arge Attendance at the Opening Session — An Eloquent Sermon Preached by the Retiring Moderator-Rev. Dr. Grant of Trinidad Elected to Succeed.

(Charlottetown Guardian, 7th.) The first sederunt of the Synod of the maritime provinces was held in Zion church last night. The church was well filled and before the conclusion of the service the audience was greatly augmented by arrivals from the boat and train. The church was nicely decorated with plants, and music was furnished by a united choir of St. James and Zion churches, Public worship was conducted by the retiring moderator, Rev. T. Cumming, Scotsburn, N. S., who preached an eloquent sermon from the text Isaiah, 21.11 "Watchman, what of the night?" The reverend gentleman after referring to the historical allusion applied the question as if addressed to the prophets of God today. Is the long, dreary watch of heathendom past? Is the Sun of righteousness soon to rise? Every modern prophet may give a different answer. He would answer as have as proof of progress, the open door to the heathen lands, the knowledge that has been acquired of the Ethnic religions to which teeming millions have so long clung and the anxiety prevalent in the eastern world regarding the decay of the historic religions which presage their fall. Soon will it be that "to Him every knee shall bow and every tongue confess, but we must press on till to the ques tion, Watchman tell us of the night? we shall hear the answer! Wickedness is past and true light now shineth. After singing, the Synod was con-

Dr. Falconer in the absence of the Convenor Rev. D. S. Fraser, comment-ed on the printed report which was submitted. The statistics were favorternational lessons, there are draw-backs which are supplemented by the grading course. In the four summer schools there was in attendance of easily 1,000 this year. A great number of the ministers do not realize the importance of the Sunday school work.

These summer schools These summer schools have come to stay as the requests have been very general for them. The work of these schools must be carried down to the individual teacher and here the Prespyteries can give speat help. In conclusion he urged the church to rally more and more to this most important because of the schools. branch of church work the Sunday school upon which many of the children of the present day are solely dependent for their religious training.

The following recommendations were manimously accepted on motion of Prof. Falconer seconded by Rev. Geo.

Millar, Brookfield.

1. That this synod exercise its high appreciation and approval of the sum-appreciation and approval of the summer schools for S. S. teachers and workers conducted with so much success at Halifax, St. John, Charlotte-town and Sydney, by the committee of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, and the synod's S. S. committee; that these committees be requested to conduct a similar school in the college at Halifax, during the summer of 1904, if possible; and that, in consultation with Presbyteries, schools be held at such other centres as may be found most Rev. Mr. Thompson reported suitable in the interests of the work throughout the bounds of the synod. 2. That Presbyteries be strongly re-commended to hold within their re-spective bounds local schools for their Sunday school teachers along the lines generally indicated in the body of this

PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.-Parliament may not prorogue for many days, as a result of the charge made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the commons today that petitions presented against the Grand Trunk Pacific deal were forgeries. Mr. Talbot started the noving that two petitions from Bagot be referred to the committee on privi-leges and elections. The opposition howed their faith in the genuineness of the petitions by promptly moving an amendment to have all petitions examined and verified. The amendnent was adopted, and if the government have courage to face the tion, parliament may be forced to sit cost $120,000. When will she be comfor several months.

Mr. Talbot of Bellechase rose to a question of privilege as to the authenticity of petitions presented to the house against the immediate prosecuon of the G. T. P. project. He declared that he was in a position to assure the house and the country that a grave abuse of the privileges of the house had been committed. From a carefully prepared brief, evidently supplied to him, Mr. Talbot proceeded Spective bounds focal schools for their Students and the formulations, and on motion of Rev. Robert Chuming.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he was glad the opposition raised no objection in view of Mr. Talbot's statement that the dignity of the house had been seriously infringed by attempts to create an impression by false pretenses. "His young friend from Bellechase might have spoken warmly, but the impression was strong that an attempt had ben made to impose upon the house."

Mr. Borden—"How many petitions are referred to by Mr. Talbot?" Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that Mr. Talbot had only referred specifically to charges might apply with equal effect

Mr. Henderson said he had not paid much attention to Mr. Talbot, who had evidently been put up by someone else to do this work, which no other memer of the liberal party would take up. When the premier said that the same insinuation would apply to all other petitions, the matter became more serious. The premier had cast an imputation upon a great many people. In connection with the Lansdowne repairs the minister of marine stated that the chief work was awarded to James Fleming, whose tenders $8,820 for boilers and $3,125 for tanks were the lowest. It took the minister an hour to get through a vote of $2,000 additional for examination of masters and mates. He explained the money would be required for a $2,000 increase for the inspector of examining board, $1,000 for his travelling expenses and $800 for two new examiners to be located at St. John and Charlottetown. They would be remunerated by fees. Respecting the disposition of the remaining $800 the minister explained that it would be required for travelling expenses. Among other votes passed was $7,500 for naval reserve inquiry. OTTAWA, Oct. 9.-The house was engaged nearly all day discussing es-timates for harbor and rivers of Quebec. A GOOD RIDDANCE.

