ELECTIONS ON MAY 3 FOR NEW IRISH PARLIAMENTS

Steps Taken Today for Operation of Act

What is Provided for in the Legislation—London Times Criticizes—Plan for Big Fund in the United States.

London, April 19—Steps to bring into operation the Irish act, providing for home rule in the island, were taken today by the British government. This law, which was described in the speech from the throne as "the fruit of thirty years of ceaseless controversy," was passed by parliament on Dec. 21 last, and received royal assent a short time later.

Elections of members of the northern and southern Irish parliaments will be held on May 3, under present plans. The act provides for the election of members of the northern parliament by the British government.

After such union takes place, certain powers relative to police, finance and other branches of the Irish government will be conferred by the British government.

For Big Loan in U. S.

Chicago, April 19—The Sinn Fein element in Ireland will ask sympathizers in the United States for a loan, probably of $10,000,000, in addition to some $10,000,000 already subscribed, to finance its fight against Britain.

The convention opened a little after noon with more than 5,000 delegates from all parts of the United States present.

Rev. Peter C. York of San Francisco declared "recognition by the United States of the Irish republic as the sole and lawful government of the Irish people is demanded by the principles of the Declaration of Independence."

London Times.

London, April 19—Under the caption "The Appointed Day," the London Times announced today that the day fixed by the government for launching the Irish Act and declares that it "seems but another step towards the path of the government's failure."

The Times asserts that the prime minister and his cabinet "must know that their present act will never placate southern Ireland, and adds: 'They may be doubtful as to the right moment to make further concessions, but cannot doubt that sooner or later concessions will be inevitable.'"

The day might easily acquire a different significance than failure, according to the Times, only the cabinet would realize "that any small advantage which prosecution of their Irish scheme could gain them has long since been secured, and that it would be infinitely better to seize the opportunity of peace still within grasp than to face the fresh humiliation that awaits them if they hold on their present course."

CHIEF JUSTICE OF CHINA IN CANADA

On Way to Geneva—Says There Are Three Issues to Force to Conclusion.

Vancouver, B. C., April 19—Dr. Wang, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of China, one of ten delegates selected to work on the revision of the covenant of the League of Nations, who arrived here yesterday, declared that China had three dread enemies in the form of issues which it was his country's determination to force to a satisfactory conclusion this year.

Dr. Wang is on his way to Geneva. He will remain a month in Canada and the United States before proceeding to London, to learn the official attitude regarding these issues.

Follow Ontario Victory With Move to Bar Liquor Manufacture in Canada

Dominion Wholly Dry in Five Years, Prediction of Prohibition Leaders—Majority in Ontario Against Importation 140,000 and Growing.

Toronto, April 19—To press immediately for federal measures prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in Canada, will now be the new and immediately objective of the Ontario referendum committee, according to a statement this morning of Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, secretary of that body.

Dr. Grant declared that the Province of Ontario, having voted yesterday by a majority of 200,000, which is the estimate of the prohibition forces, to prevent the importation of liquor into the province, and having already made the sale within the province illegal could not logically or morally continue the manufacture for export to other provinces or to the United States.

In the opinion of Dr. Grant, and other prohibition leaders, all Canada will be dry, with manufacture sale or importation prohibited, within the next five years.

Toronto, April 19—Unofficial completion of the vote yesterday were closed at midnight, and had not been resumed early this morning. A summary of the count as made to this time shows the results as follows: Yes, 172,863; No, 96,026; majority yes, 77,837.

Places from which returns are given show: Majority Yes, 46,250; No, 16,545; net majority yes, 29,705.

Gross Yes majority outside of Toronto, 138,485; Toronto, 5,992; No majority, gross Yes majority reported so far, 128,476.

Fragmentary and still incomplete returns from all parts received since the conclusion of this count tend to increase the dry majority. The prohibition leaders stick to their "Yes" majority of 200,000 over the "Noes."

MIDDAY SHOWED SWEEPING VICTORY.

Toronto, April 19—Returns received by the dominion alliance up to midday show a sweeping "dry" victory. Almost every county in the province has given a "yes" majority and thirteen of the twenty-four cities of the province, have voted to prohibit the importation of liquor.

The aggregate majority so far compiled is about 140,000. Income tax returns for Toronto show a "wet" majority of approximately 5,000.

The vote yesterday was not so large as that polled in 1919, when a general election helped to bring the voters out. Considering circumstances and weather conditions, there will be proportionally, according to Rev. Dr. H. H. Ferguson, a larger majority for "bone dry" conditions than was polled in 1919 for a form of governmental control.

COMMENTS BY PROMINENT MEN.

Toronto, April 19—Comments of Ontario provincial political leaders, when informed last night of the result of the election:

Premier Drury—"I am very glad indeed over the result."

H. H. Dewar, Liberal leader—"Oh, that looks very well."

Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Conservative leader—"I anticipated that the province would go dry by from 100,000 to 150,000."

Germany Ordered To Transfer Gold From The Imperial Bank

Must be in Coblenz or Cologne Branches by Next Friday as Security for Reparations—Demand Unacceptable, Says Berlin Government.

Paris, April 19—The Allied reparations commission announced today that it had given Germany until April 22 to transfer the gold holdings of the Reich bank, the German imperial bank, to the Coblenz and Cologne branches of the bank. If Germany refuses to comply with the ultimatum the sum may continue to figure as part of the balance of the Reich bank, the commission explains, but the German government would have no right to dispose of it without obtaining previous authority from the commission.

It was semi-officially announced in Berlin on Monday that the reparations commission had verbally notified German officials that the gold reserve of the Reich Bank and other German issuing banks must be deposited before May 1, either in Cologne or Coblenz, as security for reparations. The semi-official announcement added that the German government had declared the demand to be unacceptable under any circumstances.

The latest figure on the gold holdings on the Reich bank, contained in the bank's statement for April 7, showed that on that date they were 1,001,602,000 marks.

Chicago, April 19—Eastern railroads, appearing before the U. S. railroad labor board, opened their drive yesterday for sweeping wage reductions for all unskilled labor, and, in some instances, for shop and train service employees.

Over the protest of the labor organizations, the board decided to proceed with the consolidated wage hearing and disputes certified by railroads from all sections of the United States. The board decided to proceed immediately despite the fact that the railroads had not yet confirmed President Harding's appointees and that one member is absent. Five members, a quorum, remained however. Nearly two score roads had finished their presentation when the session adjourned. Today another division of railroads present their evidence.

The carriers declared that there had been a widespread reduction of wages of from 10 to 20 per cent and that the cost of living had receded steadily for several months.

Ten New England roads presented evidence with a report from the Massachusetts commission on the necessities of life which showed a 45.3 per cent reduction in the cost of living there since July 1920. Hourly wages on the New England lines were quoted, as having increased from 15 to 48 1/2 cents since 1914.

"It will therefore be seen," he concluded, "that the increase in basic hourly rates and weekly compensation varies between 140 and 140 per cent, whereas the increased cost of living at its peak was 102.6 per cent, and is now sixty per cent higher than in 1914."

NEW ZEALAND AND CONFERENCE OF THE PREMIERS

London, April 19—(Canadian Associated Press)—New Zealand's attitude to the questions likely to come before the conference of empire premiers here in June was outlined by Premier Massey, just before he sailed for London, via Canada, according to cables received here. New Zealand, he said, would not be a party to any proposal to set up an empire executive body, but would favor an imperial executive, a body analogous to the imperial war cabinet, but operating more in the open and exhibiting less autocratic powers than was necessary during the war.

Mr. Massey holds that sentiment is the strongest bond of union between the peoples of the empire, and that it would be a mistake to attempt at present to lay a legislative framework.

REPRISALS FOR THE YOUNG BILL

Fort William, Ont., April 19—N. M. Paterson, grain elevator owner and operator of Fort William said last night that Canada should protect the passage of the Young bill by the United States by taking measures of self protection by instituting an all Canadian route for grain to the seaboard, the manufacture of agricultural machinery, the prohibiting of the export of Canadian pulp wood, the finishing and slaughtering of Canadian beef cattle in Canada and the manufacture of binder twine.

"The U. S.," he said, "will realize in less than six months what a fool measure the Young bill is. Americans need not expect it to increase the price of their grain. The only harm it would do to Canada is to make Canadian wheat growers find a better market than the United States."

SUNBURY COUNTY BOY IS BURNED

Fredericton, N. B., April 19—Clifford Jeffrey, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jeffrey, has been seriously burned at the home of his parents at Sunbury county, and it is said that only careful attention can save his life. He was playing with a cell-oloid comb in the kitchen and placed it on a red hot stove. The comb at once flamed up and the child, who was alone in the kitchen at the time, instead of letting go of it retained his grip and within a few minutes his clothing was in flames too. His parents checked the flames and called a doctor.

EVIDENTLY HE IS HUFFED OVER ONTARIO VOTE

Ottawa, April 19—(Canadian Press)—"Sincerest sympathy for ourselves on account of the apparent miserable damned Methodist success in a once tolerable white man's province."

This message was conveyed by John A. Yarker, a prominent Toronto business man, to a writer here immediately he arrived in the city last night from Montreal and heard the results.

FOUR REPLY WITH 10 PER CENT CUT

Question of Pay of Inside Wood Workers in Ottawa River Mills.

Ottawa, April 19—The members of the inside wood workers union have protested against a reduction in wages of from 10 to 20 per cent, that four of the mill owners on the Ottawa River have notified their employees would go into effect at once.

Previously inside wood workers employed by various saw and door factories in Ottawa received from 75 to 85 cents an hour. In January they notified the mill owners that they would demand a general ten per cent increase commencing on May 1. Last week the local industrial secretary requested a meeting with the mill owners on Wednesday. Four of the mill owners have answered this letter by advising their employees of a ten per cent cut.

So far as statutory authority goes this province is the most temperate in the world. It is necessary on the part of the liquor traffic to extend our laws, the result of the referendum was that the liquor traffic is legalized in any form in any part of Canada.

SAW METEORITE OFF HALIFAX

News Brought in By the Cunard Line Steamer Saxonia.

