As a newspaper we part with regret from Nineteen Hundred and Four. He has been very good to us. More than any of his recent predecessors, he has brought to our journalistic mill grist that required little grinding in order to make it so palatable to our readers that their numbers increased by multitudes. It has been hardly possible, even in England, to publish a dull paper in a year so prolific in startling news.

Through almost its whole length there has been this bitter and bloody war with its daily sensation of victory and defeat; there has been the fighting in Tibet with its far-reaching political consequences; there has been the North Sea episode and the subsequent days during which the world held its breath and listened with strained ears to the snapping of the diplomatic strings and the crash of war between Britain and Russia; there has been the exciting election in Canada with the bewildering contentions of Mr. Blaine and the sensational hypnotic feats of Mr. Russell; there has been no scarcity of tragedies—horrible but eagerly received by newspaper readers—of which the most notable were the General Slocum disaster, in which hundreds of women and little children met a fearful death; there have been exciting elections in the United States and Newfoundland— not to mention New Brunswick; Portland, Me., has had its prayers answered; the Globe has made an alliance with Tweedie, Pugsley et al for an object yet unknown and the dry dock has not been built. In civic affairs we have chronicled such interesting occurrences as the decision to extend the water system, the purchase of the Mispic mill and the Carleton electric light plant and the construction of a new ferry boat.

So it is natural that we should wish our generous friend would stay a little longer, that we should hesitate to trust our interests to such an entire stranger as Nineteen Hundred and Five, who, for all we know, may be wholly careless of the welfare of newspapers. For all we know, the new-comer may have more regard for the welfare of humanity generally, he may prefer to see people alive and happy rather than buried in death, or drowned, or murdered, even if their continued existence and happiness furnishes no copy for the press. He may be inclined to think less of the value of a scare head over a war story than of the death and awful wounds and the weeping in thousands of homes that go to furnish that headline; he may be of the opinion that newspapers and people generally should be more interested in matters that make for peace and progress and prosperity than in battles and murders and sudden deaths and divorce cases; he may even consider it better to try to improve morals and minds than to cater to morbid cravings for sensationalism. So, being a newspaper, and having recollections of a Journal Charles M. Sheldon tried to run, we will mourn for Nineteen Hundred and Four and will waste no enthusiasm on his successor till we learn more about him.

NO COMPARISON. While the supporters of the government are inclined to console themselves by comparing the vote yesterday with that of November 3rd, there is of course no ground for such comparison. Not only were the issues yesterday utterly dissimilar but the line-up of the contesting parties was greatly different from the federal fight and there were powerful influences at work that have been only recently brought into service.

On November 3rd the issue was a personal one with every St. John citizen—the welfare of the winter port. The interest was keen and practically every available vote was polled. In the matter of resources for campaign purposes, legal and otherwise, the parties were about evenly matched. Neither side was supported by the combined influence of any powerful and wealthy business interest.

Yesterday there was no issue to arouse the general electorate save the wretched inefficiency of the provincial government, the effect of which issue was minimized by the tactics of every supporter of the government who, from the candidate down, kept the Tweedie administration studiously in the background and appealed for votes on federal grounds. There was little interest taken, with the result that, while every man with an axe to grind was voting and working the independent "silent vote," which is a powerful factor in this city was, to a great extent, not polled. And yesterday while both parties agreed to run a clean election and, so far as we know, both parties, in organizations, adhered to that agreement, there was actively present on the government side an element, bound by no compact, which put a large amount of work and money and liquor into the contest and undoubtedly had a great effect.

The fact that Mr. Skinner endorsed the laxness of the government with reference to the control of the sale of liquor while Mr. Maxwell was an active temperance reformer brought into the fight the combined liquor interest which did everything in its power, legal and illegal, to elect the government candidate. There is evidence that the liquor dealers, individually and as an organization, not only worked hard but spent large sums of money and used an unlimited amount of liquor to swing a certain vote over which the opposition, using no money nor liquor, had no influence. Besides these persuasive devices, the influential dealers freshly used their power of intimidation.

