Heart disease is characterized by its stealthy approach and its variety of forms, yet in all its forms nature gives unmistakable signals which warn us of its presence. One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throbbing. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling, or again there may be the most violent beating, with flushing of the skin and visible pulsations of the arteries.

Mr. Darius Carr, Geary, N.B., writes: "It is with the greatest pleasure I write you a few lines to let you know the great blessing your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been to me. I was a total wreck from heart failure, my wife advised me to take your pills and, after using two boxes I was restored to perfect health. I am now sixty-two years old and feel almost as well as I did at twenty."

BROUGHT UP AS GIRL THOUGHT HE WAS A WOMAN

An Amazing Story From Chingford —No One, Not Even Himself, Suspected.

LONDON, April 25.—An amazing case of a young man who has lived twenty-four years as a girl has just come to light in Essex. The case is not one of a masquerade. It is a most extraordinary one of a man who all his life has, under peculiar circumstances, honestly and perfectly believed himself to be a girl, and has acted in every way as such. He was registered at birth as a girl, given a girl's name, baptised as a girl, dressed as a girl, allowed to wear his hair as a girl, and in every other respect treated as a girl. His name is Beatrice Alger. He was sixteen years old when his parents at Walthamstow, and attended the girls' department of the local board school. After leaving school he assisted his parents in earning money as a female coster, and with his long hair, feminine features, and dress, was a familiar figure in the streets of the district. He was suspected by his real sex. The discovery that he was not a girl came about in an extraordinary manner. Whilst working as a flower-labourer in Chingford he got to know a laboring man. Early in March they were pushing a basket together along the main street of Chingford when a police constable named Billman, who knew the man, stopped both and began to make enquiries concerning the basket. There were plenty of lead in the vehicle, and as a result both were taken to the Chingford police station. To the officers at Chingford police station Alger had been known as a flower girl for years.

Known as a Flower Girl.

The police had no slight suspicion. They had no cause for it. Accordingly he was entered in the charge book in his real name of Beatrice Alger, and after the police court hearing was committed for trial at the Essex quarter sessions at Chelmsford. That was the fact that led to the discovery of the real sex of the girl. When the police officers found it out. They found that whilst for some years after birth Alger might well be considered to be a girl, there were now certain signs that he was a man. Under these circumstances all his long hair was cut off before the quarter sessions opened last week, and before he was placed in the dock he was dressed in full masculine garb. The plain but extraordinary facts that he had actually and always regarded himself as a girl and acted as such were made clear. Details of the case were laid before the jury, and the ordinary man-woman of the court on the offer of a relative by marriage to take him under control and obtain for him a suitable situation away from possible evil influences.

Pastor Comes East.

WINNIPEG, April 25.—Rev. A. W. Winnipeg, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church here, has accepted a call to the pastorate of Trinity Methodist Church, Fort Arthur.

The Passing of Agnes St. Church

Landmark in Local Methodism Which is Now Being Offered for Sale.

It will cause a feeling of deep regret among the Methodists of the province—especially those who formerly belonged to the Bible Christian Church—to read that the old Agnes-street Church, at the Corner of Teravauy, is for sale, for mercantile or other purposes. The building was erected in 1823 by the Bible Christians, and with the exception of the one at Eastern Ave. it was considered the finest church building in the denomination. At the time of the union of the Methodist churches in 1888, the church was carrying a heavy debt of over $2,000, which was considered large for the small membership at the conference of that year it was proposed to sell the church, but Rev. Dr. Alexander Sutherland cham-care to take up the work that Mr. Kerr had inaugurated—that of street preaching and services in the park—but with the assurance of the president's and chairman's personal support, he entered upon the work in July, 1886, and spent three active years in reducing the church debt to $2000, and in increasing the membership of the church. The church had at that time, that seats 180, and chairs in the aisles. When the history of Agnes-street Church is written, Mr. Wilkinson's three years of hard work will occupy a prominent place. A request was sent to the conference to extend the pastoral term and make Agnes-street an institutional church, but the conservative members of the conference were opposed to anything that might look like an extension of the ministerial term of years. Some years ago, on account of the influx of foreigners in the neighborhood, it was decided to close Agnes-street and unite the congregation with Elm-street, whose pastor and officials were active in promoting the union. Five years ago, with the project remembers the letter Mr. Wilkinson wrote from Chicago against the movement and prophesying failure for the

AT THE THEATRES

Toronto has been waiting for nearly two years to see the much talked about production, "The Red Mill," in which those eccentric comedians, Montgomery and Stone, have been appearing in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. This evening at the Princess Theatre, this attraction will be presented for the first time in Toronto. It is undoubtedly one of the best and most unique musical offerings of the day. The engagement will be for one week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

For the next two weeks, commencing to-night, the Royal Alexandra Players will make a short tour of the following cities: Kingston, Peterboro, Stratford, Hamilton, St. Thomas, Ottawa, Galt, Guelph, St. Catharines. No doubt their appearance in these towns will be much appreciated. On Saturday night a very large audience, which included Mayor Oliver and party, witnessed the farewell performance, and George Primrose, who has been a continuous and insistent, that after half a dozen curtain calls, Mr. Stallard had to step forward and say a few words on behalf of the company. The performance of "The Lottery of Love" was really one of the finest in farce comedy that Toronto audiences have had an opportunity of seeing.

The star of "The Shoemaker" company, the attraction of the Malvern Theatre, is said to be one of the greatest delineators of Jewish character on the stage. Leitch is a natural born actor, and does not burlesque or ridicule the Hebrew, but shows the better and most commendable side of the race. He is a most capable old gentleman. Local amateurs will compete after the regular performance on Monday evening for three prizes in gold.

George Primrose at the head of a procession of one hundred of the Grand this week, where theatre-goers will be given a view of the finest minstrel organization on the stage. George Primrose has one new comedy that is said to be the best this famous minstrel has ever had. It is entitled "The Watermelon Cooles," and is in three acts, each with a nice little burlesque. They in turn must select some fellow from the audience who looks good to them and place the same around their neck. Last Wednesday night it was done and created lots of laughs for all who attended.

