ALLIES NOW START VICTORIOUS ADVANCE BEGIN TO SWEEP THE GERMANS FROM VALLEY OF THE MEUSE RUSSIANS DEFEAT TURKS AND CAPTURE 60,000

A Remarkable Unanimity on Nickel

Notwithstanding the profound silence of the Toronto newspaper press (Telegrams excepted) the nickel question grows in interest. None of them have read Mr. Leonard's remarkable letter about the ease of refining Ontario nickel in Ontario.

Oh, where are you, N. Wesley Rowell, on this nickel business? Have you no progressive policy to frame up on it, or any challenge to offer to the Hearst policy of letting the nickel ore go out of Ontario unrefined, and of letting the International Nickel Company of New Jersey (Ambrose Monell, president) pay the shareholders $4,337,000 in dividends last year on one million of preferred stock and thirty million of common stock without any contribution to the country and province whence this immense wealth was taken? Not to mention the greater and more patriotic policy of seeing that the nickel goes not to our greater enemy, Germany.

Now let us take the Conservatives. We spoke of consensus of opinion—like-mindedness—on this nickel question. A remarkable article has been appearing in many Conservative papers within the past fortnight. We should not say "it"; "they" would be better; because they must have each of them been written by the respective editor of the paper printing. But they all read alike—the editors simply thought alike. There are no quotation marks or any credit lines showing that the article was copied from another paper. Just consensus. There was no understanding between the papers to think and write alike. But there was some one person busy getting a lot of papers to think as that person thought! And they did. Let us print this widespread and like-minded editorial:

NICKEL AND NICKELS. Thousands of tons of Canadian nickel ore at the present time in the enormous state of German warships, as well as of British and French and Austrian and Russian, points out a Canadian writer. From our mines, the ore is being shipped out in a crude form, to be refined and re-shipped by American companies to the markets of the world. Up till the past couple of months, it has been a matter of business, Canada had a corner on a very useful article. She sold it to the world. But at the present time there is not an ounce of nickel ore in the world. The German armament on the Kiel Canal or at Esen or anywhere else that Canada could supply is being used to pay the cash price to keep in this country until the war is over. That's the practical patriotism: just as selling the nickel abroad was practical business, so it is now.

We spoke of the International Nickel Company's profits. Here is something about the profits of the Mond Company's nickel. It is syndicated article by the Marquis de Fontenay, clipped from The New York Evening Sun of Dec. 28 last: Sir Alfred Mond is known throughout the world as the Nickel King, and as chairman of the Mond Nickel Company, founded by his father. It is a company which is understood to be the richest in the world.

Sir Alfred Mond is known throughout the world as the Nickel King, and as chairman of the Mond Nickel Company, founded by his father. It is a company which is understood to be the richest in the world. Most of the Canadian nickel mines, and it must be remembered that Canada produces nearly all the nickel in the world. Nickel is one of the most important elements in the manufacture of steel.

Every mine in the province, the annual profits of which exceed $10,000, shall be liable for and the owner, manager, holder, tenant, lessee, occupier and operator of the mine shall pay an annual tax of three per cent on the excess of annual profits of such mine above the said sum of $10,000. For the purpose of this section all mines and mineral workings within the province occupied, worked or operated by the same person, or under the same general management or control, or the profits of which accrue to the same person, shall, for the purpose of determining whether there is liability to taxation hereunder, be deemed to be one mine.

RUSSIAN ARMY CRUSHES TURKS IN CAUCASIANS

One Army Corps Captured and Another in Full Flight.

VICTORS OUTNUMBERED

Smashing Defeat Severe Blow to Prestige of German Officers.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 5.—Defeat of the Turks in the Caucasus at Sari Kamysh with the capture of the entire 9th army corps and the vigorous pursuit of the 10th army corps and a severe repulse of the invaders at Ardahan, forty-five miles northwest of Kars, on the road to Tiflis, were reported in despatches from the commander of the Russian forces on the frontier received here tonight.

This rapid success is considered most astonishing by Grand Duke Nicholas, who had kept the forces at a minimum strength along the three hundred mile Turkish frontier in order not to weaken his armies opposing the Germans and Austrians in the west.

At the outset of the war it was determined in order to fall in with the designs of the Germans in bringing Turkey into the war to stand on the defensive against the Turks for the present and to devote the energies of Russia to the crushing of the Austrians and Germans. As soon as this was accomplished the Turks would be forced to collapse speedily beneath the superior weight of Russia and Great Britain.

The Turks, led by German officers, took the offensive amid the rigors of a winter of the Caucasus, and the inferior Russian force, in compliance with the plans of the general staff at once fell back and concentrated against the Turkish column so as to defeat them in detail.

When one column of two army corps, it is believed here advanced as far as Ardahan on Sunday, driving in the Russian advanced outposts, the bear, by a lusty stroke with his claws, smashed this formidable force. This was followed by an immediate offensive at Sari Kamysh before the leaders of that column of invasion could have time to fall back after hearing the news of the Turkish retreat.

Three Divisions Captured. In the report of the Russian commander of the Caucasus it is mentioned that the Turkish forces were broken up into small bands.

Waiving of Right to Search Would Be Invitation to Smugglers.

Waiving of the right to search ships bearing contraband cargoes in the opinion of several prominent British officials, would be an invitation for smugglers to play their trade, whereas the retention of the right of search would prevent dishonesty.

A decidedly favorable impression has been produced here by the American Government's proposal that the British certification plan, British officials regard it as a further manifestation of the desire of the American Government to reach a satisfactory settlement of the differences concerning the delay and seizure of American cargoes.

