Toronto Youth Killed by Train---H. H. Cook, Ex-M.P., is Dead---New York Gunmen Executed---C. P. R. Hotel Burned

CROSSES OCEAN TO IDENTIFY DEAD MAN

Picture of Youth Who Shot Himself Reproduced in English Paper From Toronto World, Leads to His Identification by His Brother as Edward Johnston of Liverpool, Eng.

The man who shot and killed himself in a room at 920 Dundas street on February 18 last, has at last been identified through the medium of The Toronto World. He was Edward Johnston, formerly of Liverpool, England. Johnston had been identified as Edward Thompson at the morgue; then, after this identity was found to be erroneous was buried as an unknown man. A photograph of the dead man was published in a Toronto paper, which in turn was used in a London, England, daily. This paper fell into the hands of William Johnston, in Liverpool, England, and he, believing it to be a photograph of his younger brother, who had been missing two years, came to Toronto, where, from certain articles found on the body, he unhesitatingly identified the man as Edward Johnston, aged 18, his brother.

A Religious Maniac. According to the brother the lad was a religious maniac, and it was over a religious difficulty at home that he ran away two years ago. Since that time the mother and brother had not heard a word from him. The boy's father has been dead some years, and the mother does not yet know her son is dead.

All classes consider that it denotes the dawn of a new epoch in Japanese history in the direction of a more representative government. Business men especially are pleased with the choice of Count Okuma by the elder statesmen, and the stock market is buoyant.

WRECKAGE CLUE TO LOST SEALER

Floating Mass Sighted by Steamer Believed to Have Come From Southern Cross.

Canadian Press Despatch. ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 12.—Floating wreckage, believed to have come from the missing sealer Southern Cross, was reported by the sealing steamer Bloodhound, which arrived today. The Bloodhound passed a large quantity of wreckage Saturday afternoon about 100 miles southeast of this port. It had apparently been washed from a sealer's deck, but as the crew of the Bloodhound had not heard of the loss of the Southern Cross no effort was made to identify it. The steamer Kyle, which has been searching in the vicinity of Cape Race, was notified by wireless today of the position of the wreckage, and started immediately for the scene.

ST. MARY'S, April 12.—The St. Mary's Fair Association will hold an Arbor Day in May, when some two hundred trees, procured by subscription, will be planted on the fair grounds. #### LAST EFFORT TO SAVE GUNMEN HAS FAILED

Governor Glynn Firm in Refusing Pardon Despite New Evidence Which, He Held, Did Not Justify His Interference With Course of Law.

Canadian Press Despatch. ALBANY, N.Y., April 12.—The last faint glimmer of hope that a reprieve might be granted the four New York gunmen passed late today.

In the executive chamber of the deserted state capitol, Governor Glynn heard the final appeals of two attorneys for the convicted slayers, C. G. F. Wahle and H. L. Kringle, for a stay of the death sentence, and then again and for the last time refused to interfere with the executions.

For two hours—from 3 until 5 o'clock—the two attorneys pleaded with the governor. All appeals to his sympathies were disregarded. Only the new evidence that was presented before Justice Goff in New York yesterday was presented. Seldom did the attorneys speak above a conversational tone. When they had finished, the governor and his legal adviser, John G. Saxe, retired to a private room to consider the evidence.

Couldn't Change Decision. Pale and a trifle nervous, the governor returned and said: "Gentlemen, I am sorry, but I cannot see my way clear to change my decision."

With their last chance to save the gunmen from the electric chair gone the attorneys walked slowly from the chamber.

"It seems the boys must die," Mr. Wahle said. "Unless the governor."

"SPRING HAS COME." The first crocuses of the season were blooming in High Park yesterday, near the old Howard residence.

H. H. COOK, EX-M.P., DIED SUDDENLY SUNDAY

For Forty Years He Was a Prominent Figure in Canadian Politics, Especially After His Break With the Liberal Party—Head of Big Lumber Firm.

In the death of Herman Henry Cook which occurred yesterday at his late residence, 20 Dowling avenue, Canada loses one of its most conspicuous political figures.

Born in Williamsburg, Dundas County, Ont., on April 27, 1837, Mr. Cook entered the lumber business in 1858 and was at the time of his death, president of the Ontario Lumber Company. He was one of the syndicate which offered to build the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1880. His family has been prominently identified with the lumber trade for many years.

Mr. Cook first entered parliament in 1872 for North Simcoe, which constituency he represented as a Liberal in the Dominion House until 1878, when he entered the Ontario Legislature. He resigned his seat in the legislature in 1882 when he returned to the Dominion House as member for East Simcoe, which seat he held until 1890. During this period he contested no less than eleven elections, winning six and being defeated five times.

He afterwards entered the house of commons as a follower of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1896, and a few years later he came prominently before the public when he made a break-away from his party owing to the refusal of Sir Wilfrid to appoint him to the senate, an honor he frankly believed to be due him. His pungent criticisms of the Laurier administration created no small sensation at the time.

Mr. Cook's death came quite unexpectedly to his relatives and friends. He maintained his usual good health until Monday last, when he took to his bed with some slight ailment. On Friday he was quite well again, although still confined to his room. At 9 o'clock Saturday morning he was seized with apoplexy and never regained consciousness, expiring at 7.15 last night.

He is survived by two daughters and four grandchildren, the daughters being Mrs. Frank E. Macdonald and Mrs. Norreys Worthington, wife of the late Col. Norreys Worthington, M.D., M.P.

The funeral will be held privately on Wednesday.

His alleged assailant, Antonio Pedro, commonly known in the Italian colony as Tony, escaped, and has not been seen since. His description has been sent to surrounding towns and cities.

All the murdered man would say before he died was that he knew the man who had shot him. The only distinctive feature which the police are counting on to aid in Pedro's capture is that his face is badly scratched. He is about 35 or 40 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, and weighs 175 pounds.

Work on New Union Station To Start Within One Month Says Vice-Pres. McNicoll

C. P. R. Magnate Also Tells The World That Thru Passenger Service Over New Lake Shore Line Will be Inaugurated on Dominion Day.

Vice-President David McNicoll of the Canadian Pacific Railway said, in an interview with The World last night, that work on Toronto's new Union Station would be under way in less than a month.

Referring to the undertaking of double tracking on the C. P. R. system, he said that the next section of the system to be double-tracked would be from North Bay to Winnipeg, and that the work of doing this would be commenced this summer.

He made the announcement that a thru passenger service to Montreal over the new Lake Shore Line of the C. P. R. would be inaugurated on July 1, and a freight service some time earlier than that.

BIG C. P. R. HOTEL WAS DESTROYED

Half a Million Loss When Algonquin at St. Andrew's, N.B., Was Burned.

Canadian Press Despatch. ST. ANDREW'S, N. B., April 11.—The Algonquin, a large summer hotel owned by the C. P. R., was destroyed by fire today, at a loss of $500,000. The structure had been renovated recently and was nearly ready to be opened. It contained 500 rooms with elaborate fittings.

Starting on the ebbing roof of the old part of the building, the flames were quickly fanned beyond control by a high wind there was practically no fire fighting apparatus available, and in a short time that remained standing were the concrete walls. A nearby cottage, also owned by the railroad company, was burned.

GERMAN 'COUNT' WAS ARRESTED

Landon Held at Bridgeburg—Larceny Charge Brought by Woman Involves Five Thousand Dollars.

Canadian Press Despatch. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., April 11.—Aman claiming to be Count Luxembourg Landon of Germany was arrested at Bridgeburg, Ont., today, on a charge of grand larceny, involving $5000 Landon was brought here tonight and locked up in the county jail. He will be arraigned Monday.

The complainant, Mrs. Alice Laffin of this city, charged that Landon obtained two notes from her for $2500 each, with which to exploit a self-lighting lantern he claimed to have patented. She said the patents had never been granted, Landon said tonight he could prove his title and denied that there had been any intent to defraud.

TRIED TO BOARD MOVING TRAIN; STRUCK AND KILLED BY ANOTHER

John Stortz of Mimico Failed to See Passenger Train When He Jumped a Freight Rather Than Wait Fifteen Minutes at Sunnyside.

While attempting to board a west-bound freight train at Sunnyside last night, John Stortz, age 17, of Mimico, was struck by an east-bound Grand Trunk passenger train and died ten minutes later in the police ambulance on his way to the Western Hospital. Stortz and a companion named Kenneth Warner, also of Mimico, had missed the 10.30 radial to that village, and rather than wait fifteen minutes for another car, the two proposed jumping an out-bound freight and dropping off at Mimico. They had not long to wait before a freight traveling about ten miles an hour was seen pulling out from Toronto. They took up positions about 70 yards east of the Sunnyside station and jumped it as soon as it came opposite. Stortz attempted to climb to the other side of the rear car, and was struck by the incoming passenger train which he failed to notice. Although knocked unconscious, he was still alive when the ambulance arrived fifteen minutes later; but died on the way to the hospital.

ITALY PREPARES FOR BIG STRIKE

Army and Navy Will Be Employed to Maintain Order if Necessary.

Canadian Press Despatch. ROME, April 12.—In addition to the army the whole fleet will be employed to facilitate communications and maintain order in case a general strike is inaugurated next. In this way the government hopes either to check the strike or minimize its effects. In its attitude the government appears to be supported by public opinion, which is not favorable to that section of the railway men which is advocating the employment of strong coercive measures.

