CITIZENS' DUTY TO SUPPORT FAIR

SCHEIDEMANN DECLARES PEACE NOW POSSIBLE

"HALF-CENTURY" YEAR OPENS WITH "ALL-SET" ASPECT; DIRECTORS ARE OPTIMISTIC

President Gartshore Gives an Inspiring Message at Directors' Meeting, Calling Attention to the Awakening Interest On Part of Citizens and the Merchants—Every Detail in Readiness When Gates Opened.

The big show, Western Ontario's greatest fair, is in full swing. The exhibits are all placed, the ballyhoo artists are on the job, the horses and cattle and sheep and chickens are all showing their best. The judges are pinning the red and blue ribbons on the blue-blooded animals, and the whole machinery of the institution is humming merrily.

The weather was rather chilly for the opening, but it was not an unmixed evil. It rather encouraged the directors who are quite persuaded that the cool spell will pass over, with radiant sunshiny weather for the balance of the week. That's all that they require to make the Fair touch the high spots in attendance as well as exhibits.

A Splendid Start.

One is struck by the fact that the directors and exhibitors have co-operated to get things working for this day. In other years there has been some dissatisfaction that conditions were not up to the mark, but there will be no grumbling this year on that score.

"We never had things in such good condition to start the Fair," said President W. M. Gartshore, with enthusiasm. "It is highly creditable."

The Midway is going to be a big attraction. Victor Levitt, New York, who has been bringing shows to London for many years, and who knows the needs of this Fair, is in charge, and he has succeeded in filling the spaces set aside for him with scores of fine things. The only criticism that one can offer is that the spectators are going to have little room for themselves, there is so much on hand. This is not much of a knock either.

Institutions Have a Day.

This afternoon there is a good crowd. The inmates of the various charitable institutions are the guests of the directors, and they are filling the grandstand. The whole performance will be given for their benefit.

The Fair, being chiefly an agricultural exhibit, with less attention paid to the vaudeville end of it, more than justifies its existence on that score. The livestock display is a hummer.

In cattle, there is a grand showing, the numbers being about equally divided between the beef and milk breeds. In the latter the Holsteins are a grand sight. The most interest is shown in Abina Josie King, the $25,000 bull recently purchased by an Alberta syndicate from Oliver Cabana Jun., New York. This baby is the real thing, and the highest-priced sire ever brought into Canada. He is from a renowned herd of Mr. Cabana recently selling another eight-months-old bull to Chicago breeders for the sum of $53,200. There are other good Holsteins present. The Jerseys are also well represented.

Some Famous Herds.

In the beef breeds there are some famous herds of Shorthorns, Aberdeen Angus and Herefords. There are many good Ayrshires and other varieties.

The sheep and hogs exhibits are more numerous than ever, there being scarcely enough room anywhere for them. The show is better than usual in the exhibits of vegetables, flowers and the like. Altogether it is a magnificent show, second possibly to no other in the dominion.

Horses are shown in large numbers, both heavy and light. There are some famous exhibitors like Miss Wilks, Galt, missing, but there are many others. Dr. Routledge, the chairman, stated today

LONDON BOY HAS 17 SHOT WOUNDS

Pte. Philip Hogan Suffers From Machine Gun Fire.

Suffering from seventeen gunshot wounds received on September 4, Pte. Philip Hogan is receiving treatment in the 28th Casualty Clearing Station, according to word received by his sister, Mrs. W. J. Durkin, 321 Hill street. Pte. Hogan has wounds in the right leg, ear and shoulder.

He went overseas with an Edmonton battalion about two years ago. He lived in London practically all his life, and was a member of the staff of the Free Press here.

AMERICAN CHEMISTS DISCUSS WAR CHANGES

Cambridge, Mass, Sept. 10.—The American Chemical Society opened its 55th annual convention here today. The discussions, extending over four days, will be held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Chemical engineers and manufacturers will exchange views on the situation in the chemical world brought about by the war, with particular discussion of discoveries and formulas which have enabled chemists in this country to replace many products formerly obtained mainly from Germany.

TO FIX RATES.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 10.—Representatives of all shipping interests of the Great Lakes will meet here today with Julius Barnes, newly-appointed director of the grain division of the Government's food committee, to set rates on grain and arrange a schedule of fleet movements.

SIR CLIFFORD SIFTON DECLARES DR. NEELY MISREPRESENTS HIM

Never Opposed Conscription Since Act Announced.

TELLS OF CONVERSATION

Told Doctor He Regretted the Split—Admits He Preferred Voluntaryism.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—"He has told a good one," was Sir Clifford Sifton's comment today on the charges made by Dr. Neely. Speaking at Chatham on Saturday, Dr. Neely accused Sir Clifford with having made a volte face on the question of conscription.

"I have never expressed myself as opposed to conscription," Sir Clifford informed a representative of the Canadian Press Limited, "to anyone since Sir Robert Borden made his announcement. The facts are that I met Dr. Neely on the street in front of my office. He stopped me to talk about the political situation. As it was not convenient to talk in the street, I asked him to come to my office. He came up and remained for some time discussing the political situation, particularly in reference to the Government's policy of conscription.

Regretted Split.

"I said I regretted very much that there was likely to be a split on the subject of conscription, in which different parts of the country would be arrayed against each other, and it was quite clear to me that the English-speaking Liberals in the House ought not to follow Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the subject.

"He asked me what I thought they ought to do. I said I thought they ought to organize themselves and repudiate the stand taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and at the same time give assurance of their intention of supporting conscription and the Government in its policy.

"Misrepresentation."

"Dr. Neely expressed his thanks for my advice, and I rave not seen him since. If he is correctly reported, his statement is a complete misrepresentation of the facts.

"I have never expressed myself as opposed to conscription since Sir Robert Borden made his announcement. It is true that in company with others in favor of conscription, after discussing it recognized the difficulty of enforcing it and that it would have been better to have gotten the troops by voluntary enlistment if possible. In that respect our opinion does not differ from that of anyone familiar with political conditions in Canada."

HOW ABOUT THIS?

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—W. A. Charlton, M.P., today recalled his conversation with Sir Clifford Sifton on conscription as follows:

"Sir Clifford said to me: 'I am a conscriptionist from the word go. I have two sons overseas, and I do not know whether I will ever see either of them again. But I feel that to impose conscription at this time would be an act of criminal folly. There are two and a half million French-Canadians in Canada, and three-quarters of a million foreigners, and to impose conscription now would create internal strife and help the Germans. They would be able to point at the largest of the British dominions and say, 'Look at the disunion in Canada.'"

"Those are Sir Clifford's words as I remember them. They were not spoken with the purpose of altering my views, nor did Sir Clifford seek me out in order to express them."

BRITISH FORCES MAKING SECURE GAINS MADE IN SUNDAY'S FIGHT

Consolidate Positions in Spite of Bomb Fighting by Enemy.

SOME PRISONERS TAKEN

German Raiding Parties Are Driven Off in Four Different Attempts.

London Sept. 10—Field Marshal Haig, in his official report of today, says that the British troops last night consolidated the positions captured during the day southeast of Hargicourt, on the Somme front, in France. At several parts of the front German raiding parties were dispersed. The text of the statement reads:

"During the night the positions captured by us yesterday southeast of Hagricourt were successfully consolidated, in spite of some bomb fighting on our new front. An enemy raiding party was driven away last night east of Loos. Other raiding parties three times attacked our positions east of Armentieres, but were successfully beaten off in every case.

"We took a number of prisoners in the course of the night in patrol encounters north of Langemarck and northeast of Monchy-le-Preux."

TRENCHES TAKEN.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The official communication from British headquarters in France tonight reads:

"In successful operations today south of Hargicourt the Northumberland troops attacked and captured 600 yards of German trenches south of the positions we gained in this area on August 26. We also captured 52 prisoners and two trench mortars.

"At the same time we attacked a small portion of a hostile trench required to round off our line east of Malakoff farm, and captured it after heavy fighting, in which considerable casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

"During the night hostile raiding parties attacked two of our positions south of Hollebeke. After sharp fighting, with heavy enemy casualties the raiders succeeded in entering one posts, from which three of our men are missing. The attack on the second post was driven off with enemy loss.

"Early in the morning the enemy also attacked our trenches in Inverness Copse, but was repulsed, leaving twelve prisoners in our hands.

"We improved our position slightly during the night northeast of St. Julien."

GERMANY ADMITS IT.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—British troops yesterday pressed back slightly the German reserves at Hargicourt and Villaret on a narrow front, according to the official statement issued by the German general staff. Early today, the statement adds, the Germans recaptured the position to the east of Hargicourt.

READY TO CARE FOR INJURED AND SICK

No. 4 Nursing Division Will Perform Usual Noble Service.

With tents all pegged down tight and every last bit of equipment in its appointed place, No. 4 Nursing Division, St. John Ambulance Association, is once more ready for action to the north of the general offices at the Exhibition grounds. Last year no less than 110 cases were given first aid and made comfortable in the one tent the division boasted. This year more elaborate provision has been made in the way of temporary hospital accommodation. A large marquee contains three inviting cots with the medicine cabinet, chairs, stands, provision for heating water, etc. Two of the cots have been loaned by Victoria Hospital, while the third is the property of the nursing division. The enamelware is the contribution for the week from the McClary Manufacturing Company. Right next to the main tent is a second one, donated by W. R. Jarmain, which is to be used exclusively for the care of sick, tired, lost and strayed children. The two children's cots are a prominent part of the equipment and come for the week from the Protestant Orphans' Home.

CALL TO AMERICANS TO JOIN IN MOVEMENT TO CRUSH DISLOYALTY

New York, Sept. 10.—A call to all citizens irrespective of race or creed, to join in a movement to crush disloyalty within the United States and to labor for the assimilation of aliens on an exhaustive American standard, was issued here last night by a committee of native and foreign-born Americans headed by Theodore Roosevelt. The appeal is entitled, "The Children of the Crucible," and its signers declare that "the true test of loyal Americanism today is effective service against Germany."

BEATING SUBMARINES, FIRST U. S. WAR TASK

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 10.—Beating the submarine is America's first war task, said Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown, Ireland, in an interview here to-day. Mr. Frost declared his belief that the Allies would eventually master the submarine, but declared that the path was long and tedious and requiring great sacrifice.

END OF SUBMARINE MENACE TO COME WITH SWEDISH ACT

London Sees Possibility of All Scandinavia Being Involved, and of Hemming In the U-Boats By Action From Norwegian Base

(By LOWELL MELLETT.)
[Special to The Advertiser.]

London, Sept. 10.—Possibilities of all Scandinavia being involved in the war were seen in London today, following America's revelations of the German-Swedish intrigue in sending messages from Argentina through the Stockholm foreign office.

The disclosures, which are regarded as of highest importance, mean practically the ending of U-boat activities. The submarines have been traversing Norway's three-mile limit regardless of the illegality of the act. But an allied fleet, operating from a Norwegian base, would be able to stem the U-boats inside German waters, the naval experts assert.

No More Cipher.

One immediate result of the exposure of the Swedish-German connections will undoubtedly be British prohibition of the use of cipher in Swedish cables.

In the meantime, England looks to the possibility of Argentina abandoning her precarious neutrality. Regardless of whether the South American republic actually breaks with Germany it is felt here that Argentina's moral force must surely be thrown definitely on the side of the Allies.

BLAMES SWEDEN.
(By CHARLES P. STEWART.)
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Buenos Aires, Sept. 10.—Argentine's greatest anger today was directed at Sweden rather than at Germany. It was plain that officials regarded Sweden as having played the most offensive part in the matter.

It appeared certain today that there would be a demand for the recall of the German charge, Count Luxburg. Buenos Aires does not expect the German diplomat ever to return from his vacation, but to find a haven in Chile.

It was not believed that a break between Argentina and Germany would ensue, because unofficially the view was taken that the matter was a "personal" one.

STATE OF WAR DECLARED IN PETROGRAD; KERENSKY ORDERS KORNILOFF TO QUIT

Latter Demanded To Have Handed Over To Him All Civil and Military Power, and Would Form New Government.

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Premier Kerensky has declared that a state of war exists in the town and district of Petrograd.

KLEMBOVSKY NEW CHIEF.

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Premier Kerensky has ordered Gen. Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, to resign in consequence of Gen. Korniloff's demand for supreme power. Gen. Klembovsky has been appointed commander-in-chief.

Premier Kerensky has issued the following proclamation:

"On September 8, a member of the Duma, M. Lvoff, arrived in Petrograd and called upon me in the name of Gen. Korniloff, to hand over all civil and military powers to the generalissimo, who would form a new government at his pleasure. The authenticity of the summons was afterwards confirmed by Gen. Korniloff himself, who had a conversation with me over the direct telegraphic wire between Petrograd and main headquarters.

Saw Danger.

"Considering this summons addressed through me to the Provisional Government as an attempt by certain quarters to profit by the difficult situation of the country and establish a state of things contrary to the conquests of the revolution, the Provisional Government has recognized the necessity of charging me, for the safety of the republican regime, to take urgent, indispensable measures necessary to cut at the roots all attempts against the supreme power and rights of the citizens won by the revolution.

"I, therefore, for the maintenance in the country of liberty and public order, am taking all measures, which I shall announce at the proper moment to the people.

Korniloff Dismissed.

"At the same time I order Gen. Korniloff to hand over his functions to Gen. Klembovsky, commander-in-chief of the armies on the northern front, which bar the way to Petrograd, and I order Gen. Klembovsky to assume, provisionally, the functions of generalissimo while remaining at Pskov.

"Secondly, I declare a state of war in the town and district of Petrograd.

"I appeal to all citizens to remain calm, maintain the order necessary for the welfare of the fatherland and the navy and army and tranquilly and faithfully fulfill their duty in the defence of the fatherland against the foreign enemy."

MOST SERIOUS REVOLT.

Petrograd, Sunday, Sept. 9.—(Delayed.)—Eleven cabinet ministers have been in continuous session in the winter palace today considering measures to face General Korniloff's revolt, which in conversations with the Associated Press correspondent the ministers admit is the gravest event since the revolution.

So far, except for the deposition of General Korniloff, which the general is apparently determined to defy, no measures have been decided upon, but the discussion is proceeding on a plan to constitute a directory of five men vested with full powers. The names so far submitted for membership in this body are Premier Kerensky, Vice-Premier Nekrasoff, M. Skobeloff, the minister of labor; M. Terestchenke, minister of foreign affairs, and M. Savonoff, the assistant minister of war.

Perhaps a Misunderstanding.

In a talk with the correspondent, Former Minister Terestchenko said: "The plan for the directory is under discussion, and it may be decided tonight. So far the Government is unable to make any statement. My personal opinion is that General Korniloff's revolt is not dangerous, and is partly due to a misunderstanding, which will be cleared up.

"Regarding the rumors of widespread arrests in Petrograd today in connection with the revolt, the Associated Press correspondent is authorized to declare that no arrests have yet been made by order of the Government, although there may have been some by the judicial authorities under the ordinary process of law.

Edmonton, Sept. 9.—There were no new developments in the street railway situation Saturday or to-day. A limited service is being maintained with non-union men, and the superintendent says he will have a complete service in operation this week.

PEACE NOW POSSIBLE, SAYS SCHEIDEMANN, IF WILSON HAS FAITH

Further Bloodshed Not Necessary, If Trust Be Placed In Reichstag's Power and In Movement Towards Democracy—Exhaustion To Guarantee Peace For Generation After the War.

(By JOHN GRANDENS, U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
(Copyrighted, 1917, by the United Press.)

Berlin, via London, Sept. 10.—President Wilson can bring immediate peace if he will prove by acts the faith in the German people he has expressed in words. Philip Scheidemann, leader of the German Socialist majority party, declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

"Further bloodshed is now unnecessary if America believes in and does not under-estimate the Reichstag's power and the strength of the German movement, which pushes irresistibly toward democratization of the entire public life," Scheidemann asserted. "It is pushing on, although as in America, war offers the worst chance for further development of democratic institutions.

"The German advance will be quicker the sooner the obstacles of war are removed."

Special significance attaches to Scheidemann's views. The German Socialist majority leader is now at the head of a special committee charged by the kaiser with investigating Germany's constitutional system and reforms.

"For one generation after the war," he added, "the people will be unable to commence another war, and peace will be guaranteed automatically by the law of exhaustion.

"During this time, the cause of democracy and socialism in all countries will rapidly progress, making it possible to strengthen and extend the securities of the world's peace.

"I believe this is the last war of civilized nations."

SUB IS INTERNED

Cadiz, Spain, Sept. 10.—A German submarine, seriously damaged, has arrived at this port, convoyed by a Spanish torpedo-boat. The submarine will be interned in LaCaraca harbor.

British Papers Grateful To U. S. For Exposure.

ANOTHER CASE OF GREECE

One Points Out Sweden Has a German Queen.

CANNOT BE INDIFFERENT

Swedish People and Allies Must Take Notice of Actions.

London, Sept. 10.—Photographs of the king and the royal family of Sweden, Swedish soldiers and bird's-eye views of Stockholm are featured in several newspapers under cross page heads such as "Sweden's Exposure," "Sweden Charged With Breach of Neutrality," while others carry special reviews of the entire course of events in Sweden since the outbreakof the war. One paper likens Sweden's position to that of Greece a few months ago, saying: "Its queen is German."

The paper says in an editorial:

"We cannot view without infinite regret the position into which Sweden has been dragged by active sympathy of certain of her rulers towards Germany. The disclosures, which were made from Washington, shed a brilliant light upon dark places of Hun diplomacy. Let us thank the United States for penetrating the plot."

The Graphic says:

"What do Denmark and Norway, parties with Sweden to the Malmo meeting, think of it."

Words Recalled.

The Telegraph says: It is exactly seven months since the publication of the Swedish reply to President Wilson's message to other neutral states, in which he expressed the hope that they 'would find it possible to take similar action to that of the United States in breaking off diplomatic relations with the German empire. In that reply it was declared that the Swedish royal government followed the path of 'neutrality and impartiality' which path it was 'indisposed to abandon, if the vital interests of the country and the dignity of the nation did not force it to change its policy.'

"Today we have before us a highly practical illustration of what that Government regards as coming within the limits of neutrality, which is expressly declared to be without any leaning to either group of combatants in the war, and also what it considers to be consistent with the dignity of the Swedish nation."

Gross Breach of Neutrality.

The Times declares that the Swedish

Wire French President Promising Their Support.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10.—A telegram was sent to President Poincare today pledging the support of 400,000 Poles in Chicago in the effort to free Poland. Henry Franklin Bouton, head of the French commission, told a mass meeting of Poles that an army of Poles was now being formed in France, which will operate independently of the French army. Its purpose will be to achieve the freedom of Poland.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Edmonton, Sept. 9.—There were no new developments in the street railway situation Saturday or to-day. A limited service is being maintained with non-union men, and the superintendent says he will have a complete service in operation this week.

CADORNA CONTINUES PRESSURE ON ENEMY IN GORIZIA DISTRICT

Italians Have Taken Altogether 154 Guns.

Rome, Sept. 10.—General Cadorna continues to press the Austrian forces in the region of the Austro-Italian front northeast of Gorizia, according to the official statement issued today by the war office. Yesterday there was a violent artillery bombardment south of the Carso. Since the beginning of the battle the Italians have captured 154 guns.

NIGHT AND DAY.

Udine, Italy, Sept. 9.—The fight against the heights northeast of Gorizia continues night and day during good and bad weather. The continuous contest seems to the observer to be animated by superhuman force, the Italians and the Austrians almost constantly engaging in hand-to-hand encounters. A strange situation is brought about by the two forces, practically equal in numbers, strength and determination, struggling for supremacy in a circumscribed area, where it is impossible for either side to employ more men or artillery. Gaps in the ranks are instantly filled, and thus the contending forces remain so balanced that victory apparently is impossible for either side.

Pte. Royden A. Reed, who was recently reported on July 27 at wounded, is now reported died of wounds, according to a cablegram received by his mother, Mrs. Yerex, of 302 Ridout street south, Saturday afternoon. The young man enlisted in the 91st Battalion at the age of sixteen, and had been in the trenches but two months at the time of his death. He was employed at the H. J. Jones Lithographing Co., before leaving the city. He died in the Edmonton General Hospital, London, England, on Sept. 7, according to the word received by his mother. The young man is survived by his mother and eight brothers, one of whom is Sapper Ed. J. Reed, now serving in rear of the trenches with a forestry unit, and one sister, Miss Victoria Reed of the Bell Telephone Co.

GERMAN PRISONERS TAKEN IN RAIDS BY FRENCH LAST NIGHT

Material Also Captured in Champagne and Argonne.

ENEMY HARD HIT SUNDAY

Heavy Repulses Inflicted Great Loss During Fierce Counter-Attacks.

Paris, Sept. 10—Successful raids were made by the French last night on the German positions in the Champagne and Argonne regions, the French war department announced today. On both banks of the River Meuse the artillery fighting continued all night with violence. We completed our success of September 8 in the sector of the Fosse and Caurieres Wood. We reduced the resistance of isolated units and took new prisoners. The Germans did not renew their attacks in this region.

"Additional information confirms the importance of the repulse which the Germans yesterday sustained. Their fierce counter-attacks succeeded each other despite heavy losses inflicted upon the enemy by our fire. At several points our troops repulsed as many as five successive attacks and partly decimated the German units advancing.

"Elsewhere the night was calm."

SWEDISH MINISTER AT LONDON REFUSES TO DISCUSS AFFAIR

May Have Announcement To Make Later.

London, Sept. 10.—Count Wrangel, the Swedish minister at London, arrived at the Swedish legation early this morning prepared to go to the British foreign office later in the day. The minister said he had no further advices concerning the Argentine affair, and added that "he had nothing whatever to say about the affair."

The count intimated, however, that he might have some announcement to make later.

The Argentinian minister is out of town and is not expected to return until Wednesday.

ENDS STRIKING PASTORATE IN LONDON BY STINGING ATTACK ON THOSE WHO HOARD FOOD

Rev. R. W. Norwood Says He Criticises London as One Friend to Another—Profiteers Who Show Greed While Mothers Starve Are Guilty of Cruelty as Awful as the Kaiser's.

Taking farewell of the congregation of the Cronyn Memorial Church, of which he has been rector for the past five years, and of the city of London, in which he has been one of the most conspicuous pulpit figures during his residence here, Rev. R. W. Norwood last evening sounded a ringing challenge to those who call themselves Christians and to the church. "If you love Jesus, you must manifest it in something practical," he declared. "You must 'feed the lambs and the sheep.' If you love Jesus, you must show it in thankfulness and service.

"The real door of the house not made with hands, through which those who love the Lord must enter, has written above it the legend, 'His servants shall serve Him.' The lesson which the risen Lord taught in the early morning on the shores of Galilee when he said to Peter, 'If ye love me, feed my lambs, feed my sheep,' was the lesson that he who is most faithful to the infinite Father is a good provider."

Denounces Profiteers.

Continuing, Mr. Norwood scathingly denounced those who cry, "Lord, Lord," yet let fellow beings suffer for lack of necessities; the profiteers who store up food in order to send up prices and enrich themselves at the expense of the very lives of men, women and little children; the church which fails to make vigorous protest; the authority that allows such injustice to be done.

"What are you and I doing for the world? What has the church done in all the nineteen hundred years since Jesus himself gave this simple test for discipleship, 'Let your love be known by doing.'" cried the preacher, adding, "There is one with us tonight who never fails to keep His tryst, 'wherever two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst.' What have we to say to Him about the way we have measured up to the test? What of the bursting of shells over Belgium, the shattering shock of the bombardment of the shores of England, the cry of the outraged women and girls of Belgium? Think you that these things are worse in His sight than a little baby, dirty and dying for lack of nourishment and a mother jar gone in the city of London for the lack of the bare needs of life?

Food Stored, Mothers Die.

"What have you and I been doing, and what has the church been doing? I call witness to storing up of eggs and butter for profit by bargainings while mothers are undernourished and little ones have unfed bodies. Ministers have in their congregations me contributing to their support who are guilty of such profiteering, yet fail to call to account these members who are guilty of cruelty as awful as any conceivable damnable deeds of the kaiser.

"How can the lambs be fed while there are ravening wolves in their midst and few voices cry out in protest against the sham, the stupidity, the disloyalty of it all?

"What is the interpretation of the vision of John on Patmos the vision of the city coming out of God to earth? Simply that the result of the gospel of Jesus must be a new political economy. Let the men of London today combine and say to the businessman: 'The children must be fed; you must not stop the mouths of the mothers. Open the doors of the storage houses, put an end to the speculation in wheat.'

He is Feeding the Lambs?

"Though a man built up the biggest busines in the city, his place in the church were one of filthiness unless he were faithfully feeding the little lambs and the best beloved sheep of the Good Shepherd.

"It is blasphemy to pray for the cleansing and healing of souls while trying to keep bodies dirty and undernourished. The church will never really manifest Jesus until it sees that people are fed and clothed, have decent houses in which to live, and until disease is stamped out."

Referring to the five years which he has been in London, the preacher regretted that in looking at the work of the churches, following reports of sermons, reading the newspapers to get an idea of the practical application of the gospel the churches were making, he had not found them measuring up to the one true test of the Master.

So far as the future of the church is concerned and the possibility of the realization of a dream of a united Christendom, "Church union can never come about by reconciliation so far as doctrines, theories and creeds are concerned," was his view. "The unity of Christendom must be on an economic foundation. Church union will be impossible until doctors and ministers see in the resurrection of Jesus a new economy, until the church realizes that in order to manifest Jesus it must go forth into the world and feed the lambs and the sheep and feed the body first.

Grudging Service a Sin.

Throughout the sermon gleamed a ray of hope and comfort for the followers who during Mr. Norwood's ministry have come to regard him as their friend, guide and shepherd. "God is most revealed in the simple tasks, the trivial daily round, and the highest service that can be rendered to Him is in doing faithfully, and in a spirit of gladness the little tasks of every day. Let your love be known in doing," was his injunction. "If you are a grumbler or render grudging service I fear you have not learned what it is to love Jesus."

At the close of the sermon Mr. Norwood briefly and with deep feeling expressed his regret at leaving his congregation and the city of London.

"I regret," he said, "that in a few hours I will no longer be a citizen of London. I have criticized it as only one friend may criticize another. I have criticized conditions in London because I believe London to be one of the finest communities in the whole Dominion and to have possibilities of greatness in both character and achievement. I believe the future of the Dominion of Canada will be materially affected and influenced by the character of the men and women of London."

Encouraged For New Work.

Dwelling upon the pleasant relationship which had existed between himself and congregation, Mr. Norwood referred to the encouragement it gives him to go to his new work with the consciousness of the dear friendships he is leaving behind.

"We are parting just now," he said, "but there will come a turn in the road when we will journey together again as our path leads out among the stars. We have had a great adventure together and found wonderful things of the Lord together. But I want to leave this with you: 'Eye hath not seen nor ear heard nor hath it entered into the heart of man to know the glory of the things which shall be revealed hereafter which God hath prepared for them that love Him.'"

By 6 o'clock last evening throngs of people had gathered in front of the Cronyn Memorial Church, waiting for the doors to be opened. By 6:30 not a seat was unoccupied, and the chairs and benches were filling up, which were placed in the side aisles and transepts. A few minutes later it was necessary to find accommodation in the chancel for scores. Many stood throughout the service, and hundreds were unable to get into the church for the farewell of one of the most brilliant preachers the city of London has known.

Mr. Norwood and family leave this afternoon for their future home in Philadelphia.

NUTTER CLAIMS ON SCHOOL WORK FOUR YEARS OLD

Education Board Likely To Say He Made Plans On Speculation.

