PUGET SOUND STEAMERS IN COLLISION; 40 PASSENGERS MEET WITH SWIFT DEATH

Two Boats Outward Bound From Seattle Come Together Causing Terrible Loss of Life—Blunder of Signals Said To Be the Cause—Captain of Lost Ship Tells Heartrending Story.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—The steamer Dix, Captain P. Lermom, bound from Seattle to Port Blakely, with passengers, sank two miles north of Alki Point, shortly after 7 o'clock last night, after having collided with the steamship Jeanie, Captain P. H. Mason, of the Alaska Coast Company. Forty-one passengers and members of the crew of the Dix are missing, and 39 were saved. The Dix is a total wreck. The Jeanie was not injured in the least. The master of the Dix was saved. The collision occurred while the sound was almost as smooth as a mill pond, and after the boats had been steaming within sight of each other for a quarter of an hour.

Struck Amidships

The Jeanie was backing when she collided with the Dix, and the impact was very slight. The Dix was struck about amidships on the starboard side. She listed heavily to port for a brief period, righted herself, then sank stern first. There was hardly time to launch life rafts or boats before she was almost entirely submerged. Passengers jumped from the decks into the water, women screamed, and officers and men called orders that could hardly be heard above the din. The passengers from the Dix who could swim, made their way to the sides of the Jeanie, and were drawn aboard. The Dix was not moved until after all who had reached her had been hauled aboard. Then she cruised about, picking up several who managed to stay above water. It was after 10 o'clock before the Jeanie left the scene of the catastrophe and steamed to the Virginia street dock with her 39 survivors.

Paric Follows Crash

The captain of the Jeanie says he signalled for the Dix to pass him and that his whistle was answered. The Dix was within speaking distance of the Jeanie and to the port of her. Suddenly Mate Dennis, who was at the wheel of the Dix, put her hard over to starboard, as if to cross in front of the other vessel. Captain Mason, of the Jeanie, who was on the bridge, saw that an accident was imminent, and calling out a warning to the man at the wheel of the Dix, gave the order to reverse his own engines, and his vessel was slowly backing away when the two came together with only a slight crash. For a moment all was still, then a panic followed. When the Dix began to sink, stern first, some passengers and members of the crew, leapt into the sea. Others passengers huddled in groups on the decks or knelt in prayer. The women, who had little chance for their lives, stayed with the sinking steamer and were drowned as in a trap.

The Captain's Story

"I got away from Smith's Cove a little before 7 o'clock, and laid a course for Tacoma," said Captain Mason. "I had no passengers aboard. I saw the Dix headed for Port Blakely and signalled to her. Soon she came up astern of me, and started directly across my bows. "I signalled to the engineer for full speed astern, but we could not get out of the way in time. The Jeanie was backing a little when we struck her well aft of midship. The stock did not seem enough to have injured an ordinary launch. The Dix listed heavily to starboard, righted herself and then sank stern first."

Captain P. Lermom, master of the steamer Dix, told the story of the collision after arriving at Seattle. He was shaking with the cold, his eyes still dilated with the horror of his experience. "I don't know how it happened," he said. "Charles Dennison, mate of the boat, was at the wheel. We were just about two miles due north of Alki Point and running at the usual speed. It was a fine clear night, and the water was like a mill pond. I had seen the lights of a steamer on our starboard quarter some time before, but had not paid any attention to them. I went below to collect the fares. The boat was crowded. There were 70 passengers, and it was quite a task to get all the fares. I had been on the run for thirteen years, and knew almost everybody aboard."

"When I was in the ladies' cabin I heard the bell signal to stop. I knew something must be wrong, and hurried forward. Just as I got on deck I saw the bow of a vessel loom up on the starboard side, and almost instantly she struck us. The jibboom crashed through the Dix just aft of midships, and headed over the top. The way there for a minute or two with the water rushing in and all over. I was thrown against the deck house. For an instant the breath was knocked out of my body, and I was almost paralyzed. The steamer lay on her port, and for a time (it seemed like two minutes) and then heeled back to starboard. There was another rush of water, cries and screams of men, women and children."

HUMAN BANK'S STUNT

A New York dispatch of Sunday says:

"Policeman John J. O'Brien, of the West Forty-seventh street station, captured a human bank this evening. O'Brien was standing on the corner of Fifty-sixth street and Seventh avenue when he was approached by a very short and broad young man, who looked him over with much interest."

"Move on!" he commanded. "Move on!"

"Instead of moving on, the stranger pulled out a knife and began to carve up O'Brien's uniform. After a long struggle, O'Brien got his man to the station house."

"The surprise came when he was searched. There was a roll of bills in every pocket and several pounds of change distributed among the lot. When the count was over, there was $567 10 on the desk in front of the seagant."

"The human bank said that he was Charles Douglas, of London, Ont., and that, after working all his life on a farm, he had come to see New York. He was locked up on a charge of assaulting an officer."

EX-LONDONER ON ADVISORY BOARD

John W. Plewes, Second in the Running, Graduate of Collegiate Institute Here.

Mr. John W. Plewes, of Chatham, who has been elected a member of the advisory board to the Minister of Education, is a former Londoner, being a son of Mr. Wm. Plewes, who for many years owned the Meadow Lily mills. He is also a London Collegiate Institute boy, and spent a term at the London Model School, when it was conducted by Principal Graham at Simcoe street school. He is about 30 years of age, and left London ten years ago.

Local teachers are greatly disappointed at the result of the candidature of Principal Althouse, of Rectory street school, whose election seemed for a time to be assured.

It is understood, however, that Miss Harriett Johnston, of Toronto, heads the poll, securing close to 2,348 ballots. Mr. Plewes was second, with a slight lead over Mr. Thomas Agnew Reid, of Owen Sound. Mr. Alexander Austin Jordan, of Port Hope, was a close third. These positions, however, are not official.

Close upon the heels of the successful candidates came Mr. Joseph Whyte Rogers, of Toronto, who was scarce a little behind him. He in turn, followed by Mr. Samuel J. Keys, of Cornwall, and Mr. Thomas Janet, of Ottawa, while Mr. Wm. Wilson, of Toronto Junction, and Mr. John Burchill, of Cobourg, were right in the running. In fact, all the candidates polled a splendid and representative vote. One candidate, who resigned before the ballots were printed, came within an ace of election.

Mr. John J. Rogers, of Lindsay, and Mr. James E. McDonald, of Cornwall, had a close and interesting contest for separate school representative.

C. G. L. SPENCER DEAD.

Paris, Nov. 19.—Charles G. Lorillard Spencer, of New York, brother of Princess Cenci-Bolognietti, is dead.

INTERESTING MATTERS ON SLATE FOR COUNCIL MEETING TONIGHT

Exemption Question Likely to Cause Warm Debate—Farewell to Ald. Garratt.

Tonight's meeting of the city council should prove interesting. In the first place, the mayor and aldermen will say good-bye to their old-time colleague—Ald. Garratt—the man who is always there with a joke. According to hearsay, Ald. Garratt is not to be allowed to depart with a simple handshake. His colleagues intend to treat him right royally, and will give him something to remember them by.

Quite a number of important matters are scheduled to come up.

Ald. Greenlee is going to move that J. W. Smith, the Maple street carriage maker, be granted a fixed assessment from 30 to 50 hands, and he promises to explain why he is making the motion, his colleagues of No. 1 committee having expressed the opinion that an exemption cannot be granted to Mr. Smith without treating the Campbell, Abbott, Thompson, Gray and other carriage factories similarly.

Ald. Gillean also has a number of important moves to make on the civic checker-board.

In the first place, he will ask that the city intend to do in regard to the renewal of the Bell Telephone's exclusive charter in London.

HAMILTON FACES A LONG STRUGGLE

Govt. Railway Board Abandons Attempt to Bring About a Settlement.

Hamilton, Nov. 19.—The Ontario railway and municipal board has exerted all its power to bring about a settlement of the street railway strike, and has failed—failed so badly that it withdrew from the task, this evening, and gave it up as hopeless.

That means that Hamilton has been plunged into a long period of strife and turmoil. The company and the men are further apart now than when the trouble started, and there is absolutely no hope of a speedy settlement. In spite of all discouragement, Mayor Biggar is still sticking to the task, and is working night and day for a settlement.

The company operated its cars again Saturday. Although great crowds had to tramp up to the cricket grounds, a complete boycott on the cars was maintained. The company was afraid to run the cars after the crowds dispersed from the football match. There was nothing in the way of disorders or disturbances, and the police kept in reserve at the city hall were never called out.

DR. CRAPSEY SUSPENDED

Punished by the Episcopal Church for Heretical Teaching.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Rev. Algonzo S. Crapsey, D.D., of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Rochester, is condemned to suspension from the church as a result of the decision of the Protestant Episcopal court of review, just made public here. The court of review sustains the decision of the lower court, and the decision of the lower court was that Dr. Crapsey be suspended for alleged heretical teachings.

The city to do something. At present, so far as known, the city has no competitor to hold up in front of the Bell people, and the latter may not be ready to pay for an exclusive franchise as they were some time ago. However, the city is in communication with the Ontario Long Distance Telephone Company, and it may be that it will be to London's advantage not to allow one company an exclusive franchise when the present one expires—at least, so far as long distance lines are concerned.

Ald. Gillean is also going to bring up the matter of what he considers the unjust assessment of a couple of property owners in the east end. A year or so ago a move was on foot to open up Dufferin avenue east, from English to Ontario streets. A couple of the property owners interested at once donated a part of their land for street purposes, and it has since been used as a public thoroughfare. The street opening scheme was blocked, however, because of the fact that one man would not make terms.

Now the city is seeking to collect taxes from the men who gave their land to the city for street purposes.

Ald. Gillean thinks it is outrageous to tax a man for property which the city is using as a thoroughfare, and he will air the matter in the council tonight.

Another matter which will likely be brought up will be the assessment for business tax of one A. Petrie, Mr. Petrie was in the grocery business until

AUSTRALIA SHAKEN

Earthquake Along the Entire West Coast of the Continent.

Perth, West Australia, Nov. 19.—An earthquake occurred at 8:30 o'clock this afternoon along the whole coast from Albany to Shark's Bay. The disturbance was very severe at Perth, Busselton, Geraldton and Marble Bar.

AFTER LONDON TEACHERS

Toronto Would Like To Get Some for Collegiate Staff.

It was stated today that the Toronto board of education has been looking for teachers in London for the Collegiate Institutes of the Queen City, and that one of the men who had been approached was Mr. McLean, a recently-appointed teacher in the local Collegiate.

It has not been successful heretofore.

A dispatch from Hamilton says that the Collegiate there may lose two of its best teachers, W. J. Loughheed and W. A. Jennings having received appointments from the Toronto board of education to the Jarvis Street Collegiate, and it is likely that the two teachers will ask for their release from their year's contract with the board of education, to take effect at the end of this year. They are now being paid $1,100 and $900 respectively, and the Toronto salaries start them off at $1,200, with increases to $1,600 in view. The teachers have contracts with the Hamilton board of education for a year, and if the board will release them they will probably accept the Toronto appointments.

It was also stated today that Hamilton has an eye on certain London teachers to fill the places of the men mentioned above, if they should choose to go to Hamilton.

THE BARAVIAN FLOATED

A Canadian Master Succeeds While Outsiders Failed.

