SUPREME GRAND PRESIDENT.

The election of Mr. W. R. Stroud, of Ottawa, to the position of Supreme Grand President of the S. O. E. Society is an event for which—while complimentary to that gentleman personally—all Englishmen of the order residing in Eastern Ontario will be glad. The feeling has prevailed widely, outside of Toronto, that members residing in that city have shown insufficient appreciation of the zeal and energy of the brethren in the Order not so centrally situated, and the election of Mr. Stroud will at least wipe out the reproach in so far as this section of the Dominion is concerned.

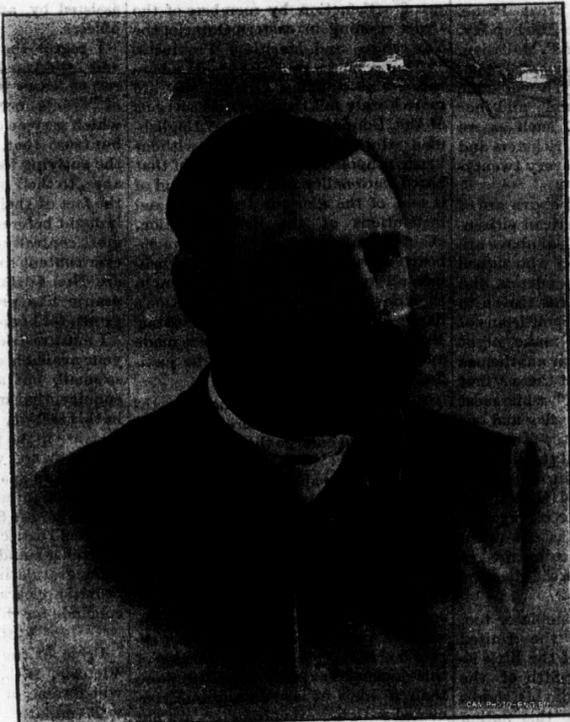

in its career when a policy of drift will be criminal neglect, and which now calls for the best thought and effort of its master minds, in developing the constitutional machinery of an effective national organization; we cannot too heartily commend to his successors in office the statement of S. G. President Ivens in his Report to Grand Lodge, viz: "I am pleased to notice that the members of our Order are realizing the fact that ours is not only a benefit society, but that we have other objects in view. National and patriotic, we are determined to maintain British connection."

We trust Mr. Stroud's term of office will be a most successful one.

fully contested the Presidency at Port Hope with the P. S. G. P. Swait, in 1890.

Mr. Stroud was elected a member of the Ottawa City Council in 1889, and is now chairman of the Finance Committee. His earlier days were spent in a sea-faring career, during which he obtained a Second Officer's certificate from the London Board of Examiners. In 1872 he returned to Montreal and laid the foundation of the now extensive business of tea merchants of Stroud Bros., widely known all over Canada.

PREPREFERENTIAL TRADE: Col. Howard Vincent writes that Manchester, Bir-

W. R. STROUD, Esq.

Mr. Stroud has for years past evinced a worthy sympathy in all that affects the welfare of his fellow-countrymen, and his sacrifices of time and money, coupled with keen business qualities, have procured him the recognition and appreciation of those whom he has sought to serve. We trust that he, and all others holding this high office, will not look upon it as the goal of effort but as only affording opportunity for greater usefulness and where, if they have the mental capacities for leadership in a great national organization, they will make their personal initiative felt, instead of acting like official automata and wasting the grand opportunities of usefulness in official pomposities. The Society has reached a stage will be signalized by such wisdom and effort on his part, and his fellow workers of the executive, as to justify the wisdom of the choice made.

The new S. G. P. was born in London, Eng., 18th Jan., 1852. Came to Canada with his parents in 1856, and is the eldest son of the late W. D. Stroud, Esq., of Montreal—one of the most prominent Englishmen of North America; the father having been Vice-President of the North American St. George's Association, and several times President of St. George's Society in Montreal.

Mr. Stroud joined Derby Lodge, No. 30, of the S. O. E. in 1884, and at the Grand Lodge meeting in Ottawa in 1889, was elected to the position of S. G. Vice-President, and unsuccessful at Bingley, Nottingham and Bingley have by public meetings unanimously endorsed this proposal of preferential trade within the Empire. Meetings in Glasgow, Bradford, Derby and Wolverhampton, etc., are to be held, so that we shall hear more. He also says it is being debated in all clubs and places of public resort. We may add also that under private confidence Lord Salisbury has written what he has yet not dared publicly to avow. A little leaven is leavening the whole lump.

A clergyman in England, pleading earnestly with his parishoners for the construction of a cemetery for their parish, asked them to consider the "deplorable condition of 30,000 Englishmen living without Christian burial."

S. O. E. GRAND LODGE.

The Session of this body which has just terminated at London, has been marked—in so far as we can learn—by no distinguishable feature. All the great far reaching propositions on the Sessional Papers have been relegated to the calm dispassionate attention of a General Purpose Committee to report on at the next meeting.

The Grand Lodge, however, has affirmed the principle of establishing Provincial Grand Lodges, which if ultimately carried into operation will be a radical change, all the practical details of which will have yet to be considered and approved.

