ANOTHER STEP IN GREAT TRANSFER OF THE HARBOR LOTS HAS BEEN SIGNED

Hon. Mr. Pugsley at Once Orders Tenders Called for Vast Improvements

Means Very Large Expenditure Here—First Work Will be Wharf South of Sand Point to Form Part of a Great System of Docks—Mayor Calls Aldermen Together in Regard to Shipbuilding Project

The good news comes today that very extensive development work will soon be begun at West St. John. Tenders for the work will be advertised for at once, as the agreement for the transfer of the shore lots by the city to the C. P. R. has been signed. This was the only cause of delay in connection with the work, which will involve a very large expenditure.

Speaking of this matter in a recent interview, Hon. Mr. Pugsley said: "The specifications for the work to be first done on the west side, have been prepared and the department is ready to call tenders. The first work will consist of the building of a wharf from the harbor line to the southeast of Sand Point, and upon the 400-foot strip, called a distance of about 800 feet, then extending southward on the 100-foot strip a distance of about 800 feet.

(Special to Times) St. Stephen, N. B., Aug. 14.—Charlotte county crops are fast ripening in the summer sun today while the sun-burned farmers join with the weather beaten fisherman in striking a blow for property and larger markets.

Mr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, arrived in St. Stephen this morning for the convention of the Liberal Party.

The feature of the morning was the rousing welcome accorded the Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, who was met at the station on the arrival of the morning train from McAdam by a reception committee, consisting of Hon. Mr. Hill, W. W. Clarke, Peter F. McKenney, J. W. Scovell, Louis Love and Mr. Maria Mills.

Another interesting figure was that of Benjamin Thornton of Gleason Road, who is seventy-seven years of age, but this morning drove twelve miles to St. Stephen to attend the convention, and do what he could for the generation which comes after him.

Remarkable Results Have Been Attained and Greater Will Be Sought—Scientist Announces Radium Rival, Much Cheaper and Just as Effective

(Canadian Press) London, Aug. 14.—The strike fever has become epidemic in Great Britain. From one end of the country to the other, men either have struck or are threatening to do so and even the women and the girls in the smaller factories of the large cities are demanding better conditions of labor.

The streets of London are commencing to resume their normal appearance. The men began work early in the day in an endeavor to make up for lost time. At the docks only a portion of the men returned to work and a good deal of uneasiness prevailed as many of the men refused to accept the settlement arranged by their leaders.

The same description fits the situation at the railway stations, where many of the porters and carriers are demanding greater concessions than had been agreed upon. Great quantities of goods and provisions held up at the docks and railway stations last week, were found when discharged this morning to be damaged and were taken out to sea and thrown overboard.

The Daily Telegraph's Liverpool correspondent describes Sunday's disorders as one of the bloodiest battles ever fought between the police and hoodlums.

Two Killed in Fearful Railway Wreck; Two Die in Fights Between Whites and Chinese—Two Girls and Youth Drowned from Canoe—Airman Crashes Into Hotel

(Canadian Press) Cologne, Germany, Aug. 14.—Twelve persons were drowned while bathing in the Rhine at Bodelschwingh yesterday. It is thought that the victims suffered from sunstroke.

Port Wayne, Ind., Aug. 14.—Two persons were killed, two were reported missing, and two seriously injured last night in the wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's Chicago-New York eighteen hour train. It was the second wreck of this train in a Cuddeposh, Pa.

Pulled at top speed by double header locomotives, the heavy train ran into a temporary switch that was too weak to stand the terrific strain. The rails of the switch were swept aside, the engines of the five-car train and side swept the engine of a freight train on a side track. Engines and passenger coaches were piled on their sides. In the panic of passengers, men fought women in their frenzy to escape, and scores were trampled and beaten.

PEACE DOVE AT HOME OF ETHEL BARRYMORE AND HUSBAND

New York, Aug. 14.—"We have never been parted, never quarrelled, and have contemplated any sort of legal proceedings," the World to day quotes Ethel Barrymore and Russell Greywoold Co. her husband, as saying last night at their country home in Mamaroneck, New York. The couple are reunited at their residence there, the World says, or rather, according to the statement attributed to Mr. Coit, "there has never been a bit of trouble. We are perfectly happy and always have been perfectly happy."