Halifax, N. S., April 19—After a trip of nine days from London via Cherbourg, the Cunard liner Saxonia docked here late yesterday and landed 921 passengers, who proceeded west on two special trains. The steamer came by the southern route on account of ice conditions off the Newfoundland coast.

The Saxonia reports that at noon yesterday, when fifteen miles off Chelmsford Head, south of Halifax, a meteorite was seen to explode and disappear leaving a vast amount of smoke which was visible more than ten minutes.

They first saw a big burst of flame in the sky and then a long column of smoke, probably fifty feet in length. They believe that the meteorite fell into the sea.

The wireless operators on the ship reported having difficulty with their apparatus on Sunday night and yesterday, and they believe that the meteorite had something to do with the electrical disturbance.

RAILWAYS IN DRIVE FOR WAGE REDUCTIONS

Case of Eastern Lines Being Presented Before U. S. Railroad Labor Board.

NEAR ANARCHY IN PART OF ITALY

Armed Conflict of Extreme Nationalists With Socialists and Communists.

Rome, April 19—Conditions approaching anarchy seem to prevail in northern central Italy, where parties of extreme nationalists have been in armed conflict with socialists and communists almost daily for the last week. The disorders, which are the outgrowth of partisan feeling aroused by the electoral campaign, appear to centre about Florence and the neighbourhood of that city.

Reports received here do not indicate that the authorities are able to cope with any degree of success with the strike between the nationalists and the radical element. Upwards of a score of persons were killed in melees on Sunday, and there were several hundred wounded in fighting during the day. Some socialists and communists club rooms have been wrecked by the nationalists, leaders of the communists have been ordered to declare their fealty to the Italian government and the tricolor has been raised above communist halls.

General strikes have been called in some cities where there has been bloodshed in recent fights.

WESTERN VIEWS ON FREIGHT RATES

Stay As Now if Lowering in West Means Increase in East.

Calgary, April 19—(Canadian Press)—The Calgary board of trade Calgary wholesalers and the Lethbridge board of trade yesterday told Chairman Carvell of the dominion railway board that if any reduction in western freight rates would mean a corresponding increase in eastern rates, then they were opposed to any change from existing rates.

The statement on equalization of freight rates came merely as a side issue when wholesalers and boards of trade protested against the adoption of a proposed new freight classification.

BIG FIELD FOR MARATHON RACE AT BOSTON TODAY

Rodgers of Halifax Looked On As Having Chance

Seventy-seven Entries But Not All Started in the 25-Mile Run—Late News in World of Sport.

Boston, April 19—A cold day, almost raw, that made for the discomfort of a great spectator army, gave to the competitors in the American Marathon race today atmospheric conditions that were to their liking. They had to run to keep warm, there was twenty-five miles of running to do, and the zest in the air was a welcome tonic over the long trail. Road conditions, too, were good, two days of rain having served to lay the dust and to pack the road surface firmly.

The twenty-fourth renewal of the classic long distance event, which is promoted annually by the Boston A. A., had attracted an entry list of seventy-seven men, most of them of proved ability at long distances. Not all appeared for the start, but in the groups that gathered at Ashland, a little Middlesex county hamlet, which has been the starting place for a quarter of a century, were runners from Montreal, Halifax, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Washington and many New England cities, who formed one of the fastest fields that has set out on the annual grind.

Through the crowds that lined the roads in seven cities and towns in which the course was laid, an aggregate of some 200,000 persons conjecture ran high as to the possible victor. Former winners of the event were available for choice of favorites—Edouard Fabre of Montreal, winner in 1917; Wm. J. Kennedy of New York, 1917; Carl W. A. Linder, Boston, 1919, and Peter Trivoulidis, New York, 1920. Alfred Rodgers of Halifax, the other Canadian entrant, is in great form and it was expected he would be among the leaders.

The start was at noon. The record for the course is two hours, twenty-one minutes, 18 1/2 seconds, was made by Mike Ryan of New York on such a day as this in 1912. The prizes this year are medals, displacing statues and cups that had been given in other years. These prizes were for the first eight men home.

Chicago, April 19—The game between Pittsburgh and Chicago National League clubs, postponed on Sunday because of cold weather, will be played here tomorrow.

Cleveland, April 19—The American League pennant, first ever won by a Cleveland team, will be raised at Dunn Field, just before the game between the Tigers and the Indians on April 26. The world's championship flag will be raised in May.

Detroit, April 19—Indications this morning were that the Cleveland and Detroit clubs would be able to open the second baseball series here this afternoon, although the playing field still was fringed with patches of snow and the diamond was still heavy. With the two days rest, Cobb was expected to start Leonard against the Indians, and Mails was considered Speaker's probable choice.

New York, April 19—Australia expects to send a team to Canada to meet the dominion representatives in the first round of the Davis Cup matches, according to information received by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, which has approved this arrangement. This tie probably would be played at Toronto or Vancouver.

RIORDAN TAKES 20 POINT PLUNGE

Montreal, April 19—The feature of the early trading on the local stock market this morning was Riordan. This 16-cent stock, whose downward campaign has been the only thing of interest for the last few days, opened at 86 this morning, after closing at 92 last night. It then strengthened slightly to 89, but immediately made a drop of 20 points to 78.

All the other issues were also weak, Abitibi opening a half point below its yesterday's close at 35 1/2, and Brompton sagging a point to 32.

Laurentide closed at 92 1/2 and opened at 90 1/2, while Montreal Breweries weakened 1 1/2 points over night to 39.

Spanish River was down three-quarters of a point to 72.

GIRL CROSSING SEA TO TEND CIRCUS APE

John Daniel, Valuable Gorilla, Pining Away, and Cable Summons an Old Friend.

(New York Times.) John Daniel, a sick and disconsolate gorilla, which has been pining away in Madison Square Garden because he has been shut in a cage for people who visit the circus to look at, would have cheered up yesterday and eaten three hearty meals if he had known the good fortune that is coming to him. His companion and friend, Miss Edna Cunningham of London, whose father captured John Daniel when he was a baby gorilla, is coming to see if she cannot make life happy enough for John to keep him from dying.

John Ringling has been worried about his pet animal, which is worth many thousands of dollars to the circus, and as a last resort sent a cable despatch to Miss Cunningham, saying: "John Daniel pining and grieving for you. Can you not come at once? Needless to say, we will deem it a privilege to pay all your expenses. Answer at once."

And Miss Cunningham wired right back that she was sailing on the Celtic, which is due in New York the first of this week.

Miss Cunningham is the niece of Major John Penny of the British army. When her father brought John Daniel back from the jungle, a tiny black mite of almost human personality, she made a pet and friend of the strange ape. He was never caught and moved at will about her home, even playing with the children who visited there.

Last January he was purchased by John Ringling and brought to this country a few days before the opening of the circus season. Since then John Daniel has thrived and grown more and more miserable. He refused to eat, became weak and lethargic and would creep wearily into a corner of his cage and hide under his blanket when curious crowds came to gaze through the bars at him.

But sometimes when only a few persons were there, he would climb out to the front of his cage, sit on his haunches and look at them so reproachfully and sadly that it seemed as if the poor beast must be suffering from some kind of loneliness and humiliation. At least that is the way the circus folks, experts in handling animals, interpreted John's melancholy.

He was so ill last week that yesterday he was taken to a room at the top of the Garden, to be by himself and able when he wishes to look out of the window and see the clouds and the sky. When they moved his bed up there and took John along he grabbed his blanket from the bed, climbed up in a closet of the room and spread the blanket out on a shelf. He wanted to get as far from people as he could. But after the door had been closed a while and he was left in peace, he brought his blanket down, spread it on the bed and went to sleep comfortably for the first time in several weeks.

READS BY PAINT. Rome, April 19. — Giulio Ulivi, the Italian scientist, is reported to have discovered a luminous paint which sheds a light sufficiently strong to read by. The Italian railways are contracting to apply to roofs of railway carriages and for signs on the interior, which could not be seen at night. It can also be used for signs in motion picture theatres.

Special window displays, placards and banners tell of the various uses and the health-giving properties of the fruit, which is being offered at attractive low prices during the festivities.

"Orange weeks" are being held this year in over 250 cities in the United States for the purpose of stimulating the sale of a bumper crop of the fruit, which is reported from California.

ACTRESS RESENTS ARTIST'S DRAWING Comedie Francaise Star Wants Caricature Destroyed and Demands Damages.

Paris, April 19.—Have people in the public eye the right to resent or try to prevent caricatures? That is the question that is interesting the artistic world in Paris. The question has been raised by the demand of the well-known Comedie Francaise star, Cécile Sorel, that a caricature of her by an artist named Bib shown in an exhibition of humorous illustrations, be forthwith destroyed and that the artist pay her 10,000 franc damages into the bargain.

After having seen the picture an unprejudiced observer is inclined to feel that the actress is justified in her complaint. If ever all the least desirable female qualities were depicted in a human countenance, it is on this canvas, which bears Mlle. Sorel's name in big letters.

On the other hand, a court decision in her favor could not fail to be a precedent for further infringement of the rights of criticism which have already been greatly reduced by a recent judgment in a dispute between a theatre and a dramatic critic.

Meanwhile M. Bib professes himself delighted by the threatened suit and has announced that he will send the actress a lavish gift of flowers in return for the lavish advertisements she has given.

The picture has been sold to ex-Minister DeMonzie, who lives at 7 Quai Voltaire, in the same apartment house as Mlle. Sorel.

GEN. BOOTH DENOUNCES IDLE RICH IN LONDON London, April 19.—General Bramwell Booth of the Salvation Army has just issued a scathing denunciation of London life and morals of the present day. "The state of London since the war makes one realize what may happen when so many of the best and bravest perish," he said. "Society's legacy seems little so far, but

CUTS GIRLS' CHEEK WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

Infuriated Because She Refused to Wed, Suitor Attacks and Slashes Her.

Kearny, N. J., April 19.—A few minutes after she arrived at the plant of Swift & Co., Kearny, where she is employed as a stenographer, Miss Ellen Sloan, 21, of Lebanon, N. J., was attacked by a young man who slashed her cheeks with a butcher knife, and when sounds of the struggle were heard, attempted to cut his own throat.

