WEDNESDAY EVENING'S NEWS Another Good Day tor King Edward—He

Longed to See the Review. London, July 2. - King Edward has passed another good day. The quiet and routine of the royal sick-room was varied today by the excitement of listening to the music and cheers of the Indian troops as they marched past the palace and greeted Queen Alexandra on the balcony. King Edward demanded a full account of the review, and the formal report made by the Prince of Wales was supplemented by the personal narrative of the Queen. His majesty dictated a letter to the Duke of Connaught, commanding him to compliment the colonial and Indian troops upon their excellent appearance, and to thank them for their expressions of loyalty and sympathy, which he had heard with pleasure in the sick room. King Edward was somewhat disappointed that he was not able to see the march-past of the troops. He had hoped that this would be possible from an invalid couch in a window of the palace, but the King's doctors were unwilling that their patient should risk exposure and excitement, and his majesty had to content him self with hearing the troops without seeing them.

unroofed the house of a man named Rose. Fences are leveled in all directions, and some live stock is killed. Mrs. Van Patten lies near death's door and her daughter, Mrs. Gamble, and the latter's husband are seriously injured. All three were in the cellar at the time. Mrs. Van Patten was found near the wrecked barn, and some hogs that were near the barn were found in the cellar uninjured. Pieces of furniture and bedding are scattered a considerable distance away. The wreck is complete, not enough of the house and barn being left to make a common door. Mrs. Van Patten's loss will be all of $5,000. The building of M. W. Rood are all wrecked except the house. Copn is torn out of the ground and entirely destroyed. The track of the storm is but a few rods wide, but is several miles in length. Several orchards are ruined. The damage cannot be told at this hour, but will not be less than $12,000, and may be more. Some dam-

Woodstock. July 2 .- About noon a cow being led into the city on Dundas street west by Finlay McDonald, of East Zorra, became infuriated by the barking of a dog, and by the irritation caused by a rope around its neck.

The animal turned upon Mr. McDonald.

threw him to the ground and, after trampling him, started to run down the Birchville road. Mrs. Stinson, wife of the keeper of the tollgate, came out to top it.

The cow caught her on its horns and ossed her over the gate. She is severey injured about the body, externally and internally, and is in a rather serious condition. The beast was caught near the electric railway power house.

NO PEERAGE WAS OFFERED

Groundless Inventions Concerning Premier and Ministers.

Where the Report Is Supposed to Have Started-Mere Fiction.

[Special to The Globe.] Ottawa, July 2.—The story that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was offered a peerage, but declined the honor, may safely be dismissed as a piece of fiction. The Britannian statement of the story of the same of the story of th dismissed as a piece of fiction. The British authorities are probably so well aware of the Premier's repugnance to anything of the sort that they would scarcely go the length of proffering a peerage, even if they had ever contemplated the idea. The report has doubtless originated from a statement made some time ago by a Montreal newspaper that Sir Wilfrid would be made a peer and retire from public life. Some people fabricate statements and repeat them so assiduously as to convince themselves finally that they must be true. This has evidently happened in the present instance.

The statement that Mr. Tarte was offered and refused a title seemingly comes within the same category.

Toronto Master Plumbers Cease | Montreal's Shipments Considered to Deal With Strikers.

Striker Shot Dead-Pickets Arrested-Canadian Northern Strike.

Toronto, July 3 .- The fact that the striking plumbers refused to arbitrate has resulted in negotiations with the union being called off by the Master Plumbers' Association. The employers held a special meeting yesterday afternoon and passed a resolution of thanks to Secretary Robert Glockling of the Ontario Labor Bureau, who endeavored to have the dispute settled by arbitration. Although the strikers refused to state that they would not accept a settlement by arbitration, it was learned from another source that they had taken this stand on the ground that they were entitled to the increase the union is demanding. The strikers claim that the union gave the employers the customary three months' notice, which is embodied in a special clause in their three-year agreement. The employers say that they can do nothing further in the matter, in view of the fact that the strikers have refused the means offered by Secretary Glockling for adjustment of the strike. Since the strike began a number of strikers have found positions in large cities in the United States, and another batch, is is expected, will leave

"The Duke of Connaught, in inspecting the Canadians, expressed surprise that the men should march past in fatigue dress. He was informed that the new uniforms were in the tents. The general had ordered dress fatigue uniforms, the same as worn aboard ship. The men marched past in fours instead of full front, which placed

AT A GREAT DISADVANTAGE. 'According to the original arrangements, there was no place for the entire contingent in the procession, not even Col. Pellatt and his staff. The command was given to Col. Turner, of the Canadian Artillery, Quebec. The infantry were to be utilized to line the streets, and the cavalry of the contingent divided up to escort the different premiers' carriages. The pre-miers were to be bunched together.

Sir Frederick Borden, Canadian minister of militia, exerted the strongest pressure to bring about a modification of these plans, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it is said, would not have appeared in the procession if the Canadians had been separated, as assigned by the war office. Sir Wilfrid was determined that the Canadian contingent should be headed by Col. Pellatt.

If the coronation conference had not been postponed serious friction would have occurred.

SIR WILFRID'S POSITION AP-PROVED.

"The officers of the contingent were unanimous in their support of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's contention. In Canadian circles here, irrespective of politics, the position taken by Sir Wilfrid sion. is enthusiastically approved. The of-ficers all acted together. Their con-tention was firmly upheld by Sir F. W. Borden. They did their best until the postponement of the great event to have the Canadian contingent kept the Queen's Own Buglers, were allot-ted points in the route, not in the pro-dreds.

"If the coronation had taken place and the war office had adhered to its plan, there would have been no Canplan, there would have been no Canadian troops in the procession or on the street. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir rederick Borden and the other Canadian ministers, express approval of Office Destroyed and Three Perthe action of Col. Pellatt and his oficers and men. It looks very much as if an attempt was made to IGNORE THE CANADIANS, not from a deliberate desire to do so, but from the usual stupidity which is so often characteristic of war office

"The Canadian contingent has been invited to remain two weeks longer to meet Lord Kitchener on his return. The officers are willing to stay, but the men have had enough of Alex-andra Palace for a lifetime, and they have decided to sail on Thursday. NO SUITABLE HORSES.