The various organizations of civil service employes have already planned at what points to erect barricades and are in readiness to take possession of various offices. They believe that they have some of the army on their side. Meanwhile all the army officers are under orders to join their regiments. Detachments have been concentrated at those places considered the most dangerous, especially in Milan and in Rome.

FOUR GUNMEN DIED AT DAWN

Maintained Innocence When Saying Goodbye Yesterday to Their Relatives.

Canadian Press Despatch. OSSINGTON, N.Y., April 12.—Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg, Frank Crofoc and Frank Sedenshner have spent their last day on earth. As the gunmen whose picturesque aliases were hung across the continent after the murder of the New York gambler, Hermann Rosenthal, they die at dawn in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison, convicted of that murder.

To relatives who had them good-bye today and to their spiritual advisers the four condemned men again declared their innocence.

Mrs. Rosenberg, "Lefty Louie's" blond young wife; Mrs. Horowitz, wife of "Gyp the Blood"; Mr. and Mrs. John Crofoc and Paul Crofoc, relatives of "Dago Frank"; Morris and Joseph Sedenshner, brothers of "Whitey Louie," all spent the early part of the afternoon in a last visit to the death chamber.

TRIED TO LEAVE THEIR BABY ON POLICE DESK

Sergeant at Agnes Street Station Frustrated Attempt of Heartless Couple to Hand Over Infant Which They Claimed Had Been Left on Their Door Step.

A police station is a unique place in which to desert one's own child, yet a father and mother, giving names as Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, 4 Sullivan street, made a daring attempt to put one over on Sergeant McFarlane at No. 2 station yesterday afternoon and leave on his hands their seven-months-old baby.

Just after the sergeant had come on duty at 4 o'clock a man and woman rushed into the station, the man carrying a well-dressed and apparently well-cared for baby in his arms. Without saying a word he walked around behind the wicket and deposited the baby on the sergeant's desk.

"Somebody put her on our doorstep and we don't want her," he said. Then he and the woman both made as if to leave the station.

"Hold on there a minute," shouted the sergeant after the pair. "We can't take care of babies here. Why don't you take it to the Infants' Home?"

The man replied that they had, but the home refused to take the baby in. From the fact that the man had rushed in bareheaded and that the pair seemed in a desperate hurry to leave the station, Sergeant McFarlane had questioned the couple, who said they were Hebrews.

After a lengthy argument the woman admitted that she knew who put the baby on the doorstep and eventually broke down and owned up that the child was really theirs. She said that they had paid some people to adopt it and take the child off their hands, and they, after caring for it for a month, threw up the job and laid the child back on their doorstep.

Rebused Gallous Pair. Sergeant McFarlane's indignation at the admission caused him to administer a strong worded lecture to husband and wife.

"If I wish there was some charge in connection with this on which I could put you behind those bars," said he, indicating the cells.

"Now, you take that baby home, and if anything happens I'm going to see to it that you parents do some explaining." Then the woman meekly took her baby, and, followed by her husband, walked out of the station.

REFUSES SUBSIDY TO SHIPBUILDERS

Pelletier Made Candid Reply to Delegation of Quebec and Levis Citizens.

Canadian Press Despatch. QUEBEC, April 12.—While the Borden government is ready and desirous to give every reasonable encouragement to the promotion of the shipbuilding industry in Canada, and will insist that all vessels for the Canadian service must be built within the confines of the Dominion in future, it has no intention of establishing a precedent by subsidizing wealthy and powerful British concerns to enter the Canadian field and compete with this added advantage against the companies already established. This was the substance of Hon. L. P. Pelletier's reply on Saturday to a delegation of Quebec and Levis citizens who interviewed him with regard to the establishment of a branch of the Armstrong firm at Lauson, where the new drydock is to be built.

Mr. Gravel, president of the Levis board of trade and member of the Quebec harbor commission, put the case for a subsidy before the minister, telling of the negotiations which are being carried on with the Armstrong and urging that a steel shipbuilding plant would be almost a building plant in the drydock, as the repair of damaged vessels would call for the permanent employment of a staff of experienced shipwrights and a well-equipped plant.

"Sweetheart's" Safe to Please. The comic opera, "Sweetheart's," which opens a week's engagement tonight at the Princess Theatre, has not only a superior cast of principals, but the best singing chorus of a general as well. The music is by Victor Herbert, a guarantee of quality.

BIG DEBATE AT NORTH TORONTO OVER NEW SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Ald. Risk Explained Commissioner Harris' Plans — Some Ratepayers Worried About the Cost — D. D. Reid Considers Scheme a Necessity Owing to Growth of Population — E. A. James Endorsed It.

Ald. Risk explained the proposed sewerage system as outlined some time ago by Commissioner Harris. The largest ratepayers' meeting ever held in the old town hall, North Toronto, on Saturday night. The chairman said that there were two plans considered by Commissioner Harris. One was a sanitary and storm system, and the other was the combined system, proposed to serve four houses to the acre. A sewer system set down for surface water would require extra pipes, and for extra cost it would be necessary to have larger pipes. It appeared to him that if small sewers would accommodate the surface water, there was no necessity for ones larger.

Combination System.

The combination system was in favor of a combination system, at a cost of $4,144,000. A separate system would cost $6,225,000. The city would pay $2,181,000 of the total cost, and the ratepayers of North Toronto $1,822,000, which would be paid by the city and 20 per cent. by the people of the district. If any extra sewerage was required for outside districts, it would cost $255,000 more, but the city would bear the cost, and if at any future time those parts should be annexed by the city, the council would have no obligation to compel the annexed district to pay the amount. The ratepayers would also have to pay for laterals, and for a fourth the city requirements, and for a fourth the cost of the trunk line, but if that were exceeded, the city would contribute one-third of the extra cost.

Cost Per Foot.

In No. 1 section of the system the sewerage would cost the ratepayers 32 cents per foot, and in No. 2 31 cents per foot. The city would pay 10 cents per foot for the trunk line, and 10 cents per foot for the lateral. The city would also meet all requirements. The sewerage would be inadequate, and the system outlined had proved by test in other cities to be satisfactory.

He was of opinion that some people would protest against applying to the Don, but he anticipated that the council would pass it. He wished to tell them that the works department had already placed the matter before the engineers, and that the contract would be awarded by September next and work started in the fall.

Future Depends On It.

Considering the system, the system, the chairman asked what effect any protest would have. "If the plans don't suit you," he said, "it will make no difference for you may succeed in putting it back, but you can't absolutely stop it. It will be the extra cost of sewerage for the future of North Toronto depends on this work. It is time," he continued, "that North Toronto should be coming to it, and much depends on making a start. This is the proper time to do it, but you must be ready to meet the demand to much at once, for a certain section of the council might be prone to confine North Toronto to the sewerage system, so if 30 per cent. of the cost is as good as you can get, then you all should assist in getting it settled once and for all."

Asked to state where the city would construct the disposal plant on the Don, the chairman replied that it was their business, as long as the city paid for it.

Pointed Question.

"Could you assure us," questioned a ratepayer, "if this system will be free from evine odors and a stench within ten feet of a manhole?"

The chairman replied that he could not assure them to do so.

W. G. Ellis said he was interested in a combination sewer at the smallest cost, but he thought that the residents should not be taxed for a trunk sewer. This system was, to Mr. Ellis' mind, a question

WOODBRIDGE WILL TAKE HYDRO POWER

Only Four Votes Registered Against Bylaw Submitted Saturday.

Only four votes were registered against the hydro-electric bylaw which was submitted to the electors of Woodbridge on Saturday, authorizing an expenditure of $5000 and the purchase of 100 h.p. of energy. The majority for the bylaw was 102. Woodbridge contemplates big business in the power line when the new plant is in working order, as many farmers in the Township of Vaughan have expressed the intention of securing hydro users, and the prospect of an abundant supply of cheap power will attract new industries to the township. While confident that the bylaw would carry from the first, Reeve Wallace was pleased with the result, and recorded by the electors, and considers the passing of the bylaw as a great forward step for Woodbridge.

DRIFTING SAND NUISANCE IN RIVERDALE DISTRICT

Since the city authorities have ceased work on the cutting and grading on the hill at Riverdale Park, the accumulated piles of sand have been driven in such quantities by the strong winds over Broadview, Balm Avenue and Spadina Avenue that traffic is impeded. The fine particles find their way into the houses, coating the furniture, food, etc., with a thick layer of dust.

On Wednesday last the Broadview cars were held up for over an hour until the tracks were cleared of the drifting sand and on Friday the works department had three teams and a gang of men working all the afternoon clearing away the drifts, which had blown about all over the locality.

The work of grading has been in progress for the past five years. Last year the parks department found it necessary to place loam on the lawn in the neighborhood to cover the sand, and residents are hoping that the same will be done this year.

THE BIG DON BRIDGE FINISHED

The Newest and Latest Steel Structure in These Parts Weighs Twelve Hundred Tons and Gives the C.P.R. a Double Track From Streetsville to Agincourt.

The last rivet was welded on Friday of the big new C. P. R. bridge over the Don at Donlands on the line of Woodbine Avenue, nine miles from the Union Station. The new bridge is in a way a duplicate of the old bridge, alongside, but much stronger and much heavier. It is nearly one thousand feet in length, weighs over twelve hundred tons, is one hundred and twenty feet above the level of the river Don and is supported by nine steel towers and two concrete abutments. Two of the towers provide openings for roadways, one on either side of the river, and the largest tower of all straddles the Canadian Northern (which runs the bridge) eighty feet below the level of the bridge.

