

WANT PARLIAMENT TO MEET IN NOVEMBER.

Both Leaders Are Strongly in Favor of the Change. Government Is Criticised For Keeping Back Estimates Amounting to $14,000,000 Until Last Hours of the Session—Mr. Foster Points Out That Too Little Time is Left For Proper Consideration of Estimates.

(Special to the Sun.) OTTAWA, July 10.—Logan of Cumberland was greeted with hearty applause from both sides as he took his seat in the house this afternoon for the first time after his prolonged severe illness. Commencing Wednesday the house will hold morning sittings daily till the end of the session, government orders to have precedence at all sittings, the house to meet on Saturday next at 11 a. m. Laurier replying to Foster, said all government business was now before parliament save one, which he would refer to the bonus of $500 per head to all members this year. Mr. Borden introduced a bill respecting the house of commons. The object of the bill is to provide that a writ for election shall be issued within a reasonable time in case a seat becomes vacant for reason of the death of a member during a parliamentary term. He explained that the bill was similar to one recently passed by the Ontario legislature as a result of the long delay in the North Renfrew case. The bill was read a first time. Mr. Oliver's bill respecting roads and road allowances in the province of Saskatchewan was introduced and read a first time. The object is to give the new provinces the same power in this regard as the present Northwest legislature has. Mr. Fitzpatrick's trading stamp bill was introduced and read a first time. It makes the company issuing trading stamps, the merchant using and the customer accepting them, liable to a criminal charge. Amendments by the senate were concurred in in the following bills: To incorporate the Edmonton Boom Company, and respecting the Canadian Northern Railway Company. Mr. Lennox was informed by Mr. Fitzpatrick that the C. N. R. had given an undertaking to apply for leave at the November sitting of the privy council to appeal against the judgment of the supreme court in regard to the railway employees' benefit fund case. That matter was disposed of. It would be the duty of the government to see that the act was given effect to according to the decision. Mr. Foster was told by Sir Wilfrid that there would be no railway subsidies brought down this year. On a motion to go into supply Mr. Foster raised an objection to the presentation of estimates for the large sum of $14,000,000 when the session was to near an end. There could be no efficient criticism on discussion of these items. Some of them involved important change in policy and several of the important ones could easily have been discussed earlier in the session. There were 213 special items for instance, for harbor improvements. The proper discussion of these would take about three weeks. In conclusion Mr. Foster moved that the house "enter an earnest protest against the action of the government in keeping back until the closing hours of the session, estimates amounting to nearly $14,000,000, one-sixth of the total for the year, and thus precluding any fair and efficient discussion of the public expenditures and continuing a practice highly prejudicial to the public interests."

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA ADVANCING TO STRIKE A DECISIVE BLOW.

The Japanese Are Now in Possession of the Island of Sakhalin. Russians Burned Kozsakovsk and Then Retired Hotly Pursued by the Japs—Russian Torpedo Boat Arrived at Sebastopol Reports That it Was Forced to Join the Mutineers—Crew Has Been Arrested.

ODESSA, July 10.—The authorities here have been informed that the Kniaz Potemkin has sailed from Kusteni, Roumania, for Sebastopol. The question of insurance on property lost by fire in the harbor during the recent disturbances is occasioning serious disputes between the Russian and the foreign insurance companies. The foreign corporations declare that they will make claims against the Russian government. The claimants, number about 400, and the total losses are now estimated at $20,000,000. TORPEDO BOAT WAS FORCED. SEBASTOPOL, July 10.—The Russian torpedo boat No. 287, which declined to surrender to the Roumanian government with the Kniaz Potemkin declaring that she had not mutinied, but had been forced to follow the mutinous battleship, arrived here today. The members of her crew were arrested and placed on board the transport Front. Tomorrow will be observed on board the fleet as a day of mourning for the officers and sailors slain during the mutiny on board the Kniaz Potemkin. There will be regimens on all the ships. HEAVY RAINS. SIPINGHAI, Manchuria, July 10.—The news of the mutiny in the Black Sea reached the Russian army through the Japanese who fired night shells charged with proclamations conveying the information into the Russian advanced posts, scattering the Russian troops. Rain is falling in torrents and all activity at the front has ceased. TOKIO, July 10, 2 p. m.—The following report has been received from the Japanese army headquarters on Sakhalin Island: "Our army without much resistance occupied Kozsakovsk early on July 8. The enemy burned the town and retired to positions eight miles north, where they resumed resistance. "We dislodged them and are now in pursuit. "At 11 a. m. on July 8 the enemy had retreated to a point 22 miles north of Kozsakovsk. "We captured two 12 centimetre guns, two 12 pounders and also an amount of ammunition. "We suffered no loss." OCCUPY SAKHALIN ISLAND. TOKIO, July 10.—The announcement of the landing of a Japanese force at Sakhalin Island and the occupation of Kozsakovsk, followed by the northern flight of the garrison, has been received with great satisfaction by the Japanese. The landing of the army at Sakhalin marks the first entry of the Japanese upon Russian territory proper. This is an easy task, as it is in no position to contest its occupation. In addition to marines and infantry, the Japanese landed artillery and cavalry. The latter are moving rapidly north. The presumption here is that the Russian troops will clear out without fighting, crossing to Algoderovsk on the mainland. The Novosti says it considers Sakhalin to be a second Alaska, worth $10,000,000. It is possible, however, that Japan might agree to suspend hostilities in Manchuria, although the latter objects from the front create a strong suspicion that Field Marshal Oyama is at last advancing for a decisive blow. RECEIVED NO REPLY. ST. PETERSBURG, July 10, 7.30 p. m.—Although ten days have elapsed since Russia informed President Roosevelt of her willingness to conclude an armistice pending the result of the Washington conference, Japan so far as known to the Russian government has not deigned to reply to the president's communication. When the question of an armistice was first broached by the president it was understood that Japan indicated that she would decline to agree to a suspension of hostilities until the plenipotentiaries met. Russia agreed in principle to this as the basis for negotiations. Since then the Russian government feels it has given ample proof of its desire to conclude peace, and it is possible it may go a step further. But the impression here is that now that the Japanese have made a descent on the island of Sakhalin, they are determined to get the island firmly in their grasp before the negotiations begin. This is an easy task, as it is in no position to contest its occupation. In addition to marines and infantry, the Japanese landed artillery and cavalry. The latter are moving rapidly north. The presumption here is that the Russian troops will clear out without fighting, crossing to Algoderovsk on the mainland. The Novosti says it considers Sakhalin to be a second Alaska, worth $10,000,000. It is possible, however, that Japan might agree to suspend hostilities in Manchuria, although the latter objects from the front create a strong suspicion that Field Marshal Oyama is at last advancing for a decisive blow.