LAWSUIT IS PROBABLE

Sketches For Proposed School and Advices Basis of the Architect's Account.

The account of A. E. Nutter, formerly architect for the technical school, has been forwarded to the advisory committee of the board of education, and will probably be dealt with this week. It seems practically certain that a lawsuit will result.

Mr. Nutter asks the board to pay him $6,622.32 for his work for that body. He has received to date $1,203, making the total of his account $7,825.32. That he will be paid that amount is unlikely, as officials say there are no records at the city hall to show that he did the work other than as a speculation.

Dates Back Four Years.

His account dates from 1913. At that time an addition was proposed for the Alexandra School, and he asks $490 for his services on the preliminary work. In 1914 a school was proposed on the Alexandra grounds, and he prepared sketches on this work for a building to cost $150,000. He wants $2,100 for this. Later, it was thought, the convent grounds on Dundas street would be used as a site, and he prepared sketches for this. Mr. Nutter's bill for this is $1,500. He surveyed various other sites and his account for these is $490.

Wants $412 for Advice.

In connection with the technical school, now in course of construction, he demands $2,406, and a further sum of $412 for advice regarding the heating system, etc. The balance of the account is made up of smaller sums for consultations, etc.

He was paid $1,203 for his work on the present technical school. The committee will go thoroughly into the accounts and report to the board on the matter.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR LOCAL SOLDIERS LARGELY ATTENDED

Striking Tributes Paid to Young Men Killed in Action.

A memorial service in honor of Pte. Allen Phillips, who was killed in action near Lens on August 21, was held at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church last night.

Rev. J. H. Boyd delivered an excellent sermon, in which he eulogized the character of Pte. Phillips, who was a member of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church and Sunday school. In all departments of the church, Sunday school and young people's organizations he took an active part.

The pastor took his text from Matthew xxv., 23, "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

In speaking of Pte. Phillips Rev. Mr. Boyd dwelt upon his sterling character, the nobility of his life and the heroism of his death.

Pte. Phillips joined the Army Medical Corps, and was attached to the 142nd Battalion when that battalion proceeded overseas. Prior to enlisting he was on the staff of the Royal Bank.

The pulpit was decorated with white and purple asters and the honor roll hung up in front of it. Close to 70 names are now on the roll of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church.

The choir sang "The Christian's Good-Night," and "Peace, Perfect Peace."

Edward Wilmer sang a special solo for the occasion. The church was packed to capacity for the occasion.

For Pte. Morgan.

A service in memory of Pte. William Morgan, recently reported killed in action, was conducted by Rev. W. R. McIntosh last evening at King Street Presbyterian Church. The pastor eulogized the young man, whom, he said, was always a prominent figure in the work of the church.

The minister's sermon was on "Mysteries of Life." He said that when so much grief and tribulation are assailing mankind, an explanation of the mysteries of life and death would be listened to with great interest by relatives of the gallant men who have died for the standards of liberty and justice.

Were life devoid of mystery there would be little joy in living, because the expectation of something worth living for is within all of us. The mysteries surrounding the problems of life and death do not betoken malevolence on the part of the Divine Spirit. Without a certain amount of anticipation for a higher, greater and immortal life material existence would be insipid. When one is killed in action his body is the only portion rendered immune to the pleasures of God. His spirit enters in a capacity foreign to his material existence, to the joys of celestial life. He fathoms the greatest of all God's mysteries, which it is impossible to fathom in this life.

Mr. McIntosh made a feeling reference to the great sacrifice Pte. Morgan made when he left his wife and three children, the third of whom was not born at the time of his departure overseas. It was a great loss for the widow and children of the brave soldier to suffer, he said, but if there was any consolation in the belief that her husband is better off in a higher world, he would recommend that Mrs. Morgan renounce grief for joy that Pte. Morgan has reaped a fit reward for his great sacrifice.

Lost Two Members.

An impressive service in memory of Pte. Carl A. Byrnes and Pte. H. A. Telford, who were recently killed in action, was delivered by Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae at the evening service of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church Sunday. Taking his text for Revelations vii.—17: "God shall wipe away all tears from the eyes," as the most appropriate verse with which to give consolation to the bereaved, Dr. McCrae applied the words of Jesus as a consolatory message to the relatives of the two gallant young men who had paid the supreme sacrifice.

He paid tributes to the characters of the dead soldiers, who were at all times followers of God and enthusiastic workers of the Sunday school.

"Millions are in tears because of desolated homes and broken hearts," he said, "and it is hard to realize that these young men who voluntarily sacrificed their lives that the emblem of democracy may forever fly, are living a happier existence in the celestial world than they could ever have hoped to enjoy upon this material planet. However, it is a foregone conclusion that these young soldiers will reap an immortal reward for their services in the work of God at home and abroad. The great trial comes to the bereaved of the young men. The mother or the father of the dead boys in their awful grief think that the dear faces which they so cherished will never grace their eyes again. The sorrow is so overwhelming that they cannot regard their boy's reward as a true thing. However, they must bear up, and believe in the word of God when He said that all sorrows would be forever end in the great beyond."

In conclusion, Mrs. Jeffery Wheable sang: "He Wipes the Tear From Every Eye," after which the Dead March in Saul was played as the congregation stood up.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

COMPLAINS OF CONDUCTOR.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Allow me to draw your attention to the way some of the conductors on our street cars are helping in the cause of "Safety First" that is posted inside of each car.

I happened to be on a north belt car (the number I was unable to get) at 8 o'clock this evening on Richmond street, going toward Cheapside street. When at about the corner of Piccadilly, I think it was, an old, old lady attempted to board the car. She had no sooner got on the first step when the conductor started the car, which threw the poor old lady to the floor of the car. She was not helped to her feet, but roughly pulled and pushed on to the rear seat of the car, and her parcel, which she had dropped, thrown on to the floor at her feet by the conductor, and when the old lady asked to be put off at the Old People's Home, he simply yelled at her until another lady, who threatened to report the conductor, offered to help the poor old lady to the home, which she did do.

Now, sir, is this sort of thing going to be allowed to continue, and the women's and children's lives to be in danger by such men (who should be in France)? I have seen this same conductor do such a thing before. It was raining very hard at the time. Trusting you will give this a place in your paper, I will sign myself, SAFETY FIRST.

London, Sept. 7, 1917.

A CITY TRADEMARK ON THE PILL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Having just finished cutting oats tonight, and having noticed your invitation for farmers to write their side of the situation, am now taking a few minutes to do so. I think Mr. Finn's figures as to what farmers make is a pretty fair average, taken one year with another, and it is time that city dwellers and farmers tried to understand each other's difficulties more clearly. In some quarters the farmer is blamed for the high cost of living.

The farmer is not in a position to make prices to suit himself. Have you ever known of any board of farmers demanding a certain price?

Do you know that the farmer is the only producer that has practically no voice in the selling price of his products? We have to take what is offered, and that regardless of what it costs to produce the article in many instances. We are asked to do our share in winning the war, and everyone is producing and saving all he can. Men can't fight on an empty stomach, and for this more production we are promised the everlasting gratitude of the nation, and that reward in itself is well worth striving for. But how are we farmers going to buy and pay for your high-priced city manufactured goods of which we are large consumers? We reap the gratitude of the city, but it throws us back to the place where we have a beggarly price for what we produce. The city people want ten hours' pay for eight hours' work, and expect the consumers to pay the bill, and expect us to work from daylight till dark, and take no notice of holidays, half holidays that the man in the city never fails to observe, and the reward for us is the everlasting gratitude of the city people.

You may think that the farmers are heartless, but that is not so. We all have relations in the city, and know the H. C. of L. is no myth, but still the pill, if closely examined, bears the city trademark.

In 1913 we had a splendid crop of grain, and as a grain crop it was raised at a loss to the farmer. Why? Because we got less for it than it cost to produce it. The city people set the price, and set it so low that our labor was not rewarded, and it left a bad taste in our mouths. The farmer has so many things to contend with before he is sure of a crop—insect pests, weather conditions, etc.

He plans his work with a view of having his labor rewarded, and is never sure how the result will pan out, and then the man who never raised a crop in his life sets the price, and in many cases buys it, and then sells it for as much more as the first cost, and does it all with his white collar on.

Potatoes are high in price, partly due to weather conditions, and partly due to the fact that the crop of 1914 was a good crop, and the city price setters made the price so low that it took away in a large measure from the farmers to grow potatoes. We drew potatoes and sold them in the spring of 1915 for 40 cents per bag, knowing that the dealer was selling them out at 90 cents per bag, and this condition didn't tend to large acreage in the years that followed.

Meat is dear—quite so. Did you ever consider it takes three or perhaps four years to raise prime beef? How many of the men who cry out at advancing prices would water a cattle beast for 10 cents per day? Not many; and water is cheap—in fact, free; but feed is expensive, and feeding cattle have to be fed three times per day seven months per year, and then sold at a cost of not much over 10 cents per day. So you see it is just possible to kill the goose that lays the golden egg, and still have the goose, but headless. You can also set the price too low for the farmers to produce, and in the end he can't always produce at a loss.

What we need is a large infusion of brotherly love—"Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

Wilton Grove, September 6, 1917. B. B.

VISITS CITY AFTER 30 YEARS' ABSENCE

Robert Love of Raton, New Mexico, Sees Many Improvements.

Robert Love of Raton, New Mexico, is visiting in this city, having accompanied his daughter, who will attend a Canadian ladies' college and forward her musical studies, here.

Mr. Love grew up in London, and left here some 30 years ago. He has been located in New Mexico, and has done well there, being proprietor of a flourishing business in the manufacture of carriages, wagons, etc. He sees wonderful improvement and expansion in his old home town, and says there is no place quite like London to stir the home feeling. Mr. Love remarked that when he reads of the achievements of Canadian boys in the war it makes him prouder than ever of his Canadianism. He will spend a few days with friends here and visit the Western Fair before returning to his far southwest home.

PTE. WALTER HOWE WHO GAVE HIS LIFE IN CAUSE OF LIBERTY

PTE. WALTER HOWIE DIES FROM WOUNDS RECEIVED IN BELGIUM

Full Military Funeral Will Be Held on Tuesday.

Pte. Walter Howie, aged 22, of the 26th Nova Scotia Battalion, died in the Military Hospital at Woiseley Barracks on Sunday from the effects of a wound in the head, sustained in a battle at Kennuel Hill in Belgium, in March, 1916. He left London with the engineers three years ago, and was attached to the fifth brigade headquarters staff, but later transferred to the 26th Nova Scotia Battalion. He returned to Canada in October, 1916. He leaves his father, Mr. Walter Howie, who resides in Scotland; one brother, Pte. John Howie, Canadian Engineers, and one sister, Mrs. George Brokie, of this city. Mrs. Thomas F. Marshall, of 123 Ann street, is an aunt. The funeral will take place from Smith, Son & Clarke's undertaking parlors on Tuesday afternoon. Interment will be made in the soldiers' plot at Mount Pleasant. He will be buried with full military honors.

IS PRISONER OF WAR.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 9.—The fact has been established that Flight-Lieut. Willfrid McKay, son of Mrs. (Dr.) McKay, is a prisoner of war. Recently word came that he was missing, and for a time no information of a definite nature could be obtained. It was learned that he had gone out with some other aviators, but had failed to return, but what his fate was could not be ascertained. Official word has now been received by Mrs. McKay that he is in a German prison camp. It has also been learned that while making the return flight he had engine trouble and was forced to alight just inside the enemy lines.

JUDGES START TO MEASURE UP MANY ENTRIES

Arts Building First in Which Work Gets Under Way.

The judges got at their work this morning at the Fair, and at 9 o'clock began to appraise the work on exhibit in the Fine Arts Building. By noon a number of tickets had been placed on the pictures chosen as winners.

In the afternoon several classes of horses, poultry and dairy products were judged, and an excellent class of exhibits were brought before the judges. At 1:30 the judging of the roadsters in harness and the saddle horses and hunters began inside the track, and at the same time in the small ring the Clydesdales on the line were shown.

Fine Horses Shown.

At 2:30 o'clock the roadsters in the farmers' sections were called for, and some fine specimens of road horses were shown. Professionals and dealers were barred from exhibiting roadsters in this class. Next the English shires were brought up before the judges at 3 o'clock in the small ring.

Clydesdales in harness were passed upon in the small ring at 4 o'clock, and at 4:30 o'clock roadsters were shown on the line inside the track.

The class of horses shown was never better, and so far the judges had a difficult job to pick out the horses that should carry off the ribbons denoting the winners.

Surprises Expected.

The judging of the horses will be completed on Tuesday, and promises to bring out some surprises in many of the classes.

The work of judging the poultry was also largely completed in the afternoon, and in addition to the various classes of fowls, there was a good representation of turkeys, geese and ducks, and also the pets, such as pigeons and rabbits.

A large variety of cheese and butter was on exhibition in the Dairy Products Building, and the judges began to pass on the exhibits in the afternoon. Most of the winning exhibits in the dairy building will have their prize tickets on them by Tuesday morning.

LOCAL NEWS

PERMIT FOR HOUSE.—A permit has been issued by Building Inspector Piper to B. Allen for a story and a half veneer house on Princess avenue, to cost $2,800. The permits for the month of September to date amount to $32,265, as compared with $39,710 for the month of September last year.

MEETINGS CALLED OFF.—There will be no meetings of civic committees during Fair week. The work for the next meeting of the council is well in hand, with nothing of outstanding importance coming up for consideration. The aldermen and controllers will spend their time entertaining the visitors to the Western Fair.

ON REMAND FOR SENTENCE.—William Johnson, Richmond street, until recently employed as a driver for a local coal company, was found guilty on a charge of theft, tried before Judge Judd Saturday. According to evidence he drove a much-used buggy out to the home of Charles Miller, Nissouri Township, and exchanged the vehicle for a comparatively new outfit. He was remanded one week for sentence.

COSTS MORE TO SEE.—The optical trade throughout Canada has been notified of the material increase in the price of spectacle lenses, to take effect at once. For the first time in the history of the trade, the manufacturers have found it necessary to cancel all orders on hand at former prices, giving for their reasons the scarcity of labor and the tremendous increase in the price of the raw material, in some instances over 200 per cent.

SENDS MEDAL TO FRIEND.—A military medal awarded to Bombardier Ernest Thompson, a local youth who went overseas with the 6th Field Battery, has been received for safekeeping by special G. T. R. Constable John Hughes. The medal was sent direct to Mr. Hughes from the British war office upon the request of Bombardier Thompson. The medal was awarded him for bravery on the field, but under what circumstances he has never stated. Bombardier Thompson has been in many of the greatest artillery duels of the war, but has never been wounded.

DIED IN HOSPITAL.

The death of Edward John Rose took place at Victoria Hospital on Sunday morning. He was 10 months old, and the only child of William and Mary Rose of Windsor, formerly of this city. The funeral will be held from Smith, Son & Clarke undertaking parlors on Monday morning. Interment at St. Peter's Cemetery.

AGNES REIDY IN STAR ROLE AS CROWN WITNESS

Her Testimony Material in Conviction of Woman Accused of Selling.

USED TO BAKE BISCUITS

This Was Mrs. Siskind's Plea When Admitting Having Bought Much Whisky.

The police court financial harvest continues unabated, $420 in liquor fines being paid by four persons today.

Mrs. Sadie Siskind, 467 Simcoe street, was convicted under section 40 of the Ontario temperance act with keeping liquor for sale. A fine of $200 and costs was paid by her husband, Julius Siskind, a Richmond street pawnbroker.

The hearing of the case required an hour and a half, three witnesses being called by each side.

Stars for the Crown.

Agnes Reidy, the first witness for the prosecution, testified that she went to the home of Mrs. Siskind on Tuesday evening last and gave her $3, securing a bottle of Imperial whisky.

Edmund Meredith, counsel for the defendant, gave the witness a severe cross-examination, but was unable to get her to deviate from her story.

"Do you know a bottle of whisky when you see one?" thundered Mr. Meredith.

"Oh, I guess I would recognize one if I saw it," replied Agnes with a smile.

Edward Grant, blacksmith, Talbot street, and John Barnett, bricklayer, a friend, testified that they had gone with Agnes Reidy to within a block of the Siskind home, the intention being to procure a bottle of whisky. Barnett testified the bottle was handed over to him on the street by the Reidy woman.

Mrs. Siskind, in her defence, stated she had never at any time sold whisky to Mrs. Reidy.

For Baking Biscuits.

"You have a quantity of liquor in the house, and get in a case frequently, don't you?" asked R. J. Fisher, representing the prosecution.

"Yes, I use quite a bit of liquor in baking biscuits," replied witness.

"A new recipe for baking," commented Mr. Fisher.

Solomon Siskind, father of defendant, after taking the Jewish oath with his hat on his head, testified he had been in the house all evening reading the Bible and had never seen Mrs. Reidy enter at any time.

"Do you ever go to sleep at any time while reading?" asked R. G. Fisher.

Doesn't Read in Sleep.

"No, no; I am always awake when reading," replied witness.

Julius Siskind, husband of the defendant, gave evidence to the effect that Agnes Reidy had told him she was forced by Inspector Birrell to give evidence, whereupon the inspector, who had been gravely watching proceedings, gave vent to audible merriment.

The witness informed the inspector from the witness box that he could not see the point of the joke.

After saying that he considered Agnes Reidy had given truthful testimony, the magistrate imposed the fine.

Henry Tullin pleaded guilty to having a partially consumed bottle in his possession on the street. He was fined $200 and costs, which he paid. A second charge of intoxication was withdrawn.

Two young men pleaded guilty to intoxication and contributed the usual $10 and costs rather than spend 10 days in jail.

THREE YEARS IN ARMY, WOUNDED LAST MONTH

Advertiser Illustrations.

SIGNALLER LYNDEN A. BUTLER, son of W. H. Butler, 691 York street, enlisted in September, 1914, and went overseas with the first contingent.

He was wounded on August 16, when a rifle bullet pierced his right shoulder. Prior to enlisting he was employed at the Grand Trunk shops. He is 21 years of age and has spent his last three birthdays in the trenches.

LIEUT.-COL. BODWELL GIVEN HIGH POST

Ingersoll Officer Appointed to Staff Under Gen. Plumer.

Word was received recently by friends in this city that Lieut.-Col. H. L. Bodwell, D.S.O., had been appointed to the staff of the second army under General Plumer at the front, as assistant director of light railways.

Lieut.-Col. Bodwell is one of those whose work has led to the Canadians being known as the railroad builders of the western front, and his appointment to a high staff position is no surprise to those who know him, as he has been on extensive railroad construction in all parts of Canada and in China.

Lieut.-Col. Bodwell, whose home is near Ingersoll, went overseas as second in command of the 2nd Canadian Pioneer Battalion, of which he raised a company in December, 1915. He was wounded early in 1916, but on his recovery went back and was later awarded the D.S.O. for consistent good work. He has been complimented both by the Canadian and imperial authorities on the splendid work done by the railway troops under his direction in the Ypres salient.

He graduated from the Royal Military College in 1903, and was a classmate of Major R. W. Bishop, commander of the Royal Canadian Engineers in this district, and of Lieut.-Cols. Ibbotson and the late Woodman Leonard of this city.

The many friends of Lieut.-Col. Bodwell in his home town and throughout this district will be pleased to hear of his new appointment to the staff of the second army in France.

MAJOR G. N. WEEKES AND OTHERS RETURN

Several Western Ontario Officers Arrive in Halifax.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 9.—A ship arrived here this afternoon from overseas with a passenger list of approximately 1,400, among whom were 350 men returning from the front, many of them on furlough.

Premier Holman of New South Wales, who is returning to his home after a stay in the British Isles, was among those who will proceed to an American port in order to embark for the Antipodes.

The list of officers in the party includes: Major Haggarty, W.G.R.C.H.A.; Capt. E. Johnston, 2nd Railway troops; Capt. A. O. Phillips, 15th Battalion; Capt. Wilson, R.D., C.A.M.C.; Lieut. E. W. Lecrew, Capt. L. A. Pierre, Capt. J. G. Manning.

WEDDING BELLS

COULTHART—DAVIES.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on Saturday evening, September 8, at the Hamilton Road Presbyterian manse, Hyatt avenue, when Miss Amy Edith Davies, second daughter of Mr. W. R. Davies and the late Mrs. Davies of 280 Egerton street, and Lance-Corp. James Coulthart of the 4th Battalion, who was wounded at the battle of Ypres, were united in the holy bonds. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae. The bride was given away by her father, and Miss Eleanor Davies, her sister, was bridesmaid. The groom was assisted by Thomas Mercer of this city. The young couple will reside in London.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

CYRINIOUS JOYES DIES.

Cyrinious Joyes, a former resident of Kilworth, died Saturday at the residence of his brother, Albert E. Joyes, 518 Elizabeth street. He is survived by two other brothers, Henry of Muskoka and Edward of Lambeth.

The funeral was held on Sunday, with interment at Byron.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DONOHUE.

The funeral of Mrs. Nora Donohue, who died on Thursday, was held from the residence of her sister, Miss Mary Kennedy, 274 Clarence street, Saturday. Requiem high mass was sung at St. Peter's Cathedral by Rev. Father Finn. Interment took place at St. Peter's Cemetery, where further services were conducted by Rev. Father Roy.

The pallbearers were W. Lawrence, James Kennedy, Andrew Marshall, Thomas Park, M. McElheran and D. McInnis.

ASYLUM ATTENDANT DIES.

William Sullivan, an attendant at the asylum for the insane, died at Victoria Hospital on Friday. No relatives reside in the city.

The funeral will be held from the funeral parlors of Smith, Son & Clarke on Monday. Requiem high mass will be sung at St. Peter's Cathedral, and interment will take place at St. Peter's Cemetery.

MOBILIZE CATS AND TERRIERS! AND STOP REIGN OF TERROR TO BE LAUNCHED BY RAT BUND

Advertiser Gets Warning That Dreadful Society Will Set Cheese-Tipped Matches All Over the Place and Send City Up in Smoke.

Let the folks mobilize the cats and the terriers. The Reign of Terror Society is going to mobilize the rats of this city and country, starting a wave of destruction that will engulf the whole nation. Scat, and nist, and all the rest of it! There is deviltry abroad in the land!

The Advertiser has first-hand information on this subject. There has come a warning, and we have secured one of the best known rat chasers in captivity to protect us. Listen to this. Lend an ear, and then tremble as you read the letter that reached this office on the noon delivery:

Dear Sir,—We wish to warn the public through you that the Reign of Terror Society will soon commence operations throughout Canada rape, robbery and incendiarism being the order of the day. We will help Borden destroy the country, matches dipped in a little melted cheese and rats being our chief weapons. Rat beds make good kindling. It is hard to see a man drop a match while walking along the street at night near a factory. The rats will do the rest. They can't catch us all. Jail is better than machine guns.

A Word to the Wise.

The city hall on this lay out seems doomed. What a fine collection of rats there is about the Federal Square.

Who will be the Nero to do the fiddling when this old town goes up in smoke?

Lok out below!

BIG WAGONS PULLED INTO ARENA BY BIG TRACTOR

Midway Sets Up Without Aid of Straining Dappled Greys —All the Types and All the Activity of the Traveling Carnival.

Even in the world of the circus and the side-show the chugging automobile is beginning to supersede the faithful horse. The resplendent equipment wagon which forms the enticing front of the arena of mysteries while the exhibition is on, and is filled with canvass and ten pegs, while the exhibition is traveling, is no longer drawn by four sturdy dappled "greys," whiffle-tree and pole shaft have been replaced by a six-cylinder motor, and the cracking whip of the driver has disappeared. The painted spokes were formerly a large factor in making the vehicle noticeable, but they too have gone. A solid disc of metal painted a prosaic red now does the work.

First Circus Motor Pulled.

London has seen many circuses and a legion of carnivals, but the aggregation at the Western Fair is the first which ever hauled its apparatus into the city by the aid of gasoline.

Whatever the changes in the material of the traveling show there has been none in the personnel. The same cast is all there from the sportily dressed "boss," whose quarter cigar almost forms an angle with the brim of his green felt Stetson to the colored gentleman who pounds tents pegs and chews plug-cut.

There were many incidents at the huge tents went into place that were interesting to early visitors at the grounds, and gave a glimpse of the unknown side of "show" life, indicating that even with these comparatively small enterprises there is need for organization. And that it exists is shown by the way the Midway made its appearance, like an early morning growth of mushrooms.

This Boss Gets Action.

That the boss is "boss," and the way to discover the fact is to "start something," was clearly demonstrated to a number of interested spectators this morning, when somebody talked back to the big chief. He didn't waste words but made a spurt at the malefactor and aimed a running kick at him that would have done credit to a Yale "fullback." The gentleman at whom it was directed had evidently been in similar circumstances before for he made a side step that was quite as neat. Nothing serious followed, but the action was lively for a few moments, resembling a game of cross-tag. Then the gentleman removed to a distance, where, feeling quite safe, he remarked that the boss could put the job in a region where the temperature was considerably higher than on the exhibition grounds. He didn't say it loud enough for the boss to hear, so the spectators missed any further excitement.

SOME EXHIBITION NOTES

A touch of cosiness and sociability hitherto lacking in the Women's Building is lent this year by the Japanese tearoom, in charge of the Isabel Hampton Chapter, I. O. D. E. A huge Japanese umbrella forms a canopy, beneath which are spread inviting little tables, where tempting tea things are served on charming real Japanese china.

The Isabel Hampton Chapter is taking this means of increasing its funds for carrying on the patriotic work undertaken.

One of the exhibits in the Women's Building which is attracting much attention just near to the corridor leading to the Horticultural Hall is a case of embroidered cards and other fancy work sent direct from France by Pte. Earl H. Crispin.

Fire danger at the exhibition grounds this year has been greatly reduced by the establishment of a temporary station not far from the King street entrance and the installation of an alarm system. A fire truck and company from headquarters will be on duty all week and in the event of a blaze can be on the scene within a few seconds. Four alarm boxes have been placed in various parts of the grounds, and in addition to these there is the system in connection with the cattle and horse sheds.

A dress rehearsal held by the men who will participate in the military spectacle at the exhibition throughout the week halted work in many parts of the grounds this morning, as hundreds attempted to get within the inclosure to witness the work.

Two large parties manned the opposing trenches and staged warfare in miniature so effectively that the crowd became really enthusiastic. The majority of the casualties were caused by rifle fire, but there was a bayonet charge and a bombing attack as well. Competent critics, in the persons of returned men, filled the "wings," and it was necessary for the actors to carry their play to the heighth of realism to meet their approval.

"They'll have to get over the ground faster than that if they don't want to sign up with Gabriel's bugle band," commented one man as a wave swept forward. There was plenty of "pep," however, before the charge was finished and the trench had been taken.

PLEADS WITH COURT TO STOP DAUGHTER'S DOWNWARD COURSE

Broken-Hearted Mother Sobs Story to Magistrate.

Broken-hearted and with tears streaming down her cheeks, the mother of an 18-year-old girl, appeared before Magistrate Graydon in police court today and told how her wayward daughter had got beyond her control, and she asked that something be done to check her.

The young woman was arrested at an early hour Sunday morning, and as she was unable to give a satisfactory account of herself a charge of vagrancy was laid.

She was remanded to jail for one week in order to allow further information concerning her to be furnished for the magistrate.

She admitted that she had a habit of staying out all hours of the night, and confessed that she had declined to listen to the advice of her mother or aunt.

Her case is only another of the many young women who have finally been brought to court and the jail because of their failure to lead proper lives.