'A review is ordered for tomorrow, but no horses are available for the Canadian cavalry and artillery, and they must march in their jack boots. Sir F. Borden has been at work all day at the colonial office trying to get horses, and Col. Pellatt has been indefatigable in his efforts to make arrangements right, both for the procession, which has been postponed, and for the review. All of the Canadians apprised of the circumstances, support Col. Pellatt. He declines to be interviewed, but all these facts come from the highest authorities. It is understood however, that Col. Turner had nothing whatever to do with the order given him to take command on Friday. He is a soldier, and as such, would obey. Cols. Pellatt and Turner, as associate officers of the contingent, are working together with the great-

Lady Laurier and her friends were stopped at the gate yesterday, admittance being demanded and collected before they were allowed to enter.

With regard to the return journey, Col. Pellatt's arrangements are well managed in every detail. The bag-gage is already packed. The Tunisian is ready at Liverpool, but the war office answer hangs fire. It is stated that the authorities decided that even if the contingent stay they remain at the palace, which means that the men will insist on returning. It is the prevailing opinion that the contingent and the Canadian arch at Whitehall combined have been the best ever seen.

ABOUT TO LEAVE. "At 6 o'clock this evening Sir Frederick Borden, who had just returned wrist, from the war office, stated that the contingent would leave in the morning. The war office had invited them to stay another week but that would mean a fortnight as transportation could not be arranged sooner so that f nothing unforeseen occurs the contingent will sail from Liverpool on the Tunisian at 2 o'clock on Thursday." TUESDAY'S REVIEW.

The Montreal Star's special cable says: Heat and mist hung over Alexandra Palace at an early hour on Tuesday morning as the Canadians started for the great royal review. Though the haze cleared somewhat, the sky was still cloudy when the col-onial troops, headed by the Canadi-ans marched into the Horse Guards parade grounds, shortly before 11 o'clock to the music of the Queen's Own Bugle Band of Toronto. As the men drew up across the parade ground Cols. Pellatt, Thompson and Turner, commanding the multi-colored uniformed force, varying from white to vermillion formed a striking contrast to the uniforms of the other contingents. During the formation of the lines, a Canadian Hussar officer was continued to take part in the parade

To Head Off the Steel Corporation-His Enterprise Succeeds.

New Castle, Pa., July 3.-Robert H. Whaley stole a march on the United States Steel Corporation at midnight and secured possession of a valuable piece of property, which was seized three weeks ago from the owners by the steel combine. With a corps of carpenters Whaley at midnight descended on the place, chopped down the stout barricade erected by the steel company to protect the land from invasion and erected a $205,300. Lyman J. Gage is also found new frame building within eight minutes. The work was all accomplished before the detectives hired by the steel company knew what was in progress. At the moment Whaley and his men attacked the fence, Attorney H. A. Wilkinson drove to the residence of Judge W. D. Wallace and secured a temporary injunction, restraining the steel company from interfering with Whaley in his possession of the land. This was given to Sheriff James H. Brown, who hurried to the scene of the trouble just in time to prevent a clash between Whaley's men and employes of the steel company. Sheriff Brown at once served the restraining order. Whaley says he has owned the property in dispute and paid taxes on it for the past 30 years, having the tax receipts. It was formerly in Mercer county, before Lawrence county was formed. The ancient county records will figure largely in the coming lawsuits. The disputed property is very valuable. It is located one square from the center of the city.

ADVANCE IN COAL

Bituminous Dealers in Pittsburg Combine to Raise the Price.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—Uniformity in the price of selling bituminous coal in the Pittsburg district has been established, and the prospects are that an advance in price will soon be announced. This was decided at a secret meeting of the independent operators Monday night. The independents have finally fallen in line with the combines, and the finishing touches are to be put on the agreement at another meeting to be held a week hence. This means that the Pittsburg Coal Company, with it $65,000,000 capital, The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company with $30,000. 000, and all the independent operators in the district representing possibly $40,000,000 more, have entered into a compact to regulate price. An agreement has been signed to this effect.

The price agreed upon last night cannot be lowered, but any operator who is offered an advance has the right to accept it.

HIT FOR BIG SUMS

Men Who Held Shares in Steele Mackay's Company Must Pay.

Chicago, Juy 2 .- People who bought stock in Steele Mackay's gigantic scheme to erect an enormous building for the introduction of spectacular plays during the year of the World's Fair, now find themselves liable for the full amount of their subscriptions, according to the report of Master in Chancery Leanding, that was filed in the circuit court Saturday. Over 100 persons are found to be owners of capital stock in the defunct concern. Among the holders are: Edward B. Butler, of Chicago, a paper manufacturer, Hable for $50,600; John Cudahy, $10,000; Charles B. Gillette as assignee, and E. V. Gillette, as assignee, $91,000; Lyman J. Gage, $10,000, and William and Mary E. Butterworth, to be a creditor to the extent of $10,-000 worth of stock and $5,000 in money loaned. This leaves the former secretary of the treasury, who was treasurer of the Mackay Company, a creditor with a balance of $5,000 due him. In his report the master in chancery also credits the George M. Pullman estate with claims amounting to $60,-514. This same estate is held liable to creditors for the par value of 500 shares of stock. The suit has been in court for nine years, and more than

This Two-and-a-Half-Year-Old Child Cries for Whisky.

Chicago, July 3 .-- Drunken and profane, although she is less than 3 years old, little Sarah Brooks was placed by Judge Tuthill in the care of the Children's Home and Aid Society, to be detained there until she can be given a home free of the horrors of that from which she came.

This baby, for she is really a baby, after all, was standing in front of the house in which she lived, cursing a policeman for trying to prevent a passerby from entering the place, when she was discovered and rescued by Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, a pro-bation officer of the Juvenile court. The little one's mother is in the Bridewell working out a $80 fine.

After Mrs. McDonald had taken Sarah to her own home she was amazed to hear the child call for whisky, and, when the liquor was refused her, raged in infantile hysteria. Investigation among the people living in the neighborhood from which the child had come, brought to light the almost incredible fact that she is a habitual drunkard. That she had been illtreated was shown by the bruises that covered her body.