How much did the Mond Company pay? The profits of the former last year, to March 31, 1914, were $4,792,664.

Not a great deal, we venture to say, in comparison with their enormous profits. The provincial authorities are probably at sea, in attempting to fix their net profits, because the refining is done in other countries.

If the smelting and refining were done in Ontario we could tell what profits the companies were making pretty well, and collect a percentage. Certainly it would be much more satisfactory to collect a royalty at the pit mouth upon the ore, so long as that ore is shipped away for refining purposes. It would no doubt be still more satisfactory if we could levy a poundage tax upon the finished product refined in Canada.

Would any individual owning coal-bearing lands lease them to a company upon an undertaking that the company would pay him a certain share of the net profit? Would he not insist upon a royalty upon the coal at the pit mouth? Surely the Mining Tax Act would be amended without delay.

Perhaps Hon. Mr. Hearst has an amendment ready. If he has not, will Mr. Rowell suggest an amendment?

NO BAIL IS GRANTED ALLEGED CONSPIRATOR

Charge of Obtaining Passports Fraudulently Regarded as Most Serious.

Canadian Press Despatch. NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Efforts of counsel for Carl Ruroede to obtain a reduction of his client's bail of $20,000 failed again today. Ruroede is one of twelve men arrested Saturday in connection with the alleged conspiracy to defraud the government thru issuance and use of fraudulent passports, on which German reservists might travel to Europe, un molested.

U. S. Attorney Marshall contended that Ruroede had conducted a bureau which fraudulently obtained from the state department passports to be used, not by Americans, for whom they were intended, but by persons serving their country as spies or in other capacities.

SEARCH OF SHIPS TO BE CONTINUED

U.S. Proposal to Certify Cargoes Does Not Solve Problem.

BRITAIN'S STAND FIRM

Waiving of Right to Search Would Be Invitation to Smugglers.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Jan. 5.—Altho the foreign office regards with favor the American Government's plan of certifying cargoes loaded under the direction of officials of the treasury department and destined for European ports, it was said today that England cannot accept such certification as an absolute guarantee of the nature of the cargo in case any cause for suspicion arises after a vessel leaves America.

The waiving of the right to search ships bearing contraband cargoes in the opinion of several prominent British officials, would be an invitation for smugglers to play their trade, whereas the retention of the right of search would prevent dishonesty.

A decidedly favorable impression has been produced here by the American Government's proposal that the British certification plan, British officials regard it as a further manifestation of the desire of the American Government to reach a satisfactory settlement of the differences concerning the delay and seizure of American cargoes.

The announcement is as follows: "The British Government proposed to the German Government, thru the United States, that arrangements be made for the exchange of prisoners of war, who were physically incapacitated for further military service. AUSTRIAN ROUT IN CARPATHIANS IS DISASTROUS Remnant of Army Retreats Thru Pass in Blinding Snowstorm.

LOSE BIG OIL FIELDS

Huge Operations Between Vistula and East Prussian Border Awaited.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Russians report another victory over the Austrians in the Uzsoz Pass of the Carpathians. Emperor Francis Joseph's army in this region is declared to be in full retreat in a mountain pass deep in snow, while a violent snowstorm rages and the Russian cavalry is attacking on the flank and rear.

By forcing this pass the Russians gain control of some of the most valuable oil fields in the Austrian empire, and thus shut off supplies of the Austrians from the east. The Austro-German armies are said to be so much in need of this however, has only been part of the Russian task. While forcing back the Turks and Austrians, the Russian troops are holding the line of the Mazurian Lakes in east Prussia, are fighting strenuously to withstand the German offensive in north Poland; and are advancing toward Cracow and have crossed Bukowina, which is now virtually in their possession.

Weather Aids Russians. In Poland, where Russia is confronted with the most serious task, the weather is proving a useful ally. The Germans, according to their own reports, are making only slow progress with their offensive operations, while the Russians, an unofficial dispatch received from Berlin by way of Copenhagen, says, are advancing toward Cracow and southern Silesia.

Military men look for bigger events between the Vistula and the east Prussian frontier. The Russians are in possession of the greater part of the intervening territory, and unless the Germans succeed in driving the river, the German flank to the south of the river. It is therefore held here that the Germans are planning a movement from Thorn and east Prussia, which would prevent its possibility, and as the fighting would take place in the open it would afford a contrast to the trench warfare which prevails along the rest of the front.

IZZET PASHA IS TAKEN PRISONER BY RUSSIANS

Canadian Press Despatch. PETROGRAD, Jan. 5, 11:40 p.m.—A despatch to The Bourge Gazette from Tiflis says the Russians have taken Izzet Pasha, former Turkish war minister, a prisoner.

UNITED STATES MAY PROTEST TO GERMANY

Question of Coal Shipments Likely to Inspire Note.

Special to The Toronto World. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The American shipping protest may become a question of coal shipments to Germany as well as Great Britain, it was reported today. Coal shipments, it is declared, may become the subject of complaint to Germany.

On excellent authority it is stated today that, involved in the shipping discussion with Great Britain, is the question of Germany's having obtained coal, oil and other contraband from the United States in alleged violation of both navigation and neutrality laws. Explicit denial of the charges is given by the Dominion Government and C. P. R. officials.

JUBILANT MESSAGES

Confirmation of Triumph Grand Duke Nicholas Gives in Caucasians.

Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Jan. 5.—The following official statement was made tonight: "Grand Duke Nicholas has addressed to Gen. Joffre the following telegram: 'I hasten to inform you of the joyful news that the army of the Caucasus, notwithstanding that its forces have been reduced to a minimum, with a view not to weaken the army in the principal theatre of the war, has won two decisive victories—on Dec. 21 and 22 (Jan. 3 and 4 modern calendar), against Turkish forces superior in number, at Ardahan and the town of Sari Kamysh against the 9th and 10th Turkish corps. The entire ninth corps has capitulated; the twelfth corps of the upper Rhine, which was ordered to withdraw, but is being pursued by our troops.'

