"A little good stock"

The cookery books tell people to use it; and it is known what a difference it makes to the taste of a soup, a stew, a hash, or a vegetable. It is the summer staple for a household. This far better than Bovril. Bovril gives the dish a delicious flavour. And there is more! Real goodness in Bovril is in the richest stock or gravy. Bovril has a very building power of from 10 to 20 times the amount used.

"Flatterers"

The Shadow of the Future.

CHAPTER XXX.

"Oh, why not?" she returned, her brightness all evaporating. But to this Mr. Hurst only made indistinct responses as to "trespassing too much," and walked away, leaving Sydney to begin her asseverating monologue and end.

Mr. Babington dined with them the next day. Before the meal he talked some while aside with his hostess, and presently at the table asked Mr. Hurst if he were intending to go to the Jersey on Friday, these being people who for a couple of summer months rusticated and fished at Perristone, a little higher up the river. Slight acquaintance, began the previous year with Mr. Hurst, was followed up this season by invitation to dinner.

"For you only, Gilbert," Miss Hurst had commented on the note, arrived that morning. "Mrs. Jervis is down, I understand, but they have not known me. Oh, dear, no! Perhaps they do know never noticed me. Or if they do know there is such a person, why, I'm only your sister. I have no position to make any one take account of me. Don't be offended at it, Gilbert. I'm not. I'm above being offended, though I can't help feeling it. You'll go?" But Mr. Hurst had told her gently to decline. He cared nothing whatever about it, and Miss Jean seemed gratified. Now she appeared to have altered. Answering for her brother—"Oh, he must certainly accept," she said; "to oblige me, Gilbert, you really must. Etiquette is nothing at all to me, so long as you get a pleasant evening."

"So I will call round and walk up with you," offered Mr. Babington; but Mr. Hurst replying, "It brings you out of your road. I would rather make my way there alone." "Then I will return with you, at any rate," persisted the clergyman, with a meaning glance at Miss Jean; "your sister will feel easier if you agree to that, I know." And Mr. Hurst acquiesced rather than combat such a trifle.

At seven o'clock on the day of this dining at Perristone, Sydney wandered from garden to drawing-room, intending to write there part, at least, of her letter to Jacob Cheene. Miss Hurst was cutting out jackets for the small Babingtons in the study. Mr. Hurst she imagined gone. But there she was mistaken. Not due for another half-hour at his entertainers, he was standing on the hearth-rug, waiting, before he started, for the farewell inspection his sister had required, and Sydney halted on the window-step, letting her gaze, first of surprise, then of some-

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and sleepy. I worked in a mill and would have such cramps, I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about it and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments. STRILLA LUX-WILSON, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind. Some girls had lives of luxury, while others fell for their lives. But all have suffered in proportion to their indulgence. When such symptoms develop—irregularities, headaches, backaches, burning-down sensations and "the blues," girls should profit by Miss Pinkham's experience and buy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once."

thing more, rest on that tall, well-built figure in Englishman's evening uniform. Another June evening, another man so dressed, she remembered vividly, and hung her head, as if for that wretched bubble of misdirected fancy she owed apology to the presence before her. He could not see that mantling shame, nor divine that secret self-reproach; but a keen sense of both bade her draw back, away from him. An instant and she would have been gone, but just too soon. Miss Jean came hurrying in, one hand bandaged with a handkerchief.

"So you are ready, Gilbert, or think you are. But, Miss Grey, would you very kindly give me the brush off the hall-stand? Thank you. Stretch your arm out, Gilbert. I hate a speck of dust on broadcloth, and, of course, you can't tell if it's there. Do you remember how I used to brush you in your school-days when you never would stand still? Dear, dear, to think I have to do this now, and you—and everything—so different. But I never have repined. I don't mean to, even if—oh Gilbert—breaking off to turn aside and wipe her eyes.

"Your poor old sister does like to see you as you are looking now. She is always ready to be proud of you! But come, you are not finished off yet. Mrs. Jervis is a bride, they tell me. You must go properly adorned. Where is a flower for your button-hole?" "I want none, Jean. Let me be off now. I shall be late."

"Not till you have a flower. Miss Grey, are those wild rose-buds you are wearing? They are lovely, anyhow. May we rob you of them?"

"No, Jean, no!" "They are your own," said Sydney, unfastening them from her dress. "Davis had clipped them from the orchard hedge. I brought them in so they should not die entirely neglected," and she held the delicate cluster out.

Miss Hurst sighed at her own disabled fingers. "Oh, if they could see you as you are looking now. She is always ready to be proud of you! But come, you are not finished off yet. Mrs. Jervis is a bride, they tell me. You must go properly adorned. Where is a flower for your button-hole?"

"I want none, Jean. Let me be off now. I shall be late."

night. For—oh, Miss Grey, I must tell you this much—Mr. Babington wants me to forget all these past years; to marry him now! He told me so three weeks ago. I have been distracted as to what was my duty. I told him yesterday I dare not answer for myself. Gilbert must decide. And he is going to talk to Gilbert as they come home from Perristone. It does agitate me so. You won't mind my saying good-night, I can—oh dear—I can tell you more to-morrow!"

How much more, and what would it be? Sydney shook loose her heavy braids, wrapped her dark dressing-gown about her, and gathered herself up on the deep window-sill in her bedroom, to ponder over that sore-hearted, jealous, resentful—not for herself—smarting irritatingly for some one else and what the coming hour was bringing him. Mutely she kept vexed vigil, while the outer world, that had sunk into shadow with the falling eve, rewoke to clear unlit shape beneath a full June moon. From beyond the far, dim hills; reaching the west woods' crevices; down the still, billow-like masses of tall foliage; to wreaths of mist about the meadows, the silver light had stolen on before; through the perfect quiet, voices sounded near by. Winton. By the gate some minutes' monologue ensued. Then an interchange of good-nights, and Mr. Hurst re-entered the house to meet Miss Jean.

Well Sydney knew if arbitration were left to him what the issue of that conference would be. Acutely, as in articulate sound rose from the lower room to her open casement, imagination kept pace with the painful steps Gilbert Hurst must now be treading of self-renunciation to whatever point his sister's happiness demanded. For him, for his future, there was no one to plead; no one by to care! And she, and Alwyn, who ought most of any in the world to have helped him now, could do it less than the veriest stranger in the world. With a bitter flood of tears she buried her face in her hands, and feverishly struggled long to quell the useless torrent. When, throbbing and aching, she raised her head at last, the voices underneath had ceased. A foot-fall, Miss Jean's, traversed the lobby to the opposite room, and the hush of near midnight settled on the house.

But sleep seemed as far from Sydney's eyes as if the dawn of another day were nigh; as indeed, in some sort, it was.

Miss Jean's palpitations had long subsided into slumber, and still Sydney stood at her window, tormented by yearnings, passionate as futile, to furnish Gilbert Hurst master, instructor to be, as he had been, second time only to Mr. Vaughan, clever as he was, noble and worthy, to furnish him now with some haven from this last storm of homelessness that threatened him.

WILL WOMEN QUIT?

Women are going to fight the edict of Paris that skirts shall be long again. So I read in the newspapers, and my Letter Friends who read my screed on my fear that Paris would some day force us back to the long skirts that swept up all dust and germs, hasten to tell me. It is good news. I hope it is as true as it is good.

Not So Simple a Thing as Making One's Life.

