The schools of the city will have a holiday tomorrow, Loyalist Day, celebrated as the anniversary of the day on which the United Empire Loyalist landed here, in the year 1783. Many of the schools are holding patriotic exercises today in memory of the occasion.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, Judge Ritchie and I had a chat the other day about mothers. The judge has pronounced views about mothers. He has before him quite too often the fruits of the neglect of some of them. He thinks if a boy might very well have some knowledge of the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer. He is afraid of a census of the boys under twelve who are deficient in such knowledge would suggest that the Christianized portions of China ought to send us a missionary to convert mothers, and make them such to honor his mother without a mental reservation or a wink at the world in general.

$97,900 FOR WEST SIDE WATER MAIN

Bond Issue Passes Committee and Council at One Sitting

Commissioner Frink to Present Recommendation on Halifax Incinerator Report—Mayor to Arrange for a Welcome to Visiting Newspaper Men—Ferry Approach Repairs.

An expenditure of $97,900 for the replacement of an old 12-inch concrete water main in West St. John with a new cast iron line varying in diameter from 24-inch to 16-inch was authorized by the Common Council this morning and Commissioner Wigmore was empowered to call for tenders for the trenching, backfill and the supplying of materials. The work will be paid for by bond issue.

WEST END WATER MAIN

Regarding the proposed renewal of a piece of twelve-inch cement water main in the West End, Commissioner Wigmore read the recommendation of Engineer F. A. McInnes in the matter, which he proposed carrying out by this work. He said it was the most imperative piece of work in the water department.

COMMISSIONER FRINK READ A REPORT

Commissioner Frink read a report from G. N. Hatfield, road engineer, and Clifford Price, street superintendent, on the Halifax incinerator which was built at a cost of $44,775. It was capable of destroying 100 tons a day and the cost of operation was $3,000 a year. Three or four men were required to operate it. Three double teams were used collecting garbage which was done by the city at a cost of about $17,000 a year. The cost of collecting ashes was about the same.

RECOMMENDATIONS APPROVED

The Commissioners then sat in Council and confirmed the matters decided upon in committee, except that referring to timber for the West Side ferry approach. On amendment moved by Commissioner Thornton, Commissioner Bullock was authorized to bid for the timber and was given power to act.

Premier's Call To Service Of Province and Strengthening Of The Entente Cordiale

HON. MR. VENIOT SPEAKS TO GRADUATING CLASS AT U. N. B.

Professor Baird's Address in Praise of Founders—Valedictory by C. Miles Burpee—Alumni and Alumnae Officers Elected.

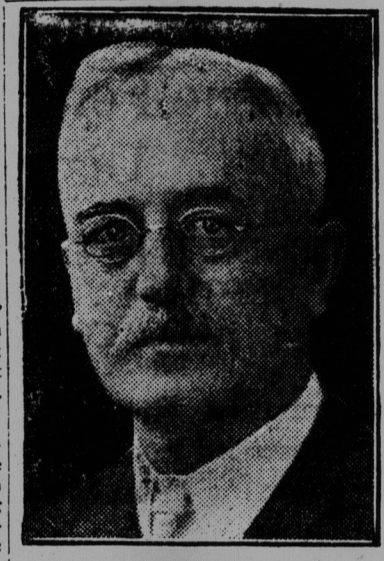

Fredericton, N. B., May 17—Excellent addresses marked Ecenacia day exercises at the U. N. B. this afternoon.

The address to the graduating class by Hon. P. J. Veniot, was as follows: "When I received the kind invitation of your good chancellor to be present here today and address a few words to the graduating class of 1935, I felt that the honor of doing so should have been delegated to some one gifted with a better knowledge of the requirements in ceremonies of this kind. But when I recognized that the U. N. B. had become the crowning point of our educational system, I decided that, as Premier of the province, I should at least show by my presence, if not by my eloquence, that this university occupies today more than ever before a very warm corner in my heart."

"Another reason for my presence here today is to be found in the fact that the first official act which fell to my lot on assuming the duties of office on February 1st was to confirm the decision of your Senate not to allow the U. N. B. to lose its identity by becoming affiliated with the Carnegie scheme or the amalgamation of the universities of the Maritime Provinces, marking a turning point in its history and thus making it possible that the splendid traditions of this university would remain as part of the education heritage of New Brunswick. If any doubts existed as to the wisdom of the decision of the Senate and the Government, they have certainly been dispelled by the presence in Fredericton this week of so many old graduates, flocking here to give evidence by their keen interest and glowing enthusiasm of their love for and faith in their old Alma Mater. An institution that can arouse such interest and enthusiasm in its graduates must certainly be assured of a bright future."

To the Graduates. "I have been asked, ladies and gentlemen, to say a few words to the graduating class. There is so much to be said to those who are closing the doors of their Alma Mater to begin the serious battle of life in the outer world, that one finds himself almost at a loss to know where to begin and where to end. The problems that confront the graduating student are numerous and very serious indeed. I could take up considerable time in pointing out some of the problems that will be met, as well as many of the difficulties in the way of their proper solution, but as the time at my disposal will not permit, I will content myself with asking the graduating class of this year to review the past history of the institution, and there they will discover sufficient to imbue them with all the courage necessary to go forth and wrestle from this old world of ours that fame, success and recognition which have fallen to the lot of some of our province's former students of the U. N. B. In the judiciary, the church, the medical profession, in the commercial and industrial life and in all branches of science.

"They will discover that the splendid principles which found the foundation of the teachings of this institution will stand forth as bulwarks against the onslaughts of modernism, and will enable them to overcome the very obstacles which to them may appear at first sight the most formidable. Emulate the examples set by those who have gone before you, follow in the line of perseverance, integrity and honest determination which have characterized your province during student life and the world is yours."

number of the 1935 graduates in an endeavor to solve the political and economic problems that beset our legislators of today. "And in conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, may I be permitted also to express the hope that you will use your talents in an endeavor to bring about the most cordial relations possible between the descendants of the two great races that compose the population of this splendid province of ours. Cordial as those relations may be at this moment, there still remains something to do to bring about a more binding and lasting entente cordiale linking of all races and creeds in the spirit of brotherhood and mutual respect. A happy and contented people, and of our province a prosperous and glorious country in which to live. The address in praise of the founders by A. F. Baird, professor of physics and electrical engineering, was as follows: "It is now generally agreed that men of some sort have been living upon the earth for at least 250,000 years. Mankind is very old, but science such as we knew it had no existence before the

Brides and Young Wives--Take Heed

You are beginning your married life with some nice new furniture. You particularly admire modern furniture based on the "Periodic." All young up-to-date people do. But in most cases you think it wise to be content for the present with a compromise on your complete ideal for the sake of economy. And quite right, perhaps, as far as that goes. It is far better to furnish your home as completely as possible according to your taste and ideals, right at the start, even though you sacrifice some other things of less importance. Be sure of your Dining Room Suite and Chesterfield Suite. They give your house its "keynote." Gradually you can add what else you need, keeping in harmony with your two most important rooms.

This popular Queen Ann design Dining Room Suite, as per illustration, made in combination walnut, finished in two tones, and decorated with genuine California redwood burl, gives the appearance of furniture selling at a much higher price. It contains nine pieces and is being offered at only $180.

beginning of history about 6,000 years ago, and until 2,500 years ago it occurred, if at all, only in rudimentary form. The night of time far surpasseth the day; yet though the dawn has been long in coming it gives promise of developing into a day of splendor whose rays of truth will more and more blend into a pure white light of power and limitless usefulness. "The total sum of human knowledge has in the past been divided into two branches, the arts and sciences. The one referring to individual knowledge acquired by practice and performance, the other to facts or laws observed in processes of nature. Hence for years science was known as natural philosophy and no attempt was made at explanation or where attempted contained but superstition and error. The dividing line between the two branches has almost entirely disappeared, and in fact some of the branches of modern science may be regarded as the highest forms of art. The modern research laboratory is a place where imagination and individual effort have an infinite field. There is scarcely a department of science or art either which is the same, or at all the same as it was fifty years ago. A new world of inventions—of railways and telegraphs—of electric lighting and power—has grown up around us which we cannot help seeing; a new world of ideas is in the very space around us and affects us, though we do not see it. "One reason why science forms such a prominent feature in the culture of this age is the fact that only within the last hundred years has scientific research approached the more intricate phenomena and the more hidden forces

Gilbert the necessity of experimentation was overlooked. Hard thinking was frequently regarded as the sole requisite for scientific discovery. It is these two men, who refusing to accept the superstitious explanations of those before them, were the founders of a new philosophy and the creators of a new institution in Science—the modern research laboratory.

It is amusing to observe that in those days many people reputed for wisdom looked upon experiments as dangerous to intellectual and moral life. In a history of the Royal Society written in 1667 the author deems it necessary in all seriousness to defend experimentation, arguing that experiments will not injure education and that experiments are not dangerous to the universities. The arguments were necessary indeed, for the Oxford pulpit declared that Robert Boyle's researches were destroying religion and his experiments were undermining the universities. Galileo in 1610 by the aid of his invention, the telescope, began to preach boldly the Copernican doctrine. In consequence he was denounced and when in 1682 the old scientist of seventy years attempted to put his convictions in writing he was forced on his knees to publicly "abjure, curse and

THE UNIVERSITY.

The University of New Brunswick is to continue as the apex of the public school system, and not to be merged with other educational institutions. This decision having been made, there is the more interest in the exercises now in progress at the University, and the suggestions made regarding the means of making its work more valuable, because more generously supported in a financial way. The question of finance has always been its problem. The resources of the Province have not been large enough to enable succeeding Governments to provide sufficient funds to admit of enlargement and improvement to the extent desired as the years passed. The work of the institution has gone on, however, and brilliant graduates have gone forth, year after year, to win their laurels in wider fields and reflect credit upon their alma mater. This year's reunion of graduates, including men who were students more than fifty years ago, is a very notable event. There are very distinguished names in the list of those present, and many could be added if it were possible for all living graduates of distinction to be there on this occasion. The older graduates will rejoice to see in the students of today, who now include both men and women, the promise of a brilliance of achievement perhaps as great as their own, and will thus be able to feel that the traditions of the University will be worthily maintained. The Times today devotes a good deal of space to address delivered, and commends them to the thoughtful attention of the people. The old University, whose beginnings were with the Loyalists, is to go on shedding light as a beacon to point the way to the attainment of the higher things of life, whose value is not measurable in the terms of the market place.

WOULD ELIMINATE ST. JOHN.