Miss Sloan was alone in the office, according to her story to Police Chief Walter Oliver, when George Waterfall, 26, of 214 East Thirty-sixth street, Manhattan, walked in, locked the door and attacked her with the knife. Miss Sloan screamed and fought off the attack, seizing the blade of the knife in her hands. The wounds caused her to let go. She ran about the office, with Waterfall in pursuit. He caught her and bent her backwards over a desk, she said, and she felt the knife blade on her cheeks.

At that moment Leo Sylvester, 25, of 59 Tiffany street, Kearny, a plant employee, passed by the office and saw the attack. He broke a window and leaped in. Waterfall whined about and before Sylvester could reach him, it was said, put the knife to his throat, inflicting a slight wound before Sylvester overpowered him.

Miss Sloan was taken to St. Michael's Hospital and Waterfall was made a prisoner at Stump Memorial Hospital, Kearny, where he was said to have made a confession to Chief Oliver.

In the alleged confession Waterfall said he had become infatuated with Miss Sloan while employed at the plant a year ago and that she had refused to "A Beauty Sleep"—and then "A Beauty Breakfast" Try it for 30 days—to prove This is what thousands do at the direction of experts to win back the healthful rose tint to pale cheeks—as told by the editor of a famous magazine which is read by half a million women. They take regular exercise, sleep regular hours, and then start breakfast with stewed raisins. The raisins are plump, delicious fruit-meats stewed so the juice forms a luscious sauce. Note recipe printed on this page. A more alluring fruit dish never has been served in any home—nor any other food that's more effective in this way. Read opposite what Dr. J. H. Kellogg, an authority who has made a life-time's study of foods, thinks of the raisin. You'll serve stewed raisins every morning when you know the good they do. Luscious nuggets of food-iron Raisins are nuggets of food-iron—and food-iron is an essential to good blood. Get what you need of it each day, and an incomparable, natural rose tint on the cheeks is the reward—nature's irresistible attraction—the good looks of good health. No need to imitate with rouge when nature thus provides. Youthfulness is the real beauty, as every woman knows. And good blood is the first consideration. Women of fifty often look but thirty if that natural rose tint is still there. Stewed raisins are mildly laxative also. Those who eat them regularly are apt to have the clear, white skin that sets the color off—unmarred by blemishes or sallowness. Great sanitariums serve stewed raisins to rheumatic patients when other fruits might disagree. So this simple but effective food is one of the most important that any woman ever used. Try daily for a month and see. Begin tomorrow morning. Look in your pantry now. Let every member of the family have stewed raisins. Be sure to mail coupon below for "100 Raisin Recipes," a valuable free book that every woman ought to have.

GOOD PRODUCTION AT THE UNIQUE

"The Inner Voice" Being Presented With E. E. Lincoln in Lead.

A positive human story with an abundance of sympathetic appeal provides "The Inner Voice" with two things that make it an acceptable attraction. It is the consistent blending of the various characteristics found in the drama that makes it the success that it is. So far as the story goes there is much that can be found to touch the heart. It preaches a forceful moral but unlike others of similar structure it does not sacrifice the dramatic value for the sake of moral preaching. In fact, it is a real drama enveloped in an appealing veil of romance and yet consisting of a series of scenes that are as interesting as the most dramatic entertainment of value.

THE COUNCIL AND THE TIMES

In its issue of April 15 the Times said—

"The city solicitor never gave an opinion that would justify a neutral attitude on the part of the city council concerning this matter (the raising of the railway bridge)."

"The Times report of yesterday's meeting of the city council says—

"Rising to a question of privilege, Dr. Frink said that in the Evening Times-Star of April 15, an editorial appeared under the heading 'Up to the Council,' in which it was stated that 'the city solicitor never gave an opinion that would justify a neutral attitude on the part of the city council concerning this matter' (the C. P. R. bridge question). 'This statement, he said, would lead to the conviction that we were, to put it in a mild way, playing with the truth.' He said that the statement should not be let go unchallenged. He presumed that the editor was a good citizen and had no intention to place the mayor and commissioners in such a position. He said the editor's action was indiscreet. The mayor said the action was unreasonable, and he had asked for an explanation, which he hoped to get in a few days."

"When the Times said that the city solicitor had not given an opinion that would justify a neutral attitude, it of course meant a legal opinion, since his private opinion on the subject would hardly be regarded by the commissioners as superior to their own. As to the legal opinion of the city solicitor, the Times based its statement on what he said himself. Mr. George S. Cushing inquired of him if he held the view that there would be any legal liability if the city council asked the federal department of public works to insist on raising the new railway bridge to the height of the highway bridge. The city solicitor replied that he did not hold such view. Later he confirmed this by the following telegram to Mr. Cushing—

"Council may pass any resolution it desires asking minister of public works to require raising of bridge without city assuming any liability. Particular wording of resolution of no importance from legal standpoint."

If there is no legal objection, what other objection could there be that would justify a neutral attitude? The Times has held the view that if Mr. Manssart of the federal public works department is right in saying there are no engineering difficulties in the way, and if there are no legal difficulties, the city council should ask that the bridge be raised. This journal does not challenge the members of the council with "playing with the truth," but holds that a neutral attitude in a matter so seriously affecting the shipping interests of the port and river is not justified by any statement that has yet been made public.

The health of the people is of paramount importance, and public health measures and propaganda are receiving the keenest attention in all countries that have a right to be termed progressive. New Brunswick is to have a Public Health Week, beginning on Sunday next.

During the week emphasis is to be placed on knowledge and experience in relation to health matters will be heard, and all the people are asked to manifest a personal interest in a campaign which cannot but have results of the most beneficial character. There are some diseases concerning which more definite and concerted action is essential, but on the general subject of public health there is far too much indifference, and far too little precaution to preserve and prolong life. This province made a great forward step when it adopted a Public Health Act, to be administered by a minister of health, and the work of Hon. Dr. Roberts in the latter capacity has already borne splendid fruit, that is freely acknowledged on every hand. It could not be expected that the new act would develop some opposition, but many who were at first critical are now strong supporters of the policy, and realize the great possibilities for the good of the people at large. When this province adopted the health act and created the ministry of health its action was the subject of congratulation in other provinces and in the United States, where New Brunswick was held up as an example of progressiveness without parallel on the continent. There is now a federal health department, and in all provinces more and more attention is given to this subject. Every citizen of New Brunswick should seek to gain some further knowledge next week regarding matters that pertain to a successful fight against disease and a better preservation of the great boon of good health.

The outlook for a settlement of the miners' strike in Great Britain is regarded as more favorable. The government is working hard to bring about another conference between the mine owners and the men, and the cables indicate that there is hope of success. Indeed that there seems to be the only sane course, in view of the fact that men with families cannot remain in continued idleness, and that the pinch of the coal shortage must soon be very severely felt by all classes.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Foster government came through the recent session of the legislature with added prestige and an enhanced reputation for business-like methods of conducting public business. All parties are to be congratulated for the united stand taken in regard to freight rates on the government railways as affecting the interests of the maritime provinces, and also in the matter of the Valley Railway, rightly demanding that the federal government relieve the province of this great burden.

With regard to the legislation passed during the session, an outstanding feature was the financial provision for further development of the water powers of the province. The people look forward to splendid results from this policy, inaugurated by the Foster government and already well under way. The government showed its interest in education by an increased vote, and by making it financially easier for students to take the course at the Normal School. The amendments to the public health act and the game act are in the public interest. That the members of the legislature devoted themselves to their work is shown by the fact that more than a hundred bills were presented and most of them passed, but not before they had been carefully considered from every angle. The government expedited the business by having its own legislation well in hand, and keeping the committees busy upon it and upon private measures throughout the session. There was no unnecessary delay to cause complaint on the part of the opposition, and the session, though short, was marked by much useful work. The government had in previous sessions inaugurated policies of the highest importance, and there was less need for large new engagements this year, especially in view of the fact that the country is passing through a period of depression such as would not justify heavy public expenditures. The session began well, with a very short debate on the address, and as this paper has before observed there was throughout an absence of acrimonious debate. This is perhaps the best tribute that could be paid to the government of the day.

THE ONTARIO VOTE

The expected has happened in Ontario. The people of that province had previously voted against the liquor traffic, but could not get real prohibition so long as liquor could be poured into the province. They have now taken the next necessary step and confirmed their former action, just as a number of other provinces have done, and as New Brunswick will do before the end of this year, following the action unanimously taken by our legislature at the recent session.

The people of Ontario are to be congratulated upon the victory for prohibition. We can well understand that the friends of the cause had a hard fight, for the liquor interests of Quebec had even a deeper interest in the matter than those citizens of Ontario who did not want their supply of liquor cut off. The like will be true when the vote is taken in New Brunswick, and the friends of prohibition must not assume that they will have no opposition. A formidable attempt will be made to keep open this small preserve for the liquor sellers of Quebec.

It is gratifying to observe, if the returns are accurate, that more of the cities of Ontario were in the dry than in the wet column. It would be expected that in Toronto, with its mixed population, there would be a strong line-up in favor of liquor importation, but even there the fight was apparently close. Canada moves steadily toward nationwide prohibition.

PRaise FOR QUEBEC

We hear much about the stability of labor in Quebec, and the corresponding benefit to the province. The Montreal Gazette thus summarizes the statement of a Montreal manufacturer on the subject:

"The manufacturer mentioned pointed out that because Quebec province has an orderly, reliable, hard-working population, outside capital has come into the province to the general betterment. Local capital has never been afraid of investment, as the character of the people is well understood; but capital is as timid as a fawn and as bold as a lion—in one breath; and there was hesitation until it became widely known that the workers in Quebec could be depended on for steady, reliable work in any capacity. They were intelligent; they were quick and adaptive; they were willing to treat authority with respect, for that was their temperamental genius; and thus you had, in a time of turmoil, a people who might, in their orderliness, set an example to the world. Quebec has 'white coal' in prodigious abundance; and outside capital has been interested in the harnessing of our great waterways to industrial ends. In this connection the Quebec workers are at home. Their willingness, initiative and loyalty have been demonstrated, and the province, thus spared the disruptions of Europe, goes on its orderly way proud of its greatest asset—a faithful, orderly and contented people, co-operating with invested capital in the task of prosperous development."