Quebec, Que., Nov. 19.—The Allan R. M. S. Bavarian, which ran ashore on Wharf on the night of Friday, Nov. 4, 1905, while on a voyage from Montreal to Liverpool, was successfully floated off at 7 o'clock yesterday evening, and left for this port this morning. Last fall a large sum of money was spent in an endeavor to float the vessel without success, although experts from Europe and America were engaged in the work. During the past spring experts were brought from Scotland, who, after a thorough examination of the position of the vessel, said the vessel might possibly be floated, but at an expense of the work would be too great to buy for the result. Mr. Leslie, the well-known wrecking expert, Kingston, Ont., then undertook the contract, and after repeated efforts, succeeded in releasing the vessel. When the Bavarian reaches Quebec she will be placed on the beach at Wolfe for the winter.

STOPPED THE COURT

Mr. Justice Meredith's Departure to Catch Train for London.

By a curious error on the part of Mr. Justice Meredith on Friday afternoon the court of appeal at Osgoode Hall was placed in a rather unusual position. In the case of the Toronto Globe, in the case of the Ontario divisional court the law requires that no less than five judges hear the argument. One such case had been safely concluded, and Mr. Justice Meredith, apparently thinking that ended the day's business, quietly left for his home in the afternoon. The other four judges took up another case, but were taken for granted that their learned confrere would resume his seat in a few moments, but he did not return as the argument proceeded, and a messenger, who was sent out to investigate, brought back the news that Mr. Justice Meredith was on his way to London. Consequently the proceedings were brought to a rather sudden termination, since argument before only four judges is not legal.

No Reduction in Rates; Charge Against Gas Co.

Complaint Made at City Hall But Company Says Nothing in It.

The City Gas Company and its agreement with the city of London is likely to figure in the deliberations of the city council tonight, as the result of the alleged failure of the company to keep to the terms of the agreement made with the city some time ago.

In brief, the charge is that though the company agreed to give the people gas at 5 cents per thousand feet, dating from the 1st day of July last, it has in reality been charging the people of London the old rate of $1 per thousand feet.

Certain citizens have laid complaints to the city hall, and now the matter is to be investigated.

It will be remembered that last May or June the City Gas Company gave notice of an application to the Legislature to increase its capitalization from $300,000 to $1,250,000.

The city of London opposed the measure, and after much dickering the city agreed to allow the bill to pass the Legislature unopposed, placing the capitalization at $750,000, provided the company reduced its rates from $1 to 5 cents per thousand feet, and at the expiration of five years out another 5 cents per thousand, giving the people 10-cent gas.

Meter rates were also to be reduced one-half.

According to the statements made at the city hall the company has been charging the old rates.

It was stated at the office of the City Gas Company today that there must be a mistake, as the company has been charging only the reduced rates since the 1st of July. It was explained that the gas bills read as usual, $120 per 1,000 feet, but that, instead of allowing a 20 per cent discount, as formerly, 25 per cent discount is being allowed, making the net rate 95 cents per 1,000 feet.

Questioned as to the slot meters, it was admitted that some of these are charging the old rate of $1 per 1,000 feet, as the company has not yet been able to make the change in the machine which will give the consumer the benefit of the reduced rate. However, Mr. Kidner stated that the company is keeping track of the money received from such meters, and overcharges will be made up to the consumers.

NEW FENDERS ON STREET CARS ARE FAIR TYPE, SAYS EXPERT

Railway Board's Engineer, However, Deals in Drastic Manner With Local Concern.

City Clerk Baker today received a copy of the report of Engineer Royce, who was authorized by the railway commission to examine the roadbed, wires and rolling stock of the London Street Railway Company.

The report will be presented to the council tonight. It deals in a drastic manner with the company, and orders many changes and improvements to be made within a period of one year from the date of the service of the order.

All the recommendations made by the engineer have been adopted by the commission, and the company is compelled to make them.

Among other things, Mr. Royce says that:

Richmond street north track is in poor condition. All switches and frogs more or less badly worn. All must be repaired at once.

Guard rails and tie rods must be placed at bridges.

Rail joints on Springbank line must be put in proper condition.

Decayed timbers over culvert at Woodland Cemetery must be replaced. Guard rails must be placed along curves near Woodland and Wonderland.

Track allowances are not in any worse condition than the other portions of the streets, but it is directed that they be put in repair in accordance with the terms of bylaw 916.

Track on Wellington street, between St. James and Grosvenor, to be raised to the grade of the street.

Use of girder groove rails on bridges is not good practice, but it is not imperative that they should be replaced by "T" rails, provided sound ties and guard timbers be put in.

Speed of Cars on Bridges.

Speed of cars on bridges is limited to five miles an hour, owing to the manner in which all the bridges have been constructed.

All repairs to be made by March 1, 1907.

Overhead wires in fair condition. Wooden poles which have been pulled over must be put in proper shape.

LAKE GALE WRECKS THREE STEAMERS

SS. Theano Strikes and Sinks Near Thunder Cape—Crews of All Get Safely Ashore.

Port William, Ont., Nov. 19.—In the terrific gale which has raged on Lake Superior during the past two days, the Canadian steamer Theano, Capt. George Pearson, struck a rock four miles east of Thunder Cape and was totally wrecked. The American steamer Philip Minch, and the Canadian steamer Strathcona were also blown ashore in the storm and the former may be a total loss. The crews of both boats are safe.

When the Theano struck, the wind was blowing 50 miles an hour, and the blinding snowstorm caused the ship to run north of the entrance to Thunder Bay. The steamer struck bow-on and the stern swung around against the rocks, crushing in the steel sides of the ship like paper.

The crew, numbering 20, remained on the vessel for two hours after it was wrecked, but were then compelled to take to the lifeboats for safety. But a few moments after they had abandoned the wreck, the boilers exploded with a roar and the shattered hull slid off the rock into deep water and vanished from sight.

Almon overcame by exposure, ten of the crew succeeded in reaching Port Arthur, after being buffeted about by the storm a half-day in an open boat. The lifeboat in which the remaining half of the crew had sought safety was picked up by the steamer Iroquois, which brought the men here.

The Theano was a fine steel steamer of the salt water type, built at Rotterdam in 1890. It registered 1,646 tons, and was valued at $80,000. It was owned by the Algoma Central Railway. It was bound for Port William with a full cargo of steel rails when wrecked.

The Theano was a sister ship to the Monkshead, which was wrecked in the great gale of last November on Angus Island.

The Philip Minch is a steel ship and was built in Lorain, Ohio, in 1905. She is 480 feet in length, beam 52, depth 30. She is owned in Cleveland, Ohio.

The Strathcona was built in 1900 and is owned by the Hamilton and Port William Navigation Company. She is 255 feet in length by 43 feet beam.

EXPLOSION IN ST. PETER'S, ROME

Bomb Bursts Beneath Altar During Mass.

CONGREGATION IN A MAD PANIC

His Holiness Greatly Shocked by Attempt to Wreck the Famous Edifice.

Rome, Nov. 18.—A bomb was exploded in St. Peter's today. The edifice was crowded, and an indescribable scene of confusion followed. There were no fatalities.

As soon as the echoes of the tremendous roar had ceased a canon sought by reassuring words to quiet the people, but in vain; they fled in all directions, and a number of women fainted. Women and children screamed and men tried to protect their families in the crush. The church is so large, however, that there was ample room for the crowd to scatter, and no one was injured.

No trace of the perpetrator of the deed has been found. Since St. Anacletus, who was ordained by Peter himself, erected an oratory in 90 A. D., on the site of the present basilica, to mark the spot where the remains of St. Peter are buried, no such dastardly occurrence is noted in the annals of the church.

Today was the anniversary of the dedication of the basilica to St. Peter, and it was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Holy relics were exposed and a large number of the faithful attended the services. Cardinal Rampolla, formerly papal secretary of state, was among those present. He took part in the service in the choir chapel.

The last mass had just been concluded when the explosion occurred, and only one canon, who had not quite finished, remained at the altar of St. Petronilla. This altar is at the end of the right aisle, and it was near here that the bomb had been placed. As the canon turned to bless the communicants, there was a tremendous roar, which echoed through the lofty arches of the immense dome like a thunderclap.

At the same time a dense smoke spread throughout this portion of the basilica, and a strong odor of gunpowder filled the air. Confusion and panic at once seized the people. The canon at the altar tried to stem the tide of fear. He shouted out: "Do not be afraid; it is nothing; merely the noonday gun."

His words, however, had little effect. They were refuted by the smoke and the pungent smell of powder, and the people continued their headlong flight.

Chairs were overturned, making the confusion more serious. Men and women fled, stumbling in all directions, and the screams of children and cries of anguish were heard on all sides, and for a few moments it seemed as if nothing could obliterate a grave disaster of the immense

The vast size of the church, however, gave room for the crowd to scatter, and at the end of a few moments the people were surging toward the doors, excited and nervous, but orderly. Soon as the smoke cleared away, a hastily examination showed that nobody had been hurt in the crush, and furthermore that no one had been wounded by the explosion.

THE WATER SUPPLY

Commissioners To Be Asked to Explain Scheme to the Council.

It is altogether likely that a special meeting of the members of No. 1 committee, or perhaps the entire council, will be called for some night this week, when the water commissioners will be asked to be present and explain the scheme put forth by the commission for the increasing of the water supply.

It is likely such a meeting will be called for Tuesday or Wednesday night.

Ald. Gillean made the suggestion to the mayor today, and his worship thought the storm was a bad omen.

All citizens who care to attend will be invited to be present.

BAVARIAN FLOATED.

Quebec, Nov. 18.—A dispatch from Quebec this evening reports that the Allan steamer Bavarian, which has been on Wye-rocker for about a year, was floated off about 7 o'clock tonight.

SNOW TIES UP WESTERN LINES MANITOBA GRIPPED BY BLIZZARD

Freight Ditched, Limited Trains Stalled and Edmonton Express Lost.

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—Traffic on the railways of Western Canada was very badly demoralized by the great storm which raged Friday and Saturday.

It was one of the worst of recent years, and the soft, wet snow, which fell incessantly, not only blocked the train service, but played havoc with the telegraph lines. Several wrecks and mishaps of a minor character are reported on the C. P. R. At Beaujour, Man., thirteen cars of freight are in the ditch, but no casualties occurred. At Melbourne, Man., where the westbound transcontinental was stalled Saturday night, the express car was burned, together with all its contents.

The blaze was caused by some goods being thrown on the stove by a heavy jar during shunting operations. The east-bound express was snowbound at Carberry all night. The C. N. R. service was equally badly demoralized, and the wires are all down as far east as Fort Frances.

The burned car contained all the express matter for the main line as far as Moosejaw, also Arcola and Estevan and Prince Albert branches. All the daily papers for points west were destroyed. There were six dead engines standing at Melbourne at one time.

Deloraine, Nov. 18.—The grain commission are storm stayed here. No train since Friday.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—The C. N. R. system seems to be entirely demoralized. Wires are so badly damaged that at present the whereabouts of the Edmonton express is unknown. Vice-President Whyte, of the C. P. R., said tonight that from Moosejaw to Swift Current the storm was the worst the old settlers had ever experienced, and it down on the Soo road the snow is already deeper than it has been for years.