INDIAN MURDERER Is Being Pursued by Posse of Constables. Believed to Have Killed a Crippled Indian Woman For Small Amount of Money.

SOME ST. JOHN GIRLS ARE GOOD PICNIC DRESSERS, OTHERS DON'T KNOW HOW TO GET THEMSELVES UP FOR AN OUTING, which assertion, of course is only my humble opinion. I was up the river to a happy gathering of young folks the other day and I wish you could have seen the way some of the would-be stylish misses looked. One had a black chiffon hat with feathers galore, another was "becomingly attired" in a black voile with all over trimmings, while a third evidently considered a rough-and-tumble day in the country provocation enough to don a very swell silk with bird-like garniture. Possibly these selfsame young ladies were poking fun at my plain cotton suit, though it was a dash from the laundry, but thank goodness I had lots of company, for most of the girls and women were in dainty wash materials of a higher grade. When will this outfitting question get down to a firm basis? The answer to this is: not until this race of women who pile on their Sunday best when they see a crowd, and a member of the male persuasion is "dressed to kill" and all are killed off.

(Special to the Sun.) CALEDONIA, Ont., July 10.—A posse of constables and citizens are in pursuit of Joe Bennett, a Chualian of 35, believed to be the murderer of an Indian woman named Jacoba. The woman's body was found Sunday morning. The victim, thirty years of age and crippled, was lying between two beds in the room covered by David Davis, a man who heaved the alarm and Dr. Bennett was summoned. The woman's body had her face crushed, beaten by blunt instrument. She had been strangled, as there were finger marks on her throat. The doctor said she had been criminally assaulted. A neighbor, Elizabeth General, found a letter addressed to Joe Bennett in the room which the postmaster identified as Bennett's. A posse was formed by Constables Goo, Atkinson, Martin and Davis. In two days they started after Bennett. When he was being pursued he whipped up the horses and for a distance of over four miles the horses were kept at a dead run. The constables were gradually gaining when the criminal jumped from his rig and made for the woods on the bank of the Grand River, about four miles from this place. The constables stationed a posse of men around the bush and drove on to Caledonia, where they telegraphed to all border points. Numerous rigs have left the town to assist in the chase.

THE SETTLEMENT OF MOROCCAN QUESTION.

PARIS, July 10.—Premier Rouvier's announcement in the chamber of deputies today of the terms of agreement between France and Germany concerning Morocco brings a deep sense of relief to the entire country after many weeks of tension, which many persons believed involved the possibilities of war. Both countries agree as to the sovereignty of the sultan, the independence of Morocco and the open door without inequality. This has always been the policy of both governments so neither can claim victory in this respect. At the same time it gives a new lease of existence to Morocco and appears to put at an end the prospective break-up of the sultan's tottering monarchy and its sub-division among the European powers. On the other hand the agreement recognizes France's special interest in the country due to the geographical proximity of Algeria and its right thereby to police the frontier and maintain peace and order. It still remains for the Sultan to arrange the programme of the conference. Officials anticipate that this will not be an easy task as the Franco-German agreement so fully circumscribes the questions that it will be difficult to find questions remaining open for determination. It is pointed out that the Sultan of Morocco's position is weakened by the negotiations, as he will no longer have representatives of the various powers present to determine the fate of the country. It is also pointed out that the Sultan of Morocco's position is weakened by the negotiations, as he will no longer have representatives of the various powers present to determine the fate of the country.

Sackville.

SACKVILLE, July 5.—The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held Tuesday evening with Mayor Wood in the chair. A number of accounts were presented and referred to finance committee. Applications of Stephen O'Brien and Carruthers Murray for the position of marshal were referred to police committee. Communications offering 95 per cent. for bonds were referred to finance committee. Ald. Pickett stated that the Enterprise fund had asked for two stand pipes. Ald. Goodwin, chairman of the fire committee, that a building be erected in which to store fire apparatus; that another hydrant be placed and that the firemen who worked at the recent fire should be reimbursed for their time at the rate of 25 cents an hour. Leave of absence was granted Thos. Murray, town clerk, to attend the High Court of Foresters at Fredericton. Considerable routine business was transacted. Miss Ella Bigney, B. A., Mt. Allison, 1905, has received the position of teacher in French and German at the Halifax High School. Miss Bigney is just leaving her home in Hantsport, N. LIKE ALL THE REALLY GOOD AND WELL-TO-DO ACTRESSES BRITISH COLUMBIAN HAS SOME GORGEOUS GOWNS, which was one of the best features of the performance in the Opera House during the early part of this week. Gowns do not yet appeal to a St. John audience as a whole as they do across the boundary, but fashion is getting a firmer foothold here every season, and by and by dresses will be hailed with as much admiration and applause when they glimmer in the footlight blaze as the entrances of the leading lady herself. Of course there are some real critical gown-worshippers among St. John's theatre-goers and a few are often bold enough to request a private view of the finery. It will be apropos of this matter to mention our own dear Margaret Anglin as a luxurious dresser; some claiming for her the leadership of the American stage, and certainly she wears some famous gowns. She is not a flashy person, but all her dresses and frocks seem to stand out in style and trimming, as if some Parisian modiste had been exclusively engaged to design

DEATH OF KINGSCLEAR LADY—DR. McLEOD IN ENGLAND—HINE VS. PAULINE CASE DISCHARGED.

FREDERICTON, July 10.—The death is announced at Kingsclear of the wife of Robert C. Anderson, in the 80th year of her age. Deceased, who was a well known resident of York, is survived by two daughters and five sons. Judge Gregory today discharged the ball in the case of Hine vs. Pauline. Last fall when giving exhibitions of hypnotism here Hine, who was Pauline's manager, was dismissed by the hypnotist and Hine afterwards had Pauline arrested for damages. The latter had to furnish bail for $1,800. The case not being brought on for trial the ball asked to be released, and the judge has granted their application. This probably ends the whole case. The Orangemen expect to have 1,200 men in their procession here on the 15th. A cablegram today announced the arrival at Liverpool of Dr. Joe McLeod. Dr. McLeod is a delegate to the world's Baptist convention which opens at London this month.

The Great Canadian West; Advice to Future Settlers. High Water Mark in Winnipeg Land Values Has Been Reached—Farm Lands the Best Investment—The Great Rush From the States—Development of Winnipeg.

