their allegiance to the country and to their principles. They transferred the balance of power from the River Counties to the North Shore, and fixed the government not to suit the country but to suit themselves. These acts will be a subject of discussion when the house meets.—government may mark that down on their minutes. He believed that if the two bodies were properly arranged it would be found that now the opposition numbers are as many as the government. They will outnumber it ere long. Against the personal character of the trio who joined the Government he had naught to say—they were all good fellows, their only fault being that they have not stability enough—they suffer themselves to be too easily caught by office bait; but he had to cry out against the way the party was made up. He had heard the Crown Land Officer had held that the patronage of the office should be placed in his hands, and that inferior officers be appointed from North Shore. This would be a dangerous policy if acted upon and no doubt the house would not agree to it. The same dangerous ring speculation was held to be the policy of the Public Works office. Now he did not wish to raise sectional disputes, but he should say that where the most wealth and population were there should be the greater political power. The north had but one third the population of parts that would be completely ignored.

Then there was the Hon. Attorney General's position. He protested against his complete surrender. He should have had more stability of character. When Surveyor General entered the Government it was upon the condition of thoroughly ventilating the Chatham Branch business—the public supposed this was to take place—they demand it. But to prosecute the investigation will be to show the corruption of the old party, on whose bitum stands the present conglomeration. But what way did they carry out their promises? A committee went to the North, summoned parties to appear to testify in the matter, but witnesses refused. The Govt. gave the committee no power to compel attendance. And so the matter fell to the ground. No doubt all this was premeditated. [Mr. Blair went at some length into the Chatham Branch business, and showed it up in clear light.] He advanced the principle enunciated by Ex-Attorney General King on the St. John hustings this fall, that no Government should hold power longer than a parliamentary term. Prolonged power, that gentleman said, led to corruption. Yes, no doubt Mr. King's eight years experience in power, would well warrant the statement. He (King) spoke from experience. Take the rottenness in the Nova Scotia Government experienced by eleven year's confidence as another example.

He did not feel disposed just then to state what the policy of the opposition was. It would be developed in time. It would burst like a bomb on the Government. At the earliest opportunity, consistent with the principles of the constitution, the Government will be called upon to render an account of their deeds before a tribunal of the peoples' representatives. He asked for a renewal of the peoples' confidence at the polls.

Amid loud cheering Mr. Blair took his seat and Mr. FRED P. THOMPSON came forward. He did not anticipate opposition, but had found it. And prodigious it was.—Dr. Dow was the chief opposer. He resigned because he believed the County would re-elect him. He had made a mistake in resigning, but had not counted on such unjustifiable delay. The Provincial Secy had told him, in justice to Mr. Blair, he would not delay it one hour further than was necessary, therefore he resigned. It was evident the Secretary was very solicitous for Mr. Blair—that was plain.

Well, he had been told on election day that a protest would be entered. He believed that no more dastardly or cowardly act than that of which Dr. Dow was guilty had ever been perpetrated. He felt he was clear of bribery and corruption, and resigned because he did not wish to drag his friends into rath. The people would stand by him rather than by the man who had degraded his position and his manhood. Dow had travelled the County as a full-fledged hospital man, and gone from Maryland to Stanley. Tooth after tooth was drawn, ache after ache was cured, and all on the cheap account—without charge—it was election time.

He now wanted the doctor to come on that he might learn how the people knew how to serve a man who could so degrade himself.

The next subject was the formation of the Government as he had, he said, wasted too much time on Dr. Dow. The Government was too largely composed of lawyers. Those men too often show themselves greedy for office—some of those now in Government were opposed tooth and nail during the election. They were caught—bought.

He would give the Government, bringing on sound measures, support, but on a vote of confidence he would oppose them. He had expected everything smooth under the new regime—the Dow purging system, but he had been mistaken. If he was defeated he said he would stay at home and attend to his business and not go about full of spite and avarice, trying to sting some and wring money from others, as had been done. If elected he would fulfil his duty as best he knew how. [Loud applause.]