Gen. Joffre has sent the following reply: 'I pray your imperial highness to accept my warm felicitations for the great victory won by the army of the Caucasus. By their constant and unceasing effort in all theatres of operations, the armies of the allies are preparing the definite victories of the future.'

PRIMATE OF BELGIUM ARRESTED BY GERMANS

Mild Protest in Pastoral Letter Apparently Angered Military Rulers.

Canadian Press Despatch. AMSTERDAM, via London, Jan. 5, 8:45 p.m.—A despatch received by The Tifl from Rosendale says that Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, arrested by the German authorities and held a prisoner in his own archiepiscopal palace at Malines under a military guard.

The report, which has not been confirmed, says the cardinal's arrest was the result of a pastoral letter issued by him and read in the churches in Belgium on Sunday. In this letter the cardinal is said to have referred to the occupation of Belgium as follows: "This power has no legal authority and consequently you owe it in your heart neither allegiance nor obedience. The only legal authority in Belgium is that pertaining to our king, his government and the representatives of the nation."

FRENCH SEIZE STRONG POINT AT ST. MIHIEL

Capture of Quarry on Highway Across Meuse Opens Way for Advance.

ALSACE MAY BE FEINT

Progress Up Meuse Valley Would Cut Off Germans on Belgian Coast.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—An the western battle front the French official communiqué tonight records the capture of a quarry at the crossing to St. Mihiel, the first progress made in that section of the front for several weeks. It was at this point the Germans took a stand four months ago, and so far they had defied all attempts to dislodge them. It remains to be seen whether Gen. Joffre massed large forces at this point for the operation, whether a general advance will be made up the Meuse, and whether the present progress in Alsace is really a feint to weaken the German lines, stretching like a snake across northern France, so as to give the French room for progress into Belgium along the Meuse, a process which if completed would compel the Germans on the Belgian coast and in Brussels to beat a hasty retreat, or run the danger of being cut off from Germany and compelled to surrender.

German Staff Alarmed. It became known that the French operations in Alsace were alarming the German general staff, for reports were allowed to filter thru, telling of a large German concentration in Alsace to resist the French advance. Gen. Joffre told the Alsatians that the French had come there to stay, and this speech would tend further to make the Germans believe in the imminence of a French invasion of Germany, the way of the upper Rhine. The dispositions of the enemy to meet this supposed advance may have led to the weakening of the lines where the natural defence seemed strongest, and thus give Joffre room for a vigorous drive thru mid Belgium. This is to destroy the German armies that Gen. Joffre is primarily aiming at, then Alsace-Lorraine, the country along the Rhine, lies at his feet and the army of the nation will be an easy matter.

In the other parts of the battlefield, despite the fighting, neither the allies are prompt to seize any advantage to press themselves forward and are continuing the process of wearing down the enemy.

New Association Formed at Rhodes Avenue Presbyterian Church Last Night.

At the inaugural meeting of the All-British Club last night in Rhodes Avenue Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. A. Cameron, B.A., of Bloor Street Baptist Church, delivered a stirring address on "The Christian and the War."

Rev. D. Wallace Christie, the pastor, in opening the meeting, stated that the purpose of the club was to unite all men independent of color or creed in a fraternity to study and advocate the principles of imperial, national and social peace.

Mr. Cameron, in his address, referred to the false and unreasonable ideals of Germany in training for war and termed it preparing for peace. He stated that their theory was, "In time of peace prepare for war," and compared it to the true Christian ideal of "In time of peace prepare for peace."

Because of the Christian ideals that are at stake in the war, he urged the Christian to give the allies their heartiest support and prayers.

Citizens' Duty. In conclusion, Mr. Cameron stated that it was the duty of those at home to contribute to the work of the Christian church and the strengthening of the faith of fellow-citizens.

An excellent program of music was contributed to by Messrs. R. Robertson, J. Phillip, G. Martin and W. Brewer.

At the close of the meeting sixty-five members were enrolled. At the next meeting of the club on Tuesday night officers will be elected and a debate will be held on "International Peace."

BOARD RESCINDS ORDER FOR MOORE AVE. BRIDGE

City Must Repair Part of Old Wooden Structure Across Belt Line.

Some months ago the Ontario Railway Board ordered the construction of a steel bridge across the Belt Line ravine at Moore avenue, Moore Park, to replace the old wooden structure, the cost to be met by the County of York, the city and the Grand Trunk Railway Company.

This order has now been rescinded and the city has been instructed to repair that part of the bridge for which it is responsible.

W. A. Clark, York Township clerk, was informed yesterday by the township solicitor that the board had rescinded the order, but no reason was given for the change in the board's opinion regarding the necessity for a steel bridge at this point.

A mass meeting of Tommorden Conservatives will be held tonight in St. Andrew's Hall, Pape avenue, when addresses will be delivered by W. F. Maclean, M.P., George S. Henry, M.L.A., H. H. Ball and others. An excellent program has been arranged by the committee, who expect a large attendance.

The committee recently appointed to look after distress cases in the district regret that more funds are not forthcoming to enable them to distribute relief. The committee are: Rev. A. Franks, Don McLeod, J. Pedlar, 21 Torment avenue; George Moses, 45 Bee street; George Moses, Jr., 62 Gamble avenue; Albert Toban, 129 Gowan avenue, and D. Aldred, Bee street.