(Correspondence of the Sun.) WINNIPEG, July 3.—Winnipeg is the commercial capital of the west. Its development has started somewhat later than that of the other great North American cities, but its development for the next century will be the most rapid and consistent of any city in Canada. It has everything to make it great and prosperous. It is situated at the heart of the American continent. It has at its back the greatest stretch of fertile farming country in the world. Through it will flow in a few years the products of a population of 30,000,000 people—for this country will have a population of that number in a very few years. The fertile portion of the Canadian west has an area of at least 100,000 square miles, easily capable of supporting in the future a population of 60,000,000 people.

Winnipeg will be the wholesale centre of the west. Its position is a unique one among American cities. In the United States every large centre of population has its compelling point. Winnipeg by its geographical position shuts out all competition. The American cities which otherwise might compete will be debased by the Canadian tariff. A glance at the map of Canada will show that no other large city can be built north or south of Winnipeg, nor farther east. It is the railroad centre of the west. The C. P. R., the Canadian Northern and the G. T. F. all have their western headquarters at Winnipeg. The C. P. R. is a transcontinental road now. The other two roads will be transcontinental in ten years. The country served by the railroads will all have to pay tribute to Winnipeg.

Now Winnipeg is no longer a prairie town. It is a city of well over 30,000 people. Winnipeg's assessment for 1914 was $28,404,770. In 1914 it had increased to $34,820,460. No other city on the American continent can show an increase in any way proportionate to this. The city is well laid out in wide and regular streets. Tree planting has already made some of the streets beautiful, and the promise for the future is one of the most beautiful cities in America bids fair to be realized. The people of the city seem to be composed of the best in America. The best that the United States, that England and Continental Europe can produce are being poured into this western country. They are all hustlers. They are all happy in their new-found home. There has been considerable discussion of the non-English speaking people who are coming in. Many of them are good men. They are rich in that quality of pluck that makes a nation great. No man who is not possessed of pluck will travel 6,000 miles from home to settle among a people of alien race and language. They are playing a very important part in the development of the west. They dig the sewers, they build the railroads of the country. They are a necessity, as the Englishman, Canadian and Yankee are engaging in the easier and more profitable work. Canada will not prosper without the influx of such blood, so long as those strangers are of a proper class.

Winnipeg is a cosmopolitan city. Here one meets people of every race and creed. The finest and best of them all is the native Canadian, and he has combined in himself the best qualities of the Yankee and the Englishman. He has the shrewd and quick business sense of the former, combined with the more solid attainments and honorable character of the latter. He is open-minded and generous. He has not the reserve of the Englishman nor the imbedded desire of bargaining of the Yankee. He desires for money getting is tempered by his fondness for sport. He seems to be endowed with a natural instinct that enables him to see so as to get the most out of life. He may not make money so fast as the American, but he will be capable of doing good work when the latter is a physical wreck. He is, as a rule, the best educated man in the west. He is not a self-centred man, and his information can always be depended upon extending beyond his own country and his own business.

Now, a word in season to the young man from the east who plans on coming west. This is a great country—a progressive country, and one that offers limitless opportunities to the man with capital. The west wants capital. There are more laboring men here now than can get work. The clerk and the office man are not wanted here. There are men walking the streets of Winnipeg today who are capable of earning $15 a month with opportunity offered. The supply is too great for the demand. Men who have elsewhere earned $1800 a year are offering their services for $35 a month as clerks, and are getting "kicked down." Do not come unless you know exactly what you are going to do. Do not trust to luck in locating west. If you have $2,000 you can easily double

DOCTORS DIFFER In Treatment for Carbolic Poisoning.

Ambulance Comes in For Some Attention—Verdict in Grass Inquest.

The inquest into the May Grass suicide was concluded last Friday and the jury announced that the deceased had come to her death by drinking carbolic acid when in a depressed state of mind. A rider was added in an endeavor to check the prevalence of such cases of suicide by calling on the New Brunswick Pharmaceutical Society to pass more stringent regulations as to the sale of carbolic acid. As coroner Roberts pointed out to them, since January 1st there have been 12 cases of suicide or attempts at suicide, in which carbolic acid had figured. The point which occupied so prominent a position in the jury's minds at the first session, the difference of opinion among the medical witnesses as to treatment, Dr. Berryman contending that sweet oil should be used in a case of this kind, and Dr. Grant and Dr. Scammell favoring a more drastic section of amorphous, did not figure in their questions last evening.

The session was chiefly given to a discussion of the ambulance driver's conduct on the night of the tragedy. W. H. BUSTIN.

W. H. Bustin was recalled to detail the action of the drivers on the night of the suicide. He had sent for the ambulance in accordance with Dr. Berryman's order. The men who answered wanted Dr. Berryman to come himself, and only when this was done would the men send out the ambulance. The ambulance came quickly after that. The stretcher was brought upstairs and put on the first landing. It was thought better by Mr. Bustin to carry the girl to the stretcher by means of the passageway and its turns. Dr. Berryman concurred in this. Mr. Currie took hold of the girl roughly and the witness remonstrated. Witness then said Mr. Currie was under the influence of liquor. Witness ordered Currie to stand back and not put a hand on the girl. He called to one of the boarders to help him and together they carried Miss Grass to the stretcher. Going down stairs was rather awkward, and when asked to help, Currie replied rather insolently that he was not a doctor and would not help. The ambulance was backed up to the sidewalk and not alongside as stated by Mr. Currie.

When they arrived at the hospital Currie was asked to present a guarantee. Further, the driver would not wait at the door until Mr. Bustin could get his coat out of the hotel. Dr. Berryman said to him, "We can't help it. We will have to make the best of it." To a jurymen—the driver took in three blocks of the square instead of only one. The driver drove rapidly through the streets, and the witness said that the driver had been drinking. The witness said that the driver had been drinking. The witness said that the driver had been drinking.

DR. BERRYMAN.

The coroner expressed regret at having to recall Dr. Berryman, but as he was asked by Mr. Bustin to present his testimony when this incident occurred his testimony was necessary. "Why didn't you send for me that night?" said Dr. Berryman. "We did send for you, but you had retired to bed," replied Dr. Roberts. Dr. Berryman hereupon declared that it was an unseemly hour to prolong an inquest until near midnight. He also declared that no other witness should have been allowed to quote him as saying anything when giving evidence.

