Where Ramsay McDonald is Unique

Ramsay MacDonald is the first me Minister since the office became art of the British system two hunred years ago to reach that position vithout any previous experience of inistration, says the London "Ob-

Such a case would have seemed fantastic to our ancestors. Even as late at 1880 Gladstone maintained that a man should serve an apprenticeship efore being admitted to the Cabinet, and it was an article of faith with the governing families for many generaions that the higher offices of State hould be jealously guarded for themselves. Men like Canning or Disraeli who broke into the circle were bitteropposed and grudingly accepted. Government was by family compact, and if he was of the right stock a man might reach the top of the tree rapinly. Rockingham formed his first Ministry at thirty-five, and Mr. Pitt was Premier at twenty-four having already received an apprenticeship at the Exchequer.

Distaeli became leader of the House without any previous adminstrative experience, but he had led the Opposition and was steeped in political lore. Grey's experience was rather out of date by the time he reached the Premiership in 1830 but he had been, for a short time and many years earlier, at the Exchequer and at the Foreign Office. Melbourne had been Irish Secretary and Home Secretary. Peel had filled several offices. Palmerston had an accumulated experience in connection with two opposite parties and was indeed a pretty typical placeman. Gladstone himself had followed the natural line of advancement for a young man of a rather new family, and he had been a good deal more than thirty years in politics before he became Prime Minister for the first time. Salisbury had been long in public life when he became Premier for the first time in 1885, and Rosebery had held minor office in addition to the Foreign Secretaryship.

Of this century's Premiers, Campbell Bannerman had been Irish Secretary and War Secretary, Asquith had been Home Secretary and Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Lloyd George had folled several offices of importarce. Mr. Baldwin is spoken of sometimes as one of the amateurs, but he was by no means without knowledge of administration, especially at the reasury. The case of Mr. MacDonstands alone.

PENNILESS AND CONSCIENCE-STRICKEN WAR VETERAN FACES

NEW YORK, May 9.—Given up for lead by his mother and three wealthy uncles in Canada, Hugh McVean, pattle-scarred veteran of Ypres, tired, penniless and conscience-stricken, trekked northward last night to face a charge of absconding with $7,000 belonging to the customs service at Windsor, Ont., for which he was cashier when he disappeared last September.

He left here in custody of Sergeant James Proctor of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, who was a "buddy" of MacVean's brother throughout the war. MacVean, the police say, admitted his guilt and said he won $3,000 more on the races, all of which he had spent.

Up in Windsor he will be greeted by the wife he deserted when she was a bride of two months. There was something like a mist in the keen eyes of Sergeant Proctor as he left with his prisoner to-night, for MacVean bore all the ear-marks of a man who has had his lesson, but who has not lost his nerve. MacVean's only explanation of his action was: "I wanted to see the cities of the United States before I died. I have seen them now and I am willing to go back and face the music."

BLOWN ACROSS HIGH VOLTAGE WIRE.

NEW YORK-An aerial wire attached by an amateur wireless enthusiast to an electric light standard caused the death of two firemen recently at Upper Montclair.

Blown loose from the amateur's ouse, the aerial crossed a 2,400 volt overhead cable and wound itself round an iron fence.

A milkman going on his rounds ollided with the fence and was mocked senseless. Sparks from the metal ignited a shrubbery and the fire brigade hurried to the scene.

Captain Muller, in charge of the rigade, tried to cut the aerial with pair of insulated pliers, but the wire brushed against his wrist and

A member of the brigade tried to irag his chief away, but the wire lew towards his face and as he flung A third fireman, wearing rubber boots and gloves, finally removed the aerial.

Just Folks. By EDGAR A GUEST

With her petals of pink and her skies just as bright As a baby's first wink, And the trees newly gowned In the loveliest green, And young life where the scars Of old winter have been!

Here's May once again! With her orchards in bloom, Like a bride at the altar Arrayed for the groom There's a wreath in her hair, And her bridal bouquet Scatters beauty afar
As she flings it away.

Just as lovely to see As when first the world looked On the green of the tree. Man runs his brief race, Then his story is told And the grave takes him in, But May never grows old, Here's May! The same May Which thrilled men of the pest As she was long ago, She shall be to the last, And though over the world Countless ages have rolled, May has smiled at them all And never grown old.

ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING TELEGRAM

THE EVENING TELEGRAM, LIMITED, PROPRIETORS.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Wednesday, May 21, 1924

Encouraging the Fisheries

If the leader of the Government party has any constructive policy to place before the electorate, he is making a great secret of it. The Hickman press has devoted itself entirely to the abuse of opponents, and if the Prime Minister's Manifesto contains anything in the nature of a creative programme, the Advocate is ignorant of it. There is some mention in the manifesto of a proposed bonus to be paid on high grade fish, but there is certainly no definite promise in that connection.

On the other hand, Mr. Monroe emphatically favours a bonus to be paid on all fish caught, which is one of the methods by which the fisheries may be encouraged. There are far fewer men fishing this year than ever before, and unless the industry can be made more profitable for the fishermen it will cease to be of the first importance.

In a sense, there is already a bonus for improved cure, for the fisherman who makes poor fish realizes that he will obtain less for it than his neighbour who produces a better quality. Such a bonus can by no manner or means be considered as tend ing to encourage the fisheries, and might possibly prove deterrent.