CANADA PROGRESSING "AT AN UNHEARD OF RATE" UNDER LIBERAL RULE

In a circular issued to the dried fruit trade, one of the largest houses in California, says: "Should there be any falling off in the European demand, (which is not apparent at present), it should be more than compensated by an increased business with Canada, which country is progressing at an unheard of rate and is today one of California's best customers for dried products of all kinds, especially prunes."

After a careful review of the situation, it seems certain that out of 13 seats in the House the Conservatives will carry 23.

Woodstock, Aug. 14.—The potatoes in Carleton county have stopped growing. It is believed they are afraid to face Yankee competition. The grey farmers are fatigued, and Borden's stock has gone up ten points.

The violence of the mob is indescribable, he says. "The air was filled with bricks, pieces of granite, iron missiles, broken glass, and bottles, which must have been brought to the scene intentionally. After every biton charge by the police, the scene was sickening. There were scores of prostrate faces bleeding from head and face, some of them insensible. When the riotous dispersed, the place was like a shambles. Blood was everywhere. Ambulances and cabs were used in removing the wounded. Three Women Honored

Miss Belle H. Bennett, president of the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, is one of three women chosen by the Methodist of the United States to address the Ecumenical Conference of Methodists to be held in Toronto, Canada, in October, 1911. This worldwide gathering meets only once in ten years and at the last session, held in London, England, no woman had any part in the program, and women's work was not represented. The other women are Mrs. Jane Hancock Robinson, president of the Woman's Missionary Training School in the West Indies, and Mrs. Lucy Ryder Meyer, president of the National Suffrage Convention to be held in Louisville, also in October.

THOUGHT THEY DID IT

Two young Americans touring Italy for the first time stopped off one night at Pisa, where they fell in with a convivial party at a cafe. Going hilariously home one pushed the other against a building and held him there.
"Great heavens!" cried the man next the wall, suddenly glancing up at the structure above him. "See what we're doing!" Both roistersed.
They left town on an early morning train, not thinking it safe to stay over and see the famous leaning tower. (From "Success Magazine.")

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WHICH would you rather have when you go av-ailing, elaborate and fussy fare especially gotten up for your delectation, and a hostess tired out by the extra exertions, and unconsciously hoping that you won't come again too soon, or your share of the family fare and a serene and undisturbed hostess who is not deterred by weariness from enjoying and making you enjoy your visit to the fall and from genuinely hoping you'll come again soon?

I can't imagine but one answer to that query. And yet, how many hostesses give their guests the credit of being decent enough to visit them for their conversation and friendship rather than their food?

How many women have the common sense and large-mindedness to insist that their hospitality shall always be a pleasure rather than a burden?

Perhaps one in five, but I doubt it. To my list of friends I am most happy to include a certain middle-aged couple who have what appeals to me as the ideal attitude towards hospitality.

As to the ways and means, the housewife who has a weekly "afternoon at home" and an occasional casual arranged card party are their biggest concessions to formal hospitality.

But in informal hospitality they fairly revel. The husband is always free to bring home a guest whenever he wishes—using discretion, of course—the wife's women friends feel free to drop in at any time, and the children frequently bring their young friends.

A guest here does not disturb the family routine in the least. He shares the family fare. He never feels that he is in the way at all. On the maid's night out the kitchen guests are sometimes invited to join the family circle there while the dishes are being disposed of, and many a young bachelor has even enjoyed the joke of donning an apron and helping out.

As to the ways and means, the housewife who has a weekly "afternoon at home" and an occasional casual arranged card party are their biggest concessions to formal hospitality.

and he is a great-grandson of Emperor Nicholas I. Since even the London "Times" in its elaborate obituary of the late Duchess of Devonshire, has confessed itself unable to give an adequate information with regard to her age, and that all the other English papers are similarly at sea about the matter, it may be as well to state here, that she was born at Hanover, on January 15, 1832, which would make her seventy-nine years and eight months old at the time of her demise. She was married at Hanover, to the seventh Duke of Manchester, when twenty years of age. Probably not even her nearest friends in England were aware of the fact that she has left two sisters, the younger one of them residing in the somewhat unusual Christian name of Guidobaldine, who has been once widowed and twice divorced; on the last occasion from Prince Luigi Colonna, of the Stigliano branch, of which Mrs. John W. McKay's son-in-law, Prince Ferdinand Colonna, is the chief. She makes her home at San Remo; while her other surviving sister, Julia, widow of that General von Albrecht, who was principal A. D. C. and chief of the military cabinet of old Emperor William, lives at Potsdam.

