AMENDMENT TO BANK ACT WOULD WARN DEPOSITORS

G. G. Coote Submits Changes
To Protect Interests of Customers.

GOOD SEEKS FACTS

General Manager of Royal Bank Testifies Before Committee.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, May 29.—G. G. Coote, general manager of the Royal Bank and acting president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, was the chief witness before the banking and commerce committee of the House of Commons this morning. Before he was examined, however, two proposed amendments to the bank act were put before the committee by G. G. Coote, Progressive, Macleod. The first of these was that a notice should be displayed in each bank warning the public that the government does not assume any responsibility for deposits. The other was a requirement that each bank shall post up in its premises within the first 15 days of a month a statement of the deposits and loans outstanding at the end of the preceding month.

Mr. Coote said at the outset that he had already been before the shareholders of his bank and stated that he should be only too glad to submit to any reasonable inspection, be it government or otherwise, so long as it was efficient.

In reply to a question by W. C. Good, Progressive, Brant, he said he did not consider the liabilities of Canadian banks excessive in proportion to capital. As to the value of bank buildings as an asset in case of failure, he expressed the view that what could be recovered would be not nearly as much as had been invested.

Precipitates Discussion.
Mr. Good precipitated a discussion in the committee by questioning Mr. Coote regarding the transfer of deposits from smaller to larger banks. "Do you think it well to discuss this?" said Mr. Coote.

Hon. S. H. Stevens (Conservative, Center, Vancouver), thought such a discussion "a frightful injustice to the smaller banks."

Mr. Coote, a little later, to bring the matter to a conclusion, asked if Mr. Coote had any proposal to make "to save banks in danger of disaster through no fault of their own."

"I cannot admit that there is any danger," said Mr. Coote. "The only danger," he suggested, "is that it might be well to hold a sitting of the committee in camera to get information. I am not prepared to let matters drift," declared Mr. Coote. "I think the committee should have the facts in order that it may take the appropriate remedies."

In reply to L. J. Ladner (Conservative, South Vancouver) Mr. Coote said he regarded the Ladner proposal for a guarantee of savings deposits in excess of $2,000, as "impracticable and misleading."

He added that an examination of the accounts of some six banks in—

WILL GIVE FREE PERFORMANCES FOR LONDON GIRLS.
Here are the famous Allerston children, Miss Marice, age 9, and her brother "Bobs," age 10, two of the best-known vaudeville juveniles on the stage. They are appearing for the first time in London at Loew's tonight, and tomorrow morning they will be a feature of The Advertiser's special performance in Loew's Theatre, free to every girl in London. The doors will be open at 9:30 and the performance will begin at 10:00. Miss Marice will give away ten big Mama Dolls from The Advertiser to girls holding lucky number tickets. Every girl in London is invited to come without charge.

FREE PARTY AT LOEW'S FOR GIRLS OF LONDON

The Advertiser Invites Every Girl in London Tomorrow Morning.

HAVE SPECIAL ACTS

The Famous Allerston Children
There—Ten Mama Dolls
Will Be Given Away.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock
The Advertiser is giving a party at Loew's Theatre for all the girls of London.

There will be no admission charge of course. It will be a special performance just for fun, and it will be featured by the famous Allerston children, who are coming to London for the first time.

The Allerston children are Miss Marice, who is nine years old, and Master "Bobs," ten years old. They are among the most famous of juvenile vaudeville artists, and they are sure to win the heart of everyone at the party tomorrow morning. They will also be an added attraction at Loew's tonight.

As part of the performance tomorrow morning Marice Allerston will appear dressed as a "Miss Advertiser," Mama Doll, and carrying one of these wonderful dolls in her arms.

And she will give away for The Advertiser ten of the Mama Dolls to the ten little girls in the audience who have lucky numbers on their tickets.

Both Marice and "Bobs" are finished artists. Their first appearance tomorrow morning will be "Down on the Farm." Then, by contrast, they appear in evening clothes, and Master "Bobs" does an act of his own called "Doing Some," in which he does some remarkable dancing.

Besides the famous Allerston there is a comedy frolic, and they will be a feature of the wonderful big Mama Dolls who are a party in themselves.

The Advertiser invites every little girl in London to come to Loew's tomorrow morning. The doors will be open at 9:30, and the performance will begin at 10.

POLICE PROTECTION ASKED FOR 100-CAR CARAVAN

The "caravan" of 100 motor cars carrying druggists from points east of London to the big convention in Windsor next week will be parked overnight Sunday on the market square, Chief Burrell stated today.
"We received a request for police protection," stated the chief, "and we will have officers on duty watching the cars. I understand they will get here some time on Sunday and will stay here for the night. We will see to it that their cars are not molested."

HOBBY FAIR CUP WINNER IN SCHOOLS ANNOUNCED

Lord Roberts Is First, With Wortley Road Close Second.

DECIDE ON POINTS

Pottersburg School Has Splendid Showing, Standing Third On List.

Lord Roberts School wins the silver trophy donated by The London Advertiser to the school winning the largest number of points in the Rotary Club Hobby Fair, held in the armories the week of May 12. Wortley Road School ran a close second, and Pottersburg a smaller school,
did remarkably well to come third.

Lord Roberts School achieved its success through the large number of prize winning exhibits which found a place in practically all of the twelve big departments in the fair. Wortley Road School made higher averages in some departments, but lost out on the average.

The points decided on by the judges were: Gold medal, 100 points; silver medal, 75 points; bronze medal, 50 points; first, 50; second, 40; third, 30; fourth, 20; honorable mention, 10.
Cash prizes were allowed no points,
as they were only to prize winners.
The winner was decided upon by striking an average with the number of pupils on the enrollment of each school. In this way the Hobby Fair committee felt that the small and the large schools were each given a fair show.

Lord Roberts School had an average of 3.33 points per student for the total number of nearly 500 students in the school. Wortley Road averaged 2.87 from 526 students, and Pottersburg 2.56, with attendance of 219 pupils.

High Averages.
Following points by departments show Lord Roberts' consistently high averages: Boats, 75 points; art, 150 points; collections, stamps, etc., 480 points; stock, 500; mechanical and wood working, 400; sewing, 210; electrical, 20; pushmobile and miscellaneous, 130. A grand total of 1,665 points.

The medalists ran up high scores for their schools.
They were fairly well distributed through all the schools, the silver medal won by T. Wrenshall for the best boat was won by a pupil of Lord Roberts' school. The bronze medal, as were the two bronzes contributed by Eleanor McNeill, who scored high in art, and by Ben Higgins, winner of a household department, were however lost in other departments as in art, where Wortley gained but 10 points. The seven medalists of Wortley Road ran up a high average, but as the school did not have as large a number of exhibits they went behind.

Bill Walker of Pottersburg scored high for his school and won the silver third place. In addition to winning the bronze medal, he won the William McNeill special silver medal and

GERMAN LABOR MINISTER RULES AWARD BINDING

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, May 30.—Despite the coal operators' declaration that the award in the mining dispute is unacceptable, and although only the Christian miners' unions approve, while the Socialist unions are against it, the labor department today ruled that the award is binding on both parties.
This means an end of the conflict, provided the operators and radical unions bow to the decision.

The labor minister holds that the award points to the only way for the resumption of production urgently needed in the interests of Germany's economic life.

CANADIAN CLUB SPONSORS DOMINION DAY EVENT

Under the auspices of the Canadian Club of London and other local organizations, a patriotic celebration is planned for Dominion Day this year. There will likely be a parade, flag raising, and addresses.
Representatives of civic and public organizations have been invited to attend an organization meeting this afternoon.

BAPTISTS WILL PROBE BOARD OF MANAGERS

Associated Press Despatch.
Milwaukee, Wis., May 30.—In one of the stormiest sessions in years, and after bitter debate, the Northern Baptist convention today ruled by a vote approximately 7 to 6 to investigate the board of managers of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society on charges of appointing missionaries whose sentiments are not in accord with orthodox Baptist faith.

TWENTY-EIGHT COUPLES MARK GOLDEN WEDDING

Associated Press Despatch.
Brussels, May 30.—Twenty-eight couples, all residents of the pleasant town of Nivelles, celebrated their golden wedding on Ascension Day.
This is believed to be a record for a single town.

DR. F. G. BANTING, the discoverer of insulin, who will be honored by the University of Western Ontario when the honorary degree of LL.D. will be conferred on him tonight.

CONVOCATION WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Degrees Will Be Conferred by Chancellor Dr.
Roche.

The University of Western Ontario convocation takes place at the Majestic Theatre tonight, when the many candidates will receive the degrees. The Hon. Dr. Roche, M.P., chancellor of the university, will confer the degrees, following the address by Rev. Amie Charter of the University of Montreal.

Dean Hill, of the Institute of Polytechnic College, will introduce the candidates for the master of arts degrees, and Dean McKibbin, of the Faculty of Health, will present those qualified to receive the first master of science degrees conferred by the university through examination.

Art graduates will then be introduced by Dean McKibbin, and public health nurses by Dean Hill.
The convocation procession will proceed from the Y. M. C. A. to the Majestic Theatre at 7 p.m. No feature of university life is more colorful or more evidently a survival of many splendid scholastic traditions than a procession of graduates headed by doctors of the university, its faculty and senate.

CONIAGAS MINE MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss to Cobalt Plant Expected
To Reach $300,000.

Canadian Press Despatch.
North Bay, May 30.—Coniagas mine mill at Cobalt caught fire this morning, and was soon a mass of flames. Reports from there state the mill was a total loss.
The Coniagas is one of the largest silver mines in Cobalt.

The fire shot through the mill with terrific force, spread back to the shaft house, and took everything in its course. The buildings were dry as tinder and oil-soaked, and the firemen were powerless to check the flames in the mine property, although the surrounding properties were saved.

The property loss will be heavy, probably between $200,000 and $300,- 000, all covered by insurance, but a heavier blow is likely to be a partial cessation of work, at least, at the property, although no official pronouncement on this point is available.
The Coniagas Mines, one of the largest silver producing mines in Northern Ontario, cover forty acres in Coleman Township, and is one of the oldest and most favorable mines in the district.

The head office of the Coniagas Mines is in St. Catharines. R. W.
Leonard is manager. A. Longwell is vice-president. F. D. Reid, general manager, and J. J. MacKinnon, secretary.

SEEKS TO ESTABLISH CLAIM AS TO BIRTH

Associated Press Despatch.
London, May 30.—In connection with the legal action taken by Constance Mary Lyon, a 19-year-old stork clerk in Aberdeen, to establish her claim that she is the eldest infant child of Hubert Bowes-Lyon, nephew of the Earl of Strathmore, and that she is a cousin of the Duchess of York, a warrant has been granted at Edinburgh to secure the attendance at court of a witness, Miss Mackie, who refused to appear at a hearing of the case last week.

It is stated that Miss Mackie will be able to give evidence concerning meetings of Hubert Bowes-Lyon and Miss Smeaton, mother of Constance Mary Lyon, and can testify as to the plaintiff's birth previous to the marriage of her mother and Hubert Bowes-Lyon, and the subsequent legitimation of the plaintiff by the marriage of her mother and father.

MURPHY TRAILS

Winner of 1922 Classic Loses Lead at End of 100 Miles.

Associated Press Despatch.
Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Twenty-two flying little speeders dashed away on the annual 500 miles race at the Indianapolis motor speedway promptly at 10 a.m. today.
As the racers got away to a flying start they were given thunderous cheers from the solidly packed stands.

Jimmy Murphy at ten miles led the field, driving at an average of 98.75 miles an hour. Benny Hill and Harry Hartz were in second and third places.

It was announced that Joe Boyer in winning the first lap established a record for the first 25 miles in any race on the local track, his average being 98.39 miles an hour. Ernie Anstetter, an Indianapolis driver, was in the first accident when his car turned over on the back stretch during the first lap. He was not seriously injured, but his car was out of the contest.

Murphy was in the lead at 100 miles and the time was nearly two miles an hour faster than last year.
Earl Cooper, driving at better than 100 miles, swept into the lead after the 100-mile post had been passed. He held it at 150 miles, the time being 1:31:29.3, an average of 98.6 miles an hour.

Cooper was still leading when the halfway mark was passed. He was still followed closely by Hill and Murphy, who were in second and third positions, respectively.

Cooper's time for the 250 miles was 2:31:51.53, an average of 98.75 miles an hour. The best previous average time for 25 miles was made in 1921, when it was 94.92 miles per hour.
Cooper was compelled to make his first stop in the 150th lap. Murphy then took the lead with Hill in second place. Cooper was away again in 1:35.

MRS. RUSSELL GRANTED AN APPEAL IN DIVORCE

Associated Press Despatch.
London, May 30.—The House of Lords today granted the appeal of the Hon. Mrs. John Russell from the divorce decree awarded after a jury trial in March, 1923, to her husband, the Earl Russell. Reports from there
state the mill was a total loss.
The House adopted Lord Birkenhead's motion to the effect that the court findings that she was guilty of unconcoited adultery with a man alleged to be the father of her youngest child, and the consequent divorce of divorce, could not be set aside. Mrs. Russell's claim that her husband was a somnambulist was a novel feature of the case that has caused it to be widely followed.

AGREEMENT REMOVES POLITICAL OBSTACLE

Associated Press Despatch.
London, May 30.—The London Morning Post's Sydney correspondent says the agreement between the Nationalists and the Country Party in federal politics to form an alliance and to advocate an exchange of preferences in the next general election, removes a heavy cloud from the political horizon.

Fun and Interest For All

What is the fate of widows?
Where are the Indians?
Why can women... successful detectives?
All these questions are... tomorrow in the Saturday magazine section of The Advertiser.

A clever English woman, L. Vincent, is answering the first;
a chief of the Blood Indians of Alberta, the second; and the head of a Toronto detective agency, the third.

According to an official statement, 90,000 British war widows who lost their husbands in the war have re-married. This means that two-thirds of the war widows were fatally fascinating. Lady Kitty Vincent will tell why.

Glenn O'Mourne will write of an interview with the head of the Toronto Detective Agency, who makes the frank statement that women can never be detectives. Not only, he declares, are they too shallow, but they lack logic, nerve and perseverance.

Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, who answers the second question, is a full-blooded Redskin and a graduate of Carleton Indian College. He fought overseas with the Canadians, winning several decorations.

MARIE LOUGHLIN, Brescia Hall student, who won the governor-general's medal for the University of Western Ontario student with the highest standing in fourth year Arts.

MAY IS APPOINTED TO LONDON POST

Becomes New District Superintendent of Railway Mail Service.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ottawa, May 30.—W. J. May, who has occupied the position of acting district superintendent of railway mail service at London, since the death of D. J. McLean, former district superintendent, who died recently, has been appointed district superintendent with quarters in London.

Mr. May, who has spent 21 years in the railway mail service, was formerly inspector of postal service. Following the death of District Superintendent McLean on April 4, he took over that office in the capacity of acting superintendent.

When seen by The Advertiser today, Mr. May stated that he had received no word of the appointment from the postal department at Ottawa.

Woman Thought Porker a Hippo

Passenger Enlightens Old Londoner On Subject.

Do you know the difference between a pig and a hippopotamus?
A woman fresh from old London didn't, according to a local real estate dealer, and almost crawled out of the window of a train on its way from Woodstock to London, to get a look at the smoke of the metropolis.

Her exclamations attracted the attention of a sympathetic passenger and the identity of the wonder animal was explained.

The "old Londoner" was on her way to Windsor and explained that she had never before been out of the smoke of the metropolis.

BUFFALO YOUTH IS HELD ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Associated Press Despatch.
Bridgeport, N. S., May 30.—Donald Cook, Buffalo, N. Y., aged 18, who spends part of his time with his grandmother in Port Lorne, near here, has been taken into custody in connection with the murderous assault made on the aged Mrs. Jane Guest at her home in Port Lorne on the night of May 21. The grandmother of the youth emphatically declares he was in his bed at the time the assault was committed. The hearing is set for June 2.

EDUCATIONAL OFFICIAL WILL LECTURE IN CITY

A. W. Beal, department of education, lecturer on eugenics and personal hygiene, today commenced a fortnight's course of lectures at St.
George's public school.

Mr. Beal, who is official teacher in this work for public and high schools, will take only St. George's school for the summer holidays. This is the first of a series of lectures which will be given here.

TWO ARE CONVICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Associated Press Despatch.
Rumford, Me., May 30.—Mrs. Emma Lufkin and Leander Thurlow of Andover were found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury here last night. Judge Deasy at once sentenced them to life in prison.

Thurlow and Mrs. Lufkin were charged with causing the death of an infant girl born to the woman on Jan. 12.

and today Mr. Spencer placed a large number of skilled farm hands on various farms in the district.
The farmers are asking for men conversant with the work and the employment office is filling the requests as soon as they are received.

legiate Parents' Association warmed up at their meeting in Rectory Street Public School last night and discussed the live topic for over two hours.

It was an annual meeting and officers of the past year were re-elected.
While no formal vote was taken on the attitude of East London parents on the collegiate question, the whole meeting appeared to favor early action to have a separate collegiate building erected in the district.

McKay Outlines Position.

Ald. Frank McKay outlined his attitude in regard to the school question in the city council. He did not believe that there was the slightest possibility of East London getting a new building this year and declared that if legal procedure of the league was not observed, one man threatened to enter an injunction to restrain the city from making an appropriation for the erection of a new East London Collegiate Institute. After his talk, Ald. McKay answered many questions of the ratepayers present.

Favor Unit System.

Parents present were opposed to having the city divided into three district high school districts, but favored the unit system which in-mediate action without quibbling over minor points of legal interpretation.
Officers re-elected were: Honorary president, Ald. McKay; honorary vice-presidents, S. F. Lawrance, Rev.
A. E. M. Thompson, Rev. R. D. Mess,
Rev. A. A. Bice; president, Dr. R.
Gordon; vice-presidents, R. R. Rider, director, A. E. O'Neill; treasurer, L.
Tait; secretary, I. Goldstick; councillors, Mrs. Hogarth, J. E. Ross, H. Lee, Mrs. C. C. Edwards, Mrs. J. Hosie, and A. Scuse.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CADETS MAKE PERFECT SCORES

Fourteen Will Meet To Decide Championship of London.

Public School Cadets in London, who made perfect scores in the team shoot for the Strathcona trust prize are grouped in the final competition for the city championship and gold medal. Fourteen boys made perfect scores in target shooting at the Ar-morial. It was at first thought that the Strathcona competition would also bring out the individual champion, but this was impossible under the perfect range conditions which existed.