It takes a great deal of courage to fight Paris, you know. Of course women have developed courage in these last few years. But many a woman brave enough to nurse wounded men within sound of the roar of the guns would not be brave enough to wear them short when Paris said they should be long.

Defying a fashion edict whether it emanates from Paris or New York is something that one cannot do alone or in a small group without tremendous courage and conviction. And whether women will stand together long enough to put down this enemy is yet to be seen.

And yet, when you come to think of it, women have not been so comfortable in the past few years as they used to be to having uncomfortable and ugly fashions put over on them.

There have been several attempts to bring back the blouse with the high neck and long sleeves but how successful have they been? We have seen a sprinkling of long sleeves on summer dresses but there have been half a dozen elbow sleeves to every long one. And as for the high collar, except for use with tailored suits where it has a certain charm and effectiveness, women would have none of it. Blouses open at the throat are just five times as becoming to the average woman, and ten times as comfortable and I don't believe she will ever give them up.

Where is the Bustle of Yesterday. Then the bustle has never come back and I don't believe it ever will. Shoes are tending more every year to combine attractiveness with comfort and sanity.

More attention is given year after year both in the shops and in the patterns gotten out by fashion magazines to beauty of line. Women can buy simple, inexpensive dresses nowadays in which the lines are as good as gowns of costly material. In the old days everything that was inexpensive was also cheap, and usually lawdy and overtrimmed. It is not so to-day and I do not think it ever will be again.

Women Will Always Welcome Becoming Fashions. Of course the critic who wishes to prove that women are just as much in bondage to the edicts of fashion as ever may point to that extraordinary feat of advertising genius, the putting over of the Summer fur. Nothing, he will say, could be more absurd than that uncomfortable fashion. But he should also remember that nothing in the world is so becoming as a fur and that women naturally welcomed the chance to wear them in Summer as well as in Winter.

I do not mean to claim that women are going to reform and go in altogether for common sense fashions to the exclusion of becomingness. What I mean is that women are going to be more critical and less slavish in their acceptance of fashions; they are not going to let unbecoming ones be put over on them, and when possible they are going to demand both comfort and beauty.

Cycling Through the Clouds?

(By F. T. BIDLAKE)

The so-called flight of the celebrated French sprint-cyclist, Gabriel Poulain, has attracted fresh attention to the possibility of a flying machine operated by man-power only.

Poulain fitted planes to a bicycle, and drove it by the back wheel, as usual. He attained a high speed, and was able, by tilting his planes, to leap five, ten, and thirteen yards on three successive trials.

Poulain, however, cannot be said to have flown, but only to have glided through the air. He had no propeller, or any means of maintaining flight. It is interesting to find that he could put out enough power to get a glide. Further experiments did this by turning down slopes, or letting fly over the edge of a machine called the hydrocyle, his chief feat was a river trip from Oxford to Putney. The craft was propelled by the three occupants sitting tandem-fashion. More recently, Miss Zetta Hills proved that such a cycle can be propelled by a single driver. She almost succeeded in crossing the Channel last summer.

All the same, water-cycling is not likely to revolutionize aquatic. There was a time when it was thought worth while to experiment with road machines, by reproducing the carman's action, and such hand-propelled cycles were marketed for a time.

THE BACK SEAT.

I often rode with Stephen Stuss, in his green super-eight; it was a large and powerful bus, and strictly up to date, and was admired by every cuss who marked its easy gait. I do not like to be or knock it, but I don't see how it doesn't get better; but I would say, on every block, "It aggravates my mind, the way you turn your head to talk with those who sit behind. The man who drives a motor car should always look ahead, and know just where the culverts are, and when the machine dreads, or he may ditch us with a jar, and leave us lying dead. The people in the seat behind would feel much better, too, if you would keep your people mind on what you have to do, and make your boat in safety ground, until this joint is through." But Steve kept turning round to say his bright and witty things, and ran into a load of hay, and busted all the springs; they took us home upon a dray, in plaster casts and allings. And foolish Stephen Stuss was hurt the worst of all, his said; he landed squarely in the dirt upon his bonny head, and ruined his twelve-dollar shirt, all striped with green and red. And as I said to that poor-toad, I say to every gent: When you are driving on the road keep your glances bent, or you may have your abode beneath a monument.

De Valera's Demand Impossible.

Voluminous Correspondence Between Leaders--Only One Way Out of Deadlock -- Shackleton Sails For Antarctic-- Yorkshire Post Warns Colonial Secretary.

PRIME MINISTER TO DE VALERA.

LONDON, Sept. 18. The text of Lloyd George's telegram to Eamon De Valera follows:—"I have received your telegram of last night and observe it does not modify the claim that your delegates should meet us as representatives of a Sovereign and independent state. You made no such claim when you came to meet me in July. I invited you then as a member of the British Commonwealth. That was the basis of our proposals and we cannot alter it. The status you now claim in advance for your delegates is in effect a repudiation of that basis. I am prepared to meet your delegates as I met you in July in the capacity of chosen spokesmen for your people to discuss the association of Ireland with the British Commonwealth. My colleagues and I cannot meet them as representatives of a sovereign and independent state without disloyalty on our part to the Throne and Empire. I must therefore repeat that until the second paragraph of your letter is withdrawn, conference between us is impossible."

DE VALERA'S REPLY.

DUBLIN, Sept. 18. Eamon De Valera, replying yesterday to Lloyd George said:—"In reply to your latest telegram just received, I have only to say that we have already accepted your invitation in the exact terms which you quote from your letter of the seventh instant. We have asked you to abandon any principle, even informally, but surely you must understand that we can only recognize ourselves for what we are. If this self-recognition be made the reason for cancellation of the conferences with you and in these conferences, and as my written communications, I have never ceased to recognize myself for what I was and am. If this involves recognition on your part, then you have already recognized us. Had it been our desire to add to the solid substance of Ireland's right, the veneer of technicalities of international usage which you now introduce, we might have claimed already the advantage of all these consequences which you fear would flow from the recognition of our delegates. Now believe me we have but one object at heart, the settling up of a conference on such a basis of truth and reality, as would make it possible to secure through it the result which the people of these two islands ardently desire. I am, sir, faithfully yours, Eamon De Valera."

VALERA'S DEMAND IMPOSSIBLE.

LONDON, Sept. 17. Prime Minister Lloyd George's reply today to the communication of Eamon De Valera of Friday, says that to receive the Sinn Fein delegates to the proposed Conference as representatives of an Independent and Sovereign State would constitute a formal and official recognition of Ireland's severance from the King's domains. Mr. Lloyd George says that as long as Mr. De Valera insists that Irish delegates should confer as representatives of an Independent and Sovereign State conference is impossible. In his reply Mr.

later hours and tended to drive rioters indoors.

SHACKLETON SAILS.

LONDON, Sept. 17. The Quest, the small ship on which Sir Ernest Shackleton will explore uncharted sections of the South Atlantic, Pacific and Antarctic left the Thames today on the start of his two year voyage. Large crowds gathered on the docks to wish Sir Ernest and his party a successful voyage.

A WARNING TO WINSTON.

LONDON, Sept. 17. (By Canadian Press)—The Yorkshire Post, Chief Organ of the Lloyd George Government in the North of England, utters a warning against the scheme of Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for the Colonies, for grouping of Crown Colonies and Crown States for administrative purposes under a High Commissioner for each group. The Post says it by no means follows that the scheme will meet the approval of the Colonies concerned, each of which Colonies has a very distinct character. It concludes, "There is indeed a danger in the effort, now evident in more than one field of Imperial administration, to create a sealed pattern of organization on one universal model."