The bridge is a masterpiece of engineering, and has a large force of men, two hundred in all, working on it. The contractors for the cement work are Dickson & Co. and they will timber the two final spans today and the rest of the track be put down by Monday night.

With the completion of the bridge, the contractors for double tracking the line from Agincourt to Leaside will complete the small portion of their work yet undone, and move them to the next three or four weeks, including the two bridges over the west Don and the main Don. There is a little piece of filling to be done at the other end of the bridge over the west Don on a line with the main Don. The old bridge alongside had a grade of one per cent. rising from west going to east, and the new bridge has a grade of one per cent. falling from west going to east, and is much higher at the west end than its companion bridge, which will be raised to the same level.

DEFENDS SYSTEM OF COTTAGE FLATS

W. S. B. Armstrong Replies to Critics of Toronto Housing Company.

A QUESTION OF RENT

Average Worker Cannot Afford to Pay Two Weeks' Wages for House Hire.

An answer to the criticism that the Toronto Housing Company were creating a slum was made by W. S. B. Armstrong, secretary of the company, in an address on the housing problem delivered before the Bible class of Yonge street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Armstrong said that the charge had been made that in the cottage flat system of dwellings no great improvement over slum conditions was attained, and that it was claimed that separate houses should have been erected in their place. To this he could say that the matter had to be looked at from a practical and feasible point of view. A lot of twenty feet which would be required for the site of a dwelling would cost $2000, and the smallest kind of a suitable house would cost $1000.

This would mean that to raise 10 per cent on the investment a rental of 25 per cent would have to be charged. As the average wage in Toronto is less than $12 a week it would entail two weeks' wages to pay the rent. Such was not the purpose for which the project had been started, and the next best thing—the cottage flat system—had been adopted.

The cottage flats, which include two rooms and basement, rent at $12 per month, and steam heat, rent at $12 per month.

Lack of Car Service. He said that the company had two hummers, and the outskirts of Toronto for the inauguration of a garden home system of dwellings, but the plan was being held up for lack of transportation facilities.

Another project of the company which is soon to be carried out is the erection of an apartment house for men and one for women.

HERE'S LESE MAJESTE HE STRUCK A COP

Officers Were Searching for Liquor and Found Trouble Instead.

When plainclothesmen and constables attempted to search the premises of No. 7 St. Patrick street Saturday evening in search of liquor their passage was blocked by the refusal of Archie Murdoch, who is a member of the Northern Ontario branch of the I. O. O. F., to strike Constable Anderson (65) in the face. Then, instead of looking for liquor the policeman took Murdoch to No. 2 station on a charge of assaulting the police.

BANK VICTOR IN BIG LAWSUIT

Great West Lumber Company Liable for Six Hundred Thousand Dollars.

CALGARY, Apr. 12.—A finding was given Saturday in the case of the Northern Crown Bank against the Great West Lumber Company in favor of the bank. The case involves a sum of approximately $600,000.

The appeal court was unanimous in its findings and full costs of the proceedings through were awarded to the bank. The action arose through a denial on the part of the lumber company of its liabilities. Large advances were made to this company by the bank a number of years ago. When the advances had reached a certain sum, the bank, it is alleged, took an active part in the conduct of the lumber company, and exercised control which the lumber company became so large that the lumber company was relieved from the responsibility of losses which might have been incurred.

On the first trial Chief Justice Harvey gave a decision in favor of the lumber company. This decision was now unanimously reversed by the full court.

FIRST SERVICE IN KEW BEACH CHURCH

Moderator Preaches Dedication Service in Wineva Avenue Edifice.

Rev. Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie, moderator of the general assembly, conducted the dedication at the opening service in the new Kew Beach Presbyterian Church, Wineva avenue. The building is of solid brick, lavishly provided with a row of very large arched windows on the north and south sides. The church faces east and is just north of the church built in 1908, which will now serve as a Sunday school hall.

At the dedication yesterday morning the moderator was assisted by Rev. J. W. Bell, pastor of the church, and Rev. J. A. Stewart, minister. Rev. John Neil, D.D., of Westminster Church, addressed a young people's rally in the afternoon. Dr. Neil said that a building was not truly a church unless the membership lived in a spirit of Christian fellowship, just as a home was a sham where discord and selfishness was a destroyed peace and concord. Rev. Dr. Mackenzie preached again at the evening service. A series of sermons in celebration of the opening of the new church will be preached by Rev. Prof. Kippitick, Rev. A. S. Grant, Rev. J. N. Turnbull, D.D., and Rev. Willard Browning.

ARCHBISHOP McNEIL AT ST. MICHAEL'S

Members of Holy Name Society Attended and Received Holy Communion

His Grace Archbishop McNeil pontificated at the solemn high mass, at 10.30 on Easter Sunday morning at St. Michael's Cathedral, there being a crowded attendance of the congregation. The deacon of the mass was Rev. Dr. Grant of St. Augustine's Seminary; the sub-deacon, Rev. Father Bonner; deacons of honor, Rev. Fathers O'Brien and Heydonand; Rev. Father Kernahan, priest at high mass. His grace, at the conclusion of the service, extended Easter greetings and wished the congregation all peace and hope of the resurrection, extended to their homes and into their daily lives. He then preached from the 17th chapter of St. John: "We Should Be All One."

AUSTRALIAN FLEET WILL COST MONEY

Annual Expenditure for Its Upkeep Will Be Twenty-Five Millions.

POLICY IS NECESSARY

Western Australian Agent-General Declares New Zealand Will Follow Suit.

That the future naval policy of Australia would involve an annual expenditure of $25,000,000 on her navy was the prediction made to The World in an interview last night by Lieutenant Colonel Sir Newton Moore, expert on naval matters and agent-general of Western Australia.

Sir Newton was enthusiastic on the fleet unit system adopted by Australia and declared it was believed that the future would see New Zealand adopt the same naval policy. As the question has not been finally dealt with here he did not wish to express an opinion on the Canadian naval policy.

He said that Australia was going to stick to the rule of white people only. Her population at present is composed of 97 per cent of British or British descent. The Australian statesman is a strong advocate of complete military training, and referred to the fact that Australia now possessed 200,000 well trained cadets.

SUFFS DISTURBED BISHOP IN CHURCH

Ran to Foot of Pulpit, But Were Finally Ejected

Canadian Press Dispatch. LOWESTOWN, Eng., April 12.—A large number of suffragettes disturbed the service at St. John's Church today while the bishop of Norwich was officiating. Several days ago the bishop was visited by a delegation of suffragettes and after a long parley consented to see two of them. They protested to him against the forcible feeding of women, and he promised to take their protest under consideration. Today they kept up a continuous chanting of "God save Emmeline" during the service. Several of them were ejected; then others ran to the foot of the pulpit and exclaimed: "My lord bishop, will you resist against the torturing of women?"

These disturbers were also dragged from the edifice, after which the bishop was able to deliver his sermon.

ONE KILLED, SIX HURT IN NEW HAVEN WRECK

Fireman Died in Hospital—Five of Injured Were Passengers.

Canadian Press Dispatch. NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 11.—One man was killed and six persons were injured when a suburban train on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, gasbound, was wrecked at Clayton, two miles from this city today. Five of the injured were passengers, and none suffered seriously. Engineer Frederick Benson of East Hartford, and fireman Henry V. Carroll of North Redding, Conn., were taken from the wreck unconscious and removed to a hospital, where Carroll died soon after. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

ANOTHER NEW HAVEN WRECK

NEW YORK, April 12.—The tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were blocked for nearly three hours this morning by a wreck on the main line, three-quarters of a mile east of Clayton. The Green Mountain express, which left the Grand Central station at 8.04 a.m., bound for Montreal, via Springfield, was derailed at 8.30. The electric locomotive and two mail cars left the tracks, but the two passenger coaches remained on the rails. No one was injured.

French Steamer Sprung Leak

LONDON, April 12.—The French steamer Niagara, from Havre for New York, reports by wireless telegraph that she has sprung a leak in No. 1 hold, and that she is steaming for the Azores. The message was dated April 8, and the vessel was in latitude 46, longitude 53.

CHORAL FEAST IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Rossini's Anthem "Inflammatus" Was Prominent in Easter Music.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS

Many Who Sought Entrance at Leading Churches Could Not Be Accommodated.

Easter Sunday again found the largest churches of all the denominations inadequate for the throngs of churchgoers, whether attracted by the significance of the festival, the elaborate musical programs or for the mere aesthetic delight of viewing the flower of fashion bursting forth into sudden full bloom from the slumber of the weeks' gloom of Lenten attire.

Evidence abounded that the day of big churches in Toronto was still in its morning. The cathedral, the new St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bloor street, with its two thousand worshippers, and the new Presbyterian Church at Kew Beach with a congregation of a thousand, vied with the historic St. Michael's and St. Paul's of the Roman Catholic communion, the Anglican St. James' Cathedral, the Metropolitan Methodist Church with their many decades of celebrity. The new and the old alike demonstrated the popularity, especially at the present time, of the Toronto public of edifices of commanding size and seating capacity.