IF I WERE A FAIRY.

(Dundee Advertiser.)

If I were the little fairy with wonderful gifts at my call, I'd gather the wee tots about me, and loosen the tongues of them all. And I'd tell them to tell all the stories, and make their desires known to me. And I'd kiss them and lead them with treasures—the heirs of the day that would be.

I'd give them the riches of learning, the comforts of plenty and peace; I'd tempt them to covet the fine things, and serve so that live might increase.

I'd tell them that all were their equals, and none were below or above, That earth was the place of God's garden, and the sweetest of flowers there was love.

I'd charge them to scorn selfish pleasures, and keep only those that were fine; To give, not to take, the best prizes; to share not to grab and confine;

To strive for the pleasure of making a Sweet bringer of mirth in the present, brave heirs of the days that will be.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Ouch!

"Will the prosecution admit that my client was insane when he committed this crime?" asked the attorney for the defence.

"Well," replied the prosecuting attorney, "we'll admit that he was when he selected his attorney."

"I see a visitor to New York was arrested the other day because he had $350 in his pocket," said Church.

"And wasn't it his own money?" asked Gotham.

"O, yes; it was proved in court that it was his own money," replied Church.

"Why on earth did they arrest him, then?"

"He was trying to get out of town with it."

WOULDN'T THINK OF IT!

The beggar wore his most pathetic expression and wept a crocodile tear.

"Please, sir, won't you give me a loaf of bread for my wife and family?"

The kind man patted him on the shoulder. "No, no, my poor fellow, said, sympathetically, 'I would not deprive you of your wife and family for anything.'—Titbits.

Nurse—I don't know why you're crying. You have a nice new little sister.

Only Son (who already has four sisters)—Yes, darn it! Now I'll have to tend the furnace all my life!

His Version.

Elihu Root said at a dinner in New York:

"In the distant days when I was in general practice I often noticed how a railway accident brought out everybody's greed."

"I pleaded once for a chap who had been dreadfully injured in a collision. This poor fellow, unrecognizedly hanged, was rushed to the nearest hospital, and there all kinds of operations had to be performed on him."

"When the operations were over and he came to, he looked around the white, bare room and whispered:

"Where am I?"

"You are in a hospital, my poor fellow," the surgeon said. "You have been badly injured in a railway accident, but you're going to recover."

"A hard glint came into the victim's eye."

"Go to recover how much, doep? He gasped, and fainted away."

MADE THIRD TRY TO END HIS LIFE

Insane Old Man Acquitted of Murder, Drove Nail Into Throat.

Brockville, April 19—Derrick Tennant, who was acquitted recently on a charge of murdering R. L. Wood in a Yonge township on the ground of insanity, made an attempt upon his life in the county jail here by jugging his neck with a nail. He was removed to the General Hospital for treatment, and his condition is reported as not being serious.

This is the third attempt Tennant has made on his life since the shooting of Wood. Soon after the tragedy, he attempted to cut his throat with a pocket knife, and when brought to Brockville under arrest was taken to the hospital for treatment. While in the hospital he attempted to end his existence by jumping from a window, but was prevented from doing so by his guard.

Tennant, who is seventy-nine years of age, has been confined in the jail since his trial, pending disposition by the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

CONVICT'S FACE IS BEAUTIFIED

Broken Nose Bridged and New Photograph for the Rogues' Gallery Taken—Made a New Man of Him.

Ossining, April 19—Robert Accone, a Sing Sing prisoner, is recovering in the prison hospital from an unusual operation by which surgeons "bridged" his nose and so changed and improved his face he had to be photographed over again today for the prison rogues' gallery.

The operation was performed a few days ago, but the news did not get outside the prison until Saturday, when Warden Lewis K. Lawes confirmed a report circulated by prison employes that surgeons "beautified" the prisoner whose face heretofore looked repulsive because of a badly broken nose.

Not only did the doctors insert a section of bone taken from one of the prisoner's left ribs, in his nose and make a new bridge, but they reopened the nasal passage which had been closed and had at times made it difficult for him to breathe.

Accone is elated over the results of the months ago from New York County with his nose badly broken. He was sent up for assault. The bridge of the nose was battered in and his face badly disfigured. He was photographed for the prison rogues' gallery then.

Dr. Amos O. Squire, the head prison physician, called in Dr. Harold Hays, a specialist. Drs. Squire, Hays and Abraham Kosseloff performed the operation.

Accone is elated over the results of the

WIFE FREED ON HUSBAND'S PLEA

Confidence Man Goes to Prison But Girl Spouse Returns to Family.

Baltimore, Md., April 18.—Burt M. Morgan, alias Edward F. Dana, of Boston and elsewhere, and self-confessed confidence man, with much éclat and bravado, to say nothing of a dash of sentiment, essayed the role of hero before Judge Duffy in the Criminal Court, and after an impassioned appeal for his wife, Mrs. Verna A. Morgan, 18 years old, succeeded in obtaining her release on $6 charges of larceny against them.

Morgan, a smile of defiance playing across his lips, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Tonight Detective Harry Hammerling will see that Mrs. Morgan is safely aboard a train for Toronto, Canada, to go back home to her father, who is a laborer, and ready to have her back in the fold with the mother and five younger children.

The confidence man today launched upon an appeal for his little wife and won out.

"Your honor, this little girl is entirely innocent of any charges. We were married last September in Toronto, and I have always tried to do what was right by her until this time."

The little girl said that she was Verna Scott, telephone operator in a Toronto hotel, when she met Morgan, or Dana. "If I let you off, where will you go?" asked Judge Duffy.

Tears filled her eyes.

"Back home," she sobbed, and she told of a big family of Scotts with a father whose earnings were modest.

"If I let you off, where will you go?" asked Judge Duffy.

Tears filled her eyes.

"Back home," she sobbed, and she told of a big family of Scotts with a father whose earnings were modest.

MILLIONS IN GIFTS IN WOMEN'S WILLS

Misses Elizabeth Southmayd and Elizabeth A. Osgood of New York Made Many Bequests.

New York, April 18.—Large bequests to charitable and public institutions, as well as to individuals, are made in the wills of two women submitted last week for probate. Both were unmarried.

The will of Miss Elizabeth Southmayd, who died March 31 at 13 West 47th street, gives more than $1,000,000 in direct bequests and her residuary estate to charitable and religious organizations. Her estate is estimated at more than $2,000,000. The residuary legatees are Grace Church, the Children's Aid Society, and Roosevelt, St. Luke's and New York hospitals, each of which gets $100,000 outright.

Miss Southmayd directed the giving $50,000 each to the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, the New York Association for the Blind, the Home for Incurables, the Home for Old Men and Aged Couples, the Samaritan Home for the Aged, and the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Gifts of $25,000 each go to the State Charities Aid Association, St. Luke's Home for the Aged, Women's Hospital, Association for the Relief of Aged and Indigent Females, New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, the New York Infirmary for Women and Children, Sheltering Arms, Society for the Relief of Ruptured and Crippled, New York Orthopedic Dispensary and Hospital, Society for the Relief of Half Orphans and Destitute Children, East Side Home, Legal Aid Society and the Seaman's Church Institute.

The will gives to Allen E. Everts, of Everts, Choate, Sherman & Leon, all the law books owned by Miss Southmayd, because of his friendship for her brother. The testatrix distributed the contents of her residence among her nephews and nieces as mementos and said she made no greater provision for them because they were cared for in her brother's will and were aided by her in her lifetime.

The will gives $15,000 each to Susan Ogden and Helen Ogden Campbell, of 520 West 122d street; $25,000 to Alice Ogden, of 198 West 104th street; $10,000 to Charles G. Massa, and an equal amount to Mrs. Arthur Ogden, whose address is stated to be "unknown."

Public bequests are made in the will of Miss Elizabeth A. Osgood, who died March 4 last. She set aside $50,000 in trust for her sister-in-law, Marie Emily Osgood, of 59 West Forty-sixth street, and upon the death of the latter the principal is to go to Grace Church for the general use of the church and the fresh air work conducted by the church. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children gets $35,000, $1,000 is left to the Rev. Melville R. Bailey, vicar of Grace Church, and the same amount to the rector, the Rev. Dr. Slattery as "the clergyman who shall read the burial service over my body."

Miss Osgood left $10,000 each to her butler, Hugh Cavanaugh, and her maid, Margaret Manning, for long and faithful services; $6,000 to her laundress and $1,000 to her cook.

The residuary estate, the value of which is not disclosed, goes to Roosevelt Hospital for the maintenance of free beds, and $8,000 was left to the New York Law Institute.

Emmie A. Anderson, of 515 West 179th street, a niece, receives $75,000, and $50,000 goes to Irene Thomas, also a niece, of Mount Vernon. Sallie Sargent and Mary Osgood Cutler, cousins, get $35,000 and $30,000 respectively. $10,000 goes to Mary T. Foulke and $5,000 to Elise Schenckberg of 11 West Forty-seventh street.

The will gives $5,000 to Dr. Charles A. Whiting "for his kindness to me in time of trouble."

REFITTING LINER TO COST $1,000,000

The George Washington, the Largest Merchant Vessel Flying the American Flag.

Details of the reconditioning of the transatlantic liner George Washington, which is the largest American merchant vessel ever to fly the American flag, are announced by the Todd Shipyards Corporation, which has received the contract from the United States Mail Steamship Company. The cost will exceed $1,000,000 and the terms provide for the completion of the work by August.

During the peace negotiations the George Washington was used by President Wilson on his two visits to Europe. It was also the choice of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium when they came to the United States. The steamer was used as a transport during the war and carried many thousands of troops. The George Washington was one of the North German Lloyd vessels seized by this government.

When refitted the steamer will have accommodations for 3,000 passengers. The swimming pool is to be the largest ever installed on a steamship. The installation of billiard tables has been made possible as the result of an anti-rumor device.

A moving picture theatre with seats for 800 has been provided. There will also be a cafeteria open day and night.

The George Washington is to be the flagship of the United States Mail Steamship Company, whose slogan is 100 per cent. American in ownership and operation. Following the George Washington the company will commence improvements on the Agamemnon, Mount Vernon and America. The line has eight steamers plying to European ports.

