BELGIANS HAVE GRIEVANCE OVER PEACE TERMS; ITALIANS INVITED TO RETURN TO CONFERENCE; CANADIANS LEAD PEACE PARADE IN LONDON

Belgians Now Have a Grievance

Disatisfaction Over the Awards to Belgium Resulting in a Request to King Albert Not to Sign the Peace Treaty.

BELGIAN DELEGATES RECALLED HOME

Big Patriotic Demonstration Was Held in Antwerp at Which Demands Were Made for Fulfillment of Allied Pledges.

New York, May 4.—The Associated Press tonight issues the following: "The Italian delegates to the Peace Conference who left Paris almost abruptly when the members of the Council of Four representing Great Britain, France and the United States refused to grant Italy's full claims on Fiume and the Dalmatian coast region, have been invited to come back to Paris and resume their places in the Peace Conference."

Paris dispatches assert that by reason of this invitation it is believed the Italians will return to the Peace Conference and the negotiations over the disputed points will begin again where they were left off. The claims of Italy are the chief outstanding points in the Peace Treaty. French and British diplomats in Rome for several days have been discussing the controversy with Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino in an endeavor to straighten out the tangle. The invitation of the Council of Three, it is understood, has in view the elimination of the personal element in the controversy, and the paving of the way for a territorial adjustment acceptable to Italy when the conference is to get together.

In Peace Conference circles Sunday was quiet. President Poincaré had the members of the cabinet before him and discussed with them the preliminary peace terms. A meeting between the inter-allied and German credential commissions which was to have been held was postponed. In Belgium the dissatisfaction over the awards to Belgium has resulted in a petition being presented to King Albert, asking him to decline to affix his signature to the Peace Treaty. A cabinet council on Saturday recalled home the three Belgian delegations for a conference, which is to decide whether the conditions offered to Belgium are acceptable. A big patriotic demonstration was held in Antwerp on Sunday, at which demands were made for the fulfillment of the Allied pledges to Belgium.

All of Munich, capital of Bavaria, is now in the hands of the government troops except one section of the city. Two hundred persons are said to have been killed in the fighting for control of the capital. Another report says that 300 government troops met death near Munich, when the Spartacists blew up the train on which they were travelling.

The late Baron Richthofen, of German circus fame, claimed to hold the

Another Attempt On Life of Clemenceau Was Frustrated

Paris, May 3.—(Havas)—Another attempt against the life of Premier Clemenceau apparently has been frustrated by the arrest of a 19-year-old youth, who was seized near the entrance of M. Clemenceau's home. The youth, whose name is Corillon, was carrying a stiletto, and had in his possession anarchist literature. He declared that he did not want to kill the Premier, but desired only to make a "gesture."

AMERICAN FLIERS TO HOP OFF FROM ROCKAWAY TUES.

Will Leave at Nine O'clock in the Morning and Expect to Land at Halifax at Three O'clock in the Afternoon.

New York, May 4.—The three big seaplanes in which U. S. aviators will attempt a flight across the Atlantic will "hop off" for Newfoundland on the first leg of their journey at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, if the weather permits. It was officially announced at the Rockaway Beach Naval training station tonight. The first step on the flight to Newfoundland is scheduled for Halifax, 350 nautical miles from Rockaway Beach. The fliers expect to reach Halifax by 2 o'clock Tuesday. After a night's rest, they will fly, early Wednesday morning, to Trepassay, the Newfoundland base of the flight expedition. At Trepassay the big planes will line up for their cross-the-ocean attempt, probably remaining in the bay for ten days—"may be less or may be a little longer," the announcement of Commander John H. Towers, expedition leader, said. The planes will travel about 63 knots an hour, which was said to be "comfortable cruising speed."

CANADIAN AIRMEN GOING TO RUSSIA

Col. Collinshaw States That His Plans Are Well Advanced—Over 1,000 Volunteers to Choose from.

London, May 2.—(By Canadian Associated Press Cable)—Colonel Raymond Collinshaw states that his plans are now well advanced for a squadron of Canadian airmen, which he is taking to Russia, where they will serve in the Crimea. One of his difficulties lies in the fact that he has over 1,000 volunteers, including flight officers of many kinds, to select from. His selection to date includes Captain Donald McLaren, of Listowel; Captain Kinkhead, Toronto; Major A. D. M. Carter, New Brunswick; Captain A. Rose, Moose Jaw; Lieut. H. H. Martin, Toronto; K. McDonald, Victoria; V. Curtis, Toronto; J. Grace, Winnipeg.

Chaplain of First Division Given a Grand Welcome and Presented With an Automobile.

Quebec, May 4.—The C. P. O. S. troopship, Empress of Britain, docked here this morning at ten o'clock with 137 officers, 3 Nursing Sisters and 2,721 other ranks on board. The advent of the Empress was looked forward to with unusual interest here, as the vessel, which had always sailed to this port during the summer months previous to the war, left here on August 4th, 1914, and did not return until today. The Empress has had an eventful time since her last visit, having served as an armed cruiser during the first eight months of the war, but, with the disappearance of the raiders, she was used as a troopship and carried upwards of 130,000 troops to different theatres of the European conflict.

The home-coming of the Rev. Canon Scott, Chaplain of the First Division, who, previous to the war was rector of St. Matthew's church, was the occasion of an enthusiastic demonstration in his honor by hundreds of citizens who lined the wharf. THE SIBERIANS PUSHING CLOSE TO ORENBURG

The Town is Being Rapidly Evacuated by the Bolsheviki. Samara is Expected to Fall.

Belebel, Province of Orenburg, Southeast Russia, Monday, April 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Siberian troops are pushing close to Samara and Orenburg. It is reported that the latter town is being evacuated by the Bolsheviki and is expected to fall. The capture of Samara by the Siberians. To the northward the Siberians have occupied Buglino, Menselinsk and Glastov. The Bolsheviki are retreating to the southeast. The retreat of the Czechs from the southeastern Russian front, at first regarded as a calamity, has been greatly offset by the new spirit, self-reliance and patriotism shown by the new troops. The advance of the Siberians, which has been almost continuous since the first of the year, has been carried practically to the pre-determined limit of possibility here before the spring thaw. It is expected that the Siberians will undertake a new drive south with the river Volga as their object.

Bolshevik Gunboats Shelled the Allied Positions But Were Forced to Withdraw Owing to Gunfire.

London, May 3.—A war office official report says that Archangel advises have been received to the effect that serious enemy attacks, long anticipated, had begun on the Dvina and Vaga fronts. A message from the Dvina front on Thursday says that Bolsheviki gunboats shelled Allied positions, spasmodically, but were forced to withdraw, owing to the gunfire.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS GATHER AT ST. JOHNS

Thirteen of Them Will Be Strung Across the Atlantic to Assist the U. S. Naval Machines if Need Be.

St. John's, Nfld., May 4.—Harry G. Hawker and Captain Frederick P. Raynham, the aviators intending for first honors in a trans-Atlantic flight to the Irish coast, were accompanied to Trepassay by a Handley Page machine, when meteorological reports from mid-ocean, in face of perfect flying conditions here, once more showed adverse winds and weather far out at sea.

The name of the second and third American warships at Trepassay are Hisko and Prairie, both large auxiliary cruisers. The Arctostol is now assembling a second seaplane which is expected to be ready for flying tomorrow. The first seaplane did not fly this afternoon, the weather being stormy, wind and rain prevailing. Seaman from American ships say these three advance guards of thirteen altogether, which will be strung across the ocean from Newfoundland to the Azores, to assist the American naval aviators when they attempt the trans-Atlantic flight.

They will urge that German East Africa, Togoland and Kamerun be left to her and, upon refusal, will ask to be assigned some part in the future administration of the former German colonies, and that, in any case, Germany shall not be debited from purchasing some Portuguese colonies at a future date, should Portugal be willing to sell.

Copenhagen, May 3.—The official news agency a Budapest reports a speech by Bela Kun, Hungarian Soviet Foreign Minister, at a meeting of the central council of workers and soldiers, in which he admitted that the Hungarian troops were fleeing, and that Szolnok probably was already in Rumanian hands. He evoked cheers, however, by declaring: "So long as possible we fight to uphold the dictatorship of the proletariat."

London Suicide Possessed Much Canadian Property

London, May 3.—At Hornsey, London, an unusual verdict of "felony de se" was returned in the case of Charles Pears, 77, who committed suicide by cutting his throat. The man was living alone and apparently in a state of abject poverty, but his papers showed that he possessed considerable property in Canada, and a letter received after his death contained a cheque for 62 pounds sterling on the Royal Bank of Canada.

ST. JOHN TRIMMED HALIFAX. The St. John Telegraphers' bowling aggregation again scored up another victory against their Halifax opponents last Saturday afternoon, making three successive wins for the local team. A feature of the game was the fact of the competing teams rolling in each city at the same time, and at the end of each string the respective scores were wired to the competing team at the other end of the wire. The three wins places the St. John Telegraphers in a tie with themselves, and the sister city bowlers will have to do homage with a turkey supper to the conquerors.

