

THEY DECLINE TO FOLLOW QUEEN

Leaders of Fashion in England In Revolt

SAY DRESS TOO SEVERE

Duchess of Westminster and Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild Principals—Few Canadians at the Court in Buckingham Palace

(Times Special Correspondence.)

London, Feb. 15.—For a considerable time there has been brewing among many of the most modishly attired women in English society a spirit of revolt against the lead in fashions set by Queen Mary, and in a lesser way by various members of the royal family, and now a certain very influential section are avowedly ignoring the royal example and wishes in this matter.

Among those who are in revolt against the wishes of Queen Mary in the matter of dress are Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild, Lady Curzon and the Duchess of Westminster.

The fact is that the ladies of the English royal family have always been guided in matters of dress solely by their own taste, and have, as far as possible, ignored prevailing modes. In the late reign, Queen Alexandra, nevertheless, remained the leader of fashion and her example on the whole was generally followed by the wealthy and smartest women. But there was a two-fold reason for this.

King Edward wished Queen Alexandra to be the generally recognized leader in all matters of fashion and among that influential section of society which is now in revolt against this royal authority in the matter of dress, King Edward's least wish was absolute law. Therefore, when King Edward desired that Queen Alexandra should be generally recognized as the leader of fashion, the women folk of the Spey, the Rothschilds, Bessons and other wealthy and influential families readily accorded such recognition to Her Majesty.

King Edward, however, with characteristic tact contrived that Queen Alexandra should always lend sufficient encouragement to the latest modes as to justify the ladies mentioned in freely following them.

But King George has not at all the same influence among the particular section of society mentioned as had the late king, and those ladies who habitually have been attired in the latest modes are no longer following the example of Queen Mary, who avowedly and frankly disdained to be seen attired in anything approaching what the best dressed people would describe as smart or modish.

She Refuses

At a house party at Welbeck Abbey, at which the king and queen were present a little while ago, there were two ladies present whose evening attire was a good deal more scanty about the shoulders than Queen Mary likes it to be, and to through one of her ladies-in-waiting, conveyed an intimation that her evening attire did not meet with the royal approval.

Mrs. Wilson's reply to the royal ambassador was regarded as "unsatisfactory" in plain English. It was rather more conveying as it did the lady's very firm determination to dress as she jolly well pleased.

Now it so happened that this lady was among the guests who had been invited to a forthcoming royal gathering at Chatsworth, and the Duchess of Devonshire had subsequently to inform her that she could not take her to meet the queen. This might not have been of much consequence had the lady been content to accept the duchess' intimation quietly, but instead of doing so she kicked up a tremendous fuss over the matter, and the result is that Her Majesty informed that she would desire to have the party put off altogether. Anyway it was put off.

Had it taken place it is certain that both Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild and another lady, who was to have been present, would have absented themselves as they regarded the lady mentioned as having been treated quite too authoritatively by Queen Mary in a matter in which they felt Her Majesty had no good reason for interfering.

Outside of court functions Queen Mary's power to decree what must or must not be worn depends altogether on the willing-ness of ladies of social importance to bow to Her Majesty's wishes in such matters. Of course certain great ladies who are connected with the royal household and who habitually more in the royal entourage do so. Among these ladies are the Duchess of Devonshire, the Duchess of Norfolk, and Lady Eva Dugdale, but those ladies, high though their rank, and great their social influence, are not regarded by society in general as leaders of fashion—a matter of fact, the most smartly attired people in English society do not, as they did in the late reign, belong to what is known as the "court circle."

In the court circle itself, there are, especially among the younger women, several who do not regard the "dowdiness" which they are supposed to cultivate and preserve, with any special degree of enthusiasm.

Between some of those who do not hold any official position at court and the royal family, there has lately been some little friction. For example, Lady Howard de Walden, who is one of the youngest and prettiest married women in society, has since her marriage had several "commands" to some of these small dinner parties at Buckingham Palace which are regarded as a special mark of royal favor.

But it appeared that the cult of a certain sort of "dowdiness" was expected of Lady Howard de Walden if she was to continue to receive these royal favors and apparently she thought them a trifle dear at the price, for she is one of the most smartly attired women in society, and somewhat prides herself on the fact.

One afternoon gathering at which Queen Mary was present, and she was arrayed in a manner that can perhaps be best described as conspicuously modish, the prevailing characteristics of her toilet being an excessively big if very pretty and becoming hat and a short, light skirt.

Now, Lady Howard de Walden knew that the queen would be present at the entertainment and knew equally well that her attire was just on the lines specially disliked by Her Majesty. The result of her independence in wearing what she pleased has been that the royal commands to these little functions at court are no longer sent to her, but she remains, all the same, one of the most modishly attired women in society, which perhaps pleases

Avoid Chapped Lips, Miladi!

During the winter months the lips fall heir to many ills and, as a result, look anything but attractive. Let us turn our thoughts to the subject and see if we can not find some way to keep the lips soft and smooth, regardless of wintry winds. Never bite the lips, as this will cause them to thicken, and, incidentally, the texture of the skin which covers them will be spoiled.

Guard against moistening your lips continually. This is the way to acquire chaps and cold sores.

If your lips have already become scamed and dry through these unwise practices and exposure to the cold, it will be well to keep them covered with some healing oil until the irritated condition passes away.

If the lover of smooth-skinned lips wishes to cover her lips with something a trifle more elaborate than plain olive oil or coconut oil, then she would make up a small jar of the following dainty cream as it is a prime favorite with those who have used it.

This lip cream formula runs thus: One ounce of spermaceti ointment, fifteen grains of balsam of Peru, fifteen grains of Alkanet root and five drops of oil of cloves. The alkanet should be heated in the spermaceti ointment until the latter melts and the whole is a rose color. Next pass through a strainer, then when slightly cool, stir in the balsam. Let settle for a few minutes, then pour off the clear part and add the oil of cloves. Pour this pomade into small jars and do not use until it is quite cold.

her as well as standing in the good graces of the queen.

Few Canadians at Court

Last Friday night's court at Buckingham Palace was exceptionally brilliant but there were remarkably few Canadians present. That was not to be wondered at because some two months ago the lord chamberlain announced that the list was closed for the first court.

Mrs. Harold Kennedy of Quebec, was one of the new Canadian ladies whom I noticed. She wore a charming gown of rose de Barry chiffon, with a charming train of the same color and some really magnificent diamond ornaments. Mr. Kennedy was also summoned to attend the court. For some years Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have spent the winter months in England, and the summer season in Canada. They maintain a fine establishment at Wimbledon, which is becoming a centre for Canadians who reside here either permanently or for a portion of the year.

Mr. Kennedy is a frequent visitor to Canada for Canadians who reside here either permanently or for a portion of the year.

Buckingham Palace, unlike most of the royal residences, is not open to the public, and the only chance to view the inside is on the occasion of some state function. Attention under the circumstances is generally monopolized by the ceremony, and few realize the details of the fine state apartments, the furniture and appointments of which in many instances are absolutely without price.

The long picture gallery is not, perhaps, so showy as some well-known collections, but great care has been taken to ensure that every picture it contains is genuine. In the case of one old master, where two canvases existed and the experts could not decide which was the original and which the copy, both were purchased, and are exhibited.

For the first court all the state rooms were thrown open. The ball room was used for the reception, and the splendid chandelier canopy and carpet, which have not been used at a previous court were much admired.

