Perth County Notes.

The Fullarton spring show will be held on April 4.

Wm. Hewitt, of Carlingford, has sold his farm to John Davidson for $4,400. J. B. Wilson, postmaster at Russel-dale, has removed to Fullarton village. Stratford Spring Show will be held on Tuesday, 15th of April, the day before the Listowel show.

The Strathroy Board of Trade is agitating for the establishment of a canning factory in that town.

F. L. Hamilton's side defeated the side led by James Miller in a checker anatch at Cromarty by 39 to 13.

The council of the town of St. Marys have by by-law reduced the number of liotels there from nine to eight, and put the fee at $200.

The St. Marys Argus says that the unprecedented rate of taxation in the Stone Town is driving owners of land devoted to agriculture out of the place.

The sale of Robert Stewart's, North Easthope, went off lively. Horses averaged $97, cows went for over $40, and yearlings $23.50. Everything sold very high.

W. Porteous bought a 50 acre farm in Logan a few days ago for $1,600. We hear from Mr. Hesson via Ottawa, that farm property has not depreciated in value since 1878.

The old License Commissioners in South Perth have been reappointed; Messrs T. H. Race, Mitchell; James Prindville, Logan; J. S. McIntyre, Blanshard. J. S. Coppin, Mitchell, is the inspector.

John Sehrt, Tavistock, has sold his house and lot, about four acres, to Mr. Poeder, of Ellice, for the sum of $1,550 Mr. Sehrt found his property too large for a man of his age and intends purchasing a smaller place where to spend his declining years.

The debt on the Knox church proper ty at Mitchell has been completely wiped out. Since Rey. Mr. Tully became pastor of the church, nearly $7,000, including interest and principal, have been collected, independent of the annual running expenses of the church. Steps will now be taken for the erection of a new building. new building.

The Presbyterian Record of last week says:—"The Stratford Presbytery will overture the synod of Hamilton and London to reverse the decision in reference to the entertainment of delegates attending the meetings of ihe synod, and ask leave to return to the good old rashioned way of accommodating delegates in private families in so far as it may be convenient and agreeable to all parties concerned. The Presbytery would have the minister's connection with the aged and infirm ministers entirely voluntary. The Presbyterian Record of last week tirely voluntary.

Rev. A. B. Winchester, who has ably conducted the services in Knox church, Stratford, most of the time since Rev. Mr. Wright's resignation, has left for Toronto, where we understand he takes charge of a mission church. Mr. Win chester is a very able and interesting preacher and warmly endeared himself to every member of Knox church with whom he came in contact. The congregations were larger than usual on Sunday of last week it being understood the sermons would be the last Mr. Winchester would preach for the present.

There was a good turn out. They first decided to petition the Government to appoint a grain inspector for Stratford. They decided to recommend an amendment to the municipal act to abolish the system of bonuses and exemptions. A committee was appointed to draft a petition bearing upon the subject to be transmitted to every board of trade in the province. They also recommended that the board petition for legislation of the division court, giving any police magistrate who is a barrister power to deal summarily with all such cases, and any other two magistrates power to deal summarily with all such cases, and any other two magistrates power to deal with cases not exceeding $100 and any other two magistrates power to deal with any case not exceeding $100, and

Presbytery of Huron.

Huron Presbytery met in Clinton on 11th inst. Session records were examined and attested. Reports on the "State of Religion" and Sabbath Observance were given by Messrs Musgrave and Henderson, respectively, in the absence of Mr. McConnell, indisposed by la grippe, the report on Temperance was read by Mr. Atcheson. Mr. Fletcher stated that the congregation of Carmel church, Hensall, raised the stipend of their minister to $1,000 and gave a month's holiday yearly. This Presbytery expressed satisfaction with the commendable action of the Hensall congregation in the matter. A call was taken up from Bayfield and Bethany in favor of Rey. Robt. Henderson. A letter from Mr. McConnell was read, stating that he moderated in the call in the usual way. The call was sustained, after hearing M sers. Simons and Torrance in support of it, testifying to its unanimity, etc. The congregations promise an annual stipend of $450 and the Prestery agreed to apply to the Assembly's Home Mission Committee for a supplement of $250 be continued to Grand Bend and Corbett. Reports of missionary meetings held and missionary sermons preached and given. Messrs. Henderson and Simons were appointed members of the Synod's Committee of Bills and overtures. Dr. Laing, of Dundas, was nominated as the next Moder. members of the Synod's Committee of Bills and overtures. Dr. Laing, of Dun-das, was nominated as the next Moder-ator of the General Assembly. The fol-lowing motion was unanimonsly passed with regard to Sabbath Observance: "The Presbytery, in view of the persist-ent attempts made by railroad, canal, steamboat companies and other com-mercial corporations to rob the comsteamboat companies and other com-mercial corporations to rob the com-munity of the boon of a well kept Sab-bath, and being impressed with the im-portance of preserving the sacredness of the day, both from an economic and religious point of view, would express its decided satisfaction with the bill now before the Dominion Legislature to se cure the better observance of the Lord's Day, and would further express the hope that our representatives in Parliment Day, and would further express the hope that our representatives in Parliment give the bill their hearty support, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Charlton and the members who represent this county in the Dominion House of Commons." Next meeting of Presbytery to be held in Blyth in May.

Huron County Notes.

John Hannah, of Seaforth, is an ap-plicant for the position recently vacated by Prof. Robertson, of the Ontario Agricultural College.

The Lodge of Good Templars that has been established in Wingham is flourishing. About 80 have joined, and there is a good attendance. An excellent program is furnished each evening, of recitation, dialogues, speeches, etc.

On Saturday, of last week, Peter Deans, auctioneer, sold the Plunkett farm, being east half of lot 41, concession 12, east Wawanosh, to Robt. Mason, of Morris, near Wingham, for $3,900. It is said that Mr. Mason has got a decided bargain.

One of the best auction sales that has One of the best auction sales that has taken place in the township was that held on the farm of Thos. Simpson, 11th con. of McKillop. Mr. S. was a good stock-keeper, and all his animals were of the best and in prime condition, and consequently they sold readily and brought, in some instances, fancy prices. Grade cows went at from $50 to $70; a cows yet to calve.

any other two magistrates power to deal with any case not exceeding $100, and any one power to deal with any case up to $50. The Government will be petitioned for a reduction of the postage rate from 3 to 2 cents per oz.

On Monday of last week young Strickert, of Logan, aged about 16 years, son of Christian Strickert, who is serving three years in Kingston penitentiary for the woollen mills burglary, brought a small quantity of peas to market and was given a ticket at Carter & Sons storehouse for two bushels. Before presenting the ticket for payment at Mr. Hord's store he added a figure 2, making the ticket good for 22 bushels. On Tuesday he brought more peas and god a ticket for 4 bushels, which he altered to 41 bushels. He got the money, paid Mr. Hord $5 on an old store account, bought himself a watch and chian and went home with the remainder of the money in his pocket. In making up the tickets on Tuesday night fraud was discovered, and Mr. Lester droye out to the boy's home and succeeded in getting the matter made right. We understand that Mr. Lester does not intend to prosecute the young seamp this time, hoping that it may act as a warning to him in fihe future.

A herd of ten thoroughbreds with four cows yet to calve.

PROFITABLE FARMING.—John Stafford, of the 13th concession of McKillop, is a farmer who devotes a good deal of the title of the mones, is a farmer who devotes a good deal of the title of the mones, and the manner in which he mades of cabbage at $6 per louble plant of the sale of and three eights of an acre of land, and wr. Stafford did all the work himself besides attending to other farm work. This pays better than growing fall wheat. Mr. Stafford also grew 170 bags of potatoes from an acre and a quarter old land. Two years ago he planted 1½ its, of the making up the tickets on Tuesday night fraud was discovered, and Mr. Lester droye out to the boy's home and succeeded in getting the matter made right. We understand that Mr. Lester does not intend to prosecute the young seamp this time, hop

Monthly Cattle Fairs.

Atwood—Tuesday before first Friday f each month. Listowel—First Friday n each month. Guelph—First Wednesday in each

Clifford—Thursday before the Guelph

Teviotdale—Friday before the Guelph Harriston—Friday before the Guelph

Bosworth-Saturday before the Guelph Drayton—Saturday before Guelph. Moorefield—Monday before Guelph. Elora—The day before guelph.

nonth.

Mount Forest—Third Vednesday in each month.

Millbank—Wednesday
Tuesday in each month.

Washington Letter.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March 10, 1890.

It is probable that the investigation of the Civil Service Commission which has just ended will lead to no satisfactory conclusion either way. The House committee is yery apt to take the ground that the business which they have mainly in hand is to search impartially into the workings of the system, and accordingly it is quite likely that they may regard the administrative mishas which some of the commissioners have incurred as of slight importance, and as havsome of the commissioners have incurred as of slight importance, and as having little bearing on the general question. Beyond doubt Commissioner Lyman favored his brother-in-law. Campbell, but in such circumstances men will act similarly to the close of time—whether there be any Civil Service law or no—Civil Service law is imnaterial. Beyond question Mr. Rooseveltwas only half-informed in the affair of the Milwaukee postmastership, but a good deal will be forgiven to new zell and freshness of knowledge in reistion to official management. But the strange and utterly inadequate method by which the Commission undertook to try important officials and report upon their efficiency or non-conformity to law, cannot be easly explained. Their mode.

their efficiency or non-efficiency—their conformity or non-eonformity to law, cannot be easly explained. Their mode of proceeding in this matter will strike the average mind as being unfair and un-American, and the censure which will probably weigh most heavily on the Commission will be on this account.

Whatever conclusion the committee may arrive at the investigation will impress the people at large with the belief that the present Commissioners are not thoroughly efficient. Whether this belief in their inefficiency is due to their want of knowledge of, or their want of harmony with, the spirit of a real civil service reform, or is owing to mere personal lack of discretion, is difficult to determine. It would not, however, be surprising if the present contention should lead to some changes in the commission.

mission.

Everyone has heard of old grandma searching all over the house for the spectacles which were very conspicuous on her forehead, and of little Johnnie laughing at the woman's vain chase. It seems to me that the Senate in searching for the leakaged Senatorial secrets is very much like the old woman looking for her spectacles, and it is very little wonder that the Johnnies laugh. Senators ought to know that fully one-third of their number, at one time or another, give to the newspapers full and day of last week it being under the sermons would be the last Mr. Winchester would preach for the present. The discourses were very fine and effective ones and the regrets were universal that they were likely to be the last heard from the esteemed and talented gentleman for some time.

A meeting of the Stratford Board of Trade was held on Friday evening week. There was a good turn out. They first Messrs. John McKay & Sons, the well known breeders of Tuckersmith townships again sold four thorough.

Messrs. John McKay & Sons, the well known breeders of Tuckersmith townships again sold four thorough. has not. Apart from this, which is a moderate estimate of the general polite-ness and obligitiveness of United States Separators oversible such as the states moderate estimate of the general pointeness and obligitiveness of United States Senators, everybody who knows any thing knows that it is a poor newspaper man that doesn't "own his Senator," as the phrase goes. The members of the Senator Dolph's inquisition seem to be oblivious of the fact, that generally speaking, every Senator has a newspaper correspondent for private secretary. They also know that this private secretary correspondent never does any of the work of a private secretary and that he never receives any pay, but that it is simply an arrangement under which the Senator is to help the correspondent will help the Senator to fame.

Every stranger who visits Washington remarks upon the hoyel-place appearance of the city. On almost every hand this half-built feature is brought to their notice. On prominent residence streets and busy thoroughfares the hand this half-built feature is brought to their notice. On prominent residence streets and busy thoroughfares the view is the same. Our great Capitol building inclosed by its beautiful park, is surrounded by small one-story shops and tumble-down frame shanties. Representative Henderson's new house one and tumble-down frame shanties. Repares resentative Henderson's new house, one of the hansomest in the city, is surrounded by hovels. Senator Sawyer's imposing residence is likewise crowded in by objectionable frames. Just below the British Minister's are several delapidated frames, and adjoining ex-speaker Carlisle's home is another eyesore. And thus it runs over the entire city. Sixteenth street, overlooking the White House, Lafayette Square, and Scott Circle, is one hundred and sixty feet wide, and should be our most beautiful street. However, its very centre is stifled by old frame houses; prices are held high, and very few people-liave the courage to pioneer such a district.

Atwood Public School.

The following is the relative standing of the pupils of the village school as determined by Friday's written examination in order of merit:

FOURTH CLASS.—Geo. Longmire, Frances Mader and Nellie Hoar (equal) Kate Priest, Florence Stacey, Albert Robertson.

Robertson.

Senior Third.—Geo. Dunn, Robert Morrison, Minnie Corrie, Mayne Hamilton, Edith Robertson, Robert Nesbitt.
JUNIOR THIRD.—Geo. Porter, Wm. Longmire, John Skalitzsky, Essie Cognlin, John Corrie, Minnie Blair, Mary Murray, Wm. Hoar, Wesley Nichols, Wm. Rogers, Annie Giddins, Eva Priest, Edith Hope, Lizzie Graham.

ELMA COUNCIL.

The municipal council of the township of Elma met at Ioerger's hotel, Atwood, on the 14th March. Members all present. Minutes of last meeting read and signed. Moyed by Mr. Lochhead, seconded by Mr. Coulter, that Mr. Noble be paid $40.08, being amount of contract of gravelling on boundary of Elma and Logan (Elma's share). Carried. Moved by Mr. Bray, seconded by Mr. Lochhead, that in reference to the petition of S. Buchanan and thirty others asking for improvements in sideline, con. 13, between lots 25 and 26, the Reeve and Messrs. Coulter and Richmond be appointed to examine and report at a thom of S. Buchanan and thirty others as saking from provements in sideline, control and 26, the Reeve and Messrs, Coulter, and 26, the Reeve and Messrs, Coulter and the sum includes all office work in connection therewith. Carried Moved by Mr. Loched by Mr. Coulter, seconded by Wr. Loched by Mr. Coulter, seconded by Wr. Loched and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and age money owing to Elina or the Messrs and a seconded by Mr. Lochhead, that the printed. Carried. Moved by Mr. Bray, seconded by Mr. Lochhead, that often and the second of the Messrs and the State of the Messrs and the Messrs and the State of the Messrs and the State of the Messrs and the Neiland; Atwoound.

J. Switzer; side road beat, Trown.
J. Adams. Fence-viewers: J. A. Turn.
bull, W. Jackson, A. Tughan, J. W.
Boyd, J. Shearer, W. F. Forrest, W.
Stevenson, W. Burnett, J. Sproul, W.
Brown, R. Ballantyne, J. W. Rowland, A. Coxson, W. J. Gilkinson, W. Gilmer.
Poundkeepers: J. B. Hamilton, F. Dearer, W. Stevenson, R. Ford, A.
Lough J. Nesbitt, J. Mitchell, G. Coghlin, to V. Joerger, W. Stevenson, R. Ford, A.
Huggins and J. Cu thbertson. Council then adjourned.

T. Fullar ton, Clerk.

T. Fullar ton, Clerk.

T. Fullar ton, Clerk.

A first class social entertainment was A Holmes, from

Our merchants report business as being more promising lately.

Mr. Humphreys who contracted a severe cold was confined indoors a few days. Billy must be up and doing so long as

Mm. Morrison has been laid up for nearly two weeks owing to a large carbuncle which made itself prominent on his cheek. The ammount of "cheek" which he possessed was marvellous.

plexing at times.

John Morrison has been suffering from a severely sprained foot this last week.

Blanchard.

The young people of Anderson gave an oyster supper last Friday evening. A very enjoyable time was spent by the large company present.

Alex. Cameron, one of our enterprising farmers, disposed of four of his cattle last week, realizing $36 apiece. The animals weiged on an average of 1,000 lbs. each. It pays to raise good stock.

Britton.

The class organized in the beginning of the winter for instruction in vocal music by Miss O'Conner, of Listowel, is progressing favorable.

John Dayidson, our much respected farmer, has moved with his family to Toronto where he secured steady employment. Our loss is Toronto's gain. The prayer meetings held on Sunday and Wednesday evenings new on Sunday and Wednesday evenings of each week are well attended, notwithstanding the often unfavorable condition of the roads.

Thomas Preston has been engaged for the past few days hauling brick from the depot for his new dwelling house which he intends erecting the coming

A first class social entertainment was given in the Methodist church Tuesday evening. H. Hoar and A. Holmes, from Atwood took part, also Mr. Davis from Ethel. Rev. F. Swann gave a real excellent address on "Self Improvement." The attendance was good. Though the admission fee was small over $16 was realized. It was the best and most enjoyable gathering we have had for a long time. long time.

long time.

A considerable number of the young people of this locality spent an enjoyable evening at the residence of Wm. Struthers on Wednesday evening last. Music, dancing and singing were furnished in abundance for the assembled guests, and copious provision made for the linner man. We are sorry to lose Mr. Struthers and family from our vicinity, but our loss will be Newry's gain as in a few days he intends to remove to his own farm lot 19, in the 10th cun. We wish him continued prosperity. wish him continued prosperity.

Throughout our life's brief span On this terrestrial ball, Kind Heaven protect us from the man, The man who "knows it all."

CANADIAN.

Sir Donald Smith will leave for England immediately after the session

The Duke of Connaught and suite left combay for Canada on Thursday. Influenza is raging severely among the toney Indians in the North-west.

One hundred years ago last Sunday the first Methodist church was opened in King-

Kingston penitentiary will soon be lighted y eleven hundred incandescent electric

The farmers of North Plympton are organizing a joint stock Company to run gristing mill.

Calgary promises the Duke of Connaught a "round up" if he will stop off there on his visit to Canada. Vancouver, B. C., has passed a by-law donating a site for a sugar refinery, which is to be in operation in eight months. A letter in The Fort McLeod Gazette de clares that polygamy is not practised in the Mormon settlement in the Northwest.

Cyrille Desjardins got into a dispute with three companions over cards at Ste. Rose, Quebec, and was beaten until he may die.

Mr. Mowat was presented with an oil painting of himself last week by his supporters in the Ontario Legislative Assembly. A mother and her seven children were burned to death in their home on a farm about seven miles from Montreal last Satur-

Mr. Geo. B. Borrodaile, who has charge the crofter settlement, strongly denies the reports of destitution among the crofters in the North-West,

A man named MeDuff, charged with the murder of a man in Kent county, Ont., who was arrested at Carberry on Wednesday, is now in Portage gaol.

St. Thomas and Hamilton Boards of Trade have petitioned the Dominion Government in favour of a uniform penny postage for the whole British Empire.

James Armstrong, a Canadian farmer of 48 years, was arrested Tuesday night in Buffalo while intoxicated. He claims to have been held up by crooks and robbed of $1,600.

Captain Warren, of Victoria, B. C., has been summoned to Washington to give evidence in reference to the claims of the owners of vessels seized in Behring's sea by U. S.

Sir John Thompson brought a bill down in Parliament last week ceding to the provinces the ownership of the foreshores and beds of the various rivers and lakes in the different provinces of the Dominion.

Captain William Zealand, of Hamilton died on Friday, while under the influence of chloroform, which had been administered by his physician to enable him to undergo a surgical operation for an abscess in the

A bill for the construction of the Sault A bill for the construction of the Sauts Ste. Marie railway, from Sault Ste. Marie to the coast of Labrador, which was before the Railway Committee in Parliament last week, was designated a wild cat scheme, and was thrown out on a vote of 26 to 17.

The Dominion Government has issued a circular to the various labour organizations asking their opinion on Mr. Chapleau's proposed bill making it a misdemeanour for working men to require their fellow-workmen to join union or for employers to insist that their employes shall not belong to unions.

