THE DOMINION EXHIBITION. A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE.

Large Crowds of Sightseers.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW AND PRIZES.

A GLANCE AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE.

THE AMUSEMENTS, &c.

It would take far more space than even the whole forty-eight columns of the Times... from its irksome bondage, the balloon rose majestically and soared away in air, free and unconstrained, amid the applause of all who watched its graceful progress.

from its irksome bondage, the balloon rose majestically and soared away in air, free and unconstrained, amid the applause of all who watched its graceful progress. It was on Saturday that the grand lacrosse match between the two rival teams, Shamrocks and Montreals, took place on the grounds of the latter, in presence of a vast number of spectators, and that the Shamrocks regained the laurels they had lost by beating their opponents in three straight games.

assess by English farmers. It left untouched the custom of Irish landlords making no improvements, and leaving all, even to farm buildings, to be made by their tenants; but it provided that, under strict limitations, "ejection for non-payment of rent shall not be deemed disturbance of the tenant by the landlord."

THE PAPAL ALLOCATION.

The Pope Denounces the Conduct of the Belgian Government.

The following is a full translation of the Allocation delivered by His Holiness Pope Leo XIII. in the Consistory of August 20:— "VENERABLE BROTHERS—The Majesty of the Supreme Pontificate, that holy and sacred honor dearer to Us than Our very life, and with it, the souls of Our people, and Our duty to guard and defend at every sacrifice, impels Us to-day to denounce in your presence a very grave outrage inflicted on Our authority, and on the sacred rights of the Holy See."

THE ENGLISH IN AFGHANISTAN.

Out from Afghanistan Cometh a cry: Many a Saxon man Laid down to die: Wild was the slaughter when Yells filled the air: Tell us, ye Englishmen, Why were they there? Hundreds were stricken down, Dying and dead, Millions of earth and brown, Dried richly red. Never for them again Skies will be fair: Tell us, ye Englishmen, Why were they there? How had Afghanistan Slaved in your sight? How was the savage Khan Driven to flight? Was there aught to all Aged prayer? Why did those English fall? Why were they there? What with your quarrels had Hill tribes to do? Why were they filled with mad Fury at you? Why should you rouse the mad Wrath of despair? Why are those English dead? Why were they there? Parson Esten was so much averse to the Albanian Creed that he would never read it. Archbishop Secker having been informed of his recusancy, sent the archdeacon to ask him his reason. "I do not believe it," said the parson. "But your metropolitan does," replied the archdeacon. It may be so, rejoined Mr. Paton, "and he can well afford it; he believes at the rate of seven thousand a year, and I only at the rate of £50."

name of Catholic, and to their rulers. We raise Our cries against him who is guilty of violating this right, and all the more so because in the case of the Roman Pontiff his right is founded from a most august principle, emanating from the fulness of the Roman primacy divinely conferred on Our predecessor, Pius VI., of glorious memory, who exercised his jurisdiction and his authority by fixed delegation—who, in a word, held his place, and this in virtue and by the very essence of the primacy, by reason of the rights and prerogatives which are inherent to that primacy, and in accordance with the constant discipline of the Church from the earliest ages.

the premises. The Sheriff knocked at the door and demanded possession in the name of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. A shower of boiling water from an upper window answered him in the negative in a very practical fashion. Then the resident magistrate rode up to the fortress with the Riot Act in his hand, ready for reading, and called upon the garrison to surrender or take the consequences, which he warned them would be serious. The garrison, represented by a young peasant in a flannel jacket, appeared at the window, said something unparliamentary about the Riot Act, and told the magistrate to take the place if he was able. Two scaling parties, composed of men of the Royal Irish Constabulary, were told off to attempt to effect an entrance through the windows, front and rear, while the main body of the forces battered at the doors with the butts of their rifles. The scaling parties found it hot work between boiling water and bludgeons and pitchforks, pokers, scythes, and reaping hooks. A dozen constables took a long ladder, and, running at the hall door with it as a battering-ram, made a breach in the outerworks through which the invading force swarmed. The garrison retreated up stairs, and made a stand on the first landing; driven from this, they retreated to the next landing, and there made another obstinate stand. By this time one of the scaling parties succeeded in entering through a back window, and the end of the fight was that the garrison was overpowered and made prisoners of war. They were handcuffed and let away captives.

THE KILBURY EVICTION.

A Bitter War with a Peaceful Ending.

DUBLIN, Aug. 28.—There is not in any of Charles Lever's rollicking fiction of Irish life and character anything more thoroughly racy of the soil than is to be found in the facts which bring to an end a remarkable chapter in the strange, eventful story of the Ireland of to-day. It is the stirring story of the Kilbury eviction. The scene of this true tale of life in Ireland in this year of grace is laid, very appropriately, in a romantic Tipperary valley. Here dwelt on a large farm the Meagher family, of the respectable farming class. Representatives of this family had been in the place for generations as tenants holding a lease. Things went on comfortably with them until the hard times came. The rent fell into arrear year by year; the landlord was pressing for his money; the tenant couldn't or wouldn't give it to him; then the landlord wanted his land, and this the tenant resolutely refused to yield. Now a fierce struggle commenced for the possession of the land. The owner had the power of the law on his side, and the tenant had popular sympathy and practical support on his. The landlord brought his forces on the ground in the shape of the sheriff, bailiffs, and police. The tenant garrisoned his house with neighbors, and barricaded it so securely that the small legal force durst not attempt to take the place by storm. The sheriff discreetly retired from the field. The Kilbury contest had now attracted the attention of the landlords and tenants throughout the country. It was regarded as a test case, and accordingly was watched with excited interest by the two classes, now face to face in open war. Here was a landlord who couldn't get either his rent or his land; here was a tenant who defied the law and the landlord. A second descent was made on the tenant's house in the rich vale under the shadow of Slievenamon. This time a powerful force of police invested the place, and a resident magistrate came out with the Riot Act in his pocket. The garrison in the house was likewise a large one; a determined crowd of men and women was there, armed with all kinds of weapons, from a revolver to a roiling-pin, and for the purpose of harassing the enemy there was a large supply of boiling water on

ENGLISH OPINION.