Fort William, Nov. 18.—A storm of cyclonic fury struck Fort William and Port Arthur on Friday night, and wrought great havoc. Telegraph and telephone wires are down all over the district, and during the night darkness prevailed. There was no light or power. The car service stopped between the two towns.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Mrs. Emma Sawyer

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. We believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for chronic kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case."

New York, Nov. 18.—E. H. Harriman has dropped the gage of a billion-dollar battle to James J. Hill, and that hardy individual has accepted the challenge. The war is a war of the dividends. Money is already flying in nine figures.

Wall street and the public lost in the last Hill-Harriman combat. Now Wall street and the public will reap rich reward from the coffers of Harriman and Hill.

Mr. Hill hurried into New York Saturday and hurriedly prepared the announcement of a dividend of $125,000,000 for shareholders in the securities of the Great Northern Railroad.

Mr. Harriman has his attorneys at work paying the way for dividend declarations doubling those of Hill. It will not be prolonged beyond Wednesday.

Hill will draw first blood in the battle. The $125,000,000 dividend will be cut Monday of this week. It will be every million dollars that Great Northern stockholders get, it is said that Harriman intends to give Union Pacific stockholders two millions.

Mr. Hill's lawyers are completing his new dividend. The idea is considered legitimate because the investments cannot be properly classified as railroad stock. They may be legally separated.

In the meantime Union Pacific is paying but a small portion of its 10 per cent dividend. When the investment is split into a separate company Mr. Harriman will pour a broadside into Mr. Hill. That broadside is said to be a bonus of millions for Union Pacific stockholders. It is expected to be nothing less than the opening of a half billion dollar man.

Wall street is agape to know how Hill will reply.

At present Mr. Hill's following is jubilant. The reported distribution of $125,000,000 is a staggering blow to the pessimists. The bonus comes because the Great Northern dividend has been put through. Hill's followers now stand ready to obey him blindly.

They will stick to him throughout the fight.

Proof of this was shown yesterday, from the way in which they followed his advice to purchase steel common. In the last 20 years Mr. Hill's Great Northern stockholders have received 240 per cent dividends in Great Northern stock. All of this is now paying 7 per cent.

Mr. Hill's friends, who stood by him over the struggle over the 30 per cent dividend, are now rewarded as well. They probably will receive 20 per cent dividends as a result of the Northern Pacific's sale to the Burlington for $50,000,000.

MANIAC "MARTYR" SKIPS

Man Who Murdered for Good of the Empire Escapes from Asylum.

Wellington, New Zealand, Nov. 18.—Lionel Terry, the Englishman who was sentenced to death for the murder of a Chinaman last year, and was removed as insane to Sunnyside Asylum, Christchurch, escaped yesterday.

It is believed that he obtained a key, and that friends were waiting outside to take him away. No trace of his whereabouts has been discovered.

The crime for which Terry was tried and convicted is one of the most remarkable on record. He is stated to belong to an old Kentish family, and to have been educated at Eton and Oxford. He was for some time in the army, and then traveled abroad extensively.

His travels imbued him with the idea of a "yellow peril," and he published a book on the subject called "The Shadow of the Empire," which dealt with the danger of the unrestricted admission of yellow races to British colonies.

The book was published in New Zealand, but it failed to attract the attention which the author wished. He frequently declared that he would have the work widely read at all costs, even if it involved "martyrdom."

He left his hotel one day to Wellington, and spying a Chinaman, walked down the opposite side of the street, drew a revolver and shot him dead. Then he walked calmly back to his hotel and awaited arrest. He told the police that he had only shot a worthless Chinaman in order to draw public attention to a menace to the empire.

A VILLAGE OF GIRLS

Nearly All the Babies Are Females and the Folk Are Greatly Worried.

London, Nov. 18.—The rural village of Toppenfield, in North Essex, has become prominent on account of a remarkable phenomenon in the births that are recorded there.

During the last decade the great preponderance of girls born in the parish over boys has been noticed, and at the present moment the scholars attending the village school comprise ninety-three girls, but only eleven boys. In consequence of this, the county education authority is contemplating the substitution of a schoolmistress for the present schoolmaster.

But among those belonging to the place the present state of affairs has aroused considerable concern, and the question is being asked where the farm laborers of the future are to come from if matters do not change. The medical officer for the district has been consulted, but he can ascribe no cause for the greater number of girls. A well-known Essex doctor, whose advice has been sought, has suggested that the village water supply may have something to do with the question.

Calm was gradually restored and people returned to view the extent of the damage.

It was discovered that the bomb had been placed under a scaffolding which had been erected to facilitate repairs to the roof, exactly over the celebrated tomb of Clement XIII, by Canova, which consists of a figure of the Pope and two lions, and which is the most remarkable piece of sculpture in the basilica.

This tomb ranks among the finest of modern sculpture, and by its execution Canova established his reputation.

When the first gardener reached the spot the scaffolding was found to be smoldering, but this fire was easily extinguished.

The tomb was found to be absolutely uninjured, and even the pavement shows scarcely any signs of the explosion.

An examination of the remains of the bomb leads to the supposition, unless it was crudely prepared on purpose to mislead, that it was intended to explode in the country and brought in to Rome. It is believed that the bomb had a very long fuse, in order to enable the criminal to get in the piazza before the explosion.

It has been impossible to trace the man who, by his movements, might have aroused suspicion.

The Pope was engaged in his regular noon-hour devotion when the explosion occurred. He heard muffled sound, which surprised him but did not alarm him. Monsignor Miscelanti, sub-prefect of the apostolic palace, and Monsignor Bisleti, majordomo of the Vatican, at once hurriedly entered the pontiff's chamber.

They were so pale that the Pope immediately asked, "What has happened?" "Do not be alarmed, Holy Father," was the answer. "A bomb had exploded in the basilica, but fortunately there are no deaths to deplore and no one has been wounded."

The Pope asked anxiously if the church had been injured. On being reassured he fell on his knees, saying he must implore mercy for the misguided perpetrator of the deed.

Soon after this announcement was made to him the Pope went to the throne room, where he admitted to private audience Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American College, who presented his holiness to Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. McCloskey, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Paul S. King, of New York, who noticed that the Pope was pale and labored under some emotion.

After this reception the Pope proceeded to the hall of the consistory, where he received about 200 other persons, including 25 students of a South American college, to whom he delivered a short address. None of the persons knew anything of the explosion.

A three-day's service of prayer will be celebrated in all the churches in expiation of this offense to religion. The attempt has caused deep-seated and universal horror and indignation on account of the locality selected and the results obtained.

Dr. Doyen, whose reputed serum has been so roughly handled by certain members of the Academy of Medicine, on being interviewed today, said that the idea of a cancer institute in France was not a new one. He himself had established a sanatorium for a similar purpose, and the results obtained had been excellent.

son went ten yards on the first down, when the Tigers got the ball on an off-side play. Tope went 35 yards. Simpson kicked to the dead line for one point.

Simpson returned the kick-off; Montreal lost the ball on yards. Simpson tried a drop goal, and failed, but he kicked to the dead line for a second point, when the ball was returned.

Simpson returned the next kick-off with a punt, and shortly afterward kicked for a safety touch.

Tope Has Leg Broken.

The ball was kept almost constantly in Montreal territory at this stage. From the 40-yard line the Tigers gained ten yards on an off-side play, and Isbister punted to the dead line.

With the pigskin on Montreal's 35-yard line, Craig prevented a possible touchdown by a fine kick, which landed the ball near the center of the field. The Tigers bucked the line, and kicked on the third down, and Russell was tackled for a rouge, after taking the punt from Simpson. Tope had his knee-cap broken just before time, Harrison taking his place.

Score at quarter-time: Tigers 6, Montreal 0.

Montreal became aggressive. Moore failed to return the kick-off more than eight yards. Craig and Kingston were

ONE WHO HEARD GIRL'S DEATH CRY

Prosecution in Gillette Murder Trial Spring a Sensation in the Court.

Herkimer, Nov. 18.—That the dying cries of Trace Brown were heard by a witness who will be called by the state in the trial of Chester E. Gillette, charged with the murder of his sweetheart, was the declaration of Attorney George B. Ward, who made his opening speech.

After describing the trip of the prisoner and Miss Brown to Moose Lake, from the waters of which the girl's body was later removed, and a struggle on the shore, the prosecutor added:

"And on that night, as he struck that girl and her last death cry echoed over the lake, there was a witness to all that, and she will be here to tell you about it."

The prosecutor's remarks created something of a sensation, as it was the first intimation that the state would rely on other than circumstantial evidence to convict Gillette.

The general impression in the court room appeared to be that the witness referred to had actually witnessed the death scene, but afterwards Mr. Ward said that he did not mean to convey the suggestion that he had secured an eyewitness to the crime.

The prosecutor would not reveal the identity of his witness, who, he said, was a woman.

A session yesterday, which was concluded at noon, when adjournment was taken until Monday, the twelfth juror was secured in the person of Elvah S. Potter, of Herkimer, and the state opened its case.

A WEIRD WOOLING

Toledo Widower Courts Girl in Tomb of His First Wife.

Toledo, O., Nov. 18.—Circuit court today confirmed the lower court in the awarding of Ella Hudson, a pretty waitress of Gibsonburg, O., $5,500 for breach of promise, in which Michael Lechner, a prominent and wealthy Toledo oil operator, was the defendant.

In taking up the case the testimony previously introduced was again rehearsed and the scandal reopened.

In the case, Miss Hudson testified that she met Lechner in Gibsonburg, where he had heavy oil interests, and that he courted her ardently, then threw her over. She claimed he bought diamonds and taught her to pray, that he took her to the cemetery in Toledo and showed her a big white mausoleum in which he said were three catacombs, one for his dead wife, one for her and one for him; that he then took her inside the tomb and reviled to her the features of his dead wife.

Lechner claimed the woman was so persistent in her desire to marry him, that upon one occasion when he entered his mansion in Toledo he found Miss Hudson there, that she refused to leave and that he was forced to bolt.

Strong doors between his room and the one she occupied to keep her out of his apartments.

AIDS CANCER INSTITUTE

French Government Will Authorize Lottery to Help the Cause.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The sum of $20,000,000, generously given by Dr. Henri Rothchild for the establishment of a cancer institute in France is daily being added to. A committee has been formed, consisting of Dr. Roux, director of the Pasteur Institute; Prof. Poirier, and several other members of the Academy of Medicine. In the appeal for funds, which they are issuing, they address themselves to the intelligence, the heart and the purses of French men and women. The newly formed committee will also take the necessary authorization for a lottery in aid of the institution.

Dr. Doyen, whose reputed serum has been so roughly handled by certain members of the Academy of Medicine, on being interviewed today, said that the idea of a cancer institute in France was not a new one. He himself had established a sanatorium for a similar purpose, and the results obtained had been excellent.

Montreal's Long Passes.

Craig returned the kick-off for a good gain. Montreal tried several long passes in splendid fashion, but the backs seemed very slow in getting away, being brought down, time after time, in their tracks. Harrison muffed several kicks in this quarter. Craig made a beautiful run of 50 yards, and was knocked out by a hard tackle by McKean.

After a lot of skirmishing backward and forward, Simpson kicked from the 40-yard line over the dead line, one of the spectators being struck in the face by the ball. Russell was brought down a short time later for a touch-in-goal, after taking a kick by Simpson.