Mr. Fiske's engagement will be played this season at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, commencing this evening, for one week. She will be seen in "Rosenholm," the drama by Henrik Ibsen, which she recently acted in New York. The reviewers were practically a unit in declaring it to be Fiske's best offering, and her portrayal has been placed among the memorable figures in the modern drama. Two of its most powerful scenes are the scene of the revelation of the lights man wonderful and inspiring sights are produced. Mr. Primrose appears in a new soft-shoe dance.

At the Gaiety theatre this week Fred Irwin's Big Show will make its appearance. The opening skit will be a travesty entitled, "The Great White Way." The olio comprises Campbell and Kennedy, Walsh, Lynch & Co., Brady and Mahoney, Watson Sisters and the Three Bennett Sisters. The closing burlesque is entitled "Ladies Day at the Actors' Club."

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Victoria College Students Addressed by Rev. Dr. Smith.

To the graduating class of Victoria University, the Rev. J. V. Smith, D.D., yesterday preached an able and earnest baccalaureate sermon in Central Methodist Church. The text, which was taken from 1 Corinthians xiii. 8, was, "Charity never faileth; for whether there be prophecies they shall fail, whether there be tongues they shall cease, whether there be knowledge it shall vanish away."

Paul when writing to the church at Corinth was very well aware of that fact of the Corinthians. While Paul strove after the spiritual and moral side of the ideal of the gospel, which has life they only looked for the intellectual and physical side, and in doing so were slowly but surely drifting away from the ideals of the gospel, which Jesus had propounded unto them, and of which Jesus was the living typification. In the same manner as the apostles have the way to Jerusalem had quarrelled as to whom was going to have the highest place in heaven, the disciples at Corinth had quarrelled as to which of the several gifts they were possessors of were best. One said prophecy, another said the gift of tongues, another something else, while every one of them had overlooked the greatest of all—charity, or as it is now called, love. Since he of the gigantic brain could write and discuss abstruse philosophical questions, and Matthew Arnold

This week at the Star theatre will be the "New Century Girls" proclaimed by all who have seen it, more pretty girls, more funny comedians, more singing, more dancing,

Mr. Wilkinson has written "The World" requesting that we mention this objection in the "obituary" of the church, since events have proved the soundness of his judgment. He believes that the church might have been saved, and would be to-day the centre of evangelistic effort for the down-town churches. When asked if he would undertake it, he replied, "Yes, if they would give me a free hand and allow me to select my workers." The pastors of the church have been: Revs. J. J. Rice, G. JACK ATKIN WINS QUEEN'S COUNTY HANDICAP

Rifleman is Second and Spooner Third—Fine Day and Fast Track for Saturday's Races.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Jack Atkin, winner of the Carter Handicap, to-day duplicated his victory by easily winning the Queen's County Handicap at Aqueduct, defeating a high-class field of horses. Jack Atkin was quoted at 7 to 2 in the betting, and he ran the distance one mile in 1:28, the fastest time of the meeting. Rifleman, who finished second, met with a lot of interference, losing considerable ground, but came very strong at the finish. Restigouche and Welbourne were both added starters, with the former favorite all the way to the place. Restigouche finished a bad last, the Glendale Steeplechase, a handicap over the long course, resulted in an easy victory for the second choice, Pocket. The other races were unimportant, unchanged in the stretch, where Spooner began to tire and Jack Atkin, taking command, won easily. Rifleman closed and best Spooner half a length for the place. Restigouche finished a bad last, the Glendale Steeplechase, a handicap over the long course, resulted in an easy victory for the second choice, Pocket. There were only four starters in the straight betting only, and both received a heavy lay-off to make the race, followed by Jimmie Gill. These two opened up a big lead. Jimmie Gill was the first to tire and dropped back, while Rocky, who had been trailing his field, moved up to second place and took the lead half a mile from the finish and won by 15 lengths, with Economy second. Says Heinrich (the maltster):

"A DOCTOR we supply with R-e-g-a-l Lager for table use told me a while ago that Herr Professor Neumann, of the Hygienic Institute in Germany, proved that pure lager beer, taken with meals daily, does prevent indigestion and keep people well. "He tried it on himself for ten months, and said his health was never so good before. "Another Herr Doctor,—Hindhede, the great Danish man of science,—says lager beer ranks away up high as a food. "So many families in Canada (and elsewhere) use R-e-g-a-l Lager on their tables,—people who believe in real temperance,—that I know it IS a food drink and NOT an intoxicant. "Why don't you order a case and try R-e-g-a-l Lager's good in your own home?"

WOLVERHAMPTON WANDERERS

Beat Newcastle United 3 to 1 in Final English Football Cup. LONDON, April 25.—The final game in the contest for the English Association Cup, the blue ribbon of the British football world, and the goal for which all the best football teams in the country have been struggling through the past winter, was played at the Crystal Palace this afternoon, and resulted in a victory for the Wolverhampton Wanderers over the Newcastle United, the score standing 3 to 1. The attendance, owing to the winter weather, was between sixty and seventy thousand. This is small for these finals, which usually attract in the neighborhood of one hundred thousand persons. Rosevan's Book. Attention is called to an advertisement on this page of a work known as "Rosevan's Classification of Thoroughbreds," the value of which is apparent to anyone who knows the true worth of keeping and compiling the records of all horses that participate in the thousands of races which are contested each year in the United States and Canada. It is claimed that of the 2536 races classified the past 15 months, the work shows 1272 winners, or over 50 per cent. This, together with the fact that many of these entries were quoted as high as 50 to 1, gives some idea of the merits of this work, not only in a speculative way, but to all who take any interest in racing. Thistles II, Lancashire I. Before the senior game at the Pines, Saturday, the Thistles and Lancashire played a game in the intermediate series. Lancashire led at the half 1 to 0, but the Thistles evened up in the second period and so the score remained Thistles (1): Goal, Lanford; back, Fisher, Stephens; half-backs, McAuley, Tucker and Dickson; Local Turf: Blair, Bleach, Doherty and Newton, Lancashire (1): Goal, Ellis; backs, Hoag and Goodwin; half-backs, Stangfield, Reynolds and Greenhalgh; forwards, Cross, Druay, Barrett, McKenna and Gaw. Referee—Cromland.