DR. BERRYMAN said that the statements attributed to him should not have been accepted. He himself should be the only one who should say what he had said or done. He hoped that statements coming from him would carry no weight unless they had actually come from his own lips. He called, he said, to see the young woman when summoned to the house. He admitted that the livery stable man asked him to speak through the telephone. There was nothing important on the man's part. The stretcher was brought to the top of the stairs. Witness was with the patient when two or three came in and he heard some one say, to Currie evidently, "Get out of that; you shan't touch her." Witness said to the man: "You had better go down stairs." The man went quietly, possibly he was drunk. The young woman was carried by Mr. Bustin and a boarder. Mr. Bustin lifted up the stretcher at the front and the stretcher was jammed against him. Eventually the stretcher was put in place. The horse started several times and jostled Mr. Bustin. The horse, witness thought, was standing sideways. It started several times, and witness called "Wait, wait." Then Mr. Bustin got aboard and the team went off talking rather a long route in his estimate. "Let me here say that when the Salvation Army people had charge of the ambulance I have watched Mr. Golding has taken it in entirely satisfactory to me. Possibly, however, the driver was under the influence of liquor."

To coroner—I don't think I told the driver to hasten to the hospital when necessary to go slow the driver is cautious.

To jury—The door was closed I think by young Farley. It is not usual for such cases if there is anybody else capable of going. The driver, to his recollection, had not got off his seat. He was there when the horse made the several attempts to start.

tempt to start. ARTHUR McLEAN. Capt. McLean was recalled to satisfy the curiosity of the jury. In reply to question by Juror Lee, he said: He does not remember whether or not he shook hands with Miss Grass when he called on her. He did not know but what he had kissed her sometimes; and even put his arm around her. Miss Grass had treated him several times to strawberries and cream. He repeated that he had said she would never be her husband. This subject was not broached on the last evening he saw her.

Juror Lee continued: "You are a sensible enough young man to know that you could talk her over the phone and not work so much on her affections as you would by embracing her." "Yes," said witness. "When witness left Miss Grass he said he did not say, 'Good night, my dear,' but 'Good night, May.'"

S. T. GOLDING. S. T. Golding, proprietor of the livery stable, sworn, said the two men in the ambulance took turns at driving the ambulance. Any good driver can handle the ambulance. The driver is not bound to carry patients in or out of the ambulance. He thought the driver should assist in the carrying of stretchers. Witness had been in the stable up to within 5 or 10 minutes of the telephone call, and Mr. Currie was not then under the influence of liquor.

The ambulance is a clumsy machine to handle. The springs are stiff, and in turning to the left the wheel catches the body. That was the reason why the driver did not turn to the left. It has been that way for two years. Had heard no other complaints of that kind. The man will do anything to please people and was rather well liked. It was possible he could have had a drink after witness left. This concluded the evidence and the coroner then gave his address to the jury.

DR. ROBERTS' ADDRESS. Dr. Roberts said in part: It is customary for the coroner to sum up the evidence brought out by the inquest, and I will do this in the customary way.

During the past few months there have been 12 cases of carbolic acid poisoning. This is a fact which deserves attention by a jury. What suggestion I offer to your honor is that you should consider the present conditions, and if you can find no law regulating the sale of these poisons, but the Pharmaceutical Society prohibits in schedule A the sale of strychnine, morphine, etc., unless the druggist records the name of purchaser and the amount of drug sold. The McDonald trouble some years ago brought out this law in order that the culprits in any criminal case may be more easily ascertained. In another schedule comes carbolic acid; this can be dispensed without registration. You can buy more acid than whiskey. The latter can only be bought in six ounce lots; but you can buy a pint of carbolic acid.

In London you cannot buy rat poison without a prescription from a physician. Since this acid has played so important a part in the death of citizens, it might be possible for the society to prohibit more stringently the sale of this drug. It is possible to procure other poisons which would take the place of carbolic acid as an antiseptic and purifier. Next, when May Grass was found to be suffering from poison, was there any schedule of poisons, carbolic acid? The doctor was on the scene in about 20 minutes after the dose was taken, so that Mr. Bustin seems to have done well. Was the proper medication administered when the doctor did arrive? Did the ambulance arrive on time when summoned? In addition, you should consider if the vehicle provided for public use is available on every occasion, is suitable to the purpose, and handled with every care. If you find these things have not been rightly carried out, then it is your duty to suggest remedies. A more up-to-date ambulance system will not hurt our fair city.

You heard the evidence of Dr. Berryman, of Dr. Scammell in regard to the methods of carrying the patient in such cases. If any medical man did not do his duty it is yours to censure him. The jury then retired under the charge of Marshal Coughlan. In about half an hour a decision had been reached, and Foreman Berton read the following verdict: "We, the coroner's jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of the death of the late May Grass, find that she died at the public hospital at 12.45 a. m., Wednesday, 5th inst., from the effect of a dose of carbolic acid administered by her own hand, at the Lansdowne house, situated on the south side of King square, between the hours of 10.30 and 11.30 p. m., Tuesday, 4th inst., while suffering from a depressed state of mind, brought on by some unknown cause." (Signed) Geo. K. Berton, foreman; C. F. Olive, J. S. Seaton, D. Coholan, James W. Lee, C. L. Bustin, S. J. Warwick.

RIDER. "Owing to the number of fatalities caused through the use of drug, carbolic acid, we would suggest that the Pharmaceutical Society of New Brunswick place the above drug under Schedule A of the list of poisons."

WOODSTOCK, July 7.—Extremely warm weather has prevailed the last few days. Today it was 80 degrees in the shade, with a very little breeze, reminding one of an old-fashioned summer.

37th C. OF E. SYNOD ENDS ITS WORK.

The Last Session Was Held Yesterday Morning.

Dean Partridge's Motion for the Preparation of a New Hymn Book Meets With General Support.

The last day's session of the 37th C. of E. Synod opened at 10.30 yesterday, and the remaining business of the year was taken in hand as quickly as possible. The attendance at the synod this year was 85, about the same as last year's meeting at Fredericton. The usual service in Trinity was held at eight o'clock. The celebrant was Archdeacon Neales, and he was assisted by Rev. J. R. deW. Cowie, Rev. C. P. Hanington and Rev. C. E. Newbman. At 9.30 meeting of the executive was held and routine business attended to. After prayers and reading the minutes of Thursday's meeting Dean Partridge spoke about the need of a general hymnal for the Canadian church. He said that the whole church had a common prayer book, which they all knew and loved, and that a common hymn book was quite as necessary. He considered "Hymns Ancient and Modern" very unsatisfactory. The ancient dimensions in the church have died away, and the time has now arrived when a common hymn book could be adopted. Other Canadian churches have lately adopted new and general hymn books, and the speaker called attention to the success which had attended the new book lately adopted by the Presbyterian General Assembly. He therefore made the motion which he had previously given notice of, with the change that he memorial on this point, which is to be sent to the general synod, should have the approval of the bishop.

