COUNTY INSTITUTES HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

National Institute of Canada May Meet in Kings County in 1927

That Kings County "may have the honor of staging the Biennial Conference of the National Institute of Canada in 1927" was the statement of Miss Annie Stuart, of Grand Pre, President of the National Women's Institute of Canada, at the annual basket picnic of the Kings County branch of the Association, held at the Experimental Station, Kentville, on Thursday last.

The picnic was a grand success, over one hundred members being present to have an enjoyable time and discuss Women's Institute matters. Luncheon was served in the "Grove" at the farm, following which the members adjourned to the large warehouse where short addresses were given and discussed. Mrs. Guy Sandford, of Coldbrook, president. Miss Stuart was given a big ovation on being introduced, the members feeling that she had brought high honors to Kings County and Nova Scotia, on being elected to the most important post in the organization which she now holds. Miss Stuart spoke on the duties of the Institutes, the wonderful opportunities they have for doing good work, and stressed strongly the point that Kings is the best agricultural county in the whole world. At the close of her address a bouquet of flowers was presented with a bouquet of flowers by Miss Helen McDougall, of Truro, who is Provincial President, the members rising and singing "For She is a Jolly Good Fellow." Miss McDougall gave a short address on the rapid growth and history of the Institute, of the work of the organization in Nova Scotia, and of the need of more members in the Province.

A vote of thanks was extended to the speakers and to Prof. Blair and W. H. Lockley, of the farm staff, for their work in making the day such a success. The guests of honor at the picnic were Prof. and Mrs. Blair, Miss Annie Stuart and Miss Helen McDougall.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN CUP GOES TO KENTVILLE

The final match in the competition for the Sir Robert Borden Cup was played at the Ken-VO Country Club last Friday when A. V. Prescott, of Kentville, defeated Dr. J. A. M. Hemmon, of Wolfville, by one stroke. The scores were:

- Prescott—Out, 41; In, 42. Total, 83; Handicap, 12; Net, 71.
- Hemmon—Out, 48; In, 49. Total, 97; Handicap, 25; Net, 72.

Mr. Prescott won his way to the finals by defeating George E. Graham, who had previously eliminated Gordon Embree by one stroke. Dr. Hemmon qualified for the finals by eliminating A. G. Guest and George Watersbury, after the latter had won from Henry Ruffee, last year's champion.

The gateway to fame is narrow. Few get in after fattening in prosperity.

A TRUCK LOAD OF SIGNATURES

A petition was recently presented to the British House of Commons containing a million signatures on behalf of the British Legion praying for certain alterations in the granting of war pensions. The presentation was made by Major J. B. Cohen, M.P., who lost both his legs in the Third Battle of Ypres. He is seen in the bath chair.

NOVA SCOTIA AT THE TORONTO EXHIBITION

Arrangements Have Been Completed For a Fine Exhibit This Year

The natural resources, the industries and the tourist facilities of Nova Scotia will be well represented at the Canadian National Exhibition, which opens at Toronto on August 29 and continues until September 12. The Nova Scotia exhibit will occupy the same place in the Canadian Government building as it did last year, but with considerable improvement.

The party left for Montreal this evening and will spend the week end there. On Sunday night they will leave for the Maritime Provinces, visiting several cities and towns in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Motor tours will be made through the agricultural districts.

It is expected that this party will meet through Wolfville on Friday en route from Kentville to Grand Pre.)

CONCERNING CANADIANS IN THE UNITED STATES

They Have Become Prominent in Nearly Every Walk of Life

While it has always been a painful thing to contemplate the exodus of our countrymen to the United States yet it is a matter of pride to know that they have been among the enterprising and intellectual elements of that Republic.

From an American publication devoted to Canadian matters, we read that 90 per cent of English speaking and 81 per cent of French speaking Canadians settled in that nation are naturalized citizens of their adopted country.

The party left for Montreal this evening and will spend the week end there. On Sunday night they will leave for the Maritime Provinces, visiting several cities and towns in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Motor tours will be made through the agricultural districts.

N. B. APPLE CROP IS REPORTED FAIR

Will Be About 80 Per Cent. of 1924 Total, Says Provincial Horticulturist

FREDERICTON, Aug. 21.—Notwithstanding an unusually severe winter and a rather wet summer New Brunswick will have a fair apple crop amounting to approximately eighty per cent of 1924, according to A. G. Turney, provincial horticulturist, in his latest report in New Brunswick.

Frequent showers have improved the size of the fruit and the color promises to be excellent. With few exceptions most orchards have shown but little scab, russeting, or spray injury, is reported as somewhat heavier this season, however.

A fair crop of all varieties is forecast by Mr. Turney as the result of reports which he has received and personal inspection of the orchards throughout the province. No one particular variety is noticeably light. McIntosh and Fameuse are almost if not quite an average crop.

A large German steamer loaded with potash has been anchored off Horton during the past week. Part of her cargo will go to Halifax and the remainder for Windsor will be shipped from the St. John and it was intended to discharge that intended for the former port before proceeding. It was found, however, that the docking facilities at Windsor would not enable the vessel to unload there, and it is understood the steamer will go to Halifax and that the cargo for Windsor will be shipped from there. The vessel is 339 feet in length.

BAPTIST CONVENTION OF MARITIME PROVINCES

Holds Opening Session Today at Acadia University—Ministerial Institute Met Yesterday

The annual convention of the United Baptists of the Maritime Provinces opens at Wolfville today and continues until Sunday evening. The sessions will be held in University Hall, and delegates will be accommodated in the college residences.