Another blow for the machine. Mr. Skinner might have known what would happen when the Globe backed him. Girls; don't forget that tonight is your last chance for four years. Another blow for the machine. SATURDAY SERMONETTE. THE NEW YEAR. Old year's sorrow, cast off last night through the night, so we sat up with him until the end came. His mind was clear until the very last and he knew us all and forgave us for the way in which we had wasted his days and hours; and, telling us to be kind to 1905, with a cherry good-bye just as the town clock struck twelve he "went out with the tide."

"Oh, the sadness of the tolling bells; oh! the music of the ringing bells. "The king is dead—long live the king," they rang and sang and we turned away from the sob of a little child. Oh, the pity of it! "we cannot be kind to each other for an hour." And now we are going to make you, 1905, the same fair promises we made to all the dead years we have known. We are to be gentle and kind and helpful to each other and we will carefully care for the minutes you will give us, and this year will be better than all the years that have gone by. Such will be our promises to you, the same we gave to your predecessors, and soon you will know—as they knew—how much those promises are worth. You will bring to some of us more joys and to others more sorrows than we have ever known. And if you bring to us cypress and yew, you will bring to us orange blossoms and June roses—will you not, 1905?

THE COUNTY ELECTION. In March, 1903, Surveyor General Blon was elected St. John county by a majority of 47. Yesterday Councillor Lowell, the government candidate, was returned by a majority some two hundred less. From the first it was recognized that St. John county was hard ground for an opposition candidate. News knew that the county was a native of one next in population, it is not his fault that the government majority has been cut down one-third, and it is in a fair way to be reduced to nothing in the near future—Sun.

Mr. Skinner proclaimed at Berryman's Hall last evening that he had refused to declare himself a supporter of the local government. He had been asked to do so, but absolutely declined. This shows that Mr. Skinner is a good judge of public opinion. But Mr. Skinner made the mistake of not going far enough. He should have said that he was opposed to the Tweedie-Pugsley government—Sun.

Mr. Skinner is a good loser. Men who can meet defeat as gracefully as he did are none too plentiful. His manly speech last night stands in strong contrast to the squalling of Mr. McKeown after the November election.

The liquor dealers know who are their friends. If the temperance people had worked one tenth as hard and as coherently as the liquor men, Maxwell's majority would have been quadrupled.

Though defeated, Mr. Agar has the satisfaction of knowing that he ran a clean election and kept his word like an honorable man. His opponent, with all his glow of success, lacks that.

For a dry election there was an astonishing smell of booze around Berryman's hall last evening.

The combined liquor dealers were in active alliance with the candidate of the local government. Why? Mr. Skinner might have known what would happen when the Globe backed him.

MILK BETTER THAN OIL FOR PALM CULTURE. In his paper in the January Lippincott's on "Palms," Eben E. Rexford speaks of the application of oil to the foliage as follows: "Many persons advise it because it gives a glossiness to the leaf which is quite pleasing at first. But in a short time, if its use is continued, the leaf will take on a sickly color, and soon you will have to remove it. Oil clogs the pores of the leaf and prevents it from breathing, and it also retains dust, which cannot be removed by an ordinary showering because the oil repels water. If you want the foliage of your palms to look bright and fresh, put three or four spoonfuls of milk in a basin of water and wash the plant with this infusion. Go over them leaf by leaf, using a sponge or a soft cloth to apply the liquid."

HOTEL PROPRIETOR SHOTS A LOAFER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—O'Brien with the shooting of Wm. O'Brien on the Bowery early yesterday, William K. Smith, proprietor of a Italian law hotel, was arrested here tonight on a warrant secured by District Attorney Jerome on the strength of a statement made to him by Cornelius J. Donlon.

FOUR MEN SHOT IN A ROW.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Four men were tonight shot and slightly injured in a row on the South Side of this city. The shooting was done by Frederick Kroner, an employe of the American Steel & Wire Co., the injured being his fellow workmen.

THE "CUMULATIVE FORCE" GOOD ADVERTISING IS THE SAME AS THE "CUMULATIVE FORCE" OF GOOD FOOD.

