ORDERS REAR ADMIRAL TO SEIZE MEXICAN PORT CUSTOMS HOUSE

Latest Phase of the Tense Situation—Huerta Played a Smart Game in Seeking to Have Delay--Amunition on Way For Federals.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] WASHINGTON, April 21.—While Congress is debating the Mexican situation, President Wilson has ordered Rear Admiral Fletcher to seize the Vera Cruz customs house and prevent Huerta from getting several million rounds of ammunition and 200 field guns on a German steamer bound for that port...

there is no blockade, the American forces could not interfere with the German steamer. The orders were to seize the guns and shells when they had landed, or to seize the customs house to prevent their landing, and thus keep them from going to Mexico City.

The orders to the admiral, it was said, conferred the broadest authority on him, directing that, if necessary, he take the town of Vera Cruz as well as the customs house, to prevent the landing of the munitions. Officials here said the admiral might act in several ways.

MONROE DOCTRINE IS ORIGINAL CAUSE OF THE MEXICAN DISPUTE

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, April 21.—Considerable comment is to-day again devoted to the Mexican situation by the British newspapers.

The Manchester Guardian, the most influential organ of the English peace party says that war, should it come, would be purely ridiculous in the stakes, were not human lives and national reputations. If both sides are longing to be at each other's throats, the newspaper continues, it would be creditable to them both to have no better occasion for beginning.

The Guardian thinks that President Wilson was wrong in refusing to recognize General Huerta, and the resulting intervention will put "Pancho" Villa in the position Huerta now occupies which is "not an attractive prospect, for Villa possesses a higher degree of every fault that President Wilson has found with Huerta."

The Liverpool Post in taking the ground that President Wilson's message was the inevitable culmination of American policy in refusing to recognize General Huerta, says the responsibility of the United States could not cease with a mere conquest under arms and the upholding of American dignity, nor could it be confined to the immediate protection of international commercial interests. It adds: "The further responsibility would devolve upon the United States of taking such steps as might be considered necessary for the permanent protection of those interests that could only be done by establishing such a form and personnel of government as would ensure the greatest degree of orderly life. The civilization of Mexico would have a beneficial influence throughout the world."

AMERICAN PRESS SAYS "THAT CONVIVIAL THOUGH STUBBORN SAVAGE" SHOULD BE FLATTERED

[By Special Wire to The Courier] NEW YORK, April 21.—Commenting on President Wilson's message on the Mexican situation delivered to Congress yesterday afternoon, The Herald says: "Now we have the spectacle presented of a nation going to war without a cheer and without a note of martial music, because it is to war that the United States is going, and to call it by any other name will avail little. No one can read President Wilson's address to Congress without realizing the extreme reluctance of the President to take the course which circumstances have forced up on him. It is perhaps the most unpleasant task President Wilson has ever performed."

The president's wise and temperate words and his scrupulously constitutional procedure will increase the confidence reposed in him by the American people. It is of good augury that the Hotspurs of the Senate and House found the President's statement too calm and dispassionate for their warlike temper. We could not have a safer leader in this venture, unpleasant at best, but not to be honorably avoided."

"In his address to Congress, President Wilson laid great stress upon the assertion that no war with Mexico is contemplated, that we have no quarrel with the people of Mexico, and that the sole issue which has set our entire fleet on a voyage for Mexico is Huerta. That conviction, though stubborn old savage ought to feel mightily flattered. Perhaps never since the days of Napoleon were such prodigious preparations made to crush one man."

CHEEVERS BROS. WERE LET GO IN POLICE COURT TODAY

Charges of Theft in Various Church Rectories Were Investigated.

Some Stiff Liquor Fines Were Handed Out by Magistrate This Morning.

William and Thomas Cheevers, brothers, aged 31 and 24 respectively, stood in the prisoners' dock at the Police Court this morning, charged with housebreaking in five different instances. They had been rounded up by the Brantford Police, who had been on the look out for thieves owing to the numerous complaints they had received.

Represented by Mr. George D. Heyd, K.C., the brothers pleaded not guilty to the charges. Among the places they were charged with breaking and entering were: The Brantford Avenue Methodist parsonage, Grace Church rectory, St. Jude's rectory and the home of Mrs. Gaskell.

Suspicious Chisel Marks. The marks on the residence upon Brant avenue were made by a chisel and these marks correspond with the marks which would be made by the stolen chisel. Witness was of opinion that the marks had been made by the chisel stolen. The magistrate was of the opinion that this was very circumstantial evidence and he felt that he could not convict upon such evidence.

Plea for Defendants. Mr. Heyd then spoke on behalf of his client. It was five years, he said, since this defendant had been in trouble and on that occasion it was in connection with his elder brother. Defendant had been discharged. He was now married to a 19 year old girl and they had one child. He would have the tendency to give the man an anchor, some object in life. His surroundings in his youth had not been desirable and he had been influenced by his brother. There was no reason why defendant should not turn over a new leaf and lead a good life.

Magistrate in Lieut. Vein. Thereupon the Magistrate said that in this case there was only one charge outstanding against defendant and that was of stealing the brace and bits from the carriage works. He thought he could overlook this charge. There were some coincidences in the case of Mr. Lavell's residence theft, the spectacle case was a notable thing. Another feature was that of the chisel however, it was purely circumstantial, and the Magistrate did not think that a jury would convict upon the evidence given and he would therefore give defendant the benefit of the doubt. The defendant's wife and child would have a steady effect upon him.

Prisoner Will Reform. However, the Magistrate asked prisoner if he would go to work and lead an honest life if he was given a chance, to which he replied that he would. "There is no reason why you should not make a good citizen," concluded the Magistrate, as he allowed the brother Thomas to be released.

JEWES AND THE GENTILES HOLD A LIVE DEBATE

William St. Synagogue Discussed at Length at City Council.

Strong Deputations Conflict and Hold Wordy Warfare.

Jews and Gentiles last night gathered in formidable array before the City Council forum in friendly but spirited debate. Everything from the depreciation of the value of property, to the ornate beauty of a synagogue, the tide of emigration from Russia, the basic principle of religion, the segregation of foreigners, everything in fact from soup to crackers was included in the argument. Mayor Spence sat back and allowed the debaters full sway, and then the council sat back and allowed the entire question another stay for two weeks before settlement. The idea was advanced that Jews and Gentile could get together and settle the synagog question as far as William street was concerned, amicably.

From William street there filed in probably 25 ratepayers, who stood behind the petition to have William St. declared one for residential purposes only. From various other sections of the city then came 25 Jews who were there seeking the privilege to build a place of worship on William Street, property having already been bought and partially paid for. That a compromise may be reached is hoped, but the result of the debate left neither party convinced that it was wrong. Mayor Spence witnessed and heard two contending parties, standing upon their own convictions, each absolutely right. It was some situation.

For William street, which means on the city tax rolls an assessment $400,000, Mr. A. E. Watts took up the cudgels. Let it be remarked that what Mr. Watts delivered from the stand was his honest opinion and it found applause frequently. He was followed by other William street residents. Then came the Jews in opposition. Mr. M. Saipie, with considerable oratorical ability, who, had he been born in Greece might have been taken for Demosthenes, delivered an appeal which would have done credit to the genius of Shakespeare as has been portrayed in some parts. Mr. Saipie was followed by Rev. Gortgen and Mr. Sam Fox, who presented their case forcefully. On the whole it looked as if honors were even. From the Aldermen there came no definite opinions as to the merits of the case.

Ald. S. P. Picher introduced the by-law which caused the furor. He later explained that he was honest and above board in his conviction that the by-law stood for the best interests of the ratepayers of William street, who had built up by their industry, their standard of living, a modest, but a very pretty and attractive thoroughfare. He had been made a target because he was sponsor for the by-law but when he knew that he had the entire street behind him he did not care. He was honest in his convictions, and while he may have said things at the last council meeting, he would not have said otherwise. It was largely because of an aggravating attack made by Ald. Ward, who was always endeavoring to give a fancy exhibition of tail twisting and yet accomplished nothing.