The local men rolled on the Y. M. C. I. alleys. The individual scores follow: St. John. McLaughlin, 85 95 101 288 96 1-3 Emery, 87 73 86 245 81-3 Launen, 90 89 82 261 87 McHugh, 81 70 97 248 87-3 Griffith, 71 88 85 244 81-3 414 412 461 1287.

AT THE CATHEDRAL. A feature of the services at the Cathedral yesterday morning was a sermon given by Rev. Father Roach, president of St. Thomas' College, Chatham, which was recently destroyed by fire. In the course of his sermon Father Roach made reference to the destruction of the edifice and the rebuilding of the college, which had already commenced. He asked assistance of all in its rebuilding in monies and encouragement, as St. Thomas' College has performed a noble mission in New Brunswick in educating the youth of our province.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clean the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Rough, Red Hands Softened and Whitened with Lemon Juice

Girls! It costs but a few cents to make a quarter pint of wonderful lemon beauty cream! Surely try it!

To soften, smoothen, and whiten the face, neck, arms, and particularly the hands when chafed, red or rough there is nothing better than lemon juice, but pure lemon juice is too highly acid and often irritating. A splendid lotion is prepared in a moment by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Be sure to strain the lemon juice through a cloth so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this creamy lotion will stay sweetly fragrant and fresh for months. Any grocer will supply the lemons and your druggist or any toilet counter will sell you three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. This is by all means the best lotion you could use. Massage it daily into the face, neck, arms, and hands and see for yourself. It removes tan, freckles, sallowness and blotches, and every girl knows that lemons are used to bleach and whiten the skin.

AT GERMAIN STREET CHURCH. Rev. W. D. Wilson, chief inspector for the province, occupied the pulpit of the Germain street Baptist church yesterday morning and evening. At the morning services the reverend speaker dwelt on Christianity as it affected the world, and drew a strong comparison to the havoc wrought on Christianity by the drink evil. He spoke to some length on the habit and hoped co-operation of all would finally eradicate liquor from New Brunswick.

TROUBLE FOLLOWS LOVE-MAKING TO ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE. Special to The Standard. Hartland, May 4.—Robert Scott, the adopted son of a prosperous farmer of Middle Simonds, who returned from the front a few weeks ago, after nearly three years of active service, has learned, to his sorrow, that all the dangers are not confined to the trenches of France and Flanders. It appears that Scott since he returned has been calling on a Mrs. William Rockwell, the wife of one of his neighbors at Simonds, thereby arousing the husband's jealousy. A few nights ago Rockwell returned home and, claiming that he found Scott making improper advances to his wife, seized a rifle and threatening to shoot the soldier, drove him from the house. The next day Sheriff Foster, who lives in the locality, disarmed Rockwell, but Scott purchased a revolver in Woodstock, Rockwell seized a rifle from Henry A. Rideout, one of his neighbors, and both parties declared that they would enforce their rights in the matter by gunplay if necessary. Matters came to a climax this afternoon, when Scott, apparently testing his revolver, accidentally put a bullet through the upper part of his leg close to the body. The wound was as ugly one and Scott lost so much blood that for a time it was feared that he would die before medical aid could reach him. Dr. Curtis of Hartland was hastily summoned and while he reported

GOODYEAR EXTRA POWER BELTING

Completely Standardized on Belting

ONE of the greatest compliments ever paid Goodyear Extra Power Belting comes to us from Port Arthur, Ont. In May, 1918, the big plant of the Port Arthur Pulp and Paper Company was opened. In six months they had decided to use nothing but Goodyear Extra Power Belts on their Mill machinery.

vice—a breakdown on one machine means a complete shut-down of all production. To decide, therefore, to standardize on Extra Power Belting, in view of the "very good service" it has given, is a splendid tribute to its dependability and all-round merits. These time and money-saving features of "Extra Power" are winning for this modern belt a dominant place in Canadian industry.

This decision was not made in a moment. Extra Power received as severe a testing as was ever given belting.

There are executives in your line of business who keep belt records, who buy on known facts, who balance length of service and performance against price—men whose experience with "Extra Power" will interest you.

From barkers and grinders, down to cutters and pumps, "Extra Power" was submitted to all the gruelling work and difficult conditions that a pulp and paper plant affords.

Let us send a man trained by Goodyear to discuss your belt problems. No obligation, of course. Just phone, write, or wire our nearest branch.

"In the six months that we have been in operation," writes Mr. A. G. Pounford, the General Manager, "we have only had three belt failures, all of which were due to improper riveting."

Interesting Experiment to be Made Between the Two Countries—Sample Cargo of Italian Products Coming to Canada.

The Italian Government, in conjunction with the Canadian Government will make an interesting experiment with the object of developing trade between the two countries, according to a communication received by Secretary Armstrong of the Board of Trade on Saturday from the Dominion Department of Commerce.

While definite information as to the arrangements are lacking here, it is believed the experiment is the outcome of the aggressive policy adopted by the Union Government for the purpose of developing trade with European countries.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted.

Sometimes it is a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult, and sleep impossible.

Whatever kind of a cold or cough you have, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you need to cure it, for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and bark.

Miss Margaret Landly, Bristol, P. E. I., writes:—"I am writing to tell you the benefit I have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

"Last fall I took a severe cough and cold in my head. I was unable to do anything. At night I could not sleep but cough, cough, all night long. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before the second bottle was used, I was entirely cured, and I have found this the best cough medicine I ever used."

Do not accept any other "pine" preparations when you ask for "Dr. Wood's." This remedy has been on the market for a century. It is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RECEPTION FOR MISS ANNA CASE

Pleasant Afternoon Tea Given at Mrs. R. H. Anderson's Residence, Queen Square, on Saturday—Visited County Hospital.

A very delightful reception was given for Miss Anna Case on Saturday afternoon by three members of the musical committee who had charge of the concert held Friday evening. Mrs. R. H. Anderson, Queen Square, gave her home for the reception, and the drawing rooms were beautifully decorated with flags and roses, a large reproduction of the G. W. V. A. badge being placed at one end of the room.

Miss Case, wore a tailor-made suit of fawn broadcloth, with a broad collar of fillet lace, corsage bouquet of Mayflowers. Her hat was a becoming dark brown sailor, and by her charming personality she made friends with all who had the pleasure of meeting her.

About one hundred guests, including the singers and musicians of this city, attended this afternoon tea. Miss Case left by the evening train for New York. She has an engagement to sing at Scranton, Pa., on Monday, but promises that she will return to St. John at some future time and spoke very appreciatively of the pleasant time she had spent in this city.

Saturday morning, with Mrs. Louis LeLachur, Miss Louise Anderson and Miss Blanch, Miss Case paid a visit to the East St. John County Hospital, and after visiting the soldiers there, asked to see all the patients and spoke a few bright words to each one. Her visit was greatly enjoyed. She offered to sing while there but there was no suitable piano.

One of the soldiers presented Miss Case with a basket made by himself and the singer was greatly pleased with the gift. Miss Case expressed great regret that her stay was too brief to allow her to go also to the Military Hospital at Lancaster, as she wished to visit both institutions.

Elmer Zoller, who accompanied Miss Case, left also Saturday evening for New York. He studied in Germany with the same teacher who instructed Mrs. LeLachur and it was a pleasure to both to renew memories of their studies and the music heard in Germany before the war.

CITY VS. BELVEA. The case of the City of St. John vs.

Good Old 'Y'

In the mud of France and Flanders, and the dreary desolation of war stood a series of little huts where soldiers from the front line trenches used to come. Sometimes it was a dug-out, sometimes it was a shed, sometimes it was a regular "hut". But always the Red Triangle over the door was the sign of welcome—the sign of hospitality and good cheer, the sign of the soldiers' club. And they called it "the Good Old 'Y'."

Help Y.M.C.A. Maintain Red Triangle Clubs Canada Needs "Y" Service During Demobilization

In eleven of the principal cities of Canada from coast to coast the Young Men's Christian Association is now operating in separate and distinct buildings Red Triangle Clubs for returned soldiers. In other cities similar accommodation is provided in the regular Y.M.C.A. buildings. These clubs are simply large, well managed hotels where transient soldiers are furnished bed and board at nominal rates, and the conveniences of a headquarters and social meeting place while staying over on business connected with the adjustment of their military accounts or their civil re-establishment after their discharge from the army.

Red Triangle Clubs are self-sustaining in part, but in the main they are financed from the Red Triangle Fund. The work is increasing as demobilization proceeds. Three Red Triangle Clubs were in operation last year. This year eleven such clubs are in existence, and in addition similar service is being rendered soldiers in the regular Y.M.C.A. buildings of other cities. To carry out this greatly needed work during the present year, a considerable portion of the Red Triangle Fund is being devoted, and your support is asked in earnest conviction that this service to our soldiers is as deserved as it is appreciated.