12 BLADES 24 SHARP EDGES

The Wonder of It.

Can you conceive of a razor blade only 6-1000 of an inch thick! Think of this blade being so flexible that it may be bent in the fingers and yet do better work than the ordinary thick blade. A handle and blade so perfect in a practical way that shaving is made a delight to the novice or the experienced, old method, "self shaver." When you think of these features in one razor, you marvel at the wonders of the "Gillette."

HOAGLAND THE WINNER WALK AT PETERBORO

Keeps Up 5-1-4 Gait for Thirty-Six Hours—Big Crowd Sees the Finish.

PETERBORO, April 25.—Over 3000 people packed Brock-street Bank here last night to see the finish of the 98-hour walking contest. Many had to be turned away so great was the crush, the race field, the greatest excitement in Peterboro and the surrounding country. The tournament came to a close at 11 o'clock with seven men on the track in the following order: W. A. Hoagland, Auburn, N.Y.; J. E. Baker, Jackson, N.Y.; James Harrison, Peterboro; Charles Stevens, Peterboro; James Graham, Buffalo, N.Y.; Charles Steiner, Warsaw, Ont.; Ray Kenzie, Auburn, N.Y. The first five received $100 to get into the money. The gate receipts for the week total about $2000. There will be $100 to each of the walkers and of this Hoagland will get $600. The standing of the walkers at the finish was as follows: Hoagland, 131 miles 4 laps. Baker, 130 miles 10 laps. Harrison, 129 miles 3 laps. Stevens, 127 miles 2 laps. Graham, 125 miles 2 laps. Steiner, 123 miles 9 laps. Fenton, 117 miles 7 laps.

After the men quit the rink there were speeches by Hoagland, Dave Hartley, C. A. Stevens, Steiner, Tom Slater, Referee Henry Reynolds, of Port Hope and others. Hoagland and Slater stated that the Peterboro walk was the best ever held in the continent. On Monday night a benefit walk will be held for those outside the money.

WEST TORONTO'S CHANCE.

A Conservative of the Sir John A. Macdonald brand is not to be despised in these degenerate days. Can it be possible that some so-called Conservatives have forgotten Sir John A. Macdonald and what his political ideals were?

A. W. Wright, whose life-long Conservatism met with the approval of Sir John A. Macdonald, is a candidate in West Toronto for the legislature. Mr. Wright is one of the best informed publicists in Canada. As a platform man, in readiness of speech and ripeness of information, he has no superior. He is a valiant thinker, and that possibly is why he said in the opening meeting of his campaign that he desired to go to the legislature, if he went at all, with a mind untied and free to deal with public questions on their merits. Such independence, along with Conservatism makes the progressive Conservative.

No better man could be chosen by the Conservatives of West Toronto than A. W. Wright. In the cause of protection no one has played a bigger part. In the cause of labor his work is known and recognized wherever unionism in America thrives. Wherever vital questions of public interest in Canada have arisen, there A. W. Wright has been found espousing the cause of the people, either by tongue or pen.

West Toronto has a chance to honor itself by honoring A. W. Wright.

MANCHESTER SUPPORTS TARIFF REFORM.

Mr. Winston Churchill's defeat in Northwest Manchester was naturally the sensational event of the week in British politics. In itself the reversion of the constituency to its accustomed color was not extraordinary. The general election showed the country to be thoroughly tired of Mr. Balfour's government, and many Liberals owed their success quite as much to abstentions on the part of Unionist voters as to the greater support they received from their friends. This condition is not lasting and the general election is already sufficiently distant to allow of the return swing of the pendulum. Then, on the Unionist side, the disturbance caused by the intrusion of the tariff reform controversy was then at its height. The reformers had not established themselves in the citadel of the party, nor had their policy been accepted as part of its official program. Much, however, has happened since the free traders, with more rashness than discretion, proclaimed that tariff reform had been crushed for ever. The wish, of course, fathered the thought, and they did not realize that free trade had fallen from its high dogmatic state and had ceased to be regarded as practically the eleventh commandment of the moral law. Yet the mere fact of the existing fiscal system being subjected to rude challenge ought to have enlightened them on this point. There is no finality in politics and the British people had already begun to question whether unrestricted free imports were really the blessing in disguise which their doctrinaire defenders persisted in declaring them to be.

Certainly the most remarkable feature in the advance of tariff reform, from a tolerated pious opinion to its position as the first constructive plank of the Unionist policy, has been the fact that its vitality is due not to artificial stimulation but to its hold upon the rank and file of the party. Mr. Balfour has been steadily and irresistibly driven out of his first Laodicean humor by the growing evidence of the popularity of the call for a revision of the nation's economic system. How convincing these are can better be gathered from the recent declaration of Lord Curzon, who originally assumed a more definite attitude of opposition to fiscal reform than did his leader. Speaking earlier in the month at Basingstoke, he said:

It seems to me that the fiscal platform which Mr. Balfour has laid down to the country is one upon which all sections of his party may well unite and upon which ultimate reunion is not only possible but certain. I do not envy either the common sense or the political foresight of the man who argues that no change whatever in our fiscal policy is either required or is likely to come. In my view a change of some sort is not only necessary but inevitable.

Even the free trade Conservatives have had recourse to how to the will of the party and are buying off opposition by pledging themselves, if accepted as party candidates, to give their constituencies an opportunity of declaring their mind, should they find themselves unable to support the tariff reform proposals which may hereafter be submitted.

Curiously enough, this same feature was reproduced in the Manchester by-election. Manchester, as Mr. Churchill remarked, is the ancient home of free trade, and Mr. Joynton-Hicks, the Conservative candidate, and now Conservative member, appears at first to have been haunted by the fear that his chances would be imperilled were fiscal reform made the main issue. Therefore, while stating his adhesion

How Alexander Untied the Knot

By HERBERT KAUFMAN.