In the individual competition a change will be made in targets and the cadets may be made to shoot without rifle rests. The new target rifle is "almost too good." Cadet Brigadier Secord of Simcoe Strathcona States. Added to that, cadets have had more practice this year than ever before, the Laura Secord contest helping their shooting greatly.
Arrangements are now being made for shooting off the championship rounds and as soon as the Armorial can be secured the title can be decided.

TRINITY CHAPTER PLANS GARDEN FETE, JUNE 25

Home of Mrs. C. B. Chapman Will Be Scene of an Attractive Event.

The home of Mrs. C. B. Chapman, Elmwood avenue, will be the scene of an attractive garden party on Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 25, held under the auspices of the Trinity Chapter, O. E. S. of which Mrs. W. E. Manness is the worthy matron.
Arrangements are now well under way for this event, of which Mrs.
Chapman will be the general convener. Other conveners are as follows: Supper, Mrs. Blackmore and Mrs. Aikenhead; refreshment and tea room, Mrs. A. McWilliams, and Mrs. C. White; home cooking,
Mrs. W. W. Gammage and Mrs. Hart;
Coke, grocery booth, Mrs. Noble Ripley; program, Mrs. H. B. Elford and Mrs. McGuire; flowers, Mrs. George Dicks and Mrs. Gammage; publicity, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway; Mrs.
Harry Loney and Mrs. Herbert Easton.

APPRECIATION

Scarcely a day passes but that we have several new patrons tell us that they have come to us on the recommendation of our old ones. This pleases us immensely, as it tends to crystallize in our minds the feeling that we are rendering a bromine service.

CITY MOTOR CLUB CHARGES LAXITY

Claims Officers of Law Too
Lax on Glaring Headlight Ruling.

WILL PLACE SIGNS

Charging officers of the law with considerable laxity in the enforcement of the law barring glaring headlights on autos, members of the London Motor Club, in monthly session last night, unanimously agreed that the act in its present form was satisfactory and that the fault lies with officials for not enforcing the provisions.

An extensive discussion was held on the subject and a definite plan of bringing the present situation before government authorities will likely be laid in the near future.

Instances were also cited of the use of spotlights being abused and the directing of the "spot" beam in the center of the road, a popular pastime with some motorists, was especially condemned. Cars being driven at night with only one headlight was called one of the greatest road menaces.

Following requests from several public school principals that the "Go Slow" signs erected in school zones by the London Motor Club were missing in some districts, it was decided to take immediate action in the matter and the signs that have been damaged or knocked down will be replaced without delay.

The club went on record as approving the proposal of the Mount Pleasant Cemetery board to eliminate the dangerous curve at one corner of the grounds by the building of a new road.

BOYS AT Y.M.C.A. HOLD SPLENDID BANQUET

Rev. F. W. K. Harris Delivers
Address on Meaning of Red Triangle.

One hundred boys sat down to a splendid supper last night at the Y. M.
C. A., served by the ladies of the auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. H.
Henderson. Arnold Ramer, president of the Junior Leaders' Corps, presided over the evening's program. Rev. F.
W. K. Harris spoke to the boys on "Symbols," especially the red triangle which is emblematic of the Y. M. C. A.
He outlined a program of the "Y" which developed the body, mind and spirit.
Alex. Knox kept the boys wondering what was to happen next with some of his mystifying tricks. One of the features of the evening was the introduction of the Boys' Ukulele Orchestra, Gordon Butler, Jack Gunn and Howard Pollock, with Miss M. Griffiths at the piano, contributing some very fine musical selections.
Vic Wong presented the prizes for the membership campaign which was held in March. Travis Chapman presented the Hexathalon ribbons. Jack Mitchell called the roll, to which each section of the membership replied. The junior school section had the largest representation, and each boy in that section was given a Y. M. C. A. button.
Howard Obeay expressed the appreciation of the boys to the Ladies' Auxiliary and to Miss Griffiths for the splendid way they have assisted in the work of the boys' program this year.
E. J. Jenkins, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., brought greetings from the association to the boys. Several candidates for the coming C. S. E. T. Boys' Council election made their campaign speeches.

MARK OF ESTEEM.

Special to The Advertiser.
Forest, May 29.—About eighty of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Manning gathered at their home on the 12th concession of Plympton to say farewell before their departure from the community.
Mr. W. Kemp was chairman.
Mr. and Mrs. Manning were presented with a walnut library table and Miss Margaret Manning with an ivory hand mirror.
Mr. Manning replied in appreciation.

CONDITIONS IN SHOPS FAVORABLE FOR PLAN

Two Officials Conclude Manufacturing Survey of C. N.
Shops Here.

Conditions are favorable in the local C. N. R. shops for adopting a scheme of manufacturing there, supplies now purchased outside the system, according to O. R. Byers, consulting engineer for the railway employees' department, and R. G. Tallon, president of Division No. 4, of the Shopmen's Union, who last night concluded their survey of the London shops on Campbell street.

Both Mr. Byers and Mr. Talton expressed confidence that the plan would work out satisfactorily for both the company and the men. This move was advocated by the shopmen on the ground that it would make for economy for the company, and likewise benefit the employees, by assuring year-round employment.

It is pointed out that with all supplies being manufactured in the company's own shops the men will be kept busy on full-time all year round.

ATTRACTIONS COMMITTEE WILL DISCUSS DETAILS

This afternoon the attractions committee of the Western Fair board is meeting in the office of the secretary to discuss details connected with the musical program at the exhibition here next September. Several other matters left over from the last meeting will come up also.
The Johnny J. Jones shows, which appeared on the midway last season, will be here again this year.

MANY AMERICAN TOURISTS PASS THROUGH CITY TODAY

Dozens of American tourists, taking advantage of the Decoration Day holiday to make week-end trips into Canada, passed through the city this morning en route for points east.
In other years, when May weather conditions were more suitable for motor travel, the monthly tourist figure reached a high mark, but this spring only the genuine outdoors variety has been seen in this district.
Motor Club officials look upon Decoration Day as the real opening of the tourist season, and with warmer weather they assert that 1924 should be a record year.

WILL HONOR VETERAN.

Tomorrow afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock, "The Dugout," the club room of the local branch of the G. W. V.
A., will be closed in honor of the late Sgt. John Hall, a member since 1918, who passed away yesterday in Victoria Hospital.

LAST 2 DAYS OF ANNUAL STOCK-TAKING SALE OF HEINTZMAN & CO., LIMITED EXTRAORDINARY VALUES IN NEW AND USED PIANOS, PLAYER-PIANOS, ORGANS, PHONOGRAPHS

The most remarkable event in the history of piano selling in Canada is this annual stock-taking sale of Ye Olde Firme that comes along in May of each year, signaling the end of another year's business. Our financial year ends to-morrow night and this week we will complete the clearing of all stocks on hand. Remarkable as prices have been in former years, heavy emphasis can be placed on the reductions to be made at this sale. The great objective aimed at is to bring down the volume of stocks in order that the labor of stock-taking may be simplified.

Sale Positively Ends On Saturday, May 31, 10 p. m. THE PRICES THAT FOLLOW WILL ACCOMPLISH THIS END

You'll find it hard to resist the prices—and terms will be made so easy that there will be no barrier to buying right now. A very small sum of money will be needed to place an instrument in your home at once.

Bishop Leete Predicts Great Religious Revival Will Soon Sweep Continent

EVANGELISM IS GREATEST NEED

Bishop Leete Predicts Revival Will Soon Sweep Whole Country.

LAUDS METHODISM

Canadian Press Despatch. Niagara, May 29.—That the Dominion government should pass an act similar to the famous "eighteenth amendment" in the United States in order to properly and uniformly regulate the prohibition problem in Canada was the proposition submitted today to the Hamilton Methodist conference by the Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, secretary for social service and evangelism of the Methodist Church in Canada.

Canadian Press Despatch. Niagara Falls, May 30.—The business of Hamilton Methodist Conference is proceeding with facility and efficiency and good progress is being made. It is expected it will be completed early on Tuesday. Arrangements have been made to entertain the delegates Saturday afternoon to a sight-seeing motor trip during which all points of interest on both sides of the river will be visited, also the hydro development.

At the opening of conference this morning, Bishop F. D. Leete of the American Methodist Episcopal Church addressed the delegates. He said he did not expect to bring them anything new. Most of the good things in the world were old. The things which closely concern our own lives were the important things in this world.

"I would rather have the good-will and Christian love of any man than any admiration," said Bishop Leete.

Evangelism Needed.

The bishop said he wished to stress on the things which were going to happen in the next four years in the United States. Evangelism was what the Methodist Church is going to stress on in his country in the next four years. "That is what Methodism needs over there," he said. "The Methodist Church was called the Evangelistic Church. He believed that is what it was founded for. If Methodism lost its evangelism, what it ever do any great thing? As Emerson put it:

Bishop Leete declined to agree that Methodism had lost its enthusiasm. He declined to say Methodists had lost faith in the Old Testament. "We believe we can do much in the way of evangelizing the world by improving the environment of the people. He wouldn't be surprised, he said, if a great revival started on this continent somewhere in the next four years. It might be in California. He didn't care where it started as long as it swept the land.

College Is Commended.

The gift of influence for good to others is what we need to develop in ourselves, said the speaker. He feared that some ministers were too stiff and formal and some church services too solemn. The Christian life must be made more attractive to those on the other side.

A resolution commending Albert College on the subject of the institution.

Rev. Dr. Graham, educational secretary, gave an address on the educational phase of Methodism.

Dr. J. W. Graham said the Methodist Church must use all available methods to show young people the life must be made more attractive to those on the other side.

Dr. Moore Submits Basis.

Rev. Dr. A. L. Moore, secretary of social service for the Methodist Church, submitted a basis of a solution on the O. T. A. for the committee to consider.

That the Ottawa government pass an act similar to the eighteenth amendment in the United States, also that the Ontario government give ample notice of the date of the vote on the plebiscite if such a plebiscite is presented.

R. W. Trevelyan, of Harrison, made a report for the committee on church union appointed to take action on Dr. Chown's address. This report was in the form of a resolution, which was passed unanimously.

In conclusion the resolution said: "Therefore we feel constrained to affirm our unalterable conviction that the amendment to the constitution cannot be accepted as fulfilling the duty of parliament to the churches petitioning for incorporation in the United Church of Canada, and we hereby record our belief that by granting the simple measure of justice which we requested our country may be saved from prolonged religious chaos and national confusion."

Delegates Differ On Question Of Whether Motors Hinder Or Aid Sabbath Observance

Problem Raised at Conference of Women's Missionary Society in Montreal.

"NO'S" UNANIMOUS

One Tells of 800 Autos Entering Golf Course on Sunday—Other Stories Laud.

Special to The Advertiser.

Montreal, May 29.—What has been the effect of the motor car on Sabbath observance? was the question that came up at the conference on the social service report at this morning's session of the general council of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Mrs. J. M. West of Toronto conducted the discussion, and dealt more particularly with the rural districts. "How do the women of the rural sections feel about Sabbath observance?" asked Mrs. West. "Are you satisfied with it?"

There was an audible chorus of "No's."

"Is the difficulty in the home or in commercial ventures?"

One western delegate said that in her locality motor cars and visiting on Sunday are leaving the churches half empty. Several other speakers made similar observations.

On the other hand, a delegate also from the west, found that church services were better attended owing to the facilities of the motor car.

Another speaker stated that members of her church ran out in their autos a few miles on Sunday morning and brought people to church.

"It is not only in the country that the motor is helpful to Sabbath observance and church going," said a Winnipeg delegate, who thought Sunday golf was equally to be blamed; as many as 800 motor cars had been counted turning into the gates of the golf links on one Sunday.

"Is there anything women of the W. M. S. can do to Christianize Sunday?" the leader of the discussion asked.

Several suggestions were made, and a resolution was adopted by the committee on resolutions before the close of the biennial meeting.

EVERYTHING "STRAIGHT" AT THE POLICE STATION

But Lone Prisoner and One of Escorting Officers Stumble Down Steps.

Everything is "straight" about the police station, even the steps that lead from the courtroom to the steel cells below, according to Chief Birrell.

The lone prisoner who faced the magistrate this morning stumbled down the steps this morning and so did one of the officers who followed him.

"What's the matter with your steps, chief?" queried Crown Attorney Albert Ludd.

"They're too straight," replied the head of the police department.

Must conform to the rest of the surrounding commented on crown attorney, and the chief agreed.

ACTUARIES CONVENTION DELEGATES ARRIVE TODAY

This afternoon delegates began arriving here for the Actuaries Club convention, which will commence tonight and conclude on Saturday. This association includes actuaries connected with the insurance firms in Eastern Canada, as well as several executives of the companies.

Delegates are coming from Ottawa, Toronto, Waterloo, and several other outstanding insurance centers. While en route they will be the guests of the London Life Company.

COAL CATCHES FIRE.

DISMISSAL ASKED AT BISHOP'S TRIAL

Defence Counsel Submits Arguments Against Prayer Book Doctrine.

Associated Press Despatch. Cleveland, May 30.—Arguments were again in prospect when the trial of Bishop William M. Brown, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was resumed here today. The defence was in the midst of a motion to dismiss for want of evidence.

The motion came yesterday immediately after the church advocate rested his case on brief testimony. The rest of the case against the accused consisted of documentary evidence. The twenty-three excerpts from his book quoted in the presentment went in first. Their authenticity was admitted by the defence. The rest consisted of certain portions of the book, including cartoons on the cover and a picture of the bishop in his episcopal robes.

When Joseph Shantz, counsel for Bishop Brown, made his motion to dismiss, he started arguing that the Book of Common Prayer, which the court had held was the source of the church's doctrine, contained only liturgy and matters of discipline.

He read through the titles of the forms for morning and evening prayer, the litany and penitential offices and started to enumerate the special prayers, epistles and gospels for each Sunday and the various feasts and saints' days of the church.

"Just what is your object?" inquired Bishop John G. Murray, president of the court.

"I am trying to find some doctrine," replied the attorney.

Bishop Murray and some other members of the court joined in the laughter that swept the room, but he banged his gavel sharply when hand-clapping started.

"I am trying to find some doctrine," replied the attorney.

Bishop Murray and some other members of the court joined in the laughter that swept the room, but he banged his gavel sharply when hand-clapping started.

He read through the titles of the forms for morning and evening prayer, the litany and penitential offices and started to enumerate the special prayers, epistles and gospels for each Sunday and the various feasts and saints' days of the church.

"Just what is your object?" inquired Bishop John G. Murray, president of the court.

PROMISSORY NOTE OF $1,125 CLAIMED

A. Bice Sues J. W. Hennessy For Amount Alleged Due On Note.

THREE MORE ACTIONS

Three more non-jury actions have been set down for the county court sittings, which open at the courthouse June 3 before Judge Macbeth. Austin Rice of McGillivray Township is suing J. W. Hennessy of London for $115, which he alleges is due on a promissory note.

The defendant claims the note was given to the plaintiff conditional on the profits of a point enterprise, which turned out a failure. The defendant counter-claims $300 on a check on which the plaintiff is alleged to have stopped payment. Tenney & Tennent for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Ellen Ingles of London Township has entered suit against her husband, James Ingles, for certain goods and chattels which she claims she owns, valued at $498, and which are being held by the defendant.

Mr. Ingles says he married his wife on March 3, 1923, but since Dec. 12 of that year they have lived apart with the exception of two weeks in February, 1924, when he purchased certain goods from her valued at $50.

He claims in his statement of defence that he is willing to give up all goods and chattels except those which he purchased.

McEvoy & Henderson for the plaintiff, and A. R. Douglas for the defendant.

Mrs. Ida L. Hunter, executrix of the estate of her husband, the late Edgar Hunter, alleges a total of $1,809.71 is due the estate from Wm. Hunter, who, with her husband, was engaged in the livery business in London.

The defendant denies there is any money coming to the estate and denies all the charges, alleging that the partnership was dissolved.

McEvoy & Henderson for the plaintiff, and J. W. G. Winnett for the defendant.

TELEPHONE SURVEY STARTS ON MONDAY

Officials Ready To Proceed With Work in Two Provinces.

Monday next will see active operations commenced in the London division in connection with the inventory survey being made by the Bell Telephone Company of its entire outside plants in Ontario and Quebec, when a field staff of 25 university men and 25 practical men will begin work in three districts: Kitchener, Stratford and Windsor.

A complete survey not having been made for some years the present inventory will cost the company in the neighborhood of $150,000 in the two provinces. Work in the London district will be proceeded with in August. A. J. McVittie, as division engineer, is in charge of the work, with three field superintendents under him: E. MacLaren, W. R. Jobb and N. J. Robson.

The special inventory staff includes also an instructor, including R. Stevenson, in addition to the division engineer and field superintendents.

The university men of the staff held a breakfast supper at the MacLaren last night, at which E. Wither presided. A short program of brief speeches by Mr. McVittie, J. McLaren, C. Jobb and W. Jobb.

The Western University men, headed by the Toronto University men in an exciting game of indoor baseball, 29 to 18.

SCHOOL MAY BE READY FOR PUPILS BY FALL

Work at New Empress Avenue Building Now Progressing Rapidly.

While school authorities do not look for the completion of Empress Avenue school before the new year, weather and working conditions may make earlier occupation possible for the school year.

John Petherborough, contractor for the school, would not speak definitely for publication today, but dropped a hint that completion by autumn was not altogether unlikely.

The roof will be completed in two weeks time. The walls and half of the flooring are ready now. Once the roof is on, it is a matter of getting plastering, plumbing and other interior work going in full swing.

According to educational officials no provision is being made to have pupils of the present school in the London transferred to the new building, and the contract does not call for completion until March 1, 1925.

Other schools have usually taken over a year to construct, and it would therefore be quite a feat in contracting circles to have the handsome new school building ready before January 1.

MRS. W. DAWE AND SON RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Mrs. William Dawe, who was injured when a car driven by A. Taylor, London Township farmer, crashed with the car in the ditch, is slightly better today. Her son Allan, who was also painfully injured in the accident, is also improving.

Dr. J. McWilliam, who is attending Mrs. Dawe and Allan, at first feared that the boy might develop lockjaw, but he gave him injections following the accident.

W. J. BOSS IMPROVING.

W. J. Boss, prominent London contractor, who was injured last Saturday at Stratford, was reported by Victoria Hospital authorities this morning to have spent a restful night.

Mr. Boss had his leg broken when machinery which he was unloading slipped and fell. He received several minor injuries, but these have caused no serious trouble so far.