A Strong Pronouncement from an English Journal.

[From the Nottingham Daily Express] If Ireland were peopled like Guernsey its population would be more than forty millions. It rose to eight millions and a quarter, and then famine and fever killed a million. During thirty-three years the Irish landlords have driven out more than a third of the rest, so that, notwithstanding "the Irish manufacture of babies," the population is now five millions. If the Danes could renew their devastations, and go through the land destroying one-third of the people with fire and sword, and leaving the rest in destitution, it would be a horrible massacre—because they were Danes. But when this is done by landlords with evictions, extortions, and an army of process-servers and drilled constabulary, with all the power of England at their back, it is only an exercise of the rights of property, and those who complain of such treatment are only Irish grievance-mongers. In England we wondered for years at the tales of agrarian outrage, and thought there was something peculiar in the nature of the Irish peasant which prompted him to "tumbling his landlord"; but we met with Irishmen of all classes, and found them not quite savages, not quite idolaters, and very much like ourselves; and by degrees tales of oppression and wrong rescued us, and at last, in spite of all the influence of English landowners helping their Irish brethren, Gladstone and Bright passed the Irish Land Act of 1870, to give Irish tenants some of the tenant rights pos-

Review of Books. DONAHUE'S MAGAZINE, for October, contains: The Wonders of Knock, with illustrations; Cardinal Manning on Bradlaugh's Admission to Parliament; Sketch of Lord Beaconsfield; Long Derg and its Pilgrimage; The Misadventures of a Statue; The Mother of Napoleon the Great; A Glance at the Protestant Mission; The Landowners' Panic (by Justin McCarthy, M.P.) &c.

IN CERTAIN SEASONS, BOWEL COMPLAINTS run into chronic weakness, and end in Cholera. There is no need of this, if people would only be advised, and keep by them BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA and Family Liniment, and take it according to directions, whenever the bowels get deranged. It does its work surely.

DOMINION EXHIBITION.

The Horticultural Display in Victoria Skating Rink.

The flower and fruit show is, in the opinion of some, the piece de resistance of the Exhibition. We have no other word where with to describe the vision of flowers that rivet the eyes on entering, than gorgeous. Six or seven years ago horticulture had attractions for only the few in this Province, but of late aesthetic tastes have been developed in the population, and we doubt if at the present time there are more genuine lovers of flowers and the beautiful generally than the people of Montreal and its surroundings, and, indeed, we might say the whole Province. According as this taste was remarked by horticulturists, they found it their interest to satisfy it by the importation of newer species, and, as fashion is contagious, their example was followed, though necessarily in a humbler fashion, by private individuals, and, blooming gardens arose on all sides. It is this esthetic taste that fills the Horticultural building, night after night. For is it disappointed, if we are to judge from the many exclamations of surprise, pleasure, and admiration heard in every direction. The show was opened on Tuesday night, when it was once seen a man who knew his business had the management of this essential part of the Dominion Exhibition, in the person of H. S. Evans, Esq., himself a connoisseur in horticulture and botany. The opening was initiated by strains of martial music from the Garrison Artillery band, and one band or the other plays every night, so that the ear of the visitor may not be jealous of the eye. The scene inside is very brilliant, art assisting nature in setting off the interior. The tout ensemble is magnificent. The work was done by Messrs. Duff Brothers, assisted by Mr. George Moore, florist. Festoons of cypress, from which depend parti-colored Chinese lanterns, are stretched across the roof and drape the pillars. On entering, two platforms, one to the right, the other to the left, are observed, covered with collections of plants, competing for the prize of $35 for the best display of 25 varieties. These are exhibited by the gardeners of Messrs. Joseph Mackay and George Stephen, and wonderfully beautiful they are. From these extend long rows of tables covered with plants, including all shades of color and differences of form. Around the walls run the tables, on which are displayed fruits and vegetables. In the centre of the hall a beautiful floral temple, erected by Mr. S. S. Bain, commands the attention of all inside, a collection of plants, over three hundred varieties being exhibited. The display of cut flowers is very fine, the Dahlias and Petunias being especially beautiful. A number of wreaths and bouquets were much admired for the taste and skill which had been expended in preparing them for exhibition. The display of fruits is unquestionably the best ever seen in this Province. The apples, grapes and plums are simply splendid, both as regards size and quality. The judges were:—Plants—Messrs. H. Bryant, St. Albans, Vt.; J. Sorley, Edinburgh; Rev. E. Hamilton, Grenville. Fruit—Dr. Hoskins, Newport, Vt.; D. W. Beadle, St. Catharines, Ont.; J. W. Bailey, Plattsburgh. Cut Blooms and Vegetables—O. Chapais, Yverdon; J. Doyle and J. Jordan, Montreal. Honey—John Robertson, Montreal; J. J. Higgins, Cote St. Paul, and David Crawford, Montreal.