Mgr. Labelle, deputy commissioner of agriculture for the province of Quebec, and acting as an immigration commissioner for that province, addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at Lille, France, the other night. He spoke in glowing terms of the France beyond the ocean, where resided so many sons of the fatherland in prosperity. He told of the great regions of the Northwest, ready to welcome the sons of old France to its hospitable soil. Mgr. Labelle was heartily applauded. He will shortly proceed to Germany. Mgr. Labelle, deputy commissioner of ag ceed to Germany.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Sir Peter Coates, of the well-known thread making firm of J. & P. Coates, is dead.

Elizabeth Vincent, who shot her seducer, L. H. Isaacs, M. P. for Walworth, has been acquitted. East end workingmen in London are said to have entered upon a boycotting crusade against Hebrew laborers.

Brown & Wingrove, malters and refiners and dealers in bullion, of London, have fail ed. Liabilities £300,000.

Mr. Parnell has decided to prosecute the Exeter Gazette for publishing the Times articles on "Parnellism and Crime."

Arthur Orton, alias Tichborne, was nominated as a candidate for Stoke-on-Trent, but failed to put in the necessary deposit. Master Abraham Lincoln, son of the United States Minister to Great Britain, died in London on the morning of the 5th. Canon Baynes has been found guilty of stealing a trunk at Bristol railway station and has been sentenced to four months' im-

Portugal is determined to exclude England from Mozambique, and the latter country is resolved to have compensation for the outrages committed.

Mr. Gladstone's amendment, 'calling upon the House of Commons to reprobate the charges made against the Parnellites, was charges made against the Parnellites, was voted down by a majority of 71 in a House of 607 members

An election in the Stamford division of Lincolnshire on Saturday resulted in the return of Mr. Cost, Conservative, by a majority of 282. At the last election the Conservative was returned unopposed.

The correspondence, just published, relating to the Berlin labor conference between Germany and Great Britain shows that Lord Salisbury declined to commit himself to any measure limiting the hours of labor.

The Duchess of Fife, in receiving a deputation from the women of the United Kingdom, said that her mother, her sisters and aerself did their atmost to promote Irish industries by wearing Irish linen, Irish lace, and Irish poplins.

60 Pm

THE WEEK'S NEWS repossess the Park Deer forest, of which they were dispossessed, and to portion out the repossess the rark Deer forest, of which they were dispossessed, and to portion out the lands in crofts, which they mean to cultivate without delay. They are organized and provided with tents and baggage for a long campaign. Serious trouble is anticipated.

UNITED STATES.

Matilda Ruby has just died at Raywick, Ky., aged 123 years. Gold has been discovered in a gravel pit just east of Sioux Falls, S. D.

A meeting of citizens has been held at Sar Francisco to devise means for aiding unemployed workingmen.

Two thousand shirtmakers, many of them women, are on strike in New York for a uniform rate in all the shops.

A disastrous collision took place on the Lake Shore road near Buffalo on the 6th inst. Six persons were killed and seventeen injur-Daniel D. Blake, of Fall River, Mass., says he has received word that he is heir to a $200,000 estate in England. Blake is a poor The duty on wools agreed upon by the sub-Committee of the republican members of the United States Ways and Means Committee, of both the first and second classes, is eleven cents per pound. Sir Thomas Esmonde has arrived at Nev Orleans en route from Australia to London. He said he had been away from home nearly eighteen months and had collected $150,000 in the colonies for the Irish cause.

John A. Hodgson, a young Cleveland, O., man of position, married Addie May Bishop on Friday, and immediately on reaching the Bishops' residence after the ceremony he blew out his brains without assigning any

The Government printing office at Washington is now engaged in filling one of the largest orders in its history. This is for 18,000,000 blanks for the use of the 40,000 enumerators of the eleventh census, who will begin work in May. It will take 15,000 reams of paper, and twenty presses will have to be worked twenty-two hours each day for six weeks.

Vice-President Morton, who is visiting the Vice-President Morton, who is visiting the South, says its resources are being developed with marvellous rapidity. The cotton crop now averages 7,000,000 bales. The number of cotton mills in the South ten years ago was 160, with 14,000 looms. To-day there are 14,000 mills and 215,000 flooms. The mileage of railways in the South, which ten years ago was less than 30 south, which ten years ago was less than 20,000, is now than 40,000.

IN GENERAL.

The Russian navy is to be recorganised and strengthened.

The death is announced at Constantinople of ex-Sultan Murad.

In some parts of Austria last week the thermometer registered from 12 to 20 degrees below zero.

It is stated that Prince Bismarck will re tire gradually from his various posts, retaining only the Foreign Office.

The trial at Wadowice, Austria, of persons accused of emigrant swindling, resulted in the conviction of 31 of the 60 prisoners. Herr Von Tisza, Hungarian prime minister, has resigned owing to disagreement with his cabinet over the naturalization of Louis Kossuth. Sunday was the second anniversary of the death of the Emperor William I. The Imperial mausoleum at Charlottenburg was consecrated.

A Sister of Charity in Moscow was murdered and chopped in pieces. A medical student was arrested for the butchery, and immediately suicided.

The customs committee of the French Chamber of Deputies has voted to impose a duty of three francs on foreign corn and five on corn flour.

Emperor William has conferred the order of the Black Eagle on Herr von Boetticher, Minister of the Interior, who is regarded as Prince Bismarck's probable successor in the chancellorship.

Canada and the United States. We cannot help thinking that a good deal of the belief as to annexation being bound to come has arisen from assuming it as certain that if there were reciprocity or a customs union between the Dominion The imperial naval estimates amount to £14,000,000, an increase of £100,000 over last year.

Elizabeth Vincent, who shot her seducer, not absorb the countries with which she has free trade, nor would America, even if the free trade was restricted to one free trade was restricted to one Countries have often been strictly Power. Countries have often been strictly united in spite of internal customs lines; while again, States have had free commercial intercourse without amalgamation. It is quite conceivable that England, and America might politically tion. It is quite conceivable that England, Canada, and America might politically remain to each other in the positions they occupy to-day, although Canada and America admitted each other's goods free, and had a tariff against those of England. No doubt the arrangement would be a very foolish one for Canada; but to speak of reciprocity as necessarily involving absorption, is not so realize how essentially illogical natioal sentiment often is. Canada might quite well think she would ada might quite well think she would de injured, both by wearing English cloth and by adopting American institutions. In any case, a customs union is further off than American free trade, and, mean-time, we need not be afraid of bills introduced into Congress for absorbing Canada. That is a game two can play at, and the Dominion Parliament is, we believe, occasionally invited to pass measures for admitting the New England States to the federation of British North America.—London Spec-

The Removal of Moles.

In a recent number of The Practitioner, In a recent numer of The Practitioner, Dr. Jamison writes on the use of sodium ethylate in removing hairy moles on the face. He operated in this way: The hairs were cut off as closely as possible with a very fine pair of scissors, and the mole was then painted over with sodium ethylate, a fine glass rod being used. When the mela had a varyished. ed over with sodium ethylate, a fine glass rod being used. When the mole had a varnished look the ethylate was gently rubbed in with the glass rod, to make it penetrate more deeply into the hair follicles. The mole had quite a black look when the operation was over. A hard crust formed over it, which was nearly three weeks in becoming detached. When it came off the hairs were seen to be destroyed, and the surface of the mole had a smooth, somewhat cicatrical appear. and Irish poplins.

Dispatches from Stornoway, on the Island of Lewes, state that the crofters are in a desperate condition. They have resolved to Gambing in Wheat. For hard, practical common sense, per-inent to the actal needs of the times, comtinent to the actal needs of the times, com-mend us to the comments of ex-Governor Pillsbury, of Mhneapolis, upon the effect gambling in whet is having upon the wheat interest. He coxends that the farmers and millers have the ame interest, and that the depreciating influence of sbort sales based on wind is detimental to the interest of both the producr and the manufacturer. He thinks that the millers, for the most He thinks that the millers, for the most part, have lost money. They pay more for their stock than they can really afford to, and yet pay only starvation prices for the raw material of tieir flour. "I never knew the milling interest to be profitable on low prices of wheat, he says. This statement, which rests in a broad principle of political economy, wa called out by the action of the Chicago Board of Trade in trying to destroy the bucket-stops These do incalculable harm. They are the wheat raiser's "dearest foe," an enemy so fatal that unless destroyed, farmers are liable to be whelmed in one vast ruii. Eut the fault is not all theirs. So fa as the Chicago, Toronto, and one va theirs. So fa as the Chicago, Toronto, and Montreal boarsalls wthemselves and practice gambling they are to better than the bucketshops. The fitting sale of wheat, or the sale of fictitious sale of wheat, or the sale of fictitious wheat, whichever way one chooses to put it, is the greatest evil our or any other farners lave to contend against today. The acual production has not increased throughout the world during the content of the world with the market is delast five or tel years, but the market is de-pressed by the endmous quantity of gambl-ing sales male. It is as if the actual increase had been segreat as the fictitious. This is the centra point of the statement as a whole. "The way the market is now running." Mr Pilshry says. "a man sell. as a whole. "The way the market is now running," Mr. Pilsbury says, "a man sell-ing a million hishlis of wheat which he does not own has just as much effect, or even mount of wheat which he does own, for the amount of wheat which he does own, for the reason that these big bears have been so successful in their selling that their very prestige draws a big amount of followers. This evil has grown to be so tremendous that it will tend to depopulate the farming communities unless it is stopped, and vigorous methods will have to be taken to stop it." Clearly his is an evil too stupendous to be overlooked or neglected. If the farmers would betir themselves to stop this king's evil of he period they would be able to force some relief. to force some relief.

A New Bible for Germany.

Germany i to have a new Bible. For twenty-five years a committee has been sitting in revision of the famous work of Martin Luthr. The last meeting of this revisory bod; was held on the 10th of January. The work has now gone to the printers, and it will soon be made public. Of the original commission of distinguished scholars who keezer the revision twenty for Of the original commission of distinguished scholars who legan the revision twenty-five years ago, nearly all have passed away. One by one heir places have been filled with new men. It need not be said that the commission has been composed of men of brilliant and crudite scholarship. The appearance of their work seems, however, to be awaited with no considerable popular interest in Germany,—certainly with no such interest as was shown in the appearance of the English revised version issued from the Jerusalem chamber of Westminster aftew years ago, and telegraphed in large part. the Laguage relation issued from the Jerusalem chamber of Westminster a few years ago, and telegraphed in large part across the Atlantic. It is said that the German translators have preserved many popular phrases and readings of the Luther Bible, although confessedly not strictly accurate. Such leniency toward the existing version would hardly seem compatible with the purpose for which the revisory body has been sitting. Nevertheless, undoubtedly many important changes have been made, great care being taken to preserve so far as possible the diction of Luther's famous work. What the King James translation has been to the English language and literature Luther's Bible has been to the language and literature of Germany. It will probably require some pressure upon the part of the ecclesiastical authorities to secure any general use of the new secure any general use of the new on. Theologians and scholars will find it interesting to compare the critical work of the German committee with that of the English and American committees. A in its authority.

Australia's Wheat Supply.

Recent agricultural returns show that South Australia has a great future before it as a wheat growing country, and is likely to become one of the world's chief sources of become one of the world's oner sources or supply. The population of the whole pro-viace is not more than that of many Eng-lish towns, yet it has produced wheat to the value of nearly three millions sterling in the value of nearly three millions sterling in a single year. This gives an average of £95 per head for each of the 30,000 persons engaged in agriculture, or nearly 40 bushels per head for the whole population. When this is contrasted with the figures of the other great grain-producing countries of the world, the prosperity of this thriving little colony is at once apparent. India grows one bushel for each of its inhabitants, Russia about two bushels, and North America (inbout two bushels, and North America (in cluding Canada) seren bushels per head. The cost of production is also surprisingly small. In Great Britain each acre of wheat costs about £8 10s., and in America about £2, but South Australia farmers can raise the grain for 25s. per acre. It thus appears that each family engaged in agriculture has an average income derived from wheat of £205 10s., besides what is derived from other crops, cattle rearing, and dairying. In a good year this has risen to £285, but, taking good and bad together, the handsome average stated is the result. In the year 18878-wheat of the value of two millions and a wheat of the value of two millions and a half was exported, leaving a balance worth £300,000 for home consumption, showing that for every person engaged in agriculture £84 worth of grain was sent abroad. These figures are believed to be without a parallel in any country in the world; and as there is abundance of land yet uncultivated, a largely-increased supply may be looked for in the future. It is also to be noted that the return per acre reaped is only about £1.

Smokeless Powder in Battle.

Smokeless powder in Battle.

Smokeless powder will perhaps be hailed as a blessing by the sportsman, who will be enabled instantaneously to see the effect of his shot, but to the poor soldier in battle what will it be? With the perfection and general adoption of smokeless powder the curtain that has mercifully hidden the shock of battle will no more. All the agony, all the horror, will be brought before the eyes of the combatants, and will act most powerfully upon troops drawn up in suppowerfully upon troops drawn up in sup-port of those actually engaged. "Experi-ence has proved," says a United States gener-al, "that many men who fight steadily in battle turn faint and sick in a field hospital; how will it be when the two experiences are to a certain extent combined?" Heretofore the struggles in the arena have been hidden from the supports by the clouds of smoke. With smokeless gunpowder in use, every individual struggle will be plain to spectators and the support of the support ors whose nerves have been worked up to a high tension by the mere presence of battle. Again, the smokeless powder gives no indication of the presence of a concealed enemy. A column on the march might have its first intimation of the neighborhood of an enemy the its march might have the march might have been written in the march might have been written in the march might have been written in the march might have been worked up to a constant which we have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have been worked up to a constant when the might have a constant when the might h enemy when it was cut in two by a volley of musketry almost inaudible. Whence comes the attack might be also difficult to determine, for there are many magazine rifles in Europe that fire a shot a second with sufficient velocity to pierce an inch and a fifth of steel at short range, and are terribly effective at fifteen hundred yards. Troops may be mowed down by the fire of en enemy they cannot see, and who after his blow is struck gives no visible sign of his whereabouts. What a terrible test it will be of the nerves of men, to see their enemy when it was cut in two by a volley of musketry almost inaudible. Whence comes mis whereabouts. What a terrible test it will be of the nerves of men, to see their comrades levelled in heaps by a silent blast of death! The liability to such an experience is sufficient to effect the nervous sensibility of nations. Another agency of death as soul-shaking as smokeless and almost noiseless can reveal the bidden and the sensible sensib right points of nations. Another agency of death as soul-shaking as smokeless and almost noiseless gun powder is the high explosive, whether dynamite or gun cotton. So long as it was supposed that special weapons were necessary for the use of high explosives are in warfare, and that they would be necessarily almost as dangerous to those who served them as to those who faced them, the employment of these tremendous agencies was limited. Italy and Germany have demonstrated that charges of wet gun cotton can be fired with safety from ordinary service guns. Both powers have adopted wet gun cotton for bursting-charges for shells, after trials that demonstrated that forty-eight pounds of this tremendous explosive could be fired with safety to a distance of thirty-three hundred yards. The French have gone even farther than this, firing a seventy-three pound charge of melinite from a siege gun to as great a distance. All these horrors ought to frighten the world into peace, but will they? When gun-powder came into use, there were men who thought that the days of war would go out with the bow and arrow. bow and arrow

While the English, Germans and Portugues © have been racing one another in their efforts to extend their respective possessions in South Africa, France has directed her attention to the western part of the dark continent. During the past five years the French possessions in Senegambia have been gradually extended, by conquest or treaties with the native chiefs, and now include the whole of the upper Niger country as far east as Timbuctoo. The trade of Senegambia amounts to some ten million dollars per annum and is controlled almost ex-France in Africa. per annum and is controlled almost ex clusively by the French. A railroad from St. Louis on the coast to the Niger river has St. Louis on the coast to the Niger river has been projected and partially constructed. This line will be extended to Timbuctoo and thence in a straight course across the desert of Sahara to Algiers on the Mediterranean coast. In the Guinea country the French have been equally active and successful in adding to their possessions. French Congo and adjacent colonies now comprise an area of 240,000 square miles, while nearly as much more territory lying back of an area of 240,000 square miles, while nearly as much more territory lying back of these possessions is conceded to be within the sphere of French influence. The new king of Dahomey, jealous of the rapid progress of the French on all sides of his savage kingdom, and anxious to make a record as a valiant, warrier, has merched his America. the English and American committees. A strong effort has recently been made in Germany to procure the publication of an expurgated and abridged edition of the Bible for use in schools; but the movement has been discouraged, and nothing is likely to come of it. It is feared in theological quarters that to take such liberties with the sacred volume would tend to destroy faith in its authority. homey regard their vanquished enemies as the choicest of gastronomical delicacies and nvariably celebrate a victory with a feast of raw human flesh upon the battlefield, the French will be excused for rude treatment of their ferocious female opponents. Dahomey is one of the blackest spots on the map of Africa. Cannibalism is generally practiced among the inhabitants. The country is rich in natural resources, and if England and Germany should not object too strenuously France will doubtless agnerative. France will doubtless annex it, or at least bring it within the sphere of her influence bring it within the sphere of her immence France already has grabbed one-sixteenth part of the entire area of Africa, and the larger portion of these extended possessions has been acquired in the course of the last few years.

English Gold Again.

Hardly a day passes but the arrival of English capital in some new American channel of trade is reported. Making all lowance for the exaggeration and sheer lowance for the exaggeration and sheer romancing incidental to the reports of this invasion of alien capitalists, it cannot be doubted that there is a genuine movement of English money toward investment in the northern half of this continent.

Following upon the heels of the author-ed announcement of the organization of a gigantic British-American syndicate to oper ate in a multitude of ways, involving a capital of many millions, comes the news from the Chester Valley, in Pennsylvania, that a number of cotton manufacturers from London, Edinburgh and Birmingham, England, are going to erect there a large num, ber of cotton mills, and a small town out of hand for the operatives. in any country in the world; and as there is abundance of land yet uncultivated, a largely-increased supply may be looked for in the future. It is also to be noted that the return per acre reaped is only about £1, so that more thorough cultivation will probably result in a still further augmented production.

The large London firm of Brown Brothers in the large creamery business of Minnesota. hand for the operatives. The outward sign of this great transaction at present is confined to the obtaining of a number of options open the other night, entered and saw three open the other night, entered and saw three of the proposed mills and town. The three scoundrels returned production.

The large London firm of Brown Brothers in the large creamery business of Minnesota. The outward sign

Chicago and the Fair.

Chicago and the Fair.

The developments in connection with the proposed World's Fair in Chicago are not very assuring, and create a doubt whether the monster exhibition will materialize at all. It would seem that the money necessary for carrying out the project successfully has not been raised by the winning candidate, the so-called guarantee fund amounting almost to nothing. In view of this fact it is now proposed that Congress shall devote $10,000,000 or $15,000,000 of the surplus for this purpose. Quite naturally New York, which had practically raised $15,000,000, all of which would have been available in a very short time, objects to such a proposal. Says short time, objects to such a proposal. Says the Saturday Globe: "If this argument bility which no set of politicians will find any reason to rejoice in. Give to Chicago for the purpose just what New York would have asked for, namely, the limited sum which may be necessary for a Government exhibit; make to Chicago, if you think proper and find the security satisfactory, such a loan as was made to Philadelphia in 1876; but beyond this not one cent under penalty of hearing from it very decidedly and impressively in the canvass of 1892." It will be a pity if the jealousy and chagrin of the greater city should place any obstruction in the way of carrying out the enterprise, which, while likely to result in a local anational benefit. But whether Chicago has over-estimated her ability or under-estimated the magnitude of the undertaking remains.

