Fires Sweep Large Timber Areas In British Columbia

THOUSANDS OF ACRES ARE AFIRE ON COAST

Large Crew of Fire Fighters Fails To Obtain Control.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Blaze Spreads Southerly, Fan-wise, Over 12,000 Acres.

Canadian Press Despatch. Vancouver, B. C., July 8.—Thousands of acres of logged-over and timberland in the southern British Columbia coast district are ablaze. The fire at Rock Bay, Vancouver Island, out of control, has spread southerly, fan-wise, over 12,000 acres. A slight improvement followed an hour and a half rain on Saturday evening, but the fall was not enough to enable the large crew of fire fighters to obtain control.

Several fires, covering in the aggregate 300 acres or more, are burning near Jordan River, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, near Soke Harbor. The fires are confined to slashing and burned-over ground. Two serious fires, both out of control, are burning at Cranberry Lake, near Myrtle Point, and on the Cowichan Lake road, Vancouver Island. Each fire extends over from 4,000 to 5,000 acres.

PREMIER DENIES TITLES ARE TO BE ABOLISHED

Titchfield Suggests MacDonald Is Being Pestered by Labor For Honors.

Associated Press Despatch. London, July 8.—Premier MacDonald stated in the House of Commons last night that the government had not considered the question of abolishing titles in Great Britain.

T. Johnston, Labor member for Stirling and Clackmannan, ironically suggested that it would be grossly unfair to those persons who had paid for titles by contributions to party funds if the conferring of titles were to be abolished.

Lord Titchfield, Conservative member for the Newark division of Nottingham, asked: "Will it also be taken into consideration that the premier's life is being made miserable by the members behind him (meaning the Labor members) clamoring for titles?"

This sally was greeted with laughter.

WINDSOR AUDITOR DIES IN GARAGE

Body of Missing Official Is Discovered at Wheel of His Own Car.

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, July 8.—Sitting at the wheel of his car at the garage at the rear of his home the body of Frederick J. Holton, Windsor city auditor, was found shortly after noon today by Mayor Frank J. Mitchell and Mrs. Mary E. Fotheringham, an official of the city clerk's department. Mr. Holton had been missing since Sunday night, and it was known that he had been in a nervous and depressed condition for several days previous. It was feared that he had committed suicide by drowning but the discovery of the body today discounts that theory.

Dr. H. Crasswell, the coroner, was called and has not yet decided as to the cause of death. It is believed, however, that Mr. Holton either dropped dead in a heart attack or was overcome by the fumes from his car in the closed garage.

Mayor Mitchell and Mrs. Fotheringham went to the house today and the mayor, while engaged in conversation with Mr. Holton's housekeeper, the back door, suggested to Mrs. Fotheringham that she look into the garage. Opening the door, she immediately saw the body sitting at the wheel of the car.

FOUR-MILE HYDRO SPAN WILL CROSS STRAITS

Italian Plan To Supply Sicily With Power Is Told World Conference.

Associated Press Despatch. London, July 8.—Among the numerous plans outlined before the world power conference for establishing super-power systems in Scandinavia, Holland and Italy was the rather startling announcement yesterday by Prof. Duido Semenza that Italy proposes to send electric power into Sicily by means of a four-mile long span across the Strait of Messina.

Prof. Semenza explained that the sea currents in the strait are so strong that submarine cables are impracticable while earthquakes make tunneling useless. The overhead span, he said, was the only practical method of delivering the power.

W. S. Murray of New York, told the conference that the super-power system is gradually taking shape in the northeastern section of the United States and when fully developed will save the nation $500,000,000 yearly.

FARMERS ARE WORRIED CONCERNING HAY CROP

Farmers with large hay crops are becoming anxious as to the vagaries of the weatherman. Haying should be pretty well on the way next week. In fact, a number of Middlesex farmers stated their crops are ready for the mower right now, but they are afraid of rain.

Some hay has been cut, and farmers are having great difficulty in curing it, while others have given it up for rot down for fertilizer.

Nine Structures Are To Be Removed—Bought by Salvage Company.

STARTED TODAY

Five Will Be Left For Training Quarters and Rooms.

With the passing of the nine big demobilization buildings on Carling Heights, another chapter of the great war will be written off. The work of tearing down the large two-story wooden buildings erected in 1918 for the demobilization of overseas troops and the details in connection with that work will start today.

The buildings were used as ordnance stores, barracks for the Princess Patricia Light Infantry, the Royal Canadian Regiment, and later as quarters for soldiers and their families.

One of the barrack buildings burned down a year ago, but although the frame buildings were considered dangerous in event of fires, special fire escapes in the form of gravity shoots were made on the outside of the buildings and soldiers' families continued to reside there until this spring.

All the buildings will go with the exception of two of the large buildings done small one south of Ratcliffe street. On the north side of the street two small ones will remain. The large buildings will be used for winter training quarters, and the small ones for the housing of soldier families.

It is estimated that there are 1,000,000 feet of lumber in the nine buildings. The barracks were bought by the Mercantile Salvage Company. The firm proposes putting a gang of 25 men on the work of tearing down the buildings.

The lumber will all be marketable as the buildings were made of No. 1 stock, and were new six years ago. There will be enough lumber salvaged to build 400 houses.

Besides the wood, there will be 200,000 feet of marketable heavy-board, and 600 doors and windows.

E. Matthews of the Mercantile Salvage Company stated today that the company had bought the buildings outright, and they would probably occupy four or five months completing the work of salvaging the lumber.

BRILLIANT FINISH

Coaffee and Hester, Canadian Cracks, Qualify in the 200 Metres.

Associated Press Despatch. Olympic Stadium, Colombes, France, July 8.—Great Britain conquered the U. S. A. in the feature event of the Olympic games for the second straight day, when D. G. A. Lowe, team mate of Harold Abrahams, winner of the 100 metres yesterday, led a brilliant field to the finish in the 800-metre final event this afternoon. It was the team work of the Britons that gave them the victory, for H. B. Stullard, the favorite, set a terrific pace for three-quarters of the way, when Lowe came through with a burst and broke the tape only a half-second slower than the time of Meredith's world record.

Two Canadians, Coaffee and Hester, qualified for the semi-finals of the 200-metre event. Cyril Coaffee is Western Canada's Olympic sprinting star. He ran second in the qualifying heat, being beaten to the tape by Bayes Norton of the United States. The time of the heat was 21 4-5 seconds.

Muir's Fate To Be Known Tomorrow.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Ont., July 8.—The decision of the government in the case of Walter Muir, sentenced to be executed at Valleyfield on Friday next, will not be announced until tomorrow. It is stated, however, that the decision has been made and that it is against commutation, unless there is further review of the case. While the government has received communications pressing for commutation, strong representations in opposition have also been received.

CHARGE WEMBLEY 'COWBOYS' WITH CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Court Dismisses Summonses Issued Against Rodeo Promoters.

SOCIETY SCORED

Press Says Humane Organization Should Have Withdrawn Prosecution.

Associated Press Despatch. London, July 8.—While the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals admittedly has done noble work during its long existence, it certainly has gone against public opinion in pursuing the prosecution of the promoters of the rodeo performances at Wembley.

When the steer-roping feature of the rodeo proved antagonistic to the English ideas of sport it was promptly withdrawn from the rodeo program, and the press critics say that in consequence of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals ought to have withdrawn its prosecution of the rodeo people just as promptly.

Even staid newspapers, that are strongly identified with humanitarian movements, readily admit that the rodeo has made a good show. At the same time, some doubts are expressed as to the rodeo being likely to prove perennially popular here, not because of any suspicion of ill-treatment of the animals used in connection therewith but because the show, after being seen once, is inclined to be rather tame.

LIFE-SAVING MEDALS SOON TO BE PRESENTED

The medals bear the crest and motto of the city on one side and the name of the recipient on the reverse, together with a sentence stating that they are presented by the city for the work of the owner in life-saving.

SMITH FIRST IN VOTE FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDACY

Continues To Hold His Lead Over McAdoo This Morning.

RALSTON GAINS

Ninetieth Ballot Shows Third Candidate Bringing Large Vote.

Associated Press Despatch. Madison Square Garden, N.Y., July 8.—With the McAdoo strength hammered to a new low level, and Smith about holding his own, the Democratic national convention today lifted Senator Ralston of Indiana to a new point of vantage, in the balloting for a presidential nominee.

On the 90th ballot Ralston rolled up a vote higher than had been attained by another candidate except the two leaders—Oklahoma, Nevada, and Missouri all went solidly for Ralston on this vote.

The result of the 90th ballot follows: McAdoo 314; Smith 357 1-2; Davis W. Virginia 431-2; Underwood 421-2; Glass 301-2; Ralston 131-2; Robinson 20; Ritchie 161-2; Davis of Kansas 20; Walsh 5; Saulsbury 6; Meredith 25; Bryan 15; Daniels 19; total 1,096, absent 2.

This was a gain of 59 and another new record for Ralston. Smith and Davis were unchanged. McAdoo lost four and a half and Glass 36. Robinson 20; Ritchie 161-2; Davis of Kansas 20; Walsh 5; Saulsbury 6; Cummings 812; Meredith 26; Bryan 8; total 1,096, absent two.

The leaders stood this way on the 88th ballot: Smith, 362; McAdoo, 315.5; Ralston, 98; Glass, 65.5; Davis, 53.5.

This was a gain of half a vote for Smith, a loss of eighteen for McAdoo, a gain of two, and a new high record for Ralston. Glass lost four and a half, and Davis seven.

On the 89th ballot the leaders stood as follows: Smith, 367; McAdoo, 315.5; Ralston, 100.5; Glass, 65.5; Davis, 53.5.

This was a loss of five for Smith a gain of three for McAdoo, a gain of one and a half for Ralston, with total 1,096, absent two.

THORNTON OFFERS TO CUT $2,000 OF SALARY

Bureau of Statistics Shows C. N. R. Has Operating Surplus of $3,811,135.

C. P. R. FIGURES

Government Department Shows Standing of Railway For Past Months.

Special To The Advertiser.

Montreal, July 8.—The amount which Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., is willing to cut from his salary under the voluntary offer made by the higher-paid officials of the system, is estimated at $2,000. Sir Henry's salary is $50,000 a year.

There is a likelihood that the officers' voluntary cut will last only as long as the reduction in hours for men. Towards the end of last month the employees at the Canadian National Shops at Pointe St. Charles, St. Malo, Leaside, Stratford and London were given the alternative of a reduction in working hours or a reduction in staff. The representative of the men declared that they could not accept a reduction in working hours under their scheduled agreement with the company, and consequently an order was given for the staff to be reduced as from July 1.