The child's mother is known as Nellie Brooks, and the name of her father is said to be Clay Brooks, a cook of Dunning, who called upon Mrs. McDonald soon after she took the little one into custody, and acknowledged his relationship to the child.

He con-tracted the disease at Beaver, Que. Norwich, July 2.—Norwich has a genuine smallpox scare, and every person is timid of his neighbor. It is suspected the disease was brought here some weeks since by a young man who came from the vicinity of the Soo. It was at first diagnosed as chickenpox by one of the medical fraternity here, but has turned out to be the genuine brand of smallpox, and has spread with such rapidity through the neighborhood that it is estimated there are fully 52 cases in town. People on whom the disease was plainly evident had been circulating as usual, not knowing the real cause of the scabs upon the face and body. Many of them have been calling regularly for their mail at the postoffice, and as a result Miss Dickinson, assistant in the postoffice, has contracted the disease. Every precaution is now being taken against its further spread, and vaccination has suddenly become decidedly popular among all classes of citizens.

THE ILLS

OF WOMEN A RELIABLE AND SAFE CURE

FOR WOMANLY ILLS IS FOUND IN FERROZONE -A REMEDY THAT ALWAYS GIVES SATISFACTION AND NEVER DISAPPOINTS.

If troubled with painful irregularities, dizziness, faintness, excitability, nervousness, remember there is a remedy that if regularly and persistently used, will cure all these ills. Its name is Ferrozone. It is used by thousands of women who have experienced its great strengthening powers, and they would not be without it for ten times its price.

Ferrozone is primarily a blood-maker. It drives all impurities from the crimson fluid, makes it strong and capable of supplying nourishment to the body. It quiets the nerves, ban-ishes excitability and headache. Philippines, where the bodies of soldiers are being held for shipment to

By taking Ferrozone regularly you can keep free from those dreadful backaches, and monthly sickness will pass off regularly without pain or distress. Being prepared in tablet form, Ferrozone is both convenient and simple to use, and no uncertainty as to the proper quantity or dose can ever arise.

A Montreal hospital nurse who has used Ferrozone herself, and has seen also the benefit that other suffering women have derived from it. writes: I have nursed and treated all forms of female disorders, and from my personal experience must say that Ferrozone, is a remedy about which all womankind should know. It is reliable and sure, and will give prompt and satisfactory results. As a builder of muscle and tissue, I know nothing to equal Ferrozone. I have found it good to build up a weak appetite, and consider it a splendid medicine for the blood and nerves. I have no hesitancy in indorsing Ferrozone."

Don't continue to exist in a state of will make you strong and well just as it has done for thousands before you. All druggists recommend and sell Ferrozone at 50 cents a box, or three boxes for $1 25. Get a box today from your druggist, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Government's Majority.

Mr. Justice Maclennan's lecision yeslerday gives Lennox to the Conservalives-temporarily at least-and refluces the Government's majority to one. The judgment, however, is only In respect of certain irregular ballots. The Liberals have entered a cross-appeal, which will be heard on Tuesday mext, when all the ballots will be scrufinized. Mr. Madole may yet recover the seat. North Renfrew, which is Nacant, went Liberal by nearly 500 in May, and is conceded to the Govern- dustry. ment, whose candidate will be the son of the late member, Mr. Monro. Even though Lennox goes to the Opposition, the Government will have a majority of two. But before the Legislature meets a battle will be fought in the courts, and this may result in a marked change in the political complexion of the Province. It is a commonplace that bye-elections in this country invariably go with the party in office. The Government has everything to gain, and the Opposition everything to lose, by the aftermath of the election protests. There is the strongest probability, therefore, that Mr. Ross will have a working majority when the House meets. The public interests demand a stable administration, and we rather think the rank and file of the Conservative party would prefer to see Mr. Ross have a working margin, than be plunged into another campaign, in which the Opposition's chances would be no better than beoffice-hunters, however, will want to fight to the last ditch. Mr. Justice Maclennan confirms the Liberal candidate, Mr. McKay, in his seat in North Grey. He disagrees with pressed the opinion that the four suspicious ballots had been tampered with after the close of the polls. These ballots were marked with plain crosses In the Boyd compartment, and with Maclennan says:

The same on the recount, when the judge, without observing the two crosses, handed all four ballots as Boyd ballots to Mc-Kay's agent for examination, when two of them escaped the notice of the agent also, and were not discovered until after a second examination by the agent of Mr. Boyd. Under these circumstances it appears to me that there is hardly room even for a suspicion that the marks complained of were made after the counting of the posits in the United States are conin three contiguous fields, if laid close together, would not cover more than eight miles by This compactness has smoothed the way for monopolistic control, and all the mines and collieries are now in the hands of seven railway corpora-The soft, or bituminous, coal, is scattered all over the continent, but the best bituminous coal lands have also passed largely into the hands of railroad syndicates. Henry D. Lloyd, In his striking work, "Wealth vs. Commonwealth," gives the history of the process of consolidation, as shown by official and judical records. "A new law of industry," he says, "is rising into view. Ownership of the highways ends in ownership of everything and everybody that must use the highways. The railroads compel private owners to sell them their mines pr all the product by refusing to supply cars for their business and by charging rates for the transportation of coal so high that everyone but themselves loses money on every ton pent to market. When the railroads elect to have the output lare they furnish many cars; when they elect to have the output small they furnish few cars, and when they elect to have no output whatever they furnish no

Mr. Lloyd tells the story of one of the few surviving independent coal producers, John C. Haddock, who was losing heavily on every ton he sent to market, but kept on in the hope that the law would give him some redress. He was asked by the committee of Congress why he did not sell out, and give up the business. His reply was that he was willing to abide the time when his rights on the railroad could be judicially determined. There was mother reason. "It might be con-Haddock: "I have spent, sir, considerable time and a large amount of business, and I rather like to con-

be forced to sell out?" he was asked. "No, sir; I don't want to be forced to sell my product any more than I want to be forced to sell my collieries," said Haddock.