The snub given by Lord Salisbury to the Brazilian Minister at the Court of St. James, is about to bring forth fruit in an unlooked-for manner. Taken with the circumstance that the authorities at Washington have recognized the new republic and have entered into fraternal relations with the Brazilian. recognized the new republic and have entered into fraternal relations with the Brazilian government, it has led to the formation of leagues at Rio Janeiro, Bahai, Para, Santos, and Pennambuco, the members of which reagues at Kio Janeiro, Bahai, Para, Santos, and Pernambuco, the members of which pledge themselves to boycott British in favor of American goods. Of course Lord Salisbury will feel awfully sorry and will forthwith bring his knees to mother earth and fill his eyes with tears that he may persuade those whom he has so grossly oftended to turn nil his eyes with tears that he may persuade those whom he has so grossly oftended to turn from their heartless purpose. For do they not see that the withdrawal of their patronage would prove the death blow to British enterprise and prosperity. Joking aside, we have here an instance of people cutting off their nose to spite their face.

In his report to the government, Commander Gordon, in charge of the protective cruisers, draws attention to the fact that the only seizure of an American vessel during the season was that of the Mattie Winship of Gloucester, held and fined $2000 for fishing in territorial waters of Canada The of Gloucester, held and fined $2000 for fishing in territorial waters of Canada. The United States mackerel fleet which visited Canadian waters last year consisted of 62 vessels, their catch being recorded as 6775 barrels, an average of 109 barrels, as against 126 barrels the preceding year. Commander Gordon strongly urges the advisability of endeavoring to make an arrangement with the government of the United States for the preservation of the mackerel fishery. The preservation of the United States for the preservation of the mackerel fishery. The absolute prohibition of the use of the purse seine for the whole, in place of part, of the 12 months would go far toward accomplishing this end. The total number of menemployed in the sea-going fisheries of the maritime provinces is 8159, and in the shore fishing, in boats, 34,167.

It is just possible that Major Serpa Pinto the impetuous young officer who precipitat ed the east African trouble, may yet involve his government in greater difficulties. ed the east African trouble, may yet involve his government in greater difficulties. Fearing that his presence at home might in-flame the patriots who have been seeking to embitter the public mind against Eng-land and everything English, the authori-ties at Lisbonigave him orders not to return at present. These orders he is about to at present. These orders he is about to at present. These orders he is about to disobey, and purposes to leave Cape Town at once, on board the Portuguese mail steamer with the intention of taking part in the debates in the Cortes on the situation in steamer with the intention of taking part in the debates in the Cortes on the situation in Africa and his treatment of the natives. In an interview at Durban Serpa Pinto blamed the Protestant missionaries and the agents the Protestant missionaries and the agents of the African Company as the prime movers in the quarrel between Portuguese and the natives. He asserted that the Portuguese massacred the natives only when they were compelled to do so in self-defence. There is a considerable party in Lisbon who will support him in whatever story he chooses to tell, and there may be trouble on his-arrival. arrival.

The combined cities of New York and Brooklyn take the palm and lead the world in the matter of large petitions. The monster was presented to the New York Assembly one day last week. It contains 51,144 signatures from New York city and over 16,000 from Brooklyn, and is bound in book form. The book is twenty-six inches wide, thirty-two inches long, eight feet thick, and weighs half a ton. It was carried into the Assembly Chamber on the shoulders of eight men, and was laid, not on the table, but on the floor of the House. This unrivalled petition is in was laid, not on the table, but on the floor of the House. This unrivalled petition is in favor of the Saxton Ballot Reform bill. Evidently the political machine is not giving good satisfaction in this great centre.

If matters go on much longer at the pre sent rate it is likely that Detroit will ex-perience some difficulty in keeping up the number of her police force. As a rule, men number of her police force. As a rule, men do not covet being made a target for desperadoes and cut throats. And this is how it has ended on several occasions in that city.

The latest victim of the armed burden is The latest victim of the armed burglar is Patrolman Edward Schumaker, who, find-

AGRICULTURAL.

BEDROCK PHILOSOPHY.

When worries and troubles surround you Don't fret. Go to work ! You will always have trouble around you, You bet!

If you shirk. The man who is busy his worry forgets. His mind isn't harassed by thoughts of his debts

And the harder he works, the more happy he gets Till he's gay as a Turk.

If Fortune won't smile, let her frown, if She will.

Never mind!

Don't sulk, and look wholly cast down, if

She still Seems unkind. If you smile at her, soon she will smile back at you, You are certain to win her, if you will pur

Her with cheerful persistence, and hope ever new,
And then solace you'll find.

The world doesn't care for your woes, Oh, no! Not a bit!

The man who is wise never shows
His foe That he's hit.

Every one of your neighbors has griefs of his own, He greatly prefers to let your griefs alone, And he doesn't at all enjoy hearing you groan, So take warning, and quit!

CARE OF HOUSE PLANTS

Whenever an herbaceous plant begins to drop its leaves it is certain that its health is impaired in some way. This may be due to several causes, such as being potbound, overheated, exposure to cold or the application of powerful stimulants, as guano, strong liquid manure, alkalies, etc., or to some other cause, which has destroyed the feeding roots of the plant, thus inducing disease and speedy death in all cases where remedial measures are not in all cases where remedial measures are not speedily resorted to. The steps taken in these cases by the amateur are remedial.

speedily resorted to. The steps taken in these cases by the amateur are generally the most disastrous course that could be taken toward the plant, short of destroying it at once—that of deluging it with water and applying strong stimulants.

When the nutritive organs of the plants have been destroyed or overgorged the remedy is very similar—that which nature suggests when animal digestion is deranged—namely, that of giving no more food until it reacts. Then if the roots have been injured from any of the above named causes we must let the soil in which it is potted become from any of the above named causes we must let the soil in which it is potted become nearly dry. After which, remove the plant from the pot, take the ball for soil in which the roots have been enveloped and crush it between the hands just enough to allow all the hard outer crust of the ball to be shaken off. Re-not in a rather dry soil, which must off. Re-pot in a rather dry soil, which must be light and rich, using a new pot, or if the old one is used it should be well scoured to open the pores that evaporation may be properly carried on through the sides.

Let the not be only large enough to allow

Let the pot be only large enough to allow an inch of spase between the sides of the pot and the ball of roots. After repotting give sufficient water to settle the earth well about the roots. Sink the pot in a half shady place or in a box of soil. Do not apply water until the plant starts to grow unless the air is as the plant starts to grow unless the air is so dry as to evaporate the moisture before any dry as to evaporate the moisture before any perceptible growth starts. Then, of course, water must be given in sufficient quantities to keep the soil damp, but no more.

I cannot conceive why people water their plants so much, nor why they should think water such a specific remedy for all the ills to which the plants are heir. The following is a case in point: A neighbor consulting me is a case in point: to which the plants are heir. The following is a case in point: A neighbor consulting me about the feeble condition of her geraniums said: "I am sure the plants are not suffering from want of attention, as I have watered them copiously twice each day!" I think it is quite safe to assume that half the plants that die in the hands of amateurs are watered to death.

Small white worms sometimes infest pots Small white worms sometimes infest pots in which the plants have stood a long time. These are easily discovered by turning the plants out when rather dry, loosening the soil among the roots. Should any worms be found, the roots of the plants may be washed gently in soft water until freed from the old soil, then repotted in fresh earth. If it be not desirable to repot, the pot may be set for a half hour in hot water nearly to the depth of the soil inside. This will drive the worms to the surface without injury to the plant.

ont desirable to repot, the pot may be set for a half hour in hot water mearly to the depth of the soil inside. This will drive the worms to the surface without injury to the plant. Honough weak lime water may now be poured on the surface to penetrate the plant roots. This will not only kill the worms but fegalize the soil.

Ants sometimes cause trouble where pots have been plunged or kept in the ground. There is no way to get rid of them except by repotting.

KINDNESS IN THE DAIRY.

The following is so true to our experience that we clip it from an article on shots from a dairy farm, in Farm Stock and Home:

It is a fact that a cow with generous feeding and good care, but with cross and unkind treatment, will not yield as great a profit as she will with kind treatment. A good dairy cow is extremely sensitive and responsive to kindness or abuse. It is paint that when the milker approaches a cow and she gazes at him with keyes filled with far and trembling, and gathers herself together to receive an unexpected blow, she is not going to yield as great an amount of milk, or as rich in quality, as she would if he eyes gave him a glad welcome to receive an unexpected blow, she is not going to yield as great an amount of milk, or as rich in quality, as she would if he eyes gave him a glad welcome kindiy treated. There is occasionally one that is maturally vicious, and it is a waste of time and patience to try to change her nature. Sell her to the butter and end her vicious existence. It is a very easy matter to have a herd of dairy cattle that are kindly disposed to accomisderation in hiring a man on a dairy farm is that he is kind and gentle to animals. When we hire a man he knows that if the cattle don't like him he must go. We hird a young man once who proved to be naturally vicious; he stayed nearly a week, did not vicious; he stayed nearly a week, milk, as well as those he milked, shrunk heavily in their milk yield.

Kindness does not cost a cent, only the use of a little self-control and self-respect. When you kick a cow just pause and think that you are kicking dollars out of your pockets; and when you pound her with your milk stool that you are robbing your wife of the necessaries of life, and you probably won't do it. Let every man who desires to make the greatest profit from his dairy cows try kindners and gentleness, just from the standpoint of business policy, and he will soon find there is the most money in it.

FERTILIZING WITH CLOVER

A system of rotation and plowing like the following will, in a few years, work wonders on any soil, writes J. K. Davis to the "Western Farmer." When a crop of small grain is sown in the spring, sow a liberal amount of medium clover and the next year after cutting the hay early, let the second crop go to seed and plow under when well matured. The next year plant a crop, and when harvested plow fully as deep as before which brings the clover seed to the surface for a most liberal stocking. The clover seed contains so much oil that it will not rot while in the ground, and still being covered so deeply will not germinate while there. There being such an amount of seed, if some does winter kill plenty more will not. Then sow a crop and the ground is well seeded again with clover, and another crop of hay cut as before. And so on for a series of years, harvesting a crop of grain the first year, corn or potatoes the second year, grain the third year and clover hay the forth year. By this process the soil will improve in fertility wonderfully every year, and no expense for clover seed after the first season. Of course the above is a good system to adopt on any land, but as sandy soil is often considered of but little value, I suggest this way of renovating it. In recent conversation with an old farmer from New York, he considered of but little value, I suggest this way of renovating it. In recent conversation with an old farmer from New York, he told me that, by the process above given, farms in his vicinity that a few years ago could be bought for a song, are now worth $100 an acre. There are many points of excellence in sandy land. The ground can be worked earlier in the spring than clayey soil. The crops mature earlier. It is easier cultivated. It can be worked sooner after a heavy rain. The potato and all other root crops are far superior in quality. If the heavy rain. The potato and all other root crops are far superior in quality. If the cultivated crops are tilled as often as they should be in a dry season, they will stand the drought nearly if not quite as well as on

CITY VERSUS COUNTRY.

The fact that the prevailing epidemic of influenza prevails in towns serves to remind us of the unsanitary influences of town life. There are sanitary influences as well; there is shelter from cold winds and tempest, often disastrous to the ill-nourished in the country, and food nearer at hand to the multitude. The prevalence of germs, bad odors, and other self-evident sources of grave diseases in cities is well-known. It is rather the less constantly recognized unhealthy habits of townsfolk that are mostly at fault when the fairly fed and well-to-do are smitten with colds and with influenza. Diet is abundant but taken irregularly. The townsman, as a rule, is not a good breakfast eater, and he dines too late and too heavily. He is much addicted to taking alcohol, tea or coffee between meals. He is a late riser and goes to bed late, so that a large fraction of his "day" is spent at night in artificial light. He seldom takesenough exercise, for the "constitutional" is intolcrable to men of a certain temperament, and others have notime for that form of physical exertion. A hurried race to catch a train or an omnibus is not hygienic. He is gregarious, and his natural flocking in The fact that the prevailing epidemic of of physical exertion. A hurried race to catch a train or an omnibus is not hygienic. He is gregarious, and his natural flocking instinct makes him overlook, both in his pleasures as well his duties, the fact that he works or plays with his fellow man in an ill-ventilated or over-crowded rooms. Above all, he is out of training, as he finds out during the first days of a holiday. Many explorers and fighting men have noted that they catch cold readily in townsafter bearing cold and damp with impunity in the country. The catch cold readily in townsafter bearing cold and damp with impunity in the country. The city tourist, on the other hand, is often astonished to discover how he can bear a wetting or a draught at the seaside or in the fields. All the surroundings of the townsman predispose him to attacks of diseases like the present epidemic. He can at least rise early and take exercise, and will soon find that such habits will be to his advantage.

THE TWO-ROWED BARLEY.

Many of the new silk petticoats are trimmed with flots of ribbon and cascades and ruffles of lace.

and ruffles of lace.

The increase of deer in Maine the past year is reported to be due to the fact that they have been driven fron Canada and Labrador by large bands of gray wolves.

Discretion and good nature have always been looked upon as the distinguishing ornaments of female conversation. The woman whose price is above rubies has no particular in the character given of her by the wise man more endearing than that she openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness.

The Manitoba Legislaturehas decided to

The Manitoba Legislature has decided to abolish exemptions.

The Jingling of the Guinea Helps the Hurt that Honor Feels."

But there are deeper hurts than those that honor feels. The seeds of disease are sometimes deeply sown, the system is secretly and surely giving away to some deep seated malady. Especially among females are many sufferers from inflanmation, ulcerations, prolarges and attentions. are many sufferers from inflanmation, ulcerations, prolapsus, and other displacements; weak back, sick headache, terroussess and kidney diseases. For all these affections peculiar to women no surer semedy than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, prepared for their special benefit, can be found. It is the only medicine for women, sdd by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper and faithfully carried out for many years.

Feather boas and stoles and triple capes of cloth will be much worn with wool gowns.

Now's the Time.

Never put off till to-morrow
That which needs doing to day.
If you do you may find to your sorrow,
Too late, that you've trifled away

If you do you may find to your sorrow. Too late, that you've trified away the golden opportunity of a lifetime. If those who complain of weakness and debility, have hacking cough or pain in the side or chest, poor appetite, broken sleep and other symptoms of a general decay of vitality, would promptly procure Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and take it as directed, they might throw off the disease which threatens them, and soon regain a hold on the health they are surely losing. Consumption may be averted, if prompt measures are taken, by the use of this standard remedy. Let those who have reason to feel that their general vitality is running low be wise and do something for themselves at once, for delays are dangerous. "Golden Medical Discovery" is warranted to beneit or cure in all cases of disease for which it is recommended or more weather that the standard remeded or more weather that the standard remedy. cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it refuided.

Heliotrope velvet slippers, with pink silk stockings, are a new fancy of those who like that sort of thing.

$500 Reward offered by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for an incurable case. 50 cts.

Yellow jonquils and purple violets are avorite flowers for combination in corsage fouquets just at the moment.

All Men.

young, old, or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak an exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of vitality, loss of memory, 'd dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensation about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eye lids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLE, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to isanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension very function wanes in consequence. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Address M. V. LUBON, 50 Fron St. E., Toronto, Ont. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitayoung, old, or middle-aged, who find them-Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flushes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the neart with beats to the head, dull pain in the heart with heats strong, r.p.d and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 50 Front Street East. Toronta Out. pain in the neart with beats onte, Ont.

Yokes and guimpes of velvet go with

WATCHES FREE. 1000 absolutely free to introduce our goods. Write and be convinced. Canadian Watch Co., Toronto, Canadian Watch Co., Canadi

LADIES try OLIVE BRANCH, the best remedy Sample free. J. TROTTER, 5 Richmond St., W., Toronto, Can. THE SMITH NEEDLE PACKAGE.

Best thing out. Agents make $5 per day. Sample by mall, 25c. CLEMENT & Co., 36 King St. E., Toronto.

CANCER and TUMOR Specialist. Private Haspital. No knife. Book free G. H. McMicharla, M. D., No. 63 Nisgara St., Buffallo, N. Y.

WANTED A PARTNER

For $2,000 cash I will sell a one-quarter interest in an old-established profitable city business. This is a rare chance. Investigation invited. References exchanged. Principals only. Fer particulars address

P.O. Box 266, Toronto P.O., Ont.

Work & Money

If you want both, go to Great Falls, Monana, and help build the Great Half Million Dollar Dam across the Missouri, the Two Million Dollar Smeiter, or one of the Three New Lines of Railway—Nichart Line, Lethbridge Line, and Pacific Coast Line, all being built by the Great Northern Ry, (St. P., M. & M.)

18,000,000 of free farming lands along the line.
For particulars send postal eard to

J. M. HUCKINS,

Can. Pass. Agt.,

4 Palmer House Block, TORONTO

SCOTT'S

Scott's Emulsion is a perject to a conderful Flesh Producer. It is the Bost Remody for CONSUMPTION, Screfula, Broughttis, Wasting Diseases, Chronic Coughs and Colds.

PALATABLE AS MILE.

Soot's Emulsion is only put up in salmon color wrapper. Avoid all imitations or substitutions.
Sold by all Draggists at 50. and $1.00.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Belleville.

TORONTO CUTTING SCHOOL. Scientific and reliable systems taught, whereby stylish, perfect-fitting garments are produced. Send for circular. S. CORRIGAN, Prop., Adelaide St. West.

$10.00 ADAY.—Easy or and respectable work

The Great Ottoman Blood Remedy. Guaranteed to cure all diseases of the blood whether brought on by indiscretion and excess or arising from hereditary causes. Will remove pimples and blotches from the skin and by its invigorating action on the blood restores falling powers and builds up the system of those suffering from wasting disease. Price $1 per bottle. Address, Ottoman Medicine Co., Mail Building, Toronto.

KNITTING MACHINE

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and this advertisement with your order for our NEW RIBBER and we will allow you $10 PREMIUM DISCOUNT

ADDRESS Creelman Bros., M'fgrs, GEORGETOWN, ONT

Borrowers

MONEY Large Loans and Church Loans at very low rates, and smaller sums at

MUNEI very low rates, and smaller sums at 5\\dagger{1}, 6, 6\dagger{1} per cent, according to security. \( \frac{\text{LNV HSTORS}}{\text{LNV HSTORS}} \)

Toronto business and house property yielding 7, 8 and 10 per ct. to investors, and 100 per ct. to SPECULATORS.

**KERR & KLEISER.**

J. LATIMER KERR. GHENVILLE P. KLEISER. 4 King Street East, Toronto.

Successors to A E Minkler & Co. Office established 1879 by Mr S, H. Janes, Increase in population Toronto 1889 over 1838 (assessors returns) 20,380.

The Eagle Screams

My neighbors and friends who saw me in my sickness wondered at the great change in my looks lately and said I looked ten years younger and indeed I feel so relieved, suffering as I did for many years, especially after meals, now I enjoy my meals, and with pleasure add my testimony to your extraordinary Water. Yes! If you think whet I say is any value, give it to the people. Yours truly.

M. J. TUCKER,

Newberry Port, Mass

The Trusts Corporation OF ONTARIO

CAPITAL, Subscribed Capital,

Office and Vaults, 23 Toronto St., Toronto.
PRESIDENT,
Vice Presidents HON. J. C. AIKINS,
HON. J. CAMPINGON, KINT
HON. R. J. CARTRIGHT, KOME
A. E. PLUMMER.

This Company is approved by Order-in-Council of Lieut. Governor, and is accepted by the High Court of Justice for purposes of such Court.

1 This Company acts as Executor, Administrator, Receiver, Guardian Liquidator, Assignee, &c., Trustee under Deeds, Wills by Appointment or Substitution, and acts as Ages to all Financial business, Investment of Money, Collection of Rents Interest and Income, and Countersigns all Bonds, Securities, &c.

