TWO TOWNS WANT THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Correspondents of The World at Port Hope and Trenton Present Arguments—Dominion Government Will Be Asked to Do Something.

Port Hope, March 3.—(Special).—When the Dominion parliament goes into session this morning the Hon. A. C. Blair will be waited upon by one of the strongest deputations that ever went to Ottawa from this riding. They are going to try and convince him that Port Hope is the proper and most natural outlet of the Trent Valley Canal. Politics is an unconsidered matter in this affair, as anyone who knows the following gentlemen, who compose the committee, will know that they are the leading men of both parties. President, Dr. L. B. Powers; vice-presidents, H. A. Ward, M.P., and J. F. Clark; secretary, H. Barrett; treasurer, Thomas Long; executive committee, S. Purser, convener; Mayor H. White, H. H. Burnham, Dr. R. A. Corbett, J. H. Giddy, R. A. Mulholland, J. H. Helm, S. S. Smith, D. H. Chisholm, John McMullen, John H. Walker, M. Fairbairn, R. Gray, R. Henning, H. H. Walker, J. Depest, William McLean, L. H. Ambrose, P. Outram, J. W. Quinlan, James McLean, J. H. Honor and T. B. Chaik. The present plans are for an outlet at Trenton, but Port Hope's claims must be seriously considered before the final arrangements are made. By the Trenton route, which follows the Trent River nearly all the way from Rice Lake, there would be a great deal of cutting, mostly thru rock, which would require blasting and take several months longer than the Port Hope route, which is nearly all clay cutting. The route by Trenton is 68 1/2 miles from the mouth of the Ontario, while the Port Hope route is only 19 1/2 miles. There is a natural valley from Port Hope to Rice Lake, which is only a distance of 10 miles, and there is only one height of land that would require much cutting. Mr. Rogers, the government engineer, made a survey of the two routes and estimated that the Port Hope route would be cheaper by $1,287,202, but both the Dominion and the Hon. Blair thought that he had not given justice, and now an independent survey is to go over both the routes and report.

GAS CO. WON FROM CITY

Continued From Page 1. was an evident desire to see the full text of it, and Corporation Counsel Fullerton sent the Ontario Herald a copy, but the original had been handed out to a solicitor who combines journalism with business, and consequently, there was some difficulty in locating it, and it could not be got at the hall.

Mayor Urquhart was informed by the World that the judgment was against the city, and he immediately called a meeting of the council, in which he said he would have to see the judgment before he would care to say anything about it.

Ex-Ald. Crane happened to drop into the solicitor's office, and he accurately related an immense "Sun Jim" smile when he heard the news. "Whatever will they find to do about next election?" was his comment.

Opinion of Aldermen. Controller Richardson said it was bad news, but that he had made a mistake in not accepting settlement last year. He made some sarcastic remarks regarding what he termed the "gallery talk" of Ald. Spence and the Mayor.

Ald. Ward asked for time, for he wanted to thoroughly appreciate the effect of the judgment before criticizing it. Controller Burns said that, thinking that the judgment put an annoying question out of municipal politics, the city had only wanted to see justice. He thought the company had put their facts in better shape than the city had. The agitation had resulted in cheap gas for the city, any way. The Gas Company had never ratified the agreement presented last year by Mayor Howland.

Controller Oliver had nothing to say about it. He left it all to the judge. Ald. Spence took satisfaction in the fact that gas was cheaper now than ever before, but he would not discuss the judgment until he saw it.

Talk vs. Business. Ald. Curry said that if the city had won the suit, it would not have been anywhere. He thought some people in the Council should quit talking and get down to business. Ald. Starr remarked that it was just what he expected. He had been informed that Mr. Fullerton and Mr. Robinson had been ashamed to take the brief.

Ald. Harrison was disappointed, for, from the evidence he had read, he

CRIMINALS HOLD THEIR TONGUES

Criminals Aid Detectives a Great Deal by Desire to Talk.