Here and there a merchant believes a little too much in the force of advertising—that is, in the wrong way. He is convinced of the "cumulative force" of good advertising, and he thinks that two or three ads. a week will generate enough of this "cumulative force" to run business for the other days of the week on which he does not advertise.

MOISTURE FOR HOUSE PALMS.

Eben E. Beaford, the authoritative voice in floriculture, contributes a seasonable paper to the January Lippincott's on the subject of "Palms." In this he says: "Palms should be showered at least once a week. It is a good plan to take them into the bathroom, lay them down on their side, and spray them so thoroughly that the water runs down the stem."

IN THE MATTER OF FURS.

To be considered dressed a woman must wear furs of some description this winter, and the very height of elegance is attained in the fur lined coat, with deep collar and cuffs of fur. Beautiful and artistic ermine has become so common that one wonders how much of it is a clever imitation of the real thing.

THE COMPANY'S RULES.

Towne—You ought to run more trotting cars. Do you know, I saw a Trotter last night which five cars went by and I couldn't get on. Brown—Why not? Towne—You full. Brown—You were? Well, they're very strict about that.

STORE WILL THRIVE NO BETTER TODAY ON ESTERDAY'S ADVERTISING THAN YOU WILL THRIVE TODAY ON YESTERDAY'S DINNER.

CONNECTION SERVICE at the King's Daughters' Guild, Sunday, 4 p. m., led by Mrs. Wm. Davidson. As this is a special service for the beginning of the new year, it is earnestly requested that every member of the Guild be present.

ROASTED SUCKLING PIG. A roasted pig is considered "the thing" on a Southern New Year's table. Not that it takes the place of the regulation turkey, but just acts as complement to it.

POKE BONNETS Popular. Poke bonnets with the front a mass of plumes nodding over the face, and long streamers nearly tied under the chin, are so popular that they are by no means confined to those faces to whom this style is picturesque.

MAXWELL 105 MAJORITY.

Lowell Had Over 400 in the County--Enthusiastic Meeting at Breeze's Corner, Last Night.

ROBERT MAXWELL.

The returns received by the Star last night gave Mr. Maxwell 105 majority. Corrected figures raise it to 105. Following are the corrected returns:

Table with 2 columns: Ward, Maxwell, Skinner. Lists results for St. John City and St. John County.

Table with 2 columns: Ward, Maxwell's majority, Total vote. Lists results for St. John County.

Subsequent returns from Simonds No. 2 are subject to change.

IN BREEZE'S CORNER.

The company at the opposition rooms, Breeze's Corner, would have felt better if they could have claimed victory for both city and county candidates. But they made the best of it, feeling that the capture of one seat and a large cut in the majority for the other was a fair record for one day.

ROBERT MAXWELL.

Mr. Maxwell was called to the platform, but it was some time before the meeting gave over cheering long enough for him to get in a word. When he had a chance he pointed out that the victory was not his. It belonged to the opponents of the local government. Nevertheless he took the opportunity to thank those who had worked so hard and so faithfully for the cause he represented.

If you select your servants from the class who read and answer want ads you will at least have intelligent help—and you know from experience that nine out of ten of the poor servants are ignorant ones.

JAMES LOWELL.

personal attacks of the Globe newspaper, observing that it would have been better for the Globe, since circumstances made it a supporter of the Tweedie government to come out squarely and avow its position. It had chosen instead to make personal attacks upon the opposition candidates to which the people had given the answer.

J. D. HAZEN.

J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., after congratulating Mr. Maxwell on his election and his splendid fight, thanked the party workers for their splendid services. The members of the committee and the men who attended at the polls had contradicted the statement often made that good campaign work could not be had without money.

MILES E. AGAR.

Mr. Agar was called to the platform and given a reception all the more enthusiastic and kindly for his failure to capture the government stronghold. He thanked his friends for the greetings they gave him now and for the sympathy they had shown in his contest.

SAILORS TREATED. About 400 people, of whom 175 were sailors, gathered in the Carleton street school room last evening at the annual Christmas concert and treat given by the Seaman's Mission. An enjoyable programme was carried out, after which the ladies of the mission, assisted by the Senior Girls' Association of St. John's church, served refreshments and distributed comfort bags to the sailors. During the evening the speakers were Rev. W. S. Pritchard, Rev. Thomas Marshall, R. M. Smith, H. C. Tilley and Manager Gorbell.