DATES GOT MIXED, COHEN GOT FINED

SCHOOL FAIR DATES

Chatham, May 29.—The evidence of two county magistrates, given in a county police court today, broke down an alibi of Chas. Cohen of Blenheim, and resulted in his conviction by Magistrate Arnold on a charge of selling liquor, which drew a fine of $300 and costs. He will appeal this case. Cohen told the court he was away from Blenheim on the day two officers called at his place, which he thought was a party, but really was April 29. Magistrate Carscallen of Wallaceburg testified that on May 2 Provincial Officer Lowe was in Blenheim on cases tried before him, and Magistrate Caldwell of Tilbury gave evidence that on May 2 License Inspector Side had cases before him in Tilbury.

The dates of county school fairs have been announced as follows: Sept. 11, Wallaceburg; Sept. 12, Wheatley; Sept. 15, Valletta; Sept. 16, Raleigh; Sept. 19, Dover; Sept. 22, Painscourt; Sept. 23, Eberts; Sept. 24, Kent; Sept. 25, Thamesville; Sept. 26, Highgate; Sept. 29, Ridgetown; Oct. 3, Blenheim.

A new gravel loading device has been installed at the county gravel pit at Cedar Springs which can be operated by one man. A number of teams had to be employed to haul the gravel to the hoppers under the old system.

Capt. A. Woody, of the Salvation Army hostel, is seeking Chas. Henry Whiting, a young Englishman, of whom his relatives in the old land have not heard for more than one year. His last letter was written in Chatham, but specified no address.

Frank Thibodeau of Dover Township, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting a constable, causing harm to Nelson Everley, when arraigned in county police court today. The case was enlarged as the alleged assault could not leave his bed on account of injuries. Following a dispute over the line fence, Thibodeau is alleged to have attacked his neighbor with a pitchfork.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, May 30.—Today Memorial Day, in honor of the soldiers who died in the great war—was observed as a national holiday throughout the United States. In all cities parades of veterans and ceremonies in which soldiers' graves were decorated held first place. Flags were flown at half-mast throughout the country.

While the morning was given over to a large extent to memorial services, the afternoon, as has become the custom, was given over to sports. In the eastern states the day officially opens the summer season and summer resorts reported an influx of visitors from the cities.

President Coolidge participated in the ceremonies at Arlington Cemetery, where he delivered an address and presented a wreath to the unknown soldier. The diplomatic corps attended in a body.

"DANDELION KING" NOW RESTING IN CITY JAIL

Stanley Merritt, Self-Crowned Monarch, Arrested Near Glencoe.

Those little yellow bobbed-roofed dandelions that can be manufactured into a fluid quite as potent as vodka are responsible for Stanley Merritt of Chatham being confined this afternoon in the Middlesex county jail.

Merritt, who describes himself as the "dandelion king," was arrested near Glencoe at noon today by High Constable Wharton, assisted by Provincial Constable Stratton, and had in his possession a two-gallon jar of dandelion wine, the first of the season.

Taken before Police Magistrate Peter Morrison, Merritt was fined $200 and costs for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. Ninety minutes from the time the officers arrived in Glencoe, the accused was arrested, tried and sentenced to jail in London lockup.

According to the constables, Merritt was creating a disturbance at the tourist camp of Mrs. C. C. near the body of Robert Frank's 14-year-old kidnappers' victim. Early today, on arriving at the court house, the racket that ensued some half-barrel of the precious dandelion wine was overturned and lost forever.

The cork blew from the two-gallon jar with a resounding bang, leading the stenographers to believe that a jail delivery was in progress.

THIRD ANNEX COSTS BORNE BY CITIZENS

Sewers Being Constructed in London East To Call For $29,800 Expenditure.

The 1924 statement of taxes for the city shows that the cost of the sewers being placed on streets in the London East annex is $29,783.59. As the annex has a fixed tax rate of 15 mills, this means that the remaining city ratepayers have to meet about a third of this price themselves.

Total assessments for the city are as follows: Business, $6,389,342; income, $6,118,586; real estate, $56,044,343, making a total of $68,552,142.

The total war tax of the city is $14,328. Divided into wards the assessment is as follows: Ward 1, $23,483; Ward 2, $15,932; Ward 3, $11,711, and Ward 4, $15,424.

The total school rate amounts to $10,123.89. Paving to be done in London this year amounts to $152,203, and the sidewalks will cost $9,871, which is almost equalled by the cost of the sidewalks in the annex, which is $9,846. In this case, however, the annex pays the whole cost.

Oiling the streets come to $12,787, sweeping to $25,181, cleaning the streets to $3,420, and the garbage collections to $64,949.

MASHER IS GIVEN VACATION IN JAIL

American Visitors Are Given a Taste of Quick Canadian Justice.

COULDN'T PAY FINE

Two American visitors who stopped off in London this morning for breakfast, were given an example of many Canadian justice that they won't forget for some time.

Arriving in the city at 8 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vaneter of Detroit decided it was time to dine. Mrs. Vaneter remained to the C.N.R. station to wash Canadian dust from her hands and face, while her husband walked down the street to a restaurant to order breakfast.

Walter J. Switzer, of no place in particular, saw Mrs. Vaneter, and according to the evidence given later in police court, used some insulting language in addressing her. He followed the American up the street for three blocks, when he saw her talking to her husband and later to a constable, he started to run.

Constable McMaster is, however, "some punking" time to him, and Mrs. Vaneter said she saw his wife on her own overtook the panting woman and placed him under arrest.

"What did he say?" asked the magistrate two hours later in police court.

"He said, 'I know all the people down at the jail, I'll get fed all right,'" replied McMaster.

"That was after I was arrested," interrupted the prisoner.

"We have also had complaints that he was begging," declared the constable.

Never Saw Prisoner.

Mrs. Vaneter stated she never saw the prisoner before. He had asked her when she landed in town, and also passed other remarks. He had followed her up Richmond street three blocks and back another three.

Mr. Vaneter said he saw his wife on the street crying, and after she told him about Switzer's actions he walked up to the man and asked him what the idea was. Switzer tried to hit him, and he called an officer. The prisoner told Mr. Vaneter that "I pay taxes, and I do as I please."

"I don't want to see you stopped this kind of thing," declared the court, "especially to strangers in the city. Where have you been working?"

"Let me tell you, Mr. Switzer, putting his hands to his head, 'I'm kind of mixed up on things.' I think you ought to go to the reformatory for six months," offered the magistrate.

"That would be a hard belt, your worship. It would be winter when I got out," pleaded the accused. "I haven't seen my poor old mother for years."

"Because you are a vagrant," said Mr. Graydon, the submitted Chief Birrell. "He has been sponging on immigrants for money."

Interested in Holland.

"I was just asking them about Holland. I'm under the doctor's care right now," announced the prisoner.

"It's the third time you have been here lately," came back the chief, whose memory was working overtime.

"Why not take me out and shoot me?" asked Switzer, who also said, "I'll fine you $25 and costs or 21 days in jail," decided the magistrate.

"Can't pay it," shot back the prisoner.

"I don't suppose you can," smiled the court.

Switzer was none too pleased with his sentence, and as he left the court took a vicious swing at Constable Nolte. The blow missed the constable, and landed on the inoffensive door, which slammed shut.

Exit Mr. Switzer from London streets for three weeks.

NEW ZEALANDERS PAY VISIT TO CANADIANS

State Co-operation of Farmers Largely Carried Out in Country.

The New Zealand Dairy Producers' Control Board, consisting of W. Grounds, J. R. Thacker and C. M. Thomas, which is touring throughout Canada and United States and Ireland, looking into dairying conditions as they pertain to the manufacture and distribution of butter and cheese, is in London today.

What has most impressed the visitors, who arrived at Vancouver about six weeks ago, is the disability of which Canadian farmers are placed in comparison with the farmers of New Zealand in having to house the cattle for several months of the year. In New Zealand, the leading dairy breeds are Jersey, Friesian, Shorthorn and Ayrshire, the cattle graze practically the year round.

Mr. Motion told The Advertiser this morning in a brief interview that 95 per cent of the butter and cheese factories in New Zealand are run by the farmers on the co-operative basis. Approximately 90 per cent of the produce is exported. New Zealand Cheddar cheese being the most famous of the year. In New Zealand, the leading dairy breeds are Jersey, Friesian, Shorthorn and Ayrshire, the cattle graze practically the year round.

During a three-day stay in London the party is being shown about by Frank Hens, secretary of the Western Ontario Dairyman's Association.

STRATHROY ORGANIZES ENTERPRISING LIONS CLUB

The members of the Lions' Club of London visited Strathroy last night and organized a club there. Captain Malone was elected president, and Mr. Mills, manager of the Bank of Commerce, was elected secretary-treasurer. Next Thursday night, June 5, will be charter night.

Col. C. M. R. Graham, district governor of Canada, presided at the meeting. The guest of honor was Arthur Brookwell, a national headquarters, Chicago. "Scotty" McCullough, of the hydro department, sang a number of songs and also led the members in singing.

They will start out on the charter night with forty members.

JAMIE BROWN AND WIFE BACK FROM PALACE TO COTTAGE

Aged Miner Ends Short Reign At Famous Holyrood Castle.

HEAD OF ASSEMBLY

Thanks All For Kindness and Goodwill During the Term.

Associated Press Despatch.

Edinburgh, Scotland, May 30.—"Jamie" Brown's term as lord high commissioner to the general assembly of the Church of Scotland has ended. The old miner and his wife have returned to their humble cottage home at Annbank, automatically divested of their temporary titles and dignities which, by universal testimony, they bore with great efficiency, modesty and dignity.

In his farewell address to the general assembly of the church, "Jamie" touchingly testified to Divine help in discharging his duties and heartily thanked the members of the assembly and the public for their unbounded kindness and goodwill.

"We have been received everywhere with open arms and by all classes," he said. "Our visit has been a continuous pleasure and the memory of our sojourn will remain with us as an abiding joy."

Girl Guide Saves Boy

Canadian Press Despatch.

St. Catharines, May 30.—Jean Kay, 16-year-old girl guide, left a ball game last evening in answer to an alarm from bystanders when Crawford Kearns, aged 9, fell from a plank into the old Welland Canal. Although not a swimmer, she jumped into the water, and after two unsuccessful attempts, finally brought the lad ashore, where others applied methods of artificial respiration and succeeded in resuscitating him.

ONE BADLY HURT AS AUTOS SMASH

Frank Lalonde Removed to the General Hospital At Sarnia.

THREE OTHERS HURT

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, May 29.—Injured in an automobile crash on the River road, near Corunna, late last night, Frank Lalonde of Detroit now lies in a serious condition in a cot at the Sarnia General Hospital. He is suffering from wounds about the head. Two others, occupants of the same automobile, escaped serious injury, while William G. Hafe, Sarnia, whose motor car was struck by the other, was badly shaken up.

Lalonde was in a motor car driven by Charles Dionne of Sarnia. Charles Lapham was the third occupant of the car.

The Lalonde car struck Hale's automobile from behind, swerved and plunged for 30 feet off the side of the road, finally turning a somersault and resting, a mass of wreckage, on the occupants.

Detective James Byerley went to Lalonde today in an effort to locate a young man who is alleged to have been one of the party which was involved in the crash. He is believed to be in the vicinity of the Sarnia General Hospital.

For four days in succession the Sarnia police court had an empty air. There were no adjournments, cases stated nor any arrests made.

The remains of Louis Van Somers were this morning conveyed to Bay from the residence of the family on the Copeland side road last Sunday night.

The Knights Templar of Sarnia and Port Huron held the annual Assemblage parade tonight to St. George's Church, Rev. Canon Collins delivered a stirring address. The brethren were all in gay uniforms, and the parade was most creditable in point of numbers and dress.

For four days in succession the Sarnia police court had an empty air. There were no adjournments, cases stated nor any arrests made.

DEMONSTRATES POWER OF RADIO KNIFE.

Dr. R. J. Carvel demonstrates the power of the radio knife by means of which medical experts expect to create a revolution in surgical treatment of cancerous troubles. The knife is really a needle and waves sent out at the rate of 3,200,000 a second burn the tissue away, searing the edges of the cut and thus preventing loss of blood.

BANQUET IS HELD AT HYATT AVENUE

"Mother and Daughter" Affair Declared Best Social Event in History.

NUMEROUS TOASTS

What was described to be the best social event held in the history of Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church was staged in the basement of the church last night in the form of a mother and daughter banquet.

The rather lengthy program, which dealt mainly with the relation of the daughter to the mother, consisted mainly of toasts, under the capable direction of the toastmistress, Miss Vera Teasdale.

In proposing the toast to mothers, Miss Teasdale compared the mother to a good fairy, who, when the children are fast asleep, mends the rents and tears in their dresses, prims their clothes, and in general puts everything in readiness for them to go to school and to their various places of work. Miss Teasdale further stated that one ounce of mother is worth a pound of clergy, and ended up by quoting the poem to "Mother" written by Helen Myrick, a young student at the Central Collegiate.

Declaring that the modern flapper was not to blame for all her foolishness and love of dress, but that it was the fault of the mother for babying her too much while she was a youngster, Mrs. J. H. Brooks made a very capable response to the toast.

Miss Gladys Burns rendered the very delightful and appropriate solo entitled "Mother of Mine."

The following were the remainder of the toasts: To the girl of today; Miss Lily Hoffman; to the mother of today; Mrs. J. Bullivant; to the girl and her country; Lotta Fisher; to the mother and her country; Mrs. J. Baxter; and others who took part in the program were Irene Ratz, Elsie Clark, Mrs. Harry Higgins.

The evening was closed by rousing cheers on the part of the girls for the mother and much more rousing cheers by the mothers for the girls.

CLAD IN OVERALLS THUGS GET $20,000

Posing As Workmen, Four Bandits Hold Up and Disarm Paymaster.

Special to The Advertiser.
 Detroit, May 29.—Four armed men clad in overalls and posing as workmen held up paymaster of an armored car bank messenger service, who was paying off employees of J. W. Murray Manufacturing Co., 1931-1975 4th avenue, shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon. Disarmed him, and escaped with between $18,000 and $20,000. The money was done up in envelopes, ready to pass out to workmen.
 The company maintains a bankers' express service, transporting money in armored cars to and from banks, and accepting the responsibility for delivering and distributing pay rolls.

RUSSIA DECLINES PACT OF LEAGUE

Russo-Japanese War Referred To in Unusual Communication.

NOT SATISFACTORY

Associated Press Despatch.
Geneva, May 29.—A reference to the Russo-Japanese war was a feature of the recent communication which the Russian soviet government sent to the league of nations outlining the reasons why it was opposed to the pact of mutual guarantees which was elaborated by the last assembly of the league. Developing one of the ideas of the league covenant, the pact in question provides for a gradual world disarmament, and incidentally it gives to the council the authority to decide which state is an aggressor when any serious difficulty breaks out between two powers.

In his note to the league, Tchitcherin, who signed himself "People's Commissary for Foreign Affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics," declared that in the present international situation it is impossible in most cases to say which party is the aggressor. He contended that neither the entry into foreign territory nor the scale of war preparations can be regarded as satisfactory criteria. He insisted that hostilities generally break out after a series of mutual aggressive acts of the most varied character.

Act of Aggression.
For example, Tchitcherin said, when the Japanese torpedo boats attacked the Russian fleet at Port Arthur in 1904 it was clearly an act of aggression from a technical point of view, but politically speaking, it was an act caused by the aggressive policy of the czarist government towards Japan, who in order to forestall danger, struck the first blow at her adversary. "Nevertheless," he added, "Japan cannot be regarded as the victim because the collision between the two states was not merely the result of the aggressive acts of the czarist government, but also of the imperialist policy of the Japanese government towards the people of China and Korea. The soviet government considers, therefore, that it is absolutely impossible to adopt the system of deciding which state is the aggressor in the case of each conflict, and making definite consequences depend upon such decisions. Tchitcherin admitted that there are cases in which a state attacks another without provocation, and said that the soviet government is prepared to make agreements with other governments to oppose attacks of this kind undertaken without due cause.

Quite Inadmissible.
Referring to the pact's authorization of regional agreements between groups of states, the soviet government said it regarded local agreement between states as inevitable, but deemed it quite inadmissible that they should recognize the pact as an international organization (meaning the league of nations) or that they should be regarded as beneficial to the soviet government. It was inadmissible, declared Tchitcherin, the obligation imposed on other contracting states to give the soviet government of hostilities to these coalitions of powers. He added, "the soviet government absolutely refuses to accept the reservation contained in the draft treaty which confirms the treaties of Versailles, Neuilly, St. Germain and Trianon. The soviet government took no part in the conclusion of these treaties and maintains an entirely negative attitude with regard to their provisions."

POSTAGE STAMPS USED TO DECORATE ROOMS

Priest Patiently Labors At Arduous Task, Now Complete.

Associated Press Despatch.
Burbank, Cal., May 29.—Perhaps the most patiently papered house in the country is that of the Rev. A. Bucci, a retired priest, who has "hung" two rooms of his home here with 149,242 cancelled postage stamps.

More than 20 years were required in collecting the stamps, according to Father Bucci, and practically every nation in the world is represented in the colorful designs of the wall borders and in the color schemes employed on walls and ceilings.

On one of the ceilings is a design of the Stars and Stripes, with Italian stamps forming the blue field and American two-centers supplying the red stripes. The brown staff upholding the banner consists of Canadian stamps, while the white stripes of the flag are formed by the strips of bare ceiling remaining after Father Bucci completed his "paper-hanging."

THEATRE, EMOTIONAL OUTLET DENIED IN ORDINARY LIFE

DR. F. W. MERCHANT, provincial inspector of normal schools, will be given the honorary degree of LL.D. by the University of Western Ontario tonight.

SHOOTING CHARGE TRIAL ON FRIDAY

Albert Matthews of Bayham
Also Faces a Charge of Conspiracy.

BAIL IS ALLOWED

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, May 29.—Charged with shooting at John Roberts with intent to maim, Albert Matthews, a Bayham man, was arrested by Provincial Constable P. Devlin on Thursday morning and will come up for hearing on Friday before Magistrate Maxwell in Vienna. Matthews is also charged, along with Fred Thornwaite and Lionel Wilson of Bayham, with conspiring to do grievous harm to Roberts. Matthews is released on $2,000 bail.

Burglary Alleged.
The police today arrested three boys on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of the City Dairy, on St. Catharines street, some time during Wednesday night. The boys are alleged to have stolen eight pounds of butter, five quarts of milk, and a small amount of money. The entrance was effected by way of the fire escape. The police found some of the goods at the house of one of the lads. When the boys appeared this afternoon before Magistrate Maxwell they admitted the theft. Matthews stated that they had taken some of the goods home to their mothers, telling them they had bought them. They were remanded to the cells for the night to appear before the magistrate in the morning.