LLOYD GEORGE MAY NOT ATTEND.

LONDON, Sept. 18. Mr. Lloyd George is practically certain to be unable to attend the Washington Conference on the limitation of armaments, according to the "News of the World," whose proprietor Lord Sidel, is a close friend of the Prime Minister. It is declared doubtful whether Earl Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, will be a delegate. The paper says the British delegation probably will include Arthur J. Balfour, Sir Gordon Hewart, Attorney General, Lord Lee of Fareham, First Lord of the Admiralty, and possibly Andrew Bonar Law.

RUSSIA'S MISERY.

TSARITYN, Russia, Sept. 17. (By Courier to Moscow)—Hunger is tightening its grip on the lower valley of the Volga. Officials of the near East relief, who reached this city today after making a survey of the ten Provinces in sun scorched Southeast Russia, said conditions indicated wholesale starvation by January if outside help on a large scale did not arrive immediately.

A RECTOR'S PLEA AND PROTEST.

HALIFAX, Sept. 17. Rev. A. F. Dentith, Anglican Rector of Spryfield, and Terrence Bay, the latter a small fishing post near Halifax, protesting against the action of the Government in declining to extend the lobster fishing season as a measure of relief along what is known as Prospect Coast, says in a letter to the press:—"I speak from the experience of twelve years and I can truthfully say the poverty is heart-breaking along the shore, sickness is very prevalent and children die like flies through want of nourishing food. The past summer's fishing has not been good. Fuel is expensive and the outlook hopeless, unless these toilers of the deep are given a fair chance to exist. Let the Government stretch a point and restore them their fishing rights, say until the end of February next."

THE WAY OUT.

LONDON, Sept. 17. Sinn Fein acceptance of membership in the British Commonwealth as the basis of negotiations with Premier Lloyd George is seen as the only way out of the present Irish situation and deadlock by London newspapers, although prospects regarding conference are considered by Eamon De Valera's latest note to the Premier.

KINDLY COOLING RAIN.

BELFAST, Sept. 17. Two boys were wounded during serious disorders in Vera Street District of this city last night. Troops were rushed to the scene and a man who interfered with them received a bayonet wound. Several arrests were made in the North Queen's Street area, near Vera Street. There were bursts of firing at intervals and the troubled district was in a ferment until ten thirty o'clock. Rain fell during the

DARTMOUTH RUM RUNNING.

HALIFAX, Sept. 17. Customs officials today are looking for the schooner Mary Smith, which is believed to have landed one hundred kegs of overproof rum, valued at twenty-five thousand dollars, at Dartmouth wharf, last night, and then to have attempted to lose herself. The rum was seized when the Dartmouth police officials noting the movements of a strange craft at the waterfront, inspected the fish shed operated by Albert Myers. Myers was taken into custody and the rum, which is believed to have come from St. Pierre, was removed for safe keeping.

UNEMPLOYMENT RETURNS.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17. Unemployment among Labor Unions at the beginning of August was 9.1 per cent of the total membership, according to the forthcoming issue of the Labour Gazette, published by the Department of Labor. The figures given indicate a gain in employment at the first of August over the beginning of July, when 13.15 per cent of the total Labor Union membership was out of employment.

THE ARBUCKLE TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17. Comedian Roscoe Arbuckle was cast today for a new court scene in the tragedy of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, who died, according to accusers of Arbuckle, following a drinking orgy in the actor's department in a San Francisco Hotel, and as a result of mistreatment by her host. Today Arbuckle was to be arraigned in the Superior Court upon an indictment, charging manslaughter, returned by the County Grand Jury. But this arraignment is a mere formality, it was said, and District Attorney Brady was scheduled to ask for a continuance of the manslaughter case until action has been taken on the charges of first degree murder pending against Arbuckle in connection with Miss Rappe's death.

CANADIAN BANKRUPTCIES.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17. Notification of forty-two assignments under the Bankruptcy Act is contained in this week's issue of the Canada Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. Unofficial reports received in Washington are to the effect that Premier Lloyd George will arrive in the United States during the first week in November to attend the conference on limitations of armaments, which assembles here on November eleventh.

Landlords and Tenants.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Now that the winter is approaching with its bleak winds, snow and rain, let us give a thought to those, the poor and even the better off, who are living in rented houses. It is generally known that landlords, particularly those who are fond of "filthy lucre," have little thought of the comforts of their tenants. Their actions which are said to speak louder than words seem to say, "oh, there is no need to spend money on that house, they must remain in it, as they can't get another house; there is no law to make me put the house in good condition, then why should I spend money on it. They must pay the rent or I will put them out—lots of people are looking for houses, and if they want more comforts than they have let them do the repairing, at their own expense."

Now, Mr. Editor, this seems all right from the landlords point of view, but there is another side, and if we give that side a little thought, I think we will agree that an improvement is necessary in the tenants' interest. There are no doubt landlords who are ever ready to make the tenements comfortable for the tenants, and only need to be informed of requirements, to have them attended to at once, and who are just as thoughtful of the comforts of their tenants as if the latter were hard to secure. But there are also landlords, and we all know some of them, who charge anywhere from $15.00 to $30.00 a month for houses that are not worth $5.00 a month—houses in fact that are not fit for human habitation. We know houses whose roofs are leaky, and where rain comes flooding down in all rooms the first shower; houses where owing to dampness, etc., various diseases creep in and find easy victims—houses where basements are heaped with rubbish, left there by one tenant after another, until there is scarcely any basement there at all. These are surely houses where disease lurks, and every ready to take advantage of the weaknesses of the family.

I would ask the authorities, is there any remedy for this state of things? Last year when a number of gentlemen intimated their intention of building houses to better the condition of the working man's homes, when they actually built a number of tenements, we all thought that the end of this state of affairs that I refer to above was in sight. But, alas, there is no need to mention the result, the venture appears to have had its origin in a desire for gain rather than the philanthropic desire of doing good for the working man and giving him and his family better housing conditions. Is it possible that a landlord can offer any sort of a house at the most exorbitant rental, simply because houses are in demand? Is it lawful? Is it honest? Is it Christian like?

The time must come before this condition of affairs is remedied, when a landlord with a house to rent will have to get a license from a committee appointed for the purpose, a license to rent his house. Before this license is given the said committee will send an inspector to decide if the house in question is clean and comfortable for occupancy, and only on his report will a license be given.

Making "moonshine" is a crime justly punishable by law, but is it worse than having a tenement, where the moon shines through the roof, or the rain pours through, which is about the same thing? Persons who from their scanty earnings are compelled to pay each month $15 to $30, even $50 should get value for their money. Why should a person with a few houses be permitted to profit more than any other person? Truly

"Man's inhumanity to man Makes countless thousands mourn."

Yours sincerely,

TENANT.

St. John's, Sept. 17, 1921.

P.S.—I hope soon to see the gentlemen who began the good work known as the Housing Problem, again get together and think out some plan that will work out better than their first venture, better I mean for the poorer class of tenants.—TENANT.

Obituary.

MRS. ELLEN TAAFFE.

