EARL OF DUNDONALD ACTED SOLELY IN INTEREST OF THE CANADIAN MILITIA

In a Straightforward Statement He Says He Has Been Persistently Hampered By Party Politicians in the Cabinet Ever Since He Took Command.

FISHER AFFAIR FINAL INCIDENT

The Task at Last Became a Hopeless One.

How the Force Suffers From Being in the Control of Men Who Place Office Before All Else.

Lord Dundonald's promised statement of his position in connection with his public protest against political interference in militia matters, and his subsequent dismissal from the position of General Officer Commanding, which has been eagerly awaited by the Canadian people, was issued on Saturday.

Following is the full text of the statement:—

I should say before the people of Canada a statement of my position with reference to the difficulty between myself and the Government of Canada. I may say—

I was fully aware of the gravity of the step which I took in making a public protest. I was fully aware that it was an unusual step. I decided to take it because I was convinced that it was the only means of serving the militia of Canada.

THE EARL OF DUNDONALD, The Scotchman who has Loyally Sacrificed Himself for the Benefit of Canada's Militia.

I have for two years been General Officer Commanding the Militia. I have worked hard to improve the force, to devise a scheme of reorganization, to create and organize numerous departments, and to revise the system of training. I have sedulously avoided taking any part of interest in Canadian politics.

NEVER IMPOSED POLICY.

In all of my work I have endeavored to keep steadily in view the nature of my post. I have not sought to impose my policy upon the Minister or upon the Cabinet. I have sought to carry out the plans approved by the Government. In the technical administration of the force I hold that I should be given a fairly free hand. At the same time I was careful to ascertain and consider the views of all persons interested. I claimed a smaller measure of freedom than is accorded to the general managers of important commercial companies. To make a railway pay it is necessary to leave detail matters of administration largely to the expert official in charge of the system. The managing of a military force is expert work, and the safety of the country is surely as important as the success of a railway. My claim for freedom extended only to the technical side of my work. I had no desire to force my policy upon the Ministry.

INTERFERENCE FROM THE FIRST.

In my efforts I was constantly hampered by interference with that particular part of my work. This interference began very soon after my arrival. It has continued incessantly ever since. Mr. Fisher's interest in the affairs of the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons was simply the final incident in a long list of various phases of obstruction.

My only reason for remaining in my post was to benefit the militia of Canada, but my efforts were so persistently blocked that I came to look upon the case as a hopeless one. I was forced to reflect very seriously upon what I could do to effect my object—the improvement of the militia. It seemed to me that, imperfect as is the training, great as is the lack of armament, numerous as are the faults of detail, there lies behind all these evils a far greater evil—the indifference of the men who govern the country to the welfare of the force.

TO LET DAYLIGHT IN.

It seemed to me that the best way to help the militia of Canada was to let daylight into the working of the system.

I realized, moreover, that the new Militia Bill would soon be discussed in Parliament, and that it was my duty to give a warning of certain dangers before it was too late.

I might have lodged an official protest with the Government. I cannot see that this would have been of any avail. It would have been simply one more document in a pigeon hole.

A course, offering many attractions, was to resign and issue a public statement giving my reasons. So far as I personally was concerned, this would have been by far the easier and more pleasant course. The objection was that by so doing I would give neither the Government nor the people of Canada any real opportunity to pass judgment upon the matter brought to their attention. My protest would have been made, it is true, but not in a manner that would have attracted attention to the evil.

PUBLIC PROTEST PREFERRED.

It seemed better to make a public protest and to leave with the Government the option of heeding it, or of upholding the system which is detrimental to the efficiency of the national defence.

I was in this frame of mind when Mr. Fisher's interference with the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons came to a head. It precipitated my resolution to speak out, no matter what the consequences.

I may now pass from the general aspect of the matter to a few particular instances, where not I but protest. In the House of Commons at various times he described this part of the report as "private," "confidential," and "secret." It was marked neither "private," "confidential," nor "secret." When the Minister made these statements he had been explicitly informed by me that I desired its publication. He went so far on one occasion as to compare the report to the secret report on Canadian defence. With that report my report had no analogy.

When I presented my report for 1903, Sir Frederick Borden told me that certain portions were too strong and might embarrass him. I modified it, and again sent it in. Without further reference to me he struck out whole pages and separate paragraphs, all of which I had intended should be made public. Among the portions eliminated were references to the condition of the permanent corps—which I pronounced in many respects unsatisfactory.

THE ORDINANCE CORPS MATTER.

Last year, for instance, the permanent corps, with an establishment of 995, were 207 under strength, had 277 enlistments and 154 desertions. The two small instructional batteries at Kingston were practically reduced to one. The dissatisfaction in the permanent corps, and its urgent requirements, had been pointed out by me upon the Minister ever since I came to the country.

A more recent instance occurred in connection with the organization of the ordinance corps. The establishment of this corps was fixed at a colonel, a second in command—with the rank of lieutenant-colonel—and three lieutenant-colonels. This was a larger establishment than I would have recommended had I been unhampered; but Sir Frederick Borden was anxious to have a number of senior and highly paid posts, and the scheme which he desired was carried out.

"A FOREIGNER"

(Sergeant Brown (Montreal), of the Royal 65th Victoria Fusiliers—and of the First Contingent—reads Sir Wilfred's speech in the mess after the evening parade, and speaks his mind.)

"A foreigner," boys! That beats me; I can't get over that. It fuses me entirely; I don't know where I'm at. The Union Jack is upon the wall; it doesn't look forlorn; And I wonder if I'm a "foreigner," too, in the country where I was born.

Sir Wilfred calls him "a foreigner," alien in mind and in heart. Then were we a "foreign" legion serving the Queen for hire, When we marched with Roberts across the veldt, trying to do our part, By the Gordons' side in the long days' march, or Cronje's pitiless fire!