UTTER SILENCE IS BAD, TOO.

Interesting Peculiarities Noted by Detectives Davis and Murray.

"The average criminal with whom the police deals possesses a mental defect that will cause him to betray himself when he comes in contact with the officers," remarked City Detective Davis, in discussing the case of James Watson, who had been arrested a few weeks ago. "Criminals appear to be moved by an irresistible impulse to talk to a detective, even though they are warned and realize that they are tightening the noose around their necks. Of course, occasionally we meet crooks who are dumb and will neither confess nor utter any statements and are too wary to have a clue drawn from them by adroit questioning. But they are the exceptions. "Now take this man Watson. He is a fairly intelligent man, educated and acquainted with the world. I arrested him on the charge of misappropriating funds from a St. Louis firm for which he was purchasing mules. The man knew me and I also warned him, yet he did not hesitate to tell me practically all the details of the case, and admitted his guilt. I told him plainly that he had better talk to his lawyer, and that what he said to me it would be penny for penny used against him. Well, I had the firm's money, buying stock and got drunk; then I got to gambling and lost part of it. Not having the courage to face my employers, I took the first train for Canada." That was the first time that I was arrested, and that caused Watson to be committed on the requisition papers. I do not believe he could have been taken back without this very strange statement. This same statement will contribute to his conviction if it is necessary, so the man who is so honest in his confession that he moves a man to crime causes him to be a criminal.

OSHAWA STRIKERS TO BE AIDED

Carriage Workers Determined to Support Them—Other News of the Labor Field.

The Journeymen Tailors of Toronto have submitted a new scale of prices to the merchant tailors, and have requested a reply by March 9. The employers met last night and appointed a committee to bring in a report on the matter next Thursday evening. The King-street men ask a weekly wage of $15 up. Yonge-street men want $14 up, and women workers $7 up. The Queen-street men want $13 a week up. A day is to consist of nine hours, and overtime is to be paid for at the rate of time-and-a-half. The scale sets the number of hours to be devoted to each garment.

The Carriage Workers last night determined to support the Oshawa men in their strike, and will not work for any coming to Toronto. The union card will be introduced this week. The annual international convention will probably be held here in Toronto.

The Machinists last night initiated for one candidate for the Lord's Day Alliance. A deputation from the Lord's Day Alliance was present to urge the union for its support in reference to the preventing of Sunday excursions.

The Piano Makers, at their meeting last night, endorsed the action of the Cabinet Makers in asking for a fixed scale of 50 cents. They will attend in a body the mass meeting of the Cabinet Makers, to be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, in Richmond Hall.

POPE CELEBRATES JUBILEE

filled with men and women, blazing with decorations. In a group of royal personages were the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden and Norway, the Countess Mathilde of Traun of the Bourbon family, the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar, Duke Robert of Parma, the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg, the Prince of Liechtenstein and Prince Maximilian of Saxony, in a special tribune was the Pope's family, his brothers, his nephews, and the members of the Order of the Maltese, all in full uniform.

novation introduced of the ceremonial of the Papal Guards. The Papal Guards were in full uniform, and wore velvet knee breeches, red silk stockings, black shoes with red rosettes, burnished steel cuirasses and helmets, and carried long pikes. The silver mounted arms of the Swiss Guards were inlaid with gold, and their members wore steel helmets with red ostrich plumes, similar to those of the Swiss Guards. The noble Guard wore their new uniforms of bright red.

After an hour of very fatiguing waiting, a majestic procession began to move from the Vatican. It was composed of the great dignitaries of the church, the forty-five cardinals present, gorgeous in their robes, and making a most imposing group. In the center of the procession, a great bell of St. Peter's rang out a signal, which was followed by the chanting of the Mass. The Pope, in the Ancient City seemed to pause for a moment, hats were raised, and the Pope appeared to be more than a human being. He seemed to be a white spirit, this impression being added to by the Pontiff's white robes and white mitre, delicate features, face as white as alabaster, and his thin hand moving slowly in benediction. It also seemed as if all human attributes had been expelled from that slender, venerable form.

