ST. PAUL'S ANNIVERSARY

The services on Sunday last in connection with the nineteenth anniversary of St. Paul's Presbyterian church were attended by large congregations. In the evening the church was crowded. A bright, inspiring song service was rendered by the choir, and the congregational singing was most hearty. The preacher for the day, the Rev. Norman MacLeod, pastor of First Church, Brockville, was no stranger to the people of Athens, and his forceful, earnest addresses on Sunday but deepened the favorable impression previously made. His words possess the fire that springs from honest conviction and he is truly eloquent in his denunciations and in his appeals to man's better nature.

At the evening meeting the pastors of the Baptist and Methodist churches were present and assisted in the service. On Monday evening the annual concert was held in the town hall, and a very large audience was present from both country and village. The programme was made up almost wholly of vocal music by the Hiawatha Male Quartette of Ottawa, and of their performance there was but one opinion, viz.: that they had given what was in every respect a strictly high class and thoroughly enjoyable entertainment. While in solos and duets the singers were heard with unmistakable pleasure, it was the full-voiced quartette with their beautiful modulations that enraptured the audience, and their recalls were frequent. The responses were made most gracefully and consisted of musical gems that lightened and brightened the whole programme.

The audience was most attentive, and during the many highly artistic pianissimo passages not a sound of any kind marred the fine effect. Miss Marie Weeks performed the duties of accompanist in a highly sympathetic and pleasing manner. Miss Jessie Taplin gave a piano solo in a manner to win the hearty applause of all music lovers. The benefit derived by Miss Taplin from the advanced course she has just completed was manifest in the artistic rendering of her selection, and the applause was most spontaneous and enthusiastic.

The Rev. Norman MacLeod varied the programme with a short address, taking as his theme the Scottish bard, Robert Burns. His sketch, though brief, was of a nature to create a desire to know more of this truly great man. The pastor of the church, the Rev. I. N. Beckstedt, B.A., presided and heartily welcomed the large audience. The anniversary in its every part was both pleasant and profitable and may be written down as having been among the most successful yet held by St. Paul's.

From a Business Standpoint

Editor Athens Reporter.
Sir,—Inasmuch as the Brockville Times is apparently so free to censure the business-like ability of the council of Front of Leeds and Lansdowne for condemning the minimum salary clauses of the Ontario Government's new so-called educational law, I feel it only right to thus publicly acknowledge my appreciation of their straight forward business-like ability in doing as they have done, and while I thus speak for myself, I believe it to be the opinion of the people of this section at the rate of ten to one.

Now, Mr Editor, allow me through your paper to kindly ask the Brockville Times to explain where there is the faintest semblance of business like ability manifest in the requirements of the act, from the standpoint from which I am compelled to behold it; for only on Thursday last Dr Kinney, I.P.S., was at our school and notified the trustees that the law now rendered it compulsory to pay our teacher a much increased salary and advised us to re-engage the same one. Now, when this is done, where, from a business standpoint, will value be returned for extra money paid?

Aches and Pains

You know by experience that the aches and pains of rheumatism are not permanently, but only temporarily, relieved by external remedies. Then why not use an internal remedy—Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acidity of the blood on which rheumatism depends and cures the disease? This medicine has done more for the rheumatic than any other medicine in the world.

More Flea-bite Taxes

Brockville Times: "It is a disgrace to the wealthy and prosperous farmers of Ontario—whose taxes are a mere flea-bite—that they should object to the minimum salary of $300, for a daily qualified school-teacher."

The Times' treatment of this subject is hardly fair—it is altogether too narrow. Apparently, it has allowed its indignation to warp its judgment and limit its view. It is not so much to a $300 salary that exception is taken by the farmers as to being forced to pay a much higher salary in a field where the choice is so limited that many schools are being taught by boys and girls lacking the necessary educational qualifications and with absolutely no special training for the work.

The space used by the Times in misrepresenting the Athens Reporter and abusing the farmers might be better employed in giving reasons (or offering apologies) for the government's "advanced" educational bill.

Fantastic Costumes for the Stage

The "manufacturers" of stage clothing, as well as the stock houses, often have queer demands made upon them. Mme. Freisinger relates, with pardonable pride, the expenditure of skill called forth by a certain vaudeville artist who came to her with the request:

"Please make me look like a fish! I want to be a mermaid."

Mme. Freisinger accomplished the task, and the artist was delighted. It had on it eighty-five thousand transparent scales in six distinct colors and three shades of each color.

I paid my girls to work quickly on hat costume. One secret in turning out a dress right is to make it fast so that it keeps its freshness. As many as I could employ sat around that table working on that one garment, sewing on the eighty-five thousand scales."

Mme. Freisinger has had marked success in making costumes on this fantastic order. Her creation of the gown worn by "Lady Peacock" will long be remembered as a triumph of stage craft.

When engaged on another gigantic undertaking, that of making Julia Arthur's clothes for "More Than Queen," Mme. Freisinger took a corps of workers and went to Paris. There she secured in details every item of information necessary to bring to life, in accurate historical detail, the costumes of the Empress Josephine. The Louvre and Versailles were generously consulted, with the result that Miss Arthur was as nearly like Napoleon's wife as the artist could make her. The embroideries, the jewels, everything,—were reproduced at great cost and infinite labor on the part of Mme. Freisinger.—Norah Anderson in NEW IDEA WOMAN'S MAGAZINE for November.

Kemptville's rate of taxation for 1906 has been struck at 2 1/2 mills.

The Percival stove and plow foundry at Merrickville, has been sold to Delehaye Bros. of Pembroke. The latter have a manufacturing plant at Pembroke and may remove the business from Merrickville there.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON NO. VI. NOV. 11, 1906.

Jesus in Gethsemane. Matt. 26: 36-50.

Commentary.—1. Jesus enters the garden (vs. 36, 37). 36. Then—This was about midnight. Cometh—After they had left the upper room they had eaten in the paschal supper. With them—There were only eleven now; Judas was absent making arrangements for the betrayal. Unto a place—Jesus oftentimes resorted to this quiet retreat with his disciples (John 18, 2) for refreshment, retirement, quiet instruction and prayer.

37. Took with him—Farther into the garden, to a spot more retired. "In this hour Jesus needed human sympathy, even when he must tread the wine press alone. Three times he went to them during this season of prayer. The desire for fellowship in hours of darkness and of sorrow is one of the desires of love, and is strongest in the hearts in which love is the highest."—Abbott. "Every wise parent and every wise teacher should sympathize with the child who is in a climax of sorrow, a deep and terrible anguish."

38. Even unto death—My soul is so dissolved in sorrow, my spirit is filled with agony and anguish, that if speedy succor be not given to my body death must be the immediate consequence.—Clarke. "It was agony that would destroy his life if it continued. This sorrow he felt for the sins of a lost race: Isa. 53, 4. The agony which he became so great that his sweat was great drops of blood falling down to the ground. "It was with strong crying and tears" (Heb. 5, 7); it was his "soul" that was sorrowful. The physical sufferings of our Lord were not caused by the weakness of His disciples. He pitied them with larger good than the foundation of an undiscouraged resolution to keep the morning watch."—Frances Ridley Havergal, when asked why the church does not accomplish more, replied, "Because Christians are not spending the first hour of the day alone with God."

39. A little farther—About a stone's cast (Luke); one hundred and fifty to two hundred feet. There were now three divisions of the little company—Jesus, Peter, and Jesus alone. "This was the ordinary posture of the supplicant when the favor asked was great, and deep humiliation required. The head was put between the knees, and the forehead brought to touch the earth." My Father—In all our addresses to God, we should eye him as a Father—our Father; and it is in a special manner helpful to do so when we are in an agony.—Henry. If it be possible, etc.—This has often been explained in a way to make it appear that Christ was frequently asking the Father, if possible, to remove the cup of intense suffering, which was done when the angel came strengthening him. Jesus knew that it was the divine purpose that he should come to the cross and die in harmony with this plan. This hour might pass from him.—H. C. Hovey in Home Review.

40. Cometh unto the disciples—He did this three times during this awful hour. He apparently desired communion with them and the sympathy and comfort which they could give. "Peter—like says they were sleeping for sorrow. "It was very late, after midnight, long after their accustomed hour of sleep; they had been amid very exciting scenes, with their minds intensely strained, and now a reaction had come, of silent stillness and darkness. And yet we cannot help feeling that if they had had a deeper sympathy with Christ and a fuller realization of the crisis, they would have kept awake, and not have been found sleeping on guard. Christ's gentle reproaches implied this."—Lunt. Peter—Peter had just made a loud profession. With him—He was suffering for them, but only expected that they would watch with him. One hour—Sometimes Christ continued in prayer all night, but he only asked them to watch with him one hour. 41. Watch and pray—A testing time is coming, and you will need to watch carefully and pray earnestly. The Christian is in danger of falling a prey to the world, the flesh and the devil. The person who fails to watch opens the door for the tempter to enter. "Prayer is the means by which we are enabled to keep awake spiritually." Into temptation—The enemy nags at hand; they were about to undergo a very severe test. Would their faith and courage fail them? God is able to keep us from entering into temptation, even though we may be in the midst of temptations. "The ship is safe in the ocean so long as the ocean is not in the ship. The spirit is willing, etc.—They desired to watch with Him and thus show their sympathy and love for Him, but their bodies and minds were weak."