On last Friday evening, after an illness of some five months, there passed to the Great Beyond an esteemed and widely known lady of the West End in the person of Mrs. Ellen Taaffe, wife of Mr. Joseph Taaffe of Messrs. Jas. Baird, Ltd., and youngest daughter of the late Captain William and Margaret Jackman. Deceased lady had been suffering from internal trouble for some years past and entered the General Hospital last spring for treatment. The late Mrs. Taaffe was a woman of true Christian qualities, and her life was made up of many sacrifices. Charitable in the extreme she will be missed by many who had reason to know of her generosity and other kind deeds. Left to mourn are a husband, one daughter, Marie, Nurse at the General Hospital, and three brothers, Commissioner William Jackman, David Merchant, Bell Island; and Frank, at Montreal, and a sister, Mrs. James Ryan, of this city. Her only son, Edward, predeceased her last year. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon and was attended by a large concourse of citizens, testifying to the esteem in which the deceased lady was held by those who knew her. Interment was at Belvidere. The prayers at the Cathedral were recited by Rev. Dr. Greene. To Mr. Taaffe and daughter the sympathy of the community will be extended in their hour of sorrow.

A Paramount Duty.

When Doctor Isaac Watts wrote "For Satan finds some mischief still For idle hands to do" in his Songs for Children, he very possibly had in mind not only the admonition to the juveniles contained in these well known lines, but may have been thinking of something that might occur during grave labor crises, when unemployment is at its maximum. Idle hands are apt, when idle very long to turn to acts of violence, if not of damage and bloodshed, and history gives multiple instances of those compulsively idle turning and rendering society to shreds. The paramount duty of the hour therefore is to anticipate the same gentleman who finds work for hands not otherwise engaged in legitimate toil, and beat him to it in his line of endeavour. The unemployed problem is occupying the attention of economists and sociologists the world over, for where unemployment is there cannot be full productivity. Soup kitchens and bread lines are all right to relieve vicarious destitution but these cannot be kept up indefinitely. Winter is approaching, and the mild warning which we uttered Saturday should be heeded. Jobs must be found for the jobless, otherwise there will be a confusion—if not worse—which may paralyse and render nugatory all efforts to restore to order. The Relief Work inaugurated by the Government to help those who could not get to the fisheries has been completed; or if the work itself has not been finished, all the money allocated has been expended, and some hundreds of men are thrown out of the emergency employment provided for them by the starting of the Badger and Deer Lake highways. No blame can be attached to those responsible for this. It is a very natural sequence.

But the further question suggests itself, a question bristling with difficulties, what is to be done to keep these men employed that they and their families may live throughout the approaching winter. It is obvious that the Government is unable to find or finance other avenues of employment through which employment may be given. Yet on the other hand it is equally obvious that these men and their families are not left to starve. They must not be allowed to perish of destitution. Employment has to be found—but how? It is too late in the season for them to engage at fishing, no matter how willing they may be. The lumbering concerns up country do not need the services of any great number of loggers this fall and winter. No new industries are likely to be opened for the next seven months at least. Here then is a problem in which all are equally interested. It is a situation in which every one in the country is directly concerned. Continuance of unemployment means something to everybody and only the selfish will say that it is nothing to them. Therefore, there must be, in order that the wheels of life may revolve in all departments, employment for all. For employment means purchasing power; purchasing power means consumption, this in turn means production, and going back on the circle production means employment, and employment means prosperity. Conditions look good to-day in Newfoundland apart from this phase, and prospects are improving every where. But with an ever increasing number of jobless workers—and every man hitherto employed at road making is now amongst that class—something has to be done and done quickly. Hungry people do not stand on ceremony. The duty of the hour then is to find all the employment for those now out of work, and find it quickly. That duty devolves upon all.

Resignation of Mr. Morgan.

Mr. R. C. Morgan, the new manager of the Newfoundland Co. Ltd., under the arrangements made by the Government, has resigned that position and will return to Winnipeg. Mr. Morgan, we understand had a month's leave of absence from the C. P. R. and will return to his old position with that line. In his letter, tendering his resignation, Mr. Morgan gives as his reason that as "large capital expenditures on the Railway are necessary in order to put the freight traffic on a sound basis, and effect other savings of great importance," it will require time and he does not "feel justified in sacrificing his prospects with the C. P. R. to continue in the management of the Newfoundland Railway." This is the reason given to the public. Whether or not there has been a rupture between the Company and the Government, or between the management and directors, which has led Mr. Morgan to take the action he has, time will reveal. The public must accept the explanation given, but it will do so with reserve. We like it not, and still hold that it would have been preferable for the Government to have allowed the Company to retain its paying propositions, and to have the people stand sponsor for the non-paying ones. It is not apparent, so far as we know, that the addition of the word "aid" as a prelude to the Government grant was open to grave surmise. Will the people have to pay for that little word in the end.—Mr. Grace Standard.

Schooner Dismasted.

On Saturday afternoon the Marine and Fisheries Department received a message stating that a schooner had been dismasted about three miles off Bay de Verde Head, and asking for assistance. The matter was turned over to the Minister of Shipping, who arranged to have the D. P. Ingraham dispatched to the scene. The tug left at 6 p.m. and searched the ocean in all directions, going to sea a distance of some 30 miles. The search was abandoned this morning and the Ingraham returned to port shortly after noon. She reports that the people of Bay de Verde saw the schooner quite plainly, her masts were broken off short to the decks. They also saw a large tanker bearing down on the wreck and taking off the crew. It is evident that the shipwrecked men landed at Catalina on Saturday night from a tanker and, as reported by Capt. Roberts of the Susu, belonged to the dismasted vessel. The Shipping Department has not received any message up to noon to-day as to the name of the schooner from which the men were taken.

Warning to Prowlers.

Nightly for some time past certain parties have been frequenting a barn on the Cuckold's Cove Road, and using it for purposes other than that for which the building is intended. Yesterday morning the owner on going to attend to his cattle found inside the door a man's cap and a lady's belt. Outside two bottles were discovered. Apparently last night these visitors attempted another entry, but precautions having been taken, there was nothing doing. A caution is hereby given that any persons found trying to effect an entrance, during the night, will have to take the consequences, a watch having been set. The owner fearing that danger of fire, as well as other menaces may ensue from this illegal use of his property, is taking steps to prevent other nocturnal marauders from indulging in the habit already described.

Robberies Still Proceeding.

WHITE CLOTHING FACTORY LATEST VICTIM. On Saturday night the premises of the White Clothing Company, Duckworth Street, were entered by thieves and a large quantity of goods was stolen. The burglars gained an entrance through a window which they broke. It is not yet known how big a haul was made. Never before in the history of the city has so serious an epidemic of robberies been known. Whilst it is ridiculous to suspect that a "mastermind" as a contemporary has suggested, is behind all the recent burglaries, none the less they seem to be the work of an organized gang of thieves. Despite the fact that many old offenders are arrested on suspicion, and in nearly every case, are convicted of one or more larcenies, the epidemic still continues and to an alarming extent. None can consider themselves safe whilst this kind of thing is allowed to continue, and anxiety has been experienced by many citizens of late. If there are not enough police on night duty then let the number be augmented. Have constables stationed on every principal street during the night and early morning. If needs be, let a force of special constabulary be taken on until these nightly depredations cease. Rewarding must be done, and done quickly. If these burglaries are not to assume more serious proportions. In the meantime, such offenders as are caught should be treated with the utmost severity of the law. It may seem inhuman, perhaps, to send young boys down for long periods. But if the burglaries are to be stopped, there is no other alternative. In the meantime, the detective force under Head Constable Byrne is working all time and ought, if given proper assistance, to be able to cope with all these robberies, which can only have been committed by the ordinary petty thief.