The port of Vancouver is definitely in the field as a rival of St. John for the wheat trade of Canada. Not as a rival merely, but as an aspirant for the whole of the grain trade of Western Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Vancouver Sunday Sun of May 6 prints a chart showing the relative position of grain centres in the territory named with respect to St. John and Vancouver, and contends the latter must get the business if the western farmer is to prosper. It says one of the main reasons the western farmers have not made a profit is because Alberta and Western Saskatchewan farmers are forced to waste 10 to 15 cents per bushel of their good money for useless transportation. What is this useless transportation? What is set forth in the following press dispatch: "St. John, May 4.—The amount of grain handled through the C. P. R. elevators this season for shipment abroad will total approximately 15,000,000 bushels."

THE RED CROSS.

Since January, 1918, the American Red Cross has granted relief in the case of 372 disasters in all parts of the world, to the extent of $20,612,298. Included in the list is $108,418 to Halifax after the great explosion in 1917. Of the value of the Red Cross as a relief agency the Red Cross Courier says: "The Red Cross endeavors to centralize and make effective the relief giving of the country. It provides, during the emergency period, shelter, food, clothing and medical attention. As the emergency period wanes, permanent rehabilitation is afforded through employment, repair and rebuilding of homes, re-establishing small businesses, and otherwise assisting each of the afflicted families to meet its peculiar need and again become self-supporting and independent."

NO CONTEST.

His Play—Loose talk! A woman's besetting sin. Of course, you justify gossip on the theory that there is no harm in empty chatter that, as we used to say when we were kids, "sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me." Yet it is true that in spite of the known casualties from idle gossip, women will not reform—they insist on the sly whisper, the vicious innuendo. It is a strictly feminine vice. More hearts have been broken and more happiness ruined by so-called innocent gossip than all the wars in history. For heaven's sake, why do you women do it?

THE REFEREE.

I am going to interrupt her today because any attempt to controvert his charge would be banal and stupid. I insist they shall play the marriage game according to the rules. There are cardinal vices which all women and all men are cursed with; these will be considered from time to time. It is unquestionable that gossiping is the worst vice of the feminine character. It creates more injustice and more woe than any other influence in the world save faithlessness. It is cruel of him to select this topic for discussion, but it would be futile for her to seek to offset his argument. The game today, therefore, I declare no contest.

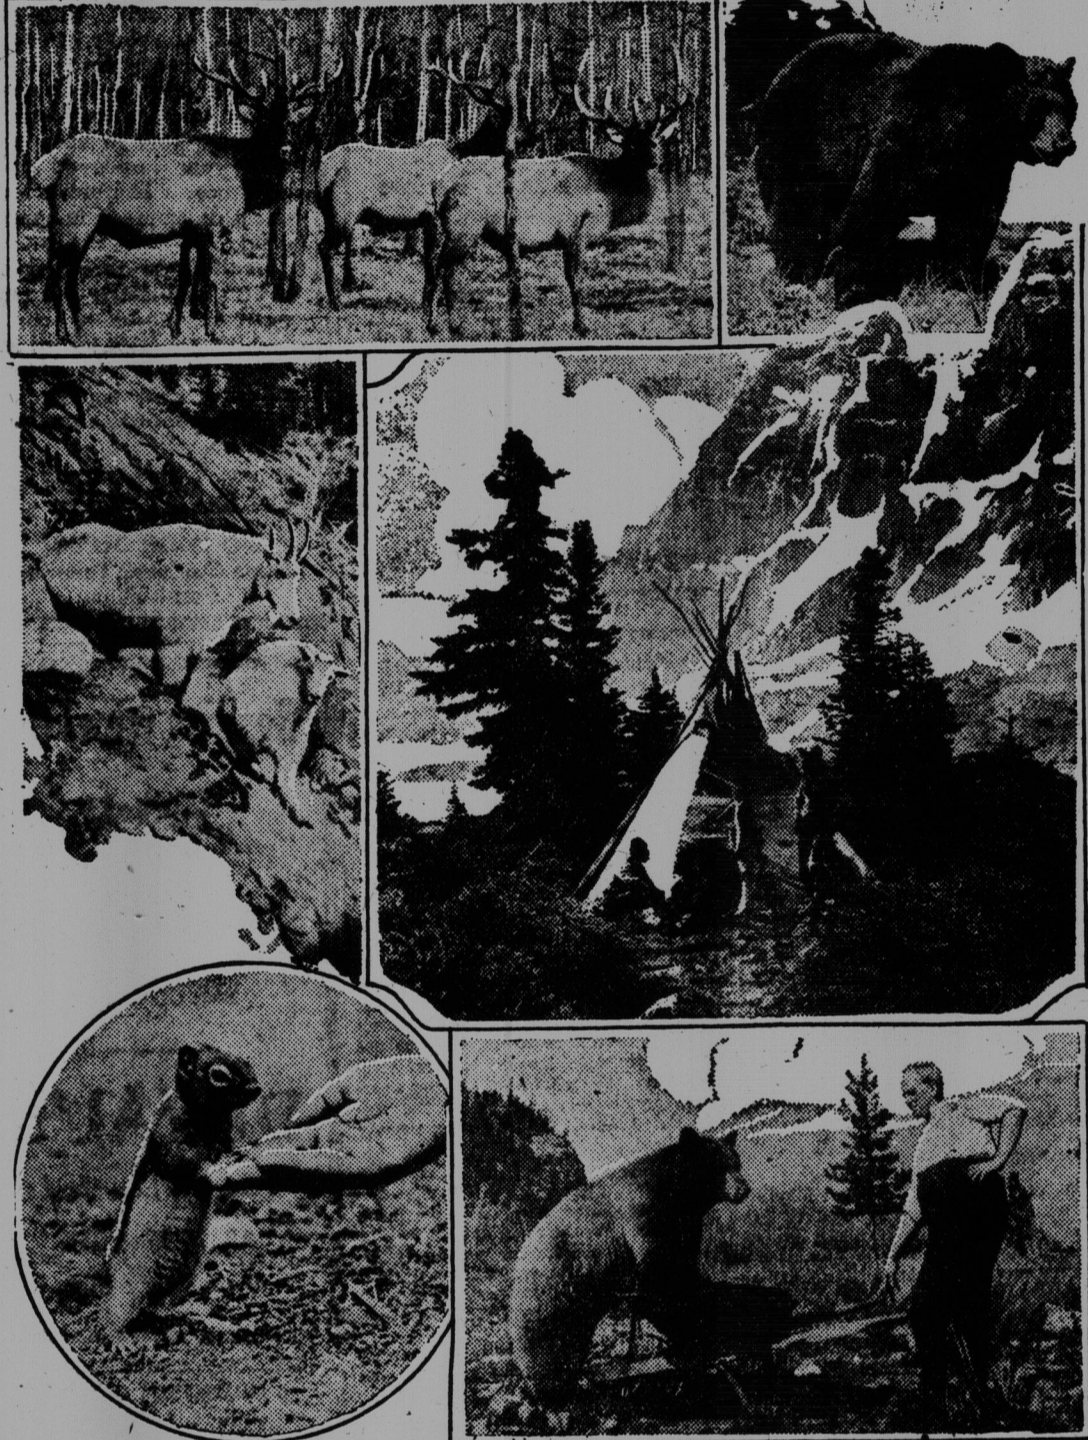

COURAGEOUS RULERS.

(Ottawa Journal.)
The Irish Free State Government has declined Mr. de Valera's request for an armistice. In so doing it is showing commendable strength and, incidentally, emphasizing what it has already pretty well demonstrated, namely, that the Free State leaders are men of conspicuous sense and courage.

HALIFAX CHRONICLE.

"The renewal of the nightly train service between Halifax and St. John is another index of reviving business and growing traffic."

WILD ANIMAL LIFE in JASPER NATIONAL PARK

Famous for its ever-fascinating natural beauty, Jasper National Park has other claims to distinction. It is the largest wild animal sanctuary in the world. It is marvellously rich in plant life, its streams and lakes abound in fish, and a great variety of birds are found there. The grandeur of its mountains—there are over 100 lofty peaks in its area—the sheer cliffs of its glaciers, the grandeur of its woodlands and its valleys, the flashing brightness of its waters, all combine in allurements of eye and mind, not found elsewhere in Canada.

All the main animal families of this country are found in Jasper National Park. The list of them reads like a section of a world's record book. There are the Big Horn Mountain Sheep, Mountain Goats, Wolves (black and grey), Coyotes, Foxes, Mule Deer, Moose, Caribou, Elk, Lynx, Cougar—or as many call them, Mountain Lions—Beaver, Marmots, Musk-Rats, Squirrels, Rabbits, Porcupines, Weasels, Ermines, Minks, Martens, Fishers, Otters, and Grizzly, Black and Cinnamon Bears.

Some of these have grown accustomed to mankind and accept its presence without fear. Hence black and brown, or cinnamon bears do not hesitate to come near the lodge and the camps in search of dainties which add to the variety of the diet nature provides for them. Deer, Elk, Beaver, Rabbits and Porcupines are also frequent visitors to points where they are readily observable, or are permanent residents in places easily reached by those who do not care about hunting, but are yet interested in animal life.

With all this prodigality of wild animal life, it is surprising to know that no poisonous snakes or reptiles have ever been found within Jasper Park, and that the greater part of the area is almost entirely free from mosquitoes and insect pests.

The bird life of Jasper National Park is another attraction that every visitor appreciates. No less than seventy different species of birds have so far been recognized. Outside of the Park confines there is plenty of hunting for those to whom the chase is as the wine of life. There are many traps to the areas where big game abounds, and the hunters who seek "easy killing" may have all the thrill and excitement they desire. Experienced guides are always available for hunting and exploring parties, or for those who simply desire to wander leisurely through a never-ending succession of scenic beauties.

With its majestic mountains, Mount Edith Cavell being the highest (11,012 feet) its numerous glaciers, its beautiful stretches of woodland, valley, streams and lakes, and its unrivalled wild animal life, Jasper National Park is an alluring prospect alike for the seeker for health, the searcher for recreation, the angler or the hunter of big game.

The Marriage Game

The Snappiest of Pastimes As Played to a Decision Every Day

NO CONTEST.

His Play—Loose talk! A woman's besetting sin. Of course, you justify gossip on the theory that there is no harm in empty chatter that, as we used to say when we were kids, "sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me." Yet it is true that in spite of the known casualties from idle gossip, women will not reform—they insist on the sly whisper, the vicious innuendo. It is a strictly feminine vice. More hearts have been broken and more happiness ruined by so-called innocent gossip than all the wars in history. For heaven's sake, why do you women do it?

DOCTOR TESTIFIES IN SCHOOL CASE

Magistrate Discusses Evidence and Reserves Judgment—Says Strap is Too Heavy.