Union recent years this gathering has been held in the larger centres of the Maritime Provinces but now that it has grown to so large proportions that it is very difficult for any one church to entertain the delegates, the sessions are being held here where the University buildings provide ample accommodation.

The plan is meeting with general approval on the part of those who attend, as the meeting here affords an opportunity for renewing old associations and familiar scenes as well as a better acquaintance with the educational facilities of the denomination.

The convention proper is always preceded by a meeting of the Ministerial Institute which commenced yesterday at 10 a.m. with the following papers were presented:

- "The Religion of the Future," Rev. A. L. Huddleston, D.D.
- "The Teaching Function of the Pulpit," Rev. G. C. Warren, B.D.
- "The Minister and the Church," Rev. D. H. McQuarrie, M.A.
- "The Minister and His Denomination," Rev. I. A. Corbett, M.A.
- "The Minister and His Community," Rev. F. H. Bone, B.A.
- "The Minister and Himself," Rev. W. J. Hurlow.

The officers elected were: President, Rev. O. N. Chipman; First Vice-President, Rev. M. S. Richardson; Second Vice-President, Rev. J. H. Copeland; Secretary-Treasurer, Rev. C. A. Brittain; Executive Committee, Revs. E. J. Barres, G. C. Vincent, N. A. Whitman.

Last evening a very interesting and helpful address on "The Influence of the Bible in National Life" was presented by Rev. J. H. MacDonald, D.D., of St. John, is Secretary. The devotional exercises, twice a day, will be conducted by Rev. H. T. DeWolfe, D.D., L.L.D., Dr. Patterson, in behalf of the College welcomed the Convention. The Convention sermon will be preached on Sunday morning by Rev. R. C. Eaton, B.A., B.D., of Charlottetown.

Rev. L. A. Therien, of Grand Ligne, Quebec, will address the Convention this evening. Other addresses will be: "Board of Promotion and Finance," by Rev. H. R. Boyer; and "Social Service Board," by Rev. W. C. Kierstead, Ph.D.

An Englishman returning from abroad was amused with a report of his return which read: "His numerous friends were surprised to see him unchanged." The compounder had omitted "c" from "unchanged."

SUMMER HOTEL WILL BE BUILT AT GRAND PRE

By Company Capitalized at $175,000—Modern Structure with Fifty Rooms to Start

A company of United States and local people, to be known as the Evangeline Hotel Co., Ltd., is now seeking incorporation, with the intention of erecting a large and up-to-date hotel at Grand Pre to cater to the entertainment of summer visitors. The company is headed by Hannabel L. Hamlin, of Boston, president of the Plant Line S. S. Co.

The location, composed of thirty acres has been secured from Mr. Fred Crane commanding the highway on the north side of the highway, on the Eaton Hill opposite "Clearview Inn" for the new structure, which at the beginning will contain fifty rooms and may be added to as the demand for accommodation increases. The building will be provided with all modern conveniences and it is hoped will be ready in time for next year's business.

Plans have been secured which provide for fifty rooms with private baths, verandahs, sun-porches, hot-water heating and all the comforts obtainable, with a dining-room seventy-foot long commanding a splendid view of the dykes and surrounding country. This site is one of the most beautiful in this section famed for its beautiful scenery and its proximity to the points of historic interest at Grand Pre renders it ideal for the purpose for which it has been selected.

Those familiar with the location have long entertained the idea that some day what now seems assured would be probable. The undertaking, which deserves general support, will be a very fine thing for this section, and naturally the best wishes for its success are heard on every hand.

The Evangeline Hotel Co. Ltd. will be capitalized at $175,000. Mr. G. C. Nowlan, M.P.P., has been engaged as solicitor for the company.

MORE CONCERNING THE MAGISTRATE'S AND CONSTABLE'S FEES

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:—Dear Sir,—In your issue of 6th inst. you passed along to those in charge of civic affairs for an answer, the following question, submitted to THE ACADIAN by a "prominent citizen": "What becomes of the fees earned by the Stipendiary Magistrate and Police Constable of Wolfville?" giving it, at the same time, as your opinion that "the rate-payers have a right to such information."

In your issue of 13th inst. the Mayor answers by saying: "In reference to your inquiry of last week, I may inform you that all Police and Municipal Court fees and fines are paid into the general funds of the town and reported upon in the financial statement of the Council each month. This financial statement is audited by the regular auditors appointed by the town for that purpose."

Nothing having appeared in last week's ACADIAN on the subject, I assume that you and "prominent citizen" are satisfied with the mayor's answer; but I think that the Mayor either did not know how to answer the inquiry or he did not wish the rate-payers to have the information. In my opinion something like the following would have given the information sought for: "All Municipal court fees collected, together with all fines and fees collected or received in the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court, or in the police office of the town, for violation of any Act within the legislative authority of the Legislature of the province, are paid into the general funds of the town; besides these, however, the Stipendiary Magistrate is entitled to receive from the Municipality, payment of fees for his services in respect to a person charged with an indictable offence; as is also the Police Constable entitled to receive payment from the same source, of fees in connection with charges of indictable offences; the Police Constable also earns fees for the service of papers with which the town courts have nothing to do."

I am inclined to think, sir, that the reason your "prominent citizen" asked the question, and you thought it worthy of a reply, was that some consideration should be taken of the possible earning powers of these two town officials in fixing their salaries.

Yours truly,
JURIS PERITUS.
Mrs. J. K. Kenney, of this town, received word from her son, Frederick K. Kenney, of Arlington, Mass., this week, informing her of the sad death of his only daughter, a bright little girl of ten years, following a surgical operation.