The following prizes were given during the first day:—

On Sunday morning the ocean steamer Granully Castle, on which Mr. Gladstone has for some days past been taking a pleasure trip around a portion of the coast of the British Isles, lowered anchor outside Kings-town Harbour. One of the steamer's boats flying a sail, and rowed by some half-a-dozen sailors, was observed hastening towards the end of the wharf nearest Carlisle Pier, and many of the spectators rightly assuming it carried the Prime Minister ran as quickly as they could towards the landing stage there situated, but before more than two or three had reached the head of the flight of steps leading to the water's edge Mr. Gladstone and Mrs. Gladstone, and Miss Gladstone, and Mr. Donald Currie, M.P., had disembarked. In another moment they were almost completely surrounded by the crowd, who loudly cheered and raised their hats. Mr. Gladstone, upon whose arm leaned Mrs. Gladstone, Miss Gladstone and Mr. Currie walking behind, repeatedly lifted his hat, and bowed his acknowledgments. Mrs. Gladstone also smiling and bowing as she walked forward at a rather rapid pace. As they advanced up the wharf amid the crowd a rather amusing incident occurred. An elderly woman, respectfully but poorly dressed, ran forward, and seizing Mr. Gladstone's right hand between her two hands, warmly shook it, and hid him welcome to Ireland. Mr. Gladstone, who at the time had his hat in his left hand, thanked her, and half turning round as he walked, continued speaking to her for a few minutes. The woman then ran up to Mrs. Gladstone, and also shook her hand, the crowd laughing and cheering and raising their hats. The Premier's disembarkation being quite unexpected, no arrangements had been made for his arrival, and consequently having walked too far up the jetty it was found that there was no means of leaving the wharf for the railway station at that end save by crossing two chains which stretched horizontally along the whole length of the stage separating it from the roadway. Seeing the position of affairs Mr. Gladstone mounted a wooden box which happened to be lying against a post, and standing upon it, raised the upper chain, while Mrs. and Miss Gladstone stooping under it stepped across the under one into the street, still followed by the crowd, which still continued to cheer. The Premier and Mrs. and Miss Gladstone and Mr. Donald Currie walked to the station—a short distance—and were only freed from the pressure of the crowd of sightseers when they passed the ticket barrier which prevented entrance to the platform. They were then met by the Stationmaster, Mr. William Monaghan, with whom Mr. Gladstone shook hands. Mr. Monaghan, recalling the Premier's last visit to Ireland, said he was glad to see him looking so much better, and hoped that the health of Ireland's friend would always be good. Mr. Gladstone expressed his thanks, and Mrs. Gladstone, who appeared much pleased, turning to Mr. Monaghan, said, in an emphatic tone: "Yes, he is indeed Ireland's friend." The party were then conducted to seats, where they awaited the arrival of the 11.46 a.m. express train for Dublin. During the interval Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone occupied the time by reading a mass of correspondence—postal and telegraphic—which they had received, well while they were so engaged a large well dressed crowd of spectators stood around watching them intently. Westland Row Terminus was reached, and upon alighting Mr. Gladstone, walking arm in arm with Mrs. Gladstone, hurried along the platform and down the steps, they got up on it, Miss Gladstone and Mrs. Currie sitting on the opposite side. They then drove through Westland Row, Great Brunswick street, College street, Dame street, Cork hill to Christ Church Cathedral, followed by the Rev. Mr. Gladstone, Mr. H. Henry and Mr. Mackie.

CITY NEWS.

To EXHIBITION VISITORS.—Strangers in town during the exhibition time are reminded of the cordial invitation of the Young Irishmen's Literary and Benefit Association, to visit their rooms, at No. 73 St. Joseph street, where they will find a hearty welcome and a very comfortable set of rooms, well supplied with numerous attractions, in the shape of various games and a large and valuable library.

A GENTLEMAN who is good authority for any statement he makes says that the syndicate whose terms are accepted by Sir John Macdonald is the same which Mr. George Stephen, President of the Bank of Montreal, controls, and that the offer finally accepted is that made by the syndicate three months before Sir John left the country at all; that the first negotiations tried with the Barings and other reputable capitalists in London were abandoned, Rose, & Co., and of the Paris branch, are merely matters of convenience.

CONSIDERABLE fault is found daily with the condition of things in the Recorder's Court. Hon. Mr. Chapleau has held the prize of the Recorder's dangling before the eyes of his followers for some months, while a Magistrate, who has enough to do in the Police Court if he does his duty well, runs over each morning, rushes through the list in half an hour or more, and draws the Recorder's salary. The question came up in the City Council on the 13th, and it was decided there to ask Mr. Chapleau to put a stop to the manner in which the Court is administered at present by appointing the City Clerk, Mr. Glackmeyer, to the vacant position.

WHAT IS VASELINE?—Montrealers, and visitors to the great commercial city, cannot help being stuck with the word "Vaseline" posted in a thousand different places, nooks and corners though all over, and their interrogatory sometimes addressed to themselves of "what is Vaseline?" is but natural. Well then here is the answer given by Dr. Galewoska the distinguished French oculist:—It is a jelly composed of a pure and highly concentrated essence of petroleum, an invaluable family remedy for burns, wounds, sprains, rheumatism, skin diseases, hemorrhoids, sunburn, chilblains. It is taken internally for cough, croup, colds, sore-throat, &c. And that is Vaseline.

BANK ROBBERY.—Between 12 and 1 o'clock, Monday, the Receiving Teller of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. Padden, left his box and went outside the counter for a few moments to speak to his wife, who had just entered, leaving the door of his box unlocked. While talking to her a man coolly opened the door, entered the vacant apartment, and with the greatest sang froid lifted a large bundle of notes from the counter, placed them under his arm and walked off. The whole thing was done so coolly that no one noticed it, except a junior clerk, who mistook the robber for Mr. Padden, as he was dressed somewhat alike, but seeing Mr. Padden enter almost immediately he drew his attention to the facts. Mr. Padden, to his consternation, discovered a package of notes was missing, and immediately started a hue and cry after the thief, and struck the alarm at the different stations. All was of no avail, however. The thief, however, did not require much start, and could not be traced. He is described as 5 feet 11 inches high, fair complexion, light mustache, and short side whiskers; weight about 140 lbs. The notes are $10, $200 and $100 denomination. A reward of $1,000 is offered for the apprehension of the thief.