This evidence was given nine years ago, and committees of Congress from time to time have scored the coal combinations for unjust and unconstitutional practices, but every effort to meet the evil by legislation has failed. Whatever the merits of the present miners' strike may be, the operators can hardly expect the sympathy and support of the public, whom they have fleeced for years. The strike is now in its eighth week, and shows no signs among the soft coal miners, 12,000 of them quitting work on Tuesday at Birmingham, Alabama. The report of the United States Commissioner of Labor, who was ordered by President Roosevelt to investigate the situation, has not yet been made public, and is As the anxiously awaited. #### Cuba's Sorry Plight.

Poor little Cuba! The United States was to have been her guide, philosopher and friend, and the conscience of the American people, voiced by two presidents, called upon Congress to lend the struggling sister republic a helping hand in her hour of need. But Congress dances to any tune played by the trusts, and on this occasion the Sugar Trust was the piper. The door of the American market has been banged in Cuba's face and her outlook is dreary indeed. At this critical juncture when she is just out of leading strings and has been cast upon her own resources for the first time, prosperity is absolutely essential to stable government, and to the pacification and moral welfare of the people. But fore. The active politicians and the the island is practically bankrupt and the action of congress in rejecting the reciprocity treaty has inflicted a terrible blow. .. Poems the World Has Read.

O, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud?

[William Knox.]

The following poem was a particular favorite with Abraham Lincoln. It was first shown to him when a young man by a friend, and afterwards he cut it from a newspaper and learned it by heart. He said to a friend: "I would give a great deal to know who wrote it, but have never been able to ascertain." He did afterwards learn the name of the author.

William Know was a Scottish poet who was horn in 1789 at First, and William Knox was a Scottish poet who was born in 1789 at Firth, and died in 1825 at Edinburgh. His "Lonely Hearth and Other Poems" was published in 1818, and "The Songs of Israel," from which "O, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud," is taken, in 1824. Sir Walter Scott was an admirer of Knox's poems, and befriended the author when his habits brought him into need.

THOMAS ENGLISH.

The case of Thomas English is espe-early on the scene, and his practical knowledge undoubtedly contributed to the success of the scheme. He had dug the old well, and was especially familiar, therefore, with the situation. He knew at a glance the cause of the trouble, as he had come across a large body of quicksand in digging the well, and he had run a heavy casement into the shaft and

PROPOSAL TO RAISE A FUND

For the Brave-Hearted Man's Benefit-His Rescuers Are to Receive Well-Earned Medals.

Paris, July 2.-Joshua Sanford, the hero among heroes of the Skelly farm of 45 degrees, when English arrived well, continues to improve in health. He mends slowly however. The mental strain upon the man who spent four days and as many nights face to face with death now proves to have been more severe than at first believed. Sanford is exceedingly nervous. Aside from this, he is mentally strong, and the effects of this awful experience are not at all what might have been expected. The young well-driller will have a tale of engrossing interest to tell when he decides to tell it. What his thoughts were when he found, after the second cave-in, that the rescuers had ceased work, believing him dead, are almost too horrible to think of. Such bravery, such coolness as this, that en. abled a man to "keep his head" while held fast in a bed of sandchoking fineness fifty feet below the earth's surface, is not to be excelled. The story of Sanford's experience will have fiction distanced.

SANFORD'S RESOLVE. One result of Sanford's rescue is said to have been the forming of a determination on his part, when his health is restored, to give his life to religious effort. Sanford has made a statement to this effect. John Carhours after his discovery and before e was finally taken out. He is stated to be more inclined to the notion of giving lectures in a few cities of Canada. But all this is as yet Sanford remains a sick man. He is not yet out of danger. ### DEBATE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

On Irish Land Question-Lord Dundonald Sails for Canada on July 15 Severe Storms.

London, July 3.-The Canadian provincial premiers, Messrs-Ross, Murray, Tweedie, Roblin, Peters, Dunsmuir and Haultain, also Treasurer Duffy, of Quebec, again conferred yesterday at the Grosvenor Hotel, and discussed the maintenance of the lieutenantgovernors. It was decided to confer with Mr. Chamberlain, with a view to easing the burden of the provinces, and also to ask for an authoritative statement on precedence and the official status. The provincial ministers intend to seek Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cooperation.

The subject of a Canadian Atlantic cable will likely be discussed at the forthcoming meeting of the provincial The Earl of Dundonald, the new general officer commanding the Canadian militia, sails for Canada on the DOMINION DAY DINNER. Dominion Day was never celebrated in London with greater eclat and enthusiasm than at Tuesday night's banquet, which was followed by Lord Strathcona's reception. The Queen's letter, which Lord Strathcona read, returned heartfelt thanks to Canadians and others, was cheered again and again. Sir Charles Tupper asked British and Canadian ministers to seize the chance to make the empire the greatest in history by the adoption of a principle of mutually preferential trade. Sir Charles also paid a tribute to his "distinguished and elo-quent friend, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, by whom he had been compulsorily retired after 45 years of public service." Sir Frederick Borden urged the retention of complete colonial control of the self-governed and self-contained imperial defense nostrums propounded in certain quarters. He said: pretty well now in the empire, and it it a good motto to leave well alone." IRISH LAND QUESTION. A long and heated debate on the Irish land question was precipitated in the House of Commons last night.

Thomas W. Russell (Liberal) moved the adjournment of the house to discuss the pending evictions from the estate of Lord Defreyne, in Roscommon county, in connection with which Lord Defreyne recently had writs issued against the Irish parliamentary party, whom he charged with conspiracy in the matter. Mr. Russell declared that unless the government best doctor for Dyspepsia or Stomach intervened to prevent these evictions an era of trouble and turmoil would be inaugurated in the west of Ireland, where there was trouble enough already. He said that he had visited the Defreyne estate three times, and there he thoroughly convinced of the laid the foundation stone on Monday injustice under which the tenants of of the soldiers' monument which is to the estate suffered. sell, with some asperity, that he was surprised to find the latter siding against law and order. The rents from the Defreyne estate, he said, had been reduced 37 per cent in the past twenty years, and that he knew some of the organizers were making money out of the agitation. His advice to the tenants was to pay up. This statement was greeted with from the Nationalists. Hundreds had done so, said Mr. Wyndham, and this remark was received with Conserva-tive cheers, and many more would like to, but were intimidated. Mr. Wyndham said it was impossible to carry out the land purchase scheme in Ireland when it was interrupted by agitators who desired to make government there impossible.