Alexander the Great was being shown the Gordian Knot. "It can't be untied," they told him; "every man who tried to do it fell down."

But Alexander was not discouraged because the rest had flunked. He simply realized that he would have to go at it in a different way. And instead of wasting time with his fingers he drew his sword and slashed it apart.

Every day a great business general is shown some knot which has proven too much for his competitors, and he succeeds because he finds a way to cut it. The fumbler has no show so long as there is a brother merchant who doesn't waste time trying to accomplish the impossible—who takes lessons from the failures about him and avoids the methods which were their downfall.

The knottiest problems in trade are:

- 1—The problem of location.
- 2—The problem of getting the crowds.
- 3—The problem of keeping the crowds.
- 4—The problem of minimizing fixed expenses.
- 5—The problem of creating a valuable good will.

None of these knots is going to be untied by fumbling fingers. They are too complicated. They're all involved together—twisted and entangled over and about each other—so intertwined that they can't be solved singly—like the Gordian knot they must be cut thru at one stroke. And you can't cut the knot with any sword except the newspaper—because:

- 1—A store that is constantly before the people makes its own neighborhood.
- 2—Crowds can be brought from anywhere by daily advertising.
- 3—Customers can always be held by inducements.
- 4—Fixed expenses can only be reduced by increasing the volume of sales.
- 5—Good will can only be created thru publicity.

Advertising is breeding new giants every year and making them more powerful every hour. Publicity is the sustaining food of a powerful store and the only strengthening nourishment for a weak one. The retailer who delays his entry into advertising must pay the penalty of his procrastination by facing more giant competitors as every month of opportunity slips by.

Personal ability as a close purchaser and as a clever seller doesn't count for a hang so long as other men are equally well posted and wear the sword of publicity to boot. They are able to tie your business into constantly closer knots, while you cannot retaliate because there is no knot which their advertising cannot cut for them.

Yesterday you lost a customer—today they took one—tomorrow they'll get another. You cannot cope with their competition because you haven't the weapon with which to oppose it. You can't untie your Gordian knot because it can't be untied—you've got to cut it.

You must become an advertiser or you must pay the penalty of incompetence.

You not only require the newspaper to fight for a more hopeful tomorrow, but to keep to-day's situation from becoming hopeless.

P.S.—Talk No. 9 will appear in The World on Wednesday, April 29.

generally to tariff reform, he commenced his campaign by attempting to placate the Unionist free traders—offering, indeed, to put it on one side in the election. His uncertain call for battle was, resented by the tariff reformers and fortunately the situation was cleared by Mr. Churchill, who insisted upon free trade as the vital issue in the contest. The Unionist free traders also intimated their intention to vote for Mr. Churchill, and Mr. Joynton-Hicks, therefore, despite his first indecision, had to accept the challenge. At one of his afternoon meetings he attacked the Unionist free traders, who, he said, had deliberately refused the olive branch he held out—"their blood," he added, "be on their own heads." These incidents make his success all the more noteworthy and significant and explain why, if correctly reported, he expressed the opinion that he owed his victory to education and licensing reform. ODDFELLOWS AT CHURCH.

Rev. E. C. Laker Addresses Toronto Brethren.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Toronto celebrated the 39th anniversary of the order yesterday afternoon by attending a special service at Old St. Andrew's Church. Over one thousand members of the order formed in line at the corner of College and Yonge sts., and marched down Yonge, York, and up Jarvis street to the church. They were headed by the patriarch militant in uniform under the command of department commander, Col. W. S. Johnston, Cap. C. M. Hermiston and Capt. E. F. Ledy. Prominent in the line were Mayor Oliver J. T. Hornibrook and John Donagh, past grand masters of the order, and J. B. King, grand secretary, W. J. McCormack, grand treasurer, Samuel E. Bowden, D.D.G.M., H. W. Taylor, D.D.C.P.

Rev. E. C. Laker was the preacher. At a scripture lesson he read the story of the good Samaritan, and took as his text the saying of the old Israelitish general, Joab, "Be of good courage and be valiant men for our people and the cities of our God."

Mutual helpfulness, love, heroic manhood and Christian patriotism were the principles upon the congregation.

"I do not know which is the worse," said the preacher, "a man who is so self centered that he thinks he needs no help, or the man who is so selfish that he never thinks to offer help. Fraternity is that is not embodied in acts of humanity of any word or deed."

"The man who has not yet learned to live for others has not yet begun to live for himself. Selfishness is his distemper, and the suicide of love."

"It is not a clever thing to do wrong. A certain notoriety with which we surround vice and crime to-day is misleading. The newspapers are too great an extent annals of crime."

"What we need is patriotism that is not spelled P.A.Y. We have a land of infinite resources, and predestined renown. It is ours to mould this noble heritage."

ARCHBISHOP RETIRING?

Stratford Paper Repeats Rumor With Alleged Authority.

The positive announcement, "from a semi-official source," that Archbishop O'Connor has sent his resignation to Pope Plus, was made in a Stratford paper on Saturday. Two weeks ago a very definite report to this effect was published in the Toronto papers, but the archbishop declined to confirm its accuracy. His grace conducted confirmation services at Collingwood, yesterday, and is expected to return to-morrow.

Rev. Father Cruise said last night that he knew nothing about the archbishop's reported resignation.

THE HOUSE THAT VALUE BUILT

It's About Good Clothes--Read It

Isn't the solid looking, beautiful front of the modern skyscraper that counts for stability. It's the inside framework true to what it should be in every part that gives it form and solidity.

And isn't it just the same with a coat? The intricate framework inside the lining has an importance that cannot be over-estimated, for the continued good shape and graceful hang depend greatly upon the "building up" inside.

We want every man in the country to know that Eaton-made clothes are solid—THAT EVERY SUIT WILL BEAR INSPECTION BOTH INSIDE AND OUT—outside materials, linings, interlinings are thoroughly reliable.

WHY OUR CLOTHING KEEPS SHAPE

To the ordinary man all clothing looks alike. Why do some coats "wilt" after the first rain? Why do our coats, one and all, keep their shape to the end of wear?