Before the by-law went into committee of the whole, the Mayor suggested hearing the deputations. Mr. A. E. Watts was the first speaker favoring of course the by-law. He addressed the council as a resident of William St. The whole endeavor of municipal government, he said, was to make surroundings of the various ratepayers healthy and congenial. Machinery was provided whereby distinctions could be drawn as to what uses streets could be put. Limitations were set. Some could be classified as business districts. Others as strictly residential. The parks board were being given wide powers over streets, also control over the breathing spots in cities. The City Council had power to set aside certain streets where the residents would be free from nuisances, which included industries, livery stables, garages and other establishments not conducive to enhancing the pleasure of surrounding residents. William street did not boast of the "400" of the city and yet it was one of the modest residential thoroughfares, and one of the pleasantest to live on in the city. They had, it was true, one or two stores which were quite sufficient for all needs. The residents asked that it be confined solely to residences and it was believed that the by-law would prove just like the proverbial ounce of prevention worth a pound of cure. Mr. Watts pointed out the trouble arising from Alfred street rink for the erection of which, not one alderman knew.

SIX NEW ONES HERE

More Players Report to Pres. Nelson Today—Short-stop is Here.

Six new faces appeared on the Red Sox line-up this morning at the Y. M. C. A. when the members of the team held a short work out on the gymnasium floor. The new men were Beltz, infielder, from Detroit, Mich., Rickart, infielder from Tiffin, Ohio, Houeck, the Rochester short stop, who though only a youngster is counted on to make the fans forget Lou Courtney; Sandusky, the outfielder from Rochester, reported to be a fence buster; Latime, an infielder, and Connell, pitcher, both from Rochester, complete the aggregation that presented themselves to Manager Deneau this morning.

President Nelson was about to find the cause of delay when the quartette from that city walked in. All are likely looking fellows and appear to be in good condition. Houeck is a lively little fellow who appears to have lots of "pep" and a good arm. Wagner, better known as "Wag," also appeared on the floor to-day, having returned from New York last night. The squad tossed the ball around for some time and played basketball, finishing with a trot around the track a few times and then a shower bath. This afternoon the men will hold another workout in the armories when all the pitchers will get a chance to extend themselves. A little warmer weather is all that is needed now to round the squad off. It is likely practices will commence to-morrow at Agricultural Park, providing the weather becomes warmer.

Lamond Here.

He is here! "He" refers to our old esteemed friend, Matty Lamond. Arrived at 10 a.m. and looks as fit as a fiddle. Lamond came direct from his home in Lawrence, Mass., where he wintered and kept himself in condition.

Manager Deneau welcomed Matty with open arms, as he is the only tried backstop he has on his roster. With Lamond came Molyneux from Niagara Falls, the big pitcher who got a trial here two years ago, but was as wild as a hawk and had to be released. This man Molyneux is a big fellow an dough to have a world of speed in his salary wing.

Manager Deneau now has all his players rounded up but Worful, the Pittsburg pitcher, who will be here to-morrow, according to a wire from him to-day. That will round out the squad, from which 14 or 15 men will be picked.

Practice was commenced this afternoon on Agricultural Park, and although a little cold, the players showed lots of ginger.

A New Site

Loyal Order of Moose
May Get Colborne St.
Property.

Some sixty new members were initiated last night into the mysteries of the Loyal Order of the Moose. It was a large and enthusiastic gathering and some important business was done.

It was decided to hold the charter open another 30 days and will now close on May 20th.

A new home is in sight for the Moose and a price has been offered for the Burke property on Colborne Street opposite the Prince Edward Hotel. This the members considered would be an ideal site for club rooms and accordingly a price was named which will likely be received from him by the next meeting.

The lodge is increasing every day and by the time the charter closes the membership will be close to five hundred.

Purchased Theatre.
Mr. Frank Buker of Smith's Falls, has purchased the Gem Theatre on Colborne street, and has assumed possession. He will be aided in the management by his sister, Miss Eva Buker and Mr. Gordon Stewart, both of musical ability.

Will Issue Uniforms.
A company of the 25th Dragoons will commence to issue uniforms at the armories to-night. Hereafter, Thursday evening will be the regular practise night. The officers think that the Dragoons are in fine shape for a good season of work.

NO VOTES FOR THE WOMEN

two votes on one property in many instances, which was not fair. The work of the Magistrate, said Ald. Hollinrake, had increased, and therefore his salary should be raised.

Ald. Ward took up the militant banner right off, and said that Ald. Hollinrake had no argument at all against votes for married women. It was true their organization was not large, but that was no criterion. There was general sympathy for the women's demands.

Ald. Hollinrake: What reason have you for making that claim
Ald. Ward: "For the reason that I am more in touch and more sympathetic than Ald. Hollinrake." (Laughter). "Moreover," continued Ald. Ward, "he trusted the ladies would have enough pluck and determination to get what they wanted."

Ald. English said his conscience told him that the ladies had a perfect right to vote. He could not conceive any argument against a woman's right to vote. They were training the men and women of the future and should have a say.

Ald. Ryerson could not see why a married lady who owned property, did not have a right to vote on that property. He had as many lady voters as anybody, and liked a woman's vote as well as any one else's.

Ald. Calbeck also favored votes for women.
Ald. Hollinrake said there was no general movement on the part of the women of Brantford to vote. If the married women were to vote then take it away from the men. It wasn't a square deal to have two votes in one household. It was his personal opinion that women didn't want the vote.

Ald. Pitcher said that when the railway by-law was voted on, it was surprising how few women voted. Personally, he would not like his wife to have a vote because she was a Liberal and he was a strong Conservative.

Mayor Spence said that at the last municipal elections with good organizations at work, out of 982 lady voters on the list, only 43 per cent. voted. Some of the most persuasive gentlemen with autos at hand and the percentage who voted was surprising. When the street railway by-law was voted on, there was not 50 ladies voted for the simple reason there were no autos and no persuasive gentlemen to accompany them. The Mayor had nothing against the ladies. He did not believe in placing women on the same basis as many men whose names are on the list. He said this in reply to the argument that worthless people had a vote.

The Mayor further said that he was opposed to the request because it was class legislation. The rich man and his wife would have two votes and the poor man and his wife none. In this instance his Worship said he proposed to line up with Mr. Asquith and others.
Ald. Ward said if the council voted down votes for women, it would be the first council in six months which had done so. He insisted that those who opposed the measure were acting in the fear of the moral force which votes for women would give.
Ald. Ward had an amendment which said "strike out clause one of the report." The amendment was lost by 10 to 5.

The Mayor remarked that Ald. Ward's resolution looked rather silly as striking out clause one left the women in the hole as deep as ever.

Crossings in Holmedale

The committee on railways reported as follows:
That the city solicitors be instructed to apply to once to the Dominion Railway Board for an order instructing The Lake Erie & Northern Railway Company to afford proper protection on West Mill street, where their line crosses the Grand Valley Railway near the foot of Chestnut Avenue. It is the opinion of the city that the said railway company should bear all expenses in connection therewith.

Grand Valley Titles

That your committee be authorized to make all expenditure necessary for the purpose of procuring a survey of the right of way of the Grand Valley Railway Company's line from Brantford to Galt, the same being required so that the city solicitors may be able to make a proper search of the title of the lands belonging to the Grand Valley Railway Company.

Buildings and Grounds

The committee on buildings and grounds submitted the following report:

That this committee be empowered to visit the different cities for the purpose of inspecting public lavatories and of procuring all necessary data as to the cost of construction and other details, and that the committee report back to the council the result of its investigation.

Ald. Ward said the committee's intentions were highly commendable. The city engineer had already secured data, and did not believe the committee would have very far to go.

Notes of Meeting.

Ald. Bragg gave notice that he would introduce a by-law at the next meeting of the council to re-appoint inspectors and meter readers to work

CHURCH UNION

Is Strongly Favored at Ayr-Presbyterian Delegation Visits Many Churches.

AYR, April 21.—Special meetings of members and adherents of Stanley Street and Knox churches were held yesterday afternoon to discuss church union question. Both churches voted on the question the 6th of this month.

Vote Was Taken.

Although the vote was decidedly in favor of the union the presbytery did not wish to force union on the people without discussing the matter with them.

At a meeting of the presbytery held in Woodstock it was found necessary to get more information before proceeding with the matter. A delegation consisting of G. Woodside, Brantford, R. Pettigrew, Glen Morris, ministers; and Mr. Patterson, Ingersoll, elder, was present at the meeting. Rev. Mr. Pettigrew acted as chairman. After opening the meeting he left it open for discussion among the people.

Most of the speeches favored union. A similar meeting was held by Knox Church and was well attended. The majority were in favor of union there. The delegation will report their information to synod, which will meet in St. Thomas on the 27th. Until they meet nothing definite will be known of the outcome.

TOWNSHIP HEALTH BOARD MEETING

The Different Sources of Milk Supply are Given Through Inspector.

The Township Board of Health met at the office of the township clerk, Mr. J. A. Smith, in the Court House, yesterday. The business gone through was of a purely routine character.