Long Live Pope Leo. As the sweet-toned, well-trained voices of the Sistine-choir sang "Te Es Petrus," thousands of voices shouted: "Long Live Pope Leo!" Handkerchiefs fluttered in the air, the banners of the various societies represented were waved, and many of those present, overcome with emotion, sobbed loudly, while others faintly from excess of feeling or fatigue.

Meanwhile the Pope proceeded slowly on what seemed to be a carpet of heads, absorbing the entire attention of the vast throng.

When the Pope arrived at the throne, the ceremony proceeded rapidly. Leaving the sedia gestatoria, the Pontiff knelt in prayer, and then rose without assistance, donned the falda and the new triple crown, and the celebration of the Mass began.

At the moment of the elevation of the host a profound silence fell on the assembly, the guards presented arms, the people knelt, where it was possible for them to do so, and from the cupola came the clear, thin sounds of silver trumpets.

The Pope then administered the Papal Benediction and retired to a room for restorative, prepared every time he goes to St. Peter's.

Pepe's Own Words. Then, addressing Dr. Laponi, his private physician, the Pontiff said: "You see, that after all your warnings, the ceremony did me good. What touching loyalty!"

It was calculated that there were about 75,000 people present. There were about 1000 Americans in the tribunes and the body of the church.

When the Pope returned to the Vatican from the Basilica, he resumed his place on the sedia gestatoria, and was carried through the whole length of the cathedral, rising many times to bestow blessings, while many princes, cardinals, diplomats and bishops bowed low, and the crowd saluted him frantically in ten different languages. Upon reaching his apartments, the Pontiff exclaimed: "The demonstration to-day has been so affecting. It surpassed all my expectations. I am completely satisfied. There was no note of discord."

The people immediately left St. Peter's, but as it was still raining heavily there was much difficulty and confusion. In the early crush only one person was seriously hurt.

Principal Peterson Denies That His University Has Not Sought to Conform to Ontario Standards

HE REPLIES TO HON. H. HARCOURT. Wishes to Be Granted Permission to Make Public All Correspondence on the Subject.

Montreal, March 3.—Principal Peterson has sent a letter to Hon. Richard Harcourt, Ontario Minister of Education, in reply to that recently published with regard to the Ontario regulations for the admission of university graduates to the teaching profession...

"I am very much obliged to you for the trouble you have taken in writing to me personally on the subject of the existing regulations of the Ontario Education Department. If there are persons in Ontario who imagine that the faculty of arts of this university is even relatively speaking, in a backward condition, they must, willfully shut their eyes to all the development that has taken place within the last seven years, and it is this that seems to render the action of your department more inexplicable than might otherwise appear."

"Some years ago our graduates in arts enjoyed privileges from which they are now excluded. You know of the order-in-council, passed in 1880, which specifically conferred on McGill University, for certain purposes, 'the same privileges in Ontario as honors in the universities of that province'...

"I take leave to say, with respect to your knowledge of the fact that the order-in-council is now held to have been superseded, even without the formality of any notice to us, that that order-in-council was in force, there was less provincialism about educational matters in Ontario than there is now."

"As to your statement that McGill University has not made representations to the Department of Education seeking for the recognition of its honor courses, may I be allowed to refer to you quite respectfully, and to you, who know all the facts, that the order-in-council is now held to have been superseded, even without the formality of any notice to us, that that order-in-council was in force, there was less provincialism about educational matters in Ontario than there is now."

GENERAL ACT THE ONLY WAY OUT.

Official intimation that the best power situation has already been taken up at Niagara Falls is not reassuring to the municipalities.

Wilson states that it will cost more to develop future powers, since new companies will have to make a wider circuit at greater expense.