Dr. F. T. Dunlop in the police court yesterday afternoon gave evidence in the case of Geoffrey Medlar who was punished by Reverend Steves, principal of the Aberdeen school. He said he found five bruises in all, the most serious being a cut about three-quarters of an inch long under the eye. The bruises, he said, all could very easily have been caused by a strap. The magistrate commented on the case at some length and said he would deliver a written judgment later. He referred to the section of the act passed in 1922 which sent the complainant in cases of dissatisfaction with school teachers to the trustees first. The magistrate declared that under ordinary circumstances the court was in sympathy with the idea but in this case where he saw the inflamed condition of the boy's face he considered it was a serious case and if it had been any person other than a school teacher involved, he would have contemplated an even more serious charge. Under the circumstances, he considered it advisable to have the teacher explain the affair in court. He pointed out that the evidence of the doctor was very strong against the teacher. "What was this severe punishment for, the magistrate asked? Just because the boy had punched another lad. He certainly deserved some punishment. His Honor continued, but he thought that it should be with a reason. The case was important from two standpoints. First, there were some extremely unruly pupils and, the magistrate added, how could they expect anything different when they knew the kind of mothers some of them had. However, these pupils had to be handled. Secondly, the teacher had a very difficult position, and the magistrate said he often wondered how they stood the tremendous strain on them as well as they did. Concerning the strap, the magistrate declared, that in his estimation it was too heavy to use for punishing pupils. Mr. Steves at this point said that the strap was only used in exceptional circumstances on very unruly pupils. He asked the magistrate to embody in his judgment a suggestion as to what to do with a pupil of less than fourteen years of age who wished to leave school and would not hold out his hand for punishment. The magistrate added that he would consider that point.

MOVE TO HONOR DARWIN.

(Boston Herald) It will be recalled that when in 1909 Britain celebrated the Charles Darwin centenary a number of Americans voiced this country's tribute in a volume entitled "Fifty Years of Darwinism." To them and to all American scientists now comes news of a movement to acquire the house and gardens which he occupied at Down in Kent for more than 40 years. The property is in imminent danger of passing into unsympathetic hands, and the British committee feel that something should be done to preserve intact the rooms in which Darwin wrote works like "The Origin of Species," and the grounds over which he walked, thought and experimented, the aim being to utilize them for biological investigations. One previous opportunity of acquiring the old homestead was missed, possibly because of the avalanche of criticism, which the great naturalist had to meet with up to the time of his death in 1882. As recent controversies in our own country show, it has taken decades for the reading public to realize that Darwin's purpose was not to teach "the descent of man from the monkey," but to show that the numerous species of plants and animals were gradually evolved, not brought into existence all at once, and to do this by explaining the process as one of "natural selection," or of "the survival of the fittest." Most biologists of today accept this as the method of organic evolution, but most of them also recognize that, while the fittest do usually survive, the Darwinian theory throws no light on how they arrive on how the fitness which favors them in the "struggle for existence" comes to be produced. All the same there is a widespread and generous recognition of Darwin's priceless contribution to our knowledge of animate nature, and even opponents of the evolutionary doctrine, when fair-minded enough are willing to pay homage to the man whose remains found their last resting place in Westminster Abbey. Personal interest in Darwin remains as strong as ever, whatever may be the attitude taken towards his theories. His work at Down was achieved under difficulties that would have paralyzed the energies of one less inspired, and less resolute. His son Francis, in the "Life and Letters," has told us that "for nearly 40 years Charles Darwin never knew one day of the health of ordinary men," and that his life was "one long struggle against the weakness and strain of sickness." Yet he could study, experiment and put his conclusion into books—nearly a score of them—which are to be found today in every biologist's library and form indispensable contributions to our scientific literature. The secret of his success might be summed up in his own words—love of science, unbounded patience in long reflecting over any subject, industry in observing and collecting facts, and a fair share of invention and common sense." It is these qualities and these achievements which Britain now asks America to join her in honoring, not in the interest of either, but as Prof. Karl Pearson phrases it, "for the sake of all mankind."

The Breaking Point

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

By the end of September he felt that he had gained real headway with Elizabeth. He had come to a point where she needed him more than she realized, where the call in her of youth for youth, even in trouble, was insistent. In return he felt his responsibility and responded to it. In the vernacular of the town he had "settled down," and the general trend of opinion, which had previously disapproved him, was now that Elizabeth might do worse.
On a crisp night early in October he had brought her home from Nina's and because the moon was full they sat for a time on the steps of the verandah. Wallie below her, stirring the dead leaves on the walk with his stick, went looking up at her with boyish adoring eyes when she spoke. He was never very articulate with her, and her trouble had given her a strange new aloofness that almost frightened him. But that night, when she uttered a little, he reached up and touched her hand.
"You're cold," he said almost roughly. He was sometimes rather savage, for fear he might be tender.
"I'm not cold. I think it's the dead leaves."
"Dead leaves?" he repeated, puzzled. "You're a queer girl, Elizabeth. Why dead leaves?"
"I hate the fall. It's the death of the year."
"Nonsense. It's going to be a long winter's nap. That's all. I'll bring you a wrap."
He went in and came out in a moment with her father's overcoat.
"Here," he said peremptorily, "put this on. I'm not going to be called on the carpet for giving you a snuff." She stood up obediently and he put the big coat around her. Then, obeying an irresistible impulse, he caught her to him. He released her immediately, however, and stepped back.
"I love you so," he stammered. "I'm sorry. I'll not do it again."
"I don't like it," was all she said. And because she did not want him to think she was angry, she sat down again. But the boy was shaken. He got out a cigarette and lit it, his hands trembling. He could not think of anything to say. It was as though by that one act he had cut a bridge behind him, and on the other side lay all the platitudes, the small give and take of their hours together. What to her was a regrettable incident was to him a great dramatic climax. Boy-like he refused to recognize its unimportance to her. He wanted to talk about it.

"When you said just now that you don't like what I did just then, do you mean you didn't like me to do it? Or that you don't care for that sort of thing. Of course I know," he added hastily, "you're not that kind of girl."
He turned and looked at her.
"You know I'm still in love with you, don't you, Elizabeth?"
She returned his gaze frankly.
"I don't see how you can be when you know what you do know."
"I know how you feel now. But I know that people don't go on, loving hopelessly, all their lives. You're young. You've got—" he figured quickly—"You've got about fifty odd years to live yet, and some of these days you'll be—not forgetting," he changed, when he saw her quick movement. "I know you'll not forget him. But remembering and loving are different."
"I wonder," she said, her eyes on the moon, and full of young tragedy. "If they are, if one can remember without loving, then couldn't one love without remembering?"
He stared at her.
"You're too deep for me sometimes," he said. "I'm not subtle, Elizabeth. I dare say I'm stupid in lots of things. But I'm not stupid about this. I'm not trying to get a promise, you know. I only want you to know how things are. I don't want to know why he went away, or why he doesn't come back. I only want you to face the facts. I'd be good to you," he finished, in a low tone. "I'd spend my life thinking of ways to make you happy."
She was touched. She reached down and put her hand on his shoulder.
"You deserve the best, Wallie. And you're asking for a second best. Even that—I'm just not made that way, I suppose. Fifty years or a hundred, it would be all the same."
"You'd always care for him, you mean?"
"Yes, I'm afraid so."
When he looked at her her eyes had workers. Among them, but not entirely of them. Recruited from the lowest levels as men grade, gathered in a slave market on the coast, herded in bunk houses alive with vermin, fully but badly fed, overflowing with blind phony and filled with sullen hate for those above them in the social scale, the "stiffs" regarded him with distrust from the start.

In the beginning he accepted their sneers with a degree of philosophy. His physical condition was poor. At night he ached intolerably, collapsing into his wooden bunk to sleep the dreamless sleep of utter exhaustion. There were times when he felt that it would be better to return at once to Norway and surrender, for that he must do so eventually he never doubted. It was as well perhaps that he had no time for brooding, but he gained sleep at the cost of superhuman exertion all day.
A feeling of uneasiness began to oppress him, so that at times, he felt the ghost walking among sweating men like a resurrection into life, but without life. And more than once he tried to sink down to the level of the others, to unite himself again with the crowd, to feel again the touch of elbows, the sensation of fellowship. The primal instinct of the herd asserted itself, the need of human companionship of any sort.
But he failed miserably, as Jud Clark could never have failed. He could not drink with them. He could not sink to their level of degradation. Their oaths and obscenity sickened and disgusted him, and their talk of women drove him into the fresh air.
The fact that he could no longer drink himself into a stupor puzzled him. Bad whiskey circulated freely among the haystacks and bunk houses where the harvest hands were quartered, and at various pieces. The men clubbed together to buy it, and he put in his share, only to find that it did not intoxicate him, but that he had a mental inhibition against it.
They called him the Dude, and put into it gradually all the class hatred of their wretched sullen lives. He had to fight them, more than once, and had they judged the secret behind him by the height from which he had fallen, and began slowly to accept him as one of the brood of derelicts.
With his improvement in his physical condition there came, toward the end of the summer, a more rapid subsidence of the food of the long past. He had slept one night in the fields, where the uncut alfalfa was belled with purple flowers and yellow buttercups rose and nodded above him. With the first touch of dawn on the mountains he awakened to a clarity of mind like that of the morning. He felt almost an exultation. He stood up and threw out his arms.
It was all his again, never to lose; the old house, and David and Lucy; again that faraway and yet flaming look which he had come to associate with her thoughts of Dick. She seemed infinitely removed from him, traveling her lonely road past loving outstretched hands and facing ahead to ward—well toward fifty years of spinsterhood. The sheer waste of it made him shudder.

"You're cold too, Wallie," she said gently. "You'd better go home."
He was about to repudiate the idea, when he succeeded. She got up at once and held out her hand.
"You are very dear to feel about me the way you do," she said, rather rapidly. "I appreciate your telling me. And if you're chilly when you get home you'd better take some camphor."
He saw her in, hat in hand, and then turned and stalked up the street. Camphor, indeed! But so stubborn was hope in his young heart that before he had climbed the hill he was finding comfort in her thought for him.
Mrs. Sayre had been away for a week, visiting in Michigan, and he had not expected her for a day or so. To his surprise he found her on the terrace, wrapped in furs, and evidently waiting for him.
"I wasn't enjoying it," she explained, when he had kissed her. "It's a summer place, not heated to amount to anything, and when it turned cold—where have you been tonight?"
"Dined at the Wards, and then took Elizabeth home."
"How is she?"
"She's well."
"And there's no news?"
He knew her very well, and he saw then that she was laboring under suppressed excitement.
"What's the matter, mother? You're worried about something, aren't you?"

"I have something to tell you. We'd better go inside."
He followed her in, unexcited and half smiling. Her world was a small one, of minor domestic difficulties, of not unfriendly gossip, of occasional money problems, investments and what not. He had seen her hands tremble over a matter of a poorly served dinner. So he went into the house, closed the terrace window, and followed her to the library. When she had closed the door he recognized her old tactics when the servants were in question.
"Well," he inquired, "I suppose you saw her face. 'Sorry, mother. What's the trouble?'"
"Wallie, I saw Dick Livingstone in Chicago."
During August Dick had labored in the alfalfa fields of Central Washington, a harvest hand or "working stiff," as three out of his arms.