Doubt Thrown Upon Romantic Story of Montreal Man's Love for Emperor's Granddaughter—Boycott Against King Peter of Serbia Being Lifted

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company.)
Baroness Marie Vetzera, who died with Crown Prince Rudolf, at Meringhof, on January 30, 1889, left no child born of her infatuation for the only son of the Emperor and Empress of Austria. This is a matter of such common and positive knowledge, to everybody of any standing in Viennese society, and in the Austrian official world, that it is difficult to understand how any woman can have been accepted on this side of the water as the natural daughter of the ill-fated Crownprince, and of Baroness Marie Vetzera.

Yet there is a person who, styling herself "Alma Vetzera," and the daughter of the late George Osborne Hayne, who is now seeking to divorce her in the courts of the State of New York, claiming as co-respondent, Justin B. McDougald, son of a wealthy Cobalt mine owner, making his home at Montreal. The young fellow, objecting to his son's infatuation, which he regarded as crazy, had him committed for a time to a sanatorium, near Montreal.

It would be interesting to learn whether the woman described herself as "Alma Vetzera" in the affidavit which she presented to the Canadian courts for the release of McDougald, in applying for the writ of habeas corpus, and whether she made any mention of her alleged parentage, since in that case she would render herself liable to a criminal prosecution for perjury. I would likewise recommend George Osborne Hayne, who is now seeking to divorce her in the State of New York, to make quite sure that she really carried the name under which she married him, and that the parentage which she gave in the certificate, and in the marriage license, was correct, since if this were not so, the union would, I believe, be invalidated by fraud. I may add that I never not only Crownprince Rudolf, but also Baroness Vetzera's father very well indeed, and that I was thoroughly acquainted with his family sorrows and troubles.

At length the boycott to which King Peter has been subjected by the foreign courts, since his accession to the blood-stained throne of Serbia, seems to be drawing to a close. For Emperor Nicholas has given his consent to the betrothal of a section of the reigning house of Russia, to King Peter's only daughter, Princess Helen of Serbia, who was brought up to a great extent at St. Petersburg, by her mother's sisters, the Grand-duchesses Stana and Miliza of Russia.

By thus securing the honor of a matrimonial alliance with the reigning house of Russia, for his daughter Princess Helen, King Peter has virtually assured the future existence of his dynasty in Serbia, and there will be less danger from now on, of his overthrow, and of his being compelled to resume the thorny path of a penniless exile. In fact his throne will become in this way placed just as much under the protection of the Czar, as that of King Nicholas of Montenegro, who, had it not been for Russia's backing, would long ere this have been absorbed by Austria, on account of the trouble which it has constantly been giving to that power for the past thirty years. Princess Helen is twenty-seven years of age, and since her father became King of Serbia, has divided her time between Belgrade, where she did the honors of his court, and Italy, where she made her home for several months each year, with her aunt, Queen Helen of Italy. Indeed, it is at the royal Italian castle of Racconigi, in Piedmont, that the Princess's official betrothal has taken place.

Princess Helen's father is Prince John Constantinoivitch, eldest son of the Grand-duke Constantine Constantinoivitch, who has been frequently described in these letters as the poet of the house of Romanoff, as the translator of most of Shakespeare's works into Russian, and as President of the Imperial Academy of Sciences of Russia. Prince John is just a year the junior of his bride-to-be, and is a stalwart young subaltern of the regiment of Chevalier Gardes de l'Imperatrice at St. Petersburg. As he represents the fourth generation of descent from the throne, he does not enjoy the title of Grand-duke, nor yet the prestige of Imperial Highness, having to content himself with that of mere "Highness." Princess Helen is of the same faith as her future husband, and they will make a handsome couple. The old Grand-duchess Alexandra Josefovna, who died the other day, was the young Prince's grandmother.