Then the men at the four points, Stratford and Pointe St. Charles, asked the company to reopen the question, and they decided they would accept a reduction in working hours to three weeks a month. Leaside and Malo did not come to any decision, and steps were taken to reduce the staff for the month of July only, and the men were making a canvass to see if they would continue for the ensuing five months. Leaside and Malo have since asked to go under the reduction of working hours scheme.

PRIVATE SALARY ONLY IS BOOSTED

Officials Do Not Favor Making Judge Warner's Stipend Payable to Church.

That any salary paid by the city to Judge Warner of the juvenile court should be a straight salary payable to the judge as an individual, and not to his church, is the opinion of the mayor, Ald. Edwin Smith Ald. Douglas and other members of the council.

While the mayor and Ald. Smith believe that the extra work placed upon the juvenile court by the operations of the unmarried parents act, the deserted wife's act and the wife's maintenance act justifies the salary of $12,000 a year asked by the judge, the chairman of the finance committee believes that, as in any question of expenditures, there should be consideration of the suggestion by his committee before any action is taken by the council.

Frank McKay of the juvenile court committee is strongly in favor of granting the salary, considering Mr. Warner one of the most competent of juvenile judges in the province.

She had been working in local factories since she left home.

CROPS GROW RAPIDLY IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

All Except Late Sown Wheat Is in Shot Blade—Some Coming Into Head.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, July 8.—Growth of all crops throughout the prairie provinces has been rapid during the past week and all except late sown wheat is in shot blade, while some of the earliest is showing signs of coming into head.

Superintendent Messorio commented upon the fact that it is supposed to follow the voluntary offer of the president, Sir Henry Thornton, of the C. N. R. to accept a cut of 4 per cent in their salaries.

Asked as to whether the reductions in the salaries of London officials would amount to $40,000, Superintendent Messorio declined to venture an opinion, remarking that he did not know as yet whom it would affect, and to what extent.

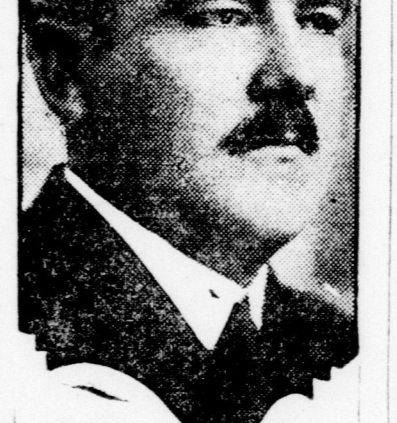

D. C. Messorio, superintendent of the C. N. R. cars, commented upon the move as "the right thing to do." He said: "I think it's nothing but right. Every body who has heard of it thinks it very fair, and considers it as a good idea and the right thing to do, the idea being that at a time when the men have to lose the officials also ought to lose."

PERMIT LAW HITS "BOOZE" DRUGGIST

Detectives Visit Stores To Discover Any Illegal Selling.

REPORT IS MADE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, July 7.—Ontario Board of License Commissioners held a special meeting today to discuss the issuing of special permits to druggists who wish to sell liquor.

No druggists will be allowed to handle alcohol without these permits, and the committee is spending the day crossing out the names of "booze druggists" from the permit list.

A special staff of detectives has been spending the last few weeks visiting drug stores in an attempt to find out whether the owners sold liquor illegally. Each time that such liquor was served to one of the detectives, a full report was handed to the Ontario License Board and his name was taken off the permit list.

This permit scheme started under the 12th section of the O. T. A. amendments, which was sent out to druggists in a circular letter some time ago.

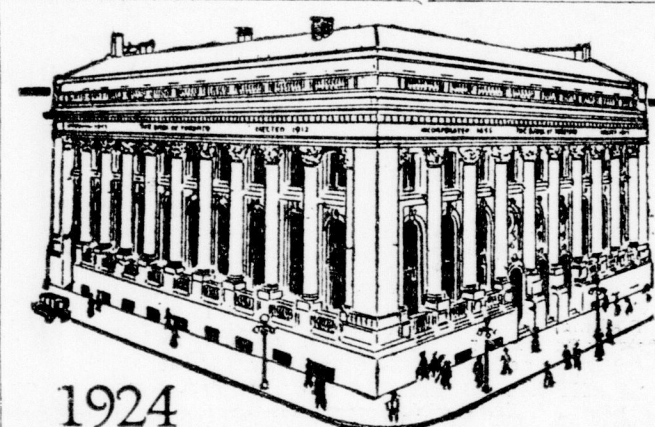

Section 12 prohibits keeping liquor for sale or selling without first having obtained a permit, and provides that every druggist must obtain from the board, and empowers the board, with the approval of the minister, to grant him a permit to keep liquor for sale and to sell liquor for strictly medicinal purposes, as provided by the act.

The permit fee is the nominal one of one dollar, so the permit is not transferable.

There are, however, many other news drawn around the sale of alcohol. Each druggist is now required to make monthly returns to the board instead of quarterly, as he did before.

QUESTION IS REFERRED TO FINANCE COMMITTEE

Move For Salary For Judge Warner Defeated After Lengthy Discussion.

DELEGATION PRESENT

Committee To Investigate Opinion in City Regarding Smaller Council.

Alderman Frank McKay's motion to grant Rev. Quintin Warner, judge of the juvenile court, a salary of $1,200, made last night in the council, was lost after some discussion, and after a large delegation of women representing the important women organizations in the city had made an eloquent plea in behalf of the motion. The question was referred to the finance committee for further consideration.

The mayor, together with Alderman Edwin Smith, were appointed to select a committee to interview the organizations in the city and find out the general reaction to Ald. Smith's proposal to reduce the number of the council from twelve to eight, and increase the term of office from one to two years. This committee will render a report on its findings before the next meeting of the council in September, which will allow the question being put to a vote of the people if the committee's report is in favor of it.

Proceed With Sewer.

By a vote of seven to five, authority was granted the city engineer to proceed with the Quebec street sewer, subject to the approval of the city treasurer, so that the debentures would be taken through the city investment. The ayes in the votes were: Aldermen Drake, Walsh, Smith, Greer, Hayden, Shaw and the mayor; the nays, Aldermen Towse, Bottrell, McKay, Anderson and Douglass.

The council agreed to the plan, suggested by the Chamber of Commerce and explained by Jared Vining, that the Thomas Adams plan of the city should be completed by Horace L. Seymour of Toronto, who, it is understood, will get the O.K. of Mr.

RALPH KEEMLE,

general manager of the Chatham, Wallaceburg and Lake Erie Railway Company, who has worked out a river diversion scheme by which he believes the level of the Great Lakes could be raised eight inches.

Adams to the plan. The chamber offered $500 towards the cost of this work.

The amendments to the market and fire bylaws were relegated to the finance committee for a later discussion and a final report to the council on the recommendation of Alderman Douglass.

Defer Action.

No action will be taken on the recommendation of Mayor Wenige that the building inspector be placed under the jurisdiction of the city engineer. This suggestion was subject to a good deal of criticism. Ald. Greer introduced a motion to the effect that no action be taken by this year's council in the matter. He was seconded by Ald. Hayden, and on a vote the council expressed agreement.

Representing such prominent organizations as the Mothers' Club, the Y. W. C. A., the W. C. T. U., the Child Welfare Association, the Mothers' Pension Board, the Women's Labor Party and the Soldiers' Aid Commission, a number of women appeared before the council in support of the request of Rev. Quintin Warner, asking for a grant of $1,200 a year to recompense his church for the time that he lost, and which he would be giving to church work but for his time spent as judge of the juvenile court.

Mrs. Rose, representing the Local Council of Women, acting as spokeswoman of the delegation, introduced the other members, including Mrs. Gen. Mrs. Graham, Mrs. White, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Roach, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Pambly.

Saved City $7,000.

These ladies pointed out the work done by the juvenile court and the fitness of Mr. Warner for the position of judge. They showed that he had saved the city over $7,000 in carrying out the provisions of the unmarried parents' act, and that the court was functioning well enough to justify the city in making the salary grant, that was asked.

Alderman Frank McKay, as a member of the court committee of the council, asked the council to recommend to the police commission that the police officers should take all juvenile offenders to the Children's Aid Shelter, when they were arrested at night, instead of ringing up the probation officer; that the use of the patrol wagon be granted for the use of adult offenders under the provisions of the act administered by the juvenile court, and that the salaries of the probation officer and the court stenographer be increased in accordance with the amounts set aside in the estimates for this purpose. The council agreed to all of these requests.

Alderman Bottrell remarked that there would soon be quite a few soft jobs at the juvenile court, and the police are doing the work anyway.

Attain Action.

The council, having refused to make the salary grant of $1,200 to the judge, Ald. McKay declared: "Well, if that's the way you look at it, the council might as well attend to all the business of the juvenile court and get rid of a committee, whose recommendations they ignore."

"This report of the committee, was only brought in and read to the council in order that the members might know the whole facts of the case. The committee is quite satisfied with its recommendations."

Mayor Wenige was strongly in favor of the proposed grant. He stated that while he had opposed the salary for the judge at the beginning of the year, the increased work attendant upon the administration of the unmarried parents' act, the deserted wife's act and the new wife maintenance act made a salary imperative for Judge Warner in justice to his congregation.

City Treasurer James Bell told the council that by waiting two months to sell the million dollars worth of city debentures yesterday he had been able to save the city about $7,000. He considered that the basis of the debentures, which is 5.22, compared very favorably indeed with Toronto at 5.33 and Hamilton at 5.29.

Chatham, July 7.—William Rankin, who left his home here 22 years ago, since which time he has never been heard of, and who for many years was thought dead, returned to the city to attend the Old Boys' Reunion. Mr. Rankin settled in Wisconsin, where he now has a prosperous business. He accidentally heard of the reunion, and thought it would be a good idea to return and surprise his relatives and friends. ## C. N. R. MAKES CUT IN MEN'S SALARIES

Notifies Toronto Offices of Four Per Cent Reduction Pending.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Ont., July 7.—Word was received in Canadian National Railway offices here Saturday that the management would welcome a volunteer offer from the better paid officials to accept a four per cent reduction in salary.

The word came in the form of a letter from the president, setting forth that a marked falling off in traffic receipts necessitated action of that character, and stating that as soon as the business improved the four per cent reduction would be wiped out.

The reduction is estimated to married men receiving more than $150 per month and single men receiving more than $100 per month.