BORATED TALCUM

the little laboratory; the church on Sunday mornings; Mike whitening his teeth. A wave of love washed him, a great surging tenderness. He would go back to them. They were his home, his life, his love. It was at first only a great emotion; a tingling joyousness, a vast relief, as of one who sees, in a far distance, the lights in the windows of home. Save for the gap between the drunken revel and the dawn and his awakening to a clarity of mind like that of the morning. He felt almost an exultation. He stood up and threw out his arms.
It was all his again, never to lose; the old house, and David and Lucy; and he took the distance easily. He had never fully accepted him, walked between wire fences, behind which horses moved uneasily as he passed, and cattle slept around a water hole, and as he walked he faced a situation which all day he had labored like three men to evade.

Catholic Women's League Holds Its Annual Meeting

A year of useful activity was reviewed last night in reports read at the second annual meeting of the St. John sub-division of the Catholic Women's League in the Knights of Columbus hall. Mrs. F. J. Power, the acting president, was in the chair.

The report of the secretary, Miss M. Carey, was a special feature of the evening. While containing a full record of the year's events, clearly given, it was also a fine literary effort and a special tribute of praise was extended to Miss Carey by the diocesan president, Mrs. D. F. Chisholm, who was present and gave a short address during the evening. The meeting was largely attended and opened with the singing of "O Canada."

The reports of the standing committees were presented by the conveners as follows: Social committee, Mrs. J. L. Squire; girls' work committee, Miss Katherine F. O'Neill; physical committee, Miss Elizabeth McGuffigan; religious committee, Mrs. Margaret Brennan; matron of Rosary Hall, Mrs. M. Owens; and immigration committee, Mrs. J. E. Owens.

The financial statement of the physical committee was presented by Miss K. E. Lawlor and showed that the total cost of the gymnasium classes during the year had been $1,164. After deducting these expenses the committee had on hand a balance of $186.

The treasurer, Miss M. E. Kane, submitted a statement of all the funds of the society, showing that during the year the total receipts amounted to $8,896.28. There was a balance of more than $300 on hand.

The new directors elected last night were as follows: Mrs. Richard O'Brien, Mrs. M. E. Agar, Mrs. Louis Cousens, Mrs. E. J. Ryan, Mrs. J. E. Owens, Mrs. H. J. Sullivan, Miss A. McGuffigan, Miss Elizabeth McGuffigan and Miss Katherine Kane.

The report of the recording secretary, Miss Mary R. Chrym was in part as follows:

"The St. John Sub-Division has rendered assistance on Roshmond Day and helped in the tagging for the Boy Scouts, Health Centre, Anti-Tuberculosis Society, 'Victorian' Orphan's Home, the Hilton Belfry Fund, the War Memorial Fund and Poppy Days and sold badges for the skating championship races. Miss Josephine Lynch, Mrs. Edward J. Ryan, Mrs. Herbert J. Flaherty, Mrs. John E. Owens and Mrs. James Emery were the conveners of the committees.

At the first meeting of the new board the following delegates to the Local Council of Women were appointed: Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, Mrs. James McMurray, Mrs. Louis Cousens, Mrs. Herbert J. Flaherty and Miss Josephine Lynch.

At the Dominion Convention held at Winnipeg in September our sub-division was represented by Mrs. David P. Chisholm, Mrs. John E. Owens and Mrs. Richard O'Brien.

In December, the Local Council of Women asked our sub-division to name a representative for the Municipal Home Board. Mrs. David P. Chisholm was chosen for the position.

Our delegates to the Diocesan Sub-division are: Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, Mrs. James McMurray, Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, Mrs. Harry Sullivan, Mrs. Frank McCafferty, Miss Ellen T. Reid, and Miss Katharine O'Neill with Mrs. Alexander Gibb and Miss Elizabeth McGuire substitutes.

Our general secretary, Miss Mary Kilbuck, continues to conduct all our correspondence, unusually heavy this year owing to the gymnasium business. To Rev. Father Duke and all our grateful thanks for the interest shown in our work and for the many helpful suggestions that have facilitated our undertakings.

The earliest perfumes were dry, resinous gums of fragrant trees.

THUGS THWARTED BY ELDERLY MAN

Though Sandbagged, Knife-grinder Turned Bandits to Flight.

Montreal, May 17.—Although seriously injured by a blow from a "blackjack" in the shape of a crude sandbag, and threatened by two bandits brandishing revolvers, Francis Bergeron, 55 years of age, more than held his own when he was attacked in his little shop at 21 St. George street, where he keeps a knife and scissors grinding establishment.

Confident that they were dealing with a feeble old man, the two thugs entered the store, and one of them presented a razor to be sharpened. As he held it out he deliberately dropped it, and Bergeron stooped to pick it up. At that moment he was struck on the head. Although "sandbagged," the knife-sharpener managed to react to his assailants, and he was again struck. This time the bag burst, and the sand flew about, confusing the attackers more than the attack.

Making everything of the situation, Bergeron made a rush for them and wrested a 22-calibre revolver from his assailant with the sandbag. They turned and fled. Bergeron, who is nursing an ugly scalp wound, told the following story last night at his home at St. Paul's Hotel.

"There were two of them, both under 25 years of age, well built and well dressed. One of them advanced to my counter and held out a razor which he said needed sharpening. Just as I was about to take it he let it slip from his fingers to my side of the counter. As I stooped down to pick it up, I felt a terrific blow on the back of my head which knocked me to my knees. I tried to get up, but received another blow in the same place which sent me sprawling. This made me really angry. Partially blinded by the sand, I sprang up and grabbed hold of the man by the collar and attempted to pull him over the counter. He pulled out a revolver, but I succeeded in taking it away and striking him a couple of blows in the face with it. I was so angry my one idea was to drag him across the counter and walk all over his face."

While Bergeron was struggling with the first thug, the second, seeing that all was not proceeding as planned, made himself scarce as fast as he could. Bergeron delivered several additional uppercuts, increasing the first bandit's desire to adopt the strategic policy of his friend. Finally he freed himself with a wrench, leaving his collar and a piece of his shirt in Bergeron's hand as a souvenir of his visit.

Being in complete possession of the field and of the enemy's arms, Bergeron saw no immediate necessity of informing the police and departed for St. Paul's Hotel, where he lives. On his return he notified the police of the Cheneville street station, who informed the Detective Bureau.

Ailing Children Get Well on Laxative Syrup Pepsin

A small dose at bedtime brings relief and laughter by morning.

HOSPITAL and doctor's records prove that 75 per cent. of human ills has its origin in the intestinal canal, complicated with what is commonly called constipation. Realizing what a figure in man, mothers should contrive methods of handling their children while they are in the hospital. Like the nurse, they should prevent those future dangers of constipation. Teach children regularity of bowel movement, and be especially watchful of young girls. Insist on two passages a day until the age of 18, when one is usually given plenty of cranberry and apple, plenty of butter because it lubricates the intestines and encourages the drinking of water.

If you detect restlessness, belching, gas or wind on the stomach, sleeplessness, or lack of appetite, examine the tongue and you will find it coated, accompanied by unpleasant breath. The child is bilious, constipated. According to age, give from one-half to one teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

Mr. A. F. Lithgow of Montreal, keeps his family well in that way, and Mrs. E. Whalley of Winnipeg, Man., has been using Laxative Syrup Pepsin for her baby her mother and herself. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable compound of Egyptian sena and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The formula, however, is on every package. Druggists have sold it with satisfaction to their customers for over 30 years, and it is now the largest selling family laxative in the world. Buy a bottle today. It will last for months, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

EUROPE COOL TOWARD ICE REPORTS STORAGE EXPERT

George Dunning, on Ordnua, Says Rome Consumers Only Five Tons a Day.

New York, May 17.—George Dunning, president of the Ice and Cold Storage Company of Philadelphia, who arrived here on the Royal Mail liner Ordnua, reported his surprise at the sparing use of ice throughout Europe. In Great Britain, he said, it is occasionally employed in making cocktails. In Paris its use was first introduced by the American doughboy, he declared, but in Rome, the oldest of European cities, he found only one ice plant, which turned out the commodity in fifty-pound lots, the total output being from three to five tons daily.

Baron Trenner, director of the London Traders' Company, also a passenger on the Ordnua, is here to purchase automobile parts. He said the trend in England today is toward lighter cars, due to the high cost of petrol. Because of the price of fuel, he added, the average man in England cannot afford to operate a Ford.

The Ordnua brought 227 passengers from Hamburg, Cherbourg and Southampton.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

This being Children's Week and tomorrow being a school holiday the local branch of the National Council on Religious Education will have a special entertainment for children in the Y. W. C. A. recreational centre, King Street East at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning. It will take the form of a story-telling hour, Canon Armstrong will tell a religious story, Dr. McIntosh a nature story, and representatives from the Health Centre will tell stories and give demonstrations. All children of the city are invited and it is free to all. Mrs. L. W. Simms has general charge of the arrangements. Children's Week is also marked by displays in a number of store windows.

A. C. Gorham, director of the summer school of rural science at Sussex, was in the city yesterday conferring with Dr. William McIntosh on school matters. He left last evening for Fredericton. The school will be in session about four weeks, opening about the middle of July. It is expected that this year will tell the largest attendance so far recorded. A strong staff of teachers will be on hand.

STEAMSHIP GOES ON QUAGO LEDGE

The Norwegian S. S. Pluto strikes in Thick Fog.

On Way to Walton for Plaster Cargo—Works Off the Rocks and Comes to St. John Leaking.

The Norwegian steamship Pluto struck on Quago Ledge about 6 o'clock this morning in dense fog, according to wireless reports, is leaking. She managed to pull off the ledge about 7:30 o'clock under her own power and left for this port for a survey of damage and temporary repairs. The tug Margaret A. Hackett was sent down after her by Mr. Knight & Co., the local agents for the ship but up to one o'clock no word had been received as to whether or not she had met her.

The Pluto is a Norwegian vessel of 882 tons registered in command of Captain Mollerhaug. She was en route from New York to Walton, N. S., to load plaster for the United States ports, having been chartered to make several trips this season. She was on her way to Walton when she went ashore in the fog. A wireless from the steamship about ten o'clock said she was on her way to St. John and was leaking. The Margaret A. Hackett was sent to her assistance, equipped with a wreck pump to help in keeping the water down.