The expense of developing a site is, of course, the basis upon which its value must be estimated.

There would ultimately come a point in expenditure which would render a site valueless. So with a site which can only be developed at a cost greatly in excess of the amount required to develop existing concessions for private companies.

Experts have been asked to report as to the remaining available power sites at Niagara Falls. Are they not a little late in the field?

It is in this solidity that we seem to be losing. In our serious play and novels there is a certain tendency to "slap over." The lecturer who moves his audience to "alternate tears and laughter" is a characteristic product of the age.

It would be convenient to consider the needs of the east without regard to municipal lines. A high school and a school of technology established at central points might serve the needs of the whole district.

The American House of Representatives referred DeArmond's resolution to a committee, instead of referring DeArmond himself to an asylum.

The Consumers' Gas Company will be so delighted over Mr. Justice Street's decision that it will probably give us another reduction in the price of gas.

The Toronto merchant thinks that life-long regrets of railway officials who cause accidents are all very well, but the block system would be better.

The Irish members of the British parliament are very quiet these days. They must have received a peremptory request from Major Maude to behave themselves.

Had Mr. Clark been defeated, The Globe might have repeated its assertion of the high moral principle that "the deed was foully done, the loon was weel awa'."

How The Hamilton Times pities those poor, deluded people of Ithaca, N. Y., who would rather have the waterworks and live than the system to a private company and die!

The Sultan's promises of reform seem to be regarded with suspicion. A few years hence indignant subjects who place no great value on their lives will want to know what became of the platform of 1903.

are "morbid" or immoral, when the truth is that they dislike them because they are serious and because they knock at some doors which the average man thinks it more comfortable to keep closed.

There is not much use, however, in scolding people because they will not regard the actor's vocation as a serious one. The fault, if not the actor's, may be that of the theatrical manager, who in nine cases out of ten caters to the desire for amusement, without much regard to intellectual or even to moral considerations.

But, beyond all this, the question arises whether this age has lost the quality of seriousness that rendered possible the production of the moral plays, and later on of such works as the Pilgrim's Progress.

It is strange if the Dominion parliament, by merely declaring that a certain work is "for the general advantage of Canada," can make nonsense of a great deal of the Confederation Act and destroy not only provincial rights but the rights of the municipalities.

It is not necessary to spend much time in comparing conflicting opinions. If the Confederation Act means what is said, it ought to be amended. In the meantime, the offending clause should be removed from every act in which it can do mischief, and it ought never to be inserted again, except in the case of bona fide Dominion undertakings.

We should like to hear from the advocates of provincial rights, the successors of the men who were ready to fight the Dominion on this question twenty years ago.

Residents of the Town of East Toronto are asking for a High School. The eastern portion of the city, the eastern suburbs and portions of the Townships of York and Scarborough are poorly supplied with higher educational institutions.

Point would be given to The Globe's sermons on fair elections by a condemnation of the methods adopted by its leaders in New York, the mobbing of Mr. Munns, and the act of bad faith by which Mr. Clark was unseated in Centre Bruce.

We must be fair to the Niagara power corporations, they say. But for them the power would still be going to waste. We must also be fair to the anthracite coal monopolists. But for them the coal would still be in the ground, doing nobody any good.

Quebec Murderer Adds Another Story to His Horrid List. Montreal, March 3.—Belanger, the self-confessed murderer of Antoine Sequin at St. Eustache, has made another most important statement to the press, in which he admits the murder was public, he regretted the moment his daughter's honor was at stake was without foundation. Belanger says that he had killed Sequin, and helped him to escape, by suggesting to him that as Sequin had been a man who was fond of women, perhaps Sequin had seduced the daughter of Belanger's daughter. This prompted him to the declaration as given in the public hearing.