W. A. Kingston, assistant general manager, speaking with reference to the proposal, said: "The men are taking it with a smile and I think it will be a hundred per cent effective."

Bandits Rob Boy On Way To Bank

Butcher Messenger Relieved of Master's Money.

Montreal, July 7.—Two bandits seized 13-year-old Joseph Picard, a butcher messenger, while he was on his way to the bank from his master's shop in the north end of the city today, bludgeoned him, dragged him into a nearby lane and robbed him of $87. Young Picard was so badly bruised about the head that he had to go to the hospital for treatment.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunions-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk, a. r. then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath. When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions. There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. Adv.

LINIMENT FOUND TO BE POWERFUL GERMICIDE

Originally, Absorbine Jr. was sold only as a pain reliever and an embrocation. It was quickly discovered that the liniment was positive death to all forms of germ life, and it is now used as a mouth wash, for wound dressing and for all disinfecting purposes. Another surprise was yet in store. A Wm. Pratt of Springfield, Mass., applied Absorbine Jr. to a varicose vein to relieve the intense pain. Not only did the pain leave, but he noticed every day the swollen vein becoming smaller. The treatment was kept up and, today, Mr. Pratt's legs, though he has never used anything else on them, are as smooth as when he was a boy. It has now been proved that Absorbine Jr. is an actual specific for varicose veins, leg ulcers, boils, pyorrhea and a number of other ailments and injuries besides that for which it was first prepared. Nothing serves so many every day purposes and nothing is better entitled to its place in every home. When it is needed, it will be needed in a hurry. Don't wait for someone to be hurt. Get it at your druggist today. $1.25 everywhere.

Primitive Travel
For Toronto Pair

Young Toronto Missionaries Travel Pioneer Fashion to Isolated Post.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 7.—A honeymoon unique in primitive travel is that to be taken by two young missionaries, Rev. L. Garrett and his wife, formerly Miss Mary C. Gomme, who were married at the end of last month. They will journey from Toronto to the far inland Anglican mission at Trout Lake, sailing on a trading steamer from Montreal on July 12, these missionaries will experience a voyage around the Labrador coast to Port Churchill on Hudson Bay, where they will board a schooner and for twenty-one days travel by water to Port Severn. Then, availing themselves of freighting canoes, each manned by a Canadian guide, the missionaries will paddle and portage up Severn and Trout rivers for a possible distance of 250 miles.

A Hudson Bay Company trading post, established at Trout Lake, and occupied by a manager and clerk, will provide the only white neighbors within a distance of 350 miles for the isolated mission station, which is served with only three mails a year. Here at the wilderness post these young folk will minister to a band of Cree Indians numbering 770, while Mrs. Garrett, a graduate this year of the Bible Training College, will work especially among the Indian women.

WOMEN and THE HOME

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Taking the Middle-Aged Husband Through His Second Youth Is Like Coddling a Baby Through Its Second Summer—Should She Take All She Can Get? That Tiresome Smile That Won't Come Off.

Dear Dorothy Dix—What can a wife do when she has a husband who says he still loves her and also loves another woman, and cannot decide between the two? I have always been a good wife, and my husband and I have lived a happy life together until about six months ago, when he became infatuated with this other woman. I have four dear children, and a comfortable home, and a beautiful sedan car in which I get to ride but seldom now, as the other woman is generally out in it.

In spite of the way he is doing, I adore my husband, and he assures me he loves me and begs me not to leave him, but his conduct is killing me. What shall I do?

CATHERINE.

Answer: When men get along to middle life they very frequently have a second childhood and you have to nurse them through that as you do a baby through its second summer. If you have the patience to do that, Catherine, you will get your husband back and he will come to you a chastened man, who will be under your thumb the balance of his life.

What on earth makes a good, nice, house-broken husband, who has gone along for twenty or thirty years being perfectly satisfied with his wife and his children and his home suddenly jump the bars nobody knows. Perhaps it is some sudden flare-up of youth. Perhaps it is an irresistible craving for a last bite at the forbidden apple of romance. Perhaps it is a reaction against the humdrum monotony of domestic life that drives him into a search for adventure.

Nobody knows, but now and then the most domesticated of husbands answers the call of the wild woman. Pillars of the church turn into rounders and men who have spent a lifetime as models of all the virtues turn into awful warnings of the fool that a man can make of himself at the dangerous age.

The world is full of hurt, bewildered, middle-aged wives, who ask helplessly what have they done that their Johns should have suddenly grown tired of them? And what's the matter with John, anyway, acting up the way he is doing? And the divorce courts are kept busy grinding out decrees and handing out alimony to wives who don't want either. They just want John back again as he used to be.

And a lot of misery and heartache could be saved if these women could only realize that the trouble is just temporary. It is a passing madness. John has gone on an emotional spree that he will get over if they will just give him a little time, for he really isn't in love with the other woman. She has infatuated him for the minute. She is playing up to him for all she is worth, flattering and cajoling him, and making him think he is young and fascinating, and she is robbing him with both hands and in a little while he will be sick unto death of her and yearn with all his soul for the good, faithful, clean, honest wife he has neglected for her.

I don't say that it is easy for a wife to be wise and philosophical under such circumstances. It isn't. It is as hard as death. It breaks her heart. It hurts her pride. It outrages her sense of wifely dignity, but she only makes a bad matter worse and turns the knife in her wound if she revenges herself by getting a divorce.

She breaks up her home. She sacrifices her good, comfortable living. She orphans her children and brings scars upon their name, and she herself is miserable because, with all his faults and weaknesses, she still loves John, and they have lived together too long for her to have any separate life.

So I think that nine times out of ten it is the part of wisdom for the middle-aged woman just to coddle her husband through his second summer the best way she can and wait for him to get over it. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—My father tells me to take all that I can get from the boys, but I simply refuse to do it. I do not like boys to make me presents or spend money on me. Am I right or is my father right? E. M. R.

Answer: You are right, my dear, and I should think that the young men of your acquaintance should present you with a Distinguished Service Medal or build you a monument to show their appreciation of a girl who isn't a hold-up artist. Most girls side with your father and think that it is legitimate for them to graft all they can from boys.

I think myself that there is nothing more despicable than for a girl to force a young man to spend more money on her than he can afford to do, yet it is a common custom. Girls who can walk all over town during the day have to be hauled around in taxis at night. Girls who are apparently well nourished at home can never get by a restaurant or the soda-water fountain without having to be fed again or refreshed with soft drinks. Girls who go into the peanut gallery when they pay their own way in a theatre can never sit in anything but an orchestra seat when a boy foots the bill.

And the way they hint! They never leave a boy in doubt as to the flowers they like or a cute little piece of jewelry they have seen, and they impress on him their birthdays and suggest suitable souvenirs for the happy occasion. They can always think of somewhere to go and something to do that costs money, and they invariably order the highest-priced dishes on any menu.

Highway robbery it is. Nothing less. And it is all the more nefarious because they know to a nicety about how much the boy earns, and what it costs to live, and that when they make him buy lobster for them he has to eat crackers and milk for the balance of the week. And they don't even give the poor simp a chance to defend himself, because grafting on a boy who is in love with you is as easy as taking pennies from a blind boy.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Does a boy like to have a girl show her love for him? Do too many smiles vex a man? IDA LIKETA KNOW.

Answer: Depends on the boy, my dear. It encourages a timid man for a girl to show her preference for him. It pleases a vain man for a girl to show that she thinks he is it. It convinces him that she is a person of good judgment and discernment and good taste.

As for the smiling, I should never recommend any girl to wear the smile that won't come off. Nothing is so ineane as a fixed grin, nor is anyone so tiresome as the Pollyannas who always think everything is all right whether it is all wrong or not. DOROTHY DIX.

PREMIER LEAVES TO MEET HERRIOT

Although Not Well Enough
To Travel, Ramsay Mac-Donald Makes Trip.

ARRIVES IN PARIS

Associated Press Despatch.
London, July 8.—Premier MacDonald, accompanied by two secretaries and Sir Eyre Crowe, permanent under secretary of the foreign office, left for Paris this morning for his conference with Premier Herriot. Prior to his departure Mr. MacDonald talked with the newspapermen regarding his visit, which he said must be taken as evidence of his earnest desire for a settlement of any misunderstandings which may have existed between Great Britain and France.

If additional evidence of this were required it could be seen in the state of his health, the premier said, as he was not fit to travel. He looked worn and ill, showing distinctly the effects of the attack of bronchitis contracted during his recent Welsh tour.

The premier plans to go to the British embassy on his arrival in Paris and then to confer with M. Herriot. The time of his return is somewhat uncertain, depending largely on what happens, but he said it was necessary for him to be in London for the meeting of the House of Commons on Thursday.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, July 8.—Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain arrived here at 4:10 o'clock this afternoon and found the stage set for Premier Herriot's last attempt to save the inter-allied conference, planned to take place at London July 16, from the opposition of the French to the furtherance of the Herriot-MacDonald peace plan.

The French Senate paved the way for the meeting between the two premiers, at which M. Herriot hopes to smooth out the difficulties which have arisen, by granting the French premier's request for a postponement of the proposed interpellations until Thursday.

Mr. MacDonald looked tired and worn when he arrived at the railway station. M. Herriot, who had been waiting for him, met him at the station and he was two minutes late, the British premier being greeted by Minister of Finance Clemenceau, M. Israel, representing the premier, M. Herriot, and M. L. Dorey, where they began their conference.

NEW SEWER CLEANER IS WELCOME ASSET

Turbine Machine Especially Efficient Here. Official Points Out.

A wet summer like this is trying for a city engineer's department. It is also a most trying time for drain and sewer men in the district where there is a sandy subsoil the drains are apt to fill up and the city engineer is kept busy cleaning them. City Engineer, who has at last got the sewer cleaning machine that he has been trying to get from the manufacturers for some time that will save half the time of the present operation of cleaning a clogged drain, and do the job better and more thoroughly.

This is the pneumatic turbine cleaner and is a machine with rotating knives, which proceeds along a drain and cuts out the dirt, twigs and roots that are in the drain. It is operated by a water turbine, that turns the knives and also washes the refuse away ahead of the knives. It can be made to clean a drain from four inches to a foot, and the engineer hopes to have it working tomorrow on some of the drains most badly clogged.

After they had the wheels jacked up they found out that the front wheel was connected with the front wheel so they declared a tie.

SMITH HOLDS LEAD IN DEMOCRATIC FIGHT

Glass unchanged, and Davis gaining five. The result of the 32nd ballot: McAdoo 310, Smith 355, Davis of West Virginia 634, Underwood 454, Ralston 1964, Glass 245, Robinson 20, Ritchie 154, Walsh 45, Salsbury 6, Cummings 84, Houston 2, Meredith 26, Bryan 8, Callahan 1. Total 1,096.

