ON several of our streets the grass and weeds have obtained an abnormal growth. The appearance of these places is not in keeping with the general aspect of the village, as many citizens have had sufficient pride in the appearance of the place to keep the grass on the street in front of their property nicely clipped. Such residents are to be commended and we believe our council should see that our streets are cleaned in front of vacant lots, and in other places of unsightly appearance.

WATFORD Orangemen to the number of fifty seven went to St. Thomas on Monday to take part in the celebration of the great Battle of the Boyne. They report a good time, heard good speeches from prominent Orangemen, including Mayor Hockin, of Toronto; E. T. Essery, London, and T. G. McDiarmid, St. Thomas. The showers helped to make the day appear like a real 12th and the boys and their ladies put in a fine day and returned tired and happy. There were 12,000 Orangemen in the parade.

MEDICAL authorities are warning against ptomaine poisoning during summer months. The commonest form of meat poisoning, called ptomaine, is due to eating the meat of diseased animals. It is impossible to detect the poisonous bacteria without bacteriological examination, owing to the fact that they do not cause putrefaction. In the greater majority of cases cooking renders this meat harmless, but there are cases on record where the bacteria have survived, causing illness and death.

AFTER the Orange church service was over on Sunday last week, the lodge, headed by the band, marched back to the lodge room, where short addresses were made and a vote of thanks passed to the band and choir for their kindness, also one to the brethren from Warwick. Rev. S. V. Pentland, chaplain of the lodge, preached an excellent sermon, telling the members of the great responsibility resting upon them as Orangemen. His text was John 8:20. The ladies of L. O. B. A., 85, joined in the service.—Com.

DESPITE the heavy frost there will be a good crop of corn grown in Lambton this year, but owing to the damage done in some sections of the county, Mr. Chas. Fleck has deemed it not advisable to judge the crops entered in Hanna Trophy Contest until August, by which time it is expected that even those that were damaged most seriously will have had time to overcome the setback met during the inclement weather. During August all the fields will be inspected and those coming up to a set standard will be finally judged in the fall by an expert.

THE Kingston Standard of June 19th has the following eulogistic reference to Rev. F. G. Robinson, the new pastor of the Watford Methodist church—"A good pastor, an able preacher, an industrious worker in the cause of the Master, the Rev. F. G. Robinson, minister of the Princess Street Methodist Church, is leaving Kingston for a new field of labor. He and his good wife were worthily honored by his congregation last night at a farewell gathering, and many Kingstonians of other religious denominations will share in the sentiments of the charge from which he is retiring.

THE question "who is the member for East Lambton," still occupies the attention of the electors. On election night first one candidate and then the other was accorded the palm. On the day of the official count the first report received gave McCormick the seat, and a short time afterwards Martyn was declared elected. The recount before Judge MacWatt this week gave the majority of votes to McCormick, but the decision is withheld until the Courts at Toronto have argued a certain point of law as to whether the whole town of Theford should be disqualified through an error of the deputy returning officer. The decision of the Toronto judges, the Conservatives claim, will give the seat to Martyn, while the Liberals think that McCormick will surely get it. In the meantime you can select your M. P. and argue the matter with your opponent.

JULY Sale of W. P. coats.—SWIFTS'.

THE Watford Cadets returned home from camp at London on Saturday well pleased with their week's outing. This year's camp has proved as successful as any that have been held in former years, the beautiful weather of the past week having aided materially towards that end.

EACH succeeding year finds an improvement in the general standard of efficiency which will, no doubt, be fully maintained in future years now that the cadet movement has taken firm root in the public schools. The almost unqualified support of the movement by the public is also a feature which may be taken as an indication that the cause of cadet corps will steadily advance in the Dominion.

Cadet Gordon Trenouth took the first prize for shooting in target practice.

ALTHOUGH hit hard by fire twice within a year, the Western Fair of London, Ontario, with favorable weather, will be better and grander than ever this year. A very much larger amount has been appropriated for amusements and attractions than ever before. There will be something doing every minute. The Canadian Royal Dragoons will give their famous "Musical Ride" twice daily. The best programme possible for the patrons of the grandstand has been provided. An entirely new programme of fireworks will be given and changed every night. No person can afford to miss this year's Exhibition, Sept. 11th to 19th. All particulars given on application to the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario.

THE regular meeting of the Watford Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. T. Dodds on Wednesday evening, July 8th, the president presiding. 18 members and 8 visitors were present. Meeting opened by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever." After the usual business was disposed of, the program was as follows:—Miss Ada Spackman and Miss Mildred Fortune gave two instrumental duets on the piano; also Miss Marnie Moir and Miss G. Shrapnell, instrumentalists. All were much appreciated. Those present. A reading was then given by Mrs. P. Dodds on "Our Flag" which was good, and a good solo was sung by Mrs. Bennett. A vote of thanks was given to the young people that took part in the program. Meeting closed by singing God Save The King. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Shrapnell.—SEC.