Is The Bee Busy?

Riseth up a scientist to dispute the age-long reputation enjoyed by the bee for industry. He claims the average bee buzzes more than he busies himself.

Yet some bees must work—how otherwise could they produce the 3,500 lbs. (nearly two tons) of honey used every month by Moirs?

The best clarified honey from Jamaica with the cream of that produce in Nova Scotia, is used in Moirs products.

GROWING FLAX IN NOVA SCOTIA

THE ACADIAN was interested to learn from Dr. M. Cumming, the provincial Secretary for Agriculture, who was in town overnight last Friday on his way from Lunenburg, that successful experiments were being conducted in that county in the growing of flax. Twenty farmers there have this year been carrying on the work, the idea being to manufacture the flax into fiber and sell it in the open market, with a view to testing the possibility of establishing a commercial industry in the province.

This experiment, we were informed, grew out of tests made by the Experimental Stations at Nappan and Kentville, which proved so promising that it seemed wise to make a commercial test in some part of Nova Scotia. Lunenburg county was selected because flax growing has been perpetuated there to a greater extent than in any other county, and the experiment was conducted jointly by the federal and provincial departments of agriculture. Experts pronounce the flax grown here as equal if not superior to the very best that has been yet grown in Canada.

Dr. Cumming considers the experiment as most satisfactory and has high hope for success of the undertaking. While the returns would probably be not equal to that of cabbages or strawberries or many perishable crops, it is estimated that a hundred dollars per acre would be realized, with practically no risk of failure. There is much available land in the province that is now lying idle, which might profitably be employed in the production of flax, the growing of which would eventually lead to the establishment of linen-mills and the building up of an industry which would add materially to the prosperity of our province.

CRITICISM

THERE IS hardly a man or woman in public life in our Nova Scotian towns who does not receive criticism. Sometimes this criticism is constructive, sometimes it is destructive. Our public officials from time to time and from year to year get it on every hand. Every president or chairman of a club or society, every officer and leader in church work, every man or woman engaged in administering the affairs of our schools, the local press,—all of them—some time or other, get criticised.

Sometimes the criticism takes on the aspect of abuse or even of slander. More often it is merely cutting or sarcastic.

Why is this? The answer follows that it is because these officers and administrators are human, and because they live in a human world and a human community.

He who leads must expect the hardships of leadership. He who rules must expect occasional passive or open rebellion. He who initiates must expect reaction and opposition from those whose life's philosophy leads them into channels of thought.

The situation in Nova Scotia is perhaps no worse than that in any other community. Constructive criticism is needful to growth; but the greater need is that people be not unkind, but charitable, in dealing it out.

NOT THE TIME OF YEAR FOR ROAD WORK

PARTY ZEAL often influences political organs to indulge in criticism that is neither merited or well advised. They feel it to be their bounden duty to find nothing but good in the party which they support and nothing but ill in the party which they oppose. Such a policy often makes a paper ridiculous and lessens its influence—but it's all in the game.

An instance of this is an article in the editorial column of the Morning Chronicle recently which complains because the operations of the Highway Board have been held up in some sections since the present administration came into power. It regrets that "work of so much importance, at this season of the year, when motor traffic on the roads is at the heaviest, should be so badly and generally neglected."

Those motorists who are using the highways, we imagine, will not be inclined to agree with the Chronicle writer. Automobile parties, as well as those who cater to them, make frequent complaint of construction work on the roads which renders them practically impassable, and will be inclined to welcome the change in policy rather than complain because the work is not going on.

CHEAP MONUMENT ON HISTORIC SITE

ONE OF the most scandalous instances of official culpability of which we have any record was finished up last week at Windsor. Nova Scotia was the proud possessor of the oldest military barracks in Canada—one connected with the French and Indian wars. Six years ago it was getting out of repair. This was brought to the attention of the Historic Board, Ottawa, in the department of which Hon. Charles Stewart is the head. An offer was sent to put it in repair for $500, which would have ensured its continuance for a generation or more. That Board took no notice of the report or offer.

The old fort was later entered by some lads, who smoking there, set it on fire and destroyed it, and thus by the neglect of some useless understrapper in the department of the Interior the province was deprived of a venerable and most interesting relic. In its stead has been set up one of those cheap, paltry erections called monuments that the Ottawa Historic Board is placing in the Maritime Provinces, to give the next administration at Ottawa the trouble to demolish.

BETTER PRICES FOR POTATOES

LAST YEAR the Nova Scotia potato-growers produced a large crop of tubers, but were in hard luck because of the unexpected low prices which prevailed. Had the prices of the previous year continued the potato-crop would have returned to the growers a handsome profit, but at the prices which ruled it is doubtful if expenses of growing were realized.

This year, however, better prospects are expected. The first shipment to Havana, which consisted of 12,000 barrels from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and which is fully two weeks earlier than usual, were purchased at a price practically three times what was paid last year, and from present indications there is a likelihood that satisfactory prices may continue. Growers who were not discouraged by the experience of last year stand a very good chance of profiting by their persistence and deserve to do so.

HEADED FOR CABINET

Premier Charles A. Dunning, of Saskatchewan, who, it is said, is likely to be appointed to the Federal Cabinet, perhaps as Minister of Immigration and Colonization.

TEMPERANCE REFORM

To make progress in Temperance Reform there is required energetic work along educative and legislative lines.

With reference to the matter of Temperance Education, we may say that the very strong temperance sentiment in Nova Scotia is a result of the untiring efforts of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, The Sons of Temperance, The League of the Cross, The Catholic Total Abstinence Society, and The International Order of Good Templars, and also a result of instruction given in the churches and Sunday schools of all denominations.

