$100,000,000 to Buy Belgium

Philadelphia, Pa.,—In accepting the chairmanship of the National Security League, John Wanamaker made his hearers gasp by proposing that the United States raise an enormous sum—$100,000,000 if necessary—to buy Belgium from Germany. "Understand me, we are not to keep or hold Belgium," he said, "but merely to gain freedom for her and let her work her way back unmolested. Belgium can pay us back when she gets on her feet, so to speak, and in good time. "I think that the United States owes something to poor Belgium," Mr. Wanamaker said. "Our big mistake was in not being the leading nation to protest against the unneutral action of Germany. Belgium has no money with which to pay the indemnity which will be asked of her. Let us pay for her. I doubt if France will be able to pay anything if another Alsace and Lorraine is taken from her."

Aeroplane Saved Transport

Paris, July 28. The way in which a German submarine, heading for a British transport, laden with troops and ammunition, was put to flight by an allied aeroplane is described by the Siddul Bahr correspondent of the Mail. An aviator saw the underwater boat preparing to launch a torpedo and gave the alarm. Pending the arrival of destroyers, he dropped bombs on the submarine. Although none of the missiles took effect, they forced the submarine to plunge deep. Soon afterwards, the periscope reappeared on the surface and the aviator dropped two more bombs. The submarine then made off and did not reappear.

Explosives on 'Arabic'

London, Aug. 10.—The Press Association makes the definite announcement that the White Star Arabic was sunk. It also says that passengers and crew were saved by a steamship. On her last eastward trip the Arabic arrived in Liverpool on August 6 from New York. Following the receipt of a cablegram announcing her safe arrival the bureau of combustibles of New York city, allowed the fact to become known that sticks of dynamite had been discovered on board the liner on July 27, the night before she sailed from New York for Liverpool.

Brief World News

According to the Berlin newspapers, Major-General Von Buelow, brother to the commander of the Niemen army, was buried August 5 at Berlin. He had been mortally wounded in battle recently.
The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is to take over the Allan Line steamer business, a new organization having been formed in Montreal, named the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited.
Advices from Essen say that all the demands of the employees of the Krupp works have been granted, and that a strike has been averted.
The official Press Bureau at London publishes a request to the public, on behalf of the Treasury, to pay in all available gold to the banks, and to make cash disbursements so far as possible in bank notes.
The Colonial Office gave out, August 5, the text of telegrams from eight Governors of British colonies, expressing their loyalty on the anniversary of the declaration of war, and upholding the Government in its determination to continue the struggle until success is achieved.
The English language is to be substituted for German in most of the commercial schools of Russia as one of the compulsory subjects of the curriculum. This step was ordered by the Minister of Finance at the request of the school authorities.

"Rough on Rats" clears out Rats, Mice, etc. Don't Die in the House 15c and 25c at Drug and Country Stores.

'Arabic' Torpedoed

London, August 20.—The big White Star Line steamer Arabic, formerly a favorite ship in the Liverpool-Boston service, but which on her present trip was on the way to New York, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine at 9.15 o'clock Thursday morning, off the Irish coast. The steamer, according to a statement of the White Star Line, was attacked without warning and went down in ten minutes. Four hundred and twenty-three persons were on board, 131 passengers and 212 members of the crew. Thirty-two are missing and are believed to have perished. Most of those who have not been accounted for belong to the crew, only six passengers being reported missing. Whether any of those not accounted for are Americans has not yet been determined, but there were only 20 citizens of the United States on board, 22 being in the top cabin and four in the steerage. The Arabic carried no first-class passengers, having lately been turned into a two-class liner. Survivors who left the steamer on ship's boats were picked up later by passing vessels and arrived in Queens-town to-night, they being accommodated by the White Star Line hotels and boarding houses of the little town which, so short a time ago, cared for the survivors and housed the dead of the Lusitania. Details of the sinking of the Arabic are lacking, but the loss of life was not greater is doubtless due to the fact that the weather was fine and that steamers plying in the German submarine zone now keep their boats swung out and are otherwise prepared for emergencies. The torpedo that sank the Arabic struck her on the starboard side, one hundred feet from the stern. The vessel had left Liverpool on Wednesday afternoon and had taken a southerly course well off the Irish Coast, doubtless with a view to avoiding the submarines which frequent the waters near shore. When some fifty miles west of where the Lusitania was sunk in May, a German underwater boat rose to the surface and launched a torpedo. The marksmanship of the Germans as in the case of the Lusitania, was deadly and accurate and like the Lusitania, the big liner quickly settled and shortly disappeared from view. Some survivors, according to reports received here, say that they had just witnessed the torpedoing of a Bristol steamer, presumably the Duns, when they saw the great alarm on board the Arabic. In their fright the passengers made a rush for life-preservers and had barely adjusted them when the German submarine had turned its torpedo against the vessel's side. Ten life-boats and a number of life rafts were quickly got over the side of the steamer. Into these a large number of passengers and members of the crew scrambled. Many passengers, however, fell into the water, but they got hold of the rafts and clung to them and later were rescued. One woman fell into the sea and screamed pitifully for help. Weather and tidal conditions being favorable, sailors swam to her assistance and succeeded in lifting her upon the raft. Among those who were rescued were Captain Will Finch, commander of the Arabic, all the deck officers, chief engineer, surgeon, steward, purser, assistant-purser, chief steward and third-class steward. Third Engineer Lyon is among the missing.