On the 33rd ballot the leaders stood this way: Smith 355, McAdoo 314, Ralston 196, Davis 68.

Associated Press Despatch.
Madison Square Garden, New York, July 7.—Charging down on the McAdoo lines with a new ferocity, the coalition forces in the Democratic national convention tonight swept the McAdoo votes down to their lowest point. Governor Smith, for the first time, took the lead over Mr. McAdoo and reduced his opponent to a point where he had lost his power of a one-third vote over the selection of a candidate.

Then, when the coalition forces were riding on the crest of the wave, they got an adjournment of the convention until tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The convention actually adjourned as a mark of sympathy and respect for President and Mrs. Coolidge on the death of their son, but before the word of the president's son was received the managers of the coalition forces had planned the adjournment at high water mark.

RAIDS CARRIED OUT.
The smashing attack on the McAdoo lines was accompanied with raids for Ralston and for Glass. The attackers took back trophies for each.

The night session of the convention had opened with advance announcements of a raid on the McAdoo forces, but the raid was no indication of how far they would go. The word had gone out that the coalition forces were going to give "a ride." In convention parlance, this was taken, and he was standing 1964 votes lower than his high mark. He was exactly 98 votes lower than his first ballot in the convention two weeks ago.

Governor Smith, throughout the whole day's operations held his place with little fluctuations. On the last ballot Saturday he had 367 votes, and on the 32nd ballot with 338, which was two more than he needed to maintain a one-third vote.

Smith Ousts McAdoo.
As the balloting closed tonight Governor Smith was short of the veto power. When he was driven from his position from point of vantage and passed him in the voting.

During the day Mr. McAdoo had lost Mississippi, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma and Nevada. They did not all go to his opponent, to be sure, but they went out of his column.

Senator Ralston, after having formally withdrawn his name from the convention last Friday, found himself in the last position of all the fourteen minority candidates as a result of today's balloting. After his withdrawal he had continued to receive scattering votes from the 44th to the 51st ballots. On the 51st he had received only 46, but on the four succeeding ballots, after losing his name back in the voting, his total shot up to 22, only four less than his previous high mark of last Thursday.

The drive today really opened with a smash for Carter Glass, who had started the day's voting with 21 votes without some of those from his home state, and had jumped to 68 votes on the 50th ballot. He closed the balloting tonight with 71. His high mark for the day was 78.

day and night. He started with 73 1/2 and finished with 66 1/2.

Just before the convention adjourned tonight, Senator A. A. Jones of New Mexico, introduced and asked to have it on the table for consideration tomorrow, a resolution providing for a conference of delegates comparable to the conference of "bosses" which took place Sunday. He proposed to have each delegation represented by one man, clothed by voting power comparable to the strength of his delegation in the convention, to discuss a way out of the deadlock, possibly even suggesting a slate for the consideration of the convention.

The first slide of the evening was Indiana going back to Senator Ralston. He had a lead of 170 votes. In addition to that, Florida had given the Indiana senator two and Illinois had given him two also.

Michigan then threw in twenty to Ralston and gave ten to Smith. The vote had hitherto been scattered.

The service at the grave was conducted by H. L. Weber of St. Philip's Church, Chicago, a friend of the family. Interment was made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

One of the popular summer recreation spots for city children is the public library. Upwards of 150 youngsters spend their mornings and afternoons of the holidays in the cool and quiet surroundings of the room that holds so many volumes of romance and adventure.

Boys come and spend the entire day poring over stamp catalogues. Some bring their albums to the standards of authorities on those works. Hobby books are also in great demand.

The little girls go to the library, and there curl up in a quiet corner to read fairy tales, the adventures of the brownies, and hosts of other pretty stories that delight the fancies of the young.

TREASURER JAMES BELL
EXPLAINS BALANCE DELAY

City Treasurer James Bell says that the reason the trial balances have not been made up by his department and forwarded to the city auditor as yet is that a change in auditor means a certain delay in the operations of a treasury department, but that as soon as the new auditor gets settled and fully acquainted with the work of the city there will be no more delays. He explains that this delay is unavoidable, and that it is always a concomitant of a change in department where there is so much detailed knowledge to acquire.

SCHOOL HYDRO SYSTEM

The hydro power and lighting system at the Technical High School is under probe and will be brought up at the September meeting of the board of trustees. Under the new rates an increase of 10 per cent might be necessary if the present system at the school were maintained.

CROP PROSPECTS

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, July 7.—Ald. William Rea of Edmonton, Alberta, who is the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. R. Small, West Gore street, declares that the talk of secession reported in the West is very much overrated. Only a few radicals, with no influence, were advocating it, he said. There was, however, a general desire for lower freight rates. Indications are that there will be a large crop in 1924, and if such is the case the country will be wonderfully advanced, said the visitor.

Fields, president of the Canadian Oil Fields, and witnessed the drilling on a second well there.

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1924.

A Farmer's One Source of Income.

"A Farmer's Strike." Something that the theorist has often talked about as something that might come to pass—but it has remained for W. O. Galloway, director of statistics for the Ontario government, to announce that something approaching it is taking place in Ontario.

Mr. Galloway's position makes it his business to keep records of the acreage of crops, the number of cattle kept, etc., on the farms of Ontario.

Looking over his figures he finds that in 1923 there was a decrease in the production of fall and winter wheat, oats and rye. Reports coming to him also state that in some sections farmers "are deliberately depreciating the values of their farms by neglecting improvements."

So the farmers have gone on strike, at least that is the deduction from the Toronto office.

Look at it from another angle. Suppose that in every town and city a factory were to be started to manufacture boots, and all these places worked early and late turning out boots. What would happen? There would be so many boots on the market that the makers would have to sell them for what they could get. If one maker said it cost him $2 to turn out a pair, therefore he must sell for $2.50 to make a profit, the public would answer, "We can buy all we want at $1.50." What then? A number of these places would have to go out of business. They would be starved out. But this going out for that reason would hardly be referred to as a strike.

If farmers grow less wheat, oats and rye in 1923 than the preceding year, the reason is very evident. They produced less because they could make no money in these crops. There was so much of these grains grown, and in the market, that the price sagged to a point that was below the cost of production, and in such a condition a farmer is no more justified in keeping up production than a shoe factory would be in continuing to pour out its goods on an already glutted market.

The charge that in some districts farmers "are deliberately depreciating the values of their farms by neglecting improvements" is a statement that shows a lack of knowledge of farm conditions in Ontario today.

A farmer's source of revenue is his farm. In very few cases is the farmer to be found in possession of any other line of revenue. He has his all tied up there. If the farm pays he has money to go ahead and make the necessary improvements; he can take care of his buildings; renew his sheds and barns, and in this way protect his initial investment.

If the income from the farm is not sufficient to do these things, then the farmer cannot make needed improvements because he has not the money to do it, nor can he go and borrow it, because people are not anxious to lend money to a man who is not making a return on his investment.

The Toronto despatch uses the word "deliberately" to describe the way in which improvements on some farms are being neglected, but that word should never have been used, and it is such an unfair description that one almost doubts if an official with any knowledge of the facts would allow it.

No man on a farm or in the city is going to deliberately depreciate the value of his property by neglecting to keep it in shape. It is against all instinct and a challenge to common sense. Farmers have enough difficulties to face today without having the charge levelled at them that they are deliberately letting their premises go to rack and ruin.

John D. Knows He's Rich.

A great many photographers and reporters wanted to see John D. Rockefeller on his eighty-fifth birthday.

There is nothing so very unusual about a man reaching that age and remaining healthy. The photographers and the scribes could have invaded any village or town in the republic and found a number who possessed the 85 years.

But no. They wanted John D. Rockefeller. It must have been because he had made more money than all the others, and it was probably the knowledge of that fact that kept John D. at home on his birthday.

After all there's not much lasting satisfaction in attracting a crowd if it has gathered to pay homage to your pocketbook.

Romance Is Not Dead.

Architecture has its romance, and this was never more strangely exemplified than in the building of the new Anglican Cathedral at Liverpool, which is to be consecrated on July 19 in the presence of the king and queen.

In size the cathedral is the third largest in the world, inferior only to St. Peter's at Rome and Seville Cathedral.

Visitors from Canada as their ship comes up the river to Liverpool will be able to see the great and masterful external. Its style is Gothic, and critics say it is the only really successful example of that school of architecture since the fifteenth century.

But there is no romance in all that. There may be accomplishment, but not romance.

It centers around the architect who submitted the plan chosen by the selection committee. After the plan had been adopted it was found that the architect was Gilbert Scott, a mere youth of 21, and a Roman Catholic. The London Daily Telegraph says that "youth meant inexperience, and his religion would be a challenge to many who were financially interested in the undertaking."

As a compromise Mr. Bodley, an experienced architect, was appointed with Mr. Scott. Mr. Bodley died in a short time, and the youthful Gilbert Scott was left alone to go ahead with the erection of what is now admitted to be one of the world's masterpieces.

Genius has triumphed over the obstacles of youth and the objections of creed.

What One Woman Did.

Mayor E. J. Brown left Seattle to attend the Democratic convention in New York, and while he was away Mrs. Henry Landes acted in the capacity of chief magistrate.

She has turned Seattle up on edge as far as civic administration is concerned. Peanut politics for a long time had Seattle well in hand, and gambling houses, dens of crime and bootlegging joints continued to do business, the explanation being made that it was impracticable to upset these places which had done their share of the work at election times, and could be counted on to do the same thing again.

Mayor Brown had no sooner got comfortably seated in the car for New York than Mrs. Landes called the chief of police and told him to clean house. The chief remonstrated, told her how foolish it was, and finally informed her she hadn't the power to do it.

Mrs. Landes, who is the wife of Dean Landes of the University of Washington, and the wife and mother of a wholesome, model home, preferred to use the old broom herself rather than listen to the chief's argument as to why the new vacuum cleaner wouldn't work.

She fired the chief, and took charge of affairs herself, and in a few hours all the dens in the city were being raided and brought to court. It was no mild measure of reproof, but a regular cyclone of moral indignation that she turned loose.

The old party bosses in Seattle are burning up the wires to urge Mayor Brown to get back quick and save their necks, but the Democratic convention is a long-drawn-out affair, and besides New York is a long way from Seattle.

Meanwhile Acting Mayor Landes has demonstrated what a silly fabric the politicians have built up, and how it can be smashed and put to rout.