"Susu" Rescues Disabled Schooner.

The Schr. Ronald D. which was caught in the storm of Saturday and badly damaged was luckily picked up by S. S. Susu, and towed into Greenspond. The Ronald D. had her cabin carried away and was drifting to sea when sighted by the Susu. The latter had great difficulty in making the schooner fast, but by skillful seamanship on the part of Capt. Roberts the feat was accomplished. Capt. Smith and crew had a narrow escape, as their schooner was unmanageable and for the timely assistance rendered they are very grateful.

CREW LANDED SAFELY. The Marine and Fisheries Department has received the following message from the Sub-Collector at Harling Neck: "Schooner Laetta miscarried and struck a sunken rock while heading in the harbor on Saturday evening during a storm of wind. S. S. Clyde stood by but could not assist. The vessel is likely to be a total wreck; the crew are safe, having landed in their own boat." The Laetta was engaged mostly in coasting and is a fine vessel of nearly 100 tons. She is owned by Snow of Twillingate.

Threatened Matron.

UNFORTUNATE GIRL SENT BACK TO HOME. The distressing sight of a young girl, not sixteen years of age, was seen at the bar in the Magistrate's Court this morning. This girl, whose name is Teens, and who was recently sent to Jensen Camp Industrial Home for safekeeping, was charged with using menacing language and threatening to burn down the home. The mistress of the home in giving evidence, said Teens swore at her, sang vulgar songs, and when an attempt was made to lock her in a room, threw splints at witness and an assistant and threatened them with a carving knife. Later the girl tried to drink some Jeyes Fluid. The Judge said he had no alternative but to send the accused to the Penitentiary unless the matron was prepared to take her back to the Home. It was arranged that Teens should go back, the matron consenting to take her.

Day by day, the need for a reformatory becomes more and more apparent, and it is a standing disgrace that in a city the size of St. John's, a magistrate can only send refractory children to the common goal to mix with hardened criminals and to lose what few morals they may possess. If those children who through their parentage or some other unfortunate occurrence, ultimately find themselves in the hands of the police were sent to a reformatory, something might be done to make them grow up better citizens, but under the present system they are rather encouraged to remain criminals. Surely it has not always to remain the duty of a reporter to bring matters such as this to the notice of the public. Is there not somebody who possesses sufficient influence to accomplish something in the interests of the children of the city who, if not taken care of, will grow up a menace to the whole community?

Football's Biggest Year.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME ON WEDNESDAY.

On Wednesday evening, the biggest year in the history of League Football in this country comes to an end, when the Stars and B.I.S. will play off for the championship. Both teams have played consistently good games throughout the season and whilst the Stars, who are all veterans of the old school of football are a heavier team, the B.I.S. make up in speed what they lack in weight. The game will undoubtedly be one of the most exciting ever witnessed on St. George's Field. More football has been played during the present season than ever before. The reason for this is that there were a very large number of teams in the League, and as it is necessary, under the league system, that each team should meet every other team, a very large number of games had to be played. In spite of what might almost be called an overdose of football, every game was well attended, and it is very satisfactory to realize that interest is being revived in the game to an extent never previously manifested. But, whilst a great deal of interest was taken in this year's football, it would have been even greater if, instead of having ten first league teams, either a second division were introduced, in which would be placed the weaker teams, or some of the weaker teams were to amalgamate and form fewer but stronger sides. It is to be hoped that next season a second division will be arranged, the teams comprising which being given a chance to work their way up into the first division. Not only will this mean more interesting football, but it will also permit the organization of other teams, which whilst unable to gain admission to the first division, would be able to get into the second and from there, gradually fight their way up.

The Orphans' Collection.

After the Masses in the R.C. Cathedral yesterday it was announced that the annual collection in aid of the orphans at Bellevue would be taken up on Sunday the 25th inst. After 10 o'clock Mass Rev. Fr. McGrath made a touching appeal to the congregation, urging the necessity of generous contributions. He said that the good Sisters had 160 little ones under their care, and considering how difficult the average person found it to provide for a family of 4 or 5, it could be realized how hard it must be for them to feed and clothe such a large number. The quarters of the children, conditions as they are, are now in a crowded condition necessitating extension, which said the preacher, was an additional burden on the institution this year.

LABRADOR REPORT.

S.S. Senat was last reported at Hopedale from where Captain George Harbour sent the following message to the Minister of Shipping:—"Went north as far as Ryan's Bay, one schooner there, ready for home, with 550 qts. fish on board. Fishery along the coast, slightly improved since last trip. From the one hundred schooners fishing north of Hopedale a total of about 40 thousand quintals has been recorded. About 45 schooners are fishing yet, the rest are leaving for home, fish getting scarce. The weather is fairly good and no wreckage is reported."

I. O. O. F.

Deputy Grand Master at Grand Falls, Oddfellowship, which has been growing rapidly during recent years in the "Paper City" has received a new impetus from the visit of the Deputy Grand Master.

After paying visits to the Lodges in St. John's and Bonaville, he arrived in Grand Falls, on Sunday morning, September 11th. The members of Exploits Lodge held a special meeting on Monday evening, and put on the third degree. Brother McLeod, the Deputy Grand Master, congratulated the brethren on their working of the degree, and gave a most interesting address.

On Tuesday evening, a joint social was held at which were present representatives of Exploits Lodge, No. 2, Hesperance Rebekah Lodge, No. 64, and Grand Falls Encampment, No. 2. About 100 persons sat down to a banquet provided in the Cabot House. The Noble Grand of Exploits Lodge, (Bro. Albert Hann), ably presided and the following toasts afforded an opportunity for the various speakers to outline what Oddfellowship was doing for Grand Falls.

TOAST LIST.

"The King"—Prop. by the Chairman. "The Grand Bodies"—Prop. by Bro. C. Goodyear, D.D.G.M.; Resp. by Bro. McLeod, D.G.M. "Exploits Lodge, No. 2"—Prop. by P. Way, P.D.D.G.M.; Resp. by J. H. Bellamy, G.S.W. "Hesperance Rebekah Lodge, No. 64"—Prop. by L. R. Cooper, P.D.D.G.M.; Resp. by J. Barwick, P.G.

On the conclusion of the Toast List, Bro. R. C. Goodyear, on behalf of the brethren, presented Bro. McLeod with a small souvenir of his first visit to Newfoundland, to which the D.G.M. made suitable reply.

The room was then cleared for a dance which was kept up till after midnight. Everything possible was done to make his visit a pleasant one and we all trust that Bro. McLeod will renew his acquaintance with Newfoundland during his term of office, and thus show his appreciation of the welcome given to him in the "Ancient Colony."—J.H.E.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR BRUISES, ETC.

An Unusual Defence.

COUNSEL COMMENTS ON POLICE METHODS.

Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., entered a curious plea in behalf of a man named Carroll of Holyrood whom he was defending in a Prohibition case. Carroll was charged with having liquor in his possession and his counsel said that he had already been fined on this charge. The accused was one of the victims of the holdup near Holyrood some time ago, but whilst he had been fined for having rum in his possession at that time, the liquor was not taken from him. Deputy Minister of Justice Summers asked for an adjournment until the court records could be examined as he was under the impression that in the previous charge against Carroll, the liquor was whisky and not rum, as in the present case. The request was granted.