ONTARIO MINES ARE GREAT

Honor Paid to Excellence. The Gerhard Heintzman Company have recently been the recipients of another recognition, which, though not unusual, must be flattering to them, as they are not only the best of their kind in the province, but also the best in the world.

The Canadian government, after having thoroughly examined into the merits of the many makes of instruments manufactured in the Dominion, placed the honor of the order with Mr. Gerhard Heintzman, a man for an upright, to be sent as the representative Canadian piano to Osaka, Japan, where the fifth annual exhibition will be held this year.

SMOKE CONSUMER BYLAW

Details to Be Arranged by Joint Committee of Aldermen and Manufacturers.

DISSATISFACTION EXPRESSED

With Bylaw as Proposed at Present - Monday at the City Hall.

For nearly two hours yesterday afternoon the Civic Legislation Committee talked about smoke consumers. The proposed bylaw was opposed by a deputation from the Manufacturers' Association, composed of W. P. Cundy, R. J. Christie, D. T. McIntosh and Secretary Stewart. They considered the bylaw as framed at present was decidedly unfair to the smaller factories and urged that further consideration be given.

Ald. Curry, with characteristic frankness, said that the manufacturers were practising economy in fuel, and where they saved a few dollars they caused thousands of dollars worth of damage to surrounding buildings. If they would burn hard coal they would abate the nuisance, but it would cost them more. He thought they should be compelled to use smoke consumers.

The discussion ended with the appointment of a sub-committee to confer with the manufacturers' committee with a view to framing a bylaw which would meet with general approbation. The sub-committee is composed of Ald. Graham, Starr, Noble, Ramsden and Harrison.

Will Oppose Long Delay.
City Solicitor Caswell will represent the city before the Railway Committee to-day, when the Yonge-street bridge matter comes up, and he will protest against a long adjournment of the hearing of the application. The C.P.R. is asking for the delay.

MANUFACTURERS ARE AROUSED.

Will Wait on City Council Regarding Question of Garbage Removal.

A special meeting of the Toronto executive of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was called yesterday to discuss the much-mooted matter of the removal of garbage. Representatives of the Retail Merchants' Association were also present, and the subject was thoroughly ventilated. A communication was received from the Board of Works suggesting that the city should remove two loads per week from any point within the city limits, and that a charge of 50c per load be made on any excess over this quantity.

A resolution was adopted, but it was decided to keep the particulars from the press, so that the City Council will be unaware of their views on the matter until the official deputation appointed to wait on the aldermen shall be able to do so.

GROUND ROCK AS A MEDICINE.

The rich people of the cities go to the "springs" to be cured of various ailments. They take hot and cold baths in the mineral water and drink it, gallons of it, and go home relieved, if not cured. Most people cannot afford to do this and necessarily suffer and bear it. The mineral forming such a large part of the water comes from the mineral ore at the bottom of the spring. Prof. Theo. Noel, a geologist, who has an office at 101 York-street, Toronto, discovered a mine of this ore many years ago while prospecting in the southwest and is now grinding and selling it under the name of "Vilase-Ore" and as such the medicine has become well known to the readers of this paper.

THE MID-DAY LENTEN SERVICE.

The reasons for temptation" was the theme of the Lenten sermon in St. James' Cathedral yesterday. "Why are men tempted?" he asked. "Unless we were prepared to believe that human life was a chaotic anarchy, there would be some reason given. It was hard to understand why God actually tempted man to sin. We must be tempted in order to be strong, our wills were weak, but coming into contact with temptation gave them power to resist evil. Temptation, the speaker said, tended to give us sympathy in the trials of others.

The subject today is, "The Temptations of the Flesh."

HARNESSEMAKERS CONVENTION.

Fourth Annual Convention of the Dominion Association.

The fourth annual convention of the Dominion of Canada Harness Makers' Association was commenced yesterday afternoon in Room A. of the Confederation Life Building. About 100 Knights of Leather and Buckle were in attendance when President Kelly welcomed the delegates to the city, hoping they would have a successful gathering, which would be of great benefit to the trade generally. He thought organization was the greatest thing of the day. Good must necessarily result from a centralization of the interests of such a large industry as that represented by this convention.