In order that existing sentiment may be maintained and strengthened there is a call for persistent work on the part of the various organizations. In addition to this there should be more systematic teaching in our Public Schools. The text-book on "Hygiene" now in use deals only briefly with the question of alcohol. Much good has resulted from its study and the lessons taught by teachers. There is, however, room for improvement, and to this end it is necessary to have text-books for every grade and pass examinations, as for all other subjects in the school curriculum.

Give us for fifteen or twenty years school children thoroughly instructed as to the evil effects on mind and body of the use of alcohol, and also instructed as to the social and economic burden of the liquor traffic; and there will, in the future, be little demand for, and little sale of, alcoholic drink.

Legislation
In the matter of prohibitory legislation our province has steadily advanced, and with fair play on the part of enforcing officers, we shall have the Act still further improved—notwithstanding the propaganda of moderationists, so-called, and others who wish to have liquor sold for beverage purposes, the overwhelming sentiment is in favor of prohibition of such sale.

Not so long ago—1916—there were 46 licensed bars and 5 wholesale liquor houses in the city of Halifax. In 1935, considering this question it is well to bear in mind that the license system affected for over 160 years, from 1749 until 1916, the business, social and political life of the province. It will take time to do away with the evils which the license system fostered. As with the individual, so with the state, it takes time to "sober up".

It was owing to the activities of temperance and other reform agencies that the license system was abolished. The Temperance Act, as placed on the statutes in 1910, did not apply to the City of Halifax, but by earnest and determined agitation on the part of the temperance forces our legislators were persuaded to bring Halifax under the Act in 1916.

When first enacted the law had many defects. The provisions for search and seizure of liquor, and the penalties, were not adequate, and in other respects it was not fitted to be effective in combatting the liquor traffic, but from year to year, at each session of the House of Assembly, as a result of representations made by the Temperance Alliance and Social Service Council, the Act was improved.

Effective Administration
There is much yet to be accomplished. We cannot rest satisfied until we have:

- (1) The very best possible prohibition legislation, and
- (2) Honest and effective administration.

The Act has defects. One of the several amendments required, and which we requested the late government to make, dealt with the form of certificate given by physicians. We suggested that the form be amended to provide that the physician state the number of ounces of liquor required, affirming that in his judgment this quantity is necessary and is prescribed after a careful personal examination. We also requested the government to safe guard the sale of liquor by having satisfactory rules and regulations made by the Board, in order that liquor be sold in accord with the intention of the Act.

With reference to the question of enforcement of the Act we have repeatedly asked for the appointment of a sufficient number of Deputy Inspectors to take over-sight of the work and to make enforcement effective and complete.

Recently we have submitted to the present Government a statement dealing with the whole question, and we have reason to hope that at an early date definite action will be taken to enforce the Act, as it now stands, and that at the ensuing session of the Legislature the Government will strengthen the Act, and make it in every respect such a law as the overwhelming temperance sentiment of the province demands.

ESSAYS BY TWO HANTSPORT YOUNG LADIES

Who Attended Summer Session at Normal College This Year

My Impressions of Summer School

(By Mary D. Macumber.)
Summer School is attended by persons of varying dispositions and I do not suppose any two have the same impressions, therefore I think this makes a splendid and most interesting topic, as the material in the Essays will be similar, yet not the same.

The saying is, "first impressions are lasting". In this case I am glad they are, as mine were all good. The morning school opened was the first time I had ever been on the Normal grounds, and they certainly looked cool and inviting.

After admiring the grounds I went up to the Assembly Hall, but did not feel strange. Every one had a nod and smile for his neighbours. The course is not quite half over, and the time has seemed so short. Not once have I wanted to skip a class and do something else.

I always feel as if I would be missing something and indeed I would.

Every three quarters of an hour spent in those rooms is a benefit to any one who is really in earnest about this business, and the faculty are certainly striving to do their utmost to make us palinly see our responsibility that lies before us in teaching.

Teaching is not all pleasant, neither is it all knock. I have never taught, but this instruction is making me feel how little one does know about it when they start out.

Every teacher, of course, is not the same, neither would we want them all alike. With apologies to the Faculty, the following is submitted:

- Mr. DeWolfe with the smiley blue eyes, Is very learned, stern and wise.
- Miss Jones, so sweet and fair, Makes the children fairly stare.
- Mr. Connolly, so tall and straight, In English and Arithmetic is just great.
- Miss Nichols, bright and gay, Teaches weaving every day.
- Mr. Fitch, so prompt and keen, With suggestions is not a bit mean.
- Miss Hirtle, with smile so bright, Teaches her pupils how to write.
- Mr. Wiles, good-natured and nice, Makes one understand in a trice.
- Miss MacLean is in her glory, When she is telling a children's story.
- Professor Wellard with touch sublime, Makes the piano fairly chime.
- Sergeant Jackson, stern and witty, Fills our hearts just full of pity.
- Sgt.-Major Leon, with command so stern, For our drill hour makes us yearn.
- Miss Baker, who has so much to do, With a smile always accepts something new.

What I Do in My Own Summer School Garden Plot

(By Florence A. Blackburn.)

My own garden plot, for such I call it, is in one of the greenhouses. Each morning, after drill, is the time I have chosen as the best and most convenient for the greater part of my work here.

At this time every morning I water with the hose (nozzle removed) or a pitcher, all of the potted plants, while every other morning I water the plants in the boxes if necessary. The first day I thoroughly weeded all of the lots and boxes, always dumping the weeds on a large pile near the east potting-house door, so as to keep the greenhouse nice and fresh looking.