During the case Mr. Higgins took occasion to comment on the fact that on Monday last all four members of the detective force went out to Holyrood to search Carroll's house, whilst a series of robberies was going on in town. He also thought that samples of the liquor found should be taken on the spot. In reply to a remonstrance from Head Constable Byrne, Mr. Higgins declared that, when making searches of this sort, the police should be equipped with the necessary facilities for taking and sealing samples before the accused. He did not make any insinuations against Head Constable and his men, but said that sometimes, some other man might be tempted to meddle with the samples. Mr. Summers said there was something in Mr. Higgins' point and the matter of having samples taken in the presence of the accused, was under discussion although the law did not call for it. Judge Morris said that he had never had occasion to have the slightest suspicion of Head Constable Byrne and his assistants. As regards the law, he said the people had made it and were now repenting in sackcloth and ashes. The case will come up for further hearing on Monday next.

Sable I. Arrives.

The Sable brought a large freight and the following passengers:—H. W. LeMessier, Mrs. J. McDonald, Mrs. S. McDonald, Miss I. Warren, W. A. Garry, W. Seymour.

A Marvel of Modern Industry.

Cold Storage Plant of Newfoundland Atlantic Fisheries, Ltd.--Millions of Pounds of Fish Prepared For Export.

A visit to the Cold Storage Plant of the Newfoundland Atlantic Fisheries Company is, in itself, a liberal education in the modern methods employed in the preservation and preparation of fish for export. The general public has, as a rule, no taste for technicalities and beyond a simple explanation of the modern operation of the Cold Storage Plant, it is not the purpose of this article to deal in them. But to a country, whose chief product is that of the sea, a description of the industry, which is going to be one of the greatest boons to the colony, cannot fail to attract the interest of even the casual reader. It was with this idea in mind, then, that a representative of the Telegram visited the Cold Storage Plant in the West End of this city.

The engine-room is contained in the first floor of the building. In this room there are two immense engines of 200 horse power each. The power is given them from a dynamo of quite a large size. One of these engines only is used, as the other is kept as a substitute in case of accident. This is a very necessary precaution. At one end of the engine room are three very large cylinders which contain a highly volatile liquid which is forced through pipes in the freezing rooms by means of air. This liquid is highly compressed. The freezing rooms in which the fish is kept until ready for either smoking or export, are numerous and are scattered about the various floors of the building. They are quite large rooms and are fitted with pipes which run through in such a way as to form shelves on which the fish may be laid. An icy chill shoots through one on first entering, whilst one notices that the floor and ceiling are covered with snow and ice. Nor is this to be wondered at when it is realized, that the temperature is between ten to twelve degrees below zero. Not below freezing point, notice, but actually below zero. Fish when placed in these chambers, which are known as "sharp freezers," are frozen solid within a couple of hours. Within these "freezers" are to be found piles of fish of all descriptions whilst there are also a large number of boxes of frozen and smoked fish ready for export.

SPECIES OF FISH EXPORTED.
Fish of many kinds are to be found in the Cold Storage Plant. Millions of pounds of cod, salmon, caplin, halibut and herring have passed through the plant whilst large quantities of fish not so much in use here, such as plaice or flat fish, and turbot are also to be seen in the various "freezers."

fresh fish including filleted cod, ready for export. The various "sharp freezers" on this floor contain heaps of salmon, frozen whole, and looking as fresh as when they first left the water. There are also boxes of smoked salmon lying about. In one corner one finds huge white halibuts, frozen solid, fish which must weigh hundreds of pounds each; near them is a mound of flat fish, one of the most delicious fish that there is, and yet unappreciated here and left rotting on the wharves and on the beaches. Big turbot from Trinity Bay, though not in such large quantities as the other fish are also there; caplin, nearly a million pounds of them, are to be found in the various chambers. Yet, that is a fish which is used here as manure! In the Canadian and American markets it commands a ready sale both fresh and smoked. Even Finnan Haddie are put up in this huge plant. In one room were 150 tons of salmon ready for export, whilst as much again, unpacked, was contained in the same "freezer."

HOW FISH ARE SMOKED.
Smoked fish form no small part of the huge exportations made by the N.A.F. Co. In a special part of the building the smoking department is found. Here, in large kilns, 50 feet in height, fish of all kinds, such as herrings, kippered and red, caplin, salmon and even cod, are smoked over fires of sawdust and chips, which are burning at the bottom of the kilns. The capacity of each kiln is 15,000 herrings or equivalent.

Several women are employed in this department. Some are splitting herring, washing them and placing them in troughs of pickle from which the fish are taken and suspended on hooks ready to be placed in the kilns. Others are rapidly putting caplin on rods preparatory to hanging them in the smokers. The small fish such as herring and caplin are smoked overnight. The larger fish such as cod, and salmon take a little longer.

In the basement heaps of sawdust and chips are to be seen, ready for use in the kilns. Spruce and pine sawdust is chiefly used but oak has been found to give the best results. Two small furnaces which generate heat through pipes which are used for drying fish are also in this basement.

NATURAL ICE BY ARTIFICIAL PROCESS.
In a room on the first floor natural ice is made by an artificial process similar to that which freezes the fish. This ice chamber has a floor divided into oblong sections or compartments, and in each of these compartments, a 200 pound block of ice is made. By this means, 20 tons of ice can be made in a day.

There is also a room in the building where the boxes used for the export of smoked fish are made.

Veteran of World War Now Relates Story of Troubles

Lieut. Draper Of Glens Falls, N.B., Relates Remarkable Experience For Benefit Of Others.

Lieutenant William Draper of Glens Falls, N.B., a popular officer in the Canadian Army, veteran of the South African and World War, is an ardent champion of Tanlac. He says: "After buying Tanlac to the test I feel that I owe it to others who may suffer as I did to relate my experience. For three years I was troubled with rheumatism in my arms and back, and my muscles were so sore and stiff that at times I couldn't stand or raise my arms. I finally got so crippled up I couldn't walk without dragging one foot after the other. My stomach was all out of order, too, and I had no appetite and was weak and badly run down in general. "Tanlac absolutely drove the rheumatism entirely out of my system. I have a fine appetite now, everything I eat agrees with me and, to make a long story short, I'm a well man."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

At the Yarmouth Y.M.C.A. Boys' Camp, held at Tacket Falls in August, I found Minard's Liniment most beneficial for sunburn, an immediate relief for colic and toothache.

Alfred Stokes,
General Secretary.

SOMETHING JOB MISSED.
Job was patient, but Man alive! He hadn't a wife he must teach to drive. He never was out on a crowded street Telling his feet what to do with her feet; How to start the motor and how to steer. Give it the gas or shift the gear. And Job when teaching her how to back Never had her stall on a street car track.

Patience! Job was a novice sure! For all he suffered there came a cure. But Job would have cursed, I will wager five. Had he tried teaching his wife to drive. I doubt that he would have kept his seat. In an auto mis-driving down the street While he shouted aloud: "For pity's sake, Take your feet off the gas and use your brake!"

I wonder how Job would have liked to hear The awful grind of a stripping gear? I wonder how he would have liked to be In a car attempting to climb a tree? Job's book of trials wouldn't have been enriched. Had he taught his wife how the gears are switched. He'd have had woe which but few survive. Had he tried teaching his wife to drive.

Whitbourne Notes.

Mr. T. Gushko, who passed away last week, was laid to rest in the R.C. Cemetery on Saturday, 10th inst., the funeral being largely attended.