SON OF LONDONER ONE OF FIRST TO JOIN AMERICAN AVIATORS

Harold K. Holliday of the United States Aviation Corps, returned to Detroit on Saturday after spending two weeks furlough in this city. Mr. Holliday, who is the son of J. W. Holliday of the Advertiser Job Printing Company, was born in Detroit, but received most of his education at Chatham, where he attended both public and high schools. After graduating from high school he returned to Detroit. By virtue of his having been born in the United States, and having spent the greater part of his life there, he is a United States citizen, and was one of the first to answer the call to colors.

While at Chatham High School Mr. Holliday took an active part in the training of the cadet corps there and completed the cadet signallers' course. On the entry of the United States into the European war he received a commission in the cavalry and took a course at Camp Sheridan, Ill. Later, when it was announced that few cavalry would be taken overseas he was granted a transfer to the aviation corps and he is now awaiting orders to report at a training camp for fliers.

Mr. Holliday is not very well known in London, not having lived here, but those who are acquainted with him believe that he will be a crack flier.

It is a coincidence that two sons of William Hunter of the Advertiser Job, are now training at Canadian aviation camps. Ivan had his solo flight the other day, and William is taking his classes.

$30,000 BLAZE.

Kelliher, Sask., Sept. 10.—At noon yesterday a fire started which wiped out the Rabinovitch store, loss $10,000; Malone, druggist, $5,000; Pollard, harness-maker, $5,000; and the postoffice and two other houses on Main street. The total estimated loss is about $30,000, with only $3,000 to $4,000 insurance.

54 TRANSFERS IN MONTH OF AUGUST

The real estate returns for the month of August show that they were 54 transfers. The assessment was $82,075, and the selling price $110,722. The assessment was 74 per cent of the consideration.

For the same month in 1916, there were 66 transfers. The assessed value of the property was $72,580, and the consideration $98,840. The assessment was 73 per cent of the selling price.

Canada's Greatest Piano

The advantages which attract you at first to this instrument will increase a hundred-fold in the days and years to come, while the owners of poor instruments are being disillusioned. How fine a thing it is to know, after having purchased a piano, that no matter how far you might have sought among good pianos you could not have improved upon the choice you made.

The New Gerhard Heintzman Metal Player-Piano

Has revolutionized the present-lay player mechanism, as it is the only practically all metal player made.

It contains the most ingenious method of incasing the delicate valves in a seamless, non-corrosive, interchangeable metal shell or cartridge.

The wind chests, tracker tubes and tempo box are seamless brass; the valve boxes are seamless metal castings.

The New Gerhard Heintzman metal Player Piano is simplicity itself (anyone can play it). It is dust-proof, leak-proof, non-corrosive, will withstand any climate or change of temperature, and is practically no larger than an ordinary upright piano.

The many exclusive features are patented or patents pending.

The New Gerhard Heintzman Metal Player piano is the great realization of an ideal after years of study; let us demonstrate it to you: you, like others, will be immediately convinced that the last word in Player Piano mechanism is contained in the Gerhard Heintzman, Canada's Greatest Piano.

HALF-CENTURY

that there was a splendid showing of horses, possibly one of the best in his experience.

The Machinery Hall, Main Building and other departments are quite up to the high standard of the Western Fair.

The directors held a meeting at noon to-day and were in high spirits. They had seen the fruits of a hard year's work and were more than pleased with the world in general.

One of the Best.

"I want to congratulate the association on the splendid fair," said Col. Gartshore. "It is one of the best, if not the best we have ever held. The exhibits are all placed and everything is much further advanced than ever before. This is our fiftieth anniversary. We are not going to mark the event by any formalities, but we want to call attention to the long and successful record of the Western Fair. A lot of persons show no more attention to the Fair than a deep interest in their passes. However, the directors are working hard to make this a great fair, and their efforts, I think will be rewarded. We are democratic, so we will not make any particular demonstration on our 50th anniversary.

Helping the Exhibition.

"The board of trade and the Advertising Club have shown a deeper interest in the fair than ever before. It is possible that they started a trifle late to get the maximum results, but it shows a good spirit, and good will come. The merchants are beginning to realize the importance of this exhibition, and they are to be congratulated on their efforts to help us.

"I want to thank the press for its co-operation. It has done wonders. I want to speak particularly of the full page given in one of our newspapers. You probably all have seen it. It was a credit to whoever was responsible and a great thing for our fair. I want to express my appreciation of this effort.

"We should appeal to the patriotism of the citizens of London. I do not think they patronize the Fair as they should. Toronto made a strong appeal to the residents of that city this year in an effort to bring the attendance to the million mark.

Centenarian Attended.

"The people rallied, and one woman, 101 years old, went to the Fair just to swell the attendance. That is the kind of patriotism we want.

"I want to particularly mention Tuesday's performance. On that day the military authorities will put on an exhibition of trench work, bombing, and the like. This will be given afternoon and evening. It will be impossible to give this on other days, so the citizens would be very wise to see this. This will b one of the very best days of the Fair."

Arrangements were made for the entertainment of the agricultural committee of the board of trade and representatives of various farmers organizations who will be here on Tuesday at a dinner in the evening. J. A. Miller, Toronto, will be present, and the work of the resources committee will be reviewed. The board of trade is working up much enthusiasm on this score.

Friday will be children's day. The directors will admit all children to the grounds for five cents, with the grandstand free. On other days they will have to pay the regular fare.

Sir Sam Hughes will be a visitor to the Fair on Wednesday, and Mayor Tommy Church, Toronto, may be on hand Thursday. Ald. Hardey will look after the entertainment of distinguished visitors.

"Give us weather and we will give the people an exhibition they will remember," said Secretary A. M. Hunt.

TWO "TOMMY" MURRAYS IN LIST OF LATEST RETURNED OFFICERS

Well-Known London Lieutenants of Same Name Arrive Together.

Several London officers are among those who arrived on a troopship which docked at Halifax Sunday, and telegrams to relatives in this city brought the welcome news that they were once again in Canada.

Among those who have arrived are Major G. N. Weekes who went overseas in the first contingent with No. 1 Detachment, Corps of Guides; Lieut. Thomas F. Murray, who left here with the 70th Battalion, and Lieut. Thomas H. Murray of the Canadian Postal Corps.

It is expected that they will arrive in London on Wednesday or Thursday.

"DECORATION DAY" OF TWO SOCIETIES HELD AT INGERSOLL

I.O.O.F. and S.O.E. Decorated Brethren's Graves.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 9. — Annual decoration day services of Samaritan Lodge and Unity Encampment, I. O. O. F., were held this afternoon, with a large attendance, at Ingersoll Rural Cemetery. In all 125 members of the order were in line and flowers were placed on the graves of 91 deceased brethren.

The parade was marshaled by Bro. S. M. Wright of the Salvation Army Band. Members of Canton London, No. 1, and Canton Ingersoll, No. 19, were in line in full uniform. They presented a splendid appearance. Members of the Rebekah lodges rode in carriages and automobiles.

The impressive services at the cemetery were conducted by Bro. A. J. Johnson and Captain Taylor of the Salvation Army.

Grand Master C. H. Mann, of Hamilton, also spoke.

Visiting brethrn were present from London, Port Burwell, Culloden and Thamesford.

This morning the decoration services of Lodge Imperial, Sons of England, were conducted. Some 50 members of the lodge paraded marshaled by Bro. E. Shipton. The Duke of Connaught juvenile lodge was marshaled by Sergt.-Major Wright. George Roberts, who has performed this duty for so many years, being with the senior lodge. In all fourteen graves were decorated. The services were conducted by Bros. John L. Bryant, president; S. Gould, past president; Hugh Moon vice-president, and J. Allen, secretary.

At the close of the service an address was given by Donald Sutherland, M.P.

WAS KILLED IN ACTION.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 9.—Pte. Joseph Stanley McCoy, formerly of the Traders Bank staff here before the amalgamation with the Royal Bank, was killed in action in France on August 24. Official word was received by his father-in-law, J. C. Harris, West Oxford. The sad message was addressed to the dead soldier's wife who has been simmering with her mother in Muskoka. Pte. McCoy enlisted at Hamilton and he was married about a year and a half ago.

WOUNDED IN SIDE.

FOREST, Sept. 9. — D. Anderson, second line, Plympton, has received word that his second son, Stewart Anderson, had been wounded in the left side on August 16. He was a student at Queen's University, and went overseas in February of 1916.

GIVEN WONDERFUL RECEPTION.

WINGHAM, Sept. 9.—The arrival of the London train last night was the signal for the commencement of the heartiest and at the same time, largest receptions ever accorded a returned soldier in this town. More than 100 autos were at the depot as part of the parade in honor of Corp. William Hales. The soldier's father met him on the train at Clinton.

The parade was marshaled by Ald. A. H. Wilfrid, and the returned hero rode in the auto of J. J. Cunningham, manager of the Western Foundry, in whose employ he had been before he enlisted with the 33rd Battalion, being one of the first to sign up with that unit.

Headed by a torchlight procession and the town band, the parade moved to the town hall, where Major Spotton, Ald. Wilfrid and other members of the council made addresses of welcome.

Pte. Hales was twice wounded at the front, being blown up by a shell the second time. During his service in France, his uncle, Pte. J. H. Friend, died of wounds, while a brother, George, who crossed with the 161st, was killed. Another brother, Harry, is still in England.

BIG THIMBLEBERRY CROP.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 9.—Although not extensively grown in this district some growers have had more than usual crops of thimbleberries. It would seem that the success has varied according to the variety of berry and the condition of soil on which they are grown. Some of the berries being gathered at the present time are large, true to color, and very mellow. It is expected that the high prices which have obtained for small fruits throughout the season will serve as an incentive to many to attempt to grow their own supply in the future.

ON TO THE FALL.

THE screeching press that cries "Disloyal!" at everyone who does not shout for Borden, may be instrumental in bringing Canadian government into a peculiar state. Canadians are for winning the war, and ready to abide by and to support the conscription law on the statute books, but the goads of rank partisans may cause to set in a madness of radicalism that in the name of denouncing both parties as unfitted to govern may place Radicalism and Nationalism in control at Ottawa.

Those who say the people of Canada would have turned down a conscription referendum, apparently do not realize that in the same breath they declared that those who support conscription must surely be defeated. If conscription itself was to be defeated, how do they reason that the embodiments of conscription, in the persons of the candidates, can win? The only thing that can save the Tories, it is safe to infer, according to their own reasoning, is election manipulation.

Food control for the food interests, C. N. R. scandals, the prospect of a slackening of munitions to throw labor temporarily into the market, these things call out to Radicalism to sweep into power. The present is a time for the sanest of Liberalism to pledge itself to the saving of this country, the very existence of whose stability may be threatened by autocrats and gamesters who are ready, as in 1911, to win by any means at their command.

THOSE WHO COULD NOT GO

A WORD for the men who have done their best to get overseas and have failed. Thousands have been disqualified for physical unfitness, and many because of circumstances which they could not control. Everyone who has watched the armies of Canada surge toward the battlefield know the stories of young men who could not, despite the finest of impulses, answer the call that burned in their ears through days and nights. Parental restraint has held scores from going. Especially when the home life has been very close and steadfast between son and mother, when her wish is his command, it has been next to impossible for him to go. At other times responsibilities in business assumed have been too great for those who would have joined. They found themselves enmeshed in cares and difficulties and burdens assumed before the war that could not be laid aside. Try as they would, these men saw their duty lay with their tasks, and a man is the only one who can see his duty. Oftentimes it is more difficult for a man to keep out of khaki than to put it on, and those who faced the insistent demand: "Why aren't YOU in khaki?" without flinching, and stuck to the post which they believed needed them, were often more courageous than those who were coerced into the service. When the history of Canada's recruiting has been dispassionately surveyed, it will probably be said that inspiration from Ottawa was wholly lacking, and that badgering recruiting methods suggested from Ottawa drove more men away than they brought into the army.

ANTI-BRITISH NEW YORKERS.

IN THE BIG town of New York, where only a few very wealthy persons, a particularly fiendish murderer or an occasional pretty actress is considered worthy of public notice, some newspaper diversion is being gained on the question as to whether anyone in the United States likes an "Englishman," and by way of explanation, it may be said that in the big United States of America, with the exception of a few rods along the frontier, an "Englishman" is known to many as anyone who owes allegiance to the British crown. The war has brought it on. Previous to the year 1917 no Canadian would have had the temerity to write to a newspaper in the big city and complain that he could not get employment because of anti-British feeling. The feeling was there, and many would not hestitate to tell him so. Of course, there were many exceptions.

It is particularly interesting that the present controversy arose through a letter from an American who could not get employment because he was mistaken for an Englishman. A Canadian, who takes up the subject, says he was rejected at most places where he applied, because of his nationality. He thus describes his experience with one man, American-born: "You're English," he remarked with an inane smile, shaking his head as he spoke. "No," I replied, "I'm a Canadian." "That's just as bad," he retorted. "We don't want either in this establishment."

Of course, the discussion is not one-sided, and probably after it is ended New York employers will continue to exercise their right to employ whom they wish, and out-of-work Canadians will have the privilege of returning to Canada to "accept a position." But the anti-British feeling will be softened by brotherhood-in-arms.

OUR NEW PAVEMENTS.

THE ADVERTISER is glad to note the improvements made by several of the new city pavements, such as those on Richmond street north and along the Wellington street side of Victoria Park. Richmond street north has been transformed from a rather indifferent concession line flanked by fine residences into a majestic avenue that does credit to a city five times as big as London. Ratepayers did a fine thing when they signed to have it built.

The Victoria Park pavement is a public service also, and greatly enhances the appearance and convenience of the park.

Pavements cost money, but they should be the first thing built before other schemes of civic improvement and beautification are taken up. The Advertiser is informed by a competent local authority that London has and is securing fine pavements, publicity-hunting demagogues to the contrary notwithstanding. Citizens will watch the wearing qualities of this year's pavements with interest.

MR. ROOT'S CAMPAIGN.

IF THERE are any pro-German hyphenated Americans left in the United States, it is likely that they will try to hide their identity before Elihu Root gets through making speeches. Since his return from Russia, Mr. Root has been giving his countrymen much light on the war, not only as it affects Europe, but also this continent. Addressing the American Bar Association a few days ago he said:

"If you maintain your democracy you must kill autocracy. As well go to sleep with a burglar sitting in your front hall as to talk about the peace and security of a democracy with Germany still competent to pursue its career of domination.

"If we had not gone into this war and Germany had succeeded and had come out with her power unbroken, and had applied to us what she did to Serbia and Belgium, what would Germany have been doing to us now? What would Germany have been doing to us during the last five months if she had not been held down in Europe? Why, her hell would have been upon our necks.

"So our entrance into the war has been the grasping at the chance for the preservation of our system of government, our right of American manhood to assert the rights of the individual in all places and against all power, the one chance to continue the free republic that our fathers handed down to us. And our vigorous successful prosecution of this war is the sole way in which we can make that chance successful."

From the first, Mr. Root has had a clear conception of what the war meant. His voice was lifted high for American intervention long before the president acted. He has returned to America more determined than ever that his country should play its part in suppressing the military monster who is threatening the stability of democratic government.

Victoria Park was never more florally responsive to the seasons than this year. The park is a credit to the city and its gardeners. The same may be as enthusiastically said of Springbank.

If, as our local contemporary suggested a while ago, the Government is controlled by the moneyed interests, what does it have to say about President Wilson fixing the price of newsprint across the line, while the manufacturers in Canada merely threaten higher prices and get away with it?

Some people will be saying what a waste to set off fireworks at the fair. And many of them will be themselves wearing jewelry, American boots, furs, chewing gum, gaming on the Midway, "using" tobacco, having a drink at "the flying inn," and all the rest of it. Life seems largely a matter of doing a few necessary things that we may amuse ourselves doing, or enjoying unnecessary things.

THE PIANO DE LUXE.

The richness and beauty of the several Grand and Upright Pianos that are to be found in the exhibit of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, at the Fair, makes them in the fullest sense of the word, "pianos de luxe." # MICHAELIS' NEW TERMS OF PEACE WILL MENTION FRENCH DESIRE

Question of Alsace-Lorraine Considered, But Not Decided.

SOME RESTORATION IDEA

Disarmament and International Police Mentioned in Unofficial Forecast.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Germany will shortly be able to publish her peace terms, according to Dr. George Michaelis, the German chancellor. Dr. Michaelis, in an interview, said he had so informed the Reichstag main committee, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today states.

"The main committee," said Dr. Michaelis in an interview, "tried to make final arrangements regarding peace conditions and the question of Alsace-Lorraine, but no decision has yet been taken. The question, however, was eagerly discussed, and Germany soon will be able to publish her peace terms."

TO DRAFT REPLY TODAY.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 9.—The committee of seven members of the Reichstag and seven members of the Bundesrath appointed to draw up an answer to Pope Benedict's peace note will meet on Monday afternoon, and the reply will probably be drafted then, says a Berlin dispatch today.

ARE THESE THE TERMS?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—What is purported to be an outline of Germany's peace terms has been circulated among diplomatic circles here within the last two weeks, but has been regarded by the Entente embassies and most of the neutrals as a "feeler."

Briefly, the terms were as follows:

Restoration of Belgium and northern France, to be paid for out of the sale of Germany's colonies to Great Britain.

Alsace and Lorraine to be independent states. (High French officials recently have stated anew the determination of France to be satisfied with nothing less than the recovery of her lost provinces).

Trieste to be a "free port."

Serbia and Rumania to be restored, and Serbia to have a port on the Adriatic.

The Balkan question and the status of Turkey to be subjects for negotiation.

Disarmament and international police.

Freedom of the seas, with Great Britain in control of the English Channel until the projected tunnel is built between Dover and Calais.

"WEAK NERVES," SAYS TIRPITZ.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 9.—The Rhein Westphalia Zeitung of Essen announces the formation of a new "patriotic party," the leaders of which are Duke Johann Albrecht of Mecklenberg-Schwerin, Admiral von Tirpitz, and Dr. von Wolfgang Kapp. The party's initial proclamation declares hostility to the Reichstag's peace resolution and urges against "any peace dictated by weak nerves."

GERMAN ENGINEERS BRIDGE LOWER AA; CONCENTRATE FORCES

Enemy Mounted Forces Are Assisting in Concentration of Troops.

OFFENSIVE IN RUMANIA

Austro-Germans Are Repulsed in Latter Theatre of War.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 9.—German engineers have bridged the lower Aa River in Livonia, and the German forces are being concentrated on the north bank of the stream under cover of the cavalry, the war office announced today in its report on the Riga operations. Russian cavalry is impeding the progress of the Germans along the Pskov road.

Unusual German activity at advanced railway stations of the enemy in the Jacobstadt and Dvinsk regions is mentioned by the statement, which reads:

"Western front—In the direction of Riga the enemy having constructed bridges across the lower stream of the River Aa, is concentrating his forces on the northern bank under the cover of his cavalry, which is continuing reconnaissances of our positions.

Fighting On Pskov Road.

"On the Pskov road in the region of Zegvolt fighting is taking place between enemy vanguards and our cavalry detachments, which are hindering the march of the Germans.

"On the south bank of the Dvina fusillades are taking place between our advanced posts and advanced detachments of the enemy. Our aerial reconnaissances reveal considerable animation at advanced railway stations of the enemy in the Jacobstadt and Dvinsk regions.

"In the remainder of the front nothing of material importance occurred.

Rumanian Front Alive.

"Rumanian front—In the region south of the Radautz valley, in the evening of September 8, the enemy opened a barrage fire, and assumed the offensive against a sector of our position south of Arbore. He was repelled by our counter-attacks. In other sectors of this front fusillades and operations by scouting parties have taken place. On September 7 a squadron of enemy airplanes made a raid on the station at Ajud and dropped a number of bombs.

"Caucasus front—There have been fusillades.

"Aviation — Our airplanes have dropped bombs on enemy depots in the village of Rodze, northwest of Postavy and also have attacked the village of Ozaritchi, on the Oginski Canal, where the quarters of a German regiment are established."

CHASING THE HUNS FROM EAST AFRICA

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Defeats for the Germans all along the line in German East Africa are reported in an official statement issued today. The text reads:

"Telegraphing on September 8, the general officer commanding-in-chief in East Africa, reports that on that day the enemy resistance at Mpodas, 53 miles south of Mahenge, was overcome, and all the German positions were occupied. Our troops are in pursuit.

"Belgian columns have passed the Ulanga River, moving towards Mahenge from the north. A German force, driven successfully from Mpepos, 65 miles south of Nahenge, and from Malinje, 18 miles northeast of Mpetos, retired southward, and is being pursued by our columns from Lupembe.

"In the southern area the German force dislodged from Timburu has retreated towards Liwale. It is reported that at present there are no German forces in Portuguese Nyazala and south of Rovuma River."

PREMIER RIBOT CANNOT REFORM FRENCH CARINET

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Premier Ribot late this evening gave up the task of endeavoring to reform his ministry, owing to the refusal of the members of the Socialist party to collaborate with him.

Monday, October 1, Thanksgiving Day?

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—It is understood that the Government will name Monday, October 1, as the date of thanksgiving. The official announcement will be made in a few days.

MAY "GAG" SENATE TO GET FRANCHISE BILL SHOT THROUGH

Government Determined to Prorogue by Sept. 25.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—Interest in the parliamentary situation has swung from the House to the Senate. The Government's announcement that the war-time elections bill is to be "closured" through the Commons, means that the measure will be put through all of its stages so rapidly that it will have passed from the Lower to the Upper House before the end of the week.

This leaves the Senate to deal with the Canadian Northern bill, the soldiers' vote bill and the war-time franchise act. The Government has given notice that the Senate will commence morning sittings Tuesday, and that there will be three distinct sittings each day. It is expected that the Canadian Northern bill be put through the Senate by Wednesday, and, although the majority will be narrow, the Government is confident that the Senate will enact the measure.

May Closure Upper House.

There will not be much of a struggle over the new measure for soldiers voting, but it is expected that the war-time elections measure will precipitate the hardest battle that the Senate has ever seen. There is no closure rule for the Senate, but, if the Government feels that there is any danger of the bill being delayed under the present Senate rules, there will be a closure enacted for the Senate to get the bill through before Parliament loses its authority on October 7.

The Government hopes to get all the business of the session enacted and have Parliament prorogued by September 25. Then conscription will be applied, while arrangements for the election are being completed.

The election is looked for some time between the 10th and the 20th of December.

LUMBERMAN DEAD.

BAY CITY, Mich., Sept. 9.—John Godkin, aged 77, well-known Michigan lumberman, died at Mercy Hospital here today from heart-failure.

Born in Durham County, Ontario, Mr. Godkin came to Michigan in 1875 at the height of the lumber boom, and soon acquired a handsome fortune. He also owned extensive lumber interests in Buffalo and Tonawanda. He never married. One brother, Benjamin, and two sisters, Mrs. William Tycker of Toronto, and Mrs. Jane Wiggs, Oshawa, survive.

Noted for his eccentricities, Mr. Godkin was credited with having engaged in more law suits than any other man in the state.

SPECIAL DECORATIONS FOR FIRST MEN IN WAR

Insignia for Heroes Up Till Ypres Battle.

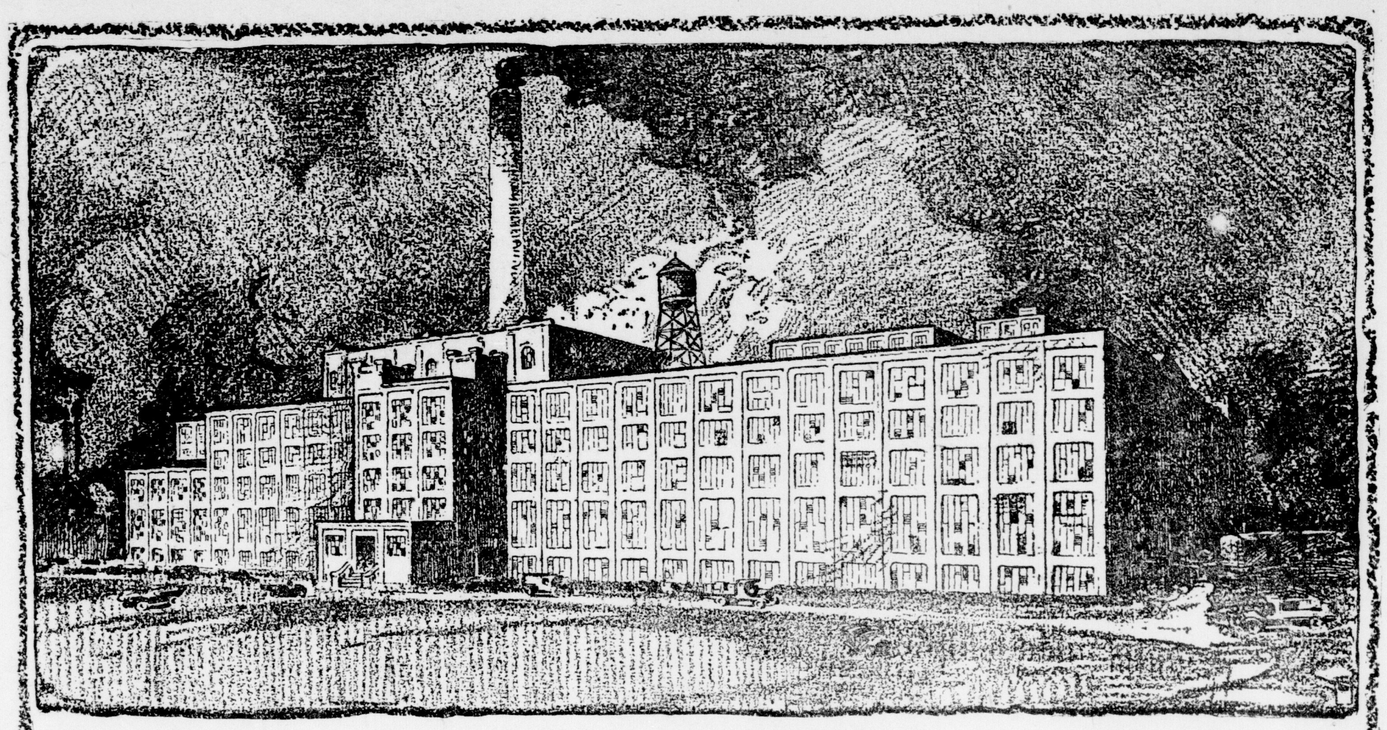

LONDON, Sept. 9.—It is announced that through the desire of King George, a special decoration will be awarded every member of the first British expeditionary force, including men from the navy and Indians, who participated in the early and critical stages of the war, up to and including the first battle of Ypres.

U-BOAT CAMPAIGN RATHER A BLESSING, IS RHONDDA'S VIEW

No Anxiety Regarding Bread Supply — Home Production Does Wonders.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Baron Rhondda, the food controller, in an interview with the London correspondent of the Amsterdam Handelsblad, declares that the submarine campaign is no longer causing anxiety regarding England's bread supply.

"In one respect," remarked the food controller, the submarine campaign is a blessing. It has acted as a stimulus to the cultivation, so that within a year the United Kingdom will be practically independent of imports, so far as the chief foodstuffs are concerned.

Tire Virtues Sculptured in Brick and Steel

A Monument and a Foundation

The new home of Goodyear Tires at New Toronto.

New-finished, it yet faintly beats with the titan pulse that, ere long, will send forth daily more automobile tires than there are minutes.

Because lesser production has ceased to satisfy a demand grown great through merit.

* * * * *

It is at once a monument and a foundation.