CAN'T SERVE THE AGENT.

Local Union No. 30 of Sheet Metal Workers v. Freed.

Weekly Court: Cases set down for argument Wednesday, March 4, at 11 a.m.: (1) re Solicitor, (2) Martin v. Martin.

Divisional Court Peremptory list for Wednesday, March 4, at 10 a.m.: (1) White v. Crabe and Tompkins, (2) Hunsberry v. Kraiz, (3) Lawrence v. Owen Sound, (4) McArthur v. Clark.

Service on a voluntary Association which is neither a corporation nor an individual cannot be effected by serving an agent of the association. This was decided in the appeal of Local Union No. 30 of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, from the order of Chief Justice Meredith dismissing the appeal from the order of the Master-in-Chambers, refusing to set aside the service by J. H. Kennedy by the Metallic Roofing Co. as bad. The service by this judgment is therefore set aside. As the point of law is a new one, no costs were decreed for either side.

The appellants in the case of Burnett v. Brock were granted a new trial yesterday by the Divisional Court. The action arose out of a purchase of property in the name of defendant's wife, which conveyed the defendant's creditors succeeded in having set aside the intention "to hinder, defeat and delay" such creditors. It appeared to the Divisional Court that the property had been paid for largely by the wife's money, and she was therefore entitled to a new trial by a judge other than the District Judge of Manitoulin.

Chancellor Boyd yesterday handed out judgment refusing to allow the taxation of the local Master at Ottawa in the action of the Baldwin Iron and Steel Works against the Dominion Carbide Co., Limited, to be disturbed. Appeal dismissed with costs.

The action arose out of the accidental death of one Blinow at Brookville, while engaged discharging a cargo of coal. The plaintiff, wife of the deceased, alleged negligence on the part of the employer, Shields, but was not suited by the trial judge. Judgment was reserved.

TENT AS AN ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

Civil Engineer Abrey Awarded Important Survey Contract by Dominion Government.

Toronto Junction, March 3.—The Local Board of Health met this morning, with W. J. Lewis presiding. The Medical Health Officer was instructed to purchase a tent and make it sufficiently comfortable for an isolation hospital. It will be equipped with all necessary conveniences. A circular notice, embodying extracts from the Provincial Board of Health's revised rules, for checking the spread of contagious and infectious diseases, is to be prepared, and after being submitted to the board will be printed for distribution.

J. M. Pearen, whose resignation as License Inspector for West York was accepted by the Provincial Secretary yesterday, has been appointed postmaster of Weston, to succeed the late Rebecca Johnston. Mr. Pearen has received official notification of his appointment, which is worth about $600 a year.

C. B. Abrey, C.E., has been awarded the contract for the Dominion government for surveying twelve townships near Saskatoon. He leaves in two weeks with a gang of fifty men. The congregation of Victoria Presbyterian Church welcomed their new pastor, Rev. George C. Pidgeon, and his wife in the basement of the church this evening. The choir and others helped to make the evening sociable and pleasant. Rev. Mr. Dyer, Rev. N. S. Magee, Rev. Mr. McCully and other resident ministers contributed words of welcome.

West York will have two new members on the License Commission Board this year. They are Archibald Gilchrist of Elizabeth Street, and J. J. McEwen, Weston.

Both electric light circuits were in operation tonight, and the town, which has been in partial darkness during the break-up of the Humber, was well lighted again.

Rev. J. M. Simpson addressed the Brotherhood of St. Paul and Amosley Guild on "God's Nation" last night. This lecture was a synopsis of his book of the same name, which is full of patriotic sentiment and prophetic words to establish the fact of the British nation as the highest expression in history of the unfinished life of the Hebrew nation.