AUCTIONS TODAY. At Chubb's Corner today Auctioneer Lantulum sold to James A. Kelly carriage builder for the sum of $2,500, the leasehold property on the corner of Main street and Long Wharf, having in connection a licensed tavern. The same auctioneer also sold for city taxes two lots on the Strait Shore road belonging to the estate of the late Hon. William Hazen. The purchasers were J. King Kelly $125, and Patrick McGoldrick $200. Both lots are vacant.

VACANT POSITIONS. When business establishments require first-class bookkeepers and stenographers they invariably apply to the situation department of the Currier Business University, Limited. This school is in possession of scores of letters testifying that their students are found reliable, accurate, speedy and efficient, well trained in English, versed in finance and commercial law and up to their requirements in every particular. This institution positively gives a position with every scholarship. Will re-open Tuesday, Jan. 2nd, 1905.

NEPTUNES VS. MOHAWKS. Next Friday evening the Neptunes and Mohawks will come together for the first hockey match in the provincial league. The teams are getting in considerable practice and each are confident of winning the trophy this season and the first match which will display the respective merits of the teams is sure to be an interesting one. The Y. M. C. A. and Junior Intermediates will also play the first game in the league.

SPEED SKATING WILL BOOM.

Will Be Lively Contests This Winter. Price, Merritt, Duffy, Breen and Others in the Race.

The skaters are on their tubes again, and of course have started in to talk. The big handicap in Victoria Rink on Monday night will start the ball rolling in real earnest, though among the flyers the pace is already a fast one, for during practice spins the swift ones have "got a head" on one another's condition.

All eyes seem to rest on little Jimmy Price. He is looked upon as the next champion, though ex-champion Hart Duffy, it is said, will again don the aluminum and have a try at regaining the title. The crowd would continue to look to the boy from Green-wood, up-river, for all the surprises. He is not only a stayer in a long race and commands an almost inexhaustible supply of speed, but in the sprints he is a real terror. Billy Merritt, Champion Parker, Duffy or any other dash man have found very hard to crack.

Price is being encouraged to enter this winter's events with a zest and is not unwilling to do so, though to take part in all the important meets will cost money. Fen Parker has announced to his friends his retirement, due to his crippled condition brought about by rheumatism, and outside of Billy Merritt, Duffy and possibly Bud Breen, Price will have a clear field. He is long to go to the All-American championships in Montreal on Feb. 4th, but that is a matter for after consideration.

Billy Merritt, who has been in the city for a few weeks, is red hot after all the speed men in this old home town of his, and is getting his condition down fine as a razor. The Vic simply swims past Billy's eyes when he gets down to business these days of training. In fact Merritt has to train pretty faithfully in order to keep up with the rest of the company he expects to meet in Montreal, at Verona Lake, N. J., and at Pittsburg, before the winter is over.

At these places he will meet the best men in all America, and under the colors of the Verona Lake Club he expects to win a bunch of medals. Merritt is no stranger to crackerjack company; he has been up against Al Speed for several years and has trained for weeks with champion Neilson, McCullough, Wool, Sinnard, Harley Davidson, Bellows and others well known throughout Canada and United States. In the Montreal championships a couple of winters ago he was a big factor in the race.

So Price & Co. will have a man of experience to compete with this winter, and though the speed-skate lovers have their favorites, there will be a general hope that the home boys will so brightly up on another and get into such a shape, that in leaving home to meet the best men on the continent they will be at no disadvantage what- ever. Fen is getting new boots and new, long, low skates as a starter in preparation, lest he should find himself in the Montreal race. saturday the ( e m dno m a th d c u

MAJOR T. E. ARNOLD DEAD. Prominent Sussex Man Passed Away This Morning After Long Illness.

Major T. Edwin Arnold, one of the best known men in Kings county, died this morning at Sussex after an illness of about three months. The deceased, who was 65 years old, was a son of Henry T. Oliver Arnold, one of the rector of Sussex. He has lived in Sussex all his life, where he has been engaged in the fire insurance business for a great many years he has been actively connected with the 74th Regiment, of which he was appointed paymaster several years ago. He was a prominent member of St. George's Society.