Rossini's anthem, "Inflammatus," was prominent in the Easter music, not only in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches, but also in the case of other denominations, among those rendering it being the churches of the Presbyterian Church, College street, and Bellefair Avenue Methodist, Kew Beach.

Trinity Methodist Church, Bloor street, evening service was almost exclusively choral, the large choir including W. G. Hammond's "Messiah Victorious."

At St. Barnabas' Church a double christening added to the interest of the afternoon service, the infant daughters of Crawford Butler and James Butler being presented at the Easter font by their sponsors.

Many of the churches will repeat the Easter music at next Sunday's services.

Many at St. Ann's. An edifying sight was witnessed at St. Ann's Church, when at the three early masses up to fifteen hundred people received holy communion. The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. Father Cassan, with Rev. Fathers Hayes and O'Donnell, deacon and sub-deacon. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father O'Donnell.

The 8 o'clock mass over three hundred men and boys, members of the Holy Name Society, wearing their badges, approached the altar rails and received communion. Several of them were ejected; then others ran to the foot of the pulpit and exclaimed: "My lord bishop, will you resist against the torturing of women?"

EARLY NAVIGATION IS NOT EXPECTED

Outlook at Soo Not Particularly Rosy for Time of Year.

Canadian Press Dispatch. SULLY, Eng., April 12.—From present indications it is not probable that steamers will be able to make Superior much before the usual time. For the last 20 years this has occurred about April 20. In 1903 the first boat was locked through until the latest since was April 26, 1909.

Last year, after a week's delay, the big fleet passed here on April 22. Again Whitefish Point was a key to the situation. Although a week or ten days ago the ice condition in that section appeared favorable, inclement weather and the heaviest snowstorm ever experienced in April, according to the weather bureau, has again tightened up the entire situation.

Robert Whitefish Point, with its experience as the light keeper at Whitefish Point enables him to make accurate estimates, says the situation does not look any more favorable than a year ago.

MILITANTS ARE BEING CONQUERED

Most Offenders Behave After Touch of Prison Life, 'Tis Claimed.

Canadian Press Dispatch. LONDON, April 12.—Notwithstanding that militant suffragettes seldom serve more than a few days of their sentences before being released as a result of hunger and thirst strikes, the officials of the home office are thoroughly satisfied with the working of the "cat and mouse" act. This was designed to deal with these hunger strikers, and under it prisoners can be released temporarily, but in the end must serve their full term of imprisonment. Almost every suffragette who goes to prison goes on hunger strike and is speedily released, for the government is determined that the women shall retain sympathy through one of their number being in jail. As soon therefore as the prison doctor notices that a woman is unwell and orders her release, and she remains out until she again shows signs of resuming her agitation. According to the official returns most of the women do not resume their activity. They either leave the country or settle down quietly, in which case they are not molested.

FIGARO EDITOR DID NOT OFFER MONEY

Caillaux's Former Wife Denies Negotiations for Documents Were Conducted.

Canadian Press Dispatch. PARIS, April 12.—Mme. Gueydan-Dupre, former wife of Joseph Caillaux, and her son, Francois Dupre, testified today at the enquiry before Magistrate Boucard into the killing of M. Calmette, editor of the Figaro, by Mme. Caillaux, that M. Calmette never had offered them directly or indirectly money for documents relating to the Caillaux-Mme. Gueydan-Dupre said she had never been approached by anyone with a view to arranging an interview with M. Calmette. She also affirmed that she knew of no contents of letters or documents of any kind, and declared that she was surprised at the publication of the contents of letters of documents at the time of the publication of this letter she had telephoned M. Caillaux, and that he had told her that he knew of no contents of letters or documents of any kind, and that she was too loyal to have given it out.

Princess Missing. M. Boucard had summoned the Princess of Carignan, Estrade, former society editor of the Figaro, to the proceedings today, but the princess was out of the city. The princess some time ago testified that at the time of the divorce of M. Caillaux and Mme. Dupre, three letters were destroyed by agreement between the princess and Mme. Dupre. Mme. Dupre had retained photographs of the letters. M. Calmette, she continued, knew of the existence of the photographs, and offered $6000 to a person to arrange an interview with the holder of the photographs. This offer was refused. The princess said M. Calmette had when the letter appeared in the Figaro Mme. Caillaux had reasonable grounds to believe M. Calmette had the other two letters.

NEW EVIDENCE INEFFECTIVE. A written statement issued at the executive chamber followed. While renewed this application and the governor heard him for one hour and a half.

"The application was renewed on the same facts that were before the governor originally, and the affidavits of new witnesses presented to Judge Goff yesterday afternoon. Judge Goff yesterday afternoon. Judge Goff was nothing before him to justify his interference with the course of the law.

The final plea was made in the executive chamber with only the governor, his legal adviser, John Saxe, the governor's secretary, present. The governor did not appear before the attorney had left the chamber. Saxe gave out the statement and said the governor would have nothing more to say.

SWEDISH PARTY TO EXPLORE ANTARCTIC

Expedition Will Not Clash With That Headed by Stackhouse.

LONDON, April 12.—It has been learned here that the well-known polar explorer Dr. Nordenskjold, Admiral Pölander, and Commander Andersen are planning an expedition to the Antarctic, which will cover about the same ground as the British Stackhouse party of 1911. Definite plans have not yet been made, but it is probable that the expedition will land an observation party on the east coast of Graham's land. This party will be composed of six men and will remain there for five years.

J. Foster Stackhouse leader of the party, says that one of the objects of the Swedish expedition will be the study of whales, whose habits are still unknown, notwithstanding that these mammals have been hunted for years. Whatever friction there may be between the Stackhouse and Swedish parties, Stackhouse has already been in communication with Dr. Nordenskjold, giving particulars of the British expedition as far as they are known.

Dr. Nordenskjold's last expedition to the polar regions in 1903 came to grief when his ship, the Antarctic, was crushed in the ice off Graham's Land and the crew had to make its way north, being ultimately picked up by an Argentine vessel.

SPELLING BOARD REPORTS PROGRESS

Eight Thousand Words Have Been Reformed and Converted. TO PETITION ASQUITH

Member of Simplified Spelling Board Will Enlist English Premier's Aid.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The simplified spelling board, which has been holding its eighth annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, finished its work yesterday with the announcement that more than 8000 words have been reformed or corrected.

Among the members who took part in the sessions of the convention were Mr. William Archer, English author, Prof. Charles Grosvenor of Harvard, William Trufant Foster, president of Reed College, Henry Galtus, Faine, Prof. Brandt Mittweid, and author, Dr. Abraham Gideon, Prof. C. H. Thomas of Columbia, George H. Barton, Dr. Melvil Dewey and William F. Maclean, M.P. of the House of Commons.

The board asserts that simplified spelling is catching on rapidly and that, although it is being resisted by colleges, universities, schools, newspapers and business concerns that in 1909 the board has promised to adopt the standards of reform material in other states. The principal work of the board at present is interesting schools and colleges. It was William Archer told the convention that the board is presenting soon to Prime Minister Asquith asking for the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the merits of the movement.

Mr. Archer said he expected the premier to acquiesce and that the commission would be a big victory for simplified spelling. Papers were read by Mr. Archer, Prof. Grosvenor, Prof. Matthews, Mr. Holt, Dr. Gideon and others.

CHURCH UNION IS ALMOST ASSURED

Sir John Gibson Makes Prophecy at British Welcome League Rally.

HOW MEN ARE SAVED

Nation's Future Rests on Work of Churches, Avers Sir Robert Perks.

The prediction that the Presbyterians and Methodists were soon to unite was made last night by His Honor Lieut.-Governor Sir John Gibson, who was chairman at a meeting of the British Welcome League, which was addressed by Sir Robert Perks, ex-M.P. of London, Eng.

"The Methodists and Presbyterians will become one body after a while, and after we have become one body we will start on the Americans and take them in," said Sir John. "If they will not come in let them take us, and thus realize on the fact that in union there is strength. Whatever difference in creed which may exist do not matter much so long as we are all striving for the same end."

He remarked on the fact that the British Welcome League had over 25,000 Britishers in Toronto since it was organized in 1907. Sir Robert Perks, in referring to a union between the Methodists and Presbyterians, said that his mother was a Presbyterian and his father a Methodist minister, and he had received the benefits of the teachings of both churches from them. If a union of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches here meant an extension of the knowledge of the great truth pouring into Canada it was something to be devoutly hoped for.

Not on Armed Forces. The country's future depended on the Christian virtue of her people. Some had claimed that a country's greatness depended on her army and navy, but history alone was sufficient to disprove this. That wealth was not the secret of continued greatness was shown by the case of ancient Rome. Neither was the secret to be found in the education of the people. This had been tried by Greece at one time crowded with men of intellect, but which had since lost its power.

Not by Legislation. Neither could you make a high standard of morality and Christian life by legislation. Men were not saved in platoons, squadrons or regiments, but one by one, and it was for this reason that the future of the nation depended on the work of the churches.

The former member of the British Liberal party made an attack on party politics, declaring that the members of such were too prone to vote with party without regard to the right or wrong of the question involved. Such a system worked harm to every citizen who was employed.

How to Live One Hundred Years. He told of a woman who had passed a hundred years of life, and who had great a great age. It was plenty of plain food, a total abstinence from alcohol, coffee, and tea, and a married couple, never to have worries. This woman, never to have worries. This woman, never to have worries. This woman, never to have worries.