Then every day I pull out the weeds as they grow. Once in a while, however, one sly old weed does escape my eye, and up it shoots. But soon I spy it, and with one slow pull of the fingers, its life is ended.

Then occasionally some plants need repotting—they become too large for their jackets, and cry for new ones. I don't know whether some other brother or sister flower has to take the thrown off jacket or not, but I imagine so! In repotting I am always very careful to put some pebbles, etc., in the centre bottom of the pot, so as to insure a good drainage.

When I have finished my work for the day, I put back in their places all tools that I have used. I am hoping that when I leave Truro, I shall leave behind in MY garden plot, all bright and healthy looking flowers, so that when I look back on this time in my life I shall not have to think of one moment as wasted.

MACLELLAN-BARAGAR

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Congregational church, Grand Rapids, Mich., when Helen Barbara Baragar, became the bride of Ian Bancroft MacLellan, son of Mrs. H. B. MacLellan, of Hantsport. CLERK-HERBIN

A wedding of more than usual local interest was solemnized at St. John's church last Saturday morning, when Miss Angela Marie, eldest daughter of the late John Frederick and Mrs. Herbin, became the bride of Mr. Charles Beverly Clerk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clerk, of Church Street. The ceremony took place at 9.30 o'clock in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, Rev. R. F. Dixon, the rector of the church, officiating.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. David Maneely, the bride, who was unattended, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Fred G. Herbin. She wore a going-away gown of blue with accessories to correspond, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. The ushers were Misses Mildred Simpson and Violet Black. The church was decorated with golden glow and ferns.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Clerk left by motor for a short honeymoon trip before taking up their residence at Church Street.

Mrs. Clerk, who graduated from Acadia in 1920, has been vice-principal of the Bridgewater High School the past two years, from the pupils of which she received a case of silver butter spreaders, and from the teachers a sewing basket of oak. There were many other gifts of silver, cut glass and linen. THE ACADIAN extends hearty congratulations.

A reminder that the serious strike in the collieries of Nova Scotia is at an end with the arrival of the schooner "Hattie McKay" this week with a cargo of Springhill coal for R. E. Harris & Sons. This is the first cargo to arrive by water during the season, but will probably be followed by many others.

Tuesday, August 18th, being the twenty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. N. Evans, a party of eight ten friends of Mrs. Evans gathered at her home on that evening and presented her with a handsome basket of carnations and roses. A very pleasant evening was spent with cards and dancing.

Hallowe'en Day, October 31st, has been set aside as National Apple Day. The week October 31 to Nov. 6, will be celebrated as National Apple Week throughout the whole Dominion of Canada. It is hoped by concentrating effort to widen the distribution and use of the apple and to bring this splendid product of our orchards to every man, woman and child in Canada.

The schooner Rolfe arrived in port last week with a cargo of one hundred tons of molasses for Morrison and Kentville. It has been a long time since such a cargo came here by water. Older residents will remember when it was not an unusual occurrence. Half a century ago vessels were arriving here regularly from the West Indies and our wharves were piled with molasses, sugar and other tropical products.

THE ACADIAN had a pleasant call on Monday from Misses Clark and Rudd, Clinton, Ont., who were making their first visit to Nova Scotia. The former is editor of the News-Record and the latter public librarian at Clinton, a party of two thousand people in the northern part of the province. The visitors expressed themselves as much pleased with their trip east and the conditions generally which it revealed. They visited the university buildings at other points of local interest and on Grand Pre with its historic associations.

The congregation of the Baptist church were pleased to have the privilege of attending last Sunday to a former highly esteemed pastor, Rev. Dr. Webber, of Panama, Fla., who preached at both services. Dr. Webber is a thoughtful and interesting preacher whose discourses are always well worthy of attention. He was the minister here from 1908 to 1913, during which time the new church edifice was erected. Mr. and Mrs. Webber, who are spending some weeks with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Starr, at Starr's Point, were gladly welcomed back to his former charge by a host of friends.

While Mr. Val Rand was returning from Evangeline Beach last Sunday evening the car which he was driving was badly demolished by coming in collision at Grand Pre corner with a car returning to Halifax, in which were Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Pettipas and child and Mrs. Foster. The occupants of the car were considerably shaken up and the child was thrown into the street, but miraculously escaped injury. Mr. Rand claims that he was on his own side of the road at the time of the accident for which he claims there was no occasion as the turn in the road was plainly visible coming either way. He states that the Halifax car suddenly swerved and came in front of him as he approached.

NEW INDUSTRY WILL BE GREAT BOON TO VALLEY

For considerable time back the public have been hearing of a new breakfast food, the product of apples and wheat, which was destined to win a foremost place in this important article of diet. Plans that have been under consideration have been quietly worked out, and in THE ACADIAN this week appears an announcement in which people generally should be interested. Patents have been secured in Canada and the United States, a company has been formed and stock is now being offered for sale. While no definite location has been selected for the factory it is understood that it will be situated somewhere in the Valley, and should be a boon to the development of this section.

"Appo Krispe", the new cereal, makes it possible to "eat an apple a day in a new way", and has an advantage in that it is coming on the market at a time when it is said by the trade that the people are getting tired of the old breakfast foods. Its production should create a remunerative sale for a large proportion of the apple-crop of the Valley, and as in former years this section produced splendid crops of wheat the requirements for the new industry may to a very large degree be supplied by our own people.

The undertaking is certainly worthy of the careful consideration of the public, and any assistance that may lead to placing it upon a substantial business basis will be well invested.