Several cases have been investigated by the committee up to the present time, but the meeting has been referred to the township council, owing to lack of funds. This committee was also instructed to receive donations to carry on the work.

Appeals Increasing. In conversation with The World Philip Pedlar, the secretary, stated that few donations had been received, and these included an amount raised by the Conservative Association at a concert here some weeks ago. He stated that the appeals for charity were increasing, and the committee expected to see a great deal of suffering during the months of February and March. Mr. Pedlar pointed out that gifts of food and clothing would be equally acceptable as money.

A meeting of the committee will be held in St. Andrew's Hall on Friday night, when R. Barker, second deputy-reeve of York Township, is expected to be present. The township council have provided work for a few in Tommorden in the way of stone-breaking and snow-shovelling.

The supreme lodge officers are expected to be present, and a big night is looked for. The Orange lodge of the same name have also engaged the hall for future meetings.

The second service of the week of prayer which West Toronto churches are holding this week, in conformity with the proclamation of King George, was conducted last night in High Park Methodist Church by Rev. R. J. Treleaven. On Thursday evening it will be held in Victoria Presbyterian Church, Annette street.

Driver Injured. While driving up the Lambton Hill on Dundas street yesterday afternoon on a load of furniture, Oscar Dinkis, living on Simcoe street, was thrown from the wagon and sustained severe internal injuries. Dr. Norman was summoned, and the injured man removed in Speers' motor ambulance to his home.

A new system of despatching which is being installed by the Toronto Suburban Railway on its radial lines was yesterday completed as far as Weston. The new system is by means of telephone and signal, and is similar to that in use on the Lake Shore cars. The work of stringing the wires has been going on for some weeks, and will shortly be completed as far as Woodbridge. At present the traffic on the Woodbridge line does not warrant more than a two-hour service.

EAST TORONTO. The aldermen-elect for Ward One are expected to address the East End Ratepayers' Association in St. John's Parish House, Woodbine avenue, on Thursday evening.

President Bullock and the executive of the association are anxious to have some definite understanding with the ward representatives as to the improvements required in the district.

Russell Fox will speak on the work of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

EARLSCOURT

Helen Vandemark, aged 7 years, Mountbair avenue, Wychwood, fell over the stair rail of the second floor in St. Clare's School yesterday afternoon, falling about 20 feet. The little girl alighted on her back, and although her bones were broken, it is feared that she has received internal injuries. Two teachers, Misses O'Driscoll and McCarthy, conveyed the child to her home. No one is responsible for the accident, as the child overbalanced while playing on the railing.

The McNab Red Cross League will meet next Tuesday. All the school children of the district and Earlscourt schools who are knitting for the association are invited to bring their sleights to Dundrum Heights, 850 West St. Clair avenue, for sport on Saturday afternoon.

LAMBTON MILLS. A very largely attended meeting of the Lambton Mills Ratepayers' Association, held in the Old Mill last night, was addressed by R. Home Smith on the needs of the district. A waterworks system, it was agreed, was an urgent necessity, and no less important was the building of a new high level bridge over the Humber River on Dundas street. The old bridge, it was claimed, was not adequate for the traffic and its low level rendered the approaches so steep as to be dangerous and difficult for teams drawing heavy loads.

LITTLE LIGHT SHED ON STONE MURDER

Constable Reported Woman Cried Out When He Summoned Dead Lad's Father.

PARENT NOT PERTURBED

Seemed Little Moved When Told Son Was Shot to Death at Whitby.

WHITBY, Jan. 5.—The principal witnesses today at the resumed inquest of William Stone who was found murdered at the station on the night of Dec. 11 was Henry Birmingham, a plumber whose home is in Kingston and his evidence was for the most part contradictory thruout the examination by Crown Attorney Farewell.

The Crown endeavored to show how much time Birmingham had spent with Stone and his general relations with the dead youth. The witness was warned to be careful of his answers.

"Yes, I came to Whitby to look for work and was stopping with his sister, until three weeks ago he was working for Mr. McIntyre but was laid off the Saturday before Stone was shot.

"You knew Stone pretty well," he was asked.

"I was acquainted with him since I came here. I spent quite a bit of time with him as I used to say around the station for company," he answered.

"Are you an operator?" he was asked.

"No, but Stone was giving me lessons two months ago," he said.

"Did you get to know why Stone had to do around there at nights?" was the next query.

"Yes, I used to report a few trains," said Birmingham.

"Didn't you report some when he was absent?" asked the crown attorney.

"Oh, yes, I have, but not always."

"Do you know about Stone being laid off before he was murdered?" asked the crown attorney.

Asleep on Duty. "Yes, he was asleep on duty," said the witness. He never saw Stone with a revolver, but he saw some old cartridges in a drawer. Witness had a revolver of his own, but could not tell where it was.

Elwood Henderson, a druggist who lived near the station, said he knew both Stone and Birmingham, but was not very intimate with either. He never went shooting with Birmingham, but admitted having a gun.

Witness said that he had no regular hour for retiring, but on the night in question he was in bed a few minutes after nine o'clock.

Father Little Affected. John Patterson the night constable, said he was on duty on the night of the murder. He went to Stone's house which he found all in darkness. He and his father afterwards returned to the station, witness continued, "and some woman in the house made an outcry. He accompanied me to the station and did not enquire as to why I wanted him. He did not say anything when I told him his boy had been shot, nor did he seem to have any suspicion as to who did it."

"Was he very much affected by the sight of his dead son?" asked County Crown Attorney Farewell.

"No, he didn't seem the least affected," answered the witness.