For some time past Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, of the Freeman House, a hotel on St. Joseph street, have been living unhappily together, and there have been frequent outbreaks between them which have necessitated the interference of the officers of the law. Mr. Freeman attributed the trouble to the intemperance of his wife, to the difference arising, strange to say, from the fact that she was entitled, as heiress, to a large fortune in England. On the morning of the 13th Mrs. Freeman was indisposed, and did not leave her room. When dinner was ready a little girl went to call her, but found the unfortunate woman writing in agony. The child hastened to tell Mr. Freeman, who immediately entered the room and discovered his wife in a dying condition. Without speaking a word and before there was time to call a physician the unhappy woman breathed her last. Her husband raised her up in the bed and tried to rouse her, thinking she had fainted, but she fell back a corpse. During the night she kept a bottle by the side of the bed, and thinking it contained whiskey Mr. Freeman forcibly removed it. In the morning, traces of Paris green were found in the room and evidence of that poison in the matter which the deceased had vomited. There is no doubt her death is to be attributed to the fact that she poisoned herself. Some weeks since she drank a bottle of landanum in the presence of a policeman who was called in to arrest her for boisterous conduct, but as she had been a habitual slave to the drug, it had no effect on her.

ACCIDENTS.—A pyrotechnic display may be very pleasant to view from a distance, but that it is not always attended by danger has been frequently demonstrated. The latest illustration of this fact was witnessed Friday night, when one boy was dangerously injured by a falling skyrocket, and another seriously hurt by the premature discharge of a firework. The first mentioned was a youth of fifteen years named Frank Doherty, and whose father is the proprietor of a boot and shoe store at St. Paul. Doherty had visited the city for the purpose of seeing the sights during the week of the exhibition, and in pursuance of this object made one of the crowd which attended the display of fireworks at the Dominion Square last night. While watching the ascent of some skyrockets, about 8:30 o'clock, he was struck on the head by the falling wood-work from one, and received a gash on his right temple, extending about four inches in length. Sub-Constable Rennicks, who was on duty in the square, immediately rushed to the side of the unfortunate youth, and raising him in his arms strove to close the gaping wound between his fingers and thumb. Notwithstanding this effort the blood flowed profusely, and in a few seconds Rennicks was partially covered with blood. He called a carriage and had Doherty conveyed to Dr. Blackadder's, on Beaver Hall Hill, where the wound was sewed up with fine stitches. The sufferer was then carried to Mrs. Cromon's, No 356 Dorchester street, where he had been staying during his visit to the city. The wound is a dangerous one, and may lead to serious results. Rennicks had scarcely returned to resume his duties on Dominion Square when the crowd assembled were startled to hear his name called repeatedly by Sergeant Miller, who was also on duty in the same place. "Rennicks, Rennicks," came the cry, "another boy has been nearly killed."

This time it was a little eight-year old named Robert James Elder, son of Thomas Elder, of 200 William street, who had been injured. The fuse of a skyrocket was either too short, or had burned quickly, and the result was a premature explosion. A piece of wood struck young Elder under the right eye, and inflicted a deep gash. Sub-Constable Rennicks had to call for another carriage, and start in search of a doctor, but after vainly knocking at two doors he had the poor boy conveyed to the Hospital, where the cut was sewed up with two stitches.

PRESENTATION TO MR. F. B. McNAMEE. At a meeting of the committee of management of St. Patrick's Society, held on Monday evening 13th inst., in St. Patrick's Hall, an address of welcome to Mr. McNamee was adopted, and the committee and members adjourned to the residence of that gentleman, who made an appropriate reply. After the reading of the addresses and reply the gentlemen were invited by Mrs. McNamee to coffee and cake, some very fine songs were sung and a few good speeches made. The address contained warm expressions of pleasure at the safe return of Mr. McNamee from his journey to British Columbia, and referred to his enterprise in engaging in the construction of a great public work in that distant Province. The reply was as follows:—

GENTLEMEN,—I need not say that I am grateful to you for this generous and unexpected expression of your good-will towards me and my family. I confess that I am of those who like to be missed when away, welcomed on returning. This address you have given is no small compliment and from my heart I thank you for it. I shall regard it as more than a sufficient reward for any services I may have been able to render the St. Patrick Society. My journey has afforded me great satisfaction, for I may tell you that a visit to British Columbia will dispel the doubt from any man's mind as to whether that Province is valuable as a portion of this Dominion. Having seen it from end to end; having talked with its leading commercial men and received their hospitality. I have no hesitation in saying that I regard it as the gem of our country. It needs only to be opened up, and railway communication established between it and this Province, to make it one of the wealthiest parts of the country. As to your warm wishes for my success, gentlemen, I can only thank you, and say that my best efforts will be in that direction; and if, while I am trying to prosper, as a mercantile man, I can do anything to benefit my country, my fellow-citizens, and my fellow-Canadians of all nationalities, in any way, I shall consider that my best reward.

