

THE HERALD

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1898.

Monsignor Raboll declares that the venerable Archbishop Kenrick has not been deposed, but simply placed in a position of non-residence...

The people of this Province should have no objection to the C. Railway, of which the P. E. C. Railway is considered the tail end...

We noticed in one of the Halifax papers that his honor from Sourin West was vegetating in that city during the past week...

A comic journal of Rome lately published a cartoon in which the Pope was represented as speaking to a Cardinal...

The revenue for the three months ending 30th September was $9,333,884, being $93,208 more than last year...

The above is collateral evidence of the atrophy of our country.

Baltimore is to celebrate beginning on Wednesday, 18th inst, the silver jubilee of Cardinal Gibbons' elevation to the Bishopric...

The proverbial absurdity concerning the carrying of coal to Newcastle no longer holds good...

Sir John Thompson's Ontario tour came to an end Saturday. The success which attended the Premier and his ministers, "on record," to quote Sir John himself...

We had no desire whatever of misrepresenting Mr. Seaman in his remarks at the teachers' convention. Our comment in last week's issue was based upon the report of his address, which appeared in one of the evening papers...

Canada beat them all in the excellence of her sheep. The Chicago fair. It will now be in order for her to repeat, in the present month's dairy competition...

All is not harmony in the grit camp in the First District of Prince. Mr. B. Rogers, of Alberton, became unmanageable some time ago and jumped the traces, declaring he would not abide by the terms of the convention...

We must now be prepared for some new idea in the method of milking our headcows or neck and foot wear, as the New York World the other day devoted a column and a half to Lord Dunraven's clothes...

The Valleys will have to win the worn trousers race in order that we may keep our heads from being worn out by the new style of trousers...

Mrs. Hooper's Strange Death.

IT IS MAKING A STEEP INQUIRY INTO THE MURDER OF MRS. HOOPER.

A Lunatic Wife, Found in an Asylum, Dies Under Suspicious Circumstances, While in Her Husband's Custody.

It is to be hoped that the person who has the mismanagement of the Island railway in hands will be relieved of all further trouble in the matter.

On September 21, J. R. Hooper, employed at Ottawa, obtained leave of absence during the regular holiday period.

Accordly, Mr. Clarke gave into the hands of the police the following list of names of persons who were seen on St. Charles street, in Montreal, on the night of the murder.

It is a curious fact that the man who was seen in the street at the time of the murder, and who was seen in the street at the time of the murder, was seen in the street at the time of the murder.

At last he reached his hotel; and flung himself on his bed, prayerless, friendless, and only saved from despair by the thought of an affection that was deeper than his, which he, as a man and a faithful friend, should be strong to relieve and comfort.

These details were not noticed by Will Sheridan as he entered the echoing arch-way; but he was chilled, nevertheless, by the cold shadow of the surroundings. The warden with him came to the wicket, and took the letter, leaving Will outside. In a few minutes, he found that his introduction was an "open scame."

With his eyes fixed on a ponderous door, which he did not see, Will Sheridan made a sudden and impetuous resolution. "I shall return to Australia on this convict ship," were the words that he now heard but his own soul.