LLANLINE ROYAL MAIL

THE PIONEER CANADIAN LINE, and still to the front in regard to the provision made for the safety and comfort of its customers. WeeklySailings between Liverpool, Glasgow and the St. Lawrence, and fortnightly Service from London during Summer Months. Mail Steamers run between Liverpool and Portland via. Halifax during winter. Glasgow Steamers sail throughout the year to Boston and Philadelphia, calling at Irish ports and Halifax on route.

For rates of passage and other information apply to H. BOURLITER. cor. King and Yonge Sts., Toronto; H. & A. ALLAN, Montreal, or to the local agents in your county.

The Albert Tailet Soap Coy's Vatmeal Skin Soap

MAKES THE HANDS SOFT AND THE COMPLEXION BEAUTIFUL. See that the Coy's name to Stamped on the Soap and on the Wrington. Beware of Imitations.

Address WHALEY, ROYCE & CO., 158 Yonge Street, Toronto.. Send for Catalogue.

THE WONDER OF HEALING! CURES CATABEH, RHEUMATISM, NEU-BALGIA, SORE THROAT, PILES, WOUNDS, BURNS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, AND HEMORRHAGES OF ALL KINDS, Used Internally & Externally, Prices 50c. $1,$1.75 POND'S EXTEACT CO. New York & London

THE CONBOY CARRIAGE TOPS

Their increasing popularity is a proof of their superiority. Be sure and get a Conboy top on your buggy.

TO THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and Post Office Address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M.O., 188 Weet Adelaide St., TORONTO, ONTARIO.

Ewart Link Belting. Best for elevating and conveying. Send for new catalogue of Mill Furnishings, and best discounts.

Waterous Engine Works Co., Ltd., Brantford, Can.

THOUSANDS OF BOTTLES GIVEN AWAY YEARLY.

When I say Cure I do not meas again. I MEAN ARADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of Fits, cause others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at a roce so and a Froe Sottie of my !mfallible Rememby. Give Express and office, 186 WEST ADELAIDE STREET, TORONTO.

THE BEE

FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1890.

THE LOCAL PAPER.

There is not a live business man in any town or village in Ontario who does not regard any evidence of substantial growth in his town with grati-fication. He can alrord to, because that growth is bound to benifit him directly or indirectly. In their pleasure at the accomplishment of an end, however, the public are too prone to overlook the means by which that end was accomplished. For instance, the newspaper is a common convenience to which communities have become so well accustomed that they give them scarcely more thought than they do their morning coffee. It is only when they fail to receive them that they begin to look upon them as a pleasure or a benefit Their offices of beneficence to the community are so common that they are unnoted, but none the less no town or city can advance without its newspapers are in the forefront of advancement-They are the life of the community. They must lead in every effort to invite capital, enlarge industries and enthuse people in the use of their advantages, and that is just what every well conducted and liberally sustained local newspaper is always doing.

No paper can be published without home patronage, and every man is interested in keeping up a home paper. If a railroad or factory is wanted the newspapers are expected to work for it. If a public meeting is wanted for any purpose, the newspaper is called upon for a free notice. If any of the societies have a supper or reception of any kind, the newspaper is expected to give the mecessary notice. The newspaper must puff the schools and everything else to advance the interests of the business men of the place, and then give them a hansome notice when they pass away. And yet some of them do nothing to keep up a home paper.

THE DOG NUISANCE.

Considerable discussion is being indulged in by the members of the Ontario Legislature with regard to the dog nuisance. The remarks made by Mr. Dryden last week in the House on the second what inducements they had to offer. A reading of his bill relating to the destruction of sheep by dogs show that the in the market, but if he fails to invite toss suffered in this way is much more serious than is generally supposed. Returns are at hand from only about onethird of the Ontario townships, and in these about $14,500 is paid every year as compensation to the owners of sheep killed by dogs. As the compensation is ing the paper itself. The stability and only two thirds of the value, this represents a loss of over $19,000, which would be about $57,000 for the whole Province. This is a pretty serious matter, but this as not all. Sheep which are not actually worfied are often much injured by being yet some people make considerable ado frightened and overheated; and, what as more important still, the keeping of sheep, which might otherwise become a profitable industry in Ontario, is much swamped. Be it said to the credit of discouraged. The chief remedy proposed by Mr. Dryden is a proviso for the individual subscriber, that the success of destruction of dogs found straying about the average newspaper is largely indebtunmuzzled and not under proper care. ed to the support received from them. This would probably cause deg-owners Of course "every little makes a muckle," to take better care of their animals. in the words of the canny Scotchman, At all events some remedy seems necessary. Useless curs seem to be as great subscription list every day, and the a nuisance in the country as in the cities. wider the circulation the greater induce-In fact Atwood is more than blessed ments offered to advertisers. We have with the canine race, and while we are partial to a good dog, we believe there circulation, but we do think that at are thousands of dogs that are neither good for ornament or use. The question should advertise in the columns of THE naturally arises: "What scheme can be devised to lessen or abolish the nuis- the public, and by so doing you will not ance?" Well, there is a way, and an efonly increase your own business, but fectual way, that will keep the township aid the growth and prosperity of the Councils satisfied and harmless, and at town and leave a very favorable impresthe same time prove safe to politicians sion on the outside public. and decent dogs. A pen to catch dogs can be built by piling fence rails or logs up in quadrilateral form, each row of rails lying further in towards the centre of the enclosure, until only a small opening sufficient to admit a dog is left at the top of the pyramid. Below, on the ground, put a sheepskin and a piece of bacon. One marauding deg after another, attracted by the smell of the wool, will mount the enclosure and jump in, but once in is held a prisoner under the sloping and unclimbable walls. In this way the sheep killing-dogs may be detected and slaughtered. If any others are caught and killed, at any rate it cannot be said that they were not open to suspicion. By this cheap and simple device, which is strongly recommended by a western agricultural jourmended by a western agricultural jourmal, and which might, under municipal mal, and which might, under municipal by-law be provided on every square mile

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We shall be glad to receive short pointed items of news from all the adacent towns, villages and townships. We want to secure reliable information concerning everything of real interest in your neighborhood, but we do not care for a communication which has not in it some fact or incident which will be of interest to the majority of readers. A wedding, a birth, a funeral, a crime, an arrest, a new public building, an interesting gathering of any sort, a Of Atwood, is determined to Cut Prices remarkable growth, animal or vegetable, a new discovery and matters of this sort, are what we want and in as few words as possible.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

This question is often asked by merchants, and we are pleased to state that not a few of our advertisers have expressed themselves in the affirmative. This is a very important question to business men and one that only business men can answer. However, we have who largely advertise, that it does pay if judiciously pursued; and many of them have given testimony in its favor If the readers of THE BEE will take up any of the city papers from day to day he will find the columns filled with the announcements of leading business houses. They do not come before the public at long intervals, but regularly, daily, changing their advertisements with the variation in their stocks, and qualities and prices of goods, thus not only attracting attention to what they have to sell, but arousing the desire of buyers to examine what is offered, thus making customers and popularizing their places of business. The class of men will tell you in this day of competition that it would be impossible to do business or secure anything like an average trade if they did not invite custom by giving in detail a clear statement of what they have got to sell. On the other hand, thousands of men who have started in business with fair capital plenty of push and a knowledge of trade, have gone to the wall simply because they "hid their light under a bushel" in failing to compete with their neighbors in having the buying public know where they were, what they were selling and man may have the best stock of goods custom or make known the inducements he can offer, he is sure to drop behind in the race, while his sharper neighbor is reaping a rich harvest. The advertiser is not only pushing his own business in this way, but is materially aid-permanency of a newspaper largely depends on its advertising patronage. The revenue derived from subscriptions alone would not run the current expenses of a newspaper for three months, over paying a paltry dollar for their local paper, and imagine if they "stop their paper" the whole concern is advertisers, with all due regard to the and we are glad to add names to our no reason to complain in the matter of least mree of our merchants could and BEE. Keep your business ever before

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A meeting of citizens has been held at San Francisco to devise means for aiding unemployed workingmen.

East end workingmen in London are said to have entered upon a boycotting crusade against Hebrew laborers.

Cold weather has killed at least one-third of the tobacco plants in the tobac-co counties of western North Carolina.

The first of a series of monthly herse fairs will be held in Wingham, on Thursday, March 27th. A large number of buyers are expected to attend.

by-law be provided on every square mile of farm land, the number of dogs could be quietly reduced without any human outcry, sheep would no longer be worked to death, township councils no longer vexed with claims on the dog tax, nor the Legislature with expensive and perplexing discussions on the nuisance. perplexing discussions on the nuisance. two-thirds

R. M. BALLANTYNE H. F. BUCK

of Furniture,

BEDROOM SUITES,

Furniture Emporium,

WALLACE STREET,

STOWE

SIDEBOARDS,

THE LARGEST STOCK OF

MOULDINGS

UNDERTAKING

-ATWOOD-

Repair Shop!

ROBERT MAY

Begs to intimate to the people of Atwood and surrounding country that he has opened up a General Repair Shop

Two Doors South of Ioeger's Hotel.

and is prepared to do all kinds of Repairing on Shortest Notice and at prices to suit the times.

BRING ALONG YOUR FURNI

TURE, CUTTERS, SLEIGHS, &c.

SPRINGS & MATTRASSES,

For Picture Framing in Town.

EXTENSION TABLES,

AND PARLOR SUITES

H. F. BUCK, Wallace St.

-THE LEADING-

Merchant Tailor

to suit the hard times.

Biggest Reduction

In Ordered Clothing

EVER KNOWN.

the assurance from thousands of them Men's all wool Tweed Suits $11 for $9 A Specialty. Full lines funeral goods always on hand. " $10 $15 " $12

> Black Worsted from $16 up. WE KEEP THE BEST

TRIMMINGS

AND GUARANTEE AN

Fit or No Sale.

Call and Examine Our Goods and see for yourself.

R. M. BALLANTYNE, Wood-Turning

ATWOOD.

A Specialty.

ROBERT MAY.

Abstract of Receipts and Expenditure

OF THE

Treasurer of the Township of Elma,

From Jan. 30th to Dec. 31st, 1889.

Receipts.	Expenditure
Balance on hand last audit $2239 71 Uncollected taxes for 1888 John Morrison, drain tax on lot 20, con. 12 Re drainage township of mornington Principal of mortgages Interest Taxes Magistrates fines Joseph Johnstone paid for scraper Land improvement fund sale of old bridge timber license fund Treas. Ont. loan Gilkinson drain Taxes collected for 1889 Engineer's award W. Morrison con. 12 Engineer's costs  Balance on hand last audit $2239 71  2 43  19 58  340 00 201 70 719 67  49 99 40 49 99 20 30 30 7782 22 2100 00 7782 22 25 82	By Gravel road  "Ward No. 1 "" 2 "" 4 "" 4 "" 5 "Townlines "Roads and bridges "Gravel for roads "Salaries "Expenses "Drainage "Drainage "Drain con. 14 "Gilkinson drain con. 12 "Engineer's award "Printing, advertising, posta	$51: 156: 8: 3:3: 220: 9:244 366: 364: 366: 73: 8244 1900: 638: 184: 244: 377: 6: 138: 190: 190: 190: 190: 190: 190: 190: 190	0 76 2 33 5 49 0 46 1 80 0 1 80 0 2 5 1 00 0 2 5 1 00 0 2 5 1 00 0
17616 42		17616	42

Tiabilities. 38 Debentures at $500 W.G.& B. Balance cash on hand "Uncollected taxes on roll bentures at $500 W.G.& B.
Railway $19000 00
do at $1000, Pt. D.
& L. H. Railway 4000 00
do at $275, 14th con. Mortgages on land Owing to twp, from 14th con, drain do drain 5100 15 19 Owing to twp. from Gilkinson 5225 00 20 do at at $105, Gilkin-Excess of liabilities over assets 2100 00 4280 00 County Rate due for 1888 $34605 00

We have to report that we have examined the accounts of Moses Harvey, Esq., Treasurer of the Township of Elma, and compared them with the vouchers from Jan. 30th to Dec. 31st, 1889, and have found them correct.

> THOS. SMITH. AUDITORS. J. W. McBAIN.

HORSEMEN

GET YOUR

ROUTE BILLS

PRINTED AT

I wish to intimate to the people of Atwood and vicinity that I have on hand a most complete stock of all lines

Excelsior Painting Co

Mitchell, have opened a paint shop in Atwood. They are prepared to do alk kinds of House, Sign and Decorative Painting, Graining, Paper-hanging, Kalsomining, Glazing, &c. All orders All goods best of their class. I am bound to sell them. Call and get prices.

SHOP,

ON MAIN STREET,

Over Wm. Moran's Carriage Shop

Will be promptly attended to.

W. J. MARSHALL, Manager

J. S. CEE'S

Is the spot to get Bargains in all departments, his stock will be found complete. For the Spring Trade-English prints, 75 pieces to choose from, all newest designs. Also Cottonades, Denims, Oxford and Cotton Shirtings, Ginghams, Muslins, Tablings, Hollands, Towellings Gray and White Cottons, etc., etc.

Dress Goods-Black and Colored Cashmeres, Surges, Nuns Veiling, Plads, etc., ranging in prices to suit everybody.

Tweeds, Suitings, Pantings, etc.— Having secured the services of a first-class cutter we are prepared to guar-antee satisfaction in ordered work.

Hats and Caps-Full lines, comprising all the latest styles.

Family Groceries—Will be found al ways fresh and reliable.

Teas and Coffees-Our English blend Tea and old government Java Coffee for flavor and quality eclipse anything in the market.

Oat Meal sold in large quantities at rock bottom prices.

Kindly give us a call and will convince you we are in the front rank as to stock and prices. Highest prices paid for Butter, Eggs, Lard, Tallow, Pork, etc.

J. S. GEE

NEWRY

The undersigned wishes to intimate to the Ladies of Atwood and vicinity that she has a choice and well assorted stock of Fancy Goods, comprising

BERLIN WOOLS.

YARNS, PLUSHES,

EMBROIDERIES,

LACES, ETC.

STAMPING

a specialty

CALL AND EXAMINE GOODS AND PRICES.

MRS. JOHNSON.

ATWOOD, ONT.

Just Received

A New Assortment of False Faces, Fishing Lines and Hooks, Pocket Knives, Al-$17616 42 lies of all kinds, and Chinese Lanterns, etc.

GROGERIES.

PROVISIONS, CANNED FRUITS CONFECTIONERY, &c.

Cive Him a Trial.

J. S. HAMILTON,

ATWOOD, ONTABIO.

Grand Ghance.

J. H. CUNTHER,

OF GOLDSMITH'S HALL

MAIN ST., - - LISTOWEL,

Has decided to sell goods at a

Great Discount Up to May 1st,

In order to make room for Spring goods. Now if you want to buy a Watch, Clock, Chains, Cuff Buttons, or Silver-ware, you will find Goldsmith's Hall the

Cheapest House in Town

To Buy your Goods. Fine Waten Repairing a Specialty,

J. H. GUNTHER,

Geldsmith's Hall,

Main St., Listowel

Two Doors East of Post Office.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

SOUTHERN EXTENSION W. G. & B.

Trains leave Atwood Station, North and South as follows:

ATWOOD STAGE ROUTE.

THE Monkton correspondent to the Beacon has the following to say our M. D.:—Wm Harris, jr., who was at one time dangerously ill with pneumonia, is now rapidly recovering. Dr. Hamilton deserves credit for his skilful treatment of this wary serious case.

An exchange makes a straight hit paper will grant mere favors for thanks in a menth, than any other business man in a year. It is also a well established fact that he will receive more all round abuse in a week than any other round in a life time. man in a life time.

THERE is this to say about Atwood. It must grow from within and not from without. The best and only true elements of progress are to be found among the home people. A town can be advertised in such a manner as to perhaps get new people and plenty of foreign capital, but the future prosperity of our village will still remain with the efforts of the home citizens.

and South as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Express 7:21 a.m. | Mixed . . 8:07 a.m. | Express 12:24 p.m. | Express 2:34 p.m. | Express 9:12 p.m. | Expres

James Hanna and R. K. Hall were appointed delegates last Saturday aftermoon to visit the Doon binding twine factory, with a view of gaining all the information possible in regard to the class of machinery required and the actual cost of the same. We will expect a good report from them. They left last Monday for Doon and Baden.

rank of Canada's dailtes.

THE funeral of the late Mrs. John Wilson was largely attended on Friday afternoon. The Foresters took a prominent part in the solemn ceremonies owing to Mr. Wilson being a worthy member of that Order.

GEORGE HURST, who for some time has been employed on the G. T. R. here, has secared a more lucrative position as section foreman at Guelph. Mr. Hurst is a good citizen and we regret to have him leave. The best wishes of his Atwood friends accempany him.

memory, writes to an Allocation are repetition of the winter of 1815-16, and to prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which followed the aforesaid winter. In April, 1816, it became very cold, and that sort of weather, with varying quantities of seem a repetition of the winter of 1815-16, and to prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which followed the aforesaid winter. In April, 1816, it became very cold, and that sort of weather, with varying quantities of seem a repetition of the winter of 1815-16, and to prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which followed the aforesaid winter. In April, 1816, it became very cold, and that sort of weather, with varying quantities of seem a repetition of the winter of 1815-16, and to prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which followed the aforesaid winter. In April, 1816, it became very cold, and that sort of weather, with varying quantities of seem a repetition of the winter of 1815-16, and to prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which is to prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which is prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which is prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which is prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which is prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pattern of that which is prophesy that the coming summer will be after the pat and prepare to spend the summer holidays in frantic efforts to keep warm.

CHOIR CONCERT.—In accordance with amouncement the Listowel Baptist church choir gave a musical and literary entertainment in the Baptist church here on Friday evening last. The audience was small, which was largely due to the regular prayer meeting service in the Methodist and Presbyterian churches on the above evening. After a few introductory remarks by Rev. Mr. Dack, the pastor, and prayer, the choir rendered a selection of music, followed by a neat speech by the pastor, in which he eulogized the push and enterprise of the Atwood people, and believed that At wood was one of the most flourishing towns in Ontario. He also congratulated the Presbyterian friends for having secured an organ, which, in his mind, was of great service to the church, and hoped that in the near future the Baptist church here would be in a position to follow suit. The choir sang another beautiful hymn, entitled "Go wash in that beautiful stream." Miss Allie Winters gave two excellent recitations, entitled "On Grumble Corner," and "Widder Green's last words," (the latter appeared recently in The BEE) in which she displayed considerable elocutionary vertised in such a manner as to perhaps get new people and plenty of foreign capital, but the futare prosperity of our village will still remain with the efforts of the home citizens.

Here is a pointer to drivers on roadways:—The law provides that if a man wants to go faster than another who is ahead of him on the road he is going, he has a right to pass, and if he is prevented by the other, and an accident should happen thereby, the man thus obstructing the road is responsible for damage done. No man has a right, however, to infringe upon the rights of others in trying to pass.

Have the chief would be in a position to follow suit. The choir sang another washing to follow suit. The choir sang another will stream." Miss Allie Winters gave two excellent recitations, with the corner," and "wilder Green's last words," (the latter she displayed considerable elocutionary alent. Miss Heatherington also recited, after which the choir rendered another she displayed considerable elocutionary and Mr. Hurd gave a Scotch reading, after which the choir rendered another some the individual to leave those whom he had learned to love by reason of their kind brotherly treatment during the time he has been connected with the church, and after imploring God's blessing on the efforts of the church resumed his seat. We understand Mr. Wilson, although taken by survivalent for the words another to display the corner," and "wilder Growers," and "wilde

Mud, mud, mud.

The new organ for the Presbyterian church has arrived.

Mr. Binning, architect, of Listowel, was in town on Monday.

We regret that considerable district correspondence is crowded out this week.

Ladies who don't want to appear in wrint should see J. L. Mader's stock of dress goods.

"Never say dye" to your old dress when you can get a new one so cheap at J. L. Mader's.