F. B. McNAMEE, President, St. Patrick's Society, Montreal, September 13, 1880.

LONDON, September 15.—A despatch from Rome says the instructions to commanders of the international fleet, except the French, state that in case operations which may have political consequences become necessary, the British Vice-Admiral must confer with his colleagues, and refer to their Governments before relying on whatever course may be expedient. This liberty extends even to the bombardment of Dulcigno. The instructions strictly forbid the landing of men.

PARIS, September 15.—A leading article in this morning's Republique Francaise throws a curious light on the motives which determined France to take part in the naval demonstration before Dulcigno. After declaring that the step was taken in logical consequence of the Berlin Conference, that journal remarks that, had France refused to join the other Powers at Berlin, her attitude would have been interpreted as implying threatening projects in the near future. "We affirm," it adds, "that if France declined to take part in the collective fleet of the Powers, this resolution would lead to her being suspected of intentions she does not harbor." This coupled with the insinuations of an evening journal, would perhaps lead one to suppose that the French Government had determined to participate in the demonstration through fear of giving offence to Germany.

LONDON, September 15.—It is improbable the Liberals will much longer tolerate the obstruction of the House of Lords. Reform in the Upper is likely to precede reform in the Lower Chamber. The Liberal veto is now virtually passed away, but it is still, in fact, exercised by the Leader of the Conservative House. Liberal orators, during the recess, all agitate reform of the Upper House. Two things are deemed necessary, viz, that the vote of a clear majority of all the members in the House of Commons may override the decision of the House of Lords, and that the number of Peers in the Cabinet shall be reduced.

NEW YORK, September 15.—A meeting in the interest of co-operation has just been held here to promote the organization and development of co-operative societies in New York and elsewhere. Several co-operative establishments have been already established successfully in New York and Brooklyn.

Gov. McClellan has approved Engineer Morris' plans for the undersigned railroad in this city, of which McClellan is President, and they have been adopted. Superintendent of Police Walling has declined to send for Joe Cross, who has been arrested in Detroit, and who is wanted for fight fighting in West Virginia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., September 15.—J. C. Flood, jr., the son of the Bonanza King, met the editor of a pictorial sensational weekly paper on the street yesterday and gave him a good trashing for publishing a highly sensational account of the alleged breaking off of the match between his sister Jennie and U. S. Grant, jr.

LONDON, September 15.—Some torpedoes are to be sent out to Canada for coast and harbour defences pending the sending out of boats for the Dominion. The torpedoes will be taken in charge by the military authorities at Halifax.

It is proposed to found an American, Canadian and Australian Club here next spring. The annual subscriptions will only be payable during a member's residence in England, the non-visiting members paying a small subscription. The entrance fee will be about $150.

There is every probability that a large gun and shot factory will shortly be established in Canada, and it is found that heavy rifled ordnance can be manufactured as economically as here, and provided the Imperial and the Dominion Governments can arrange all the matters connected therewith mutually satisfactorily, it may be looked upon as un fait accompli.

BRUSSELS, September 16.—The German Government has ordered the immediate expulsion from Alsace and Lorraine of the French Jesuits who migrated thither on the enforcement of the decrees in France, in hope of finding a temporary asylum until some arrangement providing for them could perhaps be made between the Vatican and Germany. The members of the congregations who are thus driven to seek shelter elsewhere will, it is thought, possibly make their way to Austria.

Hon. Mr. Masson, who still remains in the neighborhood of Montreal, it is learned is much improved in health, but it is unknown whether he will consent to withdraw altogether his resignation from the Cabinet.

Canadian News.

WINNIPEG, September 16.—The brakemen and firemen on the Canada Pacific Railway resigned their position because an increase of wages was denied them, and it has been found necessary to have police detailed to watch the arrival and departure of trains for fear of destruction of property.

RIVERSDALE, Ont., September 15.—A child about five years old, belonging to a farmer near here, named Charles Symon, was taken by a bear yesterday afternoon, carried into the bush, and torn so that the poor little fellow died soon after. His father found him. The mother was with the child, but could not save him, having a baby in her arms.

QUEBEC, September 15.—Judge Routhier rendered his decision to-day at Murray Bay in the Charlevoix contested election case, in which S. X. Gimon petitioned for the setting aside of Mr. Perrault's return to the Dominion Commons, and for his disqualification on the ground of personal bribery by Messrs. Tarte and Perrault with costs. The judgment dismisses the petition with costs.

BERTHEM, en haut, September 15.—A sad accident happened here about nine o'clock yesterday evening. Seven persons—a woman named Joly, wife of a saddler in Ontario street, Montreal, with her daughter, aged about eight and five years, a young boy, her sister-in-law, and two men named Moreau and Laforest—started to cross the river. When a short distance from land they perceived that the boat leaked, but before they had time to turn and reach land it filled, and they were all in the water. Moreau managed to upset the boat and get them all on top of it. He then tried to swim to the shore, but finding himself unable to do so, being too heavily dressed, he returned to the boat. Their screams attracted the people from the village, who went to their rescue, but were only able to save the two men and the girl. They picked up the woman and baby, but both were dead. The bodies of the two little girls have not yet been found.