Residents of Seattle who value clean, decent conditions above the clicking of a party machine have no regrets over the length to which the New York convention has been protracted. They figure if it lasts another week they will have a clean house at home.

Proof of Their Sincerity.

The offer made by officials of the Canadian National Railways to donate one day's pay per month in an effort to cut down operating expenses is a most unusual one.

On the face of it the move looks like a sincere attempt to assist the road in a very real way during one of its most difficult periods, viz., that of a great institution battling to get on its own financial feet.

Any such move among the officials, or the men lower down, must be of a purely voluntary sort, nor should there be pressure put on any employee to accept a reduction in this way that he is not able to bear.

A purely voluntary move looking to the lessening of operating expenses is a proof of sincerity and a determination to make the Canadian Nationals a financial success that cannot fail to have a very beneficial effect on the attitude of the public to the road and the men connected with it.

Note and Comment.

Those who couldn't get off to go to the Democratic convention in June or July can attend in August.

The bow-legged man who dislikes that term might feel better were he referred to as walking in parenthesis.

The summer season's on in earnest. A non-swimmer waded out so far at Port Stanley that he had to call for help.

It is with just the least bit of savage delight that Ontario reads the British Columbia papers with the sorrowful stories of 100 in the shade.

A Detroit girl of 16 has secured her second divorce. It is easy to see she was not raised in a house that had a woodshed and a family slipper.

There were so many rugs sold at Sir Henry Pellatt's Casa Loma in Toronto that the women around here are wondering what Henry used to keep the bugs out of them.

Mr. McAdoo says he would be a traitor to drop out of that Democratic race now. Mr. McAdoo feels that McAdoo ought to stay with it because Mr. McAdoo wants him to.

Fishermen caught a sturgeon six feet long in Lake Huron. The trick is all the more noteworthy when it is recalled how much harder it is to catch great big mighty fish under the O. T. A.

John Bull has so many visitors now that he can't find places for them to sleep at night. That's not like the average holiday crowd, where the problem is to get a wink of sleep in the daytime.

Union S. S. No. 6, Arthur, advertises for a teacher, stating that the salary is $900, and the average attendance 10. Some of these rural schools are taking on the symptoms of private and exclusive instruction.

Every few days in the House of Commons debates at Ottawa there appears a list of private bills, all worded the same: "Bill for the relief of John Doe." "Bill for the relief of somebody else." All of which means that there is still a bit of grit to be run through the divorce mill.

Dr. Frank Crane

IMPATIENCE.

The one quality that best marks a soldier of the ideal is patience.

Of course, he needs vision, he needs courage, he needs persistence, but all of these may easily be spoiled unless he has patience. Rabindranath Tagore says: "The power of muscle or of money has opportunities of immediate satisfaction, but the power of an ideal must have infinite patience."

The man who enlists under the banner of the ideal shall never see victory. For in idealism there is no victory, only betterment. Because ideals come to fruition by growth. The God of this world is a gardener. He is not an architect.

The idealist has become God's partner, for he has glimpsed a great truth, and every truth is a program of Deity.

God, it has been said, does not pay every Saturday night.

Hence there is no reward for the idealist, no goal, no hour of triumph.

The only reward he can have is the joy of his efforts, the thrill of self-giving, the angel's joy of knowing that the thing he champions is eternal and cannot fail.

He does not get satisfaction from arriving, but in travelling. His is "the pleasure of going on," as Tennyson says.

He is a member of no "army" that shall one day be victorious; there is no room in idealism for the army symbol. For an army exists for the purpose of gaining territory, destroying opponents or accomplishing some end of state; but idealism exists for the benefit of the people who hold them. The soldiers of an army take a city, recklessness of waste of life among the army's best men; the hosts of the ideal seek no city, only to make a better host.

Almost all great causes are stained by impatience.

Livin' On 10c a Day

Governor Milton Shaw says prisoners in Kent county jail are fed at a cost of 10 cents a day.—News Item.

Your figures make us gasp, they do, with fodder at the present rate, come tell us, Mister Governor, what was the things your trustees ate? How could you set the table there in months like April or in May, and glue the body to the soul and spend just ten cents a day?

Come tell us, Mr. Governor, let get a slate and pencil now, and write upon a dotted line the way you dish and carve the chow.

Now let us see, do you have soup, and if you have what stuff is in it, for surely you must wash the dish and skimp the makin's to the limit.

And do you give them bread to eat, and stuff 'em till they're fit to bust, and do you rap 'em on the knuckles for leavin' out a rim of crust?

Or do these erring sons of earth get puddin' for their Sunday dinner, and is there cream and cake for them who on the soup is growin' thinner?

Say, Mr. Shaw, and do you serve the grape fruit and the headcheese too, and brook trout broiled unto a turn, all smothered in a parsley stew?

Or are things plainer in the coop, and when the folks rise in the morn, do they get greeted with a roast what's been carved off up near the horn?

For we are keen to know these things and if we find just how they come, we'll treat our pen on humble fare and save more coin than yet's been done.

We'll put it down in black and white, we'll weight the mush upon the scales, and if the youngster makes a fuss and raises up his voice and wails, we'll stick our fingers in our ears nor listen to his yell of sorrow, but tell him he can't eat no more until the grub is spread thorough.

So tell us, Mr. Governor, speak up and have your little say, how do you fill the carcass up by spendin' just ten cents a day?—ARK.

Broadway of Today

(From the Chicago Evening Post)

The Christian Science Monitor, anticipating the interest in the New York Democratic convention visitors, printed a survey of Broadway from the dry standpoint in its issue of a week ago. It discloses a transformation in that famous thoroughfare. Broadway is not the soaked and sopping defiance of the Volstead law which those who would like it so have pictured it to be.

In 1914 there were 186 saloons on Broadway; today there are fifteen, and these few remaining harbors for the thirsty disguise what illicit traffic they may do under an existence as ostensible dispensers of soft drinks. Conceding that they sell beverages of more stimulating sort, it is obvious that fifteen saloons cannot approach the volume of trade once done by more than twelve times their number. In 1914 there were 60 merchandisers of bottled booze on Broadway; today there is not one openly engaged in this business.

A great building activity has marked the development of Broadway since the ban was put upon liquor. For every dispensary of wet goods from one to five new stores have appeared, engaged in legitimate trade. Banks, automobile stores, dealers in men's furnishings, fancy goods, candy and like lawful commodities have taken the place of saloons. They could not multiply profitably were not much of the money which once went over the bar now going over the counter or into savings accounts.

Press Comment

Nothing Will Be Settled.

Of course Mr. E. Guss Porter, who is about to undergo a by-election in West Hastings because of the Murdoch charges, will be re-elected seeing that the normal Conservative majority in his riding is about 1,100. And when this has been done what has been settled? Absolutely nothing.—Brantford Expositor.

Getting Properly Indexed.

A man was charged with deserting his wife, and after the evidence was in, the judge asked if it were true. "It is not, your honor," declared the man earnestly. "I am not a deserter, but a refugee."—The Argonaut.

All Ready For the Gallows.

Mr. Braman was one of the guests at a dinner followed by a musicale. The hostess had been playing on the piano. As she began another selection he leaned over to a charming young woman seated next to him and asked:

"What do you think of her execution?" The girl turned calmly and replied, coolly: "I am in favor of it!"—From an Exchange.

Changing the Road Signs.

Henry Ford has decreed that his employees go on a five-day week basis. Some 23,000 men and women are affected by this decision, which is likely to be permanent in its character. The change, it is safe to say, would not have been made at this time but for the fact that a slackening up in the automobile trade has made it possible. "On to Detroit!" is no longer the slogan of Canadians who are temporarily out of employment.—Brantford Expositor.

"Canada in the Making"

By JOHN F. SINCLAIR.

The following is one of a series of eleven articles appearing daily in The Advertiser. As a whole this series forms a remarkably penetrating and informative study of the history of Canada and the Dominion's economic and social and political problems. Where opinions on controversial matters are expressed by those of the author, John F. Sinclair, Mr. Sinclair is one of the foremost political writers on economic subjects now alive, and will be remembered by those who read his series, "Can Europe Hold Together?" published in The Advertiser several months ago.

CHAPTER 3—FROM POVERTY TO RICHES (1867 TO 1914).

The Act of Confederation had united Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in 1867. Together they had then a population of 3,500,000. Fifteen months later Prince Edward Island followed suit in 1871. Fifteen years later (1880), by an imperial order, all British possessions in North America, except Newfoundland, were annexed by Canada. In 1903 the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were organized. So the Dominion of Canada, as we now know it, began to function twenty years ago.

Twenty years of complete national life, and fifty-seven years of partial union. No country in all history can match her record in so short a time. It is the story of a national romance never duplicated, either before or since. At times the price of liberty of action came high.

This is especially true with regard to the price paid to the Hudson Bay Company for revoking its perpetual charter, which had been granted to it by King Charles II in 1670. The charter carried exclusive trading privileges in what was then known as Canada. For cancelling this charter, the government of Canada paid to the Hudson Bay Company $1,500,000 cash, and one-twentieth of all the extraordinary fertile land from the Red River of the north to the Rocky Mountains.

Of course the great war checked the advance. It delayed the movement, but it could not permanently arrest it, for back of this little nation of nine millions of people are some of the greatest natural resources of the world. She has a rich supply of them. All she needs now is people to work, and money to develop these great storehouses of wealth.

NO DOUBT ABOUT THE FUTURE.

Let us make no mistake about the future of Canada. The real wealth is there. At times there has been some confusion in the handling of this real wealth, but few Canadians even now appreciate the immense possibilities of wealth accumulation yet to be uncovered and discovered.

Take wheat, for instance. Just forty-seven years ago (1877), Manitoba sent the first carload of wheat to England. It amounted to a few thousand bushels. Not a bushel at this time had come out of the country farther west. In 1923, 215,000,000 bushels, valued at more than a quarter of a billion dollars, were shipped out of the west to foreign markets. This is the record in one of the worst years Canada has had. If we estimate the total field crops, we find that in 1923 this little nation, with a population less than that of Ohio and Illinois combined, produced wealth valued at $392,500,000 (when the average value of wheat was 87 cents per bushel) and $962,300,000 in the year 1922 (when the average value of wheat was 85 cents).