Montreal Played Off Their Feet

In the last quarter Montreal worked desperately for a victory, but they were played off their feet by the jungle warriors. Allison took the kick-off and returned five yards. Craig kicked, Harrison returned, and Russell marked. The latter's free kick was a fizzle, and Harrison booted the pigskin over for a touch-in-goal.

Montreal had several excellent chances to score, but lost it through apparent poor head-work. At one time in the last quarter the ball was on the Tigers' ten-yard line, but Simpson got it on a fumble and kicked to safety.

Simpson made the greatest and most spectacular run of the game by going 60 yards. At least six of the opposing team tried to bring him down, but failed. Craig finally brought the flying Tiger to earth, and it was some few moments before Simpson knew where he was located. DuMoulin collided with somebody's flat, and sat down to ponder over the question, and to try and collect his scattered senses. The players were now a mass of mud and looked like a lot of negroes. No more scoring.

ruled off for four minutes each. With the oval on Montreal's 25-yard line, Simpson tried a field goal, but missed.

The Tigers had the ball on the five-yard line. Montreal held the line and Simpson was forced to kick on the third down. The pigskin landed in the crowd, which surged just back of the dead line. One more point for Hamilton.

Montreal lost the ball at the kick-off for off-side playing. Simpson, after a white skirmishing, a fumble and a return, counted over the dead line once more. He was working like a fiend, and his kicking was making the Montreal supporters ask for 3 to 1 for their money.

On the kick-off Montreal returned the ball to the Tigers' 40-yard line. Craig kicked for a good gain. The Tigers punted. Craig returned the ball 20 yards by a great run. McKean and Kelly got into a mix-up and struggled another in regular prize-ring style. They were given five minutes to settle the side line to cool off. With the ball in Montreal's possession on the Tigers' 30-yard line, Allison kicked, and Nibs Harrison was brought down for a rouge. Montreal now seemed to take more heart, going after the striped ones in earnest, and a few moments later Simpson was around the end for a touchdown. Moleson failed to convert. Score at half-time: Hamilton 8, Montreal 6.

BRINGING HERCULEANEUM TO LIGHT.The Italian Government, after great pressure and long delay, has consented to the excavation of the city of Her-culeaneum under international auspices.
The intellectual world will watch the progress of the work with the keenest interest. Herculeaneum was buried to a depth of 80 to 120 feet under lava, and volcanic mud in the eruption of Vesuvius which overwhelmed Pompeii at the same time—79 A. D.—but the latter city was buried not nearly so deeply and was naturally the first, because the easiest, to be uncovered.A portion of the city of Naples, containing 20,000 people, has been built above Herculeaneum, so that the exhumation of the dead city will be a formidable and costly task. It will be executed slowly, but exhaustively, directly under the eyes of archaeologists and scholars.Herculeaneum will yield incomparably greater riches than Pompeii. The city of Pompeii was a Roman watering-place, dedicated to the pleasure and frivolity of the wealthy classes, and modern compared with Herculeaneum, which was an ancient Greek city, with libraries and temples, containing many precious works of art, and perhaps some literary records of supreme importance. A great number of papyrus manuscripts, and some mural paintings and remarkable Greek and Graeco-Roman bronzes have been found in the few haphazard explorations that have been made from time to time. The manuscripts deal with medical and scientific subjects, but it is believed that additions to classical literature will be unearthed. In Herculeaneum dwelt the most cultured Romans, of the Augustan period and earlier. Unlike Pompeii, the city was substantially built, and suffered little from earthquakes. Its spacious villas, where Roman citizens took their ease, were filled with objects of beauty, and reflect the life and tastes of the most refined era of Roman history.A great light is about to be turned on the past.THE FARMERS HEARD FROM.The farmers are at last finding voice on the tariff question. Hitherto all the noise has been made by the classes interested in boosting the tariff. The farmers of Eastern Canada in 1878 aided in establishing the protective policy. Farm values continued to fall and for 20 years Canadian agriculture remained in a desperate condition.
The farmers had it in their power to overthrow the system, but they divided on party lines. Whatever low tariff sentiment existed amongst them was unorganized, and was no match for the organized forces of protection, well-drilled and provided with the sinews of war. The Canadian farmers have never been united by a sense of class interest or they could have dictated the policy of any government.Ten thousand of them have now petitioned for the elimination of the protective principle from the tariff and the return to a tariff for revenue only.
They have entered their protest a little late in the day. No government can ignore the fact that a wide range of industries has grown up in the shelter of protection, and that to throw down
the barriers and expose the tariff-fostered industries to the full sweep of competition—especially American competition—would be disastrous until such time as Canadian manufacturers could adjust themselves to the new conditions. The farmers, after countenancing the National Policy for 20 years, and a milder form of protection for ten years, cannot expect the protective principle to be suddenly wiped out.
The activity of the Farmers' Association, the Dominion Grange and the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association
should not be without good results, however. It will be a counterpoise to the agitation for excessive protection, and will assist in maintaining a moderate and a stable tariff.LORDS VERSUS COMMONERS.Mr. Augustine Birrell is the secretary for education in the British cabinet, and the author of the education bill which the House of Lords has emasculated. Therefore, when Mr. Birrell says the amended bill is a "sheer impossibility," it means that the Government has issued a ultimatum to the Upper House.The Birrell measure, as it left the House of Commons, provided for theassimilation of the voluntary or religious schools with the board or public schools, except that in the voluntary schools taken over by the state, facilities for the continuation of denominational teaching were to be allowed. In the public or board schools undenominational teaching was to be permitted, but any child could absent himself from religious exercises if his parents so desired.The Lords have radically amended these provisions. They have inserted a clause making religious teaching compulsory in all schools, so that every child must take some course of religious instruction, the parents determining whether it shall be simple Bible teaching or denominational teaching.
Another clause inserted by the Lords provides that the arrangements for denominational teaching in the voluntary schools to be taken over by the state shall apply also to the public or board schools. This latter clause entirely defeats the intention of the Government bill to eliminate sectarian teaching from the public schools.It will be seen that the changes demanded by the Lords are fundamental,
and that the Government cannot accede to them without abandoning the main principle of the bill. A compromise is impossible, as the two positions are as far apart as the poles. There must be a surrender by one House or the other. The Government's obvious act will be to re-enact its own bill, and send it up to the Lords again. If the latter insist upon their amendments, an appeal to the country will be the next step.It would seem to be eminently a case for a referendum, so that the question would not be entangled with other disputed issues, and with party sentiment, but the British people are chary of constitutional changes. Another general election would have to be fought, and in anticipation of this the Government is contriving to throw upon the House of Lords the additional odium of rejecting legislation promoted by the Labor party. If the Lords still proved contumacious after another triumph of the Liberal party at the polls, the Government could, as a last resort, create peers in sufficient numbers to swamp its opponents in the Upper House. Mr. Gladstone in 1871 threatened to take this extreme measure when the Lords rejected the bill for the abolition of the purchase system in the army, but the upper chamber gave way. The present House of Lords will surrender also rather than invite reprisals which would humiliate and probably overthrow it.In five years 45,000 persons have murdered in the United States. This suggests that General Sherman's description of war was after all an exaggeration.The late Senator Vidal was a high type of public servant. He was not cut out for a leader of men or of movements, but he was distinguished by great kindness of disposition and a sturdy integrity, which are valuable political assets, and not too abundant.
Protestants will vie with Catholics in detestation of the sacrilegious outrage in St. Peter's at Rome. Such an act of wanton wickedness is happily without precedent in modern times. The murderous deed of the nihilist or anarchist can be ascribed to political motives, but what could have inspired the crime at St. Peter's?It is said the Ontario Government has been offered $15,000,000 for the Gillies limit. This sum would pay for the construction of the Temiskaming Railroad from North Bay to the junction with the Grand Trunk Pacific. But for the railroad the Cobalt silver mines might have been undiscovered for years. But for the Ross Government
there would have been no Temiskam-
ing Railroad.IT IS UP TO BORDEN.[Oshawa Reformer.]

The branch bank business is not being overdone. We think our banks are col-

the nation requires of them in this re-withdrawn here and there from time to time, but that will be because of special local conditions, and new branches opened up in rapidly growing centers elsewhere will take their places.

The banks are not altruistic in all this expansion. They are out for the money, but at the same time they think that the best of our leading banks have a sense of what they owe to the country for the privileges granted them by Parliament.
At any rate, it will become the public or erning principle of the world, has come to subjecting the people of the Empire

State to the most unmitigated charlatanism and demagoguery. It may be said that in voting for Mr. Hearst the people were not in their own hearts voting for a humbug and a scoundrel, but against a giant despotism, which, under the name of the trusts, has assumed, in their mind, stupendous proportions, and has come to be looked upon as the evil of evils.PEARY'S BAND IN PERPETUAL BATTLEExplorer and His Companions
Forced to Live on Dogs.HE DISCOVERS SOME RELICSIs Bringing Back Cartridges and Boat Used by the Polar Expedition of 1872.New York, Nov. 13.—A special dispatch from Sydney, N. S., gives some details of the hardships endured by Lieut. Peary and his men in their dash for the north pole. After reaching the northernmost Greenland settlement, 70 Esquimaux and 100 dogs were secured, and then, taking the ice, the steamer drifted on and steamed through the barrier to 82.27 degrees north, where the men went into quarters in the farthest north winter quarters in the history of Arctic exploration.Arrangements to secure the ship and make all comfortable were completed
by Feb. 7, 1906, and on that day Peary, with his Esquimaux and their teams
of dogs, made a start for the pole.
Other parties had started out in charge of Captain Bartlett, Dr. Wolfe, R. G. Maroin, J. Clarke and M. Ryan respectively. These were relief parties and they kept 50 miles apart.During the first part of the journey
moderate weather prevailed and Peary made good speed. Before his return to his ship, 117 days later, however, conditions changed and terrible suffering from hunger and privations was endured. Undeterred, Peary pushed farther forward into the Arctic night until he reached the highest point ever reached by any explorer, 87.66 north latitude within 153 miles of the pole.Before he started on the return voyage the food supply had almost given out. During the return a fierce snowstorm was encountered, which lasted a week and which drove the party out of its course. Before the last course had been recovered hunger threatened to drive the Esquimaux mad, and Peary was compelled to kill some of his dogs.
When Peary returned to the ship only three dogs out of seventeen remained.
A few musk ox and Arctic deer were killed by Esquimaux and helped the party.Clarke, with one of the relief parties, also went astray and he was compelled to kill some of his dogs to provide food.
Clarke, it appears, was unable to find his way back, but Peary luckily came across his tracks and went to his rescue. Clarke, it is stated, has not yet recovered from his trying experience.
The other relief parties also suffered,
but all went through the ordeal with heroic fortitude. Ryan's party ran short of food and had to eat some of the dogs.While the attempt to reach the pole was attended with great danger, the homeward passage was accomplished amid even greater peril. After getting out of the ice the ship ran into storm
after storm.For 63 days the steamer was practically at the mercy of the waves and ice, and in a few days covered only 200 miles. Contact with the ice broke away
two blades of her propeller and stern post, and also the rudder post, and otherwise damaged her stern. A gale carried the foremast overboard, and damaged the bows.After vainly trying to reach Victoria Head, where food was stored, the Roosevelt, on Sept. 16, continued the voyage south. A little fine weather followed, and then another storm came on. It is said that if the ship had been less strongly constructed the expedition would have come to grief.
Ten days later Cape York was reached, and then, coal having run short, an attempt was made to continue under sail. This failed.On Oct. 1 a hurricane started the jury rudder, which had been rigged,
and a few days later the rudder broke away and another had to be rigged.
Hebron was reached on Oct. 11, where some wood was secured, but this soon gave out, and fittings were used for fuel.At Hopedale, which was reached next,
more wood, and a few tons of coal were secured, the latter from the steamer
Virginia Lake, through the kindness of Capt. Parsons. This coal enabled the Roosevelt, which had now been battered so that she could steam only four knobs an hour, to reach Battle Harbor.Peary brought back about 300 musk
ox and other skins, several domesticated wolves, ten Esquimaux dogs, a boat that was used in the polar expedition of 1872-1873, and some cartridges left by the same expedition.Peary's present plan is to take on coal when he reaches Sydney and sail at once for New York.
He says he has not given up hope of reaching the pole, but his next purpose is an exploration of Labrador. For this project he has already in his possession a model of a steamer which he will have built.REFORMS FOR THE JEWSMany Restrictions To Be Removed by

The paper stated that with the view of Jews full equality, nor give permission

for them to spread through the country

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Hats off to Mr. John Tiger, to Master Cub Tiger, to the Blufftown Y. M. C. A. and to Hamilton in general as the greatest football center in this part of the Dominion.