A monument to those tire virtues of multiplied mileage and great service that daily have demanded of us increased output. A monument, truly; even though commercial and profitable. For without virtue not one brick could have been raised on another. Older and smaller factories were ample to oversupply the demand for an ordinary tire.

* * * *

And just as truly is it a foundation—a foundation upon a foundation. Upon this new factory, will be built our future as itself is built on our past. Both are the same. The latter is but a broadening of the former. The new foundation is our pledge that we will build in the days and years to come as we have in the past.

* * * *

If we take pride in the completed substance of our ideal, it is but natural. Such achievement is not given to all. Yet, if we have achieved, it is because earnestly we followed business' basic law—that he who builds greatly must build worthily. Because we believed in the triumph of manufactured goodness and the ultimate reward of an ideal that profited the buyer as well as the seller.

We have valued our good name with hundreds of thousands of men as the most precious thing we own. Our material success means less to us than the moral vindication of those simple and sincere principles in which we believe.

* * * *

So we have reached the mark set—and yet we are farther away than ever. For an institution such as ours is hydra-headed. Every task accomplished, every goal gained, sets a twice-difficult task, a twice-further goal.

At New Toronto, then, stands the achievement of our past, the promise of our future. It is the mortgage motorists hold on us that we must pay in continued effort for them. Our industry is a living, vibrant thing, and must grow—or crumble to dust. And business growth is bound up in value and service to you—the customer. This our promise and our obligation.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

The convener of the soldiers' comfort committee acknowledges the following contributions for the bales for overseas:

Lord Roberts Chapter, I.O.D.E.—36 grey flannel shirts, 27 pairs of socks, 9 hospital shirts, 7 pairs bed socks.

The Daughters of the Empire, in common with other women's organizations, are very much indebted to the Parisian and Forest City laundries for their help in preparing articles of clothing for shipment to the soldiers. Shirts, towels, sheets, pillowcases, etc., made up by members of the order and their friends are all laundered by these establishments without charge, so that they are received in England in excellent condition for immediate use. At the usual rates charged, the work done by the London laundries represents a contribution of several thousand dollars a year for patriotic purposes.

When the Overseas Chapter met on September 4, after two months vacation, it was found from reports of officers and committees that the vacation was only as far as meetings were concerned. The work went on all the same. Weekly visits had been made to the hospital at Wolseley Barracks, and the patients supplied with ice cream, home-made cake, flowers and magazines. An electric fan was also provided for the surgical ward. Individual members of the chapter had been working at home, and among other articles brought in were 36 grey flannel shirts and 75 pairs of socks, which will go in the fall shipment overseas. Two band concerts were held, and a refreshment booth was conducted at the bowling green, all of which added $575 to the fund for soldiers' comforts. The silver collection at the March recruiting meeting in the Majestic Theatre enabled the chapter to send a large supply of tobacco to the men in the trenches, and the many postal card acknowledgments received from them during the summer showed how highly the gift was appreciated. About two hundred lunches were packed for soldiers leaving London for overseas, which added materially to the comfort of the boys on the train.

Among the contributions made by the various chapters towards the equipment of the Sanatorium for tuberculous soldiers, the Isabel Hampton Chapter will furnish the surgical ward, at an estimated cost of $600. The members are all practical nurses, which may be taken as a guarantee that this ward will contain everything required to serve its purpose.

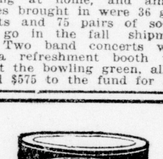

The Avonton Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Avonton, have sent in a check for $50 for the French relief fund. Considering that this is purely a rural chapter, its contributions, both in money and clothing, are remarkable, and sets an example which many city chapters might well strive to emulate.

Some of the chapters will take advantage of fair week to provide for the comforts, as well as for the amusement of citizens and visitors, and at the same time gather in a few nickels and quarters to supply comforts for the men at the front. A Japanese tearoom will be conducted by the Isabel Hampton Chapter, where the weary sight-seers can obtain refreshments; while the Sir John Carling Chapter will have a fish pond of real water, where the children (and grown-ups, if they like) can amuse themselves by fishing for things useful or ornamental. On the Wednesday, the Overseas Chapter will supply tags embellished with pictures of our soldiers to all who are willing to wear them, and surely no one will refuse.

Will any housekeeper having old cotton or linen, please send it to Cronyn Hall for using with supplies sent overseas?

The members of the order, and especially the soldiers' comfort committee, of which she is so active a member, sympathizes most sincerely with Mrs. Logan, in the unfortunate condition of one of her sons, who was poisoned by gas, August 23, while defending the Empire on the European battlefields. Mrs. Logan has only two children, and both enlisted at the commencement of the war. It is to be hoped that they will both survive the accidents of the campaign, and be returned to their Canadian home in safety. L. K. C.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Mitts for Wee One.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wonder if any of your readers could help me out of a little difficulty. I want to knit my small daughter a pair of mitts with a thumb in, but, alas, I find on reaching the thumb that I am stuck. Now, I wonder if some reader could give me the directions how to knit the thumb? My little girl is 14 months old, and her daddy is with London's old battalion, the 149th. It sure is lonesome without our soldier boys, but let us hope they will soon all return to us again. I will close now, wishing you success and thanking you in anticipation. Sincerely yours, 149TH SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Ans.—If it's possible to help this little soldier lassie get her mitts by telling "mamma" how wee thumbs should be knit, please send the directions to me for printing. Our column is read by quite a number of knitters, I know.

Has Her Say.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am very busy this morning, but I always take time to read your page, and I think as "Parsonage Mother" does about liquor traffic. Why, up town last night I was surprised to see so many men "drunk." Then to think of asking mothers to feed their little children war bread when such as that is carried on. And they don't think of making the bread a cent cheaper when it don't cost so much to make as white bread, but what is the use. I will not try to live cheaper. If they would just drop the war bread a cent cheaper than the white bread they would sell more, and give the poorer classes a chance. Well, Miss Grey, I suppose you are sick of this by this time, but I think "women" should have their say" on the question. Just one question, please: "What does Mo. stand for? Is it a state in the United States?"

Do you remember me? I am still,
PINK.

Ans.—Of course "woman should have her say," "Pink," and where else can she say it to better advantage than in this column? The abbreviation "Mo." is for the state of "Missouri."

It Might Help.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am inclosing 25 cents for prisoners' fund and 25 cents for Belgium relief. I should like to get the little romper's pattern which was sent in by "Long Tongue." I think, also, the pattern of stocking foot, if I might have it, please. It takes a lot to keep the kiddies in stockings, and this might help some.

JEMIMA.

Ans—The half-dollar has been credited to be divided as you wish, and both patterns have been mailed to your address.

A Bothersome Skin.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am coming to you for help this time, and I know it is rather a "silly" question; yet it has grown to be almost a vital one with me. It concerns my face. My complexion under ordinary circumstances is quite fair, but supposing I am preparing to go anywhere, or have any little excitement, just when I want to look my best, bright red spots come out; not spots sometimes, but blotches. No one who has not suffered can imagine what it is like. Sometimes my whole face will burn, making it an ugly red, and leaving it rough and dry. Please do not say, consult a doctor, I did, and he said there was absolutely nothing wrong with me, and to use some good cold cream. Well, I did, until I found a dint down on my face, so I had to quit that. Now, is there no harmless home remedy which would bring relief to my tender skin? If someone will help me, I would do any mortal thing in return.

I am sending a splendid recipe for oatmeal macaroons: Two eggs beaten separately, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup sugar, 2½ cups of oatmeal. You may need to add a little flour. Drop in small spoonfuls on buttered paper quite a distance apart.

P.S.—Many thanks for the names of the "lonelies." One of them received a splendid big box since then, and was he grateful? Just a little. Inclosed find a stamped, addressed envelope for any recipes or help of any kind on hand, or which come in, as I might miss the paper. Now, for one question. Can anyone explain the answers of an oui-ja board? JUST ME.

Ans.—As your trouble is probably due rather to nervousness than any other cause, it is difficult to advise a remedy. If you could immerse the feet in fairly warm water for a few seconds, and follow with brisk rubbing, it might draw the blood away from the face. Have you tried any witch-hazel preparation? It is often good to relieve a flushed condition of the skin.

Very pleased to hear that one more lad overseas has been made a bit less "lonely" because of your efforts.

Curtain Medallions.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am coming to the page for the first time. Would like very much if someone would send me some nice patterns for curtain medallions. Will send addressed envelope, so if any come in for me you can send them. Will return them when I get the pattern copied. Yours truly, TIN LIZZIE.

Ans.—Now, who's going to oblige "Lizzie" by sending some patterns? We must impress her favorably on this her first visit, you know.

Mrs. Boomer's Message.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am very grateful to you for your help through your columns in The Advertiser, and also for your response to inquiries for copies of our petition for the return to Canada for rest and recuperation of our brave soldiers of the first contingent. I attended at once to the Thamesville request and sent off to her from Courtright the last copy left from those I brought from home. I told her, as I desire to tell others who ask the question that so long as the copy of the petition is intact any number of additional pages may be added with advantage, bringing better results than several petitions with comparatively few names upon them. It is, however, easy to get copies made if preferred for more rapid circulation on the spot, and I am sure in every one of the many localities applying to us for copies there would surely be found a patriotic friend to volunteer to lend or use a type-writing machine on behalf of our plea. It is most encouraging to hear stories of the success which seems to follow every message we send out, and some of the letters fell touching stories and give appealing reasons why our Canadian lads who have borne the burden and heat of the day from the very beginning, are so wanted at home by the dear ones who crave a sight of them now. At little Courtright alone its petition has been signed by over 200 sympathizers. Sarnia, Parkhill, Thamesville and Guelph have within the last two days started petitions, and as soon as possible after my return to 393 William street, London, I hope to be able to supply others as speedily as I can. It would be lovely, indeed, if we could get our brave boys home for Christmas, but even if that cannot be, and they have to wait until other Canadians arrive overseas to release them, yet the fact that so many are working in their behalf and sympathizing with them will surely be of itself a gleam of hope and sunshine to cheer and hearten them.

One word more, dear Cynthia, and that is to disclaim the honor you are so good as to accord me. In your letter of 31st of August to your enthusiastic correspondent, "Nadine," who certainly deserves her full measure of praise, you say "the petition worded by Mrs. Boomer." Nay, friends, our London effort grew out of the seed planted in your columns by St. Thomas, and it was a St. Thomas writer who shaped the plea so acceptably for us all. Honor where honor is due, and where it is so richly deserved. I remain,

Your sincere and grateful friend,
HARRIET A. BOOMER.

Ans.—Mrs. Boomer's message will interest all of our many readers, whose hearts are overseas with the gallant members of the first contingents. I hope when all the petitions have been circulated in various centres we may hear of the total number of names signed thereon.

NOTES.

A card of acknowledgment from "Scottie of Dundee" is to hand for "M. M. D.," stating the receipt of a letter dated 9th July.

"Annie Marie, No. 1,"—Have handed your letter re non-receipt of pattern over to the pattern department, and hope you receive your pattern right away. You see, I have no connection with the department at all, and can only refer it to those in charge. Sorry for the delay.

Advertiser Patterns

A Stylish Gown.

Waist—2152. Skirt—2153.

For the development of this attractive frock, one could have bordered goods, or shantung in contrasting colors. Organdy and gingham would be a very attractive combination. The skirt is made in tonneau style. Pattern 2153 furnishes the model. It is cut in six sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. The waist pattern, 2152, is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It will require 6½ yards of 44-inch material to make the entire dress of one material for a medium size. The skirt measures about 2½ yards at the foot, with plaits drawn out.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT.

Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below:

WHAT'LL THEY SAY?

When the stars of today are all finished
And the cheers of the crowd seek the new,
I'll be thinking of Tyrus the Terror
And the stuff that he used to put through;
As I turn to the fans all around me
Loud boosting their present star host,
Will they sneer in derision, I wonder,
If I happen to mention the Ghost?
As they cheer for their own bally wonders,
Will they call me a pink-eyed zob
If I try to horn in with some prattle
Of that great Gray Phantom, Cobb?
Will they call me a mutt and a fogey,
When I speak of the stars of today?
When they call Cobb a busher compared to their own
Hey—tell me—what'll they say?

KARL MacGRATH

SEPTEMBER ROUND-UPS.

Just as all is not gold that glitters, so all is not cinch that cinchers—but it is generally so.

There have been a few historic September upsets, but as a rule the ball club reaching September with a fair lead has managed to wiggle through and reach the mainland without disaster.

The most historic upset of them all was in 1908, when the Giants had the pennant won, salted, bagged, cinched and put away—only to blow a set of important contests with the Reds and Phillies, then floundering in the depths.

But if you care to look back over the chart you will find few, very few, September cave-ins by the talent.

Most of those expected to win early in September have generally come through. Very, very few ball clubs have enjoyed a September lead of any proportion to fall back later on.

There have been no vivid September upsets that we can recall since 1908. So, unless there is an explosion of unprecedented bulk, the Giants and White Sox will be the people.

DIAMOND FREAKS.

Sir: Seeing that you have been cataloguing diamond freaks, consider this entry: On April 29, 1907, in a grame at the Polo Grounds between the Giants and Boston, the Giants received four passes, stole five bases and Boston made an error, all in one inning—yet the Giants scored but one run out of the ten bases gained. How? Shannon was out on a ground ball. Strang walked, but Devlin flied to third. Strang stole and on a bad throw by the catcher went to third. Seymour walked, and with Strang executed a double steal, Strang scoring. Bresnahan walked, and he, with Seymour, executed another double steal. McGann walked and then—Bad Bill Dahlen fanned.

RICHARD MANEY.

TOO GOOD FOR HIS OWN GOOD.

It isn't often in any walk of life that a man is too good at his chosen profession for his own good.

For at least two years the Athletics were too good for their own good, financially, at least. Mack built up a ball club so good that is cost him thousands of dollars—first by breaking up interest in his own league around July and then by ending most of his world series at an early stage.

But the leading Too Good example is Jess Willard. Willard's mighty margin above all heavyweight competition has cost him at least $200,000.

He has fought but one ten-round battle in over two years—in the main, because there was no one around figured within ten leagues of his class.

If he had been just a trifle smaller and just a trifle less efficient he might have easily secured one or two big paying contests each year, and in this way he could have added heavily to his income, to say nothing of securing additional advertising for his circus.

As it is, there is no competition in sight for him. Morris is a joke, and Fulton is too far away to carry any sort of show.

If Jess feels the urgent call for an engagement his only chance seems to be with one of the husky pachyderms in his zoo.

HALF-STRIDES.

Packing a punch has nothing on the ability to block one.

The front runner needs more gameness, as a rule, than the entry who can see just what he has to do.

Playing it safe is generally good for an even break, if you consider that worth while.

THE GREAT ZIM RETURNS.

In a late feverish debate a number of words were spilled as to the comparative third base greatness of Heinie Groh and Oscar Vitt. But for third baseball brilliancy on this season's work the Great Zim, meaning Heinie, is more than one stride in front of them all.

Zim's play this season has come closer to the best work of Jimmy Collins and Bill Bradley than we have seen. He has executed a greater variety of plays than any other third baseman of the day and time.

He has not only gone to the right and left, blocked hard, hit balls, but he has been a wonder at racing in on one-handed pick-ups of bunts and slow rollers, the main third basing test.

Groh and Vitt are stars—Groh is outbatting them all—but for third base play Zim leads the parade.

If you don't believe it, ask Colonel B. Hanna, who was experting back in the days when Collins and Bradley were at the peak.

Or it may be that the redoubtable Ping Bodie was inspired to extra deeds of valor this late summer by the pep and dash of the Italian drive a trifle further east.

LONDON DOGS WIN AT TORONTO FAIR

Local Canine Fanciers Do Well at National Exhibition.

Competing with prize winners from all parts of America, London-owned dogs captured an amazing percentage of the honors at the Canadian National Exhibition, according to fanciers who have just returned. J. E. Eagen, entering West Highland White Terriers, practically swept the class, taking all the prizes for bitches and all the specials. Lothian Nevis captured second novice dogs and second open dogs, as well as reserve winners in his class. First and second novice bitches were won by Mr. Eagan's Lothian Snowball and Lothian Snowwhite. In the open bitch class Lothian Snowball and Lothian Betty took first and second prizes. This pair also captured first and second honors for Canadian-bred dogs or bitches. Lothian Snowball also took winners' bitches in this class. The silver medal for the best pair, offered as a special, was taken by Lothian Snowball and Lothian Betty, and the bronze medal offered as a special for the best four was taken by Lothian Snowball, Lothian Snowwhite, Lothian Betty, and Ardoch Nevis.

Vanguard, an American foxhound, owned by J. E. Keays of London, won second place in the open dog class. Fred Hier's Jeane, took second place in limit, and open classes for bitches of this breed. Jingo's Queen, a pointer owned by Claude Steven, was the winner of second prize for novice, and the third prize for limit bitches and the third for open bitches. An English setter bitch, Lady Park, owned by Mrs. William Gray, took third place in limit and third place in open classes. F. H. Westbury, entering smooth fox terriers, took first prize for novice dogs with Advent, and second prize in the open class with Sabine Riffleman. In the Canadian-bred entries he captured second prize with Advent. War Tax a smooth fox terrier puppy dog, owned by H. Whitsitt, took the second prize in his class, and the first prize for breeders. Sabine Raider, also owned by Mr. Whitsitt, took the third prize for novice dogs, second prize for junior dogs and second prize in the limit class.

Wire-haired fox terriers owned by H. H. Shortt, made an excellent showing. Redboy took second prize for puppy dogs and Regal Curio third for Canadian bred dogs. Miss Topnotch took third place in the puppy bitch and Canadian-bred bitch classes. Second prize for junior dogs and bitches was won by Forest City Fox Trot. Dogs owned by Mr. Shortt also took the reserve for the best pair and the reserve for the best four.

Destiny's Prince, owned by O. L. Walper, took second prize in the limit class, second in the open and first in the Canadian-bred for English setter dogs.

Aristocrats of the Bow-Wows To Come to London

Five Hundred Dogs Expected To Occupy Big Kennels.

More than five hundred dogs have been entered in competition for the prizes which will be given to the finest breeds of the canine tribe. The dog show will be formally opened tomorrow, and it is expected that the attendance for this side of the exhibition will exceed that of all previous years. Many dogs from out of town have been entered, and according to Secretary Hunt, the aristocrats of the bow-wows throughout Ontario will be on hand to carry off the awards.

LEAFS MAY PLAY KAUFMANN RUBBER

Kitchener, Sept. 10.—Arrangements have been practically completed by which the Toronto International baseball club will play here on September 18 against the Kaufman Rubber team, winners of the Kitchener city league. It is proposed to donate the proceeds to the Freeport Sanatorium, where many returned soldiers are receiving treatment.

The Kaufman team defeated a Preston team at Preston this afternoon by 3 to 2. The proceeds at this game were donated to the fund for soldiers at Freeport Sanatorium.

BOWLING POPULAR.

Bowling on the green is becoming a popular sport with the officers of the headquarters staff and camp staff at Carling Heights. At a meeting held Friday evening a committee was elected to draft a schedule for games, and it is expected that everything will be in full swing in a few days. New electric lights have been put up so that the matches can be carried on after dark, and five rinks have been rolled and prepared for use.

The following officers are working on a schedule at the present time: Lieut.-Col. Brown, president; Major Nelson, secretary-treasurer; Majors Spry and Emmerton and Capt. Hindson, games committee.

BIRDS WIN FIRST, LOSE SECOND GAME TO NEWARK BEARS

Rain Causes Postponement of Leaf's Double-Header at Montreal.

NEWARK, Sept. 8.—Baltimore won the first game today 8 to 3, taking a 4-run lead on three Newark errors in the first inning. The Bears won out in the ninth inning of the second game 4 to 3, when Eldred singled and stole. Russell got a scratch hit and Blackwell hit to Bentley, whose throw home was too late to get Eldred. Getz's hitting was a feature. Scores:

First game: R. H. E.
Baltimore ....4 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 3—8 9 1
Newark ....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—3 9 5
Tipple and McAvoy; Enzmann and Blackwell.

Second game: R. H. E.
Baltimore ....2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—3 8 2
Newark ....2 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—4 10 1

REBELS REPEAT FEAT OF MAKING GREYS SPLIT

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 8.—Richmond duplicated yesterday's feat today by splitting a double-header with the Grays. The locals batted out the first game 8 to 3, hitting Eibel hard, but the Rebels' pitcher, Enright, was very effective in the second game. The Virginians could not hit Gregg, but batted Peters out of the game in the sixth. Enright was steady throughout. Scores:

First game: R. H. E.
Providence ...3 0 4 1 0 0 0 0 x—8 10 0
Richmond ....1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—3 8 1
Gregg and Allen; Eibel and Reynolds.

Second game: R. H. E.
Providence ...2 1 0 0 0 0 2 0 0—5 12 4
Peters, Mulrennan and Allen; Enright and Kerr, Reynolds.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—Toronto vs. Montreal, double-header, postponed on account of rain.

ROBINSON TROPHY BACK IN LONDON

W. W. Scott's Elmwood Rink Defeats Skip Chambers at Aylmer.

The Robinson trophy is again resting in a London clubhouse. On Saturday two rinks from the Elmwood Bowling Club went down to Aylmer and succeeded in defeating A. Chambers and his defending rink, and brought the silverware back to the city, where it is at present reposing in the Elmwood clubhouse on Edward street. The local men won the trophy by a score of 21 to 12, and had little trouble in defeating their opponents. The rinks and scores:

| Elmwoods. | Aylmer. |
|---|---|
| S. Horn, | E. McCausland, |
| J. Reid, | E. C. Monteith, |
| C. C. Gordon, | H. Little, |
| W. W. Scott, | A. Chambers, |
| skip ..... 21 | skip ..... 12 |

The score by ends—
Elmwoods ...310 110 100 050 023 211—21
Aylmer ..... 003 001 011 201 300 000—12

A friendly game was also played. The Elmwood rink skipped by Harry Talbot took this one, too. The score was 25 to 15. The local rink was made up of W. Scott Jun., R. Kemp, George Wyatt, and Harry Talbot, skip. E. W. R. Hill skipped the Aylmer rink.

Skip Chambers has already intimated that he will shortly challenge the Elmwoods for another game. Under the rules of play for the Robinson trophy any rink that competed during the asylum tourney for the trophy some weeks ago may challenge the holder.

MANY PRIZES FOR LONDON CHICKENS

A. Flawn Wins 11 Prizes With 12 Entries—Fanciers Get Among Money.

London chicken breeders did well with their exhibits at the big exhibition at Toronto, and quite a lot of ribbons, as well as several pieces of silverware, came to London as a result.

A. Flawn of 158 Wharncliffe road south was one of those whose birds did exceptionally well. Mr. Flawn sent down twelve birds and took eleven prizes. He is one of the best known breeders of Wyandottes in this district and won first and second with Silver Wyandotte cocks, first and second with Golden Wyandotte cocks and first and second with Golden Wyandotte hens. He took a second with a cockerel and second in the Golden Wyandotte pullet class, third with Silver cockerel, and fourth with a Silver Wyandotte pullet. His bird won first in Black Wyandotte cock class. Mr. Flawn will likely have 22 or 23 birds at the Western Fair.

Other Londoners who took prizes at Toronto with their birds are: Jack Nash, with Barred Rocks; Tom Faulds, with Black Minorcas; Brookes Bros. with Partridge Wyandottes; Adams Bros., with Buff Wyandottes, and Dick Oak, whose exhibits also got among the money.

All of these fanciers will have birds at the fair here.

ANGLICAN TENNIS

St. George's vs. St. John's of St. Thomas, Ont.

Saturday afternoon the St. George's Tennis Club entertained the club of St. John's Anglican Church of St. Thomas, and after six closely-contested events the local players defeated the visitors by the score of four events to two.

The scores were as follows:

Ladies' Doubles—Miss Pope and Miss Gibson, St. George's, won from Miss Robinson and Miss Brown, St. John's, 6—1, 6—0. Mrs. Sims and Mrs. Hobbs, St. George's, won from Miss Swartz and Miss Brownlee, St. John's, 6—3, 6—4.

Mixed Doubles—Boughner and Miss Robinson, St. John's, won from Beattie and Miss Pope, St. George's, 8—6, 3—6, 6—4. Hobbs and Miss Gibson, St. George's, won from Piert and Miss Brown, St. John's, 4—6, 7—5, 6—2. Holt and Mrs. Sims, St. George's, won from McConaighy and Miss Swartz, St. John's, 6—1, 6—1. Margrette and Mrs. Hobbs, St. George's, won from Miginis and Miss Brownlee, St. John's, 10—8, 6—0.

Men's Doubles—Boughner and Piert, St. John's, won from Beattie and Hobbs, St. George's, 6—3, 6—2.

NORWAY CHAMP. DEFEATED.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 9.—Miss Marie Brown of California defeated Miss Molla Bjurstedt, Norway national champion, 7—5, 6—3, in yesterday's exhibition tennis matches, for the benefit of the Red Cross ambulance fund at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. Frederick B. Alexander and Karl H. Behr of New York defeated Lieut. R. Norris Williams II., Philadelphia, and G. W. Wightman, Boston, 11—9, 4—6, 6—3.

Howard S. Voschell, Brooklyn, and Wallace Johnson, Philadelphia, defeated John R. Strachan, California, and Harold B. Morton, Elizabeth, N. J., 7—5, 4—6, 6—4.

CARDINALS TAKE TWO FROM REDS

Cubs Shut Out Pittsburg 1 to 0 in Close Game.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—St. Louis won both games of a double-header here today from Cincinnati, taking the first contest in easy fashion 6 to 3 and the second game 2 to 0, the latter being more sharply contested.

Schneider was ineffective in the first game. In the second game Meadows outpitched Toney, the Cardinals bunching two hits, each in the third and fourth innings, for the only runs of the game. Scores: First game: R. H. E.

UMPIRE FORFEITS GAME TO CHICAGO IN TENTH INNING

Cleveland Players Lose by Protesting Decision and Delaying Game.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—With the score tied at 3 to 3, Umpire Brick Owens forfeited today's game to Chicago 9 to 0, in the tenth inning because of the dilatory tactics of the Cleveland players. As a result Chicago is now seven games ahead of Boston in the pennant race.

The Cleveland players protested Owen's ruling in the tenth, when, with two men on bases and no one out, he called Graney out in a close play at third base. The game was delayed for ten minutes because of arguments. When the Cleveland players finally resumed play they hurled their gloves in the air and two or three of them rolled into the dirt to express their displeasure.

After Pitcher Danforth, the first man up in Chicago's half of the tenth had struck out, Catcher O'Neill, of Cleveland, deliberately threw the ball into centre field, whereupon Owens forfeited the game.

MITCHELL HOLDS BROWNS TO 5 HITS IN FIRST GAME

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—Mitchell held St. Louis to five hits today. St. Louis turned the tables on Detroit in the second game when they drove Ehmke from the mound in the third inning, scored five runs on Burns' error, a single, a double by Severoid and Pratt and Johnson's home run and won 6 to 2.

As St. Louis went to bat in the ninth inning of the first game the players were called to the plate and presented with the $500 check offered by the American League to the club winning the army drill competition. Scores:

FAVORITE WINS FUTURITY STAKES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Running true to the form he frequently displayed in races this season, George W. Loftus' chestnut colt Papp, Peter Quince—Phebe G., won the Futurity stakes at the Belmont racecourse yesterday. Carrying 127 pounds and nicely piloted by Jockey L. Allen, Papp, which was the favortie, was always prominent in the leading division, and coming away in the final furlong won handily by three lengths from Escoba, which finished second, a nose in front of Rosie O'Grady, the leader for three-fourths of the journey.