BROOKVILLE, September 15.—Mr. Jarvis Robinson to-day disposed of the leasehold of a number of the islands in the River St. Lawrence that formed part of the Indian reserve. The terms of the sale were that the leases should last twenty years at a yearly rent, no one person to be allowed to rent more than one island; purchasers to pay the first year's rent forthwith, failing which the island will be immediately again offered for sale; within two years a sightly house should be erected. Mr. DeBoucherville read the conditions of the lease. Bidding was somewhat slow. Long Island, about two miles from Gananoque, was put up at an upset price of $10 per annum and no offer was made for it. Pitch Pine Island was put up at the same price and was knocked down to J. Ford Jones, M.P., for $11. Hog Island was the next offer at $20 a year. The island contains 23 acres, and the lease went at $25 to Mr. E. D. Sherwood, of Ottawa. The following were the purchasers of island leases with the rate per annum:—Long Island, R. M. Fitzsimmons, $15; Pitch Pine Island, D. F. Jones, M. P., 11; Huckleberry Island, withdrawal, Hog Island, E. D. Sherwood, 25; Citron Island, Chilion Jones, 31; Princess Charlotte Island, A. P. Sherwood, 11; Mink or Fisher Island, A. P. Jones, 21; Spilbury Island, R. Chryslor, 11; Myers Island, W. Powell, 58; Wood Island, F. Clemond, 80; Bratt Island, T. B. Robb, 50; Pine Island, F. C. Clemond, 25; Ball Island, H. T. Fitzsimmons, 82; Corn Island, R. P. Cook, 25.

BROOKVILLE, September 15.—Fully four thousand persons witnessed the sculling race to-day between McDonald, of Ottawa, and Quinn, of Prescott, for a purse of $300, one mile and turn. The race was announced for four o'clock, but owing to the roughness of the water it was postponed until culm water. The water became smoother towards sundown, and at five the referee called the men out. McDonald, in drawing for places, secured the outside. A very good start was effected at exactly six o'clock, McDonald getting first water, and gaining a slight lead, pulling thirty-five. He steered directly over into Quinn's water, and gradually increased the lead. When they had gone about two hundred yards Quinn ceased rowing for a moment to avoid a foul, and McDonald crossed him and hugged close to the shore, where the current is slackest. Quinn then continued rowing, and put on a good spurt, pulling about 37, but McDonald increased his lead to two lengths, which he held until crossing to his own stake boat, which gave Quinn a chance to catch up. McDonald reached his stake boat in five minutes, and turned about a length ahead. Quinn turned very short, coming up to within nearly half a length, but after they had straightened away for home McDonald increased his lead again to one length, which he held to the finish, winning as he pleased; time, 13 minutes 45 seconds. The race was an exceedingly pretty one from start to finish, but the Prescott man is no match for the Ottawa boy. It is estimated that about $5,000 changed hands. The reason Quinn stopped was that his foot slipped out of the strap. There was no foul.

HALIFAX, N. S., September 16.—A New Glasgow despatch says: This town was startled about 8 o'clock this morning by the report that the Ford pit at Stellarton, worked by the Halifax Mining Co., was flooded, and that 13 men were missing. The miners got into the pit for the day shift between 6 and 7. Shortly after they entered this morning, and before some of them had got to work, two men, whose bord lay next the old Dalhousie pit, struck their picks through the partition between the old work and the new, and the water which had accumulated in the former rushed out with great force, soon breaking a larger hole than the pick had made. The men seeing the danger, hurried to the foot of the slope, giving the alarm as they went along. There were about 250 men in the pit, most of whom were made aware of the accident, and were immediately brought out to the surface. Some 13 men were missing. A rescue party went in crossing the main passage which communicates with several bords and through which the water was running like a sluice, about two feet deep. It was certain death to cross the stream without assistance, and ropes were thrown by the rescuing party, which they tied round their bodies, and thus escaped unhurt, except one man, who was crushed by the debris, and had to be extricated by his comrades, sustaining only slight injuries to his ribs. One man, Alex. Hawley, still remained in the pit. About 11 o'clock some two hours after the others had been brought up, this man was found by the explorers and rescued. From the first alarm until the last man had been rescued, the bosses, with a gang of men, remained in the pit. A great deal of damage has been caused to the works by the action of the water. Some nine horses have been lost. The South bording has not been affected at all, and operations will probably be resumed on that part immediately.

WINNIPEG, September 18.—A young man named E. G. Keegan, a student of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, who has been in the city for some time past for the purpose of attending his matriculation examination, suddenly disappeared last Sunday evening. It was thought by his friends here that he had gone home to visit his relations at Belleville, so no enquiries were made until yesterday, when news reached the city that a man had been seen either stepping or falling from a skiff a few miles below here on the river, and as a small boat belonging to Colonel Strange, of "B" Battery, had been taken on the night of Keegan's disappearance, suspicions were aroused. On search being made the skiff was found to be that taken from Colonel Strange's boat house, and a cap and coat found in the skiff were identified as belonging to Keegan. To-day a party of resident students left with grappling irons for the place where he disappeared to try and recover the body. Keegan has been drinking very hard lately, and as he had been in the horrors before his disappearance it is supposed that he committed suicide.