The Salles received the title of counts of the Holy Roman Empire in 1694.
Count Peter de Salles came over to England as the envoy of the Grison republic to the court of Queen Anne, and died in London so much, that he remained there. His son Jerome became a naturalized English citizen, being authorized to retain his foreign title, count, and married the daughter and sole heiress of the last Viscount of the latter's brother, Count Ladislas Szechenyi; to Miss Gladys Vandenberg.
Count John Francis de Salles, three years ago. He retained, however, a very picturesque country seat in County Limerick, known as Loughgar, and the ancient Castle of Blandy, in the Grison canton of Switzerland. His wife, who was a daughter of Prince Eugene de Chimay died three or four years ago. She was a sister of the Countess Emilie Szechenyi who with her husband Count Donya Szechenyi, came over to New York to attend the marriage of the latter's brother, Count Ladislas Szechenyi; to Miss Gladys Vandenberg.

MUST NOT LEAVE HARBOR. The proposal to take the Governor Carleton, the new ferry steamer, on an upriver trip to Carleton's lake on Saturday next will probably have to be abandoned, owing to the complaint of the insurance companies that their policies on the steamer would be nullified should she be taken up river. It is understood that the police call for the boat being kept in the harbor. It is said that both the historical trip up river and the proposed excursion for civic officials down the bay on her trial trip will have to be so far as the Governor Carleton is concerned.

KING SQUARE BENCHES

Dear Mr. Editor, Can you tell me what keeps life in King square, facing King street? To their families bring them food, or does the city supply their needs, or have we gone back to Bible times, and are they fed like Elijah, by the ravens, for certainly they never go home.

I have been in your city a month, and passed the square every day, and never once have I seen those seats vacant. I believe at one time the notice read "for ladies only," but as they were always filled by the married ladies, the occupants are called "the benched ladies."

But really Mr. Editor I do think the police are lacking in their duty, that they do not ask those "benched boys" to move on, as they would do if they were standing instead of sitting. If a lady misses a car, and has to wait ten minutes, she has to stand on a bench for the same length of time, and if you plan to meet a friend at the square, whoever arrives first has the alternative of standing or walking up to the fountain to secure a seat, and run the risk of missing your friend.

Hoping Mr. Editor this benish to your otherwise beautiful city will be removed, and an opportunity given the gentle sex to sit, I remain very sincerely, ONE WHO HAS SUFFERED. St. John, N. B., Aug. 12, 1911.

REV. FATHER DUKE CONDEMNNS DRESS OF MANY WOMEN

Rector of St. Peter's Speaks Plainly on Modern Fashion, and Gives Ladies of Congregation Earnest Counsel

In the course of a few remarks made yesterday morning in St. Peter's Redeemerist church, North End, by the zealous and energetic rector, Rev. A. J. Duke, C. S. S. R., he delivered himself strongly against the fashions of women of the present day, wherein he said, many of them were dressing unbecomingly, and in some of the gowns which they donned they seemed to have little regard for modesty, as the word is understood in its proper sense.

Father Duke particularly referred to low-necked dresses, many of which were cut so deep that mothers of the "good old school" would blush for the young women wearing them. "Because a young woman has a chain around her neck, and a locket dangling from it, and then wears a sailor suit with a low-cut breast, and bare arms, does not imply that she is dressed," said Father Duke. "While I am rector here I do not want to see any girls or women of this congregation coming to church dressed as I have described. In being quietly governed a young woman loses none of her charm, but is even more pleasing than when she is dressed so to attract attention. She should not dress according to some of the fashions, just to be 'in society,' because so-called society is drifting steadily to the level of old-time paganism, judging by the animal-like ideas and customs. Every young Catholic woman should take as her model the Blessed Virgin, the mother of God, and should fashion after her if she desires to have modesty as one of her most conspicuous qualifications."