The story begins away back at the looms—soundness of materials, linings included, were assured by personal visits by our buyers. Nothing but good, solid, honest materials could they accept—for Eaton suits demand the limit of quality behind every price ticket.

Every bit of cloth is fully shrunk in our own workrooms before going to the cutters. We never let a lining or interlining go in that hasn't been thoroughly shrunk, too. Certainly no chance of the materials shrinking, is there?

Perfection of fitting and cutting play a most important part, too. Every pattern, while changing in certain ways to conform to the changes of style, is the ultimate product of years of experience. Every chance of improvement has been represented by a change in the patterns so that every man of ordinary build can depend upon a good fit that means most satisfying neatness and dressiness.

But good patterns must be in the hands of First-class Cutters. Some are good at one thing, some at another—we encourage each to follow his bent, and the result is accuracy and precision in every part of this most important work.

Then comes the putting together—and tailoring has no more accurate workers than ours. Just here we want to tell you about an important man—he examines every part as it comes through, can tell at a glance if collars are cut too long or a sleeve is a little too full. He stands at the fork of the roads. If imperfections of cutting reach him he has two choices. One is to let the imperfect pieces pass on to the sewers, and then have to be corrected with the smoothing iron, or send them back to the cutters. It costs us a little more perhaps to do the right thing, but we do it. Every imperfection is corrected before being made up—and that's why our suits are reliable through and through.

When the suits reach the smoothing iron stage they're a fit. It would be easy for us to shrink down a lump here or coax out a depression there. Every Eaton suit is a fit because it's tailored that way, and for no other reason.

We use nothing but genuine haircloth, not too little, not too much to ensure permanent shape. And it's backed up with thoroughly shrunk duck.

These are but a few of the details of the EXTRAORDINARY CAREFULNESS put into the making of Eaton clothing. Our buying methods and our many ways of saving allow us to do this, and, besides, offer you rare opportunities of SAVING MONEY.

Here Are a Few Sample Clothing Values

STOWAWAY'S FATE.

Leaps From the "Lake Michigan" and is Drowned. HALIFAX, April 26.—Taking a desperate chance for liberty, an unknown stowaway leaped from the deck of the SS. Lake Michigan into the sea when the liner was abreast of Sandwich Point at the mouth of the harbor. The liner was bound from Halifax to London and the stowaway was being deported. He did not want to return to London, and when the steamer was about half a mile off Sandwich Point the man sprang to the rail and plunged into the sea in a vain attempt to reach the shore. The steamer was at once stopped and after searching for half an hour and failing to pick up the man, proceeded on her way.

TO SHORTEN SESSION.

Premier May Take Sting Out of Election Bill.

OTTAWA, April 26.—(Special.)—Whether or not the government will get thru in June depends altogether on the Aylesworth election bill.

Chief Liberal Whip Calvert said on Saturday that he thought the house would prorogue in the leafy month and that there had been no change in the plan to carry the measure thru this session.

Conservatives, on the other hand, say that the opposition will delay the bill to defeat its purpose for which the bill was drawn, namely, to take the preparation of the voters' lists out of the hands of the provincial authorities in Manitoba and British Columbia.

The one best bet seems to be that the prime minister, who once before refused to sanction the proposal, will stand on his pugnacious but loyal western followers to back down just once more. If the bill is again heard from it is likely that the objectionable clause will be dropped and the end of the session will be hastened thereby.

NO WORD RECEIVED TO EXPLAIN ABSENCE

Reasons for the Disappearance of Theodore Teller Not Known to His Friends.

No word was received yesterday, as far as could be learned, nor did any fact come to light that would assist in clearing up the mystery surrounding the sudden and, to all appearances, unexplained disappearance of Theodore Teller, as told in The Sunday World.

Mr. Teller was president of the Teller Construction Company, which dissolved about April 1. He, however, was expected into a partnership with A. M. Grant, purchasing agent of the Toronto Street Railway, and negotiations for extensive contracts in Winnipeg and Buffalo were under way. On Monday, April 13, Mr. Grant spoke to Teller over the long-distance telephone Teller being then at the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York, which place he left two days later. Since then all trace of him has been lost.

To add to the mystery, G. M. Wolfe, 132 Close-avenue, local manager of the firm, is said to have left the city on Monday last, after having been told by Mr. Grant of Mr. Teller's disappearance. Mrs. Teller left Philadelphia three weeks ago.

Mr. Teller had accounts in several banks, but it is understood to have transacted most of his business thru the Standard Bank.

Assistant T. McMillan, when asked as to the bank's dealings with the firm, said they had been of a satisfactory character, and that on one occasion had the company asked for accommodation in the matter of overdrawing. This happened only recently, but the balance was made up. The account was lately withdrawn, Mr. Teller explaining that he had a large contract in prospect in Buffalo, and that it would necessitate his remaining there for several weeks.

A. E. Rae of A. E. Rae & Co., who was formerly a director of the Teller Construction Co., said that at the time he severed his connection with the enterprise, six months ago, it was in good financial shape, with a reserve on hand of $20,000. Mr. Rae intimated that his position on the board of directors was not by virtue of investment in the stock and that his directorship was practically a nominal one.

"There is no reason why Mr. Teller should disappear so far as I am aware," continued Mr. Rae. "The company had plenty of work ahead. I have been calling up his office and have been unable to get any information as to where he is or when he will return."

"Mr. Teller had plenty of money with which to meet any obligations," continued Mr. Rae, adding that he was not aware of any tendency on the latter's part which could account for any financial difficulties.

The company are the Continental Life Building, Bay and Richmond-streets; Star Theatre, Minerva Manufacturing Co.'s warehouse, cor. Bathurst and College-streets; Frankel's restaurant, house over the Don and the Gowans-Kent building, King and Atlantic-streets.

Magnificent Discipline.

Five lifeboats were lowered within a few minutes to rescue the crew of the Gladiator, which had sustained a death-blow.

The cruiser began to sink almost at once. Her men gave a magnificent demonstration of discipline. At the captain's command they formed in line on the deck and stood in ranks while the cruiser settled down.