John Redmond characterized Mr. Wyndham's statement as paltry and flippant. He declared that whatever flippant. He declared that whatever money was paid in rentals on the De-freyne estate was earned by the male population working in England during the harvest season, and he contended that the government would be directly responsible for the happenings on the Defreyne property.

After other members of the house had spoken on the subject Mr. Russell's motion for an adjournment was defeated by 231 votes to 132.

SEVERE STORMS.

The continuous heat which has prevailed for the last week throughout England was broken yesterday by thunderstorms and torrential rain, which did great damage in some localities. At Ipswich, in Suffolk County, the streets ran with torrents of water, and carriages were washed away. Fish from neighboring ponds were found in main streets of the town when the water receded. The damages amount to thousands of pounds. Tranershill, in Sussex, was sweep by a whirlwind, and many houses were damaged. Hay in several fields there, which was ready for storage, was picked up by the wind and deposited at Leighstill, in Surrey, several miles away. The system of electric lighting for London was so deranged by the storm that the illumination of the Canadian arch, which was scheduled for last night, could not be carried out. SEVERE STORMS.

was scheduled to last high,
be carried out.

Terrific electrical storms have been sweeping over parts of Germany. Four persons were killed by lightning at Grassen, in Prussia, and various fatalities have occurred elsewhere. REID HANGS ON.

Court circles are somewhat embarrassed by the continued presence of Whitelaw Reid, the special American ambassador, after he has taken his official leave. All the other special envoys have left the country, and it is considered a grave breach of courtesy that he has not followed their example.

The fact that there are two American ambassadors in London is complicating diplomatic relations, and puts Ambassador Choate in a peculiar position. But as Reid is under enormous expense for his house, etc., he will probably remain until his lease of the property expires.

Making Things Hustle.

This is a commonplace term, but very expressive. It tells of the bustle and energy and speed characteristic of out times. It makes us think of strong, vigorous, courageous, skillful men and women-the kind that make a success of everything.

Are you one of those who can make things hustle? If you are not depend upon it something is wrong, and you should find out what and apply the remedy. Lack of physical energy indicates poverty of the blood, and that condition calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla, just as surely as a keen appetite calls for food. This medicine not only purifies the blood, curing scrofula, eczema and all skin eruptions, as everybody knows or ought to know, but it enriches or vitalizes the blood, quickens the circulation and gives snap and vigor to brain and muscle.

When the impure and sluggish blood purified and invigorated with Hood's Sarsaparilla the mind becomes clearer, the step more elastic, the hand steadier, and the man or woman who takes this medicine soon begins to feel like making things hustle. It is a wonderful invigorator and tonic, and it gives lasting strength, because it enables the stomach and organs of assimilation to supply proper nourishment to every part of the

SKIRT SAVED HER LIFE!

Had It Given Way Young Woman Would Have Fallen 240 Feet.

Almost Took a Tumble Off the Capitol making the average price per acre Dome at Denver.

Denver, Col., July 3.—Miss Eva Harkins, of Charleston, S. C., almost took a tumble off the capitol dome yesterday afternoon. She fainted while sitting on the observatory rail, and keeled over.

Miss Harkins is here attending the Sunday school convention. With a party of delegates she ascended the dome to the observatory station. Miss Harkins mounted the stone railing, about three feet from the floor, and wide and flat enough at the top to make a comfortable seat. Here she was surveying the scenery with the aid of a pair of operaginsses. Suddenly her companion uttered ery with the aid of a pair of opera glasses. Suddenly her companion uttered a cry of horror.

The young woman's face became pale, her eyes closed and her body swayed. Two of the women in the party rushed to her side, grabbed her skirts and held on to her, and finally lifted Miss Harkins force her perilogs position. from her perilous position.

A light woven wool skirt to which her companions clung until assistance came was what saved Miss Harkins from being dashed to death. If the skirt had torn she would have fallen a distance of Elder Potter's Reference to the Boer War-Concluded to Get Out.

Montreal, July 2.-The 'Adventist camp meeting at Beebe Plains, in the Eastern Townships, had a stirring incident during service on Sunday. Blder Potter, president of the Adventist Association, of Worcester, Mass., in the course of his address at the morning service, took occasion to attack Great Britain in connection with the South African war. In reply to an interruption he said he was aware he was on Canadian soil, and rejoiced in the opportunity of freeing his mind upon this subject. The remarks aroused much indignation among his Canadian hearers, and a public meeting of Beebe Plains citizens was subsequently held, when a resolution was adopted demanding an apology and the retraction of the insult to Britain and the flag.

The resolution was placed in the hands of Elder Potter, and before the evening service the pulpit was draped with the national colors, and the Union Jack was placed overhead. Standing beneath its folds, in the presence of a very large audience, the reverend gentleman read the resolution and complied with the demand. left on the first train for the

AN END TO BILIOUS HEADACHE.—Biliousness, which is caused by excessive bile in the stomach, has a marked effect upon the nerves, and often manifests itself by severe headache. This is the most distressing headache one can have. There are headaches from cold, from fever, and from other causes, but the most excruciating of all is the bilious headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will cure it—cure it almost immediately. It will disappear as soon as the pills operate. There is nothing surer in the treatment of bilious headache.

How to Get Rich:

Take a quantity of silica costing one-fourth the price of oil; mix it with oil, and sell the compound to the public at the price of pure oil; offer "prizes" with the compound to make it sell. It is such a compound the public get when they buy common soaps. In Sunlight Soap-Octagon Bar-the public buy a pure and well-made soap. Sunlight Soap reduces expense by prolonging the life of the articles washed with it, which is much more profitable to the public, than common soaps with "prizes."

An instance of blessing in disguise, as they stimulated British ship-owners to keep more abreast of the times.

Replying to a question of the chairman, Mr. Pierrie said the Morgan combine, which he preferred to call a "community of interests," was established purely for commercial purposes and on entirely business principles. He was convinced that a

DANGEROUS INTERNATIONAL SITUATION was rapidly approaching at the time the deal was effected, but by the creation of this community of interests the future of British shipping, as well as of British shipbuilding, was assur-ed. In short, Mr. Pierrie considered the deal to be in every way satisfactory to the British. Giving subsidies would only invite retaliation in the most important markets of the world. The extent of state assistance to German shipping was greatly exaggerated.