Mr. Balfour is well rid of his former chancellor of the exchequer. He was more of a failure in office than Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, and out of office he has made even the free traders ashamed. It is said that the Croydon speech of Mr. Ritchie won converts for the Chamberlain programme. Whether it did or not it revealed Mr. Ritchie as

GOVERNMENT AND LUMBERMEN.

The St. John Gazette is well known reasons supposed e good authority on the plans and purposes of the provincial government. It is true that the attorney general may have political intentions which he does not disclose and he may sometimes think it proper to make announcements for the purpose of concealment. But when disclosures are to be made the Gazette seems to be the medium.

The article which we reprint today ounds official. It indicates the intention of increasing the stumpage rate on crown lands to $1.50. The nominal rate is now $1.00, but this is colmanner, that some operators probably crued, but there is reason to believe that some lumbermen pay the uttermost farthing

It would be well for the government to collect what the law allows-no more and no less. Then it would be or too low. The first and most essential duty for the crown land department is to deal honestly with the holdalike.

It seems to be proposed to farther readjust the rates from time to time, according as the lumber business is good or bad. That is to say, the operators will never know exactly what they will be asked to pay for any time in the future, and the government will always be in the position to make a concession of $25,000 or $50,000 to the operators. This would be a beautiful too abject a public man to have any arrangement for a government which is occasionally in need of campaign funds and of political support.

It is evident that the government would question the perfect right of the does not propose to relinquish its hold sign and intention transferred the conpeople of the British Empire to estab. upon the lumbermen. THE TELEGRAPH AND ITS CRITICS.

The Sun tries to explain that the with drawal of Mr. Thos. McAvity and Mr. James, F. Robertson from the Telegraph directorate does not necessarily mean that they disagree with that paper's opposition to the Grand Trunk Pacific bill. The Sun is very kind lected in so capricious and unfair a in devoting something over a column to set these gentlemen right, but the explanation pay twice as much as others. The average amount collected is probably about two-thirds the sum legally ac-Telegraph control was sufficiently in the hands of Mr. Russell of Montreal to swing the way he wanted it to go, and that the selves to Mr. Russell's way of thinking may be accepted as nearer the conditions than the representations of the Sun.

The liberal newspapers of the provin known whether the rate was too high have abundant justification for condemning Telegraph's wobbling course. It has been heavily subsidized by the government, and handsomely patronized by the go ment's friends, who naturally looked to ers of timber limits, and to treat all as an exponent of liberalism, but they find its opinion on a great national project Fredericton Herald.

The Sun has not undertaken to ex plain the attitude of Mr. McAvity and Mr. Robertson on the Grand Trunk bill. This journal has pointed out that these gentlemen were directors of the Telegraph, and the first mentioned was the president; that they with two directors who did not withdraw at the time had the absolute control of the Telegraph until next February, and that the Telegraph could not while they remained directors enter upon an agitation against the Grand Trunk They voluntarily and with full and acconceal his purpose, but explained it clearly and forcibly to the retiring directors, is well known, and since they deliberately placed him in a position to use the Telegraph for the purpose of this campaign it may be taken for granted that they were consenting parties. If they had been poor men who needed the price of their stock it might be urged that they were forced to make the transfer. But everybody knows that they were perectly independent and that the comparatively small cash consideration would be no object to them. They were absolutely free to say whether the Telegraph newspaper should enter upon the campaign against the gift enter-prise, and they took the course which resulted in the renewal of the agitation. And so far as the Sun can learn the course taken has the support and approval of the Telegraph's readers and of the community generally. The suggestion that Mr. McAvity and Mr. Robertson might speak for themselves would not come from a journal well acquainted with what has been going on in this city. Mr. James F. Robertson has spoken for himself on the railway question. He has spoken with clearness and to the point. Nor has he been content with speaking Before and after the Grand Trunk contract was made public Mr. Robertson introduced, supported, and carried through the Board of Trade strong resolutions on the subject. It has apparently been decided not to mix up tion of extended leases with that of the increase in the rate of stumpage, but when the increase is made and the lumbermen are called upon to pay the additional rate th claim which they make for extended leases will be carefully considered by the government. So far as persons holding lands for speculation purposes are concerned there will, we have rea son to believe, be no extension, but in respect to lumbermen actually engaged in carrying on milling operations it is not unlikely that they will be granted an extension for such quantity of crown timber lands as may be re-garded by the governor-in-council as reasonably necessary for the successful carrying on of their milling operations. ## Bronchitis or Pneumonia.