HON. MR. LEMIEUX SCORES BOURASSA

St. Hyacinthe, Que., Aug. 14.—Hon. Mr. Lemieux and Henri Bourassa met in debate yesterday afternoon and argued political and personal matters before one of the largest crowds which has ever assembled in the largest hall in the province. The speakers were followed closely throughout all their discourses, although the vast audience of 20,000 persons surged and pushed about the improvised platform, and finally their restlessness caused a portion of it to give way. Mr. Lemieux spoke heatedly, and after reminding Bourassa that he had been afraid to meet him in debate, as Bourassa had frequently claimed, denounced the editor of Devoir as a "fool" a villain of the Laurier government because he had been disappointed in not getting an office.

PENNSYLVANIA MOB BURNS NEGRO MURDERER

As Many Women as Men in the Crowd that Watched Him Die—He Was Taken From Hospital to Scene of Crime

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 14.—Thirty miles west of here, in the town of Coatesville, near Walkers, a negro desperado, was carried on a cot from the hospital last night, and burned to a crisp by a frenzied mob of men and boys, on a fire which they ignited about half mile from town. The negro, who had shot and killed Edgar Rice, a special policeman of the North Iron Mines, was first dragged to the scene of the shooting being piteously mercy.

The crowd, containing as many women as men, broke through the police guard at the hospital later in the evening, and found Walker strapped to a bed.

The mob seeing this, gathered up the bed and placing it on the shoulders of four men, started for the country. They stopped at a farm and quickly gathering up a pile of dry grass, placed the bed containing their victim upon it, and set it on fire.

BOSTON AUTO PARTY ON VISIT IN FAIRVILLE

A party of autoists, composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Tibbits, and daughter Miss Guenter, arrived in Fairville on Saturday from their home in Boston, and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Tibbits, Fairville. They motored from Boston to St. John, and had a pleasant trip, with fine weather almost all the way. While motoring on the Atlantic coast, they say they had no difficulty in getting over the roads, but as soon as they had crossed the line they encountered a difference. There were few, and in many cases, no signs to guide them to the proper roads which they should follow as a feature of the American roads and an important guide to tourists.

Mrs. L. H. Cochran

Thomas Shaw
The oldest citizen of St. John passed away on Saturday when Thomas Shaw, a native of England, died in this city in his 106th year. Mr. Shaw was born in Horncastle, Lincolnshire, England, in 1804, and just done." This poor fellow could work and save, but he had not had even a kindergarten education in finance, else his story would have been different. He had never given a thought to interest, and so was absolutely ignorant of growth through compound interest, and, of course, had never heard of that wonderful process of accumulation known as "progressive compound interest."

Father Morrissy's medical researches led him to evolve, out of Nature's laboratory, a Liniment of remarkable curative power. It had the merits of other prescriptions of the kind, without their disadvantages, and contained other ingredients with unique value in bodily ills. The good priest-physician prescribed it for many kinds of aches and pains with most gratifying results, and after his death it continues to relieve and cure suffering.

STEAM KISSED ORANGES

(Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette)

The final ripening process in the preparation of California oranges for the market is the exposure of the fruit to steaming heat, which imparts the golden yellow color described on the labels by "sun kissed" and other appetizing terms. Electric heat is employed to a large extent in producing this steam vapor, electric immersion coils in open tanks of water in ripening rooms producing the warm humidity required to give the final tint to the orange of commerce.

COURTENAY BAY HARBOR WORKS TENDERED FOR

Three Great British Firms Make Necessary Deposit of Half Million Dollars—Government Engineers Now Examining The Tenders—Hope to Begin Work This Fall

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—Hon. Dr. Pugsley returned from St. John today for the purpose of giving his immediate attention to the tenders, which have been received for the great Courtenay Bay harbor and dry dock works.

The department of public works, during the summer, prepared comprehensive plans for turning Courtenay Bay into a great modern harbor by dredging out an entrance and basin and what sites and providing the construction of wharves as well as a breakwater to give shelter and a dry dock with shipbuilding yards.

The tenders are now in the hands of the engineers, and they are busy upon them. Their report will be made at the earliest possible moment. As this is done the government will be advised which is the lowest tender, a contract will be awarded to the successful firm and the work will then be commenced at once. It will likely be under way this fall.

