ITALY DECLARES WAR UPON GERMANY

Official Announcement Arouses Great Enthusiasm - The Comments of the British and German Press

By Courier, Leased Wire

The declaration of hostilities was made by Italy. Following information that it had reached the Imperial German Government through Switzerland, announcement of the Government's action was made here late yesterday.

ROUMANIA HAS AT LAST TAKEN THE PLUNGE AND ENTERED THE WAR

Her Declaration is Against Austro-Hungary and the Total of Nations Now Engaged in Hostilities is Fourteen - Has Military Strength by No Means Slight

By Courier, Leased Wire.
Paris, Aug. 28, 11.10 a.m.—Roumania declared war against Austria-Hungary last night, says a Havas despatch from Berne, Switzerland, which declares that the Wolff Agency at Berlin made the official announcement.

Berlin Confirms Announcement.
Berlin, Aug. 28, via London—Roumania declared war on Austria-Hungary on Sunday evening, it is announced officially here.

The announcement follows:
"The Roumanian Government yesterday evening declared war on Austria-Hungary.

When Decision Was Reached.
Paris, Aug. 28, 12.20 p.m.—Roumania's decision to enter the war was reached at a meeting of the Crown Council held at Bucharest yesterday morning, says a Havas despatch from Geneva.

The Wolff Agency announces that the German Federal Council was convoked immediately after the declaration became known.

The motive which prompts Roumania to enter the war is the satisfaction of her "national aspirations," described by Take Jonescu, the Roumanian Liberal leader as the "policy of national instinct." Concisely this means national expansion.

Roumania has a border line as long as the whole Russian western war front, on which to choose her point of military attack. In what direction her first blow might be aimed is only indicated by her desire to protect her southern flank.

Military censorship has been established in Roumania.
Fighting Begins.
Berlin, Aug. 28, via London, 5.30 p.m.—Fighting has begun between the Roumanian and Teutonic troops on the Transylvania frontier, the official announcement of to-day indicates.

Apprehension in Germany that Roumania intends to permit a Russian army to march through her territory to attack the Bulgarians, has been apparent for some time.

Powerful influences on the part of most of the Central powers and the Entente allies have been exerted at Bucharest to influence her decision in the war for the past two years.

Some advocates of Roumania's participation in the war have asserted that she could mobilize as many as 1,000,000 men. The mobilization of

Amazing Scenes of Disorder in Kavala - Demonstration Before the Residence of Venizelos Who Makes Speech

By Courier, Leased Wire
Athens, Aug. 27.—Via London, Aug. 28.—The landing of the first contingent of Italian troops at Chirona (a small seaport of Albania, on the Strait of Otranto) causes gloom throughout all Greece. The Greeks now see not only eastern Macedonia in the hands of the Bulgars, whom they expelled from there three years ago, but northern Epirus in the hands of the Italians.

Amazing Scenes of Disorder.
Kavala, Greece, Aug. 27.—The effects of the Bulgarian occupation of Duxado, the scene of alleged atrocities of which the Greeks accused the Bulgars in the last war, is prodigious. Kavala is the theatre of amazing scenes of disorder. Thousands of refugees are pouring into this port from the hinterland and crowding the steep narrow streets until they are impassable. The streets are littered with every kind of household goods, flung away by the owners, fleeing before the advancing Bulgarians as before the plague.

FATALLY HURT

Mrs. Joseph Snively of Simcoe is Struck on the Lake Erie and Northern Railway.

(From our own correspondent)
Mrs. Joseph Snively, of Queen Street, was struck by a L. E. and N. trolley last night, just north of the Dundurn station, and died on reaching Simcoe whither she was brought by the last car south bound last night, arriving here about 11 o'clock.

Dr. Richardson was called and took Mrs. Snively's statement.
The body was removed from the depot to the undertaking rooms of Mr. Jos. Coates.

Mr. and Mrs. Snively had been visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Limage of Boston, another son-in-law, Mr. Gordon Bonham calling over and took them to his car to the Luterville stop. There was no shelter there and the travelers much in advance of the time undertook to walk down a mile to Dundurn. They were within a short distance of Dundurn when they got off to the west side of the track.