Red Triangle Campaign $1,100,000 May 5th to 9th

RED Triangle Clubs for soldiers were inaugurated in Canada in April, 1917. A committee of prominent business men in each locality undertakes business supervision, trained managers and book keepers are placed in charge by the Y.M.C.A., usually men with a long experience in railway Y.M.C.A.'s or similar work. The Clubs are staffed and managed like good moderate priced hotels with the exception that in the restaurants (or dining rooms) ladies' committees furnish voluntary workers as waitresses. All other help is paid.

Free check rooms for soldiers' baggage and parcels. Reading and writing rooms and free stationery. A "Mother's Corner," where buttons are sewn on, socks darned, and little jobs of sewing and mending are done for soldiers free of charge. Commodious shower baths with hot and cold water.

Billiard rooms and other games such as checkers and chess. Information about trains, telegraph facilities, and free motor bus to and from railway stations for soldiers and their baggage. An Adjustment Bureau, where soldiers' claims for back pay, war service gratuities, etc., are taken up with the proper authorities and arranged for the returned men. A Social Service Bureau where men are assisted to find employment. First Aid facilities for men whose injuries may require immediate attention. Safety deposit conveniences for money and valuables. Regular musical and entertainment programmes contributed by Y.M.C.A. workers and voluntary talent; religious services on Sunday afternoons. For Red Triangle Clubs and service to soldiers in local Y.M.C.A.'s, Military Hospitals, Camps, etc. the National Council is apportioning the sum of $472,069 in the budget for 1919, and to meet this appropriation a portion of the Red Triangle Campaign objective will be devoted. A sum of $22,000 is also apportioned for possible new Red Triangle Clubs to be opened during the year.

For Soldiers' Wives and Little Ones

For the wives and children overseas, dependent upon Canadian soldiers, a sum of $175,000 from the Red Triangle Fund will be set aside to cover the work of the Dominion Council of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Young Women's Christian Association Secretaries accompany the soldiers' families on all the steamers coming to Canada. At St. John and Quebec and similarly at Halifax in co-operation with the Citizens' Committee there, soldiers' dependents are welcomed and cared for. Money is provided in cases of need to those lacking sufficient funds to complete their journey. At the railway stations throughout Canada similar service is rendered by local Y.W.C.A. workers.

For the sake of the soldiers' wives and dependents coming to Canada, be generous when you make your contribution.

For Canadian Womanhood

The Dominion Council of the Young Women's Christian Association has also the responsibility of superintending and promoting Y.W.C.A. work for Canadian Women and Girls, which is growing more widely necessary each year. Everywhere the Y.W.C.A. is called upon for help, and your contribution to the Red Triangle Fund will make response the more nearly complete.

J. Fred Belyea, West Side, was heard before Mr. Justice Grimmer in Champlain on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. A few days ago the city obtained an injunction to restrain Mr. Belyea from fishing upon Lot No. 5 at Old Fort, which covers the same area as a portion of fishing Lot No. 21. Mr. Belyea claims that he has a right to fish the lot, having obtained a lease of Lot No. 5 from the city. By consent, an application on the part of the defendant to dissolve the injunction was turned into a hearing of the whole matter. E. P. Raymond for the defendant contended that the right of fishing was given to the inhabitants of the West Side by the charter of the city; that Mr. Belyea was an inhabitant and that having obtained from the City a lease of the property, he was not a trespasser when in possession of the land comprised in the lease and that being lawfully in possession he could exercise there the right of fishing which vested in him as an inhabitant. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, for the City, contended that the right of fishing by charter was granted to the City itself as the right of fishing over the lot in question could only be disposed of by public auction at a fixed time in the year and as it was not pretended that the lease had been made in the exercise of these powers, therefore, the right of fishing passed with the lease and that being lawfully in possession he could exercise there the right of disposal by annual sale had been His Honor reserved judgment.

ENFORCING THE LAW.

It is the duty of all right-thinking persons to assist by every means in their power in the enforcement of the Prohibitory Law. It is not the business of the private citizen to go through the town searching for bootleggers, nor to frequent suspicious localities in the expectation of catching some one in the process of violating the Act. But it is a duty devolving upon all to bring to the notice of the authorities such violations as may become known to them. On the other hand, it is the task of those entrusted with the enforcement of the Prohibitory Law to see that this law is applied in a fair and proper manner. So long as opinion is divided, as it always has been and always will be, with respect to prohibition, it is important that no action should be taken by responsible officers which will tend to bring the enforcement of the Prohibitory Law into disrepute. There is sufficient opposition to it under the very best of circumstances, and the creation of a feeling that crooked methods are employed or that undesirable persons are connected in any way with the official enforcement of prohibition will have an injurious effect on the operation of the law. It has been made clear during the past few days that in St. John a number of persons have engaged, whether on official instructions or otherwise, in the task of securing convictions under the Prohibitory Act, and that these persons are not to be reputed of a class entitled to public respect. Spotters, informers and other members of the class are all too apt to adopt methods calculated to lower the standard of decency which should be maintained in the enforcement of prohibition and, while strong personal sentiment displayed by some of the enthusiastic temperance workers may impel them to adopt methods which they would not countenance in their private affairs, it will be unfortunate if anything of the kind occurs which may bring prohibition into disrepute. The lot of the chief inspector is not at any time a happy one. He is entrusted with the enforcement of legislation to which in every country and in every age misdirected ingenuity has been opposed. The williness, the trickery, the unscrupulous methods employed by those who deliberately devote themselves to the evasion of a prohibitory law demand from the responsible officers unceasing vigilance and persistent activity. Yet they are compelled to follow in the course of their duties such methods as will maintain the respect due the legalized enforcement of any law. Public disapproval of methods adopted only serves to make more difficult the work of those in charge, and even at the risk of losing an occasional conviction or two to capture an offender, the administrative officers should at all times endeavor to uphold the dignity of the work they are carrying on.

HE SPENT IT LONG AGO.

Mr. Veniot in his interview the other day, tried to create the impression that the new provincial bond issue of a million dollars now advertised, which is to be made against the expected increase in motor vehicle taxes to provide money for permanent road work during the present year. He repeatedly referred to this issue as a loan for 1919. Possibly Mr. Veniot is as careless in the use of words as in the use of public money, but the whole tenor of his interview was that this loan will give him money for this year's operations. Now unless he knows as little about provincial financing as he does about making permanent roads, he is deliberately trying to deceive the people.

At a meeting of the public accounts committee, during the session, the Comptroller General, when asked about this matter, stated that the bond issue funding the expected increase in revenue from motor licenses had already been anticipated by expenditures then made. And in the Comptroller's report there is a statement of capital expenses incurred for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1918, which shows that the Department of Public Works then had accounts payable for permanent roads amounting to $223,906, while on ordinary account that department with a legislative appropriation of $245,500, had spent $571,906, or according to what the provincial secretary calls his amended statement an over-expenditure of $206,400. If Mr. Veniot, with a new bond issue of $450,000, can pay the debts of his department, and still have money left to spend on permanent roads, he will be compelled to exercise a fine discrimination as to what are permanent roads and what are just roads. Of course, the provincial secretary, having been authorized to make another bond issue of $200,000, may be persuaded to take over some of Mr. Veniot's debts, but in that case Mr. Murray will find himself in greater difficulties than ever at the end of the year. Mr. Veniot will probably spend the $450,000 this year and no doubt some thing over, and it is to provide for his extravagant plans that the Government has advised a temporary loan of one million dollars. When Mr. Murray introduced his bill to make House in the last hours of the session asking for authority to make temporary loans, he vouchsafed no information as to why the loan was wanted, but the clerk of the House was put up to make the announcement that the Lieutenant-Governor had requested the immediate attention of the Legislature to the bill as the money was urgently needed—a palpable device to prevent question or criticism.

THE MAIL SERVICE.

On Saturday morning all mail east-bound from St. John was left in the depot or in the Post Office after the eastern train had gone. This mail included all business and personal letters, registered matter and newspapers. The Standard is informed by Post Office officials that the mail driver's contract calls for the provision of two trucks to transfer this mail from the Post Office to the Depot. On Saturday morning one truck was in use and this, while passing along Smythe Street loaded, broke down. A second truck was secured, but by then valuable time had been lost and this second truck, instead of going to Smythe Street to pick up and take that load to the Depot, went to the Post Office for instructions. The result was that neither load reached the Depot in time to transfer any mail at all to the outgoing train. Mails to certain points only were forwarded by another train leaving in the afternoon.