The track was sloppy on top, but firm underneath, and the winner's time of 1:12 was very good, considering the condition of the course. Twelve two-year-olds made up the field for the classic event. Thistle was scratched, but S. W. Corigan added Royal Ensign, and at that he was doubly represented in the event, as Rahu also ran for him, but finished last. A. K. Macomber also had a pair in Tracksend and War Machine, and James Butler's Top Coat and Bantry were also coupled, making the third entry in the classy field. The start was a good one; Papp, which had the outside position, got well away, and while Rosie O'Grady was first to show in front, Allen piloted Papp gradually into the centre of the track, where the going was better, and soon the head, to come away easily in the final eighth. Escoba closed with excellent courage, and caught Rosie O'Grady in the final strides to take second money by a nose from the Whitney filly, which was third, a length in front of Topcoat, whose stable companion, Bantry, finished fifth and a length back.

War Machine was sixth, with Debadou next, and the others finished in the following order: Gold Tassel, Royal Ensign, Tracksend, Chief Lally and Rahu.

The total value of the stake was $20,625, of which the winner's share was $15,450.

LEAF CATCHER IS GLUTTON FOR WORK.

"MICHEY" LALONGE, first-string catcher of the Toronto Internationals, likes to work both ends of the numerous double-headers this month. His good coaching and throwing are holding up a shaky pitching staff for Lajoie.

ZOCCANO TO STAGE SCRAP THIS WEEK

Plans to Bring Morgan Back—Goes West to Fight Now.

Tony "Kid" Zoccano, London's prize little scrapper, arrived in the city on Saturday evening, after a long holiday spent in the Maritime Provinces. Tony looks to be in fine condition and is anxious to arrange bouts. He has plans to stage several scraps here during the coming winter, and local fight fans will probably get their fill of the sport when the snow is on the ground.

Tony is not staying in London. He leaves today for Winnipeg, where he may meet O'Leary, a fighter who is very anxious to take on the Kid. Tony's manager is now in the west arranging for this bout and a few days ago wired for the fighter to join him at once. Hence Tony's haste to get away from here. He says he is willing to meet O'Leary providing the latter comes down to his weight. Tony fights at 125 pounds as a rule.

During the summer Zoccano met Joe Mendott in a twelve-round battle at Sault St. Marie, Mendott was given the decision. He was knocked out here when he hooked up with Zoccano.

Some time between Thanksgiving and Christmas Zoccano expects to bring Abe Morgan back for another meeting. Morgan and Tony fought here a year ago Labor Day and those who saw it remember that it was some fight.

SIR ADAM'S HORSE WINS AT ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, Sept. 9.—Sir Thomas, champion hunter of the National Horse Show, owned by Sir Adam Beck of London, Ont., won the championship of the Rochester show, which closed today. A medal offered by the Arabian Horse Club of America for the best saddle horse went to Cherrystone, owned by Miss Isabella Wanamaker of Merion, Pa. The Hotel Biltmore $300 challenge trophy was awarded to Walter H. Hanley on the performance of Twilight, champion at Newport last week. Championships in harness classes went to Miss Constance Vauclain of Rosemount, Penna.; Miss Wanamaker and A. W. Atkinson, Merchantville, N.J. Mrs. Charles W. Fletcher of Goshen won eleven blue ribbons in the pony division.

OUIMET AND GUILFORD WIN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Francis Ouimet and Jesse Guilford, the Boston golfers, won the four-ball match which was begun at the Brae Burn Club last Saturday by seven up and six to play on the links of the Baltusrol Club, Short Hills, N.J., yesterday. In the first half of the match last week at Brae Burn the golfers were one up. At the close of the first round today Jerome D. Travers and Oswald Kirkby were three down, and never obtained a lead during the contest.

HAVANA CIGARS FOR LEN SMITH

Captures Prize at Thistle Club Saturday Afternoon Tourney.

Len Smith skipped the winning rink at the Thistle Club on Saturday afternoon and captured the prize, Havana cigars donated by W. E. Manness.

Another tourney will be staged tonight. The draw will be made at 7:15.

Several games have been played off in the Turner handicap singles tournament, for which four handsome prizes have been donated by A. E. Turner. This series of games has proven one of great interest to all members of the Thistle Club, and it will possibly become an annual event.

GREAT TROTTERS AT SYRACUSE CIRCUIT

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The Grand Circuit races, in conjunction with the State Fair, open here today with the Battle Royal, a stake for trotters in the 2:04 class, for a purse of $1,000. The great trotters Mabel Trask and St. Frisco are entered in this event, together with Miss Direct and Al Mack. The other events on today's card follow: 2:20 trot, $1,000, and 2:24 trot for 3-year-olds, $1,000.

The races this year will be over a new track, and while it is in good shape, it is not expected that any records will be broken. The weather is chilly.

ANOTHER OF ALLEGED DYNAMITERS ARRESTED

Montreal Police Take Hardware Merchant on Theft Charge.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Another member of the dynamite gang was gathered into the police net over the week-end, while two or three more arrests are imminent. The latest man arrested by city detectives working with Inspector Sirouxe of the dominion police is Charles Chagnon, alias Larose. He is 21 years old and is being held on a charge of stealing dynamite from the Martineau quarry.

The arrest was made before midnight Saturday at St. Urbain street.

Chagnon is in the hardware business, his business address being on St. Lawrence street, and his residence on St. Urbain street.

This makes eight arrests in this affair. Except for Monette and his companion, now bound for Toronto in a stolen automobile, and the men whom it is expected will be arrested in Montreal shortly, the police have got pretty well all those whom they have been trying to round up, except for those of a more prominent nature, the men who are believed to be "higher up."

Aurie Goyer, a young newspaper reporter, giving his address as Hutchinson street, and Jean Baptiste Ouimet, blacksmith, living at Longueuil appeared before Judge Saint Cyr in the arraignment court on Saturday, charged with attempted murder in connection with the dynamiting of Lord Atholstan's house at Cartierville.

VETERAN CAPTAIN DIES.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 10.—Capt. James D. Warren, one of the pioneer sealers of this city and years ago commander of the steamer Beaver, the first steamer to ply the Pacific Ocean, died here last night aged 80.

FRANCHISE BILL BEING CLOSURED THROUGH HOUSE

Minister of Marine Gives Cue and Sir George Foster Applies Gag.

EXCITING SCENE FOLLOWS

Four Divisions in Quick Succession—Pugsley Nearly "Named."

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—The fight has started. There was a lively opening round in the House of Commons on Saturday, terminating a few minutes before midnight with a notice of closure on the new franchise bill.

Directly proceedings opened in the afternoon the Opposition presented a motion, as a matter of public moment, calling for adjournment to discuss the decrease in the production of munitions in Canada.

Sir George Foster, who was leading the House in the absence of the premier, objected to the motion. He wanted to get on with the war election bill. But a vote showed that the motion had more than twenty supporters in the House (sufficient to meet the rule in such cases), and the speaker allowed the debate to go forward.

Discussion proceeded throughout the afternoon and for an hour in the evening.

Hazen Touches It Off.

Then, as there appeared prospect of a drawn-out debate till Sunday brought a close, the minister of marine intervened. He submitted a motion that precipitated a scene reminiscent of the blockade over the Borden naval bill. Hon. Mr. Hazen moved that the House proceed to the orders of the day, thus bringing the munitions debate to a sudden conclusion. Immediately Hon. Dr. Pugsley was on his feet to a point of order. He cited from Bourinot at length to prove that the rule cited by Mr. Hazen did not apply. The speaker ruled the motion in order and Dr. Pugsley appealed against the decision. Then in rapid succession came four divisions of the House, and on each occasion Hugh Guthrie, Liberal member for South Wellington, voted with the Government. Excitement rose to fever-pitch.

Pugsley Nearly Named.

At one point Dr. Pugsley narrowly escaped being named by the speaker. He had risen to some point and failed to resume his seat as the speaker rose.

"Unless the honorable gentleman takes his seat I will certainly 'name' him," the speaker threatened.

"I will do that immediately," Dr. Pugsley gracefully assented, and sat down. There was intense excitement on both sides of the House. "Shame! Shame!" Government supporters shouted, and Liberal members were no less ready in their retorts.

"If honorable members insist on speaking while the vote is being taken, I will certainly name them," again the speaker threatened, as he glanced around the House.

"On both sides?" Dr. Pugsley queried, and Mr. Lemieux echoed the query.

"On both sides," the speaker assented.

Closure Quickly Applied.

The noise died down eventually as the point of order was disposed of, and the House proceeded with the debate on the second reading of the war election bill. It had been in progress two hours when notice of closure was given. On all sides Saturday's happenings are regarded as a forerunner of trouble.

Mr. MacDonald, who moved the adjournment to discuss munitions, emphasized the importance to Canada and the Allies of the Canadian munition industry, the prospect of discontinuing such industry and of throwing thousands of men, and especially women, out of employment.

White Trying to Mislead.

Already certain factories making certain calibres of shells had been notified that they should discontinue. It was stated that many of the companies had already turned themselves to pre-war activities. "Let me tell the Government," said Mr. MacDonald, "that with these companies there are no pre-war activities. These companies in 1914 were preparing to close their doors. It was this condition of unemployment and lack of bread that the minister of trade and commerce desires to close our eyes to, so that he can get his franchise bill through forsooth."

Mr. MacDonald believed that the troubles was financial. In the past Canada was paying her bills for equipment, etc., of troops overseas by paying the shellmakers in Canada for munitions for Great Britain. If Canada was stopping paying her bills in this way the country should know the reason.

"I want to know," said Mr. MacDonald, "whether the country is going to have its hands tied and go out of the shell business. Want to know if men are to lose their capital and employees their positions. I want to know if Mr. Rowell is right. The men who invested their capital in this business want to know why they were stricken down at one blow. It is to secure some explanation that I have moved the adjournment of this House."

Canadian Advances Go On.

Sir Thomas White said that as a full statement had previously been made he thought it unnecessary that this subject should be brought up. The imperial munitions board, acting for Great Britain, had given a statement to the press. In this it explained that the output of shells had so increased in Great Britain during 1916 that it should be decided to cut down as much as possible from America. The shell industry of Canada was not to be affected, for instead of the Dominion Government decreasing the amount of money advanced for the purchase of shells it had greatly increased the amount. Twenty-five millions per month were being spent for that purpose, but in July and August that sum had been much increased. It was the intention to continue such payments while the war lasted. These advances amounted to $300,000,000 a year. And the Dominion treasury was not only paying for advances on munitions, but on cheese and other commodities.

Will Aid In Bacon.

"Would the minister tell us what is being done with regard to bacon?" asked Mr. Oliver.

"I am coming to that," said Sir Thomas White. "Hitherto Canadian bacon has been going forward, but it has been brought to my attention now that Great Britain will need some assistance in the matter of bacon also, and nobody knows better than my honorable friend from Edmonton how important that is to the farmer."

Hundred Millions Wasted.

Dr. Pugsley declared that the manufacture of shells should have been undertaken by the Canadian Government in the early stages of the war. He said that a hundred million dollars had been wasted by the shell committee appointed by the Government. Ever since the imperial munitions board had been organized very large profits, which might have been saved, had gone to manufacturers.

Sir George Foster protested an argument of E. M. MacDonald, who advocated keeping up the manufacture of munitions at all costs, as vicious. It would appear that Mr. MacDonald advocated a continuance of the war. Great Britain, he said, was now able to manufacture all of certain kinds of shells which she needed in her own country. She was not buying them in the United States. On the opposite side of the House were men who preferred to keep up the munitions industry in Canada and let our wheat stack up in the elevators because Great Britain could not pay for it.

When Sir George sat down Hon. Wm. Pugsley remarked: "You omitted to mention the G.N.R. obligations."

Hon. Mr. Lemieux—Yes, and the Quebec and Saguenay railway.

Sir George—I did so out of pity for my friends opposite, who led the country into a cul de sac and now sit on the outer edge of the crater looking on.

Workmen Going to U. S.

Mr. Oliver pursued his point with the statement that many men discharged in Canada had gone across the line to find work there. To this Sir George replied that the United States was preparing to equip two million men for the field and was spending billions in equipment. Establishments were being multiplied by millions of dollars and it was not surprising if men found work over there.

Closure Is Applied.

D. A. La Fortune spoke for an hour on the shell industry, arguing that money raised in Canada for war purposes should be spent in Canada. Immediately after he sat down Hon. J. D. Hazen moved that the House proceed to the orders of the day. As his ground, he cited the rule which reads: "A motion for reading the order of the day shall have preference to any motion before the House."

Hon. Dr. Pugsley was immediately upon his feet to a point of order. He claimed that rule cited did not apply. The speaker held that the motion of Mr. Hazen was in order.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley appealed against the speaker's ruling, and the House was divided on the question whether it should be sustained. It was sustained by 34 to 19. Then the speaker submitted Mr. Hazen's motion to proceed with the orders of the day. The House divided, and the motion carried by 35 to 20.

As the House was proceeding with the second reading of the war-times elections act, Mr. Lemieux raised a point of order. He claimed that under rule 73, "all bills shall be printed, before the second reading, in English and French language." Reference to the order paper, he said, would show that the bill had only been printed in English.

The speaker ruled that it was not necessary that there should be any mention on the order paper that the bill had been printed in French.

Another Appeal From Ruling.

Mr. Bovin appealed from the ruling. The House divided, and the speaker's ruling was sustained, 36 to 21. Then Dr. Pugsley, seconded by Mr. Lemieux, moved the adjournment of the House. His motion precipitated a scene. "Shame! Shame!" called members from the Government side of the House. Excitedly, Mr. Gaxreau shouted from Opposition back benches: "The shame is on you."

"Will you allow the expression?" Dr. Pugsley appealed to the speaker, and glancing in the direction of the Government members. The speaker rose to his feet, and for a moment both he and Dr. Pugsley were standing together. Still Dr. Pugsley did not resume his seat.

Threat for Pugsley.

"Unless the honorable member takes his seat, I will certainly name him," the speaker declared.

"I will do that immediately," assented Dr. Pugsley as he sat down.

The motion for adjournment was defeated, 36 to 21.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux then appealed to the Government not to proceed with the second reading, in order that French members might have an opportunity of studying the bill in translated form. If the Government would consent to postpone the second reading, he would not continue with a motion he had to proceed to another order.

Sir George Foster—I think the honorable gentleman might proceed with his motion.

Mr. Lemieux, seconded by Mr. Pugsley, then moved that the House proceed to another order, but his motion was ruled out of order by the speaker.

The House then proceeded with the debate on the second reading of the franchise bill.

Prussian Election Methods.

Hon. Frank Oliver, who commenced the debate, said that back of the kaiser in Germany was the junker aristocracy of Prussia and the military caste. The German oligarchy was kept in power by a special franchise law. The Borden Government, he said, proposed to enact an identically similar bill. Mr. Oliver went on to say that while this measure provided that citizenship shall not constitute the right to vote, the military service act gives the right to vote to men who never saw Canada. In addition, while the privilege of the franchise is not extended women generally, the measure before the House aims at creating a special military caste by extending the franchise to relatives of soldiers only.

"In order to get the support of the junkers of Canada," said Mr. Oliver, "the prime minister proposes to break faith with naturalized citizens."

In concluding his remarks Mr. Oliver asserted that this legislation would not appeal to the sense of fair play of the English-speaking people of Western Canada, who believe in equality of rights. "They will see in the measure proof of the unfairness and lack of fitness of the present Government to carry on the administration of the affairs of the Dominion." Several other speeches followed, and at 11:45 p.m. Sir George Foster gave formal notice of closure.

"HUMAN INTEREST" OF A LONDON SHELL FACTORY REVEALED IN WELL-KNOWN WRITER'S SKETCH

The following article was prepared for The Advertiser by a well-known London magazine writer as a further contribution toward revealing the "inside" of war work from berry-picking to shell-making:

London is a dark little city after midnight, especially along the trackside. Our train slid past the humped, grey buildings on the outskirts, with the lonesome street lights like low stars here and there over the quiet roads. Then suddenly out of the night, one building glared at us, clear white from its long windows, flared and pulsed till it shook us awake and wondering.

"Shrapnel," said the man in the seat ahead. "Runs nights and Sundays and holidays, and wishes it was twins. Some war, this."

Thirty-six hours later I was sitting on an upturned shell box in that same factory, thanks to the power of the press and the kindness of the manufacturer, writing faint little notes to indicate the eardrum-smashing noise of the place, and its unresting activity. I had a blue apron on like the other girls, and a neat blue cap. I had big white cotton gloves. I had also an insatiable curiosity partially satisfied, that had bothered every foreman and inspector in the place, save and except the Government's men who lived in big chicken-wire cages in the centre of this mad universe, and weren't to be disturbed by anybody less than a member of the Imperial Munitions Board.

Noise and Movement.

The factory is a big, wooden building with cement floors, filled with furiously-active machines, and tables and piles of shells. Everywhere there is movement, mad movement, up and down, overhead, round and round movement on which sizzling light globes stare down like stars in a tortured hell. Beside the roar, like the roar of Niagara through a megaphone, there are the sharp steel yelps of the big sledges, as somebody rams a new shell on a rough-turning machine. There are the little silver staccatos of the inspectors' hammers, too, putting on small inextinguishable personal trademarks that the Hun will have to reckon with some day. The car from which all the rough material comes thundering in has a runway down from it through the front door, and every per noise kept by the Grand Trunk system roars playfully on the front lawn.

Need I say that nobody need come to work here who hates noise, nobody who is afraid of fireworks, nobody who objects to patting machinery, nobody who minds dirt—clean dirt, as my mother used to say—nobody who expects real pay without real work, nobody who thinks one day long enough for a tryout on a new job.

May Be Girl's Task.

When the shell-to-be starts on its course around the shop it looks like a dull section of narrow-gauge stove-pipe with one end solid and the other open and chewed off irregularly. The first thing that happens is that the proper length is marked on it with white chalk. Then it goes to a machine that nips off a round piece like an irregular doughnut. This is called "cutting rings." A girl could easily handle such a machine, the foreman says, and may have to if conscription carries.

Then the other end of the shell receives attention and the base is cut off, in silver-steel slivers like cheese parings. Next comes the rough-turning, where the shell is driven on with a sledge and held to position during three operations that give it its first really shrapnelesque appearance. Over the point of each tool pours a milky fluid that looks like weak tea. This is a sure-enough pimple maker, we are told by the girl, who is nevertheless ambitious to run a rough-turning machine of her own, but though sometimes she's "fair bathed in it," that doesn't deter her from coaxing the man who is in charge of it to let her drive on a shell, or do part of the turning every chance she gets.

Guages the Shells.

At present she's an inspector, one of many who stand at little tables, fitting mysterious gauges—"high" and "low"—on the shells that come to them from the machines.

"This one must go over, and this mustn't," the girl tells you. Only she has to lay her head on your shoulder and shriek, to drown the barrage-racket of the machines.

"We have that much leeway, you see. No shell that I've passed has ever been turned back so far."

I asked her why she wanted a machine of her own. The work was undoubtedly heavy. Was it the money?

"No, not just that, though, of course, I'd love to be making three dollars a day like some of the other girls. But, you see, I can't seem to keep my hands off any sort of machine. They fascinate me."

That was the same thing that another woman told me. The inside of a watch has as much attraction for her as the outside of a powder puff has for most women.

Meantime the shell goes on its shrieking way down the shop. "Power cup boring" is done by a machine requiring all a man's strength, though another little inspectress stands behind like the War Cabinet presiding over the fate of the nation. I asked if I might be allowed to try to "tighten the chuck," which secures the shell in place, while the two-headed boring-devil waits for its prey. But, alas, the chuck went half-way and then stopped. Miss Annabel Amazon might have done it if she could have been found. But your reporter was a sad failure, whereat the man smiled with indulgent superiority.

Hell, If You Like.

It wouldn't do to chronicle every event in the shell's diary. At about this period, however, it leaves the first room of the factory and goes into the second.

"What do you call it, out there?" I shrieked, pencil poised, to the attending foreman.

"Generally just 'outside,' but you can say it's hell, if you like," he answered.

And, I didn't wonder when we came to the row of furnaces with their pulsating roar like the gigantic heartbeat of overdriven Europe, their open doors glaring like the red mouths of panting dragons. Just imagine what it must have been, to serve these demons in the days when the thermometer stood at 98 in the shade! Shouldn't there be a D. C. M. for munitions workers, I wonder?

The red-hot shells come out of the furnaces in the jaws of gigantic tongs that souse them up and down in an oil bath that steams and bubbles, although it has a water tank outside to keep it cool.

The chief shell-baker sauntered up.

"They have twenty-five minutes in the furnaces at 1,600 degrees heat," he said.

"And how do you know when they're done? I saw you look at them and then close the door again."

"How do you know when a cake's done?" he retorted, making for the last demon in the row, from whose mouth there presently issued one shell after another to be put in the quenching oil, then washed in soda water, then tested. And then "nosed."

Another Little Journey.

Here they go again into a merry little red gehenna with nine holes on a side, where the shells lie, bases out and noses in eternal flame, till they are judged fit to be released and come out in an agile tongs, looking like huge ice cream soda goblets with black bottoms and red tops, slightly bulging. The nosing machine pinches them together at the top, a diaphragm being first dropped into each, which diaphragm is a little steel disc, concave on one side and perforated for the admission of a brass tube, later to be inserted.

"Tapping and boring" comes next, then "rough nose turn" and "finish nose turn." After which there is "grinding body or finish turn," which is a most spectacular performance.

"Why do they have that blazing light on the machine? It must hurt their eyes," the reporter remarked.

The foreman smiled. "That light" was only what inevitably happens when a steel shell and an emery wheel are engaged in conversation. The unholy glare is eye-trying to a degree, but it can't be helped. The man gets two cents a shell, and even though he loses sixty-two and a half cents if he spoils one, he is quite happy. He often makes $6 a day, and lost just one shell last month.

1,100 Shells a Day.

In the middle of the room stands a round black steel thing like a washtub, having a circular platform in the centre with a hole in it. The quiet-faced little woman who drives the creature to its record speed of two a minute, fills the platform with waiting shells, drops one in the centre, pulls a lever till her guage shows sixty, turns the shell three-quarters of an inch, puts the pressure on again, and repeats a third time. The copper band which before rested on the shell like a bangle bracelet, is now rivetted on with three parallel grooves to show where the machine has bitten into it. The operator can do 1,100 shells a day at 30 cents a hundred. The thing she does sounds easy, and in a way it is, but you must of course consider the nerve-nibbling noise, the furious movement of neighboring machines, the effort of standing slightly stooped from seven till six, to say nothing of the feeling that you're dealing with a machine exerting fifteen hundred pounds pressure. The girl who runs it likes the work and does it well. But her aptitude may be quite different from ours.

Two girls work on the 20-foot loading table, as units in a gang of six. First the tin powder cup is inserted above the diaphragm and the long brass rod screwed to position. Then the shell shifts to other hands, and is placed under a sort of spout out of which bullets cascade. A smart tap or two from a wooden mallet settles them and resin from another black spout adjacent flows in a syrupy stream, that will eventually coagulate making a stiff conglomerate. This is only part of what happens to the much-enduring bit of steel during loading. The gang gets two cents a shell, and divides up the loot, each taking his "day-work" money, the foreman of the gang subdividing the remainder in the "day-work" ratio.

Come Out Like Sausages.

Another gang works at an inside room table, tapping out and cleaning. The 17-pound three-ounce cylinders are rolled around as though they were sausages. One boy runs a sort of inverted vaccum cleaner, which blows out dust and filing with a noise like a leaky fire hose. This is piecework, too, and woe betide the incautious reporter who cuts the pence with useless questions.

Four processes now come on that must be very trying to a good shell's patience, aching as it is to hit the Huns and be done with it—the works preliminary exam, the Government ditto, the works final, and last of all the Government final, which gives the shell its knighthood and says, "Go to it, old boy."

First, however, the shell must be painted—two black body coats and a scarlet nose—and then set up on a slanting holder on its drying frame, where it bends to its partner in the next row, like a curtseying lady. When the shells are all dried, girls put in little wooden caps, insert tiny grab screws in them to help. The man gets two cents a shell, and even though he loses sixty-two and a half cents if he spoils one, he is quite happy. He often makes $6 a day, and lost just one shell last month.

A Long Trek "Outside" Again

takes us to where the "base grinding" is done. An immense wheel does the trick, against which the base is held till catherine wheels of sparky fire flare out into the dark. If you press too hard, you get jounced back, the foreman says, and then woe betide your knuckles.

ITALY HAS OVERCOME TREMENDOUS DIFFICULTIES IN PROSECUTING WAR, INCREASING FORCES WONDERFULLY

Minister of War Tells of Troubles Which Had To Be Met In Mountain Warfare, and How His Country Has Handled Problem.

Rome, Sept. 9.—Difficulties, some of them almost insuperable, which have been successfully overcome by Italy in her prosecution of the war, were outlined by General Grandina, minister of war, in a statement to the Associated Press:

"In order to appreciate fully the importance of Italy's military efforts," he said, "it must be borne in mind that she entered the war at a moment when the position of the Central Powers was so strong that intervention against them could no longer be deferred. That moment was most inopportune for Italy, however, as she lacked officers, artillery and supplementary services, so that greater efforts were required to bring the efficiency of the army up to the standard necessary to triumph over a formidable enemy's resistance.

"Austria is an important element in the resistance of the Central Powers. Her troops have splendid qualities of courage, tenacity and physical resistance.

Foes Are Numerous.

"These forces now on our front are twice as numerous as at the beginning of the war, not counting the forces of Germany, which has concentrated on our front two-thirds of her best artillery with abundant munitions. Naturally the increased number of troops on our front has been advantageous to our allies.

"Our front measuring 406 miles, equals that defended by France, England and Belgium combined. Although it is mountainous it requires a large number of troops owing to the necessity of protecting important regions behind. Its mountainous character has necessitated greater efforts for the reconstruction of roads, lodgings and fortifications, intensifying all services and requiring much more arduous work than if the war were being fought on level ground. These efforts can be better understood when it is said that since the beginning of the war Italy has more than doubled its forces of infantry, Bersaglerie and Alpine troops, created absolutely new types of artillery, consisting of hundreds of batteries of heavy guns, mule-carried batteries, trench mortars and numerous anti-aerial batteries, both stable and movable, besides having doubled the field artillery. The number of engineers and sappers has been quadrupled and other sections greatly augmented. There have been organized thousands of sections of ordinary machine guns and quick-firing rifles, as well as new specialties like flame-throwers and gas-ejectors. The military aviation forces have ben tripled since the commencement of the war in the mountains.

Wonderful Achievements.

"Heights nearly 10,000 feet high have been reached, not only by mountain artillery, but by field artillery and even by siege batteries dragged up more than 8,500 feet.

"In addition to the forces on the Austrian front and in the colonies, Italy has provided troops for Albania, the Aegean and Macedonia, which need constant reinforcement owing to the grave losses in the stern struggle against the common enemy. Italy has given her operation a constant offensive character, which has engaged the largest part of the enemy's best forces on our front to the benefit of the general situation of the Entente and rendered possible last year's repulse of the Trentino offensive with the undertaking simultaneously of a powerful offensive on the Isonzo front, which led to the conquest of Gorizia, and finally, aided by the wisdom of our leaders and the valor of our troops, succeeded in the last comprehensive action to break through the enemy's lines in a section of capital strategical importance, despite the enemy's more favorable positions, striking a blow, the importance of which is proved by its effect upon the coalition of the central empires."