When a storm put all the electric wires in Elgin, Ill., out of commission, the electric motor press, which has an electric motor press, was in a quandary. Charles Treble, a motor-cyclist, was sent for, clamped his cycle to the floor, connected it with the press and "ran off the edition."

Mistresses in England Now Offering Special Inducements in Effort to Keep the Household Help They Need

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, Feb. 16.—English housewives are now faced with an unprecedented scarcity of home servants, for which Canada is blamed. Thousands of these girls are said to have left this country during the last twelve months; and many thousands more are making preparations to leave in the spring.

In an endeavor to retain the services of these useful members of the household, wages have been increased considerably, and all kinds of inducements are held out. A London journal has come to the rescue with an advertisement specialist, whose services are placed at the disposal of despairing mistresses requiring maids. No longer does the stereotyped advertisement "Wanted a general, £20 a year," appear, but in its place an alluring invitation setting forth in great detail not the particular work the maid must perform but the inducements which the mistress is prepared to give.

Time was when the English servant was satisfied with one day a month away from work; almost high-hearted she is now offered every evening out. "No washing or ironing, or window cleaning" are advantages held out to the fast disappearing maid-of-all-work. Further than this, the paper which has taken upon itself the solution of the problem of the mistresses, is giving a month's wages to all girls who have stayed in their situations one month in answer to its advertisements. Double wages and a great reduction of work are certainly substantial attractions.

Notwithstanding these great benefits, which might be expected to stem the tide of emigration of servants, it is a fact that the exodus is greater than ever. Possibly the lady superintendent of an agency which devotes itself to sending girls out to Canada was right when she said that no attraction would be adequate against the promise of a swift marriage, which many of the girls believe awaits them in Canada.

"There have been so many wonderful stories sent over here," she said. "Cases have come before my attention where girls have gone out and quickly become married to prosperous farmers. A thing like that does not take long to become known, and the natural result is that the friends of the lucky one determine to follow her example. The mistresses, deeply resent the departure of their help is clearly evident to us. We make a careful selection of girls for Canada, and we demand satisfactory references. Mistresses frequently either refuse or give preferences which render it difficult for us to accept girls."

"I have known cases where, other means failing, girls have been dissuaded from going to Canada by their mistresses who have told them stories of the hardships which must be endured. We hear very much of the shortage of girls in Canada, but I can assure you that if the girls continue to go out at the present rate, it will become a problem urgent of solution in this country."

Daily Hints For the Cook

STEAK WITH MUSHROOMS

Wash and cook mushrooms in enough salted water to cover them. Cook until water is nearly boiled away (about 15 minutes). Have steak one inch thick, and broil over hot coals, catching drippings in pan containing mushrooms. When steak is done, slash with knife to get blood to run, and pour over mushrooms. Add piece of butter size of small egg, teaspoon of flour and stir until gravy is thick as cream. Pour all over steak and serve at once.

Another:—Melt ¼ cup of butter in a saucepan, add 1 quart of fresh mushrooms thoroughly cleaned. Cover and stew gently about 15 minutes or until tender, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Broil tenderloin steak; place on a platter and border with mushrooms. Garnish with parsley.

Beefsteak Pie.—Cut remnants of cold boiled steak or roast beef in one-inch cubes. Cover with boiling water, add one-half onion and cook slowly one hour. Remove onion, thicken gravy with flour diluted with cold water and season with salt and pepper. Add potatoes cut in one-fourth-inch slices, which have been parboiled eight minutes in boiling salted water. Put in a buttered pudding dish, cool, cover with baking powder, biscuit mixture or pie crust. Bake in a hot oven. If covered with pie crust, make several incisions in crust that gases may escape.

Another Dish.—One cup cold roast beef finely chopped, salt and pepper, onion juice, table sauce, 2 tablespoons bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon melted butter and yolk of 1 egg slightly beaten. Season beef with salt, pepper, onion juice and table sauce. Add remaining ingredients, shape after the form of small croquettes and pointed at ends. Roll in flour, egg and crumbs, fry in deep fat, drain and serve with ponzo sauce.

FORWARD MARCH!

By J. R. HAMILTON Former Advertising Manager of Wanamaker's, Philadelphia. (Copyrighted)

MARCH IS the month of progress. We freeze in January. We thaw out in February and we get up and march in March.

March is really the natural first of the new year. And if it hadn't been for a lot of silly old Romans who wanted to get their names in the calendar, and who in various other ways had to fuss around with the centuries, we would still have the New Year where it belongs.

March is the time when the earth gets tired of being brown or white according to the latitude and begins putting on a little new green finery. And therefore it is the time when all sensible human plants begin to do the same.

The way to test the blood of a man or a woman is not to take a test of blood pressure nor a count of the leucocytes, but to watch for the eagerness with which they go after new clothes at the first full opening of Spring.

A real good healthy man or woman, or boy or girl can no more continue to wear old clothes after the first clear call of Spring than the old earth herself can continue to wear her dreary garb after the robin has whispered to the grass.

The stores too have been turned into gardens of beauty with the coming of March. Every aisle is blooming like a hedgerow of beautiful fabrics. Beautiful Spring gowns and dresses have sprung up as if in some Fairyland over night. The daintiest of waists, the finest of lingerie and the sheerest of stockings, are calling to you from every aisle to come and buy.

And even the advertising in this paper has taken on New color, and has become more intensely interesting to you.

There is so much to tell you about the New Spring Styles, there is so much to say about these beautiful new stocks. There is so much promise of beauty and pleasure and life in all of these great piles of merchandise, that either women or men must certainly feel cold indeed if they find no thrill in all the attractive things that are being shown.

Read your advertising now and get into the stores as quickly as you can.

Get first pick at these fine fresh stocks. Don't delay until the best of them are sold, but just go over all the advertisements in this paper today, and take first choice of everything you see.

MEASURES FOR FARMERS' BENEFIT IN NOVA SCOTIA

Demonstration Stations—Encouragement For Poultry Raising—Agricultural Schools

(Halifax Chronicle)

Premier Murray yesterday afternoon introduced a number of important bills in the house of assembly dealing with the agricultural development of the province.

From the scope of legislation indicated it would look as if the government proposed utilizing the educational advantages now offering in this province to the fullest extent, covering both scientific and practical work in agricultural and horticultural life.

One of the bills proposing the establishment of demonstration stations throughout the province, thus bringing home to first hand information as to planting and caring for different varieties of the products of the soil. These demonstration stations should be of great advantage, as they will show by practical results what really can be done. Legislation dealing with proper seed growing, another very important matter, and efforts to improve seed will be looked upon with much interest by the farmers.

Another matter of importance and interest is the appropriation of a considerable sum of money to encourage poultry breeding, the regulation of foreshadowing a grant to every county in the province.

One of the great agencies hitherto employed for the betterment of agriculture was the agricultural society. These societies have grown in number during the last few years, and a measure for their further encouragement and continuation, with materially increased grants is proposed. This will enable these societies to do much more good along old and new lines in the future.

Legislation is proposed for the employment of a professor of entomology and a superintendent of dairies. Both these men are now at work in the province and are performing their respective duties with an energy that must be productive of good results.

Another bill deals with the holding of exhibitions which includes the grouping of counties when the municipalities and agricultural societies agree.

This varied and important legislation gives further evidence that Nova Scotia is in all particulars up to date and that the farmers are to have all the advantages which the government can place before them.

The bill previously introduced by Hon. George E. Faulkner for the repeal of the legislation granting the board of control system to Halifax came up for its second reading.