42. The second time—This goes the second and third time shows how great was the burden that lay upon Jesus' earnestness and perseverance. His prayer was answered, and answered in the same way that God answers our prayers. The angel strengthening Him (Luke) was a direct answer. What an example is this to us! If it was necessary for Christ to pray three times, how many times ought we to pray? "Their eyes were heavy—They could not keep them open; they were not able to resist drowsiness. Mark tells us that they knew not what to answer him when he aroused them from their slumbers. They had no excuse to offer. "It is a sad thing for the church to be sleeping while Christ is suffering and praying." 4. The same words—Not that Jesus merely repeated the same words each time, but these words were the substance of His prayer. This prayer is "a model" (1) of earnestness, (2) directness, (3) perseverance, (4) faith, (5) submission." V. Jesus betrayed (vs. 45-50). 45. Sleep on now—Jesus had gained the victory. The hour for watching was over and now they could take their rest. There was now, probably, a short period of time before the coming of the traitor. But Jesus was on the alert, and when He heard the approaching multitude and saw the lanterns and torches he aroused the sleepers. 45. Let us be going—To meet Judas and the soldiers. Jesus is ready; without hesitation He turns His face toward the terrible sufferings of the cross. 47. Great multitude—Composed of a detachment of the Roman cohort stationed in the Castle Antonia (John xviii, 3, 12, "the band"), of the Jewish temple-watch (Luke xxiii, 32, "the captains of the temple"); of others, including servants and dependents of the high priest (v. 51), and, in all probability, some fanatical chief priests and elders also (Luke xxiii, 52), who wished to witness the capture.—Schaff. Swords—Carried by the Roman soldiers. Staves—Or clubs, the arms of the temple-watch and the crowd. John adds also, what lay in the nature of the case, that they were provided with lanterns and torches, as well as weapons. 48. Kiss—Probably the usual salutation of the disciples to their Master. 49. Kissed Him—A stronger word than that used in the last verse. The sign was a kiss, but the performance a caressing.—Meyer. 50. Friend—A term of civility though not necessarily of friendship. Christ's meekness and gentleness surpass even the standard which He holds up for His disciples in Matt. v. 39.—Schaff.

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS.

In this lesson we find that the "place called Gethsemane" is, I. A place of supplication. "Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder" (v. 36). Secret prayer is a never-failing source of strength, comfort, safety and blessing (Matt. vi, 6). "Next to knowing Christ as Saviour and receiving the Holy Spirit, we know no act attended with larger good than the foundation of an undiscouraged resolution to keep the morning watch."—Frances Ridley Havergal, when asked why the church does not accomplish more, replied, "Because Christians are not spending the first hour of the day alone with God."

II. A place of sorrow. "He began to be sorrowful and very heavy, exceeding sorrowful, even unto death" (vs. 37, 38). Christ's anguish was not caused by the weakness of His disciples. He pitied them (v. 41), but did not suffer anguish from them. It was not caused by the wickedness of His enemies. He wept over them (Luke xix, 41); but there is no such anguish in those tears as He suffered in the garden. The secret lies deeper. Says Spurgeon, Christ endured mental agony so intense that, had it not been limited by divine interposition, it would have destroyed His life without any other sufferings.

III. A place of service. I. Service solicited. "Tarry ye here, and watch with Me" (v. 38). "Jesus did not ask them to drink of His cup of woe; nor to die with Him. He asked them to stand by Him and watch in the hour of His agony. Peter had just offered to lay down his life for the Master and no doubt would have done it had the sacrifice been demanded. Yet he failed in the lesser service. In small things rather than in great things we are apt to fail. Many a man would unflinchingly mount the scaffold and die for His Lord, who falls short every day in His service to Him in little things. It is easier to die for Christ than to live for Him." 2. Service slighted. "What could ye not watch with Me one hour?" (v. 40). James M. Campbell says, "To watch and wait are often harder than to work. We naturally long for action; strength and patience are taxed by enforced inactivity. When our hands are folded our strength waxes out of us."

IV. A place of submission. "Nevertheless not as I will, but as Thou wilt" (v. 29). The will of God was the delight of Jesus (Heb. x, 7; John iv, 34). Margaret Bottoms says she learned a lesson once from an old colored man, "I am of his fellow servants in passing up that some hot water over him, and she expected some bitter words in return for her carelessness. But instead, he only said with a quiet smile: 'Never mind. It's all in the will. It is such a wonderful thing for us to get hold of this. I am not talking of something away up in the clouds. There is a strain on our lives that need not be there. A hurry, worry and bustle that was not in his life, because He saw from moment to moment simply the will of the Father.'"

V. A place of sympathy. "Sleep on now, and take your rest. Rise, let us be going" (v. 45, 46). F. B. Meyer says, "Though the past is irrevocable, it is not irreparable. In the Garden of Gethsemane our Lord said mournfully to the chosen three, 'Sleep, but be instantly added, 'Rise.' The first sentence taught the irrevocableness of the past; they might as well sleep, for any good that watching could now do. But the second sentence taught that there was still a future before them, with new opportunities and hopes. So God Himself cannot undo the past. He can, and will forgive. He will not mention the past, but give us a fresh start."

STRIKE OF NEW YORK CHAFFEURS.

Want More Pay—Attacked Non-Union Man Who Used a Revolver—Police Take a Hand.

New York, Oct. 29.—Three hundred chaffeurs, employed by the New York Transportation Company, which operates 350 public electric cabs, went on strike to-day for an increase in wages. As a result nearly all the cabs remained in the big garage at 50th street and Eighth avenue to-day and many of the company's regular patrons were forced to patronize the elevated and subway trains to reach their places of business. The men declare they are compelled to report for work at the garage every morning at 7 o'clock and some days they are not given any work at all. They are paid at the rate of 10 2-3 cents an hour for the time they work. They demand for driving the ordinary machines a uniform wage of $2. for a 12 hour day. For the drivers of vehicles hired to private families the men demand $2.50 per day instead of $2.31, the amount they are now receiving. When a non-union man attempted to take one of the electric vehicles from the garage to-day he was set upon by a crowd of strikers, dragged from his seat and was being roughly handled when he drew a revolver and fired. No one was hit. Policemen drove off the crowd and made two arrests.

NEW BRUNSWICK SHIP'S PLIGHT.

BATTERED VESSEL TRYING TO REACH CUBA.

Her Captain Refused to be Taken Off—He and Six Men Perched on the Afterhouse of the Ship—Tossed by Wind and Seas—The Ship in Poor Shape.

New York, Oct. 29.—Somewhere far out in the Atlantic, off the Florida coast, half a dozen men, perched on the roof of the afterhouse of the waterlogged British schooner Sirocco, are struggling against wind and sea to reach a Cuban port with their almost helpless charge. The plight of the men is due in part to the heroic devotion of their captain, who when help was at hand, chose to face death rather than abandon his ship and her cargo of lumber. He declined an offer of assistance from the steamer Par-ima, which ran down on him last Sunday, when she was wallowing in the seas six hundred miles east of Florida. The captain asked only that he be given supplies to replace those which were ruined when his ship filled with water. When the Sirocco was taken to the captain and his crew settled down in their precarious quarters on the roof of the afterhouse and announced their determination to sail the Sirocco to Cuba. The Sirocco sailed from St. John, N. B., on Sept. 27, with a cargo of lumber. It went well until Oct. 5th, when off the coast of Maryland she ran into a fearful hurricane. Pounded and battered by wind and sea the Sirocco was thrown about like a cork, some of her seams were ripped open and she began to fill. Before the storm had abated her hull was filled, her decks washed and deckhouses were flooded. All the stores for the voyage which were in the houses were ruined and she was so badly damaged that a sad plight when the Parima hove in sight. With the aid of the provisions supplied by the Parima the captain expressed the hope that they would be able to reach Cuba in safety. The Sirocco is owned by Troop & Son, of St. John, N. B.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature. In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home remedies from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them. All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love. But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

Some other source of income had to be found. Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the only one that can be taken by the weak and the young. The three sons and the daughter, with whose name it bears.

Market Reports —OF— The Week.

CHEESE MARKETS.

London.—Three factories offered 530 white and 150 colored cheese at to-day's market. No sales. Bidding 12c. Brockville.—At the regular meeting of the cheese board here to-day, 2,255 cheese were offered, 2,045 colored, balance white; 12 1/2c bid, and about three-quarters sold at that price. Burlington.—There were boarded 2,432 white and 230 colored cheese here to-day. Sales were: 2,045 colored, balance white; 12 1/2c; 22 1/2c; 21c; white at 12 1/2c; balance on short 12 1/2c. Cowansville, Que.—At the weekly meeting of the Eastern Townships Dairyman's Association held here to-day, 2,255 cheese were offered: 615 boxes cheese. Sales of cheese: boxes at 12 1/2c; Gen. Langlois & Co., 50 boxes at 22 1/2c, and 75 boxes at 12 1/2c; all sold.

FLOUR PRICES.

Flour—Manitoba patent, $3.75, track, Toronto; Ontario, 99 cent. patent, $2.35 bid; export Manitoba patent, special brands, $1.50; strong balers, $4.

TORONTO SUGAR MARKET.

St. Lawrence sugars are quoted as follows: Granulated, $4.48 in barrels, and No. 1, $4.18; white at 12 1/2c; These prices are for delivery here; car lots 5c less.

MANITOBA WHEAT.

At the Winnipeg option market to-day the following were the closing quotations: Oct. 14 1/2c bid, Nov. 14 1/2c, Dec. 13 1/2c, May 12 1/2c.

TORONTO FARMERS' MARKET.

Deliveries of grain at St. Lawrence Market this morning showed little improvement. Barley receipts were very light and prices are firm. Oats are firm. Hay is quoted a little easier this morning with more of it coming in.—Wheat—Steady, 100 bushels selling at 75c. Buckwheat—One load sold unchanged at 55c. Barley—Firm, with 100 bushels selling at 64c. Oats—Firm, about 200 bushels selling at 40c. Hay—Lower, about 20 loads sold at $12 to $13.50. Dressed hogs—Market is easy and quiet, prices unchanged at $9 for choice light-weights and $8.50 for heavies. Butter—The market is firm and prices range from 28c to 30c. Eggs—On the farmers' market this morning there has been a selling from 28c to 35c per dozen. The retailers' highest price for guaranteed eggs is 35c, but farmers seem to have no difficulty in getting higher. Poultry—There is a good demand for poultry at firmer prices, but the supply is light. To many chickens are brought in before they are half grown, keeping the quality rather poor.