The constable said that two or three minutes after he knocked at the door Stone appeared fully dressed. Stone was not agitated and made no mention of guns or pistols, but kept talking to the woman who was crying outside.

The inquest was adjourned for two weeks.

STUDENTS ENJOY RESIDENCE LIFE

New Presbyterian Building Will Accommodate Hundred and Twenty.

When the University of Toronto opened yesterday for the Easter term there were one hundred and twenty more students enjoying the privilege of residence life than ever before in the history of the university. The peculiar advantages of life in college residence have been so apparent that for several years there has always been a waiting list of men who are unable to get accommodation on account of insufficient room.

With the opening of the handsome Burwash Hall last year, when one hundred and twenty rooms were available, it was thought that the supply might have become greater than the demand, but such was the appreciation of the Victoria men that this building has been restricted entirely for their use.

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises All Women to Take "Fruit-a-tives."

"HAGERSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 28, 1914.—I can highly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago I commenced taking 'Fruit-a-tives' for a general breakdown, and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars worth, but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking 'Fruit-a-tives' after reading my letter, for, in my case, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

SUGGEST ADOPTION OF YOUNG BELGIANS

Aid Societies Propose Government Scheme, But Success is Doubtful.

A proposition has been laid before the Ontario Cabinet, by the assistant provincial secretary, in the hope of relieving some of the domestic unrest which will prevail in Belgium during the next few years. The idea is to bring out several hundred orphan children and place them in the homes of good citizens for training and education. The sanction and co-operation of the government is sought, but there is some question as to the feasibility of the plan. The cabinet has not yet obtained time for a thorough consideration, but difficulties have already appeared.

The suggestion that only orphan children be brought and that they be adopted as members of the family and not after the fashion of the "school" system is viewed favorably, but the legal nature of such a proceeding is not thoroughly grasped. The government by statute is bound to certain procedure, involving the recommendation of the courts and special legislation would be required.

REORGANIZATION IN CHILDREN'S BRANCH

Assistant Provincial Secretary Takes Juvenile Work Under Control.

A reorganization is being effected in the provincial secretary's department, and henceforth the neglected children's branch will be brought immediately under the administration of Samuel A. Armstrong, assistant secretary. This move will mean that the work carried on in the interests of the children under the administration of standing alone as in the past, become a department, such as that of the prisons and hospitals, directly responsible to Mr. Armstrong.

The direction of this branch of public work was formerly presided over by J. J. Kelso, and he will continue as superintendent. With him will also be associated William O'Connor, who has been serving as inspector.

The statement says that not only have no troops passed over this section of the C.P.R., but no war munitions or anything else that would be a breach of the United States neutrality has been carried.

RESERVED JUDGMENT ON TAXATION APPEAL

Residents of Roxboro Street Content Improvement Should Not Be Taxed.

Residents on East Roxboro street have brought an assessment appeal to the Ontario Railway Board, and that body has adjourned the hearing until Tuesday to discover their actual jurisdiction in such affairs. The city contends that it is beyond their control.

The appeal is against an assessment of $16,000 on the eastern end of the street. The contention is that residents should not be taxed on local improvement rates because the whole Roxboro district will benefit.

MUNICIPAL RESEARCH HELPED REDUCE TAX

Dr. Brittain Speaker at Regular Weekly Luncheon Yesterday.

At the regular Tuesday luncheon, the members of the Toronto Advertising Club listened to an exceedingly interesting and instructive talk by Dr. Horace L. Brittain of the Toronto Bureau of Municipal Research. Dr. Brittain dwelt at some length on the work being done by a similar organization in New York, and showed how it had been instrumental in actually reducing the rate of taxation in that city.

Mayor Hocken was asked to make a few remarks regarding city affairs as they had found them. The outstanding and pleasing fact that he brought out was that the city treasurer had been enabled early last year to collect over $2,100,000 in back taxes.

Are the "Picture Brides" Such a Gamble, After All?

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

THERE'S a big ship in from Japan," said the woman who knows, "come on, let's go over to Angel Island and see the Picture Brides."

And so, as the sky was blue and the sea was smooth and the sun shone gayly on the waters, we put on our trot-about clothes and went up the bay to Angel Island to see the Picture Brides.

On our way over my friend, the woman who knows, told me about them.

"When a Japanese gets to the marrying age," said the woman who knows, "he sits down and writes a letter home about it. In the letter he tells just what he's doing, how many times he's been ill during the year, and he sends his photograph."

"And then the folks at home look around for the bride, and when they find what seems to be the right sort of girl they send her photograph to the man, and if things have gone all right so far the marriageable young man sends the money to Japan, and as soon as she can get ready the Picture Bride starts to America and her brand new husband."

"I've always wanted to see the Picture Brides."

"And now," said I, "we'll see them," and we did.

We were not the only persons interested in the Picture Brides.

The little boat that took us over to Angel Island was full of men, Japanese, most of them young, one or two of them middle-aged, all of them hopeful, and every one of them smiling and conscious.

They were the Picture Bridegrooms.

And, dear me, how they were trying to live up to their pictures! They were dressed in the last extreme as to ties and hats, and their natty boots were a marvel to see.

One square-shouldered little brown man wore a silk hat and carried a fine walking stick.

You would never in the world have taken him for a farmer, yet a farmer he is nevertheless, and making a very good thing with loganberries and various small fruits.

And one, though neat, was just a trifle shabby. I think his suit had been mended more than once, and his hat was not quite new. There was something in his face that made me believe that he had put the money in his purse instead of upon his person, and that he intended to buy something very nice and quite American for his Picture Bride.