W. M. Jarvis spoke in favor of a change and seconded the motion. Rev. A. G. H. Dicker said he had not given the matter very serious consideration, but doubted whether a new hymnal would meet with the same financial success which has attended the introduction of the new Presbyterian book, unless the use of the new book was made compulsory by canon. Judge Hanington approved of a change and upon a vote being taken the motion was passed. A resolution embodying the recommendations of the board of finance was adopted by the synod, and seconded by A. C. Fairweather. This resolution was carried.

It was moved by Mr. Justice Hanington, seconded by Archdeacon Neales, that the synod express its appreciation of the work done by "The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel" and its hope that the clergy and laity of this diocese do all in their power to increase the usefulness of the parent society. This resolution was carried. Dean Partridge and A. C. Fairweather were reappointed to the board of governors of King's college, and on motion of Mr. Hanington, His Honor Judge Hanington was reappointed as governor of Edgemoor, Windsor.

Judge Hanington moved that a grant of $100 be given to the school at Shediac to return for the religious studies which are being taught there. This was seconded by Rev. A. F. B. Burt of Shediac. A discussion followed, in which Archdeacon Neales, F. J. G. Knowlton and G. M. Campbell took part. An amendment was suggested by Mr. Otty, and this was adopted by Judge Hanington and his seconder. The matter will be taken up by the board of education.

Canon Richardson moved that the reports of the clergy hitherto read at the synod be handed in at least a month before the synod meets, to the secretary, who will have them printed. This was carried. The report of the committee on the proposed Pan-Anglican committee was adopted.

Hard Peters brought up for consideration the question of changing the time of meeting of the synod. Canon Newbman and Canon Richardson favored a change. The latter said that many of the city people were in the country at this time of year and the important question of hospitality caused considerable difficulty. The thanks of the synod was extended to Canon Richardson, Newbman, for the good work he has done. This was adopted by a standing vote with great applause. Judge Hanington moved a vote of thanks to the rector, church warden and vestry of Trinity, and this was adopted. Resolutions were also passed, thanking the press for their assistance, the Ladies' Auxiliary for their kindness. A vote of thanks was voted to the bishop, and after a short prayer the 37th synod came to a close.

The correct list of substitutes for the general synod is as follows: Clergy—Rev. J. K. Kurling, Canon Newbman, Canon Roberts, Rev. S. Neales, Rev. C. F. Wiggins and Archdeacon Forsyth. Laymen—Messrs. T. C. L. Ketchum, J. E. Campbell, W. B. Wallace, Col. Campbell and Messrs. W. E. Smith and Hon. J. P. Burroughs.

A SPIRITED POEM.

In connection with the celebration of the centenary of Thomaston the following spirited poem was read: Miss Rita Creighton Smith had the honor of preparing for the occasion a poem which is striking in the way it catches the spirit of adventure that sent forth the men of England. The poem is entitled Westward to England, and its introduction says that it is "A new Ballad inciting Englishmen to Planting of the Western Lands, upon example of the late prosperous Voyage to the North parts of Virginia, by Captain George Weymouth in the good ship Archangel." The poem runs as follows:

Now alle you English Gentlemen, Who scorn to live at ease While there is fame for warring Upon the Ocean Seas; You Mariners, who nothing dread When winds blow lusty; And alle you honest Englishmen Who waste in Poverty— Rise up and seek the Western World, As you to shall tell, Who sailed with Captain Weymouth In the brave Archangel.

By God's most gracious Mercie We were not tempt'ed tossed; He brought us safe to harbor The date of Pentecost. And we found a noble River Embayed on either hande, Which brought us upwards, league on league, Into a pleasant lande; A Land enriched with fish and flesh, And excellent with Trees, Where we were well entreated, By kindly Savages. We deem that never Christians Had trode upon that shore, And seen our goodlie River, Or stately Hillies before.

Shall England live imprisoned Within the Narrow Seas, While there are Winds to bear us To shores as faire as these? Or will you have us for a mooke To them of France and Spayne, That Gomb, Gilberte, Raleigh, Have found you realms yet vained The gallant Martin Frobiisher And you marked the pathes you take, And you will stand the sunne, Behind the sayles of Drake, Up sayls, up sayls and Westward! Nor leave another age Your broad Lands lying fallow, Your coast our noble River, Go forth and wrayme for England A wider home, and teache To Nations yet unthought on Our comelie English speeche, The words of Golde and Pestilence, Leave them to greddle Spayne, And make your Baye Donato In fields of golden graine.

And you shall finde a token When you alle Christian men Shall reach our noble River; May knowe it once againe, A token for the Frenchmen, If from the Northe they come, That we the menne of England, And if they dare stand the stte, God turn it to their losse, Beside Saynte George's River We left Saynte George's crosse

TWELVE ENTOMBED IN FRENCH SUBMARINE. PARIS, July 7.—M. Thomson, minister of marine, has issued a bulletin announcing that the French submarine boat Farfadet went down Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at the entrance to the port of Sidi Abdallah, Tunis, under the following circumstances: "Commandant Rater at the moment of plunging noticed that one of the doors was not closed properly and rushed to try to adjust it mechanically. He was too late, the water rushing in with force and throwing out the commandant and two men, the boat sinking in ten metres and laying in the mud at the bottom. Twelve men are encased in the boat and powerful tugs and a strong contingent of engineers are working in an attempt to bring up the boat. The entombed men are together aft of the commandant and are attempting to communicate with the divers."

HE French Fourth of July is the day of the Bastille. The Declaration of Independence of the French people is the story of the day.

It is not strange that the French Republic has regularly since then celebrated this great day in its history, and even at the risk of seeming very un-patriotic I think the French have a much more fitting way of celebrating their freedom.

Tom Tit's Experiment

HERE is a simple experiment by which you may imitate the sound of cathedral bells in your own room, and perhaps one of the strangest things about it is that no one but yourself can be made to hear them ringing.

Procure a tin can of twine. Slip the loop around the handle of a poker and draw out. Grasp each end of the string in either hand. Wind several times each of your first fingers. Now stretch these fingers against your ears, shutting out all sound and swinging the dangling poker until it dashes against the wall.

Grasp the can in one hand, and holding a piece of well-resined leather in the other, pull the string through the folded up leather or slide the leather along the string.

Bottle Trick. YOU will have to go to this experiment very carefully. But when you have done it, if successfully, you will get a lot of pleasure out of it.

THE CAPTURE OF SAKHALIN.

The occupation of the island of Sakhalin by the Japanese is a clever manoeuvre. The acquisition and retention of this island by Russia has always been a sore spot with Japan, which claims that Sakhalin is part of the Japanese archipelago naturally belonging to the kingdom.