Among those present were: Mr. J. M. Young, chairman; Reeve Hudson Jennings, Dr. C. D. Chapin, township medical officer, and the secretary, Mr. J. A. Smith. It was reported that the township inspector is at the present inspecting the various farms that supply milk to the township. The inspector has found up to the present that there is a great improvement in the quality of milk supplied. This was considered very satisfactory by the board. Accounts were passed, and then the board adjourned.

HUERTA IS OILY
MEXICO CITY, April 21.—President Huerta, replying to queries from newspapers, said last night: "Mexico awaits with tranquility the development of events growing out of the controversy with the United States, and in the remote case of friction between the two countries, the people of this republic will bear no animosity toward the people of the United States, whose neighbors they are."

JEW AND THE

ing what he does at present, would have voted. That was the reason William street residents were acting now. They were unanimous, and in that they were in an unusual position. The city was not asked to spend one copper.

Mr. Watts said he had been referred to as the father of the opposition. He was not ashamed of this, as the child was a very healthy one. He did not want to create hard feelings but was honest in his convictions. He had not a word to say against the Jew. All nations were required in Canada, but it was essential that all should be assimilated. The Jews were very fine people, but they were clannish and hard to assimilate. A synagogue was not like an ordinary church. The Sabbath of the Jew was not that of the Gentile. The Sabbath of the Gentile was the holiday of the Jew. The habits of the Jew were not the same, their worship and their synagogue were different. Around an attempt was attracted their national and social life. Wherever it is, will be a public meeting place. If a number of foreigners were put in the midst of a residential district it would be objectionable.

Ex-Ald. Minshall
Ex-Ald. Minshall also addressed the Council. He was perhaps the largest ratepayer of the street, having invested $20,000 in good houses along the thoroughfare. He was not opposed to the Jews having a synagogue in Ward Two, but did not like the present site. The by-law was not a new invention. It had been used effectively in a Colborne street case last year. Mr. Minshall said he would be one of a number to take the property already purchased off the hands of the Jews and they would not lose one cent. He reminded Ald. Ward of an attempt he made once to drive foreigners out of Eagle Place and have them segregated in one part of the city.

H. H. Powell conceded it was a difficult question. The problem was not confined to Brantford, but was being faced elsewhere. Those of inferior races who had a different standard of living, who did not assimilate were really objectionable to the communities of Anglo Saxon people. A synagogue would form a rallying point on William street and would depreciate the value of surrounding property. Mr. Powell thought the Jews should get a lot where they would be surrounded by Jewish people.

Ex-Ald. Middlemiss pointed out that William street was one of the oldest in the city and it was hard work building it up to the standard it has now attained. A statute was provided for the very purpose of protecting residents placed as they were.

Mr. George Winter said not one of the Jews owned a foot of land on William street, while every ratepayer on the street was opposed to their project. Could a stronger case be made out for the by-law? Moreover, the ratepayers offered to take the synagogue lot off their hands.

Mr. Lister said that the synagogue would depreciate the value of surrounding property. One deal now pending would go through if the synagogue was not built. If it were, it would not go through.

Mr. M. Saipa
Mr. Saipa, who headed the opposition to the by-law, proved a very pleasing speaker. He thanked the council for generous treatment in the past to the Jews, who had not been treated as foreigners but as real citizens who had the right to vote, the right to live and to whom the glad and of fellowship had been extended.

Mr. Saipa first challenged the statement of Mr. Watts that William Street was unanimous against the synagogue. He for one was a resident of William street and was not against it, and he knew of others. He objected to the statement that the Jews were very hard to assimilate. Mr. Watts had referred to them as stubborn. Surely Mr. Watts didn't want to convert them and assimilate them and then again wanted to put them down. In reply to the statement that Sunday was a holiday for the Jew, Mr. Saipa challenged his opponents to show where Brantford Jews had ever outraged Sunday as a day of worship for the Gentile. The Jews not only worshipped Saturday but they kept Sunday decorously, because they are trying hard to assimilate. In reply to the statement that there was not the same worship, Mr. Saipa said: "We don't worship idols but you will find the unseen God is worshipped by the Jew as well as by the Gentile. And if it is worship, it is worship sincere."

Continuing, he said he believed in freedom for all in the matter of worship, saying "the great Master of your own religion would tell you that."

Mr. Saipa also objected to the charge that the synagogue would be a gathering point for Jews. He said that Jews had been resident here for seven years and asked if anyone knew their gathering point. They had met at different places and had caused no annoyance. Those opposing the synagogue had submitted no facts or figures showing that it would be a menace to the health or comfort of the community. If the Jews were to go to their own neighborhood where was that neighborhood? Would they show a Jewish settlement in the city? If the city created a segregated area, they would only make a rod for their own backs. It was the curse of cities, the segregated idea, and Brantford would be sorry for any such step. Every ward in the city had some Jews residing in it. Surely Brantford was not going to have a pale, as in Russia. This city must be too enlightened, too advanced for that. It was said a synagog would prove a rallying rendezvous, a village pump, as it were, and Mr. Saipa proceeded to show that Hamilton, Toronto and Kingston had synagogues erected on residential thoroughfares. In Brantford there were 300 Jews, including 70 male adults. Some 35 were engaged in business on front streets and they were all Russian emigrants out here eight years, and with bridges burned behind them. They were keen financial men, not found in criminality, not in bar rooms and not undesirable. Of the other 35 adults, about 12 were rag and bone men and were not the worse for it. "They were asked to come here; you will do business with them because they pay 100 cents on the dollar. Are they a menace?" asked Mr. Saipa, amid applause.

Continuing, he said there was no one more loyal to King George than the Jew. The Russian Jew could never return to his home. He would not if he could. When he sees a good thing he takes it. He is out here looking up to the Canadian, trying to follow him, trying to assimilate and trying all the time to become a real citizen of this great country. (Applause)

Other Speeches
Rev Gringorten and Mr Sam Fox also spoke briefly in opposition to the by-law, and were followed again by Mr. Watts and Mr. Saipa, who were patiently listened to.

Ward Starts Fight
Ald. Ward thereupon started a fight, declaring that the by-law was introduced with indecent haste, and he charged that it had been snatched away from his committee.

Mayor Spence repeated three times the ruling he gave two weeks ago that the matter was one for Ald. Pitcher's committee.

Still Ald. Ward was not satisfied. Ald. Broadbent rose to remark that he could not see what good Ald. Ward's quibbling did to settle the question. It was really painful to busy men at the council to have to submit to it.

Thereupon Ald. Ward said he had an amendment to the by-law. He believed Jew and Gentile could get together. A practical suggestion had been made by ex-Ald. Minshall and should be followed up. He suggested that the by-law be laid over for one month.

After some more skirmishing, on the Mayor's suggestion, and with Ald. Pitcher's consent, the by-law went to the committee of the whole, came back and will come up two weeks hence.

ONE TRIP QUITE ENOUGH FOR HIM
Gets Slugged, is Robbed Twice, is Arrested, Once as Spy and Again as Murder Suspect

ELK LAKE, Okla., April 21.—Twice thrown into jail, knocked in the head by thugs, and twice robbed of all his money, all one brief trip to California, was the experience of D. C. Coffman, 40 years old, who has come back to his farm near here and declares he will stay there in future.

Mr. Coffman left here in February for California. While eating supper in a restaurant in Denver he was arrested by detectives and locked up on a charge of killing a man in the state to which he was bound. Through an acquaintance he established his identity and was released. In San Francisco he was attacked by thugs, who beat him and robbed him. He was compelled to wire home for funds to return. At El Paso he ventured across the river to Juarez to see the sights, and was arrested as a spy and held in jail three days after which his valuables were confiscated. He was given 15 cents with which to get out of the country.

After paying his street car fare across the river, Mr. Coffman had a nickel left for his expenses until he reached Elk City. He declares Oklahoma is good enough for him.

UP TO WILSON.

Judging from the tone of the United States papers a very large majority of the people there are just about crazy for a fight with Mexico. If they are not already, said papers will pretty soon have them so. The New York Herald has been one of the mildest sheets in connection with this demand, but after Huerta's refusal to have the stars and stripes saluted, it said:

"General Victoriano Huerta has refused to yield to the entirely proper and wholly justified demands of President Wilson.

"The head of the putative government at Mexico City defies the United States.

"In accordance with his announced programme, President Wilson will go before Congress to-day and lay the case before the Representatives of the American people.

"The result is a foregone conclusion. Congress will support the President. It will give him, without quibbling and without delay, full authority to use the land and naval forces of the United States to uphold the national dignity.