Leaders Visit Western Lines

Paris, August 19.—A joint inspection of parts of the Western battle line was made on Monday by Kitchener and M. Millerand, French War Minister. They were accompanied part of the time by General Joffre and Sir John French. The military leaders paid particular attention to conditions in Champagne and the Vosges. An official note which gives details of the trip, says that Kitchener and Millerand were greatly pleased by the splendid appearance of the troops and their high morale. Several conferences were held, but the nature of these is not disclosed.

Allies Agreed Cotton Contraband

Washington, Aug. 10.—The allied governments have agreed on the principle that cotton is contraband of war. The exact date when this announcement shall be made is still under consideration.

SALMON OUTLETS

Mix equal parts of cold flaked salmon and hot mashed potatoes and season with salt and pepper. Shape into the form of outlets, dip in crumbs, egg and crumbs again; fry in deep fat and drain. Arrange in a circle, on a platter and garnish with parsley and slices of lemon.

The Dardanelles

London, Aug. 10.—Recent cable dispatches have indicated that the French and British have determined upon a great attempt to capture the Dardanelles as speedily as possible. A London report says that this is being done for a double purpose, to influence the wavering Balkan States and, if possible, to assist hard pressed Russia by forwarding to her supplies through the Straits. On August 10th an effort was inaugurated by landing British troops near the Bay of Suvla to reinforce which a new landing party apparently has been sent.

Hair in Warm Weather

When the hair becomes heavy with perspiration washing is the remedy. Frequent shampooing is essential in summer, when perspiration and dust are at work to make the hair intractable and ugly. When hair is damp with salt water or spray fluffiness is out of the question. When bathing in the surf it is possible to keep hair dry, and this should be done, or else great pains taken to wash the salt water thoroughly out of the hair, for sea bathing, while a tonic to the system in general, is not beneficial to the hair.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER
But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. "After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?
For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.
If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Notice is hereby given that two Red Lights have been placed on Great Burnt Island for the guidance of fishing craft of that harbour.

Structures—Wood, square in plan with sloping sides, 15 feet high from base to centre of light.
Colour—Both towers painted with two red and two white horizontal bands, lanterns white.

Remarks—Lights will be put in operation during month of January, 1915, without further notice.

I therefore greatly commend this series of books, which are written lucidly and purely, and will afford the necessary information without pandering to unwholesome and sensual passions. ### Alcohol a Deadly Poison, Says Sir Frederick Treves

Sir Frederick Treves, surgeon to the late King Edward, addressing a temperance meeting, declared that alcohol is distinctly a poison, and that its use ought to be limited as strictly as any other poison. He added that it is not an appetizer, and that even a small quantity hinders digestion. Its stimulating effect only endures for a moment, and when this is passed capacity for work falls enormously. Its use is inconsistent with any work requiring quick, keen and alert judgement. Reviewing medical practice for a quarter of a century Dr. Treves declares that he could say that the use of alcohol in hospitals and by physicians generally had emphatically diminished and is diminishing.

"All alcohol," he said, "is distinctly a poison, but limitations on its use should be as strict as on arsenic, opium or strychnine. It was a curious and insidious poison, producing effects which seemed to be only relieved by taking more, a remark which applied to another insidious poison, morphine or opium. Alcohol had a certain position in medicine, but in the last 25 years its use by the medical profession has steadily and emphatically diminished."