The mere mention of coughs and colds suggests to most minds the advisability of using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Not that this is the only treatment for such ailments, but because it has time and again proven its superiority by curing not only coughs and colds, but also bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, asthmas pneumonia and even consumption in its earlier stages, when other remedies seemed of no avail.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a great favorite with mothers, both because of its extraordinary soothing and healing properties and because children like to take it.

Many a child has been saved from bronchitis and consumption; many a life has been spared by the timely use of this great medicine, and prudence suggests the wisdom of always keeping a bottle at hand in order to prevent serious and fatal developments of coughs and colds, and to quickly cure croup, which so frequently comes when least expected.

Like most preparations which have attained a world-wide reputation and enormous sales, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has many imitations. Be careful when buying. Refuse substitutes which do not possess sufficient merit to make a reputation for themselves. Insist on seeing the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the bottle you buy.

Mrs. J. W. Lloyd. Albien street, Belleville, Ont., states:—"In the beginning of last winter I took a very severe cold accompanied with a bad cough and was almost laid up for a time. I tried several remedies but with indifferent results. On the advice of a friend I got a battle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and found that it relieved the cough at once. By the time I had taken the one bottle my cold was gone and I can truthfully recommend it as a splendid remedy for coughs and colds."

mrs. J. Provost, Renfrew, Ont., writes:—"My boy, fourteen years of age, had a very serious cold on his chest last winter, and I was afraid he was going to die. He coughed nearly all the time and spit up blood. We had given up all hope of cure when we heard of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. After using one bottle he was greatly improved, and Fcan certify that two bottles completely circle him. I know of no medicine which acts so promptly and I gratefully recommend it to others."

Satisfactory Results from Horse Show and Carnival.

Retail Trade Was Generally Benefitted -What Some of the Local Merchants Have to Say.

The general opinion expressed by St. John retail merchants in regard to the value of the Horse Show as a means of bringing buyers to the city is on the whole favorable. The firms that seem-ed to have benefitted most are those dealing in dry goods and harness lines. Among the shoe men there is a difference of opinion, but several of the largest firms report good sales. All are agreed on one thing, however, and that is that the relative value, as a buyer, of the exhibition visitor and the

W. H. Thorne did not think the class of people attracted by the horse show was one that would come to town with the intention of buying much in the tomers had dropped in, and in this way some future trade might be opened up; but on the whole the show was not nearly equal to an exhibition. However, Mr. Thorne said he fully believed in them, and hoped they would be made annual affairs.

usiness in the retail department of their store, and hope to see the show even a greater success next year. Very few wholesale buyers were in town, as their trade is good at this time of the year and they were unable to leave their business. This firm considers the show to be a distinct benefit to the

The horse show is not at all equal to an exhibition, declared Mr. Hunt of Henderson & Hunt, the enterprising representatives of Fit Reform goods, either in point of attendance or in re-gard to the class of buyers attracted to the city. Those that came for the forse show came to see horses and not to buy merchandise. As a rule they could get at home everything they might want. But an exhibition crowd very different; the great majority are country people who see in the exhibition a chance of killing two birds with the one stone; they take in the sights and also make their annual purchases. DAVID WESTON CASE RESUMED.

More Witnesses Tell of the Disaster.

Deck Hands Were in Refreshment Room Under Orders and Were Not Neglecting Work—Adjourned

for One Week.