TORONTO FRUIT MARKET.

The deliveries of Canadian fruits down at the warehouses of the wholesale firms yesterday reminded one of the "big" days down on Scott street. Of grapes there was a fairly good supply and the quality of some of the Niagara has been surpassed on the market this season. A few belated peaches were offered, but there is little or no demand for peaches and prices are falling low. Some green tomatoes were offered yesterday and the prices run from 20c to 25c a basket. The importations of foreign nuts and fruits are already beginning to come forward in large quantities. Early shipments of the new crop of figs show an excellent sample. Altogether the wholesale market is very active. To many chickens are brought in before they are half grown, keeping the quality rather poor. SIR WM. MACDONALD.

Among the stockholders of the defunct Ontario Bank the name of Sir William Macdonald figures prominently as the holder of several hundred shares. This is one stockholder over whom the public will not waste much sympathy, for no one in Canada better than Sir William is entitled to a few hundred dollars. This Scotch Knight, who earned his money by making chivalry a business of the masses, and whose title came through benefactions to McGill University, is a great believer in putting his surplus capital into bank stocks. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that he owns a small matter of a million dollars worth of Bank of Montreal securities, being by far the largest holder of that institution, and upon whose board of directors he also sits. Sir William is little like the average director of Canada's institutions. He wants to know what is going on in the bank, and he knows, too, for seldom is it that Sir William misses a board meeting; and again, he is of an enquiring turn of mind, and likes to get at the bottom of business matters.—Toronto Saturday Night.

is used. This scientific remedy never fails to cure even cases of long standing which have been given up as hopeless. After investigating the matter thoroughly, Mr. C. W. Mack, the rubber stamp manufacturer, Toronto, and cousin of Dr. Mack, has given this remedy his fullest endorsement, and substantially backed the doctor in placing it before the public. Bradstreet on Trade.

Montreal.—General trade here continues to show a good tone. The sorting trade is rather more active in all lines. Heavy dry goods lines are moving better, following touches of winter by several parts of the country. Western trade in particular has indulged in a spurt in this account. Shipments of goods to the west have been particularly heavy during the past few weeks, and they will continue so until the close of navigation puts an end to lake and rail freight rates. Wholesale merchants continue to draw attention to the fact that dry goods purchases run largely into the better classes of goods, showing the prosperous condition of the community generally. Cotton prices here have advanced 3 to 5 per cent. on denims, tickings, shirtings and ginghams, and quotations on other lines are withdrawn. The grocery trade continues a little quiet, while hardware is very active, with metals and general lines firm in tone. Pig iron and bars are particularly firm. Country trade is fairly brisk, and there are few complaints regarding collections.

Toronto.—Business conditions here continue to move quietly. The closing of the Ontario Bank has had practically no effect upon trade conditions in any way. The stock market has continued to show slight uneasiness, but nothing of any pronounced nature. General business affairs reflect the continued prosperity of all parts of the country. This has been particularly commended upon by dry goods merchants, who, as a body, are exceedingly well pleased with trade conditions here. The grocery trade is opening out well. Orders from western Canada are good, and heavy shipments of all lines are going forward. Prices generally show firmness. The market for country produce here is active.

Winnipeg.—There is a cheerful tone to all lines of trade here. The value of the country of the early marketing of grain is being well set forth this year. Collections are better. All lines of trade report a satisfactory business. The sorting trade in dry goods is brisk, and there has been an improvement in the demand for winter lines. Groceries are active, with a firmer tendency to nearly all lines. Arrivals of hardware from the east are heavy and will continue so until after the close of navigation.

Vancouver and Victoria.—There is little change to business conditions along the coast. Following unusual activity in all lines of industry and a steadily growing population the demand for goods of all kinds is very brisk. Never before has the retail trade shown such continued activity as it has during the past two years.

Hamilton.—There is now a good sorting trade for all winter lines. Dry goods are particularly active, but the movement in hardware is also very brisk. Values hold firm, but despite this fact the demand is very largely for goods of the better class. Travellers in the country speak very hopefully of prospects for future trade. Collections are generally good.

London.—The movement of wholesale and retail stocks here continues brisk. Country trade is in good condition. Ottawa.—There is a continued good tone to all lines of trade here. Collections are generally good.

Won at Last

"Suppose we go and find him," said Kenneth to Mary, who blushed vividly, and saying, "you like," rose and went to find her.

Then he was so very reasonable. He had not worried her with any expressive looks or words which insinuated to her that he was in love with her.

Waring listened apparently with much interest, and occasionally made an observation which proved it; then she herself became absorbed in the charm of style and idea, and she read on for some time without looking up.

"I can repeat the two last sentences," said Waring, and he did so. "I liked books better than I did," he continued.

"I did not think I should put our friendship to the test so soon," he said. "This is not a test, as you know, but I was not; I was only dreaming heavenly dreams."

Waring was now permitted to take exercise, and was rapidly recovering. "What shall I read next?" asked Mona. "There is an article on the South—"

CHAPTER XXV. Uncle Sandy had rarely appeared to such advantage as he did on this occasion. Leslie Waring was associated with perhaps the only well-spring of romance that had ever bubbled up for him in the somewhat arid plain of his life.

"I do not think that Mary is in love with him," said Waring. "I hope you are right," said her uncle, slowly; then, after a pause, he began to struggle to his feet.

Waring really loved Mary, or any other woman, how was she to endure it? The terrible conviction grew upon her that she loved her rejected lover with all the warmth and tenderness of her fine rich nature, not in any half-hearted way, but glowingly, completely.

"Then, I should have misunderstood him; we should have drifted apart, as we shall now; but at least I do him justice. All that remains to me is to hide my own feelings, to enter the ranks once more."

"I suppose I ought to clear out of this in about a fortnight," said Waring, as if to himself. "Do not think of travelling until you feel sure of your strength," returned Mona, earnestly.

"I see very little change in him, except that he looks a good deal older," said Waring. "And he has the family estate now? I dare say he will make a good landlord. He understands his own interest."

"I suppose I ought to clear out of this in about a fortnight," said Waring, as if to himself. "Do not think of travelling until you feel sure of your strength," returned Mona, earnestly.

HORSE INDUSTRY OF ONTARIO.

INVESTIGATION BY THE ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

At the last session of the Legislature the Minister of Agriculture secured an appropriation for the purpose of making an investigation into the condition of the horse industry in the Province of Ontario.

Following are the principal points which will be considered in the course of the investigation: 1. The number, type, quality and breeding of stallions and brood mares in the Province.

2. What conditions have affected or are affecting the quality and number of stallions and brood mares in the various sections of the Province, and if the effect is for good whether or not the same conditions could be applied in other sections, and if the conditions have not a good effect what could be done to improve them.

3. What class of horses can most profitably be raised in different sections of the Province under the natural conditions found in those sections. 4. The system of owning horses by a syndicate and any other plan at present adopted in Ontario other than private ownership.

5. The views of horsemen generally as to the advisability of a stallion inspection act. 6. Suggestions from those interested in the horse business as to what can be done to improve conditions of the horse business generally.

In order to procure this information the Province will be divided into eight districts. Two competent and expert horsemen have been selected and allotted to each district. From five to six weeks will be spent in each district by the committee appointed for that district. The districts will be composed of a number of counties grouped together, the number in each district being decided by the length of time required to go through a county. Each county will require from four to nine days. The information regarding stallions will be as detailed as possible, each stallion in the Province being inspected. The information regarding mares cannot be got so accurately, but a great deal of information can be procured from the stallion owners in each district as to the number, type and quality of the brood mares, the committee having an opportunity of confirming this by noting the appearance of the mares seen while travelling through the district. Regarding the other matters of a more general nature, information will be procured by close observation and by conversation with those met by the committee who have any knowledge of the local conditions.

In addition to the work as above outlined, it is being arranged to have one public meeting in each county at some point centrally located, and where a special interest is taken in the horse industry. The object of the meeting is to give any person who so desires an opportunity of expressing his views to the committee. The meeting in each county will be held immediately after the work in that county.

In each Farmers' Institute district the secretary has been asked to assist in the work of procuring the names and addresses of the stallion owners and laying out the most convenient route for the committee to follow while in his district. He has also been asked to accompany the committee, and to arrange for the public meeting in the county. In cases where the secretary is unable to do the work, the president of the Farmers' Institute has been asked to make the necessary arrangements. The dates and points at which the public meetings will be held have been selected. Arrangements have also been completed for the dates allowed for each institute division, and the points at which committees will transfer from one institute district to the one following.

The work should have the sympathy and co-operation of all owners of stallions and of all who are interested in the horse industry. It is hoped that the committees will be given every facility for procuring the information required, and that every person interested will take advantage of the opportunity being given to express his views as to how the horse industry of this Province can best be improved.

earth to produce great havoc among the peaceful citizens of Calcutta. This step was a great impression on many of the bystanders, some of whom observed that the shout lay his hand on those near him. Some superstitious Hindus went so far as to lay flowers and garlands on the spot with the object of warding off evil. During the latter part of the day the crowd largely increased and traffic was much inconvenienced. The European police officer on duty had a lot of trouble in dispersing the crowd and the scene was altogether very amusing. People were sometimes running away for fear the ghost should devour them, and then coming back to the spot out of curiosity to see whether any further development had taken place. Indeed, curiosity and timidity were in conflict with each other throughout. The matter was at last brought to the notice of the municipal authorities. In order to remove all doubts the place was excavated. At the time of excavation the people round remained spellbound and anxiously awaited some timid Gorys ran away in fear. The image of some god which they seemed to expect to rise high up into the sky, and coolies engaged in the work of digging were hesitating every moment whether they should proceed any further in their hazardous enterprise. But alas! There was nothing to be seen. The portion of the footpath was dug up to the depth of some four feet, but in vain. The crowd had rather thickened and the excitement had not subsided. Some eight constables were appointed to clear the traffic and secure order.