A RECEPTION was tendered the Rev. F. G. Robinson, the new Methodist minister, and his family, on Thursday evening, July 9th, at the parsonage. A large number of people were present from the Watford and second line churches, also the local clergy. Tables were placed on the lawn and refreshments served. Reeve Stapleford presided. Music was furnished by the choir and C. Pentland. Addresses were given by the pastors of the different churches and others, all welcoming the new clergymen to Watford and wishing him every success in his new charge. Rev. Mr. Robinson replied very feelingly and expressed his sincere gratitude for the very warm reception given to himself and family since his arrival in town. He also referred to the great need of a new church building and hoped they would soon have one. The very pleasant gathering was brought to a close by singing the doxology and the pronouncing of the benediction by the Rev. S. P. Irwin.

THE recount in East Lambton

Nothing Definite Until Toronto Courts

ARXUE The Matter

Sarnia, July 14. — According to his honor, Judge MacWatt, before whom the recount in East Lambton riding has been conducted, 122 voters in the Town of Theford are disqualified because the returning officer of that polling subdivision, John Patching, and the poll clerk, Joseph Stonehouse, neglected to tear the counterfoils from the cast. Not one of these ballots can be counted, according to Judge MacWatt.

His decision brings about a most interesting situation.

When the ballots were first counted Dr. J. B. Martyn, the Conservative candidate was accorded a majority of nine over the Liberal candidate, R. J. McCormick. The recount to-day reduced Dr. Martyn's majority to three. Then it was discovered that the counterfoils had not been removed from 122 ballots cast at Theford. Seventy-six of these votes were for Dr. Martyn, the Conservative candidate, and 46 for his opponent, and when the ballots were thrown out, Dr. Martyn lost 30 of a majority. As his majority in the whole riding was only three, this left a majority of 27 for the Liberal candidate.

No certificate will be issued, declaring either candidate elected, until an appeal to the Toronto courts has been disposed of, which will not be for two or three weeks.

It is quite probable that another election will be necessary to decide the result in the riding.

The Liberals were represented at the recount by John Cowan, K. C., and the Conservatives by F. W. Wilson, of Petrolia.

Toronto, July 15.—Hon. W. J. Hanna stated to-day that in his opinion the election in East Lambton will be declared void if Judge MacWatt's decision throwing out the entire poll at Theford is upheld by the Court of Appeals.

CARD OF THANKS

TO THE ELECTORS: I wish to thank the Electors of East Lambton for their support in the recent election. Now that the County Judge has declared me elected I wish to say that I will continue to serve the people of East Lambton in the Legislature to the best of my knowledge and ability, and their interests will be my interests, as in the past.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, and internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

WATFORD, JULY 17, 1914.

Mother

The name of mother is our childhood's talisman, our refuge and safeguard in all our mimic misery; 'tis the first half formed word that falls from babbling tongue; the first idea that dawns upon the mind, the first, the fondest and the most lasting tie in which affection can bind the heart of man. It is not a feeling of yesterday and to-day, it is a feeling of the beginning the same unchangeable, it owes its being to this world, but is independent and self-existent, enduring while one pulse of life animates the breast that fosters it, and if there be anything of mortality which survives the grave, surely its best and noble passion will never perish.

To mothers largely is due the formation of their children's character. If she is vain and frivolous, wanting in those strong qualities of heart and head, the children will likewise imbibe much of her nature; but so much has been written on a mother's great influence over her children that there is but one little thought left to be said. To the toiling and careworn mothers all over the land our heart goes out in deepest sympathy, and I would say where you have good comfortable homes consider yourselves happy, and hold yourselves up with as much dignity as the queens of the earth, for who has a fairer right to the good things of earth than you?

Hints For Wives

Perchance you think that your husband's disposition is much changed; that he is no longer the sweet tempered, ardent lover he used to be. This may be a mistake. Consider his struggle with the world—his everlasting race with the busy competition of trade. What is it that makes him so eager in the pursuit of gain, so energetic by day, so sleepless by night, but his love of home, wife and children, and a dread that their respectability, according to the light in which he conceived it, may be encroached upon by the strife of existence. This is the true secret of that silent care which preys upon the hearts of many men; and true it is, that when love is least apparent, it is nevertheless the active principle which animates the heart, though fears and disappointments make up a cloud which obscures the warmer element. As above the clouds there is a glorious sunshine while below are showers and gloom, so with the conduct of man, behind the gloom of anxiety there is a bright fountain of high and noble feeling. Thinking of this in those moments when clouds seem to lower upon our domestic peace and by tempering your conduct accordingly, the gloom will soon pass away and warmth and brightness take its place.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Thinking Themes

As I write this I can look out of my window and see a Cloud, a Hill, a Spire, a House, a Wall, a Road and a River, in just this order from top to bottom.

Life is not a Cloud, for a Cloud has no substance, save thin mist.

Life is not a Hill, for a Hill, is beautiful at a distance only, while, life is near and dear, and its microscopic ways are as charming as its prospective.

Life is not a Spire, for a Spire points to a happiness grows in but one place, Here, and at one time, Now. The kingdom of life is about us.

Life is not a House for a House is permanent, while life is fleeting. Many lives come and go, and the House stands.

Life is not a wall, for a Wall is a limitation, while life is infinite, and has no bounds.