Mr. Faulkner explained to the house the attitude of the city council with regard to the board of control. He said he himself was not in favor of having legislation repealed that had not been tried, but he was introducing the bill at the request of a majority of the city council.

THE NEW PRESIDENT

Mr. Woodrow Wilson will tomorrow become the President of the United States. His first message is awaited with keener interest than any message of any president for many years. There has been a great deal of speculation regarding his probable policy, and he has at least shown that he possesses the admirable quality of being able to keep his own counsel. This has troubled some of the Democratic stalwarts, who felt that they should be taken into the confidence of the man whom they had supported; and many articles in the press have tended to convey the impression that there is some misgiving in the minds of some party men lest the new president should prove intractable when urged to do things for his supporters. Mr. Wilson is a progressive Democrat. It was only the other day that the leader of the Progressive party in New York declared that they intended to have Mr. Wilson at the head of their ticket in the race for the presidency in 1916. Of course if he pursues a radical course he will gradually lose the support of the conservative wing of the Democratic party; but he will gain that of many progressive Republicans. It would not be surprising, therefore, if during the Wilson term there should be a re-alignment of parties in the United States. If we may judge from his utterances, Mr. Wilson will not be the tool of any clique or party, but will endeavor in reality to be the President of the United States. He has risen to the presidency as a result of the wave of protest against the evils of Republican rule, and no man realizes more clearly than himself that changes must be made in relation to the tariff and the currency, the control of trusts, the question of conservation and other matters of great importance to the welfare of the republic. Mr. Wilson is a strong man, and there are those who believe that he will prove to be the greatest president since Lincoln. On the other hand there are those, of course, who believe he will not prove to be a big enough man for his task. He will certainly have a hard task to perform.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post declares that there are two great phases of the forthcoming Wilson administration, and these are that it is to be a personal administration and that it is to be a progressive administration. This writer further declares that there is nobody like Mr. Wilson in the big politics of the country, and that so far as he can learn there never has been. This writer's estimate is wholly favorable and concludes as follows:

"He is not excited about being president. He is taking the office as a trust given to him by the people, and he intends to be his own kind of president in his own way, and take all the responsibilities; but, and this is the basis of it, his kind of president is a progressive president, who shall have a decent regard for the political necessities of the party that nominated him, but who shall once for all have a much higher regard for the welfare of the whole people."

SCHOOL AND FACTORY

Speaking at the Every Day Club last evening, Postmaster Sears suggested that an arrangement should be made by which a small section of large manufacturing plants would be fitted up for the use of boys or girls, according to the nature of the work done, so that these while yet at school might be able to receive specific training in one or more lines of manufacture. The suggestion is a good one, and should be capable of development. There is constant complaint of the lack of skilled help for the factories. There is also complaint that most young people are a dislike for factory work. Their school training does not tend sufficiently to give their minds a practical bent.

The school and shop plan is in fact being carried out today by quite a number of cities in the United States. For example in Lansing, Michigan, the automobile industry is an important one and it needs skilled workers. The high school and the automobile industries of the city cooperate. Boys who wish to go beyond the eighth grade, but wish also to get industrial training, divide their time between the school and the shop. They work in school one week and the next week in the automobile or gas engine shop or some other factory. They are paid for the work they do in the shop, and when the course of study is completed they have also a practical training which enables them to earn wages and get a fair start in industrial life.

The question of vocational training in the higher schools was discussed last week by the National Educational Association in session in Philadelphia. Resolutions were adopted urging the need of making rural schools more efficient, and that agricultural education be supported by city, state and national governments. The Association also declared itself in favor of using the school buildings as social centres, and of the establishment of night and vocational schools. Thus everywhere there is a tendency, not only to make courses of education more practical, but to get a larger return from the very large expenditure made on school plants.

The Federation board of trade is asking the city council to grant $2,500 for publicity purposes. The citizens of Fredericton are wide awake to the importance of publicity in the forward movement.

The St. John board of trade will square away this week for vigorous work. It has the funds and it has a fine opportunity.

It is said that Turkey is now ready to accept peace on almost any terms. That decision should have arrived at some weeks ago.

The tory cause at Ottawa must be in a bad way. The Standard is out with double column black-face type attacking the Liberals.

The Victoria Colonist observes that it is not customary in that part of Canada to look eastward for illustrations of the noble art of housing, but that St. John has set a pace in some matters which even the progressive west might find it difficult to keep up with. After reviewing the recent great membership campaign of the St. John board of trade, the Colonist takes note of the fact set forth in a St. John paper that the efforts of the board did not meet with universal approval, and upon this point it says: "We have heard of localities, not so far away as St. John, to which these observations apply with very considerable appropriateness. The knocker, like the poor, is always with us, and a very notable aspect in the case is that the knocker is usually one who gains the most of the very things he denounces."

Referring to an item in the Times to the effect that St. John would be glad to hear of the discovery of natural gas near Sussex, the Moncton Transcript says:—"Whether natural gas is discovered at Sussex or some other point nearer St. John has comparatively little bearing upon the question of natural gas being supplied in St. John. The distance from the Albert gas fields to St. John is only from one-third to one-half the distance that natural gas is being successfully piped in the Dominion of Canada today, without going to the United States for more striking illustrations. The natural gas yield at present is about fifty million cubic feet per day. Scarcely one-twentieth of that daily yield is consumed in the city of Moncton, including the million and one-half or so daily consumption by the I. C. R. work shops. There is no diminution of pressure."

The British Columbia government has introduced in the legislature some amendments to the liquor license law which are not only drastic in relation to intoxicants, with a view to reducing the number of persons in that class, but which make a specific list of persons to whom liquor shall not be sold. The Colonist, reviewing this portion of the bill says: "For instance, by the amended law a licensee is not permitted to sell liquor to any person apparently under the influence, or to any dipsomane or any person who has acquired the reputation of being a drunkard, or is openly and notoriously a drunkard habit; or to any person who openly or notoriously wastes his money in drinking liquor and in riotous living to the detriment of his family or those dependent upon him; to any vagrant or tramp; or to any chauffeur as defined in the Motor Vehicles Act."

It is the hour when clock and chandelier, Midnight forgotten, overlook the dawn; When dewdrops stay the flanks of hair and fawn, And roses blink at morning with a tear.

It is the hour when hush and vigil clear The world of every music. 'Tis I saw One hour of dreams to watch the coming on Of sunrise to your dreams of morning, dear;

The first deep sigh, like lilies in your breast; Stir from the snow, and watch your covered eyes Awake to purple violets from the dew;

To feel your arms, the ferns of spring's surrak, Reach up unto the call of golden skies, And draw the smile of heaven down to you!

—Aloystius Coll.

A Miraculous Escape

Rome, March 2.—Solomon Joseph, a young South African artist while leaning on the balcony of the Hotel Sirena at Tivoli, admiring the wonderful cascades, lost his balance and fell 200 feet.

A companion who witnessed the accident found him sitting on the ground smoking a cigarette. He was badly shaken, but otherwise unharmed. The branches of a tree had broken his fall.

Her husband granted, being in a reactionary mood. "I'd like to know," he said, "what women have ever done for the feeble-minded?" "They usually marry them dear," replied the wife sweetly.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

MONDAY, MARCH THIRD

Sir John Murray, a noted British scientist, was born on this date in the year 1841, in Cobourg, Ontario. He is known to fame principally by virtue of his work in connection with the Challenger Expedition, 1872-76, which made a physical and biological exploration of the great ocean basin. Sir John Murray became editor of the report on the results of this expedition. He has also taken part in numerous other deep sea investigations, for all of which he was knighted in 1908.