People were often heard to say that alcohol was an excellent appetizer when taken before meals. The appetite does not need artificial stimulation if the body wanted feeding, it demanded food. As for aiding digestion, it hindered digestion. Even when taken in small amounts, instead of strengthening, alcohol seriously modified the nourishment of the body and greatly lessened the output of carbonic acid, a very important matter, so that the drunkard was necessarily an ill-nourished man. To reach the acme of physical condition was impossible if any alcohol were used. Its stimulating effect was only momentary. After that passed off the capacity for work fell enormously.

Alcohol brought up the whole reserve forces of the body and threw them into action. When these were used up there was nothing to fall back on. It dissipated rather than conserved bodily energy. As a work producer it was exceedingly extravagant. It might lead to physical bankruptcy. He was not speaking, he would remind them, of excessive drinking.

It was a curious fact that troops could not march on alcohol. In the Ladysmith relief column, which he accompanied, the first men to drop out were simply men who drank. The fact was as clear as if they had all borne labels on their backs.

As for the statement that alcohol was a great thing for circulation, it increased the heart's beat, reddened the skin by using up the body's reserve power, but then the heart's action became emphatically weaker, the doctor stated, the temporary effect being got at enormous cost. The action of alcohol on the central nervous system was very definite. It was that of function all poison, first stimulating, then depressing the nervous system; the higher nervous centres went first, being coming slightly dulled. The man who worked on even a moderate amount of alcohol was not at his best. Fine work could not be done under that condition. The use of alcohol was absolutely inconsistent with a surgeon's work, or with any work demanding quick, alert judgement.

Well Designed

Higher Grade Motor and Better Equipment
for the price charged than most manufacturers.
The "Imperial" has been especially designed for the use of Fishermen, and is guaranteed by the manufacturers to be well built of the best material obtainable, and if properly installed and operated to give good satisfaction.
The "Imperial" is extremely simple in design, and all parts are easily accessible. The most improved muffler, giving the least possible noise, no heat, no muffler explosions, no back pressure, etc., is supplied with "Imperial" motors.
You can run the "IMPERIAL" slow enough to set fishing gear or to fish on a line without any back-firing or other fuss. This engine has some other special features.
I have cancelled all my sub-agencies, and I will in future sell only the "Imperial," having been appointed by the manufacturers as their Agent for Newfoundland.
In order to introduce the "Imperial" to the Fishermen of Nfld. I am quoting a very special price on 3, 4, 5 and 10 h.p. for this season. Call and see engine, or write for full particulars and special price.

A Few Simple Facts

The fact that the Mercer's Cove postoffice, although finished for two months, is still closed; the fact that the train passes down the shore line every night without bringing us a mail, while other towns between St. John's and Carbonear get a nightly mail; the fact that we have asked repeatedly for something to fight a fire with, and have received nothing, etc., etc., only goes to prove and emphasize our contention, viz: That in this section of Newfoundland at least must be regarded by the ruling powers as a lot of nonentities.

We have not been interested enough in our own welfare; we have not been self-respecting enough to see that as taxpayers in this Commonwealth we got our proper share of everything that is going.

We have spent a lifetime discussing and tinkering with matters that, from a practical standpoint, should give us little concern, while matters that directly affected us have been relegated to others who seemingly had or have as much interest in us as the Sultan of Turkey.

The main producers of this country, the fishermen, have been trusting to the "leading citizens" to help them and to see that laws were made and enforced for the betterment of their condition. They looked to the politician for "bread" but instead of "bread" they received a "stone".

The so-called representatives of the people have simply been playing tag with legislation when introduced on behalf of the "bone and sinew" of the country. The fishermen are great fellows during an election campaign, but after the ballots are counted the fixing of a public road or wharf, or some other petty job is about all that receives consideration.

Now a word to the fishermen-electors. Your own standard of politics and politicians needs to be raised if you expect good government. You need to understand more clearly the duties of a representative and the part you yourself have to play.

If you merely elect a man with the idea that you are doing him a favor, and that you expect something personally from him, then you sell yourself and your vote. But if you seek a man whom you feel will endeavor to faithfully and honestly represent you in the truest sense of the word, then you do right.

All cannot go to the House of Assembly. Therefore, only certain individuals (36 for the whole of Newfoundland) are selected to consider legislation, and conduct the business of the country. For this a representative receives the sum of from $300 to $350 a year. We are speaking now of a member's seasonal pay, which practically means his annual pay. No wonder a representative succumbs to the temptation to do a little grafting.

If your interests and the interests of the District and Country are important, then you must see to it that the man or men you select are properly remunerated. If they haven't the ability to serve you properly, they shouldn't be sent there. And if you send them there they are supposed to serve no other interests but yours. But do they? And if they are faithful to you, as a representative should be, then by all means see that they get proper remuneration for their services. If they do not keep their promises to you, and if they seek only their own good, the first chance you get give them their walking ticket.