TELLS THE STORY OF WRECK AT SEA

Production of Motion Picture "Atlantis" Cost One Hundred and Fifty Thousand.

SCENES THAT THRILL

Passengers Leap From Deck of Sinking Liner and Gallant Rescues Are Effected.

One not acquainted with the modern methods of motion photography would scarcely believe that the production of "Atlantis," which will be shown for the first time in this city at the Electric Theatre, tonight and tomorrow, has cost approximately one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The services of five hundred players were required, in addition to over one hundred professional swimmers, divers and life-savers to give the realism to this remarkable picture. First to be seen the sailing of the great ten-thousand-ton liner, passengers bidding farewell to their friends. Next the steaming in the bay, the sea with flags and handkerchiefs waving. During the height of the festivities in the various cabins comes the alarm that a great vessel is in the vicinity and the immediately there is a rush for the upper decks. Many of the passengers have retired for the night and these are seen making their escape in their night attire. Boats are lowered, life-belts are distributed and all is ready for the worst.

In her critical position the ship is seen to be straggling. Passengers become frantic with fear and leap from the deck. Many gallant rescues are made by the professional swimmers, and it is one outstanding feature of the stirring scene. Later scenes show the heroism of the poor men in the boiler-room of the doomed ship, who stick to their duties in face of such an awful death. Lifeboats are then seen picking up a few survivors and bodies of the more unfortunate floating on the top of the water.

RAILWAY STRIKE IN ITALY LIKELY

Government and Railwaymen Ready for Crisis on Wednesday.

ROME, April 11.—Both the railwaymen and the government are preparing for the struggle which it is anticipated will begin next Wednesday. The railway employees carry out their threat to begin a general strike. The railway men are keeping their plans for the contemplated walk-out secret.

The government has ordered all the prefects in the kingdom to return to their posts and also is organizing a service along the coasts and will put into operation in case the strike is called. Striking will be used in this service, but principally for carrying the mails.

Should the strike be declared April 15, it will prove a most inopportune time for tourists, as on that date commences the 90 per cent reduction in all railroad fares to Rome for the horse racing season. During this season a quarter of a million persons visit the capital.

LOTH TO EMPLOY WOMEN POLICE

Prejudice in England Because Idea Was Imported From United States.

Canadian Press Despatch. BLACKBURN, Eng., April 12.—Mayor J. Higginson, in reply to a deputation favoring women police, stated that he believed in the necessity for the formation of a feminine corps, but he expressed the fear that some difficulty would be experienced in instituting the reform, because the innovation came from America. The testimony in favor of women police was given by Miss Higginson, diocesan secretary for rescue work in Liverpool, which has lately conferred the appointment of women police to handle drunken women. She expressed the opinion that women police could also do a very useful work in parks and dance halls for the protection of girls.

ALAS, POOR HUBBY! IT'S GOLD FANS NOW

Latest Fashion Decree is the Watteau Fan Studded With Pearls and Diamonds.

All Watteau's early eighteenth century ladies carried fans and all the "1814 reincarnations" of these dainty little ladies will also carry fans. History repeats itself—so does fashion. Accordingly, many old chests and jewel cases will be explored in search of the long-forgotten fan, but most will be tenderly restored to their coveted place of safe keeping, and the 1914 lady will be herself to the French notion counter and there invest in the latest Parisian duplicate of the quaint ancestral femininity in the cedar chest at home.

The Watteau fan is paramount—enamel and old French pink combined in a mystery of loveliness made fairy-like with the sparkling of gems. Carved ivory frames are seen in fans of an exquisite lace and colored sequins; and the fad of fans made to match the dance frook promises to increase in popularity—hand-painting, sequins, lace, and tiny beads being used to ornament them. Inch-square watches are a recent innovation—the covers being rimmed with gems, applique motifs, diamonds, amethysts, rubies and sapphires on enamel grounds. One beautiful miniature watch was ornamented with a deep violet enamel case on which were rays of sunburst engravings. Watch bracelets are also gem-becked pale blue, French enamel being used for the faces, which are studded with tiny gems. Rings are worn on the first finger, platinum settings being most favored.

MADE AMENDS FOR ARREST OF MARINES

Blanquet Says Incident Has Been "Satisfactorily Arranged," But Withholds Details. Canadian Press Despatch. MEXICO CITY, April 11.—Assurances were given tonight by Minister of War Blanquet that the incident growing out of the arrest at Tampico Thursday of several American marines had been "satisfactorily arranged," although he did not say in what manner. No information has been received here since yesterday concerning the incident, and the members of the American embassy staff and American residents in the capital are in ignorance as to whether the American flag was saluted in accordance with the demands of Rear-Admiral Mayo.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

Kitchen Work Simplified. WHAT ARE the essentials and non-essentials of kitchen work? Progressive women are studying this question, and as a result of their investigations much drudgery and heavy kitchen work is being eliminated. The essential and simplified work are first a convenient kitchen, and this means one equipped with necessary tools. Next, the arrangement of the furniture and utensils should be such that all unnecessary steps are saved. The range should have the place of honor as regards light; the work table should be near it, and the kitchen cabinet, or cupboard, must be situated within reach of the work table.

Painted walls and linoleum covered floors save much strength that was often spent in scrubbing. The best mops do the cleaning as well as arm power and brush ever did. Often when giving demonstrated lectures on cooking, women say to me, "If I only had the conveniences to cook with that you have, what couldn't I do!" Why haven't you got them? They are not expensive, and last a long time. You have other things you want in the way of dainty house furnishings, but you do not value what is really essential to good work in the kitchen.

The Sick Child

It is when a child is unfortunate enough to fall ill that the wise mother reaps the benefits of her careful training in good habits of sleeping, of feeding and obedience. A sick child requires to be left alone a great deal. I do not mean alone in a room necessarily, but in a room where he becomes a tyrant when in the sick room. And that is something the spoiled child resents very much. He is not used to being left alone, and he becomes a tyrant when in the sick room. The struggles of such a child over taking medicine or food have often caused the child to become hysterical in such a way that the mother is almost driven to despair.

WILD FLOWERS

CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD Goldthread. Canker Root. Coptis Trifolia. "Chaste are their instincts, faithful is their fire. No foreign heavy tempts to false desire."

Good Friday saw one searching among the bare black mold along the swampy banks of the old ponds to the west behind Grenadier Pond for the small evergreen leaves of the goldthread. The plant grows thick, the strong creeping, cordlike roots scarce buried beneath the black earth, and showing yellow gold in traceries rare. Not deeply buried, these waxy roots, yet by reason of the many rootlets and tiny threads spreading in a thousand ways, the wee plant is held firmly in its place, that it yields not to any gentle effort.

Perhaps there is no better time of all the year when one can more easily learn to find this time-old Indian plant than just now, when the forest floor has not yet grown over thick with spring flowers.

The Indians also prepared a strong yellow dye from these roots to color their birch-bark, their beads and their grasses. Together with the ruddy drops of sanguinaria this golden dye stained many a war canoe for border wars among the tribes.

Book Review

History of Canadian Wealth

By Gustavus Myers. The writer of "The History of Canadian Wealth" has found a new and fertile field for historical research. He has chosen a subject which cannot fail to be interesting to all those who are concerned with Canadian development.

The statement in the preface that "less than fifty men control $4,000,000,000 or one-fifth of Canada's material wealth" is a startling one. It is the text of his discourse. The question he discusses is, How has this enormous concentration come about? The book holds the attention from the start. Also it is crammed with facts and figures, these are, by their grouping, so disposed that they are not in the least tiresome. It is a book that is well worth reading.

The book is not all pleasant reading. Its revelations of the means adopted and the methods pursued are not flattering to those Canadian public men who made use of their position and parliamentary influence to further their private schemes. It makes one feel as the most of the "makers of Canada" were a little too much concerned with the making of themselves. The book is well worth reading. It represents a great deal of research and its statements are well fortified by references to the public records. Moreover, it is written in a style which makes it easy to read.

CLOSING OF "HEART SONGS" CAMPAIGN.