This is also the birthday of another noted man of science, Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone who was born in Edinburgh in 1847. He was educated in Scotland and in 1870 came to Canada, where he invented the telephone while living in Brantford. He has lately become interested in flying machines and at his summer residence at Baddeck, N. S., is busy studying out problems of aviation. He has received many honors in connection with his work for science.

V. S. Calvert, a prominent Liberal politician, and more recently one of the National Transcontinental Railway commissioners, was born fifty-four years ago today, in Lambton county, Ont. He has always taken a prominent interest in politics, beginning with municipal work and entering parliament as M.P. for West Middlesex in 1896. For eight years he was chief Liberal whip, becoming in 1909 a member of the railway commission.

DISCONCERTING

COURAGE AND MEMORY

A Dainty Little Story

Richard Wilson, the English landscape painter, was not of a pliant disposition; conscious of his own merits, he disdained to humble himself to those who measure men by rank and value them by pounds. But Wilson's friends liked him no less for his brusque manner.

Goldsmith, Sterne, Wilson and Dr. Johnson were assembled at Garrick's house with a party of ladies for supper. "We were very lively at your expense indeed, gentlemen," said Mrs. Garrick, smiling them for having arrived late. "To be sure, you are not obeying our summons, the ladies looked you all to plants and birds and flowers."

"Pray, let us hear," said Wilson, "Doubtless I come in for a sprig of laurel."

"No, sir," said the pretty, lively lady,

TOLL OF THE SEA HAS BEEN HEAVY THIS WINTER

The toll of the sea has been heavy this winter and the Lutine bell at Lloyd's of London, which clangs when a big vessel founders, has rung the knell of many a staunch schooner and steamship. For more than a century the Lutine bell has pealed joyously at the receipt of tidings of the saving of a vessel considered lost or mourned in doleful tones the tragic end of thousands of gallant craft. But it is many years since the brazen tongue has cried the loss of a fleet of five steamships in one day, as it did some weeks ago during a gale which drove to destruction a score of fishing smacks and smaller vessels.

No man ever did battle more heroically against an enemy than did Captain Lockwood against wind and water and hunger when he brought the steamship Snowdon of the Furness line, into Queenstown harbor after forty days and nights of sleeplessness.

The thread spun by a spider is so excessively fine that a pound of it would be long enough to reach around the earth. It would take 10 pounds of it to reach to the moon, and more than 2,000 pounds to stretch to the sun. But to get a thread long enough to reach the nearest star would require 500,000 tons.

SORROW IN ROYAL ROBES

Empress of Russia is Saddened Woman

EVER PRESENT DANGER

The Envelope of Death That Came to Czar in His Morning Mail—Story of Plot to Kill Whole Imperial Family

(Saturday Journal, London).

Last week the diplomat whose strange stories have been given in these columns stated that one of the countries he would not rule in Russia, and hinted at the latest calamity that has befallen the house of Romanoff, but more heavily than upon the Czar the tragedy has fallen upon the empress, perhaps the saddest woman in the world. The writer has had his information from good sources, information that points to the royal lady of Russia as living in a state of terror that all but passes the border line into insanity. The Czarina has always hoped that the Russian terrorists would refrain from killing the Czar while she was in company. She has been encouraged in this belief by the fact that they had in nearly every case only killed members of the imperial family and high Russian officials when they were apart from their wives and children.

The Death of Sergius The Grand Duke Sergius, the most hated uncle of the Czar, who had been marked for death by the nihilists or terrorists was spared for years because he always went about in public with his wife, who was a sister of the Czarina and greatly beloved by the people. Then, as last, one day he ventured alone in his carriage in the streets of Moscow, and he was promptly blown to atoms by a bomb.

The Envelope of Death Only the other day the Czar and Czarina were sitting down one morning in the former's study, or cabinet de travail, where they are accustomed to take their breakfast. Here the Czar frequently reads important documents and letters from his family. It is hardly necessary to say that all letters and communications addressed to the Czar are examined very carefully before they are submitted to him. The great majority never reach him. Only letters written by members of his own family and by officials of the highest rank and importance are sent in to him unopened. These precautions are taken to save him trouble, and to save him from the effects of explosives which may be concealed in letters.

On the morning in question one of the imperial servants brought in to the Czar a few of these confidential communications. On top of them was a large, square, thick important-looking envelope. It purported to come from the governor-general of Moscow, one of the most important officials in the empire, and one from whom the Czar at that moment was particularly desirous of receiving a report. It bore the name of the governor's office printed upon the front, and was duly sealed on the back with the governor's heavy green official seal.

The Czarina's Wits The Czar picked up a paper-knife and was about to open the important-looking package, when the quick wits of his wife noted that in the address the word "imperial" had been left out. This omission, trivial in itself, was all sufficient to have the package sent to the "bureau," where suspicious parcels are scrutinized. In this case the scrutiny revealed the fact that the Czar had had a narrow escape indeed.

The envelope was of thick linen, so that it would be difficult to open it, except by breaking the seal. The flap on the envelope bearing the seal formed one-half of a friction-piece, the other half of which was attached to the body of the envelope. Breaking the seal would ignite this friction-piece, which in turn set off a quantity of compressed gun cotton hidden in the letter, enough to kill a man. This, packed round with paper, gave the envelope the appearance of containing a bulky report—which, in fact, it did; but reports are of many kinds.

A Gigantic Conspiracy It was not more than two weeks before this that an extraordinary plot to destroy the entire imperial family was discovered. A servant found a strange metallic case concealed in the curtains at the head of the bed in the room of the Czar, and the only son of the Czar and Czarina. She picked it up, but found she could not carry it away, for it was attached by a wire to the wall. She then called for help, and a chamberlain who came running up to see what was the matter immediately saw that it was a bomb.

It was then found that a regular network of bombs had been installed in the apartments of the Czar, Czarina, and their children. There were seventeen of them altogether in the palace, and any one of them would have been sufficient to blow all the occupants of a room to pieces. They were artfully concealed behind beds, under chairs, and behind curtains at the windows. All the bombs were connected by electric wiring with a battery on the floor below. This apparatus was concealed behind the wainscoting in a dark place in the corridor. It was so arranged that by pressing a button an assassin could discharge all the seventeen bombs at once, and thus ensure the annihilation of the imperial family.

Just in Time The sole reason why the plot had not been carried out was that the bombs had been placed in position only that day. Had they not been discovered during the day probably the Czar and his whole family would have been blown to eternity.

Evidently the bombs had been installed by an electrician who had been admitted to the palace the day before to make some repairs to the electric wiring, but it is supposed that one or more servants were among the accomplices. These cases are two of many that are taking place almost weekly in the Royal Palace of Russia. Is it any wonder that the mind of the Czarina, who may well be called the Empress of Sorrows, is all but unbalanced?

Free After 35 Years in Prison Rome, March 3.—Sebastiano Angelo, a convict, who has been serving thirty-five years in prison for murder, has been released with a royal pardon.

PUTS LIQUOR MEN OF BANGOR IN A PANIC

Judge Cornish Hands Out Jail Sentences—Hundred and Forty Fail to Respond to Court Order

Bangor, Me., March 3.—Because a judge, who was known to believe that the prohibitory law was meant to be enforced and not turned into a farce, happened to be sitting at the term of the supreme court here during the last few weeks, 140 of the 150 indicted liquor dealers in the city and county suddenly disappeared to parts unknown. When their cases were called the sheriff was unable to find them.