The George Washington was launched at Sletting, Germany, on Nov. 10, 1908, and was named by Dr. David Jayne Hill, then Ambassador to Germany. On the occasion of her maiden voyage to the U. S. the League of Peace unfurled its flags from the Singer Building. She is a six-day steamer.

B., by Major Rev. Donald J. Summers. The groom, who served overseas, is a member of the staff of the Bank of Montreal, at present at Sledwic. For some time after he returned he was engaged in military work.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Mrs. Sarah Dyskin occurred yesterday afternoon at the Home for Incurables. Mrs. Dyskin leaves three daughters, Mrs. Max Ross, of this city, and Mrs. A. Abrams and Mrs. A. Alpenberger of New York, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Henry Bernack of Sackville (N.B.). The funeral will be held privately this afternoon.

Many friends will learn with regret of the death of Joseph Kane which took place on April 11 at the residence of his parents in Dipper Harbor. Mr. Kane was twenty-three years of age and served overseas during the war. He underwent an operation in July last and was in failing health since that time. An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hair growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of deLizone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hair surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real deLizone.

DYSPEPSIA IS GREATEST ENEMY OF MODERN MAN

Distressing Malady is Most Prevalent of All Present-Day Diseases - Thousands Are Relieved by Tanlac.

Of all the conditions that afflict humanity, chronic dyspepsia, or what is more commonly known as indigestion, is probably the most prevalent. This most universal malady has baffled the medical profession for years, and the most skilled specialists have been unable to cope with it successfully.

This stage is reached the loss of appetite, the mental depression, and the general uncomfortable feeling in the stomach are much more pronounced. This is particularly true in acute gastritis. It frequently occurs from continued errors in diet that this condition becomes chronic, and the symptoms persist for an indefinite period.

"THE DEVIL," A FILM TRIUMPH

George Arliss Gives Us a New Conception of His Satanic
Majesty, That of a Domestic Maddler—High Class Production.

Those who had the good fortune yesterday to see "The Devil," which brings Mr. George Arliss to the screen at the Imperial in a pictorialization of the character he made famous on the stage, say that the photoplay is infinitely more in keeping with human experience than the stage play.

It has necessarily been stripped of much of its brilliant dialogue and, happily, of much of its cynicism. It was found possible to retain Mr. Arliss' fine characterization of evil and to make him the moving spirit of a natural, logical story.

The scenario, has built around the leading character,—"The Devil"—two beautiful, inspiring and powerful love themes which run side by side throughout the drama. The devil is still a hissing, diabolical and strangely fascinating figure, but he is robbed of his victory in the end.

It is all very well to shock people a little—to jolt them into thinking—into facing the truth in themselves and in the world," says Mr. Arliss, "but it is not morally right to depress and discourage them. Besides, evil is not stronger than good. If good contends valiantly, good carries away the victory. If this were not so, what would be the use of all of us—the use of everything—of anything?"

It has generally been considered that "The Devil" photoplay is greater than "The Devil" stage play, which set the theatrical world of two continents by fire in 1908-9. The surprises, the dramatic climaxes, the cleverest lines have been retained.

Mr. Arliss' masterly portrayal of the central figure is just as skillful and artistic. But the story itself has been given a different trend. It has been made inspiring rather than pessimistic. It is a shining refutation of the assumption that a really fine play or novel suffers mutilation in being popularized. "The Devil" will be concluded today.

WILL MOVE, BUT DON'T KNOW WHERE

The St. John vocational committee is getting ready to move its belongings but is delightfully vague as to where they are to go. The lease of the Oddfellows' building expires on May 1 and all the equipment must be removed by that date. A meeting of the committee probably will be called in the near future to decide whether the equipment will be moved and stored, moved and housed in a suitable building, or sold. The gathering together of the possessions was being undertaken yesterday with all possible dispatch. In the Oddfellows' building the committee has six lockers each eleven feet in length; twelve tables, each eight feet long; 187 chairs, twelve sewing machines, two wall cabinets, one roll-top desk, two kitchen tables, four ironing boards, four electric irons, two screens, two dressing forms, and two mirrors. Electric wiring is also the property of the committee. Other possessions which are distributed in other buildings include a drawing cabinet in Centennial school, twelve show card writing benches in the Cliff street school and a kitchen cabinet and a wall cabinet in the domestic science building.

The amount of fees returnable to students was being calculated yesterday and, after arrangements have been made for the withdrawal of the funds, these fees will be returned to the students. A certain percentage was forfeited where less than ninety per cent perfect attendance was made.

JUDGMENT POSTPONED.

The case of Ernest Dixon, charged with stealing various articles from the C. N. R., came up yesterday afternoon for judgment. The magistrate, however, postponed delivering a verdict until this afternoon at four o'clock.

MINERALS AND COIN GIVEN TO MUSEUM
The Natural History Society has been fortunate in receiving some very welcome gifts recently. Dr. L. de V. Chipman has presented to the society an interesting collection of minerals containing thirty-three specimens and Guy L. Short also presented a small copper coin which is an extremely rare specimen. Dr. Chipman's gift will be especially useful as an addition to the educational collections and is also a very curious and pretty exhibit. Included in the thirty-three specimens are some showy pieces of copper ores, varying from the brilliant blue azurite to the green malachite, both of which, besides being important copper ores, are used as semi-precious stones. Calcite in crystal formations and clustered coral are of special interest but the most curious specimen is a sample of the needle stone which has long thin needle-like points tucked away in the centre of a grey rough stone. A piece of peacock copper with all the varied hues of yellow, brown, red, purple and

For the way that brings prettier teeth

Do as millions have done—make this ten-day test. See how film removal beautifies the teeth. Learn how it makes safer teeth. Brush your teeth in the modern way and watch all the good effects.

Film makes teeth dingy
That viscous film you feel is the teeth's chief enemy. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old brushing methods did not effectively combat it. So very few people have escaped discoloration and decay.

Film also stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the cause of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

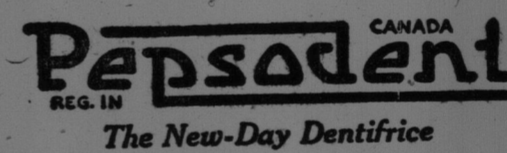

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Each use of Pepsodent brings five effects which dentists now desire. It attacks the film. It keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

It increases the salivary flow, which is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That to digest the starch deposits which otherwise may form acid. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Thus Pepsodent is bringing to millions whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. Leading dentists everywhere are now urging its adoption.

Two ways to fight it
Dental science has now found two effective ways to fight film. They are combined in a new-day tooth paste—Pepsodent—made to meet modern requirements.

The scientific film combatant, approved by modern authorities and now advised by leading dentists everywhere—to bring five desired effects. All druggists supply the large tubes.

Results are delightful

Games and music were enjoyed.

HOME AGAIN.

A NOTABLE ADDRESS
The B. Y. P. U. of Ludlow st. Baptist Church, West End, was addressed last evening by Master James E. Flewelling a boy twelve years of age who gave a very fine synopsis of the old and new testaments. Rupert sang a solo very effectively.

R. from Hampton to St. John, held a conference this morning regarding the schedule of the Sussex express when the daylight saving time goes into effect in St. John. The matter was discussed both from the farmers' point of view and that of those who travel back and forth on the train each day, but no decision was rendered as the officials merely wished to hear the arguments of both sides and draw up a schedule which would give the greatest good to the greatest number. It is proposed that the matter will be worked out so as to avoid any confusion and if possible to the best interests of all concerned.

IS ONE-NINTH OF A CAT'S LIVES
WORTH 2 SUITS?

A cat may look at a king. On the other hand, man may do lots of things with a cat, provided the cat will furnish the opportunity—and thereon hangs a tale.

Late last night a lonely feline, pronouncing the paved surface of Sydney street was suddenly startled by the advent of an automobile which rounded the corner of Duke street. Side-stepping to avoid being crushed, the animal slipped into the opening of one of the street catch basins, the stone sides of which offered no foothold for its exit.
Its cry of distress attracted two young men who undertook the task of freeing pussy, but found that the contract was more than they had anticipated. One after several minutes of tireless effort, during which a couple of neat suits were caused to resemble those of an ashtray, the Thomas was removed and allowed to return to the bosom of his family.

MINE OWNERS IN SESSION TODAY

London, April 19.—Owners of coal mines throughout the United Kingdom met here today, and it was expected that Premier Lloyd George would submit to the conference suggestion which might lead to a prompt renewal of negotiations with striking miners of the settlement of the wage controversy. A formal conference with the mine leaders was not expected until Friday, when a general conference of the union's leaders will be held here, but there appeared to be a belief that means might be found to bring the parties to the industrial conflict together without great delay.

A distinctly favorable atmosphere regarding a settlement of the conflict has developed as a result of an address made yesterday before the House of Commons by Lloyd George.
The premier declined to alter his position in opposing a national pool of profits, but he likewise stood firm against attacking the rights of unions.

One Big Order in Canada.
Vancouver, B. C., April 19.—The British coal strike has resulted in at least one big order for coal for shipment from this port to Great Britain's customers.

HON. MRS. SMITH GIVES ADDRESS IN PORT ARTHUR

Port Arthur, Ont., April 19.—Hon. Mrs. Ralph Smith, minister without portfolio, in the British Columbia legislature, addressed a combined meeting of the men's and women's Canadian clubs here last night, dealing largely with the subjects of social legislation as handled in British Columbia and reiterating her statement of belief that there is no sex in brains.

She made reference to efforts to make Vancouver a grain shipping point, and the fears of Port Arthur and Fort William that it might so develop to the disadvantage of the head of the lakes. "They say the wheat will sweat if it goes by way of the Panama Canal." If it does not perhaps Port Arthur will sweat. Something has to sweat and it remains to be seen what.

Indoors or Outdoors "Old Hickory" Furniture is Quite at Home!