This incident is strikingly in line with the system which has characterized the mail service in this city for some years. Because of grievances on the part of the contracting driver which the Post Office Department does not seem inclined or prepared to acknowledge or to remedy, and because of the evident inability of the Department to secure another driver who will give satisfactory service, delays have been of more or less frequent occurrence. A great deal of complaint has been heard in the past regarding this matter, but although the circumstances are well known in Ottawa nothing in the way of a reform has been attempted. It is, however, almost time that the business honesty of St. John contributing as heavily as they do to the maintenance of the Postal Department should demand from Ottawa proper equipment, or a reasonable service, which we do not at present enjoy. Not only have business and personal communications been held up as a result of the Saturday incident, but thousands of persons throughout New Brunswick have been deprived of their daily paper.

THE RED TRIANGLE.

Although the war is over and peace is in sight, the Red Triangle activities of the Y. M. C. A. have not yet come to an end. Indeed the demands on this popular institution are almost as great as ever, due to the fact that at home in almost every centre of population it is necessary to carry on, in the interests of those doing garrison duty, awaiting discharge, or newly arrived from the other side. The expansion which the Y. M. C. A. has undergone as a result of the war cannot be followed by a return to former conditions. Such a demand has been created for the services which this institution has been able to render during hostilities that in the interests of all our people it is imperative that the wider activities developed of late years shall be continued at home. And consequently the Red Triangle is again appealing to the people of Canada for assistance in the continuation of its widespread efforts. The appeal which will be made this week is for a million or more, a comparatively small amount when the magnitude of the work is considered. And indeed a sum which the people of Canada can easily afford to contribute to such a cause. Those who are devoting their time to the present endeavor should be warmly received by all, and should find among all classes an appreciation of the institution which has done so much for our men at home and overseas and which plans to do even more. Let St. John go over the top in its contribution to this worthy cause.

WHAT THEY SAY

Purpose of Education.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review—"There are so many subjects to be taught in the public schools that it seems useless to expect that all can be taught thoroughly. It does not matter so much whether they are if the pupil is taught to use his brains and is filled with a desire to know and to find out for himself.

Hard Fare in Kingston.—Kingston White—"The New York World Magazine discusses at some length the science and art of sleeping on a hotel billiard table. In view of what visitors to Kingston have to put up with, in the absence of sufficient and adequate hotel accommodation, the article ought to be locally very interesting.

The Balance of Power.—London Chronicle—"St. Clemenceau care contrasted two conceptions as if they were rivals—that of a future League of Nations and that of a future balance of power. For our part we have never regarded them as rivals, but rather as complementary. The League will not long keep its feet, unless it rests on the stable foundation of secure frontiers, contented national aspirations, and a balance of forces which cannot easily be upset.

Death's Registry for Cooks.—London Telegraph—"The lady of the house lacked a cook, and said she would have a look at the advertisements. Her husband noticed that she was searching through the notices of deaths. 'I thought you were going to search the 'want places,'" he said. 'You are looking at the deaths columns.'" "I know," she replied. "I wish to see what cooks have lost their employers."

Too Much Capital.—New York World—"Vienna, a great capital with no country left to support it, ponders the suggestion that Germany, if Austria joins it, may make Vienna a second capital. New Haven and Newport could tell how much that amounted to with them, before their empty honors were surrendered. Or Budapest might count how many days in twenty years it was royal palace was used.

He Had Got Used To It.—London Telegraph—"The news editor of a great Paris daily desired to obtain an interview with the Archbishop of Grenoble, and having at the moment a depleted staff had to send a reporter who hitherto had fulfilled the duties of a crime writer, and in that connection had come into close touch with the magnificence of the police force. This worthy daily interviewed his Grace, and on his return drew up after much cogitation his expenses bill. The first item was: Tip to Archbishop—one hundred francs.

A BIT OF VERSE

WHAT WINS. (Copyright, 1919, by Edgar A. Guest.) It's the everlasting climbing that gets you to the top. And the everlasting slipping that takes you down to drop. It's the ever and anon and muscle in the rough and tumble tussle that will bring you home to victory and the distant goal you seek. It's the ever and anon and never lying down and shirking that eventually will land you on the mountain's sunny peak. It's the patient perseverance to the plan which you have made that will bring you through the dangers and the pitfalls which are laid. It's the steady, constant driving to the goal for which you're striving. Not the speed with which you travel, that will make your victory sure. It's the everlasting gaining. Without whimpering or complaining. At the burdens you are bearing or the woes you must endure. It's the holding to a purpose, and the never giving in. It's the cutting down the distance by the little that you win; It's the sure and firm endeavor, Not the brilliant stroke and clever That shall bring you some to gladness and to days of joy and song, It's the iron will to do it. And the steady sticking to it. So whatever your task, go to it! Keep your grit and plug along!

Preached an Able Sermon Last Evening to an Interested Congregation — Took for Subject, "The Forward Movement."

The congregation of St. David's Presbyterian church, King street East, listened to an able speaker at the services last evening, when Rev. Donald MacGillivray, D.D., Editor and Secretary of the Christian Literature Society of Shanghai, China, addressed them on "The Forward Movement."

The learned minister, who has been in the Orient some thirty years, has in the course of that time come into contact with all the changes as affecting the country during that time, and his sermon last evening was doubly interesting, being instructive and most practical.

In opening, the reverend speaker outlined some of the messages as given by the church, which were yet lacking of practice in China, for the reason of a lack of faith and Christianity among its people. The two lacking quantities, or qualities, were only to be obtained by all seeking out a claim for God, and in each respective claim building, or aiding in the building, of a spirit which would eventually reach the Oriental people with a rest as might cause their consideration.

In China the courts of the land had undergone changes, not however for the better, but simply that the courts, at everything else, might be known to have reformed. The governments even had reformed, not inwardly, but outwardly, in the fact that they had eradicated much of the former robes of the Imperial regime, yet at heart they had not changed. The courts were in need of a changing, as were the laws, judges were not what were termed as honest, jurors likewise, witnesses in court cases, not breathing of the utmost truth in their sworn calling, all this was the result of the speaker's mind, of the lack of Christian conscience, and such conditions would exist until such time as Christian missionaries went into the country and explained to the people the folly of their ways in practice.

China, continued the speaker, is satisfied to undergo reform, its people among whom are the Manchu, Mongolian, Mohammedan, and two minor casts, saw the necessity of reform, yet they could not accomplish it, and such reform was only to be accomplished when based on Christianity, and this the greater majority of its people lacked.

The British Government during the war educated the Chinese to the horrors of the struggle, and its causes. This was accomplished by literature circulated in the native language throughout the length and breadth of the land. Such a spirit could be well accomplished by the churches of the East, and this literature which would educate the people on religious and Christian principles. With the soul of reform rampant in China, it is the duty of others to help along the missionaries in producing literature as mentioned above.

To the returned men the preacher paid fitting compliment as to their qualities as heroes in the strife, but a true hero was even to face life's perplexities. Some perplexities of the day were to be found in China, the home of many millions who thirst for truth. The burning question was missionaries to answer the call, and to go into the Orient and there educate the people to the teachings as taught by God, that they might gain that reform with a soul as being longed for.

China, the speaker concluded, was an open field where much was to be accomplished. Work was there for many, and it but remained to get workers who might answer the summons.

NO CONSTIPATION NO PILES.

We think, without a doubt, that constipation is the most prevalent, and the same is true of the greatest troubles human nature is afflicted with, and causes more sickness than anything else. Unless a free action of the bowels occurs at least once a day, constipation is sure to ensue, then comes the sore and uncomfortable piles, sick and bilious headaches, coated tongue, nervous breath, sour stomach, heartburn, water brash, and many other ailments. Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus removing the congestion and its allied troubles. Mr. Dan Boucotte, Eel River Crossing, N.B., writes: "Having been troubled 1 1/2 years with constipation and trying everything I knew of, a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I used four vials and am completely cured. I can gladly recommend them to anyone who suffers from constipation." Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have been on the market for the past 25 years, and have been used with the best results by thousands of people in that time, and we have yet to hear of a complaint as to their curative powers. Price 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price to The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

1919 CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY MATTER.

(1) The Toronto Globe of Monday, April 28th, makes the following editorial comment:

"With the work of the Y. M. C. A. most people are familiar. It has stood the test of sharp criticism because it has never had anything to fear. It is in a very special way assisting in the work of demobilization as it aided in the great during active hostilities. To every returned soldier the Y. M. C. A. offers six months of free membership with all the privileges to which a paying member would be entitled."

(2) The work of the Young Men's Christian Association overseas has been a subject of eulogy by officers and privates alike and by civilians as well as army men, but during the war the Y. M. C. A. did not cease its activities at home. Its entire equipment in the Canadian associations, especially bath, gymnasium, reading and writing rooms and concert halls have been at the service of enlisted men from the outbreak of the war. The signing of the armistice meant more, not less work for the association, for it had to change its activities to meet the changed conditions. It had to deal with the problems of demobilization. It is dealing today with the great problems of reparation. It is out to help not only the returned soldier, but the returned soldier's boy.