Three victories in one day for a town comes pretty close to being the "candy."

Poor old McGill! Ottawa handed it to her on Saturday. Oh, well, it just saved the Tigers the trouble of doing it.

That Hamilton Rooter Club should be bound and gagged during actual play. "Foxy" Murphy, the leader, would keep them quiet when the Tigers wanted to give a signal, then make them root their heads off in an effort to drown out the Montreal signals. Fie! Fie! Dirty work!

The O. H. A. is getting tight-fisted. The residence rule has been shifted to August, in place of the 1st of October, as formerly.

For the information of local hockey enthusiasts we can state definitely that there will be ice on or about Christmas at the Jubilee Rink on Lyle street, weather permitting. It is now up to the clubs to get together and form a league of some kind, preferably a city league. For some reason O. H. A. hockey has not been well supported in London of recent years. Try a local league. The columns of this page are open for the advancement of such a proposition. Clubs desirous of entering a city league will confer a favor by informing us of the fact.

Hurry-Up Yost is sad today. His Michigan gridiron warriors were wallowed unmercifully by Pennsylvania Saturday. The score was 17 to 0 in favor of old Penn.

Yale and Princeton exchanged goose eggs, but 'tis said that Yale had a trifle the better of the going.

"Another prize-fighter killed" is the way the papers put it, and the public pass it over as one of the minor particulars of sport. But up in Sarnia, where the folks often wondered whether Mike Ward or Hon. W. J. Hanna was the greater man, it is different. There they knew the young boxer as a man—quiet, inoffensive, generally, with a natural aptitude for using his fists that made him the pride of the youth, and the wonder of the older inhabitants. There it is not the "prize-fighter" who is gone, but Mike Ward, the man. And today you cannot meet a Sarnia man who does not murmur, "Poor Mike," with something suspiciously like moisture in his voice. Prize-fighters in the funny papers are often wonderfully different from those you meet in real life. —Toronto Telegram.

It is said that Mr. Joseph Seagram, of Waterloo, is much disappointed with the showing his horses have made since leaving Toronto, and will probably order them home again at an early date. Pretty hard game to beat—that turf game.

Abe Johnson, of Brantford, has had a very successful season with his horse Old Maid. Abe is to be complimented. Very few men have had courage enough to attempt to drive an old maid.

Bookmaking has been declared illegal at the Benning track in Washington, D. C. Wonder what Abe Uiman, of Baltimore, and other bookmakers of his class, who always insisted on having a few acres in the hole on every important race, will do now. 'Tis said that "pick-and-shovel" men are scarce in the southeast. The man who tries to beat the average bookmaker at his own game is deserving of no sympathy at all.

Gans and Herman are in training for their bout of Jan. 1 for the lightweight title, which takes place at Tonopah, Nev. To a man up to his neck in dope, the kid is due for one grand beating. However, one cannot always tell. Surprises are the order of the day at present. SOUTHPAW.

Montreal Is Down and Out to Mighty Hamilton Tigers

Outplayed at Blufftown in Championship Game Before 8,000 Enthusiasts—Tope, of Tigers, Has Leg Broken.

[By Our Own Reporter.]

Hamilton, Nov. 17.—Amid the mad cheers of over 8,000 wildly enthusiastic spectators, including the Hamilton Rooters' Club, ringing in their ears, with the field a vast sea of mud, the clicking of the telegraph instruments along the press benches, the frantic waving of flags emblematic of the Tiger Rugby Club, the Hamilton seniors defeated the Montreal Victorias, today, by a score of 11 to 6.

The game was practically a kicking game, and every point scored by the Tigers was made in that manner. Hamilton had the advantage of playing on the home grounds, the muddy condition of the field being also in their favor, as the fast Montreal backs could not get moving in the sloppy going.

The Rooters' Club of Hamilton were guilty of some very dirty work, and were filled with pushing, jostling, scrambling, but good-natured ones, who failed to or could not afford to reserve seats, and as a consequence they were obliged to stand in the ankle-deep mud or on the improvised low platforms laid along the lines for people to stand on.

At 2:45 the teams trotted on the field and pandemonium seemed to break loose. Young men, thousands of them, rooted until they were hoarse, and the old fellows present seemed to be trying to keep pace with the youngsters. Boys, up in trees near by, hanging in precarious positions on telegraph poles on the street outside the field, waved their hats and tried to make as much noise as those who had paid for admittance.

The game began shortly, and was played under the Canadian Rugby rules, which many thought would be an advantage to Montreal, but this did not prove to be a fact, as the Tigers outplayed the boys from the lower province and won out handily.

Tope kicked off for the Tigers, and Montreal came back a few yards. Mol-

Tiger yell that would come forth from the husky voices in the stands; then the anxious for hold up his cane for silence, and yell, "No. 11," or some other number. "Now, together!" and the rooting tribe would begin again, with a will.

In front of the rooters' stand was "press row." Telegraph instruments, in the operators' laps, or on small tables, were there in numbers, ready to send each play flashing over the wires to every part of the Dominion. On the south side were the reserved seat stands, filled to overflowing, with the roofs loaded with zealous spectators. There was a checked clothes sport, wildly endeavoring to "place" a few more dollars on the game. Betting before the game was about even.

No Space To Spare.

Every available place along the ends and part of the sides of the field was filled with pushing, jostling, scrambling, but good-natured ones, who failed to or could not afford to reserve seats, and as a consequence they were obliged to stand in the ankle-deep mud or on the improvised low platforms laid along the lines for people to stand on.

THREE IN A DAY FOR BLUFFTOWN

Hamilton Juniors Would Not Be Outdone by the Seniors and Intermediates.

The Hamilton Y. M. C. A. did not want to be behind the Tiger Seniors and Intermediates on Saturday, and just to make it three victories for Blufftown in one day, they trimmed Petrolia in the Hamilton Junior O. R. F. U. game at Tecumseh Park. That puts all the Hamilton teams in line for championships.

From the Spectator's viewpoint, the game was a very poor one, fumbles, bad kicking and rank tackling being the order of the day.

Petrolia, fumbled the oval on the "Y's" 15-yard line, and a Hamilton player shoved over for a touchdown. Smith converted. Score, Hamilton 6, Petrolia 0.

The "Hard Oil" crew got busy at this stage, and by some excellent team work soon scored a touchdown. McCully converted. Score 6-6.

Not to be outdone, the "Y's" worked hard and made another touchdown. Smith converted. Score 12-6.

No more scoring was done in the first half, but Hamilton made another touchdown in the last quarter, the game resulting 16-6 in favor of the Y. M. C. A. aggregation.

The lineup:

Hamilton (16)—Back, Smith; halves, Blashford, Carey, Hedley; quarter, McKay; snap, Kerrigan; wings, Farrel, Parkhill, Harper, McEwen, Rattenberry, Knight.

Petrolia (6)—Back, McCully; halves, Plat, Wiggins, Pratt; quarter, Stirrit; snap, Thomas; wings, Blake, B. Webb, J. Webb, Rainsberry, Garrison, Keene. Referee—Hugh Hayes, Hamilton. Umpire—Archie McMahon, London.

TIGERS SURE TO TAKE THIS, TOO

Intermediate Series Cinched By Them in First of Final Series With Argos.

Hamilton, Nov. 17.—By a score of 23 to 0, Hamilton defeated Argonaut II, in the first of the final games for the intermediate championship, points to count. Argos kicked uphill the first half. The backs played in a sea of mud, making it impossible for them to do any running. Tigers scored three tries, all due to Fellowes' mistakes, who was certainly off-color. The first half was 30 minutes long, and second only four minutes. Biddy Barr ordering the players off the field, claiming the grounds for the big game. This game will have to be settled by the union. Crosson was the best man on the field. The teams:

One Club, One Vote

At an executive meeting the following new clubs were admitted: Toronto Granites, Young Toronto, Toronto Simcoes, Canningtons and Waterloos.

Amendments to the constitution were discussed, following the readings of reports. A number of those adopted were mere recastings of present measures.

"One man one vote," is the principle adopted by the carrying of an amendment, which gives a club with two or three teams only a single vote. This is designed to prevent clubs putting in teams which pay a fee but never exist except on paper, and are designed simply to elect some candidate or candidates. There was no opposition voiced to the proposal.

The immediate past president is definitely enfranchised as a member of the executive.

The honorarium of the secretary is fixed at a maximum of $400, and that of the treasurer at $200.

Executive nominations must in future come in writing from a club in membership or an officer.

Bankers' Certificates

An interesting point was decided in regard to granting permits to bankers who have heretofore been refused certificates when moved by their banks after the residence rule date had expired. As the bankers are moved willingly, the president favored the amendment to grant them change of residence certificates.

Francis Nelson moved that the executive have power "to grant certificates in case of change of residence of players," not restricting this to bankers. The executive have heretofore held that they have this power anyway, although of recent years they have considered it good policy not to exercise it.

Mr. Duff, of Welland, thought that "open the gate so long tightly closed. Railway men, for instance, had as much right. But he favored a policy of "no certificates."

"I take that stand, too," said Mr. Nelson. "I believe the executive should not exercise any such power given them."

The amendment giving power to the executive to issue change of residence certificates to any player, but not instructing them to do so in any particular class, was finally carried.

Further Check on Tourists

The advantage of the executive having power to issue or revoke players' certificates without notice was weighed in the balance with the unfairness which might arise if a club were deprived for one game of the services of a player who might afterwards be proved guilty of every inch of ground, but slowly and surely they were dropping back into what would have been the slough of defeat had it not been for the raising of the official timekeeper's hand. Neither team scored.

INDIANS TRIM MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17.—Before a mighty multitude of 30,000 persons on Northrop Field today the football team of the University of Minnesota, champions of the west, lost to the Carlisle Indians by a score of 17 to 0.

ONE FOR HARVARD.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 17.—On a slippery field Harvard defeated Dartmouth today at football, 22 to 9.

ILLINOIS SWAMPED.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Eckersall and Seffen today have shaken the mud from their feet which had accumulated in the game with Minnesota last Saturday, and swamped Illinois, 62 to 0.