Rev. C. A. Moulton, who was on his way to Hear's Content on Saturday last to take Sunday duty, was delayed here for some hours. The train finally left here at 7 p.m. for that place, owing to the express being 4 hours late.

Miss Sarah Sharpe left for her new sphere of work at Green's Bay, Herring Neck, on Thursday, 15th.

his natural piety and faith never faltered, and we believe "all is well" with him now, and can only give thanks for his good example. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. C. Jeffery, on Friday afternoon. The casket was a handsome one, and covered with floral wreaths from friends. May he rest in peace.

Mr. William Hutchings, aged eighty-eight, passed away from earth on Wednesday, 14th inst. Mr. Hutchings, who was much respected at Whitbourne, possessed a wonderful faith in the unseen world, and was looking forward to his release from the burden of the flesh. Although acutely afflicted with illness for some years, and practically a dying man for many months, will likely visit here in November next.

Rev. C. Jeffery left for Blaketown, on a pastoral visit Saturday afternoon, 17th, by rail.

The writer thanks "W.J.L." for his kindly words, but his assumption as to the "sex" of the Whitbourne Correspondent causes a feeling of amusement, but we keep our own counsel and don't admit anything.

Two slight errors appeared in my last notes, the first on the 23rd Aug. Instead of Walter Nosworthy, it should have been Harold, who is returning to the School for the Blind at Halifax shortly; that was my error, and I am sorry. Good luck to Harold. The second was that of the Linotype man, Peed's Hope should have read Fort Hope, Ontario, Canada.

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

Codfish.—The export of dry codfish this week totalled 76,450 quintals, the largest weekly record for 1921. The shipments were as follows:—

From Outports.—By schr. Ophelia from Fogo from Newfoundland Labrador Export Co., 2,100 qts. to Oporto; by schr. Laberge from Messrs. Earle & Sons, Fogo, 2,800 qts. to Alicante; by schr. Dazle from Harry & Co., Placentia, 3,464 qts. to Oporto; by schr. Mark H. Gray from the Burin Import & Export Co., 3,444 qts. to Oporto; by schr. Mary II. from Messrs. W. & T. Hollett, 2,273 qts. to Sydney; by schr. Maxwell K. 2,786 qts. from The Garland, Guelph to Lisbon; by schr. General George to St. John's, 5,000 qts. to Oporto; by S.S. "Swanholm" from Messrs. Baine Johnston & Co., Battle Harbor, 12,334 qts. to Gibraltar for orders; by schr. Castle Carey from the Marytown Trading Co., Marytown, 1,246 qts. to Oporto, and by the S.S. Narstrand from the Union Trading Co., 8,526 and the Martins and Fisheries Department, 8,492 quintals; total 13,018 qts. from Port Union to Genoa, Naples and Patras. Total from Outports 54,978 qts.

From St. John's.—By schr. Enid E. Legge from Messrs. Moulton & Co., 4,052 qts. to Pernambuco; by S.S. "Rosaland" to New York, 9,223 qts., and by the S.S. "Sachem" 10,596 qts. to Liverpool by Messrs. B. M. Shipman, A. S. Kendall & Co., Terra Nova Co., Baine Johnston & Co., C. F. Bennett & Co., James Ryan, A. E. Hickman, Job Bros. & Co., Geo. P. Barnes, T. H. Carter & Co., A. H. Murray & Co., Jas. Baird, Ltd., A. Hearn, Harvey & Co., Ltd., T. Tracey, T. Hollett, J. F. Murphy, Newfoundland Labrador Export Co., W. A. Munn, Bishop Sons & Co., G. J. Carter, and Labrador Fish and Oil Co. Total for St. John's 21,481 quintals.

Cod Oil.—We predicted an improvement in the demand for Common Cod Oil last week, as buyers had begun to make enquiries. This week we are in a position to confirm our prediction and to report that a slight advance has taken place. We would not be at all surprised to see $85.00 being freely offered before long. All kinds of fish oils have been so depressed this year that the buyers are few, as compared with recent years, that it will not take much to fill the demand. We would, therefore, advise fishermen and planters not to hold back their product as they can sell now, most likely to best advantage. They should not hold out for the very last cent as they may get left later in the season.

Cod Liver Oil.—There is no chance whatever and no prospect of better prices this season.

Pork.—There is no change in the market. The importations are short about 7,000 barrels, owing to the reduction of the purchasing power of the people. The imports for the week were 784 barrels. Although the price is 20 per cent. lower than last year, the importation is not improving. The local quotations are: Mess. $31.50; Short Cut $31.00; Back $31.00; Morris Family $37.00; Ham Butt $35.50, and Spare Ribs $25.00.

Beef.—The market is steady, fluctuation being within narrow limits. The imports for this week were 1,060, chiefly Boneless. The shortage as compared with last year is about 3,000 barrels. Trade is inactive at present, but enquiries are being received from outport sources, and it is likely that before the end of the month there will be a brisker demand. The quotations are: Bos Flank $28.00; Special Family $27.00, and Boneless New York $21.00, Boneless Choice, $22.00.

SUGAR.—The importations this week totalled 1,292 barrels. The demand is brisk at present, owing to the abnormal consumption for jamming purposes. The price is 12 cents for American Granulated White for barrels, and 15 cents by retail. For hundred barrel lots the quotation is $11.70. The general belief in the trade is that prices will be maintained for the balance of the year. The shortage for St. John's is about 40,000 cwt. to date this year.

Molasses.—There is a general belief amongst the trade that Molasses is going to be dearer. Another contingent came in from Barbados this week in the "Rosalia II" with 274 puncheons, 156 tierces, and 498 barrels. Importations will be short of the normal supply by at least 5,000 puncheons. What is left in Barbados now is being held at prices that will mean $1.00 per gallon here for Fancy and 90 cents for Choice. Those who can do so, would do well in buying their Winter's stock now when the price is 85 cents a gallon wholesale.

Potatoes.—Latest reports from Canada indicate that there will be a much heavier crop than was anticipated. As a result, prices dropped this week fifty cents per bag of 30 lbs., or $1.00 per barrel. Still lower prices may be looked for in October, and the popular P. E. "Blues" will before winter sell here, most likely, at much lower rates than the present quotations for home-grown, which to-day is $4.50 to $5.00 per barrel, and 20 cents per gallon retail.

Hay.—The market is unchanged and hay is still selling at $22.00 to $25.00 wholesale. The crop all over Canada is short, and in most areas only half of normal. A small shipment arrived by the S.S. "Mance" this week. We do not look for any activity in importation till next month, when the weather grows colder. We would in the meantime advise all who want a supply to buy as early as possible, as there will be 160,000 hay by December.

Onions.—The Canadian market shows an advance of three cents a bushel this week. Prices are very firm. Canadian farmers complain that it does not pay them to raise onions at the prices prevailing all the summer, and those who are independent enough financially, to do so, are holding out for better prices. We, therefore, look for a stiff market by November. At present the local quotations are: $3.00 to $4.00 per sack for Mixed, and $4.00 to $4.20 for White.

Apples.—There are big stocks in the local market now. All "Gravensteins." The selling price in the barrel is $6.00 to $7.00, according to quality, as there are three grades of this brand, large, medium, and small. Annapolis Valley has the largest crop for many years, and we do not look for higher prices this side of Christmas. The imports for this week amounted to 1,794 barrels. The first of the "Kings" will be in the market the latter part of October.