THOMPSON-DEWITT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace DeWitt, Blomidon, was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday evening, August 19, at 7 p.m., when their daughter, Ethel, became the bride of James Yeststone Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, Hillton. The rooms were lovely with flowers and potted plants, and the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of blue with bandeau of silver, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas and maiden hair fern, interspersed with a wee bit of heather, the emblem of the birthplace of the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Marjorie DeWitt, sister of the bride, who was lovely in a gown of peach crepe de chene, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. The groomsmen were Mr. William Thompson, brother of the groom. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson, beneath a beautiful arch of flowers, the work of the girl friends of the bride. The organist was Miss Pearl Cochrane. The dining room, the color scheme of which was white, was a bower of flowers, bells of white suspended from above being festooned with ribbons of white, interlaced with sprays of pink sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, at which more than thirty guests were present. Those who assisted were Mrs. Fred Eaton, Miss Ida Pineo, Miss May Thompson, Miss Marjorie DeWitt, Miss Evelyn DeWitt, Miss Annie Sandford, Mrs. J. D. Bennett, Miss Pearl Cochrane.

The gifts to the young couple, who are social favorites, included cheques, silver, cut glass, linen and china. The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque, to the bridesmaid and only a pearl ring, to the organist an amethyst pin, and to the groomsmen a tie pin. The gift of the bride's parents was a cheque, and of the groom's parents, a case of silver.

Mr. Charles DeWitt, grandfather of the bride, aged 83 years, and his brother, Mr. George DeWitt, aged 94 years, were present at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on a motor trip and on their return will reside in Canning, where the groom is a member of the firm of Thompson Bros.

"God Gives the Seed--the Bread We Need, Man's Labor Must Provide It."

Upper--The old method of reaping the crop. Lower--The modern method. Inset--Testing grain at elevators in Winnipeg.

It is estimated that sixty-nine thousand harvesters will be needed to garner the crops in Western Canada this year. Of this number probably nineteen thousand will be supplied by the Western and prairie provinces leaving fifty thousand to be recruited in the East. This is an unusually large number. It means that from all parts of Eastern Canada a great army of Canadian men must be mobilized to harvest the grain upon which the general prosperity of the country depends. The famous gold rush of 'ninety-eight held no greater touch of glamour and romance than this annual exodus to the wheat fields of the west. From office, factory and college our young men and old men, and some of our women too, are preparing to enlist in the great adventure from which all hope to return hardy, bronzed and with a swollen savings account. The railway companies are fully prepared for the rush. Their Colonist cars of the newest, most serviceable and comfortable type, of which they have a greater supply on hand than ever before, are in readiness and there is more than enough motive power available for immediate service. The Colonist car has kept pace with the remainder of railway equipment in the march of progress. In the olden days many prospective harvesters remained at home because of the stories they heard of hardships and discomfort endured on the journey to the wheat-fields. Now, however, all that is changed. Colonist cars differ only in trifling details from the standard sleeping cars and they leave nothing to be desired in points of comfort, security and convenience. There is every reason to suppose that the East will raise its quota of fifty thousand men. The inducements are unusually good. A bountiful crop is expected; wages are high and there are unlimited positions available. Many young men attending colleges will avail themselves of the reduced rates to see the country and join in the great adventure of bringing in the sheaves, as the most profitable way of spending a holiday. The dates for the excursions are, from Quebec, August 14th and 28th; and from Toronto and points in Eastern Ontario, August 18th and September 1st. From Western Ontario the dates are August 21st and September 1st. The rates are the same as last year—to Winnipeg $15.00 and from there to the final destination, half-a-cent a mile. These rates apply equally to women as to men and there are many tired Easterners who will take advantage of the excursions to make their first trip west, and becoming personally acquainted with the geography and topography of the country as for taking part in the harvesting operations.

APPO KRISPS-the FRUIT CEREAL PRELIMINARY ANNOUNCEMENT

THE PRODUCT

"APPO KRISPS" is the registered trade name of a ready-to-serve "Fruit Cereal" recently patented in Canada and the United States. The exclusive feature of "APPO KRISPS" is the blending of Apples and Wheat in the form of flakes. "Fresh Apples—Golden Wheat—Grilled together—Ready to Eat"—a combination of qualities not obtainable in any other prepared food on the market.

SIGNIFICANCE

The whole trend of public buying for more than a generation has been definitely in the direction of prepared, ready-to-eat foods. So much so, that the production of breakfast cereals in Canada alone now amounts to over $4,000,000 annually and manufacturers of distinctive products in this field enjoy consistently large profits. The increasing sales of such cereals have been in spite of a certain insipidity, of a definite monotony when eaten regularly, and of a deficiency in dietetic elements as well as flavor—So much so, that their manufacturers have spent millions of dollars to inform the public of the improvement that results when these cereals are eaten in combination with fruits. "APPO KRISPS" alone overcomes these handicaps, takes advantage of the opening, and offers fruit and cereal combined in a most enticing form—makes it possible to "Eat an apple a day in a new way!"

AN INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

Prominent business men of the Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, and of Montreal, have associated themselves with the formation of Appo Krisp Limited, the Company which is to place this new Fruit Cereal on the market. The Company's first plant will be established in the Annapolis Valley—Canada's Premier Apple Growing district. The Stock of APPO-KRISP LIMITED is now offered to the investing public.