The enquiry into the David Weston tragedy was resumed at Brown's Flats at eleven o'clock Monday morning. Samuel Holder, a passenger on the steamer on the day of the accident, examined by Mr. Carleton, K. C., said that he was in the wing on the starboard side of the main deck when he heard the alarm of fire. All one side was on fire when he first saw it. Did not see any of the crew around. Witness jumped off the bow on the starboard side, into mainly for marking the water with a lady friend, and swam ashore. He did not see Etta

Morrell, Fred Downey or the Rowan boy. To Mr. Currey, K. C., witness said that the third deck hand, Titus, was not sent into the room by him. If the deck hands had been on the deck they might have seen the fire before any body else. At no time did he intrust to the deck hands the furnishing of passengers with refreshments. They were there to scrub the room, which had not been cleaned up for a day or two. Fred Downey and Chas, Fler ing usually cleaned up the refreshment room. They did it after they stopped at Cronk's, because from there down to the city there were, as a rule, few stops All three of the deck hands could be at work in the room, and it was no witness, Captain Solomon R. Weldon of the tug Champion, examined by Mr. Currey, K. C., said that his boat was anchored nearly half a mile up stream above the place of the accident, when it occurred. He saw the fire breaking out amidship in front of the walking beam. Thought peached within three minutes after he first saw the fire. He had his boars owered, and upon arriving at Craig's Point the passengers were all off. Wifness did not see anybody jump. assisted the injured to a house nearby. The tug Champion was employed by Mr. Orchard of the Star line to convey the passengers to St. John. Among them were four or five injured. M Orchard, some of the crew, and the edy of Miss Morrell. Witness thought that Captain Day did all that could be done to save the lives of the passengers. The only thing to do, he con sidered, was to beach the boat, and she was beached at the best place possible. Hosty from the state of Maine, visited his store, and consequently the sale in August amounted to $164,285, or nearly double the annual interest charge of $87,500 on the outstanding $1,750,000 5 per cent. bonds. Net earnings for the eight months ended August amounted to $327,323, an increase of $56,170 over last year, leaving a surplus of $268,930, equal to nearly 9 per cent, upon the $3,000,000 of stock. Indications are that the company will show net earnings of about 12 per cent, upon its stock for the full 12 months, as Sentember trafthe company will show net earnings of about 12 per cent. upon its stock for the full 12 months, as September traffic was extremely heavy. There is no prospect of dividends upon Eastern Steamship Co, stock, however, for earnings are being replaced in the property, largely in steamships. The company is now building a boat for its Maine River service at a cost of $220. perty, largely in steamships. The company is now building a boot for its Maine River service at a cost of $120,000, which it is expected will be the fastest boat on the Atlantic coast. The stock of the Eastern Steamship Co. is controlled by four persons, Messrs. Ransom B. Fuller, president of the Boston Insurance Co.; Calvin Austin, vice-president of the Eastern Steamship Co.; C. W. Morse, former president of the American Ice Co. and Eugent of the American Ice Co. and Eugent P. Carver, of Carver & Blodgett, general counsel for the company.

The Eastern Steamship Co. is having

clared that she did not know the man. After the stranger had departed it was found that he had left the bundle of clothes behind him. These were rned over to Deputy Shaw. In beginning the interview with the Simmons girl Deputy Shaw opened the bundle and asked her if the clothes were hers. Miss Simmons replied that they were not: that she had never seen them before. When ques-tioned as to whether or not they benged to her sister, she at first was doubtful, and later declared most em- from the South. The letter creft was phatically that they were not her sister's. Later she suggested that the shoes, which were of rather a large size, might belong to her mother.

The girl told Deputy Shaw that on the night of the fire they went to the theatre. Afterwards she left the house with her step-father, mother and sister. When she went out of the mon there was no evidence of fire there, nor did she smell smoke on the way out Jones, had been smoking in the room next room. Mr. Sutherland's idea of the The Government's Ideas of the Duty by his own words, is as follows: "It is his duty to audit the accounts, but that is a different thing from fixing the value. Each department could not wait to consult the auditor as to the price or value of goods before making a purchase. It seems impossible to hold the auditor general responsible for the conduct of every department. There would not be much use in havto be the sole judge as to how, when and at what price articles are to be purchased. From the auditor-general's report, they will find that whether or not the auditor-general has power to say whether a charge is excessive, he has at least been exercising that power fregently. If the departmental auditor are to be accepted as the authorities as to the correctness of accounts, then the government should at once abolish the office of auditor-general and effect an annual saving which would amount to thousands. TURKS DROWN PRISONERS. LONDON, Oct. 10-The Salonica correspondent of the Daily Mail, asserts that Bulgarian prisoners are sent into exile weekly from that port. They are EASTPORT IS A County Officials Take Action Towards Closing Saloons There.

EASTPORT, Oct. 10.—For some time past there has been considerable talk throughout the county, occasioned by the fact that the Eastport saloons were allowed to run full blast, while everywhere else the dealers in strong waters were relentlessly pursued by the min-ions of the law, their goods confiscated and themselves fined, and in addition thereto have to run the risk of a lengthy sojourn at Machias in the coun-ty jail.