HAMILTON MAN SAYS HE WOULD WALK THE FLOOR FOR HOURS

Nerves So Shattered He Couldn't Sleep at Night.

WAS BADLY RUNDOWN.

Feels Like He Has Taken New Lease On Life.

"Tanlac has given me a new lease on life," said Harold Roy, a well-known mechanic, residing at Vineland, Ont., in a conversation with the Tanlac representative at Parke & Parke's drug store, Hamilton, the other day.

"My system had gotten into such a badly rundown condition," he continued, "and my appetite was so poor I couldn't eat much of anything. Heavy foods of all kinds disagreed with me, so that I could live on nothing but a little milk and toast and cereals. My liver was sluggish, and I was very bilious all the time, nerves were so frayed . couldn't sleep well, and many a time I got up in the middle of the night and walked the floor for two or three hours trying to quiet my nerves so I could get a rest. Every bit of energy and ambition seemed to be knocked clean out of me, and I was so tired and worn out in the mornings it was all I could do to get out of bed and put on my clothes.

"One day a friend of my wife's told her that she had derived much benefit from using Tanlac, so she got me a bottle to try, and really by the time I had used up half my first bottle I was feeling better in every way than I had in a long time. I am now on my second bottle of Tanlac and if it continues to benefit me like it is at present, it won't be long before I will be as well and strong as ever. My liver is now acting all right, and I don't feel bilious at all, my digestion is so much improved I can now eat ham and eggs and preserves for breakfast and anything else I want without their giving me trouble. I am getting on so well now I don't hesitate to speak a good word for Tanlac whenever I can.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

FRENCH—HOWARD.

EXETER, Sept. 9.—A quiet but pretty wedding took place in the Main Street Methodist Church on Wednesday, when Miss Florence Winona Howard, daughter of Mrs. William Howard, was united in marriage to Victor Colman French, editor of the Westaskiwin, Alberta.

The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Edwin Dignam, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. S. W. Muxworthy.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of brown English worsted with a tailored hat of white crepe and wore a corsage bouquet of sunset rosebuds and fern.

After the ceremony the guests assembled at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Martin, where a buffet luncheon was served.

Miss Violet Muxworthy played the wedding march.

Mr. and Mrs. French motored to London, where they took the train for Toronto, Thousand Islands and Halifax. They will make their home in Westaskiwin, Alberta.

HEIDEMAN—HOGARTH.

EXETER, Sept. 9.—A pretty wedding took place in Toronto, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hogarth, 9 Dundurn avenue, when their youngest daughter, Janet Kilpatrick, was united to William Heideman of Exeter. Rev. W. S. McTaggart performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a gown of white crepe de chine, with veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Miriam Robertson, who was dressed in blue crepe de chine and Juliet cap. The groomsman was Leonard Gallagher.

ATTEMPTS TO MURDER, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Kindersley, Sask., Sept. 10.—After shooting George W. French while he was sitting in his office in the livery barn, firing through the window, W. Albert Reed committed suicide Friday night by shooting himself with a rifle.

The bullet fired at French struck him in the head just above the back of the neck, escaping a vital spot.

PROGRESSING FAVORABLY.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 9.—Pte. Harry Woolson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woolson, Thames street south, who was badly wounded some time ago, has written home from a Bramshott hospital that he is now making more encouraging progress towards recovery. He has had another operation on one of his legs for the removal of a piece of shrapnel, and he is quite optimistic about his prospects of recovery.

THOUSANDS OF MINES ADRIFT NEAR NORWAY

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Thousands of drifting mines have been observed along the west coasts of Norway and Denmark, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today. Six children were killed on Saturday by a mine which drifted on a beach along the Jutland shore.

[BY STAFF REPORTER.]

CHATHAM, Sept. 8.—If Kent County is interested in the efforts of a group of men styling themselves the "win-the-war" party, to win this riding for Sir Robert Borden under this cry, it was not very much in evidence here today.

Archie B. McCoig, M.P., wide-awake, up-to-date, hustling member for this riding, and one of the most potent legislators in Canada, placed his record before the party this afternoon at one of the greatest political gatherings held in this city in many a long day, and offered to quit if he had not shown himself to be a real win-the-war member of the House of Commons.

The audience showed that to a man, they were behind Archie McCoig, and would hand out such a jolt to his opponents as would keep them thinking for some years. It was a wonderful vindication for McCoig, if such he needed, one of the greatest personal triumphs in a long list of successes.

Given Real Ovation.

Liberals and Conservatives of this county appear to be behind him, and he was given a reception that was an ovation in every sense of the term.

Robert L. Brackin, Chatham, was also nominated as the Liberal candidate of West Kent for the Provincial House. This young man came within a mouse's whisker of winning last election, when in the field only a few days. That he will be the next M. L. A. for West Kent is conceded here.

There was much to interest in the convention, and not the least interesting was the development of the forces behind the so-called "win-the-war" candidate here. Mayor J. G. Kerr, hitherto a professed Liberal, was nominated last Wednesday as the "win-the-war" flag-carrier. Mr. Kerr is well known in the city, and reasons for his action were discovered, it is considered.

Is Solicitor for C.N.R.

The Conservative candidate, J. W. Stonehouse, has withdrawn, following the nomination of Mr. Kerr. Mr. Stonehouse, as a straight party candidate, was convinced that he could not win, and welcomed a chance to get from under. Mr. Kerr, like Caesar, has ambitious. That is known. Incidentally he is the solicitor for the Canadian Northern Railway and Mackenzie & Mann. The latter are rather anxious to have many representatives in the House of Commons. Who could be better than Mr. Kerr, their solicitor in Chatham, a professed Liberal? Sir Joseph Flavelle of the Davies Packing Company is no friend of Archie McCoig's, because the latter has had the habit during the past few years of asking embarrassing questions about bacon profits, and how Sir Joseph could bring home the bacon, so to speak. He is also said to be interested in Mackenzie & Mann's little enterprise.

So it was thought to encompass Mr. McCoig's downfall by getting a win-the-war candidate, a Liberal, of course, to be a candidate against him, with patriotism oozing out of every pore, but with a peeled eye on the main chance.

A Demonstration of Fight.

However, the Liberals of Kent County, and a large percentage of Conservatives, say the efforts of the "win-the-war" party are too palpable. The first manifestation of the scheme that brought discomfiture was the fact that Mr. Kerr is the solicitor for the interurban railway at Chatham, a Mackenzie & Mann ausidiary organization. The Davies Company at the wrong time circularized the riding against Mr. McCoig, telling the folks what an awful man he really was, when he was waging such a fight on behalf of the farmers and the consumers. The campaign managers of Mr. Kerr put it on a trifle too thick, with the result that the convention today was the most enthusiastic, bordering on a wild and woolly demonstration of antagonism (for his opponents), that ever backed Mr. McCoig, and that is saying quite a lot, too.

Deals With Sifton.

Dr. D. B. Neely, M.P., Humboldt, Sask., gave another side to the situation, when he paid his respects to Sir Clifford Sifton, and wanted to know the reasons for his change of front on conscription since last June. Of course, the purchase of the C.N.R. had come up since that date. He did not suggest any connection, but left the proposition without solution. However, he that runs may read.

Dr. Neely told of an interview Sir Clifford had with him in June. At that time Sir Robert Borden had brought down his conscription bill, or rather had announced it. Sir Clifford called Dr. Neely into his office, and urged that he oppose the bill to the finish. He explained that for 50 years efforts had been made, and with much success to build up a united Canada.

Would Divide Country.

Conscription would divide the country and accomplish no results. It would disunionize the country, and bring chaos in its train.

"I want to tell the people of Canada on this platform, claiming no privilege for what I say, as I am not in the House of Commons, that Sir Clifford Sifton has had a complete right-about-face on the conscription issue," declared Dr. Neely. "He was opposed to it in June last to the limit. He was afraid that it would cause friction and trouble, that it would need more men to enforce conscription than could be secured by the enforcement of the act.

"He declared to me that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a happy man, and that the system of voluntary enlistment, could get more recruits in Quebec than Sir Robert Borden could get under conscription, and would leave no trace of bitterness nor ill-feeling. He was against conscription in all its phases.

For United Country.

"He emphasized that we had spent 50 years trying to build up a united country, and this bill would destroy this unity. He has had a change of heart. What are the reasons? They are for him to give, not me to suggest. I will say that they cannot be patriotic reasons because he gave me patriotic reasons against conscription. It would be dividing Canada, to enforce conscription. It would produce a condition of affairs that would destroy Canada's proud position in the world today. He gave me nothing but patriotic reasons against conscription. Why has he changed? Can he give any patriotic reasons for changing? I think not.

"I am not alone when I charge him with taking this stand. I can be supported, and will be supported by W. A. Charlton, M.P., for Norfolk, William Power, M.P., Quebec., who has three sons at the front, and many others. Now let him deny that if he can."

The statement created a sensation, as it had never been made before publicly in or out of the House of Commons. It will require a great deal of explanation.

The morning session of the convention was spent in the election of officers, and getting ready for the delegates. The association elected many women to positions, and they will form an important part of the executive in future.

Is Called Unbeatable.

The afternoon session started at 2 o'clock, with John A. Walker, K.C., occupying the chair. The nominations for the Legislature for West Kent were first on the program. O. L. Lewis, K. C., Chatham, in a most eulogistic speech nominated R. L. Brackin. That he would be successful was a foregone conclusion. He was unbeatable. After that, nobody wanted any other name proposed, and Mr. Brackin was unanimously tendered the nomination.

"I was urged on other occasions to be your candidate," said Mr. Brackin. "In 1914, I was nominated, but declined, but after a week's time I was compelled to run as your candidate. I was defeated, but I have always thought that if I had had that extra week, I would have been your member. We were only in the field for a short time. We had great opposition. The liquor interests were out after us, and it was some opposition, believe me. We have now the advantage of meeting a Government in the down grade, with the liquor men out of our way, and if we do not win by 1,000 majority, we should quit.

Talking of Extravagance.

"I am not going to deal with provincial issues, but will speak for a few minutes on Dominion matters. The Conservative papers are lecturing us repeatedly because we do not link up with that win-the-war crowd. They talk a lot about principle, and all the rest of it. They preach to us war time economy, and tell us to save. What did they do in the Provincial House? Paid George Sulman $1,400 one year when he was not in the Legislature at all, and paid him $1,400 last year for twelve days in the House. Yet these are the fellows who preach war-time economy.

"They tell us that they are in favor of winning the war. Who is opposed to winning the war? Is Archie McCoig? I call that an infernal insult. Some of the men, who were at the win-the-war meeting bawling their heads off about others could have gone three years ago, are fit to go now, but they are still here. They will shed gab, but not blood. No wonder decent folks are suspicious of it.

Ready to Beat Pardee.

"The win-the-war thing in Kent County was conceived in hypocrisy. They say they are not pleased with the way Archie McCoig voted on some questions. Let us see what happens to Fred Pardee. George Graham and some of the others. A Sarnia Tory told me that they would spend every dollar in sight to beat Pardee. And yet this gang prates about principle and honesty. Archie McCoig was raked fore and aft because he dared to expose Dewitt Foster and his horse deals. The Tory press called him a sniper. When the charges were proved, and Foster fired out of the House, did Archie get any credit? No, Sir Robert Borden got it all. The win-the-war proposition in Kent county was engineered by the Conservatives.

For Good of the Party.

"If Stonehouse, the Tory nominee, had had a ghost of a chance, there would have been no win-the-war candidate. Jack Kerr, the nominee, started the petition, circulated it for one day, and his brother-in-law another day. Jack Kerr is the father and mother, sister and brother and the next of kin of the whole thing, and the Tories will swallow him, as one of them told me, for the good of the party; but it is not for the good of the Liberal party. Some of them wanted me to take the nomination, but I am behind Archie McCoig to the finish, and it will be the finish of the win-the-war crowd. We are going to pay back the principal, with interest compounded, make no mistake." (Cheers).

Mr. McCoig's Reception.

Archie McCoig was given an ovation when he rose, and could not continue for some minutes. He paid a tribute to the women and men of Kent county, who, with men and money had done their duty in this great war.

"I think there will be two win-the-war candidates in the field," said Mr. McCoig. "The successful one should be he who has stood behind the boys in the trenches. I have tried to back the boys to the limit, and my record will show it."

Mr. McCoig devoted some time to Mr. Kerr, the win-the-war candidate. He had received a letter from Mr. Kerr on conscription. The latter had urged that there be a conscription of man power, but he did not want conscription of wealth. He called Hon. George P. Graham's amendment to conscript wealth a myth. There was enough machinery now for taxing wealth.

No Conscripting Profiteers.

"Mr. Kerr is very anxious that your boys should go to the trenches for $1.10 a day, but he does not want the wealth of this country, the big money of the profiteers to go along with the boys, to provide them with sufficient money to keep them and their families in decency, and to provide them with pensions. Mr. Kerr does not want wealth touched. We must leave that alone, but take the boys. I am in favor of greatly increasing the income taxes, and using it to provide adequate pensions for the boys who have shed their blood for us, and for human liberty and righteousness. Mr. Kerr, and the bunch of millionaires behind him don't want that. No; money is a sacred thing. Don't touch that. He says we have machinery to collect income tax. How will the common people have a chance with a bunch of millionaires running the government? You will only get the machinery in operation when the common people have a chance. Mr. Kerr is not very much pleased with wealth conscription. He will not have it.

No Knights Among Farmers.

"He would not touch Sir Joseph Flavelle's three million profit on bacon. He would let Sir Joseph go free, to enjoy the title he has been given for taking large profits on bacon. They don't give knighthood to you farmers. We must and we will get at these coupon clippers. The wealthy must bear their share, and the decent wealthy man is willing to do that.

"Would you have the boys come home and have to earn their own pensions? That is what will happen if Mr. Kerr and his crowd control things at Ottawa. We are a billion and a half dollars in debt, and we must raise $150,000,000 a year to pay it. The rich must bear their share.

"Mr. Kerr would go and sit with a party in favor of the C. N. R. purchase. A commission that cost this country $100,000 said that the common stock of that company was not worth a dollar. Now they are going to pay many millions for it. Are you going to stand for that? Is the win-the-war party going to pull the wool over your eyes? Jack Kerr is a solicitor for the Mackenzie-Mann outfit. He is their solicitor in Chatham. How would he stand on this grab? Can't you see the connection?

Kept His Pledge.

Mr. McCoig gave a resume of his votes on the conscription issue. took Sir Robert Borden at his word when he said that there would be no conscription without consulting the people. He had agreed to that, and when he voted for a referendum he kept his word, as he raised his pledged word above everything.

"I pledged my word to the men of this riding, on the authority of the prime minister, that there would be no conscription without consulting the people, and I stood by it," he said amid thunderous applause.

He was in favor of the selective conscription as a principle. Hon. A. J. Balfour stated that a referendum was the proper course for Canada to pursue. The Manchester Guardian, one of the leading newspapers in Great Britain, had said the same thing.

"I believe in trusting the people," he declared. "Had Jack Kerr as mayor had trusted the people, the citizens of Chatham would not have seen the sorry spectacle of corporations trying to bribe aldermen."

Sir Joseph Against Him.

Mr. McCoig spent some time with Sir Joseph Flavelle. The pork-packers were charging one-half of one per cent for Government inspection the farmers having to pay the shot. In the House he had called attention to the abuses the farmers suffered from the packing concerns. Sir Joseph had written him a nice fourteen-page letter. Now he was circularizing the county of Kent, urging the farmers to vote against Mr. McCoig, because of his activities against the packers on behalf of the farmers. There were some buyers representing these concerns who were trying to convince the farmers that Mr. McCoig was injuring them.

"The farmers know what I have done," said Mr. McCoig. "They know that the packers and middlemen are making the big profits out of this war. The farmers are not getting it, nor is the consumer."

The speaker spoke in commendatory terms of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, one of Canada's greatest men, and the crowd shouted itself hoarse. He showed how the sons of Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, Wm. Power, Marcil, Godreau and other French Liberals, and Dr. Beland had gone to the front, while the Nationalist members had remained at home and had obstructed legislation.

Hon. Tom Dozing.

"I wonder how Mr. Kerr would like to have them as colleagues?" he asked. "How would he like to be a colleague of Tom Crothers, the minister of labor, who has been asleep at the switch for years? We want a real, live labor man as head of that department.

"There were special rains for J. Wesley Allison, but no special trains to bring potatoes and other food supplies for the people of Canada."

The resolution endorsing Mr. McCoig's actions in the House was moved by Arthur Lemarsh, Wheatley, whose only son is in France, seconded by Archibald McLaren, Orford, who has two sons at the front, and spoken to and approved by Edward Hea, Chatham, whose son is in a hospital at Etaples, and Pte. William Elliott, a returned soldier.

The Hun at Ottawa.

"The win-the-war crowd want to win the elections and make money for their friends," said Mr. Lemarsh. "We want to defeat the Prussianism at Ottawa. My boy is fighting the Hun in France, and I want you to help in the fight against the Hun at Ottawa. My boy asked no favors and got none. There are flocks of men in Essex and Kent Counties who got commissions and are back home. There is no free speech any longer. We want to end Kaiser rule in Canada."

"My two boys are there," said Mr. McLaren. "They could earn more at whitewashing than fighting. If they had learned whitewashing they might have earned $5,000 that it cost us to whitewash Bob Rogers, instead of getting $1.10 a day fighting the Kaiser. No impudent body of men can say that I and my boys are not in favor of winning this war."

Is Against Borden.

"I would rather live under his satanic majesty the devil than under Borden for the next five years," said Mr. Hea. "My boy's there, and I am not a Liberal, but I am against Borden and Kerr and the gang to the limit."

"Mr. Kerr's promises are like pie-crust easily broken," said Mr. Elliott.

The resolution, which passed unanimously, was as follows:

Moved by Arthur Lamarsh, Wheatley, seconded by Archibald McLaren, Orford:

1. That this convention, representative of all parts of the riding of Kent, having heard the account given by our member, Mr. Archie B. McCoig, M.P., of his stewardship during the last three years, and his full and satisfactory explanation of the stand taken by him upon the several vitally important questions which have come before Parliament since the commencement of the war, especially with respect to the military service bill, and, believing that the best interests of the country, and particularly the boys at the front and those who have returned, will be best served if Mr. McCoig continues to represent this riding in Parliament, unhesitatingly commends and approves the course which Mr. McCoig has pursued in the past, and ratifies and confirms the nomination which he already holds as the nominee of the Liberals of Kent for the Dominion House of Commons.

2. Resolved, further, that we place ourselves on record as having every confidence in Mr. McCoig's sincerity and integrity, and assure him that we have no intention of permitting ourselves to be deceived by the campaign pursued by those who, desiring above everything else the defeat of Mr. McCoig in this riding, arrogate to themselves the title of "win-the-war" party, thereby endeavoring to create the impression that there are Canadians who do not want to win the war, and that our member, whom we admire and respect, is of that class.

3. Be it further resolved that we empower Mr. McCoig to pursue a thoroughly independent course in Parliament no matter what party may be in power, or who may be the leader of the Government, coalition or otherwise, supporting only such men and measures as he considers will best assist our Empire and her heroic defenders in this time of great need.

Dr. Neely spoke last, and was given a most cordial hearing, and spent some time discussing the new franchise act.

Like a Tory War.

"The party in power has conducted this war as if it were a Tory war, not Canada's war," he said. "The bill will disfranchise 25 to 30 per cent of the electors in my riding, simply because they vote Grit. It has not passed yet, and I am frank to say that it will not pass until the Conservatives in power have used that relic of the inquisition, the closure or gag. The Government had done nothing but set race against race, creed against creed, bringing turmoil, dissension, disorder and dishonor upon this country.

"I would like to know what the boys think of the Ross rifle, and the ammunition that was sent to them in France? Hundreds of our boys were unable to defend themselves in the trenches. Men died for that. The British Government condemned the rifle. Sir Sam Hughes said it was all right. Somebody was to blame for this. Nobody has been punished. There has not been a contract let by the Government that has not been soiled by the dirty finger of corruption and graft.

Marked by Packers.

"The packers and allied trades have marked Archie McCoig to defeat, but he's a winner. This win-the-war thing is but a mask, and they know it. It is a Toronto-born heresy, conceived by the millionaires, and self-appointed leaders there.

"The West will send down 45 members, and they will show what it really means to be a win-the-war party. We have nothing to fear from Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"The elections are coming on. It costs money to run the elections. The C. N. R. is to be purchased for many millions. Some people might tell us about these things.

"The Government is trying to disfranchise a great number of patriotic women of this country. They will give the vote to the relatives of soldiers, figuring that they will vote for conscription like they expect the soldiers to do. That vote is right, but why be afraid of the other splendid women of Canada? Can't they be trusted?"

The Association's Officers.

The officers elected were as follows: President, John A. Walker, K.C., Chatham; first vice-president, James W. Smith, Duart; second vice-president, Miss Sayre, Chatham; secretary, J. R. Newkirk, Chatham; executive, the chairman of each division in the riding, and Mrs. George Nickle, Wallaceburg; Mrs. Meed, Bridgetown; Miss Anble Blue, Duart; Mrs. John Williams, Fletcher, and Mrs. Ambrose Thibideau, Tilbury. Division officers—Wallaceburg, John Zavitz, president; Joseph Hess, secretary; Chatham Township North, Wm. McCreary, president; Chas. Muckle, secretary; Chatham Township South, James A. Miller, president; Jas. McNeilage, secretary; Raleigh North, S. A. White, president; H. J. Stover, secretary; Raleigh South, James Brady, president; B. G. Burk, secretary; Dover South, John B. Blair, president; Thos. Bordeau Jun., secretary; Dover North, John Grant, president; S. R. Montgomery, secretary; Tilbury town, Samuel Mather, president; Wm. Odette, secretary.

Orford, Howard and Harwich officers are the same as in charge of the activities for some time.

Austrian Statement Claims 18,500 Prisoners Since August 19.

ROME, Sept. 9.—Today's war office statement on operations on the Austro-Italian front reads:

"North of Gorizia in the Monte San Gabriele region, the artillery battle is continuing without cessation. On the remainder of the front there were the usual patrol actions and artillery fire."

STREAMS ARE TORRENTS.

UDINE, Italy, Sept. 9.—Bad weather is interfering with operations on the Isonzo front. Violent storms have transformed peaceful streams into torrents, torrents into rivers, and plains into lakes. Mist and fog shut off visibility, even at short distances, despite the use of searchlights by day.

Notwithstanding these conditions the cannonading continues, while raiding parties make daring dashes to snatch minor positions from the enemy. Each party brings back a certain number of prisoners belonging to regiments just arrived from the Russo-Rumanian front. Some Austrian prisoners who have been captured declare they have been brought here from the western front.

VIENNA CLAIMS 18,500 PRISONERS.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—An Austrian official statement under date of Friday, September 7, received here, says:

"Since August 19 we have captured altogether on the Isonzo 500 Italian officers and 18,000 rank and file."

WRECKED AIRPLANES BEING RETURNED TO BORDEN AIRDROMES

Machines Which Smashed North of Wingham Go Back Today.

WINGHAM, Sept. 9.—Mechanics from the Royal Flying Corps at Camp Borden have practically completed the loading of two airplanes which were wrecked fourteen miles north of Wingham. They are expected to return to the camp today by motor trucks.

In a mist on Friday morning, six planes, piloted by American aviators from the aviation branch, American Signal Corps, who are training with the Royal Flying Corps, landed behind the barn on the farm of George Caldwell, fourteen miles north of this place. The aviators lost their way, and believed they were near the Georgian Bay when they landed.

Four of the six machines effected successful flights after their landing, but two were damaged. One was rising when the engine went dead, and the machine landed in an apple tree. The second machine got up all right, but "crashed" in a field beside the road. Both planes were badly damaged, but the aviators escaped unhurt.

Long-distance communication with Camp Borden was established, and mechanics with motor trucks were sent out to bring in the machines. The airplanes were taken down and packed, and an early start is expected Monday morning.

MAXIMALIST DESIGN OF NEW REVOLUTION YESTERDAY NIPPED

Armed Demonstration Against Provisional Government Planned.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 9.—The inhabitants of the capital faced Sunday with some trepidation, owing to the fact that it was the semi-anniversary of the revolution, and that an observance of it along violent lines had been threatened by the Maximalists. The chief feature of the Maximalist plan was some sort of a demonstration by the army against the provisional government, to which end the Extremists have conducted an energetic propaganda among the garrison of the capital.

The preparations seriously alarmed the populace, and last night Gen. Vassilkovsky, the military governor, posted a proclamation appealing to the inhabitants to remain calm, and assuring them that any attempt at violence would be suppressed without mercy.

At a late hour it was reported that the Maximalists, in view of the energetic counter-measure taken, had decided to abandon their program.

HUNDREDS ATTEMPT TO KEEP LONDON PRIEST OUT OF CHURCH; POLICE CLEAR PATH AT FORD

Parishioners Riot and Hurl Missiles, and Mayor Reads Riot Act Before Crowd Disperses—Militia Details Are Summoned To Restore Order.

WINDSOR, Sept. 9.—Amid a shower of bricks, stones, chairs, shovels and other missiles thrown by "conscientious objectors" of Our Lady of the Lake Church, Ford, Rev. Father Francois Xavier Laurendeau, assisted by fourteen police officers took possession of the church presbytery late Saturday afternoon.

Even after the priest and his bodyguard had forced their way through a crowd of more than 200 men in front of church property they found their entrance blocked by perhaps three score women and children of the parish who had been stationed there by the men as a reserve force to prevent the priest from taking possession.

RIOT ACT READ BY MAYOR.

So threatening did the situation become at one time that Mayor Charles Montreuil of Ford, attempting to pacify the rioters, was compelled to read the riot act, before the crowd would disperse. Several police officers were slightly injured by missiles hurled from the crowd.

Twelve rioters were arrested, but were later released on orders of Crown-Attorney Rodd, after they had promised to remain away from the church.

Father Laurendeau, accompanied by Father O'Connor, vicar-general of the London diocese, arrived in the city at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with written instructions from Bishop M. S. Fallon, to take possession of the Ford church, in spite of the announcement by members that any such effort would meet with resistance. Chief of Police Maisonville assembled thirteen policemen from Windsor, Walkerville, and Ford, and accompanied Fathers Laurendeau and O'Connor.

PARISHIONERS ANSWER ALARM.

At 4 o'clock word reached the guards at the church that the officers were on their way to take possession. Immediately the guards rang the church bell, apparently a pre-arranged signal in the event of trouble. From every part of the town came the members carrying every imaginable sort of weapon except firearms. The men grouped themselves on the sidewalk stationing the women and children at the entrance door inside the presbytery.

When the attacking party came into sight, it was the signal for a fusillade of missiles, but the priests escaped injury.

PROMINENT RESIDENTS ARRESTED.

Dr. Damian St. Pierre and Max Drontout, prominent residents of Ford and members of Our Lady of the Lake church, were among those arrested during the incipient riot.

After the crowd had been dispersed the police received information that more trouble might be expected during Saturday night and Lieut.-Col. S. C. Robinson, commanding the 21st Essex Regiment, was appealed to. After long distance communication with headquarters at London it was decided to detail 50 men to do duty in the vicinity of the church, and these arrived from Windsor soon after 4 o'clock, but found little to do. Major Osborn of London, arrived this morning and took charge of the detail.

SOLDIERS STILL ON GUARD.

The soldiers are still on duty.