CAPITALIZATION— 2,000 shares 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock 3,000 shares Common Stock Par Value $100.00 per share Offered in Units of 1 Share 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock 1 Share Common Stock PRICE $110.00 PER UNIT

This is your opportunity to share in the profits of an enterprise which has an invention fully protected and a product which will merit public confidence. Appo Krisp Limited is undoubtedly a business with unlimited prospects for growth and profits for the equal benefit of all the stock holders. I believe it is only a question of a short time until Appo Krisp Limited will be in a position to pay splendid dividends to all stockholders.

ADVERTISING CAN HELP INCREASE PROFITS

Ability That Has Been Peacefully Slumbering for Years and Needs to be Awakened.

Farmers would make more money if they must break the habit of making for years. It needs to be awakened. Advertising should be studied by intelligent farmers the same as which they grow, or soil fertility, or rotation. Many farmers are saying "Tell us how to get money for our crops, we know how to grow them." The money for one's crops is an easy thing to get in certain places; in other places it is an empty gravel pit for holes—buyers think you are joking.

Intelligent advertising can increase the profits of almost any farm. At the moment, take off our hats to the advertisers of patent medicines. Patent medicines are sold in quantities to the amount of advertising received. The best patent medicines are those that receive the most advertising. If marketed from an advertisement, the most and therefore the best medicine. If Tanlac is advertised widely and people get to know its merits, then they will buy it and the medicine will be sold on the merits of its advertisement. Patent medicines were not advertised for a few years they would die a natural death. People would forget them. Of course some might go to the old practice of boiling herbs and their crippled imagination, but patent medicines would surely suffer an untimely death.

Applied to Apples—Now if patent medicines can thrive on advertising, might apples do if given a fair trial? If everyone in Canada were to eat one and a half apples instead of one and a half pears, there would be a greater demand for apples and growers would be more content and less inclined to curse the weather.

How are we going to persuade people to eat an extra apple? You can lead an apple to water but you can't make him drink. But people are different; they will be persuaded to eat an extra apple without being led to water. All that is necessary is the right kind of advertising, and it need not necessarily be in a bottle either. They will get it from a large road sign or the pictures of the newspapers just as readily but less consciously.

The American public is thriving on pictures as the Spaniard used to be in bull fighting. In almost every motion picture show there are "films of the day" or a short educational film or something like that. Imagine a nation of people going to a picture show and seeing something like this: A cluster of apple blossoms and pistils (male and female parts of the flower) enlarged, and taking place, the ovaries and receptacles developing into fruit—how delicious the fruit. Or, a historical picture of the apple tree shown. A wild seedling could grow upon the screen and then modern varieties placed beside it for the development of horticultural varieties. Another phase of the picture would interest people: A person in a costume of burlap bags, scattering seeds hither and yon, encouraging people to plant apples and then showing on to the next place, would be a big hit on the screen. And now imagine a nation of people coming out to see a picture showing a picture of the fruit stands, eagerly gobbling up everything that looks like an apple.

How to Advertise on the Farm—The moving pictures are not the important vehicle of advertising, but consider a few ways to advertise on the farm.

Utilize the Home Grounds—Road selling of farm produce has become an important source of disposal of farm products during the last few years. The mobile has taken city people into the country for recreational riding. It is a satisfaction about going into the country and getting things fresh. The farm is a business establishment that has produce to sell. And like business establishments with attractive show windows in the city, farm homes should find some way to attract the attention of passersby. The farm home and the grounds should be the show window of the farm.

Imagine any show window which is attractive—a restaurant, for instance, where empty tin cans and the things from meals are thrown in the windows, and fly specks adorn the window glass. How many people stop to take a meal from such a show window? Surely none with good eyesight. And how many people will stop to buy farm produce where the home is correspondingly untidy as that restaurant? Imagine a self-respecting farmer stopping to buy a crate of peaches a dozen eggs, where, instead of a neat attractive lawn and shrubs artistically placed a heap of brush and other debris are strewn in front yard. Some home grounds landscaped by nature. Tumble weeds make up the lawn, dilapidated paths inclose the lot, refuse substitutes for shrubs, and weeds grow up where flowers might have been. And at the same time the owner of such a place might have something to sell right at home. The best way to make a sale in such a case would be to plant a lawn, start some shrubs about the house and fix up the fence. That is one of the most effective ways to advertise the farm. People passing by will be attracted as bees spy out the brilliant flowers.

Navy blue rep, very simply tailored, makes an ideal dress for wear in the early Fall. The model above is a two-piece affair. The skirt has a kick pleat in the front for fullness, and the overblouse is made with a graceful V slit at the front and arranged to button at either hip so that the finishing band fits tight to the figure. The open neck, finished with a band which extends into narrow ribbons that drop at the front has found great favor this season.

Name the Farm—To name a farm is to give it a mark of distinction. It really is part of landscaping but it is important enough to merit special consideration. Again we can compare the farm business with the city business. Would not Marshall Field's department store in Chicago be an impossible fixture without a name? Would it not be a cantankerous job to describe any store each time you mentioned it, that people might know which one you meant, rather than referring to it by name? Just so it is with farms, and good farms are going to be much referred to now that roadside selling is being popularized.

If a man names his farm and then strengthens his business by producing good quality fruit, passersby, after purchasing a crate of berries or something else, will direct their friends to the place, this way: "Say, Fred, when you go riding tomorrow night stop at Sunkist Farm along the country road for some strawberries. They're nice and fresh—not like the wilted junk you get in the stores." You can't miss the place, there is a large sign out in front. That is the kind of advertisement that brings results.