We announce with regret the closing of our wonderful campaign in distributing the greatest song book ever gotten together—"Heart Songs." We have sold over 100,000 copies and are glad to satisfy those of our readers who bring their coupons for the remaining few days. The advertisements that have been running in these pages for several weeks past have fully described the merits of the book—and the daily readers have constituted a veritable educational course in song music. We are more than gratified at the response from the public, and are sanguine that the refining influence of the songs will be felt for years in this community. Attention is called to the advertisement that may appear in our columns for the brief period remaining. The coupon offer will be published in the daily World.

plump in the midst of the marble and green formality of an Italian garden,
and you have the impression given by the quaint clothes of the moment in the setting of modern life.
Back to the days when Grandma was a debutante the clothes makers have gone, and made over the frocks of 1830 to fit the figures and needs of the woman of today.
Who of us can remember when book muslin was used for collars and under-bodices and little boleros? What do we know of bell sleeves and black velvet bracellets, and scalloped skirts, the scallops bound decorously with ribbon, except what we have gleaned from the old photograph albums or some funny old clothes scented with lavender which we have fished out of the attic to wear to costume parties?
"Hoop" Effect Reviving.
Even in the very hang of the skirts, with their extreme shortness and slight indication of fulness, there is a certain coquettish swish which is new to the memory of most of us, and yet holds the subtle suggestion of something revived and made modern.
Once in a while a model gown shows the hoop at the edge, which makes it stand out in startling distinction to the clinging skirts we have worn so long.
In Paris there have been several attempts to revive the pantalottes. Here the shops offer the modern version of them under the name of "tango bloom-ers," and many women wear them—not below the skirts. If ever the logical time for crinolone could arrive in these days of too little space it is here. We have accepted the new idea of the bust, and it might not be difficult to make hoops seem charming.
I spoke of the book muslin boleros.
These are in the shops, ready to wear, and add much to the thin gowns over which they are to be worn. They stand out the least bit in their figure, and are quite plain with neat ruffling all around bordered with the marbling of black velvet ribbons.
Roses and will continue to gain favor as the season advances.
They are used in a number of ways, for the tunic or panel or overskirt of plain silk skirts and to form the bolero on gowns of serge and poplin. They appear in the tub silks and are made up in separate blouses for morning wear and even for petticoats.
Beads for Trimming.
In ribbons they are the most effective pattern of the year, and are used for sashes, for bows on plain frocks, for waistcoats and in narrow width offer a number of Roman stripes.
One of her most original uses of this gay silk was for the shawl or wrap of an embroidered mullu gown, and for the underskirt, over which the embroidered roses hung so as to show about three inches of the silk.
Miss Paquin also understands the art of beads as trimming. She uses them in the most delightful way, and the most delicate allows them to give the note to the entire costume. For example, in a gown of apricot chartruse of the palest shade they form the black beads with a row of crystals and form an inner border and a pink bead
form an inner border and a pink bead form an inner border.
By the way, this touch of black to bring out the fine points of a costume is understands perfectly, and one which the amateur may well take to heart. It is simply wonderful what just a whisp of black tulle at the right place in a frock can do in the way of giving distinction.
One of the most sensitive novelties of the season is the waterproof hat trimming, which is usually ribbon which has been so treated that it is far more sup-pliable. It is tremendously smart. At quater of a distance it looks like the most supple of patent leather made into bows.

A TRAINED DOG

YOU can't blame the clock. It has its duties to perform. When a crisis comes, it must hold up its hands. Eleven o'clock or so is more or less of a crisis. You can't blame the girl. She has to be patient, poor dear. Her sex brings her many afflictions. You can't blame the dog. He has been trained to obey. His mistress has taught him carefully to be a good, obedient dog. Every one else is faithful to his mistress of his. In his abject adoration he is simply like all the rest, in the household and out of it. And he only needs a hint—just the merest hint. BUT you might blame FATHER. He is not the old-fashioned "irate parent." He's a jolly good fellow. You can gamble on his having a sense of humor. The trouble is that he is a shade too fond of his joke. And maybe he shouldn't have put the whole game up to the dog. Just fancy a gentleman of his distinction and waist measure pussy-footing around a hat rack and— Well, the jig's up. You can't mend a calamity like that.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple
Author of the New Novel, "Diane of the Green Van," Awarded a Prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as Judges
The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.
Making a "Fan."
LIKE baseball, Mary doesn't. Mary likes croquet. Heaven help me, I don't. I can't or the life of me, I am no fun in knocking wooden balls through a netting of wickets. Mary does. Now, periodically, Mary and I, at my suggestion, strive to adjust ourselves to each other's tastes. I usually after I've read some newspaper article about wives and husbands drifting apart. So, in a malignant attack of conscience, I have learned to play croquet, and summer evenings I mildly follow Mary about and thump at wooden balls. I never hit them. My specialty is wrenching out the wickets. This self-sacrifice of mine has borne retributive fruit. Mary has tried to like something that I like.
"Peter," she said radiantly one bright, warm afternoon, "I'm going to the ball game with you. I'm sure I'll be able to understand the game after a while, if you will explain it."
I expressed my willingness to try and we set forth.
It was Saturday afternoon and the Waverly Club was playing a rival county club. Mary and I climbed to the grand stand and she fluttered prettily into her seat with a quick glance all around her. I gathered from her radiant face that she looked better than the other women near her. She usually does.
"Now don't forget, Peter!" she exclaimed sweetly. "You must explain everything just as it happens."
I sighed. Have you ever tried to explain a ball game to a girl when things are happening so fast and furious that you just want to watch and whistle? I shan't forget my experience with Mary.
"A plate," said Mary, puzzled. "Dear me, you don't mean a platter to carry a ball game to a girl, do you?"
I explained that the cynical old fan behind me murmured something about a plate and "rossetting" the umpire. It was a vile pun and his companion ignored the chances there behind the bat with that face. He might easily ruin his looks forever. Couldn't he stand in the grand stand?
Baseball, I take it, requires a certain brain groove. Do women have it?

Secrets of Health

Vigor Makes Success in Life Easier

By Dr. L. K. Hirschberg
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)
B ATTLERS have made much work for tears in many a mother whose sons lie scattered on the bleeding ground. To lie groveling in the cold embrace of the discolored earth is a poor reward for the building up of health and strength. Yet the battle does go best with the strong in thought and in body. The health that sniffs like a war-horse the fresh morning air may not be among the victors of the fray, but to him is vouchsafed more happy conditions.
Life is who will escape the storms and stresses, the dysentery and the fevers, the wounds and the exposures. The warmth and glow the spirit and dash that comes with scarlet health, conquers in the end, though it be in many a momentarily lost battle. Life is full of the din of arms, the yells of savage rage, the moans of the fallen. The groan of death is eternally in the worldly air, which ever a solemn stillness holds.
Victory is inevitable, however, to the physically right man and woman. There may be a dolorous, mournful note in many a drum-beat; the trumpet's blast and the flap of banners do not always come at happy moments, yet he who is girded about with aggressive muscles, bounding red corpulence, and springing wind will win more than a set of spurs. Thus a thousand glorious daily wars are fought under your very noses and by you. Triumphant laurels and immortal fame lie in glorious confusion amid every crowded street.
Troops of daily heroes undistinguished by wreaths carrying dinner pails or riveting bolts 4 stories high in mid-air march with elastic tread back and forth in the marts of men.
Shamelessly I speak the platitudes that peace and life have their victories no less renowned than war. Hand to hand and foot to foot stroke thrust, slash and cries ask for quarter or for victory.
The tug-of-war betwixt Greek and Greek goes on eternally. The sweat of work is the blood of battle. Happy be whose solid sleep, whose simple food, whose moderate pleasures fit him physically for the strife.
The joys of battle, like the perilous edge of combat when it rages, cannot be long endured by the ailing one. The clamor of the fight, the clashing of contending volleys and darts, soon lay low the ill, the lame, the halt and the blind. Health alone wins its way successfully through the brazen chariots of raging rivals. The dismal hiss of fiery darts, levelled in words or deeds at the unshut man, fall harmlessly in flaming volleys on his head.
The laws of death are always showing through the fortress of life. Every soiled towel, each unsterilized handkerchief, the unboiled water you drink are attacks in the dark. Your living, visible enemies have hosts of allies in those unseen assassins, the disease germs.

Useful Hints for the Housewife
By Ann Marie Lloyd

IN the Spring heavy velvet draperies may well be replaced with those of the denim or the linen taffete or the denim of the linen which are offered various art fabrics for the upholstered chairs the linen slips are a summer necessity. They keep the materials they cover fresh, and they add immeasurably to the appearance of a room. Before they are put on the moved out all the dust should be brushed from the upholstery. Spots carefully taken out with French chalk or some of the reliable cleaning fluids, and the tuftings stuffed with soft frames may be covered with the fine netting which comes for the purpose, unless they are places filled by less ornate pictures, such as French prints or framed photographs or simple watercolors.
Unnecessary bric-a-brac should be carefully packed away in the summer. A few soft colored bows or tall glass vases should be placed in the average room needs in the way of such ornamentation. The summer scheme should be void of clutter. Space is far more conducive to comfort than the rarest collection of art objects.
In the bedrooms the rule of simplicity should be strictly followed. Elaborate bed draperies should be replaced with those of muslin or linen, and, by the way, those of embroidered linen are the most exquisite coverlets imaginable. Cretone is ideal. With wicket it transforms a room.
If possible construct all heavy and needless furniture to that mysterious place known as "up attic."
Blankets must be cleaned before they are put away. If you lack the convenience of cedar chests, use the moth-proof cases which come for it purpose. Or, if it is more convenient, make cases for yourself by wrapping the blankets in paper and securely fastening the ends so there is no chance of the moth finding entrance. Some housekeepers have a great faith in turpentine as a moth enemy. They dip pillow cases, or the ends of bed sheets, in turpentine and use it and lay between the folds of blankets or garments in the same manner as moth balls are used.
For summer there is a liking for the so-called cotton blankets for bed covering. Down comforters, the luxurious silken "puffs" may be thoroughly dusted and sewed in cheesecloth and then put in mothproof cases.
Where heavy, deep piled rugs are used in bedrooms the substitution of rag rugs for summer gives an air of daintiness.
In packing away winter clothing or furniture the chief thing to remember is to have everything well cleaned. Beat out the dust, take out the spots, shake out the wrinkles. Let them hang in the hot sun for a day if possible. Turn the pockets of all garments wrong side out.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie:
Like any other natural girl of 19, I like to have a good time, but my parents are strict Scotch people, and won't let me go out much. There is a young man who asks me to go to evening shows and to call on me in the nickle, but my father won't even let him come to the house.
I am a good girl at home and do all the work, so I think I should be allowed to go out some. What do you think?
BETTY BROWN EYES.
P OOR little Betty Brown Eyes, what a lot of trouble you're in, to be sure. Just now it seems to you the most important thing in the world to "have a beau" and to "go places."
And it is an important thing, too. Find out how old your mother was when she first began to go out with your father; tell her you are not feather-headed or foolish, you're just a simple, natural girl; tell her you will do whatever she thinks is right, but ask her what it is she thinks you ought to do. Talk the whole matter plainly over with her just as you have with me. Don't say one word you will be sorry for afterward, no matter what she says.
Ask your father what it is he wants against the young man who is his case and see you; see if you can't get your mother to invite him to a plain supper some evening. Maybe when your father sees that he is not the villain coming to carry you off, willy-nilly, but just a good-natured young fellow who happens to like you and whom you happen to like, he'll be different about it. If this fails, go to some one of your mother's friends and get her to intercede for you.
Cheer up, Betty Brown Eyes, everything will come right for you, not by and by, but near and by.
Annie Laurie
Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Daddy's Good Night Story
By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