I wonder if I'm a "foreigner." Was I serving a "foreign" Queen? Have I lost my Canadian birthright in the places where I have been? I have never been under a different flag from the one on the wall there now, But neither has Lord Dundonald; and yet he's a "foreigner!" How?

Gordons, Shropshires and Cornwalls: Boys of the Old Brigade, Was it a stranger's welcome we got from you comrades? No! He lost my Canadian birthright in the places where I have been, You did not know we were "foreigners" till our Premier told you so.

I am sorry about Sir Wilfred; I thought him a right good kind; And I'm sorry I gave him a vote or two before he showed us his mind; But I'll never give him another while the Modder grass grows green, O'er my comrades who died 'neath a "foreign" flag in the pay of a "foreign" Queen.

Canada has suffered from autocratic and unusual interference with the machinery which I was supposed to control.

HIS REPORT SUPPRESSED.

One extremely serious case of interference was the suppression of the important parts of my first annual report on the militia. After studying the situation with great care, I came to certain conclusions, and thought out certain plans. For convenience of reference I divided my report for the year 1902 into two halves. Part I was a simple diary of events. Part II contained my description of the condition of the militia, and an outline of a comprehensive scheme for reorganizing the force upon lines suitable to the country. This part was fully intended by me for publication. It contained nothing that could be described as a military secret. It covered matters such as is constantly made public in Great Britain and the United States. In my judgment it was information as to the actual condition and possibilities of the militia which it was desirable for the people of Canada to know.

SIR F. BORDEN'S CONDUCT.

This part of the report Sir Frederick Borden suppressed against my Goons, from a military point of view. The action taken by him certainly was not conducive to the interests of the regiment.

THE SCOTTISH LIGHT DRAGOONS.

It is perhaps here necessary to say how difficult it is to get qualified officers for the militia. This difficulty was accentuated in the comparatively small area of the Eastern Townships, where the number of cavalry officers had been increased from 28 to 102, and the number of squadrons from 4 to 20, since May, 1903. The only possible way to get the new corps officer was to get local support and trust the opinion of the commanding officer entrusted with the duty of raising the regiment.

The whole details of the interference with the officers entrusted by me with the duty of organizing the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons have already been made public.

That Mr. Fisher's motives were po-

"BENEATH CONTEMPT"

Statesmanlike Statement of the Pompous Puppet at the Head of the Militia Department.

Toronto, June 20.—Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, when asked concerning Lord Dundonald's straight-forward statement, merely replied, with a pompous wave of his hand:—

"I have no desire to make a reply to the statement just now. It is beneath contempt. You can say that if you like." And he turned angrily away from the interviewer.

litical, he himself admitted in his second speech in the House of Commons on June 10. This admission, I may observe, was singularly at variance with his earlier speech on the same day. In that speech, which was a prepared statement, he distinctly stated that his objections to Dr. Pickell were of a military nature, and that his interference was not due to political motives.

I may also note the peculiar coincidence by which Mr. Fisher was Acting Minister of Militia on the very day on which this case came up. I do not remember any previous instance of his acting for the Minister of Militia. The case of the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons was pending. On the 18th of May the Minister struck out from The Gazette the list of names submitted to him by me on the ground that further consideration was needed. On the very next day that further consideration was given—by the very man whom Sir Frederick Borden knew to be pressing to have The Gazette altered in the direction of his own wishes. The effect of Sir Frederick Borden's unusual step in making Mr. Fisher to act for him was to make the strong opponent or Dr. Pickell, the arbiter by whose decision the Council would be guided.

THE LETTER TO COL. HUGHES.

M. P.

It has been said that my proper course on the matter coming up before Parliament was to send a statement of facts to the Minister of Militia, and not to an Opposition member of Parliament.

Although statements condemning my course were being prepared to be read in the House, I received no intimation from Sir Frederick Borden that this was being done, and no invitation to prepare a memorandum setting forth the facts as far as I knew them. All that I received from Sir Frederick Borden was a request to know whether a paragraph in a newspaper represented what I had said at Montreal.

Had I volunteered such a statement I had no assurance that the Minister of Militia would read it to

THE FARMER FAILS

In health just as does the city-man, and he fails commonly from the same cause, "stomach trouble." The farm is a wholesome place to live; the farmer's life is a healthy life; but no external advantages can overcome the effects of a diseased stomach. When the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and assimilation are diseased, the food eaten is imperfectly digested and assimilated, and the consequent loss of nutrition results in physical debility.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.
"I used ten bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Broadwater Co., Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do no good. I got down in weight to one hundred and twenty pounds and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh nearly one hundred and sixty and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicine to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicine."
The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicine. He gains; you lose, therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

A GRADE STEER CUT UP

WHERE THE BEST AND MOST VALUABLE PIECES ARE TAKEN FROM.

Differences Between the Pure Bred and the Grade Animals in High-Prized Cuts on the Chicago Market—Early Maturity a Large Factor in the Economy of Gain.

The carcass of a well-fattened grade steer as cut up by the Chicago butchers, giving retail price per pound for the different cuts. A good 1,200-pound steer dressed about 800 pounds, and of this 708 pounds is marketable meat. Notice that all the best cuts are taken from ribs, loin and hindquarters. These valuable cuts together weigh 246 pounds, and at the above prices sell for $44.55. The less valuable cuts from the forequarters, belly and flank, weigh 562 pounds, and bring only $16.43.
It will be observed that the three cuts along the back, which are called respectively the prime of rib, the porterhouse, and the sirloin, bring a much higher price per pound than any of the other cuts in the animal carcass. So great is the difference between the value of these and the cheaper cuts that the real price per pound of cattle on the fat-stock market depends upon the development of these valuable cuts. When a head of fat cattle is taken to the market, other things being equal, the buyer pays for them, in exact proportion to the development of the prime of rib, the sirloin and the porterhouse. A slight increase in

HOUSEWIVES' MISTAKES.