Life is not a road, for life roams the fields and goes where other men have not gone. It flies over the hedges as a bird, it treads the forest as a deer.

Life is a River, always the same yet ever different; always passing, always present; fluid, yet outlasting all walls and houses; flowing yet enduring; going, yet eternal. "The River of Life" is a true symbol. The River is the one natural object that is both fleeting and permanent.—Dr. Frank Crane.

Ready-made Medicine.—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable, for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed, while for cuts, sores, ulcers and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

The greatest need in the home today is comradeship. We talk too much about food and clothing and shelter and forget that comradeship, which first brought the man and wife together, should be cultivated as a sacred thing. No man and woman can live together happily without the ability, of both to give and take. The fundamental thing is not food or clothing or shelter, but comradeship.

AFRAID SHE WAS DYING

Suffered Terribly Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

ST. JEAN DE MATHEA, JAN. 27th, 1914. "After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives". I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of "Fruit-a-tives". I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives", I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to "Fruit-a-tives".

ORIENTAL CARPETS.

Some of Those Made of Kashmir Wool Strongly Resemble Silk.

Generally speaking, the carpets of India can never excel those of Persia, as the materials used in the former are not of the same superior quality as those employed in the latter country. The wool of which many of the best carpets are manufactured is obtained from Kashmir. Sometimes carpets which are mistaken for silk are really of an extremely fine quality of wool known as "pashm." This is obtained from the goats of Kashmir and grows close to the skin, being protected by the long and coarse wool. It is as smooth and lustrous as silk and is used for the beautiful soft shawls for which Kashmir is famous.

Peculiar methods are employed by the Indian weaver in converting his original design into a textile. Instead of working from a colored drawing or diagram, the weaver has the pattern translated on paper into rows of symbols, each of which expresses the number of stitches and the color.

With this written "key" in his hand the head weaver sits behind his subordinates and dictates the pattern to them, one row at a time, all through the breadth of the carpet.

These weavers—generally small boys—sit in front of the warp strings and tie in the requisite number of stitches of each color as called out to them by the reader from his ciphered scrip. These boys, who perform the actual process of weaving the pile, follow day by day the dictations of the head man, knowing nothing of the pattern they are preparing, but gradually building up in a mechanical way the carpet on the strings before them.—Argonaut.

TRIALS OF A PARSON.

Efforts of Some of His Flock to Keep Him Meek and Humble.

Do not be a parson unless you are blessed with a strong sense of humor and a thick hide, advises an English clergyman in Pearson's Weekly.

I was asked by a friend who had been offered a living near me to go and see the vicarage and church and report. I did go, and the clerk showed me round. As we neared the end he turned to me and said:

"Be you our new parson, sir, if I may make so bold?" I assured him that I was not. "I be main glad to hear that, sir," he said, with relief. "We've always had good uns so far!"

In a scattered parish I called upon an old couple about tea time. "Would you like a cup of tea?" the housewife asked. I confessed that I should like it very much. The dear old soul prepared one and kept apologizing because she had no jam or cake. I assured her that it did not matter in the least. "Well, sir," she said, brightening, "after all, 'tisn't as if you was one of them that feed high. Any one can see that."

One more. A friend of mine had got a job for a man who had been for a long time out of work. I guessed he was getting pretty shabby, so I looked up a suit—we were much of a size—and took it round. The man's wife took it, and I waited in the room, ready to be overwhelmed with thanks. She came back and said:

"My husband thanks you kindly, sir, but he don't hold with parson's clothes. But if you've got anything as 'd suits a man he'll have a look at it!"

Soft corners are difficult to eradicate, but Holloway's Corn Cure will draw them out painlessly.

Are Your Buildings Insured?

A Policy in a good Company is most important. The Company insures you against loss. What are you doing to insure your Company against loss on your buildings?

Lightning was the cause of 66 1/2 per cent. of all barn claims settled in 12 years by 40 Companies in Ontario. Had these been properly equipped with Lightning Rods the loss would have been one-tenth of one per cent. of what it was.

Prof. Day, of the O.A.C. after 13 years of investigation, says that out of every $1,000 worth of damage done to un-rodded buildings by lightning $999 would be saved if these buildings were properly rodded. Ten cents would have been lost instead of a hundred dollars.

Your and your neighbors really pay the losses. The Company just collects from you and disburses the money they gather in from you. They are your trustees. You and your neighbors are insuring you and you are helping to insure them.

The less your Company loses the less you have to pay.

It will pay you if you rodd. It will pay you if your neighbors rodd. Talk it over with him and tell him what we say.

We would like to send you our Catalog, and will if you write us.

Concrete Tanks and Troughs Never Rot or Leak

THE most practical tanks, whether for water or sewage, are built of concrete. They never rust, rot, dry out or leak. They never need new hoops or paint. They last a lifetime and seldom require repairing, which makes them the cheapest tanks that can be built.

Clean, Sanitary Watering Troughs are just as necessary as the animals that drink from them. The farmer's best interests are being served when his stock is insured a plentiful supply of clear, clean water from a trough that is permanent and sanitary.