Major Arnold leaves a wife, who was Miss Littlehale, of Carleton, two sons, T. Percy and Guy Walker, and one daughter, Mrs. C. E. Hazen, all residing in Sussex. He has many warm friends in this city who will mourn his death sincerely. His funeral will be held on Monday at 2:30.

WEDDING THIS AFTERNOON. Miss Francis G. Hamilton and G. C. Harper, of Oxford, Wedded.

The marriage is to take place this afternoon at four o'clock of Miss Francis Grace Hamilton, daughter of Thomas E. Hamilton, of this city, to George A. Harper, of Oxford, N. S. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of the bride's father, No. 7 Padedock street, in the presence of relatives and a few friends, by Rev. John deSouza, rector of St. John's (stone) church. The bride will be attended by Marjorie Manning, niece of the bride, who will act as flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Harper will spend their honeymoon in visiting upper Canadian cities, leaving this evening on the Montreal express, and upon their return they will reside at Oxford, N. S.

DIED IN 1904. There Have Been 917 Deaths in St. John This Year Including Many Prominent Citizens.

There were 917 deaths in St. John during the year 1904. Owing to the illness of the secretary of the Board of Health, Thomas M. Burns, it will probably be some time before the diseases which carried off so many of St. John's citizens are tabulated.

During the year many prominent residents died, as the following list will show:

Ex-Alderman Samuel Tufts; Adam Young, stove dealer; Charles S. Taylor, harbor master; E. G. Nelson, book dealer; T. J. Cronin, Samuel Bell, Thos. A. Vincent, Francis Armstrong, William Scott, Jas. W. Brittain, James A. Price, Charles Henry Dearborn, Alexander Christie, Rev. Thomas C. McDougal, Senator James Dever, Robert P. Foster, bank manager; Robert P. Chandler, C. F. Baker, James Barber, Henry M. Spoke, Douglas Austin, Geo. S. Robertson, M. A. Finn, James P. Cain, Rev. H. H. Rosch, John Kimball and John H. Thomson.

No other thing will help your holiday trade so much as good advertising. Four plans should be arranged that this important factor may have unremitting care.

Holiday Bargains.

The particular results we're aiming for this week is reduce all stocks promptly. Profit is no consideration at such a time. All classes of goods are merchandise to us, and values are changed to correspond with the advanced season.

Nobody is supposed to make anything on holiday goods now, except the buyers. We've gathered together the remnants of the holiday trade and made prices that will command your interest. For instance:—

- 50c Fancy Stock for . . . 25c
50c Belts, blk and col. for 25c
50c Fcy Work Boxes for 19c
$2.00 Men's Lined Gloves . . . $1.49
25c Men's Bow Ties for (2)
50c Men's Braces for . . . 25c
$5.00 and $6.00 Silk Waists for $2.98 & $3.
Ladies' Jackets, . . . Half p

It hardly seems right that we should lose money on things, but the season's trade has been done so far as making is concerned. The remaining days of 1904 bargain days, and low prices will be relied upon to clear odd lots and broken assortments in short order.

There are changed values in every department. Most shop here this week to fully realize the purchasing possibilities of ready money.

ROOSEVELT ON BROTHERHOOD

Preaches a Sermon in Dutch Reformed Church at the Midweek Prayer Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—President Roosevelt some time ago requested the Rev. Dr. John M. Schick, pastor of the Dutch Reformed church, which Mr. Roosevelt has attended ever since he became vice-president, in 1901, to arrange a time when he could meet the members of the congregation on some weekday evening.

CHRISTMAS AMONG THE HAWAIIANS

(By William Thorp)
As white men push out year by year into the remotest corners of the earth, they carry Christmas with them as a gift to the savages with whom they come in contact.

ESKIMO'S REAL SANTA CLAUS
Sheldon Jackson, an official employed by the United States bureau of education to work in the wilds of Alaska, carried Christmas to the Eskimo children there in 1891.