USE YOUR HEAD.

A woodpecker pecks out a great many specks of sawdust. When building a hut. He works like a nigger. To make the hole bigger. He's sore if His cutter won't cut. He don't bother with plans of cheap artisans. But there's one thing Can rightly be said: The whole excavation Has this explanation. He builds it. By using his head.

So use your head when you require a good tonic and nerve builder by taking Dr. F. Stafford's Old Liver Oil. Price $1.50 bottle; Postage 20c. extra. For sale by DE. F. STAFFORD & SON, Wholesale and Retail Chemists and Druggists, St. John's, Newfoundland.

Wedding Bells.

PITTMAN—CARTER.

The Anglican Church at Topsail was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, September 13th, when Alan G. Carter, son of George Carter, Esq., of St. John's, was united in holy matrimony to Eda, third daughter of Rev. Arthur and Mrs. Pittman, of the Rectory, Topsail. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked dainty and very charming in a satin gown of frazzled blue, with bridal veil and bandeau of orange blossoms, and entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, rendered by Mr. Gordon-Christian in his best style. She was attended by her sister Miss Minnie Pittman and Miss Gladys Carter, sister of the groom, who were tastefully gowned in peach satin and old rose silk respectively. Messrs. Harold Mitchell and Wm. Goodridge supported the groom. The church was decorated with flowers and ferns for the occasion, and the ceremony performed by Rev. W. J. Rowe, of White Rock, brother-in-law of the bride, was very impressive, the marriage hymn "O Perfect Love," rendered very softly and sweetly, being a pleasing feature. After the ceremony light refreshments were served at the Rectory, after which the happy pair motored to Bonanza's. The following day they sailed by the "Macon" en route to Montreal and the honeymoon will be spent touring Canada. The groom's present to the bride was a gold pendant set with aquamarines and pearls; to the bridesmaids gold brooches, and to the groomsmen gold cuff links. An interesting array of unique and very costly gifts are sufficient testimony to the popularity of both bride and groom. For the past three years Miss Pittman has been a nurse in the hospital for sick children at Toronto, where she graduated last year. She has only been in Topsail a couple of months, but during that time has made many friends by her unaffected manner and winning personal charm. Mr. Carter is also very popular, being well known at St. John's, where, when the wedding tour is over, the happy couple will reside in future. Their many friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Carter a long life of wedded happiness.

Physical

break-willed, in other words, powers of concentration, to train the muscles, to gain the desired result, to have all the time the force expended, not under control, and before energy. (See illustration).

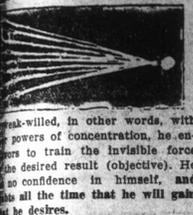

from these facts several important points are brought to mind, and simple enough they contain the secret of success. (1) To succeed in any of the physical sciences, the student must have a certain amount of physical energy, nervousness, and a strong business sense, which will aid you in the pursuit of your goal. (2) You must have a certain amount of physical energy, nervousness, and a strong business sense, which will aid you in the pursuit of your goal.

HOW TO SUCCEED. Before you can hope to succeed, you must have a certain amount of physical energy, nervousness, and a strong business sense, which will aid you in the pursuit of your goal. (3) You must have a certain amount of physical energy, nervousness, and a strong business sense, which will aid you in the pursuit of your goal.

Physical Development

and its Bearing on Health and Strength.

OF THE WILL.—The illustrations illustrate in a very simple manner (1) intense concentration, (2) poor concentration. We will assume a man desires to bring about a certain result. If strong-willed, in other words, possessed of intense concentration, he will train his mental force on the desired result (which we will call the objective). He has boundless confidence in himself, and never doubts for a moment but that he will gain his desired result. None of the energy of this mental force is wasted. (See illustration.) This is the working of a well-trained, developed, and controlled force. Result—he gets what he wants.

Intense concentration.

From these facts several most important points are brought home to the mind, and simple though they may be, they contain the secret of success. (1) To succeed in all our endeavors, whether we are attempting to develop the physique, to get rid of some troublesome complaint, such as indigestion, nervousness, etc., or in ordinary business ventures, we must have confidence. (2) We must have control over the mental force and nervous energy, of course, having first acquired or developed same. (3) A very simple exercise in any development you wish is to exclude all other ideas from your mind except the one on which you are working. This is the strongly without allowing your mind to become engaged in any other thoughts (seek the objective) and breathe deeply, and repeat the while. If you follow this cannot fail.

When you are exercising, or attempting some feat of strength where the necessity of concentration is obvious, in order to give confidence you may remind yourself of your practice as above advised. (4) That you have benefited thereby. Nothing must be despised. (5) You will aid you in ridding yourself of the idea that the subjects with are "intangible."

HOW TO SUCCEED.
Before you can hope for success you must imbue your mind with the thought that you are only about to attempt that which many others have succeeded in. It will be fatal to succeed to regard yourself as "superior" in a new line of thought. You are always inclined to look for an experiment with just as much an anticipation as for success, the weakest intellect generally succeeds in establishing a belief that what others have done may be

Press Bureau Battles.

GREEKS OUTCLASS TURKS.
ANGORA, Turkey, Aug. 15.—Competition between the Greek and Turkish Nationalist official press bureaux is one of the phases of the war in which the Greeks outclass the Turks, due to Greek control of communications.

"Here's an Athens dispatch that we have just hanged six Frenchmen in Angora," said to the correspondent Hussein Raghib Bey, director of the Turkish bureau, tossing the copy of a wireless across the table. "There's no truth in the yarn, of course, but by the time we are able to get out a denial, the news will be printed everywhere in the world, and nobody will believe our denial, anyway, or take the trouble to print it. The most astounding untruth are spread about us."

As the Nationalists have but one feeble wireless station, which receives news from the outside world, but sends only a few hundred miles and in a wave not known to America or Allied ships in the waters of the Black and Mediterranean seas, immediate news from Angora reaches the outside world several days old. The Greeks have the advantage of being visited easily by foreign correspondents and the second advantage that they censor press telegrams. They recently took the added precaution to place a censor on cables originating in Constantinople, insuring as the only cables from there pass Greek territory.

The Nationalists are arranging a more powerful wireless to talk to the Tiflis wireless station, which in turn transmits to Moscow. For internal propaganda, bulletins are distributed by the daily newspaper a Hakimiet-Millie (National Sovereignty), which is printed on presses brought on donkey back from Constantinople. Its editors are Constantinople journalists.

MORGAN LEFT IN DISGUST.

R. C. Morgan, late general manager of the Reid Newfoundland Company, was a passenger by the Kyle this morning. He left on the morning express for Montreal. Mr. Morgan has severed his connection with the Reid Co., and has tendered his resignation. Friction it is said, over the policy to be pursued in an effort to put the system on a better paying basis, was the reason for his throwing up the job. Mr. Morgan, who was formerly superintendent of the C.P.R. terminals at Winnipeg, was one of the big men connected with the Canadian Pacific, and his appointment to the important position of general manager of the Newfoundland system was the outcome of the recent negotiations between the Reids, Government officials and the C.P.R. management. He assumed office about the first of September, and one of his policies for putting the system on a better financial basis was a reduction in the working force, which he claimed was far too large. He objected to any reduction in wages, but believed by reducing the staff a much better showing could be made.

It is understood President Reid and other officials objected to this method and so hampered Mr. Morgan in his efforts that he left in disgust.—North Sydney Herald, Sept. 15.