We are satisfied that the immature condition of mind of the subordinate lodges and of their Grand Lodge delegates, in regard to the propositions appearing on the sessional paper, is largely responsible for the somewhat barren results attending all the expense of getting Grand Lodge together. Poor attendance at lodges and a listless interest in the great aims and objects of the society account for this state of affairs.

Were all these questions intelligently discussed pro. and con. during the year in the columns of the ANGLO-SAXON, and every effort made by the Grand Executive to disseminate by such means the ripest efforts of their thought and study of such questions, they would find assembled around them a body of men who knew exactly what they wanted and prepared to vote for it without sacrificing the valuable time spent together. Our experience of such assemblies partakes very much of the attitude of one who says, "Here am I, where are you?"—each person waiting to take the cue from others what he is to think or say on the question so as to be in with the majority every time and share the honors of victory—afraid of being 'sat on' or considered visionary or cranky. At last a mysterious influence is started and a general rush to one side is made and the excitement ends.

We congratulate them on the decision to hold their next meeting in Montreal, and also for the grand officers elected. The Grand President could not have had a more zealous worthy Grand Vice-President than Bro. Elliott, of Brantford, and we look forward to the highest honors yet awaiting him. In saying this we do not disparage the able and worthy unsuccessful competitors, some of whom, doubtless, will yet adorn the Grand officers' chairs. The re-election of such tried men as the Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer was a foregone matter, and we can only add the expression of our hearty satisfaction.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

The annual meeting of the League in Canada, held on the 1st inst., in the Tower Room of the House of Commons, was made additionally interesting by the passing of resolutions expressive of sympathy with the efforts of the United Empire Trade League, and the adoption of the following resolution:

"That, in the event of Inter-Imperial preferential trade relations being adopted in the British Empire, it is the opinion of this League that Canada will be found ready and willing to bear her share in a just and reasonable proportion of Imperial responsibilities."

The resolution was moved by Mr. W. H. Merritt and seconded by Mr. J. Castill Hopkins.

This resolution should have a good effect on the English elections, when considering the fiscal relations of the colonies to the Motherland. The British tax-payer, doubtless, looks at all political issues from the profit and loss point of view and, in seeking advantages in British markets, we have to show him that the burdens of Empire are not to rest for ever on his shoulders alone, and that while colonial produce is seeking privileges from him, British produce will obtain the same advantages in the colonies. At present the great bulk of British imports are foreign produce, but nearly half of British exports are to the British dominions. Some present felt the proposal was too mercenary to emanate from the League, but others rightly felt that until some Federal Union is established between the various parts of the Empire, it is the only practical form to evince our regard for mutual welfare by discriminating in one another's favor—between what is British and what is foreign.

WHY NOT?

Our highly esteemed contemporary, The British American Citizen, published in Boston, U.S.A., answers the question why they "stand up" for England, in the following dignified reply:

A correspondent, who signs himself "Yankee," complains that we always "stand up" for England. In one sense we do; in another we do not. The Citizen is outspoken in its condemnation of the faults of England, at times; but not so often as it would be were there not a pack of yelping hounds in the form of professional agitators and sneaking politicians, continually at her heels.

The intelligent American has long ere this discovered certain uncontrollable facts; viz., that nine-tenths of the abuse of Great Britain that we hear and read, comes from politicians and not from educated and patriotic people; that the business of catching the Irish vote and fishing for Irish trade has gone to such lengths, that a re-action must soon come.

Have the readers of the Citizen ever heard from the lips of such Americans as Hon. John Jay, Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, Mr. Robert Treat Paine, Bishop A. Cleveland Cox, Bishop Hy. C. Potter, Bishop Willard F. Mallalien, Dr. John Hall, or the other well-known patriotic men of our day, a wholesale condemnation of England and her queen and government, such as we hear from the political tricksters and Rome-ruled press nearly every twenty-four hours?

The gentlemen named above are of the highest type of American citizenship. The three first named above are direct descendants of men who signed the Declaration of Independence, and naturally would have less reason to love England than those politicians of unknown ancestry who make night and day hideous with their anathemas of all things British. But these "first gentlemen of the nation," while most devotedly attached to our flag and our country, recognize the too-often forgotten truth that England stands alone among foreign nations in defence of Protestant principles, and that if she did not stand like a rock against Romanism the whole Eastern world would in a short time be submerged in the flood of darkness from the shadows of the Vatican.

These gentlemen contemplate, too, the further truth that the United States is the daughter of the little island which governs one-fifth of the world's area, and that from her shores came the men who made this nation what it is to-day; that it was the blood of the sons of England which was shed in the war for independence, though shed, perhaps, by other sons of the same sod.

Why should Americans, of all men in the world, join in the chorus of invective against the land of their forefathers? In the tide of abuse which has its source in the hearts of Rome-ruled political heeled who have been in this country not long enough to lose from their countenances the imprint of ignorance and priestcraft?

To what other nation could we turn for help and sympathy in our struggle for freedom from Romish shackles, so readily as to that which has stood as the champion of Protestant truth for more than three centuries?

That England has sinned at times, is true; but in blood, in religion, in all social ties, she is infinitely nearer to us than any other nation in existence.

Do not be misled by the cries of corrupt men—demagogues and tools of demagogues—who love the Irish Romanist vote much more than they love the Irish Romanist.

Why should we not defend England against such attacks?

Sons of England News.