A fresh sensation was caused among the Mohammedans by the discovery below the flagging of the impressions of a hand—Punjab, as the Mohammedans say. This is the Mohammedan standard, certainly in Bengal, and a strong belief prevails among some of the unlettered of the community that underneath is the tomb of a pious saint, and it is taken by some as a sign of the return of Mohammedan ascendancy. The precise explanation of the occurrence is that the flagging was laid some years ago in the presence of a large number of people, and that the accumulation of water under the pavement caused a large flagstone to bulge, assuming the shape of a tomb. LACK OF ENERGY.

A Common Trouble Among Growing Boys—A New Blood Supply is Needed—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make New Blood.

There are thousands of young men just approaching manhood who have no energy, who tire out at the least exertion, and who feel by the time they have done their day's work as though the day was a week long. In some of these cases there is a further sign of warning in the pimples and disfiguring eruptions which break out on the face. These are certain signs that the blood is out of order, and unless it is promptly enriched, a complete breakdown or perhaps consumption may be the result. All these young men should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make rich, red, blood, clear the skin of pimples and eruptions, and bring health, strength and energy. Here is a bit of proof. Adolphe Roland, St. Jerome, Que., is a young man of 9 years, who says: "For more than a year I suffered from general weakness, and I gradually grew so weak that I was forced to abandon my work as a clerk. My appetite failed me, I had occasional violent headaches, and I began to suffer from indigestion. I was failing so rapidly that I began to fear that consumption was fastening itself upon me. Our family doctor treated me, but I did not gain under his care. I was in a very discouraged state when a friend from Montreal came to see me. He strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and inside of three weeks I began to feel better. My appetite began to improve and I seemed to have a feeling of new courage. I continued the pills until I had taken ten boxes and I am now enjoying the best of health I ever had. My cure surprised many of my friends who began to regard me as incurable, and I strongly advise other young men who are weak to follow my example and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

There is no mystery about the cures Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make. These pills actually make rich, red blood, which braces and strengthens every organ and every nerve in the body. That is why these pills cure all common ailments like anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, headaches and backaches and the special ailments of women and growing girls. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

WAITING FOR THE DOCTOR.

How tiresome it all is. When you get there, breathless perhaps, because somebody is dreadfully sick at home and needs the doctor in the worst way, you may be told that the doctor is out, but is expected in every minute. Will you wait? Or he may be at supper and will see you shortly. You sit down, and if there are others waiting, you count the number of people who are ahead of you, and then as the minutes accumulate you begin to look at your watch and wonder why he doesn't come, and how the sick one at home is feeling. There is generally an awful silence in that waiting room, except when the bell rings and somebody else comes in and wants to know if the doctor is in. By this time the waiters are feeling mighty blue, thinking hard thoughts about the callousness of the doctor. A few papers and magazines are lying around and you pick up one of them, but you cannot concentrate your mind on it. You keep turning over the leaves and listening for the sound of the bell or the footfall of the doctor. And what a relief when he does make his appearance. It feels as if a heavy load were lifted off your shoulders, the world looks brighter, and as you see the man of medicine bowing you into his laboratory or reception room you forget the long, weary wait, and talk to him as pleasantly as possible, he never suspecting the uncharitable thoughts you were harboring against him a few minutes before.

GIVE CAPITAL A HOLIDAY.

Might it well be done to set aside a holiday for down-trodden capital? This would afford the capitalist an opportunity, now not possible by its absence, for the expression of his views. Just as Labor Day the radical leader makes a point in his public utterances of emphasizing his conservatism, so on Capital Day the possessor of vast accumulations might dwell with convincing earnestness upon his innate sympathy with his presumably less fortunate brethren and point the way for his associates, at any rate, to live better and broader lives. Under present conditions the millionaire is at a disadvantage as contrasted with the spokesman of the toilers.

A CALCUTTA MYSTERY.

Many Strange Theories to Account for a Bulge in the Pavement.

The other day a portion of the pavement near the steps of the general post office began to bulge and one of the heavy stones of the steps was found to have become loose. Immediately an immense crowd gathered on the spot. Stories went round that there was once a temple of the Hindu god Shiva on the spot and that the god was rising to the surface. Some Mohammedans, on the other hand, said that the Black Hole tragedy occurred there and that the dead bodies of the brave Europeans who were cruelly massacred by the Nawab Siraj were rising up to wreak their deadly vengeance upon the Mohammedans. Another timid person invented a curious story which spread great consternation among the up-country Gorys and Hindus. He declared that underneath the stone pavement there was once a grave and the spirit of the dead was coming out of the

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. Do not neglect any constipation by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated.

SOPERTON

Death has again visited our midst, claiming as its victim Harriet M. De-Long, beloved wife of Napoleon B. Howard. For some time past the deceased has been patiently suffering from the dread disease, cancer, to which she finally succumbed.

The late Mrs. Howard was a woman of sterling quality, a woman with a sweet christian character, beloved by all who knew her, young and old alike. She had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances by whom she was held in the highest esteem and by whom she will be sadly missed. Her last days were made happier by the presence of her son, Rev. W. Howard who came to visit his parents some weeks ago. She was a life long and consistent member of the Methodist church.

Her husband and sons—Hilliard at home and Rev W. Howard pastor of the Methodist church, Stevensville, Montana, have the deepest sympathy of the whole community in this their sad bereavement.

A MODELITE EPISODE

Oh, we had fun de odder night,
Oh, we had fun, you bet,
I laff so awful great big much
I can't get o'er it yet.
You know, we went to Livingston's,
Eight miles or so away,
Two great big loads went to their home
On that eventful day.

Yep, we got started 'bout haf past six,
De girls dey take so long,
An on de way agoin dere
We sing many an Irish song.
When we got dere twas not so late
An several games we start,
But de most important of all dese
Was de game dat affects de heart.

Now, don't tell me Max can't play
Finch,
Or Jennie can't play Pitt,
Dey get so awful excited
I thought dey habin a fit.
My business was tar look after all
An see dey do things right,
But I couldn't watch all dat bunch,
Try wid all my might.

Dey weren't dere very long, I know,
When dey begin ter scatter,
An every room was occupied,
Even de parlor, for dat matter.
The occupants of dis last room
Dey sung erbout er lot,
Dey said dat he was Irish
An I can't tell yer what.

After all dis dey fed us,
You bet we were fed up top,
Den again dey sung erbout dat pork
Till I thought dey'd never stop.
'Nother while 'twas time ter go,
Our friends we bid good bye,
An many were gotten weary
An sleep on both ob de eye.

We climb inter those two rigs,
De covered one was de best—
I can tell you about de two front seats,
But don't know erbout de rest.
De odder rig was jolly, too,
Cause Wiltsie in dat did land,
Dere was music in his soul dat night
While de fan was in his hand.

Now he got his, you can bet,
No doubt, he's got it now,
An if he don't share some of it
Dere's goin ter be a row.
If yer can't tell what I mean
You'll have to make a guess,
For I promised him, upon my word,
I wouldn't tell de res.

Ob course, dere was much more happened,
But I couldn't see all you know,
An if I didn't see everything
Could yer say dat I was slow!
So, if dis news is not enough,
Just ask one of de crowd
'Who occupied de parlor?'
But don't yer say it loud.

ME.

P.S.—The Frankville crowd are awful friendly, they're friendly as a brother—they put the two front wheels on one side and the two back ones on the other.

Another Voice

MY MURMUR
And now I will begin my rhyme
Although it mayn't be right—
I'll try and describe unto you
The time we had last night.

And now, dear Mr. Editor,
Please give me time to laugh,
For as I sit here, pen in hand,
I can't remember half.

It was a sort of muddled thing,
For at a gener' run,
Each fellow, if he took his share,
Had nearly three to one.

We left the dock at half past six,
The moon-shine shone on me—
I think the rest were in the shade,
Although I couldn't see.

When we were 'bout a mile on
Our way to Frankville Hill,
I roused myself from out my sleep
And found that all was still.

I was just nestling down to dream
When, like the owl's knell,
M—, with a ringing voice, cried out
"Thumbs up, and all is well."

For in the silvery moonlight there,
I shudder to relate,
Each clung unto her partner's hand
For fear the truck would break.

At last we reached, with Gilbert's aid
(For he provided light),
The house where, as I said before,
We had the fun that night.

Now, as I'm nearly lost for rhyme,
My chum will tell some more,
Of how they paroled two small pigs
While I stood by the door.

My chum will sing a mournful song,
At least more like a toll,
But I have sung full loud and long,
For there's music in my soul.

"IMPERIAL" IS THE NAME of the Overcoat of latest style and cut this winter. It comes in all plain colors, such as blue, black and grey, as well as the mixed colorings. It is quite close fitting in the waist, the skirt is quite full, the shoulders are extra broad and high. This coat is sure to be in style for two or three years. We have it at prices from $12.50 to $20.00.

Young man, heed not these words—
"O, This is Just as Good as the Imperial."

There is none just as good; but there is more profit for "the just as good" coat to the merchant. To look as good as the best dressed man you saw the other day, you must get inside of an "Imperial" overcoat.

It is a Sure Cure for the Shabby Feeling

Semi-Ready stores all over this country sell coats like the "Imperial," for we must ever make good our reputation of being the gateway to the better appearance of men and boys.

OVER TWENTY PERSONS ARE BURNED TO DEATH.

Four Storey Chamber of Commerce in Kansas City Destroyed by Fire.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29.—More than a score of lives are believed to have been lost in a fire that destroyed the four-storey Chamber of Commerce building in the River View district of Kansas City, Kansas, early to-day. When the fire broke out 200 persons were asleep in the building, the three upper floors of which were occupied by families and lodgers. The walls of the building were of brick and stone, but the floors and partitions were of wood.