In accordance with the statement given out from London last week that Rev. Father Laurendeau would conduct services at the Ford church today, there was no deviation from the program, and the usual masses were said by the new incumbent, assisted by Rev. Father Imrie, who has been in charge since the death of late Rev. Father L. A. Beudoin. The congregations were not large but there was no disturbance, and the announcement by Father Laurendeau that he had come to take charge of the church and parish upon orders from Bishop Fallon, and that he intended to carry out these orders, was met without visible indication of disapproval or otherwise.

BLAMES IT ON OUTSIDERS.

Seen in the presbytery of Our Lady of the Lake Church this evening, Father Laurendeau expressed regret at what had already occurred, but declared himself confident that the trouble would soon be cleared up. He did not believe any of the church members entertained any ill-will toward him, and was inclined to think the whole matter the result of interference by certain individuals whose identity has not yet been disclosed, but who have long been opposed to Bishop Fallon and his conduct of the diocese, particularly as it applies to bilingualism and his lordship's stand upon that question.

2,000 in Mass Meeting.

In spite of a cold, drizzling rain and piercing wind, there was a large crowd out for the advertised open-air meeting tonight, which was held on the grounds of the Opratt, a short distance from the church. A conservative estimate of the number who gathered to hear the various speakers placed the crowd at at least two thousand, practically all of them French-Canadians from all sections of the county.

The speakers, among whom was Dr. St. Pierre, one of the leaders in Saturday's affair, were all greeted with cheers and hand-clapping, and the crowd generally displayed more enthusiasm than the weather conditions seemed to warrant.

Urged to Continue.

The general tone of the speeches was of a semi-belligerent character, the people being urged to "continue the fight you have just begun."

"The form of taking possession of our church is only an incident in a movement just begun," declared Dr. St. Pierre. "The parishioners in making their stand wished to assert their rights through the courts, and in order to do so, had sent a formal protest to Rome. Bishop Fallon had been notified of this procedure, and according to the best authorities on canon law, he had no right, as an ecclesiastic, to take possession of the church pending a decision from the holy see. He, however, had resorted to methods which have caused bloodshed."

Another speaker declared there was no desire on part of the parishioners of the church to criticize the action of civil authorities in calling out the troops, and he cited this as "but another illustration of Bishop Fallon's lack of tact in administering the diocese."

It was further stated that "this meeting is held in solemn protest against Bishop Fallon's action, and we as parishioners have decided to give expression to this protest by refusing to attend services at the Church of Our Lady of the Lake, or in contributing in any way to its support until justice is accorded us."

Resolutions in accordance with the sense of the meeting were also adopted.

"RIOT AT FORD DUE TO WORK OF TROUBLEMAKERS OUTSIDE," SAYS THE VICAR-GENERAL

"I am fully satisfied that all the trouble at Ford City is due to the activities of outsiders. Every possible means to settle the matter amicably was used. The three ringleaders are," said Dr. St. Pierre, who came there two years ago from Quebec; Mr. De Grandpre, of Windsor, and formerly of Quebec, and Harry Maisonville, whose previous record is known."

Father O'Connor, vicar-general of the Diocese of London, spoke as above to The Advertiser on his return from Ford City. He was in the centre of the rioting on Saturday afternoon, and is convinced that the trouble will soon be all settled now that those responsible are under arrest. In the absence of Bishop Fallon, who is in Baltimore for a month, Father O'Connor is the head of the diocese.

He went down to Ford City on Friday, and anticipating trouble, made arrangements to meet it.

Promised Protection.

"I got in touch with Crown Attorney Rodd on Friday afternoon," he said, "and was promised all protection necessary. In his office I met Provincial Officers Hanna and Smith. On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the police were to go to Ford. I met Father Laurendeau on his arrival at 2:40. It seems that there was a prearranged signal to call out the crowd. The church bell was to be rung at Ford City and as soon as we started it rang and a great crowd collected in a short time. I had asked the police to look after the bell, but some one got into the church before they did and rang it. The first arrest followed this, the man being held on a charge of arresting an officer.

Escorted by the police Father Laurendeau and I made our way to the rectory. There was no demonstration against us, and no attempt was made to harm us. When we were near the steps the crowd closed in on the police who were armed with clubs and a fight followed. It lasted about fifteen minutes, and several arrests were made during the mix up.. The women and children of the congregation had been massed on the front steps. There was no further trouble, although many curious people stayed around. Police protection will be furnished as long as it is required, and Col. Robinson had a company of the 21st Essex Battalion in readiness to go to Ford if the men's services were needed."

The Wrong Way.

After the funeral of Father Beaudoin I addressed the congregation and told them that they were going the wrong way about this matter. The impression has been spread abroad that Father Laurendeau was to take charge at that time. That is incorrect.

Everything was quiet at Ford on Sunday and Father Laurendeau conducted the services as usual. As might be expected the attendance was not as large as it generally is. I am satisfied that this trouble will be straightened out all right, and that it is not the result of actions of the people of the parish themselves or the wish of the representative members of the church. It has been fomented by outsiders and for their own reasons."

TROOPS READY TO RUSH TO SCENE

Riot calls from Ford City on Saturday afternoon, and the belief that militia would be needed to quell the disturbance caused by Father Laurendeau of this city, taking charge of Our Lady of the Lake Church there, despite the threats of the parishioners, caused the wildest crop of rumors in London. These rumors were fed by the knowledge that soldiers at the Carling Heights camp had been issued under arms, and that members of the military police squad were rounding up men in readiness to be sent to the border town.

From the camp stories drifted to the down town streets of the whole mobilization centre being under arms and ordered to entrain for Ford with ball ammunition and bayonets. Stories of bloodshed and riot at the church were magnified a thousand times over. It was reported that fifteen had been killed and hundreds wounded.

In Readiness.

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Brown, A.A.G. of the camp and district, informed The Advertiser that a detail had been ordered under arms in readiness to go to Ford, but that the services of the men were unnecessary. The men, however, were kept in readiness, 100 having been detailed for the riot service.

Father Laurendeau's personal friends and his parishioners from St. Martin's Church, South London, expressed the liveliest interest in the affair. The Advertiser telephones were literally besieged during the evening by those who sought confirmation of the alarmist stories.

Popular in London.

During his London pastorate Father Laurendeau was one of the most popular clergymen in the city. His keen interest in bowling and other sports made his friends far wider than mere parochial bounds. He was chaplain of the London Bowling Association, and in other ways identified with the athletic life of London. His popularity in his former parish is indicated by the presentation of a purse of gold made last week before his departure for the church at Ford, which has proved a storm centre of unusual type.

EXPLOSION DRIVES PLUG OF TANK INTO ESSEX MAN'S SKULL

ESSEX, Sept. 9.—William Trimble, 22 years of age, a popular young farmer on the Malden road, near Essex, met with a serious accident this morning. While refilling a prest-o-lite tank, the plug blew out of his charging outfit, and buried itself in the young man's head just above the left eye, making a hole in his skull the size of a walnut. The force of the gas also struck Mr. Trimble's right hand with such force that it shattered the bones of the hand and laid the palm bare to the bone. His flesh was blackened with the acid. Medical attendance was rushed to the scene of the accident, and all possible done, but little hope is held out for his recovery.

Mr. Trimble's father, also Norman Wright and his son, were present at the time of the accident, and their clothes were so blackened with the acid that they were almost beyond recognition, although not seriously injured otherwise.

FLESH COOKED FROM CHILD'S BODY; DEATH RELIEVES SUFFERING

Terrible Agony of Lad Ended Sunday Morning.

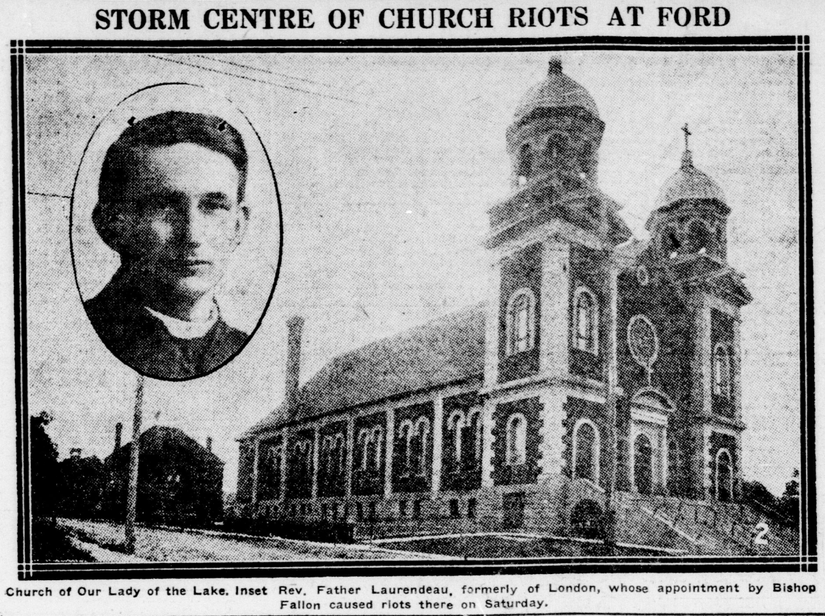

WINGHAM, Sept. 9.—Lytle Johnston, eight years old son of Robert Johnston, who lives four miles west of Wingham, died at 11 o'clock this morning from terrible burns received yesterday afternoon. The little chap had been visiting at the home of his uncle, James Lytle. With other boys he was playing around a rubbish fire, when his clothes became ignited.

Mrs. Lytle, hearing his screams, ran out doors and managed to smother the flames in a blanket. When, however, an attempt was made to remove his blouse, the flesh fell from his body in strings. Medical assistance was immediately summoned, but despite everything which could be done, death ended the little boy's sufferings this morning.

Besides his parents the little boy is survived by one brother, Elgin, and one sister, Elva.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

ANOTHER OFFER OF PEACE IS EXPECTED FROM ENEMY SOON

Will Be Made To Pave Way For Concessions.

GOVERNMENT FRIGHTENED

Fears Revolution If Neither Peace Nor Victory Comes Soon.

London, Aug. 27—By Mail.—Throughout official London the belief is held that a very definite peace offer will come from Germany before winter and the offer will suggest immediate cessation of hostilities on a status quo basis.

Entente statesmen have fully indicated that they will refuse such terms and no doubt Germany is aware of this. But German leaders regard a status quo offer from the German side as an indispensable step in the preparation of German public opinion for further concessions.

A high official authority gave the Associated Press today the following statement of the situation in Germany as regards peace:

All Want Peace.

"There is no doubt that the German Government is anxious to get out of the war at the earliest possible moment on any terms which will insure them against revolution at home and national collapse.

"Great numbers of people in Germany today would welcome a peace on a status quo basis, theoretically and practically a draw, in which no belligerent would occupy any territory beyond that which it possessed in July, 1914, and moreover, in which each side would bear its own burden in regard to the material losses incurred during the course of the war. But it is impossible to say how far this view has spread among the German proletariat, because naturally where it exists it has had small opportunity of public expression.

Paving the Way.

"It is obvious that if the German people ultimately come to accept a net loss of territory as inevitable they must pass to that frame of mind through the intermediate stage of a willingness to accept a status quo peace. If the war continues to go against Germany test offers to conclude such a peace will certainly be made, as soon as the pressure reaches a certain point.

"Since Germany's so-called peace offer a year ago, the continued pressure of the Entente and the entry of the United States, has completely changed the situation. The question is now in fact, not what are the war aims which Germany will impose before she grants peace, but what terms she will herself be willing to accept. That is a very simple statement of the greatest fact in the war situation today.

Internal Situation Bad.

The entry of the United States and many of the South American republics has put economic matters in the foreground. The German Government must obviously view with extreme apprehension the situation at home in the months immediately succeeding the declaration of peace. The physical exhaustion of the people and of the country, combined with the want of food, which cannot be immediately remedied, and the want of raw material for starting manufactures, will create a most serious situation. If, when the troops come back from the front, it is not possible immediately to start again the industrial life of the country and provide food and work, there will almost inevitably be a very dangerous revolutionary movement.

Socialist Danger.

This would be started by the minority Socialists, and if Germany comes out of the war without a definite increase of strength and prestige in some form or another the influence of the Government in the middle classes will be so much weakened that it will be impossible any longer to depend on their active support against a revolution movement. The Prussian military and agrarian party remains as firm and uncompromising, in domestic as in foreign affairs, as ever, and many of them would undoubtedly prefer civil war to any surrender which would deprive them of the political power which they regard as their right.

For this reason that which the German Government will most seek for in any peace arrangement is security that as soon as the war is over there shall be a free flow of food and raw material into the country, and at the same time free markets for German products. If this could be secured the energy of the people could be at once directed to the restoration of commerce and industry and their interests so concentrated that they would be turned away from dangerous political considerations."

LARGEST ON RECORD

FOREST, Sept. 9.—The attendance at the high school here is larger this term than any previous term, 50 new pupils being enrolled. The staff consists of W. A. Williams, M.A.; W. J. Barrett, M.A., and Miss De Cou, B.A.

Among the public school teachers who have gone from Forest to take up the fall work are: Miss Pearl Crossley, to Mooretown; Miss Vera Gammon, to St. Thomas; Miss Verda Kingston, to Toronto; Miss Leila Harper, to Plympton; Miss Donaida Monroe, to Toronto; Miss Marie Seaton, to Hamilton; Miss Jessie O'Brien, to Bosanquet; Miss Clara Trusler, to Leamington; Miss Louise French, to Leamington; Miss Margaret French, to Port Arthur.

While the Forest Creamery has already made a name for itself for the quality of butter made there, it made a record for output as well. During the month of August 17,703 pounds of butter were made, as against 15,595 pounds during the same month last year. Of last month's make, 4,037 pounds were sold in Forest, realizing over $1,700.

WHOLESALE THEFTS LAID TO DOOR OF PT. BURWELL YOUTH

Youth Already Convicted Comes Up Again.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 9. — Walter A. Chalk, the Port Burwell young man recently convicted of robbing the post-office of that place, and sentenced to a year's imprisonment, appears from further developments to have committed many burglaries in the vicinity. In addition to the five charges to which he has already acknowledged, two more have been added, and a number of girls from Port Burwell will appear in court with a purpose of returning articles of jewelry, clothing and other valuables which were glits received from the prisoner, claimed to have been stolen goods.

The goods consist of diamond rings, gold rings, Masonic badges and pins, various articles of wearing apparel, automobile accessories and express parcels.

The prisoner will appear before County Magistrate Hunt on Monday for a further hearing.

The young man, who is only 21 years of age, attended a business college in Chatham some time ago, and it is alleged many valuable articles were missed during his stay there, but at that time he escaped suspicion. It would appear that Chalk is a regular kleptomaniac.

ENEMY INTRIGUERS CAUGHT AT WORK IN FRENCH SOMALILAND

Wandering In Interior With Bunch of Arabs.

London, Sept. 10.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Jubiti, Africa, says that a German named Holts and an Austrian named Karmelich, who with 40 Arabs have been wandering in the interior of French Somaliland about two months, have been captured after a strong resistance in which several were killed. The capture of Holts and Karmelich is expected to result in important revelations of German intrigues in Abyssinia.

3 PERSONS KILLED AT DIXIE CROSSING BY C.P.R. EXPRESS

Train From Detroit Crashes Into Auto—Two Escape Injury.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—Three persons were killed in a motor accident at the Dixie crossing of the Canadian Pacific Railway, some twelve miles west of the city, shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. They were Mrs. Agnes Boyd, 124 Cooper avenue, wife of Isaac Boyd, aged 47; and Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Wood of Cobalt, aged 28 and 27 respectively, exhibition visitors. Two other occupants of the auto, Roy Boyd, son of Mrs. Agnes Bond, and Joseph Milroy, a cousin, escaped injury.

The party was motoring to Hamilton and was held up at the crossing by a freight train. They waited for it and when the caboose cleared the crossing started on across, not noticing the approach of the passenger train for Detroit, which struck the car fairly. There is a bell at the crossing, but it is claimed that as soon as the freight train had passed it ceased ringing.

LONDONER ENGAGED

Teacher From This City Added to Staff of Embro School.

EMBRO, Sept. 9.—The lecture given by M. S. Murav, agent of the Bible Society, in the Congregational Church, was well attended.

Miss Emily Dicks, teacher of the primary room in the public school, has resigned owing to ill health. Miss Eva Darch, of London, has been engaged at a salary of $600.

The women of the Red Cross Society of Brookdale met as usual in the basement of St. Andrew's Church. The meeting was well attended. The women packed sixteen boxes to be sent to men from the district. Each box contained fruit cake, a cake of chocolate, dates, one pair of socks, chewing gum, chocolate bars, paper and envelopes. The collection amounted to $7.

WASTE IN GARDEN AND ORCHARD SHOULD STOP

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—The food controller is informed that avoidable waste of orchard and garden food products is taking place in many towns and villages. In order to prevent this waste an appeal is made to the mayors, reeves and officers of these municipalities to take steps to conserve such products as cannot be made use of by the producers or disposed of through the usual channels.

FROST HITS VEGEABLES.

Edmonton, Sept. 10.—The report on crop conditions issued today by the department of agriculture says frost has done more or less damage to vegetables in various districts. All grain, excepting late oats, barley and corn, are too far advanced for any harm.

Seventy-five per cent of all grains are estimated to be now in stock.

"Nature" chose Assam

Scientists tell us that Assam in northern India was the original home of the tea plant. Thousands of years ago "Nature" chose the climate and soil of this favored region as most suitable for growing tea.

It is, therefore, natural that the hillside gardens of Assam (see picture) grow the teas which to-day are famous for their flavor, fragrance and rich strength.

It is of these Assam teas, skilfully blended with choice Ceylons, that Red Rose Tea consists. It is this rich Assam strength that users of Red Rose Tea must thank for its splendid economy—for the greater number of cups it yields to the pound, fully one-third more than ordinary teas.

To make certain that these Assam qualities are fully preserved for you we put Red Rose Tea into dust, odor and air proof sealed packages. Red Rose Tea reaches you pure, fresh and full strength—we guarantee it.

MANY HONORS FOR CANADIAN OFFICERS

A French-Canadian Among Those Decorated.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, Sept. 9.—(By Stuart Lyon, special correspondent of the Canadian Press).—Lieut. H. Bainbridge Johnson, and Lieut. David James More, both officers of an Ontario battalion, have been awarded the Military Cross for conspicuous gallantry during a raid into the enemy's lines a few days before the attack on Hill 70. The raiders, who numbered several hundred men, were at some points held up by strong fire, which was cut off under their supervision while heavy shelling was in progress. Johnson also carried one of his men who had become a casualty, back to our lines.

Pte. Henry Lorne McFadyen of the same battalion, has been given a Distinguished Conduct Medal for splendid devotion to duty while acting as a stretcher-bearer. When the raiders withdrew several wounded men had to be left behind in a shell hole close to the enemy's line. McFadyen remained with them for two days and a night, using his clothing to bind their wounds up, and make them more comfortable, and eventually brought all the wounded men back into our lines.

Crosses for Lieutenants.

For services performed under circumstances of great danger in securing the co-ordination of work of the artillery and infantry during an assault on an enemy position, Lieutenants James Howard Ellwood, Blayney Edmond Scott, Leslie Frank Burrows and Lawrence Byron Tillson, officers of the Canadian field artillery, have received the Military Cross and Frederick Graham Johnston of the same branch of the service, a bar to the Military Cross.

Captains Thomas Herbert Bell and Stanley Graham Ross, of the Canadian Medical Corps for conspicuous gallantry in the evacuation of the wounded during forty-eight hours spent under heavy shell fire on the battlefield of Lens, August 15 and 16, have been rewarded the Military cross.

The award of the Military Medal to twenty-four non-commissioned officers and men of a French-Canadian battalion, which did gallant work at the capture of Hill 70 and had already earned high praise for its fine achievement at Courcelette shows that the men of Quebec Province had a full share in our recent victory.

Here are some recrds of French-Canadian valor from the official statement as to the reason for the award of the Military Cross:

Pte. Jos Roussin, single-handed, attacked and killed five Germans and took another prisoner. He was seriously wounded in the arm by a bayonet thrust.

Pte. Hilarion Lapointe, single-handed, charged and killed the crew of an enemy machine gun and captured the gun just in time to save the lives of two advancing sections.

Another Captures Gun.

Pte. Adrien Brien, during the attack on Hill 70, rushed a German machine gun which was causing casualties. He killed the crew and captured the gun.

The tale of that Dollard who went out to die that his fellow colonists of New France might live is recalled by the bravery of Cpl. Dollard Laflamme, of whom it is said:

"In a charge of Lewis guns he posted them with marked ability and kept moving about from section to section, cheering his men up under heavy shelling.

"During an enemy counter-attack he remained with his section at a most critical spot in the line, and was, to a great extent, responsible for the repulsion of the counter-attack.

CELEBRATION OF MARNE CONTINUING IN FRANCE

Blind General and Maimed Soldiers Visit the Field.

Meux, France, Sept. 10.—The ceremonies in connection with the celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Marne continued today with a visit to the field of operations on the Ourcq River. General Michael Joseph Manoury, since blinded by a bullet, received while on duty on the Aisne, who commanded the army of Paris, headed the visiting party. Gen. Lamaze, one of Generals Manoury and Lamaze visited ants, and several hundred maimed soldiers who took part in the battle, accompanied their blind commander. General Manoury and Lamaze visited scenes of the great conflict and laid wreaths on numerous individual and collective graves of the soldiers of their armies who fell there. Great crowds were present at the ceremonies, as well as at the religious services at different points on the battlefield.

PAPAL SECRETARY OF STATE BACK TO LABORS

Thinks Peace Note Will Help Clear the Situation.

Rome, Sept. 10.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, has returned to this city from a fortnight's vacation and immediately set to work, together with Pope Benedict, upon the accumulation of documents received during his absence, regarding the papal peace note. To those who approached him, Cardinal Gasparri said:

"Whatever happens, the proposition made by the pope in favor of peace will have the effect of greatly clearing the situation."

917,000 ATTENDED C. N. E.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The Canadian National Exhibition brought the 39th year of its existence to a close on Saturday with a spurt in the home stretch which enabled them to beat out the grand total of last year by a margin of 7,000. The final counting showed a total for the day of 109,000 persons in attendance, which made the grand total of 917,000, as compared to 910,000 a year ago.

FRENCH ARMY AND NAVY HEADS TO RETAIN OFFICE

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Antonin Dubost, president of the Senate, and Paul Deschanel, president of the Chamber of Deputies, having returned to Paris, Premier Ribot today placed the resignation of the ministry in the hands of President Poincaire. After conferring with the heads of the legislative bodies the president asked M. Ribot to form a new ministry. M. Ribot accepted the task.

The Matin says it understands that the heads of the departments directly connected with the national defence, that is the war and navy and armament departments, will retain their portfolios.

BOMB-MAKING PLANT DISCOVERED IN HOBOKEN

HOBOKEN, N.J., Sept. 9.—What appeared to be a fully equipped bomb-making plant was disclosed to the police last night when an explosion blew off the roof of a small building in Third street as two detectives were passing.

A man who fled from the structure was seized by one of the officers. He gave the name of Robert Lichenfeldt and his age was 52 years. He admitted he is of German birth.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 9.—The Bourse Gazette reports that M. Pieschehonoff, the minister of food and supplies, has resigned owing to increasing difficulties of the situation.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own housework and have an eight-pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads."—Mrs. Nellie Fishback, 1521 Christy avenue, Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free.

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-grade tires can be purchased for, and are 20 per cent less than prevailing wholesale dealers' prices.

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation, which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

THERE ARE ABSOLUTELY NO SECONDS IN OUR STOCK

UNWRITTEN LAW TO BE OFFICER'S PLEA IN LONDON COURTS

Claims He Killed Baumberg In Defence of Honor.

London, Sept. 10.—Crowds of curious women and others clamored for admission to Old Bailey this morning when the trial of Lieut. Douglas Malcolm for the murder of Anton Baumberg, a pseudo count, began. The case, which has been characterized as a "drama of passion," is the first here in which the "unwritten daw" is expected to be the sole defence and is the most sensational in London in many years.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" after hearing Lieut. Malcolm's plea that he killed Baumberg "in defence of his wife's honor."

Thousands of applications were made for tickets to the courtroom, but it was decided not to issue any, and the police closed the doors as soon as the courtroom was filled. A confession by Malcolm's wife, who is called a great beauty, that she became attached to Baumberg while her husband was at the front, is expected to play an important part in the trial, which will probably be concluded in two days.

GERMAN PRESS NOW URGING SOLUTION OF BELGIAN PROBLEMS

One Paper Says Statement of Freedom Due.

ALSACE-LORRAINE, TOO

Some Still Want Provinces Divided Up Among the German States.

Copenhagen, Sept. 10.—The week-end brought a number of references in the German press of official declaration to Belgium, Alsace-Lorraine and Poland which may foreshadow progress or lack of progress, in Germany toward solutions of these questions for insertion in the reply of Germany to Pope Benedict's peace proposals.

Regarding Belgium, statements by Berlin correspondents of the Amsterdam Catholic organ, Tijd and the Vienna Catholic organ Reichspost, on the proposal to give Belgium "complete autonomy" subject to limitations to prevent it entering into special treaty relations with the Entente powers or maintaining a military force beyond that required for interior powers, or to upset the German-made division of the country into Walloon and Flemish halves, have attracted the attention of the German press.

Report Premature.

The Lokal Anzeiger assumes that this represents the Centrists' solution of the situation, but it says the Tijd's further assertion that the proposal has been accepted in principle by the "double seven" commission in Germany is premature.

A statement in the South German Catholic organ, the Augsburg Post, declaring that the time had come for a frank declaration that the German people have not thought of oppressing Belgium, economically, politically or militarily also is attracting attention. The meeting of the "double seven" commission in Berlin perhaps will show whether the above represents the Centrists' conception of a fulfillment of the Post's wishes.

Not Yet United.

Dr. Georg Michaelis, the imperial German chancellor, in an interview published in Stuttgart, shows that the federated governments are not yet united on the idea of creating Alsace-Lorraine into a hereditary monarchical state, but that some of them are still toying with the old idea of dividing the provinces between Prussia, Bavaria and Baden, Prussia to retain control of the part of prime military importance and the most valuable mining districts, while her two partners undertake the task of assimilation of the population of the southern section, for which it is thought they are better fitted than Prussia.

The solution of the Polish question is to be announced in a few days. It will begin with the institution of a regency of uncertain powers and the abolition of the hated division into Austrian and German spheres of administration.

Junkers' Plans.

The Conservative and pan-German newspapers daily are playing more boldly with the thought of a dissolution of the Reichstag and new elections, which they claim would, after a proper campaign of education, show that a majority of electors are not in favor of a peace based on renunciation of the spoils of victory. Representative Socialist and Centrist organs, on the other hand, show a certain distaste for this suggestion and profess not to have the slightest fear that the sentiment of the majority of the people can be changed against them. But they evidently anticipate that if the entire machinery of the Government is mobilized against them and elections are held under the patriotic slogan, "The Fatherland Is in Danger," while their own campaign is hampered by the censorship the result might weaken their hold on the Reichstag.

SWEDEN'S ACT

disclosure on its face is a gross breach of the elementary obligation of neutrality, and adds:

"The offence is more grave because Sweden had been warned both in London and Stockholm that it had been detected."

Continuing, the Times says:

"Sweden cannot expect the Entente Allies and the neutral nations in which the Swedish legations were used as German information stations, to acquiesce in the continued abuse of her rights and privileges as a neutral."