(3) A letter from a returned man at Alberton, Prince Edward Island, March 20th, 1919, is as follows: "I wish to thank you very sincerely for the free membership ticket to the Y. M. C. A. I may say that the Y. M. C. A. is the very best institution for social and moral welfare of the young people. While we were overseas the Y. M. C. A. was our best backing. Many lonely hours would have been spent had it not been for the concerts and entertainments furnished by the Y. M. C. A. Wishing you every success, I remain, Very sincerely, (Sgd.) Fred A. Horns. Thursday's the day of the big drive for the Red Triangle campaign. Be prepared to receive the canvassers.

London, Apr. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—The greatest moral lesson of the war would be to sink the entire German fleet, says Joseph Daniels, American secretary of the navy, who recently visited the captured German vessels at Scapa Flow, declared in a statement today to The Associated Press.

Anniversary of St. Andrew's Church

Yesterday Was 135th Anniversary of Its Founding in This City—Rev. Clarence McKinnon Preached at Both Services.

Yesterday was the 135th anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Church of this city, and at the services, featured by special music, there were good attendances. Rev. Clarence McKinnon, former principal of the Presbyterian College at Halifax, and chaplain to the Highland Brigade of Nova Scotia during the war, preached at both services. His subject in the morning was the Call of the New Day, and he dealt with the problems raised by the war, and the methods of solving them in the interests of the church and civilization. At the evening service he spoke of the homecoming of the soldiers, and the duty of giving them more than a perfunctory welcome.

In welcoming the victors the people, he said, should bear in mind what would have been the consequences if the German nation had won the war. It had not been the heroism of a hundred or so of the chief citizens of St. John might before this have been stood up against a blank wall and shot. People did not visualize such a possibility when they welcomed the returning warriors. But, supposing they had been vanquished by German warship would have occurred one of those tragedies which were common enough in the conquered cities of France and Belgium—a population such as that in St. John, bred in the stubborn loyalist tradition, or touched by the fire of patriotism from the old land, some hot-headed individual would have given way to indignation at the presence of the conquering conquerors, and pointed a gun at some German officer. The outcome would have been that the Germans would have taken a hundred or more of the chief citizens of St. John, who may not have approved in any way such a wild act, and shot them. And they might have visited other punishments upon the citizens. It was from such things that the soldiers saved the peaceful citizens of Canada.

Chaplain McKinnon spoke of his experiences in the German cities occupied by the Canadian troops. He saw groups of Germans standing before statues of the Kaiser, immobilized in wrath that dare not utter under the eyes of the victors. Men's faces were twisted with suppressed passion, and women stood with tears running down their cheeks. The proud German nation suffered in defeat. He was proud to say that the Canadian soldier was as chivalrous in victory as he had been heroic in battle, and he treated the people of the conquered cities with cold courtesy.

The speaker remarked that he would not make the charge that there were no chivalrous Germans, but he felt that if the German nation had triumphed they would not have treated their foes as the Germans had been treated by the British soldiers. They had based their plan of warfare upon intimidation, and the system of frightfulness allowed no room for the chivalrous impulses of the individual. He would not say there was no good German except a dead one; he could not believe that the squads of German soldiers who were ordered out to shoot civilians in conquered towns approved such a course. At the same time they acquiesced in a system which made cold-blooded murder one of the principal means by which the proud German nation sought to impose its will upon the world. That such a system could not triumph was due to the fact that God had fore-ordained its failure centuries ago.

Mr. McKinnon pictured the returning soldiers arriving on a ship off Partridge Island, and thrilling to the welcome of the whistles whose cords were pulled by greasy hands of engineers of ships and tugboats in the harbor. For long years they had been sustained by the thought of their welcome to the shores of the homeland. This thought of home had been their chief comfort on the dreary voyage of the crowded troopships, and in the camps of England where the weary weary monotonous months of training on the dirty roads of summer and in the wet and mud of winter. It was with them as they journeyed on the slow-moving troop trains of France, and it accompanied them into the mud and discomfort of the trenches. The thought of home never left them as they stood on the fire step and went with them as they went over the parapet and followed the flaming barrage in a charge on the German lines. These were the reasons why the citizens should extend the warmest welcome to the returning men.

In conclusion the speaker said that many were not returning but that in the hereafter they would see their home people again.

SERVICES OF THE RED TRIANGLE OVERSEAS PRINCIPAL THEME

Excellent Addresses Given in the Imperial Theatre Yesterday Afternoon by Rev. Dr. Clarence McKinnon and Rev. M. E. Conron—Both Overseas Chaplains Told Interestingly of Experiences With the Soldiers at the Front

The services of the Red Triangle overseas, especially in connection with maintaining morale among the troops, was the principal theme of the lectures delivered at the Imperial Theatre yesterday afternoon by the Rev. M. E. Conron and the Rev. Dr. Clarence McKinnon, both of the overseas chaplains service.

Capt. Conron, who was formerly pastor of the Portland street Methodist church, went overseas with the 6th battalion and has worn the khaki for nearly four years. As a disinterested observer of the Red Triangle activities overseas and at home, his opinion carries weight and was heartily applauded by the crowded attendance.

"We, who come back," he stated, "often wonder why we are allowed to return. We have had farewell to some of Canada's greatest sons, the noble boys who will not return, but parting from them in the last farewell, the knowledge sometimes comes that we who are privileged to return, do so to bear witness to the great part that Canada has played in the war and the noble sacrifice she has made."

Taking his audience with him on a trip to the front line, he described his last trip to the Somme with the Canadian troops. With "tin hats" on and gas masks at the alert, the long winding body of troops marched along the straight roads of France. They would occasionally pass a French town, where the women and old men would come out to cheer them as they passed, and the youngsters would offer to carry part of the luggage through to the edge of the town.

Then they came to Albert, ghost of what were once homes, look for all the world like deserted year-old bird nests after the frosts of winter. They passed the Cathedral, which was being the clock tower the Virgin Mary with the Child is miraculously kept aloft by a few steel ties. And then on to the Somme, shell holes are there in which one could bury a horse, and the dismembered bodies of horses and the wrecks of transports are scattered all over the landscape.

Coming up to the reserve line trenches they "carry on" right up the line to "the front," with its dugouts and miles upon miles of wire entanglements. Here in the battle area there is no sign of life or laughter; it is a land that is haunted. A sign on a shell torn post reads: "This was a German gun." Or it may be "O, some other town. But in all cases it is the same, a desolate waste of towns which might have existed a month or two ago, unknown to the marching men who now pass over the crumbling stone.

And then the wooden crosses, countless thousands of them, some a few feet to the horizon, shall holes and white, showing in the sunlight like a daisy field in June.

Here and there along the way is a battered French trench helmet of red and blue, occasionally one of those polo-like affairs worn by the Boche and sometimes the serviceable kitchen stool worn by the Tommies. It is a land of desolation, ghosts, silence and haunting memories with the ever-present danger of a watchful foe who would use weapons despised by hell itself.

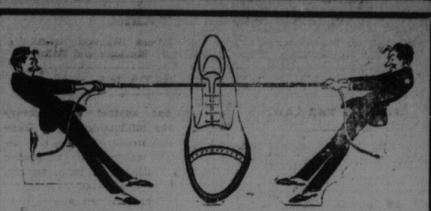

But the boys men from counter shop, factory and farm—though alive to every danger, are "strafed" to the "A Long, Long Trail" or "Pack Up Your Troubles," with ludding footsteps to march each word.

"They are all much alike, these soldier boys," declared Capt. Conron, "and they are heroes and gentlemen, every one."

In every man, he stated, surmounting the hardships of the war, the noblest of manhood in each, made all brothers in a common cause.

There was unutterable boredom and depression in the trenches, he stated, and the brotherhood of the front line was fully demonstrated by the warm companionship of tiny visitors. Duck boards, which made the trenches passable, also made life possible by their Charlie Chaplin antics, rising and sitting brass hats as well as tin hats with marked impartiality.

From the Red Triangle's huts in the front line one heard the roar of the howitzers and field guns when they started their daily "shows," the rattle of machine guns came like the sound of countless typewriters, and on the clear days there were the airplanes starting off on scout duty or carrying on a "show" of their own.

Boer Nationalists Want Independence

A Review of the Nationalist Agitation in South Africa—Want to Revive Practical Slavery of Natives—Hold Old Grudge Against Great Britain.

Just what percentage of Afrikaners may be called Nationalists we have no means of judging, but they were sufficient to constitute a serious menace to British authority in the early days of the war, and a delegation of them is now to place before the Peace Conference the claims of South Africa to complete independence. They have no chance. It is well understood that one of the principles of the League of Nations is that there shall be no interference in the internal affairs of any nation. Only from outside aggression will the League protect its members. Under the Nationalists have agitated for the complete independence of South Africa, which appears as rather a cheeky proposal, for they stirred up a rebellion to being beaten now, demand what they failed to secure by arms. The proper procedure would be to ask for independence, and not winning by constitutional means, to resort to force, if they were convinced that they represented the wishes of the great masses of the people.

The Old Boers.