Much is said these days about "back to nature"; but "old Hickory" furniture is about the only thing that really has attained that grand estate.
"Old Hickory" is direct from nature because it is used just as it grows. "Old Hickory" furniture is hand made because it wouldn't be possible to make it any other way; any more than a machine could turn out a tree!
The beauty of "old Hickory" furniture lies in its utility—it is just as much at home in the living room as it is in the open. You can't damage it with the elements; it can't wear out—and it is extremely comfortable.
We have a good supply of "old Hickory" pieces here—tables, chairs (with or without arms), rockers and settees.
Suppose you see the line—you'll want a piece or two for your summer home!

FRONT BENCHERS OF FARMER PARTY

Crerar Lacks Many Essentials of Leadership, But Nevertheless Might Be Fine Premier.

CLARK TOO ACADEMIC

Maharg Most Forceful—Party Is Weak in Its Knowledge of Parliamentary Tactics.

By M. GRANT O'LEARY.

The observer from the press gallery, one of the most interesting things about parliament these days is the conduct of the third (Agrarian) party, something wholly new to the House of Commons. True, there have been three groups in the house before. There was the group led by the brilliant Dalton McCarthy, and there was the Nationalist group after 1911, but these were not separate parties in the strict sense of the term, lacking their own whips, a separate platform and their own committees and caucus. The Agrarians, or National Progressives, on the other hand, have all the attributes and organization of a distinctive party. They have their own elected leader, Mr. Crerar, their own whip, Mr. Levi Thompson, they occupy a separate portion of the chamber, have their own caucus and committees, and claim to be one of his Majesty's two loyal oppositions. Nor does the house seek to deny them their claim. Mr. King, of course, is accepted as the official opposition leader, even to the point of being entitled to the not inconsiderable salary which attaches to the post, but in other respects he is regarded in a different light from that of the Agrarian head. Thus on all important occasions, including big debates, or when pronouncements are expected on behalf of all shades of belief in the house, Mr. Crerar "catches the eye" of the speaker immediately following Mr. King; while upon all standing committees the Agrarians are found as representatives of a distinctive party.

Equal of Other Parties

INDIVIDUALLY, beyond all question, they are the equal of either Liberals or Conservatives. Mr. Crerar—to begin with the leader—has not the debating power nor the intellectual mobility and momentum of the prime minister nor has he the parliamentary style, the eloquence or the experience of Mr. King. On the other hand, however, he possesses qualities which the premier and his followers lack, by common consent, his speech on the address this year was better than theirs. However, much extreme partisans may decry his ability, few fair minded observers are not prepared to admit that his leadership would be no calamity.

Mr. Crerar's Speech

There is Mr. Clark. "Red Michael," his fiery beard now a thing of the past, is the party's heavy artillery in debate. They put him on all big occasions, and many critics to the contrary notwithstanding, there is no finer speaker in the house. His oratory, it is true, is a little old-fashioned, his speeches somewhat academic and doctrinal, but they have wit and scholarship, passion and structure, and are without a rival of their kind.

Mr. Maharg

Although far from being parliamentary giants, Mr. Maharg and Mr. Reid, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. MacDonald are men of good ability. One of the leaders of politico-economic agrarianism in the west, Mr. Maharg can hardly be distinguished in appearance and parliamentary capacity from the many captains of eastern industry who are prominent in the house. His speeches, which are not too frequent, are not models of pure diction or of eloquence, but they are forceful.

Mr. Levi Thompson

A man of a somewhat different type is Reid, of Mackenzie Cautous, steadfast, solid, he is a typical son of Scotland. Free trade to him is a creed, public police service, and one can think of very many men on both sides of the house who would make worse ministers of agriculture.

Mr. MacDonald

Mr. Kennedy, so far as appearance goes, might be a member of the stock exchange. He has a pleasant manner and an agreeable fluency, and while he lacks forcefulness and the overbearing quality of a leader, he is a good average member, thoughtful, sincere and painstaking. Mr. MacDonald is more of the Labor leader type, rough, forceful and aggressive. But he is not lacking in ability, a fact which he disclosed when upon his second appearance in the house last year he persuaded the government to alter an important piece of labor legislation.

Good Raw Material

FINALLY, on the Agrarian back benches there is some good raw material. Mr. Caldwell, who began political life as a Liberal follower of Mr. Frank Carvell, has more capacity than the average back-bencher. Mr. Thomas MacNutt is a political veteran, and he is a speaker of the northwest territories' legislature. Mr. Levi Thompson was in the house long before the war as a western Liberal, and Mr. Halbert and Mr. Wright give some promise.

Speaker Left Them In the Bar Room

New Presiding Officer of B.C. Legislature Displays Ready Diplomacy.

By EUGENIE M. PERRY.

THE British Columbia legislature has a new speaker in this year in the person of Alexander Lloyd George. Sir, as was facetiously remarked, he looks very dignified up there in the seat of honor which Mrs. Ralph Smith refused, and David Whiteside didn't want.

U. S. LABOR SECRETARY

JAMES J. DAVIS, picked by President Harding as U.S. secretary of labor, although not yet 50, is regarded as well-to-do. Some of his old friends say he is a millionaire, and this Mr. Davis has never denied it, saying in confidence to one of them, "Well, it is not true; but it has helped me when I went to the bank to borrow money."

SEA-SICK BALFOUR

STARTLING revelations regarding the narrow escapes of the premier and ministers during the storm given by Mr. Maurice Sankey, secretary to the cabinet. Mr. Lloyd George was to have accompanied Lord Kitchener to Russia, but was prevented at the last moment, and narrowly escaped being in Calais when it was bombed.

THE GODS' APATHETIC

AN amusing story against Israel was recently told by Mr. Isaac Zangwill, the famous author and playwright, in connection with the first night of one of his plays. He seemed to be somewhat apathetic (said Mr. Zangwill), so towards the close of the second act I crept up into the gallery in order to "feel the pulse" so to speak of the gods.

Charles Quick of Vancouver Was Associated With Inventor of the Sewing Machine and Invented First Machine for Harness Work.

IN November, 1914, Charles Quick began his 71st year of life—active. He is the oldest saddlemaker in the world, and probably the only man in the world who at one hundred years of age goes daily to his work as he did at thirty. Down on Powell street, Vancouver, Quick conducts his business. Francis Dickie tells about him in the Western Home Monthly as follows:

He is jolly, active, with booming commanding voice, a pair of eyes that give as clearly as when he was a boy, giving him the look of sixty rather than a century. He is still a master craftsman, and on his birthday he slightly upon him he sat down at an ordinary sewing machine and mapped out on a piece of brown paper, an intricate and clever pattern.

Uncensored Talk With Big Men About Them-selves

No. 27—PREMIER DRURY (Second Time)

By EMIL LONGUE BEAU

HE sent for me, to the room in the parliament buildings where he sometimes sleeps if it was late at night, and he was plainly tired. If he hadn't been a Sunday school superintendent for so much of his young life, one would say he was mad—clear through. He was patting the floor; and before asking me to be seated he began:

"It's you that has got me into this mess; and I want to tell you I won't be clear through. He was patting the floor; and before asking me to be seated he began:

Harding Best Golfer Among Presidents

Can Go Around in About 97, and Plays Much Better Than Wilson or Taft.

HOW and why President Harding took up golf, to which he has shown his thorough devotion in many parts of the United States since his nomination last June, has just become known. Senator Fredrick Hale, of Maine, golf professional of the Columbia Country Club, who wrote from St. Augustine that the president was in the 100 class, did not do Harding justice, they say. He can do about 97, these friends declare. Par is 71-37 going out and 34 coming in.

DOHERTY OVERLOOKS NOTHING

CASUAL listener in the galleries of the House of Commons will be struck by the fact that Judge Doherty, the minister of justice, is unnecessarily tedious in his speeches. The fact is that the judge's mind works so fine a cog that he is unable to drop out any of the intermediate steps of his logic. He takes a long time to state his reasons because he has clearly before his mind's eye many of the legal points which the ordinary man passes without seeing them.

KELLEY'S RECORD

MR HOWARD KELLEY, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, who spoke so frankly before the arbitration board sitting in Montreal has been in the railroad business for practically forty years. From 1881 to 1884, a young engineer fresh from the university, he took part in the location and construction of western railways, slept in the open and knew the hardships of pioneer life. Mining lured him away for three years from 1884 to 1887, but since then his engineering ability led to his holding positions steadily increasing importance with the railroads. After years of experience on American roads in 1897 he was appointed chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway system. Four years later he was promoted to the position of vice-president in charge of operation, maintenance and construction. In 1917 he became president. His experience on American railroads afforded him specially to control he affairs of the Grand Trunk, which not only served Canada but dipped down through five states of the middle west and traversed practically the whole of New England. Mr. Kelley was born in Philadelphia, but he is a British citizen.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS TWO BIG UNDERTAKINGS

Two very ambitious undertakings on a large scale were planned at the meeting of the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon when arrangements were made for a big tea and pantry sale and for the grand annual display of the gymnasium classes. Further details in connection with the taking over of the work of the Canadian women's hostel in the city also were made.

Mrs. John A. McAvity, the president, was in the chair and the opening devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Alfred Morrissey. Mrs. McAvity referred to the last month as a record one in successful effort for the association and paid warm tribute to the team work of the members and of the committee. She told of the successful rummage sale and dwell upon the forthcoming events, the tea and pantry sale and the exhibition.

The Travelers' Aid report, given by Miss Edna Austen, told of the decision to reorganize the committee to make its membership consist of two representatives of each denomination instead of one so that the work of the hostel could be taken over more efficiently. During the month 296 trains and seventeen boats were met, ninety-one persons were taken to the Transient Home and employment was found for three. Miss Gibbs was appointed assistant temporarily. Special cases had included many foreigners unable to speak English and a woman traveling alone for whom the Vancouver Travelers' Aid had asked the St. John branch to have special care.

Mrs. Bertram Smith, for the membership committee, reported forty-one regular, one sustaining and six junior members with total fees, $19, and said Mrs. Trentowsky, as convener for St. Andrew's church, had secured as additional members, eighteen regular and two sustaining. The committee had made preliminary plans for the grand tea and pantry sale to be given by the executive.

Elder the convener of Mrs. J. Cowan and Mrs. Prime. It elected Mrs. E. J. Fleetwood as convener for Centenary church and Mrs. Prime as committee secretary.