Mr. Snively turned round to face the car and flag it, thinking Mrs. Snively stood on his right and further from the track. The car passed, slowing up and in the darkness Mrs. Snively heard groans. He ran at once towards the depot to hold the car but seeing it returned to pick up Mrs. Snively. When the car reached him the crew found Mr. Snively with the unfortunate woman on his lap. She was able to say "Don't, don't," as she was being lifted to the car, but on reaching Simcoe succumbed to her injuries. From the appearance of the body it would appear that Mrs. Snively stopped round behind her husband and stepped towards the track to get a view of the approaching car. The right leg and appearance of the body had the lower portion of the body had the appearance of having been struck by the steps of the car.

The jury will view the remains at 11 o'clock to-day and adjourn till 8 p. m. Thursday.

Mrs. George Limage and Mrs. Gordon Bonham, of Boston, are daughters of the deceased. One son, Pte. Bruce Snively is at Camp Borden.

WHEAT MARKET

Smashed Owing to the Roumanian Declaration of War.

By Courier, Leased Wire
Chicago, Aug. 28.—Roumania's declaration of war smashed the wheat market. Opening prices to-day showed a fall in some cases amounting to 5-3-4 cents a bushel. September delivery, which closed Saturday at 151 3-4, started to-day at 146 1-2. Other options also broke wildly.

General rushes to sell took place, which were increased by the increased chances of a general railway strike in the United States.

Before the drop in prices could be checked, losses that reached to 81-2 cents a bushel were shown for the principal trading month, December, which sold as low as 151-3-4, as compared with 154 at Saturday's finish.

Opening wheat prices, which ranged from 1c to 8 1/2c lower, were generally the lowest reached, with September at 144 to 152. Subsequent rallies lifted the market 4 to 4 1-2 cents from the bottom.

Mr. Snively was engaged with Mr. Thorburn, in the Kent St. feed store. The tragedy concerning which he is so deeply affected has given the community deep concern.

TO BE CENSORED.
By Courier, Leased Wire
London, Aug. 28 (New York Times cable)—A despatch to the London Times from Petrograd says:
"Times imported photograph records are hereafter to be censored owing to the accidental discovery of a large number of records of German origin, whose contents, instead of being harmless musical productions as indicated on the labels, were found to consist of scurrilous anti-Russian lampoons, preposterous reports in Russian describing the military situation and the internal state of Russia."

IRISH QUESTION.
By Courier, Leased Wire
London, Aug. 28.—Strong efforts are to be made during the parliamentary recess for resumption of negotiations for settlement of the Irish question, according to reports in Irish political circles. It is understood both the Unionists and Nationalist leaders are inclined to support these efforts systematically.

DEAN ANDREWS IS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED OFFICER AGAIN

After Having Enlisted in Ranks of 125th, Receives Former Rank in England.

To Dean M. Andrews of the 125th battalion has come recognition of his efficiency as a soldier. Shortly before the departure of the 125th battalion for overseas, Lt. Andrews was deprived of his commission, together with several others, because of the necessity of reducing the number of officers to be taken overseas, whereupon all of them joined in the ranks of the battalion. Word has now been received by Capt. W. N. Andrews that his son has received his commission once more in the 125th. Capt. Andrews has reason to believe that the other officers have also been restored to their former rank.

I.O.O.F. Decorate Graves of Deceased Brethren--An Imposing Ceremony

With fitting reverence the ceremony of the decoration of graves of departed brethren was performed yesterday by the Independent Order of Odd-fellows in the cemeteries of the city, the occasion commemorated by inspiring addresses delivered by local clergymen to large and appreciative gatherings.

Assembling at the hall on Dalhousie street, the members of all the local lodges, Gore Lodge, Harmony Lodge, Mohawk Lodge, Brant Engagement and Canton Brantford, joined in line bearing flowers to the beautiful variety of the Odd-fellows' band of Paris, and the Odd-fellows' band of Hamilton, marched through the city to Mount Hope and Greenwood cemeteries. At the former was delivered an eloquent address by Rev. J. W. Gordon.