YALE FRESHIES WIN.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 17.—The annual football struggle between the Harvard and Yale freshmen teams took place here this afternoon, Yale winning by 28 to 0. The Yale 1910 team is the only team in the country not scored upon this year.

A RAGGED CONTEST.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 17.—Playing but five of the regular varsity eleven, Brown won a ragged contest from the University of Vermont on Andrews Field by a score of 12 to 0.

BOOKIES GETTING BOLD

Are Doing Business as of Yore at Benning—Make Cleanup.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Four heavily-backed favorites, which were defeated at Benning this afternoon, permitted the layers to clean up in great shape.

The Grand Consolation stakes for 2-year-olds, at six furlongs, with $3,000 added, was the feature of an excellent card. It resulted in an easy victory for R. T. Wilson, jun.'s colt, Monfort, by Ormant-Eleanor, Miller up, 8 to 1 in the betting. The $10,000 Touraine, recently purchased by the Kirkfield stables, was an overwhelming favorite, a world of smart money driving his price down from 8 to 5 to 11 to 10, when the horses were at the post. Loring was the early pacemaker, with the Wilson colt second to the stretch. There Miller sent the latter along and won easily by three lengths, while Orphan Lad, backed down from 7 to 2 to 1 to 5, beat Touraine three parts of a length for the place.

The attendance was better than yesterday and the bookmakers operated with more assurance than on the opening day.

CUT OUT FREAK BOATS

Lipton Will Build No More of Shamrock II, Type.

New York, Nov. 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton sailed for home today on the steamer Carmania. Just before sailing Sir Thomas said he probably would challenge again for the America's cup, this time in 1908. He expressed himself as much pleased with the kindness extended to him by yachtsmen on this side of the water and was satisfied to leave the whole question in their hands, being convinced that he would get fair treatment.

"I favor a wholesome type of boat and will not come over here again with a freak craft like the Shamrock II," he said. "A boat of that style is good only for the scrap heap after the race, but with the Shamrock IV, which I shall bring over I expect to carry away the cup."

SPRINTING.

ANOTHER ROAD RACE.

St. Catharines, Nov. 17.—The Martin road race committee held their first meeting tonight, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. W. King; vice-president, William Peel; second vice-president, J. M. Ross; secretary-treasurer, F. J. Ross; executive committee, H. Hodgins, F. W. Martin, Alfred Ecclesstone, A. McMillan, John Cameron, Charles Southcott and officers. The race is a ten-mile event to be run on New Year's Day.

THE GUN.

YALE WON THE SHOOT.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 17.—Yale won the intercollegiate championship gun shoot here today with a score of 200. Princeton was second with 197; Pennsylvania third, with 194, and Harvard fourth with 166.

MICHIGAN LOST TO PENN, 17-0

Easterners Lighter, But Played Like Machine—Yale and Tigers Didn't Score.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—In a game that surprised her most enthusiastic supporters, the University of Pennsylvania football team today defeated the Michigan University eleven on Franklin Field, 17 to 0. The Pennsylvania team played with the smoothness and precision of a well-adjusted machine, and the men individually went into each play with such vim and power that Michigan's defense was often disorganized. Throughout the game Pennsylvania showed no letup and appeared to be as strong when the game ended as when it began, notwithstanding that Michigan had the heavier team and that Pennsylvania was playing almost entirely on the offensive.

PRINCETON SAVED BY WHISTLE.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 17.—If the game had lasted five minutes longer Yale would have conquered Princeton on old Nassau's gridiron this afternoon. When the first whistle blew, the New Haven warriors were twelve yards from the Tiger's goal line, having beaten their way to that point by sheer strength and superior football skill. The Jersey men battered to pieces under the terrific onslaughts of the Yale players were fighting for every inch of ground, but slowly and surely they were dropping back into what would have been the slough of defeat had it not been for the raising of the official timekeeper's hand. Neither team scored.

QUEEN'S WON GAME ON A FLUKEY TRY

Defeat Turned Into Victory in Last Few Minutes of Play With Varsity.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—With only a few minutes left to play, and the score 9 to 6 in favor of Varsity, defeat for Queen's was turned into victory in the semi-wind-up of the C. I. R. F. U. season on Saturday. A blocked kick, resulting in a flukey try, gave the Presbyterians a most undeserved win.

There may have been a harder luck game of Rugby than that of Saturday, when Varsity lost to Queen's, but it would be a difficult matter for the oldest local follower of the pigskin sport to remember one. Varsity had the ball in the Presbyterians' territory for nine-tenths of the time, and missed three or four easy chances to score.

CONDITION WON FOR OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Ottawa College beat McGill University this afternoon by 17 to 6. It was an excellent game, though not nearly so brilliant an exposition of football as when Ottawa played Toronto. The better team won on the day's play, but it was only condition that told. McGill men were not in good form, and the reason advanced was that their ground has been covered with inches of snow for some time, preventing practice. Ottawa, on the other hand, was in the pink of condition, and wore down their opponents, until they had them beaten to a finish.

An unfortunate accident marred the play, Kennedy, of McGill, having two of the bones of his left ankle fractured. Near the beginning of the game he tackled Costello. They fell together and Kennedy twisted his ankle, with the result described.

TAMMANY FOR THE FINALS.

Port Hope, Nov. 17.—Tammany Tigers, of Toronto, defeated the Kingston Limestones today in the semi-final for the junior O. R. F. U. championship, by 13 to 1, in a rough game. The Limestones roughed it all through the game, but the Tigers outclassed them on the field and won handily. In the second half one of the Kingston players had to retire, owing to a broken rib.

Varsity OUT OF BOTH.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Varsity lost both finals in the intermediate and junior intercollegiate Rugby, the return games being played today at the university, resulting in the championships going to R. M. C. and Queen's III. The Cadets gained four points in the intermediate against 15 by Varsity II, who, however, failed to pull up sufficient in the previous scores to carry off the honor. The final numbers were R. M. C. 46, Varsity 22. The junior morning game resulted in 11 for Queen's III, against 5 scored by Varsity, making the totals Queen's III 31, Varsity II 18.

BAD DEFEAT FOR WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, Nov. 17.—In an I. C. B. U. game here today Guelph O. A. C. defeated Woodstock College by a score of 22 to 3. The game was one of any spectacular features, fast play being prevented by the wet grounds. Woodstock led by 1 to 0 in the first quarter. In the second period Guelph got 5 and Woodstock 1. In the third quarter Guelph added 16, while Woodstock scoring was over. The last quarter saw no more. Canfield, of London, refereed.

No. 3 Ward As It Now Exists.

For the municipal elections in January there will be thirteen polling subdivisions in number three ward.

This is an increase of two, rendered necessary by the growth of the ward.

The boundaries of every subdivision are changed, and it, therefore, behooves all electors to examine the voters' list at the city hall, to make sure their names have not been omitted and also to learn if they are in a new subdivision.

City Clerk Baker had the above map of the ward prepared, showing the boundaries of the subdivisions, as they at present exist. Mr. Baker says all corrections to the voters' list must be made on or before the 23rd inst. Citizens who have moved during the summer are particularly warned that it is necessary to examine the list. Freeholders wishing to vote on the bylaws should also see that they are marked as freeholders.

The city clerk will be in the office on Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

INTERESTING SLATE FOR THE COUNCIL

September, 1906, when he sold out. The city now seeks to compel him to pay taxes for 1906 on a business which he did not own. He appealed to No. 1 committee, but that body declared he should have appealed to the court of revision, and that there is now no redress for him.

The trouble arose over the fact that the assessments are made a year ahead—that is, the assessors went around in 1905 and assessed Mr. Petrie for 1906. It may be law to make a man pay taxes on a business which he did not own in 1905, but to the average man it would appear as though the city of London is too big to take money to which it is not entitled from any citizen.

It is also understood that the matter of changing the last page of the Warren Company's bond for the Richmond street pavement will come up. The city will ask for a new bond from the company.

AT THE POLICE COURT

Pay Day Intoxicants Settle Up With the Police Magistrate.

This morning at the police court the usual number of Saturday afternoon drunks appeared to have their troubles straightened.

William McKenna was fined $5 or ten days for being drunk.

James Baker was also fined $5 or ten days for being drunk.

Three first-time drunks and two first-time disorderlies were allowed to go.

Robert Arken, charged with assault, appeared on a charge of assault, but the case could not be proved, so the case was dismissed. Both men are inmates of the Mount Hope House of Refuge, and the assault was alleged to have taken place in the home.

MINISTERS TO OBJECT

Don't Like Children to Sell Tickets for a Cheap Show.

At the monthly meeting of the London Ministerial Alliance, held in the Y. M. C. A. this morning, Rev. W. M. Walker, pastor of the Wortley Road Baptist Church, called attention to the fact that children have been in the habit of soliciting citizens to buy tickets for a cheap local theater. Mr. Walker said the practice should be stopped, and he asked the ministers to deal with it from their pulpits. This will be done.

Rev. Mr. Gorrie, of Battle Creek, Mich., was also present, and addressed the alliance on what he called the evils of Seventh Day Adventism. Mr. Gorrie was at one time connected with the denomination, but he had since left.

Rev. F. A. Steven, of the China Inland Mission, gave a most interesting address on the missionary problem in China.

Rev. Dr. McCrae, of Westminster, presided, and among the members in attendance were Revs. Arthur Carlisle, W. M. Walker, W. H. Clavis, J. G. Stuart, Archdeacon Richardson, W. G. H. McAllister, I. M. Wallin, Dr. Ross, H. McKay, D. H. Martin, Geo. B. Sage, Dr. Daniel, J. H. Ross, F. A. Steven and A. J. Bowen.

SHIP CAPSIZES

Quebec, Que., Nov. 19.—Mr. Francis Gunn, Norwegian consul at this port, has received a telegram from Escommans, stating that the Norwegian ship Dybvaa, Capt. Anderson, capsized during the storm on Friday night and is a total wreck. The crew were saved, but lost all their effects and are in destitute circumstances. The Dybvaa is said to be an Erin vessel of 1,515 tons register, and was loading a cargo of lumber at Escommans for Buenos Ayres.

—A pile of dirt, which was dumped on the boulevard of Colborne street school, on the King street side, has remained there a couple of years, and today a man at the city hall wanted to know who is buried there. The spreading of the dirt appears to have divided down to a matter of principle between the city and the board of education, and as a consequence the arbitration of the sword will decide who shall do the work.

—The death occurred yesterday at Melrose of one of the oldest residents of Middlesex County, Mrs. Jane James, wife of Mr. James. Mrs. James was born in England, but came to this country and settled in Middlesex County when very young. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John Gray, of Port Huron. The funeral will take place from the family residence at Melrose at 2 o'clock on Wednesday at the Melrose Methodist Church, where the services will be conducted. Interment will take place at the Melrose Cemetery.

—The local policemen have been having a very easy time of it lately. In other words, there has been little doing in the line of arrests, and perhaps this accounts for the fact that during the last few days all manner of strange finds have been made apart from the criminal class. Everything from a pair of ducks to a pair of overalls has been brought to the station. On Saturday evening one of the officers found a parcel containing a new pair of overalls, and today a stray horse and rig—not a runaway, but a wag—was brought to headquarters.

