JOHN LOCKETT & SON

Fatal Drowning Accident in the Annapolis River

Samuel Armstrong and Thomas Clarke Drowned by the Capsizing of a Boat While Fishing. Narrow Escape of Three Others.

While fishing in the Annapolis River on the afternoon of Dominion Day, a sail boat, containing five men, was capsized near Gont Island, and before help could reach them, two of them, Samuel Armstrong and Thomas Clarke were drowned.

The accident was caused by one of the men attempting to turn the sail and carelessly over balancing the small craft.

When the boat was overturned all the men tried to cling to the boat. When this was found impossible Reid and Armstrong attempted to swim to the shore about two hundred yards distant. Reid reached the shore but Armstrong is supposed to have taken a cramp, at he sunk almost immediately. The capsizing of the boat was witnessed by a man at the Island, who immediately put out to the rescue. Word was sent to Granville Ferry by telephone and Mr. Mills started for the scene in his motor boat.

Search for the bodies of the drowned men was immediately instituted and both bodies were recovered. Mr. William Armstrong, father of Samuel Armstrong, had the melancholy satisfaction of recovering his son's body. Mr. Armstrong leaves a widow and three small children. Mr. Clarke was an unmarried man and resided on the family homestead. All the men belong to Granville. Those rescued were Albert Smith, David Rice and Thomas Hardy.

The funeral of Mr. Armstrong took place yesterday afternoon and was said to be the largest funeral ever seen in the locality. Seventy-five caskets followed the body to its last resting place. The funeral of Mr. Clarke takes place today.

Hampton

On Friday last a party of eight ladies from Annsport arrived and are the guests of Mrs. Curry for a short time.

Asa Mitchell and bride, of Rutland, Mass., are spending their honeymoon with Mr. Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mitchell. Asa Whitman and Miss Amilda Mitchell are guests of Miss Mitchell's parents.

Reuben Chute, mate of the schooner Georgia B. Jenkins, is at home for a short time. Frank Messenger has gone to Calais, Maine, to join the same schooner, taking Mr. Chute's place while he is at home.

Our school section has engaged Mr. Crisp as teacher for the next year.

A school picnic was held on Saturday at the shore near the Templeman point. Boat sailing and other amusements were the order of the day and pleased the juveniles wonderfully.

J. W. Beckwith and family are occupying their summer residence here.

The first picnic of the season from Bridgetown and Granville came off on Dominion Day. The first part of the day was very damp. The afternoon was quite pleasant, giving the folk a few hours of enjoyment.

Automobile travelling has begun on our roads and our people will have to be on the lookout for accidents unless their horses are well trained for emergencies.

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now. It may save life. For sale by W. A. WARREN, P.M. B.

Accident on Hampton Mountain.

Mark Curry Badly Injured Suffering Scalp Wounds and a Broken Arm.

A heavy accident took place on the Hampton mountain last Wednesday as Mark Curry and L. B. Brooks were going to Bridgetown. When near the sharp elbow the back strap broke, scaring the horse. Mr. Brooks jumped and was unhurt. Mr. Curry was thrown from the wagon, severely cut about the face and head and had a wrist broken. The horse ran down the mountain into Mr. Chute's pasture with very little injury to horse or wagon. Mr. Curry was taken to Mr. Chute's, Dr. Armstrong was summoned, his wounds dressed, and he was brought home in the evening.

COAL DISCOVERED AT LAWRENCETOWN.

Excitement is high here at present. The men who have been drilling for coal are meeting with success. There is a quantity of coal and oil coming up the pipe all the time and every indication of coal present. In fact all who visit the scene of operation, and they are many, go away feeling that coal in paying quantities will be discovered this present week. If this proves true the future of our town and county is assured. May success crown the man who is spending his time and money in this enterprise.

Dr. J. B. Hall is home from Truro for the summer.

Miss Edna Wheelock has returned from college.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudgeon, of Lynn, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Croft.