Two Things Which Women Really Should Not Do.
"Housekeepers do two things which they should not do," said a wise old woman recently in a fashion. "To begin with, they soon come to be original. They serve up the same old things every day in the week. You always know what is coming. Potatoes, meat and vegetables and pie all appear in the same old guise. They are cooked the same every day in the year and three times a day.
"Secondly, they worry too much. They take the kitchen too much to heart. If they are going to have roast lamb for dinner, with peas or cabbage and browned potatoes, they begin early in the day to worry about it, and they worry until the end of the chapter, which is until they lay their heads down to rest for the last time.
"Now, why not start in to cater to the family without worrying? Lamb with mint sauce is no better than lamb with mint sauce, and neither can compare to lamb with a nice dressing of chopped vegetables. Now are the pies any better for the fact that they are worried into the pan and worried out and worried even to the table. Instead of fretting invent a new dish and study the cookery pictures and try to get up something like them. That is the best and most original way to set a good table."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

For sponging out bureau drawers or sideboards use tepid water containing a small quantity of thymol. The jars and bottles that smell of onions will be quite sweet and odorless if left out of doors filled with sand or garden mold.
Varnished walls in the bathroom and halls are easily washed off, and it costs little in either money, time or trouble to varnish them.
Carved furniture which defies the dust cloth can be made as attractive as new by brushing it with a soft hair brush dipped in kerosene.
When using a broom don't sweep with your back; use your arms. Sweep in one direction with long, light strokes. Sweep the carpet with the pile, not against it.
A small whisk broom clipped obliquely so as to make one side of it pointed is the only implement to use when sweeping the corners of rooms or stairways, as by no other method can every particle of dust be so effectively removed.

GOOD APPETITE NOT EVERYTHING

You Must Digest Your Food as Well as Eat It—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Ensure Perfect Digestion.
A good appetite may or may not mean that you are in good health. If you eat well and your food is digested your body will benefit from the heat and strength the food contains.
But many people who eat well have simply a false appetite caused by one of the varied forms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. These people need help. They need Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Take Mr. H. Bailey, of 208 Patrick street, Winnipeg, for example.
"Mr. Bailey says: 'I have gained in weight eight pounds since I began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Before that I never meant what I ate I never seemed to gain strength or put on weight.' If you would have health and energy be sure your stomach is doing its full duty. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets ensure the stomach doing its full work.
You can't buy experience on tick-stages of the feeding period. The results of their investigations are summarized in the following table:

Up to—	Feed for 100 lbs. of food gain, per cent.
54 days the steers required..	730
84 days the steers required..	907
112 days the steers required..	960
144 days the steers required..	991
198 days the steers required..	927
182 days the steers required..	1000

From this table it will be observed that the amount of grain required to produce a pound of gain increases directly as the length of the feeding period. If the cattle mentioned in this experiment could have been finished at the end of 140 days rather than at the end of 198 days, the amount of grain required to produce a pound of gain would have been much less and the profits correspondingly greater.
The well-bred steer, therefore, commends himself to the practical producer of beef, because he is able to produce a high-priced product from the various food-materials on the farm. He is more profitable than the plain steer, because he possesses the characteristic of early maturity. He may be finished at a young age, and young cattle produce beef with much greater economy than aged cattle. The high-grade steer may also be finished in a shorter feeding-period and thus contribute to economical beef-production. There is every economic reason for the practical every-day feeder insisting upon having well-bred cattle for his feed-lot.—National Live Stock Review.

BROOD MARES.

Something About Their Best Treatment at This Season.

At this season of the year most farmers and breeders find little opportunity to give their brood mares any regular exercise, at work or in harness, and while many realize the freedom of the pastures, lots, etc., there are those who from inactivity or mistake ideas neglect this, says The American Agriculturist. The ideal conditions in the case would be a well grown bluegrass pasture, supplied with water by a spring or windmill, keeping a flow of water sufficient to prevent from freezing. Proportion the tank correctly to the flow of water and fix it so the wind does not strike the bottom or sides directly, and it will seldom if ever form any ice. Shelter from storms should be provided. As to feed, it will be needed just in proportion to the amount of bluegrass spared from last season's pasture. Some may think it foolishness to let nothing on a pasture during the most of the season of growth. It may be, but there are others who think such a crop of bluegrass about equal to a crop of corn. But just compare the growth the following year to that of other pastures.

Oats, in preference to any one kind of grain, are the most satisfactory food for brood mares. Corn is all right under the above conditions if not fed too heavily. Bran may be used to advantage occasionally when the bluegrass has not been provided. Hay should be timothy and clover, sweet and clean, the more clover the better, provided the mare is not at a stage of pregnancy which requires much exertion.
Brood mares with foal should be carefully and gradually accustomed to work after being idle. Never keep them in a basement barn or stand them on a plank floor. Keep shorn off them if possible. Turn a good, roomy box stall to foal in.

Outdoor Coops for Brooder Chickens.

When the chicks get to be from six to eight weeks old, they are taken from the brooders by W. R. Graham, poultry manager of the Ontario Agricultural College. A small coop, A, shown in Fig. 1, is set in front of the brooder, so that the chickens cannot get into the brooder entrance, the result being that they get into

When the chickens get too large for this coop, which will be in about ten weeks, they are put into Coop B, Fig. 2, and the same process is gone through with it. It is set in front of the other coop so as to obstruct the entrance, and the chickens then go into coop B and soon take to the roost. This coop is 6 feet long, 2 feet 6 inches wide, 2 feet 6 inches high in front and 18 inches high in back. It has two roosts and the front is made of poultry netting. Mr. Graham advises keeping chicks roosting in the open air as long as possible, and says never to put them in close, stuffy houses, which will make them grow weak, become weak and be of little or no value for breeders or egg producers.

Denmark, which produces an immense quantity of butter, has an average of one cow to every two inhabitants.

At the Kansas Experiment Station a careful record was made of the amount of grain required to produce 100 pounds of gain at different

VARICOCELE

CURED TO STAY CURED.