No register was kept of the occupants, and it is not known exactly how many persons were in the building. Several hours must elapse before the ruins can be searched. Estimates of the number of dead are based largely on the number reported missing.

The dead so far as positively known are: Robert Burton, stone mason; Lynch, driver; infant child of John A. Sparks.

Lynch, with the Sparks baby in his arms, jumped from the second storey into the building, and fell into the ruins, and both perished. Among the seriously injured are: Unknown baby, fatally injured, dropped from second floor; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sparks, severely burned; Arthur Childers, policeman, run over by hose wagon, may die; J. H. Branham, wagon maker, jumped from fourth storey, both legs fractured; W. J. Morely, Missouri Pacific fireman, fractured thigh and scalp wounds; Thomas Connor, blacksmith, severely burned; E. O. Erhart, fireman, hands burned by sliding on rope; F. P. McAuley, fireman, but by falling glass; Frank Ottomano, railway mail clerk, cut and bruised; Mrs. J. H.

Rose, hands burned by sliding on rope from fourth floor; Patrick Hurley, railroad laborer, hip broken.

Charles Carlin, engineer of the Nelson Morris Packing Co., was sick with typhoid fever on the third floor, and is missing. Fred Taft, the negro janitor, is missing. He alone has a list of tenants, and could tell who are missing.

Mrs. Frances Pergueck, who lived on the third floor, reports her husband and baby missing.

Eight families lived on the fourth floor, ten on the third, eight on the second. There were many children in these families.

Firemen assisted most of the inmates to safety, and the half-clad refugees hurried away to shelter, so that when an attempt was made later to learn if all the families had escaped it was difficult to obtain authentic information.

Other Details. Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29.—In the ruins of the old Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City, Kansas, destroyed by fire early to-day, there are anywhere from half a dozen to thirty bodies, according to estimates given out today by firemen who had worked at the scene all night. On the other hand Assistant Fire Chief Lind said the dead would not number more than six.

At 8 o'clock this morning the body of D. R. Young, a laborer, aged 62 years, was removed from the ruins. Young lived on the fourth floor with his family. Their fate is not known.

Of the injured, scattered among half a dozen hospitals and various private homes, 25 were more or less seriously hurt. Two or three of these will die.

The building was erected 14 years ago. For the last few years it has been used as an apartment house.

FIFTY-SEVEN MAY GO.

Said They Were Caught Receiving Bribes for Free Passages.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—(Special).—Absolute silence prevails in official Grand Trunk circles here as to the dismissal of the conductors from the service. Messrs. F. H. McGuigan and Blackler, the two heads of the department concerned are out of the city and other subordinates will not make any statement. Mr. Hays returned from New York this morning, but declined to discuss the question of the conductors on the plea of ignorance of the details. However, it has leaked out that about fifty-seven conductors on lines between Montreal and Port Huron will lose their jobs.

Detectives have been on their track for some months, and it is said they have been caught receiving bribes for free passages. Consternation reigns among the conductors here. One of them stated today that the Railway Commission's investigation would take the matter up and fight the case for them.

INDIAN WORK NEEDS.

Methodist Women's Missionary Society Addressed by Missionaries to Foreign Fields—Thanks to Dr. Carman and Dr. Sutherland.

A Belleville despatch: This morning's session of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society was largely occupied with discussing the needs of the Indian work. Dr. Sutherland was present, and by request of the board contributed useful and necessary information. On motion of Mesdames McKay and Knox, it was decided that the rebuilding of the Kitamaat Home, with all matters pertaining thereto, be left to a joint committee. Before the morning session closed the following resolution, on motion of Mesdames Wright and McKay, was unanimously carried: "That the thanks of this convention be tendered the General Superintendent, Dr. Carman, and the Missionary Secretary, Dr. Sutherland, for their presence with us on the occasion of the silver anniversary."

At the afternoon's session the Secretary of the Supply Committee, Mrs. Briggs, Toronto, gave an interesting report of the year's effort. Two hundred and twenty-five auxiliaries, circles, bands and leagues have been organized, and the happiness and comfort of hundreds of people on sixty-eight missions. The approximate value of the goods sent is over seven thousand dollars.

An hour with the missionaries was replete with tender associations; the Misses Wellwood, Woodworth and Steele, three young ladies under appointment to China, told the story of their call to the work. Miss Crombie, who has given ten years of faithful effort in Japan, addressed the board. Miss Brimston, China, home on furlough after five years of successful service, spoke of the joy she found in the work. Dr. Ann Henry, the beloved physician, Miss Brimston's co-worker, made an urgent plea for more workers for China's whitening harvest fields. Miss Preston, one of the standard bearers of this board in Japan, spoke briefly.

H. N. GLADSTONE.

GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH THE CANADIAN WEST.

Son of Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone in Montreal on His Return From the Pacific Coast—Thinks People From the United States an Acquisition to the Country.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—Harry Neville Gladstone, third son of the late Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, was in Montreal to-day on his return from his first trip to the Pacific coast. In an interview he said: "Everywhere I was immensely struck by the activity of the people and by the extraordinary prospects. During my tour I heard something about capitalists from the United States coming in here and starting industries, and it seemed to me that was all for the good of the country. I also saw quite a number of American farmers who have come in and taken up farms, and it seems to me they are an immense advantage to the country, for they are thoroughly familiar with the methods of farming required and have the capital to start with. I shall have no hesitation, when I get home, in recommending all my friends to come out here and invest their money, for there are great opportunities, and general conditions are thoroughly sound."

VISITED THE POPE.

HIS HOLINESS SENDS GREETINGS TO EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Rome, Oct. 29.—The Pope to-day received the German Foreign Secretary, Herr von Tschirsky, and Frau von Tschirsky, who were accompanied by the Prussian Minister to the Vatican, Baron von Rotenhan. He asked his visitors to take seats and entered into a cordial conversation with them, which lasted half an hour. He then, which lasted half an hour. He then, which lasted half an hour. He then, which lasted half an hour.

REFUSED HIM

AND HE WOUNDED HER AND KILLED HIMSELF.

New York, Oct. 29.—Because she had refused to marry him, Frank Dorsey fired four bullets at Miss Josephine Schmidt. Believing he had killed her he then shot himself dead. The young woman was only slightly wounded in one leg. The shooting occurred in a Fourth avenue bird store where both were employed.

JAPAN ANGRY WITH THE STATES.

Protest Against Exclusion of Children from Schools.

United States Helpless and Situation is Serious.

Japan's Rights Infringed Upon—France Getting Interested.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco has become an international affair of serious importance, and is worrying the Administration. Count Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador, to-day informed Secretary of State Root that the Japanese Government desired that the treaty rights of the Japanese in the United States be not infringed upon. This treaty gives citizens and subjects of the Japanese Empire all of the rights and privileges enjoyed by natives and citizens of this country, and it now seems certain that in the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco there has really been a serious breach of provisions of the Treaty of Commerce and Amity between the United States and Japan, which was drawn in 1894.

The Administration finds itself in a peculiarly difficult position, although the case is not at all unprecedented. A parallel is found in the killing of Italian in Louisiana in 1899, when Chief of Police Hennessy, of New Orleans, was killed by members of the Italian Mafia. The case of the exclusion of Japanese children from California schools is identical. The Government at Washington has absolutely no control, and can do nothing further than to call the attention of the authorities in San Francisco to the serious situation which has been brought about, and to ask that they take some measures to remedy the conditions.

There is no concealment in Washington of the fact that an anti-American sentiment is rapidly growing in Japan. The Japanese Embassy it is said that the people of Japan do not understand that the discrimination against Japanese is confined to only one locality in the United States. There have been numerous other incidents which might be attributed to the growth of the feeling against America in Japan, but they are all insignificant when compared with the exclusion of the children from the schools. This the Japanese resent more than anything else. They are resenting a child-loving race, and discrimination of anyone against the Japanese children will find a ready and powerful exposition of distaste and objection.

The protest of the Ambassador from Japan to Secretary Root to-day was more or less informal, but, nevertheless, it brings the matter up in such a way that something must be done. The Ambassador told Mr. Root that his people at home would misunderstand the situation, and he spoke of the feeling already aroused. Through advice from Ambassador Luke E. Wright, in Tokio, Mr. Root already knows of the conditions in Japan, and he is worried about them.

There is no decrease in the feeling in Washington that if the emphy of Japan should be incurred the commercial interests of the United States in the Far East will suffer to a very great extent.

Europe is Anxious. Paris, Oct. 29.—The news agencies have from time to time lately brought word of the differences between Japan and the United States in greater or less detail, intimating that they might result in an armed clash between the two countries. The peculiarly happy relations of England with the United States, Japan and France, which she complacently regarded as a problem, which the anxious ones are contemplating. It is only fair to say that sober opinion regards a war between Japan and the United States as ridiculously improbable, but this feeling has not been so strong as to prevent great and powerful men of France from taking measures to-day to obtain the best possible information as to what the immediate future has in store.

London, Oct. 29.—In a despatch from Tokyo, the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Japanese Foreign Office has received a reply through Ambassador Viscount Suzo Aoki, at Washington, to the effect that the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco was quite a local affair. The American Government was not aware of the details of the incident until after the receipt of the cablegrams from Japan. The American Ambassador at Tokyo, Luke W. Wright, has given pledges that the United States will not discriminate against Japanese and other foreign children, and that she undertakes to protect Japanese interests fully. Baron Kentaro Kaneko, a member of the Privy Council, the correspondent continues, in the course of an interview on this subject, said the incident was lamentable in view of the ever increasing friendship between Japan and the United States. He applauded the moderate tone of the Japanese press, which he declared to be based upon gratitude. He said further there was no doubt evidence that Japan was deeply pained at the action of the San Francisco authorities, but it was universally held that the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools was an outcome of the present electoral campaign in the United States.