To Meet Committee.
Representatives have been named to meet with the Legislature committee here on June 8. Speakers will be B. Ferguson, Port Stanley, F. Silcox, Iona, and R. A. Penhale, St. Thomas, for education. N. McConkey, Stratfordville, and E. Finch, Belmont, for the dairying interests; Wilson F. Mills of Sparta for fruit; W. Galbraith and D. Carroll of Iona for livestock other than dairying; and J. E. Lunn of Fingal for the bee interests.

Objective Near.
The workers in the Y. M. C. A. canvass today finished the drive. They reported that the total collected up to date was $18,969, which is about $1,000 less than the objective. The total amount collected last week was $15,471, and the finance committee expect a few more donations to come in that will bring the total well over $19,000.

John Hutton.
Death at an early hour Thursday morning claimed a well-known and highly respected citizen of Dunwich in the person of John Hutton, who passed away at his home, concealed six, after a brief illness. Born on the tenth concession of Dunwich, seventy years ago, he had lived in Dunwich all his life. He was a member of St. Helen's Roman Catholic Church at Wallacestown, of the Holy Name Society, and the League of the Sacred Heart.

Survivors are: Five daughters, Mrs. A. Millikan, Dunwich; Mrs. James O'Brien, Glanworth; Mrs. Norman Shipley, Mellow Dale, Alberta; Miss Millie Hutton, at home; two sons, Leonard, city; Gervase, at home, and one sister, Mrs. James Dooley, Dunwich. The funeral will be held on Saturday morning. Requiem high mass will be sung in Holy Angels Church, St. Thomas, at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in the family plot in the Holy Angels Cemetery.

Charles W. Bell, Noted Playwright-Lawyer, Addresses Kiwanians.

BROADWAY DEBUT

Calls the Bible the Most Remarkable Fount of Drama in Literature.

Charles W. Bell, author of "Paradise Alley" and "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," who spoke to the Kiwanis Club today, is for at least two reasons a unique figure in Canadian public life. Mr. Bell, who writes K. C. after his name, practices law in Hamilton, and combines with the law, the profession of playwright. The distinction is his of being the only Canadian to have a play produced on Broadway.

His address to the Kiwanis Club was on "The Drama of Everyday Life."

This subject was concluded with a stirring message of optimism for the theatre of the future. "There never was a time," Mr. Bell declared, "when so many men and women of courage and ability and standing were trying to make the theatre a force for the betterment of social conditions. Emotion, after all, forms the basis of all drama, with the exception perhaps of the work of Scandinavian playwrights, and G. B. Shaw, who is a class by himself. The emotion, which is underlying in all our lives, is evident with the thrill, but the whole course of life nowadays tends to subdue the feeling which comes simply from the heart."

Regrets Present Method.
"It is regrettable that the stress and strain of the lives men lead take away a good deal of the emotional capability and tie us down to hard facts, without play of the fancy or scope of emotion. Emotion, after all, forms the basis of all drama, with the exception perhaps of the work of Scandinavian playwrights, and G. B. Shaw, who is a class by himself. The emotion, which is underlying in all our lives, is evident with the thrill, but the whole course of life nowadays tends to subdue the feeling which comes simply from the heart."

The Bible, Mr. Bell, regards as the most remarkable fount of drama in the entire realm of literature, and he cited numerous dramatic incidents from both Old and New Testaments. The most dramatic moment of all, he said, was when Christ delivered His immortal reply to the thief who hung with Him upon Calvary. "This day, shalt thou be with Me in Paradise."

Actual experiences of his own, in both the theatre and the legal profession, formed a large part of Mr. Bell's address. One instance was an example of the faithfulness and devotion which forms the life of the theatre. A musical comedy of his own was scheduled for production on New Year's Eve. The price of the tickets took ill, and it seemed inevitable that $60,000 sunk in it and the reputation of the company, should be lost. A chorus girl of nineteen came forward, and in five days learnt the role. She went through with it successfully till the drop of the curtain. At that moment she fainted, and her lower lip was completely macerated, as she had bitten it in the terrible ordeal of the evening's performance.

Another instance showed the absurdity of much of the criticism of the theatre. An anti-vice society reported an objectionable play to the New York police, and a couple of officers went out, and discharging better intelligence than the vice-crusaders reported the play to be "Hamlet," by one William Shakespeare.

FAMOUS WOMAN CROOK CAUGHT IN RUMANIA

"Black Thrush" Is Name For Beautiful German Woman.

Associated Press Despatch.
Burbank, May 29.—"The Black Thrush" is the name which the criminal world has given to a beautiful German woman who has been arrested on the charge of heading a gang of counterfeiters which operated in Jassy and flooded all central Europe with counterfeit $100 bills and other bad money.

Fraulein Josephine Durmand is the woman's real name. She is a native of Berlin, but has confined her activities chiefly to the south of Europe, where she was known as Baroness Schattenheim and by various other names.

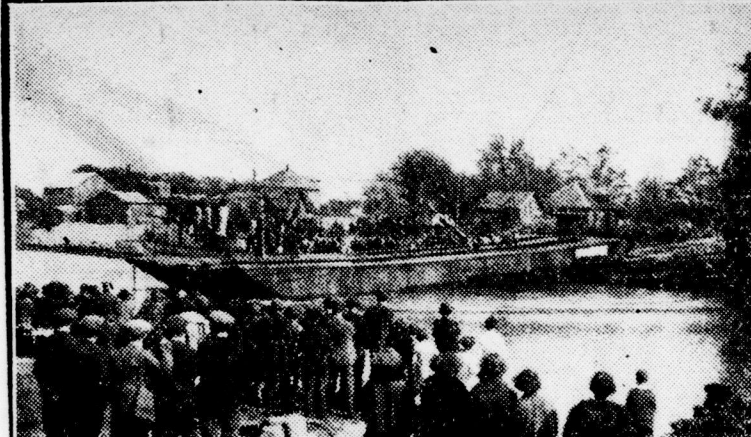

The woman, now about 30 years old, began to figure in police circles of Vienna when she was only 18 and later moved to Italy. She became well known about gaming clubs and was in many escapades. Being able to speak six languages, she moved about with great ease.

During the war she served as a French spy in Germany. She was arrested in Berlin, but a guard fell in love with her and with his aid she was able to escape. The guard was sentenced to death by a court martial.

Fraulein Durmand came to Burbank two years ago with a false passport. She met many old associates who were living in Jassy and is supposed to have organized the gang of crooks which began printing bad money on a large scale. Fraulein Durmand was arrested in a hotel at Klausenburg.

SCALP WORTH $2,000.
Associated Press Despatch.

Honolulu, May 29.—A human scalp is worth $2,000, according to the territorial industrial accident board in claiming its first award. The territory for personal disfigurement with-out accompanying disability. The award was made to a Japanese woman employed in a clothing concern. Her tresses caught on a revolving shaft and she was scalped. Her other injuries healed perfectly.

LAUNCHING OF GRAVEL BOAT.
Vessel is 130 feet long on deck and 100 on the keel, with a hold depth of 7 feet. She will carry 200 cubic yards of gravel, and will be used by the owner, J. S. Fraser, K.C., of Wallaceburg, to supply gravel needs along the Sydenham and Thames rivers. The vessel cost about $20,000, and was built in the McDonnell shipyards at Wallaceburg.

Snakes Sold By the Foot To European Menageries

Berlin, May 30.—Many, the largest and most popular pet at the Berlin zoo, who died some weeks ago from eating too many peanuts, and women of courage and ability and standing were trying to make the theatre a force for the betterment of social conditions. Emotion, after all, forms the basis of all drama, with the exception perhaps of the work of Scandinavian playwrights, and G. B. Shaw, who is a class by himself. The emotion, which is underlying in all our lives, is evident with the thrill, but the whole course of life nowadays tends to subdue the feeling which comes simply from the heart."

EXCAVATION WORK BEGINS FOR GARAGE

New Civic Building Is Being Constructed on Bathurst Street.

Excavation work has started on the civic garage on Bathurst street, and will be ready for the brick work when tenders for this have been presented to the finance committee by the engineer.

The building, which is a hundred feet by forty, will be a two-story affair, and will be large enough to house the city's road and engineering equipment for many years to come. It adjoins the present asphalt plant, and will centralize the work of the department, and save much time, which is now taken up with transferring machines needing repairs from the plant to the temporary shops, which are on Horton and Wellington. The new building will contain all repair machinery and forges and wagons and so on will be put in order on the spot by the mechanics of the department.

Obituary

MRS. MARGARET BLACKMAN.
The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Blackman was held yesterday from her residence, lot nine, Gore road, Westminster township, at 3 o'clock at Scottville Cemetery.

The Rev. Steadman of Lambeth conducted the services, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Her husband predeceased her by 42 and a half years.

SIXTY THOUSAND GALS. OIL USED EVERY DAY

Cool, Dry Weather Adapted to Work, City Engineer States.

Some sixty thousand gallons of crude oil are being used on the city streets every day according to the city engineer. This cool dry weather, whatever the average citizen may think of it, just suits the engineer for this kind of work, and the absence of rain allows the oil to sink into the ground. In the early part of the season, the frequent rains washed the oil off the streets, and wasted both the oil and the time of the men.

The oil is sprayed on the streets as hot as it can be made, which makes it more quickly assimilated by the road, and allows it to run more freely through the nozzles of the pipes on the sprayer.

Under present regulations those streets are oiled which are petitioned for by the residents on the streets, though in cases it means that streets whose soil is not suited to oiling must get its oil in due course. The engineer states that with the weather, the oiling works well enough, but that with a city street it is practically so much wasted time, and work. Clay will not absorb the oil to any extent, and it simply lies on the surface until the rain washes it off.

CROP PROSPECTS. Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy, May 30.—Discouragement seems to be the main portion for the farmers of this district. Due to the continued cool weather, oats and corn are rotting in the ground. Many growers of canning factory peas, which are a major crop in this vicinity, state that the early fields have already rotted and will have to be re-sown. The only bright spot seems to be fall wheat, which on the clay soil gives promise of being a wonderful crop, although somewhat late in heading out. On the sand, the wheat is not so good, but looks well.

CIVIC PENSION SCHEME IS FAVORED BY MAYOR

Against Raising Salaries With Large Number of City Men Unemployed.

The mayor is of the opinion that the salary question as far as city hall employees is concerned, is finished, and sees no need to introduce the subject again this year, as has been done by the finance committee. "I think we have got all the changes necessary in the city officials effected now," he said, "and that there is nothing more to be done this year in this direction. I am in favor of the institution of a pension scheme for all city employees of course, but I don't know of any salaries that need changing."

"When there is so much unemployment in the city is not the best time to talk of raising city salaries without good cause. Under the pension scheme every man would know the maximum salary in his position, and would know what was the age limit and what would be his allowance. The sooner London has this system the better."

PET MONKEY SACRIFICED TO TEST ELECTRIC CHAIR

Associated Press Despatch.
Manila, May 29.—Ronquillo, a monkey which has long been a pet around the Luneta police station, has been sacrificed on the altar of science. The Philippine government more than a year ago adopted the electric chair as a means of executing condemned murderers, and in order to test the efficiency of the apparatus, which recently was received from the United States, Ronquillo was commandeered as the first victim. It required five seconds to kill the monkey.

Officials have announced that the chair is ready to be used for the electrocution of nine murderers who have been held in Bilibid prison awaiting the installation of the apparatus. The Philippine Islands is the first country in the Far East to adopt the electric chair for the execution of murderers.

METHODISTS ARE ANNOYED AT DELAY

Rev. Dr. Chown Says Church Cannot Be Held Much Longer.

HITS AMENDMENT

Canadian Press Despatch.
Niagara Falls, May 29.—That the chiefs of the Methodist Church are becoming impatient with the delay in bringing church union into effect was indicated by the criticism voiced today by Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, when addressing the annual Hamilton Methodist conference, which opened this afternoon in Lundy's Lane Methodist Church.

Dr. Chown condemned the action of the Federal private bills committee in amending the church union act calling for a ruling in legality of the act. He felt this would cause delay from two to six years and would work great damage to the cause of the Lord. The Methodist Church has been patient enough, he said, and would not stand for further dallying. "It will be impossible to hold the Methodist Church much longer," he added, and expressed fear that there was danger of independent local churches in the Canadian West forming new church bodies among themselves.

The conference opened with 300 delegates present. Rev. H. S. Dougall of Oakville was elected president of the conference on the second ballot.

Oppose Plebiscite.
A resolution, which was passed unanimously, vigorously defended the Ontario temperance act and disagreed with the proposal to take another vote on the liquor question. The resolution condemned government control as "asking our government in its corporate capacity, to be bartender for the province."

The laymen's association in the report to the conference also presented a resolution on the O. T. A. recommending that the association opposed spending thousands of dollars in taking another plebiscite and urging the government to more strictly enforce the present law. However, should there be an amendment of the O. T. A. and the government took charge of liquor selling that the strength of native wine be reduced to the same plan as beer.

Family worship was also urged adopted by all Methodist families, something the association felt is being sadly neglected. This evening was devoted to the missionary anniversary, addresses being given by H. P. Moore of Acton and Rev. Dr. James Endicott, a general secretary of the foreign mission department.

The annual elections of officers of the lay delegates' association of the Hamilton District Methodist Conference was held today, and resulted as follows: President, R. W. Trevelyan; Harrison, first vice-president; J. J. Pritchard; Harrison; second vice-president, C. R. Bilger; Dunnville; secretary-treasurer, A. Sennott; Brantford; convener of missions, A. C. Plevman; Hamilton; evangelism and social service, T. A. Rutherford; Galt; executive committee, J. H. Rush, Tillsonburg; Miss McCann, Fonthill; Norman, Gilbert, Bronte; G. P. Bateman, Mount Forest; W. I. Thomas, Ingersoll; G. Heximer, Niagara Falls. Miss McCann is the first woman to be appointed an officer in the association.

CORN BREAD.
 Sift two cupsful of corn meal with one cupful of sifted flour, five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of salt; add two well-beaten eggs, one tablespoonful of melted butter and one and a half cupsful of milk; beat smooth, pour into a shallow buttered baking pan and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven.

MACARONI, CHRISTIAN.
 Boil three-quarters of a pound of whole wheat macaroni in boiling salted water to which has been added one tablespoonful of butter and one small onion stuck with two cloves; when tender, but not soft, drain in a colander, place in a baking dish, add two tablespoonfuls of butter, a seasoning of salt and pepper, three tablespoonfuls of grated cheese and enough milk to nearly cover the macaroni; place in the oven and bake a nice brown.

WHOLE WHEAT MUFFINS.
 Sift three cupsful of 100 per cent whole wheat flour with one tablespoonful of sugar, one tablespoonful of salt, and six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder; add to them one tablespoonful of melted butter, one well-beaten egg and one cupful and a half of milk; beat smooth, fill buttered muffin pans two-thirds full with the mixture, brush the tops with melted butter and bake 20 minutes in a fast oven.

CONSOMME DUCHESSE.
 Place in a saucepan three and a half cupsful of water and half a cupful of well-washed rice, bring to a boil and boil 15 minutes, add half a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of sugar. When the rice is soft and just before serving add three cupsful of hot milk, bring to a boil, add half a teaspoonful of paprika and serve with croutons.

VEAL, CASSEROLE.
 Chop half a cupful of salt pork in small pieces and fry until clear in a saute pan, remove the pieces of pork, add to the pan a pound of sugar and one level teaspoon of salt; add to these two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, two well-beaten eggs and enough milk to make a smooth batter. Fill buttered muffin tins two-thirds full with the mixture and bake in a quick oven. Graham muffins are made with the same ingredients, using Graham flour in place of whole wheat flour.

QUEEN SALAD.
 Cover cold salad plates with chicory, cover the chicory with sliced and quartered peeled tomatoes, cover all with French dressing and sprinkle with finely-chopped chives.

WHOLE WHEAT MUFFINS.
 Sift three cupsful of fine whole wheat flour with six level teaspoons of baking powder, one tablespoon of sugar and one level teaspoon of salt; add to these two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, two well-beaten eggs and enough milk to make a smooth batter. Fill buttered muffin tins two-thirds full with the mixture and bake in a quick oven. Graham muffins are made with the same ingredients, using Graham flour in place of whole wheat flour.

ICE CREAM FROSTING.
 Boil three cups of sugar with a scant cup of water until it will spin a thin thread when dropped from the tip of a spoon. Beat the whites of four eggs in a stiff froth and beat in a thin stream the hot syrup, beating until all of the syrup is mixed in and then beat ten minutes. Use one-third of this icing to cover the cake and two-thirds to make the filling. Flavor with vanilla.

HYDRO RATES REDUCED IN 155 MUNICIPALITIES;

Commission Sends Out Notifications of Annual Adjustment of Rates.

INCREASE AT THREE

Sir Adam Beck Announces Simpler Charge System Will Be Used.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, May 29.—Notification of rate adjustments is being forwarded tomorrow by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission to 212 hydro municipalities. Of this number 155 are being told that reduced rates are in store for them, three are being advised of slight increases, and 54 are having their present rates confirmed without any change.

Decision upon the rates was reached by Sir Adam Beck and Chief Engineer F. H. Gaby late this evening. The adjustment is an annual one, made after the annual returns of the municipalities are made up. It the year shows a profit for a local commission, the Ontario commission computes the rates to which the local commission's rate should be cut in order that its power may be delivered at cost. If the municipality should have incurred a loss during the year, the hydro similarly computes the increase in rates which is necessary in order to make the books balance. The rates submitted and recommended by the Ontario commission are invariably concurred in by the local commissions.

The changes during the coming year in Toronto power rates will be two-fold. For commercial power there will be an increase in the number of hours usage for which the first rate

Hays, who had served in that position for 25 years. Mr. Hays is prominent in many local activities, and when the Lions Club was formed two years ago he was chosen as the first chief.

will be charged, which will be equalized by reductions in the second rate charge. For domestic power a recommendation of the executive of the Hydro Municipalities' Association will be adopted, which will base the charge for electricity upon a combined service and kilowatt hour charge. This basis is likely to be generally adopted throughout the municipalities.

MURDER IS VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY

Fred McGaughey Declared Guilty of Death of Beatrice Fee.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Lindsay, May 29.—The coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Beatrice Fee, the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fee of Omema, tonight brought in a verdict that "Fred McGaughey of the township of Ops, in the county of Victoria, on Sunday, May 25, 1924, shot and killed and murdered Lillian Beatrice Fee."