Miss Jennie Hill, piano virtuosa, assisted by D. Linden, harpist, Mary Watson, contralto, and Master Harvey Gahan, violinist, will give a concert in the college of music hall on Friday evening.

A. F. Webster, D.D.G.M., paid an official visit to Stanley Lodge, A. F. & A. M., tonight. There were many visiting brethren present, among them being R. J. Gibson, W.M., officers and members of York Lodge, Leaside, and W. Wilby, W.M., officers and members of Humber Lodge, Weston.

Some of the leading Conservatives of Ward 3 intend forming themselves into a Liberal-Conservative Association. They also are endeavoring to induce those living in wards 1, 2 and 4 to do likewise.

Edward Osborne of townline York is getting signatures to a petition to the Township of York Council. Its purpose is that the residents strongly object to be taken into the town, as they wish to remain in the township.

A concert will be given on Friday evening next at the Emanuel Presbyterian Church by the choir of Elm Street Methodist Church. They will be assisted by W. J. Carnahan, tenor, and other artists. The proceeds of the concert will be for the benefit of the St. Paul's Hospital, which is to be removed. The bricks are laid indiscriminately half way over the site.

It is impossible to make it dangerous for pedestrians after dark. As a freight train was going west about 3:30 p. m. yesterday, one of the brake bars of one of the cars fell down across the tracks, causing five of the cars to leave the main line. The train was going slowly, thus averting any serious damage. The breakdown was soon at work and had the line clear in less than half an hour.

Joseph H. Smith, an old time resident of this place, and Thornhill, died at his late residence, 5 St. Joseph Street, Toronto, yesterday. The funeral will take place Thursday at 2 p. m. at St. John Cemetery, York Mills, where a short service will be held. The deceased, with his wife, came to Canada from Lincolnshire, England, in 1838, and settled on Yonge Street, where he has since resided. Mr. Smith leaves, besides his wife, family of six sons and two daughters, and was predeceased by a seventh son some time ago. The deceased was a member of the Church of England, a Conservative in politics, and highly respected by all who knew him.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held last night, Mayor Fisher performing his usual duties. This Council has the record of being extremely frugal, and it was only after considerable pressure that the members consented to consider an increase of the officials' salaries. The by-laws were introduced by Councilor A. J. Brown and passed, granting the clerk an increase of $50, the commissioner $50 and the treasurer $25 a year. Councilor Armstrong enquired if anything could be done to install a private telephone service from the Mayor and stated that the Finance Committee had the question under consideration. The engineer's report for the month of February showed 976,000 gallons of water were used, at a cost of about six cents a thousand gallons.

The electric lights for the month cost $6,840. The Mayor is considering the laying of a water main on Halliwell Street on the initiative, but the Council are not prepared to do so.

The complaint of John A. Brown of the partial closing of a lane at Bedford Street was referred for report to Councilors Armstrong and B. D. Brown. Councilor H. J. WOMEN DESIGNING JEWELRY. New Department of Industry for Those of Artistic Skill.

Time was not so very far back either, when the women of artistic talents who sought to earn her own living found no outlook beyond selling an occasional picture or giving lessons in painting. Now, the artistic sphere for woman has widened to include many departments that there is almost an embarrassment of riches from which to make a choice.

One of the latest to be taken up by women in the design of artistic jewelry. In England, particularly, women have been meeting with much success in this line, and there seems to be no reason why it should not be more widely taken up. It is a craft which is not only profitable, but also a manipulation which is particularly adapted.

Certainly the present renaissance in the jewelry art seems to have come to stay. It has spread from France, England, Austria, Germany, Denmark and Belgium. It recognizes the art of the metal worker as an important factor and quite independently of costly stones. It considers beauty of form and color, rather than display of costliness of material.