"It can only mean the end of Huerta and Huertism. Once military intervention in any form is begun it cannot stop until Huerta is driven from power, until order is restored throughout Mexico, until a government representing the will of the Mexican people is installed at Mexico City.

"The die is cast. Once more the United States is called upon to take upon its shoulders the burden of putting in order the house of one of its sister republics upon this hemisphere. It is a burden we would have been glad to escape could it have been escaped with honor. But civilization demands that the United States exercise primacy upon this hemisphere, and this primacy carries with it responsibility of upholding law and order in the Americas."

The above would be going much further than President Wilson avowedly intends, and he is bound to have a very hard task indeed to restrain a thoroughly excited people. "Cry havoc and let loose the dogs of war" is manifestly their desire, and what a havoc it would be only those realize who have visited Mexico, and remember the physical conditions under which at point after point a few could hold very many at bay. This is, of course, supposing the Mexicans became a unit in resisting invasion. However Wilson as President is commander in chief of both the army and navy just as he is czar of his cabinet, whose eight members he selects personally and who have neither seat, nor responsibility to congress. In very few other countries, indeed, could the existing crisis be put up to one man, as this thing is up to him, and he will have very general sympathy with regard to a tremendous responsibility which has not been in any sense his own seeking.

FREE TRADE AND TRUSTS.

To hear some Liberal Free Traders talk in the House of Commons, one would almost imagine that trusts and combines are to be found only in countries where there exists a Protective Tariff.

To endeavor to give such an impression for mere party advantage, is as dishonest as political morality warped by narrow partisanship can be. No one knows better than Free Traders themselves that in no country in the world have trusts and combines flourished as they have under the aegis of Free Trade in England.

But it should always be remembered, in dealing with the character and scope of trusts, that such combinations only exert such power in the restraint of trade and for the enhancing of prices as is permitted them by the indifference of the people. And the people need not, unless they choose, submit to tyranny and imposition. When trusts become oppressive in this country the people can deal with them, if they be Canadian trusts.

But if the competition of home industries is eliminated, as it would be under Free Trade, and the people have become dependent upon foreign trusts for goods which are produced abroad, they cannot fix their prices. It is argued that trusts are an inevitable development of modern business methods, and are not injurious, if properly controlled. If, therefore, we must have the trusts with us, let them be Canadian and not foreign trusts.

upon suspended sentence. He warned him that if ever he got into trouble again this suspended sentence would come into action against him. William was discharged.

Milkmen and Their Bottles
Fate and two empty milk bottles caused some ill-feeling between two local milkmen. W. Courtnage and W. James. They had both delivered milk to Mrs. Cubbs, an James alleges that Courtnage took his empty bottles, upon being asked for them, he denied all knowledge of them, and gave him a pish, to which he responded sending complainant, Courtnage, down. In the fall his face struck a pump and caused the injuries received, which complainant had said were inflicted by defendant's fist. It was a case of six and two threes, and if the plaintiff wanted damages he would have to go to a civil court. The case was dismissed.

So Fine
Wm. Larion was found guilty of supplying liquor to a billed man. His case was remanded yesterday for the production of his own witnesses, but they could give no real light on the actual occurrence, while the case for the prosecution was strengthened by two witnesses who saw Larion besides the billed man. The magistrate decided that Larion was guilty and fined him $25 on each charge, $50 in all. The billed man admitted getting some liquor, and said that as Larion had been convicted he might as well say that was where he got it. "I see," said the Magistrate, "you bluffed it out as long as you could." The fine was ten dollars.

$100 Fine
Nichol Jaszuk was fined $100 and costs at the court this morning when he was convicted of a breach of the Liquor License Act. P. C.'s Borthwick and Rutherford testified as to the glass and bottles found at his house, 12 Palace street, on Sunday, in addition to two kegs of beer which were half empty.

He pleaded not guilty, and claimed that the beer consumed was not sold to the men who were drunk and found quarrelling outside of the defendant's house.

Still Another.
Mikiko Levadovitz, a Polish living at 10 Palace street, was fined $10 and costs for a breach of the Liquor License Act. Two four-gallon casks of beer were found at his house, and much drunken conduct was evident to the constables who visited the scene of the fight, which was opposite defendant's residence.

Tarzan of The Apes

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1913, by the Frank A. Munsey Company.

CHAPTER XIX.
The Outpost of the World.

WITH the report of his gun D'Arnot saw the door fly open and the figure of a man pitch headlong within on to the cabin floor. It was Tarzan.

With a cry of anguish D'Arnot sprang to the ape man's side and, kneeling, lifted the knife head in his arms, calling Tarzan's name aloud.

There was no response, and then D'Arnot placed his ear above the man's head. To his joy he heard its steady beating beneath.

The bullet had struck a glancing blow upon the skull. There was a fracture of the bone beneath.

D'Arnot breathed a sigh of relief and went about bathing the blood from Tarzan's face.

Soon the cool water revived him, and presently he opened his eyes to look in questioning surprise at D'Arnot.

The latter had bound the wound with pieces of cloth, and as he saw that Tarzan had regained consciousness he rose and, going to the table, wrote a message, which he handed to the ape man, explaining the terrible mistake he had made and how thankful he was that the wound was not more serious. Then he handed Tarzan the two messages that had been left for him.

Tarzan read the first one through with a look of sorrow on his face. The second one he turned over and over, searching for an opening. He had never seen a sealed envelope before. At length he handed it to D'Arnot. The latter opened it and handed the letter back to Tarzan.

Sitting on a camp stool, the ape man spread the written sheet before him and read:

To Tarzan of the Apes:
Before I leave let me add my thanks to those of Mr. Clayton for the kindness you have shown in permitting us the use of your cabin.

That you never came to make friends with us has been a great regret to us. We should have liked so much to see and thank our host.

There is another I should like to thank also, but he did not come back, though I cannot believe that he is dead.

I do not know his name. He is the great white giant who wore the diamond locket upon his breast.

If you know him and can speak his language carry my thanks to him and tell him that I waited seven days for him to return.

Tell him also that if my home in America, in the city of Baltimore, there will always be a welcome for him if he cares to come.

I found a note you wrote me lying among the books in the tree near the cabin. I do not know how you learned to love me who have never spoken to me, and I am very sorry if it is true, for I have already written my heart to another.

But I know that I am always your friend.
JANE PORTER.

Tarzan sat with gaze upon the floor for nearly an hour. It was evident to him from the notes that they did not know that he and Tarzan of the apes were one and the same.

"I have given my heart to another," he repeated over and over again to himself.

For a week they did little but rest. Meanwhile D'Arnot coached Tarzan in French. At the end of that time the two men could converse quite easily.

One night as they were sitting with- in the cabin before retiring Tarzan turned to D'Arnot.

"Where is America?" he said.

D'Arnot pointed toward the north-west.

"Many thousands of miles across the ocean," he replied. "Why?"

"I am going there."

"It is impossible, my friend," he said. Tarzan thought for a long time.

"Do any white men live in Africa?" he asked.

"Yes."

"We shall go there tomorrow," announced Tarzan.

Again D'Arnot smiled and shook his head.

"It is too far. We should die long before we reached them."

"Do you wish to stay here, then, forever?" asked Tarzan.

"No," said D'Arnot.

"Then we shall start tomorrow. I do not like it here longer. I should rather die than remain here."

"Well," answered D'Arnot with a shrug, "I do not know, my friend, but I also would rather die than remain here. If you go I shall go with you."

"It is settled then," said Tarzan. "I shall start for America tomorrow."

"How will you get to America without money?" asked D'Arnot.

"What is money?" inquired Tarzan. It took a long time to make him understand.

"How do men get money?" he asked at last.

"They work for it."

"Very well. I will work for it."

"No, my friend," returned D'Arnot, "you need not worry about money, enough for two, enough for twenty, much more than is good for one man, and you shall have all you need if ever we reach civilization."

So on the following day they started north along the shore. Each man carried a carbine and ammunition, besides bedding and some food and cooking utensils.

The latter seemed to Tarzan a most useless encumbrance, so he threw his away.

"But you must learn to eat cooked food, my friend," remonstrated D'Ar-

not. "No civilized men eat raw flesh."

"There will be time enough when I reach civilization," said Tarzan. "I do not like the things, and they only spoil the taste of good meat."

For days they traveled north, sometimes finding food in plenty and again going hungry for days.

They saw no signs of natives, nor were they molested by wild beasts. Their journey was a miracle of ease.