Ice cargoes from Norway are arriving at New York. A despatch says Hanlan lost twelve pounds on his voyage. The statue of ex-President Thiers was unveiled on Monday. Agitation is going on in Turkey for the deposition of the Sultan. Austria and Hungary disapprove of the scheme of Roumanian independence. A Paris cable says there is no immediate danger of a dissolution of the Ministry. A great demonstration took place in Rome on the 20th instant, in commemoration of the events of 1870. Unharvested crops in various districts in England have been greatly damaged by heavy rain, gales and floods. The sergeant accused of false marking at the last Wimbledon meeting has been acquitted by the court-martial. Mr. Brewer's colt Robert the Devil, day won the St. Leger Stakes at Doncaster, defeating eleven competitors. Maud S. at Chicago on Saturday managed to trot a mile in 2:10, and now stands a half second better than St. Julien. H.M.S. Druid has been ordered to join the Flamingo and Contest, to protect English fishermen in American waters. The Army and Navy Gazette states that General Sir Frederick Roberts is to receive personally the thanks and congratulations of the Queen. The French political crisis has culminated in the resignation of several of the Ministers. M. Jules Ferry is mentioned as M. de Freycinet's successor. The votes cast in St. Boniface West in the late Solkirk election were thrown out on account of irregularity, leaving Captain Scott's majority 158. The naval demonstration seems likely to prove a farce, as it is said that the German and French contingents will withdraw at the first sign of hostilities. The German Government has ordered the immediate expulsion of the Jesuits who took refuge in Alsace and Lorraine on the enforcement of the decrees in France. Both flax and cotton spinners in England are reducing their working time to four days in the week. The masters have determined to resist the demand of the Accrington operatives for an advance. A land meeting at Ennis on Monday, Mr. Parnell charged the Government with having as yet done nothing for Ireland, and opened an agitation of obstruction tactics if their promises were not fulfilled. The Nihilist are said to be contemplating a change in their programme, and in the future will work by secret political agitation. They are trying to enlist the sympathies of Russian Poland in case of a war between Russia and Austria. A long and important session of the French Chamber was held on the 17th instant, on the subject of the religious decrees. The opinion was expressed that the decrees should be enforced till the courts had rendered judgment in the Jesuit cases. Farmers should be careful as to allowing their horses to drink impure water, as they, like human beings, may contract typhoid fever through this means. A case has occurred in which a Victoria county farmer lost a number of animals in this way. The United States Treasury Department has decided to place a new interpretation on the Act of June 30, 1879, under which Canadian built vessels purchased by United States citizens have been permitted to take part as barges in the U. S. coasting trade. Henceforth they will be liable to the payment of a tonnage tax of $1 30 per ton. A sad accident happened at the Railway station at Three Rivers on the 14th inst, causing the death of Mr. Mathew Kane, formerly contractor of the Q. M. O. & O. Railway. It would appear that when he was trying to get on the cars while the train was in motion he fell, and went under the wheels. His arms and one leg were cut off, which with other injuries caused his death. Before the Railway Commission at Winnipeg, on Monday, Mr. Charles Mackenzie testified that he had withdrawn all his capital from the firm of Cooper, Fairman, & Co. before the famous steel rail contract was concluded, and that he had no interest in that contract. Charles and Joseph Whitehead were before the Commission also. The despatch says the latter's evidence was interesting, as most people expected it would be. The divergences of opinion between Premier De Freycinet and M. Constans, Minister of Worship, have resulted in the resignation of the former and a change in Ministry. At a Council on Saturday afternoon a split appeared imminent. In the afternoon the matter was apparently settled by letting M. Constans proceed against the congregations, but at a subsequent consultation it was decided that the differences were too great to be bridged over. M. Jules Ferry has been charged with the formation of a new Ministry.

Prospects are evidently looking up in Manitoba if we may judge from the wages paid to artisans and laborers in Winnipeg. Masons now receive from $2.50 to $3 per day; bricklayers, from $3 to $4; laborers, $1.75 to $2; carpenters, $2.50 to $2.75; brickmakers, $2 to $2.50; plasterers, $3.50 to $4, while foremen in the different lines are paid at rates ranging from $3 to $5 per diem. Building operations are reported to have been extensively carried on during the past season, and from all accounts an era of prosperity appears to be dawning for the Capital of the Prairie Province.

A comparative table of the different temperatures in the principle cities of Italy within the last fortnight of July shows that the greatest heat has been experienced in Sardinia, at Sassari, where the thermometer rose to 102 Fahr. Then follow Foggia, 99; Caserta, 97; Udine, Milan, Florence, and Pisa, 93 to 95. In Genoa the thermometer never rose above 80.

ROUND THE WORLD.