In obedience to orders, successive batches marched to the gangways and entered the St. Paul's boats, until practically the whole crew had been taken off and landed at Yarmouth, on the Isle of Wight.

The Gladiator's crew numbered 450 men, and Capt. Walter Lumsden, true to his duty, remained on board until the whole crew had been taken off and landed at Yarmouth, on the Isle of Wight.

The fact that the St. Paul sustained no worse damage than a badly twisted bow and a comparatively small hole on her port side is the most remarkable feature of the collision.

Her injuries were temporarily repaired before putting back to Southampton.

Storm a Fierce One.

On the other hand, the Gladiator was a protected cruiser, especially designed for ramming. Unfortunately for her she received the full force of the St. Paul's heavy guns, and she was cut almost in half.

The storm which was responsible for the collision extended along the whole southeast coast of England, and is described as the worst since the blitzard of 1811. All the landmarks were hidden by driving curtains of snow as the St. Paul proceeded on her outward course, and it was exceedingly difficult to locate any sounds of warning.

All the men speak in terms of highest praise of Capt. Lumsden. The St. Paul reached Southampton at 7 o'clock on Saturday. Although the damage was severe enough to necessitate her return, it was amazingly slight in comparison with the damage done to other vessels of the same class.

Soldiers Saved Lives.

Heroic service in rescuing the Gladiator's men was rendered by the Royal Engineers at Port Victoria. Several of the men were saved by the small gigs immediately after the collision and picked up as many of the sailors as they could find in about 20 minutes.

The surviving officers of the Gladiator were cared for over night at the residence of the officers of the Royal Corps of Artillery. A lot of lives were saved by the men who were rescued.

"It happened at 2:45 o'clock, during the collision, when we heard a horrible grinding noise and the vessel heeled over so that the water was in the upper deck as fast as we could get, but there was no disorder. When we reached the sea the ship was in a very bad way, and when she drew out she left a fearful hole, nearly 40 feet wide. The snow was so thick that it was impossible to see anything in the water."

"Several boats were forced free by the collision, and two others were so damaged as to be useless. It seemed a long time before boats were lowered from the St. Paul, and in the meantime some of our men had jumped over the water to swim ashore. They must have been nearly frozen. Besides, there was a strong sea running. This proved too much for some of them, and they clung to floating things until rescued."

Color Against Her.

Had the Gladiator been painted any other color she might have been seen, and the collision avoided, but Great Britain has decided that her ships of war attract attention when thus painted, and what is considered the necessity of war purposes was contributed to a serious accident.

Fran an officer of the St. Paul, who did not wish to be named, it was learned that the slight delay in getting the boats, which some have complained, was due to the fact that more than two feet of snow fell in Southampton, on Saturday night, and had continued intermittently up to the time of the accident.

This had to be cleared away before the boats could be manned, but it took a very little time, every member of the crew, even the cooks, lending a hand.

The boat which was lowered was manned partly by stewards, as it was necessary to keep many of the able seamen busy to assist in repairing the damaged boat.

QUEBEC, April 26.—(Special.)—Lt.-Gov. Jette prorogued what is evidently the last session of the present legislature of Quebec, at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

The final hours of the session were marked by a severe attack by Mr. LeBlanc, opposition leader, on the royal commission which investigated the Abitibi land deal, and his report He asserted that the commissioners were not impartial in their investigation, and that the government failed in its duty in not sending a commission to Belgium to take the evidence of Baron de Lapine and others. CARDINAL LOGUE ON IRISH AFFAIRS

Would Like to See a Revision of American Tariff to Encourage Trade.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Cardinal Logue, the head of the Catholic Church in Ireland, arrived in this country Saturday to take part in the Centenary celebration which begins in New York to-day.

Asked about conditions in Ireland, he replied that the south of Ireland was very poor and that it grieved him deeply to see so many women and children seeking employment in Dublin and being unable to get it.

"I really believe that you in this country could help up by a revision of your tariff," he continued. "Numerous merchants complain that they cannot export their products to America with profit. It would be a great help to the country if Irish products could be sent to America at a reasonable price. The merchants would be encouraged and there would be less unemployment in the present industrial depression in Ireland."

The Irish cardinal is not optimistic in his views concerning home rule. On the point he said: "The prospects of the Irish people are gloomy. Home rule is remote, but not altogether improbable. I do not foresee my country governing itself as a nation separate and independent. Mind you, I do not say that home rule will not come; I only tell you that I do not think it will soon come. I hope, so we all hope, that the people of Ireland will be benefited. They deserve support and I trust the Irish in America will continue supporting them. It is better to fight and get a little than to stand idly by and get nothing."

On Tuesday morning he will be celebrant of the pontifical mass of thanksgiving at St. Patrick's Cathedral, with which will be given the solemn ceremonies commemorating a hundred years of Catholic activities in New York. Cardinal Gibbons will preach and Monsignor Falconio will represent the Vatican.

The American cardinal and all the archbishops in the American hierarchy will arrive in New York to-morrow and will be met by the various committees of laymen. Monsignor Bruchesi of Montreal will represent the Catholic Church in Canada.

To-day there were parochial celebrations in all the Catholic churches throughout the archdiocese of New York, masses of thanksgiving and special sermons.

A RULING ON LICENSES.

Liquor Interests in St. John, N.B., Meet a Reverse.

ST. JOHN, N. B., April 26.—(Special.)—A severe blow was given to St. John liquor dealers yesterday, when the supreme court decided that the liquor license commissioners of this city had exceeded the law and granted too many licenses in certain wards. Under the law St. John is allowed 75 licenses. As interpreted by the supreme court these licenses must be distributed in various wards in proportion to the population of each. The commissioners, however, claimed it made no difference so long as not more than 75 licenses were granted. Accordingly, Prince, King's and Queen's wards had 12 licenses too many while the number was reduced in other wards.

The court also held that the number of licenses must be reduced from 75 to 64.

The liquor people made a great fight to have the action of the commissioners sustained.