CONCERT AT ST. MARY'S HALL

Tonight the entertainment by St. Mary's Dramatic Society will be given in St. Mary's Hall, corner of York and Lyle streets, East London. A playlet, entitled, "A Debt of Gratitude," will be produced. The story is one of entrancing interest, and those who have not yet seen the playlet should go at once. The cast is as follows: Miss Kate Carlin, of Stratford, will sing, as will also Miss Jessie McGregor, who is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy, which is must be allied with the University of Toronto.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place recently at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. George M. Campbell, 40 Craig street, South London, when Miss Lizzie Edwards was married to Mr. David Mitchell, of Thorncliffe. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Bishop, of the Anglican Methodist Church. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. E. Mitchell, and the bride by Miss Hazel Lindsay. Little Jean Bailey, the groom's niece, made a pretty little flower girl. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room, where the bride and groom were served. Presents were received from relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

A GREAT ARTIST. Mr. Theo Van Wyck, of New York, is one of the finest tenors on the American continent, and will receive a splendid reception at the annual choir concert in Dundas Center Church tomorrow evening. This splendid choir will sing under the leadership of Mr. J. Parnell Morris, Gounod's "Third Messe Solennelle," a very beautiful work, full of religious grandeur, and Stainer's cantata, "The Daughter of Jairus," both works to be accompanied with organ and orchestra. The doors will be open at 7:30, and as there are now over 700 tickets sold, persons desiring good seats should come early.

SHOT THREE-LEGGED DEER

List to This Tale of the Woods Brought Back by London Hunter.

Relief Inspector McCallum, Max Finch, Alex. Muir and Thomas Metters, with Messrs. John Macpherson and George Kelly, left two weeks ago on a deer-hunting expedition to Parry Sound, on the line of the James Bay Railway, have returned home, each with two deer. They report having killed this year, three deer, and as full this year, they were pleased to find that the big fellows remained deep in the forest, and did not come within range of the London hunters.

Mr. McCallum tells of the remarkable experience of another party of hunters in the north. One of them shot a deer, and at first he thought he had shot one of his front legs off. An examination showed, however, that the leg had been shot off in a previous season, and that the wound, having healed properly, the deer had traveled around on three legs.

Some Baking Powder Sense

It is utterly impossible for anybody anywhere to make a baking powder that is pure. It is a pure cream of tartar powder, which is precisely what a worthy baking powder must be. ## WILL WORK NO MORE Clock With Thirty Years' Service in Schools Run Down for Last Time.

This morning Janitor O'Brien, of Simcoe street school, carried a bundle into Secretary McElheran's office and laid it on the counter. It was a bullet-headed parcel, dourish and flat.

"What have you there?" inquired the secretary.

"It's the old clock," replied the janitor. "It has quit work. We've had it repaired time and again, but now it has quit for good. Guess we'll have to get a new one."

"It's a very old clock," he continued. "Before it was brought to Simcoe street it was for many years in the old Horton street school, now known as Brenner's cigar factory."

The old clock's face was a well-written page. The enamel had fallen off the dial with age, and time had likewise turned the white face yellow.

For over thirty years the old clock had tick-tocked while scholars pored over books, or schemed to while away the time. Thousands of children had watched the face of that old clock—had laughed when it pointed to the hour which set them free, and shied at the hands creeping around to the muster hour.

There are many men in London today who watched the face of the old clock the first day they went to school, and whose children have watched it until today in Simcoe street school.

Time which uses the clock for an indicator, does not allow friendships or associations to interfere with the rule that everything has its day, and must get off the shelf when it can no longer do the work.

WEDDED AT WINDSOR

Young Londoners United by Rev. J. Tomlin, in St. Andrew's Church.

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Windsor, last Tuesday evening, when Miss Lizzie Elenor Stilson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stilson, of 516 Ridout street, was united in marriage to Mr. William Gerald Fleming, of Sydenham street. Rev. J. Tomlin officiated. The bride was graciously attended by a traveling couple of light gray broadcloth, with hat en suite, and wore chinchilla furs. She was attended by Miss Lottie Munroe, of Detroit, dressed in blue tulle, and wearing white ermine furs. The groom was assisted by Dr. P. R. Allen, of Chatham. After the ceremony, the bride and groom proceeded to Detroit, where a wedding breakfast was served in the Cadillac. Covers were laid for 26, and the table decorations were pink and white. The groom's present to the bride was a check, to the bride's maid a pearl bracelet, and to the bridesmaids a diamond scarf. The young couple received many very useful and costly presents, among them being a handsome hand-carved mahogany parlor suite from the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left later for London, where they are visiting relatives and friends prior to going to Toronto, where they will reside. They will be at home to their friends after Dec. 1. Their many friends extend hearty congratulations, wishing them much happiness.

UNDER SEALED ORDERS

Mysterious Expedition Locates Rich Mineral Deposits in New Ontario.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 19.—Some time ago a party of men arrived at Sudbury, Ont., and chartered a boat to take them up the Ladysmith. The vessel, it is reported, sailed under sealed orders, the destination or intention of the navigators not being known. It is now learned the members of the expedition on the trip located 800 acres, in 22 claims of 40 acres each, in the township of Homer, west of Michipicoten Island. The affidavits of the discovery state magnetic iron has been found on the property. Who the most interested parties are is a mystery, the names of the locators being given into the department of lands and mines being those of mine laborers and others, without the names to invest in such property. Future developments are now awaited with interest.

A Fast-Growing Business.

Mr. William Scott, of the Scott Machine Company, Limited, of this city, has gone to Portage La Prairie and to Winnipeg to do some work for his firm in those cities. In the former place he will install two large elevators, which they are shipping to the city. He is also doing some shafting, engines and lighting plant in a large new establishment. This is an indication of the manner in which this new London company is branching out. They now employ ten hands and will shortly double that number, having a complete stock of material. Their shop on York street is equipped with complete new machinery, especially designed for elevator work and machinery work of all kinds. They pay special attention to installing and repairing of elevators, shafting, etc., and carry gas engines, transmission and complex and general machinery. The Scott Company has been in business for a comparatively short time, but it is one of the fast-growing business enterprises of the city.

ATTACK ON LORDS ROUSES BRITAIN

Struggle Fast Approaching to Doom Peers Will Be Hot-test of a Century.

London, Nov. 19.—Great Britain is fast approaching the greatest political struggle she had in a hundred years. That contest will determine whether the House of Lords shall remain an unreformed Tory chamber, ruthlessly mutilating or destroying outright all the measures sent up by a Liberal Government.

The education bill, under which the Liberals sought to establish popular control of all the schools, denominational or otherwise, that receive state grants, has been turned inside out and altered beyond recognition in the House of Lords. Yet education is not the question on which this great and popular agitation is coming, for the people of this country take small interest in that subject.

The Government also sent to the House of Lords a bill to abolish the plural voting system, under which some property-holders have as many as twenty votes in different constituencies. The electors are by non-resident property voters and always turned to the Tory side.

Then there is the land tenure bill, giving tenants some security against the rapacity of landlords and making it suitable to the tenant's labor and money. Besides, there is the trade dispute bill, which restores the law to what it was fifty years ago, when the House of Lords, acting as a judicial tribunal, held a trade union liable for the loss incurred by coal owners, owing to a strike organized by the union.

The educational bill is already lost, for compromise upon it is impossible and the lords are expected to reject it off-hand the plural voting and land tenure bills. But it is believed that they are hesitating about throwing the trade dispute bill, because they are afraid of provoking the trades unions to throw their whole weight into the scale against them in the approaching struggle.

The Government does not propose to appeal immediately to the country, but will keep on sending bills to the House of Lords, compelling that chamber to fill the cup of its misdeeds, and then when there is a great accumulation of rejected popular measures, to start a campaign for abolishing the lords. It is now considered that this to victory and the Liberal party has yet to find the man, for the occasion is fast ripening.

FREDERICK AT BERLIN

Kaiser Turns Out the Entire Garrison in His Honor.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—King Frederick and Queen Alexandra of Denmark arrived here today from Copenhagen, paying their first official visit after their ascension to the throne. They were welcomed at the railroad station by Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria. The streets through which the royal party passed were guarded by the corps of honor of the part of the Emperor. The burgomaster welcomed the visitors at the Brundage gate, the king replying to the civic address with a speech of over five minutes. The third carriage of the royal party contained Count Raben Lovetzu, and Countess Lovetzu, formerly Miss Moulton, of Boston, who carried her right arm in a sling. The bones of her hand were broken when she was thrown from her horse in a riding accident at Copenhagen on Friday last. The countess was especially included in the Emperor's invitation. The Danish king and queen will leave Berlin Tuesday night.

RICH GEMS TAKE WINGS

Pendant of the Duchess of Roxburghe Disappears.

London, Nov. 19.—Much mystery surrounds the loss by the Duchess of Roxburghe, who was Miss May Golet, of New York, of a beautiful turquoise and diamond pendant, which she prized more than any other of her jewels. It disappeared at Floors Castle, it is rumored, while a fashionable party was being entertained there. The sensational developments are hinted at. The pendant contains a gigantic turquoise brought for her from Persia. Whether the gem was insured is not known.

MANTLE COSTS $200,000

Crown Princess of Germany Spends Fortune for Rare Furs.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Crown Princess Cecile of Germany, whom her mother, Grand Duchess Anastasia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, dressed most simply, is fast becoming the leader of fashion, and has an especial fondness for fine furs. A St. Petersburg furrier recently sent her a sable mantle, trimmed with ermine, for which the crown prince must pay $200,000. It is elaborated the most perfect Siberian skins. Only the Czarina has a more costly sable mantle. That was the Czar's gift on the birth of their son, and cost $350,000. The crown princess is developing a pretty taste in hats, too. Most of her hats are made from her own designs. Her milliners destroy the models.

A TERRORIST RAID.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Nov. 19.—A daring terrorist attack was made in the streets today on a collector of the Government alcohol stores, who was escorted by two soldiers. The terrorists killed one soldier, wounded the collector, and seized a bag containing $1,000. The remaining soldier fired wildly, killed a passerby, and landed another, whereupon the terrorists dropped their booty and escaped. They belong to the Polish Socialistic party.

A SYNDICATE OF THIEVES

Has Headquarters in Argentine, and Operates in French Capital.

Paris, Nov. 18.—Several members of a gang of international thieves, whose headquarters have been in the Argentine Republic, but whose operations have been confined chiefly to Europe, have been captured by the Paris police. The gang carried out a series of burglaries in France, and succeeded in escaping with the booty. They also, it is said, paid professional visits to London and Berlin.

Quite recently the Paris police received word that this gang was en route, via principally of Italians, was sending a fresh delegation to Europe in order to effect further robberies. Three of the suspects landed at Havre and took a train to Paris. In the capital the detectives did not lose sight of them for a moment. The leader took rooms at the Grand Hotel, where he posed as a wealthy South American merchant.

The other evening three of the new arrivals broke into the bookshop of M. Flammarion, in the Boulevard St. Martin, and attempted to open the safe with dynamite. The noise of the explosion awakened the landlady, who called the police, only to be arrested by the detectives who were awaiting them outside. They left behind a complete burglar's outfit, with the latest appliances for safe-smashing, including a powerful electric saw operated by electricity, and a number of dynamite cartridges. Three supposed accomplices, two men and a woman, have since been arrested.