The memory of Japan is long, but it does not go back beyond a time when the island of Sakhalin was under the rule of the daimo of the Matsumu clan. In 1879 exploring expeditions were sent out to the northern islands from Yedo, and in 1878 ten men were despatched to Sakhalin, which seems to have previously been regarded as part of the mainland.

Adachi Kinoshita, a Japanese author, who is also a journalist, contributed to the North American a most interesting article on the probable terms of peace between Japan and Russia, and in the course of his discussion gave an explanation of the Russian occupation of Sakhalin.

"all understanding; it may be well here to say that it passes our own understanding as well. . . Now the imperial dream of handing down his line the Empire intact is neither slight nor remote. It would be very singular, therefore, if the diplomat-ista of Nippon should agree to a settlement without the retrocession of Sakhalin."

Extensive Repairs Will be Made In Accordance With Engineer Brown's Report—Great Future Predicted. An advertisement appeared in the Sun yesterday signed by George G. King and George McAvity as "commissioners of the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Co.," calling for tenders for the work of rebuilding certain bridges and trestles and making other improvements to the permanent way from Norton to Chipman.

The attorney general, when seen yesterday, said after a very careful consideration of the report recently made by Gillmour Brown, C. E., the commissioners had decided to accept the appointment and recommend that the proposed improvements be made. When asked as to the contents of Mr. Brown's report, the attorney general stated that he was not at liberty to make them public, as it would not be desirable to do so until the tenders are received and the contracts for making the improvements awarded. Plans are now being made under the direction of the provincial engineer, which will open for the inspection of contractors on and after the 15th.

The attorney general, however, stated that Mr. Brown had made a very careful inspection of the road, having walked over every foot of the track, and his report, while recommending quite extensive improvements to the line between Norton and Chipman, was most satisfactory. Many of the bridges and trestles which have been rebuilt during the last few years are in good condition. Mr. Brown also speaks favorably of the general improvements which have been made to the road, and speaks of the rails being in an excellent condition, and quality of steel being among the best which he had ever inspected. He says the new line between Chipman and Minto is equal to the I. G. R. or C. P. R. The eight miles of branches are also in good condition. ST. JOHN HAS NOT BEEN TAKEN; COL. McLEAN AGAIN THE VICTOR.

Army Marching on This City Was Met and Defeated Near Sussex—Col. Wedderburn's Force Had Long March.

COL. McLEAN.

COL. WEDDERBURN.

SUSSEX, July 7.—Lieut. Col. McLean has won again. Victory has certainly perched on his banner at Camp Sussex. Although in Col. Wedderburn he had against him one of the most wily and daring fighters that ever commanded a foreign army, he succeeded in repulsing the foe that threatened Canada's winter port and thereby saved from destruction the peaceful homes in that city.

St. John is not the only place where the mind of the inhabitants is at rest, for here in this little agricultural town of Sussex, which for the last two weeks has seen nothing but the brilliant uniform, has listened to nothing but the military command, the marching over and the firing over and over again. The news of the victory which they so desired but which they had scarcely dared hope for.

Col. McLean feels greatly relieved tonight—it is not exactly pleasant to have the responsibility of protecting a great section of country from a progressive foe—for during the preparations for the battle which he knew must come, he has slept little. His time has been spent over maps and surveys until he knows every inch of country for miles around. This thorough knowledge was the day for him.

On the other hand the tactics of his enemy, Col. Wedderburn, were considered by the military experts at the front as decidedly clever. A less practical and inexperienced man could not have given Col. McLean the fight he did. From the very start of the engagement it was plain that the defense had before them a hard task. It was evident that Col. Wedderburn had laid his plans well, but the fact that he had burned Moncton and that it was a long, broken line of weary, dusty and hungry soldiers.

After General Lake ordered firing to cease the troops marched back to camp—a long, broken line of weary, dusty and hungry soldiers.

Shortly after dinner General Lake had all the umpires and commanding officers assembled and gave his opinion of the different movements, sharply criticizing each one as it came under discussion. He was well pleased with the day's proceedings and with Camp Sussex in general, and highly commended the commanding officers on their work.

Taking it all in all this year's campaign has been more interesting and far more instructive than that of last year. It will be remembered that Col. McLean was also victorious there, although he was with the attacking force. Today's scheme called for more skill all round and was a better test. It was an interesting event in the history of Sussex.

COL. WHITE'S ACCIDENT. While riding during the morning's engagement Lieut. Col. White, D. O. C., was thrown from his horse. Fortunately he was uninjured. A dog darted out and frightened the horse, which sprang quickly aside, throwing the colonel to the ground. He pluckily held on to the bridle, however, and Capt. Armstrong, who was near by, rendered assistance. Col. White was congratulated on his escape, and the manner in which he got clear of the straits and handled his horse was surprising.

The field batteries and 7th Regiment left for home tonight, and a large number of troops will get away tomorrow morning. All of the men will be out by tonight except the parties who stay to take down the tents and clean up.

UNDER ARREST FOR STEALING SIXTY DOLLARS

Thomas Jackson Charged With Taking Money That Belonged to Frank Ewers.

An Englishman named Thomas Jackson was arrested Saturday evening by Officers Baxter and Perry on suspicion of stealing $60 in cash from Frank Ewers. Mr. Ewers keeps a boarding house on St. Charles street, where Jackson has been stopping for some time past. He left a few days ago and shortly after his departure a sum of about $60 was found to be missing from a chest where it had been kept. The chief of police was notified and a search was at once made for the man. Through another young Englishman who had been stopping at the house, the chief was able to procure a photo of Jackson and also learned that the man had a sweetheart, now in Ontario, who had come out with him in the winter from the old country. He was arrested about nine o'clock Saturday night. He had on him at the time of arrest $18 in cash and a ticket for Halifax.

THIS MUSICIAN IS DELIGHTED.

HIS KIDNEY DISEASE AND GRAVEL CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Tried Many Medicines, but Got No Relief Till He Used the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

ROBESON, Ont., July 7.—(Special.)—Mr. Samuel J. Crow, a well-known musician of this place, relates an experience that adds to the already great popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this locality.

"I suffered for years with kidney trouble," says Mr. Crow, "which became aggravated with every attack of cold and caused me much agony. The disease developed into gravel, when I was totally unfit for anything. I tried many different remedies without the desired result, until I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, when to my astonishment and delight I immediately began to recover."

"After using five boxes the ailment had entirely ceased and I was again enjoying perfect vigor, all of which I owe to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

The fact that Gravel yields so readily to Dodd's Kidney Pills is good news indeed, as it is now a simple and painless operation that were supposed to be the only relief from this trouble.