Mrs. Lowery, of Belmore, has been found in line when death of Mrs. Jno. Wilson was improved in the Methodist church last Sabbath, at 11 a.m., by a sermon by Rev. D. Rogers. The text was "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the question "What is it to die in the Lord it was pointed out that it was not getting into some new state when dying but the natural closing of the christian life, the ending of the race as we began it, and ran it. The heros of the 11th chap, of Hebrews did great exploits by faith and when the end came "these all died in the faith." It is our business therefore to be in the Lord while living, and we may confidently expect to be found in line when death of Mrs.

Jno. Wilson was improved in the Methodist church last Sabbath, at 11 a.m., by a sermon by Rev. D. Rogers. The text was "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the question "What is it to die in the Lord," at was pointed out that it was pointed out that it was pointed out that it was pointed out the arm of the man was a sermon by Rev. D. Rogers. The text was "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the question "What is it to die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the first was pointed out that it. Was not get it was pointed out that it. Was not get in the Lord, "&c. In answer to the question "What is it to die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the die in the Lord, "&c. In answer to the question "What is it to die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the question "What is it to die in the Lord, "&c. In answer to the text was "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," &c. In answer to the quest "NEVER say dye" to your old dress when you can get a new one so cheap at J. L. Mader's.

Mrs. Lowery, of Belmore, has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Kogers, during the past week.

Miss McPherson, of Goderich, and Miss McBain, of Brussels, are the guests of the Misses Pelton this week.

The abstract statement of the Treasurer of the township of Elma may be found in this issue of The Bee.

W. Lochhead wishes to advise all those in need of flax seed to call early at the flax mill office before it all goes away.

Combination of new goods, new styles, new prices, are the points J. L. Mader is making just now. Drop in and see.

Next Sabbath morning Rev.D. Rogers will preach on the subject of "Wonder ful Testimonies." There will be a song service in the evening.

H. Hoar has considerable brick and other material on the ground for the new dwelling house. The building will be a credit to the village.

Mrs. Moore, one of Atwood's residents, left for Owosso, Mich., last Friday, Her husband has a good position in that town we understand. Her many Presentation.—Perhaps one of the most pleasing and instructive entertainments ever held in the Merhodist church was given last Monday evening. ATWOOD STAGE ROUTE.

ATWOOD STAGE ROUTE.

Stage leaves Atwood North and South as follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the stage of machinery required and the factor, with a view of machinery required and the follows:

AUTHOUSE JANNA and R. K. Hall were should be staged to the stage of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stage of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stage of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stage of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stage of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of machinery required and the factor with a view of machinery stages of the stages of machinery required and the with the factor here that Mr. Wilson has not only taken a deep interest in the Methodist church a deep meerest in the Methodist church choir bat in the work of the church generally, and his valuable and volun-tary services will be greatly missed in the church. The presentation was made by Miss Ida Parker, and the address was read by Samuel Shannon, as follows:

To John A. Wilson.

As you have for some time past assisted the choir of this church in furnishing appropriate music for our services, on behalf of the members and friends we wish to acknowledge our indebtedness to you. We are conscious that these small gifts are not at all commensurate with the service rendered, but believing and acting on the principle that "faith without works is dead," being alone, we herewith present you with a copy of Burns' poems, a Bible and hymn book (combined) and a small balance of money, net as payment, but as a slight token of recognition and appreciation. We hope you may be spared to render similar servee in the future, if not here, elsewhere. With best wishes for your temporal and spiritual well-being, we remain, on behalf of the congregation of the Methodist church, yours, &c.,

BDA PARKER.

SAMUEL SHANNEN. To John A. Wilson. IDA PARKER. SAMUEL SHANNON,

THE World's Fair will open April 30, 1892, and close Oct. 20.

NINE car loads of wheat were shipped this week for Portland, Me., and other eastern ports.

A VERY pleasant and profitable even ing was spent by the young people at the residence of Wm. Dunn last Mon-

WE regret to announce the severe illness of Jas. Stewart, leader of our band. We hope that with good nursing he will shortly regain his usual health.

PARTIES seeking desirable yillage or farm property should peruse the advt. of Thos. Fullarton in this issue. Mr. Fullarton does all kinds of conveyanctions of the property of ing, issuer of marriage licenses, etc.

A PUBLIC meeting will be held in the Atwood school house next Tuesday evening, 25th inst., at 7:30 p.m., for the purpose of hearing the report of the delegates appointed to visit the Doon binding twine factory. They have a very full and favorable report to lay before the meeting we understand. A full representation of the people requested "Union is strength."

Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 2 o'clock on Saturday, the 22nd inst., for the building of a Hall on the Agricultural Society's grounds in Atwood. Tenders to be left with wm. Forrest, Atwood, where plans and specifications can be seen after the 15th inst. R. MORRISON, W. FORREST. Sezin JAS. IRWIN,

CRADLE

GORDON.—In Atwood, on the 11th inst., the wife or Mr. George Gordon, of a rchell.—In Elma, on the 12th inst., the wife of Mr. Henry Mitchell, of a ATSON.—In Elma, on the 13th inst., the wife of Mr. John Watson, of a son.

ANNETT.—In Grey, on the 16th inst., the wife of Mr. Wm. Annett, of a WM. RODDICK, 8tf. Painter, Brussels.

GRIMOLDBY.—In Brussels, on the 17th inst, the wife of Mr. T. E. Grim-

TOMB

Graham.—In Elma, on Tuesday, 18th inst., George, son of Mr. George Graham, aged 14 years.

RUTHERS.—1n Elma, on the 13th inst., Ellen, daughter of Mr. John Struthers, jr., aged 5 years, 6 months and

	Fall Wheat 70	78
	Spring Wheat 75	80
	Dailey 20	35
	0405	25
	1 cas	52
ı	1018	5 20
ı	fildes per in	314
I	Sheep skins, each	1 00
I		1 50
ł	Totatoes per hag	1 00
1	Dutter per ID. 19	1
۱	Eggs per doz	Tom wo
п

Eggs per doz	13
Listowel Mar	lzet.
Fall Wheat	80	80
Oats	80 35 24	80 42 24
Hay per ton	58 7 00	58 7 00
Butter per lb	2 35	2 35
Potatoes per bag	60	12
Sheepskins	3 00 70	4 00
Dressed Hogs	5 10	5 30

Business Directory.

LEGAL

W. M. SINCLAIR,

Solicitor, Conveyancer, Notary Public &c. Private funds to loan at lowest rates. Collections promptly attended to. Office—Ioerger's Hotel, Atwood. Every Wednesday at 12:24 p.m., and remain until the 9:12 p.m. train.

DENTAL

J. J. FOSTER, L. D. S., Uses Vitalized Air, &c., for painless extracting. Satisfaction guaranteed in all operations. Office—Entrance beside Lillico's Bank, Listowel, Ont.

W. M. BRUCE, L. D.S., DENTIST, Is extracting teeth daily without pain through the aid of "The Electric Vibrator." The most satisfactory results are attained by the use of this wonderful instrument, for which he holds the exclusive right. References, &c., may be seen at his dental apartments, over Thompson Bros.' store. Entrance, Main St., Listowel.

Licensed Auctioneer for Perth County.
All sales attended to promptly and at moderate rates. Information with regard to dates may be had by applying at this office.

And the BEST offered in the Market.

FOR SALE.

Brick house and seven acres of land, and some fine frame houses and lots in Atwood; also improved farms in Elma and Grey.

Money advanced to purchasers and others at Lowest Rates of Interest, and best terms for repayment.

Conveyancing Done. MARRIAGE LICENSES

ISSUED.

Lot 13, Con. 5, Elma, containing 100 acres; price, $5,000. Also South Half of Lot 2, Con. 6, Elma, containing 50 acres; price, $1,150.

WM. DUNN, Atwood.

Mouse and Lot for Sale.

The undersigned offers his house and lot for sale. It is a very desirable property and situated on Main St. south, Atwood. For particulars apply at The BEE office, or at ALEX. CAMPBELL'S Harness Shop, Atwood.

Tenders Wanted.

House, Sign, and Ornamental Painting.

The undersigned begs to inform the citizens of Atwood and surrounding country that he is in a position to do all kinds of painting in first-class style, and at lowest rates. All orders entrusted to the same will receive prompt attention attention.
REFERENCES:—Mr. McBain, Mr. R.

The annual meeting of the North Perth Farmers' Institute will be held in the Town Hall, Listowel, on Saturday, March 22nd, 1890, at 2 o'clock p.m., for the election of officers and the transac-tion of other business. Addresses will tion of other business. Addresses will be delivered by prominent agriculturists on subjects that will be of interest to the farming community. A full attendance requested.

WM. KEITH,

Chemicals, Patent Medicines,

School Supplies,

WALL PAPER, Can be secured from

J. TOLBERT PEPPER.

Chemist & Druggist,

GRAHAM'S BLOCK, - BRUSSELS.

ALWAYS USE PEPPER'S PILLS. 1tf SPRING

→11890+

NEW GOODS

Just Arrived.

We have just received an endless variety of Cottons, Cottonades, Shirtings, and Everything New in the Dry Goods line.

Finest Selection of

-PRINTS

In Town.

We have a complete stock of

Boots & Shoes

Fresh Groceries

Received every month.

Come and Buy Anything

Everything

Kept in a first-class general store.

Mrs. M. Harvey

A WILD NIGHT-RIDE.

Atnine o'clock one September evening in '76 I took the coach which left Custer City-or Custer Village, for the town consisted of twenty or thirty log structures—to go to Sidney, Nebraska. A coach, I suppose it should be called, though on the plains this vehicle, which has the driver's seat on the name level as the passengers' seats, is called a "hack."

I had gone to the "Hills" to engage in mining, but after four months of prospecting had decided to open a general supply-store at the new town of Deadwood, and was on my way to Omaha to purchase goods for the venture.

A tin lamp, fastened in one corner of the "hack," discovered to me two passengers within as I entered and took my seat. One was an old gentleman, apparently weak and ill, for although it was not a cold night, he was muffled in a coarse, heavy ulster overcoat. Moreover, so much of his face as I could see between a gray beard which almost covered it and the rim of a slouch hat was pale and thin, and the eyes looked sunker and unnatural. At least, so it struck me at a cursory glance.

The other passenger was a young fellow of twenty-three years, I judged decidedly dandified in his dress for that region. He wore a stiff hat and stand-up collar encircled by a neat tie, and had on a dark sait, evidently custom-made, which was an annusual "get-up" for that region, and one which at once aroused my suspicion, for the only persons I had seen about the mining towns drawns dra towns dressed in anything like that fashion were gamblers, a class of men I had made it a point to avoid.

Just before setting out the driver came to the side of the vehicle, thrust in a light Winchester carbine, and placed it between

"I see you didn't have no gun," said he

"I see you didn't have no gun," said he,
"an' I keep a couple of extra ones fer sech.'
That was all. No farther explanation was necessary in those days.
I took charge of the weapon, although I was as little expert in its use as I was in handling the Smith and Wesson in my hippocket, which, indeed, I had never yet discharged.
I knew enough of life in the mines to know that the "bad man with the gun" is usually that the "bad man with the gun" is usually the man who gets into difficulty rather than the peaceful and unarmed citizen; but a stage-ride from Custer to Sidney at that time was a trip not altogether likely to be without its adventures, and for once I regretted my unfamiliarity with "shooting irons"

It occurred to me that if we were "jumped by road agents," as the phrase went, the free-booters of the route would have little to fear from the occupants of the hack, whether they got much money or not. There were usually valuables of some sort in the iron box under the driver's seat.

The young man who sat opposite me had a carbine across his lap, but I fancied he knew even less of its use than I did. As we attarted he sat, without noticing me, twirling a slight mustache and humming a tune. "A fresh gamester, if one at all," I said to myself upon a second look at him.

The old man had no arms in sight. The driver no doubt regarded him as out of the fight in any event.

fight in any event

As we rolled on up into Buffalo Gap I had afew words of conversation with my companions. I learned that the elder was an Iowa farmer who had come out to see what he could do in the new mines, but he had been ill with mountain-fever, and after ward attacked by rheumatism, so that he had been attacked by rheumatism, so that he had been forced to abandon his projects and return to the East. He spoke freely, and in the careless English of Western men.

The young fellow said he was from New Yerk, 'Neh Yawk," he pronounced it. He was, he said, a student of mining engineering, but he did not mention what his business had been in that region; but that was not strange, for we could not talk much. A jolting stage bowling over a rough country at eight miles an hour does not give the best opportunity for conversation.

Soon became sleepy and leaving book in

I soon became sleepy, and leaning back in my corner, took such momentary cat-naps as the nature of the road permitted. At eleven o'clock we made a brief halt at a temporary stage station, where the driver's four-in-hand team was exchanged for fresh

To peeped out, and got a glimpse of the teases, of two men with a lantern, of a low structure of sod or adobe faintly outlined, and of the black side of a pine-covered mountain beyond. The night was quite task, with floating clouds and no moon. It there are somewhat lighter as we passed out of the gap a little later, as I noted through a crack in the swaying "flap" opposite.

The road was now smoother, and I settled

The road was now smoother, and I settled Age road was now smoother, and I settled hack in my corner, as my companion had alone, to get a little solid sleep if possible. I dozed off for a time, but was awakened by the groaning of the old man beside me. He seemed to be in great pain, and writhed about nervously. I asked him what was the trouble. He replied that the rhematism in his lees was nearly killing him. his legs was nearly killing him.

"I wisht the driver'd let me aout when we git t' th' nex' crick. Hee'll water likely, 'n' I've just got' t' stretch my legs er die. Ye see I'm troubled with cramp rheumatism, an' the amt no room in hyer t' git the cramp out o' my legs."

I told him I would speak to the driver when we halted, a few minutes later, at the bank of a stream—White River, I believe.

thrust my head out at the side, and asked that the old gentleman might be let out for a moment to stretch his legs.

"All right!" said the the driver, as he clambered down from his own seat. "I'm goin' ter oncheck 'n' let the hosses take a pull at th' drink."

I then helped the old man to dismount, steadying him by the arm as he got down. He seemed to have a good deal of difficulty in alighting, and groaned in a most lugularious fashion. The flap swung to after him, as I had unbuttoned it all around to let him out. The young man opposite me lay curled up on his seat, but I could see that his eyes were wide open, and that he was eyeing me with a sharp, keen glance. My eyes probably responded when they fell upon his, for he straightened up in an alert fashion, and leaned toward responses.

he straightened up leaned toward me.

"Say," he whispered, "do you think that old chap's all right? Strikes me that groaned his was put on. What d'ye think?"

old chap's all right? Strikes me that groan-ing of his was put on. What d'ye think?" The question startled me no less than the young fellow's manner, and I was about to make some reply when a gun or, pistel shot rang in our ears, followed by a yell either of pain or surprise, and a lurch of the hack threw me forward against my companion's

Either the shot or the yell had startled our

Either the shot or the yell had startled our team, and we went down the bank and into the stream with a lunge. I heard shots—one, two, three—as we splashed through the water. Then more yells, loud and fierce.

My notion of what had happened or was happening was confused for a moment, and then I saw my comrade—for the light still burned—crawling through to the drivers seat as we went careaning up the approximation. eat as we went careening up the opposi seat as we went careening up the opposite bank.

A second later he had gathered the lines, which were tied in front, and while he held them with one hand he grasped a front rib of the hack with the other. Then he leaned out and glanced back.

Luckily the horses, which were going at a gallop,—they were animals which needed no urging,—kept to the road, and the coolheaded young fellow was not pitched out.

"There's a lot of 'em," he shouted in at me a moment later. "I can just see four or five getting onto their horses. They've killed the driver, I guess, and are after us now!"

With that he gathered up the long-lashed whip, which lay in the boot, and dropping upon his knees began yelling and laying the whip upon the team.

In a moment we were going at a fearful pace, and despite the excitement and fright of the moment.

and despite the excitement and fright of the moment I noticed that our four horses came to hand and ran with a steady, even gait which did credit to the young man's driving.

"Get ready for 'em now!" he screamed back at me. "they'll be down on us in a

Get ready for em now! ne screamed back at me; "they'll be down on us in a minute. Open the back flap 'n' pour it into 'em with your guns, and when they're empty get mine under the seat!"

He was my captain as well as driver, and I obeyed instinctively, for I certainly had formed no plan of defence or action on my own account.

I managed to unbutton and roll up the leather behind, and peering out, on my knees before the back seat, I saw that we were indeed followed. It was light enough to distinguish objects dimly at a hundred yards, and there were at least five horsemen in our rear, tearing along at the top of their animals' speed. Knowing that they were within rifle shot I opened fire on them over the seat. I worked the lever of my gun as rapidly as I could, but made awkward business of it. Presently I got a shell stuck, and began trying to get it out. In the meantime our pursuers were gaining with every second.

They were within fifty yards before I could get out my shell and I was too excited to think of using another gun. Suddenly the light in the hack went out, and a hand upon my shoulder jerked me backward. Then a voice yelled in my ear:

"Let me get at them! Load the guns for me, 'n' let the team go. We might's well me, 'n' let the team go. We might's well smash as be riddled by bullets. Here; here's two boxes of cartridges!"

I dropped back to the other seat and gave back at me.

Loading was awkward business at first, as I had to feel for the feeder, but I managed soon to thrust them into my gun as fast as he could work the lever of his own. The men, whoever and whatever they were, rode up to within twenty-five or thirty yards, and, spreading out, opened fire on. spreading out, opened fire on us.
"Keep close down in the bottom!" shouted my comrade, as he kept on with his fir-

The "road agents" did not come nearer, The "road agents" did not come nearer, evidently fearing too great exposure to the stream of shots from the hack, and my courage rose to something near the level of my companion's. I caught glimpses, as I glanced up now and then, of a plunging horse-man with shadowy, outstretched arm, from which flashed blaze after blaze of light.

All at once we begin deceed in:

All at once we began descending into a gully, and the hack bounced from side to side so violently that it was impossible for us to do anything but cling to the sides of the box.

the box.

"It's all right!" rang my companion's voice in my ear, shortly after we had begun the descent; "they've, quit. They can't ride along the side of the gulch, and daren't follow straight behind. There's a stage ranch below, too. I remember the road."

Sure enough, the men had dropped back, and the shots had ceased. My cool, brave comrade now clambered over me, and in some way got into the front seat of the some way got into the front seat of the jumping coach. A moment later I noticed we were slowing up and running steadily. Five minutes more and we halted, what was left of us, safe and sound in front of a stage station.

of a stage station.

Our story was soon told, our horses exchanged and a fresh driver, doubly armed, put with us. Such little accidents did not stop stages in those parts.

There was no danger, they told us, from that same gang. The three men who were left promised to go immediately and look after our other driver.

It was only the darkness and the motion of the vehicle and horses that had saved us.

FRANK WELLES CALKINS.

The students of Lisbon threaten to attack the British embassy in that city and mob the ambassador.

the ambassador.

If we by our preaching do not wake you, we rock your cradles and make you more insensible every time we warn you. The most startling preaching in a certain time ceases to arouse the hearers. You know the great boiler factories. I am told that when a man goes inside the boiler to hold the hammer when they are fixing rivets, the sound of the copper deafens him so that he cannot bear it, it is so horrible; but after he has been a certain number of months in that employment, he hardly notices the hammering; he does not care about it. It is just so under the word. People go to sleep under that the word. People go to sleep under that which was once like a thunder bolt to them. It would need an earthquake and a hurricane to move some of you solid ones.—Spurgeon.

Tartans, Scotch colors in broad stripes and bordered robes are the pronounced novelties in woollen stuffs.

Fashion's Very Latest Feat.