Nineteen of the indicted persons, including one woman, were brought into court. Justice Cornish sent nine to jail for periods varying from thirty days to six months.

The new county attorney, Don F. Snow, has tried to round up the liquor dealers. He caused 120 of them to be indicted, but the new sheriff, Major Emerson, was unable to find all the respondents, and so 140 of the cases go over until August. Cases have been issued for all the absent, and as soon as they can be found they will be arrested.

Justice Cornish said to the jury: "When you come into the jury box it makes no difference whether you believe in free rum, local option or prohibition; you have only to consider the evidence and determine whether the respondent is guilty or not guilty. The laws upon our books were made to enforce, and we are here to enforce the laws."

Advocates Scenic Highway in West Edmonton, Alta., March 3.—Advocating the building of a scenic highway from Edmonton to Vancouver, by way of the Hallowhead Pass in the Canadian Rockies, William MacKinnon, editor and managing director of the Edmonton Capital, says the plan is feasible, as it would afford connection with the ocean to ocean project in Canada, also with a system of established roads through Washington and Oregon and as far south as San Diego, Cal.

BAPTIST Y. P. A. WORK

An Invitation to Ottawa—Possibility of all Canadian Union

The Baptist Young People of New Brunswick until last October were organized under the name of The United Baptist Young People's Provincial League. Many societies in Nova Scotia signified a desire to unite with the N. B. League, and at the Maritime Baptist convention held in Moncton in last October, the denomination decided to take the young people's work under their care, and a strong committee was appointed representing different sections of the three provinces.

This committee selected an executive committee, composed of Rev. F. S. Porter, chairman; B. H. Dunfield, secretary; Allen A. McIntyre, treasurer, and C. R. Watson, and established headquarters in St. John. Rev. P. C. Reed, of Sydney was appointed Editor of the Young People's Department in the Maritime Baptist, the denominational paper. Hereafter it has been necessary for societies in the maritime provinces to procure their literature from United States and Upper Canada, but this was not always found to be suitable for the local societies, and the committee are now preparing literature which it is thought will best suit the requirements. Up to the present some fifty societies in different parts of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have registered with the secretary, showing an enrollment of more than 1,000 members. The Ontario and Quebec Baptist Young People have a strong union. This union will hold their annual convention in Ottawa during March, and have extended to the maritime union an invitation to send a delegate to Ottawa to discuss with them the question of organic union of the work in all the eastern provinces, and they have even suggested that ultimately an all-Canadian Union of Baptist Young People's Societies might be consummated, holding biennial or triennial conventions. This would be in line with the recent union of all Baptist missionary interests of Canada.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION

Better Than Castor Oil, Calomel or Cathartics to Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels—Harmless Laxative For Men, Women and Children

Primitive folk did not need laxatives. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine—too rich. We simply can't have our ten yards of bowels clogged up, liver choked with sour bile and stomach full of foul effete matter and feel well. It means that the food and waste retained in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferments—decays. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids, and these poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, become dull, bilious, tongue coated, nervous, meals don't digest, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our choice. We must live like primitive folk, else we must take artificial means to move the excess bile and waste matter on and out of the system. The safest, most harmless and effective regulator for men, women and children is this delicious Syrup of Figs, which doesn't irritate, grip or weaken. Its effect is the effect of fruit. It is composed entirely of licious figs, senna and aromatic. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without harm. Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and see on the label that it is prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. This is the only genuine—the old reliable. Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrup imitations sometimes offered to deceive you.

WHAT LEADER SAYS ABOUT THE MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES

Mrs. Pankhurst Talks to Correspondent When Asked to Explain Why English Suffragettes Are Blowing up Houses and Burning Down Buildings

(By W. G. Shepherd.) London, Eng., March 3.—"Tell the women of America that we are doing the same thing American men did back in '76, when they threw the English tea into the Boston harbor and rebelled against English rule. "Tell them we are fighting, too, the same battle that was fought out in the American civil war—the question of slavery. Only our battle is the battle of white slavery, not the battle of black slavery!"

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness—Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of a wonderfully beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, falls to her knees. Moreover, it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture and in color a glorious glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said: "Had anyone told me such marvellous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair was covered with dandruff and itched all day long. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription for the cure of dandruff and itching scalp. I decided to try it and I had my druggist mix for me a bottle of the following: 2 oz. of the Lavon de Compose with 6 grains of Sulphur, 1/2 oz. of Menthol Crystals, and started to use it. My hair quickly grew again. First the dandruff disappeared, then the itching ceased and the hair appeared all over my scalp. It grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet, and while, of course, I have used the treatment also and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it. Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired."

HOW NERVOUS MEN GET MOST OUT OF LIFE

(From "Successful Men.") Every normal minded man wishes to get all he can out of life—but many a man knows that he is falling far short. The successful man, works, eats and plays with the keenest enjoyment, because his nerves are keenly sensitive. He tastes, hears, sees and feels all the highest emotions of vigorous healthy nerves. As a consequence he has stamina, endurance and personal magnetism, which makes those near and dear to him, worship his manliness, chivalry and strenuousness. Without keen, sensitive, well developed nerves, such a man would be an object of pity, and not the brilliant success he is. All men should have well-nourished nerves, but if the blood and vital organs do not supply the chemical substance known as the nerve fluid, then the state of the nerves is not renewed daily and hourly as it should be. The nerve becomes exhausted, giving rise to such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, cold feet and hands, melancholia, hysteria, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, dizziness, heart palpitation, pain in the back, headache, languor and weariness at all times. A most valuable treatment, restorative in every respect, is to be found in the following prescription, emanating from a brilliant and successful specialist on nervous ailments. The treatment can be prepared in the privacy of home and thus causes no embarrassment. First get three ounces of syrup of sarsaparilla compound in a six ounce bottle. To this add one ounce of compound of balsamwood, shake well and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cadomene) and one ounce of compound essence cardol. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. It is astonishing to feel the new nerve force, the steadied nerves, and the control of every muscle in the body after using this. Overworked office men, and the many victims of city's late hours and distraction will surely find in this restorative, rejuvenating force they are sorely in need of. The ingredients are used in various prescriptions and any good druggist can supply them.

NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR A SOUR STOMACH

"Pape's Diapipin" Steps Fermentation and Makes Your Upset Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if you feel gassy, and what you just ate has ferment ed into stubborn lumps; your head aches and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapipin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapipin occasionally keeps the delicate organs regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapipin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful! It digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

POSTMASTER'S ADDRESS AT EVERY DAY CLUB

Postmaster Sears gave a thoughtful address at the Every Day Club last evening, directed especially to the boys, but applying also to older persons. He spoke on character building, and in that connection dwelt on the importance of faith in God and in ourselves. The value of truth and honesty, a right ambition, a spirit of helpfulness, and a desire to be of service to others, was set forth in earnest words. Mr. Sears pointed out that many of the ablest men of our time are men who began life as poor boys, and had to work their way up, and this should encourage every boy who is in like circumstances to endeavor to win a like success. Referring to the importance of every boy and girl being able to do some practical work where practical work could be done by school boys and girls, as a supplement to their study in the school buildings. It was the most important, he said, not only that the young should be encouraged in every way to build character, but they should be enabled to acquire skill in practical work by which to earn a livelihood. He commended every effort made to give right ideals before the young, and his very earnest address was heard with deep interest. The musical portion of the evening included a solo, Abide With Us, by W. J. Hanbury.

