THINK IT OVER.

If the next St. John city council should prove to be less intelligent, less experienced and less able to deal with important civic problems and the general administration of civic affairs than the present council, the fault will lie entirely with the citizens. Think it over.

CHANGE THE SYSTEM.

The Times prints today the official report of the debate in the house of assembly on the bill which changed the method of electing aldermen. It will be seen that the only argument advanced in its support, beyond the fact that it had been petitioned for, was that of Dr. Stockton. He appeared to think that it would tend to prevent further increase in the debt and lessen the possibility of a "crisis." As a matter of fact it has done neither, as everybody knows.

WANTS FREE COAL.

In an article in the Maritime Merchant, Mr. W. C. Milner advocates the free interchange of coal between the United States and Canada. He contends that the extension of Nova Scotia's coal trade must be with New England, and not with western Canada, which will continue to get its coal from the states. Mr. Milner argues out the rate question as follows:-

The American coal mines are in the interior, from 300 to 400 miles from Atlantic ports, and the lowest freight rate ($1.35) is equal to that which protection to Nova Scotia coal, landed on territory common to both, New England and Canadian ports, duty is therefore not required to shut American coal out of the Maritime markets.

The American coal miners are 600 miles from Montreal by rail, water carriage not being available. The freight rate is over $8.00 per ton. In the Montreal market, Nova Scotia coal, therefore, enjoys a protection of over $2.00 per ton. The 600 miles of land carriage serve as a barrier against the large New England market.

American coal is delivered in Ontario at prices that would defy competition from Nova Scotia even if the duty were doubled. It has been found that the cost of coal in Toronto, freight and duty paid, at a dollar per ton less than Sydney coal in Halifax.

It is therefore fair to assume that the duty on coal has no protective value whatever either in Ontario, Montreal or along the St. Lawrence, or in the Maritime Provinces. If repealed it would be disastrous to Nova Scotia, but if it is retained coupled with the repeal of the American duty, opening the large New England market to the energy, skill and enterprise of Nova Scotia operators, it would give what is so much needed, viz., an outlet for Nova Scotia coal in a nearby market of almost unbounded possibilities, and on a commercial basis, independent of subsidies, bonuses, bounties or any other government aid or political pull.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

The importance of technical training, which is now receiving some degree of consideration in this city, attracting more and more attention in other countries. It is recognized that the country which makes technical training an important part of its educational system takes a long step in the direction of industrial supremacy. England learned the lesson from Germany, and the United States has made great progress along similar lines.

A recent issue of the Boston Transcript has the following interesting article on the subject, which is not of less interest to Canadians than to the American people:-

The Mosely Educational Commission that visited this country over a year ago, and other foreign investigators as well, have found much to commend in the educational system or systems of the United States. Even in technical training, for those who have the time and means to pursue the advantages available by that class, we have reached a very high point of development. A distinguished English educator has pronounced our Massachusetts Institute of Technology "the best technical school in the world, and there are many others that approach it in excellence of results. Yet such institutions provide for but a small percentage of those who desire to enter skilled pursuits, while owing to the practical discontinuance of the apprentice system, there is hardly any way in which poor boys and girls can become skilled artisans except by means of public schools specially appointed and publicly sustained for their benefit."

In an address in the Common Union course in New York a few evenings ago, Dr. Fred W. Atkinson, president of the Polytechnic Institute, made an appeal for an extension of technical education along these levels that would make them available by the ordinary public school pupil. The demand for opportunities of this kind is very much in excess of the supply. Practically what he meant was schools of the Cooper Union class, but supported by public funds. He said: "We are certainly behind our continental competitors in the provision at public expense of evening trade schools for the working classes." The demand for increased opportunities along these lines has been shown in the fact that while the increased entrance to the literary and scientific courses in Manhattan and Brooklyn has been about 10 per cent for a given period that for the commercial and manual schools has been about 40 per cent.