Women will wear shirts from this time forth if they follow the fashion of the "four hundred," which has already sounded the edict in Paris and London. The woman's shirt is a pretty and delicate combination of female acquisition and masculine concession. It is made with collar and cuff attachments of the latest pattern worn by gentlemen. The body is of fine muslin and the bosom of three or four ply linen, as the case may be The body is of fine muslin and the bosom of three or four ply linen, as the case may be. The collar and cuffs are also linen, of course. The garment is made open in front the entire length, the skirts falling loosely to the hips. A gathering string controls the waist and serves to hold the bosom in easy conformity to the personal contour of the wearer. The bosom is provided with worked eyelets for studs, thus granting woman another field in which to gratify her purse or a passion for the display of diamonds or other jewels. The bosom is not so long as that of a man's shirt, only falling to the length of nine inches, but that measurement can, of a man's shirt, only falling to the length of nine inches, but that measurement can, of course, vary with the styles of dress. The bosom of the shirt falls just low enough to come into its place and to be held there by the corsage. With these shirts are worn little cut-away coats. The coat may be of navy or bright blue, brown, or ruby, and is considered in good taste if worn with almost any skirt, and if not an unpleasant contrast of shade. With a black skirt and blue coat, a light blue linen or silk shirt and tie can be of shade. With a black skirt and blue coat, a light blue linen or silk shirt and tie can be worn. The coat is made exactly like a man's cut-away coat, fastened across the chest by one button, with turned-down collar and lapels. It is tight-fitted at the back.

Home gowns for the early spring are made very simply, without bustles or with a slight train in the back.

White cloth gowns, made in dressy styles, and braided with gold and silver, are now in favor for ball dresses here and abroad.

favor for ball dresses here and abroad.

A London Lancet correspondent furnishes the following list of football casualties in the English season from the first week in September last to the third week in the past January, taken from a carefully tabulated record of such casualties as have been publicly announced; Deaths, 13. Fractures—Legs, 15: arms, 4: collar bones, 11. Injuries—Spine, 3; nose, 1; ankle, 1; cheek, 1.

A writer in a New York sporting paper.

A writer in a New York sporting paper makes an interesting comparison of the various modes of locomotion, with the following result: A man can swim a mile 26 minutes 52 seconds; he can walk it 6 minutes and 23 seconds; he can cover on snow shoes in 5 minutes 393 seconds on snow snoes in 5 minutes 39\frac{3}{2} seconds; he can run the distance in 4 minutes 12\frac{3}{2} seconds; he can ride it on a tricycle in 2 minutes 49 2-5 seconds; on a bicycle in 2 minutes 29 4-5 seconds, and can skate it in 2 minutes 12 3-5 seconds. Behind a trotting I dropped back to the other seat and gave place to him. He threw his carbines over the back of the hind seat and began firing.

Crack! crack! lt seemed to me that a steady stream of fire poured out of the back of the stage, and before I had filled the magazine of my gun, his was empty. He snatched mine, however, and thrust his own back at me.

I havings at first, as ing the distance in while on a running horse he gallops the mine while on a running horse he gallops the mine in I minute 39\frac{3}{2} seconds, and last and fastest, he sits in a railroad train and flies over a mile of the steel rails in 50\frac{1}{2} seconds.

A decoy bass is a novelty in angling, yet the American Angler tells of one weighing two pounds that belonged to a man named Dyer, that he had trained from a fingerling inst one year.

Dyer, that he had trained from a fingerling just one year. "The fish has two rings in his gills, upper and lower, and in these Dyer fastens a swivel, so that his bass can't catch minnows while on duty, or take the old man's bait. When he gets to the water he wants to fish he attaches a long line to the swivel and puts his bass into the river. Four or five feet up the line is a large float, as big as your fist, with lead on the bottom for ballast, and a small mast with penant on the top side. The line is say forty or fifty feet long. Dyer says that as soon as his decoy is in other bass gather about him and keep coming, and he casts in among 'em, snaking 'em out right and left. That's the way he does it, and he catches more big bass than any man on the river." any man on the river.'

Ontario is not the only Province that's endeavoring to increase its breed of quail.

A committee meeting of the Mainland Game A committee meeting of the Mainland Game Protective Association was held at the Leland hotel, Vancouver, B. C., the other evening. In addition to the 300 pheasants ordered from China and Japan, it was decided to import 100 quail. These will be turned down as soon as they arrive, and if they do at all well there should soon be sense quail shooting. The association already has over 40 members, and it was decided to canvas the neighboring city of New Westminster to increase the membership as much as possible. All the farmers in the district are giving the association a hearty support, and the Legislature will be appealed to the contraction of the support of the support, and the Legislature will be appeared to to protect pheasants and quail on the mainland of British Columbia for at least two years. They had quite a cold snap there after Christmas, which drove the ducks south. They have now returned, and the shooting is again excellent. ducks south.

The extraordinary prices paid for trotting orses at the great sale of Mr. L. J. Rose's There was no danger, they told us, from that same gang. The three men who were left promised to go immediately and look after our other driver.

It was only the darkness and the motion of the vehicle and horses that had saved us from being hit. We found several bullet marks about the coach next morning; one of them, well aimed, had gone through the back seat at an angle and into the front, and must have passed directly between us. My respect for my young comrade was greatly raised by the events of that night, and was further increased by an after acquaintance which discovered his modesty and worth.

On my return to the "Hills," I learned that our driver had been picked up at the crossing of the creek, badly wounded, and also that the brave fellow had yelled to the team to go the very second he was hit. He shad been carried to Sidney. As to the rascal in league with the band who had attacked us.

TRANK Welles Calking. up in England and in Europe generally, so that there is every prospect of priese being sustained. There is more profit in breeding trotters than in horses for the army.

A MERRY FRENCHMAN.

Adventures of Himself and Wife in the Wild West.

The recent duel between the Marquis de Mores and M. Camille Dreyfus, in Europe, recalls the many famous exploits and deeds of De Mores a few years ago in America. Your correspondent was a close friend of the Marquis while the latter was experimenting in the cattle industry among the Bad Lands of Dakota, and had numerous opportunities for sounding the pluck and sand of the doughty Frenchman. The Marquis was certainly a most wonderful man, and deserved better treatment from the community in which he moved than he received. The handsome young Frenchman, who left the clubs of Paris to become a prince of cowboys and manager of slaughter houses and refrigerator cars, possessed more than ordinary nerve and pluck, for he defended his life against organized bands of cutthroats and desperadoes in the Northwest, who had sworn to shoot him on sight.

He was a passenger shoard a Northony on sight.

He was a passenger *aboard a Northern Pacific train one day, that was shooting along from St. Paul, Minn., towards the setting sun. He was bound for the Bad Lands, where he was about to put into operation gigantic, though unsuccessful, schemes for sheep raising and beef slaughtering. For some reason or other, the country was down on him. At every station we stopped a resome reason or other, the country was down on him. At every station we stopped a re-port would be received that at Bad Lands, station hundreds of cowboys and other tough citizens were waiting for the Marquis, and that he would be the moment he stepped from the train. They called him "A bloated French aristo-crat," "A títled land pirate," "A brigandish crat," "A titled land pirate," "A brigandish foreigner," and so on.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

The train pulled into the depot at the Bad Lands, and De Mores, with each hand carelessly laid, but ready for quick use, on a pair of handsome silver-mounted repeaters, stepped out on the platform. Bad men galore crowded around him, but when they saw the plucky nerve of the young aristocrat they honored and respected him for it, and not a single arm in all that vast crowd was raised to do him the least harm.

a single arm in all that was crown was labeled to do him the least harm.

The story of his life in America is quite in-teresting. He first landed at New York in August, 1882. Before long he became attracted y the stories of the new country along the ne of the Northern Pacific railroad in Dakoline of the Northern Pacific railroad in Dakota and Montana, and soon afterwards he came out in person to investigate for himself. With a sombrero on his head, a red shirt on his back, corduroy trousers tucked into very longlegged boots, and with plenty of siver-mounted jewelry on his belt, he pursued his investigations far and wide on horseback and finally decided to found a city. He bought outright six square miles of land on the Little Missouri River which was then considered to be, by the wise men of the Northwest, about the very worst bit of earth on the whole North American continent. Hence the knowing ones shook their heads gravely and predicted ruin.

The Marquis went bravely on notwithstanding the warnings and predictions of disaster which were gratuitously poured in upon him from all sides, and _nApril_1883, (I many times said it was a fool's errand, in perfect keeping with the days here.

in upon him from all sides, and anApril, 1883, (I many times said it was a fool's errand, in perfect keeping with the day), he pitched, unaided, a tent in this lonesome desert on the banks of the Little Missouri, and, when the last peg was driven which held the canvas house in position, he broke a bottle of wine over the iron tent pins, and christened the wally well with Mades in house of his wife. over the iron tent pins, and christened the embryo city Medora, in honor of his wife. He announced his intention of going largely into the sheep and cattle business, built a rude shack of logs and mud which he furnished luxuriously for his wife, secured large tracts of Government land and bought numerous herds of cattle. At first the herders and roaming cowboys of the Bad Lands looked upon him to be

AN ADVENTURSOME CRANK.

who would surely leave the country after he had secured a few hunting trophies to carry back to Paris. They hated him because he had a servant and wore clean clothes. He was a "monopolist," they said, who was going to fence in the country. They tried to scare him away, but they found he had been a soldier once and would not scare. The cowboys said he had come to drive them all off their ranches. The hunters declared he was going to buy up their buffalo grounds; and to own the truth the young man did act as if he were going to buy the earth. who would surely leave the country after he earth.

It took the best part of the first year to convince the people that De Mores, though sanguinely foolish, was a sane man, with plenty of capital at command, and with an object in view. Before many days he won the respect of his Western neighbors in more ways than one, but still they took him to be a well-plumed bird that ought to be plucked and who could easily be swindled. Their ire was raised to its highest pitch when the Marquis gained control of about 50.000 marquis gained control of about 50,000 acres of land in Montana, which took in the three principal trails through which the cattle were driven to the East, South, and three principal trails through which the cattle were driven to the East, South, and West. At the time it was generally said that the cowboys in the neighborhood were set against the Marquis by agents of New York corporations, for they began to shoot the Frenchman's cattle wholes ale and menaced his herders when they were off duty. Appeals to the Sheriff proved useless, so, finding himself in a bad fix, the Marquis determined to take the matter into his own hands and seir in a pair inx, the marquis determined to take the matter into his own hands and stop the trouble himself. He declared if he found a man killing his animals he would shoot the rascal as he would a steer. In six months he was shot at by an unseen enemy no less than eighteen times. His most bitter foes were a man named Mitchell and an old hunter called Luffrey.

old hunter called Luffrey.

One day while riding over the prairie accompanied by one of his most faithful followers, a man named Paddock, a bullet whistled by hishead, the smoke curling from a little bunch of sage brush about two hundred yards in front. Without a moment's hesitation the Marquis dug his spurs into his horse's flanks and dashed headforemost

DIRECTLY TOWARD THE AMRUSH The ringleader of the gang jumped to his feet and levelled a Winchester at the Marquis; but the latter like a flash, and while going at full speed, drew his little silvermounted repeater, and the would-be assassin fell in his tracks to rise no more, Another of the hand was bulk wounded as a assin fell in his tracks to rise no more, Another of the band was badly wounded, and the rest, quickly leaping to their horses, sought safety in flight. The Frenchman was very popular after this little incident, for his marksmanship instilled a great deal of respect into the minds of the bloodthirsty herders, and there was peace in the Bad Lands from that time thenceforth. Nevertheless, he had three trials before Justices of the Peace for the so-called offence, and was three time acquitted; yet he was again indicted by a Dakota jury for murder, and languished in the Bismarck jail many days before he

the Bismarck jail many days before he gained his freedom.

The Marquise de Mores is a lovely woman. She is an American, but thoroughly devoted to her brave husband. She is a handsome little brunette, one of the best lady rifle shots in the world, and she rides as well as she shoots. Her father is the banker von Hoffman of New York city. When in the Northwest Mme. de Mores accompanied her husband on most of his round-up and hunting trips. On the plains she rode and shot faultlessly, faultlessly,
GALLOPING WILDLY OVER THE PRAIRIES,

on her well-trained buffalo pony, an eagle plume in her hat, and a rifle slung from her saddle. The Marquis and his wife made a trip to Further India not long since, and reports say that the gallant little lady actually killed a royal Bengal tiger. She has done better than this in our Northwest. Once she ran upon a cinnamon bear in the Bad Lands of Dakota, and succeeded alone and unaided, in capturing bruin's scalp. On another oceasion, when a hunting party were going after big game in the Big Horn Mountains, she fully equipped herself to go along, determined to accomplish as much as along, determined to accomplish as much as

In a lonely gorge, accompanied by a good hunter, she tracked three bears. It would not be true to say that she killed the trio of shaggy fellows unaided, and yet in one sense she did precisely that very thing. The hunter she did precisely that very thing. The hunter was ready to render assistance in case of necessity, although the lady did not require his help; but, keeping her head cool and hand steady, she salted their hides in the most approved fashion, all three of the bears falling as trophies to her own individual skill. One of the fellows was a monster silver-tip, who would have fought savagely had he been allowed the slightest opportunity. In New York, Paris, St. Paul, or London she is one of the richest and most tastefully dressed women one would want to see; and an observer could scarcely realize, unless he was fully cognizant of the facts, that the delicately gloved hands which hold the lorgnette or move the fan so gracefully can easily and at will check a plain's bronco in his mad flight, or sent a bullet speeding true to the mark.

PEARLS OF TRUTH.

A bad daughter seldom makes a good wife. If a girl is ill-tempered at home, wire. If a girl is in-tempered at home, snarls at her parents, snaps at her brothers and sisters, and shirks her ordinary duties, the chances are ten to one that when she gets a home of her own she will make it wretched.

A smooth sea never made a skilful marin-A smooth sea never made a skilful marin-er, neither do uninterruped prosperity and success qualify anyone for usefulness and happiness. The storms of adversity, like the storms of the ocean, arouse the faculties and excite the invention, prudence, skill, and fortitude of the voyager.

and fortitude of the voyager.

The exercise of every faculty is necessary to its development, and therefore to its life. Inaction, fully carried out, means stagnation and death. On the other hand, over-exhaustion, and, if the period of rest necessary to restore its vigor be denied, it will wear itself out. Health and happiness require that these laws be recognized and obeyed.

these laws be recognized and obeyed.

No matter the rank of life, any woman, be she princess or peasant, who undertakes the care of a family becomes at once responsible for the welfare of that family, whether she actually toils for them with her own hands, as does the laborer's wife, or simply oversees and superintends the work of others, as does the lady rich in all the goods of this world. The responsibility is there, and no one can escape it without risking not only her own happiness and welfare, but those of all connected with her.

Beautify the Home.

As yet we have nothing ready-made in this country equal to the Aspinwall (Eng-lish) enamels, prepared for immediate use in furniture painting, and, as they are now sold everywhere, it is just as well to tell peeple how they can renew their dingy Wakefield or other rattan chairs, their old Wakened or other ration that is, that the common Windsor (wooden) chair so that it will be a beautiful thing. When there is a will be a beautiful thing. When there is a broad, low window that you want to use for ed with some of these delicate colors, or done over for stouter wear, in blacks, dark blues, or Indian reds, such will make a sub-stantial and ornamental stand. There need be, with these pretty paint cans, as ready for use as tomato cans are for cooking, no more lead-colored wicker furniture or worn dingy shelves.

LADY'S HOME-MADE WARDROBE.

"I made it myself at a trifling expense, and was amply repaid for the time and trouble, as I completed it, hanging and all, in two afternoons.

in two afternoons.

"Having procured two triangular pieces of wood one and a half inches thick, to fit into the corner where I wanted my wardrobe, I fastened them to the wall by means of strips of moulding, leaving a space of about a foot and a half between them. This space to serve as a receptacle for bonnet-box, shoes, or articles of any description desired conveniently at hand, but not 'en evidence.'

"Into the lower shelf were screwed a dozen hooks on which to hang garments.

"The upper shelf, which I had previously covered with bronze-colored plush in such a manner as to conceal the outer edge of the shelf, was six feet from the floor, and had attached to it a brass rod, from which was sustached to it a brass rod, from which was sur pended a portiere, also 'home made,' i

'A piece of cretonne in imitation of Gobe-"A piece of cretonne in imitation of Gobelin tapestry, representing a Watteau scene, was bordered top and bottom with the bronzecolored plush.

"The plush-covered shelf served to hold an old brass placque and a tall blue vase. The effect of the whole was wonderfully pretty and artistic."

A CHAIR CUSHION.

A new idea in chair cushions, which possesses the idea of adaptability to a greater degree than many of the decorative articlet now scattered about houses wherewith so vex the soul of man, is in appearance exactly like a mammoth tea cosey, and fits over the back and half over the front of the chairback. The chief beauty of this new cushion, back. The chief beauty of this new cushion, which is made of the materials ordinarily employed for this purpose, and filled with down, is that it does not slip down or out of place, but remains firm under the head.

A CHANGED POSITION

When the second son of the Right Honourable the Earl of St. Marylebone, commonly known as the Wentworth Richelieu up his commission as a lieutenant in Her Majesty's Life Guards Blue, and vacated his apartments in the Albany, he purposed making an entirely fresh start in life. To accomplish this he not only left his native land, literally to pitch his tent some six thousand miles to the westward of the British metropolis, but also repudiated so much of his name as was not absolutely necessary for his own identification and the exigences of business and society in the Far West.

That he was tolerably successful in his endeavours to construct his own fortune may be inferred from the fact that, some four years after the Honourable John's sudden disappearance from sundry Belgravian ballrooms and Pall Mall club-houses, plain Jack Delancey found himself the owner of a trifling matter of thirty thousand acres of rich grazing lands, over which roamed the finest and largest herd of shorthorns in the Candian North-West. Above and beyond all this, Jack Delancey was the most popular young man in the eastern part of the Territory, both among his neighbours—who were not very numerous—and with his "cowboys," who were decidely numerous. To them all, after the Western style, he was Jack Delancey—no more and no less. But although this energetic scion of the House of St Marylebone had discarded the "Honourable" and "Wentworth" and the "Richelieu," and had transformed "John" into "Jack," he was still a Delancey. He might have called himself Moses Smith—he might even have adopted a drawl and seasoned the same with powerful Western slang, but he would still have remained a Delancey.

For, notwithstanding that the young man affected big untanned boots, buckskin Delancey.

For, notwithstanding that the young man affected big untanned boots, buckskin breeches, a red shirt, and a sombrero hat; though he dined at twelve o'clock with "the though he dined at twelve o'clock with "the boys," and excused without a murmur such luxuries as table linen, cut glass, and silver-ware; though he slept in a hammock, rolled up in rather coarse blankets, and took his morning plunge in the little creek which furnished bathing facilities for all his men—he was still Jack Delancey, and it needed not the courtesy title accorded him in Burke's Peerage to proclaim this fine specimen of a sturdy Briton as the "Honourable" Jack Delancey. So, although all the stockmen and the farmers and the cowboys within fifty miles of the Delancey ranch freely addressed the wealthy young Englishman as "Jack," they cheerfully yielded him such marked deference as was never paid to any other man in the Territory, and such as Jack Delancey himself had never dreamed of demanding.

It was at the first, hig "round wa" often.

manding.

It was at the first big "round-up" after Jack's arrival in the West, and the boys were dining after a hard morning's work were duning after a hard morning's work branding the young cattle.

"That thar Delancey o' yourn is blooded?" said a gaunt Canadian from a neighboring ranch. "He's got the generwineliquid in his veins, you kin bet? He's squar," boys, an' he's fair, so he is."