Tarzan asked questions and learned rapidly. D'Arnot taught him many of the refinements of civilization, even to the use of knife and fork, but sometimes Tarzan would drop them in disgust and grasp his food in his strong brown hands, tearing it with his molars like a wild beast.

Then D'Arnot would expostulate with him, saying:

"You must not eat like a brute, Tarzan, while I am trying to make a gentleman of you."

On the journey he told D'Arnot about the great chest he had seen the sailors bury and how he had dug it up and carried it to the gathering place of the apes and buried it there.

"Dreamland"

Local Talent Delighted Large Audience at the Grand in What Proved to be a Bright Production.

A very large audience assembled at the Grand Opera House last evening, when under the auspices of the Brant Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, a musical comedy, "A Night in Dreamland," was produced by local talent, under the management of Mr. Jay Wellington.
The production was a highly creditable one in every respect, and shows that there is a lot of latent dancing, acting and singing talent in the city, which only requires encouragement and cultivation to develop and be really capable of work quite above the ordinary.

The one criticism that can be levelled at "A Night in Dreamland" is its inordinate length. A first night, of course, always drags a bit, but granted that the production could be cut down here and there and brought into ordinary limits without spoiling any of its really admirable features. The opening scene was a very cleverly enacted pantomime, in which the following characters were impersonated: Blind Beggar, Mr. R. G. Lamb; Policeman, Mr. Wm. J. Feldkamp; Newsboys, Messrs. Jack Duncan, William Inglis, Harry Guenther, Clarence Cockshutt; A Raggy Chauffeur, Iden Champion; Society Girl, Miss Doris Hardy; Tough, Mr. Arthur Brierley; Jew Peddler, Mr. J. Maloney; Street Cleaner, Mr. Pepi Fux; Organ Grinder, Mr. Jack Genet; Salvation Army, the Misses Winifred Watts, Aileen Hart, Mildred Sanderson, Norma Coulson, E. Van Someren, Edith Browning, Jessie Crompton, Ida Fuller, Dimples Yager, Lillian Miller, Kathleen Garrett, Helen Muir, Messrs. David Stratford, George Fawkes, Morson Smith, Alfred Van Someren, Morgan Bennett, Reginald Waterous, Ruskin Watts; Huckster, Mr. Frank Lang; a "Sandwich" Man, Mr. Hilton McKay; Messenger Boy, Master Arthur Hardy; Bootblacks, Messrs. George Adams; Preacher, Mr. Ferdinand Brunnbauer; The Postman, Mr. Douglas Jones; Nurse Girl, Miss Gretchen Dunstan; Another Nurse Girl, Miss Adelaide Montzambert; Student, Mr. Harry Hatley; College Professor, Mr. Arthur M. Dunstan; and the Brantford Suffragettes—Leader and Speaker, Mr. Wellington; Army (On to Victory), Miss Van Norman, Mrs. C. W. Aird, Mrs. Wm. J. Feldkamp, Mrs. E. J. Mabon, Mrs. A. S. Towers, Mrs. G. C. Ellis, Miss Bertha Blackmore, Miss Ida Fuller, Miss Madge Monahan, Miss Mary Fawkes, Miss H. Hurley, Miss E. Ashbury, Miss M. Coulson, Miss E. Buck, Miss K. Buck, Miss M. Watts, Miss M. Roberts, Miss E. Wiley, Miss H. Cleghorn, Miss R. Grimstadt, Miss E. S. Gilmour, Miss H. Lloyd-Jones, Miss D. Garrett, Mr. George Cockshutt, Mr. Frank Foster, Mrs. Charles Sheppard, Mr. Jack Towers, Mr. Arthur Harp.
Part Two was devoted to a number of well worked-out and well-enacted specialties.

Man," was an especially pretty number, taken part in by the Misses Norma Coulson, Winifred Watts, Aileen Hart, Mildred Sanderson, E. Van Someren, Edith Browning, Jessie Crompton, Dimples Yager, Lillian Miller, Kathleen Garrett, Helen Muir, Messrs. Arthur Brierley, William Inglis, David Stratford, Ruskin Watts, George Fawkes, Morson Smith, Alfred Van Someren, Morgan Bennett, Reginald Waterous, Douglas Jones.
A chorus of Brantford school children, who walked, singing, down the aisles of the theatre, was an effective feature of this number.
"The Tanguay Rag," led by Mr. Wellington, went with much vim and dash, and a triple encore was accorded it. The chorus was especially good. Those taking part in it were Misses Evelyn Buck, Gretchen Dunstan, Doris Hardy, Kathleen Buck, Marion Watts, Helen Cleghorn and Messrs. Arthur M. Dunstan, Pepi Fux, Jack Towers, E. J. Maloney, George Cockshutt and Harry Hatley.
The dancing in this number was very clever.
Miss Adelaide Montzambert made a great hit in the rollicking song and chorus "Oh you Rah! Rah! Poy!" She was assisted by Misses Norma Coulson, Winifred Watts, Edith Browning, Jessie Crompton, Aileen Hart and Mildred Sanderson, and Messrs. Morson Smith, Douglas Jones, Morgan Bennett, Alfred Van Someren, Reginald Waterous, Ruskin W. A. . . .
An especially delightful dance and musical number "I'm on My Way to Mandalay" was given by Miss Doris Hardy and Mr. Arthur M. Dunstan, the chorus being comprised of Misses Marion Watts, Evelyn Buck, Gretchen Dunstan, Kathleen Buck, Adelaide Montzambert, Hilda Hurley, Helen Cleghorn, Reva Grimstadt, Pepi Fux, and Messrs. Hilton McKay, Frank Foster, George Cockshutt, Harry Hatley, Jack Towers, Charles Sheppard and Iden Champion.
Miss Hardy and her girl assistants were stunningly gowned and scored a great success.
Mr. Wellington and chorus were heard to much advantage in "My Pretty Black Eyed Susan." This was followed by the dancing of the stately minuet—quite one of the features of the evening. Those taking part were Mrs. Ernest Asbury, Mrs. Alfred Towers, Mrs. Ernest Mabon, Mrs. C. W. Aird, Mrs. G. C. Ellis, Miss Bertha Blackmore, Mr. Harvey Watt, Mr. Arthur Dunstan, Mr. Percy Jones, Mr. Arthur Harp, Mr. Jack Towers, Mr. Jay Wellington.
Mr. Arthur Brierley and chorus sang with much vim, "He'd Have to Get Under," followed by the automobile race in pantomime, cleverly enacted, and productive of much laughter. The participants in this number were—Misses Hilda Hurley, Elizabeth Wiley, May Roberts, Ida Fuller, Marie Coulson, Mrs. Wm. J. Feldkamp, and Mr. Frank Lang, Arthur Harp, Charles Sheppard, R. G. Lamb, Ferdinand Brunnbauer, and J. Maloney.
Miss Ida Fuller has a very sweet voice and sang "Has Anybody Got a Kiss to Spare" with much naïveté.
She was supported by Miss M. Sanderson, A. Hart, Jessie Crompton, N. Coulson, W. Watts, Edith Browning, and Messrs. Alfred Van Someren, Reginald Waterous, George Fawkes, Morgan Bennett, Morson Smith, Douglas Jones. A very clever feature of this number was the rolling in of six barrels of sweets, the "sweets" being the young ladies of the chorus curled up in the barrels rolled about the stage. Heartly applause greeted this original scene.
The concluding feature of Part Two was the Rosebud number, quite one of the prettiest and most effective of the whole production. Miss Hilda E. Hurley has a most sympathetic mezzo soprano, which she uses intelligently. Her voice gives great promise of future excellence, above the ordinary. At the conclusion of her solo the curtain at the back goes up, revealing Mrs. Lloyd Harris, emowered in ferns and flowers, as the Queen of the Roses, Mrs. Harris, who carried a sheaf of American beauty roses, looked exceedingly beautiful in a most becoming purple silk. Surrounded by Mrs. Harris were the pretty posing models, Miss Edna Ashbury, Miss Mary Fawkes, Miss Elizabeth Gilmour, and Miss Madge Monahan. A bevy of charming dancing models were Misses Doris Hardy, Adelaide Montzambert, Evelyn Buck, Kathleen been Buck Marie Coulson and Helen Lloyd-Jones. A prettier picture it would be hard to imagine.