MANY CONSERVATIVES FAVOR RECIPROCITY

Toronto, Aug. 13.—Hon. George P. Graham, minister of agriculture, yesterday came from Montreal Saturday. Your correspondent was fortunate enough to have a word with him.

"Have you anything of serious import or interesting to tell us?" he was asked.

"Everything is going remarkably well, that's all," replied Mr. Graham. "I am surprised at the number of Conservatives we are winning over. I'm not joking. I run across them wherever I go."

"Reciprocity is hard to resist?"

"They can't resist it," declared Mr. Graham. "The Conservative campaign in the Tory circles is the quietest. They warn the farmers quietly that though reciprocity may look all right it has a horrible effect on their crops."

FOR SKIN IRRITATION IT IS FOR YOU

To those who say that the Canadian Government Annuities Scheme is of benefit to those who can take advantage of it while they are young, it may be pointed out that the benefit is equally as great for old people. The following example will illustrate this: A widow 73 years of age who had been spending a portion of her capital each year (which was deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank) as well as the interest, found to her horror that she had but $1,500 left. She was without relatives, and she suddenly realized what her fate would ultimately be if life were spared to her for a few years longer. But when the cloud was darkest, the silver lining appeared. A friend told her of the Canadian Government Annuities Scheme, and her feelings may be imagined when she was informed that her $1,500 would yield her for the remainder of her life no matter how long she might live an income of $225.90 a year.

Full information concerning this great scheme may be had on application to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa. Postage free.

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN

WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

THE OPERA HOUSE

One of the principal dramatic attractions of the current season will be the appearance of "The Old Cross Roads" at the Opera House next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, by Arthur C. Alston's excellent company of players. It is a dramatic story in five acts, which is a masterpiece of the dramatist from the romantic south. The story is a big, dramatic, and the situations and climaxes are thrilling in the extreme; but the whole is happily blended with the most convincing comedy scenes and incidents. The play gives a splendid opportunity for elaborate toilet display by the feminine portion of the company, and is a most interesting and a most enjoyable feature in a series of other plays.

NOVEL VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTION AT LYRIC

Although the vaudeville scene claims a great many novelties, it is seldom that one of the standard of Tilla Maquettes, which will be featured at the Lyric Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is seen in the Maritime Provinces. It is so different that it is expected to create much interest among local theatre goers, not to say any of the quality of the changes, which are many. The life-like manipulation of the "actors" is an undisputed stronghold of the Lyric. The three reels of pictures lay claim to having an abundance of comic and dramatic situations.

SENSATIONAL STORY OF THE SEA AT UNIQUE

A drama of the good old-fashioned type, told in a different and new manner is the latest effort of the Theatre House Picture Co. entitled, "The Coffin Ship." The story of the sea always fascinates, and this one is no exception. Thrilling in the extreme, abounding in exciting climaxes, and cleverly interpreted by a capable cast, this feature which the Unique management take pleasure in presenting every day should prove very interesting. Our friend, Bobby takes a leading part in this fast playing comedy, "Bobby and Butterly" and the Champion players will star in a somewhat unusual play, "The Indian Land Grab." This is a semi-classic political Indian tale, its plot being very different from most photo plays. The weekly budget of World news contains the visit of King George the Fifth to Norwich. Miss Gertrude Mann, who has surely won popular approval, will be heard in a dainty number, entitled "Jamie Dear."

THE GEM

A new singer makes his appearance at the Gem Theatre today. Jack Morrissy, who will be heard in a series of song hits, which he is said to have made a distinct success. The orchestra will have some new pieces. The most attractive film production is a story of the west, "The Snake and the Lullaby." A Lubin drama of love and adventure on the boundless prairie. By being able to show a snake bite on the body of his father, a popular western ranch foreman is able to clear himself of the charge of murder, and wins for himself a bride. The trials and triumphs of a newspaper reporter are of various descriptions, and circumstances make in-

MORNING LOCALS

Seven young ladies from Grand Manan and Campbell left on Saturday night for the province of Alberta where they will engage in the teaching profession.