Deinstadt, of Carmarthen street Methodist church is to receive the sum of $10,492.48, this being her share after an equal division had been made with two other sisters, and a brother, Mrs. P. S. MacNutt is a sister. The whole estate was valued at more than $100,000.

Fredericton, March 2—Bishop Richardson was in charge of the ordination services at the Holy Trinity church in Fredericton, N. B., on Saturday morning. Rev. Brimley Abbott, dean, lately stationed at Southampton, was ordained a priest and X. Franchoise, E. B. East, England, and F. Ellis, of Toronto, were ordained deacons. Rev. C. K. Whaley was the preacher, and Very Rev. Dean Schofield presented the candidates. In the laying on of hands his lordship was assisted by the dean, Rev. Canon Smithey, and Rev. Mr. Whalley.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Suggests Grandmother's Remedy

It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak, tired feeling. Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses was grandmother's remedy, but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world-famous tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of the cod liver oil, and iron for the blood. Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your friends and relatives proud of you, and gives you a rich and pure—just healthy color in your cheeks.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The Canadian customs receipts for the eleven months of the present fiscal year show still another increase. The revenue for the eleven months ended on Friday was $103,403,000, compared with $77,216,000 for the corresponding period last year. While hard coal companies in the United States increased the wages of their employees this year by a total of about $1,000,000, they made such an increase in the price of anthracite to the consumer that the wage rate would scarcely be needed. This is said to be the state of affairs, in a report presented by the investigating committee of the Washington labor bureau. On the money gained by the operators after the strike agreement $10,000,000 was secured through general price increase and $2,500,000 from suspension of May and April discounts on domestic size coal. Another fire caused by spontaneous combustion has broken out in the colliery of the International Mining Co. at West Virginia, and is being fought by the owners. This is the second in about ten days. In the examination before the St. Lawrence commission on Saturday, it was disclosed that the Conservatives had appointed the office of superintendent of the pilots from "Cap Sante", Quebec, Joseph Frenette, a farmer, aged 37, who is 27 years, Washington, March 1—Great Britain's final word to the United States in the Panama Canal toll dispute, made public today, insisted that a case for settlement under the Hay-Randolph treaty should be presented, but suggested, in effect, that there would not be time to discuss the subject further before the United States government changed hands.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Thomas Walsh took place yesterday at his residence, 137 Brussels street. Mr. Walsh was a native of County Cork, Ireland, and came to this city as a young man. He is survived by a wife, the late Mrs. Waterbury & Ring, Thomas M., of the customs and Joseph of Waterbury & Ring and James M., of the late Mrs. Waterbury & Ring. He was a member of the St. Ignace church, and was buried in the St. Ignace cemetery. Mr. Walsh was an upright citizen, respected and loved by all who knew him. He has enjoyed a long and good life and when the final call came could look back upon a life well lived. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Cutten on "Electoral Corruption"

(Waldville Acadian) There was a very good attendance at the mass meeting in the Opera House last Sunday afternoon to hear a talk by Rev. Dr. Cutten on electoral corruption. The speaker made a most forcible exposition of the evils attendant and inevitable upon this bad practice. The speaker first showed how wide spread it is in Nova Scotia, where vast sums of money were spent at the last election. In this country it is said more than $100,000 was expended in buying votes. He enumerated six reasons why bribery should be strictly discontinued by all good citizens. After the address, which was closely listened to and participated in, a number of pledges against political corruption were passed around and largely signed by those present. The declaration has already received the signature of Mr. Foster, M. P., and Sir F. W. Borden.

EXPRESS MEN HAVE A DRIVE AND DINNER

The local employees of the Canadian Express Co. held their annual sleigh drive on last Friday night. The drive was about twenty and including the staffs of the city office, superintendent's office and the depot office, as well as some of the messengers, drove as far as Newcomb's and returned to the city, where a turkey supper awaited them at the restaurant. After justice was done to the excellent bill of fare, and toasts to the company and the principal officials had been honored, an impromptu programme was carried out. Among the numbers greatly enjoyed were vocal solos by M. B. Harrigan, F. R. DeBoo, of Sussex, kept the party in good humor by his monologues. Albert Burton's step dancing was also feature.

IN THE CHURCHES

Rev. Gordon Dickie spoke on the "Get Together Movement" in his sermon in St. Stephen's Presbyterian church last evening. Mr. Dickie referred to the growth of our cities as compared with the agricultural districts as evidence of the strength of this feeling and advocated its widespread adoption as a solution of the problem of the city. Throughout the world the 122nd anniversary of the death of John Wesley was celebrated in the Methodist churches yesterday. In the United States the anniversary was marked by stopping the clock for ten minutes during the service. In the local churches special services were held and in Centenary church, J. Dawson delivered a stirring address on the life and works of the great evangelist. Rev. T. J. Deinstadt and others also spoke on the same subject. Rev. G. A. Kahring delivered a strong sermon on the evils of gambling, in St. John's Stone church yesterday morning. He condemned gambling on a small as well as a large scale and made a protest against gambling, even in the minor forms, in the home. The elementary classes of Queen Square Sunday school were treated to a singing by the superintendent, R. D. Smith, on Saturday afternoon. About fifty of the children enjoyed a drive to Ferryburg. Rev. W. R. Robinson was the speaker at the Seaman's Institute on Saturday evening, and Rev. J. A. Mackiegan spoke last evening.

Could Not Digest His Food

Buffered For Years From Indigestion Until Cured By Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett

If you suffer from chronic indigestion, forget about the stomach and pay attention to the condition of the liver and bowels. Ten to one that the bowels become constipated and the whole digestive system is upset. As a cure, you cannot do better than to read Mr. Barrett's experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. There is no treatment so prompt and thoroughly effective. Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C., and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes: "For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The remedy I tried proved faulty until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using them a few days I was completely cured. Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edman Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

HOCKEY In Upper Canada. The Ottawa won from the Toronto on Saturday, 3 to 2, tying with the Wanderers and Canadiens for second place in the National Hockey Association League. The game was fast and rough.

The Canadiens defeated the Toronto on Saturday night in Toronto by a score of 2 to 1. The game was slow and uninteresting, and the attendance was disappointing.

The champion Quebec team scored their tenth successive victory on Saturday night by defeating the Wanderers, 6 to 4. The game was marked by many brilliant plays and the attendance was the largest seen in Montreal this winter.

Victorias Disband. The Montreal hockey team has disbanded and most of the players returned to their homes yesterday. They were unable to come to an agreement with the Sydney team to play for a $1,000 bet in a neutral rink.

THE TURF Jockey's Close Call. Juaner, Mexico, March 1.—Jackey Haynes miraculously escaped death yesterday afternoon in a second. He was out in front leading with Tom G. when Mulligan, on Ben Greenleaf, crossed over on the track and attempted to whip him out. Tom G. was thrown back on his haunches and Haynes sailed through the air, turning a complete somersault.

The boy narrowly escaped being trampled to death by the outracing field, but when picked up it was discovered that he had sustained nothing more serious than a bruised back. Mulligan was held responsible for the accident and was suspended for the balance of the meeting.

WRESTLING The Poles Won. Zybko, Polish champion heavyweight wrestler, won from the German champion, Paul Samson, in the New York Athletic Club on Saturday night. Zybko forced Samson to quit in 31 minutes, 58 seconds. The bout was limited to forty minutes, and neither man gained a fall, but the decision was given to Zybko on points.