They were just coming from noonday dinner—the Picture Brides—when we got to the island, they and the Hindoos and the Malays and the South Sea Islanders and the Chinese and the Russians and the Greeks, and all the strange peoples of the earth gathered, like fish, in Uncle Sam's wide thrown net.

And four of them came out and sat in the reception room and met, right before our eyes, the Picture Bridegrooms.

The farmer was there with his silk hat in his hand, and his little bride was fairly overcome with the splendor of it.

She held her sleek head down in modest fashion, but her shining eyes strayed ever and anon to the glory of the hat, and it was plain to see that she hoped all the other Picture Brides saw the hat and realized what it meant.

It isn't so simple, after all, this matter of the Picture Brides.

The bridegroom has to prove that he is healthy, and of good habits, and is able to take good care of a wife, before he can get his bride.

And the bride must qualify, too. Each knows a great deal more about the other's real character than most of our brides and grooms know when they walk up the aisle to the tune of the wedding march.

The neat little man whose suit was not quite new was in a dream of delight.

His little bride wore American slippers and a pair of silk stockings. Nobody can make me believe he hadn't sent them to her, and I'd be willing to wager that there was a poem in the package when it went across the sea to cheer the heart of the little girl who was crossing so many miles of tumbling water to meet her Picture Bridegroom.

What a sight it was, the Picture Brides and their Picture Bridegrooms. I do hope they'll all be happy. They stand about as much chance of it as do our friends who marry each other because somebody thinks they should, or to keep some other girl from getting him, or to show the other fellows that he can win her if he wants to.

What do you think about it?

A WHISPER MOMENT

By Michelson

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

THERE is a supposition that the sweetest moments are those that are stolen—not stolen FROM anyone else, but stolen WITH someone else. And so it happens that right then in the midst of all the other dances, while OTHER whispermans are humming in their ears, and the orchestra is throbbing out its romantic spell, these two murmur things that have a meaning and a potency unparalleled in all their other meetings. Odd things have been said in whispermans. Yes, it has been known to happen that the GREAT QUESTION has been asked in a whisper. But surely no one would give a final answer just then. Really THAT wouldn't do.

THAT MOST IMPORTANT KITCHEN TABLE

BOB and I finally selected a dear, little, five-room apartment, where the rooms follow each other in a sort of semi-circle, with a little foyer that acts as a hall of separation between the living and dining rooms and kitchen at the left and the bedrooms opposite. I fell in love with it on the spot, but Bob's first remark was: "We enter the hall of the Lilliputs, Low bridge!"

But I finally persuaded him that the rooms were amply large for just us two, and that a small apartment like this would simplify the problems of the inexperienced housekeeper he was marrying. And so we just up and rented it! "I've got the housekeeping fever, Bubbles," confessed Bob as we left the building. "Let's go out and buy something to feather our nest. I'll buy anything you say this afternoon, except a grand piano or a canary, and then we'll have it sent straight up to our house."

"Goody. Let's be practical." I'm afraid I'm a bit conceited about my newly acquired housewifely wisdom, and Bob thinks it a great joke to hear my "potty-pansy" suggestions, as he calls them. However, I succeeded in leading him to the beloved house furnishing department and straight over to the kitchen tables. Bob laughed heartily.

"Your Aunt Juliette certainly has worked wonders," he said. "Time was, not many moons ago, that if I had made a suggestion for household shopping you would have led me immediately to a shop where they sold period furniture or offered special bargains in colonial pewter and Mayflower spinning wheels. Are you sure you want to start our housekeeping with just a plain, ordinary, everyday, working kitchen table?"

I watched Bob examine a neat wooden table which the salesman was explaining could be covered with oilcloth and last forever. "What do you say, Bubbles?" he asked me deferentially. I shook my head dubiously. "No wooden tops will do," I said firmly. "They absorb grease, and the oilcloth keeps forever wearing out or looking shabby."

We'd better select a metal-top table." They had ever so many styles and varieties—tables covered with zinc and with aluminum and with copper, and they even had the loveliest table tops of plate glass and white porcelain. The porcelain tops reminded me very much of the slab of marble which mother has

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN MATRIMONY

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $100.00 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as Judges.

No. 272. Peter Gets a Shock.

T HE music began, one of those rakish, jerky, frivolous, and every body rose. I sat still. There were nine in the party and I decided to sit out the dance. Joan Arbeck willed differently.

"Wally," she said, "let's go to the good-looking youth at her elbow. Sit down, like a man. I'm going to dance with Mary's husband."

"You're very kind," I said, rather taken off my feet by her frankness. Wally accepted his fate with a good-natured grin.

"Don't grow, old man," he advised me. "You'll get your deserts in time. Joan's a tyrant."

We made our way to the dancing floor and began to one-step.

"You dance wonderfully!" said Joan after a while in her languorous young voice.

I felt considerably gratified. I didn't know that this was, of course, the first weapon a girl like Joan Arbeck uses.

Before the evening was well under way I discovered that her battery was awfully bald and honeyed. It didn't bristly under any other guise. It came brusquely out into the open and said: "Like you, monsieur. Therefore I tell you what I think of you. You can take it or leave it as you will."

"Thank you," I managed to say at last. "It would be nice," murmured Joan reflectively. "If you came back with something similar."

"Great heavens!" I exclaimed, "give me time!"

She laughed. Likely my voice was a little scandalized. She did, however, dance wonderfully. She had a given sense of rhythm, slenderness and natural grace. A cloud would have danced well with her. I said so and she laughed again, utterly at her ease.

"That's much better!" she exclaimed. "A New York girl," she added with a trace of that keenness I was to know very well in time, "must know three things superfluously well. Mr. Hunt. She must dance well, know how to dress prettily and have sufficient command of conversation to entertain a man. There's so much competition!"