The Knights of Pythias memorial day observance will be on Thursday, Aug. 17. Flowers will be received at the Queen's Park all day Wednesday and on Thursday morning.

Captain Deeds, Paul Kuhring and William McLeod, an engineering party who have been working on the Store Line, left last night for Brookville Junction to work on that section.

The city has advertised twelve building lots for sale in accordance with the recommendations of the Safety Board. The size of the lots is 50x100. The sale will be conducted at Chubb's Corner on the 28th by Auctioneer Potts.

The visiting delegates to the United Baptist Women's Missionary Convention, which opens tomorrow, will be tendered an informal reception in Leinster street Baptist church tomorrow evening by the representatives of the various city Baptist missionary societies. Mrs. D. Hutchinson, President of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union, will receive, assisted by others.

Captain Petrel, of the Canadian government steamer Petrel, has reported that the cruiser Cornwall struck on an uncharted rock. The investigation, conducted by Captain Bankhouse, shows that there was but seventeen feet of water at that place. This part of Nova Scotia has not been surveyed for fifty years, and mariners express the opinion that Captain Lay and his officers should be congratulated.

Two more members of the chain gang escaped Saturday, when the men were at work on the General Public Hospital hill. They were serving a two months' term for drunkenness.

Rev. Father Innes, S. J., assistant superior of the Woodstock College, Maryland, was the speaker at the 11 o'clock Mass in the cathedral yesterday. Taking his subject from the gospel for the day, he preached an eloquent sermon.

An alarm from box 281 brought the firemen to the premises of G. S. Coman & Co., Paradise Row, Saturday afternoon. A lot of kindling were destroyed. Messrs. Coman and Whelpley were up river at the time, and the watchman was away to his dinner. Damage to the extent of about $400 was done, fully covered by insurance companies represented by Wm. Thomson & Co.

T. H. Estabrook and H. B. Schofield left evening for Montreal in connection with the West India service. They would not say whether or not they were to interest a rival company to Dickford & Black, who had refused St. John anything better than a twenty-two day service. It is expected that there will be an announcement on their return.

THE MONTREAL WITNESS HANDS ONE TO MR. AMES

(Montreal Witness).

Mr. Ames has made his political confession to his friends and it has been applauded. Mr. Ames has always represented first and foremost the protected interests, and it is these which always applaud him. He has done this honestly. He was brought up among them, has enjoyed their advantages from birth and has never been able to think any other way. He, of course, flatters himself that he has patriotic reasons for that attitude. For instance, he is alarmed for the British connection. They all see, these protected people who have imported the American system of protection into Canada, and set up a big strong wall against British goods! He is alarmed for the British preference; bless him! He says where you have a free list there can be no preference. Was the preference the work of Mr. Ames and his friends? Did they not determine it? When the measure was inevitable did they not do their best and with some success, to emasculate it? Did not Mr. Ames constitute himself special Canadian ambassador to Great Britain and proclaim in speeches there that Canada had given the English all the preference she was going to give. Now, if Mr. Ames wants a British preference, there is still abundant room for it. We can show him where it can be made a much more substantial thing than any of the duties the reciprocity agreement could possibly give. If, these remained towards the United States and were entirely removed towards Great Britain. Mr. Ames knows well enough that the free list under the agreement makes not the slightest difference to Great Britain. It may, however, be fairly claimed that it gives Great Britain a claim for increased preference. That is a claim on which we insist. But when that is proposed we shall find Mr. Ames as stoutly against it as Lord Salisbury has been against the veto bill.

BRITISH FARMING SUPREMACY

(Mark Lane Express)

A glance at a few foreign rivals will show that British supremacy in farming is not confined to the cereals. Our farmers now get over six tons of potatoes to the acre, the Russian gets a ton under two. The Germans are still behind us, but they are leveling up. Beautiful, well watered France only gets 20 cwt. of hay from her meadows, where England gets 24.

HE FELL IN ACTION

They were talking of war, and the young man mentioned that one of his ancestors was killed during the revolution. "He was a brave man," said "and we are all very proud of his record."

The young woman looked pensive. "I had an uncle who was killed in the Civil War, the very first battle he ever went into," she said. "He was only a private, so he hadn't made any record."