Now, according to the county attorney, Gsn. B. B. Murray, all coons look alike, and there is sorrow in and around the shores of Moose Island, for the ultimatum of the county authorities has BOSTON, Oct. 9.—A career as re-markable as it has been unenviable is erages under pain of fine and impris-

Gen. Murray and Sheriff Tarbox vis fted Eastport during the week, and sorrow and drouth followed close in their wake. Several dealers were hauled into court and fined; the rest concluded that protection from the city authori-ties wouldn't save them from the wrath of the county officials, who know nel-ther fear nor favor when the question of duty is involved, and the result is that Eastport is a really truly dry town just at present.
"It's impossible for one to get a drink"

in Eastport today," said County Attorney Murray to a reporter.

Thursday evening Sheriff Tarbox went the rounds of Eastport's saloons to see if the boys were behaving good, but not a drop of the "cratur" ed Pembroke, where they have been for bourbon and see weird and wonderful visions in consequence, but he found nothing which would indicate that the suspected persons were not all law-abiding citizens, and he returned o Calais empty handed. Of course Eastporters have farther to go than Calais when the drouth is on and they must liquidate, but most of the citizens are accustomed to boating and they have a choice of many landings when the cop is on the warpath, while the thirsty in Calais have o walk the straight and narrow way of the international bridge and be able to pass inspection before a guardian of the peace in waiting at the Calais end ere he reaches his own fireside.

Carried Off the Honors in Saturday's Races.

St. Joseph's Crew Won the Four Oared Amateur and O'Neill Defeated Ross-Professional Four Oared Shells Swamped.

The harbor regatta Saturday was only a partial success, owing to the unfavorable condition of the weather and water, and the failure of several races in filling. The four oared professions had to be called no race, and in several others the contestants for various reasons did not appear. But those events which were finished were well worth

Long before the hour appointed for the commencement of the regatta every available space on the wharves and shivering but enthusiastic thousands among whom the excitement increased half-past ten the tug Lord Kitch the judges' boat, moved out from North wharf, the distance boat Dirigo having previously gone, and the first event of the day, the four oared amateur was

AMATEUR FOUR-OARED. For this race there were three entries, the Carleton Amateur Association crew, composed of William Lanyon, stroke, Hilton Belyea, James Ross and Morton McLaren; the Neptune Rowing Club crew, Bruce Colwell stroke, Stuart Fairweather, Jack Fairweather and Harry Gilbert; and the St. Joseph's club crew. The Carleton boys wore blue, Halifax white, and the Neptune mixed. On drawing for positions the Carleton boys were outside, Neptunes in the centre and Halifax nearest shore. The course was from a line from the Neptune club boathouse to buoys one and a half miles down, or near the beacon, and return to starting point.

The Carleton men started with the quickest stroke and the Neptune's with the slowest. The latter soon quickened and during the progress of the race all crews rowed about even The Carleton boys at once took the of the Paris Aurore, who took such an lead and rowed the straightest course to the buoys, but through mistaker judgement turned the wrong buoy and were compelled, not to turn twice, but

The Neptunes during most of the run home were two or three lengths in rear and were unable to close up this distance. The Hallfax men steered to the finish line out near the judges' boat, while the Carleton boys kept close to the shore and the distance between the two made it difficult to determine which was in the lead. They finished

The men were for time undecided whether to row over the whole course on account of the rough water at the lower end, but fin-ally decided to carry out the original

In this race there were only the two Carleton crews, the Belyea and the Clark-McCormack entered. The Belyea crew was made up of Fred Belyes, stroke, Joseph Tibbets, Harry Belyea and Frank Lamoreaux. Their colors were mixed. The Clark-McCormack men were George Clark stroke, George Dalton, John McLaren and Hugh Mc-Cormack, colors blue and white. In the drawing they took the inshore course. While getting ready for the race the Belyea shell was accidentally upset and some further time was wasted while the water was being got out of it, but finally about half past eleven the shells came into line and got away.

The McCormack men set the swiftest and steadiest stroke, and the starting pace was unusually fast. It looked as though the race would prove an inter-esting and closely contested one, but, unfortunately, when off Sand Point the Belyea shell filled in the rough water, and the crew were unable to continue. The McCormack men went on a short distance further but soon stopped, as their boat also had taken in a lot of