S. O. E. NOTES.

J. H. Bell, Dis. Deputy, of P. E. I., writes and informs us that Eaton Lodge of Charlottetown is doing nicely. The membership is on the increase. The lodge has decided to advertise in the ANGLO-SAXON.

We regret to hear of the sickness of Bro. Jas. Critchley, of Victoria, B.C., and trust he will soon be restored to health. Bro. Critchley is the ANGLO-SAXON's representative in Victoria.

It is with pleasure we draw the attention of the members throughout the provinces, to the cards of Runnymede of Selkirk, Man., and Princess Louise card of the Daughters of England, of St. Thomas, Ont., which appears for the first time in our columns.

The decision of Grand Lodge to establish a second class of insurance so as to afford members to insure for $2,000, is a step in time if the society is to keep abreast in progress with kindred institutions, and we doubt not will be largely taken hold of.

We have to record, with deep regret, the death, recently, of the beloved wife of our Brother, Lieut.-Colonel White, (Dept. Postmaster-General) of Bowood Lodge. Members of the Order, who know the colonel, know what a zealous, generous and whole-hearted Englishman he is, and are touched with feelings of the most sincere sympathy for him in his irreparable loss.

Past S. G. V. P. Hancock, in his report to Grand Lodge, declares he found "a great lack of attendance at the (lodge) meetings." It is an affliction that besets all purely benefit societies but should not trouble a NATIONAL organization like the S. O. E. The remedy is to hand, when each lodge consents to apply all its powers to maintain the principles of the Constitution "in their integrity," in the aggressive work of a great National and Protestant propaganda. Many lodges are almost dying for want of something to do.

The unanimous decision of the Sup. Grand Lodge to hold its next annual meeting in Montreal will be hailed with great satisfaction by members of the Order residing in eastern Ontario, the Townships and Maritime Provinces. We know of no part of Canada where racial and religious antagonisms are more keenly felt than in these sections of the Dominion; and those Englishmen who are willing to own, without blush or apology, that they are of that hated nationality and creed, proud of it and of the glorious traditions and institutions of the British nation, should be made to feel that the warm-hearted sympathy of brother Englishmen all over Canada is with them in their devotion to God and their nation's flag. We especially congratulate our Montreal brethren on the choice made and feel sure its wisdom will be justified by results.

We are being urged by many brethren of the Order, scattered over the Dominion, to enlarge the edition of the ANGLO-SAXON to double its present size, so as to be able to furnish a larger and more varied selection of news items to our readers. This could be done by increasing the subscription price to ONE DOLLAR per annum. We should be glad to receive communications hereon from our subscribers, as should we find sufficient encouragement to make the venture we would do so. We can assure our readers that the publication of this journal has been but little more than a labor of love to any one connected with it. Its promoters are not seeking exclusive honours and rewards, but will gladly welcome the co-operation, in a strong joint-stock company, of all patriotic Englishmen, to enable this journal being made, in every-way, a creditable organ of English thought and feeling. Put your shoulder to the wheel.

MANITOBA.

WINNIPEG, February, 1892.

This is another phenomenal season with us folk in the North-west and Manitoba. So rich is our soil, so prolific its productive power that, owing to seeding being an easier process than garnering the harvest, thousands of bushels of the best wheat any country in the world can desire is lying out yet in stock in the fields, buried in snow. This statement does not include other thousands of bushels more or less properly cared for in barns or in stack. The result of such a state of affairs may be better imagined than described especially when we consider how the implement men ever insist upon taking the last ounce, of the pound of flesh to which they are by law entitled.

The cause of this state of affairs, may be laid down as the prevalence of uncultured avarice, and the term is used advisedly for cultured avarice is the true business principle, but the fact of putting a larger area under crop than there are facilities for gathering in, is certainly about as unbusiness-like as anyone could conceive. But, experimenta docet, fill our country up with muscle, energy and brains, our soil and natural resources will do the rest.

The S. O. E. B. S. is doing good work and is gradually building itself as the foundation of a mighty fabric this city which, during the next decade, will likely astonish the natives. At the last meeting of Lodge Neptune six true Britons were added to its muster roll.

Lodge Westward Ho, the pioneer lodge, is gradually increasing its membership. The last named lodge, owing perhaps to the fact that of its being the pioneer, and so having to evolve much of its procedure from the inner consciousness of a few of its leading members, had fallen into some errors, but is now again likely to let influences dominate it which are certainly not in accord with those principles set forth by the founders of the Order, and which are so well conveyed in the valuable record published in the SAXON called "The Rise and Progress of the Sons of England." Brethren of the Order, in this section, I am happy to say, begin to realize the advantages and the necessity of having a mouthpiece.

Much of the apathy of members generally, in this matter, is owing to the fact that it is not brought prominently before their notice. It is not surely too much to say that Presidents and Secretaries do not do all their duty when they abstain from advocating the support of a thoroughly independent paper devoted to the interest of Englishmen in general, and that of the S. O. E. in particular, for without such a medium little can be done in advocating the cause for which we are bonded together, and bringing about the time when an Englishman shall be as much at Home in Quebec or Montreal as he is in London or Manchester.

Lodge Runnymede, in Selkirk, had a concert and dance on the 28th in aid of their Contingent Fund. This lodge, one of the newest lodges, is making most satisfactory progress under the skilful guidance of its genial President, assisted by an efficient staff of able officers.