Miss Fee had been engaged to McGaughey, and it is claimed she refused to go ahead with the marriage because of his drinking. On her refusal, Sunday night, while in his automobile, he shot her and afterwards took her into his house. He telephoned for a doctor, and when the physician arrived she was removed to Lindsay Hospital, where she died.

Paris green packages, a carbolic acid bottle, a six-ounce whiskey bottle, filled, were all exhibited at the inquest. Officer Storey told of the struggle made by McGaughey to take the Paris green, and then he repeatedly stated that he was crazy. He knew he was crazy, and wondered why others did not know it.

Dr. Rich of Lindsay said that he received a phone call Sunday night from Fred McGaughey to "come quick, there has been an accident."

He was met at the door by Fred McGaughey, who said, "Come in, doctor, I believe I have shot a girl."

He took me through the dark house to the front room downstairs. There lay the girl, deadly pale. Her waist was torn from her side and the clothing was saturated with blood. She told me not to bother with her, the witness continued. "She told me not to do anything for her, as she would rather die than live. I found four bullet wounds and dressed them."

Then Lawrence McGaughey, brother of the accused, arrived. Fred asked me if she would recover, and I replied that she was very serious. Then he pulled his gun and said, "Well, I might as well end my life, too," but Lawrence got the gun from him. At the hospital I heard Miss Fee make that statement that Fred and she had quarrelled, that Fred said, "Well, you have broken my heart, but you won't break another's."

Officer Storey stated that "McGaughey when arrested continued to shout, 'I am crazy, I am crazy, I want to die.' Fred did not stagger when I first saw him, but he appeared to be under the influence of liquor and he smelled like it."

"Did you see Miss Fee take off the bandages on her chest and showing the wounds to Fred, saying, 'Now, see what you have done?'" Crown Attorney Anderson asked Lawrence, a brother of the accused.

"Yes," replied McGaughey.

ST. THOMAS PROTESTS TAX COLLECTION PLAN

Those Affected by Amusement Tax Oppose Closing Local Sales.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, May 29.—A petition protesting against the change in the system of collecting the amusement tax in the province, and requesting the council to join in memorializing the government against such a change, was presented to Mayor Sloggett this afternoon. The petition is signed by all the businessmen of the province and is heard from by the change. The petition will be presented to the council on Tuesday, but in the meantime Mayor Sloggett has wired to W. H. Price, the provincial treasurer, asking him to hold up the enforcement of the changed system until the municipalities and lodges which will be affected

"The Finish that Endures"

EXTERIOR PAINT

For Exterior and Interior Painting Gives the Lowest Annual Service Cost Per Thousand Square Feet.

Covers 500 Square Feet, Two Coats, to the Gallon

Exterior gives this greater covering capacity and 25% greater durability by reason of the fact that it is made from a scientifically treated pure raw linseed oil. This oil has all of the good qualities of a long-aged linseed oil, so well known to the old-time painters. It produces a self-levelling finish—it leaves no brush marks, and gives a high gloss, enamel-like finish that does not gather nor retain dust or soot. Mogglaze Exterior is not an enamel, but a strictly pure linseed oil paint. Its long life eliminates frequency of renewal, thereby cutting down labor costs in keeping your property well painted and thoroughly protected.

UTILITIES COMMISSION DEALS WITH CIVIC POOLS

Unsuitable Weather Only Is Holding Back Opening of Swimming Grounds.

GOLF COURSE READY

New Sporting Plant Will Be Christened "Thames Valley Golf Course."

Decision to open city swimming pools as soon as weather permits was reached at the session of the public utilities commission on Thursday afternoon. It was pointed out that with the coming of warmer weather children would go bathing anyway, so they might better have the use of the supervised swimming pools, where they would have more assurance of safety.

Supervisors have all been appointed, and the civic playgrounds will be opened at the end of the present school term. Jerry Goodman is in charge of the work, with Miss Edith Pryce as special supervisor of girls' play. The lady supervisors are: Frances Talbot, Rose Saunders, Marie Laughlin, Miriam Eckert, Helen Barbour, Miss Kirkwood, Stirling Westland and Marion Drew. The men supervisors are: Ken Hunter, Bill Wanless, Charles Barbour, Ken Lindsay, Nelson Saunders and Ken McFarland, while in charge of swimming pools will be Jack Pollock, N. W. Wooding and J. MacWilliams. The appointment of this staff was ratified by the commissioners. It was decided that the council be approached with a view to securing a further appropriation of $3,600 to put in a new filtration plant at the Thames Park swimming pool.

Request Handed On.
A request to the park committee to have the Federal Square made a civic playground was handed on to the parks committee with the recommendation that no action be taken, as the property was too close to Dundas street and the busy section of the city.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan announced that the new golf course would likely be ready for opening in three weeks' time. A name was asked for it, and the commissioners will christen the new sporting plant "Thames Valley Golf Course." Several names were suggested, but on Commissioner MacFarland's recommendation this name was chosen.

Considerable business arising from committee reports of a routine nature was completed in the hour's session. An accident claim in which a city-owned automobile had caused damage to another car was ordered settled. It being noted incidentally that since a complete insurance scheme had been abandoned last fall $1,000 had been saved the city.

DRASTIC MEASURES TAKEN IN COLLECTIONS

Toronto Finance Commissioner Recommends Plan To Get Civic Taxes.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, May 29.—Drastic measures to enforce payment of civic taxes when due were recommended to the board of control this morning by George H. Ross, the city finance commissioner. Before they can be put into effect, however, they have to be considered by the city council and legislation would have to be secured from the province. The recommendations include a heavier penalty charge on all taxes in arrears beginning one month after due date and increasing until the end of the year, and that power be given the city to sell, within six months after the close of the fiscal year all real property against which there are arrears of taxes. It is also recommended that a municipal court be constituted to deal with the claims of the city against delinquent business and income tax payers and that the use of distress warrants in the collection of taxes be permissible, but not compulsory.

Tuesday.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, May 29.—"Astonishment at the fact that when papers were placed on the table of parliament last Tuesday, only one report was selected for publication—that one being an adverse report made in 1917 by Engineer R. W. McLachlan, when it is a known fact that Mr. McLachlan cancelled that report by a new one in the opposite direction in 1918," was expressed by F. J. Gray, president of the "On to the Bay Association," in a statement issued here today.

Mr. Gray further states that progress was being made towards achievement of the aims of his organization at Ottawa, and forecasted success in its efforts when the full program of the association was carried to its conclusion.

Student's Body Believed Found

Toronto University Scholar Disappeared Six Months Ago.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, Ont., May 29.—The body found floating in the bay yesterday afternoon is believed to be that of Russell Truscott, son of Edwin Truscott, aged 25 years, a medical student, who disappeared six months ago after completing his examinations at the University of Toronto. He suffered a nervous breakdown immediately after the course. His father stated tonight that he had not been in good health since his return from overseas.

Young Lady Gains Fifteen Pounds

Miss O'Brien of Peterboro, Finds Wonderful Relief From Digestive Disorders in Dreco, the Famous Herb and Root Remedy. Now Has Fine Appetite and Sleeps Soundly.

Mrs. D. O'Brien, of 821 St. George street, Peterboro, tells how Dreco is helping her 20-year-old daughter regain her wanted health and spirits, by correcting digestive ailments that were making life a misery.

"For about a year my daughter Marguerite has been suffering from stomach trouble," says Mr. O'Brien. "Gas would form on her stomach and she would have terrible bilious and dizzy spells. Her nerves were very bad and her whole left side would tremble. She had a very poor appetite and, in fact, was afraid to eat because of the suffering afterwards.

"She lost weight rapidly and although I must have spent hundreds of dollars seeking relief for her, it was only when we discovered Dreco that improvement commenced.

"Three bottles of this grand medicine have done wonders for her. She no longer has any trouble with her stomach, has a fine appetite and sleeps soundly at nights. Dreco has built up her entire system and she has gained fifteen pounds in weight since starting with it."

Dreco is a reliable tonic and corrective made from the pure extracts of herbs, roots, bark and leaves. It contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs. Everybody needs just such a tonic to keep their system in proper shape.

Dreco is being specially introduced in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and is sold at all their stores in London, St. Thomas, Woodstock and Stratford. It is also sold as follows: Chatham, Liggett's Drug Store, Clark's Drug Store; Sarnia, Liggett's Drug Store; Galt, Cant & Cant; Ridgetown, D. H. Stewart; Bothwell, Bothwell Drug Store; Lucan, H. S. Stanley; Goderich, H. C. Dunlop; Strathroy, F. L. Grieve; Tillsonburg, C. V. Thompson, the Rexall Store, and by a good druggist everywhere.

Six of Spectacular Dives Outlined By Miss Berlo

Somersaults of Different Kinds Explained—Correct Technique Is Given—Person Should Enter Water in Vertical Position—Agile Persons Only Ones To Perform Feats.

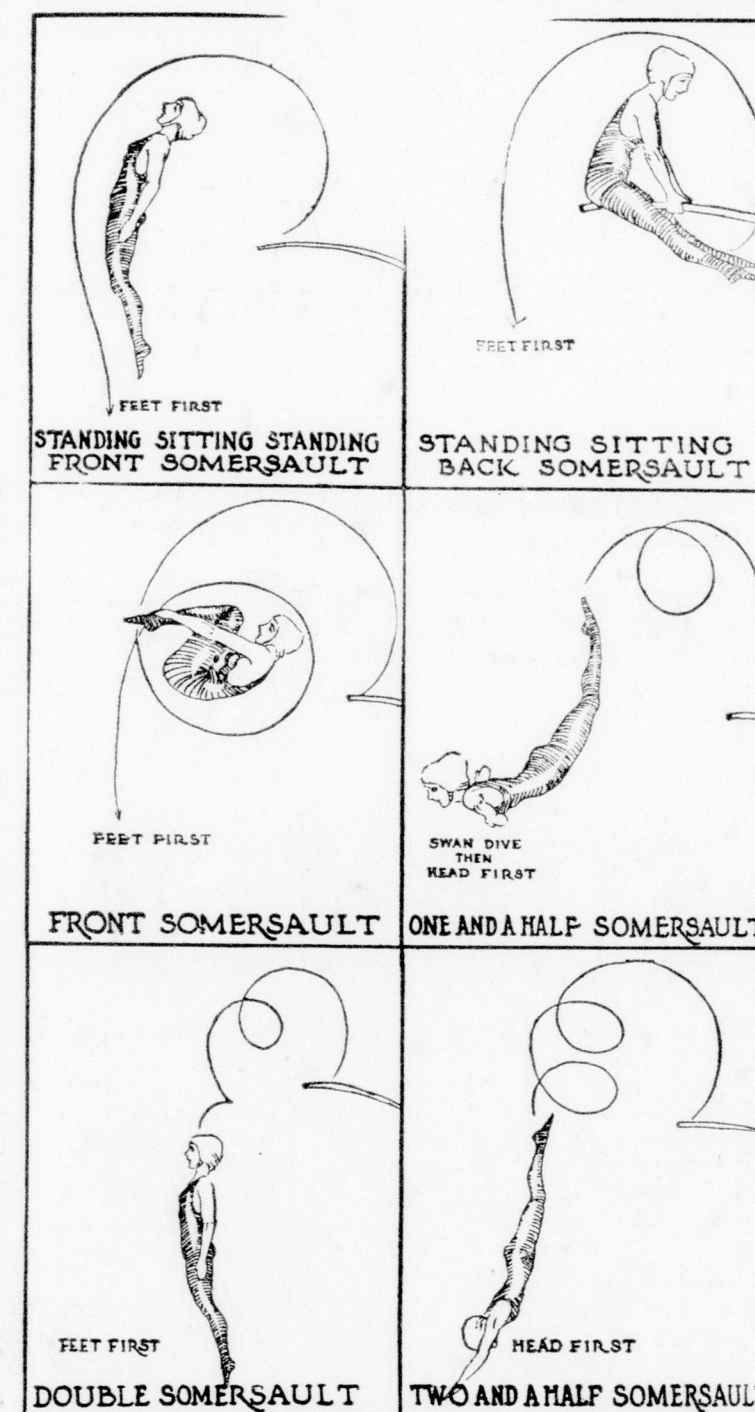

THIN PEOPLE NOT NECESSARILY THE BEST

By MADELINE BERLO.

The famous somersault dives—the standing sitting, standing front somersault, standing sitting back somersault, the front somersault, one and a half somersault, double somersault and two and a half somersault—are perhaps the most spectacular of all. I will refresh in your minds the proper execution of a somersault, which I described in lesson 2.

The correct technique for a somersault. Follow the same procedure, except that you make two complete revolutions in the air before striking the water. If the height from which you are diving is sufficient, it is customary to execute a lay-out so as to enter the water feet first. In most instances the diver finds herself entering the water in an almost sitting position.

Two and a Half Somersault. Execute two complete somersaults.

saunt calls for the diver to draw the knees up until they touch the head; he then grasps the legs at the ankle to execute what is known as a tuck in. The perfect dive is not complete unless the lay-out is executed before entering the water.

Standing Sitting Somersault. Stand on the edge of the board with the back to the water; leap straight up, come down in a sitting posture, limbs astride of the board, hands grasping the board just above the knees. Rock back into a backward position and throw the limbs up into the air and then complete a back somersault before entering in a lay-out so as to strike the water vertically, feet first.

Front Somersault. Stand erect, leap up into the air and complete one somersault, execute a lay-out, striking the water vertically head first.

One and a Half Somersault. This is performed in the same manner as the front somersault, except that after making your complete circle in the air you turn over once more and enter into the position of a swan dive before entering the water, head first. This is one of the most beautiful of the somersault dives.

Double Somersault. This is the big brother of the front then follow with a lay-out so as to enter the water in a head first, vertical position.

Only an extremely agile person can perform these dives, as you can read.

ily imagine. Do not get the impression that one must be thin or underweight to properly whirl oneself about. I am five foot four and carry the proper weight for my height, and at that I am smallest of the Berlo sisters. You develop a lithe, graceful body from diving, and the feeling of power and control it gives you makes you feel as if you are indeed sitting on the top of the world.

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1924.

Hands Off the Canadian National.

The report of the Canadian National railways for 1923 shows a deficit of $52,779,350. The road showed a greater deficit the year before, $58,696,911. It is the presence of these deficits that centers the interest of the Canadian people on every move that is made for their reduction. The fact that the road lost $5,917,561 less in 1923 means that the people will be relieved of that amount in the way of taxation. It is for that reason that it must be insisted that the Canadian Nationals shall be operated strictly as a business proposition, according to the commercial necessities of the case. Liberals must not make the mistake of imagining that their party is operating the road, for such is not the case. To their credit they have placed a competent man in charge and insisted on giving him scope in which to work, but there the matter ends.

The improvement in finances in 1923 has not been accomplished by curtailing the service or cutting the expense to the detriment of the earning capacity of the system. Every department has been kept up to a high standard, and the increases are the result of increased efficiency to get business and handle it after it is secured.

Canada has too much at stake to tolerate interference in the management of the National Railways. When the Senate goes to the length of holding up branch feeders which the management of the roads says are necessary, and when it proposes to call in representatives from rival lines to discuss these branch lines, it is time to tell the Senate plainly, but very firmly, that it must mind its own business and cease its putting and malicious interference with the business of the National Railways.

Hon. George Graham served notice on certain members of the Commons that their habit of placing questions on the table that would bring out business information of National lines was liable to trouble and to positive financial loss. Mr. Doucet's questioning illustrates the point. He wanted to know what price the C. N. R. was paying for certain portions of its supplies. Mr. Graham pointed out that he had answered a similar question a year ago and the answer cost the railway a considerable amount of money. The C. N. R. had secured a very favorable price on equipment, a lower figure than other lines were paying for similar goods. When it became known, the other roads had demanded similar concessions, with the result that the C. N. R. had its favorable price cancelled and had to pay on a higher basis.

It is wrong from a policy of business administration to keep up this persistent effort to make one railway expose its policy and its dealings. It takes away the advantage of keen buying and gives nothing in return. The charge has often been laid against public ownership that it cannot conduct its management with the same business acumen as a private concern. Here we have a case where it had made a better bargain than the private companies, only to have the advantage destroyed by the meddling questioning of people whose interests ought to be centered in making the road a financial success on a non-political basis.

The idea of hands off the Canadian Nationals ought to be borne in upon Ottawa from every angle. The members of parliament must recognize it, and particularly must the Senate be told to cease at once from their miserably planned policy of deliberate interference.

Can Law Recognize a Bootlegger?

The Cecil Smith case which was argued before the exchequer court at Ottawa brings up the plain question: Shall a bootlegger pay income tax to the Dominion government on amounts he has made in pursuit of his business?

The bootlegger comes out in the open and makes his claim. He goes to the Dominion taxation officer and says: "I made $50,000 in 1923 by dealing in liquor. It was an illegal business, and therefore the government has no right to take any of it in the way of taxation, because if they do they recognize bootlegging and share in its profits to the extent of the taxes."

There is nothing supposititious about the case as stated above. It is what has actually taken place, with the exception of the amount, and that is quite within reason, and it is the point being considered by the courts now.

The matter of the government condoning the offence by stooping to collect taxes from it hardly covers the case in its entirety. If the government knows about it, and stops there without further action, it condones the offence whether it takes a portion of the revenue or not.

If a man were to come to the taxation officer or to the exchequer court, and put up this case, what would result? "I made $50,000 in 1923 by robbing banks and grocery stores. It was not a legal business, therefore the government cannot very well take any of it in the way of taxation."

There could be only one answer and only one course open to the government. It could not accept a percentage of that illegally secured revenue—it would take the whole amount and then prosecute the individual for having been engaged in a law-breaking business.

The case that is being argued now is an astounding one in many ways. Those who engage in illegal traffic generally keep as far away from the courts and officers of the law as possible; many of them would no doubt be glad to pay for protection were conditions such that they could purchase immunity from prosecution. But for a person who has been engaging in an illegal business to come before the courts and argue that his ill-gotten gains cannot be touched by the government is surely a new and an amazing conception of the dignity and supremacy of the law of the land.

Public Ownership Does Well.

When total figures are presented it is possible to see to what extent Ontario publicly-owned power enterprises have grown. The total investment is now $241,853,291, and the total revenue from municipalities for 1923 was $15,742,831. Thirteen systems are now owned and operated by the Hydro-Electric Commission, serving 355 municipalities.

The surplus earnings are turned back to the municipalities that make them possible, and that is as it should be. Sir Adam Beck announces a new schedule of rates to be forthcoming in a few days. This will give further reductions where they are warranted.