Then up jumped Dow. He looked as if he had come out of a bath tub. He said he was going to talk squarely and honestly to the people [Alas poor Yorick!]. He was going to justify having received the $350 as a bribe for withdrawing. He was not pursuing Mr. Blair, for he thought 'twas not use. Blair could not see into opening his purse-strings. O no! He did not want Blair to resign for he was against the Government, and corruption only had to be purged from people on one side of politics. He claimed the right of a British subject to speak after the crowd had clamored around him. He did not blush for anything he had done—blushing was not a peculiarity of his. He had never got a cent of Blair and Thompson's money. [Here George Thompson, Esq., jumped up and asked "Dr. tells us, do, how much you received from Colter and Frazer?" The doctor squirmed and shook, looked bold, elevated the epidermis of his forehead, hung down his lip and blushed.] "Well, Sir, I received $350 from Colter but not a cent from the rest save what covered the cost." [Then the Attorney General must have compromised, truckled, with this man. Think of it. The Attorney General of the Province, truckle with Mr. Dow. This can't be true.] The Dr. said he had met a man in Canterbury with a satchel and a roll of bills, buying votes. [He was here contradicted by Mr. Blair, and did not venture to repeat his statement.] He was not in favor of the election law, but he dared stand up and ask for its fulfilment—ill he was bought off. [The doctor was again interrupted by several who put questions touching his honor. &c., to which he could not answer.] He had been put to much expense travelling the county and since others had bought their seats he thought he had a right to travelling expenses. In 1874 he had paid $800 for election expenses, and this was his justification for taking $350 out of Colter who was then quietly following his plough. [He had previously stated his election expenses in June had cost nothing.] He had come into the county 30 years ago and revolutionized the medical practice. [You are quite correct Dr! He had given professional services—and perhaps bad pills—to hundreds of poor people for nothing [and seized the hens, the roosters, the half full flour barrel and even the grid-iron of other poor widows—philanthropic doctor.] There were warm hearts through this county—aye and ready boots—for Doctor Dow. He then squelched. It may be well for us to say here the "STAR libel" disappeared in smoke, as the doctor proved himself all we had stated.

Mr. Blair again rose and gave the Doctor a severe tongue lashing. He wanted no further connection with him, he courted not his favor nor thanked him for his compliments. He threw in his teeth having been bought and having sold his honor and disgraced himself. He wound up by asking the Doctor how much he wanted to withdraw in the present case. (Thundering cheers.) Then Mr. COLTER came forward. He said an open confession was good for the soul, and he would make a clean breast of it. The Doctor's price first was $1000. After some deliberation and blank refusals he whittled down to $900. As his generosity increased, the amount decreased till finally the Dr.'s heart grew so large that the amount came down to $550.

The Doctor had sold his honor and his reputation—he never could buy it again. It was common property. He had a word on Dow's soul. It was an old saying that the souls of aged people transmigrated to those newly born. If that were the case when Dr. Dow was born, nobody died. (Immense applause.)

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—

"First take the beam out of thine own eye, and then thou shalt see clearly to take the mote out of thy brother's eye."

The celebrated liquor trial noticed by the Telegraph's correspondent, yesterday, against the young druggist, created nearly as much talk on the streets as did, the wonderful Pianoforte transaction a few years ago. The difference being pill defendant is out $30—piano defendant in $500. Clean out your eye brother.

Yours truly,

JAMES S. NEILL.

MADRID, Nov. 12.

Several journals state the premier Canovas Delleastillo intends to provoke a crisis after dissolution of the press law, and if the king again enters to him the formation of a ministry, he will select senor Emdayena minister of the colony, and General Jovallara, as his colleagues.

The trial of Juan Mancaise who attempted to assassinate the King of Spain on October 25th, commenced to-day. The public prosecutor asked the court to pass sentence of death, but the defence urged that the whole proceedings be recommenced. The prosecution showed from Monasci's own confession that the crime was premeditated since 1877.

The defence urged that Mancaise was insane or at most attempted to inflict badly harm. Sentence of death will be passed to-morrow.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Gout, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, &c. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetters, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurf, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