At the latter the subject church, who spoke upon the subject of the future existence and immortality of man, assuring his hearers that the grave did not close the life of man, but that his spirit lived on, and his influence was felt still throughout the world after the end of his bodily existence. At Greenwood cemetery a masterful address was delivered by Rev. W. E. Bowyer, who was then proceeded with by the brethren, groups of two or three visiting the resting place of each departed lodgemen and placing upon it flowers, reading a brief prayer service after so doing.

Rev. W. E. Bowyer of Cavalry Baptist Church, based his address on the text, Exodus 12:28, "What mean ye by this service."
This was asked concerning an important event, the Passover, by the descendants of the Israelites.
The same question might be asked regarding Decoration Day. Some would answer, it is according to the constitution of the I.O.O.F., some would say, custom, and some would say, sentiment. All were worthy. No apology need be made for the answers. Were it custom, it is a good custom. It has an ancient foundation, for the Greeks and Romans, 500 years B.C., decorated the graves of their departed with flowers. Were it sentiment, it is not weakness but strength of feeling, for much of the best that life holds dear is founded on noble sentiment. Not alone the purely intellectual, but the deep spring of the emotional nature of man ministers to his uplift of character.

THE SITUATION

The declaration of war by Italy upon Germany, has been immediately followed by Roumania declaring war upon Austro-Hungary. The first announcement was more or less a formality, but ends an anomalous situation. It will, among other things, open the way for Italy to send troops to any front where Germans are engaged. It was expected that Roumania, with whom Italy has been on close terms would follow suit, and so it has proved. One more nation possessed of good fighting material thus joins the Allies and the effect in the Balkans cannot fail to be far reaching. Meanwhile the Greeks are standing much more from Bulgarian aggression than anyone would have believed possible. It is an amazing thing that they should have so quietly permitted the occupation of the port of Kavala. Quite aside from any possible military advantage to be derived from the capture of Kavala, the place is very desirable in the eyes of the Bulgarians. Even after the second Balkan war Bulgaria confidently expected to be permitted to retain this port as part of the spoils won by Bulgarian arms against Turkey. The treaty of Bucharest ignored Bulgarian representations and awarded Kavala, which is eighty miles east of Saloniki, to the twice victorious Greeks. Bulgaria was given a small strip of Aegean coast, with the insignificant and harborless village of Dedeagatch. Greece's acquisition of Kavala was Bulgaria's bitterest disappointment. Now, with Greece tied hand and foot by her policy of "benevolent neutrality," Bulgaria has taken the prize she most covets. The fact is not of much significance except insofar as it raises the question of how much longer Greece can refrain, despite King Constantine, from joining the Allies if the country expects to retain her sovereignty, or a shred of self respect.

On the Somme front the French and the British continue to hold what they have gained and to make slight further advances. They have attained as the total outcome only a few thousand yards, it is true, but the ground seized is of very great importance with regard to future operations. The Russian forces continue to drive back the Austrian troops along the Hungarian frontier and the Grand Duke in the Caucasus once more has the Turks on the run. In the Balkans both sides claim successes. The one thing clear is that no action of supreme importance has yet taken place.