Mrs. A. H. Whitman has returned to her home at Portland, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert James and daughter, of St. John, are the guests of Postmaster and Mrs. James for a week.

Miss McLeod, of Middleton, was the guest of her mother over Sunday.

Len Daniels, Kentville, spent Sunday here with relatives.

Messrs. J. A., William J., and L. E. Brown came home from Windsor on the "Owl" to spend Sunday.

G. A. Parker, of the D. A. Railway, Kentville, was the guest of C. B. Whitman one day last week.

S. T. Jefferson is tearing down the ruins of his house and will build a much larger one on the same site.

F. Jones has purchased the Hiram Lane property. Mr. Lane and family have gone to Massachusetts.

About forty from here attended the attractions at Annapolis and Digby on Dominion Day.

We understand that two Annapolis County horses carried off the purse at the Digby races on the lat, "Queen Bess," owned by Harry Marshall, Bridgetown, and "Lady Laura" owned by J. W. Burke, Middleton. We will keep up the record for speedy ones.

W. V. Jones, of Bridgetown, is spending his vacation here.

Some of the pupils of the high school held a picnic on Monday.

Mrs. D. E. Hast, Bridgetown, and Mrs. B. Brown, of Yarmouth, have been guests at the Elm House.

James H. Parker, of Nictaux, paid the Monitor a friendly call last week. Mr. Parker has been a valued and appreciative subscriber to the Monitor for thirty-four years and notes with pleasure the progress it has made during that time. Though past his three score years and ten, Mr. Parker reads easily without glasses and preserves in many other ways the evidences of youthfulness and health. May his years continue to sit lightly upon him.

Dominion Day at Annapolis.

Successful Celebration with Athletic and Aquatic Sports in Our Sister Town.

The day was a very successful one for Annapolis in spite of the rain and threatening appearance of the morning which bade fair to make the occasion a failure. By noon, however, the weather had cleared up and the D. A. B. trains from the east brought four car loads of pleasure seekers, while as many more gathered from other directions. The gate receipts at the garrison amounted to about one hundred and twenty dollars, while a handsome sum was taken at the Academy of Music in the evening, where a packed house greeted the Band Concert entertainers. The church refreshment booths were also well patronized. The feature of the day was the base ball game, the first of the series of Western League games, between Annapolis and Kentville, in which the former won by a score of 5 to 4. The game was well contested with good players on both sides, and both teams are likely to give good accounts of themselves in the games this summer. The aquatic races caused considerable sport and were contested by "fellows" only. The Band entertained the occasion at intervals and a well selected program of local talent, assisted by Miss Carolyn Hardwick, the talented elocutionist of the Curry School of Expression, Boston, was given at the Academy in the evening. The only thing that marred the pleasure of the day, outside of the unfavorable weather of the morning, was the very sad drowning accident described elsewhere.

Wreck of the Senlac.

The steamer Senlac was wrecked in Halifax harbor Monday evening by collision with the Red Cross line steamer Rosalind entering the harbor from New York. The fog was very dense at the time of collision and where the blame lies has not been determined.

The crash stove in the side of the Senlac and at once she began to settle. The Rosalind threw out a ladder to the Senlac across which the three passengers and the crew of thirty reached the deck of the Rosalind in safety. The Senlac was picked up by a tug and beached. The Senlac has been unfortunate of late, and only last week was struck by lightning while at the dock in St. John and had her mast shattered.

Men whose work requires them to stoop all the time, to work in a bent posture, every now and then may be seen straightening themselves up, taking a long, deep breath of air, looking up towards the skies. Thus their bodies are preserved in health and in erectness in spite of their work. However, they never straighten up, they soon grow into the bent form in which they have to work. What ever their toil or burden, men should train themselves to look often upward, to stand erect and get a glimpse of the sky of God's love, and a breath of heaven's pure, sweet air. Thus they will keep their souls erect under the heaviest load of work or care.—J. R. Miller.

ADVANCE IN PULP WOOD.

(Herald.)