The African Nationalists, of course, are the old Boers who never acquiesced in the verdict of the South African war. Though the conquered Boers were treated with a generosity without precedent in the British; though they have better laws than ever before, the only privilege they forfeited being the right to knock about the blacks as they chose, and though they are permitted to conduct their own affairs quite as freely as Canadians conducted theirs, they have still resisted every effort to make them free men. He and his followers led by I. B. M. Hertzog, a Boer leader at the time of the war, and later a preacher of sedition and a German propagandist in any other country in the world. Gen. Hertzog would be serving a long prison sentence for sedition, but in South Africa he is free. He and his followers seized on the Wilsonian phrase concerning the rights of small nations for "self-determination" and on the "Fourteen Points" of Wilson, a band of them prepared to go to Paris. They looked on the Durban Castle in full confidence that either the British or the American authorities would intervene and forbid their trip, and were rather nonplussed when no opposition was offered to their excursion.

Comis Opera Touches.

But at the last moment the crew of the ship announced that they would not ship if the Boer leaders were taken on. Then occurred the amusing spectacle of the Opposition leader of the House, accompanied by the Labor leader, appealing to the obstinate sailors to carry Hertzog and his followers to Paris. They called the next move was for Admiral Fitzherbert, commanding the Cape station, to order H. M. S. Mincerva for the purpose of carrying the seditionists to Europe. Some latent sense of humor in the Boers prompted them to refuse this kind offer on the grounds that the Mincerva did not have sufficient accommodation. The spectacle of a band of seditionists going to Paris to protest against the bulldozing British Empire, was thus averted, and the delegation eventually shipped in a Dutch craft. It is now likely that there will be another South African delegation heading for Paris shortly, this one representing the natives of the Orange State, who are strong supporters of Great Britain, but believe they are treated inhumanly by their white masters, for the most part Boers and Natives.

"Wallow my nigger," is said to be a principle of the Orange State Boers, who insist upon exercising over their native servants rights that in this country are not permitted to a man of color. Some of the delegates now Paris bound, indeed, voted in the Cape Town Parliament not long ago for a bill which, if adopted, would have reduced to serfdom every native who has not come of age. There exists in the Free State a class of natives called "squatters" who enjoy certain departing and plowing rights in return for services which they render the landowner, and by an old Act of the Orange Free State, which was confirmed by Union legislation, they and their children rank as "servants." They therefore fall under a very stringent Masters and Servants' Act, under which servants may not leave their masters' premises without a pass. Therefore, the children of these squatters are forbidden, during the term of their parents' contract, from working for anybody else. Nor are their masters obliged to pay them.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN

LET'S TALK IT OVER

TRAINED LEADERS.
Most of us learned about our definitions at school that the word "education" comes from a Latin root meaning to lead. Therefore, in educating children an ideal teacher is leading, drawing, or bringing out what talent the pupil has and encouraging the scholars to use the brains which have been given them and to develop along certain lines. Where this theory is not understood, or where there seems to be no ground to work upon, teaching becomes a process of pouring so much information into minds and obtaining as a result, a parrot-like facility of repeating facts without any knowledge of the relation of those facts.

There is such a contrast in these modern times. Today, instead of learning housekeeping by mother's example and precept, or even by bitter experience, it is studied in the colleges—and we have yet to see that the distinctions of this generation have improved thereby. People are trained to be salesmen and women and educated to be almost everything else, whereas in other days one had to find one's way through mistakes and hard work to a certain position.

A friend of mine, in telling me of the course for salesmanship, said: "You are taught to have tact—how to approach a customer, how to persist without seeming to be persistent, the way to make a prospective buyer see that to purchase your goods is the only thing to do for his own best good, and how to keep your temper, and leave him in a good humor." It struck me as each item of the code was enumerated that why spend money to learn what every woman already knows? If one had not tact, it can be obtained at any school most of us have yet to see the institution, and as to teaching people most of the other things, why send good salesmen like poets, born, not made, and it is only common sense and sympathy that are needed in nearly all the cases one meets.

I may be wrong in regard to the training of women to be leaders in clubs and classes, but the same thing seems to be applicable. Look at the splendid leaders we have in our own city among the women, who never had a lesson in either public speaking or the correct way to hold together a large body of workers, and yet see the wonderful success of many, one might say of all, our societies. It might have come easier to have had the technical training and might have saved some of the nerve strain which comes from lack of confidence, but the results speak for the natural ability of the leaders.

Judging by these results, does not another fact stand out that there are many more women in our midst, who could take positions of prominence if they were more sure of their fitness to fill them? They are just as able to be leaders as any one else, and when forced by circumstances into some place of prominence, show that they can acquire themselves creditably and they grand mistresses. What is needed is an observation which gives knowledge of the few general rules of conducting a meeting, fact, which includes firmness and resolve to hear both sides of any question, calmness, enthusiasm for all worthy cause, a clear speaking voice and an absolute determination to stop speaking when the thing which had to be said has been said. There are hundreds of capable girls and women in our midst who possess all of these qualifications, and yet when asked to accept any of the duties of a leader, they are a little shy, and a little nervous, and a little afraid to take the responsibility of leading a meeting, absolutely responsible for the success or failure of the meeting.

Would it not be better in many of our societies if we adopted more of the army methods, making each officer, including of course, convener of committees, absolutely responsible for the department in his or her charge? The general should not be troubled with details as to many of our presidents, and their committees, should be left free to bear the responsibility, make the quick decisions which are necessary and complete the plans for the organization. In the ideal society, each committee is a perfect whole, attending to its own work and beyond asking that committee to look after a matter, the head officer has no more fear or responsibility. She knows the refreshments or the entertainment or the charity will be fully arranged for, and the thanks and credit will go to that committee. Beside relieving the president, this method gives more work to the individual members, who take a far deeper interest in the organization than when they feel they are merely members in order to pay their weekly dues or send a cake to some function. If a person given responsibility fails, then at least they have had their chance and against the head officer there is no more fear or responsibility. They must give to them the head officer to others or work in some subordinate position until they have proved their worthiness to lead.

It is true that training must give confidence and that included in the education must be the experience of those who have tried many methods and decided upon the best, but I must venture to think that there are many natural leaders "blushing unseen" and that all that is needed is the call.

DEGREE FOR OXFORD

Miss Geraldine Coster, a daughter of Mrs. George Coster, and distinguished for her scholarship, has recently become the recipient of a degree from Oxford, Bachelor of Literature, bestowed for the first time in the history of Oxford on a woman. Dr. Coster had attracted attention at Oxford by her work in connection with a geographical course and had done some field work that was notable at a college where there was a high standard for this course. In addition to this her work along purely literary lines was remarkable and her thesis presented for the degree is said to be a marvel of research and of expression. It will be remembered that Mrs. Dimock, who was Miss Joan Coster, made a success of her work in connection with the Swedish cooperative method of education. The congratulations of her province goes out to Dr. Coster, whose distinction adds to the general accomplishment of Canadian women.

NEW YORK LIGHT OPERA SINGERS

Non-Arrival of Opera Chairs Prevents Opening in New Theatre and Attraction Will be Staged in Y. M. C. I. Gymnasium.

S. W. Dimock, who is touring the New York Light Opera Singers through the provinces, reached St. John Saturday to arrange for the appearance of this excellent aggregation here next Thursday and Friday. Owing to the fact that the opera chairs for the new Cliff street theatre have been held up in transportation it has been necessary to present the attraction in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. I. A special stage is being fitted up for the purpose and the attraction will be seen to the best possible advantage. Criticisms from different places where these artists have appeared praise them in the category of the very best and a treat is in store for those who will attend. The attraction will be presented under the auspices of the Girls' Guild and the patronage of His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc.

DYSPEPSIA MAN'S GREATEST ENEMY

Is Most Prevalent of All Present-Day Diseases, Declares L. T. Cooper—Victims Are Whimsical and Melancholy and Suffer Great Mental Depression—Disease Can Be Cured, He Says.