I regret that the lodges at Calgary and Qu'Appelle have, so far, not responded to invitation to post report of events occurring amongst them which may be of interest to the Order, but trust that, in the near future, all the outlying lodges will see the importance, to their own interests, of having the fact of their existence occasionally brought before the minds of members more centrally situated, and not be forever content to vegetate, even if they are No. 1 Hard, upon their native prairie like products of the soil, just grown for home consumption.

I must restrict my communication as your available space for such purpose is so small, but am sure, after personal enquiry, that most of the subscribers, in this section, would willingly pay an increase in the price of the subscription of the SAXON were issued bi-monthly, with more space for news and other matter of interest to the Order.

St. George's Society; the White Rose Degree; District Lodges and other matters must stand over.

Congratulating you upon the improved appearance of your last issue, I conclude for this time.

Victoria, B. C.

Pride of the Island Lodge, No. 131, Victoria, B.C., has set an example which some of the older lodges might well emulate. At the last meeting it was decided to hold a course of lectures, on the St. John ambulance work, "First Aid to the Injured." The lodge surgeon, Dr. E. Hall, kindly undertook to give the series gratis, and Bro. A. Brown to act as hon. secretary in connection with them. It will be a great benefit to the fraternity generally if other medical men would volunteer as lecturers in so useful a work, injured, or apparently drowned, pending the doctor's arrival, is invaluable (and often the means of saving life), more especially to the police, firemen and persons holding public offices. In connection with this work in Victoria there are separate classes for women, on nursing and hygiene. Provided the lectures can be obtained free, the cost of acquiring this knowledge would be nominal. Who among our lodge surgeons in Ontario will take the project up?

Smith's Falls, Ont.

At the annual dinner of Guelph lodge, No. 124, held on Thursday the 25th ult., a good time was spent by the brethren, their wives and sweet hearts, after enjoying a good supper, a well arranged programme was carried through, with Bro. G. T. Martin in the chair.

Fredericton, N.B.

I thank you on behalf of the members of Islington lodge, for the copies of the ANGLO-SAXON which you have so kindly sent us from time to time. I can say for them, as well as for myself, that we are heartily in sympathy with the principles which it advocates. I should feel highly gratified if we could have the privilege which you gentlemen in the Upper Provinces have had, that of hearing such eloquent discourses as those delivered by Dr. Beers and Col. Denison. I think, if we were fortunate enough to do so, it would be the means of giving a boom to the S. O. E. cause. I am also pleased to be able to know that Canada can claim, as her sons, men who have such perfect faith in the future of Canada, and such unswerving loyalty to our Queen and country. Hoping that your valuable paper will receive every encouragement from all loyal Canadians.—A.D.C.

The following resolution was passed by Islington lodge:

Whereas it has pleased the Almighty in his wisdom to remove by death the esteemed son of our greatly beloved Chaplain, the Rev. G. G. Roberts: A son whose promise of a useful and earnest life in the same profession in which his father has endeared himself, as well to his own parishioners as to all the residents of our city, by his benevolence, hearty and Christian consideration for his brethren of all classes:

And Whereas, the loss of such an esteemed son whose future course must have formed one of the beautiful spots in the hopes of his parenting as it did in the very bursting into full the promise of a bright and good boyhood the bereavement more poignant and distant:

Therefore Resolved, That our heartfelt be tendered to our Worthy Chaplain Roberts and family in their sad bereavement, and such sympathy being joined with the prayer that the consolation offered to all who suffer and are heavily burdened, may be fully extended to them in their hour of affliction.

Signed on behalf of Islington lodge No. 151 by the committee,

C. W. BECKWITH,
G. H. BAKER,
JOHN WILSON,
A. D. THOMAS.

Fredericton, March 1, 1892.

REPLY:

To the Worthy President and members of Islington lodge:

My dear brothers,—The affectionate expression of your sympathy, conveyed to me in the resolution passed at your last meeting, has afforded sincere gratification to Mrs. Roberts and myself, and to all the members of my family.

Amidst our overwhelming sorrow at the death of our dear son, in whom our hearts and hopes were so bound up, it is profoundly comforting to know that those, among whom the greater part of his brief life had been passed, held him in such kind esteem, and shared so warmly our loving anticipations of his future usefulness. We know that our Heavenly Father's will is best and wisest.

Heartily thanking you for your fervent prayer in our behalf and for all your loving words, and praying that God may bless the Sons of England in all good works of love and mercy.

I am, your affectionate Brother and Chaplain.

G. GOODRIDGE ROBERTS,
The Rectory, Fredericton,
March 2nd, 1892.

Windsor, Ont.

Prince of Wales lodge has been almost at a standstill for some time back, owing to certain complications that will often arise in lodges, but all difficulties have become settled, and with a new and carefully settled staff of officers, new life and energy has been infused into the lodge, and we anticipate a large increase in membership in the near future. As an earnest of this, no less than seven applications were received at our last meeting. Our funds of the lodge are in a healthy condition, considering our age. The members of the W. R. Degree have compiled a code of by-laws, making it a benefit degree, which we think is going to prove very satisfactory; it will have the effect, we think, of inducing members to take the degree that would not otherwise think it worth their while for a small increase in the dues. The degree will pay $1.00 per week sick benefit, making $4.00 in all paid by the lodge; that, together with free doctor and medicine, sick dues, is a greater inducement than is offered by any other society here.