"What the Farmer can do with Concrete" is the name of a handsome free book that tells all about concrete tanks, watering troughs and other uses of concrete that will save every farmer many dollars. Write for it to-day.

HORSE WISDOM.

Don't expect your breeding mare to do a hard week's work one week and not do anything the next week and do well.

Don't expect a first class colt from a second or third class stallion and a poor mare.

Don't expect a mare to be suckling a foal and carrying another one and do as much work as a good horse without a little extra care.

The heavy coated horses should be clipped just as the hair begins to start. It is a benefit to the horses, as the skin can be well cleaned and stimulated.

If the bowels of the young foal are not cleared naturally a gentle dose of castor oil should be given. It is wise sometimes to start the bowels with injections of warm water.

The horseless age will be coincident with the manless age. The automobile is all right in its place, but it will never displace the horse.

PREVENT HARNESS GALLS.

Daily Applications of Cold Water Tends to Harden Shoulders.

Much valuable time is saved during the busy season by keeping the horses' shoulders in good condition, and the farmer is well paid for his time when looking after them. In the morning before harnessing the horse see that the shoulders and neck are clean and look to see that the collar is well cleaned off.

Where a leather bound collar is used wash it at night when it is removed from the horse's neck. Then during the day see that the mane is not allowed to work or clog under the collar. This remedy for preventing sore shoulders is very simple and good if practiced every evening after the horse has been worked. After removing the harness, even before feeding, get a bucketful of clear, cold water and take it to the stable and use a sponge or the hand and thoroughly wash the shoulder and neck, removing all sweat and loose hair which have accumulated. This is a good, simple preventive and a sure one if daily practiced.

While engaged in ordinary farm work at such tasks as cultivating corn, mowing, planting corn, drilling wheat, harrowing, etc., four mules at the Missouri experiment station maintained their weights slightly better when fed corn and mixed hay than did a similar number of mules when fed oats and mixed hay. Mature mules required 3 per cent more grain and 1.4 per cent more hay to approximately maintain live weight when fed oats and mixed hay. The fine mule shown is sixteen hands high and weighed 1,500 pounds when two years old.

The main cause of sores on the back underneath the harness pad consists in the latter being girted up too tightly, so that it exerts an undue degree of pressure. This particular trouble is thus, as a rule, entirely avoidable with proper care. There is no need to tighten up the girth band in an excessive manner, and a moderately firm adjustment of the pad is all that is required.

RELIEF FOR HEAVES.

Treatment For Alleviating This Incurable Disease.

I have been asked many times to give a cure for heaves and am sorry to say that heaves are incurable, says Dr. A. S. Alexander in the Farm and Fireside. The distress may be relieved by the following treatment: In summer pasture the horse and feed oats and bran in addition. In winter feed wet oat straw in preference to hay. Do not feed any bulky feed at noon. Keep the bowels active. Wet all feed. Give half an ounce of Fowler's solution of arsenic night and morning until a quart has been used; then gradually discontinue the medicine, taking a week or more to the work. It may be started again any time the symptoms become aggravated.

There are many commercial cures for heaves, but they only give relief. The disease starts again as soon as the horse is fed much bulky feed and made to work on a full stomach.

HOGS AND SHEEP.

Some folks predict a sheep famine in this country within a few years. This should be a hint to every farmer to put on a few sheep.

If sows are to be changed from one pen to another, lead them out with a pail of slop or grain. Corn scattered on the ground as a guide is a good way.

A scare in the sheep flock is worse than three days' fasting, and poor feeding foreruns failure.

At mating time the boar and sow should be in the pink of condition to produce the best results.

The more rapidly the lamb is grown the more delicious, the meat.

In this era of cheap woven wire fences there is absolutely no excuse for narrow, ill smelling hog houses near the house.

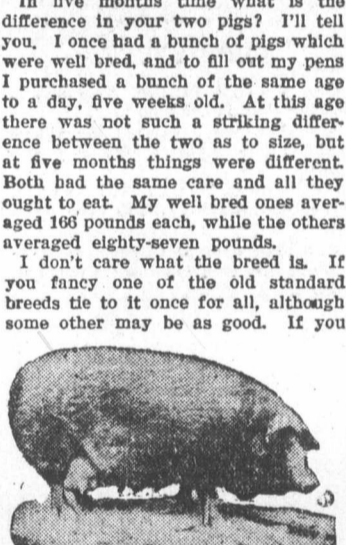

HEREDITY IN A PIG.

Difference Between Pure Breeds and Scrubs is Greater Profits.

What is the difference between a well bred pig and a common scrub one? Without entering into the scientific principles of the thing, we would say a well bred pig is one that responds quickly to feeding, writes a correspondent of the National Stockman. He is so built, so shaped and so blocked out that he grows broad and deep and long in the proportions to make weight; that what he eats and digests is assimilated into muscle and fat and a contented grunt, and not into gristle and flabby skin and a shrill squeal, having the common name of razor-back.

In five months time what is the difference in your two pigs? I'll tell you. I once had a bunch of pigs which were well bred, and to fill out my pens I purchased a bunch of the same age to a day, five weeks old. At this age there was not such a striking difference between the two as to size, but at five months things were different. Both had the same care and all they ought to eat. My well bred ones averaged 168 pounds each, while the others averaged eighty-seven pounds.