THE RING Willing to Demonstrate. Chicago, March 2.—That ocular demonstration will aid in passing the boxing bill now before the state legislature is the belief of Representative George C. Hilton, who drafted the bill. He has challenged Packey McFarland to meet him in a four-round exhibition before members of both houses, soon, in the arena in Springfield.

Hilton is a skilled amateur boxer and declares he is prepared to receive a majority of the punches if he can convince the law-makers that boxing, as regulated under his bill, is a clean, scientific sport and should be permitted in Illinois.

News of the Boxes. Joe Jeannette has been passed up by the Paris promoter, as he was not considered a drawing card. Pat Moore and Charley White will meet in Kenosha, Wis., on March 10.

BASEBALL Cheney Has Signed. Cheney, holdout pitcher of the Chicago National League baseball club, has signed a three-year contract.

Is There a Strike? Edward Barrow, president of the International League, in spite of the fact that he denied that the ball players in his circuit had organized a strike against the new salary limit of $8,000 a month for each club, admitted that at least sixty men had refused to sign with their respective clubs. President Barrow further admitted that personally he didn't know how many International League players had signed contracts for the season, but that no contracts had been sent to him and that the delay was caused by the stipulation that each player must make affidavit as to the full amount of his salary. Barrow insisted that the Newark and Baltimore clubs had signed all of their men and that fifteen Toronto players had lined up.

In defence of the salary limit Barrow said: "There was no opposition on the part of any of our club owners to the adoption of the present salary limit. They all realized that the salary lists of several clubs were entirely too high. Not only were the players getting all the money, but several of the teams had become so much stronger than the others that it was necessary to make some move to equalize the playing strength of the league.

"That the adoption of a uniform salary limit will help to bring this about in a short time I haven't the least doubt; possibly not this year, but by next season the good effects are sure to be seen and felt.

"The fans have no cause for worry; the quality of ball in the International League in 1913 will be just as high or higher than that of previous years."

Cyclone Thompson Hands Out Praise For Chunky Bob Moha

By TOM ANDREWS

"It is the beginning of the end, I guess," remarked Cyclone Johnny Thompson, the Sycamore farmer lad, and here in more than 200 hard fought battles, as he went to his dressing room after his 10-round argument with Bob Moha, the counterpart of Tom Sharkey, except for height, before the South Side A. C., in Milwaukee. "I have graduated from a light weight into a light heavy weight during the last two years," continued Johnny, "but I must confess now that Moha is altogether too fast and too young for me. I did not suppose that any man could make me slow up, but like all others, I was mistaken. I will beat most of them today at my weight, even with the handicap of age against me, but I will take off my hat to this young Milwaukeean, who is another Tom Sharkey for taking punishment and handing it out. He is altogether too fast for me now, and take it from me he will beat all the light heavy weights in the country, and if Jim Flynn claims the title he will have an awful time retaining it from this squatty Moha."

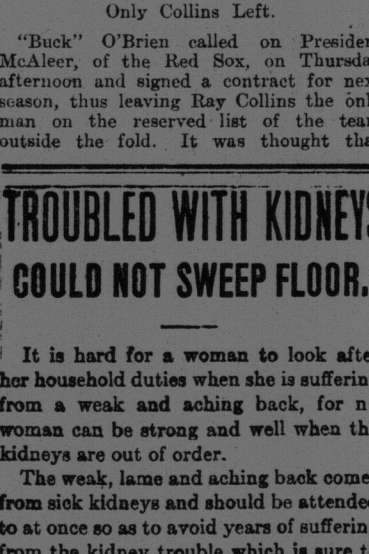

"I had made up my mind to go after all the men in my class above the 170 or below the 180-pound mark, but this set-back will probably make me change my mind. Just now I feel like retiring, but you know a boxer is like an actor—he never wants to quit, as the glare of the stage lights seems to have a sort of fascination for him. I may decide to take on another bout or two before I retire, but not for a while. It is too hard work training now, as I find it difficult to get off the bench and into proper shape. When a man gets near the 40-year mark he finds it a much different proposition to harden himself for a battle. Moha handed out some pretty stiff jolts with his right and left, but he never phased me a bit, but when he got to my stomach with straight rights it hurt, but I recovered quickly. He hits hard with short, choppy blows, and for a man of his build is fast. I hurt my hand in the fifth round and could not use it after that, but it would have made no difference as to the result. It will soon be to the farm for good for little Johnny."

Red Sox Release Pitcher. Boston, Feb. 28.—The release of Pitcher Vandyke to the Worcester club of the New England League was announced today by the Boston American club. Vandyke was secured from the Worcester club at the close of the New England League season last year.

Look For Much From Fisher. New York, March 2.—That Ray Fisher, who signed his contract to pitch for the Yankees, should be a good hurler for the New York club if he gets in condition, is the opinion of Connie Mack and Hughey Jennings. It will be remembered that Fisher did not report to the team until June 2 last season, and due to the fact that he did not have any work in the south he pitched poor ball for the rest of the season. Fisher is going to Bermuda with the rest of the hurlers.

Brooklyn Releases Williams. The Brooklyn baseball club has released Pitcher Charles Williams to the Nashville club of the Southern Association, and signed Pitcher B. Hall, of the Ridgewood, W. Va., club. The latter will report at Augusta, Ga., on March 5.

All Signed. Pitcher Ray Caldwell and Catcher Bob Williams signed with the Yankees for another year before sailing on Saturday morning for Bermuda, where Chance will condition his athletes. With the signing of Caldwell and Williams, the New York American club roster was officially completed. The seventeen "chances" who sailed on the Aradian, as well as all at Bermuda, are now under contract.

Suffered From Boils Constipation And Sick Headache.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood.

When the blood becomes impure the whole system is impure; boils and pimples break out, the bowels become constipated, and the head aches more or less.

Do not neglect to purify the blood on the first appearance of a pimple or boil. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters and thus prevent untold suffering.

Mr. D. M. McBlaine, Niagara Falls, Ont., writes—"It is with pleasure I testify to the sterling qualities of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After the Boer War, through which I served in the 1st Lt., I suffered from boils, constipation, and sick headaches, and tried many preparations, but got relief from none till an old comrade of mine got me to try the Burdock Blood Bitters. To say I got relief is to put it mildly. It made me myself again, viz., a man who knows not what it is to be sick, and who has been, and is still, an athlete.

PETITION FOR STREET CARS TO MILLIDGEVILLE

More Than 850 Names on Document Sent to Council

SUBURBAN COMPANY

Percy W. Thomson Speaks of Plans and of Expenditure of $10,000,000 of Foreign Capital Here

The announcement of the Suburban Railway Company that they were willing to build a line to Millidgeville provided they secure the privilege of doing so has been enthusiastically received. There has been a strong demand for an extension in this direction. It has been felt that any company which would promise to provide a service of this nature would be supported. The strength of the demand has been shown by the number of signatures attached to a petition which was presented to the common council today asking the council to use its influence in securing the adoption of the necessary clause as part of the charter of the new company.

The residents of the North End appear solidly in favor of it; the members of the R. K. Y. C. equally enthusiastic and the citizens generally who have been shown prompt willingness to sign the petition. The petition was circulated only a couple of days last week, but more than 850 signatures were secured and this, it is said, with very little effort. The petition was delivered at City Hall this morning by Horace A. Porter, and will be submitted to the council this afternoon.

Arrangements are being made to call a meeting of the R. K. Y. C. to give public expression to their united endorsement of the project.