"Be me faith, he is that same!" responded a son of Erin. "He's a lad after St. Patrick's own heart. Shure he's aiqual to none—arrah, thin, be jabers, I mane he's second to none!"

second to none!"
"It wur told up to the Station, when wur over last month, as he wur a dook or lord-mayor or sumthin' when he wur on the old sod. I'm a trifle shy of seech-like pranks as palmin' off incogniter. Looks kinder slippery, as if a fellow wur 'shamed of his name an' previous record.

This last speaker was Calvin Larned, a ranch man of small means and smaller en-deavor, who made a practice of "throwing mud" at his neighbours, and who was really only tolerated for the sake of his daughter Metta

That's right, Cal! Wouldn't be you if you didn't shoot your dirty mud," retorted one of the men. 'Jack Delancey's got grit and sand, anyhow, which is more than can

"And I tell you one thing, boys," said a strapping young fellow, as the men mounted their ponies to resume their work; "Jack Delancey has got something beside pluck—he's got a great kind heart and clean hands. It doesn't make any difference whether It doesn't make any difference whether had was a lord-mayor or a dord-chancellor over yonder—he was a gentleman, and he's that yet.—Now, boys, whoop 'em up! Stir up those critters lively!"

This last champion of the individual under discussion was Jack Delancey's foreman.

Just who he was or where he hailed from, not even his employer knew. He had introduced himself as Spencer Knight, and claimed—although his years were less than thirty—to be an "old Westerner." He told Jack that he was originally from "the East," but had settled in the North West when he was very young, with the intention of "growing up with the country."

How Delancey became acquainted with Spencer Knight matters little. The Englishman stumbled across him in Winnipeg, where Knight—after the manner of westwhere Knight—after the manner of western stockmen during the dull season—was indulging in a "toot." Delancey rendered the young fellow, who was a man after his own heart and about his own age, a valuable service, which saved Knight from the disgrace of arrest and possible imprisonment; thereby placing the Western man for ever in his debt. This was before Jack had located as a ranchman Reingrace. located as a ranchman.
y good judge of human n human nature, and rightly estimating that Spencer Knight would not speedily forget a kindness, Delancey invited that young man to enter his service. The compact which they then made had never been regretted by either; for, after four years of hard work and content accompanions in regretted by either; for, after four years of harl work and constant companionship, if Knight beheld in Jack Delancey his ideal of a gentleman and a friend, Jack knew, as well as he was aware of his own existence, that with his faithful servant and friend, Spencer Knight, he might safely entrust his possessions, his life, and—his honour. And by Ja.'k Delancey of the West, honour was as highly treasured as ever it had been by the Honourable John Wentworth Richelieu Delancey of Her Majesty's Life Guards B.ue.

Now, although Cal Larned had uttered Now, although Cal Larned had uttered from time to time many disparaging remarks in regard to his prosperous young neighbour similar to his speech at the "round-up" dinner-party, he was in reality very anxious to secure Jack Delancey for a son-in-law. As a matter of fact it looked as if this ambition of the lazy stockman would in all probability be gratified. In older communities, Cal Larned's surliness and general aptitude for picking quarrels might have been laid to that very convenient scapegoat, dyspepsia. On the plains of Alberta that disease is unknown, and as cowboys usually "call a spade a spade," they passed upon Calvin Larned the very laconic but expressive verdict of "mean cuss," To his general meanness Larned added the vice of laziness, for which reason, undoubtedly, he was tolerably civil to Jack Delancey, and encouraged his pretty daughter Metta to accept the attentions paid her by the handsome Englishman. He figured on the probability that if Jack should marry Metta he might "pool" his business interests with those of his son-in-law by turning over his miserably small herd of cattle to Delancey, and himself roam hither and thither at his own sweet will and at Jack's expense.

How the unsavoury and unsatisfactory Calvin ever became possessed of so pretty and good a girl as Metta Larned is one of those conundrums the answers to which are those conundrums the answers to which are locked securely in Nature's sealed books. When Jack Delancey settled in Alberta, Metta was twenty years old. She had then lived with her father on the plains for five or six years, having left her mother a thousand miles away in an Ontario graveyard. How Jack Delancey came to pay marked attentions to this girl is no conundrum at all. She was the only mardrum at all. She was the only marriageable girl within a day's ride of the Delancey ranch. Women are scarce articles in the Territory, and unmarried women are especially few and far between. Metta-she was unmarried, she was your in the Territory, and unmarried women are especially few and far between. Metta Larned was unmarried, she was young, and she was pretty. Not only so; she was well informed, fairly well educated, and possessed of much good common-sense. She was, from a social stand-point, the superior of all her neighbors, except Jack Delancey and, perhaps, Spencer Knight. (Knight was peculiarly reticent in regard to his antecedents, though that he had received a liberal education became constantly more apparent.)

Yes, Metta Larned was pretty; but she had not the patrician beauty of a hundred and-one young dames whose acquaintance and favour Delancey had forsworn when he struck out for the West. Met was clever; but there were many branches of knowledge that formed the ABC of Jack's own sister's education, of which the girl was as ignorant as she was of Greek verbs and Egyptian hieroglyphics. Met dressed "nattily," yet her neat home-made gowns would have presented a rather "dowdy" appearance alongside the most ordinary efforts of Worth or Elise. To sum up: Met Larned could thoroughly appreciate a good book in good English, she could make an apron or hemstich a handkerchief with the utmost neatness, and she could manufacture pastry which would have reflected credit upon a Parisian chef. But then—

When Jack Delancey first saw Met, on a breezy summer afternoon, with the sleeves

Parisian chef. But then—

When Jack Delancey first saw Met, on a breezy summer afternoon, with the sleeves of her simple white dress rolled up, a huge linen apron protecting her from the dusty flour, while with her chubby hands she "fixed up" a batch of bread for supper, the exguardsman involuntarily confessed to himself that the girl looked "killing." But, later on, as he pondered over a cigar, Jack Delancey's good sense forced him to admit that it would be extremest folly in him to think of a girl like Met Larned as his future wife. It was not snobbery, in that Delancey's early training, old associations, and family ties compelled him invariably to compare Met with his sister and his mother—always to the disadvantage of pretty Met Larned. Jack was swayed by honesty of purpose, and he resolved never to "make love" to Met; being Jack Delancey, he kept his resolution.

But, nevertheless, Jack found it years.

But, nevertheless, Jack found it very pleasant on Sunday afternoon to ride over to the Larneds' cottage, five miles away, and indulge in a chat with Metta. If he desired excuse, he found in it the pag-which came to him with his mail every Satur-day, and which Metta liked to read. Jack sired excuse, he found in it the paper which came to him with hismail every Saturday, and which Metta liked to read. Jack discovered a keener satisfaction in taking tea—supper, they call it in the Territory—with Metta than he had ever experienced in sipping souchong from dainty china cups in London drawing-rooms. Metta's suppers were substantial affairs—delicious beefsteaks and the lightest of light hot bread, with butter that the dairy-maids at Delancey Park had never surpassed. Such meals were peculearly appreciated by Jack after a long week of tough meat, indifferent potatoes, and hardtack! And Jack reciprocated Metta's hospitality whenever he journeyed to Crowfort—as he frequently did—by bringing the girl a new novel or "something pretty." So they became good comrades, and both enjoyed amazingly the long quiet Sundayafternoons. But their regard and esteem for each other stopped just short of love; for, after three years, Metta Larned's affection for the Englishman was no deeper than was Jack Delancey's liking for the girl.

Unfortunately, on the plains, as well as in other regime of the supplied and supplied contains the primitive and sonvents.

was Jack Delancey's liking for the girl.

Unfortunately, on the plains, as well as in other primitive and sparsely settled communities, actions and words frequently cause more weight than they would do in large social centres. Therefore, Calvin Larned was not alone in surmising that Jack Delancey intended, ultimately, to make Metta his wife. All "the boys" looked upon such a climax as a foregone conclusion, and even Spencer Knight shared in the general opinion. Indeed, this belief alone prevented Knight himself from entering the race for Met Larned; for the foreman, who had never exchanged more than twenty sentences with Metta, loved the girl with an affection which never paused to make psychological estimate never paused to make psychological estimate or social comparisons—a love that was only surpassed by his deep and undying loyalty to Delancey, for whose sake he kept his secret so well that not a living soul ever once dreamed of it.

once dreamed of it.

Cal Larned's derogatory remarks at the "round-up" anent Jack Delancey were not nearly so severe as his mental comments upon the same live subject. In his own mind he thought that the Englishman had been "foolin' around" Metta quite lcnz enough. One Sabbath when Spencer Knight and mostof "the boys" had gone over to Crowfoot with a couple of hundred young steers to ship by the railroad to Winnipeg, Delancey, as was his custom on Sunday mornings in summer, brought his hammock outside the as was his custom on Sunday mornings in summer, brought his hammock outside the long low shanty, swung it on the shady side of the building, lit his pipe, and stretched himself out to enjoy the three-weeks-old Illustrated London News.

"Mornin', Jack!" exclaimed a voice—the only voice whose accepts usually discreted.

only voice whose accents usually disgusted Delancey.

"Good-morning," replied Jack lazily looking up. He noticed that his visitor was afoot, and added : "You didn't walk over,

"Not much, I didn't!! I seen your be "Not much, I didn't: I seen you door open as I come up, an' found a empty stall; so I hitched my pony an' gev him a feed o' your oats—'spose thet's all right?" stall; so I htched my pony an gev nim a feed o' your oats—'spose thet's all right?'
"Oh, certainly. you are very welcome," said Jack, as vexed as a man could well be with Larned's take-it-for-granted style, but willing to tolerate the fellow for his daughter's sake.

"Purty dry an' dusty, Jack. Can't yer pass the bottle, me son? A smell o' rye or Bourbon, or even a couple o' fingers of gin, wouldn't go bad."

"I don't like my men to use liquor, so do not use it myself, and havenone on the place. You will find good spring water at the well, yonder, and plenty of milk in the cellar. That's the best I can do for you, Larned. Help yourself."

But neither milk nor water possessed any charms for Cal Larned. He threw himself full length upon the rough bench which ran along the shanty, and filled his mouth with fine cut tobacco, which he chewed very carefully for the space of five minutes. He then succeeded in drowning a grasshopper some seventeen feet drowning a grasshopper some seventeen feet away from him by a dexterons discharge of black juice, and proceeded directly to the matter which just then accounted for his presence at the Delancey Ranch. "Comin' over to our place to-day, Jack?"

Delancey, in despair, threw down the paper and replied: "Yes, I think so."
"Well now, Jack, how long is it since you planted yourself down here?"

you planted yourself down here?"

"About four years."

"So? How long was you here when I gev yer a knock-down to my gal?"

"Almost a year."

"So? Well, now, I ain't much of a scholar, so ef my calkerlations are wrong, kindly ke-rect me. One year from four years leaves three years. Now, on yer own showin', you're been sparkin' Met for four years.
Now, Jack, when are yer goin' to marry
my gal?"

my gal?"

Jack sat up in his hammock and dangled Larned's words: "When—am—I—going—to—marry Metta?— You are not indulging in a confoundedly poor joke, I hope, Larned?"

"Do I look as ef I wur a sky-larkin', or as ef I meant bizness? No, Jack Delancey, I'm askin' you a squar' quesching, and ef you're the man they say you are, you'll gev me a straight answer. How is it?"

"My good fellow, I have never made love to your daughter for the very reason that I have never dreamt of marrying her. I have every respect for Met, and esteem her very much; but I have been particularly careful to give her no false impressions. Besides, I believe Metta and I understand each other quite well. Metta" quite well. Metta"-

"You speak for yerself, Delancey. Don't I know all about her? Ain't I seen her change in the last three years until she don't think of nobody nor nothin' but you? Can't I see how she's a-growin' sick an' weary of waitin' for you to ax her?"

Jack put his other leg out of the hammock and with two of his big strides stood over his would-be father-in-law. "Tell me one thing," he said, in a tone of voice which indicated that it would not be well for his listener to tamper with him. "Tell me the truth, man, of your own child. Does Met care all that about me, and does she really believe that—that I love her?" "She does,"

"So help you God ?"

"So help you God?"

"See here, Delancey," said Larned, clumsily rising to his feet; "what do you take me for? What do you suppose I care about you? You never used me half-way decent, anyhow. You an'there keep-yer-distance, lord-dook style! I am't in love with you, nor yit yer belongings. I know I ain't a general favourite hereabouts But Met's my gal, an' I'm her dad, an', curse me, Delancey, ef I'm a-gom' to stand by an' see her heart broke an' the best years of her young life fooled away by you nor yit no other gay rooster!"

young life fooled away by you nor yit no other gay rooster!"
"That will do," said Jack quietly. "I care nothing for your blustering threats. As you say, there is no love lost between you and me. But there is that which I dislike even more than Mr. Larned, and you will never find me guilty of any dishonourable conduct.—Yes, I will ride over this afternoon."

afternoon."

Cal Larned had acted his part well, and knew it. He was fully aware that his point was practically carried; for having succeeded in influencing a man ike Jack Delancey, he knew be an easy matter to mould Metta to his will; so he indulged in considerable chuckling as he shuffled off to mount his pony and ride home.

A few days later, Spencer Knight returned A few days later, Spencer Knight returned. In the evening, he and Delancey strolled down to the creek to smoke an after-supper pipe. "Spence," said Jack, "I am going to marry Metta Larned."

"Spence," said Jack, "I am going to marry Metta Larned."

"Yes," responded the other; "we all thought it would come to that. I hope you will both be very happy, Delancey."

Curjously enough, each of the men, for the first time in the course of their acquaintance, remarked a strange glumness in the other. They not only remarked it, but both remembered it very vividly. There was no gladness about Delancey's announcement, and Knight's congratulatory reply had a counterfeit ring about it.

"Next Monday," said Jack after a pause,
"I shall start for home to make the folks over there a visit before settling down for life. You will stay and take care of things for me while I am gone, won't you, Spence?

for me while I am gone, won't you, Spence I shall not be away more than a couple of months, and during that time I should like you to have the carpenters over from Crowfoot and run up a comfortable cottage over yonder by the poplars. Consult Metta as much as possible."

Desneey spoke so mechanically that Knight knew beyond the shadow of a doubt, that something was wrong. But he made no inquirile.

inquiries.

"All right, Delancey; and when you return I shall ask for leave of absence for a similar purpose. Like yourself, I am an Englishman. There was a little unpleasantness in our family, which induced me to locate in the West some twelve years ago. The other day I saw an old friend of mine, who was passing through Crowfoot. We talked mattersover, and I think past differences can now be adjusted. However, I will not pester you tersover, and I think past differences can now be adjusted. However, I will not pester you with my affairs to-night."

Somehow or other, Jack Delancey was absent from his ranch eight months instead of two; so that the following summer had commenced by the time he returned to his Western quarters. Western quarters.

"We will leave business until to-morrow, Spence," said Jack, as he and his first-lieu tenant sauntered towards the creek. "Let us talk of other matters to-night."

As a matter of fact, they said nothing at all for almost half an hour. Then Delancey spoke: "How is Metta? I have heard nothing from her for two months. I told her not to write, as I was so uncertain about starting. How is she?"

"Metta is well, very well."

Silence again, broken this time by Knight: "Delancey?" Both men paused in their walk, and Jack puffed violently at his pipe. "You picked me up a stranger, and treated me like the 'white man' that you are. You had faith in my manhood and you have trusted me implicitly. Have I justified your confidence?"

"You have, Spence—a thousand times over, boy. Here is my hand on it."
"Thanks, Delancey. Now, trust me a little more, and believe that I would not pry into your private affairs for the mere sake of being meddlesome, or to wound you. May I go ahead?" "Surely. Let us sit on this boulder."

"Delancey, you just asked about Metta. You do not love that girl. I knew it the night that we were last on this spot, when you told me of your engagement to her, You will never be really happy with Metta.

"Admit, Delancey," said Knighton, rather comically, " that in the presence of my sister you tried your best to behave like a sphinx you tried your best to behave like a sphinx; but—I have it on the authority of my married sister—your attempt was a signal failure: while, as for Florence, she has made a clean confession to her sister.—Now, are you going to make Flo miserable as well as yourself?" "I am grieved to learn," muttered Jack, "that I have unintentionally caused your sister temporary distress. But as for myself—I think a fellow need not feel particularly miserable in living up to his word.—No: I —I think a fellow need not leer particularly miserable in living up to his word.—No; I shall marry Metta Larned."
"Wait a while," continued Knighton, laying his hand upon hist friend's shoulder. Metta Larned does not love you! What do you say to that?'

do you say to that?"
"Possibly so. But how do you know that to be the case?"
"Because—why—er (you haven't a pistol about you, Delancey?)—Well, the fact is that Met loves me, and I love her; and if you do not seriously object, we should both of us like to release you from your engagement?—Yes"he went on, "I suppose you ought to demand an explanation and satisfaction from me for robbing you of your affianced bride. But for robbing you of your affianced bride. But I did not begin the robbery until I was tolerably sure that I should not be striking you very hard. As I said, I surmised a good deal when you were away, and I learned you very hard. As I said, I surmised a good deal when you were away, and I learned much more before you started for home. A month ago, Cal Larned died—gored by a young bull—and before his death, he confessed to me that he had terrorized Met and played a "bluff game" with you.—You are not very angry, are you, Delancey?"

Jack certainly did not look very angry, and he grasped his friend's hand and shook it with remarable vigour.

The Honourable Spencer Knighton is still known as Spence Knight on the Delancey ranch, of which he is sole proprietor; but Jack Delancey of Alberta is no more, his friends having re-christened that gentleman with his old name when he settled down to the pleasant life of an English country Squire.

Size and Longevity.

Although there is some relation between size and longevity, the duration of the period of growth and length of life being, speaking of growth and tength of the being, speaking generally, longest in the largest animals, there is no fixed relation between the two. The largest organisms live the longest, some trees reaching an age of 6,000 years, and some animals, as whales, several centuries. And, animals, as whales, several centuries. And, after maturity is reached, larger animals require longer time than see animals to secure the preservation of the species. The explanation of this, as pointed out by both Leuckart and Herbert Spencer, is that "the absorbing surface of an animal only increases as the square of its length, while its size increases as the cube; and it therefore follows that the longer an animal becomes the great. that the longer an animal becomes the great-er will be the difficulty experienced in assimilating any nourishment over and above that which it requires for its own needs, and that which it requires for its own needs, and therefore the more slowly will it reproduce itself." We, however, find corresponding duration of life among animals of very different size. For example, the toad and the cat lives as long as the horse, the crayfish as long as the pig and the pike and carp as long as the elephant. In an interesting appendix, from which these and the following facts are quoted, Dr. Weissmann cities the case of a sea anemone which lived not less than sixty-six years. It was placed by Sir John Dalzell in a small glass jar in the Edinburgh Botanical Gardens in 1828, being then, as companions with other individuals reared from the egg period, fully seven years old. It died a natural death in 1887.—Longman's Magazine.

If national debts mean national wealth, as Lord Beaconsfield (then Mr. D'Israeli) once said, then Russia must be one of the richest countries on earth. Already this year British capitalists have lent the czar's government seventy one millioners. government seventy-one million pounds. Russia has besides £329,581,000 outstand ing in sterling bonds, largely held in England. There is about £140,000 in rouble bonds outstanding, and recently issued rail road bonds aggregating some £40,000,000. Besides all this the government has out more Besides all this the government has out more than £200,000,000 in paper money. On top of all this the public expenses are always greater than the revenue.

An Engineering Triumph.

An Engineering Triumph.