The Pluto arrived off Partridge Island about 12:30 o'clock but, owing to the fog, it could not be seen if she had met the tug. This steamer was held up off Partridge Island for some days earlier in the spring, while on her way from here to Windsor. It was said this afternoon that the ship would be run into Market Slip for a survey.

A wireless message from the Pluto as she was passing Cape Spencer at 11:30 o'clock said that the tug Hackett had not yet reached her. She was reported as being close to the island at one o'clock and the pilots were waiting to bring her into the harbor and to dock her in Market Slip as quickly as possible.

Tanker Was on Mud

The oil tanker Anav struck on the mud flats in Courtenay Bay last night but was refloated with practically no damage. According to an official of the Canadian Independent Oil Co., Ltd., this morning, the vessel was going up Courtenay Bay in the fog and struck on the mud. The ballast tanks were pumped out and the ship floated with out any assistance. It was noted that there had been no damage and that the accident would not interfere with her sailing for Fall River, owing to which port she cleared yesterday. The company official said she was now lying off Partridge Island waiting for the fog to clear.

HYDRO WILL RIVAL COAL FOR HEATING

A Demonstration in Toronto—Messrs. Smalley and Sutherland Tell of Toronto Experiment.

Can hydro be used profitably for heating purposes? Two gentlemen from Toronto who are now in St. John assert that it can, and that eventually an immense amount of heating in Ontario will be done by the hydro current. These gentlemen are A. C. Smalley, president, and R. A. Sutherland, secretary-treasurer, of the Buffalo Electric Co. Ltd., of Toronto and Fort Erie. Both are well known in St. John, having both been in business here in this city, and they are being heartily greeted by old friends.

In reply to a question Mr. Sutherland said they had last winter heated a store in Bloor street, Toronto, with an area of 600 square feet, with one of their Tropical Super Heaters, and the cost was only ten per cent. more than that of coal heating, while there were the advantages of constant heat, no ashes to remove or coal to handle or furnace to tend. The owner of the store was an engineer, and his testimony was that despite the severity of last winter he had never known such comfort and freedom from trouble. Mr. Sutherland said his company had made this demonstration in the face of assertions by scientific men that the cost could not be made to approximate that of coal produced heat. He is perfectly confident that the cost will be further reduced, and the use of this form of heating become almost universal to the extent of the current available in Ontario.

Mr. Smalley and Mr. Sutherland are in St. John because we are to have hydro, and they are showing their "Tropical Heater" and some other electrical equipment at the King street store of T. McAvity & Sons.

Referring to conditions in Ontario, Mr. Smalley said that if St. John people could visit that province, and see not only what is found in the John's area towns but see the farmers using electricity for all purposes and enjoying life as never before, they would appreciate better the great benefits of cheap light and power.

With regard to the cost in Toronto, he said the bill of an electrically equipped house, with light and electrical devices for household work including cooking—but not heating—is from $1 to $2 for two months. The average householder's bill is so small that as a matter of economy in book-keeping the bills are rendered only once in two months.

In addition to the electric water heater Messrs. Smalley and Sutherland have a portable heater in the form of a reflector which rapidly diffuses heat through a room. They anticipate that with the advent of hydro the people of New Brunswick will quickly follow the example of those of Ontario and use electricity for very many purposes.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Dunlop in the presence of immediate friends. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit with hat to match and mink tie, the gift of the groom. After luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith left on the four o'clock train for Montreal and Toronto, on their return they will reside at 14 Pitt street. Many beautiful and useful presents were received.

REUNION OF OLD 36TH BATTERY

Will be Held in Sydney—They Trained in Fredericton—Want Miss Canada.

St. John, N. B., May 16.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—An enclosed extract from a letter which I have just received from H. D. Jack of Sydney, one of the committee in charge, and by the way, a brother of Miss Margaret Jack of the S. C. H. staff, speaks for itself.

Perhaps you will give this matter some publicity, on account of the fact that although this Battery was organized in Sydney it was trained in Fredericton, in the winter of 1918 and returned to St. John on the 1st of March, 1916, spending four days in the harbor. The 36th Battery, afterwards sunk by a German submarine. On account of having trained in New Brunswick, quite a number of N. B. boys joined with the Battalion to fill vacancies, etc. To give any of these men who have not received an invitation the information about this reunion, a little publicity would be appreciated.

Yours very truly,
JOHN MACKINNON.
A Notable Reunion.

Sydney, N. S., May 11, 1923.

Dear John,—The old 86th is to hold a grand reunion on May 22nd, and we would be most pleased to have you attend, if at all possible.

We are making a special effort to get in touch with all outside boys, and you might pass the word along to any you might know of, or you can also show this letter to the St. John papers, and they might give us a little mention.

Major McKinnon will be with us, and, of course, Major Crowe, and possibly Capt. Taylor (the padre). We have also extended an invitation to "Miss Canada," who is to be in Sydney on May 24th.

After a banquet for ourselves (36th) at the Norfolk, we will proceed to King's dance hall for the remainder of the evening, so you see for yourself that it is going to be an affair of some size.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) H. D. JACK.

NO MILK WAR; PRICE GOES UP

One Cent Advance to Go Into Effect in City on Next Monday.

A milk strike in the city has been averted. The terms of the Kings county producers were met and forty-eight cents per quart and the retail price advanced one cent on Monday next. The wholesale price of milk will be twelve cents per quart and the retail price fourteen cents. The decision to advance the price was reached at a meeting last evening of the John Milk Dealers' Association with the president, J. M. Riley, in the chair. The decision was unanimous. The supply today was nearly normal.

HONOR MEMBERS WHO WENT TO WAR

Include Two Who Gave Lives—Tablet Unveiled in N. B. Telephone Co. Building.

The unveiling of a memorial tablet in honor of members of the staff who made the supreme sacrifice during the Great War and of those who served with various Canadian units, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the New Brunswick Telephone Company Ltd. building, Chipman Hill. The ceremony was an impressive one and was witnessed by a large number of citizens, in addition to members of the company's staff who were able to be absent from their duties at that time, and shareholders of the company. Directors of the company were also present as there was a board meeting held in the city this morning.

Following the unveiling of "O Canada," the tablet was unveiled by Miss Ida Speer, chief operator at St. George's after which the "Last Post" was sounded by Sgt. Hugh Yearwood. A dedication prayer was then offered by Major (Rev.) H. B. Clarke, and an address delivered by Richard O'Leary, vice-president of the company. The ceremony was brought to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

The inscription and a list of the names on the tablet follows:

The Law For Dogs And The Laws For Humans

In an interview with The Times today a lady expressed herself in the following terms:— "Isn't the City Council rather engaged in the old act of straining at gnats and swallowing camels when it encourages so much time and attention being given to the capture of a few small dogs, and leaves free so many people who are engaged in business which wrecks lives, morals and happiness?"

"We are all lovers of flowers, but most of us love children; and is there any happier sight than a small boy with his pup—maybe just a yellow cur, but his own dog? Surely the dog who is a child's pet could be allowed to live—even at the expense of one or two plants in the square."

"That excellent society, The Animal Rescue League, has for years mercifully destroyed any diseased animals. Many animal lovers are asking: Are the vagrant dogs kindly treated while they are under sentence, and when death is their penalty for living, are they painlessly put to sleep?"

"One supposes that the law must be told in solemn tones: The law must be kept, but when drunken men are allowed to walk on the public streets of our city—in spite of the prohibition laws—the writer saw three in one afternoon this week when the law regarding expectation is almost a dead letter, and when, as has been stated in the press, gambling and other much worse vices flourish, to the thinking person it would seem rather unnecessary to execute a few pets while these frightful evils are rampant."

TO WED DANCER

Northesk Crosses Ocean to Marry Jessica Brown

The Accepted Him as a Regular Fellow, and He Regularly Her "Grandest Girl in the World"—She Meets Him as Olympic Arrives.

(Canadian Press.) New York, May 17.—David Earl of Northesk, who won a promise of marriage from Jessica Brown, cabaret dancer, because she thought him a regular fellow, arrived yesterday on the Olympic, hoping for an early wedding to the "grandest girl in the world."

Jessica, who ended a dancing engagement in London in March and returned to her home in Buffalo to plan a gorgeous wedding with all kinds of frills, was at the foot of the gang-plank, all a-flutter when the Olympic docked, thirty-six hours late.

Northesk, dashing member of an old Scottish family, appeared quite all Miss Brown said he was, a trapping fellow, a gorgeous wedding with all kinds of frills, was at the foot of the gang-plank, all a-flutter when the Olympic docked, thirty-six hours late.

Northesk probably will stay in New York a day or two before going to Buffalo. He was accompanied to New York by John F. C. Ogle, a comrade, who will be best man at the wedding.

VETERAN BRITISH SOCIALIST WRITER PRAISES HY. FORD

Robt. Blatchford, Writing in London Chronicle, Says Flivver Maker is in Touch With Human Nature.

London, April 10.—(By mail)—Commenting in the Sunday Chronicle on Henry Ford's recently published book, "My Life and Work," Robert Blatchford, a Socialist writer, says: "I am an old Socialist and spent many years in trying to find a way out of our industrial morass. Mr. Ford has found a better way. His way is in closer touch with human nature, is more harmonious with the facts. He has found in time what I found too late—that the masses of the people, spoken of as the wage-earners, or the wage slaves, or the workers, are a fragment of the enthusiastic reformer's brain. Democracy is described as the rule of the majority. But the fact is the majority do not want to rule. They will not take the trouble; they are incapable; they do not want to be bothered. What they do want is a fairly comfortable and not too laborious living, with plenty of simple pleasure and amusement. The masses are not ambitious. They prefer to be directed and led. And Mr. Ford shows the majority of workers do not hunger for a better job with more brain work and more responsibility. They prefer a regular and tranquil life." With regard to Mr. Ford's industrial achievement Mr. Blatchford says: "No state-controlled or communal business could produce such results," and adds: "We cannot succeed in industry or business by a control of committees, not even committees of Ford and Fochs. The true way is to put the one Ford or the one Foch in command."

Prominent Real Estate Man Praised Tanlac

"I was about the first man in Montreal to buy Tanlac when it was put on sale here, and ever since then I have been one of its firmest friends," declared Mr. S. Chaille, 94 De Grange St., Montreal, Que. Mr. Chaille has been in the real estate business for twenty years and is well known throughout the city. "I was feeling greatly in need of a tonic at that time," he continued, "and the medicine promptly built me up and I was soon back in fine health. I have been strong and well ever since, until a few weeks ago when I began to get weaker and felt all tired out, and was afraid I would catch the grip if I didn't keep fit. So I went back to Tanlac and am now taking it with the same good results I got before. It certainly is a dependable medicine." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. No substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

THE WAR MEMORIAL.

