The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library
Baldwin Room

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Metropolitan Toronto Reference Library
Baldwin Room

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

NOTICE.

In inviting Librarians, Print collectors, and Lovers of Art generally, to examine this Museum of Engravings, we would respectfully call their attention to the magnificent extent of the Series, and the fame of its contributors, embracing as it does, most of the celebrated works of the first painters and engravers of France, Italy, and Flanders. Among them we find Lebrun, Beaulieu, Sylvestre, Caylus, Julie Romano, Raphael, Poussin, Van der Meulen, Sebastian Leclerc, Sebastian Bourbon, Coronelli, Percier, Fontaine, and others.

From an array of imposing subjects, we select the following:—"Lebrun's Battles of Alexander the Great," the largest engravings ever executed (some six feet long); "Lebrun's Passions," "Poussin's Seven Sacraments," "The Planisphere of Coronelli," "Beaulieu's The Great Battles of France," "The Coronation of Charles X.," "Coronation of Napoleon," "Colonne à la Grande Armée," "Royal Fêtes and Ceremonies," "Coronation of Louis XV.," "Illustrious Royal Funerals and Pageants," "The Chateau of Versailles," "The Abbaye de St. Denis," "The Royal Castles," &c. &c.

None of these superb works were published for sale, but were executed for the several sovereigns of France, at an immense cost, and distributed only to a few court favorites.

Louis PHILIPPE's Copy, bought at Library Sale, after his exile in England.

REVOLUTIONS IN ENGLISH HISTORY

BY ROBERT VAUGHAN, D. D.

VOL. I.

REVOLUTIONS OF RACE.

PRICE 60.

In this work, Dr. VAUGHAN, the Editor of the British Quarterly Review, intends to group together the leading facts of English History, so as to reveal at a glance the progress of the nation. It is a step towards the simplification of English History. By the term Revolutions, the author intends to denote the great phases of change, through which both the government and people of England have passed, during the historical period of their existence.

"A work of this kind," says Blackwood's Magazine, "cannot be superfluous, if it is worthily executed; and the honorable position which Dr. Vaughan has earned for himself in both theology and literature, gives us a guarantee that this will be the case. The specimen before us we have read with interest and improvement. We should particularize the sociological portion of the History as being executed with especial care, and as remarkable for the spirit of justice and liberality he displays. To these pages we may honestly recommend the reader, as the fruit of steady and conscientious labor, directed by a liberal and enlightened spirit."

"This treatise," says the London Athenaeum, "or rather narrative, is deeply and variously interesting. Written plainly, but with all the characteristics of independent thought and accomplished scholarship, it may be pronounced a masterly survey of English civilization from the remotest epoch to the commencement of the fifteenth century. We have found this volume in every way excellent. It is at once a narrative and a disquisition, learned, genial, critical, and also picturesque. The spirit of English history animates it throughout. Dr. Vaughan, by completing such a work, will have done good service to literature."

The Westminster Review, the very highest critical authority upon English literature, said of this work, upon its original publication in England—"We can sincerely recommend Dr. Vaughan's Revolutions in English History as a thoughtful, interesting, scholarly presentation of the principal sociological vicissitudes of more than two thousand years of our British existence. Dr. Vaughan's composition is extremely lucid and nervous; not without a certain sedate ornamentation, but quite free from the misleading exaggerations of a seductive rhetoric."

Opinions of the Press.

Mr. White possesses in a high degree the power of epitomizing—that faculty which enables him to distill the essence from a mass of facts, and to condense it in description; a battle, siege, or other remarkable event, which, without his skill, might occupy a chapter, is compressed within the compass of a page or two, and this without the sacrifice of any feature essential or significant.—Century.

Mr. White has been very happy in touching upon the salient points in the history of each century of the Christian era, and yet has avoided making his work a mere bald analysis or chronological table.—Providence Journal.

In no single volume of English literature can so satisfying and clear an idea of the historical character of these eighteen centuries be obtained.—Hove Journal.

In this volume we have the best epitome of Christian History extant. This is high praise, but at the same time it is just. The author's peculiar success is in making the great points and facts of history stand out in sharp relief. His style may be said to be terse and concise, and the effect is exceedingly impressive.—Providence Free.