Within a week the price of wood pulp has advanced from eighteen dollars to twenty-three dollars in the Halifax market. This seems to be a permanent advance as contracts are offered at this price. It is predicted by paper makers that news will advance ten dollars per ton before the new year. This advance has been anticipated because a great deal of activity exists amongst the pulp makers in New England in securing wood. Within a few weeks no less than four hundred thousand dollars worth of pulp wood lands has been purchased by the agents of New England mills from land owners along the south shore. The cost of transportation makes the cost of wood at the mills about eight dollars more than it costs at any of the local mills in Nova Scotia.

It would be good advice to give to owners of forest areas to hold them and keep the trees out. They will not depreciate in value.

It looks as though, in consequence of these advances in pulp, the price of newspapers would have to be doubled or their size be cut in halves.

THREE DAY MAIL SERVICE.

Lord Strathcona emphasizes the enormous advantage to Canada, when a steamer leaving a British port every Saturday reaches Canada the following Wednesday. Three twenty-five knot boats would thus suffice for the service, and London would be brought within eight days of the Pacific, and with the desired twenty-knot boats on the Pacific the journey from London to Australia would be lessened by eight days.

It is believed the part Canada is destined to play in the history of the world would surpass all expectations. The fast service would greatly assist this expansion and the sun-dried fruit from the British and Canadian exchange was not too great, seeing the vast benefits accruing to both.

An influential committee, including eight Peers, two Irish Roman Catholic Bishops, and forty members of Parliament, including Messrs. Wyndham and Long, two ex-Irish Secretaries, has been formed to support the Blacksea Bay route in connection with the proposed fast mail service. Both the British and Canadian Ministers are, however, dealing with the project on the subsidiary basis alone, leaving the contractors, whoever they may be, to settle ports and routes, subject, of course, to rigorous conditions as to time and equal facilities to all Canadian railways.

I KILLED A ROBIN.

I killed a robin. The little thing With scarlet breast on glossy wing, That comes in the apple tree to sing.

I flung a stone as he twittered there; I only meant to give him a scare, But off it went—and hit him square.

A little flutter—a little cry— Then on the ground I saw him lie. I didn't think he was going to die.

But as I watched him I soon could see He never would sing for you or me Any more on the apple tree.

Never more in the morning light, Never more in the sunshine bright, Trilling his song in gay delight.

And I'm thinking every summer day, How never, never I can repay The little life that I took away.

I think I am more interested in school than anything else because my aim is to get a good education, knowing this will help me in the world to build up character. This is all I have to say.

H. B. Atkins, druggist, Truro, had a narrow escape from being crushed to death by the maritime express yesterday afternoon. When the train was about one mile this side of Truro the engineer noticed a man lying on the side of the track. The air brakes were immediately applied and the express was brought to a standstill. The engineer leaped from the cab and found Mr. Atkins in a semi-conscious condition. Blood was streaming from cuts on his face. He had been down the track for a walk, and it is thought while on his way home, was seized with a sick turn and fell on the track.

Quebec is raging a vigorous fight against tuberculosis. In March last a by-law was passed providing that all milk cows coming into the city be tested before being sold, and in April another providing for the testing of all cows within the city every six months, the city paying two-thirds of the cost. Since then one hundred and sixty-three tubercular cows that have been sent out of Quebec have been sent to Montreal, and are now in use there.

How to Distinguish and Combat Injurious Insect Pests.

From a Bulletin Published by the Superintendent of the Department for Extinguishing Gypsy and Brown-tail Moths of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The Eggs—The gathering of leaves which bear egg masses is only feasible in the case of shrubs and young trees where the foliage may be reached from the ground. Rose bushes, dwarf fruit trees and ornamental shrubs often may be cleared from the moth in this way.

