Sunday Papers and Sunday Work. The Globe newspaper which has raised all the fuss about Sunday papers was forced to go into court yesterday and defend two of its men who had been caught following their ordinary vocation in the employ that paper on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock when the church bells were ringing. The whole of the Globe office was in full blast that hour and Ald. Baxter held effect that Sunday labor at that time on a Monday paper was a work of necessity. The Globe has thus vindicated the right of the papers to steam up and go ahead for all they are worth at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. The ministerial association ought to congratulate the Globe on its success. But as regards a Sunday paper it was held that work on it was against the law and an employe of this office was fined for selling it. Now the difference between a Sunday paper and a Monday paper is this: that practically all the work on a Sunday paper is done on Saturday the delivery or vending being the only thing left for Sunday morn. ing: while in the case of a Monday paper he work is all done on Sunday, the delivery or vending being confined to Monday. To spend a few minutes of Sunday in delivering such a paper is held to illegal while to have a large staff of men at work from tea-time Sunday until Monday breaks is a work of necessity. The county crown attorney has also taken a liberal stand in this matter. capture the guna. They came within twenty yards, but were repulsed in gallant style by the mounted police under Col. Herohmer. B battery and the Gatling opened fire, mowing the enemy down, and kept it up. For half an hour the battle raged fiercely, and then wavered as the Indians drew off, only to return to the attack again in stronger force. The troops behaved admirably and ronted the enemy on every side. Otter intended following up his success by attacking the Tepees, but the men were exhausted from fatigue of the march; waat of sleep and the fight, besides the breaking down of the gun carriage, and he therefore concluded to retire again upon Battleford, which he did, taking his wagons and killed and wounded with him, except one, Private Osgoode of the guards, reported missing. They reached home at tan.

The dead were buried on Monday. It is believed from the number of warriors in the fight that Big Bear and other Indian chiefs have effected a junction with Poundmaker. The Indians expended nearly all their ammunition in the fight of Saturday.

The File Bill Indiana

FORT QU'APPELLE, May 7.-Lieut. -Col. O'Brien, after several hours' search, returned unable to capture the File Hill Indians who stole horses and plundered settlers' houses. These gentlemen proceeded to the place named, where they found the Indians in waiting. Indian Agent Macdonald read Governor Dewdney's Agent Macdonald read Governor Dewdney's proclamation, when they agreed to return to their reserves and to give up the stolen horses and to restore all articles appropri-ated from the settlers. Little faith is, however, placed upon the promises, as the sentries were fired upon last night.