Dr. Atkinson points out that we are just at the beginning of technical education. "The industries of this country have been transformed by the efforts of our schools of technology. He who would be a part of our industrial development must be technically trained." The parents of public school children and the children themselves are coming to realize this more and more. They cannot afford to acquire culture at the expense of skill and character, while it must always remain the chief aim of education, can no longer remain its sole aim; the schools must produce, not merely a good man, but a good man who is good for some specific thing. Economic efficiency, as well as quality of mind and character, must be made a test of education. This is a form of utilitarianism in education, which is not antagonistic to the highest idealism by giving it specific content and an ethical quality which connects it closely with life.

Thus, the forces of education are confronted by a very different situation and by much more complex problems than was the case a half or even a quarter of a century ago. There is a new departure and we must follow its leading or lose step with the pace of industrial progress.

A Montreal paper says:-"That the teachers of the schools throughout the United States are beginning to realize the importance of the Dominion of Canada, is almost daily in evidence. Mr. Thos. Henry, traffic manager of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company, says numerous requests from the teachers in charge of schools in various states in the Union for guide books, maps and such literature have been received. In every instance, the reason given for the delivery of freight is almost invariably the same: 'The Maritime Merchant' is to be made use of in endeavoring to give their pupils a complete and intelligent description of this portion of Canada."

In the city of Buffalo, the mayoralty term is for four years. It is proposed to reduce this to one year, and the city of Toronto is used to illustrate the benefits of a short term. A four year term may give the benefits of continuity, but it also gives opportunities for abuses that are prevented by the shorter term. (Toronto News.)

A cable assures us that at Vladivostok "the town continues its accustomed gaiety; in which the civic and military elements participate." One can readily understand that the cheering news from Russia, and the probability of an early blockade by a Japanese fleet would make the people of Vladivostok cheerful, and even demonstrative in their joy.

On Monday evening the Citizen's League will doubtless complete its organization. There should be a very large attendance at this meeting.

The civic boards will meet next week. Perhaps we shall hear all about the new warehouse on the McLeod wharf.

LETTER FROM A. H. BELL. To the Editor of the Times, Sir:-Because of the unbusiness like methods of the present council, I felt it my duty as a citizen to contest the possible return to the council of the present incumbent from Kings Ward.

I am in hearty sympathy with the purposes of the Citizen's League and lest my candidacy might tend to defeat the League in its purposes, by dividing the vote in Kings Ward, I here notify the public that I am prepared to withdraw my name as a candidate for the City Council.

Yours Truly, A. H. Bell. Miss Smythe (organizing a subscription dance). "I'm in despair about our dance Mr. Brown. So many people have failed to come, what a bore!" Mr. Brown (extremely stout). "Really, Miss Smythe, I'm not a dancing man, I don't dance at all!" Miss Smythe:-"That won't matter in the least. You'd help to fill up, you know, Mr. Brown." "Ah-yes-with pleasure. I will look in about supper time."

Monahan:-"This always 'st' unpleated that happens. When I sit home full last night, I expected me wote would be a 'robber'."

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the drug and impurities always present in the stomach, and indigestion and carried them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminent safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases every collector in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All obstructions of charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. These lozenges are made of the finest powdered willow bark, and other harmless medicinal ingredients, and are pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

There is a good feature in the situation - can't last much longer. There is a good time coming, when everything will be characterized by "hustle" and "hurry" and the stress of the days through which we have recently passed and in which we now are. The country is certainly very bare of supplies, which is indicated by the urgency of many of those orders which succeed in getting through, and when the roads are regularly busy. Another month will probably see all things in much better shape.

A PECULIAR CASE.

Chicago Girl Who Sacrificed Her Life for "An Unholy Religion." Chicago, Feb. 24.-"My daughter Frances was a victim of an unholy religion and the teachings of fanaticism. She sacrificed her life under the belief that she was performing a religious duty. Their unholy teachings caused her death. Such persons should be punished." Aged, partly paralyzed and destitute, Mrs. Mary Wakles denounced the cult and teachings of Bahá'ullah in the foregoing words, which she claims made her daughter a slave to religious fanaticism and led to her building a fire and burning herself to death.