To the Editor of the Times:—As the matter of erecting the proposed monument on honor of the heroes of the Great War seems to be meeting with some difficulty in securing subscriptions to the desired amount, it occurred to the writer that it might not be too late to suggest the consideration of an alternative scheme, necessitating a much smaller expenditure. The conspicuous absence of any public timepiece of a high order, designed and located so as to be clearly visible in the most frequented centre of traffic and business has frequently been criticised. It would seem that a high grade clock with four illuminated dials of not less than fifteen feet diameter and erected on a more or less ornamental tower at a height of perhaps fifty or sixty feet would be of great benefit to almost every citizen and visitor and would be daily consulted by thousands. Such a clock could be arranged to correct itself to a fraction of a second. The practical value of such a clock in such a location cannot very well be over estimated and as is done in many clock towers in the Old Country, the same would furnish an opportunity for a rest room or a public lavatory. Such a clock as a memorial to the heroes of the war would be an extremely beneficial service in the public eye and also supply an extremely necessary public utility. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, if you will kindly bring this suggestion to the notice of the public through the columns of your valuable paper, I am, Yours truly, GEO. J. BARRETT.

SCHOOL BOY MEET

Programme and List of Entries of Lads for Friday Afternoon's Sports.

The school boy athletic meet under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will begin on Friday afternoon at 2:30. The first event will be the 75 yards dash in class I, in which there are five heats, with two semi-finals and the final. This will be followed by the 220 yard run, in which there will be four heats, two semi-finals and a final. The running broad jump (in which there are twenty-four entries) will come next, to be completed with the relay races. Seven schools have entered relay teams, and this event promises to be the most exciting on the card. The following is a line-up of the heats and events in Class I.

CASSED OVERSEAS SHELL SHOCKED and RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Meslinville, Alta., writes:—"After three years' service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed, and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel hand pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Blurburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved. Price 50c. a box at all dealers on mail order. Send for price list by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Murray McAulay, James Rawlings, Roy Cochrane. Dufferin School—J. Mowry, C. Mowry, M. Harrison, B. Budoch. LaTour School—P. Mehan, L. Leonard, A. Merryweather, A. Wilson. Victoria School—George Meier, Don Hatfield, R. Stewart, K. Oram. Winter St. School—Whittaker, Boyce, Maxwell, F. Morgan. St. Malachi's School—I. Peterson, G. Burns, A. Burns, P. McGrattan. Alexandria School—O. Stewart, D. Andrews, H. Livingston. The track is in first class shape. Recent rains and constant attention have assisted in the work. Saturday's programme will be a heavy one; two classes will be run off, commencing at 2:30 p. m.

Relieved Her Of Headaches. Headache seems to be habitual with many people, and some, if any, are seldom free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief. In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to the removal of the cause, and with the cause removed the headaches will vanish. It is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of every description than that equalled by B. B., acting as it does on every organ of the system. Mrs. Douglas Rieborough, 280 McKeown St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I suffered from severe headaches for a considerable length of time. I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I feel that it helped me wonderfully. It relieved the headaches, and I need no longer suffer from them. I feel that I have a decided improvement in my health."

TODDLER FALLS TO DEATH

Georgetown, Ont., May 17.—The two-year-old son of Edward King was instantly killed by falling from the railway bridge here. The child was thrown from home, presumably following his father to work. He fell between the cross beams, a distance of 12 feet.

To Make Hairs Vanish From Face, Neck and Arms

(Beauty Culture). Keep a little powdered delatone handy and when hairy growths appear make a paste with some of the powder and a little water, then spread over hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or bluish tinge. This simple treatment is unfailing, but care should be exercised to be sure and get genuine delatone, otherwise you may be disappointed.

TO RELIEVE PAIN AND BACKACHE

Women May Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I decided to try it when I realized I needed to take some medicine to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds but now I have had such good results that I am recommending it to every one. I am a subscriber to THE LITTLE PINKHAM, 18th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn."

Find a True Friend

"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 2227 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

Two boys, John Cunningham, 14, of Chatham, and Gerald Landry, 13, of Moncton, escaped last evening from the Boys' Industrial Home, and, when last seen, were proceeding towards Coldbrook. The police of the province have been notified to look out for them and their arrest is expected at any time. It is said that Cunningham has escaped three times previously and that Landry has made at least one other attempt to get away.

The Seven Seas Chapter, I.O.E.F., held a very successful bridge last evening at the residence of Mrs. L. M. Farquhar, Queen street. The rooms were very prettily decorated. Mrs. Farquhar was assisted by Mrs. A. M. Fleming and Miss Mildred Wilson. The prize-winners were as follows:—Ladies, first, Mrs. D. P. Mahoney; second, Mrs. A. F. Blake; gentleman, first, H. Phillips; second, Murray Nixon.

They are convenient, gentle in action and positive in their excellent results.

Beecham's Pills. DRECO CURED HIS RHEUMATISM. Railroadman Gets First Relief in Ten Years—Now Enjoys Work, Free From Agonies of Rheumatism—Gives All Credit to Dreco. Mr. Costley, of Fairville, N. B., a railroad fireman of several years' standing, suffered untold agonies from rheumatism of the joints and muscles and many a time he has dropped, almost exhausted, from his cab at the end of a hard run. Grit and determination alone kept him going until his fortunate discovery of Dreco, two bottles of which have driven the excruciating pains from his system and brought him the career's happiness of abundance of good health. Read Mr. Costley's own story. "I have been troubled with rheumatism of the joints and muscles for the last ten years and as I am employed on the C. P. R. as a fireman on the trains, I suffered terribly at times. I tried all kinds of medicines but got no satisfaction or relief from them. Finally I tried Dreco. Now my pains are all gone and I feel fine and frisky as a colt. I strongly recommend Dreco to anyone suffering from rheumatism. I know what it did for me." Dreco is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King street. It is also sold by Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward street, and F. W. Munro, 357 Main street. It is also sold in Fairville by J. Wilson, in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop, and by a good druggist everywhere.

UPTON SINCLAIR IN POLICE COURT. Los Angeles, Cal., May 17.—Upton Sinclair, author and socialist, and his brother-in-law, Hunter Skimbro, and Hugh Hardman, arrested at San Pedro, following their attempt to make open air addresses at what is known as "Liberty Hill," were arraigned in police court yesterday on a complaint charging a conspiracy to commit a breach of the peace and obstruct traffic. They entered pleas of not guilty, and were released $500 bonds. Their trial was set for June 12.

THREE, WHO PASSED 40 YEARS IN PRISON, GETS 12 MONTHS MORE. London, April 20.—(By Mail).—Fredrick Osborne, seventy-one years old, said to have spent forty years in prison, was charged at Liverpool yesterday with the theft of 2700 worth of jewelry from Croxteth Hall, the residence of the Countess of Sefton, says a "London Daily News" item. Osborne said his method was to walk boldly into a large house and, if unchallenged, steal any jewelry he could lay his hands on. If he was intercepted he would protest he had made a mistake and ask his way to another house the name of which he had ascertained beforehand. The accused said he attributed his original fall to the influence of an ex-convict who persuaded him to go astray. After serving his first sentence the ex-convict haunted him until he again fell. Osborne was sentenced to twelve months' hard labor.

Use the Want Ad. Way

SAYS UHLEIN HAS NOW CRAWFISHED. Some Striking Quotations by Covey from Letters About Fitzgerald and Skating Situation. A. W. Covey has issued a statement in reply to Henry Uhlein regarding the skating situation. He charges the latter with making a complete somersault at the behest of Julian T. Fitzgerald, and quotes in support the charge from a letter written by Fitzgerald to Uhlein last month in which the former said: "I am in a position to bring up some things against the actions of officials of the I. S. U. in the past; that the removal of the skating public at large would like to read about, and if you will get down to a general housecleaning. This is all right with me, for if you want a general housecleaning, I am fully prepared to assist in the cleaning. You are going to dig into petty charges that there is going to be a lot of bad things brought out and I can state this time they will not be against Fitzgerald, either."

THIS NURSE SENDS A MESSAGE TO EVERY WOMAN IN CANADA. Brantford, Ont.—"During twenty-one years of experience at nursing, I not only took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription myself to keep up my health and strength, but I have also recommended it to many a patient, especially to prospective mothers, and think it is by far the best tonic and nerve that a woman can take, and, for that reason I give it my highest endorsement."—Mrs. A. A. Fougier, 41 Sheridan Street. Health is most important to every woman. You cannot afford to neglect it when your neighborhood druggist can supply you with Favorite Prescription, in tablets or liquid. This Prescription is made in Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeport, Ont. Send 10 cents there if you wish a trial package.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With. When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulford's will make an emulsion of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. You can get Mulford's coconut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure and ask for "Mulford's." Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. "I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. Today I feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work without that dreadful tired feeling."

Miss Robinson for jumping her hotel bill, Miss Robinson for that matter is no longer an amateur in my mind, but an out and out pro. On April 17 Mr. Uhlein wrote to Mr. Covey: "Do not worry about Fitzgerald telling you that the evidence should have been turned over to the Secretary as the proper method of procedure. This is all right. What a cinch it would be for Fitzgerald, who is hand-in-glove with this secretary to get this stuff and then kill it. In conclusion Mr. Covey says:—"I think the sporting public of the Maritime Provinces, after reading the extracts from bona fide signed letters which I have in my possession, will be convinced that any charges, accusations or insinuations which I have made against the officials and certain skating taking part in the International Skating Meet, and later in the "harnstorming" tour of the Maritime Provinces are positively substantiated. I have done my duty as I have seen it, and I am perfectly willing to leave the verdict to the general public."

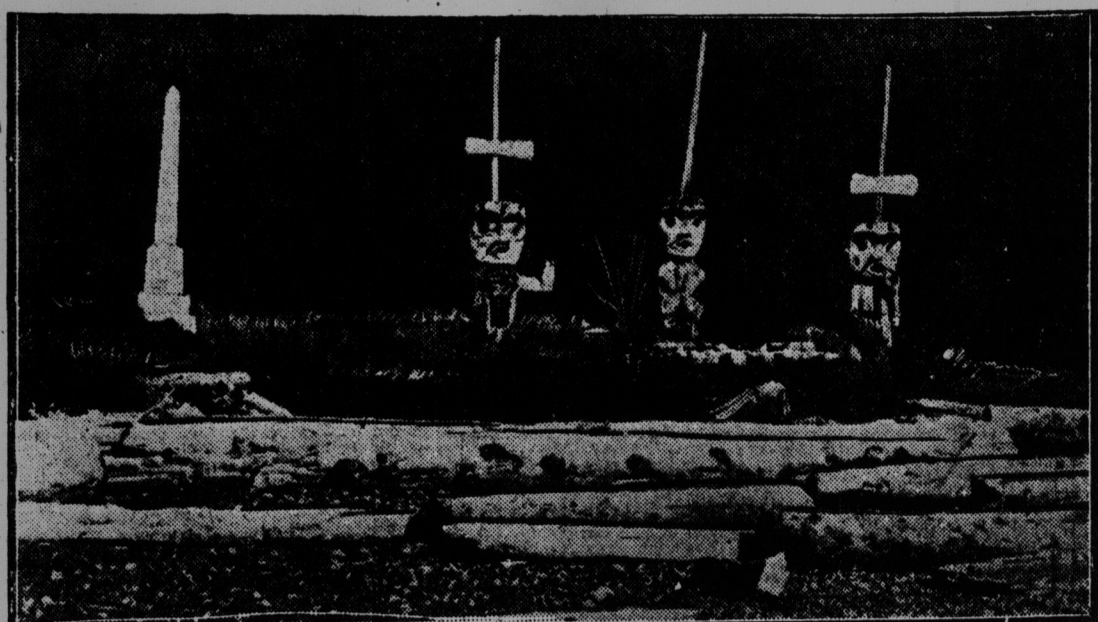

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired" Mrs. A. Moffat, Roxton Falls, Que., writes: "I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances. A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever depending on glasses. Eye troubles of every description may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopes-blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists.