Varicocele impairs vitality and destroys the elements of manhood. Surgical means should not be employed to treat this complaint, as operations always weaken the parts. We daily prove by successful results that Varicocele can be cured without operation. Instead of maiming and mutilating the organs, our VITALIZED TREATMENT strengthens the parts, removes all pain or aching, restores the circulation, reduces the swelling, vitalizes the nerves and establishes the vigor of manhood. One treatment is the result of 20 years' experience. You feel its magic influence during the first week.

FORESTERS AT THE CHURCH

Rev. Mr. Cobblecluck Delivers Earnest Address to Fraternal Organizations

Were Led by Regimental Band and Marshallled by Officer Dezellia—Votes of Thanks

The annual sermon of the Independent Order of Foresters was preached in Park street Methodist church last evening by the Rev. G. H. Cobblecluck, B. A. The number of Foresters in attendance was very large, including a number of the companion lodge, who occupied the front seats, more than filling the entire centre of the church. The procession was headed by the 24th Kent Regimental Band and Marshallled by P. C. Peter Dezellia.

The Rev. Mr. Cobblecluck welcomed the Order both as individuals and as a lodge, and also welcomed the band.

Mr. Cobblecluck chose as his text Galatians the sixth chapter, the first, second and fifth verses:

"If any man be overtaken in fault, ye who are spiritual restore such a one in the spirit of meekness, considering your own selves lest ye also be tempted."

"Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ."

"For every man shall bear his own burden."

In opening Mr. Cobblecluck stated that a new feeling for Christ was said by an eminent authority to be the dominant element in modern theology, while "back to Christ" is the watchword of a large school of present day interpreters of the word of God. Christ is being increasingly recognized as both the originating and regulative mind—the eternal form or rule of life and conduct and the dignity is for Christ's religion.

His words "our Father" are the great leveler of ranks and the charter of fraternity. He showed that Christ's religion was an advance on that which succeeded him being positive instead of negative. The text gives us a special illustration of the great law of all organized life that the strong should help the weak. Those overtaken in a fault were to be restored. Instead of striking at the bruise it was to be bandaged and healed. The power of the keys is given to us, and by our coldness to one who has erred we bind his sin upon him, while by our sympathy we loose it. This general law of the strong helping the weak is here applied specially to burden bearing. There is really no contradiction in the text. The word for burden in verse two means everything that one may bear for another, while the word in verse five means his own load. In burden bearing contact is necessary, and to make it effective it must be both personal and mutual. The need is that burdens be equalized. A suspension bridge is so constructed with both ends firmly fastened in strong foundations that when the load comes upon any one part the strain is divided over the entire bridge. This is the benefit derived from the law of burden bearing.

The old charity of alms giving, which assumed the superiority of the giver over the receiver and degraded the masses, is replaced by the newer and better charity of mutual helpfulness. As Emerson has said, "He is my best friend who can make me do my best," and the best help is to enable others to help themselves. There is more kindness in getting a man to join the I. O. F. than in taking up a subscription for his widow and orphans after he is dead.

The I. O. F. is on the true plan of charity. Its character is indicated by its motto, "Love, Benevolence and Concord."

Mr. Cobblecluck said he was glad to see many church members among the Foresters present; as a tree's fruit contains the seed of the future tree, so the reflex influence of fraternal societies should be helpful to the church and the Kingdom of Christ. Such societies grew only in a Christian soil and their rapid growth has been rendered possible only by the Christian atmosphere that the churches have through the ages produced. The church welcomes the order. Let the order assist and appreciate the church. Your order has 222,000 members, and is celebrating its 32nd anniversary. Its purpose is to enable the widow to keep her family by her and rear and train them when the husband and father is gone. To such bereaved ones the order has paid $16,000,000, and now paying every day of the year $6,500 besides carrying $4,000 daily to the emergency fund. Besides all this are the sick and funeral benefits. The help rendered is privately given and accompanied by sympathy. All this is certainly Christian, but in addition to it the privilege is yours, by personal influence, to restore the brother overtaken in fault. Learn the true spirit of your order from the Great Teacher himself and the secret of burden bearing.

The church was filled and the discourse was listened to with the keenest interest. The choir rendered two excellent anthems, under the able leadership of H. Edythe Hill.

Returning to the lodge room, votes of thanks were passed to the Rev. G. H. Cobblecluck, the choir and the managers of the church.

The turnout of the I. O. F. was one of the largest seen in Chatham in some time. There were about 300 in the parade.

FLOWER DAY FOR CHILDREN

Interesting and Delightful Services Held in the First Presbyterian Church

Musie by the Young Folks—Beautiful Floral Decorations—Splendid Address

The First Presbyterian Church was was resplendent yesterday for a children's day and flower festival.

The interior of the beautiful edifice was gorgeously decorated with myriads of pretty flowers and to make the scene more woodland-like, many cages of canaries were hung around, the beautiful birds giving forth a pleasing melody of song.

G. J. Peace, Assistant Supt., and Fred Stone, Superintendent, had the affair in charge and carried it off in an excellent and instructive manner. Mr. Peace was the originator of the idea.

At the morning service, a choir of about forty young girls of the Sunday School sang prettily, the different appropriate choruses. Solos, too were rendered by Misses Shirley Arthur, Hope Rankin and Willie Hoig.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. MacGillivray, made a very pleasing and instructive address to the little folks, which suited the occasion perfectly.

In the afternoon, the Sunday School service was held in the church. Addresses were made by Rev. T. Beverley Smith, of Holy Trinity Church, and M. Houston, Superintendent of the William Street Baptist Church Sunday School.

Solos were rendered in the afternoon by Misses Shirley Arthur, Hope Rankin and Willie Hoig.

CHOIR OUTING

Arrangements have been completed for the outing of the choir of the First Presbyterian church, which will take place to Erie Beach cottage on Tuesday, the 28th inst.