I don't care what the breed is. If you fancy one of the old standard breeds tie to it once for all, although some other may be as good. If you do not want to get pure bred stock get good, kind and quiet sows whose ancestors are known for large litters; then coax a few of your neighbors into buying a real good pure bred boar if you do not want to purchase one alone. "The sire is half the herd," is an old expression among farmers, but in this case I think he is about two-thirds, for pigs shape up after the sire more than from the dam.

The peculiarity of the mulefoot hog is that it has a solid hoof. In color this breed is usually black, sometimes with white spots. It is claimed for the mulefoot that the pigs are hardier and freer from pig diseases than pigs of other breeds. They are great rovers, hustling for themselves from a few weeks of age. The sows are prolific and have great capacity for milk production and are fine sucklers. The illustration shows a pure bred mulefoot sow.

If there is one thing discouraging and unprofitable in farming it is to put grain and labor into a poor pig and see poor results, and yet many farmers do it. Why? For the same reason that they keep poor cows and scrub bulls and breed from them and plant small and culled potatoes in the spring and wonder why they do not get good results.

Wise and experienced mothers know when their children are troubled with worms and lose no time in applying Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be used. It is absolute in clearing the system of worms and restoring those healthy conditions without which there can be no comfort for the child, or hope of robust growth. It is the most trustworthy of worm exterminators.

The word "lumber" is said to have had its origin in Boston because the merchants lumbered the wharfs with "wood goods." The term, it is claimed, is merely a modification of the word "Lombard" because the Lombards were the first pawbrokers and because it originally carried with it the notion of rubbish.

Unless worms be expelled from the system, no child can be healthy. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is the best medicine extant to destroy worms.

SILVER WEDDING

The Daily News-Advertiser Vancouver B. C., June 20th, 1914, says:—A happy event took place at the new Provincial Industrial Home for Girls in Hastings on Thursday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Collier, superintendent and matron of that institution, celebrated their silver wedding. The gathering was held in their private apartments and about thirty guests were pleasantly entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Collier were the recipients of numerous fine gifts, testifying to the esteem in which they are held. About thirty guests sat down to supper. After supper numerous toasts were given. Mr. J. Travis Barker acting as toast master. Toasts were given by Captain Crichton and Staff Captain White of the Salvation Army. Mr. H. W. Collier spoke for the relatives and Mrs. H. W. Collier, who had been a guest at the wedding 25 years ago, also spoke briefly. Mr. and Mrs. Collier were schoolmates together near Watford, Ont., and later both entered the Salvation Army in which they held various offices. Some years later they met again as officers in the Army in Newfoundland, and were married at St. John's, Nfld., in 1889. The guests included a number of friends who had known them through the Army in various parts of Canada, and the evening was passed very pleasantly with reminiscences of these times. Mr. Collier made a suitable reply to the speeches.

Obituary of Mr. Jarvis Westgate

One of the last of the old pioneers of the township of Warwick passed away on the morning of July 8th, in the person of Mr. Jarvis Westgate, 5th con. E. S. E. R., at the age of 83 years, 1 month, 16 days. He had been in ill-health for many years, but the shock sustained from a fall on Saturday, July 4th, was the immediate cause of his death. Mr. Westgate was born Castlebar, Co. Mayo, Ireland, and came to this country with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Westgate, in the early forties. They settled on the 5th con. east, S. E. R., where he spent his life with the exception of three years, when he held a government position in Kerwood. On Feb. 11th, 1864, he married Miss Mary Jane Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan of the township of Metcalfe, Middlesex county. To them were born eleven children, all of whom survive him except two, John, who died at the age of 8 months, and Joseph S. Y., at the age of 18 years, 10 months, in 1890. Besides his devoted wife, the surviving members of the family are: his only daughter, Mrs. Ed. King, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.; and eight sons: Jarvis T., Francis, Sask.; William, 4th line east, Warwick; M. Hamilton, Foxleigh, Sask.; Rev. Dr. T. B. Reginald, missionary in German East Africa; Robt. J., Regina, Saskatchewan; (Rev.) H. Palmer, St. Thomas; A. Walter, Regina, Saskatchewan; and Alexander on the homestead. Mrs. Henry Rivers, Watford, is a sister of the deceased.

Mr. Westgate was a life-long member of the Church of England. In politics he was Conservative, never failing to cast his vote when his health permitted it, and rejoiced in the fact that he was able to vote at the last election, June 29. Coming from the west of Ireland, he was an ardent upholder of Protestantism. He was a man of shrewd business methods and his sterling qualities won for him the esteem and respect of the community.

The funeral on Saturday afternoon, July 11th, to St. James Church cemetery, Brooke, was very largely attended. The church service was conducted by the Rev. H. R. Diehl, of Adelaide, and the Masonic service by the members of Ionic Lodge, No. 328 A.F.&A.M., Napier, of which deceased was a member for over thirty years. The pallbearers were five sons, William, Hamilton, Palmer, Walter, Alexander, and a nephew, Fred Westgate.