Suit at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—Judge Wolverton of the United States Circuit Court, yesterday issued an order to the Board of Education of San Francisco commanding that body to show cause why an injunction compelling the reinstatement of I. Yasuhara, a Japanese pupil recently excluded from the Pacific Heights grammar school, should not be issued.

The board is ordered to answer on Nov. 5. This order was issued following an application for an injunction presented to Judge Wolverton with the intention of making this a test case. The application for the injunction is made on the ground that the present resolution of the Board of Education, excluding Japanese children from the city schools, is in violation of the constitution of the United States and the Empire of Japan.

A mass meeting held here by the Japanese last evening discussed the present situation regarding these children's exclusion.

CHINA AWAKENED.

MILITARY MANOEUVRES ADDED A SURPRISE TO THE WORLD.

China's Armies Much Improved—Operations Almost Equal to Those in European Countries.

Changtsofu, Oct. 29.—A notable feature of the autumn manoeuvres of the Chinese Imperial army, which began last Monday in the neighborhood of Changtsofu, has been the presence in the field of portable wireless telegraph apparatus carried upon light wagons and so adjusted that it can be erected in less than thirty minutes. These stations were operated by Chinese officers belonging to the telegraph corps.

The manoeuvres came to an end yesterday with victory for the northern army. At a village five miles south of Changtsofu this army succeeded in checking the advances of the southern army. The manoeuvres began with cavalry operations followed on Wednesday by artillery practice. All arms displayed excellent discipline. Experienced military observers are of the opinion that, with the exception of certain minor defects and making allowances for the fact that these operations were an experiment, the manoeuvres were almost equal to those conducted in European countries.

The artillery and the principal equipment of the troops were manufactured in Japan. The northern army undoubtedly was better clothed and equipped than the southern. It also displayed better organization, and had more efficient advisers.

To-day the proceedings came to an end with a grand review of both armies, including all branches, at the conclusion of which Yuan Shi Kai, Commander-in-Chief of the forces, invited the foreign observers to lunch. It is estimated that the manoeuvres cost $500,000.

WANT THREE-CENT FARE.

The Detroit Anti-Franchise League Not Satisfied.

Detroit, Oct. 29.—The anti-franchise league, composed of prominent citizens who are opposed to the granting of the new franchise sought for by the present city railway system, which the railway company exploits as "the lowest rates of fare in the world," is negotiating with Mr. F. S. Spence, of Toronto, to come to Detroit and speak at a big mass meeting within two weeks. It was intended to have Mayor Dunne, of Chicago, present, but he cannot come on account of the election.

The franchise offered gives ten tickets for twenty-five cents with universal transfers from 5 to 8 a. m. and 4.30 to 6.30 p. m., and six tickets for twenty-five cents the rest of the day. The Democratic candidate for Mayor, Mr. Thompson, is fighting for a straight three-cent fare with transfers good during twenty-four hours of the day.

TOOK TOO MUCH.

DONATED PART OF HIS SKIN, BUT DOCTORS STOLE MORE.

Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—Alleging that he was robbed of thirty-six inches of skin, William J. Doll filed a suit in Common Pleas Court to-day to recover $10,000 from J. S. Atkins and Dr. George A. Fackler and J. C. Oliver. The doctors are two of the most prominent surgeons in the city, who performed an operation transferring epidermis from Doll's thighs to Atkins to hasten the healing of injuries the latter had sustained in an automobile accident.

In his unusual petition Doll states that he made a contract with Atkins and the surgeons permitting the transplanting of six inches of skin from his limbs to cover Atkins' wounds, but that while he was under the influence of the anaesthetic and helpless the surgeons helped themselves and peeled off an extra yard or a total of forty-two inches.

TWO DUELS.

ONE MAN WOUNDED IN THE ARM, THE OTHER IN THE LEG.

Havana, Oct. 29.—Two duels in which three of the combatants received injuries which disabled them, were fought in Havana yesterday. City Councilman Ramon, Mendoza, who acted as aid de camp to General Leonard Wood, during the first period of American intervention had sent a challenge to Eduardo Alonzo, an editorial writer on El Mundo, alleging offensive editorial expressions. These two men fought with broad swords and each sustained a severe cut in the arm. Dr. Manuel Socades, a former insurgent officer, had challenged Capt. Poey, who was at one time aide de camp to ex-President Palma, because of an alleged personal insult during a political discussion. In this fight Capt. Poey was badly wounded by a sword thrust in the leg.

THE "VOICE" CALLED.

Former Toronto Student Elopes With Chicago Authoress.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—The friends of Myrtle Reed, authoress, learned to-day of her elopement to Grand Haven, Mich., with Sydney McCullough, to whom she was married by Rev. Francis Whigham, of the Episcopal Church. The formal announcement of the wedding was made to-day by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Reed.

The wedding occurred on Monday, when the bride's friends were expecting cards for an elaborate ceremony. Mrs. McCullough is widely known as the authoress of "Lavender and Old Lace," "The Master's Violin," "Sign of the Jack o' Lantern," and "Shadow of Victory." Her first literary success was "Love Letters of a Musician."

Her marriage is the result of a romance that began when Miss Reed was a high school girl in Chicago. As editor of "The Voice," a West Division High School publication, she corresponded with a Toronto student, who was the managing editor of a college paper, and who is now her husband.

ONTARIO BANK.

M'GILL IN POLICE COURT—THE COCKBURN CASE.

A Toronto, Ont., special report says: The case of Charles McGill, ex-manager of the Ontario Bank, charged with making false returns to the Government, was called in the Police Court this morning. G. Grant, in the absence of his partner, E. J. Johnston, K. C., asked that the case be remanded for a week. Colonel Denison pointed out that owing to the number of important cases now pending before him, it would be necessary to find some day which would not conflict with other engagements.

Mr. Bain, who appeared for the prosecution, in reply to a question by the Magistrate, stated that the case would take several days. He thought three days would be sufficient. Colonel Denison then formally remanded the case until Friday next.

Mr. McGill, who appeared with his bondsmen, stood in front of the railing, behind his counsel, and renewed his recognizance to appear on the date named. His bondsmen, August J. Goughan, Thos. I. McIntyre, P. C. Larkin, and John W. T. Fairweather, who stood beside him, also renewed their bonds for Mr. McGill's appearance in the same amounts as on the former occasion, the first two for $2,500 each and the others for $5,000 each.

The case of Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn was next called. D. J. Grierson, who appeared for the defence, agreed to a remand of one week. Both cases will be set down for hearing on Monday, Nov. 5. Mr. Cockburn was not present.

FIRST BIRTHDAY IN SPAIN.

Prisoners Amnestied in Honor of Queen Victoria.

Madrid, Oct. 29.—The Queen's 19th birthday, the first that she has spent in Spain, was celebrated enthusiastically to-day here and in the provinces. Members of the royal family and the courtiers showered presents upon her. The Cortes sent congratulations. The Ministers and diplomats called at the palace to felicitate her Majesty.

A large crowd assembled in the palace square, and in response to their cries the King and Queen appeared upon a balcony, when they were given a tumultuous ovation. A grand reception was held in the palace this afternoon, followed in the evening by a State banquet. In honor of the day some prisoners were amnestied and the pay of the soldiers of the Madrid garrison increased.

The amnesty benefited all persons convicted of political, press, and strike offences, and also Anarchist propagandists.

The Queen, receiving Count Romanones, Minister of Justice, declared she was happy that her first birthday in Spain should be associated with those suffering from their political ideas.

WANTED CREMATION

BUT TOOK HIS LIFE IN AN UNDERTAKER'S OFFICE.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—August Moeckel, reputed to be a wealthy hardware merchant, living at 527 LaSalle avenue, committed suicide late this afternoon in the undertaking establishment of J. H. Hartwick, 7th Centre avenue, by shooting himself in the head.

Moeckel was a stranger to the proprietor of the establishment. He entered the place and handed a letter to Hartwick. Then he sat down on a couch, placed a revolver to his head and pulled the trigger.

"I wish my body to be cremated," were the only words contained in the letter except the signature.

No motive for the act has been found.

STRIKE LEADS TO FRACAS.

Trouble Outside Heintzman Factory at Junction.

A Buckingham despatch says: The workers' strike in the Junction resulted in a small riot on Van Horne street this evening, when the men were leaving Heintzman & Company's factory at the close of the day's work. The trouble began when one of the strikers' pickets started an argument with a non-union man who was going to work. An altercation took place, in which two men on each side took part, the result being some black eyes. To-night a considerable number of strikers were on hand. Heintzman's have about 150 men at work, and when these came out of the factory the strikers gathered around them, and very soon a number of small fights were in progress. Nobody was hurt seriously. Heintzman & Company are operating their factory.

DYNAMITED BANK.

ROBBERS GOT OFF WITH BOOTY—A BLOODLESS FIGHT.

St. Louis, Oct. 29.—A special to the Republic from Odin, Ill., says: The Bank of Odin was dynamited and looted by a gang of safe robbers early to-day. The report of the explosion attracted a crowd of citizens to the scene and a running fight ensued in which more than 30 shots were fired. The bandits escaped with all their booty, the amount of which is not known. None of the citizens was hurt. According to those in the fight there were three or four robbers in the party. The Bank of Odin is a private institution.

WILL SEQUESTER CHURCH REVENUES BUT WILL LEAVE CHURCHES OPEN.

What the French Government Will Do if Clergy Persist in Rebellious Attitude.