"Pandering!" I scoffed. "Surely," agreed Joan, shrugging, "we admit it. But the scheme of civilization forces us to pander, my dear."

Gossip About Jaynes.

To say that I was astonished is to put it lightly. There was a brain then behind the girl's languorous eyes.

"And that," said Joan, "is the trouble with poor little Blanche Kayses, the Lord knows, but she knows she has to be eternally vivacious to keep in line and she hasn't enough mental fuel behind to feed the fire. Therefore she just laughs and sparkles and gets on one's nerves, saying over and over and over the same thing with a clever air of vivacity. Watch her. Lots and lots of times she begins a sentence without in the least knowing what she's going to say. And once in a while it washes her up on the rocks with a bang. Haven't you noticed?"

"Yes," I admitted. "She asked me six times with varying intonation if I liked to dance."

"She'll ask you again," said Joan, "and likely again. Your wife's insanely pretty!"

"She is pretty," I admitted, "and getting prettier."

"Hugh Jaynes is crazy about her." "I beg your pardon?" "He really is. The whole crowd have been gazing him a bit. Haven't you noticed?"

It was the first time it had occurred to me that a man would dare to fall in love with my wife!

Never Let Baby Near Any Child Who Is Ailing

By Dr. L. K. HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

DON'T listen to any old wives' tales about it being better for baby to have measles and other children's diseases while young, rather than run the risk of suffering severe attacks when older.

DR. HIRSHBERG

If a child can be brought up without ever having had ANY of the common contagious diseases of children, so much the better. It is especially desirable that baby be protected from measles and whooping cough till the second summer is past. These diseases are more dangerous to the nursing child than diphtheria or scarlet fever.

The best rule to follow in this regard is: Never take your child where there is a child sick with any disease whatever. A baby can catch cold, pneumonia and possibly bowel trouble from other children.

Whooping cough is one of the most contagious of diseases that children are subject to. So when this disease is prevalent every possible care should be taken for the protection of children who have not been infected.

During the whooping stage the victim spreads infected secretions continually. For at least a week after the whooping stops the danger of infection is still great and sometimes continues in greater or less degree for three or four weeks.

Furthermore the contagion can be carried by persons other than the victim of the disease, who have come in close contact with the patient.

Thus, for absolute protection of children from whooping cough they should not only be kept from associating with children who have, or have recently had the disease, but also from contact with those who have recently been in contact with such children.

Answers to Health Questions

R. H. H.—Q—Will you kindly inform me the minimum amount of protein calories required per pound by the average man daily?

Dr. Holum claims the amount is one calorie per pound of body weight.

Dr. Taylor of University of Pennsylvania has come nearly to the same conclusions in infant feeding, namely, one and one-half calories per pound of body weight.

Prof. Chittenden, after experimentation, declared the minimum amount to be one and one-half calories for each pound.

Which is correct?

A—You must be mistaken in your quotations. The calories per pound weight for an infant or a youth differs from those of men. For men past 35 or 40, activity decreases and weight increases. The number of calories necessary differs then from those of infants and youths.

Nitrogenous equilibrium and body weight can be maintained and work done on diets which vary widely in composition. A man of average weight—145 pounds—doing a moderate day's work is usually supplied with 2,240,000 calories. If he does physical labor, he will need much more than this, often nearly twice as much.

Three Minute Journeys

WHERE THE WIFE MAKES THE HUSBAND'S SLEEP UNTRUBLED

IN the Queensland "Never-Never," deep in the Australian bush, the aborigines have three distinct methods of housing themselves that are, to say the least, original even for aborigines.

Hubby's Peaceful Rest.

When on the trail they scoop out a depression in the ground, pile brush around it on three sides and on the fourth they build a fire. Then, snugly sheltered from the winds by the brush and warmed by the fire, they sleep through the nights in comfort. Another method is to dig a deep hole in the earth, heap brush over it in the form of a haystack, and complete the structure by digging a passageway at the edge of the brush down to the cave. These "dug-outs" are common in the far Australian bush, where the natives remain in one place for longer than those nearer the boundaries.

Their third method is to erect a sort of raised bedstead by lashing a platform on the tops of four forked sticks, the whole being open to the skies, but often a thatched roof is raised above the platform, and thus a house effect is completed. When these platform resting places are met with the men only are to be found enjoying the raised beds, while the women squat on the ground around a fire, which they keep going through the night with sufficient smoke to ward off the mosquitoes and insure their lordly repose.

You would naturally expect these raised bedsteads would be found only near the seashore, or in swampy country, but I have seen them on nearly every hill of the vast northern area. How they originated in Australia is a question that has never yet received a satisfactory answer, but the probability is they are of Papuan origin, brought to the "Never-Never" by captives in the days when slaves were the chief prizes of their savage warfare.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: My life is blighted and I am only 18! You have helped so many girls. I feel certain you can do something for me in my sad plight.

I am in love with a man—deeply in love—who apparently cares nothing for me. My life will be worth nothing to me without him. What can I do to show him that my future happiness, if not my entire future, rests with him alone. I need your help!

S. U. D.

DEAR, dear, what a tragedy! Your life is blighted, and you are only 18.

Quite so. Ask your mother how many times her life was blighted before she was 20. You'll be astonished to hear what she will tell you.

Let's see, there's mine, for instance. My life was blighted when I was 17. He played in the band and wore a coat with brass buttons, and my mother wouldn't hear of my meeting him even.

And at 18 I went on a voyage up the Great Lakes, and my life was blighted again. The captain of the ship was a middle-aged Scotchman, who didn't even know I was alive, and for months after that I used to pore over the shipping news and thrill every time I saw his name.