A DISGRACEFUL ATTACK.
 The pursuit of Sir Sam Hughes by The Toronto Globe has proved as grossly vindictive as it has been wantonly mendacious. Nothing has been too contemptible or too low-minded for the organ to allege against this man who has admittedly, in a most trying period discharged his duties as Minister of Militia with unexampled energy and success. Recently the Globe, with Sir Sam away in the Old Land, on military duties, made the most scandalous of all its attacks upon him as follows:
 "The Ultimate Hughes Crime.
 "It would be a crime, the ghastliest and most murderous crime of the war, no matter what the excuse or what the cause, were Gen. Sir Sam Hughes given a real command of living soldiers in a genuine engagement anywhere on the war's battle front.
 "And if Sir Robert Borden is a party to any such scheme, or if he fails to block it if it is being promoted in England, and if, as a result, an army of Canadians under command of Gen. Hughes is sent to face German forces at any time, the indignation of all Canada, and of all classes and parties of Canadians, will not be restrained by any political formalities or side-tracked by any explanations whatsoever.
 "The thing—even the thought of such a thing—suggested in yesterday's despatches from Ottawa, is so monstrous that the man in the street would scout offhand the suggestion were it not for the fear that, judging from the experiences of the past two years, the thing might be true. And if true—then God have mercy on the officers and men doomed to service in that command.
 "It has long been known, not only among military men, but by the general public, that it is the Hughes ambitation to win glory on some battlefield in Europe, as commander of an army of Canadians. That he was, in his bonnet in the first months of the war. It was laughed at, because the war had not then become serious to Canadians, nor had the seriousness of the Hughes malady been appreciated or understood. Fortunately he cared more for his portfolio as Minister of Militia than for the first limelight of the battle front.

 But now the situation is changed. The Prime Minister has lost grip on the government, even as the Government has lost grip on the Canadian situation. The Allison dishonor and the Camp Borden horror are only the most conspicuous of the Government's burdens. Even without them the government would be destroyed by the hot indignation of the very men who gave it office in 1911.
 But the fortunes of any Government or of any political leader in Canada are as nothing, and less than nothing, compared with the fate of a Canadian army on the French or Belgian front dependent on the strategy and judgment of Sam Hughes. To acquiesce in such a crime, as a condition of his resignation from the Canadian government, would be to try to wash out the reminders of political blundering in the life-blood of Canadian regiments. It is bad enough to have to suffer the aping of Napoleon as the world's other military genius; but to allow him a chance to put his apings into practice with the flesh and blood of Canada's sons and men—No! His blundering posturings in Canada, in England and in France, are Canada's humiliation; but, facing a German charge, limelight for Gen. Hughes would be the blackness of his name condemned "to do and die."
 If the Prime Minister has no other way by which the country can be rid of Sir Sam Hughes, let Canadians at once endure the affliction to its worst and its last rather than imperil the lives of Canadians at the front by an army command as the price of his resignation. But for the Prime Minister—that, however, is another question."

What does any decent man, Liberal though he may be, think of such an article finding first place on the editorial page of any sheet?
 It is a disgrace to the writer, the publisher and to Canadian journalism. Small wonder that Sir Allen Aylesworth, himself a staunch Liberal and former member of the Laurier cabinet, recently took occasion to openly repudiate the organ.

NOTES AND COMMENTS
 Greece ought to get some of that on her war machinery.
 It is a sad thought that the good old summer time will be soon be over and the fluffy wuffy dresses of the fair sex disappear.
 Roumania has at last taken the plunge. She has for months been hesitating until she felt certain which would prove the winning side and at last she has realized what all the world, outside of Germany, knows.
 Everything is recruited except the nation's mind: everything is organized except the nation's idea; everything is disciplined and directed except the nation's soul.—Toronto Globe.
 After reading the latest vile attack of the organ on Sam Hughes most people will agree that the Globe had better look after its own outfitting in the respects named, instead of having the consummate gall to lecture other people.

OLD WORLD NOTES

London loves a show, and is having a distinct novelty in the shape of his aping of Napoleon as the world's other military genius; but to allow him a chance to put his apings into practice with the flesh and blood of Canada's sons and men—No! His blundering posturings in Canada, in England and in France, are Canada's humiliation; but, facing a German charge, limelight for Gen. Hughes would be the blackness of his name condemned "to do and die."
 If the Prime Minister has no other way by which the country can be rid of Sir Sam Hughes, let Canadians at once endure the affliction to its worst and its last rather than imperil the lives of Canadians at the front by an army command as the price of his resignation. But for the Prime Minister—that, however, is another question."