The Caterpillar—The winter webs or nests containing the hibernating caterpillars are conspicuous objects at the tips of twigs from October to April. These webs should be sought out and removed by the use of pole shears or long handled pruners, and then carefully collected and burned. It is more satisfactory, where possible, to burn the webs in a furnace or stove, since, where an open bonfire is used, extra care must be taken to see that none of the webs escape with a mere scorching. When a light snow is on the ground, the work of web destruction and gathering can be carried on to best advantage, although it is desirable that the work should be done as early as possible in the season after the leaves fall. Where tall trees are infested, two men, one to point out the nests from the ground, the other in the tree to cut off the nests, can work more rapidly and economically than one man. It should be borne in mind that webs cut off and thrown on a dump heap as well as those that are beaten off by storms will yield their quota of caterpillars the following spring.

Of all means of combating the brown-tail moth, web destruction as above outlined is the remedy par excellence.

Spraying is very effective against brown-tail moth caterpillars, since they are much less resistant to the action of poison than are those of the gypsy moth. To secure best results, spraying should be done as soon as the foliage develops in the spring. Five to eight pounds of the arsenate of lead paste to one hundred gallons of water is sufficient for the spray, or, if preferred, one pound of good Paris green well stirred in one hundred and fifty gallons of water may be applied. The directions given for spraying gypsy moth caterpillars should be followed in the case of those of the brown-tail moth. Spraying may be done not only in the spring, but also in August when the caterpillars hatch from the eggs, except in cases of trees in fruit.

Spraying or sprinkling with kerosene emulsion or strong soap suds is often useful in destroying the swarming caterpillars on fence walls, etc. Such trees as are free from brown-tail moths may be protected from the caterpillars which crawl from neighboring estates by applying a sticky band. The banding will not prevent the infestation of the trees by the female winged moths which, flying in July, will alight on the foliage of such trees and deposit their egg clusters thereon. It is therefore clear that sticky banding, when used against brown-tail caterpillars, has a more strictly limited usefulness than in the case of the gypsy moth.

The Pupae—When the caterpillars have changed to pupae enclosed by their cocoons, these may be gathered, although the work is likely to be attended by severe inflammation of the skin from contact with the netting hair. Cocoons thus gathered should be placed in a barrel covered with mosquito netting, so that any parasites may escape while the moths are confined. Brown-tail moth pupae are most numerous during the latter half of June.

The Moth—As has been already mentioned, the moths assemble in great numbers around electric and other lights. It often occurs on a lamp pole is covered by hundreds if not thousands of the winged moths. In such cases the free use of the hose will wash down and kill the insects. No effective form of lamp trap has yet been devised, and, in fact, it is not at all clear that the brown-tail moth can be combated economically in the wings stage.

INSECTS MISTAKEN FOR THE GYPSY AND BROWN-TAIL MOTHS.

Owing to the growing public interest in injurious insects, doubtless due in part to the fear of the moth pests, it seems desirable to include at this point a brief description of the insects commonly mistaken for either the gypsy or brown-tail moths, together with the remedies applicable to each species.

TEXT CATERPILLAR.

Eggs: laid in midsummer in a compact, varnish-covered band around twigs of apple, wild cherry, etc. Larva: appears late in April, and looks like a small caterpillar with a yellowish stripe along the back, which distinguishes it from the larva of the gypsy or of the brown-tail moth. The white webs spun by the caterpillars in the forks of branches also serve to distinguish this species from the two others. Cocoon: cream colored, containing a notable quantity of sulphur yellow powder, spun on bark, fences or other sheltered places. Moth: reddish brown, spread about 2 to 1 inch, flying principally by night. Remedy: spray with arsenate of lead, three pounds to fifty gallons of water, as soon as webs are noticed.

FOREST TEXT CATERPILLAR.

Eggs: laid on twigs of forest trees, the ends of the egg band being square cut instead of rounded, as in preceding species. Larva: conspicuously marked with a broken row of cream colored spots along back; other stages similar to preceding species. These insects sometimes cause severe damage to sugar orchards. Remedy: spray about May 15 with arsenate of lead, three pounds to fifty gallons of water.

CANKER WORMS.