At 19 I was blighted again—an actor this time, and at 20—but why prolong the agony?

You're not in love with the man, little girl. You think you are, but you aren't. You are in love with love. Some day you'll see the difference.

Don't say a word to the man, for pity's sake. You'll blush all over for years every time you think of it. If you do.

Newmarket Politics and the Hydro.

Newmarket has once more refused to act in co-operation with her sister municipalities in Ontario. The use of hydro-electric power has evidently become a political issue in Newmarket...

Everywhere that returns can be obtained the referendum vote on the question of giving married women the same rights as their spinster or widowed sisters has shown the fullest desire on the part of the property owners to yield this just claim.

A woman of property, while she remains single has a voice in the disposition of the taxes she has to pay. But as soon as she marries, unless she lives in a more enlightened community than Ontario, she is compelled to go on paying her taxes just the same, but is refused any further voice in municipal affairs.

After the War. Many of us have been looking forward to a great boom in Canada upon the theory that after the war a large amount of capital and a large number of men released from military service will come from Europe to this country.

A DEAL IN STOVES. HAMILTON, Jan. 5.—A statement issued by one of Hamilton's stove manufacturing concerns illustrates in a striking way the effect of the made-in-Canada campaign which has been running for the last few months.

Mr. John Moody of New York, whose opinion is of great value, declares without hesitation that the countries of continental Europe will be so impoverished by the war that they must pass thru a long period of hard times. The consuming population will be so greatly reduced in numbers and purchasing power that the manufacturer, the merchant and the carrier alike will feel the effect.

CHURCH TO REST AWHILE. Now that the strenuous work of replying to the numerous congratulations that reached him is completed, Mr. Stewart Church has decided to take a few days rest...

Continental Europe, decimated and poverty-stricken, cannot seriously compete with us for accommodation in the London market.

Ald. Singer's Good Idea

Ald. Singer is to the front with a proposal which should be carried by the new city council at once. The principle of the thing has been debated for years, but for one reason or another it has never been possible to get enough of the aldermen to see the public interest rather than the advantage of one of themselves on some future occasion.

There have been many appointments made from the ranks of the city council, and it may be said at once that the argument against the practice is not to be strengthened by any objection to the appointments so made.

But there should be no opportunity for the appointment of even one weak official, nor any chance to have the lobbying influences of men who seek the city council as a stepping stone to office, set loose among the aldermen.

A Fat-Headed Refusal. Everywhere that returns can be obtained the referendum vote on the question of giving married women the same rights as their spinster or widowed sisters has shown the fullest desire on the part of the property owners to yield this just claim.

No one can advance any sensible reason why a woman should forfeit her rights as a citizen on getting married. That she is compelled to do so by the laws of Ontario is a reflection on every man in the province.

The thing is such a monstrous absurdity that it is difficult to understand why even a prime minister could tolerate it. Why or how any body of able, well-to-do men can sit around a table and declare that this state of things must go on, it is impossible for the ordinary man of business to understand.

Those who have been outraged, as they claim, by these offensive odors asked for an injunction, but this request was an absurdity, as it would have meant the closing of all the sewers in the western part of the city.

SIX MONTHS' TERM FOR AN ASSAULT

Paul Courian Sentenced Yesterday — Grand Jury Exceeded Duty.

Judge Coatsworth yesterday sentenced Paul Courian, the King street dealer, to six months in the Ontario Reformatory for an indecent assault on a young girl in the Exhibition grounds.

MRS. HOUSEKEEPER

Christmas time you will have a little extra money, why not make the home a present of an Eddy Washboard and an Eddy Indurated Fibreware Tub?

You will feel the benefit every washday in the year, for the Indurated Tub keeps the water hot so long that it saves much lifting and carrying of water, and the Washboard has a special crimp, which, without tearing the clothes, loosens the dirt very easily.

You will be doing something patriotic too, because Eddy's make these and many other articles at their works at Hull, Canada, where from 1600 to 1800 men and women are employed constantly.

Buy yourself a Christmas present, Mrs. Housekeeper.

But Be Sure They Are EDDY'S

Most Men Use Coffee for Breakfast and are interested in the kind of coffee they get. Michie's finest blend of Java and Mocha coffee is in a class by itself—money cannot buy better. It is a breakfast necessity.

SIX MONTHS' TERM FOR AN ASSAULT

Paul Courian Sentenced Yesterday — Grand Jury Exceeded Duty.

Judge Coatsworth yesterday sentenced Paul Courian, the King street dealer, to six months in the Ontario Reformatory for an indecent assault on a young girl in the Exhibition grounds.

T. C. Robinette pleaded against a jail term and suggested that something was the matter with Courian's brain. Crown Attorney Greer told Mr. Robinette that the grand jury had taken exception to his honor's eulogy in such charges, and that his honor had felt it keenly.

"I would maintain my independence and tell the grand jury to go plump to Hades," replied Mr. Robinette. "Well, the grand jury did exceed their duty," said Judge Coatsworth, "but they spoke so frankly and honestly that I could not find it in my heart to resent it. They said their children would not be safe on the streets if more stringent methods were not taken."

"The day is not far distant when the lash will have to be given for such offences."

INAUGURAL LUNCHEON HAS BEEN WITHDRAWN

The mayor-elect has decided to eliminate some of the tiresome routine that usually accompanies the opening meeting of a new council, and his inaugural address will be short and to the point. One thing that will be greatly missed will be the inaugural luncheon, which will be dispensed with this year.

The list of appointments to chairmanships, etc., has been drawn up and will likely stand as it is unless there is a change in the aldermen for ward one when the recount takes place today.