Black and white cattlemen succeeded in getting into a rather awkward "mix-up" at Liverpool. Forty to fifty of them—all American citizens—were being shown to a boarding house shortly after their arrival in port, in color they were equally divided. A quarrel on some minor topic led to an exhibition of temper, and in a few minutes black and white came to blows. "Now, gentlemen," cried a policeman on coming up to the melee, "give over this bashing. . . Enjoy yourselves while in port—don't quarrel." This attempt at pacifism was not appreciated by a burly negro, and he stabbed the policeman. Other policemen were called, and the black element brought about a pandemonium. One said, "I'm not going to pay for any police. We fixed the Texas police and we'll fix these." Two officers had to be taken to hospital. Next day the company stood before a local magistrate. A number of the darkies will not see Texas for a few months to come.
 German newspapers have recently been convicted of unusually silly falsehoods. The latest is amusing. It appeared in one of the leading papers in Berlin and was to the effect that the British Government had decided to curtail the religious liberty of all neutrals residing in their land. Then the report went on to state that the first to be ordered to quit the United Kingdom were members of the Salvation Army. President Wilson had written a note characterizing the action as a gross violation of international law and warning Great Britain that if any citizen of the United States became subject to such an arbitrary act serious consequences would at once follow! Of course, there is not a scintilla of truth in these statements. Another falsehood was to the effect that the King had ordered all servants bearing foreign names in various places to be dismissed. That was too ridiculous, however, to require contradiction.

 "Cat" Gin has occupied the attention of the British courts for some considerable time. A firm of wine sellers registered a gin with the trade mark, "Cat." Another firm, on hearing of it, objected on the plea that they held a similar trade mark. The court decided in favor of the first company. The second appealed, and got a reversal of the lord's judgment. Then it was carried to a higher court, when the first company re-secured the right. But No. 2 company had established a priority in the right to use the "cat." And there the matter ends. A critic was captious enough to suggest that "cat" gin furnishing would be known when other brands would be forgotten.

Leafs Lost to Baltimore

Toronto, Aug. 28.—The Orioles took the final game of the series from the Leafs Saturday by the close score of 3 to 2, errors on the part of the locals playing a prominent part in the victory of the visitors, while Barry's bad decision on Trout may have cost the Leafs a run or more. It happened in the fifth when Truesdale walked and Cleary in place of calling a perfectly good fourth ball on Trout, called it a strike, thus making the count 3 to 2. On the next ball Trout hit into a double play. Had he secured the base he was entitled to things might have been different as Crowell at this stage of the game was not any too good, although he grew better as the game progressed.

Baltimore's teing and winning runs were scored with the aid of a combination of errors and the fact that the visitors were able to hit the pill just outside of the infield. Had the latter been playing out instead of in close the results would not have counted even with all the errors. Blackburne for the first time this year threw poorly on bunts, while Smith and Truesdale also made boobies.

The phenomenal work of the two Boston Clubs in the American and National Leagues last week stands out as the prominent feature in the two big pennant races. In the American League, the Red Sox, world's champions, played six games, winning four and losing one. In the National League, the Braves, aided by some wonderful pitching, won all of the five games.

Every day the situation in the International League gets better from a Toronto point of view and this week should see some upheavals among the leaders. It will be the acid test for the Leafs as they will have to play 10 games in six days, and if their pitchers hold out it would not be surprising to find the Toronto team at the top of the ladder next Saturday night. Richmond will play the first half of the week and Newark the second half and there is a good chance for Toronto to clean up against second-division clubs.

Cave Man to Fight Grant New York, Aug. 28.—The much-discussed 16-round bout between Bob Moha, the "Milwaukee cave man," and Joe Cox, the Missouri giant, will be staged to-morrow night at the opening of the Manhattan Casino. Moha will concede Cox nearly 70 pounds.

In addition to this weight handicap, Moha will have to look up at his opponent, who is six feet four inches in height, while Moha stands five feet four inches, or just a half inch shorter than Ad Wolgast.