Mr. Pierrie also said that the feeling against the combination was due to misapprehension. All they had been doing was to act on the advice of the were to deepen the approaches to and otherwise improve the chief ports.

Then he needn't pump John Gordon, and show himself up after all. Here was the worthy alderman, a rosy deus ex machina, entreating him as a favor to come and meet the very person he would willingly have hunted all over London to see. Dine with him? Of course he would dine with him. He remembered at that moment he was solemnly pledged for Thursday to his great-uncie the bishop, a prelate of rigorous opinions, who would never forgive him. What matter? Had it been St. Paul, he must have thrown him over. "He should be delighted," he said; and, indeed, he looked delighted. His eye sparkied and the languid, indolent manner seemed all at once to wake up into interest and life. The change could not but be remarked. John Gordon attributed it to Bella's beaux yeux, and wondered somewhat uncomfortably whether Gilbert admired her only because he had seen her so little, and she was so different from the young ladies to whom he was accustomed. The only because he had seen her so little, and she was so different from the young ladies to whom he was accustomed. The alderman opined that it was his mention of turtle that produced this beneficial change; while Miss Jones was quite content to take things as they were, and congratulated herself on having secured such an effective addition to their dinner party. She was sitisfied, too, about John; for she knew his face so well as to see that he intended to come, at a glance. Altogether, Thursday's banquet promised to go off well; and as the sociable rattled away toward the Regent's Park, the two young men looked after it with marked approval depicted on their respective countenances.

"What a nice, unaffected, good-humor-lighting in the staying the staying."

on their respective countenances.

"What a nice, unaffected, good-humored girl that is!" said Gilbert, kicking back the half-doors of his hansom to let his companion in. "She's not exactly a beauty, but she's very tresh and bleasant-looking. She wouldn't make a tellow at all a bad wite, now, if he wanted that sort of thing. Do for you, John, only she isn't half swell enough."

Many a random shaft hits the white. John's ideal, if he had permitted his well-regulated mind to entertain such a tormentor, would indeed have been a lady of far different cauber from Bella. Jones—would have been a haughty, highborn damsel, clever and scornful, and perhaps a little wayward; one who would have flouted him, and worried him, and given ample occasion for the exercise of that self-command of which he was so proud, all the pleasure of dear-bought victory in molding her to his will. So he answered frankly and unhesitatingly:

"The best girl in England—worth her "The best girl in England-worth her weight in gold, and she can't be less than ten stone. I don't know what the alder-man would do without her."

Further conversation was rendered im-Further conversation was rendered mapossible by the incessant noise of a great

But in spite of the weather and "water souchee," despite the "maids of honor" and sweet champagne, the Richmond chance did not go off satisfactorily. Charley Wing's invincible spirits and ra-diant smiles enlivened one thing for a diant smiles enlivened one thing for a time, but it is hard for a single indi-vidual to find gayety for five, and even Charley caught himself more than once suppressing a yawn and voting the mat-ter "dead slow" in his heart of hearts. Landless ate and drank, as he always did, for a dozen, and varied but little indid, for a dozen, and varied but little in-geed from his normal state of twaddling anecdote and comatose affability; but he had really told that story about George IV. and a "Triffe from Brighton" so often, that is was a bore, and when the claret was pushed round (and claret at these entertainments is always a fail-ure), and he began to expatiate on his own losses and reverses in early life, there was no resource left but a general break-up to cigars and coffee.

Holyhead did his duty with the hospitality of an Arab, but his gayety was evidently forced, and a cloud lowered on his brow, portending to those who knew im well, the brewing of a storm, which had he not been the giver of the feast, would have burst forth long ago. Gil-bert was excessively silent, provokingly absent, and wished he hadn't come.

Madame Bravoura's aunt, of whom no-body ever knew the name, was deaf, and to all appearance half-witted. She seldom opened her mouth except to om opened her mouth except to take in the stores, and was indeed remarkable for nothing but her infirmities, and an enormous cameo brooch, which was stuck into her person immediately below her double chin. Why madame persisted in taking this old lady everywhere, nobody exactly made out. There were all sorts of stories as to the relationship and reexactly made out. There were all sorts of stories as to the relationship and reof stories as to the relationship and reciprocal obligations between the pair, but none were founded on probability.

My own opinion is that she was the signora's mother, and that the attention paid her by the latter was one of the lew redeeming points in that reprehensible person's character, though why she did not openly avow the maternity I am at a loss to imagine. at a loss to imagine.

Now, it is hard when the "skeleton at the feast" has come there by invitation—nay, harder still when the feast has been made on purpose for the skeleton. In the present instance, Madame Branch and the present instance, madame branch at the present instance. youra thought fit to enact the part of voura thought lit to enact the part of the unwelcome convive—not physically, indeed, for madame's proportions were ample and her crinoline abundant; but in a moral, or, perhaps, I should rather say, in an asthetic sense, she sat there in her bones. Something had occurred to put her out on her way down. As Charley Wing observed, she had an "easy tamper or are around " and she detertemper, easily aroused," and she determined to revenge herself on the whole party, and especially "Olli-ead," as she called him, by putting everything a tort et a travers. The surest method of do-ing this was obviously to make furious love to Gibert Orme, and the signora, no inexperienced practitioner, addressed herself to the task with considerable skill and perseverance. There is noth-ing more amusing than to watch a gentleman undergoing this process at the hands of the fair. Charley Wing, indeed hands of the fair. Charley Wing, indee who was used to it, would have remai ed perfectly passive and imperturbable under any amount of such persecution; he considered it as one of the duties he owed to society and went through it deliberately and with edifying gravity. but it was no use attacking him. Young Wing was a sort of privileged pet, supposed to be, as doubtless he was, periectly harmless. The most careful shep-