Hydro has looked after the cities well, and the turn of the rural districts should not be delayed longer. The credit of rural Ontario has been pledged all along to back the provincial bonds on which the undertaking has been financed. A vote of $500,000 was passed in the Ontario Legislature to carry power lines to the farms of Ontario. It is for this reason that there must be more power available, and that is why other parties seeking to develop water power in this province must stand to one side. Rural Ontario needs power for many purposes, and it must have it at a price it can afford to pay.

Sir Adam Beck, in his life work as a developer of power for the people of Ontario, has done well. The annual report proves it abundantly.

The Inventor Gets His Desire.

Grindell Matthews, inventor of the diabolical ray, alleged to be the most effective death-dealing invention of the age, has succeeded in doing just what he set out to accomplish.

He has three of the great nations of the world competing in bids for his invention. It is a situation that must be very satisfactory to Mr. Matthews.

The reason that this competition is possible is that there is not the necessary measure of confidence and assurance between the nations. One government fears that another will secure the great death machine and use it to the disadvantage of the others. It is the element of fear and distrust that makes it possible for Matthews to hold up his invention and have the nations telling their financiers to bid higher and higher.

It may sound visionary to picture what might happen were the League of Nations operating as it should. There would be no competitive bids for the diabolical ray. Mr. Matthews would not be in a favorable position. He would be looked upon as an international menace and dealt with as such.

Now for the New Western.

The class that has just graduated from the University of Western Ontario will have the distinction of being the last to come from the old buildings. By the time graduation date arrives again it will be from the new home of the university. The way in which progress has been made and a school spirit maintained in spite of the manner in which the units have been housed is a matter of credit and congratulation to the faculty and students.

Western in '24 has seen its first young lad graduate with the degree of M.D. as well as a B.A. Also for the first time it has given the degree of M.Sc.

Anticipation of moving day looms large at Western, and so it should. The stately buildings, on the finest school site in the province, stand as a monument to the effort and vision of a body of men who have freely given of time, money and unselfish service for the attainment of a great, worth-while objective.

Note and Comment.

The King of Italy paid a visit to the zoo in London, probably desiring to see if the British lion were in good humor.

A band of 75 saxophone players has been organized to tour the country. A perusal of the defence of the realm act fails to show any way to stop it.

"Ottawa Junk House Destroyed By Fire," says a newspaper heading. But it was not, as might be supposed, the publicity office of the Conservative party.

Canadian publishers will sympathize with W. M. Southam, of the Ottawa Citizen, in the death of his son, Lieut. W. H. C. Southam. The young man had completed his school and college training and was preparing to enter the publishing business with his father, an ideal father and son relationship. Three weeks ago Lieut. Southam was seriously hurt in an auto crash, and from then to the time of his death had remained unconscious. The uncertainty of that trying period and its sad culmination has been a trying ordeal for the bereaved father and family.

THE DAWES PLAN

Germany has agreed to co-operate with the report of the committee of experts as a practical basis for a speedy solution of the reparations problem.

This is encouraging. France, Great Britain and Belgium have already agreed, Italy, at this writing, is on the point of promising agreement, and there is every surface indication for optimism.

Moreover, M. Barthou, president of the reparations commission says:

"The solution of the reparations problem appears to be in a fair way of accomplishment. There are excellent reasons to be optimistic, although the difficulties are as yet far from being solved."

What the Dawes plan is does not matter. The main thing is for the nations to get together and it seems that the committee's conclusion will furnish that excuse.

They probably had to swing apart for a certain length of time until political motives had exhausted themselves. Until, indeed, the various governments had discovered that the policy of isolation on the part of any one of them was disastrous.

Germany found it out when many of her people were unemployed and still more were hungry.

France found it out when the franc began to caper nimbly after the mark.

This report will be transmitted to the United States Government with a recommendation for approval and adherence. What the United States will do is problematical, but it is not among the possibilities that it will allow itself to be drawn into the development and execution of any plan the government will manifest its hearty approval of this proposal.

When the time comes for floating an international loan, as proposed by the Dawes plan, it will be found that the United States has about all the money there is to be loaned.

The German people are not likely to give an adverse vote on co-operation with the allies. Neither are the French people likely to report adversely. In fact, the report of this committee gives the hope required for all the European governments to behave themselves, as the indications are that the United States of America will not join in any European affairs until Europe has made up its mind to act reasonably. To be sure, M. Poincaré has reiterated his determination to hold fast to the Ruhr and to retire from there only in proportion to the payments made by Germany. To be sure, there is material for trouble in this ticklish situation. If this can be carried on without further bad blood between France and Germany, if the total amount of Germany's reparations debt can be fixed, and if the people will go resolutely toward paying the reparations, there is little doubt but that the United States will co-operate.

If this co-operation is secured there can be little doubt that there is the beginning of the end of Europe's troubles.

On Disasmament

Two knives, two forks, one large spoon and two smaller ones should be provided for each person at the table.—From the woman's page.

Arrays of tools spread out like that, they make me shiver through and through, and drops of sweat stand on my brow, by me not knowin' what to do.

They place a bowl of soup at hand, I grasp the spoon what's big and round, and ladle down that steamin' stuff, the muffler killin' all the sound.

Then comes a speck of fish to bat, borne on a tray by spotless gent, it's only one good bite for me, no bigger than a Yankee cent, but still I've got to take them tools and sort the silver from the steel, and peck away for quite a spell as though I well enjoyed the meal.

The score then stands one spoon, one fork, another charge is made on me, and down comes dishes big and small, and plates that number one, two, three.

I grasp a knife what's lyin' there to carve the liver east and west, a-watchin' all the time to see if I be workin' like the rest.

Here is a little dab of corn, likewise a bunch of tin-can peas, I'm puzzled sore, I want to start and use my dinner knife on these.

And when the things all done and o'er, I've eat and talked by fit and jerk, I find I've got one fork and spoon that ain't been soiled or put to work.

'Tis then I know I've made a slip, I've made a monkey of myself, I'm labeled as a boulder now who eats from off the pantry shelf.

Bring back to me them good old days before we aped styles in New York, when we was armed at dinner time with just one spoon, one knife, one fork.—ARK.

Cases Are Similar

(From the Brantford Expositor.)

This week at Ottawa the committee on privileges and elections will investigate the charges against the Hon. James Murdock preferred on the floor of the House of Commons by E. Guss Porter, the Conservative member for West Hastings. In his statement to the House demanding an inquiry Mr. Porter charges that the Hon. Mr. Murdock used information that came to him as a cabinet minister and withdrew a deposit of $4,000 from the Home Bank just before it closed its doors.

Just in this connection it will be interesting to know what action Mr. Porter will take in regard to the payment of $1,500 to Sir Thomas White or the advice which he rendered to the bank. This money was paid to Sir Thomas White for professional services, two days before the bank closed its doors. Sir Thomas had been minister of finance and knew well the condition of the bank, but he was paid in cash for his services two days before the bank suspended payment. What is the difference in principle in these two transactions? If Mr. Murdock is to be impeached as a minister of the crown for withdrawing a $4,000 deposit, which probably was all the money he had, from an unsound financial institution just before it failed, what is to be said of Sir Thomas White, an ex-minister of finance, who took $1,500 of the bank's money, knowing that it must fail almost immediately, and that depositors throughout Canada would lose several millions of dollars?

All Came Via the Ballot Box.

The Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen stands to gain no political advantage by his violent attacks upon the Progressive leader and his party. They possess exactly the same liberty of action as Mr. Meighen and his party exercised in regard to public issues.—Brantford Expositor.

The Man We Forget

Many a man who cashes in a life insurance policy

- admits to himself that he could have saved twice as much,
- wonders what he did with the money that would have paid for more, and
- thinks he was wise in doing what he he did, because he hasn't saved much besides.

It does not always occur to him to thank the life insurance man for having induced him to save money.

Yet, if it were not for the life insurance man, the Canadian people would have very little of the $3,500,000,000 of insurance now in force.

Is it not about time we recognized the good work the Life Insurance Man is doing for the community?

The Doll of Her Dreams

A Wonderful GIFT from Fairyland

ONCE upon a time, the Fairy Queen said to the other fairies, "What will make little girls happier?" "I have it," said one of them—"A DOLL."

A lovely big beautiful doll with real hair and sparkling eyes. A doll that would go to sleep quickly like good little girls do—and that would go out walking with her mistress every day. A doll that would talk and call any little girl, "Mama."

"Right," said the Fairy Queen. "But the fairy doll I want must be more wonderful and more beautiful than any doll has been before." Fairy scouts were dispatched the world over to find the most wonderful doll ever known.

The Fairy Queen then said to her ladies in waiting, "This is what I want the doll for."

Travelling on a sunbeam one day I passed over London, St. Thomas, Stratford, Woodstock, St. Marys, Chatham and all the other communities in Western Ontario. I saw many little girls at school, running errands for mother and doing everything little girls should. I decided to give them all a gift, and a beautiful doll shall be their reward.

To make the little folks really appreciate the gift, I asked The London Advertiser to help me.

So it was decided to make it easy for little folks to show their appreciation. We would ask them to secure only four subscriptions to The London Advertiser. Not collect any money—just get Father, Mother, Aunt or anyone to subscribe.

"What's this," said the Fairy Queen. "My scouts back again. Send them in 'Your Majesty,'" said the leader of the Fairy scouts. "We have found the doll," and throwing back his cloak, he offered the Queen an exquisite rose in full bloom. "But I want a beautiful doll, not a beautiful rose," said the Fairy Queen. "Touch it with your fairy wand," said the scout leader, "and you will have your desire fulfilled."

The Queen touched the rose with her starry wand and behold it became a doll—a golden haired doll with a handsome lace bonnet and a delicately shaded silken dress (the color of the rose petals from which she came).

The Fairy Queen smiled and nodded her head. "Yes—a beautiful fairy doll," but you shall be known to all the girls in London and Western Ontario as "Miss Advertiser," so go now and make them happier than they have ever been before.

THE FAIRY DOLL

She Talks — She Walks — She Sleeps

There are many Mama Dolls, but they are not like "Miss Advertiser." They lack her charm, her grace, her beauty. She is the quality of Mama Dolls.

No doll has ever been produced that affords a greater opportunity for attention by the little mother.

Lifelike in beauty, voice, and movement, she is all but human.

"Miss Advertiser" is luxuriously gowned in an incomparable silken trousseau—a most exquisite and beautiful creation.

How to Win Her

It takes but a short time to win one of these beautiful dolls.

All that is necessary is to go direct to your four best friends and ask them for six months' subscriptions to The London Advertiser.

They will gladly give their orders to see you carry away one of the "wonder dolls." Just a few minutes of your time and the doll is yours.

A Doll for Every Girl!

Provision has been made for every girl in London and district. No little girl need be disappointed as this is not a contest.

Only four new subscriptions to The London Advertiser are necessary to qualify, and there is no limit to the time.

If you do not get enough subscriptions one day, try the next, and when you have four bring them to the Advertiser office.

This plan has been so arranged that every girl can have a "Miss Advertiser."

1000 "Miss Advertiser" Mama Dolls will be Given Away

—Rules to Observe—

Our supply of Mama Dolls is unlimited. Dolls will be distributed to the girls of London and district as long as they are ambitious enough to win them. Girlies who have a little sister can get two or more dolls if they secure required number of subscriptions.

Only the subscriptions of those who are not at present regular subscribers to The Advertiser will count for a Mama Doll.

Girls are advised to be sure they do not hand in subscriptions of those who are already having The Advertiser delivered to their homes. We want to give you your doll as soon as you earn it.

Tells of Hong Kong Y.W.C.A. Where Chop Sticks Are Used By Slant-Eyed Chinese Girls

Miss Olive McKay, Secretary in the Orient, Visits London.

ATTENDS BANQUET

Baby Clinic Started by Hong Kong Association Better Health of Community.

Picture a Y. W. C. A. where chop sticks are used in place of knives and forks! And where Chinese food makes up the daily menu! Picture a Y. W. C. A. filled every night with pretty, slant-eyed, dark-skinned girls. And you have a glimpse of the Y. W. C. A. at Hong Kong, China, at which Miss Olive McKay has spent the past five years. Miss McKay, whose home is in Woodstock, paid a brief visit to the city yesterday, coming to London with Miss Charlotte Niven, world's secretary for the Young Women's Christian Association, to attend the banquet at the Technical House.

Her story about the work there is an interesting one. Having charge mainly of the educational classes, Miss McKay comes into close contact with the Chinese girls and their problems. They are anxious to learn and see a happier future for the girlhood of their nation. The English language and Chinese language are both taught, as well as western and Chinese cooking.

Chinese Cooking An Art.

"Chinese girls and women want to learn how to make cakes and that type of food," she replied. "But they are by no means despoiling their own food for western food. And it would be a great pity if they did. For Chinese cooking is a wonderful art and often even the westerners find their food better than his own."

Miss McKay and the other secretaries at Hong Kong were responsible for the starting of a well-baby clinic at the Y. W. C. A., which is having a great influence on the health status of the community. As

SHOWER MANY GIFTS ON MISS GLADSTONE

Deaconess of St. Paul's Cathedral Given Farewell Party by Congregation.

Perhaps never in the history of London has a woman received such a tribute of affection as that which was showered upon Miss Linda Gladstone, deaconess at St. Paul's Cathedral, last night, in the form of gifts of every description. Miss Gladstone ceases her duties as deaconess at the cathedral this week, going to Toronto, where she will rest, before taking up further graduate work.

Members of the congregation and representatives of the different church organizations filled Cronyn Hall for the farewell gathering. When the presentations began, it seemed as if there would be no stop to them. Even Dean Norman Tucker, rector of the church, became bewildered and when there appeared to be no more to give, he refused to believe his eyes and wondered if there might not be some still lurking under the chairs.

The perfect deluge of presents included a handsome travelling clock with a musical alarm, from the congregation; a check for $100 from the deaconess committee; a fine club bag from the Sunday school; an umbrella from the Senior Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society, a beautiful pocket-book from the Beacon Lights; a love tin from the Girl Guides, and a host of individual presents from the Mothers' Club, including a fountain pen, articles of linen, photographs of themselves and their children, and last of all a great box of roses, sweet peas and tulips.

Speakers of the evening were Miss Gladstone herself, the Rev. Dean Tucker, Rev. Gilbert Lightbourne and P. D. Mitchell, superintendent of the Sunday School. The farewell party had been arranged by the Senior Girls' Friendly Society. Attractive tables were provided over by Miss McTeair and Mrs. A. E. Henry, while vocal numbers were given by Miss Ivel Logan.

WELL-DRESSED WOMAN WILL WEAR JEWELRY SPARINGLY

Tailored Suit Forbids the Use of Very Many Ornaments.

SOMETIMES ABSURD

To Wear Bracelets When Playing Golf or Tennis Is Out of Place.

By JULIA HOYT.

Judging from their letters, many readers seem to be rather undecided about what is correct in jewelry, and how much jewelry to wear at one time.

The quantity of jewelry worn varies, to a large extent in different countries. The women of South America, for instance, wear what seems to us a good deal too much jewelry at all times. I suppose that they must consider it smart and attractive, or they would not do it. In North American and European countries women who are over-burdened with jewelry are considered lacking in good taste.

The quantity of jewelry that one owns has no bearing on the quantity enough to own jewelry. Because a woman has a good deal is no reason to display all of it at the same time, or to wear it all the time. In a play in which I recently took part, the female is complaining because his niece is not wearing a pearl necklace which he had recently given her, at a family dinner. She responds that it seems foolish to wear it when only the family is going to be present.

The Whole Christmas Tree.

"Does it?" says the uncle. "Your aunt wears everything I have ever given her to breakfast in the morning."

No woman who is hung, like a Christmas tree, with many baubles and ornaments, can look well-dressed. And neither can a jewel appear to advantage. One or a few beautiful things are a great deal handsomer than many jeweled adornments.

A tailored suit, of course, forbids the use of many ornaments. One or two rings are always permissible. Bracelets have also become permissible.

Miss Kathleen Burke was the hostess recently of a delightful trolley tea, given at her home in William street. Her guests included Mrs. Frank Burke, who presided over the tea table, which was adorned with apple blossoms and tulips. Miss Carroll acted as assistant.

Mrs. George Eddie entertained yesterday afternoon at the tea hour in honor of Mrs. Alex. Gilmour, who leaves shortly for a trip to Scotland, and for Mrs. J. Smelling, who goes next week to make her home in Pontiac, Mich. The tea tables were attractively arranged, a green and gold color scheme being carried out. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. Rogers.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the banquet given yesterday at the Technical House in honor of Miss Charlotte Niven of London, England, world's general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., were: Miss Honsberger, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in St. Thomas; Miss Frost, Miss Love and Mrs. Jennings, also of St. Thomas; and Mrs. Norwood, Miss McGibbon and Miss R. McKenzie of Sarnia.

The graduates of the Ontario Hospital were guests of honor last evening at a delightful dance given in the recreation hall at the Hospital. Bright colored tulips adorned the platform, where the Orpheus Orchestra, which supplied an excellent program of dance music during the evening, was stationed. The guests were received by Dr. W. J. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson and Miss Jacobs, superintendents of the hospital. After the first half of the program had been enjoyed a dainty supper was served downstairs at small tables.

Deplores Mis-at Marriages and Their Effect on Others.

Don't Be Scared Out of Matrimony by Unhappy Couples You Know—Marriage Is What You Make It—Marriage Can Be a Success if Husband and Wife Really Try to Make It One.

A young woman writes to me:

"I am in love with a splendid man who wishes to marry me, but I am afraid to marry because of the life I have seen my father and mother lead. They have always been unhappy together. Our home has been a place of strife and of continual quarrels between them, which leave my mother in tears."

"So I stand shivering on the brink of matrimony, without the courage to take the fatal plunge."

"Tut, tut, my child. Don't let the exhibit of matrimony that you have been forced to witness scare you off. Because your parents have made a failure instead of a success of marriage is no reason why you should. Every marriage is as much an individual experiment as if it were the first one that had ever taken place in the world. Whether a man and woman get misery or bliss out of it depends on how much brains and heart and backbone they put into it, not on precedents."

"There are no sure-fire successes, in any line of human endeavor. There is always the chance and the danger of failure. 'Nothing risk, nothing have,' applies to matrimony as well as to fortune, and we are poor sports if we are not willing to at least sit in at the great game of hearts and try our luck."