On Thesday, March 4th, with a great flourish of trumpets, the Prince of Wales formally opened the new Frith of Forth bridge, which has been styled the King of bridges. It is big enough to be added to the wonders of the world. It far surpasses not only in utility but in its structure as an engineering feat the Eiffel tower. The calculation has been made that one of the three cantilevers, with its connecting girders, if set up lengthways on end, would be very nearly the same height as the Paris tower. The latter contains only 7,500 tons of iron, while the Forth bridge has absorbed over 50,000 tons of the finest steel that could be procured. It was begun in 1883, and has taken about seven years to complete. The bridge proper is just over a mile in length, but there are viaducts on each end connecting it with the high ground, and these together add half a mile more to the length of the waters is 150 feet, allowing for the passage of the largest vessels. To attain this height, and yet to have this necessary strength, the cantilevers tower high above, and they required an elevation as high as St. Paul's cathedral. A comparison between the Forth and other great bridges of the world is as follows:

Length, Greatest spanfeet.

At may have your as	toot	Greatest span
Forth bridge	8.091	1,710
lay bridge	10,780	245
Niagara bridge	818	808
andore bridge	1.760	110
rumlin bridge	1.800	150
Sritannia bridge	1,511	460
Brooklyn bridge	5,862	1,600

you told me of your engagement to her, You will never be really happy with Metta for your wife."

"Stop," said Jack, with a faint smile. "This question is undebatable. I have asked Metta to marry me, and it is utterly impossible to discuss the matter."

"But," persisted Knight, "you love with all your heart and soul another woman you cannot deny that—you do not desire to deny it. You love, as you can never hope to love Metta, my sister Florence."

"Nonsense, Spence! Lady Florence Knighton your sister?"

"The very same. You see, my dear follow, I too am an 'honourable.' It was a rather shabby trick on your part, Delancey, to go over there and lose your heart to my sister, while you kept me all these months waiting to become reconciled to my father.—But, to return to our subject. You not only fell desperately in love with Flo, but you have stolen the poor girl's heart away from her."

"Indeed, Spence, I have been strictly honourable in this matter. While at home, I made no secret of my engagement, and studiously avoided anything like a flirtation with Lady Florence. We were thrown much together, and I confess—Well, that makes no difference: I am here to keep my word with Metta."

"Admit, Delancey," said Knighton, rather comically, "that in the presence of my sister."

"Admit, Delancey," said Knighton, rather comically, "that in the presence of my sister."

The Armies of Europe.

The Almanack de Gotha of 1890 contains a statement of the military strength of the various countries of Europe. As the editors of this annual are specially careful in gathering facts of this class, and have exceptional means of information, their statements are considered as almost official. From these it appears that on a peace footing the military strength of France is, at the present time, greater by nearly a hundred thousand mean than that of Germany, and very nearly, if not quite, as great as the actual strength of Russia. Taking Russia and France in combination, and putting their armies on a war footing, the numerical force of these two allies would be greater than that which Germany, Austria and Italy could by combination put in the field. The central powers of Europe would have the advantage of position, and it is probable would have the advantage of direction; that is, the control of military movements would undoubtedly be given to Germany, while the French and Russian would not only be compelled to act separately, but neither would consent to take a position in the matter of direction subordinate to the other. Such a great war may be improbable, but, in view of a number of grave uncertainties, it may break out on these lines before the present year is over.

A Dry Dock at Gibraltar.

England's proposal to establish a dry dock at Gibraltar is not viewed with favor by the authorities at Madrid. In the chamber of deputies the other day Senor Moya, Repubican, supported the demand hitherto made chat the government should give the House explicit information in regard to the projected new dock which it is reported the English Government is to build at Gibraltar. The minister of foreign affairs replied that what it was proposed to build was a dry dock, and that it was to be constructed within the port of Gibraltar, and consequently upon British territory. Not quite assured by this explanation of the pacific intentions England's proposal to establish a dry dock in the port of Gibraltar, and consequently upon British territory. Not quite assured by this explanation of the pacific intentions of the old 'lion,' and regarding the movement as a menace to their safety, several speakers unged the government to adopt precautionary m asures, and strengthen the fortifications at Tarifa and Ceuta. Of course no one will say them nay in the matter of improving their defences; still they need not give themselves any great concern or quake with fear, for it is not the habit of this particular lior to provoke an unjust quarred with any other nation. Let Spain act as becometh a civilized nation and she need not fear though Britain establish a dozen dock-yards at the straits. at Tarifa and Ceuta. en the fortifications

The deceased wife's sister bill in the English parliament is what in this country would be irreverently called a "chestnut." It has appeared periodically for many years and usually, we believe, passes the Commons but runs aground in the house of lords; where conservative and ecclesiastical influences are too strong for it. conservative and eccessisatical influences are too strong for it. A despatch from London says that the promoters of the bill hold that they are pledged not to agree to its extension to cases of marriage with a deceased husband's brother. That is a distinction much like that between tweedledges and treadly to cases of marriage with a deceased hus-band's brother. That is a distinction much like that between tweedle dee and tweedle dum. If one is right there appears no earth-ly reason why the other shouldn't be, al-though there is this much to be said—that it is sometimes an extremely dangerous thing to weaken the bond of relationship between relatives.

It is not likely that Senator Macdonald, of

It is not likely that Senator Macdonald, of B. C., will pursue his Mormon bill further, now that Sir John Thompson's criminal bill covers essentially the same ground as the other. That part of the Minister of Justice's bill relating to the question of plural marriages makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for two years or fine of $500, or both, to practice by the rites or ceremonies of any denominatwo years or fine of $500, or both, to practice by the rites or ceremonies of any denomination or what are commonly known among Mormons as spiritual or plural marriages. This penalty also includes any one who celebrates, is a party to, or assists in any such rite or ceremony which purports to make binding or to sanction any of such sexual relationships, procures, enforces or is a party to the compliance with any such form, rule or custom which so purports, or procures or inforces the execution of any such form of contract which so purports, or the giving of contract which so purports, or the giving of any such consent in all such cases. The law-ful husband or wife of the defendant shall be a competent but not a compellable witness for or against the defendant.

THE ATWOOD BEE

EVERY FRIDAY MORNING,

AT THE OFFICE,

MAIN ST., - ATWOOD.

TERMS.—If paid strictly in advance, $1.00 per annum, otherwise $1.50. ADVERTISING RATES.

First insertion, per line ...... 8c. Each subsequent insertion ..... 3c. Contract advertisements inserted at the following rates:

1 year. 6 mos. 3 mos.
One column ...$60 00 | $35 00 | $20 00

Half "...$50 00 | 20 00 | 12 00

Quarter "...$20 00 | 12 00 | 7 00

Eighth "...$12 00 | 7 00 | 4 00 Eusiness cards, not exceeding 8 lines, $1 per annum; over 8 and under 12 lines, $5.

Advertisements of farms for sale, cattle strayed and other small advertisements, $1 for first month, and 50c per month thereafter.

JOB PRINTING.

We have a first-class jobbing department in connection; latest designs in printing material, enabling us to execute all descriptions of job printing on shortest notice.

Our terms for job work, casual advertisements and special notices are CASH. Contract advertisements payable

R. S. PELTON, EDITOR AND PROP.

COUNTRY TALK.

of one hundred and forty acres to Mr.

Baechler for $5,000.

Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows, to A.
Huston, Listowel. Andrew evidently knows a good horse.

James Gray, son-in-law of R. Cleland, has got moved to his farm which he purchased from S. Brown. No doubt he will make an enterprizing, successful farmer and a good neighbor.

Wm. Merryfield has disposed of the west half of lot 19, concession 17, Elma, to David Adair for $700. As the farm is in a good location and the soil is of excellent quality we feel sure that Mr. Adair made a paying investment.

Sanuel Brown, on the 1st con. Elma, solid his farm, and the soil is farmer and a polying investment.

Sanuel Brown, on the 1st con. Elma, wisting his prother D. C. Boberts this proth Sanuel Brown, on the 1st con. Elma, sold his farm to James Gray from the 12th for $6000. The farm contains 100 acres and has a brick residence and bank barn. Mr. Brown has bought the Armstrong farm two miles above Molesworth, 100 acres for $5000. He moved up last week.

James A. Edgar, son-in-law of our enterprising farmer, Robt. Forrest, of Howick, is building a large implement house two storey high, first storey stone second frame. His next building will be a dwelling house either stone or brick. James' farm is a good one and he is making money out of it.

Vie, were visiting their cousin, Miss W. J. Fairfield, last week.

Miss. L. O'Conner has been selected (from a number of other applicants) as the precentor in Melville church.

J. Thompson left for Toronto last Monday. We expect to see him quite often in town as he has relatives here.

Wm. Bishon and family left for their

Last Saturday evening a team belonging to James Brock, jr., ran away from Mr. Tudlope's place, Listowel. The wagon upset turning the corner by the show ground, and the team broke through the ice in the ditch, breaking a fine mare's leg in two places. It is a heavy loss for Jim, as he has just built and furnished a fine house last season. He was offered $160 for the mare.

The fellowing is the standing of the pupils in S. S. No. 9, in geography:—Senior Fourth—Robert Donovan, Henry Genhealder, Chas. Beck. Senior Third—Eva Taylor, George Coxon, Mary Coxon, Sarah Lambert, Robert Ranney. Junior Third—Levi Cook, Walter Lambert, Willie Debus, Thomas Coxon, Charlie Prost.

Miss Joan Hamilton, Teacher. It is with feelings of deep regret that we announce the death of Ellen, youngest daughter of John Struthers, 16th con. The little one had been suffering for some time from measles, together with croup which proved fatal on Thursday, 13th inst. She was 5 years, 6 months, and 13 days. The funeral on Saturday was largely attended. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the community in their sad loss. Willie, another child, is also quite ill, but no serious results are apprehended. Miss Joan Hamilton, Teacher. sults are apprehended.

There are tiny mounds where the hopes

Are laid neath a tear wet mould,
But the light that paled at the stricken hearth, Was joy to the upper fold.

And the white stone beareth a new name now,
That never on earth was told,
And the tender Shepherd will guide with care

The lambs of the upper fold.

Geo. Fowler, formerly teacher of the Trowbridge public school, has removed to town and is studying dentistry with W. M. Bruce.

Trowbridge.

DIED IN COLORADO.—On Wednesday Mrs. Robson, formerly of Trowbridge and now residing with her family in Listowel, recieved a telegram from Denver stating that her husband had died there on Tuesday, and asking for instructions as to the disposal of the remains. Mrs. Robson sent word to have the corpse forwarded to Listowel. The deceased went out to Colorado about a year ago, and we understand has been working in the mines out there. The cause of his death is not as yet learned.

With the lodge.

Jas. Burnett has removed from his farm here and taken possession of one in Ellice township. Poole loses a good citizen in Mr. Burnett.

Owing to different arrangements made at the last meeting of the quarterly board of the Methodist church at Milverton, service will be held in this place every Sabbath instead of every third Sabbath as formerly.

Miss Maggie Stewart, daughter of Alex. Stewart, of the 16th con. is seriously ill.

T. W. Johnston is away this week with the lodge.

Stratford

John Whyt's local agents purchased a 620 pound hog on the market last Wednesday. It was bred and fed by W. Snell, Lakeside, Ont.

Death has again entered the home of C. J. Tracy on of the preprinters of Death has again entered the home of C. J. Tracy, one of the proprietors of the Stratford Advertiser, and robbed it of his eldest daughter, Mary Eily, (Eily she was familiarly called.) About three weeks ago she was taken ill, and in a few days symptoms of malarial fever showed themselves, but concealed the fatal malady, inflammation of the brain, from which she died on Tuesday morning. She was nearly eleven years of age, and was an unusually intelligent child for her years, of an affectionate disposition and dutiful to her parents. The funeral took place from the family residence, Rebecca street, Thursday, to St. Joseph's church, thence to the old. Catholic cemetery where the bodies of two younger children of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy repose. Mr. Tracy has the sympathy of his confreres in his sore bereavement.

Mornington.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of snow and frost this winter, James McCloy ir. has succeeded in getting out timber for a large house and barn to be erected on his farm next summer. Although Jas, is a single man we think that he will neither rent his farm nor hire a house-keeper.

A number of young people from the vicinity of Milverton spent a very enjoyable time last Friday evening at the residence of John Roulston. The hostess, realizing that the nearest way to a man's leart is down his throat, provided such a splendid repast as to win the complete: pproval and hearty good-will of the enirce company. The guests found it was lard to get too much of a good thing for they continued "tripping the light fantastic" until nearly time for morning prayers.

Elma.

George Cleland is getting materiare ady for a silo.

Mrs. Robt. Smith, of the 12th conhas been quite ill of late.

Mr. Beck has sold his farm, consisting of one hundred and forty acres to Mr. Baechler for $5,000.

Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the last two fall shows to A. Robert Henderson sold his prize winner at the

J. Roberts, of Porter's Hill, has been visiting his brother D. C. Roberts this

W. Mathews, kincardine, is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. J. T.

Misses M. and J. Henderson, of Bervie, were visiting their cousin, Miss W. J. Fairfield, last week.

Wm. Bishop and family left for their new home in Beachville last Tuesday. We wish them every success in their new home.

Richard Rivers left Friday for Galt where he has secured a good situation as clerk in a gent's furnishing and drygoods store.

Saturday night, about 10 o'clock, the residence of John Broadfoot, on mill street, was burned, the fire being caused by the explosion of a lamp.

Rev. G. B. Howie, L.A., is away for a short holiday so there was no service in Knox church last Sabbath morning and evening in the absence of the pastor.

A social and lecture will be given in the Methodist church, 26th, under the auspices of the Y. P. C. A. The lecturer is Rev. R. R. Maitland, of Ingersoll, (formerly of Brussels) and the subject, "Uncrowned Kings."

Oran E. Turnbull of the Post staff, left Monday for Brantford, where he has secured a good position on the daily Expositor of that city. Oran is is well up in all the branches of his trade and we wish him success. There's one lonely girl in town, who sings with great emphasis, "I'm lonely to-night love, without you."

The unpublication of the Post staff, left Monday for Brantford, where he has secured a good position on the daily Expositor of that city. Oran is is well up in all the branches of his trade and we wish him success. There's one lonely girl in town, who sings with great emphasis, "I'm lonely to-night love, without you."

Atwood Posting Flower.

The annual meeting of the Conservative Association of East Huron was held in the town hall, last Friday, when the following officers were appointed for the year:—President, B. Gerry; Vice-president, W.m. Clegg; Secretary. R. L. Taylor; Treasurer, J. J. Denman, A resolution of sympathy for A. H. Musgrove was passed and several resolutions condemning the policy of the Mowat administration and expressing confidence in Wm. R. Meredith and Sir John A. Macdonald. D. Creighton, of the Empire, announced to address the constituents, was not present.

The Good Templars of this place are getting up a singing class in connection with the lodge.

T. W. Johnston is away this week visiting relatives in the locality of Scar-

Chas. Rozell, of Morris, has leased the Wm. Bishop farm from Ferguson Bros. for a term of years and will move on to it this month.

Jacob Steiss, who bought out the butchering business from Sam. Shine, of Ethel, lately, has sold out again and has bought the Molesworth hotel.

Wm. Bishop's sale, on Wednesday of last week, went with quite a boom. He had a good quality of stock. Geo. Kirkby wielded the auctioneer's hammer.

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS.—It gives us Successful Students.—It gives us much pleasure to announce that J. M. McLachlan, of 12th con. of Grey township, has passed his final examination in the Philadelphia Dental College, very creditably to himself and his Alma Mater. On this examination Mr. McLachlan has graduated taking the degree of "Doctor of Dental Surgery." By the numerous presents received by Dr. Mac. at the "Commencement" (graduation night), one of them being a beautiful gold headed ebony cane. The Doctor must have endeared himself to some of its fair ones of the Quaker City. Dr. must have endeared himself to some of its fair ones of the Quaker City. Dr. McLachlan is now putting in a term learning the finer points of "crown and bridge" work. We have also been informed that R. J. Whitfield, of Neustadt, and J.D. Booth, who were attending the same college, passed their first year's examination very successfully also passing a special examination in Anatomy which is really intended for medical students and which is a rare thing for first year dental students to accomplish. Our Canadian young men by their close attention and diligent application seem to take a front stand in the American colleges. Since passing their exseem to take a front stand in the American colleges. Since passing their examination, Messrs. Whitfield and Booth have gone to Baltimore to take the Spring term in the College there in mechanical and operative dentistry. By the marked success of those two men in the Philadelphia Dental College and their good judgment in visiting other colleges for the purpose of finding out and learning other methods of work in the dental profession shows that they mean to become eminent men in their line of workmanship.

ATWOOD

ROOMS.

WM. FORREST

Has on hand a Full Assortment of all kinds of

Furniture at Reasonable Prices.

My stock consists of Bedroom Suites. Chairs, Tables, Lounges, Bed Springs, Mattrasses &c.

Picture Framing Done.

UNDERTAKING

Attended to at Shortest Notice. A first-class Hearse kept in readiness. A large assortment of Coffins and Caskets on hand,

ATWOOD

House.

The undersigned wishes to intimate to the public that he keeps a choice lot of

Prices Low.

Special reductions made to those purchasing large quantities of meat.

Terms Strictly Cash.

W. Hawkshaw.

Question Answered.

Almost everyone who wants a new suit of clothes and intends to pay, first asks: "Where am I likely to get the best value for my money." I have just completed a year since employing a cutter and tailor for myself, and here is our record:—

No. of Orders for the 12 Months, Value of Clothing Made, $1,900.

Here is what a few of our Customers think of the kind of work we turn out:-

Jas. Irwin, Esq., Dear Sir:—This is to certify that the suit of clothing purchased from you, and made by your tailor, Mr. Geo. Currie, has given entire satisfaction, both in workmanship and quality of goods. Yours truly, R. KNOX.

Ever since Geo. Currie has taken charge of the tailoring department of Mr. Jas. Irwin's establishment, I have been getting all my clothes made there. I have always been perfectly satisfied, both with the goods and the manner in which they were made. I consider Mr. Irwin particularly fortunate in having secured the services of so able a workman. GEO. A. HARVEY.

Jas. Irwin:—Being asked for a recommend as to Mr. Currie's claim as a first-class cutter or tailor, I consider him another John A. McKenzie as regard to making clothes satisfactory. Yours truly, John A. Wilson.

Dear Sir:—This is to certify that the suits I have had made for me by Mr. Currie are entirely satisfactory. As regard to both style and workmanship they are equal to anything I have been able to procure from even the most fashionable tailoring establishments in Denver. As long as I can get such satisfaction from you my name will appear on your books as a permanent customer. Yours truly, Archie Knox, Agent C. B. & Q. Ry.

James Irwin, Atwood:—I reply to your enquiry. I beg to say that the suit of clothes made for me by Mr. Currie, gives me every satisfaction. If you suit everyone as well, you will have no trouble in getting plenty to do. R. K. HALL.

James Irwin, Atwood:—Both the suit and overcoat made for me by Mr. Currie, give me every satisfaction, I don't want any better fits than they are. Jas.

We could furnish a hundred more testimonials as flattering as these if they were required,

ATrial Order Solicited.

James Irwin.

GEO. CURRIE, Cutter.

---SUBSCRIBE FOR---

ATWOOD BEE

-ONLY-

$1 IN ADVANCE.

The 777 Store.

Headquarters in Listowel For Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing. Dress Goods, &c.

Please Call and See Us when you Come to Town.

JOHN RIGGS.

Atwood Saw & Planing Mills.

Pork Packing Lumber, Lath, Muskoka Shingles, Cedar Posts, Fence Poles and Stakes, Cheese Boxes, also Long and Short Wood.

> Dressed Flooring and Siding A SPECIALTY.

Atwood Packing Flouse a Carriages, Wagons, Sleighs and Cutters, and all kinds of Repairing done on Shortest Notice.

Horseshoeing a Specialty.

Prompt and special attention given to Horseshoeing. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Also Agent for Hawkey's and Begg's celebrated Road Carts. These are two of the best carts that are made. See and be convinced.

HENRY HOAR.