Explaining the record-breaking purchase of Tanlac by The Ross Drug Co., F. W. Munro, National Drug & Chemical Co., and the leading wholesale and retail druggists throughout the United States and Canada, Mr. E. C. Harris, special representative of the International Distributor of Tanlac, states that the hundreds of questions now being asked all over St. John make it imperative that some explanation be made to satisfy public interest. Speaking of Tanlac, he said: "Thousands of the most prominent people—in fact, people representing all walks of life in the larger cities of the country, where the celebrated medicine has been accomplishing such remarkable results, are over one hundred thousand over Tanlac than Mr. Cooper himself. "In explanation of this, it should be stated that Tanlac is believed to be the first actually direct specific for catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membranes and the complications which follow them. "Catarrh of the stomach is one of the most frequent causes of dyspepsia and catarrhal inflammation of the nose and throat, leads to inevitable complications, such as kidney and liver affections, rheumatism, etc. "Show me a man whose eyes are inflamed, whose sense of smell and hearing is affected, and I will show you a man who is suffering from catarrh. Frequently the lungs become involved by the extension of the catarrhal inflammation or germs to the lung substance. Specialists concede this, but it has remained for Tanlac, the new formula, to provide the remedy, as has been so conclusively and convincingly proved by the hundreds of thousands who have been relieved by its use. "At this point, Mr. Harris quoted from one of Mr. Cooper's recent lectures, in which he said: "Of all the distressing conditions that afflict humanity, catarrh of the stomach, or what is more commonly known as chronic dyspepsia, is probably the most prevalent. This most universal malady has baffled the medical profession for years, and the most skilled specialists have been unable to cope with it successfully. "Home might be consumed in describing the sufferings, mental and physical, of the sufferers of chronic dyspepsia and their failure to heretofore get relief. A morbid, nervous, whimsical and melancholy condition of the mind, aside from the nervousness and physical suffering, is the usual condition of the average dyspeptic, and life seems scarcely worth the living. "Dyspepsia, or indigestion, as the case may be, is caused by the taking of too much food, or unsuitable food, and the mucous membrane of the stomach becomes irritated, and there is set up an acute or subacute gastric catarrhal condition which prevents the proper digestion of the food. This food is apt to ferment and decompose and as a result the familiar distressing symptoms of dyspepsia may arise. In mild cases there is nothing more than an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, with a certain amount of depression, headache, loss of appetite, perhaps hiccuping, gas and occasional vomiting. There may be also accompanying intestinal symptoms, such as pain in the back, colic, etc. There may be only the familiar heartburn, due to the inflammation of the stomach from excessive gases of fermentation or putrefaction. "In the most severe cases—those that last over a day or two—the symptoms enumerated may be much more intense. The distress may be marked and the general constitutional symptoms more evident. When this stage is reached, the loss of appetite, the mental depression and the general uncomfortable feeling in the stomach are much more pronounced. This is particularly true in acute gastritis. "It frequently occurs from continued errors in diet that this condition becomes chronic and the symptoms persist for an indefinite period; the appetite is very apt to be varied, although at times very good. Heartburn is frequent, if not constant, the stomach is painful on pressure, the tongue is coated, there is a bad taste in the mouth and there are changes in the amount of salivary secretion. "Most cases of dyspepsia can be cured if the diet is properly looked after and with the proper treatment. Proper eating and the proper amount of food are the most important features in the treatment. Most people eat too fast and eat too much. "There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next, it enables a weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest the food, promoting the assimilation of the nourishing products to be converted into blood, bone and muscle. "Tanlac is sold in St. John by The Ross Drug Co. and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. Advertisement.

TAX ON BACHELORS URGED IN BRITAIN

Demands Are Made for of Burdens on Men of Families.

London, April 30.—Income tax, especially bachelors, for the new budget with its small amount of anxiety. The new sources of revenue to enormous interest bill due to loans has prompted the Chamber of Commerce to inquire into the working of the bachelor tax, and the new budget is likely to be the institution of a direct tax.

The income tax at present differentiates between the man and the single one inasmuch as the bachelor pays a tax on his income which the married man with small children does not. There are many demands for a rebate of $14 annual wife, as well as a similar one for each child under 16 years of age. The income tax at present does not take into account the fact that the man with small children will not press so heavily on his own resources. The advantage of the man with small children is in favor of the man who is not a bachelor, and it is being advocated that the tax on bachelors as a means of balancing the lost funds should be increased in favor of the man with small children.

The present method of collection of the tax are entirely devoid of equity. The State takes for its taxes which ever method has been used, and the man with small children will not press so heavily on his own resources. The advantage of the man with small children is in favor of the man who is not a bachelor, and it is being advocated that the tax on bachelors as a means of balancing the lost funds should be increased in favor of the man with small children.

Among other grievances income tax payer is the plan of the onus of collection of a tax upon the husband. If he has a separate income which is collected from the husband, the rebate on small incomes as from one person and not two. This means that in the combined income of $2,000 chequer gains $67.50.

In the case of smaller incomes, the man with small children works badly for the tax. For instance, a man and a wife with an income of $446 each, income tax unless they marry, then they have to pay $55. But this rule only holds good for legally married. It is a tax on marriage, and by a man's own admission "an able anomaly."

New York, May 3.—The market was stronger and broadly active throughout the session, while Motors and A. G. W. were features. The Rails were taken up on a larger scale than has yet been the case and many predictions were made that the street "the market is going into the Rails."

In this connection a despatch from Washington stating advice had been received at White House which indicated that the session of congress would be called June 2, provided the President could arrange to reach this country about that time, was regarded as important.

It is everywhere agreed that the rails are about the most urgent subject of legislation which the new congress will have before it.

DRESSED HOGS—Abattoir killed, $39.50 to $31.

COMING TO ST. JOHN.

Dr. A. P. Barnhill, K.C., who is one of the directors of the C. N. R. system, has been advised by the president, D. B. Hanna, that he will leave Montreal on Sunday, May 11, for Sydney, N. S., and on his return will stop at St. John. He will arrive probably about May 16, but this is not yet quite definite.

Phenomenal. "Did I draw full houses?" swanked the recently touring number. "My dear fellow my success was simply phenomenal." And the great man was not quite sure whether he ought to exhibit pleasure or to show fight when his newspaper pal remarked: "Your success, old chap, would be phenomenal anywhere!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

JUMPED THE TRACKS.

POPULAR PRESENTATION.

A gold engraved leather wallet, containing a substantial sum of money, was presented to Arthur M. Gregg, the retiring director of boys' work by the Taxis Boys club at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night. The presentation was made by Ronald Shaw, mayor of the community centre and was suitably acknowledged by Mr. Gregg.

ESCAPED INJURY.

Pedestrians narrowly escaped injury Saturday night when the rotting superstructure of a shed at the north-west corner of German and Duke street collapsed. Part of the debris is still on the Duke street sidewalk and another portion, supported partly by a stone fence, threatens those who come within the path of its down fall. This shed has been in a dilapidated condition for many years.

SERVICES AT STONE CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. LeRoy, of the Parish of St. Martin's, was the preacher at St. John's (Stone) church yesterday morning, preaching an original and forceful sermon on Self-consecration. A. Kurling gave an inspiring sermon on the subject of "The Good Shepherd," the 23rd Psalm being one of those appointed for the day. At the evening service D. Arnold Fox, organist of the church, gave a recital which was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation present.

DAMAGED CABLE REPAIRED.

The New Brunswick Telephone Company has repaired the damaged cable across the harbor, and service with the West Side is normal again. While the cable was being repaired the company managed to maintain a service with the West Side equal to an English telephone system, but there was occasionally some delay in making connections which aroused the ire of impatient people, who do not realize that the company's normal service is about the best that could be given.

WELCOME HOME.

A party of New Brunswickers who arrived from the war standard events were greeted at the Union station by a flashing sign, which bade them a cheerful welcome to the good city of St. John. "That's a bright idea, and it certainly takes my eye," said one soldier. The illuminated sign was erected by the Daughters of the Empire, in order that the boys know they had not been forgotten during their sojourn abroad, where electric signs were not encouraged by D. O. R. A. The party who returned Saturday came over on the Metagama to Quebec. They were met at the station by the Citizens' Reception Committee, who gave them the glad hand and churred them on their way to the discharge table.

Conspicuous By Their Absence

Returned Man Says He Has Attended a Number of Different Churches in the City and Sees Very Few Young Men in Attendance.

"One thing that has struck me in attending church services since I came home is that young people are conspicuous by their absence," said a returned man to a reporter of The Standard. "I have been to a number of churches of different denominations and on such occasions I have seen very few young men in attendance, and what is more surprising, very few girls. My impression is that young people in St. John used to be better church goers than in other cities I have been in; it used to be a habit for young people to attend evening services more especially—if for no better purpose than to walk home together. But there has evidently been a change in this respect. After church one sees lots of young people on the sidewalks, who have apparently been promenading while their sisters were attending services.

"This indifference to the church which evidently exists among young people may be a symptom of the general unrest, and it may mean that the church has no adequate message appealing to the critical spirit which everywhere possesses the rising generation. I am not interested in the church's pretensions to represent a supernatural order of affairs; the effect of the war upon the minds of thinking people has been to raise a serious question as to the value of the theological dogmas which are at the basis of revealed religion. But the value of a natural religion is another matter; the universal significance of religion for ordinary people is founded on the universal need for a systematic knowledge of the world. Just as we generally have a practical need for dominion over the things of the world, so do we generally have a theoretical need for a systematic view of life.

"That being so, if young people are turning away from the church, the inference is that the church no longer supplies satisfactory canons for their ideals, thoughts, and deeds, and that is tragic. If the young people are losing faith in the old system of thought and feeling which was embodied in pre-war religion, and nothing is being done to develop new ways of thinking and feeling answering to the needs of the new generation for a systematic view of life, it means decadence for the church and dissolution for society. In England the masses are developing in intellectual life apart from the church, but in which the church nevertheless shares to some extent, not as guide, but as counselor and friend. If any purposeful movement of this character is going on in this city, I have not yet come in contact with it."