Mr. J. Kennedy, townline, Plympton, very nearly lost his house by fire a few days ago. A lamp in an incubator in an upstairs room exploded, and when noticed by his son, the room was all on fire. By hard work, however, they succeeded in getting it under control.

There is little use of trying to keep the farm clean and at the same time allowing all kinds of weeds to seed along the roadsides and spread over the fields, truthfully remarks the Farmers' Advocate. Cut roadside weeds now if it has not already been attended to.

MIXED FARMING LANDS IN SOUTH SASKATCHEWAN

Kelliber, Sask., July 7th, 1914.

I beg to advise all subscribers of that valuable little paper called the Watford Guide-Advocate, that have sold within the last two months 3041 acres of mixed farming prairie lands located south of Kelliber, Saskatchewan, along the new survey of the C. N. Ry., which is now building between Wroxton and Craver and about eight miles south of the main line of the G. T. P. Ry., one of the best equipped railways in America. I note that I have still on my selling list about twenty thousand (20,000) acres for sale ranging from $12.00 to $25.00 per acre on very easy terms. Gentle moon, I do not invite you out here to see all level open prairie lands just for steam plow only, but this is genuine mixed farming district. The land is slightly rolling but not at a hill, with plenty of good water for stock raising, though there is a lot of grain raised here, there being over four hundred thousand bushels shipped out of Kelliber last season, an average of one hundred car loads of hay and cattle. These are facts, as I can prove it by the G. T. P. agent here. The soil in this district is a deep black loam from 10 to 15 inches, with a clay subsoil. I have the exclusive agency for twenty-five sections, all the agency for nine sections, all south, and south-east and south-west of Kelliber. For particulars write to

MIXED FARMING LANDS IN SOUTH SASKATCHEWAN

Kelliher, Sask., July 7th, 1914.

I beg to advise all subscribers of that valuable little paper called the Watford Guide-Advocate, that I have sold within the last two months 3041 acres of mixed farming prairie lands located south of Kelliher, Saskatchewan, along the new survey of the C. N. Rly., which is now building between Wroxton and Craven, and about eight miles south of the main line of the G. T. P. Rly., one of the best equipped railways in America. I note that I have still on my selling list about twenty-one thousand (21,000) acres for sale ranging from $12.00 to $25.00 per acre on very easy terms. Gentlemen, I do not invite you out here to see all level open prairie lands just for steam plow only, but this is a genuine mixed farming district. The land is slightly rolling but not at all hilly, with plenty of good water for stock raising, though there is a lot of grain raised here, there being over four hundred thousand bushels shipped out of Kelliher last season, and over one hundred car loads of hogs and cattle. These are facts, as I can prove it by the G. T. P. agent here. The soil in this district is a deep black loam from 10 to 14 inches, with a clay subsoil. I have the exclusive agency for twenty-four sections, also the agency for nine sections, all south, and south-east and south-west of Kelliher. For full particulars write to

Address and Presentation

A pleasant event took place on Thursday afternoon, June 25th, when the pupils and parents of S. S. No. 14, Brooke, gathered at the school to bid farewell to their teacher, Miss Lena Bourne. Miss Bourne was presented with a handsome ebony toilet set and a nicely worded address. Miss Myrtle Johnston read the address and Miss Gladys Johnson made the presentation. Following is the address:—
TO MISS LENA BOURNE—
DEAR TEACHER:—
It is with the deepest regret that we the pupils and parents of S. S. No. 14 Brooke, have learned that you are leaving us at midsummer. You have always taken a deep interest in all our work, and your kind and sympathetic manner has endeared you to us all. We feel we cannot let you go without expressing our appreciation of your efforts in some tangible way. Please accept this toilet set. We wish you every success and happiness in the future.

MYRTLE JOHNSTON,
GLADYS JOHNSON,
Although completely taken by surprise, Miss Bourne replied in a few well chosen words.

A Round Robin

It Proved to Be a Boomerang to Its Signers

By DWIGHT NORWOOD

Reforms are seldom accomplished all at once, and when they are they rarely hold good. The citizens of Jintown found their efforts to dispense with the vigilance committee and establish a regular court of law attended with difficulty. As one of them expressed it: "We were between fire and water. We were burned up if we kept still, and if we jumped we'd be drowned."

Jintown—now Jamestown—has developed into a beautiful city, with schools and churches innumerable, but in the days when gun law had become unbearable the principal buildings in the town were devoted to gambling houses, in which an apology for liquor was sold at 25 cents a drink. In these places every man was armed, and whenever a dispute arose the only question was which disputant was the quicker on the trigger. This state of affairs attracted desperate characters, and the town was rapidly going from bad to worse. A secret meeting was held among the best citizens, at which twelve men were selected as a vigilance committee to clear the town of rascals. By a vigorous course of lynching and shooting it got rid of all the bad characters except one, but four of the twelve had been eliminated.

The bad character left, Pete Hollister, was not to be intimidated. The only way to get rid of him was to kill him, and the vigilance committee had found that method demanding its own ranks. Four of the remaining vigilantes had been killed, leaving four men who had become tired of the work.