But, without doubt, the reason that there is such a "decline and fall" in matrimony, as Mr. Weg might say, is because of the Awful Examples that we see so often about us. For most of the wedding bells now are rung by the immature and reckless, too inexperienced to realize the danger they run. Older men and women, looking about, and seeing what they see of domestic life, find nothing that sells the holy estate to them.

When father speaks to mother as he would not to any other woman on earth; when he treats her with less consideration than he would show a dog; when he haggles with her over every penny, and abuses her about the size of the bills as if she were to blame for the cost of supporting a family, he doesn't make a husband seem a desirable possession to his daughter. And when they do marry they do it with their fingers crossed, hoping that they will have better luck than their mother did.

When Maud goes to see her married sister Jane, she sees another Awful Warning. Jane was so pretty and so light-hearted and so full of fun. She was so much in love and so sure she was getting the Fairy Prince, and that they were going to live happily ever after. And Jane is so thin and worn now, and so spritless, and so shabby, and she tries so hard to please a grumpy and grouchy husband, who never notices how she looks, or prides anything she does for him, and who never takes her anywhere or tries to bring any pleasure or amusement into her life.

"Thank God, I haven't got that," says Maud piously. "John is a good man, but he is a poor husband, and there doesn't seem to be any way you can tell 'em on the safe side of the altar."

And Betty, who works downtown among men, and who knows men and their tricks and their manners; who has had married men try to flirt with her; who sees clearly philanderers having affairs with girls the age of their own granddaughters, who hears the lies men telephone their wives and sees the money spent on chicken feed that is needed to keep a man's family comfortable; well, Betty looks at each one of these as she would at a red lantern that warned her of the abyss of misery into which she might fall if she got married.

The principal reason why men also fight shy of matrimony is because they, too, see plenty of Awful Examples.

When Tom goes to see his married chum and finds a messy house cluttered with the children's playthings and old clothes and newspapers; when he sits down to a dinner that would poison an ostrich, and looks at Tom's sloppy wife across the table, there is nothing in it that makes him want to establish a home of his own.

When Sam sees the man next to him worn and harassed, working himself to death to pay the bills of an extravagant wife who, like the daughter of the horse leech, cries: "More! More!" he doesn't feel like selling himself into slavery to milliners and dressmakers to gratify any woman's vanity.

When Henry goes out with the Joneses, and Mrs. Jones whines and frets and is peevish about everything, and knocks poor old Jones for everything from the state of the weather to the menu at the restaurant, Henry chuckles to himself as he lets himself into his bachelor apartment, and says: "Not for me! No matrimony for me! I have had an Awful Warning that has put me off it for life."

And these "fraid cats forget that there are also Good Examples, that there are peaceful, happy homes and husbands and wives who love each other, who put up with other's happiness before their own, who find joy in companionship, and who count even sacrifice sweet when they make it for each other.

For marriage is what we make it. We take out of it what we put into it, and there is no marriage that would not be a success if a husband and wife, working together, really tried to make it one.

DOROTHY DIX.

Welcome and Mrs. Robin Build a Nest On Farmer Brown's Window

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

All of the feathered folk have learned one very important lesson, and this is to waste little time sorrowing over things which have happened, but instead to make the best of a bad matter. For the rest of the day in which they had had their eggs stolen, Welcome and Mrs. Robin flew about through the Old Orchard, mournfully telling their troubles to all those whom they met. But the next morning there wasn't a sound from Welcome and Mrs. Robin. No, sir, there wasn't a sound. You would never have known from them that anything had happened. You see, it was this way:

"Welcome," said Mrs. Robin to Welcome Robin as they started out to hunt for their breakfast, "we must have a new home at once. There is no use in mourning over what has happened and cannot be helped. We'll build a new home at once, and we'll build it where Chatterer the Red Squirrel can't get at it. You see, they still blamed Chatterer for what Sammy Jay had done."

"Quite right, my dear," replied Welcome. "Quite right. It is still early in the season, and we still have plenty of time to raise a family. Have you any place in mind for that new home?"

Mrs. Robin nodded. Then she cocked her head to one side and listened. She took a step forward, struck downward quickly, and dragged out a big earthworm from the ground. This she swallowed. "Come with me," she said. "There was an upper window with one blind closed. Between that blind and the window there was room enough for a nest. "What do you think of this, my dear?" said Mrs. Robin. Welcome Robin looked the place all over very carefully. He couldn't find any fault with it. "If it suits you, my dear, it will suit me," said he. "Not having wings, Chatterer cannot possibly get here," said Mrs. Robin. "Blacky the Crow will not dare come so close to Farmer Brown's house, and I doubt if Sammy Jay will be bold enough to bother us. I do believe there is a safer place in all the Great World. I do hope we won't have any trouble finding some mud. Let's go look for it right away."

So they went the way Welcome followed. You know, the Robins use mud for a foundation for their nests. How blind and the window there was room

CALL MASS MEETING FOR HINDU SPEAKERS

Dr. Joshee and Dr. D'Prazier To Be Heard in Talbot Street Baptist Church.

An interesting event of next week will be the mass meeting for women to be held in the Talbot Street Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon, when the speakers of the occasion will be Dr. Joshee and Dr. D'Prazier of India, who thrilled many thousands in Massey Hall, Toronto, in April last.

Preparations for this event were made at the regular meeting of the Talbot Street Baptist Mission Circle held yesterday afternoon. The program included a very interesting life and work of Miss Laura Allen, missionary of Pithapuram, India, ably presented by Mrs. J. W. Jones. Others taking part were Mrs. Holland, who read the Scripture lesson, and Mrs. Scott and Miss Ware, who sang "The Man of Galilee."

Delegates were appointed to the district association meeting to be held in Forest, June 4, 5 and 6. It was reported that 25 calls had been made during the month.

The offering amounted to $150. The president, Mrs. D. H. MacDermid, distributed silver metal boxes to be used in connection with the raising of $5,000 for special missionary work.

PLAYERS' CLUB HOLDS BANQUET AT TEA HOUSE

Miss Florence McDonagh Is Elected President of University Organization.

Miss Florence McDonagh was elected president of the Western Ontario University Players' Club at the annual banquet held yesterday afternoon at the Bungalow Tea House, Springfield. This happy event is always a feature of convocation week festivities. The tables had been attractively arranged with tulips and anise blossoms. The officers elected were: Secretary, Miss Edna Iverson; Leslie Gray, business manager; Sidney Kinsmill, master of properties; Miss Margaret Jordan, mistress of wardrobe; Walter Rennie, director of orchestra.

LAMBTON BEEKEEPERS HOLD FIELD MEETING

Important Addresses Given Large Gathering in Ford's Apiary.

Special to The Advertiser. Forest, May 29.—A field meeting was held at the apiary of Wesley Ford, vice-president of the Lambton County Beekeepers' Association, with a very large attendance, including many from all parts of the county. Mr. Armstrong of Simcoe was in charge and gave valuable information, especially to beginners in the industry. Having been an inspector for several years he was able to advise about the two great enemies of beekeepers—the American and European foul brood.

Short talks were given by Wesley Ford on "The Shallow Super as a Food Chamber," "Hints to Beginners," by Thomas Martin, "The Value of Re-queening," by R. Fretz; "My Experiences With Shallow Super," by Stanley Rutherford; "Double-walled Hives," by Isaac Langstroth; and "Cellar Wintering," by Mr. Lucas.

The audience included a number of ladies.

APPIN W. I. Special to The Advertiser.

Appin, May 29.—The May meeting of the Appin Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. S. Sturde. Delegates were appointed to attend the district convention at Wardsville on June 13. An invitation to visit the No. 9 Mosa Institute on June 26 was accepted. An address was given on "My Trip to England, Ireland and Scotland, and a Glimpse of the Institutes There," by Mrs. Woodard of Toronto, who also spoke of the scarcity of Canadian apples on the Toronto market.

They didn't care who saw them. They felt so safe that they didn't try to keep this new nest a secret. They worked even harder than they had worked building their first nest. You see, they were in more of a hurry.

Sammy Jay and Mrs. Jay were doing the same thing. They wouldn't use a nest which Chatterer had visited. They chose another tree some distance away, and promptly set to work on a new nest. But unlike Welcome and Mrs. Robin, they took the greatest care that no one should discover where they were building their second nest. They were very secretive. So it wasn't a great while before Welcome and Mrs. Robin were again happy with four beautiful eggs. And Sammy and Mrs. Jay were equally proud of the four in their nest.

A Romance of Old Virginia.

By TRISTRAM TUPPER.

INSTALLMENT V.

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY. EDMUND CARTWRIGHT, heir to Colonial House, is expelled from West Point after a hazing episode.

COL. CARTWRIGHT, his father, who had expected Edmund's sword to be the sixth of the swords carried by the Cartwrights to hang on the wall, forbids the house to his son, but tells him he will inherit it after his death.

CRYSTAL MACLAURIN, 7 years old, called "The Robin" because of her red hair, daughter of a shoe-maker, comes to Colonial House to deliver a pair of boots. Her mother was a dancer who had left her father to go on the stage. Crystal offends the colonel by taking his sword, and doing a sword dance. Once during the revolution a red-haired girl had done that, and both men who owned the house had met disaster, one being Benedict Arnold. The colonel orders Crystal from the house, but when her father dies he brings her there to make it her home.

CRYSTAL goes to Boston to study music, but, obeying an instinct, pays more attention to dancing.

LAWYER LUGENMILLER, upon Crystal's return from Boston, tells her the news of a bank failure and how Col. Cartwright has sacrificed his fortune to protect the depositors.

ALLAN JETT, who was an apprentice under Crystal's father, returns to their town of Riverport at about the time Powderdown, a mushroom war city, comes into being as a part of Riverport. He boasts of his prosperity to Crystal.

CHAPTER X.

An Illusion.

Aaron felt became obsessed—not wholly without cause—by vindictive hatred of Karl Lugenmiller.

Within a week after Crystal and the colonel took possession of the renovated boot-shop, Lugenmiller moved into Colonial House with servants to fill the hiatus poverty had wrought; but another week, at the latest, he would be gone. The physician passed beneath the old wooden boot that creaked in the wind above the shop door.

The mysterious stranger, particularly well groomed (almost boxboy), was the Robin's adjective) had come on a matter concerning Golden Hill, but did not at once explain his mission. Their talk was personal and friendly.

He had come to the shop for permission to turn the conservatory at Colonial House into a laboratory. He sketched his plan for Crystal, who called the colonel and left the two men together.

The following day he telephoned and came to the shop on his way back from Powderdown—a practice that continued for a time; and three nights later, when they were in the garden together, Lugenmiller was explaining the night he had entered Colonial House through the music room window.

"I am to see the portraits," he said. "A whim . . . Shall I tell you my emotion when I lighted the candle and saw you? Shall I tell you the reason?"

"Please," laughed the Robin. "Because you seemed so startled, so unamused, so self-possessed. I felt I was the intruder. So startled . . . Weren't you really?"

"Never more amazed," insisted Lugenmiller. "For I knew at once I had seen you a long while ago. The startling fact—I had seen you in another part of the world, under vastly different, unrecognizable circumstances. It was the Robin who was now amazed. 'You had seen me before.'"

"Yes."

"But where?"

"Eight or ten years ago—Berlin—on the stage."

"Eight or ten years ago. . . Do you know how old I am?"

"Approximately, eighteen."

"In each generation, perhaps, in each decade, a Mission was through the world and with her time has no concern. This," said Lugenmiller, "is perhaps the explanation. Eight or ten years ago, so were eleven, just as now; eight or ten years hence you will be eighteen, just as now. You may reject this. Still at Berlin I saw you, and again at Vienna, just as you are now. Do you understand?"

In a voice that toned in with the soft radiance of the night, the Robin said: "But I was never at Berlin or Vienna."

The man made no reply. "Perhaps she was a dancer?" asked the girl.

"Does it matter?" asked Lugenmiller.

"I was wondering . . . just wondering if she could have been my mother."

The Robin emerged from some far dream in which dim rows of faces appeared beyond a transparent curtain made of the music of violins. She breathed, "Do you know what became of her?"

"I used to wonder," said Lugenmiller. "Then on a day I knew without knowing. I was looking at a summer cloud down from the center of which a skein, a rope of sunlight was pendant to the dim blue distant horizon—touching the earth. It was like a rope of metal more precious than gold, and I thought each strand was an emotion she drew at sometime from someone beyond the footlights—strong emotions, strong substance, but combined—a rope of sunlight. The half-truth," said Lugenmiller, "is that the sunlight dances over the clouds; for me the verity is the other interpretation."

"I shall remember her that dance," said the Robin simply.

"You, too, were wanted to dance," said Lugenmiller, "with the warmth and repose of sunlight."

She was silent for the time required to dream and to banish the dream. "To do that, one should start very young."

"You will always be young."

"Oh, I won't," the Robin laughed. Then: "Tell me about the laboratory at Colonial House. Have you started work on it . . . ?"

CHAPTER XI.

Gambling?

Aaron Jett took his interpretation of the room mentioned by the Robin to the boot shop. Aaron had seen the newly-formed satellites of Lugenmiller's rare cars up Golden Hill, disappear among the shadows of Colonial House driveway and later, after midnight, emerge from the laboratory.

"They'd been gambling," was Aaron's interpretation.

"Lugenmiller came to the door," continued the shoe merchant. "He was laughing at them. He was calling them clumsy boys when it comes to gambling. That's what they'd been doing—gambling. Sunday night, last Sunday night. Gambling."

Col. Cartwright lifted his head slightly but said nothing. The Robin looked at her foster father. It required only a glance at his sensitive face, bowed over his fingers, to convince her he was controlling himself by an effort of will. Colonial House being used as a gambling dive? That was the picture Aaron had painted. Unthinkable!

"But Aaron," protested Crystal. "Lugenmiller doesn't gamble."

The colonel glanced across at the girl with her eyes against the spindles of the banister. "How do you know, Crystal?"

"Crystal is right. He doesn't gamble," said in Lawyer Livingston.

Abram Heath in Hospital—Condition Reported As Serious.

Special to The Advertiser.

Kitchener, May 29.—Abram Heath, a laborer in the employ of the Kitchener Light Commission, was seriously injured this morning. While excavating for a gas main on Courtland avenue the trench suddenly caved in, crushing his ribs. He was taken to the Kitchener and Waterloo Hospital, where it was found his condition was serious.

Frank Benninger, another employee of the commission, sustained a slight concussion of the brain today when a plank fell on his head. He was working in the construction of the new transformer building. He will recover.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To this get about two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Finishing and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them large and unsightly—while the simple application of peroxide powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.—Advt.

MAJESTIC OFFERS UNUSUAL PICTURE

Rare Attempt To Express Genuine Art Through Medium of Screen.

FASCINATES CRITICS

The Majestic Theatre for the remainder of the week is offering one of the most unusual motion pictures given in the city this winter. "The Slave of Desire" is not only unusual to the city, but it fascinated the critics when it was first shown last winter. Adapted from the Balzac story, "The Magic Skin," it was one of the rare attempts to express genuine art through the medium of the screen, resulting in one of the most successful of all experiments in direction.

The story of the magic skin is, of course, as utterly a fantasy of the imagination as the average fairy story, but its symbolism is wonderful. Against a background of rare beauty, there is set forth the age-old theme that men are all slaves of desire, and that true happiness must spring from the pure fount of unselfishness.

A young poet, steeped in adversity, finds himself in possession of an ancient scarab. The scarab leads him to the further possession of the skin of a wild ass, whose magic power is such that grants every wish of the owner, but with each wish the skin shrinks. When it has finally shrunk so that it fits within the palm of the hand then death is not far from the owner. Pure, unselfish love alone can save him. This is the story of Balzac and the picture which it has inspired is utterly a gem. The fantastic story of the skin, its visible shrinking, its magic power, have been given an atmosphere so modern and matter of fact, that none could think the picture absurd. The skin seems merely to serve—as the author intended it—as the outward and visible sign of the selfish desire which makes men their own slaves. The picture has been beautifully filmed. There are scenes which stand out like some rare old canvas. The interior of the old antique shop, with its background a mosaic of curious old forms, is almost unforgettable.

The audience who saw "The Slave of Desire" last night were seeing something quite new. It is regrettable that more pictures of this type are not available. They are a clear demonstration that the moving picture may be an art.

The cast of this unusual picture includes Bessie Love, Carmel Myers, George Walsh, Wally Van, George Periolat, Eulalie Jensen, and others whose names speak for themselves.

DISTRICT W. M. S. OFFICERS CHOSEN

Mrs. Gordon Wright of London Unanimous Choice As President.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, May 29.—One of the most important items of business at the meeting of the London conference of W. M. S. here, at which over 300 delegates were present, was the passing of a memorial to the board of managers of the W. M. S. to adopt as soon as possible some plan or means for the affiliation of the C. G. I. T. with the W. M. S. The memorial, which was read by Mrs. R. S. Heard of this city, was drawn up by Mrs. H. Childs of London and passed unanimously.

On report of the superintendents' committee, of which Mrs. Dylbal was in charge, it was decided that auxiliaries, circles or bands engaging the services of district superintendents should meet their travelling expenses, but if the visit was to a newly-organized band then the expenses should be paid by the branch.

Another resolution that carried unanimously was: "We, the W. M. S. of London branch, in convention assembled, representing 15,000 Methodist women, unanimously protest against the proposal to throw the church union bill into the courts, but respectfully request that the bill be passed without affecting the principle."

Officers Elected.
Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the London branch, occupied the chair for the convention, and in her address upheld the O. T. A.

Officers elected: Mrs. Gordon Wright, London, re-elected president with a vote of 201 out of 293 ballots, and Mrs. J. H. Tennant, London, first vice; Mrs. L. D. Marlatt, St. Thomas, second vice; Mrs. O. C. Tillman, Walkerville, third vice; Mrs. C. H. Zeigler, London, fourth vice; Mrs. R. S. Heard, St. Thomas, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. J. Weeks, London, recording secretary; Mrs. H. White, Stratford, treasurer; Mrs. H. Childs, London, secretary of circles; Mrs. A. J. Thomas, Windsor, secretary of mission bands; Miss Claire Tillman, Walkerville, treasurer of circles and bands; Mrs. McCamus, London, superintendent of Christian stewardship; Mrs. A. Douglas, Walkerville, secretary of strangers' committee.

The president was appointed to represent the branch at conference. William Irwin of Stratford was appointed auditor. J. W. Coatsworth of Walkerville was appointed auditor for circles and bands.

Delegates elected to the board of managers: Mrs. Childs, London; Mrs. Tillman, Walkerville, and Mrs. Snell of Dutton, with Mrs. White of Stratford and Mrs. Gould of Port Stanley as alternatives.