Col. Rankin and E. D. Laurie are in charge of the arrangements, while the ladies are making extensive preparations for the entertainment and enjoyment of the musicians.

BADLY KICKED

Robert Mimer, of Blenheim, met with a serious accident at the Park House stables on Saturday. He was kicked in the head by a horse and rendered unconscious. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and did not regain consciousness until this morning.

Both his upper and lower lips were cut and his lower jaw was injured. He is a little improved to-day and will recover in a few days.

J. T. O'Keefe and Dr. Cornell started out yesterday for a short tour in their automobiles. They went from here to the Lake Shore and made the run from there to Windsor along the shore of Lake Erie. They intended to cross at Windsor, run up to Port Huron re-cross to the Canadian side and back to Chatham. There were in the party, Dr. and Mrs. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Richards and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Elkey.

To Prove what Anti-Pill, the Great System Treatment will do for you, Every Reader of this paper may have a Sample Bottle sent Free by Mail.

Derangement of the stomach is responsible for much sickness and suffering. Every organ of the body depends upon the stomach for its nutriment and strength. If the stomach is not working right the blood carries to the liver, heart, nerves and kidney tissue imperfect nutrition. They become weak and unable to perform their work—become clogged, diseased, and throw out their distress symptoms. Now you may get stimulative, temporary relief by the taking of a kidney, liver, nerve or heart specific, but the cause remains. The stomach is at fault, and so long as it keeps loading the blood with impurity—waste, so long will the blood transport and deposit disease breeding elements in the weak places. When you feel sick, help the stomach first. A well stomach means a well body. Anti-Pill, the Great System Treatment, is a new discovery that has a marvelous influence in correcting system ailments. Address, Wilson-Fyle Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., for free sample. Regular size, a month's treatment, 50 cents at Druggists.

BRISCO'S OPERA HOUSE BLOCK

RECORD BREAKER

Such is the Gigantic Sale Now Going on at the Big Austin Store.

"Would you mind telling us, did your special advertising last week pay?" queried the scribe as he met Mr. Austin, of the Bargain Centre, this morning.

"No objections whatever," was the prompt reply, "it's always a pleasure for us to give advertising its due share of credit for what it helps accomplish."

"Our Big Tag Sale has certainly been a pronounced success right from the start. Each day showed a decided increase in sales over corresponding days, while Saturday was a hummer. While the crowd in town Saturday was below the average, our sales were away in excess of any day this year, even circus day, a week ago, not approaching anywhere near to them. Our experiences so far have been pleasant. We used in our announcements to avoid saying anything of an extravagant or sensational character, in order not to raise expectations higher than facts justified, and as a result, when the customers came they found the values offered even better than they anticipated and so bought freely and quickly. About the only regret expressed was that in some instances, the cash available did not allow them to secure all that they would like to of such reasonable bargains."

"Yes, the sale will be continued for the full six weeks, as we meant exactly what we said in our announcement. We want to reduce our stock by 30,000 dollars, and as lines are sold out others will take their place until this amount is reached."

GRAND PICNIC.

YELLOWSTONE PARK.

One Meets With Nature's Surprises There at Every Turn.

Probably no area of equal extent contains so great a number of natural objects capable of arousing wonder, enthusiasm and awe as are found crowded together in the park. Its many scenic features of restful charm, found alongside areas of never ending activity, with weird, grotesque surroundings, surprise one at every turn. Yellowstone lake, the largest sheet of water in America at so high an elevation, with its indented shore line and 130 square miles of surface dotted with forested islands, presents to lovers of nature a series of picturesque landscapes unequalled upon any other inland waters. The far famed falls of the Yellowstone, with their unique and marvelous rock setting, and the Grand canyon, with its majestic outlines and brilliant coloring, are worthy of all the praise bestowed upon them and merit a separate descriptive article. More than a score of waterfalls and cascades, some of them of exquisite grace and beauty, pour the waters of mountain torrents and plateaus from the uplands to the lowlands. Many of them well deserve a visit, but their fame is obscured by the real marvels of the Yellowstone. Again, the fossil forests, so seldom visited, tell a most interesting story of a buried plant world, of explosive eruptions of mud volcanoes and the gradual piling up of erupted lavas and ashes. All these, enticing as they seem, appear insignificant when compared with the hydrothermal phenomena displayed in geysers, boiling springs, hot lakes, solfatarae and numbing fumaroles, which have gained for the park the appellation of the wonderland of America. Unquestionably it is this hot water treatment which the region has undergone that has developed most of the objects of interest and made the park famous the world over. Even the lake owes much of its attractiveness to its hot springs and paint pots, and the Grand canyon would lack its brilliancy of coloring and its sculptured buttressed walls but for the long continued action of hot as well as cold water.—Arnold Hague in Scribner's.

PITH AND POINT.

No grown person should ever hate a child.

Any man who has money can have lithographs printed claiming a big show.

The trouble with having a good word for everybody is that when you pay a compliment it doesn't count.

We hope we are not lacking in sympathy, but when they tell us that a fat woman is "delicate" we laugh.

After a man has been engaged three or four weeks he begins to find opportunities to take sides in her quarrels.

We don't know what it requires to become skillful at repartee, unless it is to think as quick as when the baby has the crump.

Ever notice how people reach over the preserves after the pickles? And how they insist on passing pickles instead of preserves to others?

Queer Tastes.

Speaking of mysterious tastes, that of a man who was recently before the magistrate at Greenwich is not very easy of explanation. Three weeks ago a legacy of £130 was left to him. The first thing he bought, it seems, was a set of billiard balls, and he now has nothing else left to show for the £130, which has disappeared at the rate of £45 a week. Why billiard balls? It is a singular and rather interesting form of craving. It is perhaps true that a billiard ball is one of the very few perfect objects produced by man. It is all of a piece, it is thoroughly homogeneous as regards material, and it is, or should be, faultless in form. Yet only a strong strain of mysticism in the character would account for a man hungering and thirsting for billiard balls above all other earthly things.—London News.