A great deal has been said about the depression which has followed the war. No nation, not even the United States, but what has suffered. No man in the United States knows what the real conditions are better than Herbert Hoover, secretary of the department of commerce. In an address to the manufacturers of the United States in the late fall of 1923, he said, with reference to Canada:

"Canada should show excellent returns for 1923, as it is probably the most prosperous country in the world. Her exchange handicap has disappeared, and we have even found it necessary to send more than $18,000,000 in gold across the border, when her funds were at a premium. The speed of Canada's recovery can be judged when it is remembered that on July 31, 1920, the exchange stood against her at $9.28."

It is almost well to remember that in estimating the conditions of a nation, not only must the debts of the nation be considered, but its growing wealth. If the wealth of a nation increases faster than the population, it is possible for a nation to increase its debt and still relatively gain in net wealth. In 1910 the people of Canada purchased investments within their own country to the value of $39,300,000. These included government, municipal and corporation bonds. Thirteen years later (1923) they purchased $427,800,000 of bonds of the same character.

1871 COMPARED WITH 1923.

In order that we may see clearly just how strong the Canadian position really is, I am going to include a chart which compares the situation in Canada as of 1871 and the situation as of 1923. The first census was taken in 1871. This was three years after the confederation became a reality. We will therefore use this date as a starting point. In that year there were 3,500,000 people in the Dominion of Canada, and in arriving at our figures per capita this is the population used. When we come to the 1923 figures, we estimate the population at an even 9,000,000. The Canadian Year Book estimates the total for the year as 9,146,000.

During this period of fifty-two years, the population of the country has increased a little more than two and a half times. Live stock more than twenty-five times. Dairying almost twenty-five times. Minerals twenty times. Manufacturing capital about fifteen times. Wages given out in manufacturing, nearly six times. The value of the product, nearly five times. Exports more than five times, imports a little more than three times. Railroad mileage more than fifteen times. Capitalization more than eight times. Earnings more than twenty times. Expenses twenty-three times. Bank stocks more than three times. Deposits have increased from $69,000,000 to approximately $2,316,587,000, and per capita from $16.86 to $257.20. This is a real feat. The average man has on deposit in Canadian banks now more than fifteen times what his father had when the nation was formed. The national revenue has also increased from $5.80 to $48.34, or nearly eight times. The expenditures have increased from $4.46 to $39.92, or slightly more than eight times.

INCREASE IN PUBLIC DEBT.

We now come to the most important phase of the situation, the increase

THE POINT IS THIS—

By MARY L. VARELA.

Oh! the exquisite joy of her kisses. As we walked in the moonlight so bright. And her passionate depths of caresses That shivered my soul with delight. So I gave her the greatest of treasures. As I pinned on my emblem—whereat I was instantly stuck with the point of The pin of the other guy's frat!

Dr. Traprock and the Lost Bracelet. Yes, yes," interrupted my good friend Traprock, "I have often heard of fish which swallow some object of value, a ring, a jewel, and were later recaptured, and the objects recovered. The idea is as old as Noah. I got back a dollar watch from a porpie that way—a cheap watch from a cheap fish—the watch still going, by the way. The fish had wound the watch by rubbing himself against an oyster stake, but a more extraordinary thing happened to me in 1922.

"I was fishing for tuna off Block Island. During a struggle with a 100-pound fish I lost a beautiful bracelet which had been wished on me by a foreign princess who must, of course, be nameless. As my hook pulled out I distinctly saw the bauble sink into the open jaws below me. I was heart-broken.

"Twenty years later tuna were reported in the same waters. I determined to try my luck.

"To make a long story short, I caught the same fish! He had put on weight since our first meeting, but I recognized him instantly. And in his recognized him instantly. And in his viscera I found, no, NOT my keepsake, but a pawn-ticket, bearing the faint notation 'Good for One Bracelet.'

An Expert! Webster—"Why did you new French maid leave?" I thought she was so good at hooking your gowns!" Mrs. Webster (grimly)—"She was—too good. She 'hooked' two gowns before she left!"

Craftiness. I hung a horseshoe o'er the door—A lucky thing, I'll say. It fell—and struck a book agent—He died next day.

Once more I hung the emblem on The very self-same nail. It hit a gossip on the head—And stopped her tale.

This morn I put it up again. Up in the same old way. Mother-in-law arrives at noon—For quite a stay.

THE JINGLE-JANGLE COUNTER. Down on the beach where bathing is good, Poor fishes are caught by young chicken bait.

Off indeed, in stilly nights, Good folks get mosquito bites.

Listening In. Miss Prim—"Did you ever get an electric shock over the telephone during a thunderstorm?" Miss Grizzle—"No, but I've got some dandies during a party line flirtation."

So It Seems. It seems from a recent formidable of the public debt. This increase is largely the result of the last ten years. It has been steadily increasing during the past ten years. The gross debt has increased from $32.99 in 1871 to the rather disquieting figure of $320.95 per capita in 1923. This is twice as much as the national debt of France just before the war. At that time France had the largest public debt in the world. When we come to the net debt we find that the increase has been slightly larger, increasing from $22.20 per capita in 1871 to $272.64 per capita in 1923.

If one will take the trouble to examine carefully the figures shown above in each of the important items mentioned, it will be easily demonstrated that the increase in all of the items together would be considerably above the percentage increase in the net debt, great as that has become.

Today Canada has just one-half of one per cent of the population of the world; yet she owns or produces:

4 per cent of the world's copper;
4 per cent of the world's gold;
12 per cent of the world's silver;
20 per cent of the world's cured fish;
20 per cent of the world's lumber;
32 per cent of the world's pulpwood;
85 per cent of the world's nickel;
88 per cent of the world's asbestos;
90 per cent of the world's cobalt.

Canada produces:
11 per cent of the world's wheat;
11 per cent of the world's barley;
15 per cent of the world's potatoes; and
18 per cent of the world's oats.

The last war and its aftermath left all the nations of the world in very straitened financial circumstances. The advantage that Canada has, however, over other nations is (first) that her natural resources are the superior today to those of any other country in Europe, save possibly Russia; and (second) that she possesses a people who are looking forward to the future and are not looking backward at the past. These two elements together will make for a greater Canada in the future than even its most optimistic champions now realize.

We shall discuss in the coming chapters some of the problems which the government of Canada, and its people, are called upon to meet.

GRADUATES GIVEN GOOD POSITIONS

136 Students of Technical School Placed With Local Business Firms.

WORK IS LAUDED

Great success in the placing of graduates in good positions was reported by Principal H. B. Beal of the Technical High School at last evening's session of the advisory vocational committee. Already 136 students have been located in new positions and are reported to be giving every satisfaction. "The school that finds positions for its graduates" was the slogan given by Principal Beal. Trustees and other members of the committee were well pleased with the high mark established.

There is every likelihood that all graduates this year will be placed in positions. There are today 200 offices in London which employ graduates of the commercial classes, and satisfaction was reported everywhere. While the school does not attempt to produce finished tradesmen, its aim is to give students a good all-round grounding in manual training and a year's special training in the vocation for which they are best adapted.

Under Compensation Act.
It was reported that the janitor and engineer members of the school staff had now been placed under the workmen's compensation act. The matter was recommended some time ago and was adopted at the earliest possible date.

Specimens of coal which has been tendered for, were received, and will be sent to a government expert at Toronto to be analyzed.
With preparations for new classes well under way, arrangements were made for the purchase of new equipment. For class rooms, 40 castor chairs and 40 tablet chairs. Blinds for classrooms were also ordered. New Alexander Hamilton text books were ordered for the commercial department. Additional hand tools were sanctioned for the woodworking classes. A drinking fountain will be placed in the machine shop.
Large Enrollment.
A larger enrollment for the new term than for the last year is already assured. The preliminary stages of registration have uncovered the desires of many new students to attend the Technical School. With the staff completed, equipment lined up and teaching arrangements lined up, little remains to be done over before school opens.

Matthew Smith, the new instructor in printing, was reported to be getting the plant in shape. Accounts amounting to over $10,000 were ordered paid, most of this sum being for printing equipment.
The advisory vocational committee will be responsible for the payment of half the salary of Attendance Officer M. M. Sims. Mr. Sims' work in connection with the Technical School is in co-ordinating duties in making reports on students after they have graduated to establish their successes.

JURY FAILS TO FIX POISONING BLAME

Mrs. George Gilbertson, However, Will Be Tried For Husband's Death.

Hamilton, July 7.—That George E. Gilbertson, Hagersville, who died shortly before midnight on June 22, was a victim of strychnine poisoning administered by a person or persons unknown, was the verdict of the jury which this afternoon investigated the case at Hagersville, under Dr. A. E. Russell, Caledonia. Gilbertson's widow, who faces a charge of murder, was present at the hearing and appeared quite unconcerned. Whenever her counsel, R. S. Collier, Cayuga, spoke to her, she smiled back, and during the cross-examination, which was heated at times, she took very little interest. She was dressed in black and sat on the platform behind a curtain which hid her from the view of the 800 residents who filled the hall.

Neighbors declared that Mrs. Gilbertson had intimated on more than one occasion that she would like to poison her husband because he put her in an asylum, which, she told neighbors, was a "dirty trick." It was brought out during the hearing that the deceased had a $1,500 life-insurance policy, and that Mrs. Gilbertson had purchased over $1,000 worth of house furnishings and furniture from stores in Hamilton, and stated that she would have money shortly.

The jury was out but a short time. The verdict, which is an open one, will not interfere with the plans of the crown, for it was announced that Mrs. Gilbertson would appear at Hagersville at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon before Magistrate Massey and will be arraigned on a charge of murdering her husband.

LOEW'S PRESENT STAGE SUCCESS

Agnes Ayres, Screen Beauty,
Appears in "The Guilty
One."

COMEDY DRAMA

More than an average show, as far as motion pictures are concerned, and a fair vaudeville bill go to make up the performance at Loew's for the first half of the week.

Agnes Ayres, one of the real beauties of the screen, is the heroine in a well-staged mystery drama, "The Guilty One," and the screen version of the great stage success of Pauline Frederick packed the crowd into the theatre last night.

Bit by bit, the producer, Joseph Henabery, carries the story along to an extremely dramatic conclusion, which gives Miss Ayres ample opportunity to prove that she is indeed one of the foremost of movie stars.

There are many comedy touches to relieve the intense dramatic sequence, and the picture certainly lived up to advance notices.

Ben Turpin in Yukon-Jake provided the headliner comedy, which abounded in amusing situations. It was a typical Turpin comedy, so what more need be said?

A Pathe news reel and scenic completed the picture part of the program. Polard, a clever juggler, interspersed his act with comedy lines which went over well with the audience. He was followed by Pierce and Gluck in comedy talk and song.

There was no difficulty in hearing the latter pair, as most of their lines were shouted. Personally, we didn't care a lot for their act, but it seemed to find favor with the majority of the crowd, judging by the applause.