The house and cafeteria report, given by Mrs. W. H. Lugsdin, gave high commendation to Miss Sellers, the matron. The number of meals served was 5,223, of which 2,084 were for the public—the largest number in any month since the previous summer—2,227 for the boarders, 303 for the officials and 609 for the staff. The balance of the finances was on the right side.

Miss L. Tapscott, in her report as general secretary, told of the great success of the rummage sale and specially thanked the "staff of twenty-four sales ladies secured for the rush hours" the managers of the Imperial and Unique theatres and the Opera House, and the congregation of the Central Baptist church. The report told also of the activities of the Residence Club which is practicing a play and of the closing of the sewing classes, the work of which will be displayed at the tea and sale.

Mrs. R. J. Hunter gave the report of the girls' work committee and told of the gratifying increase in club membership and of addresses given the Corona club by Miss Zeigler and Miss Hamilton, dominion secretaries. The report told of a leaders' conference addressed by Miss Zeigler and of the organization of a new group of C. G. I. T. girls in Carleton. Miss Shaw was welcomed as a new worker for the club girls.

Miss C. Littlefield, reporting for the physical committee, told of 470 pupils enrolled and fees amounting to $19,50. Many matches had been played by the Y. W. C. A. basketball teams and one team of the Y. W. C. A. had never been defeated. Special instruction in folk dancing was given the teachers of the Free Kindergarten and a masquerade party was very successful. Grand plans were being made for the annual gymnasium exhibition.

In the discussion at the meeting arrangements were made for sewing meetings both afternoon and evening to make the many hundreds of costumes for the pageant which will form part of the gymnasium display. For the tea and pantry sale all details were arranged, and it was reported that the "Mysterettes", the latest basketball team of the Y. W. C. A., had offered to assist.

TO PETITION FOR REMOVAL OF TRACKS

At a largely attended meeting of the West Side Improvement League, held last night in the Carleton Curling Rink, a resolution was passed that further action should be taken to impress upon the common council the necessity of removing the car tracks from Queen Square, West End. A petition already is in circulation among the people of West St. John, calling upon the council to insist that the tracks be removed and placed around the corner of the square in St. James street. The object of this action on the part of the league is to provide a suitable ground for athletics.

Owing to the absence of W. E. Scully, president of the league, the vice-president, W. L. Harding, presided. A discussion took place regarding the backing which the league should give to organized baseball clubs and an application from St. George's club asking for the use of the grounds was favorably considered and it was decided to allow that club two nights a week. Harry A. Belyea, who had been appointed chairman of the baseball committee, handed in his resignation and Norman P. McLeod, the secretary, also resigned as he found he had not sufficient time to give to the secretarial duties. Stanley G. Olive was appointed secretary in place of Mr. McLeod, but there was no appointment to the vacancy caused by Mr. Belyea's resignation. The athletic and games committee was asked to draw up a programme of sports for the summer to be submitted at the next meeting.

In regard to the moving of the street railway tracks it was pointed out that, when the tracks were laid in 1907, it was on the condition that they should remain there for ve years and if after that time it was thought necessary to remove them, the service in that section should not be discontinued. It was thought that the most suitable place for the tracks to be laid would be in St. James street. The petition which is being circulated will be presented to the common council and a committee was appointed to hurry the proceedings so that the tracks might be removed at an early date.

FURTHER PRICE REDUCTIONS IN HARDWARE
("Hardware and Metal" April 16)
Further price reductions on hardware lines are the chief feature of the hardware markets. Lower prices are now in effect on wire and cut nails, and on bright and galvanized fence staples, log washers, leather, bellows, iron bench screws, cotter pins, boiler rivets, wire clothes line pipe wrenches and lined oil. Some makers of products have been considerably reduced in price and lower quotations are made for looking on ash sifters, sleigh bells and chimes, lantern globes and lamp chimneys.
An advance has been made in the price of veneered chair seats, while heavy hardware, including bar iron and steel, wrought pipe, black and galvanized sheets, show little change. The saw market continues at a low ebb with little sign of improvement. The ingot and metal market continues flat, although prices are holding fairly well. The British strike is affecting the situation.
The feature of the week in the steel markets is the announcement of price reductions by the U. S. Steel Corporation. Substantial reductions have been made in prices of several steel products. The effect on the market will be seen later. On many products the new prices will be made to be sold at recent quotations and allowing of a profit where formerly such prices were sacrifice quotations to close out stocks. Buying in the steel and metal markets is still largely confined to actual requirements and conditions are not considered favorable for heavy buying. Wholesalers state that their sales are showing a steady improvement and business is increasing in volume. Some repeats on booked orders for spring goods are reported and with stocks unusually low it is believed that there will be need of replacement as the season advances.
GROCERY REPORTS
The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appeared in Canadian Procer last week:
The raw sugar market during the week under review has developed further weakness and is in an unsettled condition. Speculation mostly to the opinion rendered by the counsel of the Federal Sugar Company that the Sugar Finance Committee is illegally constituted. Sales of Cubans were made at varying prices from 5 cents per pound on 45,000 bags of 47-5 cents and one sale reported of 10,000 bags at 4-18-16 cents. Since then the market declined further with sales of Portoricos at 6-77 cents and of full duty-paying sugars at 4-77 c.i.f., which equals 4-75 cents for Cubans.
The correct visible production for Cuba to end of March is 1,578,284 tons against 1,501,000 tons at same date last year. The Ways and Means Committee have announced a new tariff bill, which, if passed, will increase the duty on raw sugars practically one cent per pound. One American refinery has reduced its price on refined sugars to 7.75 cents, but others are unchanged and there are rumors of a sale for export to Europe of 5,000 tons at 6.00 cents.

There is no change to report in Canadian refined sugar and the consumptive demand remains normal. Nothing definite can be said with regard to future prices, but it is well for the trade to watch the New York market as some authorities seem to think the declines that have transpired will be only temporary.
The strength of the nut market is a feature this week. Shelled walnuts are extremely strong and with the small stocks held both in Canada and in France higher prices are practically assured. Walnuts are not so common as they were rarely does, in time for the Christmas trade. Shelled almonds, although not quite in the same position as walnuts, are also showing a firmer tone, and prices in primary markets are somewhat higher. Pecans, on account of the very small crop last season, are becoming scarcer, and prices tend upward.
Cereals are quiet and easy, and the same can be said of flour and millfeeds, although bran and shorts are in scant supply, attributed to the mills not operating at full capacity.
Some brands of soap are reduced, while others have special deals, which practically constitute a decline. Some brands of cleaners in cake form show an advance, while certain brands of peanut butter, soap powder and cooking oil have declined.
Currants are in a strong position with prices in primary markets higher. Raisins and evaporated apples, although showing no price changes, are firmer and show an improvement in movement. Canned vegetables are fairly steady un-

"MADAME X" STIRS LARGE CROWDS

Record Attendance at the Star Theatre Last Evening.
At the Star Theatre last evening before a record crowd that packed the North End picture house to the roof, Jacqueline Florio's pitoum life story bears vivid evidence of this. Turned from her home and family by her remorseless husband, a deputy attorney of Paris, she is unable to escape the dread shadow of fate that crosses her baffled footsteps with ever increasing menace. Fate, in the guise of her husband's unjust suspicions, denies her the right to see her son; fate places in her hands the weapon which destroys the career of her husband, now a judge; and fate brings her before the bar of justice where her husband presides and places her fight for life in the hands of her son-counsel for the defence. And having played trumps to the last, fate plays it joker, the highest card of all-death. Pauline Frederick in the role of Jacqueline Florio brings an emotional art to the screen more intensified than any ever displayed at this popular star.
"Madame X" will be shown again this evening at seven-ten and nine. The serial "Phantom Fox" precedes the feature at both performances.

Refused Use of Diamond.
Chicago, April 18.—Officials of the Commonwealth Edison Company have said word in the controversy over a game scheduled for Sunday between the Aristo Giants, a semi-pro baseball club of the Chicago League, and the Black Sox, most of whom are dismissed members of the Chicago White Sox. Major league officials called to the attention of the Edison Company that the game was to be played on their land, and when the Aristo team refused to cancel the game the Edison Company said the Black Sox would have to seek another diamond.

CRICKET.
To Begin Play Here.
A meeting of the St. John Cricket Club was held last night. Several important matters were discussed and the question of the membership fees was left on the table for the next meeting. In the absence of the president, the secretary, P. G. S. Horne, occupied the chair. It was decided last night at the meeting that a special meeting would be called the latter part of this week to pick a team to play an out-of-town team on May 24. The meeting decided to arrange practice matches at once in order to get the team in shape for the opening of the season. The secretary was appointed to arrange with any Nova Scotia or New Brunswick teams who were desirous of playing the local club during the summer.

GOLFER'S DRIVE WINGS BIRD, BUT HE MAKES HOLE IN PAR
Roanoke, Va., April 19.—Robert F. Stone, a student of the University of Virginia, became a claimant for the 1921 freak golf shot when he made a literal "birdie" on his drive and brought down a dove, flying high in the air. The ball broke the bird's wing, but it was hardly slowed by the impact, and Stone made a par on the hole.

GRUSADE AGAINST THE BOGUS MANAGER
London, April 18.—(Associated Press.) By Mail—The Actors' Association of Great Britain has launched a campaign of boycott against bogus theatrical managers.
The kind of manager who is to be hunted down is the person who with little or no capital taken out a company on tour, often paying scandalously low salaries. If the enterprise fails the bogus manager takes what he can from the receipts and departs, leaving the company stranded and penniless.
The Actors' Association says that this kind of thing is far more common than the public knows and cases of the kind are reported on an average two or three times a week.
reorganization will take place in the near future or await the acquisition of the Grand Trunk Railway Company is not clear.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA
Use Soothing Musterole
When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.
Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frozen feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

WHERE SLAVERY STILL EXISTS

Parts of Morocco Where French or Spanish Rule Has Not Yet Reached.

Mellilla, Morocco, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Slavery and trading in slaves still flourish in the unconquered districts of both the French and Spanish zones of Morocco. There have been stories that some of the slaves are white people, but these reports are not borne out by inquiry.