One of its results has been the adoption of certain semi-precious stones to produce harmonious and picturesque effects. These lend themselves readily to decorative effect, as on account of their small expense they may be cut to suit the artist's design, whereas with expensive precious stones the designer must accommodate his fancy to the stone as it is. Onyx, agate, malachite and other jewels of comparatively small value are exquisitely carved and give fine color effects.

The designer now studies to reconcile the idea with the material, as did the ancients who carved their infernal faces in black stones, the Greeks used the aquamarine for the engraving of marine gods and the amethyst for representing Bacchus, the god of the grape.

The art of enamelling has experienced a revival with the jewelry. Extremely beautiful effects are produced with translucent enamel. Oxidations characteristic of the new movement is its diversity. It is based on principles of novelty and freshness and the study of nature.

At the head of the movement stands Rene Lalique, the Parisian, who has made himself justly famous by the finitely fancy, originality and the perfection of his work. It is a hopeful sign that in many of the technical schools students are taking up jewelry design.

In the list of feminine ornaments, buckles, brooches and pendants particularly commend themselves to the designer. Watch cases, which have been quite neglected, are also beginning to attract attention.

Women who have taken up this art frequently make a specialty of certain articles or materials—one makes a specialty of enamelled buckles and brooches, another with silver hatpins and combs. Several have confined themselves to figure work by the formal forms and others imitated to some extent Japanese, Oriental or Egyptian designs. It is worthy of note that the demand for this new artistic work classes as much from the wealthy classes as from those possessed of moderate means.

Inspector Hughes is Head. The Public School By-Laws Committee met yesterday afternoon to complete the review of the by-laws of the board. In regard to the by-law dealing with school inspection, J. L. Hughes is styled superintendent of Public Schools for the City of Toronto, and W. P. Chapman his assistant.

CHICAGO MARKETS QUIET.

On account of the light run there was a fairly active market for butchers' cattle at last week's prices, as will be seen by the following table, which has given a rise.

Few feeders or steers were offered and prices were unchanged. Stock calves, weighing from 350 to 400 lbs. each, in good demand and sold at fair prices. One lot of 45 stock calves, weighing 380 lbs. were sold by Whaley & McDonald at $3.25 per cwt.

Only a very few milk cows were offered and prices for these, considering quality, were unchanged.

Veal calves were in good demand at unchanged quotations.

The run of sheep and lambs was not light, all of good quality were readily bought at unchanged prices.

The run of hogs was light, and prices advanced 10c per cwt., selective selling at $6.10 and lights and fets at $5.35 per cwt.

Export Cattle—Choice loads of heavy shippers are worth $4.40 to $4.60, common light exporters, $4.15 to $4.30.

SIMPSON'S MILLINERY FINE

Luxurious Showroom of Big Store—Centre of Attraction—These Days.

A PEEP INTO FASHION'S REAM

Makes Even Mere Man Admire the Styles for the Coming Season.

In the spring the feminine fancy bethinks turns to thoughts of millinery adornment, and already throngs of fair shoppers are to be seen crowding around the show windows wherein are displayed the latest fashionable creations.

And already, in the big store of the Robert Simpson Co., does it seem as though all the elevators and all the stairways in the place lead to the millinery showroom of the establishment.

Just now, the millinery department of the big store is in its gayest attire. It is claimed, and nobody will have the temerity to deny it, that the spacious showrooms are attracted to the continent for appearance and comfort.

Certain it is that the sight of the manna-moth shoe cases in which the most alluring of Dame Fashion's styles are displayed to the best advantage, and the liberal and most attractive of all manner of ladies' headwear, together with the complete assortment of the component parts in the production of a finished "dream of delight," are sufficient to arouse admiration even in the mind of mere man.

It is impossible to make it dangerous for pedestrians after dark. As a freight train was going west about 3:30 p. m. yesterday, one of the brake bars of one of the cars fell down across the tracks, causing five of the cars to leave the main line.

The train was going slowly, thus averting any serious damage. The breakdown was soon at work and had the line clear in less than half an hour.