The third and last vaudeville contribution by La Paiva and Co. was an international song and dance revue that was a whole lot better than the ordinary.

by Big Majority.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, July 7.—As a result of the by-election held today in Northwest Toronto for seat A, a new Conservative will take his seat in the Ontario Legislature, in the person of W. H. Edwards, who, in spite of a marked indifference on the part of the electors, was able to secure a big

Scottish Towns To Be Auctioned

Associated Press Despatch.

London, England, July 7.—Two British towns, complete municipalities, will be offered at auction to the highest bidder on July 22. The towns include everything from the city hall to the municipal watering troughs—dwellings, factories, public institutions, the r.s. dance halls, postoffices, hotels, stores, a hospital, fire engine stations and garages. They are the towns of Gretna and East Rizz, in Scotland, which were established during the war for mass production of cordite. The entire property includes about 3,000 acres of land and more than 100 miles of railway. When the armistice was signed there were 30,000 people at work in Gretna.

majority over his opponent, A. J. Young, the Labor candidate.

The final returns showed 7,660 votes for Mr. Edwards and 1,663 for Mr. Young, the majority for Mr. Edwards being 5,997.

The vote was an unusually small one, as Northwest Toronto with wards of 49,000 voters on the lists, is one of the most populous ridings in the province, and has long been famed for the big majorities which it has piled up for the Conservative candidates.

The seat vacated by Hon. Mr. Crawford had been held by him continuously since 1924. During the last provincial elections Hon. Mr. Crawford secured a vote of 17,255, against 2,964 polled by his opponent, Henry S. Mulhoney.

In government circles the victory was regarded as a casual one, and as having but little bearing upon the plebiscite which is apt to come before the people before the end of the year.

MONEY DEMANDED ON DEATH THREAT

Mysterious Letter To Ingersoll
Woman Demands $10,000 or Her Life.

Special to The Advertiser.

Ingersoll, July 7.—A letter which contained the threat that unless she handed over $10,000 she would be killed, was recently received by a local widow. The woman's name is being withheld for the present, but the police are working on the case. The demand was that the money be left at the end of the verandah, near a vine, on a certain night. It has been learned that a dummy parcel was placed there on the specified night, as well as the following night, but it was not called for.

It is believed that the letter was probably prompted by the Chicago kidnapping case, and that it was the work of someone not mentally balanced.

BRITAIN IS UNEASY OVER DECISION

MacDonald Takes Hurried
Trip To Paris To Solve Difficulties.

HOUSE IS STIRRED

Associated Press Despatch.

London, July 7.—Prime Minister MacDonald surprised the House of Commons today by the announcement that misunderstandings which had arisen with the French government over invitations to the inter-allied conference at London had decided him to accept the suggestion of Premier Herriot of France to pay a hurried visit to Paris in order to smooth out the difficulties.

The members of the House were evidently uneasy and mystified.

Both Former Premier Herbert H.

Asquith and Former Premier Stanley Baldwin, leaders respectively of the Liberals and Conservatives, confessed themselves perplexed by Mr. MacDonald's statement. Mr. Asquith declared himself "bewildered" regarding what had happened and what was going to happen. Both called for immediate publication of the terms of the memorandum included in the invitations to the allied powers to attend the proposed conference.

Record of Meeting.

The prime minister's explanation was that the memorandum simply amounted to the minutes of the conversations at Chequers, which had been communicated to the French foreign office in conformity with the usual procedure, after Mr. Herriot's visit, and that as it was the outcome of the French premier's visit to London, it had not been considered necessary to send a formal invitation to France.

Mr. MacDonald insisted that there will be nothing binding upon either government in the Chequers discussions, but that both governments had been left with complete freedom. His description of the misunderstanding which had arisen as "a storm in a teacup," however, failed to carry conviction to most of the members of the House, and it became evident that when the prime minister again meets the House on Thursday he would be subjected to searching questions.

The British premier admitted that he had made the suggestion to M. Herriot that the conference, when it met, should fix an appointed day in August and September on which the experts' report should be put into complete operation. He further emphasized the urgency of obtaining an agreement in the proper form, signed, sealed and delivered, for putting the Dawes report into operation, which, he said, would necessitate Germany's signature. He maintained that something more than a mere legal document ought to be obtained from Germany.

Moral Obligation.

Germany's signature, the prime minister continued, should carry real moral obligation, and not mere forced assent. Therefore, he added, it has been suggested that "when the time comes we should be able to have a discussion with the German delegates."

This, Mr. MacDonald intimated, had been suggested to M. Herriot, but there had been no agreement on the matter, and M. Herriot had gone away with his hands perfectly free.

Dear Sirs:

We have just completed a check-up of operating expenses on our large fleet of trucks. The results shown are so gratifying to us and the indications point so clearly to the fact that lubrication has been a factor that we feel you are entitled to a word of praise for the quality of the oils you have been supplying us.

We have used Imperial Polarine Oils and Imperial Polarine Transmission Oil for two years on our big fleet of Polarine 42 vehicles.

Our men report a high degree of satisfaction; and our figures, as above stated, indicate a reduction in operating expense since we started using your oils.

Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, July 7.—Lower Liverpool

Canada, together with selling pressure weakened the wheat market here today after a firm start. Following the opening, which was  $\frac{1}{4}$ c to  $\frac{1}{2}$ c higher than Saturday, some good buying came out, and prices moved rapidly upward, the extreme bulges showing an advance of 13c for July and 18c for that month.

While the undertone remained firm, there was not sufficient demand to take care of offerings and prices eased off, the close showing a loss of 1/4 for July.

There was very little feature in the coarse grains, and prices were generally lower than in the fall. The wheat trade, July flax exhibited some slight strength, and closed about unchanged, but the corn and December wheat the lower.

There was nothing done in the cash wheat market, the only feature in the new business over the week-end. Spreads on the lower grades were unimportant, and the market was practically on a deliverable discount difference under the July future price.

There was a slight improvement in grades of cash oats, which improved a bit, but the other cash coarse grains were without features.

NEW BANK BILL IS READ IN HOUSE

Plan Assessment On Chartered
Banks To Cover Cost of Work.

ADVISORY POWERS

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, July 7.—A bill to provide a government system of bank inspection was given first reading in the House of Commons this afternoon. Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of finance, explained that the expense of this bank inspection would be recovered by assessment upon the chartered banks.

A properly qualified inspector with adequate banking experience would be appointed to go the round of head offices of all chartered banks and make thorough inspections. He would keep banks posted of the value of all securities upon which loans were made. He would warn banks of depreciation in any securities and generally advise on the advisability of loans to any person or firm.

While he would have very broad advisory powers, he would not attempt to prevent any particular loan being made.

The government hoped by this system to prevent the issue of loans on insufficient securities and the impairment of a bank's assets.

MYSTERIOUS ATTACK MADE ON CHATHAM DEPOT CLERK

Two Shots Fired At C. N. R. Night Operator—Assailants
Escape—Suspicious Characters Later Arrested—
Stolen Auto Found by Police.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, July 7.—Thugs fired two shots at John Mooney, night operator at the C.N.R. depot, early this morning, while he was at work at the key. Although Mooney was unable to closely observe his assailants, he declared there were two of them, who, after smashing the window with the butt of the revolver, fired two shots in quick succession. Mooney ducked when he heard the smashing of the glass, so the bullets missed him and embedded themselves in the wall. The men ran as soon as the shots were fired, which leads the police to believe it was the work of amateurs. There was a considerable sum of money in the office safe at the time. A Reo touring car, stolen from a taxi man at Riverside, near Windsor, early this morning and remanded to jail for a week. They gave their names as Dan Miller, Detroit, electrician, and Marcellus Washington, Windsor, truck driver. When searched at police headquarters, brass knuckles were found on Washington.

Much of the enjoyment of a Port Stanley outing hinges on the magnificent big modern bathhouse, where every patron receives a sterilized suit and towel, and where there are such added features as shower baths and electric hair driers for ladies. A dip in the lake to whet the appetite and then a well-cooked meal at the L. & P. S. Cafeteria is always worth a trip to Port Stanley. The Cafeteria buys nothing but the best of foods, keeps them in the most wholesome and sanitary surroundings, has them prepared by skilled chefs, and kept always ready to serve on a moment's notice. That feature of quick service and low cost is the especial field of the Cafeteria, and never fails to please.

PASSENGER SHIP HITS BREAKWATER

Steamer Modjeska Meets
Second Accident in Three Days At Toronto.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, July 7.—Cautiously nosing her way through an enveloping fog, the steamer Modjeska of the Canada Steamship Lines, bound for Toronto, crashed on the Sunnyside breakwater. The steel bow was crumpled up and doubled back for a distance of five or six feet, and the huge cement blocks forming the breakwater were wrenched out of alignment for an equal distance. Miss G. A. Crossland of Toronto sustaining serious bruises when she was thrown to the deck by the force of the impact.

For more than an hour the vessel was fast on the breakwater. Motor tugs and launches removed the passengers to the adjacent landing places. The lifesaving crew rendered efficient service, as did a launch and crew supplied by the National Yacht Club.

The Modjeska, Captain James

Henderson, figured in the collision in Toronto Bay on Saturday morning, when she was rammed by the steamer Toronto. She was speedily fitted up after her previous experience and resumed her run to Grimsby on Sunday. She was returning from Grimsby tonight when she met with her latest accident.

PORT ORCHESTRA WINS POPULARITY

Music Supplied Under Direction of Prof. Gesensway
Stirs Large Crowds.

PLAYS ON SUNDAY

Port Stanley, by its striking series of recreational features, has taken a remarkable hold on the people of Western Ontario in recent years, but nothing has stirred popular approval to a greater extent than the recent development of the Port Stanley Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Director Gesensway. Director Gesensway scored a triumph in his presentation of concert programs on Invererie Heights on Sunday afternoon and evening, and no more attentive or appreciative audiences have ever been won by any musical organization in Western Ontario. The orchestra comprises 25 of the most outstanding musicians of the London district, each of whom is capable of taking a solo part, and all of whom perform together with dash, spirit, and harmony of the highest order.

The park on Invererie Heights is in wonderful condition this year, and the resort in general was the subject of much frank praise on the part of the large number of American tourists who visited Port Stanley during the peak of the influx of motorists attending the celebration on July 4. During the Sunday evening concert the heights were illuminated with hundreds of colored electric lights that made the scene one of unusual enchantment.

Director Gesensway and his orchestra will offer new programs next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 and Sunday evening at 8:15, and a big attendance of music lovers is looked for at both concerts.