HIS FIRST CURVE "Pitched my first curve ball in the big leagues at Pittsburgh last Friday," said Larry Cheney, of the Brooklyn club, recently. "I have never had a curve, and every ball player and manager in the league knows it. I have always depended on my fast one, my spitball, and using my head, but I have lately been working with a curve, and I think I will fool a lot of the wise boys."

IT PROVED TO BE A FALSE ALARM

Courier Representative Had Visions of German Spies by Night—Groundless.

The shades of eve were falling fast; in fact, they had been on the down grade for some time, and had almost reached the bottom of their slide as a Courier representative meandered last night toward the centre of the city from the precincts of the North ward. Passing the site of the Bell memorial, he came to a sudden halt, and stared suddenly into the stygian gloom, sinister formidings filling his heart the further from the gloom which veiled the shadowy pile of the half-erected monument, a narrow shaft of brilliant light stabbed the darkness for a moment—a moment only, and then all was black as before. Again the beacon blazed forth, and again died away. Visions of dire and secret plottings filled the mind of the Courier representative; a midnight conspiracy—a few hours ahead of time—was evidently in swing here. A German plot, perhaps, to destroy the magnificent monument-to-be in the sweet by-and-by, the pride of the Brantford. At all events, clear it was that signalling of some sort was taking place from the heights of the monument. Yet whither?

As though in reply came an answering flash from the further end of the field. Dot, dot, dot, dash! The scribe hesitated and stood in meditation pondering the best method of handling a brace or more of Prussian diplomatic agents. As he pondered, "Did you get the last message?" "Yes," came the response in similarly boyish tones from the remote end of the field. The mystery stood revealed, and with its solution, zone the glimmer of the occasion. What the scribe had overseen was nothing more or less than two lads—Boy Scouts, no doubt—engaged in signalling practice with electric flashlights. With a heart relieved of a burdensome weight of anxiety, and a mind freed from its fears of the machinations of the Hun, the scribe wended his way.

MEINIE ZIM TO JOIN BRAVES? Rumors of dissonance in the Boston National League baseball team were given credence when it became known that George Stallings visited Chicago from Cincinnati, where the Braves are playing the Reds. Stallings made a brief stay but will be back Thursday when the Braves open with the Cubs.

From a reliable source it has been learned that Stallings plans to rid his club of certain players. Stallings offered to trade four Brave players to Chicago for Heinie Zimmerman. The transaction still is pending. Red Smith, Eddie Fitzpatrick, Edgar Collins and Jesse Barnes were the Boston players offered for Zimmerman, and it would not be surprising to see Heinie leave with the Braves on Saturday, when the series will have been ended.

MUSIC AND Drama

At the Colonial
"A Yellow Streak," a Metro picture, starring Lionel Barrymore and Irene Howley, is the feature film at the Colonial. The first half of this week. The story tells of a helpless atom in the scheme of human life, is brought to the verge of suicide by forces over which he has not the slightest control.

Another atom like himself, bent on a similar desperate mission, their parting, without either seeing the other's face, their meeting without recognition after many strange adventures in the West, their romance, the mans regeneration and, finally the strange chance which identifies them to each other, is an inspiring human document, brimming with novel and startling situations, as wholesome as it is absorbing in its intense heart interest.

With the coming of "The Silent Voice" to the Colonial on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, the patrons of the silent art will enjoy a double pleasure in viewing two favorite screen artists in the principal roles in the same production. "The Silent Voice" is a screen adaptation of the legitimate play of the same name in which Otis Skinner starred at the Liberty Theatre, in New York last season, and was produced in motion picture form for exclusive release in the Metro program. It is the latest release of this company, and was produced by the Quality Pictures Corporation, starring Francis X. Bushman and Marguerite Snow.

AUTOMOBILE TURNED TURTLE

And T. Gow of Paris Died of Injuries—Three Burford Men Also on Trip.

Guelph, Aug. 28.—Thomas Gow of Paris, died at St. Joseph's Hospital here at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the result of an auto in which he was riding turning turtle on the Elora road, near Marden about 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

As near as can be ascertained Gow and another Paris man fell in with three men from Burford who had started on a trip to New Germany north of here. They arrived in Guelph last night and went to a local garage, where they engaged a driver to go ahead in another car that some of the men in the car had been drinking. The party left New Germany about 3 yesterday morning, and in turning a corner a short distance above Marden Station the car turned turtle, throwing all the occupants out.