ANOTHER NEW YACHT, Built for the Watters Brothers, of Carleton, Will Be Launched Today.

The R. K. Y. C. will very soon be reinforced by a very handsome and substantial power yacht which has been built for J. B. and Thos. Watters of Carleton, and which will be launched this evening from the house of the builder, Elijah Ross. Work on this boat was not begun until the 27th day of May, and the fact that she is now ready for the water and Watters is a testimony to the celebrity and resources of the veteran builder, who also designed the new model from which she was built.

The new boat is twenty-five feet over all, four feet six inches in the beam, with a water-line of twenty feet. She will bear the name of the wireless telegraph wizard. The material used in the construction of the Marconi is white pine and Spanish cedar, and she is fitted with a six-horse-power gasoline engine, made by the Toronto Junction Gas & Engine Co., and is expected to develop a speed of nine knots. The Marconi will be one of the finest little boats on the river.

The owners are not new members of the yacht club, but expect to join in a short time.

ROYALTY STARTS NEW FASHIONS

LONDON, July 5.—At the race this year the King appears in the height of fashion. He generally wears a silk frock coat, a light vest and grey trousers, a pair of field glasses slung across his shoulders. His majesty is well known as an authority on men's fashions, and last year he adopted the white top hat for races and similar occasions. The Prince has also been known to wear a white "topper," and has recently been setting the fashion by wearing trousers with raised seams, giving the effect of a crease.

Will Develop the Gypsum Industry Near Perth.

New Company Formed to Carry on the Work—Big Market for the Product is Opening.

PERTH, N. B., July 7.—There are many talked improvements in the industrial, commercial and general trade conditions of the province, but many of these people themselves out in talk. Perhaps the people of Victoria county have had as hard a struggle as any in Canada, and there is no need to ask why this is so. That question could be easily answered, and your correspondent might suggest that the cause was a lack of large industries. The people here are now becoming jubilant over the prospect of the immediate development of the Tobique gypsum rock mines, located at Flasket Rock. The Tobique gypsum, an immense natural deposit, is located on the banks of the Tobique River 25 miles from Perth station. As we reach Flasket Rock, a pair of field glasses slung across his shoulders, His majesty is well known as an authority on men's fashions, and last year he adopted the white top hat for races and similar occasions. The Prince has also been known to wear a white "topper," and has recently been setting the fashion by wearing trousers with raised seams, giving the effect of a crease.

ENTOMBED SEAMEN REACH FOOD AND AIR

PARIS, July 7.—The ministry of marine issued a communication this evening saying that the combined efforts of French and German salvage tugs succeeded this afternoon in bringing to the surface the submarine boat Parafadet, which sank Thursday morning at the entrance to the port of Sid Abdallah, Tunis.

Water, provisions and fresh air were supplied to the members of the enclosed crew, who were alive.

The submarine was being slowly towed into shallow water when some of the cables snapped, the boat remaining suspended in a perpendicular position held by a cable from a French tug.

Efforts were then made to fix grappling irons on the submarine. An Italian tug arrived to aid in the rescue.

M. Thompson, the minister of marine, left Paris today for Bizerta, Tunisia, to investigate the cause of the sinking of the submarine.

It is said that the case was previously settled for $5,000.

Ole Jensen Has Escaped From Salisbury Constables.

Handcuffed and Guarded by Two Men. He Gave Them the Slip on Saturday Night—Was Wanted on Several Charges.

Ole Larsen, alias Ole Jensen, who was arrested in St. John on the night of Saturday, July 1st, for stealing a package of eggs from the Dominion Express team on Church street, has escaped from the officers of the law at Salisbury, Westmorland Co., where he was awaiting trial on the charge of stealing a horse and rig from A. L. Wright of Salisbury. Larsen, who gave his name in the St. John police court as Jensen, was handed over to Detective E. E. Peck of Albert Co., who took the prisoner to Salisbury last Thursday. The authorities had lots of proof that he was the man they wanted and he was taken before Magistrate George Chapman. As the prosecution desired some more witnesses Larsen was remanded, and taken to the Depot Hotel. Constables Wortman and Lester were placed on guard and handcuffs were kept on the prisoner. Notwithstanding this Larsen managed to make his escape Saturday night.

Information received by the Sun last night from Detective Peck was to the effect that the constables had been warned to watch their man closely, for he was considered dangerous. Detective Peck said there was no doubt whatever that Larsen had taken the rig from Mr. Wright's barn, and had driven across a turnip patch and past the house. He then drove out the Fredericton road some distance, but returned and went down the Nixon road. There he sought a vacant barn and spent the whole day there, pulling the grass around the building and feeding it to the horse to keep it quiet, as it was a spirited animal and as a rule required two men to harness it. The also showed that the thief knew the grass around the building, and during the day Mr. Wright drove past the barn several times. After darkness came on Larsen drove to Hillsboro, it is thought, with the intention of robbing the safe of the Albert Manufacturing Co., for whom he had worked a week, and probably made his plans then.

Larsen admitted that he had a pal to meet him in Hillsboro. He left the horse in a field and walked into the village, but while he was absent the authorities were notified and captured the horse. Larsen got wind of this and hid in a plaster car which was taken to Salisbury next day. Just before the train got to the station Larsen jumped from the car and took to the woods in the direction of Boundary Creek, where he boarded the express for St. John, thus escaping Detective Peck, who was at Salisbury to meet him.

On Larsen when he was arrested in this city was a key which fitted a padlock found in the carriage, cartridges which matched others found in the carriage, and a strange looking revolver which the constables fitted.

Detective Peck communicated yesterday with Chief Clark of this city, who arranged to send a member of his force to Salisbury this morning, but last night, after learning of the prisoner's escape, Detective Peck sent a later message asking the chief not to send a man.

Larsen, Mr. Peck says, can easily be identified as he is about 50 years of age, with light moustache and sootey, wears heavy boots and grey striped trousers with a blue shirt and brown felt hat. He has a large scar on the back of his left hand.

Mr. Peck did not know just how Larsen managed to get away from the constables at Salisbury, but understood that he had completely disappeared and that although search was being made, no trace of the man could be found.

CHINA ASKS VOICE IN PEACE TALK, But Japan Sees No Need of This.

Representatives of Fighting Nations Are Now on Their Way to Washington.

YOKOHAMA, July 8.—The steamer having on board the Japanese plenipotentiaries sailed from this port for Seattle at 4:30 this afternoon. The governor of Yokohama and the civic bodies escorted the plenipotentiaries to the pier, where they were received by a military guard. At the pier the plenipotentiaries and their suites entered and were conveyed to the boat, which was dressed with flags, as were all the other ships in the harbor.