"That was hard," said the young man. "to be shot down in his first engagement."

"He wasn't shot down," said the young woman. "He fell and broke his neck when he was running down hill. I think was a awful cruel, don't you?"

Being in society is a good deal like being in jail; it isn't, so bad after you get used to it.

Facts You Can't Rub Out

If rents were lower, and light, advertising and other modern business necessities were cheaper in the city stores they would not have to add more profit to the cost of their goods than we do. If they did enough business to control the production of all the makers of good goods in this broad land they would have a monopoly on style and quality. But, fortunately for us, it costs them a whole lot more to do business than it does us, and the makers who supply them are just as anxious to supply us, hence

"HOME NEWS FROM ABROAD." It will probably come as a surprise to a piece of news to the people of St. John, and particularly to the directors of the Exhibition association to know that according to a lengthy article in the "Billboard," a prominent United States theatrical weekly, "The St. John Exhibition for 1911, will be the largest ever opened on the afternoon of September 2, and will remain open until the evening of September 9." The article follows a description of St. John's advantages as a commercial centre, and a few complimentary words for the winter port city. The writer in the magazine meant well, but he was somewhat astray in his information as to an 1911 fair.

SON OF AID. RUSSELL VERY BADLY HURT

Kicked by Horse Yesterday at Fair Vale and Condition Causes Apprehension—Brought to City and Operation Necessary

A distressing accident, and one which is the cause of serious apprehension today, occurred yesterday afternoon at Fairvale, on the Gondola Point road, when Master David Russell, the popular young son of Aid. and Mrs. J. V. Russell, was kicked in the stomach by a horse in the stable attached to the hotel of Thomas B. Roberts, at that place. The lad is in the General Public Hospital today, and was reported at noon to be resting as comfortably as could be expected, but an operation was thought imperative.

Keen sympathy was expressed for the parents of the lad, who is a bright boy of about thirteen years, a favorite with all who know him. It is not known how the accident happened. After the boy had been placed in a stable a few minutes he was found by Mr. Roberts lying in the barn and suffering greatly. He was not unconscious for his first words were "Don't let mother know I'm hurt." His father and some others were nearby and had been waiting to go for an automobile drive. The machine had been late in arriving, but when it came, the injured lad was placed in it and hurried at once to his home in King street east, where Drs. Emery and White were soon in attendance.

They did what they could to ease his pain, and he spent a fairly restless night under the circumstances. This morning it was deemed advisable to have an operation performed, as internal trouble was feared, and he was accordingly taken to the hospital. His temperature was higher this morning than last evening, and there was some fear as to the outcome of the accident.

WILL COME TO ST. JOHN TOMORROW EVENING

Visit From Rev. Edward Smith, Who is Deeply Interested in Adult Schools Movement

Edward Smith, of the Heath, Bewdley, Worcestershire, England, who visited St. John last year, will be in the city tomorrow evening. In a letter written from Yarmouth, N. S., he says: "I have been taking a holiday in Nova Scotia with a friend, Rev. J. Thackeray, from St. John's, Nfld., and visiting some of the Congregational churches. We were to be in your town on Tuesday evening, leaving early next morning. We shall speak possibly in the Congregational church."

Smith is deeply interested in the adult schools movement in England, and when here last year gave an address in the Every Day Club. He writes that many in Nova Scotia have been deeply interested and he hopes that schools may be opened in that province. In English cities these schools have done and are doing a splendid work not only in keeping men from temptation, and building up manhood, but in reclaiming men who have fallen.

WHERE ARE THE DOGS?

The number of dog licenses issued this year for St. John was 348 less than was the case last year, when 1196 tags were disposed of. It is believed that there are not quite so many dogs in the city as there were last year, but it is not thought that this difference is so marked as to have reached the 300 mark. Mayor Frink has requested the police authorities to furnish him with a report of the cases disposed of on "dog day" in the police court, in order to determine what has become of the other 848.

Naturally the revenue is considerably less than last year on this account, there being a difference of more than $800. Some of those who took advantage of their pets this year took advantage of the earlier dates, but others had to pay double price.