Meanwhile a court had been organized and brought to a state of tolerable efficiency. It was easy enough to convict a person guilty of breaking the law on sufficient evidence, but it was not easy to get the party into court if he would not come willingly. It certainly was not easy to get Pete Hollister there, because he would not go willingly, and any one trying to take him by force was sure to get killed. The four men remaining on the vigilance committee held a meeting to consider means of eliminating the desperado. It was agreed that if Pete could be got out of the way there was only Bill Cundiff remaining, and Bill was not considered a very hard case. It was even thought that he might be converted to a supporter of good order. In some way Cundiff got wind of the movement to get rid of Hollister, and one day he asked one of the committee how much would be given for the desperado's scalp. The other members were consulted, and each man subscribed $50 for the purpose. Cundiff said that to do the job was worth more than that, but if they would take the responsibility jointly with himself he would consider the proposition. He said he didn't wish to be tried for murder in the newfangled court that had been organized and must have some guaranty. The best guaranty he could have would be an order to do the job signed and sealed by the committee.

After a good deal of deliberation the four men remaining on the committee signed a round robin instructing him to "make away with" Peter Hollister and agreeing to pay him the sum of $200 for the job. At the time the arrangement was made the intended victim had gone to an army post near by to look, as he expressed it, "for scabs among some of them sojers." Before Cundiff started on his errand of mercy—such it was considered by the citizens of Jintown—the committee offered to pay him in advance the money that had been subscribed for the job. But Cundiff said he wasn't sure he could "get him" and his conscience wouldn't permit him to take pay for a job he hadn't done.

The committee was much pleased at this, feeling encouraged to hope that after Hollister had been put out of the way Cundiff would make an excellent citizen. An election for mayor had been called, and some were in favor of running Cundiff for the office. The rumor that he might be a candidate reached his ears, and he stated definitely that he proposed to reform and didn't consider any man reformed who had anything to do with politics. This added to the growing confidence that was being built up in the man who was to do for Jintown what Charlotte Corday did for France.

When Cundiff covered all over with knives, pistols and Winchester rifles, rode out of Jintown on his errand in behalf of law and order he was given an ovation. There were by this time many respectable women in the place, and they, their husbands and their children turned out to wish the reformed man success. Handkerchiefs were waved to him by the women, while the men fired salutes from their revolvers. Cundiff was seen to draw his shirt sleeve across his eyes, which was considered evidence of those intense emotions that are usually a part of the reformation of a wicked person. They were destined to meet with a surprise. Not two hours after Cundiff's departure he returned, and riding beside him, still in the fesh, was Pete Hollister. A chill passed over the citizens of Jintown, most of whom saw the entry from their windows and did not go out to welcome back the man they had sent off with such enthusiasm. Hollister reined up before a small group on the street and said: "I have business with four prominent citizens of this town, Mr. Martin Shaw, Nathan Parker, Thomas Warren and George Urner. I would like to confer with 'em and would be obliged to any citizen to tell 'em that I'll wait for 'em at O'Neill's tavern. Say that it's not a question of shootin', but of law."

After saying this the speaker and his attendant rode on to the tavern, where they dismounted. The gentlemen mentioned—the four members of the vigilance committee who had signed the round robin—were informed of the invitation and after consultation concluded to accept it, having been assured that they were wanted not on a matter of gun practice, but of law.

"Gents," said Hollister, drawing a paper from under his shirt, "I have here evidence of a conspiracy on your part, with Bill Cundiff, to murder me. Bill, havin' shown signs of reformation lately, instead of committin' the deed, comes to me repentant and with tears in his eyes hands me this yere agreement to pay him $200 for my scalp. He finds me likewise repentant for my many sins and disposed to abandon gun law and leave these yere questions to the courts. Therefore it is my painful duty to swear a warrant agin you four gents, to be dealt with by the courts in the regular way."

There was a grim silence on the part of the men who in trying to be saviors of Jintown had walked into a trap and, according to law, would be punished by death or imprisonment by the courts they had taken so much pains to establish.

"Owin' to the tenderness of my heart," the desperado continued, "and the reformation goin' on in my bosom, I don't want to be hard on you. My duty as a reformed citizen is plainly to let the law take its course. But you gents bein' disposed to help us who are tryin' to turn from our wicked ways—Bill Cundiff kin testify to that—and some of you havin' families, I wouldn't mind a pecuniary consideration instead of seein' you suffer. In the first place, Bill, who was too conscientious to take the price of my blood, should be rewarded for right doin'. Five hundred dollars would be a small sum for so much resistance to temptation. In the second place, if your scheme had worked I would now be sleepin' in the valley, with the long grass wavin' over me and coyotes scratchin' for my bones. All these should be paid for. But, rememberin' that there's no great wealth in the town, I'll make the figures reasonable. Call my share $1,500."

The signers of the round robin asked how long they would have to accept or decline this generous proposition and to raise the money if they accepted it and were given three days, at the end of which time the warrant would be sworn out. Then they retired for consultation.