These insects of two similar species are true looper or inch worms. Eggs: laid in small masses on bark of infested trees in fall or spring. Larva: generally dark colored, with variable faint yellowish stripes. The feeding period extends from May 1 to about June 20, badly infested trees appearing as if swept by fire. Pupae: formed in an earthen cell at variable depth in the ground. Moth: sandy gray in color, with a dark dorsal line. The female which is wingless, and is obliged to crawl up the tree in order to deposit her eggs. Remedies: banding the trees with sticky materials in November will intercept the female moths of the fall species. The same treatment repeated in March and April will prevent the ascent of the spring canker worm. Spraying about May 15 with arsenate of lead, three pounds to fifty gallons of water, is also an effective remedy.

PLANT LICE.

These insects feed on plant juices, and are best combated by spraying with kerosene emulsion, one part of water, or with whale oil soap, one pound to eight gallons of water. The elm leaf louse curls the terminal leaves of elm twigs early in the spring. A like effect is produced on the apple by the common green aphid and the cherry and peach are afflicted by a plant louse of similar habits. The important thing in treating these insects is to drive the spray forcibly into the curled leaves, and to make a second treatment about one week after the first spraying. With plant lice it is a general rule that by midsummer their natural enemies develop in sufficient numbers to check their increase.

SPINY ELM CATERPILLAR.

Eggs: laid early in the spring in a band around twigs of elm, willow or poplar. Larva: the dark colored spiny caterpillars feed in clusters, and commonly strip one or more branches by June 25 at about which date they descend the trees to transform. Occasionally an entire tree is defoliated. Pupae: dull grayish, armed with short spines; usually found under fences and in sheltered places. Butterfly: expands two and one-half inches, very dark brown, with a conspicuous yellow border. The second brood of caterpillars appears in August and the butterflies winter under bark,

BAD BURN QUICKLY HEALED.

"I am so delighted with what Chamberlain's Salve has done for me that I feel bound to write and tell you so," says Mrs. Robert Myton, 457 John St., Hamilton, Ontario. "My little daughter had a bad burn on her knee. I applied Chamberlain's Salve and it healed beautifully. This salve always the pain of a burn almost instantly. It is for sale by W. W. WARREN, Phm. B.

in walls, etc. Remedy: the caterpillars may be jarred off and crushed under foot or the branch which they infest may be cut off and burned. Spraying with arsenate of lead, three pounds to fifty gallons of water, is completely effective.

TUSSOCK MOTHS.

Eggs: laid in a white, froth covered mass on the old cocoon on bark of elm, horse chestnut, pear and other trees. Larva: appears about June first, and when full grown is yellowish gray in color with a red head and with two pencils of black hair pointing forward from the head and a single pencil pointing backward from the tip of the body. There are also four dense tufts of white hair on the back. Cocoon: spun on bark, fences and house walls. Moth: the male is of a chocolate brown color and expands about 2 inch; female, light gray, spider like and wingless. There is usually a second brood in late summer. Of the two allied species O. definita covers the egg masses with brownish hair and has a conspicuously yellow caterpillar, while O. antiqua lays a naked egg mass and has dark colored caterpillars. The latter species is most common on the apple and the willow. Remedy: create, or collect and burn the egg mass in the winter; spray with arsenate of lead, three pounds to fifty gallons of water, as soon as the small caterpillars are noticed.

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD FOR COLIC AND DIARRHOEA.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter, of Skirum, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of the twenty-five cent size. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and this morning I feel like a new man." For sale by W. A. WARREN, Phm. B.

OUR FRIENDS THE INSECTS.

(N. Y. Journal.)

Our Agricultural Department has discovered a little black fly, and that fly thinks the finest thing on earth to eat is the green bag that destroys our wheat fields. If the Agricultural Department can supply enough of these flies and breed them successfully, the appetite of that little creature will be worth thousands of millions of dollars to the farmers and the business of this country.

There are many things in the world that we cannot understand—our minds are just beginning to open. But wherever we do understand clearly are provided with appetites that in some way make them useful. Exceptions, of course, would be the harmful microbes the harmful pests of one kind or another. But when we understand them better, we may know that they have been a useful purpose, if only to develop our own human intellect.