A name for a farm should be simple, pleasant sounding, and displayed very attractively. If a name is conspicuously attractive, people will be more likely to remember it. The more out of the ordinary a name can be displayed without mutilating the rules of art or insulting propriety, the better will be the results. Neat bulletin boards or "For Sale" signs are effective. Many city folks ride into the country with the express purpose of buying fresh fruits and other farm produce direct from the producer. They may be attracted by neat landscape gardening but how are they to know that a producer has something to sell? The best way to tell travelers there is something for sale is with a bulletin board. A bulletin board should be neat and attractive but simple. Across the top should be printed "For Sale" and the various items listed below in such a manner that changes readily can be made.

Newspaper Advertising—Beautifulizing the farm home grounds, naming the farm and employing bulletin boards are among the most practical methods of advertising the farm, but newspaper advertising is not to be overlooked. It has been suicidal to many farm businesses, but it can be made to increase the farm income, if properly used. The reason newspaper advertising has been suicidal to farm businesses is because the business manager has not understood the psychology of advertising. (Of course the business manager holds all the other positions as well.) If there is one place more than another where it is difficult to sell for the full value of an article it is on the farm. Consumers have long formed the habit of disrespecting the value of farm produce. In certain places when the price, say of peaches, drops to half price, consumers think it should be still lower. Farmers become agitated and think it is about time to start advertising in the type of advertising they employ. "Come to such and such a farm. Get peaches for practically nothing. Pick them yourselves." And just as consumers see "Get peaches for practically nothing" they are convinced that half price is still 50 per cent. too high. That attitude on the part of the consumers is almost as bad as boycotting a commodity.

An advertisement should convey the idea that a product is a luxury, that it will benefit the buyer, and never should it suggest that there is over-production and that something is cheap. That kind of advertising all right at a dry goods store in order to get rid of trash that has long been accumulating. But with a farm it is different. If one man quotes the price of some fruit ridiculously low, the market, for all the other growers goes to Hades and sizzles for the rest of the season.

Growers living in close proximity or even automobile distance to town can employ the newspapers to very good advantage in advertising their products. Suppose a person intends to make most of his money from Delicious apples, or strawberries, or mushrooms or something like that. Then he could advertise his farm as being "the home of the mushrooms" or whatever he is growing. An advertisement could invite people to visit the farm and become acquainted with the "improved methods" employed—anything to convince consumers that you are producing the best! If it is the best it will sell itself thereafter. And that takes us to one of the most important points in salesmanship—

Production Quality—Advertising is the spokesman in salesmanship but quality dictates subsequent success or failure. Consumers are willing to pay a premium for quality. Not only for the intrinsic quality of the article itself, but for the quality of show. Has the article been prepared for sale properly? Does it catch the eye? Is it beautiful?

A man who sells fruits in carload lots on the Chicago market tells a little story to indicate the value of attractiveness: "I was selling peaches packed in jumble style. I wondered what the difference in price would be if the first layer in the boxes were faced. After facing the first layer on two boxes—it required two minutes per box—I put them up for sale and asked 50 cents per bushel more for them. In about three minutes a buyer came along and ordered 200 bushels of peaches that were faced."

Attractiveness is more important than the price. If producers will produce high quality cantaloupes in 1924. Every cantaloupe that left the place for market was stamped with a small piece of paper about the size of a postage stamp. The quality of the melons advertised them but the little postage stamp-like piece of paper told who the grower was and suggested that the melons were the best.

The same idea can be used in establishing a reputation for almost any kind of crop. Of course, it is not recommended that every apple or cherry should be stamped before being sent to market but it is feasible to place a small placard or card in the box. On the card could be printed the name of the farm, the name of the variety and an invitation to visit the farm. In addition to that a few brief statements, would be in place, as "By their fruits ye shall know them," or "Eat more fruit and save medicine," or something of that sort.

If money is to be had on the farm the gray matter of the farmers must be exercised more. New ideas and methods must be studied and employed, if meritorious. The physical part of farm life is important but the mental part should be much more important. When a farmer turns his natural hat rack into a mental machine he no longer robs himself of valuable time saying, "Down with this and down with that—the country has gone to the dogs." But he gets to work and turns his ideas into pleasure and money.

Use of Labels—A grower in the northern part of Ohio produced 100 acres of high quality cantaloupes in 1924. Every cantaloupe that left the place for market was stamped with a small piece of paper about the size of a postage stamp. The quality of the melons advertised them but the little postage stamp-like piece of paper told who the grower was and suggested that the melons were the best.

GREENWICH

Mr. William Bishop, of Greenwich Ridge, has again sold more cabbage of a larger quality, being number-one all through. He cut one head on the 17th of this month that weighed over 17 pounds, and others in his lot equally as good. Such success with cabbage so early in the season is good enough for anyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Forsythe and family of three children, of Bridgetown, motored over on Saturday afternoon and spent the week end here at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Lilla Forsythe.

Mr. Robinson, who is assisting at the railway station, during the absence of Mr. Pearson, spent the week end at his home in Mount Denon.

A few of our residents motored to Wolfville Sunday morning to hear Dr. Webber, at the Baptist church there, he being a well remembered former pastor there.

A number from here motored to Kentville on Monday evening to see the interesting pictures, "Peter Pan", at the Capitol Theatre.

Congratulations to all five of our Grade IX pupils who, we heard, passed successfully the Provincial examinations. They were Edith Forsythe, Olive Bishop, Minnie Bishop, Evangeline Cox and Douglas Neary. Also, congratulations are extended to Kathleen Hennigar who was very successful in her marks in the 9th grade, taken with the help of our teacher here. We wish all these pupils success in Grade X. Much interest of friends here is also felt in the young girl in Highbury, a nearby section, who studied Grade XI last year.