Advancing civilization brings many problems. Here was a problem with a paradox. A villain was about to use a court of justice as an instrument for the condemnation of men who were working to eradicate crime. What was to be done? After consultation the round robbers sent a message to ask the two reformed men if, on the payment of the sum demanded, they would leave the town, never to return. The reply was that, having reformed, they would prefer to remain and Cundiff had decided to run for mayor.

While the deliberations were going on it happened that a young man who had served an enlistment as an electrician passed through the town on his way to a large mining center that had acquired civilization, where he was to be employed putting in electric lights and different devices made practicable by electricity. Hearing of the dilemma that confronted the citizens of Jintown and especially the round robbers, he volunteered to show them a method by which they might get rid of the two villains without danger to themselves. They offered to pay him liberally for any device that would bring about that end, but he declined to receive money for such a purpose or to work it himself.

During the three days that the round robbers had been given to come to a decision and raise funds the electrician worked nights, and no one saw what he did. He was engaged in laying wires from an empty cabin to the house of one of the remnants of the vigilance committee, Martin Shaw. When the time was up, after explaining his device to Mr. Shaw, he withdrew from all participation in the scheme.

On the third day after the return of Hollister and Cundiff they were invited to the deserted cabin in which the electrician had been at work to receive the first installment of the ransom that had been levied on the town. The four citizens most interested were in the cabin, at the other end of the wires, where they could see plainly the place to which the rascals had been invited. Citizens were warned to keep away from the cabin and regarded the warning. Hollister and Cundiff went into the cabin prepared for them and found a bottle and two glasses on a table. They poured out a tumbler of liquor each, raised their glasses and were drinking when the floor rose up, they were tossed a hundred feet in the air, and when they came down they had ceased to be terrorists to Jintown. The cabin had been undermined and a charge of dynamite ignited by electricity.

That ended the reign of terror with which Jintown had been afflicted since its settlement. The courts became effective, schools were opened, and civilization grew rapidly. But few of the citizens who witnessed the explosion by which the last of the gun men were eliminated remain, and they don't care to give the story.

Lemon Pie
(From the Emporia Gazette)

Lemon pie is the one form of human food which has no justification. It does not cheer nor inebriate; it furnishes neither nutriment nor digestive assistance. It has not enough acid to produce a well defined tummy ache nor starch enough to produce indigestion. The person who discovered lemon pie turned into culinary blind alley from which there is no escape. The miserable pie casts a blight upon American cookery, puts a blot on the cuisine of the pie industry, and because it is introduced into the bill of fare of many misguided households.

You are nervous. You are dejected. You don't sleep. You have lost ambition for your feet old and look old.

Early—Bourne

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bourne 6th concession Brooke, on Saturday July 11th, at 4 o'clock, when their second daughter, Lena Estle, was united in the holy bands of matrimony by the Rev. Dr. Brome to Mr. Howard R. Earley, of Sarnia, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Earley, Kerwood. The bride who was given away by her father looked charming in a lovely gown of ivory silk with shadow lace trimmings and carrying a bouquet of orange blossoms, her only ornament being a pearl crescent, the gift of the groom. The wedding March from Lohengrin was played by Miss Ada Bourne, sister of the bride. During the signing of the register Miss Myrtle Richardson, cousin of the bride, sang very sweetly "O promise me."

After the ceremony the guests all gathered in the dining room where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. The groom's gift to the pianist was a gold watch fob and to the soloist a pretty gold bar pin. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents showing the high esteem in which she is held.
The happy couple left Watford on the 9.22 p.m. train amid showers of rice and good wishes for Chicago, Windsor and Detroit. On their return they will reside at 125 Samuel Street, Sarnia, and will be at home to their friends after August 1st.

ROBBING WOMEN OF THEIR HEALTH

Anaemia Unless Checked Passes Into Hopeless Decline.

Anaemia is like a spectre that steals on you unawares and drives all happiness out of existence. It is a thief that robs you of your life and energy. Thousands of women in this country are the victims of anaemia (that is, bloodlessness), which spares neither rich nor poor, young or old. It robs women of their health, her vitality, her beauty—of everything that gives a woman her charm. The chief symptoms of this trouble include a distaste for food, prostrating headaches, extreme languor, loss of weight, nervousness, pale cheeks, lips and gums, heart palpitations, dizziness and a constant feeling of wretchedness.

The only way to effect a cure is to increase the blood supply—to make it pure, rich and red. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls and women from the early fate that threatened them through anaemia's ravages, for these pills enrich the blood, stimulate the circulation, nourish the nerves, and restore the energy and perfect health that make women attractive.

If you are a victim of bloodlessness in any way, do not let it run into a hopeless decline, but begin the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. The following bit of evidence proves the worth of this medicine. Mrs. Maurice Sims, Liverpool, N. S., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a blessing to me. About two years ago I was so badly run down that I had to give up all work and go to bed. My husband and parents were much worried about me as they thought I was going into consumption. The doctor who was attending me changed his medicine several times, but it did me no good and I began to feel very much discouraged myself. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to do so. In a few weeks I felt much better and I continued taking the pills for a couple of months until I was again in perfect health. I believe that if I had not taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not have survived, and I shall always be very grateful for what they have done for me."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