It is hard to understand the taste of an earthworm, which goes head first through the earth, grinding up the soil and eating it. But if there had been no earthworms, there would be no soil for vegetation and no animal life possible on the earth.

The buzzards, hyenas and many other dreadful animals delight to devour flesh that is dead and decayed. We despise their taste, but we realize that they have saved the earth from pestilences that would have wiped out the human race long ago.

Smith's Cove

The government spraying cart spent several days here this week spraying for the brown-tail moth. Some orchards were badly infested, and it is feared that the ravages of the pest in this county will be extensive. In the vicinity of the Joggins there were some nests found on birch bushes which would seem to indicate that the moth had directed its attention to other than apple trees and that all kinds of shrubbery will suffer.

The annual school meeting was held on Monday evening last. A. H. Weir was chairman and Isaiah Wilson made an efficient secretary. T. Oscar Morgan was chosen trustee in place of J. S. Potter, who has retired. The sum of $275.00 was voted for the ensuing year. In addition $55.00 was appropriated for the purpose of painting the exterior of the school house. The trustees were ordered to refund Geo. R. Weir $7.60, the amount they collected from him as a non-resident for sending his children to school. It was shown that non-residents had always attended free of charge, and the rate payers did not deem it just to make an exception of Mr. Weir, especially when the trustees had given no intimation of the course they intended to pursue. Anyway, Mr. Weir is not looked upon as a non-resident in the neighborhood here and takes a keen interest in the school house. The plan, moreover, it is doubtful if, in a small district like this, it is wise to charge non-residents for the privilege of attending school, because the larger the enrollment the larger the grant and that is a very important consideration. If non-residents are forced to pay they will not attend. But some might be induced to come provided the course were free as it is to ratepayers.

It was decided to enforce the law regarding compulsory attendance at school between school ages, and I. B. Nelson was appointed trustee officer. Mr. Nelson intends seeing that the provisions of the law are complied with.

A number of tourists have arrived and are occupying log cabins built by Mr. Cosabois during the winter.

Captain Hunt is seriously ill. As the captain is ninety years old, his many friends feel somewhat alarmed. However, it is sincerely hoped that he will have a speedy recovery.

The hall remains as it was. Upwards of seventy dollars, were pledged for repairs, and perhaps the amount could be raised to one hundred, if it needs fixing badly and if something could be gotten up so that the subscriptions could be collected and the work proceeded with, much good would have been accomplished.

Mr. Henry Woodman is convalescent.

A discussion arose, the other day in regard to the exercising and development of patience. "If exercise is good for the muscle, why not for the patience?" said one. "So it is," replied the other, "provided you don't overdo the exercise and wear the patience out." On this ground he justifies sweating and maintaining that exhibitions of bad temper were merely symptoms that the patient had been exhausted by too much exercise and that it was time, therefore, to give it a rest. Some people are easily tired.

SMITH—PURDY.

(B. R. Telephone.)

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Purdy, Lansdowne, on Wednesday evening, June 19th, at 8 o'clock, when her daughter, Miss Eliza, was united in marriage to Fred Stanley Smith, one of Smith's Cove popular young men. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. A. Corbett, pastor of the Bear River Baptist Church, in the presence of about fifty invited guests. The parlor in which the ceremony was performed was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, the contracting parties standing under an arch of blue silk, while Harry A. Smith supported the groom. After the ceremony and congratulations a beautiful collation was served, to which all did ample justice, after which the happy couple were driven to their future home at Smith's Cove. The presents were numerous and valuable, including a substantial cheque from a Boston friend, showing the high esteem in which the couple are held by their many friends.

The improvements on the late Dr. Ellison's residence are nearing completion quite rapidly, and when finished will be modern in all its appliances. The carpenter work is in charge of Samuel Stull and the mason work is being done by Eben Sabours, of Weymouth.