BOISON FOR MARIE DRESSLER

An Alleged Attempt to Murder Follies by Dog's Death.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Shortly before ten o'clock last night a messenger boy appeared at the Colonial Theatre with a package addressed by typewriter to "Marie Dressler, Colonial Theatre." The package was taken to Miss Dressler's room, and when she opened it she thought it contained vermouth.

Miss Dressler and her maid were about to take a drink when the actress got a call for the stage. As she hurried from the room the bottle fell and broke on the floor. Returning about twenty minutes later, Miss Dressler found her dog dead, the animal having licked up some of the liquid from the bottle. Miss Dressler was greatly excited, and believed that an attempt

Cobalt--A... the... Cobalt

DESTROYED FIXED RULES. Cobalt an Anomaly in the History of Mining Camps.

Harper's Weekly of April 11: That it takes three years at least to develop a mine is almost an axiom among mining engineers, but Cobalt has destroyed many fixed rules of mining development just as it has upset nearly every argument of the pessimists who, from early design or otherwise, declared its silver deposits were not permanent, and that its ores were so refractory that they could not be successfully treated. Since these statements were first given wide circulation, two years ago, Cobalt has marked over $15,000,000 of silver, which on its face, disposes of the absurd statements that the ores were refractory, while shafts have been sunk to a depth of over 400 feet without any diminution of values, indicating engineers now concede, and the diabase, Huronian and Keewatin, which are the permanent formations of the country, carry great deposits of the precious metal to great depths beneath the surface. Indeed, J. H. Shookley, one of the best-known mining engineers in Colorado, after a recent examination of Cobalt, has gone on record with the prediction that the mines of that camp will be profitably operated many generations hence.

OPEN AIR HORSE PARADE.

Prize Lists for This Year Being Circulated—Other Arrangements. The prize list for this year's Open Air Horse Parade, is now in course of circulation. It provides for 17 classes, including 12 for horses in harness, 3 for saddle horses, 2 for specials, 21 commercial and 2 old horses. As it is more than likely that several of the classes will have to be divided into two, it is safe to say that there will not be fewer than fifty classes in all. If the average number of entries is reached, this means that there will be some nine hundred horses and vehicles in the parade on the morning of Dominion Day.

More Funds Needed.

The treasurer, Dr. W. A. Young, reports that the fund subscriptions have come in quite as freely as in former years, but some six or seven hundred dollars more are required. It must be understood that, with no source of revenue whatever, it is no easy task for the self-sacrificing committee to raise a round total of $2500 required to meet the expenses. As a proof of the economy with which the show is run, it may be stated that the total expenses of management last year reached less than $250, while some $100 or $200 was given away in prizes, besides $500 distributed to drivers. It is too late in the day to expatiate upon the value of this show, which has come to be recognized by everyone. There is no graft or self-ignorance in the affair from beginning to end, every offer, from President Marshall down, giving his services free. President, Noel Marzetti, secretary, W. J. P. Good, vice secretary, Robert W. Davies and Alfred Rogers, J. J. Dixon, O. B. Sheppard, W. Harland Smith, Wellington, H. C. Tomlin and George Pepper, any of whom, or T. J. McCabe, recording secretary, will be pleased to receive subscriptions.

Another Revolution.

BUENOS AYRES, April 26.—News has been received here of a serious situation in the Province of Corrientes. The provincial chamber of deputies has approved a motion that the governor of that province be arraigned before a local court on charges of treason, and the press predicts that anarchy may be expected in Corrientes. Furthermore, a revolutionary outbreak has taken place in the Province of Santiago.

Spring weather, Spring functions, Joy Bells and the Horse Show. Silk hat time with a vengeance. The time when the sight of Derby or soft hat seems to put a crimp in the sunshine. New Church is Dedicated Opening Services of the Rebuilt Church of St. Mary Magdalene Held Yesterday.

Large congregations yesterday attended the formal opening of the enlarged and rebuilt Church of St. Mary Magdalene, at Manning-avenue and Ulster-street.

The edifice, which is of red brick, cost $30,000. The interior is of cathedral design with a large chancel which was beautifully decorated yesterday. A fine new pipe organ which cost $4000, and the installation of which was not concluded until early yesterday morning, was heard to advantage. The choral portions of the services were well rendered.

Rev. Canon Welch of St. James' Cathedral preached in the morning and His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto formally dedicated the building at the evening service.

Canon Welch took for his text: "Old things are passed away, behold all things are become new," and in the course of his sermon, as rural dean and as rector of the mother church of Toronto, proffered congratulations on the achievement of such a fine building. At the same time he impressed upon the congregation the necessity of taking full advantage of the opportunity now given of extending the influence of the church in the parish. He also bespoke increased activity among the laymen, assisting the already overworked clergy in charge.

A special children's service was held in the afternoon, when Rev. F. Hartley gave an address. The Rev. C. B. Darling conducted all three services.

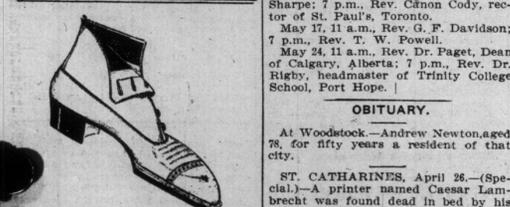

Special services will also be held succeeding Sundays, the preachers being:

May 2, 11 a.m., Rev. Canon Abbott, Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton; 7 p.m., Rev. Prof. Jones, Trinity College, Toronto.

May 10, 11 a.m., Rev. C. Ennor Sharpe; 7 p.m., Rev. Canon Cody, rector of St. Paul's, Toronto.

May 17, 11 a.m., Rev. G. F. Davidson; 7 p.m., Rev. T. W. Powell.

May 24, 11 a.m., Rev. Dr. Paget, Dean of Calgary, Alberta; 7 p.m., Rev. Dr. Rigby, headmaster of Trinity College School, Port Hope.

WEST TORONTO HAS A DARING HOLD-UP

New City Not Exempt From Robbers—East York License Commissioners Meet.