About two months ago she was induced to go to a meeting of the sect of Bahá'ullah, which she attended with several letters and booklets and would sit up all night commending the Bahá'ullah movement. Her entire mind was taken up with this new religion. All efforts to have her abandon these foolish teachings failed. The police have been requested by the mother to make an investigation into the religious teaching, which is said to have a considerable following in Englewood. It is a part of the belief that the millennium is at hand. Miss Wakles was 23 years of age. She was the sole support of her mother and was an expert in her work. Mrs. Charles Deane and many prominent Chicago society women were among her patrons. The sect of which she was a member meets every Sunday evening in the Masonic Temple, Mrs. Minnie Davies of No. 5347 La Salle avenue was a friend of the unfortunate girl, and it is claimed that the two went to the college of going hungry herself, caused her insanity.

The Grip Leaves Thousands in its Path Weak, Nervous, Dyspeptic, Catarrh Wrecks.

LIKE A DEMON grip has crossed our country, leaving behind scores of physical wrecks. Victims of catarrh of the head, catarrh of the throat, catarrh of the lungs, catarrh of the stomach, catarrh of the kidneys, catarrh of the pelvic organs, are to be counted by hundreds of thousands. Grip is epidemic catarrh, and sows the seed of chronic catarrh within the system. This is no true that few grip sufferers are able to make a complete recovery until they have used Peruna. Never in the history of medicine has a remedy received such unqualified and universal eulogies as Peruna. A New York Alderman's Experience. Hon. Joseph A. Flinn, alderman Fifth District, writes from 104 Christopher street, New York City, as follows: "When a pestilence overtakes our people we take precaution as a nation to preserve the citizens against the dread disease. "La grippe has entered thousands of our houses this fall, and I noticed that the people who used Peruna were quickly restored, while those who depended on doctor's prescriptions, spent weeks in recovering, leaving them weak and emaciated. "I had a slight attack of la grippe and as once took Peruna, which drove the disease out of my system in a few days and did not hinder me from pursuing my daily work. "I should like to see our Board of Health give it official recognition and have it used generally among our poor sick people in Greater New York."

IRVING IS ILL.

The Great English Actor May Be Forced to Retire From the Stage--A Brief Sketch of His Career.

Theatre goes the world over have had their attention turned to Wolvenhampton this week, to a little room and a white covered bed where the most picturesque figure the stage has known in the past fifty years is lying battling with an illness that may prove fatal. Sir Henry Irving broke down some days ago as the result of a long period of overwork and much worry. The immediate cause of his illness is a heavy cold but the real trouble so far as can be learned is that Sir Henry has exhausted his vital forces through hard work. His physicians do not expect that the illness will be fatal but they do not hold out any hope, that the talented knight will be able to return to the stage in the near future. Probably no living actor has had a more brilliant stage career than Sir Henry Irving. He was the first de vote of Theatrics to be knighted in recognition of his extraordinary position in his profession and at present the only other actor who has been honored with a title for the same reason is Sir Charles Wyndham, who is now in America. It may not be generally known that Sir Henry was not born at Irving. He originally bore the plebeian cognomen of Brodribb and assumed the name of Irving by royal license in 1887. He was born in the little village of Keinton near Glastonbury England, on February 6 1838 and was the oldest son of Samuel Brodribb. He received his early education at the celebrated Dr. Pinches' school, George Yard, Lombard St., E. C., and first entered the dramatic profession in 1858 playing in London. London audiences did not take kindly to the comparative obscurity of the provinces in 1859. For seven years he had a variegated career in which, as he himself has stated, "the kicks were more plentiful than the half pence." In 1866 he reappeared in London with the prestige of a successful provincial career behind him. He appeared in St. James' theatre, the Queen's, Drury Lane, Gaiety and finally at the old Lyceum. During these years he won great honors in Macbeth, Hamlet, Charles I., Richard III, The Bells, A Story of Waterloo, and other pieces. It was during this time that he formed the alliance with Ellen Terry, and the names Irving and Terry were known the world around as synonymous for the best in the acting. Sir Henry leased the Lyceum theatre in 1878 and managed it until 1880, when he withdrew. Recently the Lyceum, which had been the scene of many of Irving's greatest successes was converted into a music hall and afterwards, I think, it was torn down. Sir Henry was knighted in 1895. During his career he has made several trips to America, his latest, last year being under the management of Bram Stoker an English manager of some note. It was reported that Charles Frohman had the call on Sir Henry's services for next season when he would play a farewell visit to America but this was denied.