Eyelets Sold by the Million.

"Eyelets sold by the million," are, like needles, pins and matches, sold by the million instead of by the pound. I don't suppose anybody could tell how many million eyelets are sold every year in New York, but the number is prodigious. Eyelets are made for a variety of uses, from the huge white metal loops sewed into the corners of ships' sails to the tiny eyelets for the dainty slipper of a baby. The greatest number of eyelets made are, of course, for shoes. They are put up in boxes of 100,000, 250,000 and 500,000. Only those proportions are packed. They cost anywhere from $50 to $130 a million.

Overheard on the Pier.

"Is this all?" demanded the custom house inspector as he finished up Binks' trunks.
"Well, no," said Binks. "I got a new wife over in Paris. That little woman over there with the pink cheeks is she."
"All right," said the inspector. "We'll have her appraised. She looks like a work of art."

Saved by Early Instruction.

Mrs. Crawford—I'm glad we taught our boy Hiram never to loaf around corners. Mr. Crawford—Got another object lesson, Maria? Mrs. Crawford—Yes. The paper says a young man lost a fortune on a corner in Wall street.

Blooded.

"I see Jennie Gayleigh is to undergo medical operation," said a doctor.
"Dear me! Appendicitis again?"
"No. She's going to have her husband amputated."—Town Topics.

Restored to Vigor

"You are one of the thousands of men, young and old, who lack virile power? Do you crave to be strong and vigorous, to have power, to be able to take the right steps to regain your full strength? Are you one of those who, believing themselves to be strong and well, are far from it? Perhaps you are one of those who, in the pursuit of your condition of health, if you have any reason to be or suspect that you are not what you are?"

Be Honest With Yourself.

"You belong to either class mentioned above, do not be discouraged. Do not lose hope. Help is at hand. You can be saved. Your virility, health and happiness have been lost, and you have been reduced to physical weakness."

Cure Yourself at Home.

"An expert specialist near you, writes to Dr. Goldberg, the noted specialist, a possessor of a diploma and certificate, is received from medical colleges and state medical boards, and he will send you a book free, to use in the privacy of your own home, without consulting anyone. It contains instructions, practical, simple, and easy to follow, for the cure of all the ailments mentioned, such as: rheumatism, bladder trouble, heart disease, etc. Write the doctor if he accepts your case for treatment. It is a cure, as he never accepts an insurance for treatment, and remember you may pay when you are cured."

Pay When You Are Cured.

"A doctor realizes that it is one thing to make a cure and another thing to look for money. He makes it a rule not to ask for money unless he has seen you cured. You are cured by the book, and you will willingly pay him a small sum. It is a pleasure, that it is to the best interests of you and who suffers in the same way. Write the doctor and confidentially lay your case before him. He sends the book to you as a trial on the subject, containing the diploma of a doctor, and another thing to look for money. CONDENSED MILK

its Discovery Was Brought About by a Woman's Experiments.

"How and when was condensed milk
discovered?" said a milk dealer. "Well, that is an easy question, known to all venders of the article.

"It chanced that in 1854 the journey from New Orleans to New York was a considerable trip. A certain lady—Mrs. Albert Cashinger—had a sick baby, and on account of that condensed milk was discovered.

"Mrs. Cashinger's baby was so ill that she realized that it would be necessary to make a trip to New York to receive expert medical attention if she hoped to save the child's life. But the travel that long distance the child had to have milk. Milk wouldn't keep fresh more than a few hours. So there she was, kept back from making the trip merely because she could not supply the child with fresh milk.

"In her despair she began to experiment to see if she could not preserve milk the same as she did jelly or anything else. She tried several different methods and finally hit upon a plan which seemed to give satisfaction. So she preserved several big jars of the stuff, put it upon a sailing vessel and made the trip. The child fed upon the milk and was nourished.

"In New York several men learned of her discovery. They tried to make some of the condensed milk in the manner that she had told them, but failed.
They followed her to New Orleans, and there she unwittingly unfolded her valuable secret. On the island of Galveston these men started a small factory, and there the first salable condensed milk was made.

"The woman did poor. The manufacturers made a fortune. Now condensed milk is sold in every part of the world."

CHAMPAGNE MAKING.

The Methods That Are Used in Producing the Wine.

It is to the invention of the champagne cork that the world owes champagne, according to Court Puyvray J.
Fromm of Frankfurt, Germany.

This wine is said to have been made successfully by the butler of a monastery near Epinal, in France, in 1643.
Until the early part of the nineteenth century sparkling wines were made only in the French province of Champagne.

Next to the wine, carbonic acid forms
the most important part of champagne. The picking of the grapes used requires great care to prevent discoloration. The grapes should not contain too much acid and coloring matter, but considerable sugar.

In order that the grapes should not become warm, thereby fermenting prematurely, picking is done in the early morning hours. The grapes are then placed in the press at once and the juice squeezed out very gently. After twelve to twenty-four hours it is run into vats, where its impurities are removed. After the first violent fermentation is over the young wine is put in cool cellars, into barrels of from 125 to 150 gallons. Toward the end of December the young wine is drawn off in order to separate it completely from the yeast.

The wine is then mixed with wines of other years and kinds. It is then bottled and the progress of fermentation carefully watched, the bottles being opened to "disgorge" the albumen, yeast and other products of fermentation which it is necessary to get rid of.
It is then sweetened and stored in cellars to mature for the market.

One Kind of Soft Answer.

It lacked but five minutes of the time for the train to start from the downtown station, and the suburbanites were hurrying into it when a man in the garb of a mechanic sat down by the side of a finely dressed passenger in one of the seats in the rear car, took a paper from his pocket and began to read.

"Plenty of empty seats in here yet, aren't there?" growled the man in the tailcoat, moving along grudgingly.
"Yes, sir," pleasantly replied the newcomer, "but it will be crowded pretty soon, and I thought I'd pick out a gentleman for a seat mate while I had a chance."