WEST TORONTO, April 26.—The first hold-up ever known to occur in the City of West Toronto took place on Saturday night. Ed Barnes, who drives a delivery wagon in the interests of William Rowntree's grocery store, corner of Cooper-avenue and Davenport-road, was driving along Dufferin-street, north of Davenport, about 9 o'clock, when he was stopped by two men. The road was dark and lonely, and the wayfarer merely asked to be directed to Boon-avenue, the lad became suspicious, and especially so when, thru the gloom, he noticed that they were making a dash for the woods and attempted to proceed, but one of the men rushed forward and caught the horse by the head, while the other sprang into the wagon and secured the money bag, which contained $28. Before the lad could collect his senses the men had disappeared in the darkness and no clue to their identity has as yet been discovered.

Close for the Season.

Rev. C. Jeff McComb of Toronto gave a most interesting address at the gospel temperance meeting in the Wonderland Theatrical this afternoon. He urged that the church and state go hand in hand, so that by religious persuasion and legislation the liquor traffic, the common cause of all classes of the community, might be completely abolished. This evening meeting at Wonderland brought the season's gospel temperance meetings to a close. Clerk Conroy read the financial statement, which showed that the total receipts were $102.84. The hall rents amounted to $77.42, and $15.22 went for incidentals. This left a balance of exactly $10, and this amount was handed over to the orchestra, which has been much appreciated at all the meetings. The program this evening included recitations by the Misses Gladys Pearl and Violet Monaghan, and solos by Douglas Stanbury, the eight-year-old boy tenor from Toronto. The Empire Male Quartet gave several pleasing selections at the afternoon meeting. The hall was filled to overflowing on both occasions.

Dr. Pidgeon preached an excellent sermon at Victoria Presbyterian Church to-night. The substance of the address was a plea that men and women should dispense entirely with all the paraphernalia and ceremony that was such a prominent feature in the Christian church to-day. "Indeed, it has happened," said the speaker, "that man has come into personal touch with his Creator without any human intermediary whatsoever."

A special children's service was held in the afternoon, when Rev. F. Hartley gave an address. The Rev. C. B. Darling conducted all three services.

Baseball Season Opens—Little Yorks Go Down to Defeat—Town News.

EAST TORONTO, April 26.—Among the brethren of East Toronto Lodge, No. 288, I.O.O.F., who took part in the eighty-ninth anniversary of the order in the city to-day, were Bro. R. Paterson, George Empringham Jr., R. McCune, L. Hector, J. Brandon, and A. McVey.

On Tuesday evening, at the regular meeting of the local lodge, the time and place for the East Toronto annual picnic will be named.

There was a good turnout and considerable enthusiasm manifested at the opening games of the East Toronto Baseball League, held on Saturday afternoon at the athletic grounds here. The game was a double-header, the Little Yorks playing the Balmy Beach team, and winning by a score of 15 to 13. The playing of the Little Yorks, practically their first game, was a revelation, and the enthusiasm of the Little York contingent knew no bounds.

The East Torontos went down to defeat before the St. Josephs, the score being reported as 19 to 15.

The defeat of the Little Yorks at the hands of the Thistles at the Pines on Saturday afternoon was not unexpected, the local team going into the struggle with practically little or no practice. A big delegation of spectators went out to see the Little Yorks put up a magnificent game until overcome by sheer endurance. Both of the goals were scored just before the close of the second half. The Little Yorks have no complaint to make, and practice will do the rest.

In the town churches to-day there was a large attendance. During the afternoon the lakefront was thronged, the beautiful breeze blowing from the city, and great throngs from the city, in addition to the townspeople. The Scarborough cars did a big business all day.

At the houses in the southern portion of the town are now occupied, the few summer residents who vacated in the fall having for the most part returned. The number of those leaving the Beach in the fall grows less, and more and more the town is becoming a town of all-year-round residential district.

The new granite sidewalk on Balmers-avenue, east side, south of Queen-street, is being laid, and the workmen have been cutting out the trees for the past week in preparation for it.

Had Close Call

The extensive conservatory of Miller & Sons, Braxendale, was threatened with fire about 4 o'clock Saturday morning. It appears that a fumigator was in operation, when somehow of other a partition caught fire, and the watchman's attention was drawn by the cracking of glass, and he immediately started the pump working and got the engine hose in operation. The fire was extinguished before gaining much headway. The loss will not be more than $200.

Dr. John J. Thompson of West Toronto, for the past year house surgeon at Toronto Asylum, has received an appointment at the State Hospital for Insane, Taunton, Mass. Dr. Thompson assumes his duties on May 1 next, and leaves for Boston on Monday.

The public school board will meet tomorrow evening.

"The Passion Play," or "Life of Christ," will be shown in beautiful moving pictures, with illustrated lecture, at Wonderland on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week.

NORTH TORONTO, April 26.—The different street committees for the planting of shade trees on the boulevards alongside the streets are doing good work, and a large number of orders for trees have been placed. The property-owners should take advantage of this movement for having trees planted in front of their properties, get in touch with your street committee or leave your order with the clerk at the town hall.

For this season Mr. Williams Jr. will continue to work the land. In the meantime the plans, which were thought to be complete, are being slightly remodelled, and Mr. Cody of this town is ready to receive tenders for any part of the work.

A new double tenement house will shortly be built on the lots owned by Col. Lloyd.

YORK TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

Members Act Promptly in Pushing on Work of Assessment.

A special meeting of the council was held on Saturday afternoon to consider the case of assessor Fred York, recently appointed to succeed the late John Burke of Deer Park. Mr. Parker, who has fallen greatly in arrears with his work, was present at the meeting, which was private, and at the close was relieved of his appointment.

Bywens Downs of 201 Don Mills-road was promptly named to the vacant position, and will enter at once upon the discharge of his duties.

The office of assessor in York Township is now in the hands of Mr. York, an enormous amount of labor, and with the rapid increase in the suburban population, and with an estimated assessment for 1908 of nearly $9,000,000, the duties involved are so manifold as to require special fitness for the work in order to prevent confusion. York Township is fortunate in securing the services of W. A. Clarke, township clerk, whose familiarity with every phase of the work, coupled with a general knowledge of municipal law, is simply invaluable in a township like York.