Gilbert fought off as much as he could.
Annoyed on Holyhead's account, and disgusted on his own, his answers became shorter and his manner more distant. shorter and his manner more distant, as the signora grew more affectionate. She scarcely spoke to any of the others; she drank wine with him at dinner, asked drank wine with him at dinner, asked his opinion as to everything she was to eat, and finally lit her eigarette from his eigar, and puffed a volume of smoke in his face with her harsh laugh, as she vowed he was the only man in London the least selon son gout, and that he must come and see her in Italy where must come and see her in Italy, where she would go back as quick as ever she could, directly her odicus engagement in hotrid England was over. She flashed a glance of surpassing wrath at Holyhead as she spoke, who kept his temper admirably, though with an effort. Charley Wing tried to make the conversation. ley Wing tried to make the conversation general, and old Landless edged in a request for a very small quantity of hot brandy-and-water, but the signora push-

Rather than the trainer's correct knowledge of the capabilities of his charge fate seems to figure to a more considerable degree in the results in this modernized racing game. No betthis modernized facing game. No better illustration of it is afforded than that supplied from the stable of Clarence H. Mackay within the past ten days. Trainer Hill was confident that Heno would win the American Derby, and that confidence was shown by Owner Mackay to such an extent that it cost him thousands, for Heno was not even "in the money." This same Trainer Hill was satisfied that Kamara, the 3-year-old daughter of Can-dlemas, had lost her form and was fit only for the stud. Owner Mackay likewise shared this opinion, and on the very morning of her superb victory in the Sheepshead Bay handicap at Coney Island last Tuesday he had de-cided that she should be sent to the farm. Now Kamara is better thought farm. Now Kamara is better thought of. She is to be continued in training, and her timely victory may be the means of saving for the turf a bright

J. B. Haggin, who recently returned to his Fifth avenue residence from his country place in Kentucky, and who is the most important breeder of thoroughbreds in this country, was telling some of his friends at the Sheepshead race track the other day that next year he will have close to 150 2year-olds in training, which is the largest number ever in one stable in the States, writes a New York correspondent. With these he will make the strongest bid for honors on the turf by the master of Rancho del Paso and Elmendorf. It long has been suspected that Mr. Haggin would go into racing next year on a more extensive scale than ever. The small number of Elmendorf yearlings sold of those that were brought on here from Kentucky was the first straw to indicate which way the wind was due to blow. Then the shipment to Kentucky a few days ago of two car loads of yearlings belonging to Mr. Haggin gave interested people a second clew. Investigation develops that added to 40 yearlings shipped back from New York to Elmendorf, 55 others have been sent to the same destination by Mr. Haggin's orders. Some of this lot of nearly 100 yearlings may be sold privately, but the bulk of the let still will be Haggin's property next year. Most of these will be trained next spring to be raced in the Haggin colors in 1903. With such a large lot of 2-year-olds to pick from, the colors that Firenzi, Ben Ali, Hidalgo and Salvator bore to victory will be heard from to some purpose next year.

LONDON PITCHER'S GOOD WORK. Al. Watts, the clever pitcher for the Aberdeens, of this city, pitched for the Ingersoll nine at St. Thomas, yesterday, and by his brilliant pitchingan d batting for the Cheese Town nine. Over twelve hundred people witnessed the game, and cheered the London sides holding the St. Thomas sluggers to 8 hits, brought in 6 of the 8 runs scored by making a three-bagger at one time and a homer over left field fence at another. The bases were full in both cases. The game was full of snappy plays, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. Both pitchers did excellent work at critical times. The score:

A game of Association football was played at Delaware the other afternoon between the old Burwell team and the Fernhill team. The game was keenly contested, and was free from rough playing, and although the crack team from the south worked hard, the Fernhill boys proved too many for them, the score being 1—0 in favor of Fernhill. IRISH NINE WON DOUBLE-HEADER.

Lucan, July 2.— The Irish nine won double-header from Carling's team of the Wholesale League here yesterday. It took 12 innings to decide the morning game, and at the end of the 7th in the afternoon game the score was a tie. In the 8th Lucan did some heavy batting, scoring 3 runs, giving them a lead the Brewers found impossible to overtake. McLaughlin, for London, pitched both games, and at the end of the 21st inning he had as much speed as when he first stepped into the box. McFalls, for Lucan, struck out the first eight men that came to bat in the first three innings in the morning, and finished up with a credit of 16 strikeouts. Smyth, for Lucan, had two home runs to his credit, and Lang's playing at short was really wonderful. Gibson pitched a good steady game for Lucan in the afternoon, six hits being made off his delivery. The London boys conducted themselves gentlemanly and took their hard luck good-naturedly. the Fans' Fancy

Cincinnati Enquirer: Speaking of the Methusales of the game it would be an unpardonable sin to forget "The Count." Campau began his diamond career at Notre Dame University in Indiana, and he made his professional debut at Erie, Penn., in 1885. Next season found him at Guelph, Canada, and then he drifted South. For years he was a Southern League favorite. He makes his home in New Orleans during the off seasons, and is known by every frequenter of the Crescent City track, for he is the guardian at the big gate. Campau is now manager of the Einghamptons in the New York League. Local fans delighted in Campau's high-stepping sprints to first, when he played with the London International team.

regulation three strikes, and when boy with any kind o' gumption went to the bat with that fence picket swatter he generally stayed there, swatting the sphere until the exertion tired him out. It was like hitting at a balloon with a base fiddle, wielding fielders work. If, however, he failed third strike, he was put out this way: He'd start on a lope for first base, and lead ball at him with all his might.

HIT THE BATTEP. "The batter's only chance of not being out consisted in his chance of not being hit by the ball as thrown at him by the catcher. But the catcher The catching gloves, and plenty of them generally winged him nine times out ally raised a lump on him when he did hit him. If, however, the catcher failed in his marksmanship, all the batter had to do would be to lope back to the home plate, while one of the unfortunate fielders poked around the lot to find the ball. Oh, it was a great game that. I've started in a-playing it early on Saturday morning, being elected as one of the no-account field. ers, and I've hot-footed after the ball right along until dark without ever getting a whack at the sphere with the bat. Fireman John Smart's application or reinstatement to the fire department was considered by No. 3 Committee last night. The arguments in Ald. McMechan, and those against by the mayor. It was shown by the former that the offense for which Smart was dismissed was not confined to him alone, but, as Chief Roe admitted, had been committed by other mem-bers of the brigade. He appealed to the other aldermen's sense of fair play, asking if it was right to single Smart out for summary punishment and let others go free. Ald McMechan said that he favored giving the chief more power, but he wanted to begin at the proper time. Let Smart be reinstated, he said, and let all the men understand what future violations of the rules means. Ald. ## "MY CURE ALMOST A MIRACLE."