Sanctumettes

Codfish. There is no longer any fear that codfish will drop below $6.00 in the local market. Last week the indications were that way, but the attempt to drive the price down was local and artificial. The price is much firmer at $6.00 this week, and we do not think it will go below that figure, even if we get a good report from the Labrador floaters. What fish buying begins in earnest in a few weeks, and competition sets in, we expect to see the price advance to $6.50.

Common codfish got another slump this week, is now down to $9.00 per ton—a decrease of $10.00 since our last issue. As against this, the price of refined oil has advanced another peg and is now $1.00, with a further upward tendency. There is a lively demand in France and England for medicinal codfish just now, and all who have gone into the business this season, and all who have held on to their product, will be able to market with satisfaction at the close of the season's operations.—Trade Review.

A slight fire occurred at the residence of Mrs. (Capt.) Charles Dawe on Wednesday morning. It was extinguished by Mr. Jas. Baggs and some other men who were working nearby.

Two Murderers

Kaiser William and Charles Becker issued manifestoes at the close of last week, at about the same time. Barring the fact that justice has been executed upon Becker and not upon the Kaiser, there is a good deal of similarity between the two cases. Both murderers persisted in affirming their total innocence, in face of an overwhelming body of evidence and the consensus of opinion of the impartial world. Both murderers, it is possible, were self-deceived and really believed themselves to be speaking the truth. Some surprise has been expressed at the vigor of Charles Becker's protestations of innocence even when he stood within the shadow of the gallows, and many people have been shaken in their confidence of his guilt. But it must be remembered that Becker did not slay Hermann Rosenthal by a blow with a club, or the thrust of a sword, or the pulling of a trigger—acts about which there could be no two ideas in the mind of the man who performed them. He slew Rosenthal by a conspiracy, by bringing the power of his mind and will to bear upon inferior minds; and it is readily conceivable that up to the last minute of his life he regarded all that he did as being at least "justifiable". He was the product of an immoral "system"—the system of the politically controlled police force which views the enforcement of law as an element of the party struggle. So thoroughly imbued with that conception was he that he evidently regarded his own death, although brought about with all due forms of law and after repeated trials, as a murder personally performed by Governor Whitman. It is interesting to recall that Becker was undoubtedly of German ancestry. Self-delusion, and inability to recognize the claims of impartial justice, are inherent characteristics of the German mind.

Compared with Becker's, even the Kaiser's confidence in his own innocence looks weak. He sounds like a man who is trying to convince himself by reiteration of that which he wishes to believe. "Before God and history my conscience is clear. I did not will the war." This is rather the self-exoneratory language of the haunted murderer than the proud utterance of the innocent. It seems strange that the Kaiser should have felt it necessary to repeat it so earnestly and so formally. Among all the Allied Nations of the Entente the belief in the provocation of Germany and the peacefulness of the Allies has been intense and overwhelming ever since the first few weeks of the war; and the same is true of the neutral countries outside of the German sphere of influence. But apparently the Germans are not so confident of their own rectitude as are we, and our friends about ours; they want to put their ruler on oath every now and again to strengthen their conviction.—Beck's Weekly.

Mum's the Word

"The advantage of a Censorship is that an army can thereby hide its mistakes. Like the case of the general and Aunt Jeannina, you know."

The speaker was a well-known general. He continued: "An old lady once died at St. Her nephew and heir ordered the body sent home. But when the young man opened the coffin to have one last look at the remains, he beheld, instead of his beloved Aunt Jeannina, the corpse of a general, in full uniform, the breast covered with military medals.

"The young man wired at once to St. receiving in a few hours the following answer: "Give general quiet funeral. Aunt Jeannina buried this morning with full military honors, regimental band, and 21-gun salute."

To See it Through

(Sir Edward Carson.) People seem to forget that the very existence of this country is at stake. If it became necessary to apply conscription, and we refused, what is the other alternative? Surrender at discretion. Never! No; we have a fixed task before us. So long as an enemy's soldier stomaches on French, Belgian, or Russian soil, no question of peace can ever enter into the thoughts of any honest, patriotic, and courageous man in this country. It is our primary duty towards our Allies to see this through, and we will do it at whatever cost.

"My wife tells me, that after tea last night you had a soldier in here to supper, and that he finished the cold roast which I were to have for lunch to-day."

"Well, if I did! You can't expect me to go cooking in meals for any soldier at that time of night!"