The entire company participated in the third part "A Night in Dreamland." The setting for this final scene was exquisite, hundreds of roses hanging in festoons from every part of vantage, whilst electrically lighted roses occupied the centre of the stage. Very few professional productions could have improved on this really artistic arrangement which was heightened by the beautiful dresses worn by the ladies of the cast. The following was the programme rendered:
(a) Opening Chorus, entire company; (b) "My Palace of Dreams," Miss E. Stuart Gilmour and Chorus; The Dance of the Dolls, the little Misses Alice Harley, Aileen Harley and Louise Wrecks; (c) "A Girl, a Boy and Moonlight," Miss Van Norman and chorus; The Moonlight Dance, Miss Reva Grimstadt and Mr. Arthur M. Dunstan; (d) "Just a Little Lovin'," Miss Gretchen Dunstan and chorus; "Toasts—(To the girls) Mr. P. C. Fux; (e) "Love's Young Dream," Miss Hilda E. Hurley and chorus; "Toasts (to the boys)" Miss Gretchen Dunstan; (f) "Something's Going to Happen," Miss Evelyn Buck and chorus, toast (to the wind) Mr. Arthur Dunstan; (g) "In the garden of My Heart," Mr. Wm. J. Feldkamp and chorus; The Dance of the Rose, The Misses Norma Coulson and Edith Browning; toast (to the audience) Miss E. Stuart Gilmour; (h) "Here's a Toast to You," Miss E. Stuart Gilmour and chorus, toast (to Old Ireland) Mr. Wellington, Aerial Dance, Little Dimples Yager; (i) "To Live in Loveland" Mr. Wellington and chorus; The Loveland Dance, Miss Montzambert and Mr. Wellington; (j) Violin Solo—"The Flower Song," Miss Mildred Sanderson; (k) Finale, "The Rag Time Dream," entire company, Miss Montzambert and Mr. Wellington presenting "The Brantford Hop," Hostess of Dreamland, Miss Van Norman; French Maids—Miss Kathleen Garrett, Miss Lillian Miller, Miss Dimples Yager, Miss Aileen Hart and her solo "My Palace of Dreams" was one of the best numbers of the production. A particularly dainty little offering was "The Dance of the Dolls" participated in by Alice Harley, Aileen Harley and Louise Weeks, a wee trio of "pink carnations, who fairly captivated the audience. The Moonlight Dance by Miss Reva Grimstadt and Mr. Arthur M. Dunstan was very cleverly done, whilst Miss Gretchen Dunstan was very fetching in the catchy song "Just a Little Lovin'" Miss Hurley was again heard to advantage in "Love's Young Dream." Miss Evelyn Buck and chorus scored a hit in "Something's Going to Happen" and Mr. W. W. J. Feldkamp sang with spirit "In the garden of my heart." "The Dance of the Rose," partici-

ated in by Miss Norma Coulson and Miss Edith Browning was a charming number, whilst the violin solo "The Flower Song," by Miss Mildred Sanderson, was most enjoyable. Little Dimples Yager in her Aerial Dance, was quite one of the attractions of the evening. She ascended from a bower of roses and gracefully flew over the stage and around the flower bedecked wings—a veritable aerial sprite.
The toasts by Miss Van Norman, Miss Gretchen Dunstan, Mr. Arthur Dunstan, Miss Gilmour and Mr. Wellington were well pronounced.
And then the dancing in this act by Miss Montzambert and Mr. Wellington was really superb. Miss Montzambert, who looked remarkably well in a Paddy green gown, accented with silver and wearing white algrettes in her hair, danced with consummate skill and grace, and the number proved a fitting finale to a snappy and catchy scene through out.
Miss Edna Spence, for the first two acts, and Miss Helen Lloyd-Jones for the third, proved themselves admirable accompanists, whilst the Opera House orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Walter Johnson, played remarkably well.
During the third act the principals were the recipients of a veritable shower of floral offerings. Roses—baskets of flowers and bouquets of all descriptions were sent up to the stage, in almost a never ending procession. Such an outpouring of floral tributes has never been seen in Brantford. Altogether it was "a brav nicht"—certainly a thoroughly enjoyable one.
This evening the performance will be repeated before a capacity house. The military will be there in force, occupying the upstairs boxes.
The officers of the Brant Chapter who in addition to the participants, worked so hard to make "Dreamland" such a great success are: Regent, Mrs. E. C. Ashton; 1st vice-regent, Mrs. Gordon Smith; 2nd vice-regent, Mrs. A. D. Hardy; Secretary Miss Van Norman; Treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Duncan; standard-bearer, Mrs. Emily Bunnell; secretary of Echoes, Mrs. N. D. Neill; Councilors, Mrs. Julius Waterous, Mrs. E. D. Cameron, Mrs. Bruce Gordon, Mrs. Brem Forsythe, Mrs. E. J. Mabon, Mrs. C. J. Mitchell, Mrs. A. E. Watts, Mrs. Geo. Watt, Miss Gilkinson, Miss Celia Wye.
The following is the capable executive staff of the production: Representative, Mr. Harvey Watt; Asst. Representative, W. B. Preston, Gordon Smith; dramatic and musical director, Mr. Jay Wellington; the director's advisory committee: Messrs. Gordon Smith, G. G. Duncan, B. Forsythe, Miss Van Norman; the ticket committee, Mrs. G. G. Duncan; the program committee,

DOROTHY DODD SHOES
For Youthful Women

A shoe should be something more than a foot covering. Good leather and wearing qualities are common to all good shoes.

Most women like to have something chic and dainty—something that will please the eye.

Dorothy Dodd Shoes are made for just that class of people. They are constructed from the artistic standpoint, without the sacrifice of anything at all in connection with the durability or wearing qualities.

"Chubby" Coose Will Arrive Here Tomorrow

Brantford Secures Him From Saginaw, Mich., After Having Been Traded All Round During Winter.

Local fans get some news to-day. Chubby Coose will be back in Brantford. Chubby, as will be remembered, drifted from Brantford to London in the trade for Deneau. Then he was packed off to Saginaw, Mich., which club has been at Dayton, Ohio, where he reported and has been in training. Chubby wired President Nelson that he had secured his release, and the Red Sox immediately sent him transportation. Coose is figured a valuable man for the Canadian League, and it would not be surprising if Deneau used him on first base entirely, the manager himself with Ivers going to the outfield. It would be a fence-busting combination all round. The belief is held that Coose will not develop as a pitcher—that is, for regular club duty.

The Red Sox squad was augmented to 15 strong this morning by the arrival of Beltz from Ann Arbor and Rickart. Both are third base men. The Rochester squad has not yet arrived, and their failure to report is causing some anxiety locally. Included in the bunch are Connell, Sandusky and Honeck. Pitcher Worfel, from Syracuse, is also being looked for, and the Rube would be sorry if anything happened to this chap. Johnson and Frosty Nicholls got in from Toronto yesterday.

The weather man is the principal note in the baseball situation, and Old Sol can play the role of hero any old day. The players may take all the indoor work they like, but its real sunshine, hot sunshine, that does the work. Strange as it may seem, but some players do absolutely their best work when the temperature is 99 or 100.

With the Canadian League opening a little more than two weeks off, fans are beginning to speculate on the season's race, but there never has been a year when so little has been known of the relative strength of the various clubs of the circuit as the year which will be ushered in on May 7.

The main reason of this is the fact that new leaders are in charge of the clubs of the league, with the exception of Frank Shaughnessy at Ottawa. New leaders mean that much new blood will be introduced into the league, and at no time will so many new faces be seen in the eight line-ups.

In a league of eight clubs, or any number for that matter, clubs will take their rightful place in the standing according to the number of games won and lost, and indications are that

Canadian League News Notes

Senators Start Late
Ottawa will be about the last club in the league to start practice. London has been out two weeks and starts on Monday playing an exhibition tour. Peterboro has already started work at Youngstown, St. Thomas has gathered in Michigan, Erie is working out at home, as are Brantford, Hamilton and Toronto.

Lill Refuses to Report
No further word has been received from Joe Lill, who refused to accept transportation to come to Cnatham. Manager Shaughnessy was notified and has got in touch with the big pitcher. It's not improbable Lill has hopped to the Federals.

Shag Uses Axe
The axe has started falling on the Ottawa squad before they pitch camp. Anderson, an outfielder, was given his emancipation at his own request. Durkee, a pitcher, and Fried, an infielder, have been let go. Manager Shaughnessy has such a good bunch of known material who will battle for places he does not care to waste any time on recruits. It is probable the weeding out process will be slow, on account of the number of good players who will be on deck. A great deal depends on just how many Shag will bring along with him from Fort Wayne.

If the Senators' only get a week of the weather now prevailing, they will be in grand trim for their tour

INDOOR WORK FOR THE SOX

Practice Was Held at the Armories Yesterday by the Local Squad.