Paris, Oct. 29.—The Cabinet has reached a decision regarding the application of the law providing for the separation of Church and State, by which the property for revenues of the churches, in the event of the clergy persisting in their present rebellious attitude, will be sequestered December 11, but the churches themselves will remain open for public worship, under the law of assembly of 1881, during the ensuing year, before the law goes finally into effect. In the meantime, should the clergy refuse to yield, a ministerial declaration will be issued indicating very clearly the intention of the Cabinet to ask Parliament for special legislation to meet the situation. The nature of the measures contemplated, however, will not be disclosed, although it is announced that they have been agreed upon. In the meantime, some of the newspapers declare that the Council of State, after consideration of the question of what constitutes a legal association under the law, is prepared to render a decision in favor of the former churchwardens and parish priests are legally entitled to take over church property, those formed by outsiders having no previous connection with the churchwardens or parish priests being irregular. If this proves to be correct, the decision will give an impetus to schism, as of all the associations thus far constituted, but two have the concurrence of both the parish priest and churchwardens and these have been formally interdicted by the bishops.

POSITION OF POLICYHOLDERS.

HOW THE PROFITS OF THE SUN LIFE ARE DIVIDED.

In Concluding the Investigation of the Sun Life Mr. Kent Admits That the Management is of a Very High Standard—Salaries of the Officials.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—Examination of the affairs of the Sun Life Assurance Company before the Insurance Commission was concluded to-day, and the Royal Victoria Life Insurance Company will be taken up to-morrow. It was announced that to-morrow would complete the inquiry in Montreal, and that an adjournment would be made until next Wednesday, when the Commission would re-assemble at Ottawa. Proceedings to-day took in the question of policies, their nature and preferences, division of profits, cost of new business, rebate system, and salaries of chief officials.

Preference on Policies.

The morning session opened with Mr. Thomas B. Macaulay, Secretary, again on the stand. In reply to a question by Mr. Shepley, regarding preference in policies, he said: "In our own company, as we combine both participating and non-participating policyholders in one branch, and stockholders get five per cent. of the profits of one and the other, naturally it is better, from the stockholders' standpoint, to get participating policies in larger number, because they get five per cent. on a larger amount of profit. Our rule is different from that of most companies, you see, because most other companies give ten per cent. from 'with profit' policies and all profits from 'without profit' policies, and it is just a question of which would be greater."

"From either standpoint the shareholder is interested in benefiting as few policyholders as possible through the division of profits," he was asked. "I do not think so, because the more policyholders we have the more shares to divide. We want to do as much business as we can, and we let the policyholders choose what they like."

When the investigation was resumed in the afternoon Mr. Shepley took up the question of the cost of new business. "Have you the same trouble with initial expenses as other companies?" he asked.

"I suppose so," replied Mr. Macaulay. "What are the reasons for this heavy expense?"

"The uncontrollable reason is keen competition; companies have to pay heavily to get new business. And we ed, although it is announced that they have been agreed upon. In the meantime, some of the newspapers declare that the Council of State, after consideration of the question of what constitutes a legal association under the law, is prepared to render a decision in favor of the former churchwardens and parish priests are legally entitled to take over church property, those formed by outsiders having no previous connection with the churchwardens or parish priests being irregular. If this proves to be correct, the decision will give an impetus to schism, as of all the associations thus far constituted, but two have the concurrence of both the parish priest and churchwardens and these have been formally interdicted by the bishops.

Mr. Shepley then took up the loss of interest and account. There was a profit, as far as form went, of $370,000 on the first year's business.

"What do you suggest as a remedy against this great cost of new business?" he asked. "I think that things are righting themselves. I can imagine no remedy that would not be worse than the disease itself."

Mr. Shepley questioned regarding methods employed by the Sun Life in changing from the high to the low rate of interest required on the legislation in accordance with the legislation of 1899. Mr. Macaulay said that the old business of the Sun Life and the new as well, was on the 3-1-2 per cent. basis, and this year he hoped to see it on a 3 per cent. basis. The process of increasing the reserve had been going on ever since 1899.

"What do you think of the movement to bring about the change as slowly as possible in order not to be hard on the policyholders?" "We approve of it, we intended to spread the change over the entire fifteen years, but when we made big profits in the last two years, we decided to put the reserve on a higher basis at once."

Mr. Macaulay said that in one year, owing to this change, the policyholders got $260,000 less than the previous year, and a million less than they might have got.

Asking Mr. Macaulay a personal question, Mr. Shepley learned that the salaries of the Secretary and of the President extended over a period to include 1907. The President's salary in 1905 was $18,000; in 1906, $19,000, and next year it will be $20,000. The Secretary's salary was in 1905 $13,000; in 1906, $14,000, and in 1907 it will be $15,000. After that there is no arrangement in either case. Mr. Macaulay, manager of the eastern district, is paid by commission at a varying rate, with a fixed maximum. The Sun Life has two trustees in England to look after the amount of $500,000 there deposited in the interests of British policyholders; these receive each 200 guineas per annum.

Mr. Shepley noticed the fact that the Sun Life had a formidable list of questions to ask prospective insurance candidates. Of these Mr. Macaulay said the people never complained.

Mr. Kent it seems to me that nobody ever did complain of the Sun Life, Mr. Macaulay—Very seldom.

Mr. Shepley then announced that his examination of Mr. Macaulay was concluded for the present.

Mr. Kent admitted that the management of the Sun Life was at present at a very high standard. Yet the present managers were not immortal, and there might be another era when the management would not be so good.

—We are pleased to notice that Mr S. Manhardt has interested himself in the project of reorganizing our brass band. He has already secured the active aid of nine of the old players, and will be pleased to welcome candidates for membership.

On Friday afternoon last Rev. S. J. Hughes delivered a very thoughtful discourse to the teachers in training at the model school on the subject of "Character," and on Monday Rev. N. MacLeod addressed them on the subject of "Canada," which was presented in such a way as to inspire greater love for the home-land.

Leeds county farmers are probably serving their best interests by adhering to the bacon type in hog production and are increasing their output, but it is evident that there is still room for expansion in the business; for, notwithstanding our eminence as a dairy district, there are 25 counties in the province that exceeded Leeds in the number of hogs raised last year.

The Brockville Times says it is "surprising to find that the Athens Reporter is becoming to the elevation of the noble profession of teaching." Well, we should think so! Now, dear Times, try another guess—and if you find anything as startling as this, please let us know at once.

If the citizens and council of Athens get real busy right away there is yet time to arrange for lighting the village streets this fall. Looks as if, with a definite proposition to consider, the people are not nearly so anxious for light as they were a few years ago when various impossible illuminating schemes were brought up for discussion.

At the regular meeting of Rising sun Lodge A.F. & A.M. on Thursday last Mr. James Ross, who leaves this week for Toronto was banqueted and presented with a complimentary address and a handsome Masonic ring. Mr Ross has been for many years the secretary of the lodge. In the social and religious, as well as the business life of Athens, Mr and Mrs Ross have long occupied a prominent place and expressions of regret at their removal are heard on all sides. The Reporter wishes for them every prosperity and happiness in their new home.

Mr. Norm Hagerman has returned home from the West.

—See our gloves and mitts—wool-lined gloves 50c pair up—T. S. Kendrick.

This evening is Halloween—and "the goblins will get you, if you don't watch out."

—Live hens, chickens and ducks bought every Wednesday evening at Willson's Meat Market. Crops must be empty.

Miss Carrie Rowe, librarian of the Brockville library, is a patient at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital with appendicitis.

—Gentlemen are of opinion that ladies should remove their hats at town hall entertainments. What do the ladies think of the question?

The Recorder continues to speak of the "Reporter" Hunt Club. Looks as if our venison royalty was going to be alright this season.

Sherring, the Marathon hero, has brought his finish into view by becoming a patent medicine adv't. So passes earthly glory.

—For sale—Second hand large wood furnace in first-class condition. Only reason for selling, am changing for coal furnace.—A. E. DONOVAN.

At a special meeting held on the 19th inst., Winchester council decided to take a local option vote and at the same meeting prepared to impose a license fee of $50 on all vendors of cigarettes.

G. N. Young, Auctioneer, Tinsop (Spring Valley P.O.), is prepared to conduct sales anywhere in the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville and provide a clerk and cash the notes—all at very moderate rates.

—The recital to be given on Friday evening, Nov. 9, by Miss Pauline Johnston, the Indian poet entertainer, and Mr Walter McRaye, humorist, in selections from Dr Drummond's "Habitant" characters of French Canada, is under the auspices of the village council, and for this reason, if for no other, every citizen should take an interest.

Brockville Times: Rev I. N. Beckstedt, pastor of St Paul's church, Athens, exchanged pulpits yesterday with the Rev Norman MacLeod, minister of First Church, and preached two inspiring sermons. Mr Beckstedt is one of the rising young clergymen of the Presbyterian church who is rapidly coming to the front. He delighted the congregations that had the pleasure of listening to him.

A meeting of the public school board was held on Thursday evening last at which, after routine business, Mr Jas. Ross tendered his resignation as Secretary of the board and G. F. Donnelly was appointed to the office for the balance of the year. Mr Ross had been secretary of the board since January, 1893, and his careful, efficient work has been duly appreciated, so that it was with sincere regret his resignation was accepted.

On Wednesday last a telegram to Mr Bennett Barrington announced the death of his son Edward A. at Butte, Montana, where he was engaged in mining. Deceased left here for the American West about five years ago. He was popular here with a wide circle of his boyhood friends, and the family have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sudden and sore bereavement. The remains, accompanied by his brother William, arrived at the old home here on Monday evening. Death was caused by a premature dynamite explosion in the copper mine in which he was employed.

Mrs L. F. Blanchard of Mallorytown visited friends in Athens this week.

Mr Alex Blanchard of Greenbush is this week visiting old friends in Athens.

Miss Jean Karley was recently the guest of Mrs R. W. and Mrs. S. H. Lewis, Smith's Falls.

Mr Fremont Blanchard of Addison left a few days ago for a visit with relatives at Friend, Nebraska.

C. J., Mrs Banta and Miss Banta this week left their beautiful island home at Charleston Lake for New York.

Mr Wm. J. Stewart of Kitley and Miss Edith Stobie of Carleton Place were united in marriage on the 17th inst.