Woman Is Regarded The Same Since Eve

Mr. Justice Swift Gives Advice in Court Case in London

London, May 1.—(By Mail)—"No body who is engaged to be married ever does come up to expectation. "Love is proverbially blind. "No doubt members of the jury know what it is to have courted an angel and found out after marriage she is mere human woman like the rest. "Everybody who starts on the other side of 30 starts with the idea that the lady is perfect, without flaw, and that no woman, since Eve, at any rate, has ever been created like her. "Yet everybody knows that other men's wives are sometimes perfect friends for temper. "These were some of the pearls of wisdom let fall by Mr. Justice Swift at the King's Bench when he summed up in a breach of promise action brought by Miss Dorothy Syda Betteridge, of Old Charlton, against Cecil Henry James Rhodes, a fitter. "The breach of promise was admitted and the jury awarded Miss Betteridge $250 damages. "After the evidence had concluded Mr. Justice Swift inquired where was the ground for pleading justification—the disclosure of character and temperament generally which unfitted her for matrimony? If Mr. Rhodes had idiosyncrasies which rendered Miss Betteridge's character and temperament suited to him, he should have thought of that before. "Later the judge remarked: "From the time of Eve has there ever been a woman who has not been angry if a man has made an engagement with her and has then forgotten it? "Summing up, the judge pointed out that the jury had nothing to do with those curious people who believed that actions for breach of promise of marriage should be abolished, and there should be a close time, called the engagement period, in which people should be able the better to make each other's acquaintance, and there should be an actual trial, so to speak, and either party should be allowed to draw back from it without any penalty. The view was wrong. "It was not enough for Mr. Rhodes to show that in some particular the lady did not come up to his expectations. "The mere fact that a woman had a temper did not render the unfit for matrimony; or half the population of the world would never have been born. "Half the wives in the world were women who at times could display a good deal of temper.

Englishman Tramps African Jungle on $25 and Ammunition

Starts Single Handed on Journey, Gets Native and Antelopes on Rout.

London, April 15.—(By mail).—To have walked 8,000 miles across tropical Africa, from Belra on the East Coast to Bomu in Belgian Congo on the West Coast, through dense jungle, his only companions a few native carriers, dependent for food upon wild animals he shot and upon the generosity of the natives, has been the accomplishment of Captain E. R. Murphy, late of the Dorset Regiment. "Captain Murphy, who arrived in London the other day, started from Belra on March 29, 1921, and his journey took him until February, 1922. He started with 25 "buli," he said, telling the story of his long tramp to The London Daily News. "I have returned to England with 250 in my pocket, which I made by working in different parts of the country on my travels. "From Belra, with half a dozen native boys, I made for the heart of tropical Africa, and found excellent shooting in Southern Rhodesia and was never at a loss for a meat meal. "Rhodesia is swarming with lions, buffalo and antelope. I shot thirty-three different types of the last-named. "The lion is a terrible coward, unless it is starving or has been injured. I have met lions face to face, and the beasts have raced away in terror. "From Belra, I secured a post as foreman of a gang of natives engaged in maintaining the permanent way of the railway, receiving £1 per day. After a month, during which I earned about £20, I started for the Victoria Falls. "I slept most nights in native villages, where the headmen gave me wonderful welcomes. English and French will carry a man through the heart of Central Africa today. There was nearly always a boy in the village who could understand one or both of the languages, and my mission being explained to the headmen, a fete would be held in my honor on the night of my arrival. "During the whole journey I never had a cross word with a native.

"A DASH OF SNOW. (Toronto Star). Because Toronto had ten snowless May in succession, there are those who now regard a few flurries as the omen of an inclement summer. But going back over a period of years, it will be found that a dash of snow in May is quite a usual thing. There is no reason to be alarmed about the season, nor about the prolongation of a "dreadful winter" into an abnormal summer. "Most of the jade carved in China comes from eastern Turkestan.

Success Is Guaranteed For Your Baking

QUAKER FLOUR must be not only the best in quality, but it must always be the same. We see to this by hourly tests during the milling process. But laboratory tests are not enough. Each day's milling is put to a practical test by our Master Baker. It must always measure up to the exact Quaker standard before it can go into the sack with the Quaker on it. All "chance" is taken out of your baking when you use Quaker Flour. "The happy baker uses Quaker."

OTTAWA PATRIOTIC FUND OFFICE CLOSED Ottawa, May 17.—With the closing of the Ottawa Patriotic Fund office, decided upon by a meeting of the executive recently, the curtain falls upon a phase of war activity which has out-lived the war by almost four years.

Only forty of the 5,400 cases ministered to through the local office since October, 1914, remain, and these are to be cared for by the head office. Since 1914 the local branch has attended to the needs of soldiers' families who came within the Government regulations for the payment of funds. To the end of April the Ottawa office paid out $1,207,202.89, which includes the cost of administration. Sir Henry Egan was the first president, since succeeded by D. M. Finlay. SERVAANT WAGES INCREASE 1,500 PER CENT. IN OSAKA Osaka, Japan, April 12.—(By The Associated Press).—(By mail)—The wages of servant girls in Osaka have gone up 1,800 per cent. in thirty years. The pay of men servants, printers, carpenters, and coolies has gone up in the same period of time, between 820 and 1,900 per cent. In 1891 servant girls got an average of eighty-three sen, or about forty-two cents a month. Today they are paid $7.50.

If you were your own landlord

PERHAPS you were once among the ranks of the "renters" and besought your landlord to paint here and replace there, to alter this or that. If he was a wise landlord he would willingly comply, well knowing the value of upkeep for maintaining his property. Now that you own your home and are your own landlord, are you as wise as he? The landlord realizes that only the clean, orderly house and well-kept grounds will attract the home seeker. He appreciates the worth of PAINT and VARNISH, both for keeping up appearances and for keeping down repairs. PAINT and VARNISH will renovate the old house, giving it a new lease of life. It will prevent the new house from growing old. The watchful landlord takes an inventory twice yearly of those places where the slightest wear and tear is apparent. He knows that a fresh coat of PAINT or VARNISH is never an extravagance.

JAPANESE FAST ENCROACHING ON WHITES IN AUSTRALIA
London, April 20.—(By mail.)—The present generation had to decide whether Australia should be peopled with men of her own color or those of darker breed, said Sir Matthew Nathan, Governor of Queensland, say a London Daily News despatch. Japan's population was increasing at the rate of 800,000 a year and life was rapidly growing more difficult. The country would soon become too full and there must then be an exodus. He did not mean that the Japanese planning aggressive action toward Australia, but that was the natural progress of things. Meaning the English and an outlet for their surplus population. Japan is seeking one.

CONFERENCE ON ADVERTISING

Convention of Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at Atlantic City Next Month.

Atlantic City, May 17—Developing new tasks for advertising will occupy a large portion of the discussion at the Monday morning session of the nineteenth annual world advertising convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which will open at Atlantic City on Sunday afternoon, June 3, with an inspirational meeting, at which Fred B. Smith of New York will speak on "Advertising and the World Outlook" based on a world tour which he has just made.

Monday morning's session will be devoted to a series of talks under the general theme, "New Tasks for Advertising," with the special theme for Monday afternoon, "What Advertising Has Done and Can Do for Four Great Commercial Fields." Under this head four subjects will be considered—agriculture, automotive, financial and public utilities.

Senator Edge, who is an advertising agent, will speak on "What the Government of the United States Has to Advertise," W. S. Crawford, vice-president of the Associated Advertising Clubs for Great Britain and Europe, "How Advertising Can Promote Better International Relations," Robert Lynn Cox, vice-president Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., New York, "Extending the Reach of Life," Mr. Cox is in charge of the successful publicity campaign of the Metropolitan, which is reaching a record of health and a longer life to millions.

Monday afternoon's topics will be "Agriculture," Carl Williams of Oklahoma, president of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, "Automotive," George M. Graham, vice-president and director of sales and advertising, Chandler Motor Sales, "Financial," "Public Utilities," Floyd W. Parsons, editor of Gas Age.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be occupied with conventions of the affiliated organizations, thirty groups representing thousands of business men and advertising executives, who will meet for the study of their own particular problems. Luncheons of the various groups will be held, with special programmes. The following groups will meet:

American Association of Advertising Agencies, Agricultural Publishers' Association, Advertising Specialty Association, Associated Business Papers, Inc., Associated Retail Advertisers, Church Advertising Association, Direct Mail Advertising Association, Directory and Reference Media Department, Financial Advertisers' Association, Industrial Advertisers' Association, National Association of Employing Lithographers, National Association of Newspaper Executives, National Association of Theatre Programme Publishers, National Advertising Association, Public Utilities Advertising Association, Screen Advertisers' Association, American Photo Engravers' Association, and Community Advertising Department.

The following conferences will be held: Club Secretaries, Junior Advertising Clubs, Classified Advertising Managers, Student Organization, Women's Conference, Teachers of Advertising and Premium Advertising, etc.

Wednesday afternoon will be given over to an interdepartmental session, when representatives from half a dozen departments will cover the meeting.

The keynote of Thursday morning will be important phases of the work of the Associated Advertising Clubs. Roger W. Babson, the famous statistician, Welleley Hills, Mass., will talk on "What the Associated Advertising Clubs Can Do for Business," Paul T. Cherington, chairman of the National Educational Committee, will talk on that subject; George W. Hopkins, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, will explain that branch; Gurney R. Lowe, the development of the Neosho Plan. The election will take place Thursday afternoon. There will be a Rotary Club luncheon on Tuesday, a Lions' luncheon on Wednesday, and Kiwanis luncheon Thursday. Exhibition by the U. S. Coast Guards and drill by the Atlantic City Beach Guards take Wednesday afternoon. The Poor Richard Club of Philadelphia will entertain the whole convention Wednesday evening at a beach party.