Bro. T. Q. Dench, our delegate, to Grand Lodge—submitted his report at our last meeting which was listened to with marked attention by all present, and at its conclusion he was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

Bro. Dench is the retiring Dis. Dep of Essex District, a government employee in the Customs Department, a thoroughly loyal Englishman, and highly respected by the members of the Prince of Wales lodge. We very much regret having to lose so efficient an officer.

Bro. Hayward, of Waterloo lodge, will be his successor, he is also a government employee, an inspector of weights and measures, though young in the order he is very enthusiastic in the work and says he will endeavor to establish a number of new lodges in this district during his term of office.

Aylmer, Ont.

The fourth anniversary of Prince Albert lodge No. 61, was held on Friday evening the 25th ult., in the lodge rooms, President, Bro. M. Hatton, presiding.

At the signal some fifty of the brethren and a few invited ones, including Messrs. John Dunnett, an old Aylmer boy, F. Harding, W. Gunning, and C. Finch, all of Simcoe, sat down to what we can say from past experience was never excelled in that line in Aylmer.

After the happy crowd had done full justice to the most excellent bill of fare, the tables were cleared, and as jolly a time put in as it was ever our privilege to enjoy.

The songs and speeches were above the average usually heard at such gatherings, and were listened to attentively.

was quite a study to watch that veteran, G. Harris, during the singing of "The 24th Regiment," it being the regiment he belonged to. The ty broke up at a late hour, well satisfied with their evening's enjoyment.

Brockville.

Suffolk lodge No. 87, held their regular meeting on, February 29th, Pres., W. H. Edwards, presiding, who, in a few remarks, spoke of the valuable services the Supreme Grand President elected had rendered the society and our own lodge in the past, and the pleasure it afforded him in seeing the presidential chair filled by one from this district and of such sterling qualities, which was shared by all present.

He knew and hoped we would express ourselves by sending our hearty congratulations, and that he may have health and strength granted him from God to fall the office for the benefit of his countrymen and the honor and integrity of the British Empire. It was moved by Vice-President, Bro. Thos. Guest, seconded by Bro. Thos. Chapman,

"That the hearty congratulations and best wishes of the members of Lodge Suffolk, No. 87, be forwarded by the secretary to A. W. R. Stroud, Ottawa, on his election as Supreme Grand President of the Sons of England."

It is to be hoped that the efforts now being raised towards a fund to enable one of the brethren in this lodge to start in some business employment will be heartily responded to. This is one of the many cases where men, in good work do not turn their thoughts more to the great work of the Order until too late.

Through a little business transaction we have just added to our hall a very nice Coat of Arms. Bro. T. Guest is always on the alert to beautify our rooms; having secured it he had it tastefully painted and erected over the president's chair, also a Bronze Lion and Unicorn placed at the foot of the raised platform, directly at the feet of the president.

Two more incandescent lamps have been added to light up the staircase—which was greatly needed.

The Juvenile lodge is steadily increasing in funds and also numbers. It is expected as days lengthen they will strengthen.—A. C. B.

Toronto.

There was a great crush of members and brethren at the regular fortnightly meeting of Mercantile Lodge, No. 81, S.O.E.B.S., at Shaftesbury Hall on Saturday night, February 27th. It was known that the new head of the Order Supreme Grand President, Bro. Ald. W. R. Stroud, of Derby Lodge, Ottawa, would in all probability be present and that many prominent Grand Lodge delegates from the east returning from London, would also be in attendance, and the effect of this announcement was to bring together about 150 of the brethren from nearly every lodge in the city and vicinity.

President Bro. Geo. H. Evans, occupied the chair, and was supported on either side by S.P.G.P. Bro. Ald. W. R. Stroud, Ottawa; P. S. G. P. Bro. Richard Ivens, Toronto; S.G. Sec. Bro. John W. Carter, Toronto; Bro. Major J. A. Edwards, Montreal, district deputy for the Province of Quebec; Thos. Skippon, Toronto; Bro. J. N. Reece, Huntsville, district deputy for Muskoka and Parry Sound; Bro. W. Gall, Huntsville; Bro. N. H. Bartholomew, president Primrose Lodge, Montreal and others. Prominent among the city brethren present were Bros. W. D. Humphry, P., Bristol; T. W. Horn, P., Chesterfield; E. J. Cashmore, P., Lichfield; Geo. R. Moore, P., St. Albans; John Aldridge, P.P., Preston; F. H. Herbert, P.P., Kent; Thos. Cannon, P.P., Surrey; R. S. Grundy, P.P., St. Albans, and many more.

One candidate was initiated into the mysteries of the first degree, the Sup. Grand President conducting the ceremony, and a large number of propositions were received.

The routine work of the evening was got through at an early hour and the lodge closed, after which refreshments were served and a capital programme of music enjoyed. The Toronto Handbell Ringers, Bros. E. J. Cashmore, C. M. Cashmore, F. C. Broomhall, O. C. Wenborne, A. Cashmore, W. Dash, N. Bird and F. Leyden, all members of Lichfield lodge, No. 146, were present and gave several delightful selections which were repeatedly encored and the four first named also rendered a couple of vocal quartettes which were much appreciated, other vocalists being Bros. Fred. Warrington, Geo. Warburton, Thos. Hurst and J. F. Race; and Bro. H. K. Cockin contributed a humorous recitation in characteristic style. Speeches were delivered by the Grand Lodge officers present and Bro. Major Edwards, and the gathering reluctantly broke up at midnight after a most harmonious and enjoyable evening.