Choses dropped to 12 1/2c in Brockville on Saturday and about one third of the board offering changed hands at that figure.

Rev. I. N. Beckstedt B. A., has gone to Kingston to attend the Alumni Conference at Queen's, where he takes part in Wednesday's programme.

—You will find in our store the most complete assortment of shirts, underwear, overcoats, gloves, etc., at the right prices.—LeClair, Brockville.

—Sam Jones, the evangelist, is dead. He was a flippant, irreverent talker about sacred things, but perhaps he did good. There were various opinions about it.

In the High Court action of Suffer vs Brown, tried at the recent assizes a motion by the plaintiff for a new trial is pending in the Divisional Court at Toronto. The hearing in the Divisional Court at Toronto, will probably be some time next month.

Justice Clute recently gave decision that original by-laws must be kept on file. Certified copies will not do, and should the original, containing the proper signatures, be lost, such by-laws become void. Municipal officers would do well to remember this.

BOY WANTED. A boy of 15 to 18 years, with fair education, as apprentice to the printing business. THE ATHENS REPORTER.

Smith's Falls News: Mr Henry Layng is at present confined to his house, suffering considerably from a kick he received from a horse. He was returning from Athens and stopped for dinner at Mr Fred Scovil's. When he went out to harness his horse after dinner a horse in the same stable kicked him in the stomach and rendered him insensible for some time. He rallied after a while and was able to proceed to his home, although suffering considerable pain, and is now under the doctor's care. Mr Layng was accompanied by his sister, Mrs Polk.

An Acknowledgment. The members of St Paul's Presbyterian church take this opportunity to thank the public for their hearty support at this their anniversary time. The kindness of sister churches in withdrawing their Sunday evening services is recognized and appreciated. They would further express their gratitude to the Rev Norman MacLeod, the local musicians, and others, who so kindly helped them at Monday's concert. Thanks are also extended to Messrs J. P. Laub & Son for their services in connection with the plan of hall. Those in charge of the programme would like to state that they were entirely satisfied with the services of the Hiawatha Quartette, and also to thank Miss Weeks for her efficient work as accompanist.

BROCKVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

Most of the students spent Thanksgiving at their respective homes.

Norman Coleman of Lyn and Miss Mary Pappin of Smith's Falls have enrolled as students with us.

Miss Agnes Servis writes from Alberta that she is keeping books for one firm and acting as stenographer for another. She also states that she has been asked by several young westerners to teach them shorthand.

A sight worth seeing is our night school in session. There is a system and regularity about the work that is certainly commendable; the earnest students look on the faces of the students tells that they are determined to be able by spring to look back upon some winter evenings well spent.

Mr. Hough, an ex-student, employed at Farnham, Que., gave the College a friendly call during the week.

H. H. Hodgson, of Hamilton, made Mr. Rogers, our principal, a call on Wednesday.—"College Scribe."

—Look around in other stores and then compare our values in overcoats, underwear, caps, gloves, etc., and you will purchase here.—LeClair, Brockville.

We are pleased to notice that Mr S. Manhardt has interested himself in the project of reorganizing our brass band. He has already secured the active aid of nine of the old players, and will be pleased to welcome candidates for membership.

On Friday afternoon last Rev. S. J. Hughes delivered a very thoughtful discourse to the teachers in training at the model school on the subject of "Character," and on Monday Rev N. MacLeod addressed them on the subject of "Canada," which was presented in such a way as to inspire greater love for the home-land.

Leeds county farmers are probably serving their best interests by adhering to the bacon type in hog production and are increasing their output, but it is evident that there is still room for expansion in the business; for, notwithstanding our eminence as a dairy district, there are 25 counties in the province that exceeded Leeds in the number of hogs raised last year.

The Brockville Times says it is "surprising to find that the Athens Reporter is opposed to the elevation of the noble profession of teaching." Well, we should think so! Now, dear Times, try another guess—and if you find anything as startling as this, please let us know at once.

If the citizens and council of Athens get real busy right away there is yet time to arrange for lighting the village streets this fall. Looks as if, with a definite proposition to consider, the people are not nearly so anxious for light as they were a few years ago when various impossible illuminating schemes were brought up for discussion.

At the regular meeting of Rising sun Lodge A.F. & A.M. on Thursday last Mr. James Ross, who leaves this week for Toronto was banqueted and presented with a complimentary address and a handsome Masonic ring. Mr Ross has been for many years the secretary of the lodge. In the social and religious, as well as the business life of Athens, Mr and Mrs Ross have long occupied a prominent place and expressions of regret at their removal are heard on all sides. The Reporter wishes for them every prosperity and happiness in their new home.

Mr. Norm Hagerman has returned home from the West.

—Live hens, chickens and ducks bought every Wednesday evening at Willson's Meat Market. Crops must be empty.

Miss Carrie Rowe, librarian of the Brockville library, is a patient at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital with appendicitis.

Gentlemen are of opinion that ladies should remove their hats at town hall entertainments. What do the ladies think of the question?

The Recorder continues to speak of the "Reporter" Hunt Club. Looks as if our venison royalty was going to be alright this season.

Sherring, the Marathon hero, has brought his finish into view by becoming a patent medicine adv't. So passes earthly glory.

—For sale—Second-hand large wood furnace in first-class condition. Only reason for selling, am changing for coal furnace.—A. E. DONOVAN.

At a special meeting held on the 19th inst., Winchester council decided to take a local option vote and at the same meeting prepared to impose a license fee of $50 on all vendors of cigarettes.

G. N. Young, Auctioneer, Tinapp (Spring Valley P.O.), is prepared to conduct sales anywhere in the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville and provide a clerk and cash the notes—all at very moderate rates.

—The recital to be given on Friday evening, Nov. 9, by Miss Pauline Johnston, the Indian poet entertainer, and Mr Walter McRaye, humorist, in selections from Dr Drummond's "Habituants" characters of French Canada, is under the auspices of the village council, and for this reason, if for no other, every citizen should take an interest.

Brockville Times: Rev I. N. Beckstedt, pastor of St Paul's church, Athens, exchanged pulpits yesterday with the Rev Norman MacLeod, minister of First Church, and preached two inspiring sermons. Mr Beckstedt is one of the rising young clergymen of the Presbyterian church who is rapidly coming to the front. He delighted the congregations that had the pleasure of listening to him.

A meeting of the public school board was held on Thursday evening last at which, after routine business, Mr Jas. Ross tendered his resignation as Secretary of the board and G. F. Donnelly was appointed to the office for the balance of the year. Mr Ross had been secretary of the board since January, 1893, and his careful, efficient work has been duly appreciated, so that it was with sincere regret his resignation was accepted.

On Wednesday last a telegram to Mr Bennett Barrington announced the death of his son Edward A. at Butte, Montana, where he was engaged in mining. Deceased left here for the American West about five years ago. He was popular here with a wide circle of his boyhood friends, and the family have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sudden and sore bereavement. The remains, accompanied by his brother William, arrived at the old home here on Monday evening. Death was caused by a premature dynamite explosion in the copper mine in which he was employed.

Mrs L. F. Blanchard of Mallorytown visited friends in Athens this week.

Mr Alex Blanchard of Greenbush is this week visiting old friends in Athens.

Rev. I. N. Beckstedt B. A., has gone to Kingston to attend the Alumni Conference at Queen's, where he takes part in Wednesday's programme.

—You will find in our store the most complete assortment of shirts, underwear, overcoats, gloves, etc., at the right prices—LeClair, Brockville.

—Sam Jones, the evangelist, is dead. He was a flippant, irreverent talker about sacred things, but perhaps he did good. There were various opinions about it.

In the High Court action of Suffer vs Brown, tried at the recent assizes a motion by the plaintiff for a new trial is pending in the Divisional Court at Toronto. The hearing in the Divisional Court at Toronto, will probably be some time next month.

Justice Clute recently gave decision that original by-laws must be kept on file. Certified copies will not do, and should the original, containing the proper signatures, be lost, such by-laws become void. Municipal officers would do well to remember this.

BOY WANTED

A boy of 15 to 18 years, with fair education, as apprentice to the printing business.

THE ATHENS REPORTER

Smith's Falls News: Mr Henry Layng is at present confined to his home, suffering considerably from a kick he received from a horse. He was returning from Athens and stopped for dinner at Mr Fred Scovill's. When he went out to harness his horse after dinner a horse in the same stable kicked him in the stomach and rendered him insensible for some time. He rallied after a while and was able to proceed to his home, although suffering considerable pain, and is now under the doctor's care. Mr Layng was accompanied by his sister, Mrs Polk.

An Acknowledgment

The members of St Paul's Presbyterian church take this opportunity to thank the public for their hearty support at this their anniversary time. The kindness of sister churches in withdrawing their Sunday evening services is recognized and appreciated. They would further express their gratitude to the Rev Norman MacLeod, the local musicians, and others, who so kindly helped them at Monday's concert. Thanks are also extended to Messrs J. P. Laub & Son for their services in connection with the plan of hall. Those in charge of the programme would like to state that they were entirely satisfied with the services of the Hiawatha Quartette, and also to thank Miss Weeks for her efficient work as accompanist.

BROCKVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

Most of the students spent Thanksgiving at their respective homes.

Norman Coleman of Lyn and Miss Mary Pappin of Smith's Falls have enrolled as students with us.

Miss Agnes Servis writes from Alberta that she is keeping books for one firm and acting as stenographer for another. She also states that she has been asked by several young west-erners to teach them shorthand.

A sight worth seeing is our night school in session. There is a system and regularity about the work that is certainly commendable; the earnest students look on the faces of the students tells that they are determined to be able by spring to look back upon some winter evenings well spent.

Mr. Hough, an ex-student, employed at Farnham, Que., gave the College a friendly call during the week.

H. H. Hodgson, of Hamilton, made Mr. Rogers, our principal, a call on Wednesday.—"College Scribe."