The Finks Stock Company opened an engagement at the Opera House on Thursday evening producing Carmen to a top heavy house. The performance was fair but hardly such as to give a clear idea of the company's merits. Accordingly I will deal with the Finks people at greater length next week. The Brockton Times, on Feb. 15 says: "A concert was given here last night, under the direction of Frank A. McClaskey and under the auspices of the Young Matrons club of the First Universalist Church, which earned the thanks and congratulations of a large body of music-lovers of the city." After describing the elaborate decorations the Times says among the distinguished guests present were Gov. W. L. Douglas, and a family party. Continuing, the Times says: "Leaving aside the social features of the evening, the concert from a purely musical standpoint was one of great merit, probably one of the most thorough artistic successes that Brockton people have enjoyed in years. With artists of so high and uniform a degree of excellence the programme could be in any legitimate sense a masterpiece. It was perceptibly weak or in any degree mediocre. Mr. McClaskey presented his programme with a confidence and ease that was most pleasing to give you his valuable advice gratis. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. visit America next season. "Prince Charming," her new play, is mentioned as a feature of her repertoire.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell is arranging to resume her tour in "The Sorceress" in Chicago, on March 6. She has made rapid progress towards recovery from the fracture of her knee-cap, sustained recently while entering a carriage at the St. James Hotel, in Montreal, has discarded her crutches and is now able to walk with the aid of a cane.

Frank Worthing has been engaged as leading man for Miss Margaret Anglin, who is to play a spring engagement in San Francisco.

Dan R. Ryan, is playing romantic drama and tragedy this season. His repertoire includes "The Mad King, Macbeth, Virginia, Monte Cristo, Three Musketeers, Lady of Lyons, and Inconstant. He is playing to crowded houses everywhere.

Mary Hampton has been engaged to replace Miss Lennox, in the all-star cast, of The Two Orphans.

Jerome Malville's repertoire, this season, includes Between Love and Duty, Mad Marriage, Slaves of Russia, Man from the West, Woman's Victim, The Counterfeiters, Working Girls' Wrongs, Tennessee's Partner, Rip Van Winkle, Winning Hand and the Pitfall of New York.

Aldora Shem, a Western actor gave a special production of Hamlet at New York recently. His press agent explained that he was seeking the honest verdict of the New York critics. The Times says, "His wishes shall be granted. Verdict-murder in the first degree. There are no extenuating circumstances. It is his own fault. A man that no actor can fail in Hamlet. Aldora Shem's performance goes to prove one of two propositions. Either tradition lies or he is no actor. The choice is with him."

A concert which Paderewski had advertised at Auckland, New Zealand, during his recent tour, having been abruptly abandoned, thirty persons who had travelled long distances went to the pianist's hotel to protest. He treated them first to a private recital and then entertained them at supper.

Miss Irene La Pierre, who is this season again playing Flora Campbell in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," is proud of the distinction of having been personally chosen by the author, Rev. John Watson (Ian MacLaren) as the one most suited to embody on the stage his heroine of the Prudential tales.