With the rain still continuing to fall in a steady pour the Red Sox held another work-out in the Armories yesterday afternoon. Their number was augmented by the presence of two more recruits, Nichol and Johnson, from Toronto.

The pitchers, Gero, Chase and Carroll all opened up and showed some smoke. Chase looks good but held himself in reserve more than Carroll, the other portside who shows the result of early training. Gero also showed that he has been indulging in some work before coming here. Rice, the Merridan, Conn. man showed nice judgment in handling the men may give Matty Lamod a run for the position of catcher. Ferris, Carr, Johnson and Nichol just loosened up their arms by playing catch. At the end of the hall Manager Deneau himself was in uniform and put Talkback, Taylor, Burns and Ivers through a batting practice.

Everyone of them showed a lot of speed for so early in the season and even the Rube, who handled a ball for the first time this season, put lots of life into the work and made it snappy.

The men worked from two-thirty till four-fifteen and a short jog back to the 'Y' completed the day's work. The only complaint the men had to make about work inside, was the light in the hall. The dark day made the light inside the hall all the worse and the players had difficulty in handling the ball.

By to-night the remainder of the squad with the exception of Lamond and Johnny Nelson, will be in line, and all that is asked for now is Old Sol to show his face through the clouds and dry the field.

BREEZY COMMENT ON LOCAL SOCCER GAMES

The first game is over and some of the most redoubtable teams are still smarting under the sting of their first defeat and one or two facts have come to light.

Scots Go Down.
Among the teams who finished on the wrong side of the score sheet, is to be found the All Scots. Imagine feeling proud of their title and thinking during the winter except that the press box has been placed over the grandstand.

Behan, shortstop on last year's team, is expected to report to-morrow and Daniels, a catcher, will take his first practice then. Both are from Braddock.

"Dummy" Taylor will come here before the first of the month. He is in Kansas teaching in a school. He is ready to report if it should be found necessary, but wishes to stay with the school until May 1 to keep his contract. He has sent word that he is ready to pitch and is in the best of condition.

C. Kelly Harris, an outfielder, will report some time next week. He comes from Baltimore and from accounts will make the regular men hustle to hold their jobs. He is said to be a hard hitter and fast fielder—Erie Dispatch.

THE SECRET OF GIRLISH BE
The Blood Must Be Kept Pure, and the Nerves Properly Nourished.
Every parent of a growing young woman who looks herself, should be constantly watching for signs of anemia, blood, nervousness, and general weakness. It is not the bright, energetic and active happiness of a lifetime depending on the blood, which is the key to this time, when girls are so quickly allowed to overstudy work or suffer from lack of rest. The symptoms of anemia, blood are unmistakable. They are languidness, pale, shallow complexion, loss of breath, violent tremor of the heart part on going up stairs, poor digestion, dizziness and headaches, and tendency to faint. These symptoms are not all found in case, but the more the victim them the greater progress trouble made and the more time is the necessary to at to check it, through the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which bring the glow of health and every part of the body. The Miss Jeanie Fraser, Hamilton, Ont., offers proof of this. "For about eighteen months in a very bad state of health, I was thoroughly run down. I had little appetite and suffered from many symptoms of anemia. I went to a local doctor and received treatment from him for three months, but though I took bottle after bottle of medicine I was steadily getting worse, and I got so down and depressed that I felt I never get better." At this time I read the case of a young lady who had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. By the time I had used boxes my appetite had improved, I was feeling more encouraged, and I continued the use of the Pills time longer and my health was restored." These Pills are sold by all drug dealers or may be had direct at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE SECRET OF GIRLISH BEAUTY

The Blood Must Be Kept Rich and Pure, and the Nerves Properly Nourished.

Every parent of a growing girl and every young woman who looks after herself, should be constantly on the watch for symptoms of impoverished blood.

The symptoms of impoverished blood are unmistakable. They are languidness, pale, sallow complexion, shortness of breath, violent palpitation of the heart particularly on going up stairs, poor appetite, dizziness and headaches, and a tendency to faint.

These symptoms of course are not all found in every case, but the more the victim has of the trouble made and the more imperative is the necessity to at once begin to check it, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which bring back the glow of health and energy to every part of the body.

The case of Miss Jeanie Fraser, Hamilton, Ont., offers proof of this. She says: "For about eighteen months I was in a very bad state of health and was slowly run down. I had no appetite and suffered from most of the symptoms of anemia. I went to a local doctor and received treatment from him for three months, and although I took bottle after bottle of medicine I was steadily growing worse, and I got so downhearted and depressed that I felt I would never get better."

At this time I read the case of a young lady whose symptoms were similar to my own, who had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. By the time I had used three boxes my appetite had improved and I was feeling more encouraged. I continued the use of the Pills for a time longer and my health was fully restored."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Basketball

The junior and senior basketball teams of the Y. M. C. A. journeyed to London Saturday night and met defeated the junior and senior representatives of that city in the return games. The juniors won their game from the Forest City lads, who had on their regular W. O. B. A. team by the score of 25 to 14 in a fast game.

The teams—Brantford: Slemm and Wood, forwards; McDonald, defence; Orr and Waddington, centre; London—Eastwood and Henderson, defence; Ferguson and Morris, defence; David, Grant and Pelton, forwards.

The senior game was a strenuous affair, the boys winning out by the score of 32 to 23. An accident occurred in the first half which in a way marred the play to some extent.

Frank Hearn, while turning around quickly, accidentally hit a London man with his wrist, cutting his eye open, and necessitating a few stitches.

Every man on the local team played a good game and fought hard all the way. A gymnasium class will be held on Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7.30 to 8.30 under Pte. Powers of A company.

The new term on the 3rd of May will be commenced with splendid prospects. The past term has been a good one, and the reports to be given next Monday evening will show a most successful term in every way.

Music and Drama

Colonial Theatre. Mr. Simons is to be congratulated upon the magnificence of the bill provided at the Colonial Theatre this week. It is par excellence. A program of five artists is supported by a series of good interesting films.

The man of the evening is undoubtedly Jack Rose, styled the King of Nut Canadians. He is one of the many few real born comedians. He forgets the book and is at once the popular idol of the audience. Again last night he kept the house in roars of uproarious hilarity, and seemed to enjoy every witt as much himself.

McConnell & Lockhart stage a first class little dialogue, in which both artists show great cleverness. He has some extremely good dancing personifications, and she of the two is pretty, witty and smart. Charlan and Charlan are a versatile pair, and sing, dance and dispense comedy in a very capable manner. They did not lack applause. Musical Stewart, among other novel doings, extracts music from a tin can and also from a cigar box. One of his methods of extracting music by means of iron discs, was very original and clever.

Charles Gannon, novelty gymnast, can do some amazing things with his supple body. He is certainly not muscle bound. A visit to the Colonial is an education in the way of good clean, entertainment, with a bill such as this.

At the Brant. The management of the Brant Theatre continue to gain the good will confidence of Brantford citizens by reason of the attractions which are put forward. Large audiences yesterday saw a fine bill of fare and they were not unappreciative.

Gilbert and Graham have a some new up to date patter, and they can say it too, beside which they sing and dance in a manner commanding the plaudits of their hearers. There is quite an art in the work of Fred Waldo, who is a posturist of the artistic type.

With an evening to spare, a visit to the Brant is a good and safe investment. Go once and you go twice.

ATHLETICS AVENGED FOR RECENT LOSSES

Champions Won Two Games While Other Teams Were Idle.

BOSTON, Apr. 21.—Stung into action by repeated defeats, the Athletics turned upon the Red Sox and thrashed them twice yesterday, the morning score being 8 to 2 in ten innings, and the afternoon 6 to 0. Javrin stole home on Plank in the 8th innings of the morning contest tying the score 2 all. In the extra inning the champions got busy and six runs counted before they were retired. The afternoon game was easy for the visitors. Only two hits were made off Fenwick in the first eight innings, and both were by Gardner.

TALK IS CHEAP, SO WE SHOULD WORRY. Professional lacrosse is struggling into existence through a dull, grey haze this year, and the prevailing impression that there are breakers ahead of the two-team league is as strong as ever. The Salmonbellies have not yet commenced practice, but most of the boys are in fairly good condition and will fight out on the oval towards the end of this week.

The pre-season rumors regarding eastern migrations can be crystallized in this way: Buck Marshall went to east. Len Turnbull may go east. Cliff Spring will go east. George Rennie is to be manager and captain this year, vice Tommy Gifford, resigned.