The regular annual school meeting was held in Oakdene Hall on Monday evening. W. G. Clarke was appointed chairman, and T. H. Miller, secretary. The auditors' report was received and after some discussion was adopted as read. The trustees report showed the school to be in a very progressive condition with a fair average attendance for the year. Frank Jones was elected trustee in place of Thebert Rice, the retiring one. The sum of seventeen hundred dollars was voted for school purposes the ensuing year. The auditors elected were George T. Tupper and W. D. Ryerson; and W. W. Wade and George T. Tupper, assessors.

Colby Student Drowned
By His Own Foolishness

Waterville, Me., June 21—Oscar B. Peterson, of Jentland, a senior at Colby College, was drowned in the Mesonakkee Stream in this city this afternoon. Peterson and Harold W. Kimball, of Houlton, also a college student, were in a canvas boat with two young ladies. While attempting to change positions in the boat, it was capsized, and the occupants thrown into the water. Kimball and Roginald Farrar, who were in a canoe nearby, rescued the ladies, but Peterson was not seen. The body was recovered about nine o'clock this evening. Peterson was to have graduated next week and had a position as instructor in Colburn classical institute for next term. His mother will arrive here to-morrow, having come for commencement. A sister is a student at Colby. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and stood high in his class. He was full back on the football team last fall. A gloom is cast over the college and city by the accident.

London, June 21—General Booth of the Salvation Army returned to London today from a tour of Japan and China.

A Problem to Solve

Reference was made in this paper a few days ago to the effect that the industrial awakening of China and Japan would have upon the business of the world at large, says an exchange. On this point the Toronto News, with special reference to China, says:—"The Celestial Empire is rich in coal and iron, and other natural resources. Once these begin to be developed Chinese manufactures will be found in the markets of the world. Indeed, it is doubtful whether or not the high priced products of Canadian, United States, English and German factories will be able to compete with those turned out by the Oriental industries."

Of course the cheapness of living and of labor in China would give that country an enormous advantage, which could only be offset by more rapid and skilful work in competing countries. One is amazed at the figures quoted to represent the cost of living and the wages paid in some parts of China. We quote further from the News:—"Private letters from China speak of the cheapness of living in that country! In the province of Hunan, the winter price of new laid eggs is equal to four cents a dozen, in Canadian money, peanuts cost ten cents a bushel, poultry is plentiful and cheap, and other foodstuffs are quoted at very low prices. The native rice constitutes the chief sustenance of the average Chinaman, and it is not difficult, therefore, to understand how he gets along on a very small income. The case is instanced of a Hunan teacher who receives six Mexican dollars a month, or thirty six dollars a year, in Canadian gold. On this he supports a wife, three children and an aged mother. A male domestic servant receives twenty four dollars a year, of which only nine dollars go for food. A purse lives on eighteen dollars a year. In view of these figures it is not incredible that a Chinaman who has saved up one thousand dollars is a rich man for the rest of his life. This explains why we have so many slant-eyed laundrymen in America. After a few frugal years abroad they return home to live in ease."

Joker's Column

TOO LITERAL. A New York business man, while in Chicago recently, was expecting a money-order letter in a day or two. In order to avoid any difficulty in identification, he went to a clerk in the post office and got his order cashed. He expected to find the clerk ready for him, but at first the clerk did not recollect him. Presently the New Yorker succeeded in recalling himself to the man's memory.

HOW THEY FOUGHT. A bloodless duel has just been fought between a newspaper editor and a politician. The latter, regarding himself insulted by an article published by the former, addressed to him the following letter: "Dear Sir: I am in receipt of the two smacks which you sent me, and for which I am obliged. Kindly accept a bullet through your head. With kind regards to your corpse, yours truly."

AFTER THE ENTERTAINMENT. "She has a magnificent flat," said one, "but it is badly arranged. The parlor is too far from the dining-room."

"The wall paper is beautiful," remarked another, "but the pictures are abominable. It is a pity to ruin beautiful walls."