The Marquis Ito, Premier Kitamura, the other members of the cabinet, and the plenipotentiaries were among those who accompanied Baron Komura and his party to the Minnesota. An enormous crowd of Japanese and foreigners, with bands of music, assembled at the water, the band playing patriotic airs and the crowds discharging fireworks.

On arriving on board the Minnesota, Baron Komura and those who accompanied him partook of a collation, after which the ship sailed amidst a storm of applause. The Japanese warship Takao fired a salute of ten guns as the Minnesota went to sea, escorted by a torpedo boat and a naval steamer specially detailed to convey heretofore to Tokyo Bay.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 10.—M. Muraviev, the Russian ambassador to Rome, and one of the peace plenipotentiaries, has arrived in St. Petersburg and called upon Foreign Minister Lamdorff yesterday. His suite has been completed by the selection of two secretaries from the foreign office.

The Novoe Vremya joins in the press chorus against M. Muraviev, saying it is hard to tell how good a diplomat he will prove, as he certainly was not a success at The Hague. The paper says that Baron De Rosen, the plenipotentiary on the contrary, is a skilful diplomatist and has been so since his youth.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—China's request to be represented in the Washington conference on the ground that it is vitally interested in its proceedings, has been received by the president and informally transmitted to the belligerents. Whether the president has received the formal request cannot be learned, but it can be stated that while Russia is inclined to favor the suggestion, Japan will not consent to it. Japan has already made public her assurances that Manchuria is to be restored to China. That is one of the principles for which she says she has been fighting. Japan regards herself as fully capable of executing this promise without the assistance of China, and in view of China's inability before the war to cope with Russia in Manchuria, the Japanese government is unable to see what possible service a Chinese representative would be in the Washington conference. Moreover, Japan has all along taken the position that when peace negotiations were begun they would be conducted directly with Russia. It is altogether unlikely that the Washington government will press the claim of China and the official view here fails to sympathize with the idea.

The past week has seen few developments in the plans for the negotiations. Negotiations for an armistice are not expected to be concluded until after the plenipotentiaries meet. It is pointed out again that the beginning of the rainy season in the north removes the necessity for the immediate signing of an armistice. Little doubt is felt, however, that this will be the first step discussed by the plenipotentiaries and probably the final act in the signing of a protocol providing for the cessation of hostilities for a limited period.

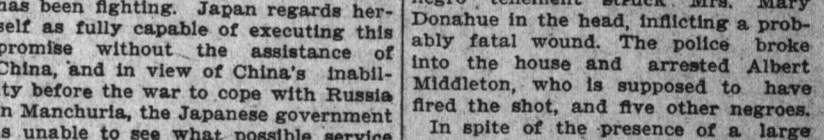

Baron De Rosen is in daily conference with the attaches of the ambassades, and has had several long talks with Count Casenil, who posted him on each step in the negotiations up to the moment. No place has yet been finally selected for the holding of the conference, but Baron De Rosen will discuss this with the president on Thursday. It is believed here that the choice lies between Portsmouth, N. H., and Portland, Maine, with the chances in favor of the former.

It is the belief here that instead of the president making the tedious trip to Washington to greet the plenipotentiaries, the plan which probably will be adopted is for the plenipotentiaries to go to Oyster Bay, the Japanese boarding the Mayflower at the navy yard, Washington, and the Russian envoys going in the Dolphin from New York to Oyster Bay, where they will be jointly received by the president and formally presented to each other. They could go by boat thence to the place selected for the conference, returning to Washington at the conclusion of the treaty of Washington, provided their labors are so successful.

WHITES AND NEGROES FIGHT IN NEW YORK.

Revolvers Freely Used—Probably Two Persons Killed—Row Started Over a Ball Game.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Two persons were shot, one probably fatally, in a fight between mobs of whites and blacks in West Sixteenth street today. Henry Hart, colored, was attacked by white boys, who accused him of interfering with a ball game. Hart fled, pursued by a mob of whites hurling stones and bricks, to his home and got a revolver. While his pursuers made efforts to break into the building he fired into the crowd, one of the negroes being killed. Police shots striking James Hunter, Police man John Love arrested Hart after the latter had fired at him twice. A swarm of negroes, armed with pistols, razors and other weapons, ran to Hart's rescue. The policeman's hat was smashed and he was knocked down and kicked but held his prisoner until the whites were reinforced to the number of several hundred, and the negroes fled. A shot fired from a negro's tenement struck Mrs. Mary Donahue in the head, inflicting a probably fatal wound. The police broke into the house and arrested Albert Middleton, who is supposed to have fired the shot, and five other negroes.

In spite of the presence of a large body of police reserves fighting between whites and blacks continued until a sudden downpour of rain scattered the combatants.

A length and a half back of the winner came the stout bred Ortwell, winner of the Brighton mile and a slight favorite for the handicap. Eight lengths farther back the great mare Beladame, beaten more decisively than in almost any race of her career, came home a third place, though roughly done. DIVORCED WIFE HAS NO CLAIM.

PARIS, July 8.—An opulent British lord of Paris who has been divorced from three wives was summoned by a dressmaker this week before the Civil Tribunal for payment of a bill. The British subject alleges that his divorced wife had been sued for the last year for the most exacting of her debts for dresses, hats, jewels, underwear, and so on should be paid for by her husband. Her dress bill alone for which her husband was sued came to $6,000. The jeweler's bill was for $1,800 and there was also a trifle of $125, odd due to a dentist. Counsel for the dressmaker contended that his client had been divorced from her before her divorce, and that she was liable. It was decided that the divorced wife had absolutely no claim, as since she had gone away from her husband he had paid her regularly the stipulated annual allowance.

SAW MILL BURNED.

$15,000 Fire Near Salisbury—One Jensen Who Escaped From Constables Saturday is Suspected Incendiary.

MONCTON, N. B., July 10.—The A. L. Wright lumber company's saw mill near Salisbury, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning about 8 o'clock. A small quantity of lumber was also burned. The loss will probably be about fifteen thousand dollars.

This property, formerly owned by A. L. Wright, was recently taken over by a limited company, of which Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., for Kings-Albert, is a member. A coincidence that may explain the fire is that a tramp who was under arrest at Salisbury for stealing horse and wagon from Mr. Wright, manager of the mill, made his escape about four hours before the fire broke out.

The thief referred to is Oles Jensen, who was arrested in St. John, and whose escape is described in another column.