The Anglo-Saxon vs. Arrears.

We regret the necessity of using the columns of the ANGLO-SAXON as a means of again requesting the delinquent subscribers to remit their back subscriptions. We have, on different occasions, with extra expense, "billed" their accounts privately; some have responded. Still there are over one hundred owing the ANGLO-SAXON, two and three YEARS back subscriptions!!

We feel sure the brethren in Toronto who are owing us, would be able to sustain the "only English weekly," with a clearer conscience, if subscriptions OVER DUE the ANGLO-SAXON were first paid off. Trusting this will suffice as a final request. Our address remains the same, P.O. Box 296.

N.B.—Kindly refresh your mind with the laws regarding newspapers as appears below.

The Law Regarding Newspapers.

- 1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted in the place where the paper is published, although the subscriber may reside hundreds of miles away.
4. The courts have decided that refusing newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Elsewhere in this issue we publish the particulars of a remarkable cure that fairly out-rivals the celebrated case of John Marshall, of Hamilton, which created such a sensation throughout the country. The particulars of this case are vouched for by the Albany Evening Journal, recognized as the leading newspaper at the New York State capital, and one of the leading papers of the United States. There is, therefore, no room to doubt that the particulars of the case are accurately and carefully set forth, in every respect true, and must therefore prove of the deepest interest to our readers, we therefore commend the article to their perusal.

Lodge Cards under this head will be inserted at the rate of One Dollar per Year.

ANDY THOMS OR
The Tale of an Urn.
BY Thos. C. Andrews.
PART TWO.

The great Scientist stood in a nonchalant attitude with his back to the door holding the urn in his right hand, which he balanced upon his hip, and gazing in a triumphantly expectant manner partly at Andy, and partly through the shop window at the street beyond. The painter awaited his fate, of rather that of the urn with some evidence of anxiety; suddenly he gave a slight start, a shadow as of dread or surprise, passed over his face, which for a moment assumed a pallid hue. The Professor slightly shifted his position and something dropped with a click to the floor. All looked down but seeing nothing, again assumed their former positions. Then Andy remembered the lucky stone he had left in the jar; again casting down his eyes, he saw it and placed his foot on top of it; the lawyer at the same time giving a loud preliminary ahem, and getting up from his chair, he passed each hand alternatively up the opposite sleeve of his coat, as if mechanically adjusting an imaginary gown, and then proceeded to deliver his judgment as nearly as possible in the following words:

This is one of the most singular combinations of circumstances which ever came under my notice professionally or otherwise. But as you both agree to be bound by my decision, I shall endeavour to render a verdict as near in accord with the legal aspect of the case as my knowledge of the law will admit.

You must be both aware that possession, in all cases of doubtful claim is always a very important matter, in fact so much so, that it is often said to be nine points of the law. Now, Mr. Thoms has held undisputed possession of this urn for upwards of ten years, this fact is I believe admitted by both sides? Both gave a nod of acquiescence. But again, he continued there is an axiom in common law which declares a man's rights to his own property, wherever he may find it, so really the question hinges upon who is the proprietor. Both parties claim to have "found" the urn, but my learned friend of the brush admits that he did not use proper diligence, or in other words made no effort at all, after he had found it, to discover the rightful owner, there was no impossibility, and in fact little difficulty in his having done so, therefore he is guilty of neglect. Now, this neglect renders any claim he may make to the property worthless; when the true owner turns up.

At this point Andy cast a furtive glance at the little door and the same uneasy expression crossed his face which was noticed before.

But then again, the man of fate continued, we raise the question of true ownership. Mr. Patroclus, who my learned friend has just said, has been dead upwards of Three Thousand Years is supposed to have been the original possessor, but we have no evidence of the fact. If we had, unless he left a will such knowledge would be valueless, for being dead he ceases to own anything, and his property belongs to his heirs. Now, it is another common axiom that the law requires impossibilities of no man, and it would obviously be impossible to hunt up the heirs of the deceased at this remote day. Which being the case, the property must have long since reverted to the government of the country in which both he and it were interred; therefore, when Mr. Trywell obtained permission from that government, permitting him to delve for treasures, he practically secured a right to property exhumed either by himself or his servants under that permit.