HEAVY TONE AS MARKET OPENS

Some Stocks Go to Low Records of Year in Wall Street—The Montreal Exchange.

New York, May 17—Selling of the copper shares was resumed at the opening of today's stock market, which displayed a heavy tone. Anaconda and Ray Coppers duplicated their lows of the year. Standard Oil of New Jersey and Missouri Pacific also sold at new low prices. Most of the initial changes were of a fractional nature.

NOON REPORT.

New York, May 17—The strong buying support forthcoming for such leaders as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Can and California Petroleum caused a shifting of bear attacks to stock of companies which have been subjected to unfavorable conditions.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

Montreal, May 17—Cement preferred was the only stock to show any activity at the opening of today's market, selling unchanged at 108. Quebec's close to 102. One sale of Union Bank took place at 138, a drop of 3 points from yesterday's close.

NEWS NOTES OF STOCK INTEREST

(McDougall & Cowan) New York, May 17.—Cru. Steel declared regular 1.8-4 per cent quarterly preferred dividend pay June 30, record June 15.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(McDougall & Cowan) New York, May 17.—Yesterday's market showed indications of any change in the attitude of the public toward the market. There was no demand for stocks on the top of the rally and prices easily sold off at the close.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, May 17—Commission house buying said to be based on unfavorable crop reports from the southwest. The market for wheat advanced a little higher in price today during the latter part of the session.

OPINIONS ON THE STOCK MARKET

(McDougall & Cowan) New York, May 17.—Thomson McKinnon—"One of these days, when least expected, this market will make a run that will scare the bears just as it previously did the bulls."

DOMESTIC MINE

Toronto, May 17—An amendment to the Companies Act introduced by W. F. German in the House of Commons, it is said here, is designed to enable the Dome Mine to split its stock four to one, under Federal charter.

TANKER WAS AFIRE.

Panama, May 17—The British tanker, Mima, carrying 6,000 tons of oil from Talara to Havana, caught fire last night at Cristobal, while passing through the canal from Balboa.

How an Investment of $5,000 Made $21,000 Within a Year

"Did you notice that chap who just went out?" I turned in the direction of the only other occupant of the smoking compartment of the car and found him addressing me. "Not especially," I replied. "Why?" "Whenever I meet him I always think of automobiles."

"I had always been his ambition to own an automobile, which he bought for $3,500." "I had just returned from the gold mining camps of Northern Ontario, and met him one evening in the King Edward Hotel. "We were having dinner together, and knowing that I had made money in mining, he finally asked me what I thought about the possibilities of gold."

Entertainment For The Boy Scouts

Several amateur actors of East St. John last night successfully staged the three-act comedy, "Country Folks," in the East St. John Community Hall. The play was given in an excellent manner and reflected great credit on the director, J. H. McKenna, and the other members of the cast.

The cast of characters was as follows: Josiah Dean, an old farmer, Sydney Edwards; Martha Dean, his wife, Mrs. J. H. MacKenzie; Nathaniel Dean, and Polly Dean, their children, Jacob Ryan, Myrtle Gordon; Lorna Lane, a seamstress, Violet Wood; Orlan Schuyler, the postmaster, J. H. McKenna; Prudence Schuyler, his daughter, Jean McAllister; Peter Patch, the chore boy, John Gibbs; Horatio Finch, a country lawyer, James Besanson; Alvina Berry, a neighbor, Florence Gordon; Jake Diemer, the village barber, George Gordon.

Yeast For Flesh Iron For Blood

New Combination Builds Strength in Ten Days

You need to enrich the blood with iron at the same time you use yeast to put flesh on. So scientists have perfected a new combination, Ironized Yeast, that beats anything you ever saw for putting real stay-there strength into pale, thin, run-down folks.

In as short a time as ten days, and in many cases even more quickly than that, Ironized Yeast starts increase and sets in appetite that proves beyond question its amazing health-building power. The iron strengthens and revitalizes the blood, while the yeast builds firm solid flesh, and corrects constipation difficulties.

So scientists now agree that brewers' yeast is the richest source of vitamins known. So thousands of pale, sick and underweight people are gaining health and strength through Ironized Yeast, which is a combination of iron and other valuable tonic ingredients with yeast imported from Best Ale Brewery, England, and especially concentrated under the process recommended by Dr. A. Seidel, of the Hygienic Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Get Ironized Yeast from your druggist today. It is convenient and pleasant to take, being in handy tablet form. The ten-day treatment costs only $1. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

The Natural History Museum has received from Mrs. George H. Calkin a collection of magazines in which historical records are contained. It consists of six complete volumes and two part volumes of Academics. Of the International magazine, a St. John publication, there are two complete volumes of the Canadian History supplement to the Educational Review, the New Brunswick magazine and the New Brunswicker. The society is very grateful for the gift.

I. O. G. T. League Ends The Season With Banquet

The final event of the I. O. G. T. bowling league season was a banquet last night in the Dominion Lodge. I. O. G. T. hall given by the Wide-Awake Circle under the leadership of Mrs. T. H. Brown. E. N. Stockford was toastmaster. The National Anthem was sung in response to the toast to the King. The toast to the bowling league was proposed by James McEachern and responded to by T. D. Owens. Arthur Harris sang a solo and Miss Nettie Lemon and Miss Lena Lemon gave a duet.

E. N. Stockford presented the Bowling League cup to the winning team, Dominion Lodge, and each member of the team spoke briefly in reply. The members of the team are Garfield Lemon, captain; Harry E. MacMurray, Charles Cronk, Charles Fullerton, Stanley Graham and B. L. Kirkpatrick. Bruce Mealy read an original poem that was well received and Frank Stanton contributed a piano solo.

B. L. Kirkpatrick made the presentation of the prize for the high average man, which was won by Garfield Lemon and was a pair of boots donated by Dominion Lodge. Mr. Lemon's average was 90-16-27.

The toast to the Ladies was proposed by Stanley Graham and responded to by Mrs. T. D. Brown. Garfield Lemon made the presentation to the winner of the prize for the second highest average, Henry W. McEachern. The prize, a gold safety razor, was donated by District Lodge.

The toast to the Dominion Lodge team was proposed by R. A. Brown and responded to by the captain, Garfield Lemon. The presentation of the prize for the third highest average, a smoking stand, was made by T. B. Brown to the winner, R. A. Brown. A silver cup was presented to Harry E. MacMurray for the highest single string, with a score of 153. The presentation of the cup was made by T. Owens.

The toast to the I. O. G. T. order was proposed by the District International Chief Templar, Henry W. McEachern, and was responded to by the Grand Secretary, E. N. Stockford.

James McEachern made the presentation of a box of cigars to the three-string high man, Frederick Byers. The consolation prize, won by Charles Cronk, was presented by E. N. Stockford and was a box of cigars. The booty prize was presented by T. D. Owens to T. B. Brown. The toast to the Honorary President was proposed by the President, Miss Kate Fox, Mrs. Tennyson Currie, Mrs. Fred Morrow, Miss A. M. Townshend, Mrs. J. Semple, Mrs. William Skinson, Mrs. Margaret Coughle, Mrs. Edward Moore and Grey Townsend.

Arthur Harris was the accompanist for the evening and a hearty sing song was part of the programme. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed and a grand climax to a good season.

In each case the raw materials are practically the same, but the 'making' is different. In making En-ar-co Oils we average thousands of tests a year. It is only by this multiplying of tests that perfect products can be made. This thoroughness in our Scientific Refining process is the protection offered to users of our products."

TURF.
German Jockeys Poorly Paid.
Berlin, April 28.—(A. P. By Mail)—Jockeys in Germany get about forty or fifty cents a race, with a small percentage added for riding a winning mount, under the terms of a new tariff. The schedule prescribes 10,000 marks for every flat race rider, and 12,000 for each steeplechase. If he wins, the jockey gets two per cent. of the purse. Apprentice jockeys are paid half the rate of the "regulars" and their share in any first purse won is one-fourth of one per cent.

ATHLETIC.
The Amherst Meeting.
P. J. Legge, secretary-treasurer of the M. P. B. A. A. U. of Canada, returned home yesterday from Amherst where he attended the semi-annual meeting. The most important business was a consideration of the financial standing of the branch, which showed a deficit. It was decided to increase all sanction fees for leagues and associations. A discussion also took place regarding the holding of the Olympic trials and plans were made for the holding of trial meets. Ways and means of financing these meets were considered and it was decided to ask the Provincial Governments to assist.

HISTORY OF FAMOUS SONG
(Hawick Express, Scotland)
G. A. H. Douglas, Burnside, writing in the Glasgow Herald, says: I read your excellent article upon "Lady Scott" with considerable amount of interest. In regard to the great song "Annie Laurie," there is a considerable amount of difference as to the wording of the two verses written by William Douglas of Fingland. I think, however, that the following is correct:

"Maxwellton brass are bonnie,
Where early fa's the dew,
And blue-eyed Annie Laurie
Gae'd me her promise true!
Gae'd me her promise true!
That ne'er forgot shall be,
And for my bonnie Annie Laurie
I would lay me doon and dee."

"Her locks are like the sunshine,
She's braided like a swan,
Her hand is like the snawdrift,
And mine her waist micht spair!
But, oh! that promise true!
Will ne'er be forgot by me,
And for my blue-eyed Annie Laurie
I would lay me doon and dee."

Annie Laurie, it may be mentioned, was one of four daughters of Sir Robert Laurie of Maxwellton, and occupied Terrygless House, where they had the reputation of being a very hospitable family, and were much respected. The house stood on the other side of the Nith, opposite the town of Dumfries. The fair Annie's birth is recorded in the following quaint words, in Sir Robert's own handwriting:

"At the pleasure of Almighty God, my daughter, Annie Laurie, was born on the sixteenth of December, 1682, about six o'clock of the morning, and was baptised by Mr. George Hunter, of Glencairn."

Annie's mother was Miss Jean Riddle, to whom Sir Robert was married upon the twenty-seventh day of July, 1674, at the Tron Church, Edin-

PARLOR PLAYS VITAL PART IN ENGLISH WORKER'S LIFE

Used for Rest, Reading, Play and Courting, Manchester Survey Reports. London, April 20.—(By Mail)—With a view to bringing influence to bear on the Government in the matter of subsidies for various types of houses the Manchester and Salford Women Citizens' Association has made a house-to-house investigation as to the extent to which working-class people desire to have parlor houses and to make use of parlors when they have them.

that unless parlor houses are built the standard of life of workers will be lowered. It is from this point of view that they claim the support of Parliament.