The petition, which is being sent to the members representing the City and County of St. John in the provincial legislature as well as to the common council, reads as follows:

The humble petition of the undersigned residents of the City of Saint John sheweth:

Whereas, the Suburban Railway Co. have a bill before the legislature of the Province of New Brunswick, praying that a charter be granted to them to operate a suburban street railway in the counties of Saint John and Kings, taking in Spruce Lake, Westfield and Rothesay;

And whereas, the incorporators have signified their intention of building and operating a street railway from Scott's Corner to Millidgeville, provided permission is given them to construct such a railway;

And whereas, the continued application of your petitioners to the St. John Railway Company to build a branch line to give accommodation to the populous and growing part of Saint John, known as Millidgeville, has been without result;

Now therefore your petitioners, feeling that such a road to Millidgeville would be of great advantage to them and to the public generally, and would open a large residential territory which is badly needed in the city at this time;

Do petition you that you use your influence with the legislature that when the bill comes before the corporations committee, you will cause to be inserted in this bill permission for the Suburban Railway Company to build and operate a street railway line between Scott's Corner and Millidgeville, subject to whatever conditions and regulations as may be set down by the common council of the City of Saint John;

Your petitioners will ever pray.

Dated at Saint John, N. B., this 29th day of February, A. D. 1913.

Speaking of the proposed extension, this morning Percy W. Thomson, said that the company would be glad to undertake it provided that they secure the right. If the extension was made in this direction, however, they also would like to have the opportunity to connect this line with one of their other longer lines to secure economy of operation. It would also provide a better service and they would like to be able to connect all the lines to Westfield, Spruce Lake, Rothesay and Millidgeville, and give a thorough service which would be more satisfactory to the company as it would enable them to give their patrons a much better service.

If they succeeded in purchasing the St. John Street Railway there would be no difficulty about this and if they do not buy it out he felt that the provincial government should give them this privilege in the interests of the large numbers of people who would be patrons of the lines. The company would also want the privilege of using the new bridge to be built at the falls and would not be disposed to haggle over the price they would be asked to pay for the privilege.

The New Brunswick Hydro-Electric Company, which is to furnish power for the Suburban Railway Company, has just completed surveys and a party of eight engineers concluded their field work on Saturday. As evidence of the fact that the company is very much in earnest, Mr. Thomson said that their preliminary work has already cost them $60,000.

To carry out their plans, including the building and equipping of the suburban line, the purchase and renovation of the street railway and the installation of their hydro-electric plant would cost in the vicinity of $10,000,000 and the bringing of this amount of foreign capital into the city and its expenditure in and around St. John would be a big thing for the city in itself quite apart from the benefits which the city would reap from the provision of modern facilities for transportation and the production of cheap power.

Plan Large Buildings

John R. Graham, of Bangor, who is at the head of the syndicate which proposes to put up the money for the new project, is said to be greatly impressed with the possibilities of St. John and if the plans go through is willing to join with some of the local business men associated with him, in undertaking a substantial concrete building, probably six stories in height, in connection with their terminals and fitted for the use of small manufacturers. Heat and light would be included in the rent and the tenants would be able to secure electric power for operation. By concentrating a number of manufacturers in this way transportation costs, it is figured, could be saved by combining in making up a building and it would be possible to build a model community for the working people.

Another proposition which is being considered is the erection of an eight story office building in the centre of the city. The proposal has been received with such favor that already three whole flats in the building have been spoken for by local business and professional men who are looking for more room.

The fortnightly roll-off on St. Peter's, Y. M. A. alleys on Saturday evening was won by Harry McMahon with a score of 96. The prize was a box of cigars.

BROKE HIS LEG.
While walking in Waterloo street on Friday last Patrick McCallough slipped on the icy sidewalk and broke his leg. Dr. J. M. Barry attended him.

LEG INJURED.
Charles Titus of Chesley street while at work on Saturday at Long Wharf fell and injured his leg quite severely. He was taken to his home but will probably be able to return to work in a few days.

DEATH OF A CHILD.
Many friends will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Steeves in the death of their infant daughter, Jean Elizabeth, which occurred at their home, 122 Marsh road, on Friday. She had been ill for three weeks. Four brothers survive.

IN SPECIAL TRAIN.
A special I. C. R. train arriving in the city noon today brought about four hundred new settlers for the Canadian west. They were English and Scotch for the most part, and were almost all young men, with a few young women, sisters or wives.

WINDOW BROKEN.
An automobile backed into one of the large plate glass windows in the store of Manchester Robertson, Allison, Ltd., in King street this morning, and smashed it to pieces. The auto skidded and kept going until it crashed into the window which was the one used for displays of men's clothing. The loss is insured by Lloyds.

SKATING CHALLENGE.
The Times sporting editor has received a challenge to skate from Jack Donovan of West St. John, no not for the scribble, but for H. Garnett. It reads: "I hereby challenge H. Garnett to a half-mile skating race in the Victoria Rink at a date to be agreed upon later. I would like to have the race held as soon as possible." John Donovan.

BURIED TODAY.
The funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Knight took place this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock from her late residence, 65 Portland street, and attended by many. Rev. E. P. McKim conducted the services, and interment was in the Church of England burial ground. There were placed about the casket many floral remembrances from friends, testifying to their respect for Mrs. Knight and sympathy for the bereaved family.

POLICE COURT.
In the police court this morning five prisoners were fined $8 or thirty days for drunkenness, and Charles McInnis, charged with drunkenness and profanity, was fined $12. Albert Macaulay, charged with assaulting his wife, was fined $20 or two months in jail. Ella Francis, arrested on vagrancy charge, was fined $25, but fine was allowed to stand on condition that she go home and remain with her father. John Jeffrey, arrested on Saturday night on the charge of stealing an overcoat from a boarding house in Charlotte street, was fined $10.

BARN BROKEN INTO.
A barn in Hilliard street at the corner of Sheriff street, used by Hedy Northrup, milk dealer, was broken into on Saturday night but the thief got little for his trouble, beyond a large can filled with milk. The thief was at first sought by trying to break the lock on the door, but this was unsuccessful so admission was made by breaking a window. It was a little before 12 o'clock that the break took place. A young man was seen coming out of the door, but he was not arrested. It is the second time that the barn has been broken into.

HOME FROM OTTAWA.
Colonel J. L. McAvity, commander of the 62nd St. John Fusiliers, and Colonel B. R. Armstrong, commander of the 3rd Regiment Canadian Artillery, returned home this morning from Ottawa where they have been in attendance at the militia council convened by order of the minister of militia, Colonel Sam Hughes. They said it was a distinctly successful convention and was largely attended. Many matters of interest to militia advancement and development were dealt with and the congress was expected to be most fruitful in its results as regards the general service. It was attended by senior officers of the militia from throughout the dominion.

A KING STREET INCIDENT.
It was probably because the plump, long haired little pet dog which was being guided along in leash, was being cared for tenderly by a lady as its owner, a big white bull dog about noon in King street today gave vent to his spite by taking a hold on the smaller canine's neck and shaking the little animal vigorously. For several seconds this continued, the little dog being unable to resist and the efforts of those who gathered about being fruitless in separating them. The lady who owned the smaller animal took a hand in the melee and tugged at her dog while the owner of the bull did likewise, but the grand climax came when another lady set off a formidable looking walking stick from the hand of a gentleman who was a quiet spectator, and, bringing it in the vicinity of the bulldog's nose, soon put an end to the fracas.