Threats by the turbulent Moors of the Rif coast to sell into slavery a Spanish sailor boy, Francisco Salido, unless his father with whom he had been wrecked and captured paid a ransom of 4,000 pesetas, led The Associated Press correspondent to make an inquiry into the question of the existence of enslaved white people in northern Africa.

The result of his inquiries shows that of recent years instances of white people being sold into slavery are extremely rare, but there are slave markets for the sale and purchase of colored people in the districts to which French or Spanish rule has not reached.

The traffic varies according to the economic situation of the tribesmen, who, when they are in funds, do not hesitate to give high prices for slaves to be used as servants. Slaves so purchased become personal property of the family into which they are bought and are disposed of by testament when the proprietor dies.

However, it is customary for the purchaser to make a formal agreement before a competent legal authority to grant the slave his liberty on his master's death, when the heirs have to give up all claim and at the same time allow the liberated slave to live on and cultivate any portion of his dead master's land which may have been left to him as one of the family.

A slave owner may give his slave a wife from among his other slaves bought in the same way, and the children of these marriages become slaves of the same owner unless he has signed the agreement already mentioned in connection with their parents.

The prices paid for slaves vary considerably. Generally the age is the chief consideration, but in girl slaves beauty calls for the highest prices. Seven hundred and fifty pesetas (about $100 at the present rate of exchange) is about the maximum figure ever paid—and this only in the case of a very young and handsome girl. Should the human merchandise have passed the age of thirty-five or forty, the price paid is round about 400 pesetas, never more.

All purchases are made conditionally on the slaves proving satisfactory. A close examination is made of the slave's mouth to see whether he or she possesses a complete set of teeth. Proofs are required that the slave is neither weak-sighted nor deaf and dumb, while limbs are tested and muscles tried and the body subjected to minute inspection in order to discover physical defects.

For women slaves three days' trial of their domestic aptitudes is demanded before the purchase is completed. Such are the conditions of the slave trade in Morocco at the present day, and this is the fate from which Francisco Salido escaped, probably by the payment of part of the ransom demanded, although exact information as to the transaction is unavailable.

MY FIRST HAIR-CUT

Experience of Unsophisticated Stranger in Montreal.

(Montreal Gazette.)

I should not really call it my first hair-cut, because, as the lawyers say, it was not within the meaning of the act, but it certainly was my first hair-cut in Canada, and it may be my experiences in this direction will prove worth recounting. To me it will remain an interesting memory. Personally I find it necessary from a health point of view, as well as with the idea of conforming to social usages, to present myself at stated periods before my barber, to have removed superfluous bits of appendages, as well as incidentally to contribute to the upkeep of a very worthy class of the community. I have long looked upon hair-cutting as an art, and tonsorial artistry carried out in proper shape is worthy of the highest approval. But hair-cutting and tonsorial proficiency are two distinct and very different things if we compare them in their true perspective as far as this country is concerned with those countries obtaining in a similar way in the land that gave me birth. In the latter place it is possible to have your hair "cut" for six cents, in any day of the week, except Saturday, when the charge is eight cents. Although there are places in existence where you can pay a much higher figure for a similar privilege, if you care to search them out. But all this is by the way.

The word "artist" as applied to a barber in Montreal is a true and proper appellation, which would not be applied with equal correctness to the old country specialist, because the latter, in many instances, carries on a multitudinous number of other occupations, such as repairing umbrellas, and other sundry "works" too numerous to mention. When I visited my local barber for the first time I had the greatest courtesy shown me, although it was not needful for me to be reminded by a conspicuous sign in the establishment that all transactions were on a strictly cash basis, though possibly to remove any doubt that may exist in that regard from the minds of prospective customers, there is a card in the shop which reads, "In God we trust, all others cash." Very admirable idea, no doubt, and human-like, but scarcely happily phrased. After the preliminary inquiry as to how exactly I wanted my hair cut, my friend of the scissors got to work, and after multitudinous twists and turns in a revolving chair—the like of which I had never seen before—and during which operation the artist skillfully plied his trade, he at length ably executed his work. As we proceeded my friend kept asking me if I should like "so-and-so" and "so-and-so" and "so-and-so," and thinking it well to acquiesce in the wishes of such a kindly disposed gentleman and also believing from his considerate way of suggesting them that there was a real need for what he proposed, I readily acquiesced to all his suggestions, till I believe my affirmatives in this direction ran up to quite half a dozen. The last item about which he did ask information was in regard to the particular hair wash I favored, and I speedily satisfied him on this point as well.

I should have said that by some strange coincidence, during the time I was being performed upon, a complete stranger, evidently, arrived, who took the next chair to me, and asked quite frankly two questions, which, while one seemed unnecessary, the other certainly was helpful to me. The stranger commenced by saying, "Do you cut hair here?" Being assured that he did, he timidly inquired the cost, and was told forty cents, which was the first indication I had of the expenditure involved, and I may say that I was pleasantly reassured by the latter information, owing to the enormous care and trouble my operator was taking with me. But alas! I should be real smart and up-to-date by newly born ideals in that direction were to be rudely shattered. I eventually was finished with, and thought I should be real smart and up-to-date by "paying my dues" promptly on the basis of the information I had heard gratuitously a few minutes before, and tendered to my artist forty cents in liquidation of my debt. When I reached my very estimable friend the forty cents, he promptly seized by hat and coat, and commenced in very thorough way to suitably brush and temporarily renovate them; he bowed profusely his thanks, and assisted me to get into my outdoor clothes. I mentally pictured this as "the ideal barber's shop"; this is the ideal barber's assistant, and decided deliberately that this would in future be the place where I should come for similar work. Then I had a thrill, for sure enough this self-same barber placed in my hand a cardboard slip, on which the mysterious words "Dollars" were printed, which left no doubt in my mind that I was still that amount in arrears of payment. I did not hesitate; I paid the dollar without demur, and, as I reached the street, I decided how it was that barbers could keep up such palatial establishments and wondered whether barbering was not a much better paying and more remunerative occupation than journalism. I have since related my experience to a newspaper colleague, who seemed to heartily enjoy my story, and who has been good enough to whisper words of advice in my ear to regulate future visits in a similar direction. I gladly pass the advice along, to be of use, perhaps, to those who may be similarly placed. My friends, when you visit a barber's shop in Montreal for the first time, and you desire a hair-cut, simply drop into a chair, and say, "Hair-cut—dry," and your requirements will be speedily executed with the greatest amount of skill and your bill will be forty cents, not $1.40, same as mine worked out. TALAA PASHA "GREAT AND PURE"

Funeral of Turk Who Was Assassinated in Berlin.

Berlin, April 18.—(Associated Press by Mail.)—Mohammedans from every Islamic nation attended the funeral of Talaat Pasha, former Turkish Grand-Vizier, who was assassinated in Berlin by Solomon Teiman, a young Armenian, who declared his act avenged the death of his parents and hundreds of thousands of other Armenians who died as a result of the deportations and massacres ordered by Talaat Pasha.

Bitterly as most of the Christian world has reviled Talaat and his policy of exterminating the Armenians in Asia Minor, Islam gave him a clear title to immortality. The funeral service of the Turks who rose from the position of mail carrier to grand-vizier and was even a more important figure than the Sultan in Constantinople during the war, was held in his apartment in the west end of Berlin, where he had been living under an assumed name for two years. After the ceremony at the house his mummified body was taken to a cemetery where another service was held before the body was placed in a vault to await interment in Turkey.

Mohammedan ceremony of the death tribunal. "Mehmed Talaat Pasha, who lies before was a young man of high virtue, a servant of God. Is there anyone among this assembly who denies it?" the hodja demanded. In chorus the strange circle of believers answered "No. No. No." The hodja then pronounced Mehmed Talaat "great and pure," and delivered a long funeral oration. At the cemetery there was another ceremony. The hodja again called for an acknowledgment of Mehmed Talaat's justice and the faithful affirmed in prayer cry, "Allah Akbar" ("God is Good!"). Then the hodja read the prayer for the dead and held the strange

AMERICAN GIVES GATE TO VERDUN

Verdun, April 1.—(A. P., by mail.)—An impressive bronze gate will soon be added to the Rand memorial monument over the famous "Trench of Bayonets" at Verdun. The gate has been designed by Andre Ventre, the Paris architect and now is on exhibition in Paris. Like the memorial itself, the gate is the gift of the late George F. Rand of Buffalo, N. Y. The gate will be erected at the entrance of the historic trench about fifty feet from the memorial which covers the bodies of the French soldiers who were killed in the trench leaving their bayonets exposed above the ground. The gate is of thick bronze, about twelve by eight feet.

A massive sword entwined with bronze leaves extends from the top to the bottom of the door. On each side of the entrance will be two bronze tablets, giving the name of the donor and a brief history of the trench.

The memorial is of concrete construction and is being given a smooth finish.

CHILDS BODY EXHUMED
Tube Found in Throat and Parents Are Suing Physician for $25,000
(New York Times)

Under a court order issued by County Judge Humphrey several weeks ago the body of four-year-old Emil Minarik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Minarik of 7 North Thirteenth Street, College Point, was disinterred yesterday afternoon in Mount St. Mary's Cemetery, on the southern outskirts of Flushing. The order to exhumate the body was obtained by William M. Killeffer, attorney of 170 Broadway, Manhattan, counsel for the dead child's parents, who contended that the baby died from strangulation caused by swallowing a tube that had been inserted in his throat. Dr. Carl Boettinger, Assistant Medical Examiner, performed an autopsy and found the tube in the windpipe of the child's body. The death certificate said death was due to diphtheria. The Minarik family are suing Dr. J. D. MacPherson and Alfred S. Ambler of College Point, who attended the child during his illness last December, for $25,000.

Watch Your Gums—Bleeding a Sign of Trouble

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Pyorrhoea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhoea poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. These poisons often cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhoea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

MASTER MASON

PLUS SMOKING TOBACCO

It's the characteristic fragrant aroma of MASTER MASON that has made it so popular with discriminating smokers. But it has other qualities: it burns longer, holds its fire better and is sweeter than most pipe tobaccos.

Smoke Master Mason
It's good tobacco

MASTER MASON—ready rubbed—for those who like it that way is the same good plug tobacco cut and rubbed ready for the pipe.—It is put up in tin foils and paper packages.