New Englanders are said to love England more than other Americans do. The Rev. Quincy Boulton was lately convicted in England of bigamy. Greek mothers are very careful in training their children to good manners. King Humbert has placed two of his residences at Mr. Gladstone's disposal in case he is advised to visit Italy. A Massachusetts man severely whipped his wife and then, to tantalize her, wrote over the door, "Our Happy Home." A turtle has lived forty-three years in the neighborhood of Kinderhook, as shown by the various dates cut in its shell. John W. Manger, of Pottstown, Pa., who is eighty years of age, uses a razor that has been in the family two hundred years. Not far from Limerick, Ireland, there are many people who are identical with the Pennsylvania Dutch. They are called Palatinates. A goat society is the last English hobby An Earl is the President, and every poor man, according to the programme, is to have a goat. Mr. Anderson, a Scotch M.P., says in the Contemporary Review that Canada has cost England over fifteen thousand millions of dollars. Mr. Von der Pforten, formerly Premier of Bavaria, is dead. By his resignation in 1866 Bismarck was rid of a powerful and bitter antagonist. A Peruvian woman at Lima publishes an appeal to her sisters to pour boiling oil from the tops of their houses on the heads of invading Chilenos. The London pilgrimage to Lourdes is postponed. Cardinal Manning has expressed an opinion that it would be liable to a political interpretation. An elephant, travelling in a car next the locomotive on an Indiana railroad, opened the tank, drank all the water, and so compelled the train to stop. He rested his hot brow upon his hand and sighed. "Three months ago she vowed that she would never, never marry me, and now she is suing me for breach of promise." A California dairyman uses a goat to "walk" each churning machine. Here is a chance for some wicked punster to say there is a little butter at both ends of that machine. Turkish officers, long unable to get a cent of pay from the Sultan, are offering their services to Greece. Whole regiments are ready to desert on the smallest encouragement. The state of Persia is described as almost hopeless. All departments of the administration are farmed out among the Ministers, and futile attempts at improvements are fitfully made. M. Cazot, the French Minister of Justice, has abolished the barbarous decree which for more than half a century has forbidden Presidents, Judges, attorneys, and substitutes to wear moustaches. Captain Gerard de Nieme of the Royal Irish Hussars was killed in India by a stone, dislodged by a goat on a hillside, striking him on the head while he was taking his afternoon ride on horseback. At a recent examination for admission to the British Indian medical service, out of twenty-six successful candidates, nine were natives of India. A Mohammedan from Oudh passed fifth, closely followed by a Brahmin from Bengal. The last religious census in France shows that there are 35,387,703 Roman Catholics, 467,531 Calvinists, 80,117 Lutherans, and 32,113 of other Protestant denominations. The Jews number about 50,000, and 90,000 are attached to no church. Some boys at Oberlin, Ohio, had heard that sausage was made of cats and dogs. Getting into a sausage factory, they started a chopping machine, and threw a puppy and seven kittens into the chopper. The local Borgh society has begun a prosecution. Henry Herbert Crano lived childless at Ganton, Ohio, until he was 65. Then his young wife gave birth to twins. The joyful father hired a band of music and marched through the village bearing a banner on which was inscribed the word "Victory." The Rev. Ira C. Billman, an eminent pastor at Jackson, Mich., has parted from his wife; but he has directed his church to send half his salary to her, and has fully satisfied his congregation that he is in the right. There was no other woman in the case, as has been reported. A man threw a stone at a dog in Galveston. An old negro toddled out of the house and said: "It's lucky foah you, white man, dat de General ain't at home." "What General?" "Gen. Dollypimple, ob de Galbation Division of de Grand Army of Occupation of Mezzico. You is foolin' with a cyclone, chile." A friend of Clara Bagnal of Toronto dressed himself to represent a ghost, and presented himself before her. She was of a nervous temperament, and the shock proved too much for her. She fell in a fit, only to wake a raven maniac. For six years she was bereft of reason, and now she is dead. Hanlan expects that it will take him a month to fully recover. He lost twelve pounds during his voyage, which he must recover before he goes into training. After a short visit to Manchester he will go to New-castle-on-Tyne, where he will order a new boat from Swaddle & Winslip. The Paris Temps gives some details of the recently much disputed question of the existence of Heine's manuscript memoirs. It appears that the poet's brother, now a wealthy baron at Vienna, has acknowledged, after long silence, that he possesses them, and he protests that they shall never be published, on the ground that his brother left him this injunction. The cheapest recent Parliamentary election in Great Britain was that of Mr. J. Brinton, M. P., at his second election for Kidderminster (after his acceptance of the Children Hundreds, for reasons explained at the time), and the total amount is £26,178.6d. The items are: Returning officer and town clerk's fee, £14,138.8d; printing, £11.4s.; bill posting, £1. At the general election Mr. Brinton's expenses amounted to £1,300. Two stalwart men were working at night in a Chicago freight yard. Each had a large kerosene lamp. A quarrel arose between them which ended in a fight. The lamps were used as weapons, and were speedily broken over the heads of the contestants. The oil ran over them and caught fire, but neither would let go his hold, and they continued the struggle with their bodies enveloped in flame, until both were disabled by burning. One died immediately, and the other lived only a few hours. A prudent man, says a witty Frenchman, is like a pig. His head prevents him from going too far.

THE SHAMROCK LACROSSE CLUB.

To the Editor of the TRUE WITNESS.

SIR,—The lacrosse season is drawing to a close; the Shamrock Club have done nobly, and, as one of their admirers (win or lose my sympathies are with them), I should like to see them receive some practical recognition of their merits from their many friends in Montreal. Therefore, I hand you the sum of $5, as the nucleus of a fund, which I would suggest as "The Shamrock Lacrosse Club Testimonial Fund," with the following conditions:—

- 1. Subscriptions to be acknowledged every week in the TRUE WITNESS and THE GAZETTE.
2. The editors of the TRUE WITNESS and GAZETTE, with Mr. M. P. Ryan, M.P., James McCready, esq., and John J. Arnton, esq., to be joint Treasurers of the fund.
3. Subscription lists to remain open for two months, at various places in the city, to be designated by advertisement.
4. A meeting of subscribers to the Fund to be called three days previous to the presentation, at which all subscriptions will require to have been paid and returns made.

Now, I hope our fellow-citizens of all denominations will join in giving a practical demonstration of sympathy to the champion lacrosse team of the world, and that in the "face" at the presentation the champions may have such a "draw" on one of our banking institutions as will gladden their hearts and stimulate them to renewed exertions in upholding their well-earned title and the manly game of lacrosse.

I offer the above suggestions trusting that some of our leading gentlemen will take this matter in hand. Yours, &c., CITIZEN, Montreal, September 21st, 1880.

STORMY SCENES IN PARLIAMENT.

Excited Proceedings.

From the moment when the House went into Committee of Supply on the Irish Estimates, it became manifest that the Home Rule members meant to protract the sitting to an inordinate length.

Nearly one hundred years have elapsed since the first stone of the present Custom House was laid, that ceremony having occurred on the 8th of August, 1781.

ANOTHER SCARE.

ALLEGED PLOT TO SEIZE BALLINCOLLIG POWDER MILLS.

The Cork Constitution of Saturday morning publishes the following:—"The public will be astonished to learn that within the last few days the Fenian Brotherhood in these parts had conceived a gigantic project of attacking the cavalry garrison at Ballincollig, and also the robbery of the powder mills at the same place.

from "Handsard" the report of an obstructive night, in which, in an edacious debate on August 28, 1876, Mr. Forster and Mr. Mundella were the leaders of the obstructives.