There is ample demand to-day for all the fish that Newfound land can produce, and the only kind of bonus that will increase the number of men fishing is that which Mr. Monroe has provided for in his Manifesto. The voters in the fishing districts of the island will not be caught by any trick promises such as that of Mr. Hickman's, but will ensure profitable employment. for themselves by voting for clean and constructive Governmert under Monroe.

A Political Paradox.

The present Prime Minister, Mr. A. E. Hickman, must find his position to-day paradoxical, to say the least. In his Manifesto he states that the conduct of public men during the past few years must be thoroughly probed. And this statement is the papers from day to day. Mr. made by a man who has been found guilty by the Supreme Court of bribery and corruption!

The Advocate printed Mr. Hickman's Manifesto, and has exceeded all bounds in its attempt to foist a corrupt leader upon an unwilling people. Yet only twelve short months ago the Advocate referred to Mr. Hickman in the following terms: "We have had Hickman on keeping up the price of salt for the miserable profit he loves; we have had him billing the poor F.P.U. much pleased with the success of the for sixty dollars for small expenses of his-election campaign in campaign which speaks volumes for 1913; we have had him falling out with a soldier about a typewriter; and now, we have him taking $550 of the people's money for a picnic to Halifax."

The Advocate has apparently estimated Mr. Hickman at his right valuation, and the people of Newfoundland will know better than to elect as Prime Minister a man who has been found guilty by the highest tribunal in the country of using corrunt methods.

More Coaker Impertinence

F. P. U. President Tells Union That a Vote for Hickman is a Vote for Coaker. Astounding Message to Union Councils.

The following astounding message has been sent by Sir William Coaker to all the F. P. U. Councils:-

Every vote you give Hickman is a vote for me.

Send Monroe back with his tail cut."

The above does not seem like a pronouncement from a man who has retired from politics. It proves beyond all doubt our contention that Coaker is the impelling force behind the Hickman Government.

Up, Newfoundlanders, and kill the menace of Coakerism, which has too long been a destroying element in your midst. Vote for Monroe and Clean Government.

estructive Fire On Mundy Pond Rd.
—Family Had Narros Escape.

At 1.40 this morning a disastrous fire occurred on Mundy Pond Road, when the residence of Capt. John Horwood was totally destroyed, while the family barely escaped with their

The first intimation of fire was the nelling of smoke by Capt. Horwood in his bedroom, and when he rushed out to investigate the trouble, he found the downstairs flat in a mass of flames, with all means of exit cut off. He quickly aroused his family and his son. Andrew, with his wifa and child, who occupied a bedroom on the second floor, and the only means of escape was by rushing through a bedroom window in their night attire. The smashing of glass aroused Mr. Murphy who lived only a short distance away, and hastening to the scene with the assistance of other neighbours who had meanwhile gathered, rescued al! the occupants from the burning building, when they were comfortably lodged in the house of Mr. Murphy. Meanwhile Mrs. Murphy ran to the nearest telephone and summoned the fire companies to the scene. When the firemen arrived the flames were shooting through the roof and all efforts to save the house from ruin were futile.

Nearest Hydrant 300 Yards From The Dwelling.

The nearest hydrant was about 300 fire fighters. The firemen then lost no time and, by damming a small brook flowing from Mundy Pond, soon had two strong streams of water into play by means of the pumper. The firemen worked herofcaily for upwards of forty minutes and when the flames were finally subdued nothing but the charred walls remained Dwelling Completely Destroyed.

The entire contents of the house were totally destroyed and the loss to Captain Horwood is a heavy one The occupants, in escaping from the building, were all more or less injured. Mr. Andrew Horwood, in saving the life of his infant child, was overcome by smoke, and lapsed into unconsciusness after arriving at a nearby house. Mr. Horwood is suffering mostly from shock and was taken o the hospital in the ambulance. The origin of the fire is attributed to the exploding of a kerosene lamp in an incubator which was situated in the bath room on the ground floor. The people of the neighbourhood willingly opened their homes to the Horwood family, showing the true spirit of the neighbourhood. The service rendered to the injured man by Mrs. George Martin, a V.A.D. Nurse, is beyond praise.

Amongst those who rendered valuable assistance was Sir John Crosbie, who was early on the scene and brought a doctor along with him. The all-out signal was sent in at bout 3 a.m.

NFLD'S FIRST GREAT SEALING NOVEL

(By GEO. ALLAN ENGLAND.) Into this stirring and convincing story the author weaves his experiences aboard a Newfoundland sealing vessel. The tale concerns the romance of Spencer Harrod and Blanche Cameron who, struggling from a "Plane" crash off Bonavista, are enwrapped in the ice-world until rescued by the sealer Vigilant, on board which they encounter many hardships

The story is an epic of the sealers' toil, from the pen of an author who has won fame by his powerful stories set in Nature's Wilds. Cloth: $1.50. By Mail, $1.55.

Uses 27 Buicks

At the present time we are operating 27 Buick Cars. Some of these were purchased in 1918 and have been rendering dependable and satisfactory service.

We purchased five of the new 1924 cars with four-wheel brakes and I have driven them personally. The performance is good. In fact there is a feeling of safety that does not exist with two-wheel brakes.

The body design is a great improvement over pre-ious models, but the most important feature is the vious models, but four-wheel brakes.