The Rev. Watson, as will be remembered by many, was at the time of the initial production of the play making a lecture tour of this country. The distinction of having been personally chosen by the author, Rev. John Watson (Ian MacLaren) as the one most suited to embody on the stage his heroine of the Prudential tales.

THE STORM WON OUT.

The heroes of Paardeberg met defeat last night at the hands of the elements. The members of the South African association who started out for Newcomb's were kept at a big drift near the one mile house. Several attempted to make the journey on foot, but after reaching the Three Mile House came to the conclusion that discretion was the better part of valor and turned their weary steps homeward, and reached the city about midnight. They will probably make a second attempt to reach Torrington on Tuesday night.

MOHAWKS DOWN TROJANS; MONCTON CURLERS BEATEN.

A Big Fight Next Tuesday--Wright of Eastport Wants a Race--A Few Words for the Fredricton Prophet--Bowling--Ring.

HOCKEY.

Mohawks, 2; Trojans, 1.

The Mohawks in a closely contested game last evening defeated the Fredricton Trojans by a score of 2 to 1. Throughout the entire game the Mohawks had the better of the argument and only their inaccuracy in placing the puck prevented a large score from being run up. The play was confined almost entirely to the Trojan's territory and only a tuff or occasional rush would change the play to the Mohawk's end. There was very little attempt at combination by either team, both confining their play mainly to individual work. For the Trojans McManamin was easily the star, though Coleman did electrical work. The wing men were neither as fast or as heady players as their opponents. The goal keeper Ryan, had not much to do, but managed to stop a few likely ones.

The Mohawks, while they played an aggressive game, did not show up in combination like they did in the game with Moncton last Friday. Mooney shot both goals and played a good individual game, while Collins and Inches also showed up well. One of the features of the game was the lifting by Inches, in which capacity he shone. Tuffs while not called upon to make any phenomenal stops, took care of nearly everything that came his way. The one goal scored by the Trojans dribbled in on the side before Tuffs, seemingly, was aware that it was near him. A McNichol refereed the game very satisfactorily and his rulings met with the approval of both players and audience. The line-up was as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Name, Position, Team, and other details. Includes players like Tuffs, Robertson, Inches, Collins, O'Neil, Murray, Mooney, Ryan, Staples, Cover, Coleman, Martin, McManamin, Burden, W. W., E. W., and Clynch.

The Fredricton Prophet.

That cultured and refined little being, who presides over the sporting desk of the Gleaner, was pleased in his infinite wisdom to say in his report of the Mohawk-Trojan game at Fredricton the first of the season, that "The St. John people were evidently fed on inferior dope, for the locals went at them like seven hungry tigers and the poor little boys with pale faces and glassy eyes fell down all over the ice before many minutes of play." What does the little man say now? Oh, we had a weak team! Well, we'll quote him again. The visitors were not as strong as they were minus two of their regular players, Robertson and Will Rising, and their loss may have been quite heavy, although they could not change the ultimate result. Could the ultimate result have been changed last night? No, old man your pipe is out and likewise your light. That invincible team which was backed to win by the champion hoodoo of the province namely the sporting man of the Gleaner, has gone down and out and now graces the bottom of the column in the league standing.

The Gleaner's man's prediction at the first of the season is in line with his general knowledge of sport.

As a prophet, he is strictly on the bad.

Knighthood For Cricketer.

It transpired at the annual meeting of the New York Cricket Association that the success of the movement, on foot by the Grace Society of Cricketers and having as its object the knighting of Dr. W. G. Grace, the "grand old man" of the game, bids fair to be realized. President Arthur E. Handle, of the society, made it known that he had received an acknowledgement from Sir Francis Knollys, secretary to King Edward, in response to the suggestion made regarding Dr. Grace. The communication stated that the King regarded the application with every evidence of pleasure and had submitted the matter to the Prime Minister. According to Edward Terry, the actor, who is conversant with the ways of British royalty, this action is an encouraging sign. It is quite possible, therefore, that before long "W. G." may be entitled to the magic "Sir" in front of his name.