The Times says that President Wilson has told how Germany dared to apply a policy of intrigue towards the United States during her neutrality, etc., and mentions how a member of the Swiss national council and a Swiss minister were induced to make a German peace offer to Russia and how later high explosives specially prepared to destroy ships were discovered in the baggage of "Baron von Rantenfels" in Christiania.

"The key of the whole system," says the Times, "is found in the German emperor's personal messages to the czar in 1904 and 1905, particularly in the message which describes his plan to seize and occupy Denmark in the event of war."

In conclusion, the Times declares that "neither the Allies nor the Swedish people can remain indifferent to the latest example."

"The conduct of the Swedish ministers in this case is unpardonable," declares the Post. "We do not know what the Swedish people think of this conduct, which is as irreconcilable with honor and good faith as it is with neutrality. It can only be hoped that out of self respect the Swedish people will repudiate and condemn the acts of the men who so discredited Sweden's good name."

The Post adds: "The Government of the United States deserves the gratitude of the civilized world for its continued and methodical revelations of German perfidy and wickedness."

Could Learn Code.

Commenting on the Swedish-Argentine disclosures, the Manchester Guardian assumed that the Swedish foreign office knew the contents of the cipher messages. "It would be fairly easy for it to learn them, the newspaper declares, as it points out that what could be decoded by employees of the U. S. Government could be decoded by employees of the Swedish Government.

"But even if it did not," continues the Guardian, "its responsibility is not less great. It gave a blank check which could be and was, in fact, used by one belligerent against other belligerents and neutrals."

The Guardian continues that the Swedish foreign office made itself a party to the crime of planning the murder of Argentine seamen and the sinking of Argentine ships, and continues:

"We are tempted to ask whether Swedish cabinets put themselves at the disposition of Germany out of pure disinterested zeal or whether they were promised an equivalent. Is there any secret compact, in which perhaps the future of Sweden finds a place?

Challenge to Germany.

The Guardian assumes that the Swedish people knew nothing of these transactions and will hasten the necessary measures to clear themselves of the stain their government has put on Sweden's good name. The newspaper also expresses belief that the Argentine people may be trusted to make proper reply to this German conspiracy. It concludes:

"When President Wilson says, 'We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure,' let the German people answer whether in the light of the facts now made public he has stated other than the bare truth. Upon their answer depends the duration of this war, the whole future of their country and civilization's hope of a securer world."

ARGENTINA DOUBTFUL.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 10.—Argentine officials, according to newspaper accounts today, are still unable to believe that the despatches sent to Berlin through the Swedish legation here were accurately translated. The foreign office early today said that it was without official advices from Ambassador Naon or American Ambassador Stimson. Newspapers and officials generally believe that the Government will demand the resignation of Count Luxburg, German charge at Buenos Ayres, but a rupture in diplomatic relations with Germany is not anticipated at present, the Argentine Government preferring it is said, to consider the affair a personal one between the German and Swedish representatives here.

La Epoca, the recognized mouthpiece of President Irogoyen's party says:

Strong Condemnation.

"These documents show discourtesy and duplicity so great that we were unable at first to believe such practices possible by such men. We must confess, despite the unimpeachable source of information, that we did not believe possible such monstrous conduct, which is so exceptional in these times when diplomatic customs have acquired a spirit of sincerity and frankness. Before such stupendous duplicity only perplexity is possible and it is impossible to believe that a nation calling itself our friend (we refer principally to Sweden, Germany's methods being already doubtful) could observe such conduct without any cause for a grudge against us at the present moment with its terrible events reawakening the worst instincts we thought forever dead.

Must Uphold Dignity.

"Although unable to foretell what action the Government will take it is certain that it will take energetic measures to assure the dignity of the nation's highest officials, who are thus insulted in an unprecedented manner despite their best efforts to treat Germany with dignity during the delicate situations arising through the trampling underfoot of the Argentine flag."

La Nachion in its issue today declares that it is absolutely necessary that both the German and Swedish ministers leave the country immediately.

U. S. ATTITUDE UNCERTAIN.

(BY CARL D. GROAT.)

Washington, Sept. 10.—America's future position toward Sweden will be determined by the explanation she makes of her part in the Luxburg-Lowen code incident.

Sweden will issue a diplomatic denial of guilt, with some excuse attached, it is reported. To prove that she is not in league with Germany, however, would appear to require discharge of the Buenos Aires Swedish minister, Lowen, whose legation forwarded German Count Luxburg's "Sink them without a trace" messages on the Argentine U-boat situation. An upheaval in the present directing Swedish powers would be necessary to remove the taint from Sweden's part, denial or no denial, if held.

A break in relations between Sweden and the United States is deemed unlikely in diplomatic quarters. The state department has not revealed its attitude on that point. Sweden stands as an added menace in an already troublous Russian situation, and her trained army of several hundred thousand men is not wanted in the struggle now. Hence there is likely to be a go-slow policy toward Sweden.

ACTED FOR GERMANY.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Intense interest has been aroused in diplomatic and political circles here by the Washington dispatches announcing that the state department has proof that Sweden has been acting as intermediary for transferring German messages from the German charge d'affaires at Buenos Aires by way of the Stockholm foreign office to Berlin, giving information about the sailing of ships

The Associated Press learns that the foreign office at Stockholm has been acting as a telegraph office for the German Government, and for the last three years has regularly or continuously transmitted cables in German cipher under the guise of Swedish Government messages

PRESIDENT WANTS STATEMENT.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 8. — The director of the Argentine foreign office when informed today of the revelations of the state department at Washington involving the Swedish legation here in the transmission of certain German communications, expressed great astonishment. He declared he had had negotiations with Count Luxburg, the German charge d'affaires, respecting the communications, the substance of which, as described to him, were apparently not the same as that revealed by the text of the dispatches made public in Washington.

President Irigoyen, informed of the matter, said that he would at once call upon the foreign minister for a statement.

Swedish Minister Denies.

Baron Loewen, Swedish minister here, denied today that secret messages in cipher had been sent to Stockholm by the German agents through the Swedish minister. He declared:

"I have not sent, nor caused to be sent by the legation under my charge, any telegram from the German legation. The news is a great and disagreeable surprise. I have cabled to my Government to clear up matters.

"In the United States they are very excitable."

At the present time there are no responsible officials at the German legation. Count Luxburg has been taking a vacation in the Andes foothills since the arrival of the American fleet at Buenos Aires, and has so far not responded to a telegram from the Associated Press requesting a statement.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Hay and grain were easier on the market this morning. A larger range in prices was shown and the offering generally was brisker and equal to the demand. Old hay has not been offered on the market for some months, but new fodder sells readily at all times, the popular price at present ranging from $11 to $13. Oats and wheat showed an easier range of values and sold rapidly whenever offered. The prevalent prices for these grains were $2.16 to $2.20 for wheat and 50c to 60c for oats.

Vegetables were the feature of the market on Saturday, the fruit and dairy offerings being comparatively poor. Potatoes were more abundant and sold at unchanged rates, contrary to predictions of a slight advance in price made by local growers last week.

The offering of tomatoes was mall on Saturday, but prices remained stationary. A reported slight frost last night will be detrimental to the ripening of tomatoes. The seasonable crop was expected to be of the best in years, as few growers anticipated a blight because of frost at the beginning of the season. However, the cold weather has been the cause of much apprehension to tomato specializers, and indications point to a spoilt crop because of the certainty of the appearance of a ravaging frost within the month.

Rhubarb, celery, parsnips and cucumbers were particularly plentiful Saturday and sold at unchanged prices. No reduction in vegetable prices is expected, as the present values are just about at a rock-bottom level. Throughout the district a fairly presentable yield of corn has been offered to purchasers. It is to be greatly regretted, therefore, if the frost should effect the crops of London and vicinity because of the poorer yield which has characterized the local crop.

The fruit offerings of Saturday were poor, thimbleberries being the only kind of fruit offered in ordinary abundance. The season for plums and thimbleberries is practically over, and with the conclusion of the few of these fruits will be available to buyers.

All varieties of fruit sell at prices prevalent Saturday. Peaches of the most luscious sort are appearing in increasing number, while pears, although of a poor quality, are coming in at a fast rate.

Local pork men entertain conflicting opinions in regard to the expected price for hogs today and tomorrow. Few hogs are being sold, but it is said at the market the value of live hogs will be from $16 to $17 a cwt.

Dairy produce is exceptionally scarce and firm in price. Makers of butter state that a substantial jump in price will occur shortly, while slight advances over the high price of eggs will also take place.

Oats—September, 59½@59c; December, 58¾@58c; May, 61⅛@61c.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Corn prices went soaring today as a result of predictions of widespread frost tonight. An ascent of as much as 4¾c a bushel took place in some cases as soon as the market opened. More stringent enforcement of government supervision of wheat sales began today. Heretofore millers were permitted to buy direct at the fixed government prices, but from now on all dealings are with the agents of the food administration.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10. — October oats opened ½c to ¾c up, at 67⅜@67⅝c; December was ½c up at 62½c.

With reports of frost, flax opened at $3 16½, ½c higher than Saturday's close, and during the first five minutes of the session it rose to $3 20, 3½c higher than the opening.

Inspections were 196 cars, of which 122 were contract.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 10—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The stock market today gave a good account of itself at the opening, and bearish attempts to depress special issues met with indifferent success. Pullman and General Electric, which were moderately weak on Saturday, yielded 2 and 3 points further respectively, but elsewhere the trend was strongly upward. Important shares gained ½ to 2 points in the early trading. Bulls purchased stocks in the belief that the question had pretty well run its course, and that technical conditions had been strengthened by the elimination of weakly margined accounts.

Noon. — Weakness cropped out in stocks for a time, forcing back some of the favorites, like Steel, Crucible, Reading, Tobacco Products a point or so, but later specuative sentiment became more hopeful. The market broadened and advanced rapidly in all directions. Bears covered on an extensive scale, and the entire list reflected optimism regarding the ultimate adjustment of the Government's price-fixing schedules. The steels and coppers were the strongest features. Bonds were firm.

1:30 p.m.—Buying on the theory that the reaction had about run its course kept up the market in the afternoon at times when the professionals made efforts to realize some of their profits. Steel held around its best. The decreased tonnage figures shown in the monthly report were about in line with expectations:

Who is it knocks and does not boost it? Sure it is the man who has not used it, for Wm. Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over 12 years, says: "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th of March, 1913.

"I was swollen from head to foot; in fact, my limbs were twice the ordinary size, and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself, and was suffering more each day. My physician told me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was my limit. A friend of mine who was trying to cheer me up a bit after the physician had left, remarked: 'Why not try Parker's Oil?' I sent to Small's drug store and purchased a bottle, and after the first application received relief, and in three days the pain was gone, swelling greatly reduced. I used seven bottles, and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Black Oil, the sure cure for rheumatiem, as I found it.

"WILLIAM LOVELOCK.

MEN GO TO BATTLE FEELING THAT GOD IS ONLY PROTECTOR

Capt. Jones Says They Are Serenely Confident.

TELLS OF GOD AT SEA

Soldiers Deeply Moved Toward Him As They Went Through Sub Terrors.

An interesting account of the manner in which soldiers of the dominion, overseas, receive the teachings of God while continually under the fire of enemy guns was delivered by Capt. Jones, officer in charge of the transportation of convalescent soldiers to Canada, at the Askin Street Methodist Church Sunday evening.

Capt. Jones dwelt at length with the wonderful response of the men overseas to the teachings of religion.

God Only Protector.

Although continually in danger, the Canadian soldiers are ever willing to listen with deep attention and respect to the voice of God. During periods of intense firing and when the position of troops is particularly hazardous, the feeling is universal that only the Great Almighty can protect the combatants from destruction.

Evening concerts are held at the rear of the front-line trenches whenever an opportunity for them can be found. After these entertainments, during which hymns and supplications are sung, the men return to their perilous duty, serenely confident that the protection of the Deity is with them.

Capt. Jones was on a ship in charge of the transportation of soldiers at the time the declaration of the employment of ruthless submarine warfare was announced. He described the method of the ships' protection by cruisers, which are relieved of their responsibility for the troops upon the arrival of monitors when the troopships are nearing the coast of England.

Prepared to Die.

Upon a certain night the lights of sinking merchantmen could be seen which had succumbed to the machinations of the U-boats.

Every man was called on deck and hymns were sung in preparation for what was expected to be their last moments of life.

However, the protecting monitors beat off the attacks of the submarines and no casualties resulted to the troopships.

MOVING PICTURE AT FAIR SHOWS GIRLS AT WORK ON FARMS

It has been announced that a special feature of the exhibits at Western Fair will be a moving picture shown under the auspices of the organization of resources committee, in which will be portrayed girls working at various phases of farm work. All the young women shown in the picture are from Western Ontario, and it is expected that many Fair visitors will recognize friends among them.

The pictures will be in charge of Mr. Edgar appointed by the committee of resources, which have erected a large tent for the purpose of accommodating the large crowds expected to witness the pictures.

QUALITY MAKES FAMOUS ALL McCLARY PRODUCTS

Five Lines Displayed at Western Fair—Electric, Gas, Oil, Coal, Wood Stoves and Ranges—"Florence" a New Comer.

A striking demonstration of the manner in which many lines of business may be concentrated in one vast one which extends its influence to every corner of the Dominion of Canada, and is represented in some way in every city, town, hamlet and rural district, is given in the mammoth exhibit of McClary's furnaces, ranges and heaters in the stove section of the Machinery Hall at the Western Fair.

The exhibit, which is attracting much attention, especially of the housewives, occupies a space 90 feet in length on one side of the aisle and 70 feet on the other. Displayed to advantage in these sections are the products which have made the name of "McClary's" a household word in Canada, and brought comfort and cheer to countless homes.

What are the circumstances in which my lady is placed, and what is the fuel at her command? Whatever her demands for heating and cooking apparatus they can be met by McClary's. At the Western Fair exhibit she will be able to find the stove, range or furnace which best meets her needs.

Always the Best Quality.

It won't be the cheapest on the market, because the McClary firm has resolutely refused through its long career to sacrifice its reputation for cheapness. The company at all times has insisted upon the best material and workmanship and refused to lower its standard. No "jerry" building about a McClary range! It is constructed for efficient service and permanency, and a "lifetime" is the limit of durability put upon such products as the famous Pandora ranges.

To return to the subject of concentration of many lines in one business, no less than five of these distinctive lines, each of which would constitute a big business in itself, is to be found in the "stoves" alone of the McClary exhibit. These include oil cook stoves and heaters, electrical ranges and heaters, gas ranges, heaters and burners, the regular coal and wood ranges and heaters of all kinds and the celebrated warm air furnaces, the "Sunshine" and the "Radium."

A Clean, Safe Oil Range.

The woman in the country home who all through the summer months has been obliged to bend over a hot range, cooking for berry-pickers and harvesters, pounces immediately upon the Florence oil stove as the feature of the exhibit, which makes an especial appeal to her. "Florence" is a new acquaintance, possibly, owing to the fact that "Florence" has only been on the market a couple of years.

The "Florence" takes precedence in favor over other oil ranges because it is odorless, wickless, valveless and, supremely important, SAFE. The oil tank is away from the heat, and the flame cannot vary; there are no wicks to smoke or need trimming, no valves to clog or leak. Heat may be regulated at will, and made so intense that it will cook a steak to perfection. For the "between" season, an oil heater may be obtained which is clean and odorless, and guarantees generous heat.

A triumph has been achieved in a gas stove in the building of a cabinet style, adapted to either artificial or natural gas. This can be obtained in any size, big enough for a hotel or small enough for an apartment for just two.

The "Last Word" in Electrical Cooking.

Owing to the increasing facilities for the use of electricity, even in the rural districts, much interest centres in the McClary display of electrical appliances. Prominent among these is a new range, combining all the latest features in electrical range construction, as well as a variety of heaters.

In the coal and wood range department, the "Pandora" all cast iron range, will be found a genuine box of happy surprises, a "last word" in range perfection. The Kootenay range, made of steel, is also a popular offering. "Famous," "Belle Oak" and "Tortoise" are some of the names by which the heaters are introduced.

"Sunshine" and "Radium" are terms which are far from being misnomers as applied to the McClary furnaces. The "Sunshine" has brought comfort and cheer to homes throughout the Dominion, and solved the problem of heating public buildings. The heat, moreover, is of the soft, clean, fresh variety, which eliminates "cold corners." As its name suggests, the "Radium" is the concentrated essence of cold weather comfort.

Demonstrations are adding much to the interest of the McClary exhibit, which no one should leave without carrying away descriptive booklets, telling all about the various lines of ranges and heaters displayed.

DRIVE BARN ERECTED IN 1½ HOURS.

The exhibit of a Preston Sectional Building should attract considerable attention from farmers visiting the Fair, who read of last week's demonstration at the Canadian National Exhibition. Three men raised one of these sectional buildings—a 16 by 24 drive barn—in one hour and eighteen minutes. In that time the building stood complete—doors hung, ventilated, roofed with metal and painted. This big saving of time and labor the Preston people have made possible by their factory-built plan. All sections are cut to a standard and are shipped ready-built and numbered. With this section-built plan the Metal Shingle and Siding Company, Limited, can supply a drive barn or implement shed in widths of 16 and 20 feet and lengths of 18, 24, 30 and 36 feet, with any desired arrangement of doors and windows. 72u

BARNS QUICKLY RAISED.

Not only the farmer planning a barn-raising this year, but every farmer who is interested in production and utilizing his time to the best advantage, should inspect the model of the Preston Steel Truss Barn at the Fair. The construction of this barn, as is well known, does away with the old-time raising bee. There are no heavy timbers, and as a consequence there is no need for a big gang of men, or for wasting the farmer's time in hauling. An inspection of this model at the Fair will show that it is even more rigid than the costly old-style timber-filled barn. Certainly it is roomier and more convenient for filling. The greater part of the time-killing work—planning, figuring, cutting, nailing—is done at the factory of the Metal Shingle and Siding Company, Limited, before they ship the material. 72u

A DELIGHTFUL CUP OF TEA

You will find a very restful booth at the Fair where you can sit down and enjoy a cup of real good tea by just asking where the Red Rose Tea Booth is.

The tea really costs you nothing, as you pay 5 cents and get a coupon worth 5 cents on the first package of Red Rose Tea you buy at your grocer's.

Everything is so attractive, neat and clean, you will enjoy the time spent there, as well as having the delightful cup of tea. b

PRESTON PRIVATE GARAGES CUT MOTORING EXPENSE.

The motorist who has felt the pinch that the heavy expense of garage rent brings will be keenly interested in the two fine private garages on display at the Fair. These handsome buildings are shipped by the Metal Shingle and Siding Company, Limited, in sections, ready to bolt together. They are built in many styles and sizes, the two models on the ground representing both the type built with metal roof and wooden sides, and the all-metal-clad type. Large output and factory-built methods make these sturdy garages low-priced. Certainly they offer a profitable investment for any motorist. 72u

AN OUTSTANDING PIANO EXHIBIT.

Whatever is one's interest in a piano—whether that of the professional musician or the home-lover who is charmed by good music—the large exhibit of pianos of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Ltd., at the fair is sure to attract attention. Something really superb is to be found in the new parlor grands that are being shown. The range of art upright pianos, finished in various styles, appeal to all, whilst the one who has set his heart on a player-piano will find an instrument entirely different from anything else in a player-piano constructed anywhere. The firm's city showrooms are at 242 Dundas street. Sept. 10, 13.

A COMMON SENSE FARM TRACTOR

You can plow five acres a day sitting in your Ford car or roadster. With proper gear reduction the Ford will pull a double-furrow gang, turning over 24 inches, and making a furrow six inches deep. This work can be done week in and week out in stiff clay without putting any unusual strain on the engine or chassis.

During the Western Fair make it a point to see the Staude Mak-a-Tractor pulling a double-bottom gang plow on the farm of A. E. Dale, on the London and Lake Erie Radial, one and a half miles out of London. Go down any time and satisfy yourself on the subject of common-sense farm traction. Over 30,000 farmers have purchased and are using the Staude Mak-a-Tractor, and still have their Fords available at any time for ordinary touring purposes; $295 gives you a dependable farm tractor.

For descriptive literature write the Reliance Machine Company, 157 Bay street, Toronto. S. 8, 10, 11, 12.

SIGN STUDIO ON GROUNDS.

Signs, electrical and painted, are in great demand during Fair week, and to meet this demand The Signry have erected on the Fair grounds, right near the AgricuHural Building, a studio for turning out work on short notice. Employees of the company have been working for some days designing and erecting signs of all descriptions for exhibitors. Evidences of their excellent work is to be seen on all sides and in practically every building on the grounds. A competent staff of workmen will be found at the studio on the grounds all this week, or orders may be given at the main office, 340 Richmond stret. Phone 1845. b

BARNS MADE SAFE FROM LIGHTNING.

Those farmers who have read the advice of Professor Day, of the O. A. C., Guelph, telling farmers that they can and should protect their buildings from lightning, will be interested in the new Lightning and Ventilating Ridge, which is being shown by the Metal Shingle and Siding Company, Limited, at the Fair. This device protects every inch of the ridge, and is grounded by galvanized and copper cables. At the same time it affords ventilation equivalent to a 16-inch ventilator placed every six feet along the roof—making a barn cool to work in, and lessening the danger of fire from "heating" of grain and hay. This double purpose is achieved in the Preston Lightning and Ventilating Ridge at a lower cost than any old-seyle lightning-rod outfit. 72u

Photoplay News

"The Birth of a Nation" at the Patricia All This Week.

D. W. Griffith's great production has broken so many records in so many different ways that it is hard to keep track of them. For lengths of runs and total attendance it holds the records in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, St. Louis, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Montreal ,Toronto and Winnipeg. In fact, it has done the same thing in every city where it has played, and it is now duplicating these marvelous records in London, Sydney, Buenos Ayres and other great cities on five continents.

The national crisis of 1861-71 as pictured in the play, holds great lessons. The North and South in internecine struggle, the strategy of the Petersburg campaign, and the vast sweep of Sherman's march to the sea; Lee's surrender to Grant, and the aftermath of war in the baneful Reconstruction period—all these form a series of martial and political events that enchain the spectator's interest. Out of that terrible conflict a new nation, united by brotherly, as well as geographical ties, was born.

"The Birth of a Nation" is now so firmly an established entertainment that it is seen again and again by the most critical of playgoers. In fact, with its 5,000 swiftly changing scenes, more than one view is required to grasp all of its interesting phases. At each seeing new beauties are revealed. In its infinite variety "The Birth of a Nation" far surpasses anything that has ever been shown in the art galleries of Paris, Rome, Munich and London, for it is the beauty of nature itself.

Years ago great battles were shown in cycloramas, but that was most unsatisfactory, for there was no life, no action. It was merely a painting on a grand scale. Now one can sit in a comfortable seat in the theatre and see the battle of Petersburg visualized in so lifelike a manner that it is as if one were looking at the real battle from an observation tower. Homer and Virgil have kept alive for centuries "the glory that was of Greece and the grandeur that was of Rome." With his new and wonderful art Griffith has perpetuated for all time the most stirrin story of American history.

MIRIAM FOUCHE, STAR OF VITAGRAPH, IS REAL DAUGHTER OF FORTUNE—AT MAJESTIC TODAY AND TUESDAY.

Miss Miriam Fouche, the beautiful and talented young vitagraph star in "Soldiers of Chance," the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be the attraction in the Majestic Theatre today and Tuesday, is one of the few moving picture actresses of independent means. Miss Fouche, who is only 20 years old, inherited $50,000 on the death of her father, two years ago. A part of this money was lost in cotton speculation. Two weeks ago, however, she received $25,000 more from the sale of oil stocks in Texas.

Miss Fouche was born in Shreveport, La., daughter of one of the oldest French families in the South, the lineage on her father's side extending back to the nobles in France. When seven years old, she entered St. Francis Academy for Girls, a convent in Shreveport, where she remained until she was fifteen. Then she removed to Texas, where her father was in business. She went into moving pictures a little more than a year ago.

FROST ONLY FEAR.

DORCHESTER, Sept. 9.—The oat crop is nearly all harvested in this district, and bumper yields are reported. The frequent rains of the last few weeks have done wonders for the corn in this section of the country. The crop promises to be heavy if frost does not make its appearance before the ears are matured.

Roots of all kinds are looking fine, but early potatoes are not turning out as well as was expected.

SNEAK THIEVES IN SOUTH LONDON TOOK CASH AND JEWELRY

Two Homes Were Entered Early on Saturday Evening.

Two South London homes were entered by burglars on Saturday night between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock, according to reports to the police department.

The home of Thomas Gerry, 43 Craig street, was entered between 7 and 10 while the members of the family were out shopping. Entrance was effected by prying up a rear window. The loss of two rings and a pearl tiepin has been reported. One ring was a diamond, set with an opal centre, surrounded by thirteen small diamonds. The other was a pearl ring.

The home of Mrs. Reime, 13½ Wortley road, was the second one entered, in this instance, too, entrance was gained by a window. The haul here was $6 in cash and a pocket knife taken from the room of Joseph Yeo, a border.

A fair week warning has been issued by the detective department, to impress on all citizens the necessity of securely placing jewelry and cash away before leaving their homes. Jewels and money are too often left carelessly around, say the detectives, and provide easy loot for professional thieves who follow the fall fairs. During any large gathering of people, such as fair week brings, extra vigilance is an essential, say the police.

MOTHER AND BABE HAD NARROW ESCAPE IN AUTO COLLISION

Mrs. Dowling Knocked Down on Sidewalk by Car.

A spectacular auto collision occurred Saturday afternoon at the corner of Horton and Clarence streets when a Chevrolet car owned by Ken. McCormick of 203 Simcoe street and a car driven by a young man giving his name as McDuff of Thamesville met. The Chevrolet car was forced up over the curbing onto the sidewalk and hit Mrs. Dowling of 223 Simcoe street, and overturned a baby carriage she was wheeling. Mrs. Dowling was knocked down and the baby was hurled onto the sidewalk. Fortunately the force of the collision was spent and neither the woman or child was badly hurt although somewhat shaken up and bruised. One tire was torn off the Chevrolet car and other damage done to it.

DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO OVERSEAS CHAPTER

The following letter received from Lieut.-Col. William Mahlon Davis, who is in command of the Western Ontario Regiment Depot at Bramshott Camp, England, shows in a few words how much the men appreciate the work done for them by the Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E.:

"Bramshott, Aug. 3, 1917.

"The Regent of the Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E., London, Ont.:

"Madam,—I wish to acknowledge and to express the hearty thanks of all my men to your chapter for your thoughtfulness in the prompt and generous response you have made to the needs of the men at this depot. The money has been applied to purchasing little comforts for the recreation hut, which cannot be obtained from army funds. A little later it is hoped to be able to provide a free supper for the men at night.

"You may be assured that your kind action will be appreciated by the various W. O. R. D. men who pass through this depot from time to time.

"Yours faithfully,

"WILLIAM MAHLON DAVIS,

"O. C., W. O. R. D."

DORCHESTER

DORCHESTER, Sept. 9.—There are 21 pupils now leaving here on the early morning train to attend collegiate institute in Woodstock. This is the largest number on record.

Traffic between the north and south side of the village has been considerably interrupted during the past few days on account of the new plank floor which is being laid on the iron bridge.

Dr. Stanley Shaw conducted a successful sale Thursday, when he sold a herd of 15 Holstein cows. One of the animals brought $170, and the remaining fourteen averaged $116 a piece.

Rev. Arthur Page, the young minister who is in charge of Nilestone circuit, is taking a course in languages at Woodstock, and Miss Evelyn Bankes, who was formerly in charge of Parker's school, is attending business college in the same city.