Repairs were made and the car reached here at 6 in the morning, when a doctor was called, who ordered Gow to be sent to the hospital. His companions went on home, leaving Gow here. His condition yesterday morning was such that he died. It is alleged the cause being given as hemorrhage of the brain. Dr. Savage, the coroner, has ordered an inquest.

A despatch from Paris says another Paris man named Hiram Bieker had several ribs broken, also that a broken axle was the cause of the accident.

Railway Tie-up

Threatens to Be Reached in the United States at an Early Date.

By Courier, Leased Wire
Washington, Aug. 28.—President Wilson's negotiations for averting the threatened nation-wide railway strike are in the last stages, with a break or a settlement apparently not far off.

With the railway executives standing firm against conceding the eight-hour day and the brotherhood leaders still standing out against arbitrating it, the hope of preventing a tie-up of the country's transportation systems seems to lie with congress. Just exactly what can be done, none of the congressional leaders themselves seem to know. Conference among them and with President Wilson, which began last night, were continued to-day and the president postponed his engagement with the railway executives from ten o'clock this morning until 2.30 o'clock this afternoon to give him more time for conferences with leaders in congress.

The situation was viewed on all sides as the most perilous since negotiations began two weeks ago. The hope of the president and administration leaders was in the possibility of getting the brotherhood men to give more time to continue the negotiations.

A pension case has attracted some attention in Great Britain. The facts are these: A private soldier was discharged on April 24 last after one year 161 days' service, as medically unfit in consequence of a gunshot wound in the left leg, necessitating amputation just below the knee. He was provided before discharge with an artificial leg which was passed as efficient by the consulting surgeons at Roehampton House in accordance with their usual practice, the commissioners of Chelsea Hospital awarded him a pension of $5 a week for two months to enable him to get used to the limb and look round for work, and his pension was then made permanent at 10s. 6d. a week, the rate fixed by Chelsea in the case of a private for amputation of a leg below the knee. The pension was fixed with regard to carrying capacity in the general labour market.

Now Everybody Can Help Without Sacrifice

The Red Cross branch of the Women's Patriotic League have arranged with the Brantford Iron and Metal Co., for a systematic collection of rags, metals, papers, rubbers, bottles, etc., from the homes and business places in the city. Save your junk. Don't throw it away. Don't let anyone have it, unless he can show you his Red Cross Card. It will mean a great help to our soldier boys, and no expense to yourself. Don't forget: you want to do your duty—and you don't want the junk, but we appeal to you, again, on behalf of the soldier boys. Everybody can help.—business men, manufacturers, householders. Call Bell Phone 797 when you want a man to call. Should a Red Cross Collector call for your junk, don't let him get away without something.

"A Yellow Streak," a Metro picture, starring Lionel Barrymore and Irene Howley, is the feature film at the Colonial. The first half of this week. The story tells of a helpless atom in the scheme of human life, is brought to the verge of suicide by forces over which he has not the slightest control.

Another atom like himself, bent on a similar desperate mission, their parting, without either seeing the other's face, their meeting without recognition after many strange adventures in the West, their romance, the mans regeneration and, finally the strange chance which identifies them to each other, is an inspiring human document, brimming with novel and startling situations, as wholesome as it is absorbing in its intense heart interest.

With the coming of "The Silent Voice" to the Colonial on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, the patrons of the silent art will enjoy a double pleasure in viewing two favorite screen artists in the principal roles in the same production. "The Silent Voice" is a screen adaptation of the legitimate play of the same name in which Otis Skinner starred at the Liberty Theatre, in New York last season, and was produced in motion picture form for exclusive release in the Metro program. It is the latest release of this company, and was produced by the Quality Pictures Corporation, starring Francis X. Bushman and Marguerite Snow.