An undertaker, living in a thriving Nebraska town, took his little boy to the theatre the other day. The play was rampant melodrama, and the little fellow watched with breathless interest the villain kill his victim and impressively go through all the forms necessary to assure himself of perfect success in his nefarious undertaking.

HE KNEW. It was at a class in arithmetic that the following household problem was exactly solved: "Suppose that in a family of five there were only four potatoes at dinner, and the mother wants to give each of the children an equal share—how is she going to do it?" For a few minutes there was silence in the room, while everybody groaned to seek refreshment, whereupon his offspring, in a loud whisper, demanded: "Pa, are you going around to get the boys?"

A woman at the other side of the hall got up and said: "I am a Christian Scientist." "Well, then, madam," requested the little man, "would you mind changing seats with me? I'm sitting in a draught."

SUNSHINE FURNACE

BURNS COAL OR WOOD. The Sunshine is a good, "all round" furnace. Burns, with equal facility, either coal or wood. Coke, too, if you prefer it. And so perfect is the combustion of the Sunshine that it extracts every unit of heat from the fuel. What's left in the ash-pan is not worth sifting. Sunshine consumes less fuel, too. Because its perfect system of dampers prevent the escape of the hot air up the chimney—compels it to come out through the registers. You pay for heating the inside—not the outside—of your house when you buy the Sunshine. If your local dealer does not handle this most economical furnace write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

LIDA MAY MUNRO GRADUATES AT N. E. CONSERVATORY. (Special to the Monitor.)

Graduating in the class of 1907 and with a place on the program of the commencement exercises of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, was Miss Lida May Munro, of Bridgetown, who has been studying in the voice department of the oldest and largest of American music schools. At the exercises in Jordan Hall of the Conservatory's building on the afternoon of June 26, Miss Munro sang from Bizet's "Carmen" the exquisite aria beginning "Je dis que rien ne m'épouvante" in a manner that showed the technical mastery to be acquired only by conscientiously following the methods of eminent masters of the art of singing. Miss Munro received the diploma of the soloists' and teachers' course. She has carried the work of the normal department of the New England Conservatory, a department in which it is distinctly in advance of any of the music schools of Europe and which has led to an exceptional demand for Conservatory graduates to take charge of vocal instruction in schools and colleges.

MRS. FLORENCE MUIR AND MISS ETHEL FITCH GRADUATE AT PEESKILL TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends, the annual commencement exercises of the Peeskill Training School for Nurses was held June 12th at the Elka building. The platform was banked with palms, potted plants and flowers and formed a fitting setting for the exercises of the day. The class colors, crimson and white, added an artistic dash of color to the arrangement.

There were two graduates this year, Mrs. Florence Muir and Miss Ethel Fitch. The address to the graduates was made by Rev. E. E. Bell, who spoke in a most interesting and effective manner. Dr. Bell recently had occasion to thoroughly appreciate the services of the young women who so unselfishly devote their lives to their calling and his words to the graduates showed how thoroughly he appreciated their self denial and devotion to duty.

Dr. C. C. Knight presented the graduates with their diplomas and Miss Constance Holden, Superintendent, pinned the class pin upon the gowns of the graduates.

During the afternoon musical numbers were rendered by the Ladies' Musical Club and Miss Davis, adding much to the pleasures of the program.

Each of the nurses received numerous remembrances from their many friends and relatives. Mrs. Ethel Fitch is the daughter of Councillor and Mrs. Freeman Fitch and Mrs. Muir, formerly Miss Florence Roland, is the sister of Mrs. Fitch. Both young ladies have many friends here who will wish to join the Monitor in expressing best wishes for their success in their chosen profession.

EMPIRE LINIMENT CO. Bridgetown, N. S. Your Liniment is all right both for man and beast. We need it for a horse that was taken very lame in fetlock joint, parties remarked it would probably lay up horse for three months or more. We told our man to apply EMPIRE LINIMENT which he did. Three days after we had him to work. It made a permanent cure. We have used it in our business for some years and I can cheerfully recommend it as the best all purpose Liniment on the market.