With the exception of Len Turnbull, C. Spring, Eddie McCarthy and Leo Gregory, all of last year's players have signed. 'Bun' Clarke and Johnny Howard taking gate chances with the rest.

Nick Carter, who flits from Vancouver to Westminster, is here just now and is coquetting with George Rennie for a place on the team.

Milton Oppenheimer spent a few hours here yesterday outlining plans for the season. He talked freely of his intention of strengthening the Vancouver Athletics, and even announced that he had secured the signatures of Micky Ions and Picking, and was almost sure of adding Billy Fitzgerald and Donihoe to his string.

MENTION ON CER GAMES

Most formidable array of forwards they are not at all weak in the defence positions. There is a good sea in front of the Tutela boys.

Sons of England.

The Sons of England need a little more practise. They are hearty and at some work into their efforts, but they need more unity in their work. The need of a good useful centre-forward was demonstrated. It was very unfortunate that they found their opponents in such good form, with a strengthened side and a me or two, they might have made good stiff fight of it. Their pluck commendable.

P. S. A. Surprise

The Wanderers are another of the teams who were not thought likely to be beaten especially when P. S. A. are the newcomers and were expected to have a rough season in front of them. Surprise was general as their sources as theirs, defeat in such manner the old Dragons, but it was only by the odd goal, but was a win and every win counts. Perhaps there was no outstanding star as the team played well to a man and merited their win.

Wanderers Satisfied.

Of the Wanderers, it may be said that they had not yet come into shape as their match was their first turn out of the season for they have had no practice and the executive is in no way threatened by the result. They saw at P. S. A. are a team who are out to accomplish things and they also saw that their men needed one or two good workouts. They are content that the Wanderers will take account for when they get going.

Transfers.

Already this season, there are some transfers in the air and All Scots United are likely to lose a player or two this means. The executive have been in hand.

LORD CECIL SCORES THEM

Government Accused of Murder Would Plunder Readily.

(By Special Wire to the Courier) MONTREAL, April 21.—When he rose to move the rejection of the Welsh Church bill in the House of Commons yesterday, says a London cable to The Gazette, Lord Hugh Cecil dealt a double blow to Premier Asquith and Mr. Winston Churchill as they were leaving the chamber by stating that a government accused of wholesale murder is not likely to pay much attention to a charge of robbery.

The appearance of the house, however, says the correspondent, gave little indication that a bitterly opposed measure was under consideration, the chamber being more than half empty. Government members followed the example of the front benches.

Lord Cecil wanted to level up the non-conformists rather than let down the Church of England, suggesting that the former be placed on an equality, even to the extent of having representatives in the reformed House of Lords.

Attorney-General Simon, defending the bill for the government affidavit, had no hope of any modification.

Walter Lord, Sir Arthur Boscawen and Ellis Griffith participated in the debate which was adjourned last night.

MR. J. J. KELSO

Gets a Suitable Recognition From the Ontario Government.

Mr. J. J. Kelso, head of the Children's Aid Society, of which the Brantford institution is a branch, has been awarded the full amount of his claim in connection with the publication of a book of his, the cost of which, when charged to the authorities, was demurred against. Besides having this claim allowed Mr. Kelso was awarded an extra $500, making a thousand in all and in six months leave of absence in order that he might make an European trip in the summer. He will gain many new and useful ideas during his trip from observations he will be able to make. A conference of Children's Aid Societies takes place in Toronto next week in order that Mr. Kelso might attend before his departure east. Brantford will be well represented at the conference, as Mr. Axford has already been appointed to attend.

PARIS NEWS

PARIS, April 21.—Some forty of the employees of No. 2 mill knitting room paid a surprise visit to the home of Mr. Philbrick, foreman of the room, in honor of his birthday. During the evening music and song whirled away the time all too quickly. Later a dainty r-past was served and then Mr. Adams in a neat speech presented Mr. Philbrick with a valuable gold watch chain and locket.

The latter made a suitable reply, thanking all for their kindness. On Saturday afternoon a quiet wedding was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage, by Rev. W. Reed, when Miss May Springthorpe, late of Leicester, England, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. A. Redmond of Paris. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Redmond will reside in Paris.

Another break in the Hydro wires on River street on Saturday evening caused the power to be off for some 30 minutes. The break was soon found and remedied. As an aftermath of the charge of being d. and d. on Saturday night, April 11th, Ira Wooden was before the magistrate last Thursday on the charge of resisting and assaulting the police. Lawyer Taylor appeared for Wooden. The case was dismissed.

At the Congregational parsonage on Saturday afternoon Miss Lizzie Hayward was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Albert Bell, both of Paris. Rev. J. R. Heyworth officiated. Miss Flora Bell acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. E. Davey supported the groom. A sumptuous repast was later served at the home of the groom's parents on William St. The bride received a large number of valuable gifts that testified to her popularity. Upon returning from the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Bell will reside on River street.

There were large congregations at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, the occasion being special services in connection with the opening of the new organ. Rev. G. R. Faskin of St. Paul's Church, Toronto, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening, and gave two inspiring sermons. The organ, that has been rebuilt at a large outlay, was heard for the first time, and was greatly enjoyed by all. The musical portion of the service was of a high order and much appreciated. To-morrow (Wednesday) evening the choir will render a sacred cantata, Mauder's "Olivet to Calvary." Mr. Thomas Darwin of Brantford will preside at the organ, and Mr. James Quarrington of Toronto will take the solo parts.

Five thousand unemployed men went to Montreal City Hall in response to Mayor Martin's invitation, and two thousand were promised work.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is seriously ill with catarrh.

BRANTFORD MARKET RUN BY HUCKSTERS

Charge Made at the City Council Meeting Last Night by Alderman Sutch—"People Are Getting Worst of it," He Declares.

The Market By-law is being flagrantly broken every Saturday and that conditions have arisen whereby housewives are held up for high prices by the manipulation of hucksters who have made their work a profession was the charge made at the City Council last night by Ald. Sutch, who asked that the Buildings and Grounds committee take the matter up and investigate.

Hucksters, declared Ald. Sutch were buying up stuff first thing in the morning and when housewives go to the market, prices are away up. Butter and eggs and meat were all hiked in this way. The condition of the market last Saturday was a disgrace and it was a menace to the health of the people who bought it. Meat is not being sold under healthy conditions. The market had degenerated into a place where hucksters were holding sway.

Ald. Sutch converted at last. He was one of several who had fought for the privileges enjoyed by the cheese hucksters who had crowded out the legitimate market attendants. He was of the opinion that not only hucksters but merchants were breaking the by-law and securing produce of all kinds early in the morning to the detriment of the householder.

Ald. Fitcher again promised to take the matter up. It was his opinion that the officials should be on the job.

MAYOR SPENCE HAVING MERRY TIME JUST NOW

Stops Payment of Hamilton Hospital Account—Mix-up With Guelph.

Mayor Spence yesterday afternoon stopped payment of the check for $124 drawn by the City of Brantford in favor of the Hamilton City Hospital for $134. Hamilton threatened suit against Brantford and after consideration it was decided to pay. Cheevers was injured by an auto at Hamilton and taken to the hospital there. It turns out however that he has not been a Brantford resident for several years. In fact he was at Kingston Penitentiary for three years and when he got out went immediately to Detroit. From Detroit he migrated to Hamilton, and since his discharge from Hamilton hospital he migrated back to Brantford. He is now a resident of the county jail, being held on a theft charge. Mayor Spence believes that the city has no right to pass the hospital bill and when all the circumstances were discovered, decided to let the Hamilton hospital sue for the money if the authorities there thought advisable.

Another One. Another peculiar case has cropped up involving the same kind of municipal responsibility. An old couple, some time ago, kicked up such a fuss at the House of Refuge that the authorities were jubilant when they decided to leave the institution and go to reside with a daughter at Guelph. Evidently the daughter got tired of her responsibility and the Brantford House of Refuge was asked to take them back. The local authorities refused until finally one day the couple arrived on the train from Guelph. "Ship them back on the next train," said the Mayor and back they went. Last Saturday Dr. Bruce Smith telephoned Superintendent Muir that he had to take the couple in. Mr. Muir refused to do so without an order from the Mayor, when Dr. Smith said he was liable to dismissal. The Mayor on the other hand told Mr. Muir he would be dismissed if he did take the couple in. Accordingly they arrived again and were shipped back again to Guelph. Constable Boylan had charge of the pair all day until the evening train for Guelph pulled out. The Mayor contends that having resided six months at Guelph the institution up there must take care of them. The battle is proving a real merry one.