THE YEAR'S WORK AMONG THE BOYS

Pleasant Time Enjoyed at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday Evening—Boys Attended as Members of Taxis and Trail Ranger Classes.

The year's work among the boys of the city was well marked at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, under the presiding genius of A. R. Crookshank. Instead of association groups, as in former years, the boys attended as members of the Taxis or Trail Ranger classes from the various churches and each square or camp decorated its own table and provided the nourishment for the inner man.

The competition for the best arranged table was won by the St. Mary's Taxis square. The table was arranged in the form of a Taxis cross, with the emblem in the centre in colors and the square of four-fold development. (Intellectual, physical, devotional and spiritual) and circle of accomplishment surrounding the whole. Well arranged electric lights added to the effectiveness of the decorations. After the supper, which was served at 8.30, a very enjoyable programme was carried out, comprising songs by P. J. Funtar, readings by Gordon S. Stevens, several reels of motion pictures projected by Roy Gould, and musical numbers in R. E. Coup's usual fine style.

The prize for best table, awarded to Robert Reid, who, with Messrs. Miller and Mott formed the judging committee. H. Usher Miller presented the medals and prizes won by the boys at the recent aquatic meet and later, Capt. S. Stokes addressed the boys on the "Earn and Give Campaign," which is the boys' part in the Big Red Triangle drive.

BEAUTIFUL MUSIC ENJOYED. A feature of the services in St. Peter's church yesterday morning at the 10.15 o'clock mass was the mass music with full orchestra accompaniment. Rev. Father Cloran had charge of the choir, and Eugene McBride the orchestra, while Victor Lee was at the organ. It was a four part Mass, and beautifully rendered. St. Peter's choir in the past has been noted for its musical productions and individual singers, and yesterday's services, a repetition of the Easter music, was most beautiful.

Bolshevik Dope Sent Through Mails

People in St. John Are Receiving These Documents Which Profess to be Copies of Decrees and Declarations Forming Russian Soviet Republic.

The Bolsheviki documents which profess to be copies of decrees and declarations holding the theoretical machinery of the Russian Soviet Republic are being sent through the mails to people in St. John. According to these documents, the system of Bolshevism has a rough correspondence to various organs of government in this country, the more rudimentary form of Soviets which have their analogy in the party association and ward meeting having more direct power and responsibility than party associations and ward meetings do. In theory the Bolsheviki system provides excellent opportunities for self government by the people; though in practice it has equal possibilities of boss rule.

Under the Soviet system, however, the only people are the workers; the bourgeoisie as such have no political rights. Practically all the judiciary are elected, but this is no new feature in Republic systems of government. Former justices of the peace have the right to be elected as local magistrates. The Revolutionary Tribunals a collegium of persons created who devote themselves to the service of the law, in the form of public prosecution and also defence. An accused person has the right to select counsel for his defence. If he does not exercise this right the Revolutionary Tribunal appoints a member of the collegium as his defence. Law appears to be the decrees of the Soviets. Under the Soviet system the church is separated from the state within the limits of the Republic prohibited to pass any local laws or regulations which would restrict or limit the freedom of conscience, or establish any kind of privileges or advantages on the ground of the religious affiliations of citizens. Every citizen may profess any religion or none at all. Any legal connection with the profession of any religion or none are abolished. From all official acts any indication of the religious affiliation of non-affiliated citizens is omitted. The proceedings of state or any public local institutions are not to be accompanied by any religious customs or ceremonies. No church or religious society has the right to own property. They have no rights of a juridical person. All the properties of the existing church and religious societies in Russia are declared national property. Buildings and articles specially designated for religious services are, by special decisions of the local or central state authorities, given for free use by corresponding religious societies.

The Russian Republic recognizes civil marriages only; church marriage is a private affair. Persons who wish to contract marriage declare their intention orally or by written statement at the department of registration of marriages and births, according to the question of the existing law accepted (a) from persons of the male sex younger than 18 years, and of the female sex, 16 years of age; (b) from caucasian the native inhabitants of Trans-entire into marriage upon attaining the age of 16 for the groom and 13 for the bride; (c) from relatives in the direct line, full and half brothers and sisters; consanguinity is recognized also between a child born out of wedlock and his descendants on one side and relatives of the other (e) from married persons, and (d) from insane.

When contracting marriage the parties are allowed to decide free whether they will henceforth be called by the surname of the husband or wife, or by a combined name. Marriage is annulled by the petition of both parties, or even one of them. The judge having rendered the decision annulling the marriage, determines temporarily the settlement of a dispute as to custody of children, their care, and also rules on the question of the temporary maintenance of the childless wife, if she is in need of it. Where divorce is by mutual consent the civil courts, in case of disagreement, determines when shall live, and whether and to what extent the divorced husband shall be obliged to maintain his divorced wife.

UNSOLICITED PRAISE FROM HALIFAX.

Manager J. P. O'Connell, of the Academy of Music, Halifax, and J. M. Franklin, owner of the Strand, in the same city, also lessee of the St. John Opera House, have volunteered the information that the "Cinderella" show to play the Imperial here Wednesday and Thursday of this week is a splendid attraction, novel, tender, wonderfully spectacular and very funny. It is also very English, doughterknow, reminiscent of Harry Cole, in the Bandemmer Opera Company, of former days. There are thirty people in the cast and everything is fresh, clean and bright, a rare enjoyment to old and young. Its five days' run in the sister city was marked by absolute capacity business. Seat sale opens today.

Slamming The Door on Christian Unity

Rev. H. A. Goodwin Deplores the Action of Synod in Withdrawing Invitation to Other Denominations—Union Meetings Were Most Encouraging.

In Centenary Church yesterday morning Rev. H. A. Goodwin in the course of an address on the "Importance of the right relationship with God," referred to the necessity of unity in the church. He mentioned in this connection that last winter a sister communion had opened its doors and said to the other branches of the evangelistic churches: "Come, let us worship together. To this we had gladly responded and it was felt that the united services which followed pointed to a brighter day of Christian unity. But the other day that same communion placed interpretations upon their invitations to unity that were restricting and exclusive that the door which they had so graciously themselves have closed with a slam and I feel that the great membership of that church will regret this official action. All sincere people will regret that in these days of big and vital issues of humanity suffering for proper interpretation we should be crippled by adherence to ecclesiastical traditions. The Methodist church has always stood with hands extended to any other Christian communions, ready to join with them in worship and in service.

The Proper Time To Plant Potatoes

Local Amateur Farmer Departs With His Knowledge for Benefit of All Persons Who Wish to Grow Spuds.

When is the physiological moment to plant potatoes? This is the question of first importance among city farmers who acquire their knowledge of agricultural pursuits during the war, and who are now casting eyes upon their neighbors' allotments. With a view to resolving this great problem The Standard asked a well known war-time farmer of the last time a patch of potatoes was planted here.

"The proper time to plant potatoes," said this amateur farmer, "is after you have prepared your allotment for seeding. Then there are a variety of other considerations to be taken into account. If the weather is too wet or too dry, it makes a difference and if the weather is neither wet nor dry you have to reckon on the consequences. If you want new potatoes early, it is advisable to plant early. If you don't want 'em, broadly speaking, allotment holders in St. John should plant their potatoes between the last time a patch of potatoes was planted here and the second crop of June weddings.

"Personally I have a simple method of finding out the best time to plant potatoes. In the spring when my thoughts lightly turn to seed catalogues and fertilizers I hire an automobile and go for a jaunt in the country every five days. When I see a practical farmer who looks as intelligent as myself, planting potatoes I stop him and get a patch of soil, so I hurry home and hire somebody to plant my potatoes at once. Thereby I achieve success; I always have the finest potato crop in this city."

BUILDING BOOM IN RAILWAY TOWN

Moncton Soon to be at Work on Construction Worth One Million Dollars—Fifty-five Permits Issued for Buildings Last Month.

"If the building boom in Moncton continues at its present rate St. John will soon only be a suburb of the railway city," remarked a native of the enterprising city of Westmorland, who was in St. John Saturday. "Including building permits already issued and buildings in prospect Moncton will soon be at work on new construction worth one million dollars," he added. "Up to May 1st forty permits for the erection of new dwelling houses had been issued, and in April fifty-five permits for various classes of buildings were issued. The largest contracts are those of Geo. J. Fisher for the T. Eaton building which is $650,000, exclusive of all lesser contracts for inside work; the Lonsbury Company $200,000, and J. A. Marvin Co., $20,000. The T. Eaton building will give Moncton one of the largest stores and mail order businesses in the Maritime Provinces. The total of permits already issued calls for an expenditure of over $800,000. Moncton also expects to get a big share of the federal grant for new housing, and to put up a lot of small cottages to meet the needs of our expanding population."