But again, the property was in both cases found in a foreign land, and as there has been no thought of theft, even suggested by either side, I think as I said before, that he who is in possession can retain that possession without much fear of being legally deprived of the property in dispute. In fact my view is, that as my learned friend the professor is now in actual possession, and that as he is the larger man, and seems determined to keep the urn, it would be better for any other friend to accept such pecuniary recompense as he may be able to obtain; and I would remind my very learned friend that had it not been for the very opportune intervention of my other friend, this extraordinary relic which must have so narrowly escaped the ravaging flames which left in ruins ancient Troy, would have perished miserably, in one of the every day railroad disasters which disgrace the management of those great public highways in the United States. With these words the man of law resumed his seat; while a triumphant smile spread itself over the face of the portly professor, who raising his left hand with a graceful flourish, and bringing it down on the table with emphasis, remarked he turned the hand still resting upon his hip still further round behind him:

"Yes, indeed, my legal friend, possession is in law the chief advantage, and in such a case as this, especially; I think this man, this painter, has behaved in a very dishonest manner, and though the article in dispute is now of very little intrinsic value, as a matter of public duty, I do not consider such loose ideas with regard to the laws of meum and teum should be in anyway encouraged; so, though I should not recede from my offer of twenty-five dollars for the charmers book accounts, I shall certainly pay him nothing for the urn, which I shall take away conscientiously claiming it for my own, if by no other right by that of might, and possession. The portly presence and powerful frame of the great man on the utterance of these words, gave a sudden jerk, and wheeling round with his back towards Andy and his face to the door he had just time to catch a glimpse of what appeared to be the shadow of a female form flit through the portal, the click of a lock as the key turned from without sounding simultaneously. So instantaneously was the thing done that the Professor looked like an effigy of petrified surprise, as the sprightly figure of Mrs. Thoms revealed itself through the glass door holding the urn up to him in a taunting manner and calling out in laughing tones. Possession is nine points of the law. Is it? well I intend to hold possession of this jar till our very learned friend gets an order from Mr. Pat Throttles, that I am to hand it over to him. Good morning gentlemen. The back door slammed, and she was gone.

For the moment the great man felt very angry, but a long experience in small bargainings with shifty Greeks and rascally Arabs gave him the self control necessary to master his emotions, but he could not forbear to remark as he left the shop in company with his friend, that he would yet obtain the coveted object if he spent a thousand dollars in doing so.

Andy stooped and picked up the lucky stone which all this time had been covered by his foot, placing it in the pocket of his vest while a smile crossed his features deprecatory of the superstition growing upon him, that the stone contained some innate power by which success would be obtained in every enterprise entered into by he who held it in possession for the time being.

Full of anxiety and dread at what might be the Professor's next move in his evident determination to recover his relic, he hastened home where he found his wife in high glee at the success of her manoeuvre. While he, not even now daring to tell her of the anxiety he felt less the matter should come into Court, greatly puzzled her by not appearing pleased by what she had done.

A SARATOGA CO. MIRACLE.

HELPLESS FOR YEARS AND EXCLUDED FROM HOSPITALS AS INCURABLE.

The Remarkable Experience of Chas. Quant as Investigated by an Albany (N. Y.) Journal Reporter—A Story of Surpassing Interest.

Albany, N. Y., Journal, March 4th.

SARATOGA, March 4.—For some time past there have been reports here and elsewhere in Saratoga county of a most remarkable—indeed, so remarkable as to be miraculous—cure of a most severe case of locomotor ataxia or creeping paralysis, simply by the use of a popular remedy known as "Pink Pills for Pale People," prepared and put up by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Morristown, N. Y., and Brockville, Ont. The story was to the effect that Mr. Chas. A. Quant, of Galway, who for the last six or eight years has been a great sufferer from creeping paralysis and its attendant ills, and who had become utterly powerless of all self-help, had, by the use of a few boxes of the Pink Pills for Pale People, been so fully restored to health as to be able to walk about the streets without the aid of crutches. The fame of this wonderful, miraculous cure was so great that the Evening Journal reporter thought it worth his while to go to Galway to call on Mr. Quant, to learn from his lips, and from the observation and testimony of his neighbors, if his alleged cure was a fact or only an unfounded rumor. And so, he drove to Galway and spent a day and a night there in visiting Mr. Quant, getting his story and interviewing his neighbors and fellow-townsmen. It may be proper to say that Galway is a pretty little village of about 400 people, delightfully located near the centre of the town of Galway, in Saratoga county, and about 17 miles from Saratoga Springs. Upon enquiry the residence of Mr. Charles A. Quant was easily found, for everybody seemed to know him, speaking well of him and to be overflowing with surprise and satisfaction at his wonderful cure and restoration to the activities of enterprising citizenship, for Mr. Quant was born in Galway and had spent most of his life there. Mr. Quant resides at his pretty home, on a pleasant street nearly opposite the academy. In response to a knock at the door it was opened by a man who, in reply to an inquiry if Mr. Quant lived there and was at home, said: "I am Mr. Quant. Will you come in?" After a little general and preliminary conversation, and after he had been apprised of the object for which the Journal reporter had called upon him, he, at request, told the story of himself and of his sickness and terrible sufferings and of the ineffectual treatment he had had; and of his final cure by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and cheerfully gave assent to its use for publication. He said: "My name is Charles A. Quant. I am 37 years old. I was born in the village of Galway, and, excepting while traveling on business and a little while in Amsterdam, have spent my whole life here. My wife is a native of Ontario. Up to about eight years ago I had never been sick and was then in perfect health. I was fully six feet tall, weighed 180 pounds and was very strong. For 12 years I was travelling salesman for a piano and organ company and had to do, or at least did do, a great deal of heavy lifting, got my meals very irregularly and slept in enough 'spare beds' in country houses to freeze any ordinary man to death, or at least gave him the rheumatism. About eight years ago I began to feel distress in my stomach and consulted several doctors about it. They all said it was dyspepsia, and for dyspepsia I was treated by various doctors in different places, and took all the patent medicines I could hear of that claimed to be a cure for dyspepsia. But I continued to grow gradually worse for four years. Then I began to have pain in my back and legs, and became conscious that my legs were getting weak and my step unsteady, and then I staggered when I walked. Having received no benefit from the use of patent medicines, and feeling that I was constantly growing worse, I then, upon advice, began the use of electric belts, pads and all the many different kinds of electric appliances I could hear of, and spent hundreds of dollars for them, but they did me no good. (Here Mr. Quant showed the Journal reporter an electric suit of underwear for which he paid $124.) In the fall of 1888 the doctors advised a change of climate, so I went to Atlanta, Ga., and acted as agent for the Estey Organ Company. While there I took a thorough electric treatment, but it only seemed to aggravate my disease, and the only relief I could get from the sharp and distressing pains was to take morphine. The pain was so intense at times that it seemed as though I could not stand it, and I almost longed for death as the only certain relief. In September of 1888 my legs gave out entirely and my left eye was drawn to one side, so that I had double sight and was dizzy. My trouble so effected my whole nervous system that I had to give up business. Then I returned to New York and went to the Roosevelt hospital, where for four months I was treated by specialists and they pronounced my case locomotor ataxia and incurable. After I had been under treatment by Prof. Starr and Dr. Ware for four months, they told me they had done all they could for me. Then I went to the New York hospital on Fifteenth street, where, upon examination they said I was incurable and would not take me in. At the Presbyterian hospital they examined me and told me the same thing. In March, 1890, I was taken to St. Peter's hospital in Albany, where Prof. H. H. Hun frankly told my wife my case was hopeless; that he could do nothing for me and that she had better take me back home and save my money. But I wanted to make a trial of Prof. Hun's famous skill and I remained under his treatment, for nine weeks, but secured no benefit. All this time I had been growing worse I had become entirely paralyzed from my waist down and had partly lost control of my hands. The pain was terrible; my legs felt as though they were freezing; my stomach would not retain food, and I fell away to 120 pounds. In the Albany hospital they put 17 big burns on my back one day with red hot irons and after a few days they put 14 more burns on and treated me with electricity, but I got worse rather than better; lost control of my bowels and water, and upon advice of the doctor, who said there was no hope for me, I was brought home, where it was thought that death would soon come to relieve me of my sufferings. Last September, while in this helpless and suffering condition, a friend of mine in Hamilton, Ont., called my attention to the statement of one John Marshall, whose case had been similar to my own, and who had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