"Humph!" grunted the other man, uncertain whether to feel complimented or insulted, but realizing the hopelessness of trying to make any fitting rejoinder.—Youth's Companion.

A Matter of Business.

The ladies of the club were closely grouped about the speaker of the afternoon, a remarkably successful woman, in whom commercial and literary ability were admirably balanced.

"Tell us in a few words how to be successful," said one of the ladies insistently.

"To be successful," said the successful one, "all we women have to do is to make as much of a business of our own business as we do of the things that are none of our business."

Comforting.

"George, dear," she said, with a blush, "do you know that Mr. Simpson asked me last night to be his wife?"
"Well, I like his impudence! The idea of proposing to an engaged young lady! What did you say to him?"
"I told him that I was very sorry indeed, but he was too late."

A Leading Question.

Parent—Has that man asked you to marry him, Julia? Daughter—Not in so many words, but it has amounted to that. Last night he asked me if my dad was as well off as they say he is.

Learn how to listen and you will profit even from those who talk badly.

THIN MATERIALS.

A Great Many Velveteen Gowns Are Worn—Silk Weave Dresses.

There are a good many velveteen worn at this season of the year both for dressy and street wear. Cashmere, crepe de chine, tulle de sole, embroidered linen and some beautiful heavy guipures mixed with tulle are all smart.

Even gowns of a tailor made description show a considerable amount of trimming in the way of frills and double and single skirts. Nothing is more difficult than to put on these softening effects in the right way and still retain that chic and simplicity characteristic of the best French gowns.

White pongee is particularly smart for evening dresses. It is trimmed with handmade tucks and with lace of the embroidery description.

White and ecru gowns, the latter relieved with a touch of red or grass green, will lead this summer for afternoon wear.

Pale blue silk mull makes a dainty gown which can be worn both in sum-scription should be made up with a silk ruffled skirt and the waist shirred into a fancy collar of Irish lace. The sleeves are prettily made of tiny ruffles or huge transparent puffs.

A pretty evening toilet was designed of white chenille spotted net of the 1830 style, the bolero effect being produced by an arrangement of white velvet water lilies and their foliage in high relief formed the decoration of the décolletage.

The cut shows a batiste gown. The skirt is made plaited, and the waist is trimmed with a frilling of lace. The hat is trimmed with a black ostrich feather and ruching.

SUMMER FASHIONS.

Fishes Are Again Popular—The Cause For Shaded Effects.

There will be another revival of the quaint old fashioned fish this summer, and this will be particularly smart on the gowns of flowered net,
which will be so much worn this season.

There is a great craze for everything shaded. A prominent New York firm shows dress patterns of shaded voile so arranged that both the waist and the skirt can be made up shaded from dark to light. This craze for shading

DOTTED FOULARD WAIST.

even extends to the veils, and some particularly lively ones shade from red to pink.

The lace veil, while most becoming over the face, is very fetching draped around the brim of a tailor made hat or thrown back from the face, French fashion.

For cold weather in summer stoles
of marabou and lace are charming.
Plain tailor made shirt waists will still be worn, but there is an increase of soft lace waists, made either of net or thin washable materials, and these will be far daintier.

Lovely indeed are the new printed brussels nets, the artistic designs, all in delicate tones, having the effect of hand painting.

The cut shows a dotted foulard shirt waist with a long shoulder yoke and a full front. JUDITH CHOLLET.

The Uncertain World.

"This is the most uncertain world that ever I was in!" said the deacon.

"You think so?"
"I know it. Only the other day the parson sighted a hurricane far off on the horizon, and he pulled the lid on an' what do you reckon happened?"

"The Lord knows."
"Hurricane changed its mind—turned into a earthquake an' come mighty high swallered him whole!"

CONSUMPTION BEGINS WITH A COUGH.

The cough racks and tears the tender tissues of the throat. Inflammation supervenes and then serious bronchial or lung trouble is established. The important time is at the beginning. Stay the progress of the cough by using fragrant, healing Cat-tarhoxone, which reaches every part of the bronchial tubes, throat and lungs. Cattanoxone destroys diseased germs, stops the cough, loos-ens phlegm, clears the nose and throat of discharge. Cattanoxone soothes, never irritates. Guaranteed for every form of catarrh. For lasting cure use Cattanoxone. Two months' treatment $1.00; trial size 25c.

Irregularity in the Punishment.

There are two boys who manage to be rather unruly in school, and their teacher was so exasperated one day that she ordered them to remain after hours and write their names 1,000 times. She watched them plunge into the task. Some fifteen minutes later one of them grew uneasy and began to switch his companion in disgrace. Suddenly the first one burst out with a roar of despair and between his sobs said to the teacher: "Toss 'em."

A NOTED HORSEMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Mr. Antoine Wendling, owner of Deveraux, 211-1-4, and proprietor of the Clifton House, Brockville, says no liniment compares with Nerviline for general use around the stable. For strains, sprains, swellings, internal pains, and especially for affections of the whirling horse Nerviline is unequalled. Mr. Wendling believes Nerviline is indispensable as a horse liniment;
it has strength, penetrating power and works thoroughly. Every horse and stock owner should use Nerviline. Sold in large 25c. bottles.

What She Lacked.

A superintendent of a Sunday school relates the following true incident:
The title of the lesson was "The rich young man" and the golden text "One thing thou lackest." A lady teacher in the primary class asked a little tot to repeat the two, and, looking earnestly in the teacher's face, the child unblushingly told her, "One thing thou lackest—a rich young man."

Ira Burk—Fishing is no fun unless you can catch fish.

It is too bad that Sir John A. never knew that he was a "foreigner."

Truth may be stronger than fiction, but not when Vital Goudreau is telling a fish story.

And still the "foreigners" make up the most important part of this country's population.

During the past two years Chatham and Detroit played two tie games and each have a win to their credit. What next?