I WAS thinking," began Mister Squirrel, one day, "that we used to see a good deal of Brer Rabbit. He hasn't been around lately."
"No," answered Mrs. Squirrel, "I guess he must be very busy."
"Busy doing what?" asked Mrs. Squirrel, hopping up beside her husband.
"Do folks always have to be doing something to be busy?" asked Mister Squirrel.
"You can be busy thinking," replied Mrs. Squirrel.
"I never thought of that," said Mister Squirrel, putting his hands to his head.
"Where are you doing?" asked Mrs. Squirrel.
"Don't bother me!" exclaimed her husband.
"Where are you doing?" asked Mrs. Squirrel once more.
"I am busy," replied Mister Squirrel.
"Busy doing what?" asked his wife.
"Busy thinking," answered Mister Squirrel.
"Or what are you thinking?" asked Mrs. Squirrel.
"I am thinking how I can get a large hickory nut without going after it," said her husband, pressing his hands to his head.
Mrs. Squirrel hopped away and soon returned with a large hickory nut and handed it to her husband.
"It pays to think," said Mister Squirrel, laughing.

Forbes-Robertson and his London company will present Bernard Shaw's "The Shrew" at the Grand Opera House. Board are assured that I am showing signs of physical or mental decay. "I am thankful for a vigorous constitution, which has enabled me to serve the city with less than one day's loss of time for every year of service, and with a loss of only one day in the last five years, and the members of the board would search the records in vain for the payment of a single dollar because of my absence."

"Age is largely a matter of habit," he says in Letter to Education Board. Considerable interest is taken in educational circles with regard to what action the board of education will take at its meeting on Thursday night on the question of enforcing the 65-year-old limit in such cases as that of the senior principal of high schools. Dr. Embree has made a vigorous protest against the summary application of the rule in the case in the following letter to the chairman and members of the board of education: "Gentlemen: At the meeting of the management committee held on Thursday last, the committee on superannuation presented a report which made public the names of several teachers who, in accordance with the bylaws adopted by the board, are subject to superannuation this year. By the merest accident I discovered my name on the list, and altho the high school business has been commingled with the management committee I was granted the courtesy of making a statement before the committee, which I desire to present in substance to the members of the board for consideration. "I am aware that I have reached the age for superannuation, as provided in the bylaws just mentioned, which, like other bylaws, are, I presume, merely convenient guides, not the masters of men, and do not renounce my judgment as is shown in the saving clause at the end of any code of bylaws. "Leaving out of consideration the question of the superannuation allowance mentioned in the report, which does not represent even the minimum amount to which I should be entitled under the bylaws, I claim that my thirty years of service in the educational work of Toronto fairly entitles me to the courtesy of being consulted in a matter of such vital importance to me, unless the members of the

CITY PLANNING WAS EXPLAINED

J. P. Hynes Presented Scheme to Solve Transportation Problem AT ARENA EXHIBITION Large Crowds Attended the Big Show All Day Saturday.

In the course of an illustrated address on City Planning and Transportation Problem at the City Development Exhibition, Saturday night, J. P. Hynes outlined a new scheme as a solution of the much mooted transportation problem. Every seat was occupied and a large number of people stood at the end of the arena throughout the address.

Mr. Hynes pointed out that comparatively few streets in Toronto run from the east to the west of the city, with a great number run from the Bay to the C.P.R. tracks. These, he asserted, would be excellent feeders to radial lines running along the eastern shore of the city, and the northern C.P.R. tracks. However, as space is restricted and costly along the front, and as there is a very considerable gradient from Front street to the North Toronto Station, and as the so-called North Toronto tracks are very much more central than are those of the eastern shore, Mr. Hynes selected the northern route as the preferable one.

His plan shows a backbone of tracks running parallel with the present North Toronto C.P.R. lines, within the city limits, and beyond radiating so as to serve the entire proposed residential area that lies within the radius of twenty-five miles from the City Hall. He pointed out on a map that a single line passing thru North Toronto, Oakville and Whitby as terminal would interest every track entering Toronto. An express and local service could be run within the limits of the express service stopping only at the concession line stations such as Yonge street, Bathurst street, Keele street on the west, and Leslie, Woodbine and the new line on the east. The local service would stop at all important streets transferring its passengers if desired to dismounting miniature trains and street cars. Huge oil paintings of the city are also shown. Many of the proposed public buildings, as well as a number of those being erected, are shown in architectural perspectives and paintings.

The 48th Highlanders Band will be in attendance this afternoon and evening. W. B. S. Armstrong will speak tonight on the housing problem. Dr. Britton tomorrow night on the civic survey and Dr. Hastings, M. O. H. Wednesday night on public health. Large exhibits have just arrived from Chicago and Philadelphia.

Will Give Address ON STATE LIBRARIES Wisconsin Expert to Speak at Annual Meeting of Ontario Library Association. Mr. Dudgeon, the secretary of the Free Library Commission for the State of Wisconsin, and one of the foremost organizers of library work in the United States, will speak tonight at the annual meeting of the Ontario Library Association in the art gallery of the reference library and the public display, on behalf of the large State of Wisconsin are reached by libraries, travelling and local.

J. Ross Robertson will meet the delegates and their friends at 4.45 in the afternoon in the J. Ross Robertson historical room to explain the significance of the five hundred pictures added since last year. Addresses welcome to the 250 delegates of the association will be delivered by Mr. T. W. Stanton on behalf of the Public Library Board of Toronto, and Controller McCarthy on behalf of the city.

How The Knight Motor Won Mr. Edge. To have achieved success in face of much adverse criticism and opposition is a privilege accorded few, but when success comes in spite of the best efforts of opponents, it is particularly noteworthy. Several years ago one of the foremost exponents of the poppet valve engine—Mr. S. F. Edge—the father of the six-cylinder Napier car—spoke strongly in opposition to the sleeve valve motor when it was first introduced. Recently, Mr. Edge purchased for his own use, a Sideley-Desays Knight and thus gave to the world a testimonial of his worth which could not be purchased for mere money.

Speaking editorially, The Auto Car of March 1st, 1914, which is, by the way, the leading automobile authority in Great Britain, has this to say: "We have already referred to the fact that, starting as an unbeliever in the sleeve valve, Mr. Edge has now no unfavorable criticisms to make of it, but he refers to some of its good qualities, particularly to its freedom from 'pinking.' This is, of course, due to the fact that the sleeve engine is so remarkably unaffected by variations in speed for such very long periods without any semblance of knock, or pre-ignition from dirt in the engine; indeed, it is the only form of internal combustion engine with which we are acquainted which actually runs better, rather than worse, in the natural condition of a gas engine, i.e., dirty."

"The exhibits as they graphically illustrate the development and expansion of Toronto are all attractive and interesting, and evoking not a little comment, commendatory and otherwise, among other things, the first electric motor built in Toronto, is somewhat cumbersome and antique in appearance, but still running. Another has erected a twenty-four hour bungalow of stone and brick.

Some of the commercial exhibits are both instructive and attractive. One firm is showing a new type of motor, which is somewhat cumbersome and antique in appearance, but still running. Another has erected a twenty-four hour bungalow of stone and brick.

This Week's Attractions at the Theatres

FORBES-ROBERTSON AT THE ALEXANDRA.

Sweethearts

TONIGHT will bring the first hearing in Toronto of the new Victor Herbert comic opera, "Sweethearts," at the Princess Theatre that the public of the larger important eastern cities have given an enthusiastic greeting in the same way that New York and Chicago did. The charm of the new work has been found to be not only in its musical score by Victor Herbert entirely, or even by the merry book provided by Harry B. and Robert E. Smith and Fred de Gresac, but in an unusual combination of these and a cast that has been more generously praised than has any light opera organization in many years.

In addition to the list of principals the theatregoers find additional delight in the "Sweethearts" chorus of size and vocal excellence and the Victor Herbert Opera orchestra, made up of so many players that it is announced the body of musicians must overflow the orchestra pit at the Princess and encroach upon the orchestra seats.

Caesar and Cleopatra

SIR JOHNSTON FORBES-ROBERTSON will present for the first time during his present engagement at the Royal Alexandra Theatre George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" tonight. This play, which was seen here about nine years ago, will be given two performances, tonight and tomorrow night. Forbese-Robertson and Gertrude Elliott will be seen in their original roles of Caesar and Cleopatra respectively. Owing to length of the performance the play starts at eight o'clock sharply.