The picnic season at "The Coney Island of Western Ontario" is now at its height, and every day finds hundreds in the enjoyment of the numerous attractions at the lakeside. The L. & P. S. Beach Movies are more popular than ever in the new open-air theatre, the lovers of the silver screen finding a complete change of program there every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, always a big ten-reel bill, with productions of the highest quality, and a couple of short, snappy comedies for good measure. Orchestral music is furnished at each performance by the L. & P. S. Orchestra with Prof. Gesensway as director and violinist. The same orchestra plays every evening from 5:30 to 7:30 in the L. & P. S. Cafeteria.

Much of the enjoyment of a Port Stanley outing hinges on the magnificent big modern bathhouse, where every patron receives a sterilized suit and towel, and where there are such added features as shower baths and electric hair driers for ladies. A dip in the lake to whet the appetite and then a well-cooked meal at the L. & P. S. Cafeteria is always worth a trip to Port Stanley. That feature of quick service and low cost is the especial field of the Cafeteria, and never fails to please.

Every Day a Picnic Day.

Every day is a picnic day in Port Stanley just now, with the summer season at its height, but some of the high spots are attracting particular attention.

The grocers have been at work for weeks on the preparation of a splendid program of attractions for their big outing to be held on Wednesday of next week. The grocers this year have an added feature in the distribution of a large quantity of groceries, put up in eight big prize collections for a free drawing.

They are supplying their patrons with free tickets entitling them to participate in the drawing which is to be held at Port Stanley on the picnic day, and the lucky winners will then be announced. All who go to Port Stanley on the L. & P. S. Railway will be entitled to the tickets. The grocers, for the convenience of their patrons, will have excursion tickets on sale at the reg-

Mischievous Peter Rabbit Plans Great Scare For Mr. Jimmy Skunk

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit had been out all night. Yes, sir, he had been over in the Green Forest all night. Now daylight had come and he was still in the Green Forest. It would be foolish to start across the Green Meadows for the dear Old Briar Patch in broad daylight, so Peter decided to remain in the Green Forest. Little Mrs. Peter wouldn't like it. Probably she would worry. Peter was sorry for that, but he didn't want to help to help it now. Truth to tell, Peter was quite willing to stay in the Green Forest.

He went straight to a certain bramble tangle and in the middle of this he settled himself in comfort. He felt quite as safe there as he would have felt in the dear Old Briar Patch. He was sleepy, for, as I said before, he had been out all night. It was very quiet and peaceful there and he was soon fast asleep. When later in the day he awoke he still felt lazy and was quite satisfied to remain where he was. But along about the middle of the afternoon he felt like stretching his legs and decided to see if there was anything going on in the Green Forest.

He crept out of the bramble tangle, hopped over to the Lone Little Path and started down this. He wasn't bound for any particular place. He hadn't anything in particular to do, so he hopped along aimlessly, hoping to meet someone whom he knew and to gossip with.

Presently he came in sight of an old log just at one side of the Lone Little Path. There was an opening in the trees right there, and it was a warm, sunny spot. As he drew near this old log a Merry Little Breeze danced along ahead of him and stirred something white just at the end of the old log. It caught Peter's eyes. He stopped and sat up, that he might see better. Then he hopped a few steps nearer and did the same thing. Now he could see what it was. It was a little tuft of white hair. "Yes, sir, that is just what it is," Jimmy must be taking a nap and a sun bath behind that old log and just the tip of his tail is showing." Mischief began to dance in Peter's eyes. "It would be great fun to give Jimmy a scare," thought Peter. "I don't remember that I've ever had a chance to scare Jimmy Skunk, and this is too good a chance to miss. It would be great fun to jump over that old log and land with a thump close to Jimmy. 'There wouldn't be any danger in it, either, for before he could get to his feet I would be far enough away to be safe from that little scent gun he carries.' The more he thought about it the more Peter thought it would be a good joke. It would be something to brag about—how he, Peter Rabbit, had actually frightened Jimmy Skunk. He chuckled at the thought, and very quietly hopped a few steps nearer. Three times he made ready to make a flying jump over that old log, and each time his courage failed him. But at last he mustered up his courage enough and with a quick run of a few steps made a long jump over that old log.

"That is the tip of Jimmy Skunk's tail," said he to himself.

ADVISES GOV'T CONTROL OF WESTERN ELEVATORS

Royal Grain Inquiry Commission's Interim Report Tabled in House.

Ottawa, July 7.—That "the elevators of the Vancouver Harbor Commission should be acquired by the government of Canada and vested directly in the crown" is one of the recommendations made by the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission in an interim report tabled in the Commons today. This report deals only with that part of the commission's investigation which concerns the operation of the Vancouver elevators.

"The operation of terminal elevators should not be made part of the functions of the board of grain commissioners," the report adds, "since it is charged with the general administrative control of the grain trade." Further on the report says the Vancouver elevators "along with the other terminal elevators vested in the crown should be placed under a special commissioner or statutory body created exclusively for that purpose."

GALT MAY ORGANIZE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Public School Board Asks City Council To Take Legal Action.

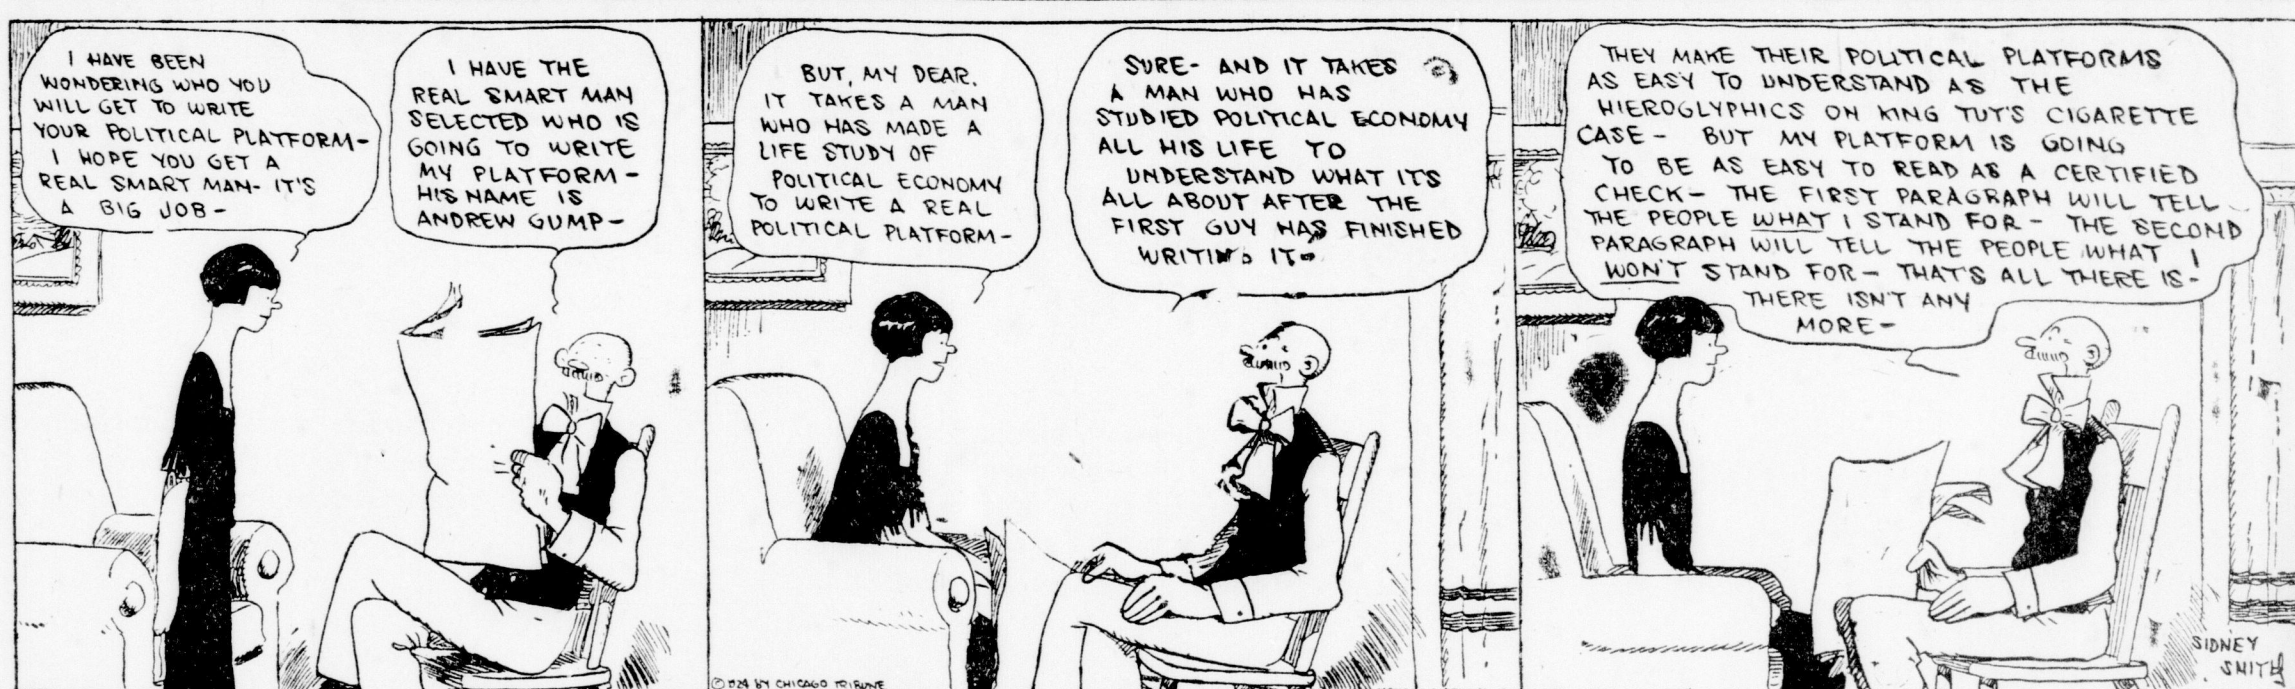

Special to The Advertiser.
Galt, July 7.—At the municipal elections in January the ratepayers will in all likelihood vote on a referendum to create a board of education, combining the public school and Galt Collegiate Institute boards. A request from the public school board for such action was received by the city council tonight, and will come up for consideration later. The question was first brought up in December, 1920, by a motion from the school board, but it was too late then to take action for the election, and since then nothing has been heard of the request.

BURIED AT WYOMING.