In this case Mr. Marshall, who is a prominent member of the Royal Templars of Temperance, had after four years of constant treatment by the most eminent Canadian physicians been pronounced incurable, and was paid the $1,000 total disability claim allowed by the order in such cases. Some months after Mr. Marshall began a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking some 15 boxes was fully restored to health.

I thought I would try them and my wife sent for two boxes of the pills and I took them according to the directions given on the wrapper on each box. For the first few days the cold baths were pretty severe, as I was so very weak, but I continued to follow instructions as to taking the pills and treatment, and even before I had used up the two boxes of pills I began to feel beneficial effects from them. My pains were not so bad; I felt warmer; my head felt better; my food began to relish and agree with me; I could straighten up; the feeling began to come back into my limbs, I began to be able to get about on crutches; my eye came back again as good as ever, and now, after the use of eight boxes of the pills—at a cost of only $4.00—see!—I can with the help of a cane only, walk all about the house and yard, can saw wood, and on pleasant days I walk down town. My stomach trouble is gone; I have gained 10 pounds; I feel like a new man, and when the spring opens I expect to be able to renew my organ and piano agency. I cannot speak in too high terms Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as I know they saved my life after all the doctors had given me up as incurable."

Other citizens of Galway, seeing the wonderful cure of Mr. Quant by the Pink Pills for Pale People, are using them. Frederick J. Schmitt, who suffered from rheumatism, said he was finding great benefit from their use and Mr. Schultz, who had suffered from chronic dysentery for years, said he had taken two boxes of the pills and was already cured.

Mr. Quant had also tried Faith cure, with experts of that treatment in Albany and Greenville, S. C., but with no beneficial results. A number of the more prominent citizens of Galway, as Rev. C. E. Herbert, of the Presbyterian church; Prof. James E. Kelly, principal of the academy; John P. and Harvey Crouch, and Frank and Edward Willard, merchants, and many others to whom Mr. Quant and his so miraculous cure by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, are well known, were pleased to have the opportunity of bearing testimony to the high character of Mr. Quant, and of verifying the story of his recovery from the terrible affliction from which he had for so long a time been a sufferer.

Truly, the duty of the physician is not to save life, but to heal disease. The remarkable result from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the case of Mr. Quant, induced the reporter to make further enquiries concerning them, and he ascertained that they are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is generally used, but a highly scientific preparation, the result of years of study and careful experiment. They have no rival as a blood builder and nerve restorer and have met with unparalleled success in the treatment of such diseases as paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus' dance, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling which affects so many, and all diseases depending upon a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale sallow cheeks. In the case of men they affect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature. On further enquiry the writer found that these pills are manufactured by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Morristown, N. Y., and are sold in boxes, (never in bulk by the hundred) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., from either addresses. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies, or medical treatment.