Says Mr. G. M. Hoy in Speaking of the Efficacy of Pe-ru-na for Catarrh.

Granville M. Hoy, Sheridan, Ind., is Past Grand, Independent Order of Oddfellows, Lodge 691. In a recent let ter he says:

"I suffered for years with liver complaint, causing me severe pains and a peculiar weakness across the small of my back, so that it was hard to stoop and sometimes very painful to walk about. I had used so much medicine without deriving any help that I just let it go, until a neighbor was cured by Peruna. That led to my using it, and before I had used ten bottles I was cured. I consider it almost miraculous."-Granville M. Hoy.

Catarrh is liable to attack any organ of the human body. Many cases of kidney, liver and bladder diseases which have the distance of the Metropolitan Club, writes: which baffles the doctor's skill are but catarrh of one or both of these or-gans. That Peruna is, a cure for such cases the accompanying letters show:
Mr. W. L. Butler, 1,628 Belleview

and treasurer of the O. R. C. of America, writes: "There is nothing like Peruna for liver and bladder trouble. A number of railroad men have used it when they were broken down from the constant strain which they are obliged to undergo, and were greatly benefited by its use. I have used it frequently for myself and family, and would not be without it for the world."—W. L. Butler.

ard of the Metropolitan Club, writes: "I began taking Peruna last summer for stomach trouble and catarrh of the bladder, and as it seemed to relieve me some I kept on taking it for two months and considered myself cured. I rejoice that I gave this medicine a trial."—Wm. R. Lewis.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Presbyterian Church.

Rev. W. J. Clark Pleasantly Surprised by His Flock.

Rev. W. J. Clark yesterday completed the twelfth year of his pastorate in the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Clark thus enjoys the distinction of being the oldest Presbyterian minister in point of continuous service here. During these twelve years changes have occurred in every other Presbyterian pulpit in the city. Of the 35 charges in the Presbytery of London, all have had new pastors during this period, except Appin and Wallacetown, where Rev. Alex. Henderson and Rev. Kelso labor. Twelve years ago Rev Thomas Wilson, of King Street Church, and Rev. Alex. Currie, of Belmont, were in the presbytery, but in other

The delivered an interesting address, in which he reviewed the work of the church during the period of his pastorate. Addresses were also delivered by Mr. Alex. Stuart, K. C., Mr. Merchant, Mr. John Cameron, postmaster, and Dr. Arnott. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Clark were presented with baskets of beautiful roses; and the social hour was pleasantly brought to a close with refreshments, served by the young

SOME CLEVER ANIMALS Big Audiences Pleased by Norris & Marriage Ceremony in Which Deaf Rowe's Show.

The two performances given yesterday by Norris & Rowe's trained animal show were attended by big audiences, who thoroughly enjoyed the excellent entertainment provided for them. The show embraces four-footed performers of many species and breeds, while one set of performers—the seals—had no feet at all. The animals composing the show include camels, elephants, horses, ponies, dogs, monkeys, and many rare quadrupeds from distant lands. Most of them have been trained to a remarkable degree, and display powers of reasoning that closely approach the human. The trained ponles caught the crowd with their fancy drill. The seals, with their sleek, shining bodies and bright eyes, were also favorites with the spectators, and their seeming clumsiness of motion was belied by the definess and agility with which they caught rings and caps on their head, and other tricks, one even walking a tight Some clever high diving was rope. done by a little fox terrier and a monkey. GARDEN PARTY AT THAMESFORD The annual garden party in connection with the Presbyterian Church Thamesford, was held Tuesday, 1, on the lawn of Mr. Thomas Hogg, and a large attendance was the result of the fine weather. The grounds were illuminated by Chinese lanterns, among the trees. Two fine addresses were given by the Rev. Mr. Hutt, of Ingersoll, and Rev. Mr. Wright, of Thamesford. of Convention.

The Salvation Army officers of Western Ontario held a local officers' convention on Monday and Tuesday, over 150 delegates, representing about 40 corps, being present. There were also in attendance five or six staff officers and the same number of United States officers. A public meeting was held on Monday night, while two private sessions were held on Tuesday, followed by a tea. The services were all in charge of Major McMillan, of the London corps. The local Army band was assisted by the Woodstock band. The convention was brought to a close on Tuesday night by a hallelujah wedding, Adjt. Orchard, who has been engaged in special work, and Staff-Capt. Lily Hopkins, of the Detroit Rescue Home, being united in marriage. Major McMillan performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Ensign Dally, who succeeds her as head of the Detroit home, while Capt. Campbell, of Dresden, supported the groom. Adft. and Mrs. Orchard leave tomorrow to conduct a ten-days' camp meeting. They will conduct similar gatherings at other points. WEDDED IN SIGN LANGUAGE

Mutes Were Principals.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hayward, London road, some time ago, when their only daughter, Miss Minnie E., was united in marriage to Mr. Eddie Ball, son of Conductor Ball, Windsor, Ont. Miss Mabel Ball, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and the groom was assisted by Mr. W. H. Gould, jun., of the Hamilton road, London. All those who took part in the ceremony are deaf mutes. Rev. J. E. Dunlop, of the Baptist Church, of Clinton, performed the ceremony, assisted by the bride's brother, Mr.Fred Hayward, as interpreter in the sign language. The event occurred in the presence of 35 or 40 guests. The bride carried a bouquet of cream roses, and was made the recipient of a large number of beautiful presents. After the wedding ceremony the guests sat down to a wedding dinner. The groom and bride, accompanied by the groomsman and bridesmaid, left on their honeymoon, taking the evening train for London, the bride and groom going from thence to Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. will take up their residence on Windsor avenue. Among the invited guests were Misses Mabel W. Thomp-son and Ethel M. Thompson, of Dungannon; Mary L. McHay, of Moncrieff; Hippie Hoggard and Clare E. Young, of Londesborough.