The program for the other nights of the week is as follows: Wednesday, "Mice and Men"; Thursday matinee, "Hamlet"; Thursday night, "Passing of the Third Floor Back"; Friday, "The Light That Failed"; Saturday matinee, "Passing of the Third Floor Back"; On Saturday night a mixed bill will be presented, comprising the first act of "Passing of the Third Floor Back," the second act of "Mice and Men," the third act of "The Light That Failed," and the entire fifth act of "Hamlet."

At the close of the performance Forbese-Robertson will make his farewell speech.

Matinee at the Grand Today

THE famous cartoon of "The Dingbat Family" has been rounded into a worthy organization of musical mirth, and under the careful supervision of Lester Bratton, who have become famous for their skill in producing cartoon plays, this new creation will be presented by a worthy musical organization at the Grand all this week, opening with a special matinee today. A company of excellence, it is claimed, will unravel the laughs of "The Dingbats," including Bobby Barry as "Mr. Dingbat," who has many new ideas to spring for the approval of the kiddies throughout the country, and the families "upstairs" may anticipate an entertainment of much richness. A good sprinkling of new songs has been made in the production, and with the atmosphere being of the sort where the audience leaves the theatre whistling the latest song anticipated with much pleasure. Lester-Bratton's reputation as producers of cartoon musical comedies, after the splendid manner in which they handled "The Newlyweds and Their Baby," is sufficient to guarantee the worth of this engagement. Besides the matinee today the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinee will be given.

Ching Ling Foo at Shea's

LEADING the great bill secured by Manager Shea for this week is Ching Ling Foo, billed as the master magician wizard of the east, and his fourteen orientals in feats of magic. Accompanying Ching Ling Foo is Miss Chee Toy, said to be the only Chinese prima donna in the world who sings popular American songs. The act is mounted with characteristic stage settings. The special extra attractions on the bill are Bud Fisher, the foremost American cartoonist, the creator of "Mutt and Jeff"; Pauline Welch (Mrs.

MAUDE ROCKWELL AT THE GAYETY

TOM McNAUGHTON AT THE PRINCESS

Golden Crook Co.

THERE are few funnier stage comedians than Frank Dobson who comes to the Gayety Theatre with the "Golden Crook" Company for a week's engagement today. Dobson, who has been seen here with several popular musical successes, has a style imitatively his own, and his irresistible mannerisms never fail to keep an audience in a perpetual roar of laughter. The "Golden Crook" Company has a brand new vehicle entitled, "From Riches to Rags."

The Tango Girls

THE Star this week will be seen the brilliant success, the "Tango Girls." It will be presented by a cast of excellent people, thoroughly capable of bringing out the many laughable complications which the hit contains. The scenery and costumes are the same that were used in its original presentation in New York, and we are promised that the chorus is one of the most attractive that have been gathered together in many seasons.

At the Park Theatre

THE vaudeville bill advertised at the Park Theatre for the first three days of this week is above the ordinary. Landon Ross, have an act all their own; they are sure to make a hit with their audience. Gallop, the comedy juggler, is very comical. Eloise Mortimer, soprano vocalist, is reported as being far above the average.

Messrs. Brennan and Carr, with their latest songs, jokes and dances, are sure to amuse the crowd. As an added attraction, Miss Agnes Adie, the renowned soprano, completes one of the best vaudeville bills advertised by the popular west and theatre. Together with the above four latest releases in photo plays will be shown. This completes a program that should bring capacity houses.

FESTIVAL OF THE LILIES.

The annual event of the Festival of the Lilies promises as usual to be a very successful one, and will find Massey Hall taxed with a record audience on this Easter Monday night. Mr. L. Rees has his young singers in splendid training, and along with other attractions, will make the program the best ever given. The band of the Royal Grenadiers will accompany through the concert. Lieut. John Waldron having arranged the music specially so as to fill up a harmonious background to the melody part of the children's voices. Many specially attractive items are also on the program.

GLADYS SEARS AT THE STAR

Bud Fisher, singing comedienne, and the Grazers in a dainty novelty.

Other features included in this week's bill are Madden and Fitzpatrick, McKay and Ardine, Roach and McCurdy, Lo Lotte and The Kinetograph.

Loew's Winter Garden

THE program announced for Loew's Winter Garden this week is headed by a clever comedy skit, entitled, "The Girl and the Drummer," with which Wheeler Earl and Vera Curtis made a tremendous hit at Loew's Orpheum Theatre, Boston, last week. Mr. Earl and Miss Curtis are two of the most popular entertainers on the Loew circuit, and the novel setting, the clever plot and witty dialog of their act, coupled with its bright song and dance finale, should assure their efforts the hearty appreciation of Toronto playgoers. Other features of the week's bill include: The Bellboy Trio, princes of song and comedy; the great Tallman, ex-champion pool player of the world, in his great exhibition of trick and fancy shots; Rose and Moon, in their own version of modern dances; Hilda Hawthorne, foremost lady ventriloquist, and her funny dummy, "Johnny"; the "Three Yescars," "gentlemen crooks"; La Vior, a trapeze artist of an unusual sort, and Eddier and Shelton, clever colored comedians, one of whom imitates a Chinaman. The feature photo-play is "Lord Chumley," the comedy drama in which E. H. Sothern starred, a four part production by Klaw & Erlanger.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel." Lewis Waller's famous success, "A Butterfly on the Wheel," will be the offering at the Grand Opera House next week, with a splendid company and complete production. Seats now on sale.

The "Four" that Excels the "Six"

Here is a four-cylinder Knight engine car that challenges the world's best sixes.

Russell

$2,975

It is the PROVEN superior of any "cheap" poppet-valve Six. The equal of even the highest-priced Six of that type.

Every advantage claimed for the best poppet-valve Six is found in this RUSSELL KNIGHT Four. Plus many valued features not found in any poppet-valve Six.

It has more power than many Sixes with motors almost twice its size.

It has a flexibility in the motor which auxiliary gearing and extra transmission speeds can never produce.

It is economical of oil and gasoline to a degree with which no poppet-valve motor can compare.

It has established world's records for reliability and durability, which no poppet-valve Six dare undertake—not even for $20,000.

In dollar-for-dollar value, no car built in a foreign country can match it by 35%.

These are not claims. They're FACTS. Facts that YOU can easily prove. Facts that vitally affect your investment in any car. Facts which every shrewd buyer will thoroughly consider, in order to buy wisely and well.

Call at our Branch to-day. Make us "show you" to your complete satisfaction wherein this RUSSELL Four excels any poppet-valve Six.

perencing the novelty of a strike against child labor. One thousand five hundred girls working for a big provision firm have gone on strike because the firm advertised for girls under the age of sixteen years. For some it has been the boast of this firm that, in spite of the practices of its rivals, it had never employed a girl under sixteen years of age. Last week girls of fourteen and sixteen years were advertised for, and placed at work in the tin box making room on machines, which have never been considered safe for inexperienced operatives. The older girls protested against the child labor, and when no attention was paid to their protests, went out on strike. The 500 men employed by the firm joined the girls, because last year, when the men protested against girls being given men's work, the girls loyally joined them in a strike.

That Son-in-Law of Pa's

By G. H. Wellington

This illustration is reproduced from a photograph and represents a portion of the front of Lawrence Park Estates as it actually is to-day.

Lawrence Park Estates

The Only Highly Developed Suburban Residential Property in Toronto

Situated on Yonge Street in the Most Attractive Residential Portion of North Toronto

400 feet above the Lake Level.

Dry and pure air. Cooler in Summer and warmer in Winter. Wide sidewalks. Well kept roads. Large open spaces and Park Reservations.

One of the finest ravines in Ontario crossed by several rustic bridges runs along the front of the property.

A Club House, Bowling Green and Tennis Courts all add to the pleasure and charm of the Lawrence Park Estates and help to make it a beautiful and convenient place in which to build your home.

The Home of Your Heart's Desire

Every man cherishes the thought of some day building the home of his heart's desire. Lawrence Park Estates appeals to most men and women as a desirable and eminently suitable setting for their proposed home. You can't build a home without the land. Why not see and consider Lawrence Park? A lot in Lawrence Park is one of the best investments in Canada.

The property is not a subdivision in the ordinary sense of the word, but a highly developed district of 500 acres, which is being rapidly built up with high-class houses, and for which there is an almost daily demand from builders and people who wish to build. So that an investment in Lawrence Park Estates is easily converted into cash. In proof of this, 66 per cent. of the owners of lots on this property have intimated by letter that they refuse to sell at present day prices, although the prices have advanced over 100 per cent. during the last two years.

14 per cent. of the owners of vacant lots have intimated by letter that they intend to build. This is surely strong evidence of the desirability of the property.

Lawrence Park Estates, either for a home or an investment, is acknowledged by all who know it to be the most attractive proposition on the market to-day.

A model of the property is on view at the City Planning Exhibition at the Arena. We have reproduced the Park in miniature in the form of a remarkably comprehensive model, which is 25 feet wide and shows almost every house as it stands to-day. The ravine, the bowling green, and tennis courts, and the stream.

We invite you when at the Exhibition to visit our Booth. You will be interested and entertained.