One of the men concerned in the robbery of a valuable gold watch set with diamonds. This was stolen two years ago from a jeweler's shop at Montmartre. Half a dozen big Paris burglaries are believed to have been carried out within the last three years by the members of the same organization.

PLOT TO RAID REICHSTAG

German Women May Emulate Their Sisters in England.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—While their British sisters are languishing in prison for disturbing the peace of the House of Commons, the German suffragettes are considering the question of emulating their martyrdom by "storming" the Reichstag.

Statements to this effect were made today by Frau Minna Cauer, president of the "Frauenwohl," the leading suffragette organization in the Fatherland. Frau Cauer has written to Mrs. Montefiore for an authentic account of the London suffragettes' experiences.

If a sufficient number of representative German women will agree to follow her, she is ready to scale the heights of the Kaiser's parliamentary citadel at the earliest possible moment. Frau Cauer, who glories in the fact that she has frequently been fond of asserting women's rights, said: "Something heroic is necessary to call attention to the slavish condition of German women, and the authorities would probably hesitate to imprison us, because they realize that such imprisonment of a number of society women, not even guilty of the crime of being socialists, would evoke a wave of condemnation through the country."

"At the recent meeting of the women's congress at Mannheim I said we should never secure our rights until we had followed the courageous example of our English sisters in the House of Commons. Although the suggestion was made half jokingly, it aroused the wildest enthusiasm."

The chief German suffragette, and vice-president of the International Suffrage Alliance, Dr. Anita Augspurg, is looking forward to three months' martyrdom in jail for libeling the police in a newspaper article in connection with last year's riots at Hamburg. The trial comes up on Nov. 19, and the woman will conduct her own defense.

CUSTOM CLERKS ORGANIZE

Form Association to Press for Their Rights—Want Bigger Salaries.

Representatives from the different parts of entry in the Province met at the Waldorf Hotel, Hamilton, on Saturday, and agreed to ask the Government to raise the minimum salary of custom clerks from $600 to $900 a year, with a maximum of $1,200. It was also agreed to form a custom clerks' benefit association to press for their rights.

The following officers were elected: J. A. Smith, collector at Windsor, president; J. Patterson, Bridgeburg, secretary; Robert Colvin, Hamilton, treasurer.

Delegates will be named in a short time to wait upon the minister of customs.

Messrs. B. C. McCann and John Talbot represented the staff of the local custom house.

WILL USE THE PAPYRUS

If All Goes Well, the Hated Paper Trust May Go Hang.

London, Nov. 19.—Reviving a thousand-year-old industry, a band of capitalists and scientists of England are going to introduce a formidable competition into the papermaking of both the United States and this country. These men won't care whether the forests of the world are in the hands of a paper trust or not; for they are going to manufacture news and books as well as wall paper and kindred articles out of papyrus.

The papyrus farms will be in Egypt. The cultivation of this plant has been extinct for over 1,000 years. The papyrus reeds, at first, will be brought to England and made into pulp in an English mill until sufficient trade has been worked up. Then the papyrus syndicate will build its own mills in Egypt and ship the pulp.

H. E. Winter, secretary of the newly-informed paper syndicate, in an interview gave many interesting details.

"Twenty million dollars' worth of paper alone is made in England annually. We shall produce a better quality of paper and sell it at a much cheaper price. The present source of supply for the paper trade are being used up rapidly. Only recently Norway had to legislate to prevent the depletion of its forests. Canada and the United States will soon follow suit."

"We have now an immense tract of land situated on the Nile in Egypt, C. B. Clarke, the botanical expert of Kew Gardens, has certified that our plants are the real papyrus. After exhaustive experiments, Dr. Querin Weitz, consulting chemist and analyst to the Papermakers' Association of Great Britain, has produced the most admirable pulp."

"We will begin the manufacture of paper in the spring when we will have 100,000 tons of papyrus ready for the market. Experiments have proved that the yield of papyrus pulp, after bleaching, is much larger than esparto pulp and exceedingly strong."

If a sufficient number of all the things now being made out of paper. Our proposition is one which will mark a tremendous revolution in the paper trade."

McGILL WANTS A MILLION.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—McGill University modestly asks her friends to contribute $1,000,000 to her endowment fund. It is 25 years since she made her last appeal, and gives her reason for the present one as the growth of every department of the university. Her annual expenditure is now $400,000, and the students' fees make up only $150,000. Mr. Robert Reformer proposed $50,000 if the million be raised within the year.

Originally the word "impertinent" signified merely "not belonging to." When Wycliffe said that there were many men in this world who were "impertinent to earthly lords," he did not mean that they were "cheeky," but merely that they had no masters. Then, as used by Shakespeare, "impertinent" came to mean "irrelevant." Just 200 years ago it was defined as signifying "absurd, silly, idle."

JUBILEE SINGERS AT MEN'S MEETING

Anniversary Celebrated in Two Edifices Yesterday—Notes of the Churches.

Yesterday's men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium was the most interesting of the season, especially to those who love good singing. The American Jubilee Singers, whose fame as a musical organization is world-wide, were present, and rendered several selections, chiefly old hymns. Rev. James Livingstone was the speaker, and his address to men was excellent. He commenced by saying that what God calls for is manly men. He told of his early life, when he had the idea that the most manly thing in all the world was to be able to protect himself against other boys—to be able to take off his coat and thrash any boy who would insult him. He used to take great pride in the art of self-defense, and took lessons in boxing. Then one day a great change came over him, and he began to see that what really made a man manly was to be able to withstand all things for Christ—to be able to take insults and all manner of abuse to further God's great end. "The greatest fight in which man can engage is to endure for Christ," said Mr. Livingstone.

Speaking of the false idea of true Christianity which exists among some men, Mr. Livingstone said that he once used to sing with great gusto a hymn with the words, "I want to be an angel," but now he looked upon such a wish as being perfectly ridiculous, for if the conception we have of an angel is correct, surely every sane and strong man would far sooner be a true, manly and godly man, walking uprightly in the sight of his God, than be an angel. He then went on to say that it was a great thing for a man to be able to say that God had saved him to the uttermost, but it was a far greater thing to be able to say that a man has raised a large family of boys and girls and that none of them could ever say that they saw him drink a glass of intoxicating liquor, heard him utter a vile or profane word, or use any form of tobacco.

"When we stand before the great white throne, to give an account of our lives to God, then we will all want to be noble and redeemed men," said Mr. Livingstone.

Sunday school anniversary services were held in the Wellington Street Methodist Church yesterday, Rev. S. L. W. Harton, of Toronto, addressed the children in the morning, his theme being "The Garden of the Soul." He made use of small models and other paraphernalia to illustrate to the children the ideas which he wished to convey.

The following speakers addressed the afternoon session of the Sunday school: Mr. Potts, Mr. Mahon and Rev. Mr. Harton. Rev. Mr. Harton preached in the evening, taking as his subject, "His Word is a Lamp unto my Feet and a Light unto my Path."

At the York Street Mission yesterday special anniversary services were held. Rev. James Livingstone, of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, preached in the evening on "Only a Step." Ald. Matthews presided. The musical part of the programme was a special feature, and the numbers being "No Room in the Inn," by Master Haddon.

On Tuesday, Nov. 27, Rev. James Livingstone will deliver a lecture on "The Human Voice," in the First Methodist Church.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. Ross preached on "The History of the Roman People." He pointed out that the term "common people" was often used disparagingly, whereas it is really a term of great honor, as the common people give any nation its stability.

The pulpit of Chalmers Church was occupied by Evangelist Belcher yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. Walter Moffat, being ill.

Rev. Hector McKay, of London Junction, preached at both services yesterday in the Presbyterian Church, Ingersoll.

At St. Luke's Church at Broughdale last night Rev. Dyson Hague preached on "Jesus Christ, His Career and Character."

Bishop Mills, of Kingston, occupied the pulpit at St. James' Church, South London, yesterday morning.

Mr. Henry K. Jordan, of Brantford, officiated at the organ in the First Methodist Church, yesterday, in the absence of his brother, Mr. A. D. Jordan, who was playing in Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh. Mr. Francis Firth, of New York, sang "O Father, Hear Me," in the evening, while in the morning Mr. Alfred Dunn sang "The Plains of Peace."

A statement of nineteen articles prepared by the sub-committee on doctrine of the church union committee is to be discussed by Rev. W. J. Clark in 1907. Mr. Robert Reformer proposed $50,000 if the million be raised within the year.

Originally the word "impertinent" signified merely "not belonging to." When Wycliffe said that there were many men in this world who were "impertinent to earthly lords," he did not mean that they were "cheeky," but merely that they had no masters. Then, as used by Shakespeare, "impertinent" came to mean "irrelevant." Just 200 years ago it was defined as signifying "absurd, silly, idle."

British Registers Can Refuse to Accept Ridiculous Names.

London, Nov. 17.—The public has been surprised to learn that a British parent has not absolute freedom in the choice of a name for his own child. A father who went to the registrar's office one day this week to register a baby girl told the registrar that the name was Coralie. He was astonished when the registrar refused to enter it, on the ground that there was no such name as Coralie.

The father was reluctantly compelled to choose another name. This act of the registrar was a little too officious and can be remedied by the payment of a small fee, but the incident has elicited the fact that registrars have

TO SUPPLY LONDON WITH ELECTRICITY

Object Is to Head Off Trust and Fix Reasonable Rates to the Consumers.

London, Nov. 18.—A great anti-trust move is proposed by the London county council, which, if it can obtain the consent of parliament, is going to spend $20,250,000 on a huge scheme for supplying London and the surrounding country with electricity. This would kill the threatened formation of a trust, which is looming ahead with its inevitable accompaniment of increased rates.

It is proposed to cover an area of 451 square miles, comprising the County of London and parts of Middlesex, Essex, Kent and Surrey with the council's system. A great central generating station will be built on the banks of the Thames below the city at a cost of $7,000,000, and the other $13,250,000 will be spent on the transmission and distribution of the power.

The majority in the London county council is Progressive (Municipal Socialist), and the scheme is opposed by the Moderates (Conservatives), on the council, who favor another scheme for leasing the right to supply the whole London district with electricity to a corporation. In other words, the Moderates are backing the trust proposition.

Their corporation would simply be the controlling center, which would combine all the existing electricity corporations in London, eliminate competition, regulate wages, and fix the rates to consumers at its own figure.

London hopes to be saved from the clutches of an electricity trust by the bold schemes of the county council. The proposal, although it came late, was made a prominent issue in the London municipal elections, and gaining the Progressives, who were defeated with a landslide, many votes.

If the council does not take up the control of the electricity supply, it will fall into the hands of the trust, which, after running it for some years, will sell it back to the council at a huge profit.

The parliamentary committee which considered the question of London's electricity supply last session decided that it was desirable that the council should have control of the whole undertaking, and the big Liberal majority in the Commons, which is opposed to the trust interest, is certain to carry the scheme through. The only thing the bill will have to fear then is the House of Lords, which has already attempted to wreck some of the council's improvement schemes.

In 1910, if the scheme goes through, the first two sections of the generating station will be working, and a great impetus will be given to the industries of London by a cheap and plentiful supply of power. The council is confident that the revenue derived from the undertaking will be more than sufficient to cover the expenditure, including the charges for sinking fund, and interest on capital, so that the council's successful street car and other undertakings are likely to be followed by another great object lesson in municipal ownership.