FOREIGNER, SHOT BY POLICE, FINALLY IDENTIFIED

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, May 29.—Local police have received information indicating that the foreigner who was shot and killed by the police after a chase early this morning was Kris Christoff, a Bulgarian, who, with two other fellow countrymen, conducted a restaurant in Toronto. The foreigner was shot when officers chased him and another companion through an alley. They were suspected of being holdup men, especially when they refused to halt and began shooting at the police.

MISS VERDA VINCENT.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vincent, city, who was awarded the Board of Governors' Scholarship for first year honor biology at the University of Western Ontario. Miss Vincent secured also honor standing in all her subjects.

MEIGHAN SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS

Crowded House Grets Favorite Actor in Opening Day At Loew's

EXCELLENT BILL

The opening day of a Thomas Meighan picture without exception means a crowded house. The newest release, "The Confidence Man," came to Loew's yesterday afternoon as the feature of a very excellent bill. The usual support to the Meighan reputation was found in a packed house for both afternoon and evening.

Additional interest is given "The Confidence Man" by the fact that it has just been running serially in one of the popular magazines. It was an entertaining story and it is a moving picture equally entertaining. Without a single exception the recent Tom Meighan pictures have been successful, and this one is but another to the list. His role is as always, likeable. He is smiling, affable and lazy. There is fertile ground, however, and it only takes a young Florida Sunday school teacher to find the seed and to plant it, bringing the confidence man within the confines of law, order and respectability. Virginia Valli is the Florida lady, and one of the most attractive foils, the handsome Thomas has yet had. "The Confidence Man" has been produced by Jesse Lasky, and the excellent reporting Mr. Meighan are of the excellence customary to his pictures.

Vaudeville Superb.
Such a splendid picture makes exacting demands on the vaudeville which follows it, but the three acts yesterday were quite able to hold their own. Tight-rope walking in the first act is given with very unusual features. The male performer is capable of all the stunts which usually go to make up a first-class act. The unusual feature is provided, however, in the fact that the rope upon which he performs is supported from the teeth, from the neck, or from the body of the two women who accompany him, and the spinning which completes the act requires an unusual display of strength and muscular control.

Alton and Allen are successful with their comedy patter and singing in the second act, with eccentric dancing as their best feature. James Kennedy and Company, who are the headliners, put on a very fetching little comedy sketch, which they present admirably. It is exuberantly fresh and interesting, with not a single stale moment. The concluding song, with its philosophy about love, marriage and divorce, was the most delightful feature of the bill.

"Gale Galen" achieves his championship in the picture from the "Fighting Blood" series, which is an important feature. This time he enters, in addition, a million dollar movie contract. The choice between blonde and brunette, however, is as far away as ever.

EUCHRE PARTIES HIT BY BAPTISTS

Association Meeting At St. Marys Passes Resolution On O. T. A. Plebiscite.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Marys, May 29.—Rev. J. McDiarmid was elected as moderator of the Guelph Association of Baptist Churches at the session here today. Rev. T. C. Meldrum was elected as vice-moderator, and Rev. A. W. Small as clerk and treasurer.

Resolutions were passed at the session expressing confidence in and pledging support to the Baptist educational institutions; calling on the young people to avoid the menace of frivolous and dangerous recreations, such as dancing, euchre parties, gambling and Sabbath-breaking; endorsing the O. T. A. and opposing any plebiscite on the grounds that the act has not had sufficient time to prove real worth and that present economic conditions do not warrant the expenditure necessary to take a vote.

Problems of church administration were discussed at length and Dr. Bowley Green of London gave a strong, inspirational address on evangelical lines.

2,000 SETTLERS TO ARRIVE IN CANADA THIS WEEK-END

Special to The Advertiser.
Montreal, May 29.—Approximately 2,000 new settlers will arrive in Canada over the week-end through the agent steamships Canadian National Railways. The greater proportion of those will disembark at Quebec, where over 1,500 will be landed.

PLAYERS RESUME PERFORMANCES

Garry McGarry Company Continue After Interruption by University Play.

DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

The Garry McGarry Players last night at the Grand Theatre resumed their performances of "Why Men Leave Home," interrupted by the University play. The usual mid-week matinee was given yesterday as well, instead of on Wednesday, which, together with Saturday, has been set as matinee days for the season.

The company have chosen a delightful vehicle in this Avery Hopwood comedy. No more really worth-while production has been shown during the season. Taking in the first place, a play of genuinely first-water, the Garry McGarry Players have produced it as effectively as could be desired, with the utmost in satisfactory results.

Three Grass Widowers.

The story of "Why Men Leave Home" is that of three grass widowers. Their wives are spending the summer in Europe, and the husbands are supposedly spending theirs in reading the evening paper and putting the cat out. Eventually the cat is out—but out of the bag—and the trouble arises. The comedy is most laughable, but it has its more serious moments when the moral of the play is driven home, and incidentally several of the company are given a chance to show the splendid dramatic work of which they are capable. The demand on their capability is even more severe than in "So This is London," but they are in every respect adequate.

The Garry McGarry Players are an acquisition to London. They have already given a week and a half of splendid entertainment, and their reputation is becoming daily more established. The success of their season here seems already assured.

MEN AND HORSES

How closely related is man to the more intelligent of the animals is seen in many of the ailments to which both are prone and the remedies to which they answer.

Doctors and veterinarians are often-times surprised to learn of the similarity of their methods of handling the ailments of man and beast.

Sprains, burns, scalds, scratches and many other minor injuries, many everyday ailments, too in men and animals take the same course, and both answer immediately to the same treatment—Absorbine Jr.

Absorbine was first discovered by a very close student of the horse, W. F. Young, and by him, devoted to its cause. Its very exceptional benefits, however, were promptly seized upon for the human race and, in a milder form, the preparation is sold all over the continent today as Absorbine Jr. It is used for men, women and children everywhere as a positive germicide—a germ killer—and a prompt and certain healer of all hurts. It is useful not only for all the purposes served by ordinary liniments and embrocations, but as a mouth-wash and for anything else where a germicide is needed. Get it in the house today. $1.25 at your druggist's.

Lumbago? Sciatica?

When attacked by pain in the back (lumbago), or limbs, neuritis, or shooting pains anywhere, it indicates usually that the kidneys are not working properly—not eliminating as they should the poisonous uric acid from the blood.

You may be nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, spots appearing before the eyes, and lacking all ambition. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble is to drink plenty of water between meals and to take a single An-uric (anti-uric acid) tablet before each meal for a while.

An-uric was originated at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., by Mr. Pierce, president, after observation and treatment of thousands of kidney cases. Get An-uric at any drug store or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for a trial package—Advt.

University Lists Show Ninety Per Cent Succeed In Passing Examinations

Results Announced For Every Department At University of Western Ontario.

MEDICAL STUDENTS

Classes Indicated Show Marks Received—Send Details
by Mail.

Dr. K. P. R. Neville, registrar of the University of Western Ontario, issues the following list of examination passes of those who have passed in their year's work with a mark of fifty per cent or more in every subject upon which a paper has been written during the year. Fully nine per cent of the students passed their examinations, and the members of the faculties are gratified with the results.

Speaking of the length of time it would take to notify the students fully concerning their standing, Dr. Neville states: "The complete results will be mailed to the individual students from the registrar's office as early as they can be tabulated. It is hoped that this will be accomplished by the 15th of June. Students who have failed are requested not to telephone the university offices for their results, but to wait the arrival of the official documents."

The list follows:
The details of the results of the examinations in the honor courses are as below. The standard for Class 1 is 75 per cent, for Class 2 is 67 per cent, for Class 3 is 60 per cent, and for Class 4 is 50 per cent.

Galt Is Visited By Baron Byng

Special to The Advertiser.
Galt, May 29.—Travelling incognito, Baron Byng, governor-general who is spending a few days in Brantford, came to Galt by motor with Captain Francis Erskine and T. C. Burnet-Stuart and stopped at the Riverside Golf Club for a game. They had one round of the course. To Dr. H. F. Mackendrick, the governor-general said the local course was one of the most beautiful and best kept he had ever seen.

PLAN NOW

PICNIC OFFICIALS!

Here's the Way To Finance An Outing At Port Stanley

For years all the big, outstanding picnics at Port Stanley have been financed largely by rebates of commissions on railway ticket sales.

The extra money pays the cost of advertising, special prizes and attractions, and guarantees success when you take your excursion to Port Stanley.

— THIS PRIVILEGE IS OPEN TO EVERYONE —

The London & Port Stanley Railway has a standard scale of commissions for Sunday schools, industrial groups, societies, lodges, family or clan reunions and all other bona fide organizations that comply with simple rules.

BEFORE YOU DECIDE where you will go this year get in touch with the L. & P. S. head offices, Philip Street, London, or with any L. & P. S. passenger agent. Through movements to and from Port Stanley from any point on any railway in Western Ontario can be arranged at lowest rates.

We will assist you in all arrangements relating to train movements, sports and attractions, music, ground reservations, etc., providing picnic tables, or lunch or banquet for any number, in open air or Cafeteria.

Grounds in Readiness For Pleasure Seekers.

COMMISSION PLAN

L. & P. S. R. Will Assist Bona fide Organizations Holding Outings At Port.

Have you, as one of the hundreds of thousands who have enjoyed their innumerable summer fun-days in Port Stanley in recent years, ever paused to figure out who foots the bill for your entertainment?

Do you realize what it costs the Irish Benevolent Society, the English or Scotch the Travellers, the Grocers, or any of the other better organizations to stage the celebrations that smash attendance records at "The Coney Island of Western Ontario"? If you were to get in behind the scenes some day you would find that these big lakeside festivals do not just happen. They are always the product of hard work and sometimes of fairly substantial expenditure as well.

Hard at Work.

The officers of nearly all of the excursions that constitute the high spots of the Port Stanley season have been at work for weeks with their preliminaries, throwing their energies into activities that get them nothing but the satisfaction of putting it over "greater and grander than ever" and pleasing a record number of people.

The London & Port Stanley Railway has a standard schedule of commissions paid to these bodies, partly out of a desire to enable them to meet their expenses, but, in the main, as a fair compensation on the business they create. The same rules hold good for everybody. For the railway is always eager to throw in the weight of its experience and resources to insure success.

This year the schedule has been subjected to one of its periodical revisions to meet the varying needs of L. & P. S. patrons, and now every bona fide organization that holds its outing at Port Stanley may qualify to earn commissions on ticket sales. Sunday schools of all denominations, industrial groups, offices and stores, societies and lodges, family and clan reunions—all are eligible.

This system is taken advantage of each year by picnic organizations from all parts of Western Ontario. The L. & P. S. has close connections with all railways entering both London and St. Thomas, and as a result is able to arrange for through movements of special parties to and from Port Stanley from any place in Western Ontario.

Railway Facilities.

In addition to the innumerable advantages of Port Stanley as a summer recreation center, the railway furnishes many facilities, relieving organization officials of much responsibility. For instance, officials may obtain from the railway a complete program of sports ready to be run off and, if desired, suitable prizes may be supplied at low cost for every event. Tents are erected, enclosures roped off, stands for dances, bands and other shows supplied and baseball diamond reservations taken care of. Frequently the railway is called upon to arrange for picnic tables for the picnic grounds, seating of hundreds in the park on Invererie Heights, but no detail is overlooked. At a pre-arranged price the railway will serve lunch or supper for any number in the open air, or stage a dinner or banquet in the cafeteria, with all the courses from soups to nuts, and orchestral music on the side.

In Port Stanley no accommodation has been overlooked and no field for the amusement of the young or old has been slighted. The big L. & P. S. thousand-room bathhouse, with every convenience, including showers and electric hair-driers, the incline railway, up to beautiful Invererie Heights, the roller coaster, the magnificent Casino and dancing pavilion, the multi-million attractions of the board walk, in fact the whole gamut from shady restfulness in a wonderful park to the busy-busy of the midway are included in the scope of this leader among the summer resorts of Western Ontario.

HOPES TAILLEUR WILL NOT DOMINATE SUMMER CLOTHES

Julia Hoyt Fears Fad May Be Carried Into Hot Season Dresses.

COOL COLORS BEST

Advices Pale Greens, Pinks, Grays, Mauves and Blues For Frocks.

By JULIA HOYT.

Tailored suits, tailored suits! That's all one seems to see these days. I have always had a great affection for tailored suits myself and have never gone without one for a season.

And in spite of a natural tendency to dislike things that everyone wears I am still wearing my tailored suit.

It cannot be denied that a tailored suit is becoming to most people, and is a very useful detail in woman's wardrobe. I hope, however, that we will not carry the use of tailored suits to such an extent as to extend the style into linens and really summer clothes. This I have no reason to believe. I am going to be the case, not having seen any linens or wash materials as yet, but I fear it, owing to our tendency to carry fads and styles beyond their appropriateness.

A lady in Baltimore spoke to me the other day about the rather general feeling which seems to exist, that even in summer one must wear rather dark and non-summer clothes in the city. She wanted to know whether, in my opinion, this was necessary. I should say that it was not at all necessary. I do not think that fluffy and thin muslins or very transparent materials look appropriate in the city, but certainly there is no reason why women should not wear light and cool looking colors and materials in the city as much as they would in the country. After all, we are keenly aware that it's summer in the city just as much as in the country—even more so—and I can see nothing in bad taste or out of place in light frockings and crepes, and such materials in cool and light colors.

It seems to me that the main objective during the season of heat is to feel cool one's self, and to have the appearance of feeling cool for the benefit of others. Generally speaking, this is not possible when we wear heavy materials and dark colors. There are some lucky people who always look cool, regardless of the weather or their costume, and other unlucky ones who never achieve that appearance, though wearing the freshest and thinnest of dresses. But, in general, we cannot deny that there are certain colors that make for heat and others for coolness.

Pale and light greens, pinks (being careful not to go into reds or flame colors), grays, mauves, light blues—in fact, almost all light colors, rather pale colors, tend to produce an effect of coolness. Yellow, used in decoration or for waists, is supposed to produce warmth, and it undoubtedly does in a room; nevertheless, I think pale yellow often looks extremely fresh and cool in dress. While we all know, is charming for summer. Brilliant colors produce a feeling of heat in the observer, if not in the wearer.

I do not like to see white shoes worn in the city, nor do I think that white dresses look well in the city, although they actually may not be any less practical than tan or gray, from the point of view of catching dirt.

I am rather conservative, I imagine, in my taste in shoes, both as to color and style. It seems to me that the four standard colors—black, brown in all shades running into light tan and champagne, gray and white for the country—cannot be improved upon. Such atrocities (so they seem to me) as brilliant reds, greens and blues are not only bad style, but ugly.

Although I believe that we can wear light colors and materials in town in the summer, I do not mean that they should be quite as transparent, or as low-necked and short-sleeved as in the country. There is really no need for this, for a solid material, such as a crepe or tulle, while giving the effect of more clothing, in no way increases our discomfort. A very thin dress generally needs a slip, and is therefore really not much cooler than a dress of more solid material under which we can wear very little.

Summer frocks for every day's engagements may be made of Canton Crepe, dark and lustrous, or of the printed silks in whose patterns are written many colorful stories of the Orient.

CANTON CREPES.

First in popularity are the Canton Crepes. There's a Swiss fabric of pure silk, with a fine crepe weave, and a softness which makes it well adapted to the slender lines of the present styles. In black, navy and brown, as well as in the lighter shades of gray and almond green; 39-inch. Just a limited quantity at . . . . . $3.00 yard

ARMURE SILK.

Black Armure Silk of an untearable quality, and a rich satin finish, is much in demand for cool and practical little office dresses or slips; 36 inches wide, at . . . . . $1.29

PRINTED CREPES.

The vogue for printed dresses and scarfs emphasizes the importance of these new silks. Their colorful beauty, and their lovely Oriental patterns offer a convincing explanation of their widespread popularity; 49-inch, at . . . . . $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard Silk Department.

Silks May Be Plain or Patterned

In some cases stocks are being squared up, and many special purchases are printed for Saturday, the last day of May, which afford extraordinary opportunities for savings. If low prices will insure quick selling, we are certain that none of our specials for Saturday will remain long. So early inspection is advised. Warmer weather is a safe prediction now, and sports apparel will have all its own way. Here you will find sports apparel of the highest order, and in all the approved fabrics and colors of the mode. Suits, frocks, hats, skirts, blouses, with new ideas embodied in their designing.

The BREATH of the AVENUE

THE HANDKERCHIEF ACCESSORY FOR SUMMER COSTUMES

The handkerchief blossoms out as summer comes in. It finds endless ways of fitting in with summertime fashions. And now New York's displays of summer clothes show how important is the handkerchief to the harmony of the costume.

If the handkerchief is conservative enough in color to go with any fashionable summer costume, it will follow the lead of summer shoes and be plain white, or black and white. Or it may reflect the summer stocking shades in one of the tea-rose tones.

It is often a note of contrast—a piquant print or a solid color that carries out the bright stripes in a frock, a bright hat, a belt or a scarf.

The handkerchief may also match the dress. In the high shades for morning, in pastels for afternoon. And the favorites among these matching handkerchiefs are those with coin dots in contrasting colors, intricate little inserts of net footings, fine black embroidery, borders of tinted lace. Or they are petal-edged nose-gay handkerchiefs that masquerade as flowers when they are held in the hand.

The pockets of trim summer sports clothes, the bright colors in accessories and the new shades in summer frocks—all call for new handkerchiefs. And at this season of the year, handkerchief counters are decidedly colorful.

The Newest of Summer Coats

Summer weather, summer frocks and summer weddings are just around the corner! All three of them require summer coats of formal beauty. You will find a delightful collection of them in lighter weight materials, smartly trimmed with braid or collared with summer fur.

A distinctive coat of black matelasse (it resembles a heavy blistered satin) is developed in the wrap style with wide sleeves and side closing. It is lined with gray canton and collared with gray squirrel . . . . . $75.00

Another Wrap Coat has chosen as its medium of expression a heavy corded black silk, self brocaded in conventional patterns. It has a kimono sleeve, closes at the left side, is lined with canton crepe and has a choker collar of fox . . . . . $79.00

Navy Tricotine fashions a simple little coat which is effectively trimmed with narrow rows of gray braid and silk stitching. It has a graceful bell sleeve and a softly rolling collar . . . . . $45.00

A novel fluted pleating of the material is a distinguishing feature of a black tricotine coat. It fastens at the left side, has a bell sleeve, a gray crepe lining, a convertible dome collar and alternate rows of silk embroidery and fluted pleating . . . . . $59.00

Second Floor.