And now comes the news that the braw "foreigners" of Glenagarry are offering their parliamentary nomination to their brother "foreigner," Dundonald. We'd like to see Little Dundonald. We'd like to see him. It would be interesting for the premier, methinks.

London, June 18.—The Saturday Review, in a long article, headed "Our View on the Empire," says it was painful that Lord Dundonald should have received such treatment; still more painful that he should have received it in Canada. We do not, for a moment, believe that Premier Laurier, who regards a distinguished British officer as a foreigner and stranger, has but a passing item.

The incident will help them to pass more quickly and make room for their Conservative opponents. No doubt Fisher and Laurier think the Canadian civilian quite as good a military instructor as any professional soldier.

One day Canadians will find out the reverse and the British Empire will suffer for their mistake.

The Speaker says that when a Canadian Premier hides his popularity in a Canadian Parliament by calling an Englishman a foreigner and a stranger, we may be perfectly sure Imperial federation and fiscal union are more of a dream in the days of Carnarvon. The bad conduct of Dundonald and bad language of Laurier are equally deplorable.

The Army and Navy Gazette congratulates Dundonald on the great feat accomplished, and regrets that other hands must carry it on.

ATTEND CHURCH

Members of 24th Regiment Attend the William St. Baptist and St. Joseph's Services, Yesterday

"A good soldier!"

From these inspiring words Rev. Mr. Hoyt, pastor of the William St. Baptist Church, addressed the men of the 24th Regiment, who with their splendid bands, attended divine service in a body yesterday morning.

The discourse was an eloquent and inspiring one, and dwelt upon the qualities essential to the making of a good soldier in the service of the heavenly, as well as earthly, King.

"We have heard a most helpful address," said Colonel Rankin, speaking to the Regiment on their return to the drill hall, "and I hope we may all think over it and profit by it."

Yesterday church parade produced a larger muster than previously and inspiring one and splendid showing.

The service was much enjoyed, the musical portion under the direction of Miss Blanche Baxter, being also particularly pleasing.

A squad of men, under the command of Sergeant J. Harner, B. Company, also attended St. Joseph's church in a body, where they participated in a splendid service, rejoicing the Regiment on their return march.

A BUSY BAND

The increasing popularity and prestige of the 24th Regimental Band is evidenced in the large number of engagements which are falling to their lot.

The crack military musical organization is having an exceptionally busy time this week. In addition to the two church parades in which they took part yesterday and the three military march-outs of the week, the Regimental Band has been engaged for the county picnic at Charing Cross on Wednesday afternoon, for the big Strawberry Festival at No. 1, Harwich, on Thursday evening, and for the moonlight excursion on Friday night.

It is the intention of Bandmaster Walker to further recruit his musical strength and the officers aim to make the 24th Band one of the finest in the Province.

LACROSSE

DETROIT DOWNED.

Frank Babcock's "Tecumseh" still hold the record of being victors over every team they have played this year. They went to Detroit Saturday and came back with the scalp of the Detroit bunch dangling from their belts.

The Detroit Free Press of yesterday has the following to say of the game: That the game of lacrosse is by no means without followers in Detroit was testified to by the large crowd that flocked to the D. A. C. grounds yesterday afternoon, for the championship contest between the D. A. C. team and that which represents Chatham, Ont. The weather was ideal for the old Indian sport and the ground in excellent condition for play. Chatham won, the score being 3 to 2.

From the first whistle the excitement was intense all afternoon; more so from the fact that the game was never played until the last second had been played. Detroit started in like a winner, and for the first five minutes of the game played the visitors a pretty shot before the end of the quarter.

In the second quarter, the men from Ontario put up a fierce defense, and time and again broke up the local plays before the homes could get a shot, but Douse finally put it through and tied things up until the last quarter.

Detroit's lack of practice became more noticeable as the game wore on, and when the third quarter ended, it showed the Chatham men running things at will, and a score only a matter of time. Five minutes before the whistle blew, the visitors, got in the winning shot, and the game might as well have been ended there, for the D. A. C. boys never had a look-in after that. The Chatham men called in their homes and mugged them around their goal; throwing the ball to the corners of the field whenever they had it in their possession and simply wearing out the time.

As an exhibition of lacrosse it was first-class for the first quarter of the game, but after that, the ease with which Chatham broke up the Detroit combinations, and the weakness of the locals checking, and general play, made the play too one-sided for interest.

PLAYERS' NOSE SMASHED.

The only accident of the game was the smashing of McFarland's nose, the member having been injured at Chatham the day before, and giving away when the play was cross-checked.

A slight mix-up between two of the players, in which a spectator took part, was the only other incident of the game. The line-up—

The Detroit Tribune says—The exhibition was one of the fastest ever seen in this city, the visitors winning on merit. They had a better combination than the locals and covered off better. Toward the end of the game the superior condition of the Chathamites began to tell, and when the locals began to lag was when the Canadians got in their fine work.

It was indeed a rough game and at Detroit ever intends to make lacrosse popular in their burg, they will have to reform and drop their roughness. Frank McDonald is a fine fellow, off the field but he knows comparatively little about modern lacrosse. He saw none of the rough plays and when Grace said to him, "Why don't you rule somebody off," he said, "Ah! right, off you go," was the only time a player was ruled off.

In the last two quarters, when Detroit was not ahead was when the slugging commenced. Quessell, who was playing a beautiful game, got his head broken at the first of the last quarter. He, however, showed

The charming summer floral festivals of the Maple City kindergartens will take place this week. The McKee school kindergarten will observe the occasion on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 and the Central school on Friday at the same hour.

The eyes of the master will do more work than both of his hands.

It is poor economy to try to save a few cents on a can of baking powder. Cheap baking powder means cheap food; and cheap food means poor food every time.

One can of Cleveland's Baking Powder, owing to its superior strength and purity, will last as long as two cans of "cheap" baking powder and will make better, richer and more nourishing food.

There is true economy in buying Cleveland's.
